WILL CALL LEGISLATURE TO MEET DECEMBER 1ST

(By Associated Press)
FT. WORTH, Oct. 16.—A special session of the Texas legislature to meet about December 1st may be called by Speaker of the House Lee Satterwhite before he departs tomorrow from Fort Worth. Mr. Satterwhite is due to leave for Washington tomorrow where he goes to appear as a witness before the federal ways and means committee in favor of the abandonment of the federal inheritance tax.

Mr. Satterwhite stated today that he anticipated Governor Ferguson would call a special session before tomorrow, and he stated that in his opinion the governor would desire that the special session not only convene for the purpose of providing "legal means" for wiping out the foot and mouth disease, but that she would demand that in justice to her administration and her appointees, the special session investigate the rumors which are rife and which have so agitated the minds of the people.

THIEVES RAID ROOMING HOUSE

Two lodgers in a local rooming house claimed to have lost $33 Thursday night. According to the charges thieves visited the rooms after the guests had retired and rifled pockets, getting away with cash. The officers had the description of two suspicious characters, but no arrests were made.

There were a few cases of automobile tire lifting, parties losing their extras. Otherwise the fair season has passed off without disturbance.

CAPTURES 238 BOOZE SHIPS IN SEVEN MONTHS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, October 16.—Coast guardsmen of the "dry navy" have captured 238 sea-going vessels and approximately 400 prisoners since the concentration against rum running and smuggling started seven months ago.

This result has been obtained with the loss of four government ships and about three members of their crews. Making public these figures today the coast guard officials said that its captures of rum exceed in value ten million dollars.

$7000 DAMAGE IN KLAN CASE

(By Associated Press)
GEORGETOWN, Tex., Oct. 16.—Damages aggregating $7,000 were awarded R. W. Burleson by a jury here today in a case against Dr. R. B. Bledsoe and twenty-six other defendants, all alleged members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Burleson brought suit against the parties asking for $100,000 damages for injury and humiliation suffered when he was alleged to have been beaten by a band of men near Taylor in 1923.

EXPORT PROGRAM TO AID FARMERS

(By Associated Press)
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 16.—The establishment of a government export corporation for agricultural products, with an estimated capitalization of $150,000,000 will be the legislative program for a bigger and stronger agricultural bloc at the next congress, Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, said here today.

Senator Brookhart said that the corporation would function on such matters as handling all excess agricultural products for export, and would operate in such a manner that the farmer would be given price production with an added five per cent profit.

ABILENE STAGES BURROR POLO

One of the feature attractions of the Rannels County Fair Thursday was a polo game played on burros by two teams made up from the Abilene delegation. The players used croquet balls and mallets.

A call was sent out here for burros to be used in connection with the fair program, and the kids brought the donkeys in by the herds, and they were ready for the Abilenians when they arrived. Some of the mounts were a little more active than others and this added to the comical side of the game.

There were four players on each side, and the game was staged in front of the grandstand following the hippodrome acts. The Abilene visitors made quite a hit with their stunt, and the donkey polo game was the occasion of much mirth.

RAIN HALTS BIG STYLE PAGEANT

About 3500 people were disappointed, and many of them were slightly drenched, when rain began falling just as the stage was being cleared for the style show at the Rannels County Fair Thursday night.

After two hippodrome acts had been presented and while the stage was being cleared for the fashion revue rain began to fall, and more than a thousand people who occupied the bleachers, or improvised seats and standing room around the stage in front of the grandstand, were forced to seek cover in the exhibit halls, concession booths, or wherever they could crowd in out of the weather. Those in the grandstand held their seats until the people in the open had moved away, and until the rain ceased somewhat.

The grandstand was filled to overflowing before the illuminated parade formed up town, the bleachers were soon filled and the crowd continued fill standing room around the stage in front of the grandstand, and the rain caught these without shelter.

The queen and her court, with two dozen style models had arrived and were ready to be presented to the large crowd when the rain began to fall. The rain made it impossible to continue with the program, and it was announced that the pageant had been called off and would be presented Saturday night. All those who had paid admission and were present will be admitted free Saturday night, when the full hippodrome program will be presented, and the style pageant staged.

Not only was the grandstand attendance the largest for the 1925 fair, but the general admission at the gate was the largest, and the rain caused considerable confusion. People were scattered throughout the fair grounds, many were on the midway, and parking space up own and near Fair Park was at a premium. It required two or three hours for the traffic to move out when the people began to leave the fair, Eighth Street leading to the fair grounds being congested, and the streets around the park were crowded with automobiles.

