U.S. Attacks Moscow's Offer On Big Four Talk

KIDNAPERS WON'T APPEAL

Investigators Push Search For Missing Ransom Money

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 28—UP—The last day for appeals for condemned kidnapers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Heady passed Saturday as a search became more intensive for the missing half of the $800,000 Greenlease ransom money. Harold Hull, counsel for Mrs. Heady, said after a visit with her in her death row cell at the Missouri penitentiary here that he would not appeal the case. Hall also has declined to appeal. The 41-year-old alcoholic will go to her death in the state gas chamber alongside Hall early the morning of Dec. 18 for the abduction and brutal murder of Bobby Greenlease Sept. 28.

Hull said he advised Mrs. Heady of her rights of appeal. Her immediate reply, he said, was that she wanted no appeal. Earlier she had said she wanted nothing more than "to die with Carl."

With both prisoners, now contrite and remorseful, reportedly resigned to their fate, the search for the missing ransom money centered in New Orleans.

The New Orleans Item said in a copyrighted dispatch that two men held there on safe robbery and confidence game charges possessed information about the money.

The men were identified in the Item dispatch as Thomas Borden and Victor Linkletter.

The newspaper described the way it learned of the search in New Orleans.

"When Hall was in the Kansas City jail," according to the dispatch, "in an adjoining cell was a man named Rasmussen. Hall reportedly told Rasmussen that Borden and Linkletter had a portion of the missing money."

In Kansas City, the Jackson county sheriff's office confirmed that Charles Rasmussen, 32, a transit prisoner, was held overnight Sunday, Nov. 1. He was being taken to St. Paul, Minn., in custody of deputy U. S. Marshal E. T. Mungovan on charges of transporting a stolen vehicle from Los Angeles to Minneapolis, Minn. Hall was in the Kansas City jail from Oct. 7 until Nov. 20.

Officials at St. Paul said Rasmussen's removal order was signed in Louisiana on Oct. 21, 1952.

The Item dispatch said "further checking indicated that the ransom money had been purchased by a Detroit syndicate that deals in hot money. The syndicate had paid 25 cents on the dollar... then distributed the money throughout the country and Mexico."

SENATOR IN PAMPA — U.S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Democratic minority leader, will speak at noon Wednesday in the basement of the First Methodist Church before a combined meeting of all Pampa civic clubs. His appearance here will be just one stop on a fact-finding tour of the entire area.

'Phony Attitude' Of Soviets Seen On German Unity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—Undersecretary of State Donald B. Lourie Saturday night branded Moscow's new offer of Big Four talks a "deceptive" maneuver cloaking unwillingness to negotiate Germany's unification.

Lourie bluntly accused the Kremlin of using "dishonest" tactics on the German and Austrian questions in diplomatic exchanges with the Allied powers. He said the Soviets have been showing a "phony attitude" of wanting German and Austrian independence while actually blocking it.

Lourie gave the State Department's estimate of Soviet tactics in an address prepared for delivery in Chicago before the national convention of the American-Lithuanian Council. The text of his address was made public by the State Department here.

Another Approach Expected
Earlier informants had reported the United States favors a new Allied diplomatic move to get guarantees from Moscow that Germany and Austria would be the first order of business at any Big Four foreign ministers' meeting. Informants said this approach is expected to be proposed next week at Bermuda when President Eisenhower meets with British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and French Premier Joseph Laniel.

Lourie said the recent exchange of notes between the United States, Britain, France, and the Soviet Union had "unmasked the dishonesty" of Russia's previous arguments on Germany and Austria. He said the Russians on Nov. 3 made clear that "the Kremlin has no intention, at this time, of doing anything about bringing to an end the Russian occupation."

Turning to the new Soviet note delivered on Thanksgiving Day, Lourie said on the surface the Soviets appeared to accept Allied proposals for a German conference.

Appearance Deceptive
"This appearance, however, is deceptive," Lourie said. "The note attempts to overcome some of the disastrous consequences of its predecessor. Thus it is a tactical retreat in the matter of substance the note sticks to all the positions put forward in the previous note. Thus it confirms the impression that the Soviet Union is not prepared to agree to a unification of Germany on anything like acceptable terms. And Austria is not even mentioned."

The official said the Kremlin, in the past, had taken great pains to maintain the pretense of wanting unification of the two countries because they did not want to be identified as being responsible for blocking independence.

Red Atrocity Tales Heard

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 28—UP—The United States provided the United Nations Saturday with damning new evidence of Communist atrocities in Korea.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. presented the General Assembly with eyewitness accounts of how some Allied prisoners were shot down in cold blood and others burned alive by North Korean and Chinese Communist troops.

The United States offered detailed accounts of eight separate atrocity incidents which occurred in the battle zone, and statements from 13 American soldiers, who were repatriated after the armistice.

This Account Hair Raising
Sergeant First Class Carey H. Weinel of Hickman Hills, Mo., gave this hair-raising account of how the Reds handled Allied prisoners at Taejon:

"They started tying the men's hands—six and seven in a group. Then they started taking us out in groups. Shortly after, people would leave a volley of fire so we figured they were shooting the men. I was in the last group of walking men and they got to pushing us pretty close together and I saw the men in the group before me shoot and also my own group shot."

"After shooting all the groups they went back and got the wounded and threw them into the ditch and shot them also. Then, believing everybody was dead, they started covering the men up. As luck would have it they didn't put too much over me to smother me. I could breathe through the rocks and dirt. I pretended like I was dead. They shot at my head and hit my hand. That's how my hand got busted up. After they had covered up they left us for dead."

We'll Ask Condemnation
The United States charges that 29,815 soldiers and civilians were victims of similar Red atrocities in Korea. On Monday the U. S. supported by Britain, France, Australia and Turkey, will ask the UN General Assembly to condemn the Communists for their alleged inhuman actions in Korea.

To support its charges, the United States offers this excerpt from the statement of Moon Byong Ho, a North Korean prisoner of war: "I participated in the killing of approximately 380 policemen and political prisoners at the Taejon prison on 25 September, 1950."

Witnesses two days before Sergeant Weinel was left for dead in a dirt-covered ditch near the same prison.

Ko-Reds Prepare Major Statement

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Sunday, Nov. 29—UP—The Communists prepared a major Korean peace negotiations statement Sunday amid new optimism that the long delayed conference may be called soon.

Informed Allied sources said the Reds were waiting for high level instructions on their reply to a 12-point compromise plan presented Saturday by UN Representative Arthur H. Dean.

Dean, in an effort to speed up the conference arrangements, agreed on admission of certain neutral nations to a peace conference as non-voting members.

However, the special U. S. ambassador told the Reds that under no conditions could Russia enter the conference except at the invitation of North Korea and Red China as a belligerent.

To Break Stalemate
Dean's program was made in an attempt to break a stalemate in the talks arranging the time, place and composition of the conference.

The Reds at first said Dean's plan had "no merits." Then they announced they would have an "important statement" Monday after the Sunday recess.

Dean also guaranteed the Reds in Saturday talks that South Korea will not resume the hostilities while the peace conference is in session.

Allied observers said they hoped that the compromise plan and Dean's guarantee would clear the way for the conference.

SANTA PARADE SLATED

Hundreds of Pampa and Gray County youngsters will get the thrill of their lives next Friday when jolly old St. Nick and his wife, Mrs. Santa Claus, arrive in Pampa to participate in the annual Santa Day parade, which is slated to get under way at 7 p.m. Features of this year's parade will be bands, floats and kids' costume and pet section.

The parade will form at 6:30 p.m. at the intersection of S. Cuyler and Craven streets, and will move promptly at 7 p.m. The line of march from the starting point will be north on Cuyler to Browning; west on Browning to Frost; south on Frost to Foster; west on Foster to Somerville, and south on Somerville where the parade will disband.

Immediately following the parade, Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus will visit with the boys and girls from a platform on Kingsmill between the City Hall and Court House. The West Texas State College band of 100 pieces will furnish lively Christmas music for Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus' party after the parade.

Fred Brook, chairman of this event, is arranging for plenty of help to see that every boy and girl gets an opportunity to see and talk with Santa Claus and his wife. Kingsmill street will be blocked off between Russell and Frost, which will give ample room for the huge crowd expected for the program, he said.

O. L. Blinn, in charge of a group of Santa Claus' helpers, will be set up in the corridor of the City Hall where thousands of bags of Christmas candy will be distributed to all the boys and girls. Something new has been added this year to the parade in the form of a special section known as the "Kiddies Pet and Costume Parade," in which cash prizes will be presented for the best entry in each of the following divisions: Best costume on Mother Goose or comic strip characters; smallest pet, most unusual pet, dog with the longest tail, dog with the shortest tail and the best dressed pet.

Six bands had accepted the invitation of the Bands Procurement committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Child Dies After Heart Operation

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28—UP—Tiny Billy Fox died Saturday during a six times attempted but never successful heart operation aimed at "giving him a normal life."

Billy, 11 months old, was not given much chance of survival before the operation was begun. Doctors said five previous attempts at similar operations had been fatal.

But his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Fox, consented to the operation because there was no hope for Billy to live very long unless his heart condition was corrected.

"Every vein was connected to the right side of his heart," a doctor said. "In a normal body the veins from the lungs come from the left side and we were attempting to sew the veins to the left side of the heart when he died."

The operation was started at 8:45 a.m. An hour later physicians told the parents the boy was "very weak," and at 10:45 a.m. they said he died.

Fox said Billy could "never sleep for periods longer than 10 minutes," and he and his wife always had to "hold him in our arms" or he would have trouble breathing.

Pilotless Bombers May Go To Europe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—The Air Force expects to send its first squadron of pilotless bombers—known to charges guided missiles—overseas early next year, probably to Europe, it was learned Saturday.

The squadrons, now training at the Air Force guided missile center, Patrick Air Force Base, Fla., will be equipped with the "Matador," a stubby-winged missile capable of carrying the atomic bomb.

A high Air Force official said overseas deployment of the squadrons is "tentatively scheduled" for the first half of next year.

The squadrons, the first of their kind in the Air Force, have been in training for about two years—under the supervision of the Air Research and Development Command at Cocoa, Fla. They are due shortly to be shifted over to the Tactical Air Command for the final intensive training to make them ready for combat.

They'll Go To Europe
The official declined to specify reasons, to specify to what overseas theater the squadrons might be sent. Because of the Matador's range and capabilities, however, it is considered likely the squadrons will be sent to Europe.

This would be in line with the administration's policy of using "new weapons" to bolster Western European defenses, a policy exemplified by the recent decision to send at least six battalions of atomic cannon to Europe.

The Air Force has only disclosed the formation of two Matador squadrons, though more are known to be contemplated. The original plan was to have a missile squadron attached to several of the fighter-bomber wings.

Negro Draws Prison Term

Bennett Brown, 35-year-old Negro, of 537 W. Elm, who shot and wounded his small daughter and a relative and said he wanted to kill three others "so bad I could taste it," has been sentenced to two three-year terms in Huntsville state prison on twin charges of assault with intent to murder.

District Judge M. Goodrich Friday afternoon passed the sentences after Brown pleaded guilty to injuring his daughter, Wanda Pearl 5, and Georgia Mae White, 23, a cousin of his estranged wife, Mrs. Leona Brown, 29, of Midland.

Still pending in district court is a charge of murder in the death of his wife. District Attorney Tom Braly Saturday night said the murder charge was on the court docket and "would be taken up in the normal course of court business."

The gun-play, involving seven persons, occurred the night of Jan. 15 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ananias Washington, 429 W. Harlem, Mrs. Brown's grandparents.

Goodrich decreed the two sentences would follow each other, one after the other. Sheriff Rufe Jordan Saturday night said Brown's commitment papers would probably be ready by Monday.

Teachers Approve $402 Pay Increase

DALLAS, Nov. 28—UP—The House of Delegates of the Texas State Teachers Association indicated Saturday they will take a controversial compromise pay increase of $402 a year if they can get it.

Members voted overwhelmingly to approve a report of the TSTA legislative committee which incorporated an explanation of provisions of a new plan for teacher pay raises now being studied.

The plan, described by TSTA legislative committee chairman H. W. Stillwell at the final session of the TSTA's three-day convention here, would have local school districts pay 20 per cent of the cost of the minimum foundation program for teachers' salaries and the state 80 per cent.

Additionally, it would bind the state to advance 20 per cent of the cost of school buildings projects undertaken by local districts.

Oppose Proposal
Previously the teachers' association stoutly opposed a proposal that the cost of the minimum foundation program be split in flat per centage figures of 80-20 between the state and local districts.

Canvass Votes On Dam Election

A canvass of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority confirmation election vote in the 12 balloting communities is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in the Hotel Hilton, Plainview.

Pampa joined 10 other communities in voting for the dam and reservoir project. The vote was 875-423. Only Littlefield rejected the authority.

Next regular meeting of the authority is slated for Dec. 14.

Penniless Mother Sobs After Unsuccessful Try At Robbery

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 28—UP—A desperate and nearly penniless mother of four sobbed "why did I do this to my boys" as she sat in a Marion county jail cell here Saturday after an attempt to rob a bank at Woodburn, about 15 miles north of here.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Taber, 31, accompanied by her 13-year-old son fled in confusion Friday when cash-ier Roscoe Colby of the Woodburn bank of Oregon said "no" to her demand for money.

She was arrested on a charge of attempted robbery a few minutes after she ran out of the bank tugging her son by the hand. Officers found them wandering in a field a few blocks away.

"I was desperate," she told officers. She said her husband had deserted her and the boys six weeks ago after they had moved to Hubbard, Ore., about three miles from Woodburn, from Compton, Calif. She had $1 in her purse when she was arrested.

Several times during questioning Mrs. Taber sobbed "why did I do this to my boys." The boys, aged 8, 7, 10 and 13, were placed in a private juvenile home here.

Colby said the woman shoved a note written on a deposit slip through the teller's cage to him. It read: "This is a robbery. Don't do anything you'll be sorry for."

The cashier, seeing the woman was unarmed, said, "So?" She replied, "No," Colby then obliged with a "no."

Forgery Suspect Wanted In Pampa

Sheriff's officers in Pampa Saturday night were awaiting word from Dodge City, Kan., authorities on a man suspected of forging a check on Tom Rose Ford Company and taking off in a Rose truck.

According to Sheriff Rufe Jordan, some one signed the name of "Jim L. Boughman" to a check for $1000.00 on payment for the truck. Nothing more was heard till the truck turned up in Pampa Saturday morning — from Amarillo.

It is suspected, however, that the man is in the Dodge City area. Jordan passed along this description: 5 foot 8 1/2 inches, 35-40 years old, prematurely gray, wearing Levi suit and green shirt when last seen.

SOLID SOUTH RUMBLES School Segregation Flayed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—Most practicing Democrats in the deep South have maintained that a two-party South is nothing but a gleam in Republican eyes and they felt certain now their appraisal was correct.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S. C.) said the Brownell brief would make little difference in his state and Republicans "might as well bark up another tree" if they expect to get a foothold there.

"Most of the people who voted for Mr. Eisenhower in South Carolina last year still call themselves Democrats and they'll fight if you call them Republicans," Johnston said.

Mr. Eisenhower carried four Southern states—Virginia, Texas, Tennessee and Florida—and was surprising strong in several others in 1952. The GOP, some of its leaders said, would be a vital force in Dixie politics hereafter.

Criticism Loud
New voices came now, however, from Southerners who for the most part also were loudest in denouncing former President Truman for his espousal of federal civil rights legislation.

Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, who has threatened to junk public schools and set up a private system if the Supreme Court outlaw segregation, called the Brownell brief "a stab in the back" by "left wing elements."

Publicity Didn't Cause Loss Of Runaway Pair's Grandchild

ORANGE, Tex., Nov. 28—UP—A physician denied Saturday that the stillbirth of pretty Mrs. Elizabeth Burton's first baby was caused by the shock of learning that her father is Thomas C. Buntin, who abandoned a fortune and another family in Nashville, Tenn., 22 years ago to run off with his secretary.

Buntin for the last 22 years has called himself Thomas D. Palmer. The secretary, the former Betty McCuddy of Russellville, Ky., is Mrs. Burton's mother and the mother of five other children.

When the real identity of the Palmers was disclosed Thursday, Mrs. Palmer's first thought was of her daughter, who was expecting a baby. She was afraid the shock would kill the baby. The baby was stillborn Friday night.

Burned Out Stores Due To Reopen

Two of the five stores in the burned-out building in the 100-block of East Kingsmill are expected to open their doors to the public the first of this week.

A third has already been open for some time and the other two are well along the road toward complete reworking.

A $70,000 fire during the morning of Sept. 11 raged through the Sportsman's Store, H. W. Waters Insurance, Owen's Cafe, Melody Manor and Enloe's Cleaners.

Rusty Ward, whose Ward's Office Equipment Company is located at the Melody Manor site, said Saturday he'd be open for business Monday morning. A spokesman for Cecil Shirley, who is opening another sporting-and-toy store on the site of the old sports store, said he should be in business the first part of the week.

H. W. Waters Insurance Agency has been open for some time at the same old stand.

Owen Johnson Saturday figured he should be open by Dec. 15, admitting that earlier he had hoped to be open by Tuesday. No one was on hand Saturday morning to discuss the opening date of Guaranty Loan Company which is now in the Duncan Building but will take over the Enloe's Cleaners site.

Ivy Duncan is co-owner of the entire five-store now nearing complete reconstruction.

Two Youths Admit Station Burglary

Two Pampa youths will appear before County Judge J. B. Maguire, Jr., on charges of burglary, according to Chief of Police Jim Conner.

The two boys, one 15 and the other 16 years of age, were arrested by Pampa police Saturday about 1 a. m. as they sat in a pickup truck near the Ogden and Bon services station, 601 W. Foster.

Both boys admitted burglarizing the station a few moments before their arrest, he said.

They told police that they had gained entrance to the building through a wash rack and had stolen a pair of pliers.

Shortly before their arrest, police had received a report that one of the boys had climbed a tree at the southwest corner of the Newton Furniture company store next door to the station, while the other boy handed him a pry bar.

The first boy, police said, crossed over the roof of the furniture store to the roof of the service station building and looked for a skylight or air shaft, but failing to find these he climbed down.

The youths were released from custody shortly after their arrest, Chief Conner said.

Riegel Survivors Awarded $3,500

Mrs. Mae Evelyn Riegel and Kathryn Jean Riegel, wife and daughter of Roy Wesley Riegel, 935 S. Barnes, who died following injuries in a car-train crash at the Starkweather crossing, have been awarded $3,500.

Action came Friday in 31st District Court with Judge Lewis M. Goodrich presiding in what was termed a "friendly" suit.

Panhandle and Santa Fe Railroad was the defendant in the suit. Goodrich decreed that $3,000 of the settlement be paid to the daughter.

Riegel died several days after the collision which occurred Sept. 2.

Amarillo Video Station Gets Cable

Cable programming will get underway at 4 p. m. today for Pampa and Amarillo television fans.

This is the first time that cable service is being provided by Dan Wilson, general manager of KFDA-TV.

Kicking off the new television network that will bring programs to the Texas Panhandle from all over the nation will be "Omni-bus," starring Jack Benny in "The Horn Blows at Midnight." That'll last 1 1/2 hours.

"You Are There" with Walter Cronkite will be on TV screens at 7:30 p. m. today with the story of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Other programs over the new cable tonight will be "Life With Father"; Ann Southern in "Private Secretary"; Ed Sullivan in "Toast of the Town"; and Jack Carson in "The Marriage Fix."

Fund Officials Hopeful Of Goal

The returns on Pampa's United Fund Drive seem to be more encouraging than those of a week ago. In fact, all indications seem to be that the drive's goal of $45,150 will be reached.

Later Saturday morning, Paul Brown, chairman of the drive, reported that $26,425.25 had been collected on the advance drive and $14,418.86 on the general drive. This makes a total of $40,844.11 with 89 per cent of the advance drive results turned in and about 75 per cent of the general drive cards reported.

"As soon as we can get all the workers' cards turned in, we feel sure we will have it made," Brown stated. "That's our only problem now — to get the workers to turn in their cards."

Plans Organ Recital

Mrs. Roy Johnson will present an organ recital at 7 p. m. Sunday in the First Methodist Church, prior to the evening worship service at 7:30 p. m.

Her selections will include compositions by J. S. Bach, Josef Haydn, Percy Fletcher, and Hugo Goodwin.

Cruce Receives Barn Site Deed

The city's deed to the county of the site in Recreation Park for the proposed county dual-purpose barn has gotten as far as the desk of City Manager B. H. Cruce where it resided this weekend.

City Attorney Bob Gordon turned it over to Cruce Friday night but Cruce said he wanted to check with Clyde Carruth, chairman of the city-county Recreation Park committee, on a proposed road set-back before sending it on to Mayor Tom Rose and City Secretary Ed Vicars for their signatures.

Gordon said that County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr., who will receive the deed from Rose and Vicars, has suggested a 30-foot set-back on the south and west side of the trapezoidal area instead of the 20-foot one recommended by Carruth's committee. That is the point of discussion now, Cruce said Saturday night.

Bids on the contract for the county barn on that site will be opened at 10 a. m. Dec. 11 in the city courtroom, Maguire said, pointing out that the proposed building will be 12 feet long, 70 feet wide and 14 feet high.

Reason for the haste in the matter is that both city and county officials want the barn built in time for the two annual Top of Texas shows, slated Jan. 25-27 in Recreation Park.

Nativity Scenes Scheduled Here

The Nativity scenes in Central Park for which Pampa has become famous in recent years, will be lighted with appropriate ceremonies Friday night, Dec. 18, it has been announced.

The program will feature music by the combined school choruses of the city and scriptures and narrations will be given by the Speech department of Pampa High School.

In charge of the erection of the scenes will be Jiggs Cooke, a member of the Engineering department of the City of Pampa.

Kiwanians Install Officers Thursday

New officers, including J. B. Maguire, Jr., newly elected president, will be installed at the annual installation banquet of the Pampa Kiwanis Club Thursday at 7:15 p. m. in the cafeteria of Pampa High School.

Other new officers to be installed by Lt. Gov-Elect Harry Wolford, Wheeler, of this Kiwanis division, will be Frank Fata, first vice president; Ralph McKinney, second vice president; Creel Grady, secretary, and Mack Hlatt, treasurer.

Incoming directors are Sam Berger, Warren Hesse, Malcolm Hinkley and Ken Meadows. Meadows has been serving an unexpired term as a director.

Retiring as president will be Clinton Evans. Maguire moves up from first vice president and Fata from second vice president. Hesse is the retiring secretary and Aubrey Steele is the outgoing treasurer.

Guest speaker will be Melvin Munz, Dallas insurance man, who will talk on a subject built around the "Sermon on the Mount."

