by Johnnie Moore

Under solemn oath, we swear the following advertisement was inserted by Editor J. W. Lawrence of the Landrum (S. C.) Leader in his own classified columns:

"I will no longer be responsible for any debts incurred by Robert or John F. Kennedy."

The old philosopher says, "There's nothing wrong with a practical joke, that is, unless it gets elected."

And speaking of unemployment--the brain has more than ten billion cells.

A Boulder, Colorado, minister hung this sign on the announcement board his church: "CH--CH
"WHAT'S MISSING?"

One of the phony ideas getting wide circulation in the U. S. A. these days is this: If you believe in the profit system you are not a humanitarian.

Humanitarianism is being defined as opposed to the profit system--which is pictured as greedy, selfish and evil.

But there are just two facts we ought concentrate upon: 1. Every practical humanitarian project in the United States exists and thrives solely because of the profit system. 2. Every so-called non-profit enterprise in the U. S. operates on gifts and funds supplied by those who do made profits.

This winter is rugged enough, weather and otherwise without exposing ourselves to another "snow job."

It seems to us there are several areas of activity where we are in danger of being just a little gullible in this way.

I have heard citizens (who ought to know better) righthere in the fair city of Plains, for instance, who are for, what they call a limited program of Federal aid to schools. I for one have never heard of a limited program of anything sponsored by the Federal Government. It's almost a proposition of giving them an inch and they take control of the whole business.

We're not saying that our Government is headed up by a bunch of Commies or anything of the sort, because after all, we still live in a democracy where we duly elect our officials and have a fairly loud voice in things that take place in our government. It's a question not of what the government is trying to do to us, but what we are asking them to do for us.

Take for instance, the current farm program, oh brother why did we even mention that. The program as it is outlined with subsidies, parties and all the rest of the restrictions, promises and guarantees has gotten way out of proportion. Why? Because we insist on asking the government for something. This program, along with several others was begun and conceived several years ago, reaching its climax in the war years when the farmer along with all the rest of our economy needed to be encouraged to overproduce our normal needs.

But let's face it, the war has been over for a long time, and the problem now is not food shortage but commodity surplus in many areas. Today, as almost any farmer would certainly say, "It takes about as much energy and effort to tag and pull and insist on this program or that program, sponsored by the government, as it does to coax the plants up, and nurture them, and gather them in the fall."

What we need now is not for more and more controls, which is the direction our farm program has been going for several years, but for a lessening of controls and supports.

Of course, this is going from the sublime to the ridiculous, but I got to thinking the other day, "I wonder what would happen if the government decided they would begin a program of Federal aid to newspapers." Can't you just see it, "Now Mr. Editor, you can devote five columns to local news, two to national events, one to classified ads, etc. You leave six columns of white space on pages three and four and we'll pay you for not printing anything there. And we have an alternate program here for you too. If you'll agree not to publish anything for a couple

Water Pollution Seen As Major Problem For Area

Area Water Problem Aired

After the Plains Lions Club learned some basic facts about the danger of salt-water pollution that is currently facing this community and the surrounding area, and in response to the editorial appearing in last week's issue of the Record, several interested and alarmed Plains citizens have contacted us and have inquired as to what needs to be done to clear-up the situation.

As was mentioned in last week's editorial, the problem is not so much what to do, but how exactly to go about it and now to finance such an undertaking.

The thing that presently needs to be done is to approach and employ a good hydrologist that will come into this area to determine the actual danger to our fresh water that is present because of the Salt water that is being dumped.

Mr. Ed Reed, a very noted expert in this field is most probably available for this job. Mr. Reed has his offices in Midland and reports are that he is definitely an expert in the field to such a degree that if his findings were that the pollution danger is real and immediate, that the Railroad Commission would, with little doubt declare the dumping of salt water in anything but an approved disposal well illegal in the Wausson area.

Another possibility exists for the obtaining of such an expert also. The High Plains Underground Water District, of which Yoakum County is not a part, has offered the services of its Hydrologist on a cost basis for this undertaking.

Even on a cost basis however, the cost of the proposed project is considered to be quite sizable, possibly running to or even some beyond the $5,000 mark.

Belief and opinion of most observers that have made their feelings known is that one or several civic groups and clubs needs to become concerned enough about the danger which exists to do something constructive toward planning and working together to foot this rather large bill that would be entailed in such an undertaking.

The individuals who have contacted the Record have all with one accord said that anything they as individuals can do, that they will do it. As opinion is though and as most of us are aware, someone or some organization needs to head up such a tremendous as this if, as one observer said, not going to all go in seven different directions at the same time.

Several here-to-fore good wells have already been ruined in the Plains area by this pollution of salt which is seeping down from the places it is dumped into the fresh water streams.

Many citizens belief is that unless stopped, the dumping of salt-water indiscriminately can do great damage not only to agricultural supplies of fresh water, but perhaps even to the fresh water that is used in Plains and Denver City also.

Many individuals feel it to be quite urgent that any group interested in performing a real and badly needed function for the community and area certainly have a ready-made project of very worthwhile proportions right at hand.

Accident Report for Last Year

At the stroke of twelve midnight December 31, 1961, "Old Father Time" quietly slipped away. But the resounding echoes and visions of his destruction of grinding metal bodies, crashing glass, torn and broken limbs and smashed lives will live long in our memories. His record in Yoakum County has been an expensive one.

For the entire year of 1961 in this county there were nine crashes resulting in five persons killed, one injured and an estimated property damage of $14,560.00. In comparison of the year 1960 there were eight crashes resulting in two persons killed, five injured and an estimated property damage of $10,025.00.

For the month of December the Texas Highway Patrol investigated no rural traffic accidents in this county according to Sergeant A. E. Roberts Highway Patrol Supervisor for this area.

The veteran Patrol Supervisor cautions all motorists not to be guilty of negligence in permitting their windshields and window glasses to be covered with any form of frozen precipitation while driving. This enhances your chances of an accident many times.

Cowboys Atop 5-A Totempole

Last Friday night on the hometown court, the Plains Cowboys got off to a rip-roaring start in their scheduled district 5A basketball agenda.

Plains downed the Seagraves five by a close score of 37 to 34, in what was a mighty hard-fought game from start to finish.

In the tilt, Plains committed 18 fouls against the Eagles and were handed 20 opportunities on 16 fouls committed against them to sink free-throws, of which they managed to sink 11 for a better-than-half average.

Plains high-scorers in the game were Ernie Anderson with 11 points, Jerry Jones with 9 and J. B. Wilson who sank 7 points. High scorers for Seagraves were Petty with 10 and Payne with 11.

The Cowboys had to battle all the way through all four quarters of the contest to overcome the Eagles.

Again on Tuesday night Plains battled a district for in their second conference game of the season in the tilt against Frenship, which was played on the opposing teams court.

Plains was again successful and downed the Frenship quintet by a score, again very close, of 38-36. The score was very close

Labor Department Issues Written Notice

Notice is hereby given to all interested parties of their opportunity to show cause, if any they have, why the Secretary of Labor should not give effect, beginning February 1, 1962, to the following interpretations of the identified portions of Public Law 78, 82nd Congress; as amended, arrived at after public hearing on December 8, 1961, in Washington, D. C.

