Youth speaks out

Since the days of Theodore Roosevelt in the White House, each decade the President of the United States has called a conference to determine what is happening to the nation's children and youth in a changing world and to consider how best to assure their well-being.

Governor Daniel named 155 Texas citizens to head the state drive to determine the attitudes of adults and children on their changing world and their relations. Below are the findings given to the group by Texas youth.

YOUTH SPEAKS OUT ON—Youth and Adult Relationships

Some things parents can do—Teach responsibility and respect for the law and the difference between right and wrong. Be firm but just in dealings—Teach by example—Give more responsibility—Study and learn more about youth and their development.

Some things youth can do—Admit the value of greater parental experience and stay within boundaries set by parents. More independent action rather than group conformity—Recognize real value in firm and just control.

YOUTH SPEAKS OUT ON—Education

Something the school can do—Improve teaching skills—Better teacher-pupil relationships—Tell the community about our needs.

Some things teachers can do—Don't let us (youth) get away with too much. Better classes in current events and problems. Learn more about how to identify our aptitudes and abilities.

YOUTH SPEAKS OUT ON—Religion

Training in the home—Formal religions instruction on a consistent basis—Family prayer and worship—Instructions in moral and ethical values—Parents should go to church with us, not end us.

Training in church—Make us (youth) conscience of the importance of religion—Sponsor more activities of a recreational and social nature for us—Teach us how to study the Bible.

YOUTH SPEAKS OUT ON—High School Marriage

Some things that youth could do—Realize that early marriage has special problems such as children when you are not ready for them—Financial problems.

Some things others can do—Publicize the divorce rate for younger married persons as compared to others—Courses on marriage and family living beginning in junior high school.

3 new teachers hired by trustees

At the last meeting of the Plains School Board, three new teachers were hired for the coming school year. Miss Willie Mae Addison, a local Plains graduate, has been hired to teach either the third or fourth grade. She is a graduate of West Texas State where she will receive her degree in elementary education. Her practice teaching is being done at White Deer.

Miss Mary Jo Gingerick has been hired to teach the first grade. She graduated from the White Face High School and will receive her degree from Texas Tech in June. She will replace Mrs. Leon Lewis who will not teach so as she may spend more time with her family.

The new homemaking teacher hired, who will replace Mrs. Jo Brown, is Miss Carolyn Nelson. Miss Nelson will receive her degree from Texas Tech where she has majored in homemaking. She is a graduate of Winters High School. At Tech, Miss Nelson has served as an assistant in the child development department and also as assistant dietitian.

According to Mr. G. D. Kennedy, superintendent, there are still two available jobs open. He said that they still needed a public school music teacher and an English, speech or English, Spanish teacher in high school.

Other business conducted at the board meeting was the canvassing of the votes in the school election. The four new members were sworn in and officers were elected.

Unusual relic found, information wanted

An unusual relic or historical piece was found last week by Tommy Elmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Elmore. It is a large plaque bearing the following inscription:

1905

R. F. Milam — County Judge
1. Duff Purvis
2. B. F. Ramsey
3. Edd Andrews
4. O. L. Sweete

Since there is special interest in Texas heritage and county and state history being manifested and numerous museums being erected throughout the state it might be of great help or value to persons in the county from which it came. B. J. Campbell, shop instructor in the local high school has this interesting piece.

Reading habits are checked at library

Read any good books lately? Well if you haven't, drop in at the local library and see their selections. In a recent check it was found that the local reading taste at present tends towards the non-fiction categories.

Books on gardening are in big demand now as Plains people get ready to plant their vegetables and flowers gardens. The local staff has built up a rounded variety of books on aids to gardeners.

Fiction books that have been popular since the library has opened are the Zane Gray series and Earle Stanley Gardner mysteries. These series are popular not only with the adults but also with the high school set.

Some of the outstanding books that have been in demand are "Touch of the Master's Hand" a novel with a religious theme, "Jarnet's Jade", a light adventure by Frank Yerby, and "Exodus".

On the negative side are several books that have not been checked out since their arrival. They include several biographies, industrial manuals, and scientific matter. Part of these books were donated by business concerns and part were bought on recommendations of library reading list.

Books of special interest that local readers may not know are available are books on bookkeeping, homemaking, real estate, and the consumer's guide. There is also available material on holidays, reference books, and guides to various materials.

