CITY VOTES TO KEEP POWER PLANT

OFF THE RECORD

Well, it's been another hectic week, but guess it's supposed to be that way around a newspaper office. We really thought everything possible had already happened around here, but you won't believe this week.

Everything started out as usual on Monday till some of us went to lunch and locked the keys up inside the building.

If anyone saw Frank Whitlock trying to break in through the Air-conditioner outlet, I'm glad they didn't turn him in to the sheriff cause he was just trying to help out.

We finally got started back on Tuesday morning, so if we are a little late, we have a good excuse.

Who would do a thing like that? Well, I'm sure not going to call any names, but if anyone sees Teny Lester or Cindy Vorhies looking guilty, you'll know it's not from stealing watermelons.

Mary Jane finally came up with another key and saved the day. Well, anyhow, she saved the next day.

Congratulations are in order this week to the Safe Driving Award Winners and to all the Coaches and Ball Players in the Plains School System. It's really something that the Cowgirls won the Crane Volleyball tournament and the Cowboys varsity and "B" Teams won district in Basketball. Let's all back them all the way.

We are still getting compliments on the church page and we'd like to again call your attention to those sponsors and thank them for bringing this page to you.

All you collectors had better save this February 29 issue of the Record. It just comes around two or three times every hundred years... besides, it has my ad in it. See you later, The Editor

New Business Cowgirls Win Another Tourney For Plains

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wagley have announced the opening of the Wagley Upholstering Shop, located north of the Pic and Pay Grocery.

The Wagleys, longtime residents of Plains, invite the public to come by to visit and go through a good selection of material swatches. The couple will do the work themselves. DAVID GILLIS, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Gillis, won the Junior High Spelling Bee Contest held in Denver City last Friday, February 16, 1968. David is in the seventh grade. CONGRATULATIONS FROM THE PLAINS RECORD - DAVID!

Third Time No Charm

Third time around a charm? Not quite, thinks County Clerk Ruby Heald. For the third time in recent years, a driverless car has plowed its way through the Heald Concrete fence.

Ruby reported that their house would surely have been hit if the fence had not been there. She also stated that the first time a car went through it, it took a wrecker to get it out. The second time, it involved a new car with less than 40 miles on it and the third time -- the owner couldn't find it for a while, that is!

Cowpokes Lose To Aspermont In Play

District winning Cowboys fell from bi-district play Monday evening by a score of 56-52 in favor of Aspermont. The game was played at Snyder.

It took two overtime periods to knock the Pokes from the ranks. In a hard fought battle, the game was tied 48-48 at the end of regulation play. The first overtime ended with a score of 50-50 and the second overtime resulted with the final scores, 56-52.

Aspermont was ahead 26-23 at the half. They built up a 13 point lead with four and a half minutes left to play. The Pokes fought hard to bring the game to a tie.

High Scores for Plains were Mike DeVries with 24 points and Calvin Smith with 14. Nathan Ray was high point man for Aspermont.

Other members of the Cowboy varsity are Dan Field, Billy Taylor, Greg Jones, Billy Kennedy, Joe Beal, Jimmy Massey, Billy Spencer and Joe Pierce.

Coach Richey expressed his thanks to the fans for coming out this season to back the team. He said, "They are one of the most hustling teams I've ever seen and I'm real proud of them."

He added, "I hope the fans will keep coming out to support the boys because we intend to keep up the same 'hustle and go get 'um' style of basketball next season."

Girlstown USA Benefits From Livestock Show

Two animals were purchased during the auction sale held Saturday, February 17, and donated to Girlstown, a home for girls located south of Whiteface.

One of the animals was a 210-lb. barrow exhibited by Jackie Williams and bought by Alma Lynn McGinty and G. W. Cleveland. The other was a 217-lb. barrow exhibited by Jimmy Gray and bought by I. L. Smith.

Mr. Jack Folsom of Jack's Packing House in Denver City is processing the two animals and donating his services. He will also arrange for the meat to be delivered to Girlstown where the homeless girls can enjoy it.

195 VOTERS TURN OUT

Citizens of Plains voted in a referendum election Saturday to decide whether or not the city should purchase electrical power wholesale from Lea County Electric Cooperative and resell to city customers or whether the city should keep its own plant.