Effective October 3, 1961, certain sections of Public Law 78 (Title V of the Agricultural Act of 1949) were amended to read as shown below. Proposed Department of Labor Interpretation follows each quotation.

a. "Sec. 502. No workers shall be made available under this title to any employer unless such employer enters into an agreement with the United States--

(2) to reimburse the United States for essential expenses incurred by it under this title, except salaries and expenses of personnel engaged in compliance activities, in amounts not to exceed $15 per worker."

The language of this amendment is very clear. It means that all Mexican labor program expenses, including those of State employment security agencies, are to be paid from the funds derived under the quoted language. The contracting fee will be raised to the maximum $15 if necessary and, effective February 1, 1962, there will be no distinction between a contracting fee and a recontracting fee. The same amount will be required for each.

b. "Sec. 503. No workers recruited under this title shall be available for employment in any area unless the Secretary of Labor has determined and certified that . . . (3) reasonable efforts have been made to attract domestic workers for such employment at wages, standard hours of work, and working conditions comparable to those offered to foreign workers."

This amendment requiring that the employer offer domestic workers working conditions comparable to those offered Mexican contract workers must, because of its legislative history, be confined to the physical conditions under which the work is performed unless other conditions are necessary to meet the requirements of the interstate recruitment regulations. This means that the amendment applies to conditions such as sanitation and safety, for example, and not to terms of employment such as housing, transportation, subsistence, insurance and work guarantees. Under the amendment an employer is required to make a bona fide offer to domestic workers of conditions of employment which include the same free tools, free equipment,

"Doc" Blanchard Announces For State Senate

STATEMENT BY H. J. "DOC" BLANCHARD ANNOUNCING HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE TEXAS SENATE, REPRESENTING THE 28TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT:

I consider the office of State Senator one of the most vital and critical areas of service to which a man can aspire. I believe that now, more than ever before, we should make moves to restore fiscal responsibility to our state. It is with the belief that my professional background and my past legislative experience especially qualify me for this most important office; that today I announce my candidacy for the Texas Senate representing the 28th Senatorial District. As many of you recall, I have said many times that if my friend, Preston Smith ever left the Senate, I would be a candidate for that office.

I feel that the people of this district have a right to know the principals upon which I base my candidacy. I believe, first of all, that Texas cannot continue to operate efficiently until the budget is balanced. For the past six years, our expenditures have been exceeding our revenues. I will continue to work for fiscal responsibility or more simply, I will work to see that Texas does not have to give "hot checks" to pay its obligations.

Many folks talk about economy, but apparently few do anything about it. As a member, I supported legislation to improve efficiency in state agencies, and to make them economical. I found abuses in welfare payments to mothers of many illegitimate children who refused to work or marry. Instances of 8 to 10 illegitimate children, by 8 to 10 different men were found and these women were costing the people untold thousands of dollars, by receiving large checks from the welfare department. The welfare department has taken steps to remedy this costly practice. Vigilance must be maintained to seek similar practices in other state agencies and halt them, thus effecting savings to the taxpayers.

I believe that vigorous investigations which disclose evidence of fraud, such as occurred in our insurance industry when Ben Jack Cage was operating, vice and organized crime, such as in Beaumont, Port Arthur, and Amarillo, and official misconduct of elected officials, such as Randall County Judge, Roy Joe Stevens, are vital to all people in Texas. I was privileged to serve as Chairman and vice-chairman of the committees which made these disclosures to the people. I would propose an active and hard-hitting Senate Committee to expose such practices wherever they occur within the state as a warning that such activities will not be tolerated.

I favor numerous tax reforms for this state. Our tax structure should be streamlined to remove numerous inequities so that it will be less burdensome upon the consumer and easier for the merchant to enforce and collect.

Water conservation has been and will continue to be one of the most important fields of my endeavor. Reforms in insurance, traffic safety, and penal laws will be urged and supported by me. Many other issues will be developed in the months ahead which I will discuss with you. I want and need your views, advice and help to the end that a sound program can be adopted.

So if you believe that we should restore fiscal stability and efficiency in our welfare agencies; if you believe we should actively work for the removal of official misconduct, crime, and vice in Texas; if you believe in working for sound and equitable revision of our tax statutes and if you believe in continued work for progress of the important areas of soil and water conservation and our farm to market road systems, then join with me in this campaign, give me your advice and ideas and let's make the coming election a real people's victory.

SOIL Conservation NEWS

C. Murrell Thompson

Two under-ground high pressure irrigation systems, one on James Wasson and one on R. G. Hartman were stalled this past week by the weather but they should get going this week. Johnnie Sims and O. H. Moore of Denver City are the two new applicants for assistance under the Great Plains Program. Sims plans to plant grass and install under-ground pipe. As a part of his conservation cropping system he will grow alfalfa. O. H. Moore will plant several acres to grass.

Interest this year has been higher than ever before in the use of Cotton burs. They are being applied both on dry and irrigated crop land. Kenneth Blunt of the local A. S. C. S. office reports that this year has seen the largest number of request for assistance through THE A. C. P. program for assistance in applying burs. Organic matter which is so badly needed can be added on Cotton land through the use of Cotton burs. Another way to add organic matter is to use the land retired in the feed grain program to grow a crop that will control erosion and at the same time add organic matter. Such crops would be forage sorghums, Sudan or any high producing crop of organic material. These crops could be shredded to keep them from maturing a crop of seed and there by interfering with other programs.

Boss Must Issue Form W-2 By January 31

Employers, Internal Revenue Service has a reminder for you. Employees should receive two copies of a Withholding Statement, Form W-2, on or before Wednesday, January 31, 1962. John J. Sloan, Administrative Officer, of the Internal Revenue Service at Lubbock, Texas, said, "This statement shows the total wages paid and the income tax and social security tax withheld if any, during the calendar year 1961."

Total wages shown on an employee's W-2 must include amounts received as sick pay from his employer, even though no tax has been withheld on such sick pay. Sick pay is not required to be shown separately.

If it becomes necessary to correct a W-2 after it has been given to an employee, a revised statement must be issued and marked "corrected by employer."

Paul Cobb Makes Formal Announcement

I am taking this means and opportunity to formally announce my candidacy for the office of Yoakum County Judge. Having lived in Yoakum County all my life, I firmly believe that I am in a position to know and fully understand the problems of the county government, the capabilities, needs and potential of the entire county. In announcing my candidacy, I wish to convey the fact that I am running for the office of COUNTY Judge, and intend to support the interests of the entire county.

PAUL COBB

If elected, the office of county judge will be a fulltime occupation for me, and one to which I will devote my entire time and energies, and one to which I sincerely believe I can bring the experience and understanding necessary to do the type job that the citizens of Yoakum County Deserve. I do earnestly solicit the support and the vote of each of the voters in Yoakum County, and promise, if elected, to do the job in a manner which I believe befits the office.

Les Proctor Announces For State AG

Austin, Jan. 15 -- Travis County District Attorney Les Proctor announced today as a candidate for attorney general on the Democratic ticket, and at the same time criticized big spending in political races.

The announcement came on the effective date of 40-year-old Proctor's resignation from the prominent prosecution office he has held for seven years.

