Varsity to face Portales Friday

Football fans enjoyed ideal weather Friday night when the Plains Cowboys traveled to Wilson. Local fans watched the Cowboys rack up 49 points in a run away game. Wilson showed spirit but failed to score for the evening.

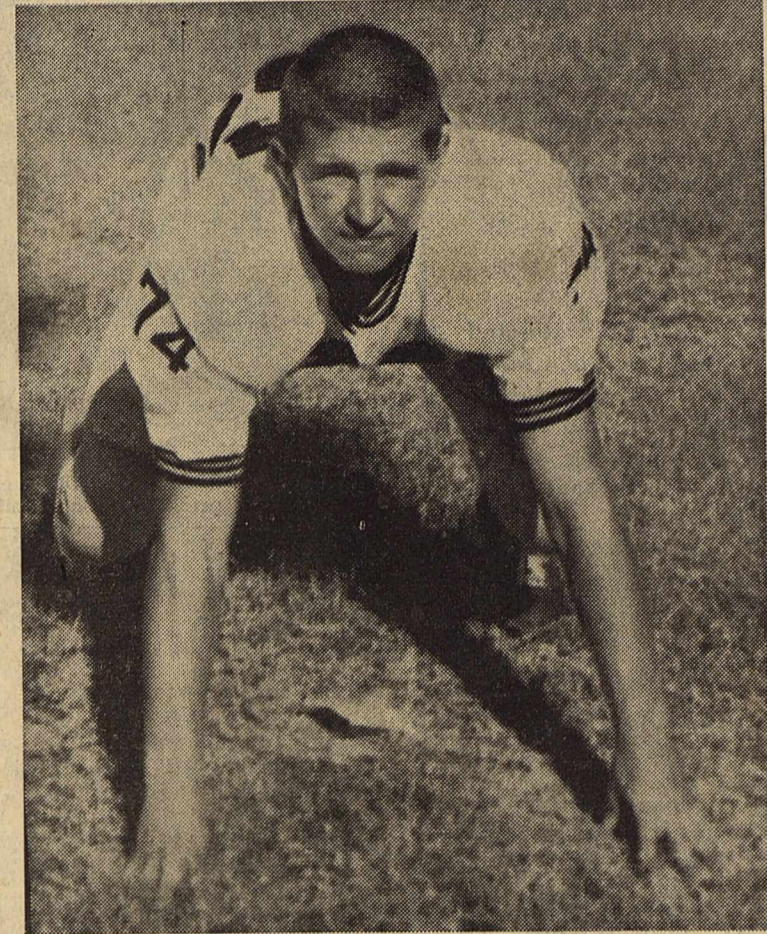

The Cowboys will meet Portales Friday night at the local stadium. Game time is 8 o'clock. In a rundown on the Portales team Coach Jack Pierce said the average weight for the defense team is 198 pounds. The Portales offense team will be lighter by eight pounds. He added that Portales could prove a tough opponent as they are one of the largest schools participating in football in New Mexico. Portales players to watch will be number 42 Dennis Olan, defensive tackle and Freddie Stevens, number 63.

Game statistics for last Friday night show Joe Don Morrow credited with 6 tackles, Vernon Ethridge 5, James Alberding 6, Mike Sink 5, D. Todd 5, Jack Meixner 5. Leading the field in tackling during the game was Dennis Hickmann, who had 8.

County budget to total $1 million

Yoakum County Commissioners have set a tentative budget of $1,017,159.93 for county operation in 1961. The sum represents a decrease of $8,049.95 from the 1960 budget.

Last rites held for L. B. Johnston

Lornie B. Johnston Sr. died Sunday afternoon in Yoakum County Hospital after an illness of several years. Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in Plains Assembly of God Church with Rev. Garland Huffman of Fort Stockton officiating, assisted by the pastor, Rev. E. L. Witt. Burial was in Plains Cemetery directed by Brownfield Funeral Home and Plains Masonic Lodge.