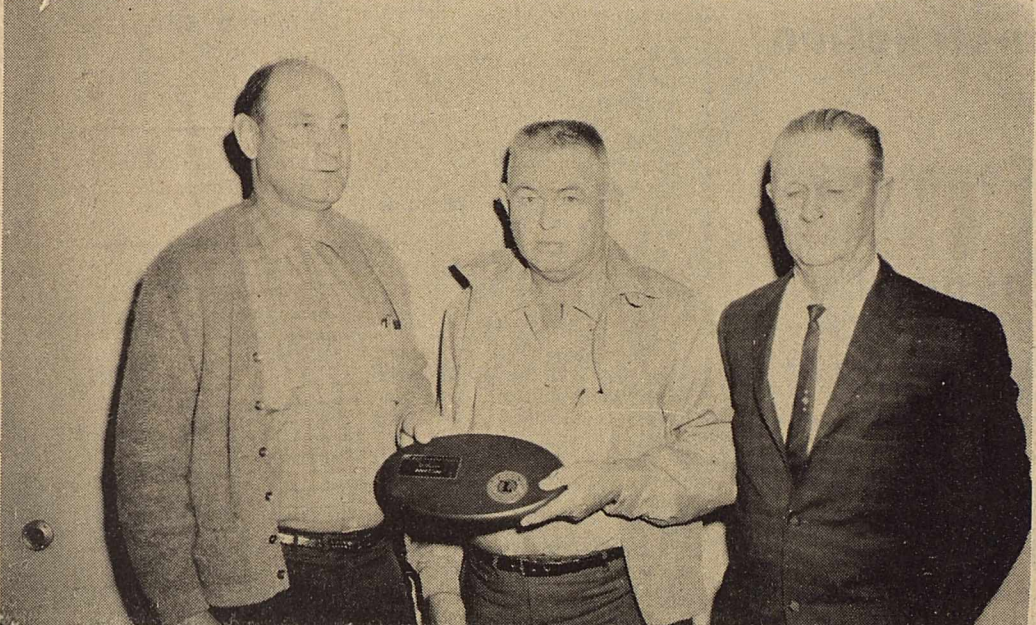

Voters decided, 140-55, to keep the city plant. The election was held after a study of comparison on the purchased power and the home-owned.

The election was held in the city hall with Mrs. Mable Camp as judge. Clerks were Mmes. Nancy White and Tiny Bearden.

A good turn-out of voters was reported by officials.

Leap Year Birthday Nothing Eventual

It's not unusual for someone to celebrate their 84th birthday, unless it happens to fall on Feb. 29. Such a birthdate belongs to Mrs. Charlie Newell of 1508 Ave. G.

include Mrs. Rachel Duff and Mrs. Mae Cantrell, both of Plains, and Clarence Witt of Seminole.

Another event she could remember on this birthday is that

Feb. 29 falls on the fifth Thursday of the month, which is another unusual happening.