The crowd made the best of the situation, and while all were disappointed, it was a matter over which no one had control. Those in charge of the fair and who had charge of the work of putting on the program, experienced the keenest disappointment. The queen's court and all models taking part in the program, were in closed cars, and no damage resulted to costumes.

The program in its entirety will be presented Saturday night, the directors having decided to extend the fair one day longer on account of the rain.

PRINCE OF WALES WELCOMED HOME

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Oct. 16.—London today gave the Prince of Wales the most affectionate welcome of all his home-comings when he returned today from a 25,000 mile voyage to South Africa and South America.

The prince was greeted at Victoria Station by the king and queen and other members of the royal family and thousands of spectators.

Tough steak is best because the exercise of chewing one bite gives you an appetite for the next.

Friday afternoon was a record breaker at the Rannels County Fair when 3,600 passes were handed out to the school children, and the secretary ran out of passes and had to adopt other means for getting the pupils thru the gates at Fair Park.

It was School Day at the fair, and the attendance was the heaviest for the week. It was estimated that at least 12,000 people would pass through the gates before the day closed. Automobiles were parked from the Colorado River to the North side of the court house on Hutchings Avenue and from Fair Park to the school campus on Eighth Street, and in every available space on other streets of the business district.

The streets were crowded with people, and immediately following the parade Eighth Street was a solid mass of humanity to the main entrance of Fair Park where there was a jam for nearly an hour before the crowd could pass through the gates.

The school parade formed on Eighth Street West of the Carnegie Library and the several thousand children marched two abreast down Eighth to Hutchings, South on Hutchings to Tenth Street and back up Hutchings to the court house square where the children broke line and later made their way in groups to the fair grounds.

County Superintendent White and City Superintendent Cain on horseback led the parade, immediately following the Turkey in the Straw Band. Mr. White carried a banner showing that 5,959 children were enrolled in the schools of the county. It was stated that this number did not include a supplemental roll which had just been made up and which would put the total over 6,000.

About twenty schools were represented in the line of march, banners displayed showing the schools marching in the following order: five Ballinger schools, Miles, Wingate, Franklin, Hatchel, Bethel, Cochran, Sweet Home, Herrings, Dale, Blanton, Benoit, Hagan, Crews. The Junior Band brought up the rear.

The fair association will award prizes to the schools showing the best percentage of attendance in the parade, but the winners had not been announced at a late hour.

Coming with the children to the fair were the teachers and patrons of the schools. This, with the large crowd which was already in the city swelled the attendance to a new point. Some predicted that the total attendance for the day would run to 15,000. The fair park was in fairly good shape after the rain Thursday night when the crowd began to arrive Friday and perfect condition was promised for the night program.

The fair will be extended over Saturday, with the style show and pageant closing the program Saturday night.

The textile and fine arts department is divided into several sections this year and in each division is found large and beautiful displays. The department covers all the middle section of the Merchants' Exposition building and is no doubt the largest ever shown at the Rannels County Fair.

The children's department attracts considerable attention is indeed worthy of inspection. Towels, centerpieces and work is shown done by children of age. So, doubtless, grown-ups are "backed" J. Comedy 30c

The weather man has kept the people guessing, but many took chances and visited the fair.

A recent census shows the population of Wichita Falls is now 58,626, making it the sixth in size in Texas. This is thanks to oil development in that locality.

The man who puts in all his time sympathizing with himself may be wasting sympathy, but after all he is the fellow who needs it the worst.

Farmers who have planted small grain could not wish for a more favorable season, and a few winter showers will guarantee some pretty good winter pasturage on the grain fields.

The State Fair of Texas, only fell a few thousand short of one million attendance last year. The attendance promises to exceed the million mark this year, setting a new record for the greatest fair in the Southwest.

Runnels county's cotton crop this year will bring more than nine million dollars in cash, or an amount which if equally distributed would give each man, woman and child in the county $450. This is not bad, and it does not include a few million more dollars realized from other sources which are turned into cash by the farmers.

The man who is laboring under the opinion that somewhere away back yonder in the far distant past that his folks were nothing but monkeys, may not be very far wrong, for he is acting like a monkey by adhering to any such belief, and evidently still has a little monkey blood in his circulation.

Owing to the development of the truck industry in Texas the Railroad Commission faces the problem of regulating its rates as well as those of the railroads. The law defines a truck as a public carrier if it works for the public, so it is up to the commission to prescribe rules and regulations governing them as well as the railroads.