He was born in 1897 at Durant, Oklahoma and was married to Miss Minnie Lee Warren in September 1925. They operated a small grocery store and cafe across the street from the school in Plains a number of years prior to his going to work for Yoakum County where he was employed until an injury and illness forced him to retire.

He is survived by the wife; two sons, L. B. Jr. of Albuquerque, and David of the home; three daughters, Mrs. Colere Adkins and Mrs. Kreamle Behunin of Las Cruces, and Mrs. Gaynelle Madden of Plains; three brothers; one sister; 7 grandchildren and a host of friends.

A public hearing on the proposed budget will be held during the weekly session of Commissioners' Court on Monday, Sept. 19, starting at 10 a.m.

No increase in taxes for 1961 is foreseen by the commissioners in determining the budget figures for next year. Under the proposed budget taxes will remain at $1.10 as the total County levy and an additional 30 cents per $100 valuation for Road District 1-A taxpayers.

The 1961 budget as proposed

American Legion Post elects new officers

Barbecued goat was the special delicacy offered when members of the local American Legion Post held session at the Sloan Ranch west of town Saturday evening. Chief cooks were Bob Alberding and Roy Stockstill.

Election of officers was held with new officers named: Post Commander, Ray Jones; 1st vice-commander, Tommy McDonnell; Adjutant, Tom Warren; Service officer, D. N. Taylor; Chaplain, Johnnie Fitzgerald.

is based upon a county valuation of $46 million, compared with valuation of $50 million used in determining the 1960 budget. Valuation decrease was made necessary by oil company refusal to accept the $50 million figure.

Commissioners also plan to wipe out the deficit which exists in the general fund. It is the commissioners' plan to issue warrants to cover the deficit and also make up the additional $40,000 which is being lost in taxes through the valuation reduction.

At the present time, the deficit in the general fund amounts to $124,304.13. The Commissioners plan to issue warrants in the amount of $165,000 to cover this overdraft and the loss of $40,000 in tax revenue.

According to the budget prepared by County Auditor Bill Moorhead, tax collections last year reached their highest peak since 1955. The budget reveals collections last year were $664,375.58, or 99.29 per cent of the total taxes levied.

The proposed county tax levy, for each $100 valuation, includes 80 cents from county wide taxes on county values; and 30 cents from county wide taxes on state values. The added 30 cents in Road District 1-A, which goes into the road district sinking fund, is based upon values in the district.

On this basis, the county anticipates receipt of $360,676.80 from county ad valorem taxes (80 cent levy), $135,255.80 from farm-market levy (30 cent levy) and $105,850.80 from the Road District 1-A levy (30 cents) for a total estimated tax income of $601,783.40. Budget also lists $4,839 due the county from 1959 delinquent taxes.

On January 1, 1960, the total

Cotton crop below '59's, cash income stays same

The cotton crop for Plains and the surrounding area is expected to be less this year according to reports compiled by County Agent Leo White. Due to the unseasonal rains in July and the outcrop of angular leaf spot the cotton crop will probably total 80 per cent of last year's total.

White said that the July rains caused much of the fertilizer in the fields to leach below the cotton roots. He added that the rains coupled with cool days gave the growing season a poor start.

The actual cash income will remain approximately the same he added as more land was planted in grain sorghums. The sorghums he said was a cheaper crop which took less water and less insecticide. If the grains in the field can be harvested without any set-back area farmers will stay on par with last year's cash income.

One of the brightest spots in the agriculture outlook is the range land he said. Due to the rains the grasses and conditions have been the best in several years. As three-fifths of the county is in range lands the outlook for a good total income is good.

In an estimated break-down of planting in the county White said approximately 180,000 acres are in cultivation. Of this 33,000 acres are in cotton, 3,000 acres in truck crops, 12,000 in small grains such as wheat, bar-

IT'S OUR THIRD ANNIVERSARY

Friday, September 16, 1960, your home owned light and power company is three years old. We are very pleased with the growth that has been made, with more connections being made regularly we now have 324 meter connections.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960 the electric department shows a $7,584.11 excess operating receipts over operating expenses, of which $2,479.68 went into capital improvements for the electrical system with the balance going into the general fund to reduce bond indebtedness on the electrical and sewer system.

