DR. CARROLL QUILTS HOWARD PAYNE

News has been received from Brownwood of the resignation of Dr. J. M. Carroll as president of the Howard Payne College. The resignation of Dr. Carroll came as a surprise to the Baptist and patrons of the college. The resignation takes effect on Nov. 15th.

Dr. Carroll in tendering his resignation says that under existing conditions brought about by the European War and the corresponding low price of cotton his resignation is made for the best interest of the college. Members of the board state that his work has been entirely satisfactory with the college, and that during the last few months Dr. Carroll has been instrumental in securing $50,000 in subscriptions to the college, and his plans were to raise another $50,000 this year, but the low price of cotton makes further work along this line unwise at this time.

Dr. Carroll will become a member of the Foreign Mission Board, and the trustees will probably make an effort to get him to accept the presidency of the college again at a later date. For the present the board will not elect a successor to Dr. Carroll, but the work will be in the hands of Dean Smith, who is familiar with the work.

7.30 COTTON TOPS MARKET SATURDAY

W. R. Brock, of Coke County, received the highest price paid for cotton in Ballinger Saturday, when U. P. Melton, of the Higdon-Melton-Jackson Co., purchased eight bales from Mr. Brock and his son-in-law, Mr. Gilbert, at 7:30.

The seven cent price is causing some farmers to turn loose their cotton more rapidly, while the majority are holding for the better market that they claim will come.

It is believed that the majority of the farmers will sell most of their cotton if the market goes to eight cents.

LYCEUM BILL MONDAY NIGHT FOR THE LIBRARY

For the benefit of the Carnegie Library, the first attraction of the lyceum course which is booked for Ballinger will appear Monday night, November 2, at the Carnegie Library auditorium. The attraction is Josef Konecny and Company, traveling under the direction of the famous Rice Bureau of Nashville, Tenn.

The Shakespeare ladies of Ballinger have brought the company to Ballinger at considerable trouble and expense and are today urging that a great number of tickets be sold for the evening. The receipts of the entertainment will go towards adding to the shelves of books of the library after the guarantee demanded by the company is paid for their appearance. Single tickets are 75c each. An attractive season pass is sold for a nominal sum, thus entitling the purchaser to each of the shows.

It is declared that the shelves of the library are far from being replete with the best books and every effort is being utilized by many of the ladies, especially those of the Shakespeare Club, and some gentlemen, for the proper stocking of the reading department of the institution.

The attraction which comes Monday night is composed of Josef Konecny, the famous violinist who has established a reputation known the world over; Mathra Stelzl, soprano, who comes of a musical family; and Mary Tris, pianiste, the famous pupil of the late William Sherwood.