SAN ANGELO CROWD FAILS TO VISIT FAIR

Probably claiming bad roads as an alibi, the delegation from San Angelo due to attend the Runnels County Fair Thursday failed to arrive. It was reported here that they were coming strong, but rain early Thursday morning made dirt roads between that city and Ballinger almost impassable.

The Abilene delegation came along, spent the afternoon with two bands.

SHERIFF McWILLIAMS TO GO AFTER EMBEZZLER

Sheriff R. E. McWilliams will leave in a day or two for Long Beach, California to bring back C. M. Bertram, who was charged with embezzlement by complaint in C. H. Willingham's court some time in August and later was indicted by the Runnels county grand jury at its September term just closed.

Bertram has had a somewhat spectacular career. He has been married four times, and last June he spent several weeks with wife No. 4 in Ballinger and the surrounding territory. While here he was the agent of the Collins-Decker Company of Greenville, Texas, and was selling player-pianos, and did sell quite a number in this territory.

On or about the last of June, after making several sales he collected so it is alleged in the criminal charges filed, some five or six hundred dollars of the company's money and eloped with wife No. 2, from whom he had formerly been divorced, and for some weeks his whereabouts was unknown, but by the diligent work of the local sheriff's department and the assistance furnished by wife No. 4, he was apprehended in Long Beach, California, and landed in jail there, the arrest having been made on September 21st.

It was first believed that extradition papers would have to be procured and steps were taken for same, when a wire from the Long Beach sheriff advised Mr. McWilliams that Bertram waived extradition, and was willing to come on back to Ballinger and stand trial.

Since the charge of embezzlement was filed here against Bertram, many interesting messages have been received by the sheriff's department from the various wives, indicating that Bertram was some "shiek."

MANY PEOPLE SPEND ALL NIGHT AT FAIR

About one hundred people spent Thursday night in the exhibit halls at the Fair, and about the same number walked the streets until daylight, the visitors being unable to return home on account of the rain, and were unable to find sleeping quarters in Ballinger. Hotels and rooming houses were filled to overflowing.

Those who lingered at the fair grounds for some time after the rain experienced difficulty in getting their automobiles on high ground. About twenty cars went in the ditch, and remained there until Friday morning. The ground was already saturated with water, and the rain Thursday night demoralized traffic for a few hours.

A clear sky and a high wind Friday morning caused the ground to dry up rapidly, and things were moving normally by early Friday afternoon, with good prospects for a gala day Saturday.

Three Things to Be Sure of in Building a Home

1. The Plan. Better safe than sorry. Be sure your plan is perfect in every detail before you build. Inconvenient and unsatisfactory arrangements, too little closet space, too few built-ins, etc., can prove a constant source of regret. They can be remedied only at considerable expense. We may be able to help you in planning your home.

2. Materials. Trying to save on first cost by using cheap, inferior materials, always proves costly in the end. It is the most unwise of all courses to take. Buy materials that will last.

3. Construction. A good contractor and skilled workmen offer the best insurance against being a victim of "the high cost of cheap construction." Improper construction is apt to result in constant expense, worry and dissatisfaction. We can put you in touch with reliable workmen.

When you build, build to last. Be sure of these three things. Bring your building problems to us. Let us tell you about our roof that lasts for fifty years.

9,000,000 WOMEN IN GAINFUL OCCUPATIONS IN U.S.

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 16.—There are nine million women engaged in gainful occupations in this country, or about 22 per cent of all the workers, said Mrs. Marguerite B. Benson, director of the Women's Bureau of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association in outlining the women's conference at the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers to be held here October 28.

Women are going to have more to say about industrial matters in the future, asserted Mrs. Benson. "Industrial leaders are asking their advice and co-operation on legislative questions, factory management and merchandising policies," she said. "About 2,500,000 women are engaged in manufacturing industries."

Speakers before the women's conference include: Mrs. Ora Snyder, president of a Chicago candy company on "The Woman Employer."

 Mrs. Arthur Morey, St. Louis club woman, on "Why Women in the Home are Interested in Industry."
 Miss Mae Murray, of Chicago, on "Women Employes in Factories."
 Dr. Anna Y. Reed, New York University, on "Salvaging the By-Product of the Public Schools."