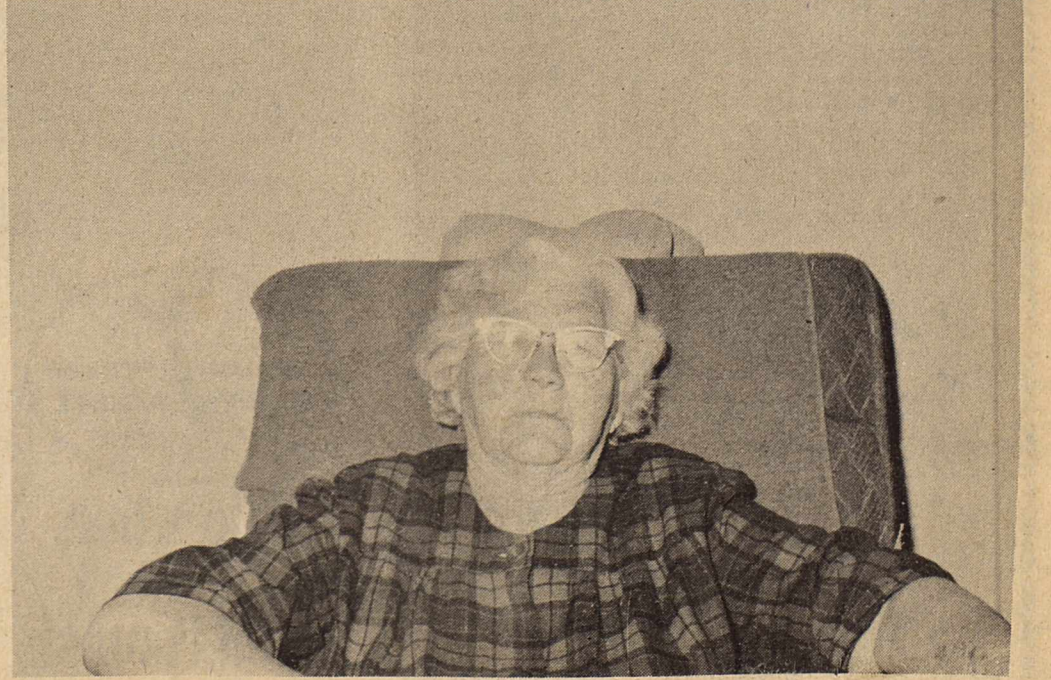

Mrs. Newell states there is nothing eventual in her life but hard work. But it could be an event, since she has a real birthday only every four years, she has finally reached the voting age of 21.

It could also be an event to have been born and raised in the Indian Territory, near what is now Comanche, Oklahoma.

It could also be a good event to have never spent anytime, but once, in the hospital in her 84 years. Mrs. Newell still keeps busy and active with her housework. She takes time out for piecing quilts, also. She states that she enjoys good health and does everything she wants to.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell have lived in Plains since 1942. They were married May 31, 1921 in Burkburnett, Children of Mrs.

★ Editorial ★

Have you read any good books lately? I don't know who coined this phrase, but I know it's been around for quite some time now. Well, I've read some good books but it hasn't been lately. Not too long ago I had the opportunity to glance through 2 or 3 of our leading magazines. These were magazines that I had subscribed to at one time or another and had let them expire because I could not agree with what they were advertising. I found they were still advertising the same thing only more so and on a larger scale. In my opinion these books contained nothing but trash. I failed to find one good decent story in the whole bunch.

This is not suppose to be a sermon, but if we let these magazines sway our way of thinking we are in serious trouble. America was built by hard working, law abiding, God fearing people who were so busy trying to make a living that they did not have time to go about the country starting riots or doing too much protesting. If it falls it will be because it has grown so corrupt within. Maybe we should stick to reading newspapers or a good western story or better yet dust off the old Bible a little more often. There's still some good books around if we will just choose the right ones.

Green Thumb Tips

Prime occupation of gardeners during the winter months is the perusal of garden catalogs. There are so many possibilities among seeds and plants that a clipboard with paper attached should be alongside the catalogs to help the gardener plan before he buys.

If you didn't plant seeds of spinach last fall, and if your family likes this vegetable, plan to plant as soon as the soil is workable.

There is no need for extensive preparation. Just loosen the top few inches of soil, mark a row and drop in the seeds. When seedlings have several leaves, thin them so those left are 6 inches apart.

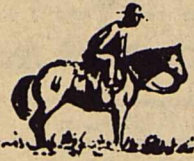

The reason for planting spinach early is that when days lengthen to over 13 hours of light the plants form seed stalks as soon as they come up, so there are few leaves to harvest.

Depending on the ambition (and the experience) of the gardener, the color scheme in the flower garden can be simple, with perhaps one color predominating and two others used in varying but smaller amounts, or it can be elaborate, using many colors.

The hardest color scheme to plan and carry out is one using all pastel shades. This takes an expert to execute.

The earliest corn to mature has been, for the last 25 years, the hybrid variety North Star. Now there's a new, just-as-early and tastier variety to supercede it. Spring Gold is its name. Days to maturity are the same — 67.

Excess moisture in the soil is a common cause of seeds failing to sprout. They rot in the ground instead. For this reason plant where drainage is excellent if you plant early.

Time-Saving Tips for Busy Women

WHETHER you're an outdoor type and active in sports, or an indoor type busy with house and children, check these time-saving tips:

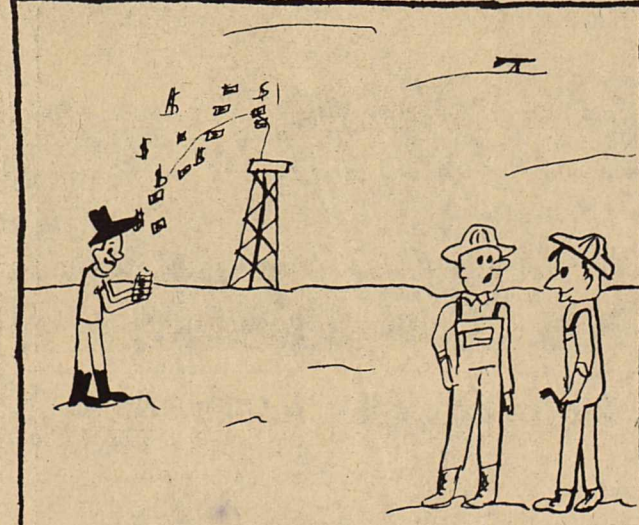

APPLY hand cream nightly before retiring. Paquin experts advise that one application at night is worth many during the day, since natural moisture in the skin is protected by the cream against evaporation. Lotion also works!

