Plains Cowgirls Win Odessa Tournament

THE PLAINS COWGIRLS. . . . won themselves another volleyball tournament last weekend. They travelled to Odessa and played Imperial, Kermit and Crane, defeating them all and winning the championship trophy, with which they are shown above. Tonight they begin another--their second of the year--tournament at Denver City.

Plains State Bank Gives Prize Money

NEW SHOWMANSHIP AWARD GIVEN IN MEMORY OF "RUSTY" MCGINTY

Plains State Bank will again make their contribution to the County Fat Stock Show exhibitors, according to information received last week from Mr. Bill Loyd. It has been the custom of the bank to make a single contribution to each exhibitor in the show rather than buying an animal through the sale.

Each exhibitor will receive one premium from the bank, regardless of the number of animals he or she has entered in the show. The rate is $5 on beef calves, $3 on barrows and $2.50 on lambs. An exhibitor entering livestock in more than one division will receive prize money on the one animal which pays at the highest rate.

According to the number of entry fees paid in advance, the Plains State Bank will pay $253.00 to the exhibitors. This amount may be lowered slightly after all animals are weighed in at the beginning of the show but most of them appear to be well within the required weight limits. The directors of the Yoakum Co. Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Association are very appreciative of this contribution which will bring the total prize money to about $965.00.

Alma Lynn McGinty and her two daughters, D'Lois and D'Lynn, are establishing a new showmanship award to be given for the first time at the 1965 Yoakum County Junior Fat Stock Show. This award will be known as "The Rusty McGinty Award" and will be given in addition to the other showmanship awards which have been given in the past.

In order to be considered for this award an exhibitor must exhibit an animal in more than one division of the show. He must be the owner of at least one animal but he must exhibit an animal, that may or may not belong to him in another division of the show.

The winner of "The Rusty McGinty Award" will receive a trophy and will also have his name engraved on a plaque which will be on display at the Livestock Exhibit Building during the show. This plaque will have room for several names and each year there will be a name added to the plaque. During the time the show is not in progress, the plaque will hang in one of the business places in Plains.

A committee of men from the directors of the Yoakum County Livestock and Agriculture Improvement Assn.

worked with Mrs. McGinty to help plan the details of this award. The judges who will make the selection will have a score card to use in making their selection. Some of the items they will consider other than showmanship ability are: cooperation with show officials, neatness of pens and stalls and general attitude.

Attention All Golfers

It was announced today that a very important meeting is to be held in Denver City in the community building at 8 p. m. on the night of Thursday, February 18.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect directors and officers of the Yoakum County Golf Course which is presently under construction between Denver City and Plains.

A definite need for the organization of the group has been cited to help advise and to offer suggestions in the construction of the course.

One disturbing item in the construction of the course that has been reportedly done by some county official was the deletion of trees for the present from the park. Originally plans called for some 1,400 trees to be included in the park. The number was then cut in half to 700 and has now been reportedly cut to zero.

Basketball Schedule In Final Stages

The Seagraves Eagles having District 5-A all tied up doesn't seem to be bothering the playing of the Cowboys.

They travelled to Tahoka, one of the toughest teams in the district, Tuesday night, and edged out the bulldogs by one point on their home court.

Scoring by quarters for the Cowboys ran 12, 17, 13, 9. For Tahoka it was 13, 15, 11, 16.

High point men for Plains were Dan Smith and Joe Dan Cooke with 12 each and Bruce Long was good for 10.

Long was also leading in rebounds for the Cowboys with 13 to his credit. Ronnie Elmore was good for 10.

Plains led all the way in the game after the first quarter, but with just a few seconds left, Tahoka had three different chances to go ahead with field goals as Plains was leading by only one point.

With the sounding of the buzzer, Tahoka had the ball in the air and just barely missed sinking the shot for the winning two points, but the final score was Plains 56 and Tahoka 55.

The B game which came first at Tahoka was another real close one. Mid-way in the third quarter Plains was trailing by a mighty big 11 points.

In the final two periods though, the Cowboys scored 25 while Tahoka only scored 14.

The Cowboys wound up in a 55-52 victory over Tahoka. High point men for Plains were Stanley Ashburn with 16 and Dan Field with 10.

In the final game of the season Plains will meet a real tough district foe here Friday night. Stanton will be here, and have already beaten the Cowboys when they were in Stanton.

It should shape up to be a real battle, and victory in that contest would give Plains second place in District 5-A.