With the installation of the new 500 KW generator, due for completion October 1, 1960, you will have an investment of $265,395.95 in your electrical system with a book value of $244,864.45.

Also with the installation of the new generator you will double the capacity of your plant, and at the same time substantially lower production costs. This will mean more profit for better services and facilities, because from these profits will come street lights, paving and many other benefits for a growing, progressive community — PLAINS.

The public is cordially invited to visit the plant on this, its third birthday, and especially do we urge you to visit it after installation of the new engine. We also solicit your questions and any suggestions which you may have for service improvement.

There will be handmade gifts, home-baked foods, an exhibit of Hailmark cards, dated from 1910 to 1960. Mrs. McCargo said some lucky person will be awarded a handmade quilt, "George Washington Plume" design. A "Tasting Bee" and recipes will be for sale. The Girl Scouts, sponsored by the club, will have a booth of handmade gifts. Mrs. McCargo stated that the Veterans Christmas Box would be filled during the Bazaar and anyone wishing to contribute may do so; auxiliary will sell poppies.

Mrs. R. K. Field, program and yearbook chairman, gave a resume of the club year programs. The theme for the coming year is "Great Decisions 1960-61."

The program of the evening was a group discussion on the "Calendar of American Freedoms" given by Mrs. Marion McGinty, Mrs. C. F. McCargo, Mrs. George Cleveland, Mrs. R. H. Meixner and Mrs. P. W. St. Romain, with Mrs. R. B. Jones, moderator for the "Citizenship" program. Mrs. Jones quoted Woodrow Wilson "Freedom exists only where the people take care of the government."

January 16, Virginia Statue for Religious Freedom, 1786: Mrs. Meixner stated that all freedoms have their roots in religion. For this reason; if you concede that all men have a common Creator, the fatherhood of God implies the brotherhood of man.

February 22 Washington's Birthday, 1732. Mrs. St. Romain said it is rare that the birth of a nation can be traced, even in part, to the birth of an individual. But that is the relationship between these United States and the monolithic figure of Washington.

March 12 Truman Doctrine vs. Communism - 1947. Mrs. Cleveland said when World War II ended, many people hoped that our Russian allies would remain our friends. Disillusion came swiftly. By 1947 it became evident that we were confronted with a deadly tyranny. The Truman Doctrine, which checked Russian expansion southward by offering military and economic aid to Greece and Turkey, was one of the earliest postwar demonstrations of firmness that have since included the Marshall Plan, the Berlin air-lift and finally Korea.

April 6 United States entry into World War 1, 1917: Mrs. McCargo said when this country abandoned its traditional policy of aloofness and entered the first World War, it was a date of tremendous significance on our Calendar of Freedoms. Realization had come to America that her own freedom is endangered when free nations anywhere are attacked.

May 8 Mother's Day 1914: Mrs. McGinty, Federation Mother of the Year of 7th District for 1960 said she could remember that day in 1914. Mrs. McGinty said "You are the mainspring, mothers of America, you are the balance wheel. Without you all freedoms would be worthless."

June 14 Flag Day 1777: Mrs. St. Romain stated the flag of the United States of America was born June 14, 1777, in Philadelphia. There the Continental Congress adopted the stars and stripes as the national flag, she added.

July 4 Independence Day 1776: Mrs. McCargo stated that Americans can show their independence in ways unknown; in many other lands. She said, "If they do not like their job, they can quit. If they do not like their wages, they can strike. If they do not like their politicians they can vote them out of office. If they get fed up with one political party, they can join another. If they disapprove of a law, they can speak openly against it and work to change it." She said in the American 4th of July celebration the ancient message reads: "Freedom breeds independence; independence guarantees freedom."

