OUR 35th YEAR

THURSDAY JANUARY 21, 1965

NUMBER THREE

THE THREE MEMBERS OF Yoakum County Soil Conservation District Work Unit last Thursday afternoon received citations and cash bonuses of $110.85 each for their fine record of work during the past work year. It was pointed out by W. S. Goodlett, back left, that in a majority of work areas the local work unit had exceeded their quota. Receiving the awards were C. Murrell Thompson, back right, Gilbert Pierce, soil conservation technician, and Wilson Duke, soil conservationist. Thompson, the work unit conservationist was cited for his leadership in carrying out the program and Pierce and Duke for their contributing part in the program. Goodlett pointed out the local unit was the only one in his area, a 14 county area, that received such an award this year.

TAHOKA HERE FRIDAY

Cowboys Win Two In Row

The Cowboys, in their 2nd conference try took on the Wink Wildcats at Wink last Friday evening.

Plains was able to get the lead early in the game and then to hang onto it for the balance of the contest.

Scoring by quarters in that tilt ran 20, 13, 8, 9 for the Cowboys and 6, 17, 8, 12 for the Wildcats.

High point men for Plains in that game were Jack Lowe with 20, Dan Smith with 12, and Joe Dan Cooke with 9.

In the B game at Wink, the Cowboys had even less trouble, downing the Wink B squad by a score of 58 to 43.

Scoring by quarters for the Wildcats ran 17, 7, 11, 8 and for Plains it was 13, 17, 10, 18.

High point men for Plains were Ricky Elmore and Lynn Rollins with 16 points each.

PLAINS VS. O'DONNELL Tuesday night, Plains hosted O'Donnell here and were quite successful, especially, since Seagraves was defeated by Tahoka throwing the district race into a big tie.

Plains handily downed the O'Donnell quintet by 10 points the final score 54 for Plains and 44 for the Eagles.

In the score by quarters, Plains made 9, 13, 8, 19, and O'Donnell made 12, 8, 8, and 16.

High point men for Plains were Dan Smith with 18 and Joe Dan Cooke with 12.

Leading rebounder for the Cowboys was Bruce Long with a whopping 14 to his credit, which is really notable since O'Donnell's ace rebounder, Marvin Utech, stands 6'5" and usually is in pretty much control of the boards.

Friday night Plains will entertain Tahoka here in what should be a really fine game of round ball.

Stock Show Just Around Corner 142 Animals Slated For Show

The 13th Annual Yoakum County Junior Fat Stock Show and Sale will be held on Friday and Saturday, February 19 and 20, at the Livestock Exhibit Building in Plains.

The show and sale are under the direction of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association which is managed by an eleven man board of directors. The directors met on Thursday night to complete plans for the 1965 show.

It was reported that 4-H and FFA members had 28 beef calves, 72 barrows and 42 lambs, making a total of 142 animals in the show. Barrows and lambs will be weighed in on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 18. The calves will weigh in on Friday morning and the lamb and barrow judging will be Friday afternoon. Mr. Paul Gross of Seminole will be the judge of lambs and barrows, and Mr. Calvin Holcomb, also of Seminole, will judge the beef calves on Saturday morning. The sale of all animals will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday afternoon and Mr. Clarence "Hank" Matthews of Anton will be the auctioneer.

The Yoakum County Young Farmers will be working as show superintendents again this year. Tommy Barron is general superintendent and working under his direction will be Tommy Warren, beef calf superintendent; Milton Capps, lamb superintendent; and Harry Richardson, swine superintendent.

This show is one of the highlights of the year for all boys and girls who feed livestock as part of their 4-H and FFA work. It affords them an opportunity to exhibit the results of their work and allows them to compete for top honors in the county. They have an opportunity to practice sportsmanship and citizenship and they learn to work under the high tension that is always present in the final judging of livestock.

Harlem Stars Here Feb. 23

The hilarious Harlem Stars are coming to town. Advertised as the greatest and funniest basketball team in the country today, the Stars are a combination of Negro Stars who tour the World making fans laugh.