COGBURN-YOUNG HAS NEW AFFILIATION

Cogburn - Young, a (True Value) Hardware Store, has just recently joined forces with over 1,500 other progressive hardware stores as an owner-member of Cotter & Company, largest dealer-owned wholesaler in America.

As a (True Value) Hardware Store, Cogburn-Young is still owned and operated by Mr. Cogburn and Mr. Young of Plains. However, as an owner-member of this gigantic buying group, Cogburn-Young now enjoys a tremendous new 1,500 store buying power, which enables them to buy for less, and SELL for less.

Cogburn - Young is now actually a co-owner and a partner with over 1,500 other (True Value) Hardware dealers in Cotter & Company, whose sole purpose is supplying all (True Value) retail hardware dealer-members in 35 states.

Cotter & Company buys goods by the carload lot, keeps over 22,000 items in stock in their warehouse, and even develops its own brand lines of merchandise to assure that Cogburn-Young (True Value) hardware customers get top quality merchandise at lowest possible prices.

SET FIRST AID COURSE

Monday, February 15, will mark the beginning of a First Aid Course to be sponsored by Yoakum County Young Farmers and Young Homemakers. Instructor for the course will be Dub Newsom of Newsom Radio & TV, Lubbock. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Newsom of Plains.

The course will begin at 8 p. m. in the Plains School Cafeteria. Additional nights for the course will be chosen at that time for the convenience of the majority of those attending.

The manual to be used in the course is the First Aid Textbook, prepared especially for instruction of such classes by the American Red Cross.

There is no charge for the course but each person will be expected to buy his own study manual for about 75 cents. The public is invited and in fact urged to make a special effort to attend this very important course.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA
FOR ALL BOYS

We congratulate the Boy Scouts of America on their Anniversary and pledge our support.

February 7 - 14 has been designated as National Boy Scout Week and is being observed all over the U. S. The local unit, Troop 778 is no exception to this. Several window displays may be seen around Plains put up by the local Scouts. One part of the local observance which has become something of a tradition is worshipping together on Scout Sunday, which is February 14. This year, the troop is attending morning worship services in the First Baptist Church. Monday night a Court of Honor was held by the local troop at which several advancement awards were given to scouts.

Nineteen different boys received various merit badges.

Ricky Hanna and Gene Wason started the advancement trail and received their first award, the Tenderfoot.

James Stewart was the lone recipient of Second Class. Robin Walker got his First

Plains Firemen Answer 2 Calls

Plains volunteer firemen answered calls in the last week to two house fires in or near Plains.

The first on Thursday, the 4th was in Plains at the home of the Gilbert Pierce's. The fire was in the kitchen, started by the electric range. A great amount of smoke damage was suffered in the fire, but little actual fire damage was seen, and practically no water damage.

A great need is seen when this type fire occurs for a big exhaust fan to get rid of the smoke in such fires.

The second fire call was to the Jim Pharr home a few miles north of Plains.

This fire was caused by a faulty butane regulator, that evidently had frozen over. It caught three pieces of furniture in the Pharr home afire, but other than this, damage was reported to minimal.

Plains fire chief, Johnny James said today that firemen who have bunker suits, boots, or slickers at their homes are asked to bring them to the fire station, as a place in the new truck is being made for all of them.

Plans for the annual firemen's banquet are said also to be taking shape and that it is now planned tentatively for the first week of April.

A list of volunteer firemen who are carried actively on the list and are thus qualified to attend the banquet are:

Johnny James
Tommy McDonnell
Sherm Tingle
Bobby Kinsey
Dub Nelms
Al Pippin

Bob McDonnell

Schedule Outsiders Basketball Tournery

An outsiders basketball tournament has been set for Friday and Saturday, February 19 and 20 here in Plains.

The tournament will be played in the new gym at the Plains High School and all proceeds are to go to Plains

Scout Troop 778 for their program of work and activities for the balance of the year.

Plains outsiders will be in the tournament as well as 3 other area men's teams.

Trophies will be given for first, second and consolation places. Two games will be played each of the two evenings, one at 6:30 and the other at 8 p. m.

Admission prices have been set for each evening at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Reveal C of C Banquet Plans

Plains Chamber of Commerce officials stated today that plans for the annual recognition banquet are taking shape and that the March 9 affair should be an event to remember.