The Rev. Richard Burger, missionary of the Church of the Brethren, who has just returned to this country from Africa, spoke at Friday's club luncheon in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

Citation Issued After Car Crash

Frank Sivlis, 65, of 1041 Huff Rd., skidded his car 255 feet Saturday afternoon on the Amarillo highway, overturned 2 1/2 times — and received a citation for speeding.

Accident occurred at 1:50 p. m. on the highway patrol. Sivlis was headed toward Pampa, highway patrolmen reported when he began a turn to the right onto F. M. 750 and went into a skid and an overturn.

Damage to his car was reported as $285.

City To Open Bids On Fence

Bids will be opened at 2 p. m. Dec. 14 on the proposed fence around the Pampa pump station near the northeast corner of Hobart Street and the Santa Fe Railroad tracks.

A legal advertisement testifying to the bid-opening will be published Monday, according to City Manager B. H. Cruce.

Approved a week or so ago by the city commission, the fence is to be of the chain-link type with three strands of hot wire and the whole thing approximately 1,000 feet around.

Specifications can be obtained in the office of James Cowan, city director of public works.

Pampa Damage Suit Dismissed

The suit of Marion Flanigan, who asked $75,000 of Owen Johnson, proprietor of the burned-out Johnson's Cafe, 121 E. Kingsmill, has been dismissed in District Court on motion of plaintiff.

Judge Lewis M. Goodrich dismissed the suit Friday and ordered all court costs to be paid by the plaintiff.

In the suit filed Oct. 21, Miss Flanigan contended she had entered the cafe, slipped and broken, bruised and injured certain bones in her body. Date of the mishap, the suit said, was Nov. 23, 1952.

None Injured As Pickups Collide

Two pickup trucks, driven by man and wife, collided head-on on a county road northwest of Kingsmill about a mile north of U. S. Highway 40 Saturday.

The husband, Joe Aaron, was the driver of one of the trucks, while his wife, Jean, was the driver of the other.

Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nickols said that apparently Mrs. Aaron, who was driving north on the county road, lost control of her vehicle when she tried to attend to her three-month-old baby, and crashed into the front of the truck, being driven south by her husband.

Nickols said that damage would amount to about $300 to $350 to each vehicle. Fortunately, no one was injured, he added.

Burglars Hit Liquor Store

Someone apparently wants to go "all out" in celebrating Christmas this year.

Mrs. William Finkbinder, who operates the Alcock Package store, 2214 Alcock Street, reported to Police Friday that someone broke into the store the night before and stole a large quantity of whisky, rum and gin, including one full case of Haig and Haig Scotch.

Other quantities appearing on the long list turned over to police included from six to 12 bottles of various brands in half-pints, pints and fifths.

Mrs. Finkbinder was unable to determine the exact value of the merchandise stolen, but said that she thought it would amount to nearly $1,000.

Entrance was gained by breaking the glass in a rear door, removing a bar across the door and unlocking the door.

About $20 in cash also was taken in the burglary, police were told. No leads as to possible suspects had been uncovered by police Saturday.

Red Unions Due Hearings Monday

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., Nov. 28 (AP)—The state of Texas Saturday prepared to open hearings Monday into charges a union on strike against 22 Port Arthur firms had Communist sympathies.

The state had charged the Reds hoped to gain a stranglehold on the strategic Gulf Coast area.

In advance of the hearing, the CIO announced it was taking over the membership of the union, the Distributing, Processing and Office Workers of America, and that a new union would be chartered under CIO sanction.

Fred Paiper, national representative of the CIO, arrived here to spearhead the change-over. He said the new union would have much the same membership as the DPOWA, but that the leadership at a national level would come from the CIO. He did not say what, "if anything, would be done about local officers."

Stop Smear Attack

Paiper said the changeover should stop the "smear attack" against DPOWA.

His statement came as Gov. Allan Shivers called on his re-elected five-member industrial commission to meet with him in Austin Monday to hear testimony concerning alleged Red sympathies of the DPOWA, the Mine, and Smelter Workers Union, and the International Fur and Leather Workers Union.

The commission has been inactive since the Odessa telephone strike of 1947. C. E. Fulgham, Lubbock farmer-rancher, was named temporary chairman.

Other members are L. E. Page of Garbidge, commander of the Texas Department of the American Legion; Walter Buckner, editor and co-publisher of the San Marcos Record and past president of the Texas Press Association; E. G. Goodman Sr., of Odessa, president of the Rodman Oil Field Supply Co.; and William J. Harris of Dallas, president of the Texas Federation of Labor.

Area Residents Invited To Pampa

Letters, inviting residents of neighboring towns to attend the Santa Day parade next Friday night and to shop in Pampa stores during the Christmas shopping season, will be mailed from the Chamber of Commerce office Monday night.

The letters, signed by W. J. McNeill, chairman of the Merchants Activities committee of the chamber, will go to all box holders in the surrounding communities, as well as those on rural routes.

Also, enclosed with each letter will be two complimentary tickets to either of Pampa's five theaters, which are being presented through the courtesy of Pampa merchants, in cooperation with the theaters. The tickets will be good on any night, except gift nights, until Christmas day.

Home Decorations Contest Set Here

The Christmas Home Decoration contest in Pampa will again be sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club, according to Mrs. Lorene Locke, chairman of the contest committee.

In announcing details of the contest, Mrs. Locke pointed out that churches and schools, as well as homes, are urged to participate in the contest. However, the churches and schools will not be competing against home entries, but separate prizes will be awarded to schools and churches.

No entry blanks are necessary, she stated, as any home that is decorated will automatically be judged in the contest. The committee asks that all installations be illuminated each night from 10:30 o'clock between Dec. 15 and Jan. 1. The exact night of the judging will not be announced, she said.

Decorations will be grouped in four classes, as follows: Displays featuring scenes, such as cutouts, of a religious nature; displays featuring scenes, other than of a religious nature; displays using only lights or features to harmonize with surroundings, without scenes or cutouts, and doorway decorations.

As last year, the city will be divided into five districts for the contest, with prizes being awarded in each of the five districts. The makeup of the districts will be announced later, she added. A grand prize, in the form of a permanent trophy, will be awarded to the best decorated home in the city.

A circulating trophy will go to the best decorated school and to the best decorated home in the city.

A circulating trophy will go to the best decorated school and to the best decorated church.

Decorations in each group will be rated as follows: General artistic effect, 50 per cent; originality, 20 per cent; ingenuity in utility of surroundings, 10 per cent; conformity to the spirit of Christmas, 10 per cent, and proportion, 10 per cent.

All those planning to have their homes decorated this Christmas are urged to have their decorations up by next Friday night if possible.

Other members of Mrs. Locke's committee are Mrs. Vera Lard, Mrs. Mable Ford, Mrs. Ollene McShan and Mrs. Bessie Roberts.

Scottish Clan Member Says U. S. Churches Are Impressive

BOSTON, Nov. 27—UP—What impresses a foreign visitor most on a tour of the United States? Football? Skyscrapers? Television? Dame Flora MacLeod, 29th chief of a 700-year-old Scottish clan, says her answer is: "Your country's churches—especially your tremendous church congregations."

The 76-year-old visitor, who is winding up a six-week tour that took her to every section of the United States and to cities including New York, Chicago and San Francisco, said she found the United States "a thrilling country." She has been visiting American members of the clan.

Fascinating Machines
"In Phoenix," she said, "a MacLeod who'd become a wholesaler showed us fascinating machines to wrap up lettuce and carry a railroad car at a time."
In Hollywood a MacLeod who'd become a director showed us behind the scenes and I met some of the stars.
"In Texas, they took us to a huge ranch to see cattle.
"But really, I was almost startled when I saw how your churches are filled. In our Highlands we live in small communities and our congregations are small. But your church congregations—they're, you might almost say, enormous."
Need For Church Realized
She told of visiting a church at Dallas, "where in one section there were men sitting, 12 to a row, row on row. And after the service they went out to help collect funds for their faith." She said she noticed the same sort of thing in all parts of the nation.
"I suppose," she said, "it's because people nowadays are beginning to realize they need a church."
How about American radio and television programs?
"Well, the twins (her grandsons, touring with her) they think it is simply delightful. Every time they get into a room where there is a set, they sit right down in front of it. But really, I—well, I must say some of it seems to be pretty poor."
She particularly disliked the commercials.
"I'm used, in Scotland, to tuning in the BBC, we don't get television there on our Isle of Skye. On BBC they go straight along with the news. But here, why in the midst of the report, a voice pops up to tell you about Sprats dog biscuits or something."
Turn down sweater, blouse, and jacket cuffs before they go into the soapuds. That way, the soiled edges and folds will get proper attention.

EMPLOYED AS MECHANIC Pampan Preaches Weekly To Deaf Group In Amarillo

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Staff Writer
As Pampan worship each Sunday in the churches of their choice, there is another group of people who have their own unique kind of church service. And Pampa has a minister that leads this service. They are the deaf. The service is in sign language. And the minister is W. Gordon Crocker of 525 N. Nelson, who, during the week, is a mechanic at the Tom Rose Ford Agency.

Each Sunday, Mr. Crocker takes his wife, his daughter, Virginia, and his son, Donny, to Amarillo where he preaches in the Church of Christ to a congregation composed almost entirely of deaf persons. During the week, he prepares his sermon, and preaches from notes he has prepared, as most other preachers do.

"The only reason he goes to Amarillo is because there are more deaf people there," Virginia explained.

Mr. Crocker began his ministry about a year ago when the church in Amarillo gave him permission to use a room there each Sunday. Before he began to preach in Amarillo, he led several services in Pampa's Harvesters and Mary Ellen Church of Christ for the deaf people in the area.

Although he only joined the church about 18 months ago, he used to go to the services before that time. "We would sit in the balcony where there weren't many people and I would interpret the sermon for him (in sign language)," Virginia stated.

Then, partly through the influence of his parents, who were devout church people, Mr. Crocker decided to be baptized and become a member of the church. About the same time, he decided to become a minister.

"A man from Dallas, who could hear, but preached to the deaf, came to Pampa and encouraged him to become a preacher," Virginia explained.

Following his decision to join the ministry, Mr. Crocker studied under J. P. Crenshaw, who was the pastor of the Harvesters and Mary Ellen Church at that time. Upon completing his studies, he began his weekly preaching mission in Amarillo.

Recently, his work reached to Austin, where, at the invitation of the church for the deaf there, he journeyed to preach for the deaf people of that city.

Mr. Crocker was born May 9, 1915, in Mobeetie and later moved to Pampa with his parents. He attended a school for the deaf in Austin, where in 1934 he met Mrs. Crocker who was also a student at the school. They were married in 1935 and came to Pampa to live. Virginia, 17, is a senior in high school. Mr. Crocker applied for a job at the Tom Rose Ford Agency and made a sign to Virginia advising her that the call was for her. They both giggled and later, Donny confided that it was "her boy friend."

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—UP—Photo engravers on six major New York city newspapers went on strike Saturday and set up picket lines around the plants.

Two of the three afternoon newspapers involved, the World-Telegram and Sun and the Post, did not publish. The other, the Journal American, printed its Saturday and Sunday editions Friday night and began distributing them Saturday.

Local No. 1 of the International Photo-Engravers Union (AFL) established picket lines at 6 a. m. at all six newspapers.

The morning newspapers involved are the New York Times, News, and Mirror. The combined daily circulation of the six is 5,169,000. The combined daily circulation of the six is 5,169,000. The New York Herald Tribune, also a morning newspaper, was not affected because its photo-engraving is done by a commercial firm.

Also not affected were other newspapers in the Metropolitan area such as the Brooklyn Eagle; The Press, Star-Journal, and Newsday on Long Island, New Jersey; newspapers just across the Hudson, and those in Westchester county to the north.

The union had demanded a $15 weekly pay increase, rejecting the publishers' offer of a $3.75 "package" increase. Its contract which expired Oct. 31 had provided photo engravers with a 38 1/4 hour week with pay ranging from $120 a week for day work to $131 for night work.

Doctor Attacking Poison Chemicals

By DELOS SMITH
NEW YORK, Nov. 28—UP—The insecticide, DDT, and its even more poisonous chemical cousins were arraigned Friday on a charge of being the roots of much evil now afflicting man and beast.

The prosecutor was Dr. Morton S. Biskind, Westport, Conn., who has had the alleged culprits under surveillance since 1948.

The court was the current issue of the American Journal of Digestive Diseases. The jury will have to be the physicians who will examine his evidence, together with attached 119 citations of scientific findings.

Cites Changes
DDT came in general contact with people in 1945. Since then, Dr. Biskind said, "there have been a number of curious changes in the incidence of certain ailments and the development of new symptoms which spell out diseases never before observed. A most significant feature of this situation is that both man and all his domestic animals have simultaneously been affected."

These ailments he listed for man as: hepatitis, which is inflammation of the liver; polio; disorders of the heart and arteries and of the gastro-intestinal tract; cancer; unusual forms of pneumonia; retinal fibro-plasia (a blinding disease of prematurely born infants); "excessive fatigability and muscular weakness"; neuro-psychiatric symptoms.

For beasts he listed these: hyperkeratosis of "X disease" of cattle; an increased incidence of hoof and mouth disease; vesicular exanthema of hogs; "blue tongue"; "scrapie" and "over-eating disease" of sheep; Newcastle disease of chickens; highly fatal "Hepatitis X" and "hard pad disease" of dogs.

Not one of these, except hoof and mouth disease, is mentioned in the Department of Agriculture's Handbook, "Keeping Livestock Healthy," issued in 1942.

New Factor Is DDT
"This coincidence alone should have been sufficient to rouse a suspicion that something new that is common both to man and his domestic animals, has been operating in their environment during the period these changes have occurred," he said. "This new factor is not far to seek."

The factor, he continued, is DDT and its family. When DDT was released for general use "an impressive background of toxicologic investigations had already shown beyond doubt that this compound was dangerous for all animal life from insects to mammals." But it was released just the same "against the advice of investigators."

"With this foreknowledge," he continued, "the series of catastrophic events that followed the most intensive campaign of mass poisoning in known human history, should not have surprised the experts."

"Yet, far from admitting a causal relationship so obvious that in any other field of biology it would be instantly accepted, virtually the entire apparatus of communication, lay and scientific alike, has been devoted to denying, concealing, suppressing, distorting and attempting to convert into its opposite, the overwhelming evidence."

Dignitaries Told By Video Worker To Be 'Dignified'

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—Backstairs at the White House (Main Branch).

Scene: The glittering Anti-Defamation League dinner for President Eisenhower, a big thing on television. Cameras spotted all over the huge Mayflower Hotel ballroom.

A few minutes before the nationwide telecast was to start, a young man popped out on the stage and spoke.

"When you see a camera trained on you, please remain as dignified as you possibly can."

This to an audience that included members of the Cabinet and the Supreme Court.

The proprietor of one of Washington's better men's clothing stores displays on the wall of his establishment a letter from Mr. Eisenhower, thanking the owner for some gift hats.

The letter, snug in its frame for all the customers to see, bears at top and bottom the inscription, "Personal."

The President's off-the-cuff talk before the Anti-Defamation League demonstrated the imprint cowboy stories have made on Mr. Eisenhower, whose favorite reading is of the gunsmoke-and-saddle variety. The chief executive told his audience:

"I was raised in a little town of which most of you have never heard. But in the West it is a most famous place. It is called Abilene, Kan. We had as our marshal for a long time a man named Wild Bill Hickok. If you don't know anything about him, read your Westerns more."

A final sidelight on the presidential banquet given by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith this week. At each table was a small, typed slip bearing this admonition, "No Autographs, Please."

This was not due entirely to the presence of just about every big name in government, but the fact the place was loaded with Hollywood, stage, and television stars such as Lucille Ball, Ethel Merman, Helen Hayes and Eddie Fisher.

267,000 Manufacturers in U. S., WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—The Census Bureau reports there were about 267,000 private manufacturing establishments in the United States last year. It said nine out of 10 had fewer than 100 employees.

No U. S. Ships to Antarctica, WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—The United States has no plans to send any ships to Antarctica during the 1953-54 "summer" season, the State Department announced.

The normal body is seven and one-half times the height of the head, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Sailors In Skirts Making Good Fire-Fighters In Navy

By FRED ZAVATIERO
SEATTLE — UP — When it comes to fire-fighting, sailors in skirts are just as fearless as sailors in bell-bottom trousers, the U.S. WAVES and Navy nurses are studying fire-fighting methods right along with sailors at the Fleet Fire Fighting School, Manchester, Wash.

The girls aren't shown any favoritism, or handed with kid gloves.

Hose May Drag WAVE
"We put the women in groups with the men," Lt. J. L. Wilkerson, the school's fire fighting officer, said. "Sometimes a tiny WAVE gets lost between two husky sailors on a hose-carrying detail, and it's hard to tell whether she's carrying the line or trying to hang on to it."

The school follows the theory of "learn by doing" so most of the time is spent putting out fires.

Pull size concrete models of boiler rooms, fuel storage tanks, and aircraft carrier flight decks, are flooded with a mixture of oil and water which is ignited. When smoke and flames reach a terrifying height, the students put the fire out.

There have been no serious injuries. A few bruises from slipping in smoke-filled boiler rooms, a broken nail from wrestling a hefty fire hose, and occasionally some wounded feelings are the only casualties.

Girls Move In Too Fast
Instructors agree the women are conscientious and industrious — sometimes too industrious.

"The girls try to move in on the fire too fast. When they wash off the soot at the end of the day, a lot of eyebrows go down the drain," one instructor said. "Those who had 'Mamie' bangs usually wind up with a different type hairdo for a few months."

Singed hair and eyebrows don't bother the girls.

"We put on a little eyebrow pencil and who knows the difference," the poor men—they look like hair-less dogs," a nurse said.

"I think I'll quite the Navy and marry a fireman," one WAVE said. "Maybe I could get a job in a fire department with him."

She probably could. The only thing the school hasn't taught her is the fire house pinocchio game.

New Weapon Tested
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 28—UP—The U. S. Army here is testing a Belgian-made rifle which may "revolutionize" small arms. Col. John P. Harlan, acting commanding officer, announced the "FN" rifle may replace the 45-caliber automatic pistol, the M-1 rifle, the 30 caliber carbine, the Browning automatic rifle and small machine guns.

The Pampa Daily News

One of Texas Five Most Consistent Newspapers

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Published daily except Saturday by The Pampa News, Archibon at Somerville, Pampa, Texas. Phone 4-2725. All departments. Entered as second class matter under act of March 3, 1915.

By mail $10.00 per year in retail trading zone, $12.00 per year outside retail trading zone. Price for single copy 5 cents. No mail orders accepted in localities served by carrier.

A Cardinal's Speech

We are not always alone in our considered opinion of the public school system and the belief that in the field of education, as in other broad, general fields such as medicine, transportation, press and religion the truly American way to conduct ourselves is through the free enterprise system.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, touched upon the subject in a recent address at the Christian Culture Lecture Series in Dallas when he spoke on "The Great Debate in Public Education."

Evidently the archbishop is not a steady reader of Freedom Newspapers for he said in opening: "The 'Great Debate' has not been heralded widely in our newspapers. In fact, little, if anything, has as yet appeared. It has been well defined and resented, however, in a book that has been published last year. This book has been prepared and sponsored by our largest educational association, a group which is not directly a bureaucratic agency of government. This group has formulated the so-called debate with a liberal degree of subtlety and has with deftness discussed it at length, apparently for a select reading public."

Having backed into his criticism, Archbishop McIntyre then continued:

"The book which I have mentioned is an official publication of an organization of nation-wide scope and of intensified influence in many of the most populated and most influential areas of the nation. It describes the debate as between the so-called Authoritarian or traditional form of education on the one hand, and on the other the adherents of the so-called Democratic education. The adoption of the Soviet technique in the employment of the many-meaning word Democratic is suggestive of the philosophy which is behind the idea of this Progressive and Democratic education."

"Who are the Authoritarians? Perhaps most of us here come under that description. They are the conservatives in education. They are those who follow American traditions. They are you and I. They believe in God and they recognize the commandments of God. They respect fixed moral principles. They respect the rights of others. They advocate the teaching of the three 'R's' in school. They acknowledge the Christian civilization. They believe that all subjects should be taught from the viewpoint that there is a power in life beyond the power of man, and that there is a universal law directing the actions of man toward himself and toward his neighbors. They hold that the norm of moral principles is the concept of right and wrong and that this norm does not fluctuate from day to day with public opinion. They believe in discipline of mind and discipline of action. They respect authority, both Divine and human. They believe that all authority comes from God, and that a man is obliged to observe the law of God as well as the law of man."

"Who are the proponents of the so-called Democratic education? They are educators grouped on a national basis in an organization which embraces in its membership a very high percentage of the teachers in our public schools. It is important to note that the philosophy of those directing the organization is not necessarily the philosophy or belief of its members. The national policies of this association constitute the beliefs of a relatively small group of professional educators."

"Now what does the new so-called Democratic education tell us? It says 'Democracy expresses itself in principles that are held tentatively and subject to modification.' Hence, what was right yesterday may be wrong tomorrow."

According to the book we are considering, the so-called Democratic form of education considers it essential to progress that men should argue, even endlessly; hypothesize, even senselessly; advance proposals, even godlessly; destroy old values and reconstruct new ideals without necessarily final formulation, and above all, an 'open mind' subject to change and constant in flux. There is nothing immutable, fixed, stable, enduring, permanent in their system; there is nothing to learn from history, the riches of the past, the experience of the race. For them the essence of education and thought is change."

What Cardinal McIntyre didn't tell his listeners in Dallas was that the book to which he takes such great exception is "Forces Affecting American Education," published by the National Education Association (NEA). We think Cardinal McIntyre was being overly delicate in not naming the book and the organization he criticized and hasten to supply the omission.

The U.S. Tax Story

During the last fiscal year, the states collected $10,500,000,000 from their citizens — which works out to $63 for every man, woman and child in the country.

In the same year, the federal government collected $65,200,000,000 in taxes — or $410 for each and every American.

This comes to a total of $478.04 per capital, or close to $2,000 a year for a family of four — and it doesn't include local taxes, for which figures are not available.

The point is that taxes, direct and indirect, are the biggest single expense borne by a great many of our families — just as they are for a great many of our businesses. There is an endless amount of grumbling over the high cost of living. There should be an equal amount over the high cost of government.

Bargaining

By Paul L. Polrot

INSTALLMENT VIII The Risks of Ownership

Approximately 480,000 stockholders have voluntarily pooled their savings to provide the tools and facilities which are operated under the management of America's largest manufacturing corporation. Each stockholder is free to sell his interest in that corporation to anyone else who is willing to buy it. At what price? At a price agreeable to both. The corporation management cannot force any stockholder to sell his interest. Nor have individual stockholders or any combination of stockholders a right to force anyone else to buy their shares at a fixed price. Such transactions are negotiated by competitive bargaining rather than by force. The idea that there is a coercive feature to the combined power of corporate stockholders is an overworked myth. They can't even "draft" a manager. They can bargain for the services of a man who will manage their capital for them.