When the name Harlem Stars is mentioned, hoop fans get ready for an evening of entertainment. Fans will see fancy exhibitions of razzle-dazzle ball handling, intricate routines, both planned and impromptu comedy and all sorts of "shenanigans".

The Harlem Stars are unique in that they never try to run up a huge score against their opponents. It is their policy to keep the game close, devoting much time to comedy stuff.

The Harlem Stars enjoy playing basketball every day even if they have to travel hundreds of miles to do so. The Stars began their season in Alaska the last week in September and will hit between thirty-six to forty states and around 8 to 10 foreign countries.

The Stars are scheduled to play here in the High School gymnasium at 8 p. m. on the evening of February 23.

Admission price for the game has been set at 50 cents for students and $1.25 for adults.

As for the past two years, their coming to Plains is being sponsored by Plains Lions Club.

Some of the Stars who will be headlining the entertainment here are as follows:

JAMES "BIG DADDY" BATISTE

Height 6'4", Home town Houston, Texas

Big Daddy in his third season with the Harlem Stars has proven himself a Big Daddy in his third season with the Harlem Stars has proven himself a Star in his own rights. The big in stature "Big Daddy" is agile as a cat with quick reflexes. This enables him to be one of the top rebounders in the game. Batiste averaged an amazing 21.9 average per game. Hailing from the Big State of Texas "Big Daddy" in all tradition is truly one of the Big Stars in the Harlem Stars organization.

BOBBY "JOE" HILL

Height 6'4", 190 lbs, Home Town Bryan, Texas

Coming to the Harlem Stars from South West Texas State College in El Paso, Texas, Bobby Joe is one of the few young men that stands alone in the basketball world. His scoring will amaze you and his jumping ability causes one to stare in astonishment. In Nursery Rhymes "Cows have been known to jump over the moon". That's nothing compared to the spring and bounce in this youngster's legs.

These are not only the assets with which this athlete is endowed with. He will keep the fans on the edge of their seats with his ball handling and perfect team work that has made him the famous ball player he is today. Watching this player in action will better explain why he stands out as one of the very best.

HENRY "HANDA" JOHNSON

6'3", 195 lbs.

Hails from the great state of so many good ball players, "Kansas City, Kansas". Johnson is the most versatile and ambidextrous player in the Harlem Stars organization. He started his playing at Fremont High School and was acclaimed player of the year. He spent two years at San Francisco University and was compared with "K.C. Jones" of the world champion Boston Celtics as one of the best defensive players in the nation. Bold Bute discovered this player and signed him and proceeded to make him a great pivot man, and teamed up with "Youngblood Williams", to produce a great and laughable combination. Johnson's expression is constantly changing from handsome pomposity to outraged innocence. He is forever snatching things from the spectators in the first and second rows - hats for his head, glasses for the referee and other things to make the "Harlem Stars" the most unique different and entertaining show in basketball.

CURTIS "YOUNG BLOOD" WILLIAMS

Height 6'5"

The former Jordan High School Star is one of those perfect combinations of crack comedian and top rated player. The Harlem Stars searched hard to find. This is the Californian's third season with the club. Making him one of the real vets. Aggressive and alert is very much in evidence on his 22nd birthday. He is fast aggressive and precise on the court. He's extremely popular with his team mates with his pleasant personality and drollery. Loves those foreign country jaunts and he's a real camera Bug. Spectacular and bewildering "Young Blood" smashes his way through the opposing team to rack a few more points. He moves with the speed of a tornado. The accuracy of a swiss watch and the strength and stamina of a panther. Truly one of the greatest young players in Basketball today.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Danger: A Stale Will

Unlike wine, wills seldom improve with age. Events that occur after your will is made may turn its wisdom into folly, its plans into pitfalls, its kindness into cruelty. Yet, when you die, the law will usually follow your instructions to a T, heedless of what has happened in the meantime.