R. B. "Mac" McAllister, of Lubbock radio station KSEL is to be guest speaker for the occasion.

Master of Ceremonies will be Johnnie Fitzgerald and the other various parts of the program will be handled by: Johnnie Moore

A. B. Carpenter
Roy McGehee
Bill Loyd
C. Murrell Thompson
James L. Bozeman

The Dominoes, local high school stage band, under the direction of Mr. Gene Young, will furnish dinner music.

The meal is being served by Alma's Restaurant.

Tickets for the event, that is set for March 9 at 8 p. m. in the school cafeteria, went on sale today and are priced at $2.25 each.

Chamber Orders New Brochures

Directors of Plains Chamber of Commerce this week ordered a new shipment of brochures, giving a short history of and showing several scenes of Plains and its surrounding area.

The brochures are due to be received from the printers sometime next week.

Any merchants or individuals who would like to have some on hand to pass out to people coming through Plains are urged to contact Chamber of Commerce office.

Card of Thanks

Words cannot express our profound appreciation for the kindness shown us by our many friends during the illness and loss of our beloved wife and mother, and for the prayers and many words of encouragement. We are also grateful for the fine food, the cards and the beautiful flowers.

To the Doctors and Nurses at our local hospital and at the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston we want to say Thank You for your kind attention, your concern and sympathy, and especially do we want to thank the blood donors who gave so willingly to enable us to keep her just a little longer.

May God's richest blessings be bestowed upon each of you, now and forevermore is our prayer.

LBJ's Great Society Is Goal For All Americans

By John W. McCormack
Speaker, U.S. House of Representatives

In the State of the Union message, President Johnson revealed his plan for the Great Society he envisions. We in Congress share these goals for impressive public and private programs to meet the unfulfilled needs of our society.

As seen by the President, the Great Society will improve the quality of American life on every level. The prosperity of the national economy will be increased, the opportunities for advancement, now open to most people, will be extended to all and the life of every citizen will be enriched through improvement of the world we live in.

The first step will be to assure the continued growth of the economy. The President said he would present a prudent budget, but one designed to keep the economy moving forward. He promised to eliminate many wartime excise taxes and thus give consumers additional income to purchase the goods they need. The President also pledged to work for continued price stability. We agree with a prudent path of progress.

To solve the problems posed by automation and the revolution in industrial technology, President Johnson proposed a regional recovery program to assist in development of those areas left behind in the march of national progress. The President further asserted he would expand present efforts to provide workers with the skills needed in our modern economy.

The President declared he would open the door of opportunity to all by enlarging his poverty program. He guaranteed no person would be blocked from first class citizenship by denial of the right to vote.

The betterment in the life of the individual citizen must begin with an upgrading in the quality of education, for this is basic to a child's advancement in later life.

In the pre-school years underprivileged children will be made aware of the excitement of learn-

YOUNG FARMERS IN COTTON PROTEST

Yoakum Co. Young Farmers met Monday night and discussed our cotton situation. It was decided that all who can, should go to College Station to ask for increased amounts of the released acreage. It was also decided to send a protest to Congress on the price of cotton. Everyone is urged to send individual protests.

Young Farmers are urging everyone to come next week to the annual Yoakum County Junior Fat Stock Show.

The weather and the atmosphere may get worse and worse if you don't saddle up and ride out on that income tax return. April 15 can easily become the "Ides of April" if you don't pull all your checks and receipts up to a warm table beside the fire and get that tax return in now.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Quiet, Please!

Satirist Ambrose Bierce once described noise as "the chief product of civilization." Bierce was prone to exaggerate. But there is no doubt that the noise level of our lives has risen alarmingly.

At times, the law must decide how noisy a person may be in his own home. One basic test can be found in the law of nuisance. Is Home Owner A committing a nuisance by making noise? Is Neighbor B entitled to have it stopped? Oddly enough, both A and B stand on the same foundation: the rights of private property. One of those rights, argues A, is to do as he pleases on his own premises. B retorts that he is entitled to enjoy his private property in peace and quiet.

How to reconcile the irreconcilable? The degree of loudness is one factor, but only one. Justice is too elusive to be achieved by merely counting decibels. A court must seek out all the special circumstances that give color to the dispute.

For instance, noise is less lawful if made with malice aforethought. One woman was held liable for playing her radio loud and long at an open window, purposely to inflict a maximum of annoyance on the family next door.

Another factor is the ease of abatement. The owner of an incessantly barking dog was ordered to abate the nuisance, the court noting that it was simply a matter of not leaving the dog alone so much.