The management hired by the stockholders of America's largest manufacturing corporation offers employment to about 470,000 individuals — nearly as many employees as there are owners of the business.

Now, quite probably every stockholder as well as every employee understands that no one of them has a claim to the entire output of the business. They expect to share the product in some fashion. One of the problems is that no one knows the exact exchange value of this product until that figure has been determined by competitive bargaining in the market place. Meanwhile, someone must assume the risks of ownership of the product.

This corporation has no powers of monopoly pricing — it has competitors, actual and potential. So, the consuming public is forced to underwrite the risks of loss. The employee who accepts employment in return for a specific wage takes few risks relative to marketing the product. Each pay day the employee gets a certain return for his efforts, which he can readily use as a yardstick against all alternative opportunities for employment. The hired manager, of course, risks his reputation upon his capacity to manage a business successfully. Hence, the real risks of financial loss have to be borne by the owners of the business. As an incentive to bear such risks, stockholders expect to share any profits the company might earn.

The risks of ownership, whether it be ownership of goods or of one's own services, are borne by the owner; that is the concept of those who believe in private ownership of property. If that concept is correct, it should apply regardless of the total amount of property owned by one individual, or the amount voluntarily pooled by several owners under one management. It also should apply regardless of the number of employees who might have bargained for the opportunity to use the property in order to improve their own productivity.

If 480,000 individuals have pooled their savings to provide the tools for use by any one of the employees of a corporation, that fact does not give those stockholders, either individually or collectively, any coercive advantage over anyone else who wants to bargain for the services of that employee. It would be quite another story if the stockholders should attempt to compel all employee persons to be their employees and to work for their corporation. If that should ever happen, one might reasonably expect the employees to organize a counter force.

The Worker's Reserve
It is frequently argued that an employee is at a bargaining disadvantage when he seeks a favorable employment contract because he has less of a reserve to draw upon than does an employer. It is said that the employer needs bread for his family's supper, whereas the employee needs nothing more urgent than a new yacht. The effect of such dramatization is to draw attention from the subject of the employer-employee relationship. The employee wants the use of tools and managerial services, and the employer wants the workman's services so that together they may create something useful in exchange for bread, yachts, or whatever else either of them may choose to buy with his part of the product.

It is true that some employees have little except their weekly wages as a buffer against bill collectors. And if the loss of a week's wages is that serious to a man. It may be a sign that he isn't a good enough manager or, for some other reason, prefers not to try to make a living by working at a business of his own. Thus, he is in this sense dependent upon job opportunities created by others. But in a competitive society, a person is not bound to continue working for others, nor is he bound to depend upon any one employer for an opportunity to work. Some employees, of course, prefer not to change jobs; free men have that choice. Unless competition has been strangled by coercive intervention, employers will be competing against one another for the productive services of employees. This competition between employers for an employee's productive capacity is the thing that constitutes the employee's reserve, just as the reserve value of capital depends upon the competition for the use of International Whirligig... Germany's Commercial Gains Are Due To American Dollars

WASHINGTON—Only eight years after Germany's crushing defeat, the country has risen from $3 in 1948 to 152 in 1953. Preserving a balanced economy, the increase in output applies to both consumer and heavy goods. Foreign trade jumped from $300,000,000 to almost $700,000,000 in the five-year period, despite Government restrictions on luxury imports.

France Fears Rearming Germany
This rapid recovery explains French fears over rearming Germany through admission to NATO or the European Defense Community. Such a driving force, Paris argues, cannot be kept in check any more than in the days of Bismarck, the Hohenzollerns and Hitler. But England, a trader nation, believes that Germans' resumption of arms making will lessen the late enemy's threat to ordinary world commerce.

As of today, Germany is not permitted to manufacture major war weapons, such as large warships, aircraft, atomic articles, chemical and biological stuff, long-range or guided missiles. But once she is reinstated as a member of the Western alliance against Russia, she will be licensed to organize twelve divisions and to produce certain categories of arms.

Symbolically, Alfred Von Krupp's 12-year sentence as a war criminal was commuted to time already served (six years) by High Commissioner John J. McCloy in 1951. He was adjudged innocent of his family's role in building Hitler's war machine. Save for his iron-steel-coal cartel, properties worth $140,000,000 were restored to him on the ground that confiscation violated ill-established Anglo-American principles of law.

A weak sort of fellow, devoted to sailing, acting, photography and amateur acting, who married a Hollywood girl, Margaret Knauer, in 1952, young Alfred says he "will never make a gun again." But the French have heard these promises since the Krupp's rolled out their first three-inch cannon in 1847.

that capital. In this connection, it may be interesting to speculate for a moment as to just how an employee's reserve compares in dollar value with a reserve fund of capital. For instance, let us assume that the meat-cutter of the previous illustration is a young man who might reasonably expect to find regular employment for a period of forty years at an average weekly wage of $100. For a nonworking person to draw a comparable income from a trust fund — assuming that it earns interest at the rate of three per cent and that the principal also is to be used up over the period of forty years — an original capital investment of $120,000 would be required. A person's capacity for productive work is truly a valuable reserve, equal in worth to the inheritance from quite a "rich uncle." A young man has quite a stake in maintaining the kind of a competitive society in which such reserves are recognized as "private property."

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Chronic diarrhea, a common human ailment, produces discomfort and can be extremely annoying and troublesome. A reader wants me to discuss the problem. Diarrhea is not, strictly speaking, a disease since many different disorders can cause this symptom. The most common cause, however, is that which is of nervous origin. Many people seem to show the effects of nervousness or emotional strain by developing diarrhea. The intestinal nerves control the wave-like motions by which intestinal contents are carried on down the digestive tract.

When a susceptible person becomes excited or emotionally upset, the nerve control of the intestines is disturbed, the wave-like motions are increased, and what is called diarrhea develops. Animal parasites like ameba and germs may cause diarrhea. Ulcerative colitis is the most serious variety. It is a disease in which there are many signs of infection and in which small intestine in part of the intestine causing bleeding and irritation.

Other common causes of chronic diarrhea are cancer involving the lower bowel, some kinds of operations on the stomach, certain general diseases, including allergy, goiter and diabetes, and some diseases due to deficiency of the diet. In spastic colitis, diarrhea tends to alternate with constipation.

Unless one knows what the possibilities are and how to identify the source of the trouble, and these methods include X-rays and other special examinations, proper treatment is impossible. OFTEN IMPROVISE CURE

Far too often people with chronic diarrhea merely try to buy something at a drugstore which will "quiet them down." Although many drugs may do this for a short time, such self-treatment is a dangerous thing, as it may hide some serious condition.

Although it is true that many cases of chronic diarrhea can exist for years without causing death or serious injury, there are many cases on record where people have done on too long with what they thought was a minor symptom. When the diagnosis eventually was made the underlying condition was too far advanced to cure.

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

In 1947, LeRoy Chalupa of Pleasant Plain, Iowa, had to make a decision. His garage was too small for his car and he had to decide whether or not to build a new one. He built a new one.

Then he had to make another decision. What to do with the old garage? This decision resulted in a very profitable business.

He started to mix feed in the old garage to feed 400 hogs he was raising on his GI loan-financed farm.

Other farmers in the community began visiting Chalupa, watched him mix his own special formulas and wondered if he would mix feed for them. He would.

Chalupa, recognizing a good thing when he saw it, registered his three special formulas and opened up the Prairie Gem Feed Company.

Chalupa is doing a nice volume of business now, selling his own formulas and mixing feeds to order. In addition to the garage, he has a new home, a new store building and a new hardware and appliance business.

Chalupa found himself with a problem and turned it to very fine advantage.

Pegler Lays Responsibility Of Cold War On Harry, Ike

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 — History will prove that Harry Truman and General Eisenhower are responsible for the cold war by their own positive decision and the other by meek and servile acquiescence, doomed the United States to the current cold war and literally millions of human beings to Russian custody.

Some editors and others who supported Eisenhower against Taft last year held that Ike's responsibility was not arguable because he was a soldier under orders from the president. But Ike himself has spoken out of both sides of his mouth on the subject. In another clear, unmistakable statement he accepted full responsibility for his withdrawal of the conquering American and British armies 100 miles to the westward and the subsequent Russian occupation of all those Germans to the Soviet Union. He said the decision was his.

I am mining precious nuggets of information from Jonathan Daniels' book, "The Man of Independence," these days. And here, from an ordered speech at the University of Winston Churchill's "Iron Curtain" speech at Westminster College, at Fulton, Mo., is a quotation attributed by Daniels to Truman which absolutely proves Truman's terrible guilt.

Daniels says Truman said to him: "Churchill had tried to get me not to withdraw our troops from Prague. I told him we were bound to do that by our agreements with the Russians. But if I had known then what I know now, I would have ordered the troops to stay at the western boundaries of Russia."

Now, Churchill is telling us that he foresaw the developments which have seized the United States and our people in their crushing grip and reduced the British to a sulky, indignant tribe with a disposition to make the best of a bad job. It comes a "conquering but not to fight the Russians to defend America. Of course, Churchill doesn't always tell the whole truth as we noted in his failure to mention Harry Dexter White and the Soviet spies in our government when he was touching on the Morgenthau plan. Again, his treatment of Pierre Laval is aside and self-serving, for he does not grant Laval the status of a French patriot in refusing to put British interests first.

However, we have much evidence that Churchill always kept the Russian treachery and ambition forward in his mind and wanted to capture Vienna and the Danube as the allies easily could have done, regardless of Stalin's displeasure.

Like our own General Albert Wedemeyer, who refused to serve Roosevelt as a politician, Churchill wanted to throw the Russians back into the "darkness" beyond their own old borders. They were mighty but they were inefficient and the allies could have drawn a line and held them there but for Truman.

As to Ike, what would have happened if he had disobeyed his own and gone forward? Vienna and the Danube were lost already, but Poland, Czechoslovakia and Eastern Germany could have been saved.

The under a real and fly him honor in iron? If he had done that the American people would have acclaimed Ike in the streets. It is hard to imagine the political consequences but they certainly would have been pleasant for Truman and those conspirators who put him in the White House. But there is not a trace of evidence that Ike had the intelligence to agree with Churchill and Wedemeyer or, indeed, that he ever occurred to him to doubt the nobility of the Soviet government. There is nothing in his war diary to support a legend that General Patton voiced any criticism.

I have seen inklings of the same gaudiness in Eisenhower's instantaneous desertion of Dick Nixon when the Democrats turned up the story of his political fund-raising campaign. Instead of roaring out that Dick Nixon was a fine, honorable young man, Ike said he would have to "come clean," plainly implying a doozy. Instead of supporting Joe McCarthy in his great campaign to expose and root out traitors, Ike dragged his heels and gave an insipid approval to the anti-Soviet Reds. After Erwin Ell had exposed Truman's guilt in the Harry Dexter White case, Ike minimized the treason in the government and said he hoped communism would not be a political issue. Of course, it will be one. It may be the only one.

I try to understand the processes of an editor whose concept of his professional duty lets him take service with a president, the head of a political party, and so conduct himself as to stay in favor with such a paltry man as Truman. If Truman confessed to him, a selfless secretary, in March, 1946 that he had been mistaken in trusting the Russians and drawing back from the Elbe did he owe the greater duty to Truman or to the people who had read his paper and rely on him as an honorable man to publish fateful information which should be theirs? I have my own opinion but then I would never accept a job with a political party or administration unless I publicly quit my role of journalist.

I have to come back to Truman's friend, Max Lowenthal, in his connection. Daniels has told us that Lowenthal picked Truman (vice president) and added the my own observation that "Truman" was nominated by men speculating beyond death of Roosevelt who knew what they wanted but did not know what they were getting."

In testimony before the House committee on un-American activities in September, 1950, Lowenthal, the king-maker, said: "There was a man that I was supporting before it became known that Mr. Roosevelt was going to run for a third term." Truman was his man.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

It turns out, in case anyone wants to know, that a man can sit down in public print and tell the world that he thinks a lady has entrancing legs without being horsewhipped by the lady or otherwise maimed as a result of her indignation. This is a handy thing to know and I pass it on as a truism worth keeping tucked away in one's wallet. Miss Joan Crawford, for example, is a lady not at all fair to her own sex. She has gams which give such noteworthy works of art as Gainsborough's "Blue Boy," the "Mona Lisa" and anything by Velasquez a tough run for the money.

Just about a month ago, emerging from Miss Crawford's latest motion picture, "Torch Song," with a dazed and delighted conviction that I had just looked upon the handsomest stems in the known world, I felt a greed which made me bite with the intention of issuing this information. I wanted whole regiments of people to buy tickets and see for themselves that in the department of gauging gams for their ineluctable beauty I was no nunny, no Johnny-come-lately willing to settle for lesser joys just because they had had much more publicity. The fact is that for some years Miss Crawford has kept a Niagara of skirts concealing her treasures and at a time when my eye belle in Hollywood was standing still for the cameras and yelling hoarsely, "Look at mine!" she was off down the pike with never a backward glance at such doers and with her choice, as she thoroughly veiled by the best that Mainbocher et al could dream up as suitable covering. While others wrote poems about Miss Betty Grable, Miss Claudette Colbert and similar candidates for pin prizes, I kept a sane silence knowing that sooner or later Miss Crawford would come out in the open and send these less fortunate mice shrieking to the showers.

The only qualm I ever had about making a public display of my enthusiasm for Miss Crawford's trim stems was that sooner or later she would see this incandescent prose and write me a letter if to pin my ears back. There are half a dozen or so fellows loose in the land whose individual job it is to land about her. Sooner or later she had to see that I was out there in the public square claiming my discovery of the pre-tiest things since diamonds and I wondered which size buggy whip she'd take to me.

Well, she has seen it. The postman has brought her letter. I've read it. Miss Crawford is a lady. She hasn't a buggy whip or a gun in either hand, and, far from foaming with rage at my public discussion of her entrancing legs, she feels that a pleasant thing has been said about her. I can even quote: "... the nicest thing that ever happened to me — and not because I'm past thirty. It would have been the nicest thing when I was ten or twenty."

I don't think age has much to do with it. The physicalities are that at ten she already was showing eloquent promise of fantastic beauty and I can certify in my own right that at twenty she was Cloud No. 7, a thing of shimmer and dazzle and flawless composition. With she is 50 or 60 or 70 or maybe even 80, and if I'm still alive, which is unhappily doubtful, she will still be able to stand up there in a glare of light and have all her perfections intact. She is so less and indestructible and will remain so. There are such in every century. But not many. Which is good, because it allows us to look with rapt interest on the few who are. If there were a million beauties they'd be about as uninteresting as a bottle cap. But the few there are...

I didn't intend to make my affections for Miss Crawford quite so candidly clear again, because the lady who picked up a chair in gesture instead of a horsewhip, in this is how it has turned out. I expected that because she is a lady. With of course beautiful legs. Let's not forget that.

BUYING CHRISTMAS GIFTS Survey Of Local Merchants Shows Brisk Shopping Pace

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer

"What will I give to Dad, Mother, brother and sister this Christmas?"

That question is being pondered by Pampa residents again this year, now that Thanksgiving is out of the way and the Christmas shopping season has arrived.

A survey taken by The Daily News this past week reveals that Pampa residents already have started their Christmas shopping and several store managers have reported that business is brisk and that many packages are in their lay-away departments, gift wrapped and ready to be placed under the Christmas tree.

The merchants here have been busy getting ready for the expected Christmas buying rush and all indications point to a much bigger season than last year, as far as sales are concerned.

Most stores will double their personnel during the buying season, which officially opens next Friday, Santa Day, the survey showed. Some were expected to triple the size of their personnel.

One merchant pointed out that he didn't mind the headaches that go along with the Christmas shopping season as "that is the thrill of merchandising."

One of the biggest problems the merchants are facing this year is the difficulty in replacing depleted stocks. Another Pampa store manager advises people to do their Christmas shopping early due to the fact that certain items are hard to get out short notice. "When

A practical way to tote just-laundered laundry out to the line is to wear it in a plastic laundry bag. There's one that comes with a strap that fits right over your shoulder, allowing you the use of both hands.

Once outside, you can hook it over the line. When it's empty, you can fill it with your slightly damp laundry and use it to store clothes in the refrigerator before ironing. There's even a separate little plastic bag that comes with it to hook over the line and hold your clothespins.

Since these bags and hooks are plastic, they take to the suds for washing just as easily as the clean clothes they carry.

these are sold out, it would be difficult to get them and deliver them by Christmas," he stated.

Practically all stores, the survey revealed, will offer free gift wrapping in wrapping material.

A trip through Pampa stores reveals that the stores are well stocked with merchandise suitable for gifts. There are many new ideas for gifts offered by the merchants here.

Variety stores are featuring many new toys for the children. Parents are apparently going in for hobbies as gifts for boys, including models of old fashioned cars and battleships.

Another item that seems to be catching on here is the new "Paint a Number" kit. This kit features a drawing with various sections containing numbers, each different number designating a certain color. The child paints the color in when the painting is completed it develops into a real work of art. A store manager stated here is the walking and talking doll that walks and talks unaided.

Christmas packages this year, in many cases, will be tied with the newest thing in ribbons. It is a velvet ribbon trimmed with seed beads and sequins.

Jewelry stores are featuring many new styles in costume jewelry, watches and rings. One of these items is the new alarm wrist watch, which takes the place of the old alarm clock.

Besides the sales angle, the survey revealed that most stores will handle their own policing. Store managers are instructing their clerks to watch for customers who pay packages on counters and walk away from them and also to watch for shoplifters.

However, most store operators state that in the past they have not had much trouble with shoplifters and are hoping they won't be bothered with them this year.

So it seems that the merchants of Pampa are expecting the biggest Christmas buying spree in several years, beginning now and Dec. 25 when Saint Nick makes his annual visit to all the homes of the city.

Mother Granted A New Trial

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 28—UP—A mother sentenced to 14 years in prison for embezzling money to finance the Hollywood career of her daughter has been awarded a new trial by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The high court granted the new trial to Mrs. Beatrice Hollingsworth of Detroit Friday on her plea that portions of a supposedly confidential probation report in her case had been published by newspapers and broadcast by radio and television before she was sentenced.

In granting the motion, the Supreme Court overruled Detroit Recorder Judge O. E. Ide, who refused to allow Mrs. Hollingsworth to change her guilty plea to one of innocent before he sentenced her last February.

Mrs. Hollingsworth pleaded guilty last Jan. 24 to stealing $989.83 from her employer, the Kenneth Anderson Co. of Detroit, by forging company checks. She used the money to pay the expenses of her attractive 18-year-old daughter, Jill, who was in Hollywood at the time trying to "break into" the movies.

She admitted embezzling more than $25,000 to finance Jill's career, but was permitted to plead the lesser forgery charge.

SOME OF HER FAVORITES — Mrs. A. D. Hills, 705 N. Frost, looks over some of her favorite china-painting and oil-painting in the dining room of her home. The picture on the wall she feels is the best copy job she's done. The pouter she holds and the items on the table she likes as well as any of her china-painting. The cupboard behind her holds still more of her work. Flowers and fruits are her favorite subjects. (News Photo)

WITH OILS AND CHINA Pampa Painting Enthusiast Describes Lengthy Process

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
The blue-green walls of the dining room at 705 N. Frost are well-covered by two giant paintings, two china-closets and a buffet. All of them testify to the part-time work of Mrs. A. D. Hills who does more of the china-painting and oil-painting for a number of years. Mrs. Hills has so much of her work around that some of it has spilled into the living room and the corner for the attention of visitors.
"BEGINNING on oils in 1940, the sharp-eyed wife of a drilling contractor has been china-painting. For the last 2 1/2 years. And now she does more of the latter.

Mostly, she paints flowers and fruits on all manner of china. She

"Drop that TV camera, Louie, the Bograts are hot!" Humphrey's snarling and Lauren's blushing over her recent Comedy Hour sketch that kept the NBC janitors on overtime sweeping up the egg shells. From now on there will be no Bograts on TV unless they are given script approval.
Snapped Bogart on the set of "Sabrina Fair":
"They wouldn't let Lauren see a script until it was too late for changes. It's happening to a lot of movie people on TV. They sign up for a show and then they're shoved into these awful things. Sure, I went on Jack Benny's show. He knows what he's doing. He's one of the few guys I'd work for."
Benny is in my corner along with Bogart in the Let's-Laugh-a-Bit-to-Movie-Stars-on-TV campaign. Jack insists on a good situation first and then hires a guest star to fit, as he's done with Bogart, Marilyn Monroe and now Johnnie Ray.
Most of the other TV variety shows book a personality and then try to find something for them to do. Unhappily for stars and audiences, they just aren't finding anything.

Cut Profanity

Hollywood's latest attempt at celluloid realism, the thrill-packed, spine-crunching "Cease Fire," a documentary about the last day of war in Korea, brought out the blue pencils instead of the red, white and blue bunting at the Johnsons' show. G.I. jargon was cut from the picture.
Producer Hal Wallis and Director Owen Crump appealed the order, but the naughty words, said the censors, would establish a precedent for profanity on the screen.

Doctors have given Lou Costello the bad news. He'll be confined to his bed for at least four months. Overwork and nervous tension, he said, caused his collapse, but there's a deep concern over the rheumatic fever that bedded him three years ago.

Eartha Kitt, who will star in the CinemaScope version of "New Faces," is scoring one of the biggest personal Hollywood hits at the Mocambo since an unknown through named Lena Horne made her movietown debut.
But publicity stories that this is Eartha's first trip to Hollywood are in error. She had one line of dialog in the Tony Martin flop, "Cashah," back in 1948, and it was Tony who urged her to try for a singing career.

Marietta Elliott, one of the NBC Comedy Hour stars, will wed poet-writer Alfred Hayes, who wrote the current best-seller, "In Love."

Vic Mature, who rose to fame showing what a hunk of man he is and effort, you might as well have the best." Mrs. Hills is convinced.
THE PAINT? She uses 50-75 different colors. But it takes some 30 minutes to prepare them before painting. She has to mix the raw paint with a "medium." For brushes she uses three types with fascinating names: the French quill, the squirrel shaver and the pointer. Of course, there are different sizes and shapes of same-type brushes.
Mixing the paint, making the first design, painting the first coat, "firing" it in the kiln, then the whole process again, and perhaps a third time, it takes some 10 hours on an article like a vase.
She's taken some lessons, too. From Mrs. Mary Locke, then of Miami and now of Abilene; Mrs. Beulah Stanberry, Amarillo; and last summer Grace Evelyn Laughlin, Burbank, Calif.
Mrs. Hills still, however, enjoys doing an oil-painting now and then be it a copy or an original. Two of her favorites hang on adjacent walls in the dining room.

HER LESSONS for oil-painting came from Mrs. John Andrews, Pampa, wife of the justice of the peace, and Louis Neuhauer, Amarillo, a Viennese.
The housewife figures she's done about 100 pieces of china and 25 large oil-paintings, plus "lots and lots" of little pin-ups.
What does she do with all her work she doesn't keep? The answer is simple:
"Besides three children, all married and living in Pampa, I have lots of relatives and friends."

