HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

Legislation creating the Elm Creek Water Control District was adopted by the State Legislature, as HB 1250, in May, 1967, and signed by the Governor shortly thereafter.

Purpose of the district was to provide flood protection and soil and water conservation through a series of water retaining structures to be built on Elm Creek and its tributaries— if, feasible—and, according to creative legislation, to possibly provide for a multi-purpose dam on the creek for water supplies for the municipalities of Winters and Ballinger, and for recreation and flood control.

Elm Creek District covers a vast area of East Runnels County, from the Colorado River at Ballinger, into South Taylor County to the north. Originally, the district encompassed about 295,000 acres. However, after preliminary surveys by State Soil Conservation crews, the west portion of the district—the Coyote Creek watershed—was removed from the district, because of the non-feasibility of the area presented. About 238,000 acres remain in the district.

During the five years since the creation of Elm Creek Water Control District, there has been much accomplished toward the final end of gaining approval for an actual beginning of construction of the dams. At times, it has seemed that the District was dormant, and that little was being done. There were times when members of the board of directors felt they were on a treadmill— they met, only to re-hash old business, and to talk about what they hoped would be done. Many of these meetings were the "Howdy, See you next month," type, according to one member of the board, and had it not been for the individual makeup of the board, there is a possibility that the project would have died on the vine.

But all the while, even when it seemed everything had stopped, and it was hard to find enthusiasm in the area for the project, the small wheels were turning—kept turning by directors and others who knew the value of the project. There was much which needed to be done toward soil conservation practices in the area—to gain approval, a certain percentage of the district's area must be under some sort of soil conservation practice. However, this milestone was reached, and passed. Still, there had to be things done to keep the district alive, and the directors did it. With no money on which to operate at first—to pay required bond premiums for board members, etc.—the directors found some hard sledding. Then civic- and service-minded organizations in Winters and Ballinger came through with cash gifts to help them over the hurdle—the first of many. Finally, it became necessary for the district to apply to the State Legislature for a special appropriation on which to operate. This was forthcoming, with the help of Rep. Lynn Nabers.

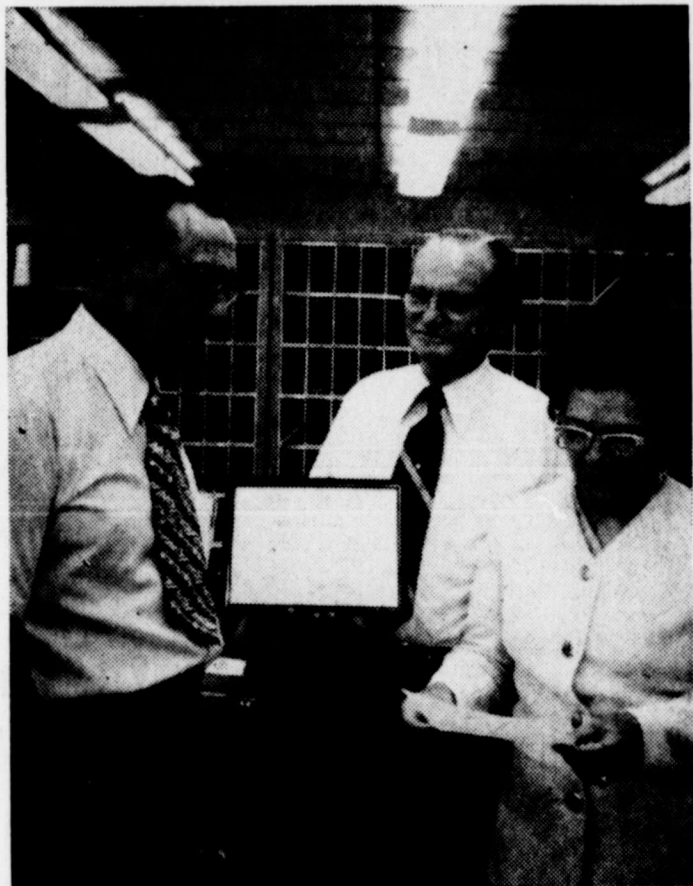

Eventually, all the loose ends of this phase were tied, and the district applied for a public hearing before the State Soil and Water Conservation Board; a hearing to determine the feasibility of the entire project, and to gain a priority position. If granted a priority, then the district will be able to go ahead and apply for final planning and make application for Federal money to build the dams. The district will be responsible only for right-of-way procurement and maintenance, not for actual cost of construction.

W. S. Cooke Retires After 45 Years Carrying the Mail In North Runnels

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke have three children, Ernest Cooke of Victoria, Mrs. Loyd (Mary Sue) Turner of San Angelo, and Mrs. James (Martha) Gehrels of Winters. A son, Bob, was killed in an oil field accident in 1955. Mr. Cooke has had an interest in spare-time stock farming for many years, and will continue working with livestock and farming now that he has retired.

Cooke began his long career with the Post Office as a substitute rural carrier Jan. 1, 1926, out of Winters. Later, May 2, 1927, he was appointed a substitute clerk in the Winters office, and became a regular clerk Sept. 1, 1935. May 28, 1951, he was reassigned to Rural Route 3 out of Winters. He subsequently was reassigned to different rural routes, until he has served all four Winters routes during a lifetime with the post office.

He has served under six Winters postmasters, B. F. Hamilton, T. D. Copeland, H. O. Jones, Laura Kittrell (Pace), Rankin Pace, and finally H. M. Nichols.

He received a 20-year safe-driving award in 1971, and is due to receive a 21-year award. Born at Goldthwaite, Cooke came to Winters with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cook, in 1909. He married Eula McNeill, daughter of early-day residents.

Before going to work for the Post Office, Cooke worked in a filling station and in his father's grocery store.

Local Men Are Area Chairmen For WT Re-Hab

Appointments of the area chairmen for the 12th annual Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children have been announced by Charlie Morris of Abilene, general chairman.

The men from this area named to the group include W. T. Billups, Rosy Burns and Walter Spill of Winters; Paul Michaelis of Wingate; Conda Richards of Bronte and Jack Herring of Ballinger.

The six area men, with 138 other men and women, along with many others will lead the Round-Up, a major source of support for the non-profit West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene.

Over the past eleven years the Round-Up has raised in excess of one million dollars to help the multi-faceted Center carry on its comprehensive program of diagnostic and rehabilitative services. This year's budget is $450,000, with the 1972 Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children expected to raise $120,000 of that amount.