Persons wishing to read books of special interest or wanting to request certain authors are urged to tell the local librarian. There are now available funds which the local staff may order books direct to this library.

Request that have been ordered include "Hawaii" by Mitchner, "The Mansion" by Faulkner, and several books by Hemingway and other outstanding 20th century writers. Also to be ordered are books for the young readers and for the teenagers.

Reading is becoming a habit in Plains as more and more new members are joining and more books are being checked-out. The month of March was a record month as more books were read in that period than since the library was opened two years ago.

Easter Egg hunt draws large crowd of children

Stanford Park, Friday afternoon was the scene of the Plains area giant Easter Egg Hunt. Over 200 children from toddlers to the sixth grade were on hand to help look for more than 480 eggs plus 30 prize eggs. The prize eggs were donated by local merchants.

The first hunt for pre-school had the largest turn-out with approximately 100 children and mothers. The hunt began at 2 p.m. and by 2:30 the grounds were bare of eggs. Candy eggs were given to the tots after the hunt.

The second hunt began at 3 p.m. for the first grade through the third grade with approximately 70 children looking for eggs. The smallest turn-out was the last hunt with approximately 50 children from the fourth through the sixth grade. Candy eggs and bubble gum was dispersed among the children.

Among the prizes given were theatre passes, Easter bunnies, Easter baskets, clothing, candy, hamburgers and cokes, money and services.

The hunt was staged by the local Chamber of Commerce, the Iota Pi's and the Yoakum County Review.

Shamrock station has formal opening

Saturday's formal opening of Gene Gunn's Shamrock Station No. 3 on Brownfield Highway at the intersection of Highways 380 and 214 was deemed a success from every angle, according to those attending and Manager George Blount.

Highlight of the "big-doings" was the drawing of nine valuable prizes, the largest of which was a set of Goodyear white sidewall tires won by Bob Alderling.

With each filling of 10 or more gallons of gasoline the customer was given a 5-lb sack of sugar, which certainly was an incentive to any budget-wise person.

Other prizes were: 5,000 Gunn Bros. stamps won by Perry Anthony and seven lubrication jobs won by Ralph Bone, Jimmy Burke, Mrs. Luther Hinkle, Mrs. S. O. Bassett, Howard Borland, L. O. Smith and Amos Smith.

This is a big progressive step for Gunn of Brownfield as well as George Blount who had worked in and operated stations in Plains since he was a high school student. The business, until recently, was across the street from the elementary school building and next door to Glovers Cleaners.

Blount, the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Blount, and his wife have two children.

Two accidents covered during the last month

Two rural traffic accidents was investigated in Yoakum County during the month of March according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson of the Highway Patrol.

In reporting the two accidents, Lawson said that there were no injuries. These wrecks caused a total property damage of $775.

This was the first report of any property damage in the county during 1960.

Spring band concert to be held Tuesday night

The first band concert of the spring will be given Tuesday night by the Plains school bands under the direction of Bobby Brooks, director. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the elementary building cafeteria.

Bands participating in the concert will include the beginners band composed of 68 fifth graders; the junior high school band composed of 56 sixth and seventh graders and the high school band composed of 49 members from grades eight through twelve.

The fifth grade are "Organ Reverie"; "Touchdown March"; "Chorale"; and "Lil Liza Jane". The sixth and seventh grade band will play "Rip Van Winkle"; "Aladdin's Lamp"; "Pride and Progress March" and another to be selected. The high school band will play "Forward March"; "Death and The Maiden"; and "Sourwood Mountain" with two or three others to be selected.

The admission will be free and the public is cordially invited to hear the Band Department play in their only formal concert in which all members participate.

I DIDN'T KNOW THE BUNNY COULD HIDE SO HIGH was the comment of two young ladies Friday as they search high and low for Easter Eggs.

THE RACE IS ON and with approximately 200 children out Friday afternoon for the Easter Egg hunt adults had to stand aside to keep as they ran towards the hunting grounds. The group pictured was part of the 70 elementary school children that participated in the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Foy Cogburn and sons, Jim and Eddie, enjoyed an Easter outing at Clouderoft, Alamogordo and Elephant Butte Dam. They also visited Mr. Cogburn's sister in El Paso before returning from their four-day excursion.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Newsum and family, who have been living in the Smith Brothers house the past two months since their house and belongings were destroyed by fire, moved to McDonald, New Mexico last week where they have rented a farm.