"One issue we can decide in this race," Proctor said, "is whether a poor man has an opportunity in Texas politics today."

"I do not have the money to urge that I am a better breakfast food or a brighter soap suds." Proctor, a Marine Corps veteran of World War II and Korea, said he would conduct an enthusiastic Spartan campaign "With no luxuries and only the bare necessities."

"I have only enough money, most of it mine, and half of that borrowed, to go among the people of my state and ask them sincerely to permit me to be their attorney general," said Proctor.

Proctor said he had been told by political professionals that a candidate with a small campaign fund can not hope to win a statewide election--that he would not be taken seriously.

He said it was his "hope that the voters will base their decision on the sincerity, ability and qualification of the candidates and not upon the stage effects of big campaign spending."

Proctor said he would cover as much of the big state as possible, but would rely heavily on "self-appointed spokesman and friends who will raise their voices in my behalf."

He said he was staking his hopes on voters who want clean government and desire an "uncommitted attorney" representing them in the attorney general's office.

Proctor said that since the attorney general is the lawyer for all the people of Texas the office should not be sought on the basis of platform but on principle.

"That principle is the fair and just interpretation and administration of the law without fear or favor--the product of hard work and not of political consideration," he said.

Proctor has become widely known in recent years through his prosecution of criminal cases arising from the veteran's land, insurance, and legislative bribery scandals.

Referring to this he said, "I have represented all of the people of Texas in the prosecution of cases which have cast reflection upon the good name of our state."

"I am sure I had the moral support of all Texans in the prosecutions which set the record straight."

Proctor said he was not claiming full credit. "I can point to 31 grand juries, countless trial juries, many judges, assistants, investigators and witnesses, and say that to them belongs a large share of the credit," he said. "But I can say that I did not shirk or hold back from the fray--that I tried to walk the extra mile for the people of Texas."

Proctor is a native of Temple, where his father, L. C. Proctor, was superintendent of schools for many years. At the University of Texas, where he took his law degree in 1947, Proctor was a member of the conference champion 1942 football team that beat Georgia Tech in the Cotton Bowl.

He is a major in the Marine Corps Reserve, a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Before his election as district attorney, he served four years as county attorney for Travis County. A member of the American, Texas and Travis County Bar Associations and the American Judicature Society, he is also a past chairman of the Criminal Law Section of the State Bar of Texas in 1957.

In 1955, Proctor was named Austin's outstanding young man, and in 1956 was selected by the Texas Law Enforcement Foundation as one of the state's four outstanding prosecutors.

Proctor is a member of the Official Board of the University Methodist Church in Austin and is a past chairman of Central Texas Brotherhood Week. He is an active member of the Advisory Committee of the Capitol Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, the Kiwanis Club, and the Austin Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce.

Farm Facts

Richard E. Bell of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service reminds us the Russians need a farm labor force 6 1/2 times bigger than ours--or about 45% of the available Russian labor--to supply a population only 20% greater than ours.

The American farmer is supplying 182 million of us with nearly all of our food and fiber and there's enough left over to export one-sixth of his cropland output.

The U.S.S.R. had 501 million acres of sown cropland in 1960. The United States had 329 million.

Russia's 53,400 collective farms averaged 6,785 sown acres. Their 6,500 state farms averaged 22,485 sown acres. The average collective had 386 households, and state farms had an average of 753 workers.

The United States, by contrast, prefers smaller but more efficient farm units.

This country had over 3.7 million farms in 1960, with about two-thirds of them accounting for almost all farm sales. By and large, they were family owned, averaging 400 acres, with one to two workers per farm.

A short time ago the number of shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange set a new record--in excess of seven billion.

Olen R. Petty Announces for Re-Election

Olen R. Petty, the incumbent State Representative from this district has announced his intention of running for re-election to that office. Petty has filed his intention to run with the Democratic chairman for nomination by the Democratic Party in the May 5 primary.

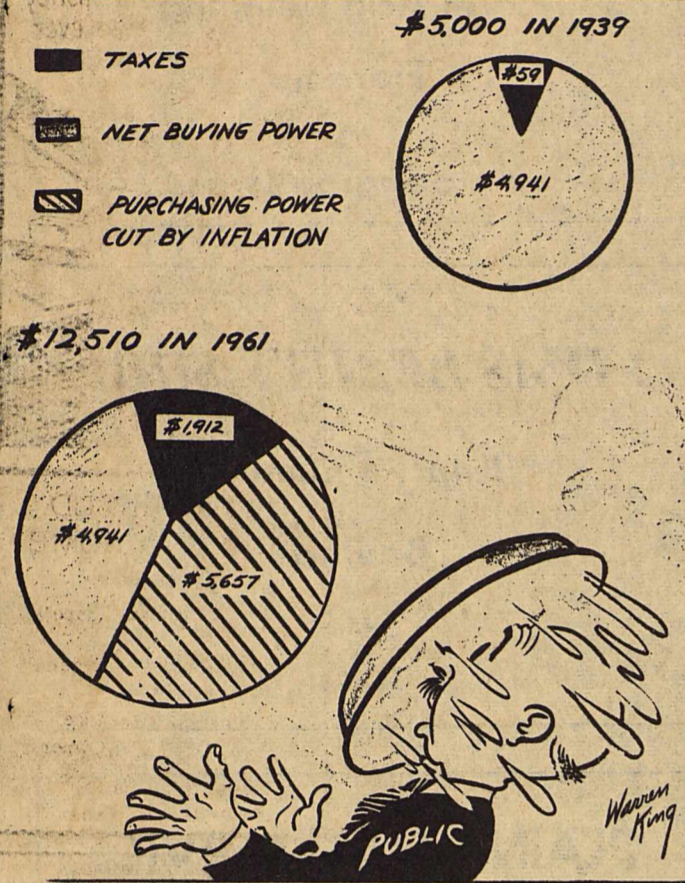

If elected, this will be Petty's second term in this state office, as he defeated Bob Bowers of Brownfield in the 1960 primary. Petty has been serving on several committees while serving this district during the past two years, which include the agriculture committee, banks & banking committee and the appropriations committee. He is also at present serving in a special capacity on an interim tax study committee to review and make recommendations for change and revision on the entire tax structure of the state of Texas.

Petty has just recently returned to Austin where he is now participating in the third called session of the 57th Legislature called by Governor Daniel for the consideration of the four major subjects which he, Daniel, felt were of an emergency nature, namely (1) Enactment of Legislation to include banking institutions in the new Escheat Enforcement Act, which was passed earlier in this session of the Legislature. (2) Enactment of a law regulating the small loans so as to stamp out the loan shark racket. (3) Adjustment of the Farm-To-Market Road Program to provide that some of the presently ear-marked funds may be used for maintenance as well as construction of the Farm-To-Market Road system. (4) A supplemental appropriation bill providing more adequate financing of the juvenile parole system and a tourist attraction program sufficient to compete with other states.

Petty is 25 years old and is a resident of Levelland, where he lives with his wife and one child. He has stated that his formal announcement will be forthcoming concerning his candidacy for this office.