But noise appropriate to the time and place is usually no nuisance. Thus, courts have declined to interfere with the cackling of hens in a rural district and with evening croquet games that vexed only a single sensitive neighbor.

In another case, a court found no nuisance in the singing of popular songs on the front porch, even though the fastidious couple next door were scandalized. The court said:

"Those who enjoy the modern jazz cannot be restrained from producing it because it offends the classical ear."

Noise may not be the chief product of civilization. But civilization has certainly made more of a din less of a sin. One court, denying a home owner's complaint against the Little League baseball games on a nearby lot, had this rueful comment:

Today we not only have modern conveniences but also modern inconveniences."

Hobo Supper Set Feb. 20

Second annual Young Farmer Hobo Supper is set for Feb. 20. Last year's affair was a huge success and interest is running high for this year's supper. The fare for a Hobo Supper is plenty of red beans, cornbread, potato salad and all the trimmings. Food is prepared by the Young Homemakers and then is served by the Young Farmers who are attired in hobo high fashion. Local gins were most generous last year, in that they furnished food for the supper to show their support of the two clubs. Those helping last year were D. C. Newsum Gin, New-Tex Gin, Yoakum County Co-op Gin, Again local gins and other business firms are assuring the clubs that they plan to give the same support this year. When details are worked out, the names of this year's supporters will be announced.

Entertainment for the 1964 supper was the Slum Town Symfunny from Lamesa. Another fine group has been acquired for 1965. This group, the Symplephony Orchestra, comes from Morton. Members of the group are all school teachers in the Morton public schools. They do parodies, comic songs, and other humor, and have played for over three dozen civic clubs in West Texas. They are said to be an exceptional group.

Also, exceptions are being made to acquire a western band from Lamesa to play as dinner is being served.

The Plains School Cafeteria is the scene, February 20, the date, 8 p. m. is the time and delicious red beans are the fare. Fine entertainment and a night of fun is in store for all.

Beef and Bean Main-Dish Salad

Hearty, colorful "Beef and Bean Salad" is a meal in itself—and a delicious one!

The beans are Mr. Blue Lakes—those tender, stringless pole beans from the verdant valleys of Washington and Oregon where a combination of perfect climate and plentiful water resources insures green beans par excellence.

Mr. Blue Lake is not a brand name; numerous different packers provide Mr. Blue Lakes for your eating pleasure. It is the name given to a distinct variety of green bean developed in the Northwest especially for canning. Look for it—or for the jaunty Mr. Blue Lake symbol—when you look for a top-quality vegetable.

BEEF AND GREEN BEAN SALAD

1 can (1 lb.) whole vertical pack Blue Lake green beans
Crisp salad greens
Tomato wedges
Ripe olive slices

Hard-cooked egg slices
2 cups cooked strips roast beef or pot roast
Finely chopped onion
Sour cream dressing

Drain beans. Line large salad bowl with torn or shredded greens. Arrange beans over greens along with all remaining ingredients except onion and dressing. Sprinkle with onion. Serve with your favorite dairy-sour-cream-and-cheese dressing. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Plan Going Away Party

A going-away party, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Palmer is to be held Friday, Feb. 12. The time is set at 7:30 p. m. in the Club Room.

The Palmer's are moving to the Earth community, where he will be engaged in farming. Their many friends are invited to come and wish them well before they leave for their new home.

Fine Arts Club Meets

Fine Arts Club met Thursday night, February 4, in the School Cafeteria, with Mrs. Myrtle Patterson, Mrs. Bob Loe and Mrs. Guerry Wright as hostesses. A delicious meal was enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Kenneth Hale was program director for "Music in the Home," Mrs. G. W. Cleveland gave - How and When to Start Your Child in Music.

Piano selections were given by Sherry and Jana Flood, Beth Ann and Karen Hale, Gwen and Lynn Fitzgerald, and by Debbie Chadwick.

Mrs. Foy Flood gave the story of the hymn of the month, "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee."

The meeting was adjourned with the group practicing for Bacculaurette.

Iota Pi Hosts Guests

Iota Pi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met on February 1 in the home of Mrs. A. B. Carpenter.

Special guests for the evening were LaVerta Lovell, ESA District President and Ray Pace, ESA District Corresponding secretary, both of Post.

LaVerta Lovell spoke on "Living Your Life Today." She then presented 10-year pins to Elsie Carpenter, Margaret Taylor and Jeanne Stroup. Five year pins were presented to Emma Lewis, Lois McGinty and Jean Craft.