ACROSS THE Cattle Guard
by LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

People who are looking into the future of agriculture in this area are predicting that farmers will increase the numbers of livestock on their farms within the next few years. All of the increase may not be on existing farms but, at any rate, livestock numbers will increase. More and more livestock are going to be fed in this locality because of the abundance of livestock feed. Since most of our feed is sorghum grain then it is only logical to assume that most of the livestock used to consume this grain will be hogs. Each year we have an increased acreage of silage which means that we can do a good job of feeding cattle or sheep.

Some very important changes are taking place in livestock production. The hog producers have rapidly changed over to the meat type hog. The buyers of hogs are now paying a premium for animals that will cut out a high percentage of red meat and have very little fat in comparison. Hog producers in this area are doing a good job of keeping up to date and some top kind of hogs are now being produced right here in Yoakum County.

Some very important work is now going on in an attempt to produce what is known as the "red meat steer". There are some differences of opinion on just what this steer is going to be like and also some differences of opinion on how to go about developing a red meat animal. The consumer is the person who makes the important decisions and when the average housewife decides she wants beef that is tender but not fat then it is up to the producer to try to make it that way.

Research has found that fat is not always an indication of tenderness but at the present time they have not found a way to make beef tender without getting the animal to put on some fat. Producers are faced with the question of just how soon can they market their feed lot animals and the meat be tender. They want to know how much fat is the least amount of fat they can put on them and the meat still eat tender.

The breeder has a job to do as well as the feeder because some animals will be tender with very little fat while others will eat tough with a great deal of fat. Some strains of cattle will produce higher quality meat than others. The breeder and the feeder working together can produce the kind of meat the consumer is demanding but it will take some time. Cattle improvement is much slower than hog improvement.

The breeder will be selecting for animals that carry a great deal of muscling. Since the loin is the most important part of the beef carcass then the breeders will be trying to put bigger loins on their animals. For the past several years the breeders have been trying to get a broad and flat back on their animals so they would have a wide loin. Now they have learned that the back needs to be slightly rounded over the top rather than flat and that it is not as important to have the back wide as it is to have it long. The best loins with the most red meat come from the cattle with the longer backs that is a little high right down the center line and the widest point of the loin area is about four inches below the top of the back.

The little short bodied steer with the short legs that has been winning all the major shows may be on the way out. The show judges are gradually putting more emphasis on red meat and less emphasis on fat. The amount of bone has always been important but bone is even cheaper than tallow. The modern show judge is discounting animals that carry excess fat, excess bone and excess hide. They want enough fat on the animal to assure tenderness and aging qualities and they want that small amount of fat to be well distributed over the body so the carcass will be smooth.

During the next few years there will be a number of meetings on the beef cattle improvement. Cattle producers and feed lot operators will be working with all others in the meat business in an effort to produce the best possible red meat steer. The 4-H Club members will be selecting for the kind of steer that win a show and judge of the show will determine what they select by the kind of steer he makes grand champion. The modern show judge is going to be reluctant to make a champion out of a steer that will produce a carcass with 12 to 15 percent waste fat. Club members will be looking for calves that carry a lot of muscle. They want them to gain rapidly on a ration that is at least one third roughage and they want them to put on a pound of gain with less than nine pounds of feed. The other thing they are interested in is weight. The most desirable carcass from the standpoint of the consumer comes from a steer that weighs between 900 and

Plains Girl Scouts to have bake sale

Plains Girl Scouts met Tuesday, April 19, at 4:00 p.m. in the Tsa Mo Ga Clubhouse. President Donna Nugent called the meeting to order.

As old business, the date was set for the bake sale for Saturday, April 23 at 10:30 a.m. on the old courthouse lawn.

It was voted to sell black pepper from house to house soon. Following the closing ritual, refreshments of candy and Cokes were served by Donna Nugent and Gayla Kerrick, then the girls went to Stanford Park where they played baseball.