In a few special situations—suppose you got married, or got divorced, or had a child, or lost a child—local statutes may make automatic changes in your will. But such changes are cut to a standard pattern, perhaps bringing results you may not have wanted at all. Worse, there are all sorts of possibilities that statutes simply cannot deal with in any orderly fashion.

Consider this case: The father of two daughters, disappointed in the men they married, wrote a will cutting them off with almost nothing. But he lived on for seven years, during which time he had a complete change of heart. Unhappily, he neglected to bring his will up to date. The court had no choice but to enforce the will as written, with the old rancor left in and the new affection left out.

Here are some other circumstances that may justify a change in your will: A son, who at the age of 14 seemed the quiet and sensible type, by 16 shows alarming signs of becoming a spendthrift. . . . an ugly-duckling daughter, thought to be headed for spinsterhood, lands a good husband. . . . you move to another state. . . . you become much richer (or much poorer). . . . a change in the tax laws gives you an opportunity to save on inheritance taxes. . . . you gain new attachments (or lose old ones).

Of course, you shouldn't redraft your will every time you have a tiff with Aunt Kate. But reviewing it at regular intervals—perhaps every year or two—is plain common sense.

If your lawyer sees the need for a review, he may send you a reminder to that effect. Still, even though such a reminder is perfectly ethical, many lawyers are leery of anything that might be interpreted as soliciting legal business. The best way is for you to authorize him in advance, preferably when you first make your will, to send you a regular reminder—just as your dentist does. Very often, no change will be necessary. But if a change is necessary, delay is dangerous. The change that is delayed may never be made at all.

A Junior College? AN EDITORIAL

Last weekend's news developments included an announcement that a bill will be introduced in the coming session of the Texas Legislature to provide for a junior college at Denver City.

Of course, the introduction of a bill and its passage are two vastly different affairs. But the first reaction to this junior college pronouncement by Rep. Jesse George of Levelland, who serves Denver City, is that it will never even make it to the House floor for a vote. Denver City hasn't the population to launch a junior college, and the word by grapevine is that our neighbors are trying to swing this project by themselves, without enlisting the aid of surrounding cities and counties.

Junior college talk in this area isn't new. In fact, the subject was first mullied by some interested Seminole patrons several years ago who saw the desirability for a Seminole-Denver City junior college. The Seminole group talked to Denver City leaders who were most receptive to the idea of a junior college—but Seminole folks wanted it located in Seminole; Denver Citizens wanted it in their city, and the idea fizzled.

A junior college in this vicinity would be a definite asset for area communities and a real boost in the general education system. It would fill the gap between the Levelland-Lubbock facilities and the Odessa-Big Spring junior college locations.

But the first consideration is enrollment potential; at least, that's the first thing folks down in Austin ask when junior college talk begins: "How many prospective students do you have?" And here Denver City falls way short.

Pushing the project by itself, Denver City couldn't possibly figure on more than 50 students a year itself plus a handful from Plains, if the Yoakum County seat folks decide to back the project. In comparison, the Legislature rejected a Scurry-Fisher junior college last year because not enough student potential was seen; this project included Snyder (population three times that of Denver City).

Rather than spend their energies on a hopeless quest for an all-Denver City project, we'd like to see the folks to the north join a three-county study of the junior college idea, encompassing the towns of Plains, Denver City, Seminole, Seagraves and Brownfield. Community rivalries as to the school's location may doom this idea, but it would have the prerequisite of sufficient population. As it stands, Denver City's solo bid will never get past the introduction of a bill in the Legislature, in our opinion, even though we admire the city's leaders for their interest in educational betterment.

Farmers Union Sets Meeting

Monthly meeting of the local Farmers Union will be held in the club room in Plains at 7:30 p. m., January 25.

Following the business part of the meeting, forty-two and refreshments will be had.

Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson visited in the L. B. Tinson home near Tatum Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Blount went to Seminole last week to visit his brother, Earnest, who was in the hospital undergoing surgery.