(San Angelo Standard)

Gratton Davenport, Irion county stockman, will not go on trial in Fifty-First District Court here Tuesday, October 20th, for the second time, on a charge of murder growing out of the killing at Mertzon in February of Sam Rodgers, foreman of one of J. H. Suggs' ranches.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Davenport on the ranch about three weeks ago and Mrs. Davenport, witness for the defense, would be unable to attend the trial if it began Tuesday, as scheduled. This was set forth in a motion presented Wednesday afternoon by W. A. Wright, of defense counsel. Both Oscar Frink, District Attorney, and Alex Collins, special prosecutor, agreed that the grounds for continuance was valid and Judge J. F. Sutton continued the case until the next term.

As a result members of the special venire of 200 men summoned for the trial need not report next Tuesday and have been excused for the term, it was announced. Davenport has been in jail since shortly after the killing. His first trial, ending May 24, resulted in a hung jury. Insanity was the plea entered for the accused.

PAY $108 IN FINES FOR GAMBLING

Alma Rayford in Art Mix Film at the Queen

Beautiful and accomplished Alma Rayford is again seen here in her latest film, "The Terror of Pueblo," an Art Mix Western picture, which is showing at the Queen Theatre today and Saturday.

Miss Rayford heads the feminine contingent in this film, as she did in "South of the Santa Fe," and "A Romance of the Wasteland," both Art Mix productions.

Big Ziegfeld Hit Here in Film at Queen Next Week

Those who enjoyed the stage version of Ziegfeld's noted musical success, "Sally," in which Marilyn Miller made her permanent success, will find added joy in First National's screen version of the same piece, starring Colleen Moore, which comes to the Queen Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, October 21-22.

Colleen Moore brings to the role of "Sally" a genius for sympathetic interpretation that unquestionably will make this role an outstanding hit of her long list of successes. "Sally" calls for much human interest, pathos, fire of temperament and delightful sentiment.

Miss Moore possesses all of those qualifications as she ably demonstrated in "Flaming Youth," "The Perfect Flapper," and "So Big."

June Mathis, who has transferred to the screen such successes as "The Four Horsemen," and "Blood and Sand," did the adapting of "Sally," and also was editor-in-chief of production.

The major incidents of Sally's obscure origin, her struggle up the ladder of life and love and fame are all there. But Miss Mathis has gone further. She has looked behind the scenes, so to speak, taken the playwright's story and, utilizing the plot thread, embroidered it in a manner that undoubtedly will win her the praise of the staunchest of the admirers of the stage version.

LARGE NUMBER OF TAX JUDGMENTS ARE TAKEN

At the present session of the 35th District Court a large number of tax judgments were taken. These judgments were taken by Parish & Cramer acting for the Ballinger Independent School District for delinquent school taxes and for state and county taxes by County Attorney Shepherd.

It appears that there is quite a long list of delinquent school, state and county taxes, and that requests for payment have been ignored and it is now the policy of both school district and state and county, acting through their attorneys, to push the collections by sale and foreclosure, and those in arrears in either, or to either might profit to investigate and make settlement before order of sale is issued, thus saving quite a kitchen are shown and prove tempting morsels for the visitors who crowd this department.

The curio and antique display is the best ever assembled at the fair, and the show is causing the aisle in that part of the hall to remain constantly blocked. The curies are too numerous to even attempt to mention, but every article is very old and some of them so out-of-date that only a few persons know what they are. One bonnet on display is 109 years old.

There may be several causes why the Texas lawmakers should gather in an extra session, but we doubt whether any of the causes would be worth the cost. It would cost about $10,000 to pay the per diem and mileage of the members, to say nothing of other costs.

TO MAKE EXHIBIT AT ANGELO FAIR

County Agent C. W. Lehmburg and Secretary J. D. Motley are planning to enter the All West Texas Exposition at San Angelo with an agricultural exhibit from Runnels county. They are gathering exhibits from the Runnels County Fair this week, selecting specimens to be used in the county exhibit at San Angelo, and the county which defeats Runnels for first place this year will have to put up some excellent offerings.

Runnels county, it will be remembered, took second money in the Abilene fair, and since then a much better collection has been made, and the county exhibit will go to the San Angelo fair backed by experienced decorators.

The All West Texas Exposition opens at San Angelo on October 26th.

TO THOSE who are bereaved of loved ones, no service is so essential as that of the funeral director!

To be assured of an efficient service, rendered in a sympathetic manner, is a consolation and relief.

Fortunately, it is not often that the funeral director is needed, but when that time comes, he is indeed a very necessary factor.

At such a crisis, we are ready at any hour of the day or night to heed your call.
