4-H & FFA SPONSOR ANNUAL EVENT

The Twenty-Second Annual Kinney County FFA and 4-H Livestock Show will begin Friday morning, January 21, at 8:00 a.m. at the Brackettville Civic Center. All livestock will begin moving in place with the weighing, tagging, and penning of livestock continuing till 12:00 noon. At 1:00 p.m. the sifting of lambs, steers, and hogs will begin, followed by the judging of market hogs at 2:30 p.m. and the judging of commercial steers at 3:30 p.m. Judge for the hogs and steers will be Mr. James Bevel, Vo. Ag. Teacher of La Pryor. On Saturday morning beginning at 8:00 a.m. the market lambs will be judged starting with Light Weight Fine Wool Fat Lambs, followed by Heavy Weight Fine Wools, Light Weight Crossbred and Heavy Weight Crossbred. At 11:55 will be the presentation of the showmanship award. Beginning at 12:00 noon, a Ranch Style Bar-B-Que will be served under the direction of the 4-H and FFA mothers. The Junior Livestock Show Auction Sale will start promptly at 1:00 p.m., conducted by Joe Hargrove's Southwest Livestock Exchange.

On Saturday morning, a Breakfast will be held from 6:30 a.m. till 7:30 a.m. for all livestock exhibitors participating in the stock show. The breakfast will be prepared by the FHA girls and their instructor, Mrs. Clara Ricks.

Superintendents in the livestock divisions are: Sheep-Pat Rose III & Darrell Paul Franks; Calves-Jimmy Bader; Swine-Felix Lopez. A great deal of other people are helping and cooperating with the Kinney County Stock Show and a complete list of them will be in next weeks paper.

Also in conjunction with the Stock Show will be the Kinney County Project Show. All project show entries will be checked in Friday morning from 8:00 a.m. till 9:00 a.m. Judging will begin at 9:30 a.m. A large number of entries have been entered and the competition will be strong. The divisions in the project

MISS TEENAGE TEXAS CONTEST SCHEDULED

Final preparations are now being made for the 6th Annual "Miss Texas National Teen-ager" Pageant to be held at the Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, Texas, May 27, 28 and 29, 1977. Texas Christian University at Fort Worth will be the Host University for the event.

Special invited guests will include Kellie Thompson, 1977 Miss National Teen-Ager of Bountiful, Utah; the reigning Miss Texas National Teen-Ager, Miss Debbie Collard of Angleton, and former State Queens, Jana Collard of Dalhart, Cindy Mitchell of Seagraves, Charlotte Duggan of El Paso and Carol Kingsberry of Santa Anna.

The Miss Texas National Teen-Ager Pageant is the official State Finals to the Miss National Teen-Ager Pageant to be held in Atlanta, Georgia, August, 1977. Miss Texas National Teen-Ager will receive a scholarship, other prizes and an all-expense paid trip to the National Pageant.

Contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement-leadership, poise-personality and beauty. Each contestant will have participated in the Volunteer Community Service Program, the Pageant theme, "WHAT'S RIGHT ABOUT AMERICA", and the Mini-Modeling Charm Course. The National Teen-Ager program is designed to encourage teen-agers to participate in school and civic affairs.

$10,000.00 in cash scholarships will be awarded at the National Pageant in Atlanta.

Teen-agers desiring further information may write to Mrs. Sybil Shaffer, 215 Piedmont Avenue, N.E., Atlanta, Georgia 30308, or call (404) 659-4610. The Pageant is open to girls 13 through 17 years of age as of January 1, 1977. (Born on or after January 1, 1959).

It's income tax time again. Just to figure how much of last years income goes to pay taxes is a staggering thought. When you add to that city tax, county tax, sales tax, excise taxes, gasoline tax ad-infinity it makes you wonder why you should even try to make any money at all. Then when you see how the money is spent you realize the public is the pawn of the politician, from the precinct level to the presidency. Phoney issues are continually raised to manufacture excuses to raise taxes to give away more money and to feed the gluttonous bureaucracy that rips off the big part of the tax. The phoniest issue of all is the great "unemployment" rip off. Vast funds are denoted to "public works" projects because of "unemployment." These funds are always ridiculous in ration of cost to production. Yet there is no city or town I know but that there are people searching for someone to work--all to no avail. When it is more profitable not to work there are always those who sell their pride for peanuts and accept and demand a "handout." The small business man can hardly compete with welfare, rent subsidies, food stamps, unemployment income etc. A man came to my shop recently looking for work. At the time I told him I couldn't use him but might later. I needed some holes dug to plant trees so I went to him. He wanted to work, but only if I would pay him more for common labor than many office workers and skilled laborers make in Brackettville. Now he can go and say he looked for a job and couldn't find one and draw a fat income siphoned from the pockets of hard working tax payers by self seeking politicians who have bought his vote by giving him a handout. This is indeed a sick situation. I can't help but wonder how long the goose will continue to lay the golden egg or how soon the politicians will kill the goose.