Cindy Curry of Brownfield visited her grandparents here last weekend. Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Blount and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Curry.

Mrs. McCann and J. W. went to Crowell to visit J.W.'s uncle, who is in a rest home there.

Whether Yoakum County's endeavor will be a "hopeless quest" remains to be seen. But the county's junior college committee simply is seeking a legislative enabling act to gain relief from a state-prescribed figure pertaining to scholastics in an area considered for establishment of a junior college. The state calls for 400 students in the upper four public school grades and 4,500 students in the county.

Yoakum County has the 400 students in the top grades. Relief is sought from the 4,500 requirement. The county's property valuations are ample to meet the state requirements for junior college consideration. And, above all, the area is a growing one. The neighboring publication refers to a Scurry-Fisher Counties junior college effort which failed. That, it was reported here, failed actually because of a squabble over location.

The neighboring publication, pretending to speak for its community, now pleads that Seminole be allowed to join in Denver City's junior college effort. The plea poses a question: "Why?" The boys from across the county line wouldn't stay hitched when they had the opportunity the first time.

Or could it be that the Seminoles are realizing that Yoakum County has the virility, the imagination, the fortitude and the leadership to seek accomplishment and simply would like a free ride on Yoakum County's coasttail? — The Editor

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Harget, Jr. and three children, formerly of St. Louis, Mo., have taken up residence in Plains now.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fitzgerald are visiting in Oklahoma this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McClellan and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Culwell spent the weekend in Cloudcroft, N. M.

Laticia Gay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edwards, was a patient Tuesday and Wednesday in Yoakum Co. Hospital.

Young Homemakers Attend Convention

Recently returning from Dallas are two Young Homemakers from Plains, Mrs. Jim Barron and Mrs. Roy McGehee. The pair attended the 3rd annual convention of the Texas Association of Young Homemakers held January 8 and 9 in the Baker Hotel there.

Theme of the convention was "Our Homes - the Strength of the Nation". Presiding over the 2-day meeting was Mrs. Doris Weil of Hale Center. Mrs. Julia Hunter, Home Service Director of Lone Star Gas Co. of Dallas, welcomed the nearly-500 Young Homemakers in attendance. This group was almost twice as large as the one attending the convention last year.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Gayle Oler of Boles Home Quinlan. Mrs. Oler based her stirring talk on the 31st Chapter of Proverbs. Any homemaker and wife would do well to read this chapter often for guidance. Mrs. Oler's words will not soon be forgotten by those fortunate enough to hear her.

At the close of each business session, drawings were held for door prizes. Mrs. McGehee received a cannister given by Frito-Lay Co. of Dallas. At the same time, Mrs. Barron's husband received a transistor radio at a Young Farmer's drawing. Other highlights of the meeting were a Young Homemaker - Young Farmer luncheon Friday noon and a banquet on Friday night. Both were courtesy of the Texas Electric Cooperatives. The Plains group was fortunate enough to be seated with representatives of the TEC. The TEC have been enthusiastic boosters of Young Homemakers and the Young Farmers in the past, and it is hoped that they will continue to be in the future.

The Texas Young Homemakers had its beginning just three years ago with four chapters and has since grown to 151 affiliated chapters with over 2,000 members. The association is sponsored by the Division of Homemaking Education, Texas Education Agency, Austin. Each local chapter has as its advisor a local Home Economics teacher. Yoakum County's advisor is Miss Carolyn Nelson.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Back Seat Driving
In the folklore of motordom, few characters rank as low as the back seat driver. His pesky, loud-mouth advice (coming from either a front or back seat) takes all the joy out of life for the long-suffering man at the wheel. To a considerable degree, the law shares in this disdain. Backseat driving has been judicially described as "this abominable practice."