Girls attending the meeting and sending a "million thanks" to the Fine Arts Club for the delicious dinner recently were: Gayla and Mary Kerrick, Linda and Dorothy Haunton, Dene and Darlene McDonnell, Pam Randolph, Sherry Heald, Linda Robertson, Paula Duff, Shirley Liles, Sharon Brooks, Suzann St. Roman, Jana Warren, Wanda Anderson, Sylvia McGinty, Loretta Taylor, Donna Nugent, the leaders Mrs. McDonnell and Mrs. McGinty, and a visitor, Tonya Randolph.

Final checks made on free immunizations

Mrs. Ann Foster, Public Health Nurse, was in Plains Monday making final checks on those needing free immunizations at the Immunization Clinic to be held this week in Seminole.

She announced that there will be another free clinic May 18 from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. in the Public Health Department in the basement of the Gaines County Courthouse, Seminole, under supervision of Dr. Steve Hood, City health officer of Seminole.

This service is for those unable to afford the service by their physician and is not aimed to interfere with his usual practice, she pointed out. You are reminded to take advantage of the clinic before the summer swimming program or before the start of another school term when some immunizations are compulsory. Polio shots are especially recommended at this time, she added.

Jerry M. Smith, editor of the Review, attended graveside services Monday for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Grimes of Denver City. Mr. Grimes is an employee of the Denver City Press.

ECONOMY PROVED IN MOBILGAS RUN!

CORVAIR BY CHEVROLET DRIVE IT! GET OUR DEAL!!!!

A pair of Corvairs recently recorded 27.03 and 26.21 miles per gallon in the 2,061.4-mile Mobilgas Economy Run. That's certified proof that Corvair skimps on gas costs. It saves other ways, too. Corvair is the only U. S. compact car that never needs antifreeze or costly radiator repairs. Come in and drive the compact car that outdoes them all.

Things Corvair gives you that America's other compact cars can't:

Practically flat floor... real foot room for the man in the middle. Fold-down rear seat gives 17.6 cu. ft. of extra storage space. Four-wheel independent suspension for a smoother, flatter ride. Rear-engine traction... that comes with the engine's weight bearing down on the rear wheels.

You probably realize already that the mileage figures Corvairs recorded in the Mobilgas Run are higher than the average driver can expect. But because the cars met every kind of driving condition—rugged mountain grades, long country straightaways, congested city traffic—those mileage figures prove Corvair's inherent ability to save. Operating costs take a nose dive the day you take delivery of a Corvair.

TELEPHONE LINES MOVED

Local telephone lines west of town along the state line are being moved, according to P. T. St. Romain of the Romain Telephone Co., to make way for the new state highway running from Bronco to Lovington. This move will involve eight miles of phone lines.

On the old Lovington road the lines are being moved across the road to make room for new electric highlines being installed by Lea County Electric Co-op.

Newsom - McDonald vows read Saturday

An archway of greenery flanked by baskets of white gladioli and blue carnations was the setting for the afternoon wedding of Miss Judy Newsom and James A. McDonald III, Saturday, April 16, 1960 at 4:00 p.m. in State Line Baptist Church, Bronco. Rev. Ronald Rich, pastor, read the impressive double-reading ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Newsom of McDonald, New Mexico and Mr. and Mrs. James A. McDonald Jr. of Seminole.

Karen Randolph of Plains was maid of honor. Sandra Williams and Sandra Smith, both of Plains, were bridesmaids. Little Misses Sue Spencer and Rita Brian of Bronco were flower-girls and Jerry Brian, also of Bronco, was ring-bearer.

Larry Williams of Seminole served as best man with Harmon Meixner and Walter Coffman of Plains as groomsmen. Ushers were Boyd and Dale Evans of Newsom. Candlelighters were Joe Tatum, brother of the bride, and Linda Robertson of Plains.

Mrs. Terry Bacon, soloist, accompanied by Calvin Townsend who played the traditional wedding music, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "I Love You Truly".

Escorted to the altar and presented in marriage by her father the petite bride's gown was fashioned with a fitted white lace bodice with long sleeves tapering to the waist and full skirt of tiered nylon. Her waist-length veil was fastened to halo-crown by seedpearls and rinstones and she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, tied with white satin streamers, atop a white Bible. She wore the traditional something old, new, borrowed and blue. Her attendants were dressed in blue with white accessories.