During the Round-Up, leading ranchers throughout Texas and other Southwestern states donate livestock of all kinds to be sold at one of the special auctions. The Cattle Sale is set for September 25 at Ranchers and Farmers Livestock Auction in Abilene, with Horse and Sheep Sale set for early October in Abilene and Coleman.

General Chairman Morris describes the annual Round-Up as "something close kin to the barn raisings of yesteryear, when a neighbor pitched in to help another neighbor in need." Morris added, "The West Texas Rehabilitation Center has been helping the handicapped of the Southwest for over 19 years because of the generous support of compassionate, concerned people."

Season Football Reserved Seat Tickets On Sale

Sale of season tickets for the Winters High School football season will begin Monday, August 28, for all fans who did not exercise seat options this week.

These tickets will be sold on a first come-first served basis, the school business office announced.

Sale of season tickets this week were restricted to those who had season tickets last year and who wished to obtain the same seats for this season.

Season tickets will be sold as a book of five tickets, one for each home game. Price of season tickets this year is $7.50 per book.

Tickets may be purchased at the school business office, in the Vocational Agriculture Building, between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Football fans—adults and students—may realize considerable savings by purchasing season tickets. At-gate general admission will be $1.50 for adults, and $1.00 for students. Pre-game reserved seats for adults will be $1.75; at gate, $2.00.

Pre-game reserved seats for all games will be $1.50 for each game.

Revival To Begin Sunday At Calvary Baptist Church

Doyle Roberts will do the preaching in a revival beginning Sunday, August 27, at the Calvary Baptist Church. The revival will continue through September 3.

Roy Calcutt will lead the singing services.

Services will begin at 7 p. m. daily, and the public is invited to attend.

TO AUSTIN—M. L. Dobbins of Winters, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, attended the statewide conference for FB county presidents, August 9-11, in Austin. He is shown with Mrs. Dobbins and B. J. Gist of Abilene, Texas Farm Bureau board member from this district. Issues facing agriculture and a new program in Farm Bureau were discussed at the three-day meeting.

School Enrollment Up Slightly Over Last Year

Enrollment figures in the Winters Public Schools for the first day of the 1972-73 school year—August 21—were slightly above first-day figures for the last school year, according to reports from the schools.

There were 312 students registered on the first day of school in high school, and 607 in the primary and elementary schools, according to released figures Tuesday.

Last year's first-day totals were 295 in high school and 610 in the primary and elementary schools.

There is some expectation that enrollment will increase during the next two weeks in all Winters schools, as some students wait until after Labor Day to enroll. Also, seasonal harvest conditions play a small part in the fluctuation of enrollment, according to school administrators.

School Board Adopted 1972-73 Budget And Set Tax Rate At Recent Meeting

The Board of Trustees of Winters Independent School District, in a meeting Thursday of last week, adopted the school budget for the 1972-73 school year, and set the tax rate for the year.

The tax rate was set at $1.50 per $100 valuation, based on 65 percent of 100 percent value according to the 1967 valuation program. This represents no change from the previous year in the rate, but there is a change in assignment of tax funds: $1.35 is earmarked for maintenance and $1.15 for debt service. Interest and sinking fund for the next fiscal year is less than for the previous year, because the last bond and interest payment will be made Dec. 1, 1972. After that date, there will be no bonded indebtedness.

Total revenue for the year is expected to be $681,501.00, with $305,193.00 from local sources ($225.00 County Available) and $376,308.00 from State sources.

Federal funds are not included in the regular budget because these funds are already earmarked for specific purposes and handled accordingly. Present indications are that $33,120 will be received in ESEA, Title I funds, but these figures could be changed periodically.

Largest item in the disbursements column is instruction, budgeted at $500,175.00, including all items such as salaries, library and audio visual materials, teaching supplies, etc.

Pupil transportation—salaries, replacement of vehicles, insurance, operation and maintenance—is budgeted at $30,759.00.

Operation of the school plant is budgeted at $48,792.00, and maintenance—contracted services, replacement of equipment, etc., at $5,600.00.

Total disbursement used for computing per pupil cost is $635,419.00.

Debt service will require $40,625.00, and capital outlay $12,200.00.

Tax information: Total oil valuation is $5,766,000.00, with a potential at $1.50 at 65 percent (tax rate) of $86,490.00, and estimated 95 percent collection, $82,165.50. Oil valuation continues to drop each year, it was pointed out.

Total local valuation is increased from $15,355,140.00 last year to $15,459,880 for 1972. Potential revenue at $1.50, at 65 percent, is $231,898.20, with estimated collection at 95 percent. Taxes are due from October 1 to January 31 with a 1 percent discount allowed if paid during the month of October. Penalty and interest are charged after January 31 according to Texas School Law.

Final Sign-Up Set For Rural Water

September 30 has been set as the "absolute" final sign-up date for membership in the North Runnels Water Supply Corporation. After that date, no additional members will be taken, and if meter outlets are ordered after engineering plans are completed, or proposed construction is finished, a heavy premium payment over and above the initial membership fee will be required.

At a meeting Tuesday night, the board of directors of the recently-chartered non-profit corporation set the cut-off date so that engineers may begin final surveys and draw up specifications and plans for the proposed rural water distribution system. The board stressed that without a final sign-up date, it would be impossible for engineers to complete mapping of locations of distribution and feeder lines. Previous deadline dates had been set, they explained, to allow preliminary surveys to be made to determine feasibility of the proposed project.

North Runnels Water Supply Corporation proposes to obtain long-term loans from the Farmers Home Administration, along with Federal grants, to build and maintain a water distribution system throughout most of rural North Runnels County, from the Colorado River north, and extending a short distance into South Taylor County.

A charter of incorporation has been received, dating from July 18, 1972, and a corporate board of directors has been named. Also, applications have already been submitted for the loan and grants. Tommy Hill, representative of the FHA, said Tuesday night that applications should be reviewed this month.

There are now 408 members—stockholders—in the non-profit corporation, and the board has set a goal of 500 before the cut-off date.

C. T. Parker, Runnels County agriculture agent, who has been working with the board, and who helped to spearhead organization of the corporation, said Tuesday night that the map of the area to be covered by the proposed system has been completed, showing location of all outlets. He said outlets which are added during the last membership drive to September 30 will be shown on the map so that engineers will have a complete picture of the system.

Cong. O. C. Fisher Visited Winters This Week

Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo visited Winters Tuesday. He is visiting over his district during a Congressional recess.

"I'm delighted that Runnels County has been returned to our 21st District after being out for six years," the Congressman said. "To me it's a lot like welcoming some of you folks back home after an extended absence."