August 26, Nineteenth Amendment, Woman Suffrage 1920. Mrs. McGinty stated that in this day and age, with women in the political world, active in industry and the business professions, it seems fantastic to recall that only a few years ago a great debate raged over whether women would be given the right to vote. Then, on August 26, 1920, the Nineteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States was approved, and women were granted the right of franchise she added.

September 22 Emancipation Proclamation Announced 1862. Mrs. Meixner quoted Abraham Lincoln, "As I would not be a slave, so I would not be a master. This expresses my idea of democracy."

October 24 United Nations Day (Charter Effective 1945) Mrs. Cleveland said if war is to be abolished, if our children are to grow up in the sunlight, unshadowed by the terrible mushroom cloud, nations must sit down voluntarily to discuss and debate the great issues of the planet. Some form of world government is essential in which nations retain their individuality, their identity, all their proud traditions, and yet submit to international law based on supranational morality, she added.

November Election Day: Mrs. St. Romain stated that the most serious responsibility of a free people is to remain free. Just one satisfactory method for self-government has ever been devised: the ballot, with each individual casting one vote. There are obviously too many people who enjoy freedom but will not support it, she added.

December 7 Pearl Harbor 1941. Mrs. Meixner said this is not a date for Americans to be proud of, but it belongs on the Calendar of Freedoms. Pearl Harbor belongs here as a grim reminder that on this date, nineteen years ago, through carelessness and complacency, the United States came terrifyingly close to losing all our freedoms.

Roberta Snodgrass, a Plains Junior High School Student recited "I am The Nation," "American Way of Life Message" of Norfolk and Western Railway.

Mrs. Johnny Moore, Jr. closed the program with a solo "God Bless America." Mrs. Eugene Payne, Jr. was accompanist.

Refreshments were served to thirty-three club members by Mrs. Ty Field and Mrs. B. H.

City group attends meet

Plains city secretary and aldermen Kenneth Hale, R. D. Romans, and Russell Faukenberry attended a regional meeting of the Texas Municipal League in Lubbock last Thursday.

Principal speaker for the dinner meeting was Stephen J. Mathews, executive director of Texas Municipal League. Mathews spoke on "Research — The Key to Municipal Progress." He pointed out the certain things that measured a town.

He said that progress was according to the men who headed and supported the town. A city which is not supported by its businessmen cannot prosper and grow he pointed out.

Other points for progress was the attitude of the citizens toward civic responsibility, and the attitude of the citizens of toward the services performed by the city. Included raising the opportunity level, maintain accurate records long planning and not depending on state levels for economic prosperity.

He closed with summing up the points which make a city grow as good planning, maintenance of strong city government, and a good public relations.

Mrs. Sallie Forrest underwent major surgery Tuesday morning in Yoakum County Hospital. She is reported as doing fine. Her daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Glover of Odessa is visiting here.

Budget

The total indebtedness of the county on January 1, 1961, will include $598,000 in county bonds and warrants, $306,000 in district bonds and warrants and $73,658.68 in precinct obligations.

One-half of all taxes received will go into the general fund, with 50 cents of the $1.40 levy earmarked for that fund. Seven cents will go to road and bridge fund, 30 cents is earmarked for farm-market lateral road fund, 22.4 cents is labeled for permanent improvement sinking fund and 6 of a cent is earmarked for jury fund. Thirty cents, for Road District 1-A only, is earmarked for Road District 1-A Sinking fund.

The proposed budget is divided into 11 major categories, with most of them primarily the same as last year.

Greatest increase, is in the Officers' salary fund from which expenditures are expected to amount to $131,623.69, compared with a sum of $109,547.85 which was budgeted in this fund last year.