Hostesses for the reception held in Fellowship Hall immediately after the ceremony were Mesdames Terry Bacon, Ronald Rich and Alton Billings. Wedding flowers were used to decorate the serving table adorned by the lovely three-tiered white wedding cake trimmed in blue and topped by a miniature bride and groom. Delicious sherbert punch and the wedding cake were served to guests from Tatum, Artesia, Anson, Brownfield, Seminole, Bronco, Tokio, Lovington, Denver City and Plains.

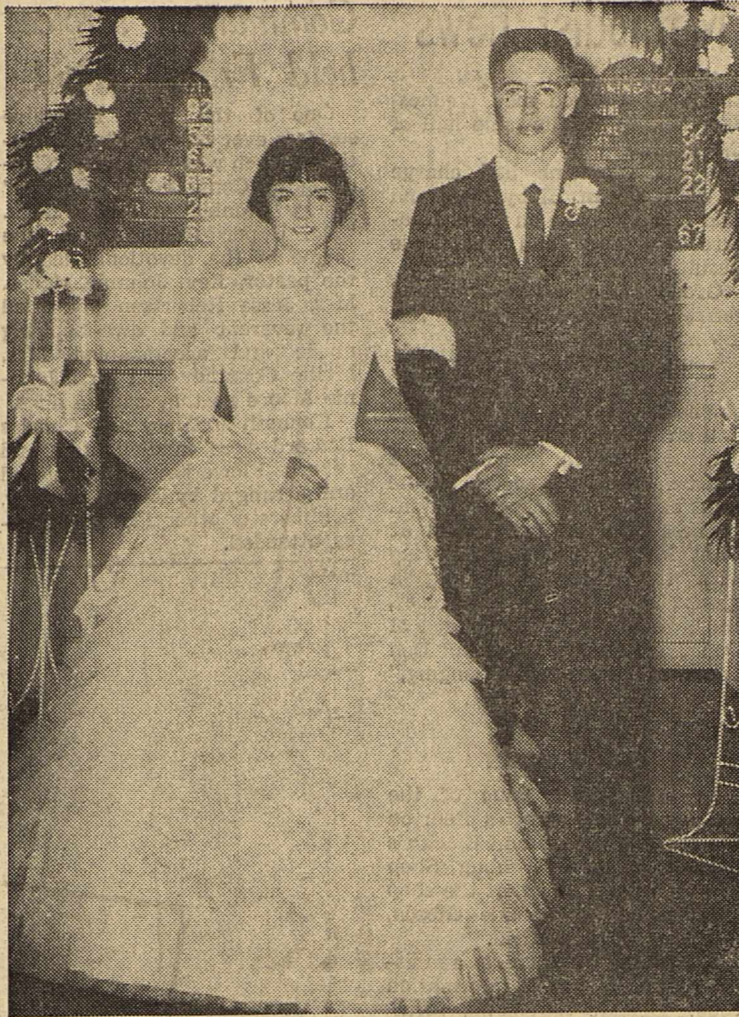

Following the reception the bridal pair left for their home at Carlsbad where he is employed in the potash mines.

Mrs. McDonald attended Plains schools and the groom, a graduate at Seminole High School, attended South Plains College, Levelland.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cobb of Abilene were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cobb, over the weekend.

Bobby Chambliss and Bettie Jackson, students at West Texas State College, Canyon, spent the holidays with their parents, Sheriff and Mrs. Robert Chambliss, and sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hale.

Did you notice the strange flash in the sky Saturday evening about 8:00 or 8:15? Persons from various sections of the county reported seeing the phenomenal burst of blue, red and green lasting approximately 10 to 15 seconds and going in a northwesterly direction.

Memorial Rose Garden open to the community

The First Baptist Church Memorial Rose Garden is open to the entire community to place roses there in memory of any loved one or friend, announced the Garden Committee this week. The garden, just south of the sanctuary, was enclosed by G. W. Cleveland about a year ago, and the wall is approximately four feet high of concrete tile.

A diagram has been drawn and roses will be planted where stobs are driven and the name of the rose you are to plant will be on the stob, the committee promptly

Those desiring to place a Memorial Rose will first check with the Rose Garden Committee: Mrs. Neil Parks, Mrs. W. M. Overton, Mrs. Clifford Anderson, G. W. Cleveland or Rev. C. J. Coffman, before purchasing any rose. The committee reserves the right to select variety and planting place.

If one of the above named persons cannot be found when you are ready to plant your rose, just leave it in the garden in a bucket, making sure it has plenty of water so it will not suffer before one of the committee can be found, thus assuring its proper location.