A native of Kimble County, the Congressman was County Attorney, State Representative, and District Attorney in San Angelo before being elected to the Congress. There he has specialized in agriculture, including wool, mohair, livestock, soil and water conservation, and related matters. In Congress, he was chief sponsor of the screwworm eradication program.

Winters Blizzards, after a couple of years' action in a district spread from Runnels County to Hamilton County, have returned to the immediate Abilene area, to District 6-AA, which has been described by the Harris Rating System as "Extremely strong," and "year in and year out District is toughest in AA."

The Blizzards' district-mates again will include Haskell, Stamford, Ballinger, Hamlin and Anson, teams which Winters squads have tangled with for many years in the past.

Coach Chili Black reports 13 lettermen returning during pre-season training, but with only four starting offensive returnees and four starting defensive returnees.

The squad has looked good in "shorts" workouts during the past several days, Coach Black said, but were slowed down when they donned pads under the hot summer sun. Although the fact of 13 returning lettermen increases the potential of the team, the coach said he expects to reach into the sophomore ranks for help. Junior class representation is thin, he said.

The coach said a big asset for the Blizzards this year, who are rated in fourth position by the Harris System, is good attitude and leadership among the senior members of the squad. These boys will help to instill a strong competitive spirit among the younger players, he said.

The coaching staff this year will include Coach Black, head coach, who will instruct the backfield; Waco Reynolds, line coach; C. A. Milam, junior varsity; Randall Causey, freshman coach; and Bill Cathey, new to the coaching staff, who will coach the 8th grade team. All coaches are working with the varsity squads now, but will take over assigned responsibilities once the season gets underway. Milam, Causey and Cathey will also serve as scouts.

There are 52 candidates for the varsity squad, which will be trimmed to a permanent traveling varsity team of 28 as the season gains momentum, Coach Black said. Overall school participation in football is the largest in some years, he said, including the 8th grade, the freshmen, and the junior varsity groups. There are 27 out for the 8th grade lineup; 27 out for the freshman team; and the 52 who will make up the junior varsity and varsity squads.

RETURNING LETTERMEN
Returning lettermen, and positions they played last year, include:
Rex Pritchard, 130, QB
Oscar Torres, 148, QB
Luther Smith, 207, T
Kirk McCuiston, 146, E
Wayne Schwartz, 171, G
Lee Choate, 188, HB
Scott King, 144, E
Ricky Mathis, 168, G
Barry Marks, 159, C
Rodney Richards, 184, T
Jerry Jackson, 170, HB
Fred DeLaCruz, 165, FB
Glenn Hoppe, 170, T
Coach Black said only one returning starter will be available for the offensive line, namely Wayne Schwartz, who played tackle last year but will be moved to guard this season. Other offensive starting returnees are Lee Choate, HB; Jerry Jackson, HB; and Fred DeLaCruz, FB. However, the coach said, there are some good line candidates coming up the ladder.

Returning defensive starters include Jerry Jackson, who will play the monster position; Oscar Torres, safety (all areas); Wayne Schwartz, linebacker, who was on the second all-district team last year; and Ricky Mathis, HB, moved to linebacker.

PRE-SEASON RATINGS
The Harris Rating System has slotted the Winters Blizzards at No. 4 in 6-AA for 1972, below Haskell, Stamford and Ballinger, in that order, and above Hamlin and Anson. District outlook for 6-AA, according to the Rating, says that Haskell and Stamford "will put on quite a show to see who wins. An Oscar is at stake, so look for these two teams' performances to be outstanding." But... "Winters could be a darkhorse!" Ballinger and Hamlin both improved teams, and Anson down.

Winters had a 7-3 record for last year, and "the Blizzards have blinding speed and should eclipse last season. '72 edition has more quickness and balance. Team could be underrated," says the Harris Rating System.

Other District 6-AA teams and last year's records are: Haskell, 7-3; Stamford, 7-3-1; Ballinger, 4-6; Hamlin, 1-9; Anson, 5-5.

Your Social Security

People covered by Medicare can assure faster payment of their medical insurance claims if they make sure their correct claim number is on the form, according to J. M. Talbot, social security manager. Use of the wrong claim number or omission of the number entirely, is responsible for one of every three delays in the payment of medical insurance claims, he said.

"Your health insurance claim number identifies your claim when you request Medicare payment on bills for medical services," Mr. Talbot said. "If you put a wrong number—or don't enter a number—on a 'Request for Medicare Payment' form, a search for your correct number is necessary. The search can delay your payments."

The health insurance claim number appears on the card issued to everyone covered by Medicare. Mr. Talbot noted. It has nine digits and a symbol.

Pallbearers were Walter Kraatz, Mike Salge, Randy Salge, Billy Jonas, Vernon Jonas, Ricky Grissom, J. B. Grenwelge and Robert Kraatz.

NOTICE TO VOTERS

The Write-in-Vote I am seeking, to me, does not create an unfairness anymore since the Supreme Court Judge ruled the "Filing of Fees" unconstitutional and thereby, doing away with same. The $100 was paid for names in the printed on the Ballot in the May Primary and in the Runoff! My name did not appear on these ballots and since there is also no filing fee in the General Election, I fail to see where I could be taking unfair advantage in any way with a Write-in-Campaign.

PENSION AND PROFIT SHARING FUNDS
Wellesley Hills, Mass. — The growth of pension funds and profit sharing plans over the past two decades has been dynamic. This applies to the number of programs initiated, the size of benefit payments, and the dollar volume of capital contributed to these accounts to cover each employe eligible to participate. And the numbers bulk even larger with the Keogh Plan-type programs utilized by small businesses and professional enterprises operating as individual proprietorships or partnerships.

GENERATOR OF INVESTMENT CAPITAL

Monies paid into pension funds and profit sharing accounts that exceed current disbursements of benefits became capital which is fed into the economy in one way or another. Directly or indirectly, such surplus monies are eventually invested in bonds and stocks, and in mortgages. This is true even when the funds are kept in bank deposits, certificates of deposit, or any other highly liquid form of investment. The generation of capital needed as part of the nation's economic growth also occurs when pension funds and profit sharing plans utilize either mutual funds or insurance companies as vehicles for putting this surplus capital to work.

How much is at stake may be gathered from statistics on insurance-based plans issued by the Institute of Life Insurance. At the end of 1971, according to this source, there were nearly 335,000 such plans in force, with reserves for benefit payments amounting to $46.35 billion for about 11½ million persons covered. It is evident that the hopes for security in the future for an increasingly large segment of the nation's populace lie in pension funds and profit sharing plans. Hence, arguments regarding the integrity of the American dollar and the climate needed to foster private capital investments are not simply topics for debate during a time when political elections rank high in the thoughts of young, middle-aged, and senior citizens alike.