The industry is in distress," it said, "but, as a whole, it will survive."
The committee said the industry itself has taken steps—such as introducing three dimensional films—to encourage larger audiences. It also said some cities have cut real estate taxes on theaters in an effort to keep them in operation.
Tax Relief Would Help
The committee said "relief" from the 20 per cent federal amusement tax also would help the theaters during their present economic troubles. Congress repealed the tax on theaters earlier this year, but President Eisenhower vetoed the measure.
The committee offered no pat solution to the closed theater "problem."
"An answer to the financial problem may be found in a short time," it said, however. "The in-

Rice Overpowers Baylor, 41-19; Gains Cotton Bowl Berth

Moegle Sparks Owls In Decisive Win

By W. J. McGLASSON
HOUSTON, Nov. 28—UP—Fire by junior halfback Dicky Moegle's yard-gobbling sprints and the promise of a Cotton Bowl date, Rice Institute Saturday mauled Baylor into a humiliating 41 to 19 defeat before 65,000 fans.

The victory gave Rice a tie with Texas for the Southwest Conference championship and, by precedent, a bid to the Cotton Bowl game. The Owls earlier defeated the Longhorns.

At the conclusion of Saturday's athletic director Dana X. Moore of Texas announced his team would withdraw in favor of Rice.

Moegle's performance only barely shaded that of fullback Kesse Johnson, the Owl workhorse who accounted for three of Rice's touchdowns and 137 of its huge ground total.

Rice, a sleeping giant that always awakens slowly hit the peak of its season power against Baylor and from the opening kickoff its line was virtually driving the Bear forwards into the turf by merely plodding over them.

Scored First

Kellogg scored first on a six-yard drive to culminate a 75-yard march about 10 minutes deep in the first period. Moegle's big run came on the next to last play in the quarter.

Moegle scored again on a 15-yard scamper nine minutes into the second period to cap a 71-yard drive. Johnson's three touchdowns came on a two-yard plunge in the second period and on two one-yard drives in the third period.

Francis (Cotton) Davidson scored Baylor's first touchdown on a one-yard keeper after setting it up with two long passes early in the second period. It wasn't until the final period, when mostly second stringers were in for both sides, that Baylor again scored, twice.

Score by periods:
Rice 14 14 13 0-41
Baylor 0 7 0 12-19

Rice scoring: Touchdowns, Kellogg, Moegle 2, Johnson 3, Conversions, Fenstermaker 4, Burke.
Baylor scoring: Davidson, Holey, Bristow, Conversion, Davidson.

for the Jan. 1 bowl game in Dallas. Moegle, one of the speediest backs in the conference, scored two of Rice's touchdowns, three times killed Baylor drives with pass interceptions and accounted for 140 yards. He almost personally turned the tide-deciding game into a picnic for the magnificent Owls.

Long Touchdown Drive

One of his counters came in the first period when he ran 81 yards. Halfback Gordon Kellogg sprung Moegle loose with a key block at the line of scrimmage.

As brilliant as Moegle was, how-trampled Baylor 41 to 19 to tie for the Southwest title with Texas. Texas immediately withdrew following conference precedent, because the Rice team defeated Texas earlier in the season.

Alabama had a season record of six victories, two losses and three ties. Rice won eight games and lost two.

Veteran Bowl Team

CBAA Chairman Leonard M. Green said his group was happy to have Alabama, a veteran bowl team, as a guest in the Cotton Bowl. He also noted that Alabama defeated Georgia Tech, the Sugar Bowl host, and Auburn, the other Southeastern power, in recent games.

Alabama officials and the team voted Saturday night to accept the bid, following the victory over Auburn. Dr. O. C. Carmichael, Alabama University president, said he was happy to have the school team in the Dallas classic Jan. 1.

Alabama opened its season by losing to under-rated Mississippi Southern 19-25 and then tied Virginia State 7-7. The Tide then ripped Vanderbilt 21-12 and Tulsa 41-13 before being tied by Tennessee 0-0 and Mississippi State 7-7.

Alabama then rolled over Georgia 33-12, Chattanooga 21-14 and Georgia Tech 13-0 before falling before Maryland, the nation's top-rated team, 21-0. Then came the victory over Auburn and the bowl bid.

Rice's Record

Rice topped Florida 20-16, Cornell 28-7 and Hardin-Simmons 40-0 before dropping a Southwest Conference game to Southern Methodist 12-7. Then the Owls topped Texas 18-13, but bowed to Kentucky 13-19. Next came victories over Arkansas, 47-0; Texas A&M, 24-7; Texas Christian 18-4, and Saturday's title clincher over Baylor 41-19.

Bowl committee chairman Green pointed out that both Rice and Alabama finished strong this season, and predicted a colorful battle in Dallas Jan. 1.

Alabama Named Rice Foe In Cotton

DALLAS, Nov. 28—UP—Alabama will play Southwest Conference co-champion Rice in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association announced Saturday night.

Alabama immediately accepted when asked to play in the New Year's Day classic.

The Southeastern Conference team defeated Auburn 19 to 7 Saturday to win the title, while Rice trampled Baylor 41 to 19 to tie for the Southwest title with Texas. Texas immediately withdrew following conference precedent, because the Rice team defeated Texas earlier in the season.

TCU Upsets Mustangs

FORT WORTH, Nov. 28—UP—Ronald Clinkscales, a 10-second sprinter in the off-season, ran and passed Texas Christian University to an upset, 13-0, victory over Southern Methodist Saturday.

The victory stretched to eight years the duration of a jinx that TCU holds over its traditional rival in the Southwest Conference. Clinkscales used his speed to set up three scoring yards in the second period.

the final period, he flipped a 12-yard scoring pass to Marshall (Boogie) Robinson. A defensive line, spearheaded by the roving smashes of tackle Morgan Williams, kept SMU's plays from getting through.

First Loop Win

TCU hadn't won a conference game going into Saturday's contest and the crowd of 27,000 apparently was all set to watch SMU live up to its 13-point favorite's rating.

But Williams ignited the spark that turned the tide in TCU's favor. He was a roving demon on defense, while Clinkscales was the invaders back from the three to the 10, where they took over.

Raiders End Slate With 46-12 Win Over Cowboys

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 28—UP—Texas Tech, a jilted suitor for a berth in the Sugar Bowl, bested Hardin-Simmons, 46-12, Saturday before 15,000 persons. It was the biggest score Texas Tech ever rolled up in a 25-year series with Hardin-Simmons.

Tech capitalized on a break for its lead touchdown in the first period and poured across 19 points in the second for a secure 26-0 halftime lead. Hardin-Simmons controlled the action most of the third quarter, after Tech had upped its margin to 33-0. But the Red Raiders pulled far away in the fourth quarter.

The traditional game ended the most successful Texas Tech season since 1933, the team winning 10 games and losing only one. And in winning, Tech set one national three enemy fumbles for a season's total of 33 recoveries to wipe out an NCAA record of 30 set by Colorado in 1949.

the final period, he flipped a 12-yard scoring pass to Marshall (Boogie) Robinson. A defensive line, spearheaded by the roving smashes of tackle Morgan Williams, kept SMU's plays from getting through.

First Loop Win

TCU hadn't won a conference game going into Saturday's contest and the crowd of 27,000 apparently was all set to watch SMU live up to its 13-point favorite's rating.

But Williams ignited the spark that turned the tide in TCU's favor. He was a roving demon on defense, while Clinkscales was the invaders back from the three to the 10, where they took over.

1953 District 1-AAAA Grid Teams Will Lose Heavily By Graduation Next Spring

WITH ALL 1-AAAA TEAMS packing their molehills away until next season (with the exception of Odessa), the question arises: "Who will be the big wheel next season?"

Speaking from the standpoint of graduating seniors, the outlook now appears that it's anybody's race. Every club in the district is being hit hard by graduations.

Champion Odessa loses all its first string offensive team with exception of one. The same holds true for the Fighting Harvesters. The lone regular (offensive) returning for the Harvesters next season will be fullback Harold Lewis. Odessa's lone returnee on the starting unit is guard Ronnie Etheridge.

Abilene and Amarillo each loses 24 by graduation. Pampa, as you know, loses 22 off the squad. Lubbock and Borger loses 19 each; Odessa and Midland, 18 each; and San Angelo 13.

Abilene could very well be the team to watch next year although being heavy hit by graduation. The Eagle B team swept through a 9-game schedule without a loss this season and had only six points scored against them — those by Goldwithe, a Class A team. The Eagles defeated Goldwithe, 39-6.

The Eaglet team wound up its schedule last week with a 66-0 triumph over Sweetwater B.

Oh yes, the Eaglets averaged 40 points per game.

You can look for Lubbock to come up with a strong team. They've got more material at Lubbock than they know what to do with. It's virtually the same way at Amarillo but we believe Lubbock leads the entire district in having the most material.

Coach Tom Tipps and his staff will be building virtually from scratch next season. It isn't going to be easy to plug 10 gaps in the starting lineup. But the Tipps regime has brought a lot of victories toward Pampa's way and we don't believe next season will be any exception.

PAMPA'S EFFORTS TO bring a high school playoff game to Harvester Stadium has failed to materialize. Headed by the Chamber of Commerce, invitations were sent out to Phillips, Stamford and Mobeetie to play at Harvester Stadium.

Mobeetie picked Pampa as its preferred site for the regional finals against Paint Creek but lost on a coin flip.

Phillips coach Chesty Walker talked pretty favorably of playing his game with Stamford in Pampa only if they couldn't agree on a site with Stamford without a coin toss. But, in a meeting at Lubbock yesterday, Phillips and Stamford officials agreed on Lubbock as the playoff site without flipping a coin.

Lubbock, I guess, is a neutral site for the game since the Hub City is about equal distance from the two competing schools.

If Phillips keeps winning we might land one of their games yet. Phillips is our only hope of landing a playoff tile since all other teams are completely out of Pampa's territory.

So, it looks like the end of the football season locally.

Porkers Crush Tulsa, 27-7, In Finale

By JOE FRED STARR
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 28—UP—Arkansas' brilliant all-Southwest Conference fullback Lamar McHan led his team to a 27-7 victory over the Tulsa University Saturday before 10,000 spectators.

It was Arkansas' third win of the season, under new Coach Bowden Wyatt.

McHan, playing his last college football game, passed for three of Arkansas' four touchdowns and kicked three extra points in three periods.

Completes 15 passes
Floyd Sagely, all-Southwest Conference end, tucked in six of McHan's passes for 118 yards. In all, McHan completed 15 of 26 passes for 214 yards and rushed for 21 more yards as his team methodically beat out outclassed Tulsa.

Two of McHan's playoff passes were made in the first quarter. Both were thrown to blocking back Preston Carpenter, from the one yard line and both touchdowns were set up by McHan to Sagely passes which climaxed drives of 75 and 47 yards. McHan converted after the first, but missed the second conversion.

Arkansas made it 20 to 0 in the second period when Henry Moore scored from the one yard line and McHan again converted.

Tullia Hornets Are Opening Night Foe

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

Pampa's defending state basketball champions, the Hustlin' Harvesters, will blast the lid on their 1953-54 season Tuesday night when they host the Tullia Hornets at Harvester Fieldhouse.

Coach Clifton McNeely, entering his seventh season as the Harvester cage mentor, will build this year's team around two returning lettermen, all-state center Jimmy Bond and guard Don Fagan.

Although the new edition of the Harvesters will be shy on experience, most of the critics around District 1-AAAA are pointing a finger at the Green and Golders as repeating as the champs.

Only two other members of the current Harvester squad besides the two lettermen have played any varsity ball to speak of and neither of these played enough to letter. They are Gary Griffin and E. Jay McIlvain.

Both Griffin and McIlvain started out the season on the Pampa B team but were promoted to the varsity squad in January.

Griffin and McIlvain will lead height to the Harvester cage forces. Griffin stands at 6-3 and McIlvain 6-1. Both are juniors and will likely start Tuesday's game at the forward posts.

Order of the starting lineup will likely be Bond at center; Fagan at guard and either Kay Hinkle, George Depee or Kay Trolinger at the other guard. Others bidding for a spot on the varsity squad are Buster Carter, Harold Lewis, Bill Culpepper, Benny Cartwright and Buddy Sharp.

The Harvesters will play a 28 game schedule this season. After opening the season Tuesday, the Pampans will journey to Snyder Friday and Saturday for a 2-game series with the Snyder Tigers.

The Harvesters will return home for a Dec. 8 date with Phillips and return the game at Phillip Dec. 10, and then close out the week's slate Dec. 12 at Clovis N.M.

One of the highlights for the pre-conference play of the Harvesters is the 1st annual Top of Texas tournament to be unreeled at Harvester Fieldhouse, Jan. 1 and 2. It will be a 4-team affair with two Oklahoma teams, Chickasha and Ada, and Birdville of Fort Worth.

The Harvesters will carry a 21 game winning streak into the year's play. The Green and Golders swept through a 26-game schedule last season unbeaten after winning their final two games in the year before.

Tullia, Tuesday night's Harvester foe, is coached by Ralph Stewart who has been coaching at Stratford the past several years. It was the first meeting between Stewart and McNeely since the Harvesters and Stratford met on the court twice each the past two years.

It may take the Harvesters week or two to hit their stride since Bond only reported for duty last week. He was selected as the Harvester footballer, Bond, however, is in good physical shape and is expected to take up from where he left off last year quickly.

Bond led the Harvester score last season with 579 points in 14 games for a 22.3 average per game. He was selected as a member of a district and all-state team. It was the second straight year he has won all-district honors.

Fagan had 79 points last year, which is a pretty fair figure for a guard. McIlvain, playing sparingly in 18 games, had 14 points and Griffin had 21.

The Harvesters lost four of their stragglers of last year's state champion team with Bond the lone returning regular. Fagan was a first line reserve and got in everyone in the 28 Harvesters til Tuesday's game will be preceded by a game between the B team of the two schools. Coach Ter Culley's Guerrillas have already a one game under their belts, lost a 48-26 encounter to Wheeler in rank.

The B game Tuesday will begin at 6:45 with the varsity tilt follow immediately.

Following is the complete Harvesters cage schedule:

December 1 Tullia	7:30
December 4 Snyder	7:30
December 5 Snyder	7:30
December 8 Phillips	7:30
December 12 Clovis, N. M.	7:30

Miami Upsets Florida, 14-10

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 28—UP—An inspired freshman backfield that wouldn't quit powered to a touchdown in the closing minutes Saturday night to give underdog Miami a 14-10 victory over the Florida Gators in a bruising season finale before 55,530 fans in the Orange Bowl.

Turned back once in the fourth period at the Florida one by a stalwart Gator line, the Miami team charged right back for 58 yards and the winning touchdown with only four and one-half minutes left to play.

Then the Hurricanes blew down the desperation passes of two Florida quarterbacks to protect their victory. Two seconds after the final gun, the gleeful Miami student body tore down the goal posts and mobbed the team.

Unexpected Pass Play

It was an unexpected pass play developed in two weeks of secret practice which set up both of Miami's touchdowns.

Borger 5 Opens With 88-26 Win

BORGER, Nov. 28 (Special)—The Borger Bulldogs took the measure of the Perryton Rangers by more than 2-to-1 Saturday night in a non-conference basketball game in the Borger High School gym.

The score was 88-26. At half-time it was 49-11.

Mike Kelly was the high-scorer for the Bulldogs with 18 points made through the hoops. High scorer for the Rangers was Bill Tharsher with 7.

The reserves—14 of them—played most of the game. Other starters for Borger and their point-totals were Allen Simpson (16), Gerald Myers (14), Leon Willingham (9) and Gene Courtney (1).

Final QB Meeting On Tap Monday

The final meeting of the Pampa Quarterback Club will be held at the Sam Houston Auditorium, starting at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Two films will be shown at the meeting. The Harvesters games with Lubbock and Borger will be shown.

Election of new officers will be held at tomorrow's meeting. Also final plans for staging of the football banquet will be held.

Harvester coach Tom Tipps will address the quarterbacks in its final meeting.

Army Rolls To 20-7 Win Over Navy Middies Before 99,616

By OSCAR FRALEY
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28—UP—The "brave old Army" sent blasting Pat Uebel to the touch-down Saturday for a victory over Navy which brought the Cadets from up theudson back into prominence once again as a national football power.

The crashing Cadets took charge this annual service classic, played before its usual quota of brass and brass in a gala crowd of 99,616, after only two minutes and 35 seconds of play, and from there the final gun on this cold, gray afternoon it was all Army.

Even royalty was on hand for that had been expected to be a tight, tough ball game, with King and Queen Frederika of Greece among those huddled in the stands. And watching too were such old stars of this feud, dating back to 1890, as Gen. James Van Fleet and Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey, down to Felix (Doc) Blanchard, one of West Point's greatest.

The sons of slum and gravy sitting in the concrete horseshoe filled with deep satisfaction as they huddled and humiliated by the cribbing scandal in 1951, showed it once again in a power play which was to be reckoned by convincingly closing out a season of seven victories and one tie against a single defeat. It also was Army's 15th win in this series against 22 previous losses and four ties.

There was little doubt, from the moment when Uebel, a smashing runner from Bellevue, Ky., drove over from the five yard line after only two minutes and 35 seconds of play, that this was an Army day. The Cadets, "up" and a one-point favorite, were crashing in a manner which indicated there could be no upset.

Navy tried, right down the final gun. And it was that spirit which always has been a Navy tradition which sent Middle Jack Garrow of Antioch, Calif., to Navy's only touch-down with but 45 seconds to play to avert a shutout.

Long to Remember
This was a game the Cadets will long remember after the weary and bitter memories of the past two seasons. Cadet Howard Glock, a big tackle from Pittsburgh, Pa., started the Army marching when Navy fumbled the kickoff and he recovered on the Middle 30.

Seven plays later Uebel rocketed over from the five and Ralph Chesnauskas of Brockton, Mass., kicked the extra point for a 7-0 Army lead. Pete Vann of Hamburg, N.Y., set up the second Army score with a 51-yard second period pass to Don Holder of Rochester, N.Y. Uebel banged twice to the eight. Gerry Lodge of Garfield Heights, O., took it twice to the three and then it was Uebel again to go all the way. Chesnauskas missed the point, but it was not to matter.

Chesnauskas missed another kick a short time later, a 20-yard field

McHan Honored Hog Homecoming

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 28—UP—Lamar McHan, who closed out a brilliant career in football for the Arkansas Razorbacks against Tulsa Saturday, has for the second time won the Crip Hall homecoming award for outstanding play in Arkansas' homecoming game against Texas.

It was only two years ago that McHan won the same award, as a sophomore, and shortly afterward a requirement was installed to be sure that in the future only seniors would be eligible for it.

The talented, triple-threat tailback still has the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala., and the East-West game in San Francisco on his schedule.

Notre Dame Rebounds To Rip USC 48-14

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28—UP—Notre Dame's brilliant football team, led by All-American halfback Johnny Lattner and inspired by the absence of Coach Frank Leahy because of illness, Saturday romped to a one-sided 48-14 victory over Southern California before 97,952 astounded fans.

The silver anniversary game of the intersectional competition, Saturday's rout was the largest score run up by either team as the demoralized Trojans by fumble and ineptness gave the Irish scores and scoring opportunities to run up the huge margin.

For the Irish, however, it was a superb exhibition of the skill and speed that has kept them atop the national football pile year after year. The brilliance of Lattner in running up four touchdowns was matched by a 94-yard punt return for a touchdown by halfback Joe Heap and the bull charges of fullback Neil Worden that tore the Trojan line to shreds. Back of it were the deft ball handling of quarterback Ralph Guglielmi.

Off for 94 Yards
Although overwhelmed on the scoreboard, the Trojans were able to run up huge chunks of ground which did not pay off. And the improved Vandy aerial game by holding backs Bill Krieteimer, Jim Looney and Floyd Teas to 10 completions of 24 attempts for 86 yards.

The game was the last home match for 14 Vols, including quarterback Bill Barish, captain Mac Franklin, end and blocking back Jerry Hyde. They wind up their careers with Tennessee against Houston Saturday.

Three minutes in the second period, Brengle grabbed one of Looney's aerials and raced 49 yards for a score.

Reserve fullback Tom Tracy followed Brengle's gallop two minutes later and ended the first half scoring with an eight-yard plunge to climax a 40-yard drive.

Vanderbilt's lone touchdown came when halfback Dan Byers intercepted Brengle's pass on the Vandy 14 and raced 88 yards for the score.

The Vols punched across their other three touchdowns in the third quarter. Ted Schwanger bulled over from the seven for the first, tailback Jimmy Wade added the second on an end sweep for 14 yards and Tracy raked up his second on a 14-yard smash.

Score by periods:
Tennessee 0 14 19 0—33
Vanderbilt 0 0 0 6—6
Tennessee scoring: Touchdowns, Brengle, Tracy (2); Schwanger, Wade. Conversions: Shires, Tracy.
Vanderbilt scoring: Touchdowns, Byers.

Colorado U. Pressed To Whip Aggies

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Nov. 28—UP—Colorado University edged out Colorado A&M, 13-7, in a raggedly played, injury marred traditional football game Saturday before a meager crowd of 7,500.

End Gary Knaflec proved the difference between the teams after Colorado star tailback Carroll Hardy was injured in the first period and had to leave the game. Knaflec caught a 12-yard pass to score Colorado's first touchdown, gained 39 yards on a fourth period pass to set up the winning score, and recovered a fumble that ended A&M's last bid for victory.

Colorado, a Big Seven Conference team that whipped Nebraska and lost to Oklahoma only in the final three seconds, had been favored to push A&M around. But from end to end, the Aggie line outchased the supposedly more talented Colorado forwards and the Buffaloes had to pull the game out of the fire.

Quarterback Bob Rollins kept A&M's only scoring march alive with consistent gains on quarterback sneaks, and sneaked eight yards for the touchdown in the second period.

Colorado sophomore fullback Emerson Wilson ran 32 yards to the Aggie 25 a few moments later, and three line plays moved the ball to the A&M 12. From there Pete Middlemist threw a touchdown pass to Knaflec, an All-Big Seven Shrine game at San Francisco.

The Aggie line would not give during the third period. But in the final period Knaflec snagged a pass from right half Frank Bernardi and carried it to the Aggie six, from where sophomore tailback Homer Jenkins scored on the next play.

A&M drove back to the Colorado 40, but Rollins fumbled and Knaflec recovered. When the game ended, Colorado was on the A&M one-foot line.

Villanova Upsets Fordham, 20-13

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—UP—Villanova, led by halfback Gene Nilski and quarterback Joe McNicholas, struck for two last half touchdowns and stopped three Fordham drives within its own 20-yard line Saturday as it closed out its most disappointing season in 20 years with a 20-13 upset victory.