WHEN eyes become irritated or fatigued by exposure to wind and glare, or by insufficient sleep and too much TV, give them comfort fast. New Vaseline eye drops reduce redness and restore sparkle in less than 60 seconds.

ACTIVE WOMEN have active hands, and a tendency to develop jagged, unsightly cuticles. A clear gel cuticle remover, Mani Magic, dissolves cuticle without cutting in less than three minutes. It also gets dirt out from under nail tips.

PAY PROMPT attention to cuts, scrapes and burns because they can result in infection. Many first-aid remedies come in sizes that take up room. The makers of Pfizer bacitracin antibiotic ointment have put their product in a small tube, intelligently sized for bathroom shelf first aid kit or travel. It's at all drug store counters locally.

29 Million Do: How About You?

HOW MANY adult American women suffer from an oily skin condition? More than 20 million, according to Paquin skin care specialists. To keep oiliness in check, they recommend frequent, thorough cleansing. Here's how:

Rinse Away

Avoid harsh cleansers that can strip away all natural oils and cause the oil-producing glands to over-compensate. Instead, use new Rinse-Off cold cream to remove surface oils and make-up without clogging pores. The new Paquin cold cream leaves skin super-clean and fresh because it can be either tissue off or rinsed off with water. It is priced from about 59¢ and is at local beauty counters.

Sudie Thompson CHDA Says..

PEACANS IN THE DIET

Pecans have a place in the well-planned diet because of their good flavor, food value, and many used in main dishes, breads, cakes, cookies, desserts, salads and candies.

Nutrition studies show that pecans provide essential vitamins and minerals and are particularly good as energy food. The American Indians who first used pecans for food were aware of their nutritional benefits. Cabeza DeVaca, one of the early Spanish explorers, wrote, "The Indians came to the place of which we had been told, to eat walnuts (as pecans were then known). These are found with a kind of samll grain, and this is the substance of the people for two months of the year, without any other thing."

Pecans are an excellent source of calcium, phosphorus, iron, protein, quality carbohydrates, and vitamins A and B. Calorically speaking, they are neither high nor low in this list of fuel foods.

Two general types of pecans are available... native and pappershell. Two and one-half pounds of native pecans in the shell yield a pound of meats, (about four cups). Two lbs. of papper shell yield one lb. of meats.

Pecans become rancid after several months storage unless properly canned or frozen. To can pecans in pressure canner, select well-cured nuts, assort according to size. Place in shallow pan and heat in 250-300 degree oven for 10 minutes. Pack into hot, dry jars or tin cans. Leave one-inch headspace in jars; fill cans to top. Close jars or seal cans. Process in pressure canner at five lbs. pressure for 10 minutes. Open petcock, let steam out. Remove jars or cans from canner. Complete seal on jars if closures are not self-sealing type. Cool in water.

To can pecans in water bath, follow directions for preparing pecans for pressure canner. Turn evenly into pie crust; chill.

Whip cream until stiff. Blend in pearsapple and nuts. Spoon on top of egg mixture and chill thoroughly. Makes two pies.

Place jars in water bath, with water one inch below the rim of the jar; water should cover cans. Process in boiling water for 15 minutes. Remove jars and complete seal if closures are not of self-sealing types. Cool cans in water.

To freeze pecans, package freshly shelled pecans in moisture-vapor-proof bags, freezer tin cans, freezer jars or plastic containers. Seal or close containers. Sharp freeze and store at 0 degrees F.

To store shelled pecans, place them in covered containers and store in refrigerator not longer than six months. To store unshelled pecans, keep at a temperature range of 32 degrees to 38 degrees F. They will keep fresh for about a year.

The following recipe was requested by several persons. This pie has been called by several names such as Mystery Pie, Angel Pie, and sometimes Millionaire Pie. However, Furr's Millionaire Pie is quite different.

ANGEL PIE
Beat three egg whites until stiff. Add one cup sugar with 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, and continue to beat. Crumble 14 Ritz crackers (or soda crackers) into pieces. Mix with 1 cup chopped pecans. Add to egg whites. Pour into well-greased pan. Bake approximately 20 minutes at 350 degrees. As the pie cools, it will fall in the middle. Let cool and fill with 1/2 pint whipped cream to which sugar and vanilla have been added.