PIE IN THE EYE

While you're concentrating on the flight of the astronauts, take 60 seconds to read this and follow the flight of the dollar. In 1961, an income of $12,510 was needed for a married couple with two children to have the same purchasing power after Federal income and Social Security taxes—that a $5,000 income provided in 1939. The taxes on $5,000 in 1939 were $59, leaving $4,941. Out of a $12,510 income last year, taxes took $1,912. And because of today's higher prices, another $5,657 must be taken out of the remaining $10,598 to adjust it to the buying power of the 1939 dollars. Need any more ammunition to fight for tax rate reform?

Study Grazing Fees

A study of the influence of public land grazing fees on the incomes of livestock raisers is being conducted throughout the West. It was announced jointly by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

The study is being made by the Economic Research Service of the Department of Agriculture and agricultural economists of several land grant colleges for the Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, and Interior's Bureau of Land Management.

These two Government agencies administer more than 232 million acres of public rangelands. On these lands last year, more than 45,000 western stockmen and ranchers paid fees for permission to graze about 14 million cattle and 13 million sheep plus several million calves and lambs.

Throughout the range country, more than 700 livestock raisers are cooperating in the Government study. Some 75 "model" ranch operations of different sizes and in different regions of the West will be identified by the studies.

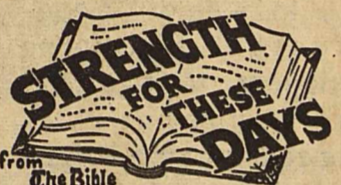

For each representative ranch, the economists will compare present ranch organization, income and costs with conditions which might result if changes were made in grazing fees or in the number of animals the ranchers were permitted to graze on public lands.

After analysis and evaluation, results of the economic study will be published by the Bureau of Land Management and the Forest Service.

This is in line with President Kennedy's special message to Congress, early in 1961, when he called for review of fees and user charges for publicly owned lands and resources.

The State Director for BLM in New Mexico, Chesley P. Seely, pointed out that the results of this study are of vital importance to the livestock raisers of New Mexico.

"The 232 million acres of public rangelands provide a major source of the forage required by the western range livestock industry. Administration of these lands—by the Department of Agriculture and the Interior—include soil and water conservation, range improvement and development, range protection from fire and other hazards and additional use of the rangelands for wildlife, outdoor recreation, and other purposes," Mr. Seely said.

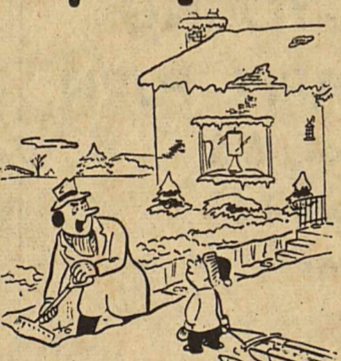

Be strong and of good courage, be not afraid nor dismayed... with us is Jehovah our God to help us.

It is good to remind ourselves of the strength that is ours, by affirming: "I am strong with the strength of God." As we hold to this we find that we feel stronger and healthier all the time.

Reasons: The first child born in 1961 will owe $1,603. So will every other child born during the year. That figure is the per capita share of the public debt. Let's not make it bigger.

How Would Fallout Affect Livestock?

This is the fourth of a series of articles on Civil Defense, compiled by Deryl Coker and Ettie Mustil.

If that nuclear attack should come, people will go on living, or that is, the ones that are adequately protected from the blast, heat and radiation. To do this we must know how fallout will affect livestock, and what we must do to make livestock products safe for human consumption. This is very important for it would be impossible to survive without some of the livestock products.

Following is a list of questions and answers that should be of help to you in determining what you could do in case of nuclear attack.

QUESTION: How will fallout affect unprotected livestock--that is, animals in fields, pastures, and other open areas?
ANSWER: Fallout may be dangerous to cattle, sheep, horses, pigs, and other livestock as well as to human beings. Animals can suffer skin burns if fallout settles in the coat. If animals drink fallout in their water or eat it in their feed, the radiation may cause serious internal injury or death. Radioactive materials that contaminate the skin or the immediate environment give off rays that can penetrate deep into the body. This is the major source of danger for livestock.

Q: How will fallout affect sheltered livestock?

A: Livestock housed in barns and other farm buildings during fallout stand a better chance of surviving than those that are not sheltered. A reasonably well-built shelter prevents fallout from settling on the animals' bodies and may reduce the intensity of external radiation; it also keeps the animals from eating contaminated feed.

Q: What is the best way to protect livestock from fallout?

A: Move them indoors as soon as possible, and keep them off contaminated feed and water. If you do not have adequate facilities to house livestock, put them near farm buildings or in a small drylot. Once fallout occurs, you should not attempt to protect livestock unless local civil defense authorities tell you that it is safe to do so.

Q: What water and feed can I give livestock after fallout?
A: Water from a covered well, tank, or cistern, or from a freely running spring, should be safe. If possible, use water from a covered well.

River water is more likely to be contaminated. However, most of the fallout will be removed if it is filtered through sand or if it is muddy and the mud is settled out. Pond water is less safe, but if necessary, it can be used a few days after fallout has occurred.

To prevent contamination from fallout, do not add water to covered tanks, except water from a properly protected well or spring, until the water originally present is used.

Give your livestock feed that has not been exposed to fallout. If the particles settle on hay, silage, or a stack of feedbags, they will contaminate only the outer portions. You can remove the outer layers or bags, and use the inside feed that is unaffected. However, do not handle contaminated feed until told by authorities that it is safe to do so, and be sure to follow the precautions they may recommend.

Farmers will be notified if local civil defense authorities measuring concentrations of fallout consider forage that is growing in an area to be harmful, but this advice might come too late in the more heavily contaminated areas. As a precautionary measure, it is best to house the livestock without giving them access to forage.

You may have to give cows contaminated feed if no other feed is available. Although the milk from these cows may not be usable, once the cows are back on clean feed the amount of radioactive in their milk will progressively diminish. Authorities will measure fallout in affected areas and warn farmers when milk is unsafe. But again such warning likely will come latest in the areas where contamination is heaviest.

Q: What can I do with contaminated feed?

A: You may be able to feed it to livestock eventually. Because of radioactive decay, contaminated feed may become safe to use after a period of storage. How long feed should be stored depends on the type and concentration of the radioactive materials. Farmers will be notified by local defense authorities.

Q: Should dairy cows receive special treatment?

A: Yes, because radioactive materials can accumulate in milk, which will be a very critical product during an emergency, you should make a special effort to protect cows from fallout.

Give cows preferred shelter and clean feed and water. If you can, milk them before fallout occurs. You may not be able to do so for several days afterward. Reduce amounts of water and concentrated feed to maintenance levels. If practicable, put cows and suckling calves together; the calves can suckle and reduce the discomfort of full udders.

Q: Is it possible to decontaminate livestock and farm buildings that have been exposed to fallout?

A: If there is fallout on the animals' skins, some of the radioactive material can be washed off with water. Civil defense authorities may advise you to hose down animals and to clean stables, barns, and other farm buildings. They will also tell you when it is safe to do these things. In handling animals, wear coveralls, gloves and boots to prevent contaminating yourself. Cleaning or disinfecting buildings will not destroy radioactivity. However, cleaning can be useful in moving radioactive materials to a place where radiation will be less harmful. In cleaning be careful to avoid contaminating yourself.