INCREASING PROTECTIVE LEGISLATION
Pension programs have become an economic factor of such magnitude that Congress has been probing various legislative proposals designed to protect those eligible for such fringe benefits. While much emphasis has been placed on the "vested interest" facet of this important subject, realistic guidelines for proper investment of pension fund monies are also being studied — with rumblings in favor growing louder in a number of state legislatures.

Some of you who regularly follow this column are undoubtedly entrusted with the duty of formulating, or approving, investment policies and actions in connection with such fiduciary funds, either individually or as part of a committee. The Research Department of Babson's Reports feels that the trend of legislative action clearly renders inappropriate—and probably illegal in the future—the penny-pinching tactic of "going it alone" to avoid the cost of investment guidance. Those with such responsibility should, therefore, take steps to secure independent and experienced assistance in investment counseling, in the essentials of properly employing fiduciary monies.

WHAT ABOUT THE PRESENT
Even though the stock market may appear rather high at the present time when viewed against the popular economic barometers, the investment credibility gap of the past year or so has left many good stocks at what may yet prove to be bargain prices. Also, many top-notch bonds are available at rewarding yields. Thus, investment conditions are still favorable for the inauguration of pension funds or profit sharing plans, or for satisfactory augmentation of any such fringe benefit programs already in operation.

Mrs. Bill Davis Died Wednesday In Galveston

Mrs. Bill Davis, 51, of Mission, formerly of Winters, died at 4 p. m. Wednesday of last week in John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, of burns she received in an explosion at her home in Mission several days ago. Her husband also was severely burned, and was transferred from Galveston to a Mission hospital.

They were cleaning an air conditioner and the cleaner they were using exploded.

Funeral services were held at the Mission Church of Christ Sunday afternoon, with burial at Mission.

Mrs. Davis was born Vandeen Henry, Sept. 28, 1920, in Mills County. In August, 1925, the family moved to Runnels County, settling on a farm east of Winters. She attended school at Bradshaw.

She married Bill Davis in 1937 at Winters. Following their marriage they lived in the Drasco community and for the past 25 years had been living in the Valley.

She is survived by her husband; three sons, James W. and Tommie, both of Mission; and Robert, and employee of an oil company in Ireland; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Henry of Winters; a brother, Hamilton Henry of Abilene; two sisters, Mrs. Bartaen Hamilton of Fort Worth and Mrs. Nelda Allen of San Antonio; and two grandchildren.

Austin.—For the first time in three years, the number of Texas families with dependent children on welfare rolls declined last month.

There are 1,555 fewer AFDC recipients than a month before, the State Department of Public Welfare reported.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond W. Vowell attributed the reversal to a number of factors, including tighter controls on AFDC program eligibility, vocational training and expanded day care programs to help mothers get to work.

The decline was the first in AFDC caseload since July 1969. Dropoff was from 447,967 recipients to 446,412.

A steady increase in recent years has been attributed to liberalized eligibility standards as ordered by federal courts and altered federal regulations. In late 1970 and early 1971, AFDC rolls swelled at a rate of 10,000 to 12,000 recipients a month. Growth slowed significantly in recent months.

Vowell directed caseworkers to return to the practice of holding personal interviews with A. F. D. C. applicants and recipients, verifying income, child support, domicile, household composition, and other factors affecting eligibility and the amount of assistance granted.

A massive recertification effort also has been ordered by which AFDC cases are being checked individually to determine whether a family situation has changed so as to affect the monthly assistance payment. A new policy also has been instituted requiring applicants to provide documentary evidence of child eligibility by birth or baptismal certificate or hospital record.

Fraud detection efforts have been stepped up, and 130 of 205 suspected cases have been referred to local prosecutors or grand juries.

PWD REORGANIZED

A far-reaching reshuffling of Parks and Wildlife Department divisions was ordered by new Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison.

Garrison named six new directors to head statewide divisions under a new structure. The new directors are James E. Dickinson, 30, finance; Stetson G. Reed, 39, law enforcement; Robert J. Kemp Jr., fish and wildlife; Paul E. Schlimper, 32, parks; Clayton G. Rutledge, 38, engineering; and Bobby E. Bradley, 37, administration. Richard A. McCune will remain as director of information and education.

Garrison said the reorganization is a "move to get back to the basic responsibilities of the department." Each of the six new divisions will be the headquarters unit for administration of all field activities. PWD personnel will report to appropriate directors and divisions in Austin.

Rural Water--

Initial sign-up fee is $100 per meter or member. No further assessment or charge is proposed, except for monthly water payments, once the system is in operation, the board said. Money collected in membership fees is being deposited in The Security State Bank of Wingate, in a savings account or invested in certificates of deposit. In the event the distribution system is not built, or for some reason some who are signed up are not included on the system, total fees will be refunded, the board said.

In launching the final membership drive, the board of directors pointed out that the corporation will build distribution lines to private property lines; property owners will be responsible for service lines from meters to outlets. The board is also exploring the possibility of obtaining approval for an ASC cost-share program so landowners can receive some assistance in building their private feeder lines.

All landowners in the area to be included in the proposed system are urged by the board to sign up during the final drive, if they have not already done so. Membership will be closed after September 30, they reminded. Prospective members may contact any of the board of directors, or may sign up with the Runnels County agriculture agent.

Members of the board, named at a recent membership meeting, are: LaDell Davis, president; Sam Faubion, vice president; Morris Robinson, secretary-treasurer; E. F. (Slim) Albro, Bill Walker, Audra L. Mitchell, Joe Vancil, Clyde Flannigan, and Leon Frerich.

Sub Deb Club Meeting Monday

The Sub Deb Club met Monday, August 21, with Cathy Schwartz serving as hostess. A Labor Day dance was discussed. Members present were Brenda Blackerby, Lea Mostad, Jessie Waldrop, Lou Ann Cole, Gayla Springer, Carla Brown, Landa Walker, Cheryl Whitlow, Kathy Hope, Dorie Miller, Tanva Whitlow, Lisenell Brown, Mary Lynn Bedford, Kim Miles, Doris Waldrop, Cindy Seals and Debra Kruse.

Band Boosters Plan For New School Year

The Blizzard Band Boosters organization has set the second Tuesday of each month as a regular meeting time, and is making plans for a full schedule of work during the 1972-73 school year.

Regular meetings will be held in the Band Hall at 7:30 each time, Mrs. Charlotte Davis, president of the organization, announced.