A crowd of 15,330 watched McNicholas pass 28 yards to halfback Ralph Cecere for the winning touchdown midway in the final period and then intercept a pass in the end zone minutes later after a Fordham threat had reached the 19-yard line. Earlier in the half, the aroused Wildcats had stopped Fordham drives on the four and again on the eight-yard line.

LSU Thunders Past Green Wave, 32-13

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 28—UP—Jerry Marchand, a big fullback with speed to burn, led the way Saturday as Louisiana State thundered to a 32 to 13 victory over Tulane in the annual grudge game of the Bayous.

The stocky 20-year-old Baton Rouge senior, who played a year at Notre Dame before deciding to return home, ripped for three touchdowns, blocked a Tulane conversion and intercepted a pass as he closed out a brilliant season before 50,000 top-coated fans under slate gray skies.

The victory raised the Tigers' season from the depths of mediocrity, but was just more misery for Tulane, which closed out its worst season in 40 years with a 1-9 record, with its one victory coming in the season opener against The Citadel. For LSU it was a 4-3-3 year, but Saturday's win made the other games easy to forget.

LSU Took Control
There was no doubt from the start Saturday that the 13-point favored LSU team had the situation under control. The hard-hitting Marchand sent the Tigers on the victory trail by slipping over from the eight for the first of his three touchdowns after he had caught a 20-yard pass from quarterback Al Doggett on the previous play to set it up.

Then in the second period before the Green Wave could start a drive, Doggett intercepted a pass thrown by Tulane quarterback Ray Weidenbacher and raced 35 yards for the second LSU score, but he failed to convert. However, he hit for two out of four during the game.

Marchand and halfback Charlie Oakley, LSU's ace pass defender who has been out for four games with injuries, administered the kill. Marchand, who rambled through the Tulane line almost as will throughout the afternoon, fought his way over from the one for his second score, and five minutes later Oakley took a handoff from the fourth Tiger touchdown to put LSU out front 28-0.

Tulane Scores Late
Marchand scored the final LSU tally in the fourth period, moving over right guard from four yards out.

Tulane's two touchdowns sputtered in the final period.

Halfback Wayne Wall moved over from the one yard line on a fourth down play to climax a 73-yard drive. But Pete Clement's conversion was deflected by Marchand. Substitute quarterback Pete Morere moved over from the five in the fading minutes of the game for the second and final one.

Then in the second period before the Green Wave could start a drive, Doggett intercepted a pass thrown by Tulane quarterback Ray Weidenbacher and raced 35 yards for the second LSU score, but he failed to convert. However, he hit for two out of four during the game.

Marchand and halfback Charlie Oakley, LSU's ace pass defender who has been out for four games with injuries, administered the kill. Marchand, who rambled through the Tulane line almost as will throughout the afternoon, fought his way over from the one for his second score, and five minutes later Oakley took a handoff from the fourth Tiger touchdown to put LSU out front 28-0.

Mighty Sooners Rout A&M, 42-7

By CARTER BRADLEY
NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 28—UP—Oklahoma's Big Seven Conference champions smashed Oklahoma A&M, the co-champion of the Missouri Valley, 42-7 Saturday in the 43rd renewal of a red-hot intra-state rivalry.

Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland's No. 1 rated team was among the 4,000 spectators, Tatum's Terrapins met the Sooners in the Orange Bowl Jan. 1 and Big Jim said he was "mightily impressed" with the speed shown by Oklahoma in Saturday's contest.

Five Sooners scored as Coach Boydston's fifth-ranked squad dominated the field from the opening kickoff, Oklahoma's line, built by all-American J. D. Roberts at right guard and hefty end Max Boydston, proved the big difference as usual.

Impressive Record
Oklahoma ended its regular season with eight victories, a loss to Notre Dame and a tie with Pittsburgh while handing A&M its third loss in ten starts.

Each team scored in the first period, although Oklahoma controlled the ball most of the time in a 74-yard touchdown drive capped by halfback Jack Ging's two-yard plunge.

Oklahoma made its breaks in the next period. Tackle Don Brown recovered A&M fullback Earl Luna's fumble on the Aggie 25 and quarterback Gene Calame carried across six plays later.

Guard Melvin Brown, no relation to Don Brown, blocked an aggie punt minutes later. This prompted a nine-play drive ending with halfback Buddy Lake's 11-yard pass to end Joe Mobra in the end zone. Calame's reliable keeper play counted again in the third period as the finale of a 54-yard drive in nine plays.

Boydston stole the ball from Luna and ran 43 yards to score in the fourth period. Oklahoma reserves kept possession almost the rest of the way, driving a final 77 yards in 11 plays with quarterback Jack Van Pool scoring from the three.

The A&M touchdown was a one-man performance by quarterback Bobbie Green, who took a punt late in the first period and circled tacklers for 57 yards to score. Green was knocked cold midway in the second period and A&M's attack suffered. He was not hurt seriously.

Oklahoma's 312 yards rushing put the Sooners in a favored position to lead the nation's rushing statistics. Oklahoma had an average of 206 yards per game up until Saturday.

Oklahoma 7 14 7 14—42
Oklahoma A&M 7 0 0 0—7

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns, Ging, Calame 2, Mobra, Boydston, Van Pool, Conversions, Ging 3, Lake 2, M. Green.

Oklahoma A&M scoring: Touchdowns, B. Green, Conversion, B. Green.

Hawks Rally To Nip Olton In Bi-District

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor
AMARILLO, Nov. 28—The Phillips Blackhaws staged a Frank Merriwell finish here Friday afternoon to eke out a decision over the Olton Mustangs to advance into the second round of the state Class AA playoffs.

The contest ended in a 20-20 deadlock but the Hawks won the game on the most 20-yard penetrations, 6-4.

Phillips brought the crowd of 6,000 to its feet in the last four minutes of play when Terry Miller hit Don Smith with a 48-yard touchdown pass that brought the Blackhaws from behind. This TD still left the Hawks a point shy of the Olton Mustangs to advance into the second round of the state Class AA playoffs.

Olton took the ensuing kickoff and drove to Phillips' 28 before time ran out. After a minute's check by the games officials on the 20-yard penetrations, the Blackhaws were then awarded the decision and a tremendous roar went up in the huge cheering section of the Blackhaws on the east side of the stadium.

Then came the most thrilling play of the game. R. V. Allcorn, sensational 172-pound scabcat for the Mustangs, took the Phillips kickoff and galloped 84 yards to a touchdown. Allcorn made good use of his blockers during the run, reversing his field on one occasion to get behind some fine protection of his teammates. There was no one near the Olton's speedster the final 15 yards. The point try failed and Phillips still led, 7-6.

A 29-yard pass from Miller to Chuck Bennett set up Phillips' next TD in the second quarter. Phillips pass play put the ball on the Olton two and Bennett drove over from this point. Meek's kick was wide and Phillips held a 13-6 lead at halftime.

Olton battled back in the third period to tie up the county and then took the lead early in the fourth. A Phillips fumble on their own 19 paved the way for Olton's tying touchdown. Allcorn, turning to the role of a passer, hit Charlie Shelly with a perfect toss for Olton's second marker. Archie Souter converted to tie up the contest at 13-13.

Late in the third, Olton staged one of the greatest goal-line stands of the 1953 season. A Phillips first down on the Olton two. But the big Mustang line held over on downs four plays later on their one-foot line.

It appeared for awhile that this gallant stand was going to pay off in a victory for the Mustangs who punted out of danger and then later took the lead on a 37-yard scamper by Souter in the fourth period. Souter also converted to make it 20-13 for the Mustangs.

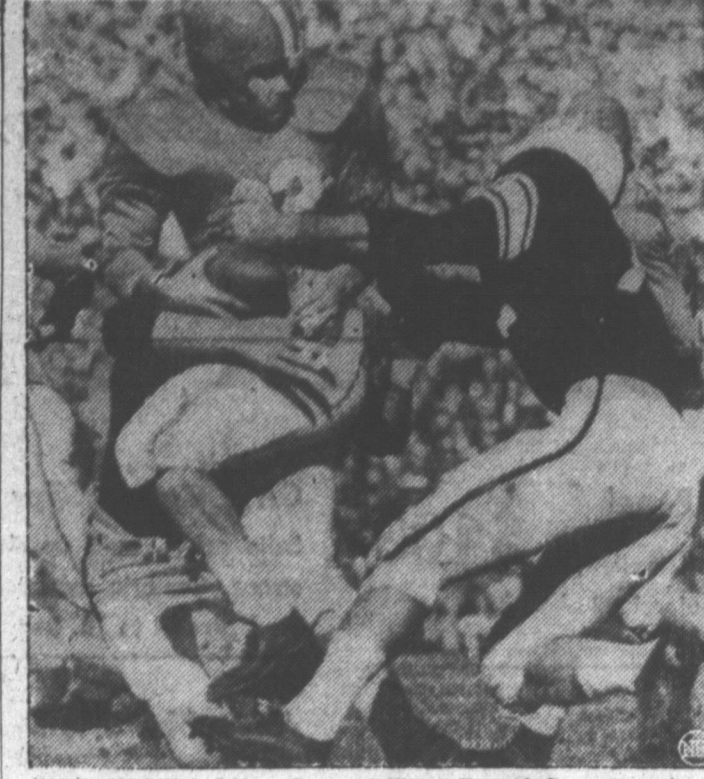

Phillips was not to be denied though as they fought back with less than four minutes of play to knot the count on the Miller-Smith pass combination.

Phillips, coached by the veteran Chesty Walker, will meet Stamford next week in a quarterfinal tilt. Phillips officials met with Stamford officials in Lubbock Saturday morning to set the date and site of the game.

Score by quarters:
Phillips 7 6 0 7—20
Olton 6 0 7 7—20

Scoring: Touchdowns—Phillips Meek, Bennett, Smith, Olton—Allcorn, Shelly, Souter. PAT—Phillips—Meek 2, Olton—Souter 2.

13 Games Set For SWC 5s This Week

By UNITED PRESS
The Southwest Conference basketball season turns from the practice arena to actual competition during the coming week with 13 games on the initial program, highlighted by Texas and Texas A&M's tilts with the always-dangerous Oklahoma Aggies.

Texas, generally rated on the fringe of the championship picture, opens its season Tuesday night at Stillwater against Coach Henry Iba's Oklahoma Aggies; then on Saturday night Iba's team invades College Station against the Texas Aggies picked for last place in the Southwest.

Defending champion Texas Christian will be the busiest team in the loop with three first-week games — against Austin College Tuesday night and Midwestern Thursday night, both in Fort Worth, and against Oklahoma City University on the latter's court Saturday night.

Rice, rated the top challenger, plays only one game — against Sam Houston at Houston Wednesday night — as does Arkansas, which meets Tulsa on foreign soil Saturday night.

Southern Methodist, a possible dark horse, opens at Dallas against Northwestern Louisiana Tuesday night and meets Texas Wesleyan Thursday night, also in Dallas.

Texas also plays a second game at week's end, meeting Lamar Tech at Austin on Saturday night.

Texas A&M plays Lamar Tech Tuesday night at Beaumont in its other game of the opening week, while Baylor opens against North Texas at Waco Tuesday night and meets Lamar Tech Friday night at Waco.

Terps Dominate All-Atlantic 11

Orange Bowl-bound Maryland, the nation's first-ranked and only major undefeated college football team, dominated the 1953 All-Atlantic Coast Conference team announced Saturday by United Press.

The Terrible Terrapins of College Park placed seven stars on the first and second all-conference teams, more than any other of the seven conference members. All ACC teams were represented by one or more players on either the first or second squads, but only Maryland, Duke and South Carolina placed men on the elite first eleven.

Maryland placed backfield ace Bernie Faloney and Chet Hanulak on the first team and bruising fullback Ralph Felton on the second. In the line, All-American Stan Jones represented the Terrapins on the first team while his running mate, Bob Morgan, end Marty Cryzier and guard John Bowersox won second team berths.

But to Duke and South Carolina went a large share of the all-conference spoils on recognition of outstanding 1953 teams. Both the Blue Devils and the Gamecocks placed four men each on the first team.

Duke placed end Howard Pitt, its tall captain, tackle Ed Meadows and guard Bobby Burrows in the line and swift halfback James (red) Smith in the backfield. South Carolina, which lost only to Maryland and Duke, placed its star quarterback Johnny Gramling in the backfield and end Clyde Bennett, gram.

guard Frank Mincevich and center Leon Cunningham in the line. Second team choices included Dreher Gaskins of Clemson and Marty Cryzier of Maryland at ends, Bob Bartholomew of Wake Forest and Bob Morgan of Maryland at tackles. Al D'Angelo of North Carolina State and John Bowersox of Maryland at guards and John Palmer of Duke at center.

The second team backfield has sophomore Don King of Clemson, junior Connie Gravitt of North Carolina and seniors Dick Lackey of North Carolina and Ralph Felton of Maryland.

McMurry Elects Cage Captain
ABILENE, Tex., Nov. 28—UP—Letterman Jerry English of Phillips has been named captain of the McMurry College basketball team, which plays its first game of the season Monday night against Wayland College as Coach Edgar Payne makes his debut as cage mentor.

The game will open a two-night swing into the South Plains as McMurry moves into Lubbock Tuesday night against Texas Tech.

New England Racing Closes
LINCOLN, R. I., Nov. 28—UP—Lincoln Downs, which opened the New England racing season last April, brings it to a close Saturday by featuring the $10,000 Hartford Handicap on a 10-race program.

Paschal 11 Gains 4A Playoff Berth

By UNITED PRESS
Fort Worth Paschal filled the eighth and last Class AAAA playoff berth today as 11 Class AA and seven Class A teams won bi-district games to move into the second round.

Paschal had the 3-AAAA title dumped unexpectedly in its lap as the North Arlington Heights upset Poly 34 to 27, Friday night, knocking the Parrots out of the championship. Paschal had edged North SKIDE 14 to 13 Thursday to finish with a 5-1 win-loss district record.

In Class AA, Phillips, Comanche, Dallas Hillcrest, Henderson, Huntsville, Lavaca, Gonzales, Brenham, Nederland, Refugio and Weslaco, by winning bi-district games Friday night, joined Stamford, Andrews, Ballinger, Terrell and Jasper in second-round play next week. Except for Jasper which advanced on a bye, the four latter teams won bi-district games Thursday.

Phillips tied Olton 20 to 20 but won the game on penetrations 6 to 4; Comanche thrashed Handley 60 to 7; Hillcrest beat Jacksboro 14 to 6; Henderson defeated Atlanta 26 to 7 and Huntsville won by the same margin over Waxahachie; La Vega bounced Lampasas 21 to 7; Gonzales outscored Rosebud 25 to 14; Brenham edged Wharton 14 to 12; Nederland blanked LaMarque 21 to 0; Refugio beat Del Rio 25 to 13; and Weslaco shutout Fallurrias 28 to 0.

In Class A, Ranger, Clifton, Hawkins, Cedar Bayou, Franklin, Luling and Palacios whipped bi-district foes to advance into the second round with Memphis, Sundown, McCamey, Paducah, White-wright, Leverette Chapel and Deer Park, who won games Wednesday and Thursday.

Ranger whipped Albany 41 to 14; Clifton nipped Richardson 7 to 0; Hawkins beat Canton 13 to 8; Cedar Bayou defeated Trinity 35 to 12; Franklin defeated Elgin 14 to 7; Luling bounced Burnet 56 to 18; and Palacios defeated Boerne 18 to 7.

Two Class A bi-district games Saturday night — Karnes City at Crystal City and Hebronville versus Lyford at Fallurrias—will complete the contingent of 16 teams for next week's play.

In Class AAA, the two districts left unsettled until the final games—districts 3 and 4—were determined Thursday. Kingsville, although it finished in the tie with Paris, grabbed the 3-AAA playoff berth by beating Denton 26 to 12, and Kilgore won in 4 by defeating Texarkans 13 to 7.

Galveston Ball beat Galveston Kivins 13 to 9 in the only non-conference game Friday night.

In the Class AAAA playoffs, Odessa will meet El Paso Bowie next weekend at a date and site to be determined; Dallas Wilson and Fort Worth Paschal will play at Farrington field in Fort Worth, 8 p. m. Friday; Corpus Christi Ray and Waco will play at Waco at 2 p. m. next Saturday; and Houston Lamar will play at Fort Arthur Friday.

In Class AAA, Big Spring and Brownwood will play at Brownwood at 2 p. m. next Saturday; Gainesville and Kilgore will meet at a date and time to be set; Temple and Port Neches will play at Port Neches next Friday or Saturday; and Edinburg and San Antonio Edison will meet at Alamo Heights Stadium at San Antonio at 8 p. m. Friday.

The date for one Class AA second-round game was set Friday night—Andrews and Ballinger will play at Ballinger at 2 p. m. Friday.

Other Class AA second-round pairings include Phillips vs. Stamford; Comanche vs. Dallas Hillcrest; Terrell vs. Henderson; Jasper vs. Huntsville; LaVega vs. Gonzales; Brenham vs. Nederland; and Refugio vs. Weslaco.

Class A pairings include Memphis vs. Sundown; McCamey vs. Ranger; Paducah vs. Clifton; White-wright vs. Hawkins; Leverette Chapel vs. Cedar Bayou; Franklin vs. Luling; and Deer Park vs. Palacios.

The winners of the Crystal City-Karnes City and Hebronville-Lyford games will meet in the second round next week.

Alabama Edges Auburn, 10 To 7

By BOB TALLAFERRO
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 28—UP—Bobby Luna's looping 30-yard field goal gave Alabama a 10 to 7 victory over Auburn and the Southeastern Conference championship Saturday to clinch a third straight title.

Luna never led the league until the final game.

Tied three times, upset by Mississippi Southern and stomped by Maryland, Alabama still wound up its season without a conference defeat and won the title by default when Mississippi State tied Mississippi. It could mean the Cotton Bowl for 'Bama.

Ties count as half a game won and half a game lost in the Southeastern and Alabama finished with five one-and-one-half wins against one one-and-one-half defeats compared to four and one-half to one-and-one-half records by Mississippi, Kentucky and Georgia Tech which all tied for second.

Personal Foul Costly
A personal foul called against a hard-charging Auburn tackle in the fourth period set the stage for Luna's kick in a grueling battle which was a heart-breaker for the fighting Auburn team.

Outplayed and outmaneuvered throughout most of the game, Alabama came alive midway in the second period after Auburn had powered over a first quarter touchdown.

Held behind its own 40 until early in the second quarter Alabama tied the game on a 48-yard sustained drive with second string halfback Cecil Ingram and reserve fullback Bill Stone leading the way. The Tide rammed down to Auburn's 14 yard line on runs of 11, 15, 13 and one yards. Stone crashed off right guard twisted past the secondary and scored from the 14 with seven minutes 17 seconds remaining in the half. Luna who punted beautifully all day converted and the half ended with the score tied 7 to 7.

Auburn missed a field goal in the first quarter, but came back to score on a 40-yard drive.

Vince Dooley, running on the option play twisted his way through the Alabama secondary for 27 yards down to the Tide's 33. Halfback Fob James got a yard and then Dooley took a pitchout and moved to the 25.

James drove through the middle for 14 yards to the Alabama 11 and then went nine to the Alabama two.

Hataway ran over right tackle to score.

Score by periods:
Alabama 7 0 0 0—7
Auburn 0 7 0 0—7

Auburn scoring: Touchdowns, Hataway, Conversion, Davis.

Alabama scoring: Touchdowns, Stone, Conversion, Luna. Field goal Luna.

31-AAAA Quints In H-SU Tourney
ABILENE, Nov. 28—First round pairings for the Hardin-Simmons University high school invitational basketball tournament, December 11 and 12 have been announced by tournament director Bill Scott, H-SU basketball coach.

Eight teams will participate in the tournament. They are Abilene, San Angelo, Borger, Big Spring, Levelland, Childress and Potts, and Birdville High of Fort Worth.

Poly, the defending champion, will open first round play Friday, Dec. 11, at 5:30 p.m. against Big Spring. Borger will meet Levelland at 8:45. Abilene plays Childress at 8:15 and San Angelo plays Birdville at 9:45.

The Saturday schedule pits the top bracket losers in the consolation playoff at 8:45 a.m., the top bracket winners at 10:00, the lower bracket winners at 11:15 and the lower bracket consolationists at 12:45.

Finals of the consolation are scheduled for 6:45, third place at 8:00 and the Tournament finals slated to go at 9:15.

Ramblin' Wreck Clobbers Georgia

By BILL FERGUSON
ATLANTA, Nov. 28—UP—Stumpy Pepper Rodgers, hero of many a tight Georgia Tech victory, did it the easy way Saturday as the Atlanta Engineers passed on their way to the Sugar Bowl to stomp ineffective Georgia 28-12 before 41,000 fans.

Rodgers, playing his last game before the home folks, passed for one touchdown, bucked for another and set up the other two scores with his passing. He also kicked the four extra points that made Georgia's task an impossible uphill job all the way.

It was sweet fulfillment for Rodgers, who won several games for Tech with field goals in its course of only two defeats in three years. As a quarterback he had been regarded as a clumsy commodity but he could do no wrong in that position Saturday.

Made the Difference
It was Rodgers, Bill Teas and Johnny Hunsinger, a second-string fullback, who made the difference. Teas accounted for 110 yards rushing and threw his first pass of the season, a seven yard touchdown toss to end Jimmy Durham. Hunsinger gathered up 76 yards through the middle.

Jake Shoemaker, Tech's outstanding guard, set up the first Tech score when he grabbed

Little Mo Engaged
SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 27—UP—Tennis star Maureen (Little Mo) Connelly, 19, twice winner of the United States and Wimbledon singles championships, Saturday announced her engagement to sailor Norman Brinker, 22, Brinker, N. M., 27, he and Miss Connelly will not be married until he is discharged from the Navy in 1955.

Basilio Fights in Toledo
TOLEDO, Ohio, Nov. 28—UP—Johnny Cunningham of Baltimore and Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N. Y., meet Saturday night in a scheduled 10-round nationally televised welterweight match which may be a stepping stone to a shot at the crown held by Kid Gavilan.

Mississippi Battles Miss. State To 7-7
STARVILLE, Miss., Nov. 28—UP—His head swathed in a plastic mask, gritty Jackie Parker came off the bench Saturday to lead aroused Mississippi State to a 7-7 tie with Mississippi and knock the Rebels out of the Southeastern Conference crown.

Parker was not supposed to get in the game because of a fractured rib, but he completed nine out of nine passes to spark State's second half comeback that marked its peak performance of the season.

A stout Mississippi State defense smothered Mississippi's hopes of winning the 50th meeting between the two schools watched by a sell-out crowd of 30,000. Five Mississippi fumbles were lost and John Katusa, Jimm Barron, Murphy Roberson, Parker and Harold Eastwood jarred Mississippi's Cotton Bowl ambitions.