CAUTION: Before animals are hosed down or buildings cleaned, a thorough check should be made of possible radiation hazards to the person performing the task.

Yields High In 1961 Statewide Hybrid Grain Sorghum Program

Though Texas grain sorghum producers set an all-time high of 45 bushels or 2,520 pounds an acre in 1961, they still have a long way to go to match the 9,383.9 pounds an acre produced by Bill Cole, a Deaf Smith county 4-H boy. Cole's production was made under irrigation and won for him top honors in the 1961 Texas Hybrid Grain Sorghum Program. His RS 610 was planted on June 19 after a preplant irrigation and at the rate of 10 pounds of seed an acre in 27-inch rows. It followed a cover crop of barley and received an application of 131-0-0 fertilizer as a side dressing. The crop was irrigated four times during the growing season.

The top dryland yield—a new record—was posted by Fred D. Campbell of Birome, Hill county. The 8,004.3 pounds or just under 143 bushels an acre was also from RS 610. Campbell planted 7 pounds of seed an acre in 38-inch rows following a cover crop of peas. He applied a 73-40-0 fertilizer before planting his State-winning crop. It was planted on April 1.

The complete list of winners as released by Ben Spears, extension agronomist, shows six Tom Green county 4-H Club members taking the first five and seventh places in the dryland division for West and Northwest Texas. A joint 4-H entry from Ochiltree county by Bobby and Dale Githens took sixth place. The Tom Green entries in order of placings included Joe Schriever, Eola, 4,491.1 pounds an acre; George Schriever; John Wilde, Wall Rt., San Angelo; Charles Kahlig, Rt. 2, Miles; Thomas Strube, Rt. 3, San Angelo and Larry Riemenschneider, Rt. 2, Miles, whose yield was 3,361.9 pounds an acre. All seven planted RS 610.

In the irrigated production class for the same area, Ervin Wilson, Ochiltree County 4-H'er, followed Cole with 8,382.4 pounds an acre. He planted Tx 660. Two Baylor county 4-H members from Red Springs, Larry and Kirby Chapman, placed second and third.

In the dryland division for Extension Districts 4, 5, 8 and 9, Campbell's State winning yield was followed by Albert Sulac, III, a Hill county of years or so, we'll make it worth your while." Sounds like a heck of a way to run a newspaper doesn't it? And yet, just how far afield is it from some other programs supposedly designed to aid our economy?

Back to the original proposition--Federal Aid to Schools. For one, do not want federal aid in any shape, form or fashion. When we let the government start spending money on the education of our children they are going to be controlling the education of our children.

Sooner or later, and usually sooner, the Federal government controls and directs whatever it subsidizes.

As far as I am concerned, when agents of the government can come in and have much of anything to say about the way and manner in which we are educating our children, we have taken a giant step forward in accomplishing for the Communist conspiracy what they would never be able to do from without--the beginning of regimentation and control of our minds.

4-H boy with 6,512 pounds an acre. Hobart Pharris also of Hill county ranked third; Judy Beckhusen, Milam county 4-H, fourth and another Hill county youth, Ronald Sulac, ranked fifth.

Irrigated winners for the same districts included three Milam county 4-H members, Martin, Joe Paul and Jane Mueck, all of Route 1, Cameron. Their yields ranged from 4,711 to 4,813 pounds an acre.

In the dryland class for Extension Districts 10, 11 and 12, 4-H Club members from Fayette and Lee counties, won the five top places. Sidney Holec, Fayette county, was first with a yield of 6,629.3 pounds an acre. Second was Glenn and Wayne Woelfel of Lee County, and the third place winner also from that county was Marvin Matthijetz. Fourth and fifth place awards went to Erwin and Edward Zoch of Fayette county.

Spears said the program, sponsored by the Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has as its objective to show through demonstrations the value of Texas developed hybrid grain sorghums for grain production and other good production practices.

Spears added that area win-

Locally, the agronomist said, county agricultural agents were in charge of the demonstration program. He noted that approximately 90 per cent of the State's grain sorghum acreage for 1961 was planted to hybrids.

Arbor Day Is January 19

COLLEGE STATION Arbor Day, this year, will be observed throughout Texas on January 19, according to the official proclamation issued by Governor Price Daniel, Marvin E. Angle, President, Texas Forestry Association, and Dr. D. Folweller, Director, Texas Forest Service, witnessed the signing and accepted the official document.

passed a resolution advocating the observance of Arbor Day on February 22. Senator Tyler, of Belton, introduced to the Legislature, an Arbor Day resolution which subsequently became a law. This original Arbor Day law expired in 1925, and during the succeeding 24 years, the custom of observing Arbor Day on George Washington's birthday was continued by the Governor's proclamation. In 1949, a resolution designating the third Friday in January as Arbor Day was adopted by the Texas State Legislature.