Plans were made for a Valentine Party to be held Feb. 15.

NEW WOOL MARK

Careful shoppers buying clothing this fall are looking for this new symbol of quality. Created by The Wool Bureau, Inc., it is awarded to quality products of the world's best pure wool.

The wool mark is now being used only on men's and women's worsted clothing, but later will be seen on a wide variety of pure wool products. Shoppers look to it for the same kind of assurance they find in the Sterling mark on silver or the Underwriters Label on electrical devices.

Wedding Plans Revealed

Early spring wedding plans are being made by Miss Karen Lynn Randolph and Richard Melvin Munson. Wedding vows will be exchanged at high noon on March 28 in the First Methodist Church, Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Randolph of Plains are parents of the bride-elect and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Munson of Georgetown are parents of the prospective bridegroom. Miss Randolph and Mr.

Munson are seniors at Texas Tech, both candidates for a degree in June. Miss Randolph is a member of SEA at Tech, and she is a graduate of Plains High School. Munson is a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity where he holds the office of treasurer.

Knitting Short Course Ended

The knitting short course, sponsored by the Yoakum Co. Young Homemakers, was concluded Monday night, Feb. 1.

Instructors were Mrs. Bill Fitzgerald and Mrs. Kent Welch.

It has been said that an instructor's greatest reward is in the progress of her students. If this is true, then Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Welch have been richly rewarded. These capable Young Homemakers successfully taught a group of clumsy beginners to knit with ease and with pleasure. Original plans called for teaching the class to make a pair of house shoes, but many have gone on to begin knitting sweaters and other garments.

As a token of their appreciation, the Young Homemakers presented Mrs. Fitzgerald with a gift. She was also presented with a gift from a group of Denver City ladies who attended the course.

Mrs. Welch, unable to attend the meeting, was presented with gifts at a later date.

News of Young Homemakers

Mr. Sam Eudy of Singleton Funeral Home, Denver City, spoke to the Yoakum County Young Homemakers Monday night. Mr. Eudy presented a very interesting program and explained many facts concerning final arrangements.

Resignation by Mrs. Jack Palmer from the office of treasurer was accepted. She is moving from Plains to the Earth community, where she expects to join the Young Homemakers Organization. Mrs. Cordell Huddleston was elected to fill this position.

Following the program the speaker answered questions, and left copies of the booklets "What To Do" and "My Duty" for each of the 12 members attending and extra copies for those unable to attend.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Kent Welch for her work in the knitting short course. Coffee and cookies were served to members and guests.

Following the program, a business session was held to make additional plans toward the Hobo Supper Feb. 20. It was announced that a western band from Lamesa may be available in addition to the Simplephony Orchestra from Morton.

Bill of Rights

The Conventions of a number of the States having, at the time of their adopting the Constitution, expressed a desire, in order to prevent misconstruction or abuse of its powers, that further declaratory and restrictive clauses should be added: And as extending the ground of public confidence in the Government, will best insure the beneficent ends of its institution:

Resolved, by the SENATE and HOUSE of REPRESENTATIVES of the UNITED STATES of AMERICA in Congress assembled, two thirds of both Houses concurring, That the following Articles be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States, as Amendments to the Constitution of the United States; all, or any of which articles, when ratified by three fourths of the said Legislatures, to be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the said Constitution, viz.

Articles in addition to, and Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America, proposed by Congress, and ratified by the Legislatures of the several States, pursuant to the fifth Article of the Original Constitution.

Article the first ..... After the first enumeration required by the first Article of the Constitution, there shall be one Representative for every thirty thousand, until the number shall amount to one hundred, after which, the proportion shall be so regulated by Congress, that there shall be not less than one hundred Representatives, nor less than one Representative for every forty thousand persons, until the number of Representatives shall amount to two hundred, after which, the proportion shall be so regulated by Congress, that there shall not be less than two hundred Representatives, nor more than one Representative for every fifty thousand persons. [Not Ratified]

Article the second ..... No law, varying the compensation for the services of the Senators and Representatives, shall take effect, until an election of Representatives shall have intervened. [Not Ratified]

Article the third ..... Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

Article the fourth ..... A well regulated Militia, being necessary to the security of a free State, the right of the people to keep and bear Arms, shall not be infringed.

Article the fifth ..... No Soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house, without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

Article the sixth ..... The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no Warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

Article the seventh ..... No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or Naval forces, or in the Militia, when in actual service in time of War or public danger; nor shall any person be subject for the same offence to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

Article the eighth ..... In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defence.

