CHORAL CLUB MAKES A HIT

The Ballinger Choral Club, composed of twenty-five women, under the direction of Troy Simpson, appeared in its first full program at the Methodist church Sunday night, and many were the compliments heard from those who attended the services on Easter evening.

The hour had been set aside for the sacred song service, and the program carried out as published in Saturday's Ledger. Quite a number declared that the program was the best musical program presented in Ballinger in many years. The duets, solos and quartets, as well as the chorus numbers brought forth much praise.

Ten numbers made up the program Sunday night, and in addition Miss Dorothy Chaney rendered a violin selection. Miss Chaney is not a member of the club, however. Following the services Sunday night there were several applications made for membership in the club, and these will be considered at a meeting of the club to be held Tuesday night. It was stated that the applications would have to be considered on the basis of quartets in order to keep the voices balanced, and they would not be accepted in the order in which they were received.

The program rendered Sunday night was arranged especially for the Easter season. The church was decorated for the occasion in the Easter spirit, and many were unable to get seats. The auditorium was filled to overflow and many turned away.

The Ballinger Choral Club was organized about two months ago and it consists of twenty-five members, and all churches are represented. The members are Mesdames Ira Sims, J. H. Barrow, Jennie Kirk, H. H. Thomson, Alfred Cramer, L. Tigner, R. L. Stephenson, and Oscar Pearson, first sopranos; Misses Anna Jean Sharp, Eula Key and Fannie Wilmet, Mesdames A. B. Stobaugh, Strickland, R. L. Harwell, second sopranos; Mesdames Floyd Carr, John Loveless, Moore, and Miss Maggie Lilly, altos; Mesdames A. McGregor, Troy Simpson, Harvey Hayes and Victor Paul, Misses Collier and Mason, contraltos; Miss Rama Guin, piano; Miss Dorothy Chaney, violin; Troy Simpson, director.

The club meets twice each month, and a program of both sacred and concert numbers is being arranged, and the organization will be open for engagements on other special occasions, when invited to sing.

The new organization is quite a credit to Ballinger, and will no doubt be in demand hereafter. One of the rules requires all to respond when an engagement is accepted.

MUSICAL ATTRACTION FOR THIS WEEK

A musical attraction being advertised for this week is the McMurry Boys Glee Club of McMurry College, Abilene. The club is scheduled to sing at the Methodist church Friday night, and tickets are being sold. Miss Eula Key is in charge of the ticket sales. The money goes for a worthy cause and the public is invited to support the attraction and enjoy the good program which is promised. The admission will be 25c and 50c.

14 WOMEN HELD UP IN POKER GAME

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 5.—Fourteen women engaged in a poker game, were held up and robbed by armed bandits in an apartment here this morning. The high-jackers vanished in an automobile with more than $1,000 in cash and valuable gems.

Children were asleep in a room adjoining the room in which the games were in progress, but were not disturbed. The high-jackers gained entrance to the apartment of Mrs. Ina Orr on the pretense of seeking one of the players.

NEW PRESIDENT NAMED FOR KATY

(By Associated Press)
WACO, April 5.—Charles Whitehead was elected president of the Texas Central property of the Katy railroad, at the annual meeting of the stockholders here today, succeeding C. E. Schaff, who retires as president of the line on May 1st.

EASTER WITH LOCAL CHURCHES

Sunday was a good day at the local churches and an incomplete report shows that more than 1,000 people attended Sunday school, and the offering totalled more than $75. Reports from some of the Sunday schools were not available, but the following churches reported:

Church	No. Pres.	Col.
First Christian	103	$16.08
First Presbyterian	85	15.15
Baptist	363	24.00
Methodist	261	12.06
St. St. Presbyterian	117	6.97

Practically all the churches of the city observed Easter day with resurrection, or Easter services, the pastors speaking on subjects appropriate to the occasion, and special musical numbers were rendered.

At the First Christian Church the Ballinger Choral Club sang four special songs. Two new members were received in the church and one was baptized. There was special music at the First Presbyterian, Eighth Street Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches. Rev. Chas. Ghieslin, former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, preached at the evening hour. Rev. Ghieslin is at home for a visit from the foreign mission field. He is stationed at Taicho, China.

SCHOFFLEMEYER COMING TO BALLINGER LATER

C. H. Schofflemeyer, campaigning for more food and less cotton, and who has charge of the Dallas News' more cotton on less acres contest, will visit Ballinger later, according to an announcement which he made over the radio Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Schofflemeyer was due to visit Ballinger and Runnels county last week. He got as far as Stephenville and on account of the rain and bad roads he cancelled his date here. In a talk over the radio Sunday afternoon Mr. Schofflemeyer expressed his regret at being unable to visit Ballinger but declared that he would be here within the near future.

Winters Wins Class A; Miles Takes Off Class B

The largest crowd that ever attended a county school meet here was present Saturday for the finals in the Runnels county interscholastic meet. The crowd gathered early Saturday morning at the local high school building where the literary events were held and in the afternoon the seating capacity of Fair Park was overflowed to witness the track meets between the Class A, Class B, rural, and junior schools of the county.

Winters won the Class A championship with 133 points to Ballinger's 122. Miles was an easy winner in Class B, with 125 points, Rowena coming second with a score of 46. 407 VOTES FOR SCHOOL TRUSTEES

In the school trustee election held in Ballinger last Saturday 407 ballots were cast, which is an unusually heavy vote for such an election.

What might be termed as a straight ticket was elected, as it was generally conceded that the eight men on the ballots constituted two tickets, certain factions being instrumental in bringing out the candidates.