But the law isn't thinking about etiquette. It is thinking about safety. The law frowns on back seat driving because it so often rattles the driver. One court estimated that in nine cases out of 10, it does more harm than good.
Still, what about that 10th case? When safety says so, back seat driving may be not just permitted but even required. The passenger who is injured in an accident may find his right to collect damages jeopardized by his own failure to voice a protest.
Thus, a court denied the claim of an injured passenger who had made no complaint about a speed of 30 miles an hour through a blinding mist. By his very silence, said the court, "he willingly joined the driver in testing the danger."
How can you tell when to speak up? The law will usually require such action if:
1) you are in a position to recognize the hazard;
2) you have reason to think that the driver will not be careful on his own initiative; and
3) there is time enough for your protest to do some good.
It is only natural that social amenities will have a certain amount of influence on a passenger's behavior. Understandably, a girl doesn't want to be known as a wet blanket; a boy is afraid to be called "chicken." But if you let such considerations seal your lips when the circumstances cry "DANGER!", then your forbearance may well cost you your right to damages.
It may also cost you your life.

New Plans Mark Conservation Work

By: C. M. THOMPSON
New conservation plans have been completed on J. C. Labenski, Darwin Hobbs, Tom Warren and a revision of the Great Plains program on the Alma Lynn McGinty ranch. Maps were ordered on the following farms: Paul Williams of Levelland, E. E. Palmer of Lubbock, Frank Long and Bobby Chambliss. These new conservation plans include information on a conservation cropping system, cover crops, crop residue management, fertilizer, proper pasture use and many other items of information needed and used by local conservation farmers.

Much interest is now being shown in chisel plowing leaving the cotton stalks or mize stubble. This practice is being carried out in about every area. A good example is on the Sam Combs farm operated by Richard Meil located SW of Plains.

Several good irrigation wells are being reported. E. E. Palmer SW of Plains and Frank Long in the SE part of the District, both have real good wells.

Attention Veterans

By: CHAS. GILLIS
VETERANS SERVICE OFFICER
A law has recently been signed by the president allowing disabled veterans to buy National Service Life Insurance.

I am furnishing the following information relative to this new law because of the many inquiries I have each day since the signing of this law.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

1. If you were eligible to buy National Service Life Insurance after Oct. 7, 1940, and before January 1, 1957, and,
2. If you are a service-connected disabled veteran, and have no uninsurable non-service disabilities, or,
3. If you have a non-service disability which is uninsurable by commercial companies at the highest rates, and,
4. You do not have Government Life Insurance or you have less than $10,000 of such insurance.

Persons on active duty with the Armed Forces and certain Philippine veterans are not eligible.

WHAT INSURANCE YOU MAY BUY

National Service Life Insurance on a permanent plan (non-participating) up to $10,000 including any Government Life Insurance you now have.

WHEN TO APPLY

On or after May 1, 1965, and not later than May 2, '66.

HOW TO APPLY

If you receive compensation payments, an application will be mailed to you before May 1, 1965. If you do not receive compensation payments, ask any VA office for an application and explanatory literature. These will be available in April 1965.

WHERE TO APPLY

Mail or deliver your application to the VA Regional Office which has your claim file.

WHAT WILL IT COST?

Service connected veterans will receive the lowest costs if they are in good health.

The cost will be higher for those who do not meet VA's good health standards solely because of their service connected disabilities.

The cost will be very high for veterans unable to get commercial insurance, at the highest rates, because of non-service connected disabilities.

Many veterans in this area still retain their level premium term insurance, and as they know every five years the premium is increased. By the time these veterans reach the age of 60 or 65 the premiums will become prohibitive in cost. To offset this the VA has come up with a new type of insurance that will be called MODIFIED LIFE. The principle of modified life is to raise somewhat the present premium of the lever term insurance and at the same time never raise them again. If you now have this type of insurance you may also on or after May 1, 1965, change to this new plan. However, when the veteran becomes 65 years of age the face amount of the policy reduces to one-half the full amount he has been paying on.

Cost of this plan is listed approximately below:

- Age 35, 87 cents per $1,000 per month.
- Age 45, $1.30 per $1,000 per month.