The Boosters president said the organization plans to begin work immediately on special projects, and will start with a membership drive this week. All band members will be soliciting members beginning this week, she said. Membership dues are $3.00.

Plans for operation of the concession stand at the football stadium are being made. Mrs. Joe Roberts is concession stand chairman, and Mrs. Paul Gerhart and Mrs. Robert Carey are stand buyers.

Other officers of the Band Boosters are Mrs. Bobby Rogers, vice president; Mrs. Douglas Cole, secretary; Mrs. Dennis Rogers, treasurer; and Mrs. Earnest Brown, reporter.

Mrs. Davis also said the Band Boosters will again sell stadium seat cushions this year. The cushions have been donated to the organization by Higginbotham Bros., and will be sold by the Boosters. The cushions are for sale and not for rent, she said.

Mrs. Davis explained that the Band Boosters provide extra funds for the band for participation in band festivals, special trips and events, banquets. In addition, the organization purchases permanent equipment to be used to benefit the entire school band program, including the elementary bands, junior high band, and the high school band. They also buy high school and junior high school banners, junior high band jackets, and awards for all bands.

The Band Boosters do not normally buy band instruments; however, special instruments such as chimes, are purchased when the need arises.

Mrs. Davis urged all parents of band members to take part in the work of the Band Boosters, along with all others who are interested in the band organizations of the Winters schools.

CANDIDATES FILE

Three candidates have filed for a vacant state representative seat in South Texas district 46, place 3—Brooks, Cameron, Kennedy and Willacy counties.

Candidates in the special election September 16 are Dr. Martin Garcia of Raymondville, Neal Clark Jr. of Cameron County, and Claude Carter of Harlingen.

Rep. J. A. Garcia Jr. of Raymondville resigned his House seat in the district July 31. Deadline for filing was last Wednesday.

PAY RAISES SOUGHT

Gov. Preston Smith and Sen. John Tower are pressing the federal pay board to approve 6.8 per cent pay raises for state employees September 1 as voted by the legislature.

The pay board voted to retain a 5.5 per cent ceiling on raises, but Smith and Tower claim an exemption for the 67,000 state employees under the "catch-up" provision.

GOATS TO RUSSIA

Eighteen hundred Texas Angora goats are being airlifted to Russia September 1 to help upgrade the mohair industry in the Soviet Union.

A three-man Russian team bought the goats in the Brady area where 700 others were sold to Russia in 1936. Sale was handled through federal agencies, the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Russian Embassy.

SHORT SNORTS

Sen. George McGovern and Sargent Shriver visited the LBJ Ranch Tuesday to talk politics with former President Lyndon Johnson who earlier endorsed their candidacies for president and vice-president.

Parks and Wildlife Commission approved funds for rehabilitation of the 30-mile Texas Railroad in East Texas as a tourist attraction.

Texas firm representatives are attending a two week trade mission to Brazil.

Debbie Estep and Richard Bullard Were Married Here Last Friday

Debbie Estep and Charles Richard Bullard were married in a double-ring ceremony, Friday, August 18, in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Ray Heathcott.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ermon Estep of Menard. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Bullard of Winters.

The bride wore a long white empire voile dress with pink ribbon around the bodice, with pink and blue roses.

A reception was held following the ceremony.

The bridegroom is associated with his father in the carpentering and painting business.

The couple will live at 506 I-2 Lamar.

Agriculture Commissioner J. C. White warned early destruction of cotton stalks in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is necessary to fight the pink bollworm menace.

1973 CHEVY PICKUP — The 1973 Chevrolet Fleetside Cheyenne Super pickup, completely restyled and with extensive chassis redesign. The new pickup line features many improvements in appearance, durability and comfort for both commercial and personal transport.

Chevrolet's 1973 Light-Duty Truck Embodies Most Extensive Redesign

Chevrolet's 1973 light duty truck line embodies the most extensive redesign in the division's history. It combines a high degree of styling and comfort appeal, along with significant changes in the power train and suspension for much better ride and handling. Roger (Spec) Robinson of Waddell Chevrolet Co., said this week.

Also new are six-passenger crew cab models and a dual rear wheel option for Fleetside trucks with either regular or crew cab.

"Light trucks have taken on a new dual personality — one that retains the traditional values of dependable utility for commercial use along with new dimensions of style, comfort, convenience and pleasure for personal transportation," John Z. DeLorean, Chevrolet general manager, said in announcing the new truck line.

"Meeting this broad range of user demands has been the most challenging part of our 1973 product program, which began in 1969. We are confident that we have met our objective of the best of both worlds for commercial and personal use truck owners," DeLorean said.

The light duty regular cab line is completely restyled, including the pickup box. Redesigned, quieter cabs feature curved side windows, a new powered flow-through ventilation system, greater glass area for improved visibility, and more interior room. The highly styled interiors include a modern cockpit style instrument panel, with instruments easily serviced from the front.

For conventional pickups, cab chassis, two-wheel drive Blazers, and Suburbans, the chassis is also completely new with leaf spring rear suspensions and a

Four From Winters Receive Associate Nursing Degrees

Four students in Angelo State University, from Winters, received associate of science degrees in nursing, August 18 in San Angelo.

They will be eligible to take state examinations in October to become registered nurses.

Receiving associate degrees were Sue Hoppe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoppe; Mrs. Shelih Starnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krantz; Donna Thomason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thomason; and Jim Shook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Shook of Winters.

Farmers, Ranchers Still Stand Tall In Eyes of Cityfolk, Says Report

Cityfolk (of the Dallas metropolitan area) still think highly of farmers and ranchers, according to findings of a public opinion survey made public in Austin during a recent meeting of county Farm Bureau presidents.

The survey was made at the request of the Texas Farm Bureau. The State organization had wondered if an "image building" public advertising campaign should be conducted. Following release of the opinion survey report in Austin, the Farm Bureau was convinced there was no sense in spending money to try to improve the image of the state's farmers and ranchers. They are held in high esteem by the cityfolk, it was stated, perhaps more than they believe.

The Farmer-Rancher Image Study was conducted by Management Advisory Associates, a Dallas firm headed by Dr.

James Makens, a member of the University of Dallas faculty.

According to an article in The Dallas Morning News following release of the survey report, the survey found a "reservoir of good will" toward farmers and ranchers in urban centers.

Contrary to what might be expected, The News article said, in view of recently increasing food prices, the "farmer-rancher" is definitely not viewed as a major cause of inflation or as responsible for high food prices in the U. S. today. He is viewed, however, as believing that he is not getting his fair share of the purchase dollar.