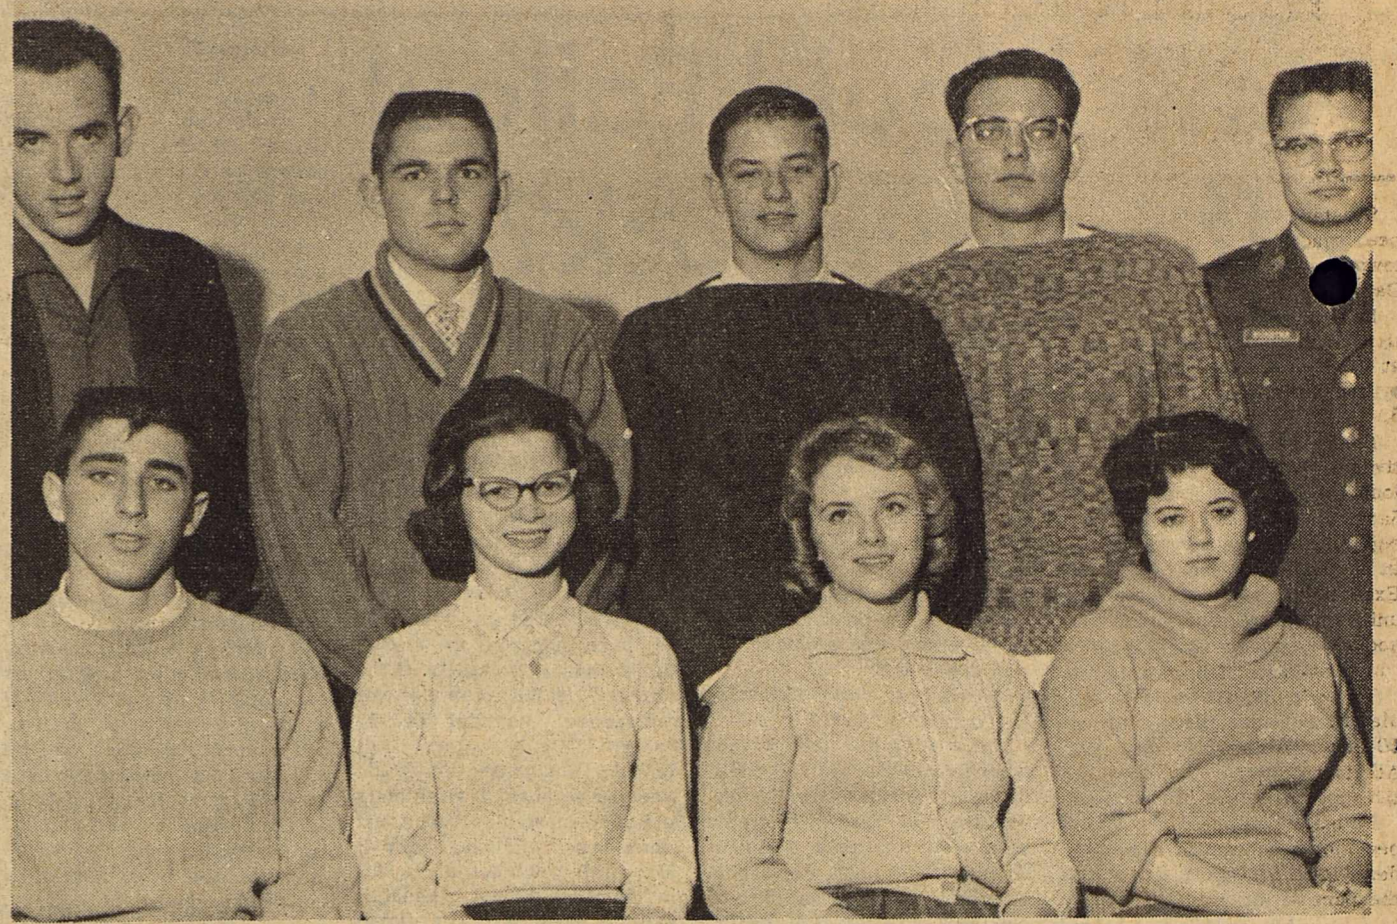

The proclamation states, "Texas derives many benefits from its trees, as a raw material for its many industries, as protection for its soil, and as cover for wildlife. The continued progress of the State is, in a large measure, related to this forest wealth. Trees are not only living objects of beauty and utility, they are renewable resource.

The Texas Forest Service, this year, as in the past, will cooperate with the public schools in planning observances of this day. Suggested programs and other information on Arbor Day are available by writing to the Director, Texas Forest Service at College Station, Texas.

"To aid in the perpetuation of this gift of nature, our forests need to be protected from the ravages of forest fires, insects, and disease, and renewed through annual planting."

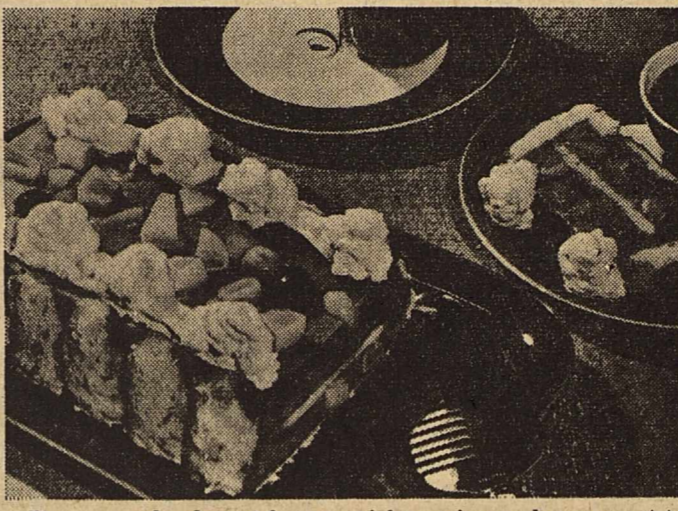

For the 1961 fiscal year, the Tax Foundation estimates, interest on the federal debt ($280 billion by the end of the year) will average $26,027,300 every day, or about 15 cents a day for every man, woman and child in the nation. It will average $1,084,000 every hour and $18,000 for every minute.

In his proclamation, Governor Daniel urges all Texans, particularly the public schools, to observe this occasion appropriately in the interest of our State and Nation. Arbor Day in Texas was first recognized in Temple, a community which originally had comparatively few trees. In 1889, the people of Temple

Festive Dessert Time

Leta Stewart Receives Honors

LUBBOCK--Leta Stewart of Plains has been selected for special honors work in the Texas Tech School of Arts and Sciences, Dean S. M. Kennedy announced.

The honors activities are designed to enrich the studies of students who have demonstrated academic superiority. Miss Stewart was given the opportunity to participate in the honors studies on the basis of high scores on freshman placement tests, high achievement in high school studies, and other indications of being a superior student.

As an honor student, she will complete all regular requirements for a degree. In addition she will participate in special seminars, research, discussion and individual study. Miss Stewart will have the advantage of special instruction by some of Tech's top faculty members. She is one of 98 Tech students in the program.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stewart of Plains.

A Chapel For The Children

At the Austin State School more than two thousand retarded children, who have been gathered in from most of the counties in Texas, will now have a beautiful chapel where the most competent of them can gather and worship.

The $100,000 structure, which will be dedicated at four o'clock on Sunday, January 21, represents not one dollar of taxpayers' money, but is the result of contributions - from pennies to thousands of dollars, and from people all over Texas. For the more than forty years that the State has maintained the Austin State School there never has seemed to be enough tax money available to do more than to properly house and feed and clothe the children there. It is a gratifying and heartening thing to know that hundreds of our citizens have given beyond their tax dollars to make possible this appropriately named "Chapel for the Children."

There's no substitute for safe practices.

REST

A day of play has tired this little one, but now sleep will bring about the needed rest. This is the time for restoring energies, and breaks the day's pace. The Lord set aside a day for rest and worship. This day allows us to be in the Lord's house and renews our energies for the week to come.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From The State Capitol

Substantial progress has been made by the Legislators toward enactment of Gov. Price Daniel's program.

Lawmakers seeking re-election this spring are diligently at work. They want to be home by the filing deadline . . . Feb. 5.

Loans: House of Representatives sent a much-amended loan regulatory bill to the Senate. Bill would set up tight supervision over those who lend in amounts less than $1,500. Exceptions are banks, credit unions, savings and loan associations and various kinds of cooperative credit groups.

Those exempt from the regulatory law would be limited to 10 per cent interest per year. All loans over $1,500 would likewise be held to 10 per cent. House bill allows a 3 per cent per month charge on loans under $100 . . . 2 1/2 per cent on the part of the loan from $100 to $200 . . . 2 per cent on $200 to $500 . . . and 10 per cent on the part of the loan between $500 and $1,500.

When interest allowed on a loan over $20 is less than $4, the lender can charge $4 in lieu of interest.

Rural roads: Senate passed the proposal by Sen. Neville Colson of Navasota to cut the spending on farm-to-market road construction - improvement by $17,500,000 a year. This amount will be used for construction of secondary and primary highways.

A House rural bloc on the Agriculture Committee favored a smaller reduction. They preferred a ten year graduated cut . . . to reach the goal set by Governor Daniel, Texas Farm Bureau, the County Judge and Commissioners Association and the Texas Good Roads Association.