State Comes Back
Parker's perfect nine out of nine included a short one to Arthur Davis that tied up the state classic. Earl Blair scored the lone Rebel touchdown after the hard-hitting Maroon line swamped the Mississippi offensive in the first half.

Parker and Charles Evans sparked the Maroons to a quick recovery. Parker picked up nine yards to start a 67 yard drive. Evans tore off a chunk of yardage in steady plunges and one long run of 22 yards. Their work carried to the three.

Parker tossed to Davis for the touchdown and then the Knoxville, Tenn. ace calmly kicked the point to tie it up 7 to 7.

Fought His Way Over
Blair fought his way across from four yards out two minutes before the first half ended. Mississippi's all-American guard, Crawford Mims, pounced on a fumble by Don Morris on the Maroon 16 and five plunges later Blair climaxed the first playoff push.

Three lost fumbles hurt the Mississippi offensive in the first period. Mangum lost two, including one just one yard away from the Maroon goal, and the Maroon line bounced Billy Kinard once four yards shy of a touchdown.

Score by periods:
Miss. State 0 7 0 0—7
Mississippi 0 0 0 0—0

Mississippi State scoring: Touchdown—Davis, Conversion, Parker.

Mississippi scoring: Touchdown—Blair, Conversion, Paslay.

Ramblin' Wreck Clobbers Georgia
Charley Madison's fumble on the Georgia 13. Four plays later, Rodgers sneaked one yard for the score.

The Engineers scored again later in the period, as Rodgers sparked a 69-yard drive with three passes good for 52 yards. The final toss placed the ball on the Georgia 14, and George Humphreys went all the way to score.

Georgia got a score after recovering a Tech fumble on the Engineer 25. Halfback Charley Madison drove the last foot into the end zone.

Tec rolled 95 yards for the next touchdown and Teas capped the drive with his scoring toss to Durham.

The Engineers grabbed another score in the fourth period as Rodgers reached end Henry Hair with a 14-yard toss in the end zone, but Georgia countered with a 48-yard march that ended when Howard Kelley, a reserve fullback, pounded across for two yards.

Score by periods:
Georgia Tech 14 7 0 7—28
Georgia 0 0 0 0—0

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdown, Rodgers, Humphreys, Durham, Hair, Conversions, Rodgers 4.

Georgia scoring: Touchdowns, Madison, Kelly.

WT-NM Ranks High In Attendance
ABILENE, Nov. 28—Only four professional minor leagues in the country outdrew the West Texas-New Mexico League in paid attendance for playoffs in 1953, according to figures released by the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The WT-NM Shaughnessy playoffs drew a total of 37,903, leading all other leagues under Class AA. The Longhorn League was second among the Class C leagues in playoff attendance with a figure of 32,729.

The Class A leader was the South Atlantic League with 36,952 and the Class B leader was the Carolina League with 24,803.

Ranking ahead of the WT-NM in playoff attendance were the Class AA American Association and International Association and the Class AAA Southern Association and Texas League.

The West Texas-New Mexico's total paid for the season, including the playoffs, was 530,546, third among all C Leagues and 14th among the 38 leagues in the National Association.

The WT-NM topped all other leagues operating in the Lone Star State with the exception of the Class AA Texas League in total attendance.

The total attendance report showed:
Texas League (Class AA) 1,334,696
WT-NM (Class C) 530,546
Big State (Class B) 516,835
Gulf Coast (Class B) 403,478
Longhorn (Class C) 359,028
Arizona-Texas (Class C) 361,797

JACK M. LONG of Pampa has recently returned from Suwon, Korea, where he was serving as a staff sergeant for the Air Force. He is staying with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Long, 1335 N. Russell, and is in the process of being discharged from the service. He was with the Air Force for three years. Before his induction, he was studying for the ministry at McMurtry College, Abilene, and plans to resume his studies in January.

MARINE Capt. Grover L. Heskell gives "thumbs up" to his crew chief before taking off on another training mission with the squadron at an air base of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing here. Capt. Heskell, who has been in Korea since July, 1953, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermon H. Heskell of 725 E. Kingsmill, and husband of Mrs. Elva Heskell of 601 E. Foster, all of Pamos.

Cadet Herbert E. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Williams, Canadian, was recently named on the Dean's list for outstanding achievement and proficiency in academic subjects at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

As a first classman (senior), Williams studies military engineering, military art, social sciences, law, English, ordnance, military psychology and tactics.

He attended West Texas State College in Canyon before his appointment to the academy by Rep. Ben Guill of Texas.

The curriculum at West Point is designed to provide a broad basic background in the technical sciences and the liberal arts. Such a background is deemed necessary for all officers of the modern Army and Air Force in order that they may successfully accomplish the varied tasks they may be called upon to perform.

PFC Don Taylor of Pampa is spending his two weeks' leave with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Taylor, 700 Magnolia. Private Taylor has just completed a special training course in radio in Delaware. Following his leave, however, he will be stationed in Newport News, Va.

WEST POINT, N.Y. — Cadet J. E. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Howard, 416 Louisiana, Pampa, was recently named on the Dean's list for outstanding achievement and proficiency in academic subjects at the U.S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

As a second classman (junior), Howard studies the mechanics of solids and fluids, electricity, social sciences, military instructor training and tactics.

Solon Proposes Swapout On Taxes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—Rep. Noah M. Mason (R-Ill.) proposed Saturday the federal government surrender the right to tax estates, gifts, gasoline, retail sales and admissions.

In return, he said, the states should surrender to the federal government taxes on incomes, liquor and tobacco. He said losses on each side would just about balance.

Mason said he will lay his proposal before the Manion Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, set up recently by President Eisenhower to study overlapping federal and state functions. Mason is a member of the commission and of the House Ways and Means committee, which handles tax legislation.

Mason said his proposal "would eliminate much of the overlapping and duplication that now exists between federal and state tax systems." Though taxpayers would save anything much in taxes, "the cost and worries of bookkeeping would be greatly decreased," he said.

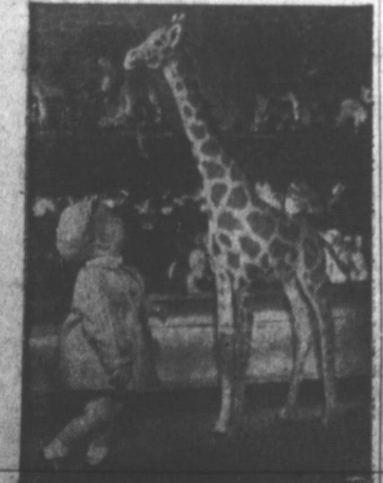

The federal government gets about 75 per cent of its revenue from income taxes, Mason said, and 31 states which also tax incomes "can and perhaps should" give up this field entirely.

Since state laws control transfer of property at death, Mason said the federal government, which collects $700 million to $800 million yearly from estate and gift taxes, should relinquish this field to the states.

He said the government should give up its $500 million-a-year revenue from gasoline taxes and at the same time withdraw completely from road building.

As for retail sales taxes, Mason said 33 states get a big part of their revenue from this source. He said the federal government should abandon the retail sales (or excise) taxes it now levies on some things, and confine itself to excise taxes at the manufacturers' level.

'Fairy Godmother' Sends Help To Boys

By PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Some 52 families in nine European countries will give you the same definition of a fairy godmother.

Her name is Marguerite Griffin. She's trim and hazel-eyed with a heart as big as the rock of Gibraltar.

For seven years, on a secretary's pay, Miss Griffin has operated a unique kind of package-lift — a lifeline between a bachelor's apartment in Washington and 148 Europeans she's never met.

It all started back around 1945 when a relief group gave Marguerite the name of a little French boy whose family needed food and clothing.

What made the packages and letters multiply was Marguerite's job with the National Geographic Society. Over her desk, after the war, there passed numerous appeals from people who had heard of the society's magazine but didn't know where in America to write for help.

Before long Marguerite found herself answering some of them, writing to ask what they needed most.

Even as the food packages doubled and tripled Miss Griffin still managed to squeeze them out of her salary. Only when it came to emergencies — like whipping up a bridal trousseau or concert attire for a budding violinist — did the Campital secretary turn to friends.

By now Miss Griffin's room mate, Etta Mai Russell, is an expert at wrapping packages and lugging them to the post office. One of Marguerite's big thrills was being asked to be godmother to a little French girl. Incidentally, the latter was not only named after her but born on her birthday.

Sometimes going without one or two things herself enables Marguerite to do something extra special for one of her European friends. Just such an occasion, a First Communion party, tempted Miss Griffin into a fancy grocery

Kit Kat Klub Plans Christmas Dance

Kit Kat Klub girls held a meeting recently in the home of Anita Wedgeworth, 1138 Terrace. Each member brought canned goods and assembled a Thanksgiving basket. They decided to have a Christmas party Dec. 20, in the home of Miss Betty Osborne and an all stag party and dance Dec. 11, in home of Jan Baker.

Girls attending were Christine Pierce, Jan Baker, Dixie Sue Rhodes, Judy Nance, Adelaide Skelly, Carolyn Dial, Martha Skelly, Alice Seawright, Jerry Hill, Jiggle Qualls, Nancy Harrison, Carol Foster, Jerry Sloan, Betty Osborne, Janice McWright, Glenda Dudley, Lottie Willis, Su Stone, Joan Rogers, a guest, Pat Reynolds, and their hostess, Mrs. Jake Osborne.

"Aunt Marguerite" rates high in the night prayers of children in more than one country. And there's a smattering of propaganda in her work, too.

"In letters," she explains, "I try to give a picture of how the average American lives and what we are really like."

When Marguerite finishes writing to all of the parents, plus each of the children, she begins all over again.

By now 52 families in Greece, Poland, Austria, France, Holland, Yugoslavia, Hungary, England and Italy probably know more about the every-day life of a Washington secretary than many Americans.

Although it's a year since Marguerite received a letter from any iron curtain country on her list, it's possible that even there, when the dinner table, discussion turns to what Marguerite finds in the supermarket and the corner drug store.

Questions thrown at Miss Griffin about America are numerous. But the most frequent query is when will she come to Europe to visit them.

"I don't think I'll ever get enough money saved up," Marguerite says.

Aviation Cadet Killed
KINSTON, N. C., Nov. 28 — UP — An aviation cadet was killed and his instructor injured Friday when a T-6 plane crashed on a training flight. Authorities at Stallings Air Base identified the victim as Frederick R. Linde, Chicago.

Highest score ever recorded in the World Series was 18 to 4, the Yankees defeating the Giants by that score in the 1935 series.

Should We Allow Our Children To Believe There Is A Santa Claus?

Whether to let their children believe in Santa Claus or not — that is the big question all parents of the very young face at Christmas time. There are usually two schools of thought and both are apt to be extreme in their point of view, says Edith M. Stern in Redbook Magazine. In an attempt to find out which course makes children happier in the long run, she interviewed a wide range of authorities, including psychiatrists, school teachers, and clergymen. Writing in the December issue, she reports that whichever version of the Santa Claus story you tell your children, that in itself will have no injurious effects.

"What or when or how to tell the children about Santa — it's one of the things parents often talk about," says Elizabeth Ross, Assistant Chief, U. S. Children's Bureau. "They aren't quite sure that they're handling the matter right."

"Dr. Leo Kanner, in charge of the Children's Psychiatric Clinic, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, finds that parents' thinking on the best way to present Santa tends to run to two extremes. Far to the right are mothers and fathers who maintain that the concept of Santa is so beautiful that if you don't build it up, you deprive children of happiness and irreparably damage their imaginations. Equally far to the left are those convinced that if you start the 'lie,' not only will its impossibilities forever affect children's ability to think straight, but also when they find it out they will never trust you again.

"Every one of the experts I talked to was in heartening agreement on this: It is relatively unimportant whether you present Santa Claus as fact or fancy."

"What is important for your children's pleasure is to be yourself. Do what is natural and casual for you," Dr. Kanner advises. In short, there isn't any generally right or wrong way to tell your children about Santa — only what is right or wrong for you.

"In any case, whatever you decide, you may be sure that in itself it won't injure your child's mental and emotional health. Of the tens of thousands of children who have been brought to me over the years," Dr. Kanner told me, "I cannot recall one whose difficulty arose from what he was told about Santa Claus."

Usually the discovery that there isn't any Santa Claus doesn't come as suddenly as most grown-ups think. For the very young, reality and fantasy are almost indistinguishable, and part of growing up is the gradual weeding out of what's not real. The chances are that your children will outgrow Santa Claus as easily and naturally as they will outgrow lollipops and tricycles.

"When parents have set a pattern of confidence, children can take the Santa Claus betrayal in their stride," says Mrs. Bertha Rockwood, Principal, the Takoma Park Elementary School. Only when there has been one betrayal after another does the one about Santa Claus damage a child's confidence in his parents.

"No more than the psychiatrists and educators, did the clergymen I interviewed want to slay Santa Claus. Not considering him a matter of faith and morals, the Catholic Church has no pronouncement concerning him. The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., Protestant, likewise approves him by default of policy. Both of the rabbis whom I questioned take their own children to see department-store Santas.

"As so often happens, religion and psychiatry were in perfect accord: If the basic situation is sound and right, almost any way Santa is handled is all right. Christian religious leaders felt that with real understanding of the religious significance of Christmas, 'Santa won't take a U.S. place.' To this end many Protestant church schools today, like those of Catholics, feature the creche, a model of the Nativity, in their holiday celebrations."

Pat Kersey, James Hart Exchange Vows In Informal Home Ceremony Yesterday

Miss Patsy Miller Kersey, 406 N. Cuyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Miller, and James W. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hart, 1012 Twiford, exchanged marriage vows yesterday afternoon in a double ring ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, 1033 Charles, with Dr. Douglas Nelson officiating. The service took place before an improvised altar of a pink and white mums, baskets of mums and candles in silver candelabra complemented the arrangement.

Bob Parkinson sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Bless This House". Traditional wedding music was played.

The bride who was given away by her father wore a turquoise two piece wool jersey dress with a middy jacket. The lapels of the jacket were trimmed with pearls and rhinestones. She chose brown lizard accessories, wore a brown velveteen hat trimmed with pearls and carried a white Bible topped with pink camellias. Miss Carol Miller, maid of honor, and sister of the bride wore a black velveteen skirt, and a white velveteen and rhinestone trimmed sweater. She used black accessories. Mr. A. C. Hart, father of the groom was the best man.

The bride's mother wore a yellow gabardine suit with grey accessories and yellow corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a two piece gray silk shantung dress, black accessories and a pink gardenia corsage.

Following the service a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Torvie, 1029 Charles. A pink mum bouquet and pink candles were used on the lace covered serving table. Pink and green wedding cake, green punch and pink and green mints were served.

Mrs. Hart attended Pampa High School and North Texas State College. He is in the Army on leave of absence from Texas Co.

Canape Suggestions

NEW YORK — (UP) — Instead of using crackers or toast for canapes, try baking small pastry rounds. Roll out regular pastry dough as for a pie crust. Cut into rounds about one and one-half inches in diameter and bake in a hot oven. One delicious spread is made by blending grated sharp cheese, finely chopped walnuts, chopped pimento, mayonnaise and a dash of cayenne pepper.

Sugar in honey is largely levulose, also called fructose, the sweetest of all sugars.

Cardigan sweaters should be kept buttoned during sudasing, rinsing, and drying.

Fake Or Real, Fur Hats Back In 1953

NEW YORK — (UP) — The fur hat, missing for many years, is back. This time it brings a friend — the fake fur hat. Milliners are featuring real ermine, minks and leopard-printed velvet, plush cut to look like broadtail, and wools knit to look like Persian lamb. One style rule: Don't overdo the fur. A fur hat looks good with the sleek suit, or the cloth coat.

Window Washing Hint

NEW YORK — (UP) — Any of these four mixtures is excellent for window washing: Two tablespoons of washing soda to four quarts of water; two tablespoons warm water; 1/4 cup ammonia to four quarts of warm water; or 1/2 cup denatured alcohol to the same amount of water.

Manners Make Friends

What you wear to a party isn't nearly as important as the frame of mind you're in when you start out. Go feeling sure that the evening is going to be a dud and you wish you could have stayed at home — and your hostess hasn't much of a chance to make you have a good time. But go with your mind made up to have a good time — and you probably will.

Expect boredom and that is usually what you get.

When a friend is telling you of some problem she is having with her child it won't make her feel better to have you say, "I've never had any problem like that with any of my children."

It's no time to boast of your own good fortune when someone is telling you his troubles.

Adults frequently complain they hate to ride a bus used by school children — because of the uncontrolled behavior of the teen-agers. It might be a good idea for parents whose children go to and from school on city buses to ride one occasionally to see what the situation really is.

A child's manners away from home have to be taught AT home.

Now stir the fire, and close the shutters fast, Let fall the curtains, wheel the sofa round, And while the bubbling and loud-hissing urn Throws up a steaming column, and the cups That cheer but not inebriate wait on each, So let us welcome peaceful evening in.

—William Cowper

WITH DECEMBER right around the week, wish we would have some nice wintry weather to set the mood for Christmas. Somehow the golfing weather doesn't go with our two favorite holidays seasons—Thanksgiving and Christmas. We'd like to see the kiddoes get their sleds out 'tween now and time for St. Nick.

FROM NOW THROUGH New Year's there'll be parties, parties, parties! And me, oh my, we can't possibly keep up with all of them. Somebody give us a helping hand! Some women in town are famous for their parties, and invitations to their entertainments are accepted eagerly. Perfect settings for happy times are found in the homes of Mrs. Lynn Boyd, who wisely placed her den and living room back-to-back so it's never too crowded; Mrs. H. H. Hicks, who probably brought back some party ideas from her recent Caribbean cruise; and Mrs. Frank Culbertson, who turns her kitchen into an assembly line as she turns out batch after batch of cookies and other goodies.

THESE BRIDES-TO-BE like Sammie Frierson, Betty Howard and Norma Pirtle would probably adore the new party aprons we've seen advertised with the cute warning, "Don't kiss me, I'm busy!"

WONDER WHO has the best fruit cake recipe in town. Surely would like it for our Christmas dinner!

PANORAMICALLY: Mrs. Otto Mangold and Mrs. Phil Pegues, two nice people. Mrs. W. L. Boosa and Mrs. L. N. Atchison talking about a trip to the state PTA convention. Haven't heard if they attended. Nancy and Roy Lewter downtown one afternoon recently, but without that cute little girl of theirs. Program participants at Varietas Club last week were Mrs. H. P. Dozier, Mrs. J. G. Doggett, and Mrs. C. L. McKenny, whose topics in a nutshell amounted to "Fun, Food and Frolic". Mrs. Doggett discussed New England recipes. Mrs. Dozier gave examples of New England Humor, and Mrs. McKinney showed a film record of a holiday in New York. Roy Johnson, working with his choir for the united Thanksgiving service, always a beautiful and impressive gathering. Mrs. L. J. Zachry has a warm and wonderful smile, and so does Mrs. Burl Lewter. Ken Meaders, chatting over coffee. Mrs. Ralph Deleshaw, attractive person. Mrs. E. A. McLennan, good PTA worker. Mrs. Raymond Bennett entertaining her mother from out of town. Likeable J. C. Hopkins taking over Dick Stowers' job as Jaycee president, and Dick taking James Evans' office as state delegate. Clubs drawing names for Christmas gifts, and planning gifts for the less fortunate. Happy family Phyllis and Jack Curtis and their two adorable daughters. D. L. Parkers, remodeling their business. Mrs. Bob McCoy entertaining El Progresso club members.

JOB WELL DONE: The home of Mrs. Gordon Johnson was the scene of much activity recently when women of the Seventh Day Adventist Church packed over 150 pounds of clothing for Korean relief. Understand the Dorcas women sent enough clothing to supply 125 families, and that's a commendable achievement. We're wondering if anyone or any organization is collecting clothing for local distribution during the holiday season. Don't forget Chief Ernest Winborne has his fireman repairing toys "between fires" and they're anxious to collect a number of toys during the next few weeks.

WE'VE BEEN PORING over magazines collecting ideas for Christmas decorations, but there's one family in our block that always come up with something better than we ever see in any magazine. You have them in your neighborhood, too. I'll bet, and it certainly challenges the whole family to get their heads together to keep up with the Joneses. Ingeniously they trick. Remember one year Bob and Vera Andis placed miniature wise man figures along the window in their living room, turned a lamp upside down or sideways—just so it flashed on the figures—and the effect was lovely. Those silhouettes on their window pane won a prize. Their neighbors across the street, the Atkinsons, always do breathtaking things with lights twined in and out the wrought iron on their porch. And we still like Santa on the roof top like the Pursleys (Doc and Irvin) and Dr. Calvin Jones have had in the past. And if anyone feels real energetic, there's still time to make a cathedral window like Mrs. Bill Heaske made a few years ago. Lots'n lots of time and crisp, glowing cellophane go into those windows, and they get oohs and ahhs galore!

NICE TO KNOW FOLKS: The Sam Malones, Rusty Wards, Bill Ledbetters, Perry Franklins, R. J. Bradleys, Bob Syperets and Jim Pooles.

A DINNER in the Parish Hall will follow the Solemn High Mass of Thanksgiving at the Holy Souls Church today, marking the 25th anniversary of the church's dedication. The church buildings standing today are there because of the hard work of a few met first in the home of Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, and her husband, the late Dr. A. R. Sawyer. Women played a great part in the early financial success of this group, and wasn't it last year that charter members of the women's societies were honored. Who were the charter members? Present-day activities of both the men's and women's organizations are to be discussed this afternoon by Ed Dunningan and Mrs. M. F. Roche.

THE WHOLE BLOCK is throwing in advice to the newly weds caddy-cornered across the street from us, and we added our marriage motto, read and remembered from long ago: "Never speak loudly to one another unless the house is on fire." Even an argument (oh, yes, they DO happen) sounds like a discussion when voices are down low. We talked about it, but don't believe we've actually known a home where there didn't come a time, house afire or not, when it became necessary to raise one voice over another. Know somebody who professes otherwise? Dr. Doug Nelson has married lots of couples, and always has some sound, practical advice during the exchange of vows, and I wonder if he could sum it all up, in sort of a sermon in a sentence, and beat us all in what every young (and old) couple should know in the art of harmonious homelife.

SECRETS WE'D LIKE TO KNOW: How Dr. Joe Donaldson carries his many civic responsibilities so successfully. He's new Boy's Club prexy. How Mrs. Ed Barnes keeps abreast with all the latest arts and crafts. She's conducting craft courses now for the Parent Teacher groups, and everyone is still talking about her lovely display at the Woodrow Wilson father's night. How Miriam Leadders and Oakalee Whittle maintain their good averages in golf and bowling. They're on the leading team in the women's bowling league.