This recipe was taken from Mrs. Preston Murphy's cookbook that she got when she attended the THDA State Convention in Ft. Worth.

The "Millionaire Pie" put out by Furr's Cafeteria is made as follows:

2 c. powdered sugar
1 stick margarine, softened
1 large egg
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
2 baked, 8-inch pie crusts
1 c. heavy cream
1/3 c. chopped nuts
1 c. drained, crushed pineapple

Cream together powdered sugar and margarine. Add egg, salt, and vanilla. Mix until light and fluffy. Spoon mixture into pie crusts. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Cool in water bath.

Cowboy Corral

After two successful wins last week over Meadow and Whitharral, the Plains Cowboys journeyed to Snyder Monday to play Aspermont for Bidistrict. Those who had to stay home because of the weather, distance or illness waited nervously for the results. Finally, it was announced that, after a tight game which had gone into overtime, the Aspermont Hornets had won.

This loss for the Cowboys ends the basketball season for Plains. However, this has been a highly successful season for the Cowboys and of course, there is always a next year.

This last weekend saw another victory for the Plains Volleyball Team in the Crane Tourney. After winning successfully over Big Lake, Iran, and Pecos, the Cowgirls played Crane for the Championship. The victory over Crane won Plains not only first place in the Tournament, but also a beautiful trophy which is on display in Mr. Taylor's outer office.

The girls named to the all-Tournament team were: Marilyn Goehry, Sadie Tarkington and Jo Ann Kerrick.

The Plains Cowgirls travel to Lamasa Tuesday night for what they hope to be another victory. Thursday, the Cowgirls play Crane again in the Plains gym. After this game there will be a basketball game between the Harlem All Stars and the Plains Lions Club.

Next Monday marks the FHA style show. It is scheduled for 7:30 that night. Invitations are being sent out to parents. After the show, there will be a meal served in the Home Economics Department. The different committees working on the show are the food committee, the invitations committee and the theme and decorating committee.

A script committee is preparing a description of each of the fashions to be modeled. These descriptions will be read by the two narrators, Kathy Anderson and Sharon Tarkington.

The band came out for solo and ensemble contest at Midland Saturday. One of the ensembles was a flute trio consisting of Sherry Miller, Debbie Chadwick and Phyllis Krieg. The contestants were required to play one song and were rated from one to four on performance.

In the halls of PHS: The boys have been working out for track the past two weeks. Their first track meet is only a few weeks away.

School lets out Friday for the District TSTA meeting. PHS students feel that this is an excellent way to begin a new month.

Spring is on its way bringing spring fever with it. Students are joyful with the realization that there are only twelve weeks left of school.

REMEMBER: Let a smile be your key to friendship.

IT'S BIRTHDAY PARTY TIME

A birthday is coming up, so it's to be a gay party for the girls and boys. Every child thrills to see his very own name in print . . . and on a birthday cake their delight is a pleasure to see. Use a simple cake from your favorite recipe or mix. Plan to serve ice cream, of course, and perhaps a little Bosco poured on top. Here's the frosting recipe.

LEMON CREAMY FROSTING
 1/2 cup Nucoa margarine
 1/4 cup light corn syrup
 1/4 teaspoon salt

1 tablespoon lemon juice
 3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Food color
 Mix margarine, corn syrup, and salt blending well. Stir in lemon juice and confectioners sugar alternately, beating until smooth and creamy after each addition. Add enough lemon juice to make a good spreading consistency. Stir in grated lemon rind. Take out about 1/2 cup and tint for decorating. Frost cake sides and top. Using a pastry tube pipe on decorations.

ARMY ASSIGNMENTS

Sfc. Mel Baker, Local army recruiter for the Plains area informed the Plains Record today that the army is accepting enlistments into the army air defense command. ARADCOM is the army's contribution to the task of protecting the north American Continent from aggressor air attack. It's mission is to provide combat-ready air defense forces to protect specified critical metropolitan and strategic areas throughout the United States. Equipped with deadly defensive surface to air guided missiles, ready to be fired on moment's notice and capable of destroying and aircraft flying today, it is the army's only fully combat operational command within the Continental United States.

ARADCOM offers qualified men top-notch missile and electronics training and assignments. Because of the lengthy training period and high degree of skill required to successfully perform ARADCOM duties, a minimum initial enlistment of four years is required.