Tourism: Large crowds turned out for the Senate and House committee meeting on these bills: (1) to appropriate $300,000 for advertising for tourists; (2) for expansion of the juvenile parole system; (3) and for repairs to the San Jacinto Monument.

Opposition came largely from advertising people who felt the Highway Department isn't the proper supervisor of an advertising program.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S RACE BEGINS - Former Secretary of State Tom Reavley of Austin was the first candidate for Attorney General to pay the $1,000 filing fee at State Democratic Executive Committee headquarters. This is Reavley's first state-

TEXAS CALLED BOOK DESERT - University of Texas Chancellor Dr. Harry Ransom told members of the Texas Commission on Higher Education that the State of Texas is laboring under the label of "the book desert of the United States."

Dr. Ransom made the statement in support of a plea from Dr. F. L. McDonald, President of Lamar State College of Technology, for a more realistic appropriation recommendation for libraries in Texas' 19 state colleges.

Reappointed to the State Board of Examiners for Teacher Education were: Dr. Glenn Barnett of the University of Texas; Mrs. Kate Bell of Houston Public Schools; Dr. Arvin N. ### J.L. Bozement Pastor Chairman for GAY

Rev. J. L. Bozeman of Plains has been named Pastor Chairman for G. A. Y. Association in the churches phase of the Texas Baptist Crusade for Christian Education.

The leadership for each of the 17 Baptist Districts in the state is the responsibility of a pastor, layman, and woman co-chairman. Each of the 122 associations have a set of similar officers. Together these district and associational chairmen are responsible for the carrying out of the crusade program.

The purpose of the crusade is to strengthen the denominations schools by encouraging more Baptist students to attend Baptist colleges, to participate in the Baptist Student Union at whatever college they might attend, and to consider prayerfully church related vocations as careers and by raising $28-million for buildings and equipment on Baptist campuses.

Texas Baptist schools are Baylor University, Waco; Decatur Baptist College, Decatur; East Texas Baptist College, Marshall; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene; Howard Payne College, Brownwood; Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton; San Marcos Baptist Academy, San Marcos; University of Corpus Christi, Corpus Christi; and Wayland Baptist College, Plainview. Also included in the crusade are two new Baptist colleges at Dallas and Houston.

"I can't see how such a beautiful coat comes from such a foul-smelling beast," said the mother.

"I don't ask for thanks, dear," said her husband, "but I do demand respect."

Tomorrow's World---

On Being Gloomy

Mr. Joseph Alsop is one of the nation's great columnists. The President reads him; so do millions of others.

I wonder what some of these people thought, therefore, when they read, in a recent column entitled "On Being Gloomy", the following utterly gloomy statement:

"... what is a sensible modern political attitude? The only possible answer is neither ambitious nor fully satisfying. 'Peg away, face and meet each problem as it comes, and hope for the best while preparing for the worst'—these maxims do not seem quite adequate in a world being rapidly but unforeseeably transformed. But what other sane answer is there?"

Is this the "only possible answer"? I think not.

"Meet each problem as it comes"—isn't this what we have been trying to do, with dismal results, for seventeen years, and, incidentally, not meeting many of them even as they come?

"Hope for the best while preparing for the worst"—Prepare for the worst, of course, for this is not such a good world in which to be caught defenseless. But merely hope for the best? What is hope without thought and planning and intelligence?

Indeed these are not maxims worthy of free men in the most complicated, dangerous and unforeseeable world man has ever known.

"What other sane answer is there?" Well, let us explore that a bit.

The basis of any sane answer has to be a master world plan to which this nation will commit itself. The United States has no master world plan. It improvises; it wonders what the other side will do next and then hopes it can come up with an answer; relies on alliances and all other moth-eaten paraphernalia of the dying past.

The Soviet Union has a master world plan. It has been working for it for forty years. It has made giant strides toward its realization. Its world plan is One World dominated Soviet economic, political, cultural and social dogma.

Farm Facts

According to the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the average American is eating more fruit than he did 50 years ago.

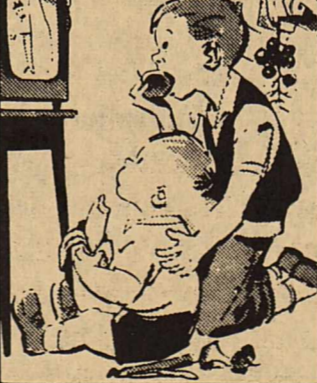

One person ate an average of about 172 pounds of fruit per year during 1910-14. Today the average person eats about 200 pounds of fresh fruit equivalent yearly.

Today 50% of the fruit we eat is processed, compared to only 13% back in 1910. The increase in use of processed fruit - particularly canned and frozen - has been about fivefold and has more than offset the per capita decrease in fresh fruit consumption since 1910.

Back in 1910 folks were eating a lot of dried fruit. It accounted for about 78% of the processed fruit in those days. Use of dried fruit has been declining since 1920.

In the 100 pounds of processed fruit we consume annually, 53% is canned fruit and fruit juice; 35% is frozen fruit and fruit juice; and 12% is dried fruit. Citrus accounts for about half the processed fruit we eat. Consumption of frozen fruits and juices has more than made up for a decline in use of canned fruits.

during the entire game as is shown by the half-time score of 20-18. Coach Rip Sewell, stated that this was the hardest fought game in which the Cowboys have participated the entire year.

Plains attempted 28 free tosses of which they made 14, again breaking into the 50% bracket.

District standings at present find the Cowboys riding high on the very top of the totem pole. Standings are as follows:

	Won	Lost
Plains	2	0
O'Donnell	1	0
Seagraves	1	1
Sundown	0	1
Frenship	0	2

To recap the standings, Plains has defeated Seagraves and Frenship; O'Donnell has defeated Frenship and Seagraves has split losing to Plains and overcoming Sundown.

Feeling is that the men will be separated from the boys this Friday night when the Cowboys meet highly regarded O'Donnell in Plains. This, according to all opinions, should be one of the best games of the entire season, and one which all Plains supporters should plan to be on hand for to root for the Cowboys.

1961 Annual Progress Report
Plains Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce at its November breakfast, decided to dispense with the monthly breakfast for December, due to the increased business rush at Christmas.

So - I thought perhaps you would like to have a progress report from the office.

What do we do in the office? Daily there is mail to be looked over, sorted, some answered, some reports to be made, and some, like advertising, to be thrown away. Unless you read the material that comes to our office, it is hard to imagine the scope of interests covered by Chambers of Commerce. There are labor studies, projects for city planning, rural development, and the co-ordination of city and rural interests, grain marketing promotions, the promotion of tourist trade, meetings on communist infiltration in government and industry, to name only a few.

There are announcements of this meeting and that meeting on these various phases of work all over the area and state. Most of these we cannot attend. We did attend two district meetings this year however. J. E. Cooke, then Vice President, attended a district meeting in Plainview. Mollie Courtney, Secretary, attended a joint meeting for managers and secretaries in Pampa. I attended the Secretary's meetings but felt that I could have learned more to bring home of value, had I attended the managers' meetings, since the Secretary's meetings were on office procedure, of little or no interest to the members. Should I attend again, I shall do the other and see if I can learn more of "What they are doing in other communities." Actual work projects already accomplished by other organizations, or projects still under way.