The donor is responsible for sending a card notifying the family a rose has been placed in the garden in memory of their loved one. With cooperation of all, the Memorial Garden can be a thing of beauty and enlighten and gladden the hearts of many.

Herewith is the names of some of the roses to be planted: Hybrid Tea-Crysler Imperial (red), Crimson Glory (red), Mirandy (red), Nocturne (red), New Yorker (red), White Knight (white), Peace (blend), Garden Party (blend), Korde's Perfecto (blend), Eclipse (yellow), Majave (orange), Axtec (orange), Charlotte Armstrong (deep pink), Helen Traubel (pink), Picture (pink) and Tiffany (pink); Grandifloras — Queen Elizabeth (pink), Carrousal (red), Starfire (medium red), Montezuma (orange blend) and Buccaneer (yellow); Floribundas — Circus (multicolor) Fashion (oral pink), Wildfire (flame red) and Vogue (cherry red).

If you do not find the name of some of these on a stob you will know that particular variety has already been planted.

Mrs. Judge Edd Young and children of Fort Stockton spent last weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Overton. "Wheel" remained for a longer visit with his grandparents.

Karen Shobert, freshman student at Eastern New Mexico University, visited her sister and family in Houston over the holidays.

Methodist news

The Men's Fellowship of First Methodist Church met Wednesday evening in fellowship hall of the church.

Watt Lipscomb had charge of the program. Bibby Field and Don Lackey spoke on "The Measure of a Man" and "Inevitable Result."

Group singing was enjoyed and refreshments were served following the closing prayer.

Youngsters of the Nursery, Kindergarten and Primary departments of First Methodist Church enjoyed an Easter egg hunt at 4:00 p.m. Sunday at the church. Pops were served by the eight adults sponsoring the hunt.

There was a nice crowd at First Methodist Church Sunday with the choir presenting a special number, "Christ Arose", and a male quartet composed of Don Lackey, Pete Smith, Don Cooke and Claude Lee singing, "The Old Rugged Cross."

CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Review we ran a news item on the opening of Bob and Blackie's Blacksmith and Welding Shop in which we stated that the shop is operated by Blackie Gibson, formerly of Littlefield.

We wish to correct a misinterpretation of information thus: Blackie Matthews, formerly of Anton instead of Littlefield, is doing the work at the new shop. However, there is a Mr. Gibson of Littlefield working at the Plains Blacksmith and Welding Shop on Roswell Road, owned by Dennis Alfred.

Our apologies to both men, may the confusion be cleared and all be better for it. We still recommend either shop for expert work and fair treatment.

Mrs. W. T. Clinton of Tahoka returned to Plains Friday with her grandson Steve McGinty, for a visit during the Easter holidays with her daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Scott.

Communion services held Friday night

One of the most impressive services ever held in First Christian Church was the lovely "Candlelight Communion Service" Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. "The Upper Room" was the theme of the devotional led by the pastor, Rev. Johnnie Moore. Mrs. Jesse Robertson presented the reverent and awe-inspiring music and accompanied Mrs. Mollie Courtney and Mrs. Johnnie Moore as they sang a duet.

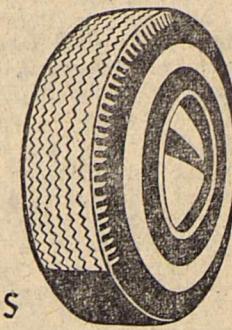

Kenneth McGinty and Charles Bedford were candlelighters and ushers. Flowers were furnished and arranged by Mrs. Courtney. Members of other Plains churches attended.

April 20, 1960

Dear Friends and Voters:

I need, and would appreciate your help. I am running for a second elective term as County Attorney of Yoakum County. I have applied myself to the job of making a capable County Attorney, and ask for your support for a second term.

My qualifications are that I am a graduate of University of Texas law school, have practiced law for 12 years and prosecuted many years. I was a combat pilot, Italian theatre, in World War II.

I want the job, and am making a house to house campaign over the whole county to see each voter in person before the election on May 7th.

I need the job, as I have a wife and three children dependent on me for support.

I submit that with my qualifications and common sense, I can do the job. It is my hope that you will consider my candidacy and assist me in my campaign.

Sincerely,

Vernon