The opinion research was conducted only in the Dallas metropolitan area, but Dr. Makens said he believed similar studies in other Texas metropolitan areas would reveal similar attitudes.

SUMMARY

A summary of the report stated:

The overall image of farmers and ranchers held by Dallas metropolitan residents was favorable. This was true for city and suburban residents, as well as for members of the minorities. (The survey included respondents selected from the City of Dallas, and the suburban areas of Irving, Grand Prairie, Mesquite, Richardson, Carrollton and Garland).

The farmer-rancher was believed to be politically conservative. Respondents tended to believe he was against welfare but did not know how he stood on the Vietnam war.

There were mixed feelings concerning the power of the farmer-rancher in state and national politics in general, but moderate agreement that he is powerful in the state of Texas.

In terms of ecological issues, he was viewed as being interested in conservation. The majority did not believe that the farmer-rancher uses insecticides without concern for wildlife.

The farmer-rancher is viewed as being opposed to welfare but not as a person who is unfair or against migrant workers.

The personal life of the farmer-rancher was also viewed in a favorable light. He was thought of as being opposed to divorce and as having better church attendance than others.

He was not viewed as being self-centered and interested in farm-ranch problems with no regard for the problems of the cities. However, respondents did feel that farmers and ranchers believe city dwellers are unaware of and uninterested in farm-ranch problems.

The farmer-rancher is definitely not viewed as a major cause of inflation or as responsible for high food prices in the U. S. today. He is viewed, however, as believing that he is not getting his fair share of the purchase dollar.

The opinion was that farmers and ranchers are not living off the American taxpayer. Respondents also expressed mixed feelings tending overall toward neutrality on the issue of whether or not farmers and ranchers receive large subsidies. In addition, it was somewhat felt that the farmer-rancher believes subsidies to be necessary but ineffective in serving their purpose.

Farmers and ranchers were generally not viewed as having high annual incomes or as being in better or worse shape financially than the respondents.

With respect to organization and size, the farmer-rancher was not considered to be an employee of a big corporation or highly dependent upon them. Nevertheless, there was fairly general agreement that the farmer-rancher is highly mechanized in his farm-ranch operations.

In terms of efficiency, he was viewed as being efficient by a majority of the respondents. Comparative efficiency ratings revealed that the farmer-rancher is considered to be more efficient than auto workers, brick layers, fellow workers of the respondents, office workers, construction workers and general factory workers. Only accountants and engineers were rated higher than farmers and ranchers.

Respondents did not view Texas farmers and ranchers to be different from U. S. farmers and ranchers on any significant image dimension. Differences were noted primarily in terms of climate, geographic location and size.

Eighty percent of the total respondents indicated they felt that the farmer-rancher is politically conservative.

House and Senate members spent more than $1.9 million in expense funds allocated to them during the last fiscal year, according to a new state auditor's report.

Tow Boats and Tow Lines
Nearly every boatsman has, at one time or another during his experience on the water, towed in a crippled craft or been aboard one being towed.
Natural inclination, especially if the towed boat is a runabout or smaller, is to tie to the towing craft with a simple line. This means that more likely than not the crippled one will turn one way, then the other, and follow a crooked course.
One way to help prevent the yaw is to rig a bridle from the quarter cleats of the lead boat, then tie the towline from the center of the bridle to the bow of the towed vessel.
Further steadiness can be achieved if someone remains aboard the towed boat and helps to keep control by steering the vessel along the proper course.
A nylon towrope is preferred to manila since it will stretch and absorb some of the sudden tugs.
If there are big waves and swells it helps to adjust the line so that both boats are in the trough and on the crest at the same time. This avoids the sharp strains that could snap the line.
Wrap towels around the tow line wherever the line might touch the tow boat—to protect the finish.
Keep Camera Film Cool
In hot weather the outdoorsmen who like to picture their catch face a big problem with their film and flashgun batteries, especially the former.
Film must be kept away from heat—be it new, old, or exposed film. Hot film ages fast and soon becomes ruined beyond use.
Never leave film or cameras

Slide a foot-long 2x4 or 1x6 piece of wood under each tire to keep the rubber off the ground. If wood isn't available, then substitute a concrete block.
Lightweight trailers with the tilt frame can be stored Teepee style and both tires will be suspended for even better preservation. That, of course, when the boat is not on the trailer.
Usually the insulation built into the ice box suffices to protect the film from heat. But during the hottest part of the summer some camera enthusiasts drop a bit of dry ice inside the box. Store for dry cell batteries, as they are not in use. This also protects the camera from physical damage.
Preservation is the order of the day and this little tip can do just that.

"Silent Running"
A unique action-packed space adventure which deals with man's relationship with machines, with nature and with himself in the face of total isolation, serves as the basis for "Silent Running," a Universal release in Technicolor, which shows Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the State Theatre. A Michael Gruskoff — Douglas Trumbull production, it stars Bruce Dern and features Cliff Potts, Ron Rifkin, Jesse Vint and The Drones.
Written by Deric Washburn & Mike Cimino and Steve Bochco, and directed by Trumbull with Gruskoff producing, "Silent Running" tells the story of one man's effort — against human and mechanical obstructions, to preserve on a huge space freighter, the only botanical specimens extant from Earth, where all vegetation has died, until Earth's polluted environment can once again support refloation.
Much of the picture takes place on the space freighter "Valley Forge," and the scenes actually were shot on the decommissioned U. S. aircraft carrier of the same name. Trumbull found the ship, waiting to be cut up for scrap, had the work-a-day look he wanted for his space freighter. Close-ups of the forests and gardens under the huge geodesic dome were photographed in an airplane hangar where an actual growing forest was constructed and kept alive and green with a newly discovered type of electric lights.

Joan Baez, noted rock singer, sings the original songs "Rejoice in the Sun," and "Silent Running" from the haunting musical score composed and conducted by Peter Schickel. The sound track album has been put out by Decca.
"Silent Running" is rated "G" — All ages admitted.