LAST WEEK a mechanical error (that's a nice way of saying we hit the wrong typewriter key) signed O. Henry's quote with "Oh, Henry." So, we'll sign this, for a change

Miss Verona Carruth, Henry Collier Are Married In First Christian Church

Miss Verona Lou Carruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Carruth, Tulsa, Texas, married Henry L. Collier, son of Mrs. Collier, Bakerfield, California, with a double ring ceremony recently in the First Christian Church, the Rev. Dick Crews officiating.

The bride who was given away by her father wore a white lace and net long sleeved ballerina length wedding gown with a shoulder veil, white satin shoes and carried a gardenia-topped white Bible.

Mrs. Douglas McBride, 618 N. Frost, matron of honor, wore a yellow dress with a net skirt and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Richard Collier, brother of the groom, also of Pampa, served as best man. White gladioli and palms decorated the church. Miss Mona Sue Williams played "Oh, Father, Love" and "Clare de Lune".

20th Century Club Has Discussion On Concentration

The 20th Century Club met in the home of Mrs. George Scott Tuesday, November 24, at 2:30 p.m. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. L. M. Hicks, President. Mrs. Fred Neslage led the Pledge of Allegiance and the devotional. The Collect was read in unison. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. W. R. Campbell presented the Treasurer's report, and the budget for the current year was accepted. Reports of the standing committees were heard. Mrs. George Vineyard and Mrs. J. W. Garman, gave comprehensive reports on the Federated Women's Club Convention in Austin. The program for the day was "Trends to Check Concentration of Power", and was carried on in a panel discussion by Mrs. Vineyard, Mrs. Ralph Sidwell, and Mrs. E. L. Campbell.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend No doubt you will receive many copies of the famous Santa Claus editorial asked about in your column. I am enclosing a copy if you would like to publish it for the person who wanted it.

"IS THERE REALLY A SANTA CLAUS?" Dear Virginia: Your little friends are wrong. They have been effected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible to their little minds.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give life its highest glory and joy.

Not believe in Santa Claus? You might as well not believe in fairies. You might get your papa to hire men to watch all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that show?

Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not; but that is no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You may tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not even the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.

No Santa Claus? Thank God, he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may ten thousand times 10,000 years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

Dear E.T.K. Thank you very much for the copy of the now famous editorial written by Frank P. Church for the New York Sun in 1897. I am running it because I know that many readers will be interested. However the letter wanted was one sent to his child by a soldier in Korea. It started out "Dear Leslie."

Central Baptists Have Mission Study-Dinner

The Auxiliaries of the Central Baptist Church met at the church Monday afternoon and night for a mission study class. Mrs. J. C. Flowers taught the book "My Two Countries" to thirty-two junior G. A.'s and R. A.'s. Mrs. Bob Huffines taught "As Others See Us" to fifteen intermediates, and Mrs. Carrol Ray taught "Sixteen to One" to fifteen Y. W. A.'s. The Women's Missionary Society served the evening meal to about seventy-five members of the auxiliaries.

Skelly Rebekah Lodge Plans Utensil Shower For New Kitchen

SKELLYTOWN (Special) — Rebekah Lodge held a meeting in the IOOF Hall recently with noble grand, Mrs. Clifton Hanna, in charge.

A kitchen shower for the new kitchen to be held in the lodge hall was announced for the next regular meeting. Members were asked to bring gifts.

After lodge closed a Thanksgiving program was given by members of the lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crawford were honored at the party. A trio, composed of Mmes. George Allen, Al Shubring, and Wayne Davidson, sang several numbers. They were accompanied by Miss Addie Fern Lick.

Post-Thanksgiving Meals Make Delicious Use Of Leftovers

1. Plan to serve your leftover Thanksgiving turkey in a variety of ways. Creamed turkey, turkey salad, turkey soup, turkey pie, or congealed turkey loaf.

- 2 cups diced, cooked turkey meat
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon flour
2 small onions (little garlic may be used, if desired)
1 green pepper
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup chopped celery
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 small can mushrooms
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
Put shortening, flour, onions, green pepper and parsley in skillet and cook until onions are brown. Add tomatoes, chopped celery and mushrooms. Season with salt and pepper. Add cooked turkey meat and cover. Let cook very slowly for one hour. One-half hour before serving, add Worcestershire sauce. Serve over cooked rice and sprinkle with chow mein noodles, or serve rice and creole separately.

Barbara Loper Weds Donald Philpott

Vows uniting Miss Barbara Loper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Loper, and Donald Philpott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Philpott, were read Saturday morning, November 21, at 9:30 a.m. in the First Methodist Church of Miami. Rev. Grady Adecock pastor, read the double ring service. Baskets of white mums and chrysanthemums flanked the altar and set the scene for the service.

Miss Adele Loper, vocalist, sang "Give Me Your Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer". Organ accompaniment was furnished by Miss Juanita Haynes. Traditional marches were used.

Entering on the arm of her father the bride wore a sky blue coat dress, fashioned with a tiny round collar jeweled with rhinestones and seed pearls, push up sleeves and a circular train of length skirt. She wore a navy blue halo hat and navy accessories. The bride carried a white orchid on a white Testament. Miss Carolyn Joy Hoffer of Lubbock was maid of honor. Her costume was a beige coat dress with quilted trim and skirt. Brown accessories completed her ensemble. Her bouquet was of blue as-

Serving as best man was Pat Loper of Miami, brother of the bride. Ushers were Charles Loper, the bride's brother, and Charles Clark, both of Miami.

Mrs. Loper, mother of the bride, wore a dusty rose suit, with winter white hat, and black accessories. Mrs. Philpott chose a beige and brown suit with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. The lace draped table was centered with an arrangement of blue asters flanked by blue lap-roses. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Pat Loper served the cake, and Mrs. Ruth Donaldson of Amarillo, presided at the silver service.

The bride's traveling costume was a red knit dress with winter white and black accessories. She wore a corsage of a white orchid. After a wedding trip to New Mexico the couple will be at home in Miami.

Mrs. Philpott is a Senior at Miami High School where she is an active member of the FHA and Dramatics Club. Mr. Philpott is a graduate of Miami High School and attended Texas Tech in Lubbock where he was a member of the San Socia Fraternity.

Mrs. H. Braddock Honored With Pink And Blue Shower

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — Mrs. Harold Braddock was recently honored with a pink and blue shower in the recreation room of the Community Church.

Hostesses for the occasion were Meses. Johnny Wilson, Sidney Jasper, Clyde Mercer, Robert Cummings, and Johnny Rich. Mrs. Johnny Rich presented the honoree with a corsage of pink carnations.

Following games, guests were served from a table laid with a lace cloth over baby blue, centered with a bowl of white carnations. Favors of miniature storks circled the centerpiece. Mrs. Johnny Rich and Mrs. Johnny Wilson presided at the refreshment table. Coffee and cake were served.

The guest register table was attended by Mrs. Sidney Jasper. Those participating in the shower were Meses. Irwin Carper, Carl Moran, Henry Vogt, Rudolph Willis, Foster White, Miles Pearson, Albert Stroh, Albert Bird, Harry Bahr, Johnny Rich, H. Barnett, Er Cook, Vinice Dyer, Clifton Hanna, Joe Chapin, Bill Price, R. C. Heaton, Fred Powell, Don Evans, Clyde Mercer, Duane Mercer, Pete Welborn, David Killough, Robert Rhodes, Sidney Jasper, Pat Raleigh, Johnny Wilson and Miss Addie Fern Lick.

Tips For Holiday Fruit Cake Baking

NEW YORK — If you bake your own holiday fruit cakes here are some tips for easing the job.

In shopping, remember that 2 1/2 pounds of pineapple, cherries and citrus peel each produces 1 1/2 cups. One pound of walnuts produces 1 2/3 cups nutmeats; 1 pound almonds, 1 1/2 cups; and 1 pound filberts, 1 1/2 cups. Don't try to do all the preparation and baking in one day. Buy fruits and nuts during regular shopping trips. Cut them and store in screw-top jars as you find time during regular kitchen duty. Prepare the pans and measure the ingredients the day before baking, and you'll find the actual cake-making a breeze.

Seeds of the cacao tree once were used as money in Mexico. Crabgrass likes sun; it does not sprout in the shade.

Cleanliness Most Effective Weapon Against Colds

Respiratory diseases, including the common cold, are responsible for more than half of all absences from work. Health experts who have studied the subject point out that simple cleanliness is one of the most effective weapons against such diseases. Among preventive measures the recommend: 1) washing hands carefully before eating and after using the toilet; 2) washing dishes and eating utensils in hot soapsuds, scalding them with boiling water, and wiping them with a freshly laundered towel, and 3) using only your own toilet articles, towels, and handkerchiefs; these of course, should be kept clean with soap and hot water.

Traditional Cards Still Preferred

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK — There's still plenty of Christmas in Christmas cards, despite the hoopla these days about art over tradition in design.

Cards with holly, religious motifs, snow scenes, candy canes, wreaths, poinsettias, and Santa Clause are far away and more popular than "that exotic stuff," said Steve Shannon, director, The National Association of Greeting Cards. "These arty cards don't amount to a hill of beans in overall sales," Shannon said. "Ninety-five per cent of the people buy Christmas designs. And the religious motif is stronger than ever."

Old Ones Still Best — One company which features famous artists including Sir Winston Churchill in its line confesses that two-thirds of its sales still are of the perennials.

Little Local Difference — Tastes in cards differ very little because of locale. "Persons in the South send just as many cards with snow scenes as residents of the northern states," Mrs. Mona Keane said. "And Californians like about the same cards New Yorkers choose."

There's one exception. The Army and Air Force Exchange, which purchases cards for men in service overseas to send to the folks at home, won't select cards with snow scenes if the men are stationed in hot climates.

Millions Never Get There — "Snow scenes make the men homesick," Mrs. Keane said.

The postal authorities estimate that 2,000,000 cards will fail to reach their destination because of faulty addressing or posting. To make sure yours arrive, here are some mailing tips from the publishers: Write or print the address clearly. It's proper to use the typewriter, but your own fountain pen makes a friendlier impression. Out-of-state cards should be posted by December 15. Allow one week for local deliveries.

Hamilton-Guinn Vows Exchanged

Miss Leta Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hamilton, 415 Kingsmill, and Gene Allen Guinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guinn, Borger, were married with a single ring service in the First Methodist Church recently. The marriage took place in the Chapel which was decorated with baskets of white mums and gladiolus and palm sprays. Miss Sue Williams furnished organ music and Miss Christine Pierce sang "Always", "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride wore a white ballarina length dress with a bodice of imported chentilly lace over white satin and three-quarter length sleeves. The skirt was of white net over satin. Her fingertip illusion veil was attached to a lace and pearl hat. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis bouquet over a white Bible.

The bride was given away by her father, Miss Leta Inman, the maid of honor, wore a blue taffeta dress and blue lace and pearl headress fashioned after that of the brides'. She carried a white carnation and baby mum nosegay. Miss Judy Nance, the bridesmaid, wore a blue faille suit with blue pearl and rhineston accents and also carried a white carnation and mum nosegay. Tommy Greer of Borger was best man and Don Campbell and Dennis as ushers.

Miss Gaye Nell Carter served as candle lighter and wore a powder blue faille suit with pearl and crystal head accents. She wore a blue baby mum wristlet. The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit with white accessories,

Lefors Boy Marries Taft Girl In Taft

Miss Shirley Ruth McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Reeves McDonald, Taft, Texas, and Mrs. Edward M. Wiggins, of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Wiggins, Lefors, Texas, were married Friday evening in the First Baptist Church in Taft. The double ring ceremony took place in the church before arrangements of white mums and silver candelabra.

The bridegroom sang "I Love Thee". Miss Reba Dones, Herford, Texas, sang "Through The Years", accompanied by Mrs. W. M. Wiseman, organist and Mrs. C. Brittan, pianist, who also played "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a white satin gown with long pointed sleeves and pleated skirt. The deep sweetheart neckline of the bodice was filled with illusion, and a chapel length train-veil of illusion fell from a tiny cap which was bordered with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white mums.

The maid of honor, Miss Nancy McDonald, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Miss Ernestine McDonald, Anson, cousin of the bride and Miss Loretta White, Houston, wore hunter green antique taffeta ballarina length gowns and carried muffs fashioned of bronze mums. N. V. McDonald, J. M. Chrestman, D. R. Rayburn, of Taft, and W. L. McDonald of Anson served as ushers.

Mr. Edward M. Wiggins, father of the bridegroom, was best man and Royce V. McDonald, brother of the bride and Charles Keeling, both of Taft, served as groomsmen. Bill McDonald, Anson, and Franklin Gunn, Taft, were candle lighters.

The reception took place in the educational building of the Church and was decorated with bouquets of mums in fall colors. Miss Reba Dones, Barbara Chrestman, Mrs.

Plastic For Plants

Wrap your house plant in polyethylene plastic before vacationing and you can leave it for as long as three weeks without watering it. These plastic sheets eliminate saucers and there's no leakage to mar the furniture. Rootings wrapped in this material will also thrive for weeks without water and you can isolate cuttings or plants in separate sheets of plastic.

Be sure to scrub the plastic thoroughly with thick soapsuds each time you use it. Rinse well and allow to air dry. This is a precaution in case one of the cuttings or transplants might have been diseased.

A Clean House Abets Good Family Health

There is constant emphasis on the importance of cleanliness in the fight against polio. This doesn't mean just personal cleanliness. Health experts warn that "plenty of soap and water" are needed to keep the house clean—especially during the "polio season."

Party-Time Is Training-Time For Grooming Habits For Little Girls

By ALICI HART
NEA Beauty Editor

As the holiday season nears, some little girls will be enjoying their first gabbets on what to wear to the big party.

Knits Always Nice

Any season is a knit dress season, since knits don't wrinkle, never need pressing, and are comfortable any time of year. Treat a knit dress just as you do sweaters—using lukewarm soapsuds if it's wool and hotter suds if it's cotton, nylon, or another synthetic.

Even though knit dress styles have become fairly elaborate with pleats and embroideries and varied necklines, they can still go into the washing machine. Put the dress in a mesh bag and follow washing instructions from the manufacturer, according to the type of yarn. If you really wanted to, you could wash your dress, dry it in an automatic dryer—and have it back on in some 20 minutes!

Scrub-a-Dub-Dub

Sometimes, in grooming, it's the little things that count. One mother who just couldn't interest her small son in clean hands finally got him a brush of his very own for the job. Now she finds that his hands are spotless—and so are his heels and elbows. There's something about scrubbing up the brush that makes scrubbing fun.

If you suddenly notice that your skin doesn't look right, it may be the mirror. Perhaps it's covered with film and needs a good dust-down since mirrors attract dust specks and smudges very quickly. See that you always reflect cleanliness with a clean-faced mirror.

Once you have adjusted to your youngster's sudden transformation from moppet to party-goer, take full advantage of it.

Your little girl will be eager to look just like a princess for the event, and she will expect you to be her fairy godmother. This is your opportunity to set life-long grooming habits in motion.

It is one of the marvels of childhood that nothing seems too much trouble. Children always have plenty of enthusiasm and energy for what interests them. Tell your daughter that it is going to take lots of effort for her to become princess-like and she will be ready to follow your lead.

What are princesses made of? Sparkling eyes, radiant hair and bodies beautifully smooth under fitted gowns. Convince her of this and she will not find early bedtimes a bore or over-indulgence in rich desserts an irresistible temptation.

As for her hair, start your youngster off on the sound habit of regular brushing. Nothing compares with it for keeping hair brilliantly healthy. Good styling, careful shampooing and permaning will avail little if the hair is not conditioned by brushing.

While your daughter is becoming acquainted with the more prosaic phases of feminine grooming, you might encourage her by describing the thrill she will experience when her hair is fashioned into a glorious crown.

Care of fingernails will seem less arduous, too, if she can look forward to wearing nail polish for the first time. In the event she speaks longingly of the sophisticated shades, you might describe dainty iridescent pink as the very latest fashion.

You probably will give your daughter a permanent yourself. It would be well, though, to have her hair shaped by a stylist first. It will be easier for you to manage and the effect will be much more pleasing.

Don't entertain the notion that your child's hair is more delicate than yours. Actually, according to recent research, children's fine hair stubbornly resists waving. For this reason a few home permanents are made in special kits for children.

One firm offers a self-neutralizing feature that is supposed to permit a child complete freedom after the winding process. By eliminating the neutralizing step, it is said to cut down your work and the time in which your daughter may get fidgety.

Also designed to reduce fidgeting is a booklet which is included in the kit. It contains games that will keep the youngsters amused during the rolling.

Airline Travelers Will Find The Continent Is Shrinking

By CHARLES CORDRY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 —UP— Vacationists and business travelers will find the continent shrinking this winter as a result of record-setting speeds being offered by two new type airliners.

The latest word in luxury and probably the last of the "conventional" or non-jet transports, they are the new 40-passenger Douglas DC-7 and the 50-passenger Lockheed Super-C Constellation.

With these airways giants, airlines are cutting the time between California and New York to less than eight hours, non-stop, and making Florida an easy jump of an easy jump of 3-1/2 to 3-3/4 hours from New York.

Expanded Air Coach Service
As more of the swank ships become available, they will speed between other points and free some present luxury liners for expanded air coach service, which costs about one-third less than regular fares.

Heavy order backlogs for these two types, which cruise from 325 to 365 miles per hour, indicate U.S. airlines are in no rush to begin the transition to much more expensive jet-powered transports. The jets, when they arrive, will fly 500 to 600 mph.

A reporter's recent experience illustrates what the new airliners are doing to travel time. On a Tuesday the New York chill scarcely was shaken off before the Super-C Constellation ran into a blizzing Miami sunshine three hours and 50 minutes later. The run back to New York took three hours 27 minutes.

Fastest Trip to New York
On the following Friday came a dash from New York to the West Coast in a DC-7. It was supposed to be non-stop, but rather than temporize with a minor fault in the cabin pressurization system the pilot landed at Denver for repairs.

Wants To Hike
CINCINNATI, Nov. 28 —UP— Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, defense mobilizer and president of Ohio Wesleyan University, maintains graduate students should score better than the present 75 minimum to qualify for draft exemption.

He told the National Interfraternity Conference Friday night he saw no reason to change present deferment rules for undergraduates, though.

Dr. Flemming said there was "general agreement" graduate students should make higher grades, and said the defense mobilization program was based on the belief all qualified men 18 1/2 to 26 years old "will have to be liable for a period of service in the Armed Forces."

before crossing the Rockies. The same DC-7 three days later returned from Los Angeles to New York in six hours 31 minutes, the fastest time ever made over that route by a commercial airliner loaded with passengers.

The secret of both new planes' speed is the Wright turbo-compound engine. It is a piston engine but additionally has turbine wheels which capture previously wasted exhaust gases and return their energy to the crankshaft. That boosts power 20 per cent with no increase in fuel consumption.

The planes embody numerous improvements for passenger comfort, such as better sound-proofing, plusher seats, better food service, air-conditioning and visibility.

Catholics Due To Construct Big Edifice

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 —UP— The U.S. Catholic hierarchy will launch a drive Dec. 6 for $8 million to complete the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception and provide American Catholics with a church ranking with some of the greatest religious edifices in the world.

The appeal will be for funds to complete the upper church of the shrine, work on which was started in 1920 but was delayed by the depression, World War II, and post-war relief programs.

The campaign will be directed by Archbishop John F. Noll, bishop of Fort Wayne, Ind., who heads a committee composed of four American cardinals and 10 other archbishops and bishops in various parts of the country.

The appeal will start the Marian year Dec. 8 marking the centenary of the promulgation by Pope Pius IX in 1854 of the Catholic dogma of the Immaculate Conception.

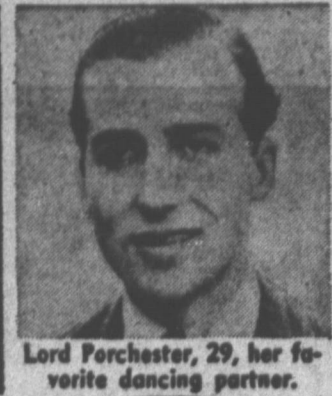

The massive foundations of the shrine were completed many years ago and now embrace a crypt church over which the upper church will be built.

The shrine, when finished, will rank among the world's most magnificent religious edifices, according to the architects, Maginnis & Walsh of Boston. It will seat 3,000 and have a capacity of 6,000. The exterior will be of granite and limestone. The interior will be covered with imported marble from the floors to great domes and vaults that will make up the ceiling.

The shrine, cruciform in plan, will be 450 feet long and will be 244 feet at its widest part, topped up a dome 108 in diameter, twice the diameter of famous St. Mark's Cathedral in Venice, Italy. This, in turn, will be topped by a cross 237 feet above the ground. In addition, a campanile, or bell tower, 316 feet high will rise to one side of the facade.

GUESSING GAME—Princess Margaret, free of the long sorrow over the death of her father, King George VI, is busy with a crowded winter program which links her name with those of many escorts. Number 1 on the list of those from whom she might select a husband is 24-year-old Lord Carnegie. Born of royal blood, Carnegie is her second cousin and the only one of her escorts who can call her "Margaret." Other favorites of the 23-year-old Princess Meg are pictured above.

Jet Pilot Due To Join Ministry

DENISON, Tex., Nov. 28 —UP— A jet pilot instructor at Perrin Air Force Base who flew bombers over Europe and Korea is leaving the Air Force to join the ministry.

Capt. A. E. Vancil, holder of the distinguished flying cross and the air medal with six clusters, said he is leaving the service of his country for the service of his Lord because "the two are incompatible."

"In military service," he said, "I just do not have as much time as I want for the service of my Lord."

Capt. Vancil flew 55 missions over Korea from December, 1951, to August, 1952. He is due a cluster to his Distinguished Flying Cross for extraordinary valor on one mission when anti-aircraft fire was "particularly heavy and dangerous."

He received the DFC for action in a mission over Elba in World War II when five of nine bombers were lost and his was one of four returning. He flew 85 medium bomber missions over Korea and cornstarch, and put it away in a cool, dark place.

shot down. "I always seemed to be kind of lucky," he said.

Capt. Vancil made his decision to join the ministry during a November revival conducted at the First Baptist Church Denison. "In service," he said, he has observed how "so few people put in so little time for Christ."

To store a rubber swim cap, wash it in soapsuds and dry it thoroughly. Then dust it inside and out with talcum powder or cornstarch, and put it away in a cool, dark place.

Nixon Speaks On Radio In Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Nov. 28 —UP— Vice-President Richard M. Nixon told a radio audience Saturday the United States "firmly supports the orderly progress toward self-government throughout the world."

The touring American vice president added, "the United States has no imperialistic ambitions whatsoever in Asia or in any other part of the globe."

He made the statement to assure those who "are apprehensive that the mounting interest of the United States in this area may be just another phase of imperialism," Nixon said.

The vice-president pointed out the United States had taken action to help Ceylonese rubber planters, including a cut of more than 50 per cent in the American annual synthetic rubber consumption.