Article the ninth ..... In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved, and no fact, tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any Court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

Article the tenth ..... Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel and unusual punishment inflicted.

Article the eleventh ..... The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people.

Article the twelfth ..... The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people.

ATTEST,

Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg Speaker of the House of Representatives.

John Adams, Vice-President of the United States, and President of the Senate

John Beckley, Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Samuel A. Otis, Secretary of the Senate.

An interpretation of the "Bill of Rights."

Tear this out and save it.

Unless you make a little noise about freedom, someday it may be the only copy around.

Americans have a credo which allows a man to live in dignity and independence.

The Bill of Rights is the public record of that credo.

It is, in essence, the benchmark for our personal freedoms; the chalk line for individual liberties.

Yet it is only a record. A form. Our beliefs are what give it power as an instrument.

About us in the world, about us in our homeland are forces dedicated to blurring those beliefs and paralyzing our personal rights.

Communism is the most identifiable. Extremes always are. But other ideologies, seeping out of a grey mist of confusion, are tougher to spot, and just as dangerous.

To counter these threats, we must refresh ourselves in our rights. We must revive the fervor that produced that historic Bill. And we must live our renewed enthusiasm and personal dedication fully and constantly.

To keep freedom strong, we must exercise it.

We must take our stand when our rights are questioned. We must let everyone know how strong our national will is through the arsenal of personal belief. We must pass on our understanding of the American Way to our children.

Perhaps you've tried doing this. Perhaps you haven't. Either way, you might be looking for help.

Let Freedoms Foundation aid you.

Freedoms Foundation is a nonprofit, non-sectarian organization devoted solely to the preservation of the American Way. Honorable Dwight D. Eisenhower is Chairman. Honorable James A. Farley is Vice-Chairman. Contributions of ten, five, or even one dollar will help us to continue to help you in your personal fight for freedom's cause. Send today for your free copy of "Freedoms Handbook," a tool to help you work effectively.

Conservation Program Now Paying Off

By: C. MURRELL THOMPSON
 Each day without moisture and increased dust blowing, really emphasizes the good soil and water conservation does and shows more and more the need for increased efforts by everyone. The time for doing conservation work is always ahead of the time the work will be needed. Last August, a great effort was put forth by your local Soil Conservation District to get cover crops of small grain, millet, forage sorghums and sudan planted on land where there was not sufficient cover.

There were many acres planted and of course there were some that failed due to no fault of the person planting it, but due to dry weather. Today there are several thousand acres in Yoakum SCD that are not blowing due to strong will and effort of land owners and operators. We are beginning to work with, rather than against mother nature to use any and all means to hold our soil and moisture. Some good examples are, of course, the cover crop program, cotton bur program, and now emergency tillage or supplemental tillage to support residue left by the last crop, whether it be cotton stalk, grain sorghum stubble, forage sorghum or some other crop that produces some residue, but not enough (2,500 pounds per acre) to control wind erosion. We know by actual wind tunnel test that to control wind erosion we must lift the wind from the surface of the soil. This can best be done by a close drilled or broadcast crop such as a tinous cover. Then next, would be narrow row such as 20 to 30 inches row grain sorghum with a stubble height of 16 to 20 inches. This row width and stubble has worked for several years on the Charles L. Williams, Robert Chambliss and Jess Snodgrass farms. Then of course if you just don't grow or have left after harvest much stubble, supplemental tillage is best. This may be done by using chisels or sweeps or listers to bring up some clods to help the residue control erosion. When there is no residue, deep chiseling or breaking is the best answer to controlling wind erosion, and this is done by leaving large clods on the surface to lift the wind. 1,750 pounds of residue with some clods will control wind erosion -- so don't destroy any residue.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to thank everyone for the flowers, food, and all courtesies shown us during our time of bereavement.

May God bless each one of you.

The T. E. Ethridge Family and the Brothers and Sisters of Jimmy McIntyre.

I would like to take this means of publicly stating my thanks to the members of the Plains Volunteer Fire Dept. who did such a commendable job when our house caught fire last week.

There was no water damage in the house, because the firemen were careful to use it only when and where it was absolutely necessary.

Firemen were careful to go out the back door so as not to track up the carpet in the living room and they even swept out and mopped the kitchen, where they had to use water to put out the fire.

You just don't see that sort of thoughtfulness very often. I think too many of us take our fire department too much for granted and don't pat them on the back often enough, which is the only pay they get.