Due to the strategic and military importance of the work, each individual assigned to an ARADCOM surface-to-air missile unit must obtain a security clearance after enlistment. When you enlist in ARADCOM, you may select the location of the initial assignments following basic training. You will be guaranteed fourteen (14) months in that location as long as ARADCOM units continue to exist in that area.

To obtain a list of assignments being offered, Baker invites anyone who is interested to contact him at 1010 13th St. Lubbock, Texas, or call him collect at POrter 3-2821.

Kindness is a language everyone understands

Uncle Walt from Willow Wells says

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Zeke Grubb was telling the fellers at the store Saturday night it was mighty hard fer a feller like him that was raised in the horse and buggy days to git used to the speedometer of life today. He said he had saw where 195 people could cross the continent in five hour in a jet, git served three meals, see two picture shows, read a magazine and play a few hands of poker.

Clem Webster said he also had the bad luck to be raised afore we crossed the New Frontier and arrived in the Great Society and the good life. But he said the difference between him and Zeke was his family had the horse but no buggy.

Like I told you onct afore, Mister Editor, when the fellers at the store git to talking about the days of their youth they usual end up in a lying contest.

But Ed Doolittle brung them back to 1968 by announcing he had saw where the Environmental Science Services Administration was the name the Government was now giving to the Weather Bureau and that, with this fancy name, natural they was asking the Congress fer a big increase in funds. They was claiming they needed this money to study and buy equipment so they could predict the weather as much as a week in advance. As it was now, they claimed, they couldn't git a "accurate forecast" more'n two days ahead. Ed said he was agin this extra fund request, claimed he could git the weather fer the next two year out of his 59 cent Almanak.

Clem was defending the Weather Bureau, said the Great Society was gitting on the automatic and doing everthing scientific. Fer instant, he said he saw where one Government agency was making real tasting bacon from soybeans and hog feed out of oil.

Bug Hookum was disagreed with Clem on this item, claimed we might as well feed the soybeans to the hogs, make bacon the old fashioned way and use them research millions to buy color televisions fer them that was on the welfare program. Farthermore, said Bug, if everthing used as much oil as his 1954 car, we was going to need all the oil we could git in this country without feeding it to the hogs.

Personal, Mister Editor, I'll have to admit the speedometer was gitting a little too fast fer me, too. Fer instant, I saw a ad in the papers about new homes fer sale that had "large wood-burning fireplaces." I didn't know they was anything else to burn in a fireplace. And I was reading where some famous Bible scholar said we needed a "moral threat more believable than hell." If the coming generations don't believe in hell it's going to be a dangerous world.

Yours truly,
 UNCLE WALT

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Enact the Ten Commandments?

Not long ago, a western lawmaker proposed the enactment of the Ten Commandments as part of the state's criminal code. The proposal did not pass. But it did put into sharp focus the relationship between moral law and criminal law.

There are striking differences between the two systems of law. For one thing, moral law usually deals in generalities, criminal law in specifics. While the Sixth Commandment says generally that "Thou shalt not kill," the criminal law weighs the specific variations that may affect guilt in a particular case.

Thus, the criminal law recognizes that a person may indeed kill in the necessary defense of himself or his family. This is not a rejection of the Sixth Commandment. It is merely law on a different level.

Furthermore, moral law often sets standards that are too lofty, as a practical matter, to be enforced by criminal penalties. Imagine, for instance, the difficulties of enforcing the Tenth Commandment—"Thou shalt not covet"—by fines or jail sentences.

Yet, in a deeper sense, criminal law must at least be in harmony with moral law if it is to be acceptable to the community. It is to the moral law that mankind looks for its directions and its aspirations.

And if moral law has the disadvantage of being general, it has the advantage of being enduring. Poet James Russell Lowell put it this way:

"In vain we call old notions fudge,
And bend our conscience to our dealing;
The Ten Commandments will not budge,
And stealing will continue stealing."