Earlier Nixon met Ceylonese leaders at the American embassy to discuss "mutual problems."

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

GETTING TO KNOW YOU—An early Santa Claus in Watford, England, top left, was on hand to greet Jumbo, an elephant, as the great beast arrived to take part in a circus. At a cat show in London, right, a young lady posed with some 10-week-old Siamese kittens. While visiting a calf at an exposition in San Francisco, lower left, tiny Bobby Burr, of San Mateo, was the subject of a thorough inspection. Harvey Richardson, of Bellport, N. Y., is holding an armadillo by the tail which he found along the road. These creatures are rarely seen north of Texas.

FINGERS IN THE DIKE—A Dutch "dike army" is shown in action on Schouwen Island, closing the last gap in their only defense against the seas that have so often swept over their land. Huge caissons have been sunk, security walls erected and rocks were carried by hand to complete the barrier. Even last winter's floods caused widespread damage and misery.

A STITCH IN TIME—Gardeners in the famed Luxembourg Gardens of Paris, which surround the Palace of the French Senate, are preparing tulip bulbs for the long winter ahead.

PICTURE NEWS AROUND THE WORLD

HEAVY GOING—A long line of 25-ton tanks is moving along a wide thoroughfare to a National Guard Regiment in Cleveland, O. Civilian traffic was undisturbed and gave the steel monsters a wide berth since the odds in a possible collision would have favored the tanks.

MUSIC ON THE WAY—Housekeeping went on as usual when the Henry Traum family had their two-story brick apartment building rolled down a street to a new location in Chicago. A temporary oil stove was rigged up and an electric line tied into a neighbor's line box kept appliances going, including the TV set. A new superhighway cloverleaf forced this move.

SHORT STRIPE—Furs, whether real or imitation, have taken the fashion spotlight for fall and winter and designer Balenciaga has tailored this eye-catching jacket of zebra skin in Paris. The short, striped coat has a full, flaring back and deep, wide sleeves for comfortable wear over suits or dresses.

IT'S MUDDER'S DAY—Brenda Chittenden, 15, is shouting encouragement to her team with a cheer from the sidelines as an all-girl soccer match goes on in the thick mud at Faversham, Kent, England. Brenda was a goalkeeper, and she played with a lot of enthusiasm.

PLEASANT SURPRISE—Glynis Johns, talented British star, doesn't often pose for cheesecake, but when she does, the result is fine. Glynis will soon be seen in "Rob Roy," a colorful costume picture in which her lovely legs are not to be seen. So look your fill now, then concentrate on her acting.

TROUBLE SHOOTER—Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson, of New Jersey, and his committee investigating juvenile delinquency are in sympathy with a proposed National Institute on Delinquency to battle wrongdoings by youngsters. The five-year plan, costing some $100-million, would be financed largely or entirely with federal funds.

LIVES HIGH IN JAIL—"Man's gotta have a little entertainment, even if he is in the pokey," thought Oliver Stout when he was sentenced to 30 days in jail for bootlegging in dry Oklahoma. So he bought himself a nice television set and had it installed in his cell in the Hughes county jail at Holdenville. The jail's a fourth-story penthouse atop the county courthouse and Stout, salaried chef before turning to bootlegging, Stout has T-bone steaks and pork chops sent in and cooks meals and pastries for himself and Jailer Bill Johnson. Sheriff Emit Petete says he searched the statute books, but could find nothing to prohibit Stout from importing the TV set or buying his own food.

ISRAELI CHOICE—Moshe Sharett, Israel's foreign minister, is the choice of the Mafai Party to succeed David Ben-Gurion as prime minister. The party's 130-man central committee, which is meeting in Tel-Aviv, is expected to confirm the nomination. Sharett is expected to retain his foreign affairs position.

CHAMP—Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina gives spectators the winning wink after taking the unlimited sports car division of the Pan-American road race in 18 hours and 11 minutes. The victory gave him $17,442 in prize money. He also won a $10,000 side bet with an Italian millionaire (NBA).

CHRISTMAS CANDY — Children of Pampa and surrounding communities are assured of a good supply of Christmas candy when they attend the Santa Day parade here next Friday night. The candy, which is being sacked by members of the Pampa Fire department, will be distributed by Santa Claus' helpers in the corridors of the City Hall, immediately following the parade, which begins at 7 o'clock. Firemen, pictured above filling sacks with candy, are, left to right, Bill Powers, Chief Ernest Winborne, Bob Young, Lewis Shelton, Dennis Bryant and J. V. Pickle. The 800 pounds of candy is expected to fill 4,000 sacks. (News Photo)

Amarilloan Writes Letter To Squelch Squawk On Taxes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 28 — The taxpayers' federation of Illinois last week was critical of the tax system under which Illinois taxpayers help bear the cost of federal public aid programs in other states. The federation said some of these other states, including Texas, do not contribute as large a percentage in state and local taxes toward their total public aid bills as does Illinois. The inference that Texas isn't paying her share drew a letter from an Amarillo, Tex., resident George E. Mahin, executive secretary of the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. "We'll Support You" "I'll say we will continue to pay taxes to help our old people live the life of Riley even if we have to sell a Cadillac to do so. Have no fear, we will not let you down." The Texan said his "poor old" state has "more millionaires in Houston than the whole state of Illinois can muster." "Haven't noticed lately where anyone has given the University of Illinois $2,000,000 for beating a team in the Big Ten," he said. "Such a small donation was given the University of Houston for trimming Baylor. It seems that his man has donated about $28 million to Houston in the last few years; no doubt half of it came from Illinois." "Just Egg Money" The Texan went on to tell of a conversation with a sad wheeler-farmer about the drought in the Texas Panhandle. The farmer said he did not think he'd get his seed back from this year's crop. Just then a truck went by with bags piled to the top. Then another passed. "Finally I said, 'sure must take a lot of seed to plant your farm?'" "Oh that," he said. "Why that's the wife's egg money going to the bank." Mahin observed that "someone has said that a midget was a Texan with the hot air let out," and said two facts remain: 1. Something is "radically wrong" with the federal public aid program setup. 2. He had "special cause" to be thankful on Thanksgiving Day for the fact he was "hundreds of miles beyond the reach of irate Texans."

TV Credited For Success Of Stage Play

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK, Nov. 28 — UP — One of the smaller miracles of the Broadway stage season to date has been the way in which a play called "Late Love" has hung on for several weeks after the sort of a critical reception that usually has the truckers backing up for the scenery at the end of the first week. There is more than a definite suspicion this lasting power can be traced to television through Miss Arlene Francis. Miss Francis is an experienced stage actress of considerable merit who has been around Broadway for a dozen years or so. She has been in an occasional hit—the biggest was "Doughgirls" during the war years—but in recent seasons her occasional stage efforts haven't paid off. She also has been extremely active in radio through the years, but this didn't bring any extra business to any of the plays in which she appeared. However, television apparently has stimulated such business in the case of "Late Love," in which she is starred. Miss Francis has been one of the regular panelists on the extremely popular TV quiz show, "What's My Line?" It appears on CBS Sunday nights and it would appear these steady visits into the metropolitan area's living rooms have built up a following for her—one that radio didn't produce because much of Miss Francis' appeal is visual. TAKING MANHATTAN BACK? — New Yorkers must have thought the old gag about giving Manhattan back to the Indians had come true when they saw Chief Paul Horn riding his horse amid Park Avenue traffic. The chief, a leader of the Mohawk tribe at Hogsburg, N. Y., was just on his way to the International Children's Bazaar.

Cautious Optimism Seen In Wheat Area

AMARILLO, Nov. 28 — UP — The Santa Fe Railroad's agricultural agent said Saturday that a feeling of cautious optimism is apparent in almost every community in the mid-America wheat belt. R. I. Cross, in a monthly crop report, noted "the October and November rains and snows have been followed by near perfect growing weather." The nation's winter wheat crop harvested last summer in Kansas, the nation's biggest wheat state, and in Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Colorado and New Mexico, was reduced in size due to a persistent drought. The dry period had hurt the crop in the fall planting period, in spring emergence and in the maturing growth just before harvest. Cross reported, in the territory served by the Santa Fe, cattle in many areas were placed on wheat pasture in fields which had sufficient early moisture to start wheat growth in September and early October. "Stands are generally good," he said, "although some have been spotted. Most of the seed has reported even in those areas where moisture was deficient at the time the fields were drilled." Cross summed up with this statement: "A good crop is in prospect with normal moisture during the remaining portion of the growing season." Cross had these comments concerning Kansas: "After being planted under adverse conditions, most of the 1935 Kansas wheat crop has received sufficient moisture for current needs. "Cattle and sheep are being placed on pasture in fields where early stands were secured. "While additional moisture will be needed soon, wheat conditions in Kansas generally are good except for a few localities in central and eastern Kansas where difficulty has been experienced in securing adequate stands due to the dry top soil." Future Watchdog CULVER CITY, Calif., Nov. 28 — UP — A husky bulldog was held at City Animal Shelter Saturday after he "commandeered" a stranger's automobile. Vance Rankin, 41, Friday opened the door to let in his nephew, but the dog jumped in instead, chased him out and then refused to relinquish the auto. Rankin had to call the animal shelter for help. "That dog would make a wonderful but very confused watchdog," Rankin commented. Here's advice from professional house cleaners, who certainly know all the short-cuts: always tote along a cart for supplies and also an empty bag. Anyone will agree that this is a very efficient way to clean. Your sudsmaker, scouring powder, brushes, mops, pails, cloths, and sponges are always right at your fingertips — and the empty bag is perfect for holding refuse from ashtrays or wastebaskets.

PAYS PRICE FOR KEEPING MUM—Mrs. Betty McCoy, of Clayton, Mo., pays the price for "violating a courthouse tradition." She married without posting a traditional 30-day notice for fellow employees. Mrs. McCoy's marriage was discovered by her co-workers in the circuit court clerk's office at the St. Louis County Courthouse and they handcuffed her to the courthouse railing for one hour. The sign is to inform the public of her "crime."

Retired Woman Heir To Fortune

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 28 — UP — Mrs. Della May McKeon, a poor, 67-year-old retired stenographer, hid Saturday from "salesmen and newspapermen" after falling heir to a $479,730 fortune. "My mother is pretty well excited by it," the son, John Joseph Phelan said. "It will be a great help for mom to get back on her feet." He added that she would remain in seclusion until she has undergone treatment for her nervous condition. A ruling by Judge John F. Cox, at Pittsburgh, Pa., Friday declared Mrs. McKeon heiress to a share of the estate of an aunt, Mrs. Sara M. Wheeler, widow of a wealthy Pittsburgh attorney and oilman.

ARCHITECT'S ART—Yes, this picture is right side up. Or is it? Anyway, it shows a sculpture being exhibited in Paris by Le Corbusier, world-famous architect and a co-designer of the United Nations building in New York. He calls the polychrome wood carving "Osone."

U. S. Feels Anglo-Italian Oil Solution Take 6 Months

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28--UP--The U.S. government believes the bitter Anglo-Italian oil dispute can be solved by probably not for another six months, it was disclosed Saturday.

Hopes for the long-sought solution were buoyed by a recent trip to Iran and London by Herbert Hoover Jr. The son of the former President is Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' trouble-shooter in the dispute.

Hoover, who plans another flying trip to London and the Middle East next week, declined to discuss what progress, if any, he is making. Sources close to him said however, he had found a sincere desire among the British and Iranians to get Iran's rich oil fields flowing once again.

Only this week British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden moved to break through one of the major obstacles. He proposed to Iranian Premier Faziollah Zahedi a resumption of diplomatic relations which the now imprisoned ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh broke off 13 months ago.

Six Months of Travel

This could clear the way for renewed talks on the oil dispute which burst into the open almost three years ago when Mossadegh nationalized the multi-billion Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., and tried unsuccessfully to operate its huge Abadan refinery.

Hoover expects to be shuttling between here and London and Tehran for the next six months. This indicates he does not look for an immediate solution of the knotty problem. It is understood he is concentrating primarily on getting the refinery re-started, and believes that this could best be done through a consortium of international oil companies.

The Iran government is understood to favor an independent oil company, preferably American, for that purpose, or for experts to do it under direction of the international bank. Zahedi would like the bank to put up the $35 million to $50 million it would cost to put the refinery on an operating basis.

Shell May Participate

The British are reported to favor at least the participation of the Shell Oil Co., in the proposed consortium so British interests will be represented.

Anglo-Iranian will have to be compensated for its properties but this is said to be secondary in Hoover's drive to get the refinery going again. On his trip next week, he hopes to make headway as an "honest broker" in effort to bridge the British-Iranian views.

Officials said he discovered the new Iranian government was not fully aware of the problems it faces and the British did not realize the Zahedi regime is "really different" from Mossadegh's.

Senate Kicking Off Survey On Oil Available

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28--UP--Senate investigators launch hearings Monday to determine how much of the nation can count upon "in the event of another war."

Chairman George W. Malone (R-Nev.), whose Senate Interior sub-committee is conducting a broad survey of mineral resources, wants to find out how Congress can help make Western Hemisphere petroleum supplies go faster.

He wants to know what petroleum stocks will be available if enemy submarines make sea lanes impassable and the industrial machine and defense forces of the nation must operate on supplies available in this hemisphere.

Overall Availability

"We want to determine the overall availability of petroleum in the event of another war," Malone said in discussing the oil phase of the inquiry.

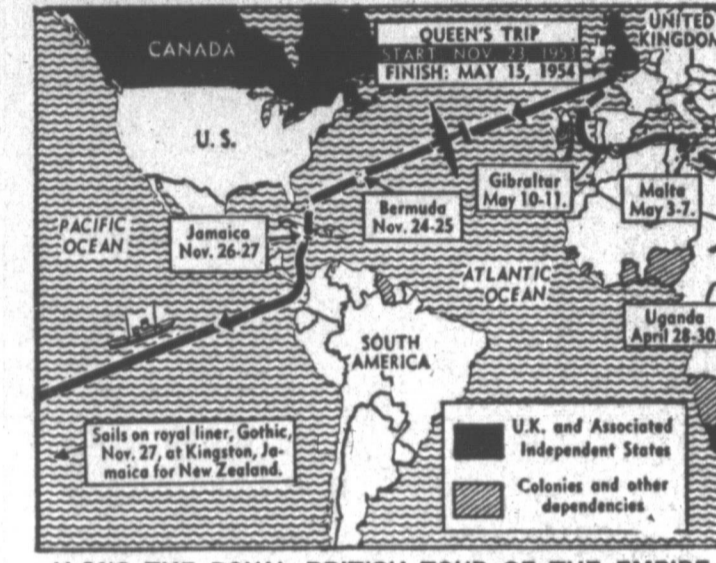

"We also want to find out what principles congress can lay down to help increase the availability of those supplies and make this hemisphere self-sufficient in time of war."

Malone said about 175 "interested parties" have been invited to present their views to the subcommittee -- in writing or by personal appearance. Prospective witnesses include spokesmen for oil companies, oil and gas associations, coal companies and coal trade groups.

Governors of some 28 oil producing states and spokesmen for state national resources commissions also have been invited.

Import Data Surveyed

Although the hearings are concerned particularly with Western Hemisphere reserves, Malone said the subcommittee will ask for complete information on current oil imports, particularly from the Middle East.

ALONG THE ROYAL BRITISH TOUR OF THE EMPIRE--Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, are making a six-month trip around the world (see Newsmap), during which they will visit many of the commonwealths and colonies of the far-flung British Empire. The royal couple will travel by air from London to Jamaica on the first leg of the trip. At Jamaica they will board the royal liner, S.S. Gothic, for the voyage to New Zealand. The Gothic will be their home for the next five months until they reach Aden. From there they will fly across North Africa to Tobruk where they will board the royal yacht, Britannia, for the last leg of the trip home. Approximately half the time they are away from home will be spent in Australia and New Zealand.

'My schnozzola is my trademark'

IT DOESN'T MATTER whether he's singing, hoofing, or just plain clowning--that famous proboscis (nose to you) tells you that you're looking at Jimmy Durante and a great performance.

It's the same idea when you see a reliable brand name in one of your local stores. The maker's brand on an article tells you exactly what to expect in value and performance.

It enables you to shop with confidence.

Manufacturers of recognized brands constantly strive to give you the best--because, after all, that's just good business. Competition with the makers of other brands stimulates them to keep their standards high, to improve their brands, and to offer you better products and more attractive values.

The result of this competition? You benefit, every time you choose one of the reliable brands you see advertised in this newspaper. It's always a good idea to name your brand--and better your brand of living.

"Now we're going to listen to your father's banquet speech--and be sure to laugh just like me when he tells the old jokes!"

Trucks To Get "Dressed Up"

By PAUL E. SYBODA
DETROIT, Nov. 28—UP—Glamour is coming to the trucking industry.

The rubber-tired mastadons of the highway are being dressed up with smoother lines and fancier trim to make them more appealing to the public eye.

An easily-reached conclusion is that the truck makers, if they can't make their vehicles go up long hills faster, at least are trying to make it easier on the trailer motorist behind by providing him with something prettier to look at while tagging behind at 10 m.p.h.

But that's only one reason. The truck drivers themselves — often portrayed as burly creatures with only coffee and waffles on their mind — allegedly go for hem-stitched seats, hotly-tooled color combinations and chrome-covered cabs.

Weekly Grain Market Report

FORT WORTH, Nov. 28—UP—USDA — Weekly grain:

Slow trading and irregular prices ruled Southwest cash grain markets this week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Saturday.

Yellow corn advanced 4 1/2¢ to 5¢ a bushel and oats 1 1/2¢ to 1.93¢ a bushel, while corn held steady at $1.88 3/4 and barley remained unchanged at $1.40 to $1.45 a bushel.

Wheat went up 2 1/2¢ a bushel on the low end of the range but lost three-quarters of a cent on the high end No. 1 hard offerings closed at $2.50 1/2 to 2.68 1/2.

Milo lost 4 cents per 100 pounds on the low end of the range and a penny on the high it was quoted at $2.67 to $2.75, the lowest price in more than a year, about 65 cents per 100 less than last year at this time.

These cash market reactions are based on wholesale carlot prices, North Texas common rate points, except for oats. They are based on the Ft. Worth cash market.

Commodity Credit Corporation sold 711,138 bushels of its wheat stocks during the week ending Nov. 20. Most of the grain was for export.

Primary market receipts of wheat totaled 6.5 million bushels for the week ending Nov. 25. This compares with 8.1 million for the previous full week and 5.1 million the comparable week last year.

Corn receipts totaled 7.2 million bushels compared with 11.3 the previous week and 10.2 the same week last year.

Inspections of wheat and corn for export were smaller this week than the previous week or the comparable week last year. Wheat inspections amounted to 1.7 million bushels and corn nearly three million bushels.

Desirable Imperfection
Orthodox Mohammedans are loath to construct a building or weave a rug that has straight lines or flawless symmetry. They believe that only Allah is perfect, and that to construct a perfect building or rug is sacrilegious.

Take Better Care
Evidence of this, according to Philip J. Monaghan of GMAC, is that fleet operators report drivers naturally take better care of a handsome truck. They "mother" it longer and consequently maintenance and repair costs go down.

Another argument in favor of glamorizing these tandem-axled pack mules is that it adds prestige to the company name and gives the public ready identification with a product.

A classy truck means classy merchandise, so the public analysts say. It instills confidence in the buyer when he sees a good-looking delivery truck bring a package to the door.

Farmers Have Hand
Farmers also have a hand in doling up the trucks. About 30 per cent of all trucks are individually owned and a good percentage of these owners are farmers and ranchers who use them for multi-purpose transportation.

These owners use their small pickups to go to church, take the family to the show and are even found parked in "lovers' lanes."

"Why not make them proud of their truck without having to pay a penalty for its dressed up appearance?" asked Monaghan, President of GMAC.

Dressed Up Dodge
Chrysler also showed what it could do with a Dodge truck at its recent national press showing. The show model was cream-colored bumper to bumper and freckled with six-inch orange polka dots.

The interior was dressed up in the same combination with cream-colored seats covering done in hand-stitched handsums plastics. The whole cab was light and airy. It attracted more attention than many of the new car models where glamour was frankly for sale.

There were some jeers but everyone went away remembering that truck. So doling them up may not be a bad idea — remembering the railroads got a lot of public opinion mileage out of their first stream-lined trains.

REVIVAL SPEAKER — Rev. Ray Nell Johnson of Abilene will be the guest preacher at a week-long revival of Pampa's First Methodist Church, beginning Dec. 6. Rev. Johnson is the general evangelist for the Northwest Texas conference and is the author of a book entitled, "Evangelism For Today." He is a graduate of McMurry College and received his master's degree from Southern Methodist University. During World War II, he served for four years as a chaplain.

Kefauver Demands REA Explanation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—UP—Sen. Estes Kefauver demanded Saturday the Rural Electrification Administration explain why its cooperative loan program is "lagging so far behind" last year's record.

The Tennessee Democrat wrote REA Chief Ancher Nelsen there is "feeling in many quarters" the agency is party to a "tacit agreement" to hold down the loan volume.

"Such action would run counter to the expressed wishes of Congress," Kefauver said in a statement.

Kefauver renewed his accusation the administration's power policy represents a "big sellout" to private power interests.

He said a "secret campaign" is under way to boost the REA cooperative loan interest rate from 2 to 3 per cent or more. He noted, however, Nelsen is on record against raising the rate.

Kefauver recalled that Congress appropriated $208 million for REA loans to cooperatives during the current fiscal year and said if the present rate of loans continues, only $120 million will be used.

Actors Prefer Rugged East

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28—UP—Actor Gary Merrill and wife Bette Davis have joined the trek of movie stars from Hollywood to the East because, he said today, life in the East is "ore of a struggle."

The Chamber of Commerce out here has always figured people pour into this palm tree paradise because life is less of a struggle under the sunshine. But actors apparently are different. Merrill and

Last Rites Set For Mrs. Howard

Mrs. Rettle Ann Howard, 59, of Skellytown, died in her home at 9:45 p.m. Friday following a four-months' illness. Funeral services are scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Skellytown Assembly of God Church with Rev. Charles Moore officiating. Burial will be in the Fairview Cemetery under the direction of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Mr. Howard was a resident of Skellytown for 23 years and was a member of the Assembly of God Church there. She is survived by her husband, I. N. Howard; one daughter, Sandra Sue Howard of Skellytown; her mother, Mrs. C. P. Cook of Skellytown; and six brothers, Frank and Vester Cook of Skellytown, Elmer Cook of Selma, Calif., Sam and Arch Cook of Sweet Home, Ore., and Harland Cook of Vernon.

Foresaw Flying
In a letter to a friend in France in 1774, George Washington predicted that some day men would fly from Paris to America, instead of sailing the ocean.

Largest Rail Shops
The world's largest railroad shops were founded in Altoona, Pa., in 1849, when the first railroad was being built over the Alleghenies, and they still retain this distinction.