Plains is mentioned in the fall and winter Calendar of Events in Texas. They list our annual Junior Livestock show for February. This too should come out in the January Livestock issue of "West Texas Today," our official Chamber of Commerce magazine.

A report of the years accomplishments is as follows:

1. Annual 4-H and FFA Clubs Junior Livestock Show in February.

2. Annual banquet in May and the naming of P. W. St. Romain as Man of the Year for his outstanding work for the Chamber.

3. Annual Rodeo and Old-timers get-together in August, this event both for entertainment and as a means of raising funds, $775.00 net to us.

4. Installation of 13 street lights, and plans for more.

5. Donated $50.00 to the man from Yoakum County winning the first bale of cotton. This went to Dick Green.

6. Did our part in getting Federal Designation of Highway 82 from Lubbock through Plains and on west through Lovington, Cloudcroft and other points to Las Cruces, N.M.

7. Gave $200.00 toward additional Christmas lights for the City.

8. Sponsored a Christmas Lighting contest for the residential section.

9. Have started and are continuing to gather material for a complete brochure of Plains and Yoakum County.

10. Sponsored a fun raising project the "Fun Carnival," which netted us $162.14 after expenses were paid.

We meet regularly each 4th Wednesday for breakfast and a business session. We have 51 members, most of them paying dues regularly. We have an average attendance at the meetings of about 20. Varies from 12 to 28.

Do you approve of what we have done? Have you suggestions for next year's program? Be thinking about it. And we'll see you "next year."

Sincerely,
Mollie S. Courtney,
Secretary

field toilet and "wash-up" facilities, protective clothing, etc., which he has in the past provided or which he intends to provide to the Mexican contract workers, if any, whom he employs.

"Sec. 504. No workers recruited under this title shall be made available to any employer or permitted to remain in the employ of any employer--

"(1) for employment in other than temporary or seasonal occupations, except in specific cases when found by the Secretary of Labor necessary to avoid undue hardship; . . ."

This amendment prohibits the employment of Mexican contract workers for other than temporary or seasonal employment, except in specific cases when found by the Secretary of Labor necessary to avoid undue hardship. Prima facie, the nature of agricultural employment is such that employment for a period or periods aggregating more than half a calendar year must be presumed to be other than temporary or seasonal agricultural employment. No individual grower - employer (including a member of an association) will therefore be permitted to have a Mexican contract worker or Mexican contract workers in his employment for a total of more than 180 calendar days during a calendar year. The days on which the employer chooses to employ Mexican contract workers during a calendar year need not be consecutive; the employer may select the days. This means that temporary occupations and seasonal occupations are presumed to be those not furnishing employment for more than 180 days during a calendar year. Such presumption may, however, be rebutted by the facts existing in specific cases. The fact that an employer may be authorized to employ Mexican contract workers on as many as 180 calendar days during a calendar year does not mean that he will be permitted to employ them at any time domestic workers are available. When a domestic worker is available to perform the work, a Mexican contract worker cannot be employed to do it.

An exception, in a specific case, to avoid undue hardship under this amendment may be made by regional directors only upon approval by the national office of the Bureau of Employment Security. The applicant for an exception (the individual grower - employer or member of a farm association) will be required to furnish detailed information as to wage offered, efforts to recruit, training offered and conditions of work other than wages offered.

d. "Sec. 504. No workers recruited under this title shall be made available to any employer or permitted to remain in the employ of any employer --

"(2) for employment to operate or maintain power-driven self-propelled harvesting, planting, or cultivating machinery, except in specific cases when found by the Secretary of Labor necessary for a temporary period to avoid undue hardship."

The amendment prohibiting Mexican contract workers from the operation or maintenance of power-driven self-propelled harvesting, planting, or cultivating machinery is interpreted as including any power-driven self-propelled machine that is normally used in planting, cultivating or harvesting activities. Mexican contract workers will not be permitted to perform these tasks whether or not the machine is actually being used at the time in the harvesting, planting, or cultivating operation.

The "operation" of a machine includes any activity performed that is essential to the full functioning of the machine. For example, a potato harvester with an elevator truck utilizes a combine operator, four sorters, and three truck drivers. The sorters ride on the combine and pick stones and trash from the potatoes as they pass by on the conveyors. All of these activities are identified with the operation of the machinery and Mexican contract workers cannot be employed in them.

The mechanical lettuce harvester requires cutters who work ahead of the machine and toss the lettuce heads into the hopper where they are trimmed and sealed into plastic bags by workers on the machine. The cutting and loading activity is one in which Mexican contract workers may be engaged, but the trimming and bagging operations are essential to the operation of the machine, thus Mexican contract workers cannot be used in this activity. In other words, any activity that must be performed, other than the manual loading and unloading of the machine in question, is considered a part of the machine operation and is available to domestic workers only. Work performed on the machine is prohibited to Mexican contract workers.

An exception, for a temporary period, in a specific case, to avoid undue hardship under this amendment can be made by regional directors only upon approval by the national office. The applicant for an exception (the individual grower-employer or member of a farm association) will be required to furnish detailed information as to wage offered, efforts to recruit, training offered and conditions of work other than wages offered.

Interested parties desiring to show cause or offer reasons why the interpretations detailed in this notice should not be given effect beginning February 1, 1962, must submit their presentations in writing to reach Assistant Secretary Jerry R. Holleman, U. S. Department of Labor, 14th and Constitution Avenue, Room 3110, Washington 25, D. C., on or before that date.

Governor Post Sought by Formby

Calling for a return of the Government to the people of Texas, Marshall Formby, Wednesday, made his formal announcement for Governor in the Democratic Primary. Formby, made his announcement from McAllen, in the Valley, where he was guest of honor at an appreciation dinner. Recently, the highway through the Valley was named the "Marshall Formby Valley Expressway."

Formby is a former County Judge; former State Senator; and, a former member and Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission. He is a strong advocate of the State Farm-to-Market Road System.

"Texans are demanding a more positive, progressive state administration, headed by a Governor who is not obligated to any cliques in either Washington or Austin. People are tired of the bickering and fusing among elected executives in Austin and they want a new leader -- but one who will not be dictated to from Washington," Formby said in his announcement.

"Furthermore, the state needs a good solid businessman approach to solve the State's economic problems. I propose to bring sensible and logical leadership to the Governor's office when I am elected."

Formby's platform includes favoring a simplified tax system; amending the so-called unfair merit car insurance ruling; increasing the speed limit to 70 miles per hour on 4-lane divided highways in rural areas and then strict enforcement; solving the State's water and soil conservation problems; less red tape for small businessmen and farmers; and, operating Texas on a cash basis. He favors greater consideration for the State's senior citizen.

Formby lives at Plainview. He was born in Hopkins county. He is a practicing attorney, farmer and co-owner of four Texas radio stations.

A sudden, rapid rise in the barometer can cause a ringing in the ears.

An average 5 per cent dividend rate on savings was paid by Texas credit unions last year.

Both Texas and national automobile accident statisticians now estimate that if highway crashes are continued at the present rate, every other person now alive either will be killed or injured in one.