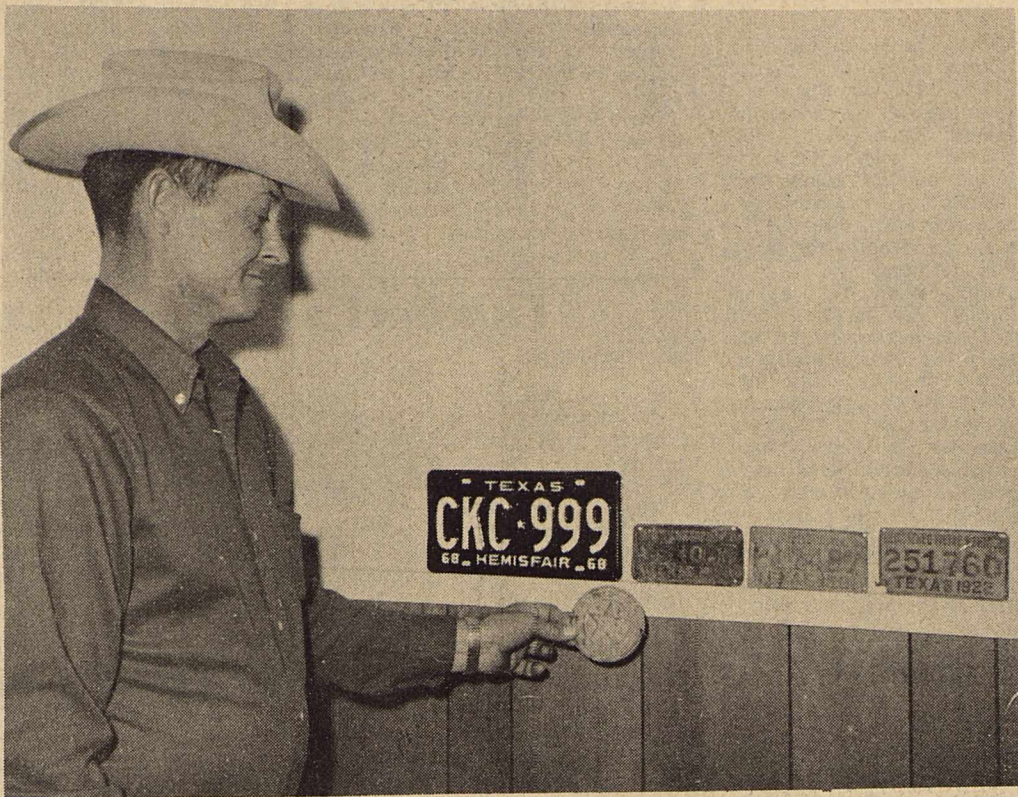

Also, because moral law speaks directly to the conscience, it may influence conduct in a way that no mere legislative enactment ever could.

In one case, a farmer posted a "NO TRESPASSING" sign in an effort to stop repeated thefts from his apple orchard. But apples continued to vanish. One day he changed the sign to read "THOU SHALT NOT STEAL." The thefts stopped at once.

50 YEAR COMPARISON: Royce Trout is shown comparing a 1918 cartag with a 1968 tag. Other tags shown are ones dated 1920, 1921 and 1922. The tags were all used on personal cars of the late Earl R. Springer, grandfather of Royces wife, Betty. The Trouts now have the collection in their home.

Even Car Tags Make A Change

By Teny Lester

When time goes by, one can expect the changes that take place in our everyday life, such as our mode of living, thinking, and even automobiles. When the automobiles change, it's likely that things connected with them do, too.

One of the interesting items connected with automobiles is the change in license tags, their shapes, sizes and colors. And to compare that difference over a 50-year span is a small collection of antique licenses now in the possession of the Royce Trout family of Route #1, Plains.

Royce and Betty came into the collection, with tags for the years 1918, 1920, 1921 and 1922 after the death of her grandfather, Earl R. Springer, 83.

A real pioneer, Mr. Springer resided on his home place for 60 years in Hale County. The tags were all used at one time on his personal cars.

Royce recalls the grandfather telling of the time when he bought his first car tags, he also received his first driver's license, which at that time were good for a lifetime. It seems that law has made a change somewhere down the line, also.

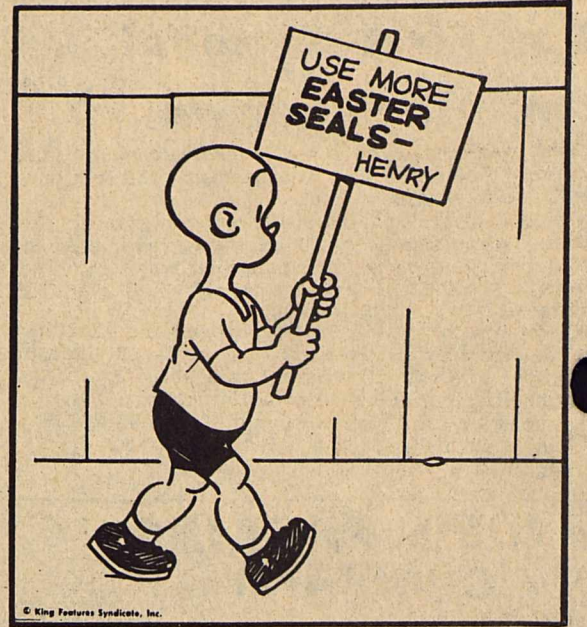

The oldest of the Trout collection is dated 1918 and is circular in shape, being about four inches in diameter, with the date being set inside a star within the diameter.