CB BREAK

BY THE SKY PILOT

In a neighboring city this week I heard a man try to "straighten out" some irresponsible CB'ers. He had become very frustrated because when he tried to talk someone would break in and walk on him or the party he was modulating with. He tried to tell everyone to properly use his squelch and wait until the channel was clear. There were a goodly number of people who responded with encouragement that this should be but even while he was talking to a child, a teenage girl and a young man walked over him. There is just no way that I know to make people be considerate of others. Many who use their Cb's in this fashion are careless. Others do not know how to properly use the two way. Generally, however, those who do this simply do not care. They seem to want to prove to themselves how important they are. They certainly prove to other CB'ers how inconsiderate and egotistical they are. It's great that these are relatively few in number. Were everyone as inconsiderate as these few we would truly have compound confusion on the line. How much it would help if every person were to make sure the channel were clear before he walked. It's good to modulate with you again and as we go this way we'll say "all the good numbers" to you till we catch you on the flipper. We'll be 10-10 and clear on this channel. This is KOH 4856, the Sky Pilot from that Brackettville town. C-ya!

BAGWORM CONTROL PROGRAM EXPLAINED

UVALDE--Vigilance during the cold winter months is the best way homeowners can control bagworms which infest their ever-green plants, especially cedar.

"Bagworms can be found on many kinds of shrubs and trees," said Dr. J.W. Stewart, an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde, "but they show a special fondness for cedars."

He said the best time to treat for bagworms for the 1977 growing season is now while the weather remains cold. "This is a very simple process and involves only the removal of the old cases or cocoons which hang from the tree limbs," the entomologist said.

After removing the cases, Stewart says people should deposit them in the trash or burn them. He cautioned not to drop them on the lawn below the shrub or tree.

During the winter months, the cocoons seen hanging on the trees or shrubs contain only eggs. Stewart said these eggs hatch in the spring and the small larvae (Caterpillars) emerge from the cocoon and spin a small one of their own. The cocoon is gradually enlarged as the larva sheds its skin and grows. The larva never leaves its cocoon.

As these larvae grow and mature, foliage on the tree or shrub declines since this is the only food. When they reach adulthood, the larva will seal off the cocoon and form a pupa, which then transforms into an adult moth. The female moth is wingless and never leaves her cocoon, but the winged male moth leaves his cocoon to search for the female.

When the female is found and the moths mate, the male soon dies. The female moth remains in her cocoon where she deposits her eggs and dies. Her remains form a plug on the lower end of the cocoon. The eggs remain inside the cocoon until the following spring.

EAGLE PROTECTION LAW UNDER FIRE

"Thank heavens we have people who are concerned about the future of our wildlife. However, I do feel that protectionists... must look at the facts, and if indeed, the evidence proves need of predator control, then they should be the first to support well-planned control programs," said secretary Bill Sims of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

"Yes I do say that we are not interested in the eradication of eagles, but I also believe we should be able to take a certain number of eagles -- just enough to stop predation. What number is that? No one seems to know. I recently attended a meeting at the Denver Federal Wildlife Center concerning golden eagles. In attendance were (representatives of various preservation groups, the Interior Department and wool growers.) The following are the main points I gleaned from the meeting.

1. Eagles are the property of the United States of America and the Interior Department is responsible for their well-being as well as for any problems they cause.

2. There are more eagles today than in many years, and there is no way they can be considered an "endangered species". A recent survey conducted by the Interior Department reported over 40,000 in the 17 western states.

3. There are very few bald eagles in the western and Southwestern part of the United States. The bald eagle is primarily a fish eater and is found near large bodies of water. (This minimizes the chance of mistaking a young bald eagle for a golden eagle.)

4. Montana studies by Dr. Bart O'Gara of the University of Montana verified eagle predation on baby lambs.

5. The group agreed that it is possible to determine whether or not a lamb has been killed by eagles. (Capillary bleeding around talon marks on the carcass will prove that such punctures were made prior to death, rather than during carrion feeding. Location of talon punctures is also a factor.)