NEW YORK (CEF)
Welcome once again to your favorite soap opera, "Search for Last Tuesday," the continuing saga of a simple group of people who live in that unpretentious New York suburb, Washington, D.C.
As you'll remember, last time we learned that Martha and John were ending their brief but stormy separation, despite all the cards and letters you viewers sent in congratulating John.
However, as so often happens, no sooner had one heart-rending crisis ended than another sprang up. The high-strung Richard flared up again and rumors said he was bitterly criticizing Pat for cooking too many Chinese dinners and vaguely hinting that it was because she still had not gotten over her crush on Chou, who made a special guest appearance a few episodes ago.
Meanwhile, we found out that the curious relationship between Richard and Spiro had taken a turn for the better, just when it appeared that Spiro was going to be written out of the program. This left Tex skulking suspiciously around the edges of the plot with his jowls drooping but he may be heard from again.
On the other side of town, a new couple, Eleanor and George, suddenly became the favorites of the season, which led the envious Muriel to whisper that Eleanor had had a smile permanently grafted onto her face by plastic surgery and Hubert to stomp off, muttering tearfully about wasting a lot of money on hair dye.
No sooner had George made his dramatic entrance onto the scene, however, than he, too, became involved in a terrible dilemma when his close associate, Tom, made some potentially embarrassing revelations about his past. George just stood, hands held tightly over his ears, saying, "It's all right, Tom," and looking plaintively at his longtime friend and platonic confidante, Shirley. As the episode ended, you'll recall, Tom was starting to say, "Another thing, George, about those arrests..."
For those of you masochistic enough to want to see even more suffering, there was a sudden visit from the much-admired Frank, anguished by the fact that he had been getting abuse when he wasn't even on the show.
Frank's appearance, brief as it was, won him the sympathy of all the women in town, which created a surprising reaction from the usually circumspect Henry, who when last seen was walking the streets calling out mournfully, "Achtung! Girls! It's me, Henrykins. Where are you? Sally? Jill? Ali? Zasu?"
And then... But, wait, it looks as if, as so often happens, we have spent so much time recapping yesterday's episode that we won't have any time for today's.

Mrs. P. C. Davis Died Wednesday In Ballinger

Mrs. P. C. Davis, Sr., 81, died in Ballinger Memorial Hospital at 10:30 p. m. Wednesday following an illness of several months.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Saturday at Main Street Church of Christ, with Mr. Paul Wallace, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Northview Cemetery under the direction of Spill Funeral Home.

She was born Mary Jane Czarley, Oct. 12, 1890, in Denton County near Sanger. At the age of 16, in 1906, she married Ollie Nance, who died a year later. In 1910 she married P. C. Davis at Denton. The family lived in the Denton area until 1914 when they moved to Coleman County. In 1918, they moved to Runnels County, settling in the Drasco community, where they lived until Mr. Davis' death in 1943. Mrs. Davis moved to Winters after the death of her husband, and has lived here since.

She had been a member of the Main Street Church of Christ for a number of years.

Survivors are five sons, P. C. Davis Jr., and L. C. Davis, both of Odessa; Jay B. Davis of Abilene, John Davis of Ballinger, and Bill Davis of Mission; five daughters, Mrs. Guy McGaugh of Morton, Mrs. E. E. MRS. ROLAND HOWARD FINCH

Ronda Ann Hutton, Roland Howard Finch Married In Ballinger Church

Ronda Ann Hutton and Roland Howard Finch were married Saturday, August 19, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening in the Seventh Street Church of Christ in Ballinger.

Mr. Roddy Hamilton, Church of Christ minister, officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Hutton of Route 2, Norton. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Finch of Sweetwater.

The church was decorated with a lace-laid table with a large candle in the center and two small candles on either side. An arch entwined with Lilies of the Valley, flanked by a basket of gladiolas on each side was at the altar.

Roddy and Katrene Hamilton sang "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Twelfth of Never."

Ronald Hutton of Norton was candlelighter, and Missy Bloomer of Ballinger was flower girl. Ring bearers were Tony and Terry Hamilton of Midland. Best man was Ronnie Parsons of Sweetwater, and groomsmen were Mike Ensminger of McIntosh, N. M., and Wayne Haygood of Sweetwater. Ushers were Ronald Hutton of Norton and Lowell Bloomer of Lohn.

Dianne Hutton of Norton was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Bryan of Winters and Ernestina DeLaCruz of Winters.

The bride's attendants wore gowns of orchid double knit with lace-covered empire waists, and short puffed sleeves and purple sashes. They carried white gladiolas with long purple streamers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of shadalon over pea de soie with lace appliques on the bodice, sleeves and around the skirt. Her train was built in from the empire waistline and of material identical to the dress with lace appliques.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the First National Bank Community Room, hosted by the bride's parents, Katrine and Bonnie

"As it looks from here"
OMAR BURLESON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C.—When plain old common sense prevails in the Congress, it's something to write home about. This occurred a few days ago when both the House of Representatives and the Senate rejected a Section in the Foreign Assistance Act of 1972 which would have re-imposed an embargo on chrome ore from Rhodesia.

A brief review of the history of sanctions against Rhodesia may be helpful. (The original policy of our Government was discussed in this space on May 22, 1969.)

In 1965 Rhodesia declared itself independent of Great Britain's colonial control. England requested the United Nations to impose economic sanctions against its former colony. A resolution to this effect was adopted in the U. N. in 1966.

By executive order, President Johnson, in early 1967, committed the United States to abide by the U. N. action. All trade between our Government and Rhodesia came to a halt.

Since Rhodesia furnished practically all chrome to us, we had to turn to the next largest source of supply, the Soviet Union.

As we became increasingly dependent on Russian ore, the price rose to over 200 percent—from $27 per ton paid Rhodesia to $80 per ton.

In October of last year the Congress adopted an amendment to the Military Procurement Bill which lifted the embargo on Rhodesian chromium. The Act became effective on January 1st of this year.

In May of this year an effort was made in the U. S. Senate by those who favor the embargo to reimpose sanctions but it was defeated. The House has now acted likewise.

Following the lifting of the embargo in January of this year Russia's chromium prices dropped to an average of $55 from $80 per ton, as a result of breaking the Soviet's monopoly, which we ourselves helped create.

In the meantime, a number of other industrial nations ignored the action of the United Nations and continued to purchase chromium from Rhodesia. Japan, Germany, France and Italy bought chrome ore at prices less than half of that which our producers were forced to pay to the Russians. It also gave these nations a further advantage over the U. S. in that the consumers in this country were paying a higher price for stainless steel products of all sorts. (Chrome is a necessary ingredient for all steel products.) The inflated Russian price of chrome is estimated to have cost American steelmakers over $20 million annually more than they would have spent had they been allowed to purchase at world market prices. These costs are necessarily reflected in the price of U. S.-made steel products but not added to foreign produced goods of the same kind. Chromium is also classed as a strategic material and since 1939 has been designated for stockpiling for use in our national defense. All this at a time when we were supposed to be fighting inflation. In addition, such an action contributes to our deficits in the balance of payments.

Not only has Russia exploited her position as a prime supplier but our dependence on the Soviet Union for this critical material creates an adverse effect on our national defense needs.