Royce also recalled that Mr. Springer had one dated for 1919 and it was also circular in shape, but it was made of cardboard rimmed with a steel band. It was thought to be made of cardboard because 1919 was a war year and steel and tin were in shortage.

The tags dated in the '20's are all the same size and shape, being different only in colors. They measure about six inches side and three or four inches deep.

One would tend to think that as things change, such as the prices and sizes of automobiles, it would only be fitting that the tag sizes change along with the price of registering your car. You can compare the size of today's tags along with the antiques in the picture above or in your mind as you pay to register your own car. What a change!

THE STORY OF VETERANS DAY

Light up a cigar on Veterans Day in honor of the men who served our country—and give a thought to how this national observance began.

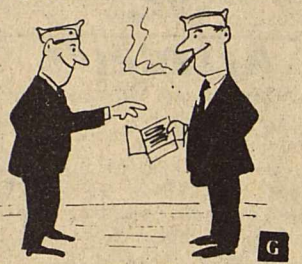

One minute before 11 o'clock on the morning of November 11, 1918, the long battle line in France shook with the roar of cannon. One minute later, there was silence.

This cease-fire, which ended World War I, was the result of a general armistice between the Allies and Germany, signed at five o'clock that morning in a train in the forest of Compiègne in northern France. The terms of peace had not yet been finally determined, but the fighting ceased.

Since that time, November 11th has been a special day of remembrance in the United States, Great Britain, Canada, and France. Until 1954, the day was called "Armistice Day" in the U.S.

An armistice, or truce, differs from a surrender or a treaty of peace in that it does not legally end a war. It is merely an agreement to suspend hostilities. In both the first and second World Wars, armistices were signed with individual countries before the general conflicts ended.

In World War I, separate armistices were concluded between the victorious Allies on the one side, and defeated Bulgaria, Turkey, and Austria-Hungary.

The U.S. Congress changed the name Armistice Day to "Veterans Day" in 1954, dedicating the observation to world peace. The day presently honors the veterans of the Korean conflict, as well as those of World Wars I and II.

A gift of a box of fine cigars is a welcome way to honor the veterans you know. Veterans Day—or any day—men like to relax with a good cigar.

Keep an Eye on Your Feline's Teeth

ST. LOUIS — In the general care and handling of cats, one of the most important areas often neglected by owners is that of teeth. Our four-legged friends are, believe it or not, just as susceptible to teeth ailments as human beings.

The symptoms that usually indicate these problems, says Dr. James E. Corbin, director of the Purina Pet Care Center, are changes in the eating habits of a feline that otherwise appears perfectly healthy.

You may find, for example, that your feline has some difficulty in consuming food although it was pining for it only a few minutes earlier. Again, your feline may eat very slowly, paw at its mouth, drool and shake its head, all of which are warning signs.

Let us suppose that you have a cat in difficulty. What do you look for? First, check for a possible loose tooth and, if negative, examine the cat's mouth carefully for swollen gums, inflammation, or any other condition that may seem unusual to you. Incidentally, when new owners observe the tiny front teeth in an adult cat, they wrongly suppose that there has been some malfunction in their growth. It is, however, perfectly normal and no cause for alarm.

At the age of about four months, kittens start to cut their second set of teeth and it can be a worrying period both for the pet and its owner. At this time, kittens may show a penchant for chewing on anything and everything. You would be wise to put valuable out of his reach, keep him fully occupied with playthings, and serve him plenty of nourishing food. Also during teething, your kitten may exhibit inflamed gums and bloodshot, watery eyes.

A kitten bothered by a loose tooth may attempt to knock it out with a paw, and then show signs of irritability when success eludes him. In most cases, you will be able to help by grasping the offending tooth with a small piece of cloth and pulling slowly until it is removed.

The majority of cats' teeth become encrusted with a hard shell tartar which must be scraped off periodically by your veterinarian. Chewing dry or slightly moistened Purina Cat Chow helps to reduce the formation of tartar. If you continually neglect a condition of this kind, the cat will suffer extreme discomfort and pain because the gums will be irritated and teeth will decay. An infected tooth that requires extraction can lead to serious problems and it is always better to prevent such a situation arising.