6. The present population survey method is not at all effective in Texas. (Due to hilly nature of the country, aerial spotters are unable to see the eagles.)

7. The O'Gara study confirmed kills of two lambs weighing over 50 pounds each.

8. The Raptor Research Foundation admits that there should be protection for sheep and goats from eagles.

9. A high-ranking employee of the Interior Department admitted that eagles are killing lambs and that they don't know what to do about it. (Sims replied that taking of a certain number of eagles would maintain a healthy, yet safe population.)

10. The group plans to meet again in January or February of this year.

Sims then addressed the question of predation levels; it has been charged that eagles account for only one per cent of all predation, an insignificant loss, according to protectionists. It was Sims' contention that the one per cent figure equalled 10,000 to 15,000 head in Texas alone.

"If these animals had been allowed to reach maturity they would have provided 750,000 pounds of lamb and cabrito... not to mention the wool and mohair."

Sims further stated that research by O'Gara showed that eagles, by nature, concentrate in certain limited areas, causing heavy damage to particular producers.

Addressing himself to other points of contention, Sims debunked claims that eagles are effective rodent controllers, and explained the lack of lamb bones in eagle nests. "Almost all eagle predation," he said, "is caused by migrating birds, and these birds might be 1,000 or more miles from their nests."

In his summation, Sims described the farmer and rancher as the conservationists' friend. "We provide a habitat for... (wildlife) yes, the same grass and weeds our sheep and goats eat. It all boils down to the fact," he explained, "that when a bunch of people start getting hungry, then maybe they will be able to understand that lamb chops might well taste better than roasted eagle breast or coyote chops!"

To Err is Human

"Got lots of problems," said the sheriff to his deputy. "Here it is a whole week gone and there hasn't been a single crime. If this keeps up we'll be out of a job."

"Don't worry," said his deputy. "I'm sure something will happen soon. You've got to have faith in human nature."

TIPS FOR GREEN THUMBS

by: JOE TOWNSEND

We are having a cold and wet winter. On almost every hand we hear complaints about the rain and wet. However, just because we have days of drizzle and mist by no means can we assume everything has enough moisture. In reality the amount of rain this past month has been quite small. The drier the soil, the more freezing weather will damage plants, shrubs and grass. It would be a good idea to check your soil and see really how moist it is. You'll likely find you need to water. Because grass is brown and trees and shrubs are bare is no sign water is not needed. You'll have a better yard in the spring and summer if you make certain your yard is well watered through the winter.

BEGINNING JANUARY 7, THERE WILL BE A CHARGE FOR DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE

Here's how the statewide Directory Assistance charging plan will work: Customers with single-line basic service who call Directory Assistance (1411) more than 10 times during a monthly billing period will be charged 20 cents for every call after their tenth. A maximum of two numbers may be requested during each call to Directory Assistance. Multi-line customers will have an additional allowance of one call for each line, up to 25 lines.

The Directory Assistance charge also will apply to calls for numbers in other towns within your home Area Code — with one important exception. You won't be charged for calling Directory Assistance in another town that has the same Area Code as yours provided you make a corresponding Long Distance call within your home Area Code. That call has to be placed from and billed to your own phone within the same monthly billing cycle.

To request numbers in other towns with the same Area Code as yours you will continue to dial 1-555-1212.

There will be no charge for requesting numbers that have a different Area Code than yours. Just dial 1, plus the Area Code, then 555-1212.

Also, there will be no charge for Directory Assistance calls from coin telephones or from hospitals.

Some customers not charged.

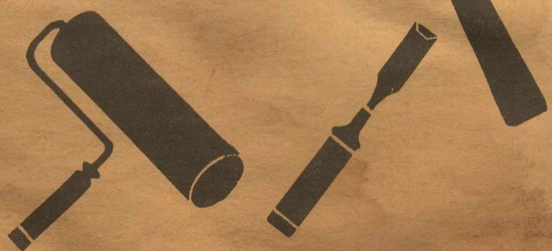

Visually and physically handicapped people who are unable to use the Directory will be exempt from the charge. If you think you, or someone in your family, or a friend may be entitled to this exemption, please fill out the coupon below for more information.

We're introducing this charge because it's the only way we can handle the rising costs of Directory Assistance fairly. The people who use Directory Assistance the most will pay the most.

So look in the book before you call. It will save you money starting January 7.