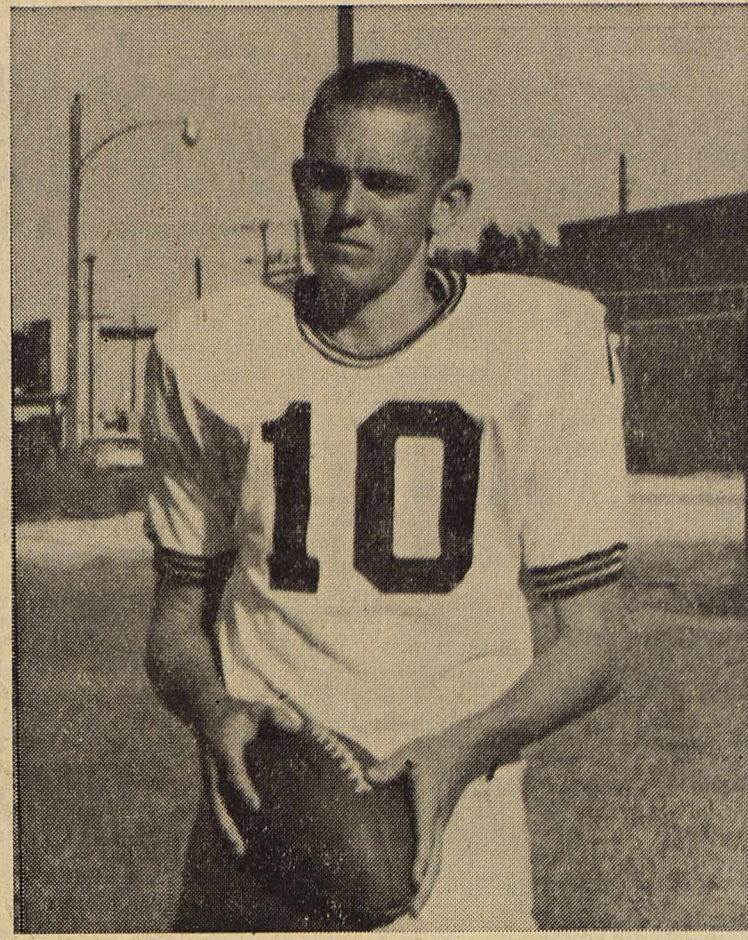

Greatest decrease noted in the proposed budget's plans for expenditures next year is in the road and bridge special precinct funds. The total sum allotted for the four precincts for 1961 amounts to $217,900 compared with a sum of $246,810.30 in the 1960 budget.

Amounts for disbursements in 1961 have been proposed as follows: jury fund, $2,775; road and bridge, $18,624; total road and bridge special precincts (four precincts), $217,900; total lateral road precincts, $12,296; general fund, $173,760.80; officers' salary, $131,623.69; hospital, $204,550; permanent improvement, $8,500; permanent improvement sinking, $100,165; Road District 1-A sinking, $112,340; road and bridge sinking, $34,625.

The proposed budget, if adopted on Monday, will provide for expenditures next year which will bring all of the county's financial operation into the black, with the exception of road and bridge special precinct number four which will have a $3,780.98 overdraft at the end of the year. General fund balance on January 1, 1962, will be $1,858.07 according to the proposed budget, and a total of all funds will have a balance of $7,279.29 at the end of next year.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Heath of Holly, Colorado were seen chatting with many of their friends here last week. They are former Yoakum County residents.

Mrs. P. W. St. Romain, Mrs. M. W. Luna, and others were in Lubbock Monday for Senators Kennedy and Johnson's campaign stop.

ley, and oats, 4,000 in pasture crops, 8,000 in forage sorghums, and 114,000 in grain sorghums. Also 18,000 acres are in the soil bank.

Cotton harvesting is expected to begin in about three weeks he added. The first load of grain sorghums was brought in by Billy Winn and additional harvesting is expected soon.

Due to weather conditions the cantaloupe crops got off to a bad start. This effected little farmers this year as less acres were put into cantaloupes this year.

The outlook for the future is good White said as last year was one of the best years farmers have had in the county and this year we income is expected to remain the same.