The embargo on Rhodesian chromium has served the interest of no one except Russia and foreign steel producers.

On May 22, 1969, this column gave the real reason for our complying with the sanctions placed against Rhodesia by the United Nations Resolution. Would anyone suppose that many of the nations which supported this action did so out of any love for Great Britain and its colonial policies? The real reason for the embargo was because of Rhodesia's racial policies, known as apartheid, meaning "separate" or "apart" of the races.

Hamilton, Sue Baize and Debra Lambard were in the house party. The bride's table was laid with lace over orchid and decorated with white gladiolas. Mrs. Lonnie Hennington registered guests.

The bride attended Winters High School, and will be a senior at Sweetwater High School this fall.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Divide High School, and is assistant manager of Munden Discount Center, Sweetwater.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will be at home at 1110 James, Sweetwater.

the Winters Community Center, is an important one. The board of directors have worked long and hard—sometimes without seeming to accomplish much—and now it is up to the people of the district to show their interest, and to provide their backing. What the State Board hears and sees and reads on September 12, in the way of evidence of losses because of floods, evidence of need for water and soil conservation, and need for additional water supplies, and in the way of enthusiasm and interest on the part of the local population, will practically determine the course for the future.

As was pointed out at a planning meeting last week, in preparation for the public hearing, this probably will be the last chance for action. . . if we don't show our interest and need this time, the district will die a natural death, and will not be revived—at least in the foreseeable future.

Finally, the board of directors of Elm Creek Water Control District is asking the population of the district to help them convince the State Board that there is a dire need for the project. . . and that there is a local desire to put it over.

CARD OF THANKS

Our heartfelt thanks to all who extended comforting sympathy and help in our recent sorrow. We are deeply grateful for the beautiful service, floral offerings, and other kindnesses, and especially to the ladies of the St. John's Lutheran Church who served dinner and the Lutheran Church choir. —The Family of Mrs. Lottie Salge.

Debrah Dee Wright, Jerry W. Lucas Married In Hico Saturday Evening

Miss Debrah Dee Wright and Mr. Jerry Wayne Lucas were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony Saturday, August 19, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church in Hico.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wright of Hico, formerly of Winters.

Minister Eddie Malphus of Hico performed the ceremony beneath an archway covered with foliage and banked greenery. The altar was decorated with baskets of yellow gladiolas and greenery, and candelabra holding yellow lighted tapers and a white satin prayer bench.

Miss Dana Roberson, organist, played prelude music and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of scalloped acetate-nylon Chantilly lace forming a plastron redingote effect on crescent waistline gown. The oval neckline was encircled with pearls. Her full cathedral veil of illusion was edged with Chantilly lace. She wore a pearl necklace belonging to an aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Martin of San Angelo, which had previously been worn by several members of the bride's mother's family. The bride carried a white Bible trimmed in gold covered with a bouquet of yellow roses and white daisies. As she approached the altar, she presented her mother a yellow rose from her bouquet and during the recessional she gave a yellow rose to the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Debbie Henderson of Hico was matron of honor and Misses Charlotte Meek and Cindy Braune of Hico were bridesmaids. The attendants wore A-line formal dresses of designed dotted-Swiss, and wore wide-rim hats to match. They carried bouquets of white daisies.

Best man was Gary Shedd of Dumas, a cousin the bridegroom. Groomsman were Floyd Lucas of Seuin, brother of the bridegroom, and Mack Phipps of Stephenville, brother-in-law of the bride, and Don Lucas of Irving, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers. Candlelighters were Miss Brenda Lucas of Hico, sister of the bridegroom, and Ricky Lucas of Hico, brother of the bridegroom. Miss Glenda Weedham of Hico registered guests.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall, hosted by members of the bride's family. The bride's table, covered with white cloth, with yellow ruffled illusion circling floor length, held the four-tiered wedding cake, trimmed in yellow roses and white ornaments, with bride and groom top. The centerpiece was of yellow daisies flocked on a silver candelabra with white candles. Presiding at the bride's table was Mrs. Eugene Starnes, sister of the bride, Mrs. Marvin Payne, Mrs. Tommy Pierce and Mrs. Mack Phipps.

The bridegroom's table, covered with yellow cloth with floor length yellow ruffled illusion, had silver attire with the fruit bowl, coffee and German chocolate cake shaped in two rings joined by yellow roses. Presiding at the bridegroom's table were Mrs. Mike Lucas, Mrs. Larry Lucas, Mrs. Chuck Bowden, and Mrs. Floyd Lucas.

The ricetable, covered with white cloth, held a bowl of yellow rice, encircled with small rice bags, which were prepared by the bride's attendants, and white candles.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Hico High School. The bridegroom, a 1967 graduate of Seuin High School, is presently employed at the Dallas Disposal System in Dallas.

After a wedding trip to Lake Texoma, Okla., the couple will be at home in Irving.

for submarines, to update our lagging Naval forces, and concurrently halting practically all Naval force levels.

(5) Reducing our aircraft carrier from 15 to 6.

(6) Stripping from the National Guard its national defense mission and molding it into a domestic militia.

(7) Cancelling the essential F-14 and F-15 tactical aircraft development and procurement programs, and replacing with "studies."

(8) Reducing our active land strength forces by 4 divisions.

(9) Although funding for Soviet military research and development (for new and improved weapons) already exceeds ours, Senator McGovern would slash our R&D by an additional 35-40 percent—a backward step too shocking to contemplate, a definite drawdown in military technology.

(10) To achieve the McGovern defense cut would, according to DOD, require closure of about 500 military bases, and an estimated 30 percent firing of all civil service workers on military installations.

(During primary campaign McGovern told Californians he didn't plan any base closures there. This would probably mean even more cut-backs in other military training centers—like Texas).

The above concrete proposals and many others advocated by Senator McGovern, are in my view certainly not the way to "maintain military superior-ty," which he promises will be achieved. Furthermore, McGovern bases his military concept on a choice between all-out retaliation (nuclear) against population and industry—or no response at all. This concept sounds like give away now and beg later.

It is my considered judgment the Senator's plan would definitely—I mean definitely—make of the U. S. a 2nd rate military power, and eventually probably a 3rd or 4th rate power.

It should be kept in mind that while only the Congress can change laws on taxes, trade, welfare, etc., a President has power singlehandedly to cut the military as he may choose. He can simply refuse to spend any money appropriated for defense purposes.

In short, it is inconceivable that Senator McGovern's defense proposals, if adopted, would be anything but a disaster for the United States and the cause of peace.