C. A. Doose, Dr. E. C. Baskin, R. T. Williams and Lee Butler were elected, the four men running high in the order named. These men with W. E. Middleton, Rev. W. H. Doss and Jess Jones, will form the new board.

Following is the order in which the tally sheet shows the vote received by each candidate:

C. A. Doose 273
E. C. Baskin 256
R. T. Williams 252
Lee Butler 239

ANNUAL EGG ROLL AT WHITE HOUSE

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 5.—The cares of state were put aside for a while at the White House today to permit President and Mrs. Coolidge to act as hosts to the children of Washington at the annual Easter egg rolling on the sloping lawns South of the executive mansion.

All preparations had been carefully made to care for the thousands of children in the annual game which has been observed for many years.

CHAPMAN MAKES HIS LAST APPEAL

(By Associated Press)
WEATHERS FIELD, Conn., April 5.—Gerald Chapman, fighting back at the state in an effort to save his life from the gallows told his own story to the board of pardons this afternoon. He appeared before the board by permission of Governor Trumble, who presided at the hearing.

When called upon Chapman arose from his seat, and stood erect. He did not move an inch, and looked squarely at the governor. His voice at first was indistinct, but he made an appeal in his own behalf.

In his closing words Chapman said, "I think all that I want to say is simply that I am asking for justice." The man is scheduled to go to the gallows tonight for slaying a New Britain, Connecticut policeman.

HERE TO ORGANIZE CLASS IN GOLF

Harry Proctor, professional golf player and instructor, is here conferring with local players and may organize a class and do a little instructing for the members of the Ballinger Country Club.

Mr. Proctor has been instructing in Dallas, where he is making his home at present. His home was in British Columbia before coming to Texas. No doubt those who join his class will receive beneficial instruction. He was conferring with the golf players Monday, but had not decided definitely whether he would organize a class.

J. L. Lee, of the Maverick section, had business in Ballinger Monday. Mr. Lee reported that some of the hail which fell in that part of the county two weeks ago was still banked up on the ground, and people were using it to freeze ice cream.

Mayor Fred Abney of Brownwood, was a visitor in Ballinger Sunday between trains.

612 HOMES BURN; MANY PEOPLE DIE

(By Associated Press)
CAIRO, Egypt, April 5.—It is announced here that 32 persons are dead and four thousand are homeless from a fire which raged in the Turkestan district for more than eighteen hours.

The fire started at noon Saturday and burned its way out Sunday morning, destroying 612 dwellings.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 5.—Opponents of prohibition again marched on congress today in their first organized demonstration held for several years.

At a hearing before the Senate sub-committee the wet leaders marshalled a colorful array of arguments ranging from a demand for modification of the prohibition amendment itself to a petition for wine and beer. The whole week has been set aside for hearing the wets' side of the story. All of next week will be given over to arguments from the dries.

Senator Bruce, democrat, of Maryland, was the first witness to be heard. He read a brief in support of his constitutional amendment for partial local option by states. Senator Edge, republican, of New Jersey, who has pending a wine and beer bill before congress, was the second speaker. He was followed by Julian Codman, of Boston, who is general counsel for various groups of modificationists.

Senator Bruce and Edge both declared that prohibition was a failure, a farce, and they laid on the committee table a detailed compilation of statistics which they said proved the charges.

FARM BOOSTERS MEETING AT WINGATE

The advisory board created to assist County Agent Lehmerg and Miss Eula Key, home demonstration agent, to put over the five year balanced farm program will meet at Wingate Tuesday. County Judge Paul Trimmer and Commissioner Deens, members of the board, Mr. Lehmerg and Miss Key will go out from Ballinger to attend the meeting. Mr. Motley will talk county fair to the citizens in that section of the county.

County Committoner George Miller is in charge of the arrangements for the Wingate meeting, and it is reported here that the plans call for dinner all day and preaching on the ground.

The defeated candidates for school trustee are really the winners.

The next little fracas will be the city campaign when two commissioners are to be elected. Only two are out so far.

The retiring school board perhaps had the hardest job any board ever had to contend with.
It was no easy task to carry out the building program, and cash
in on all the "cussing."

In the finals Jim has generally walked off with the big end of the vote in Runnels county. It might not be amiss to call his attention to the fact that we are not getting a square deal from his highway commission on the Ballinger-Paint Rock road.

cutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the County Court of Runnels County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Ballinger,
on the First Monday in May,
A. D. 1926, the same being the 3rd day of May, A. D. 1926, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 8th day of December, A. D. 1925, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court, No. 1399, wherein
A. M. King is Plaintiff, and R. H.
Stone, R. E. Huddleston, W. L.
Golden and the Texas Compress Company are Defendants, and said petition alleging that Plaintiff is a resident of Runnels County, Texas, and the defendant R. H. Stone's residence is unknown; that W. L. Golden and
K. L. Huddleston and the Texas
Compress Company are residents of Runnels County, Texas; that on or about the 4th day of March, 1925, Plaintiff rented to defendant R. H. Stone, a part of Plain-tiff's farm in Comcho County, approximating 80 acres of the David Karbaek Survey No. 247, the contract of rental being in writing, and by terms of which the Defendant Stone agreed to plant about 65 acres in cotton and 15 acres in maize and corn, and the Plaintiff was to furnish teams, tools and seed necessary for planting; and should receive as rent one-half of the crops produced on said land, delivered free of incumbrance, and that the tenant was to pay landlord $1 per acre for land already broke at the time he went upon the premises and was to harvest and gather all crops, but the landlord was to advance $25 per month
in cash or groceries to the tenant beginning with the month of May, 1925, and continuing while tenant was working the crop, which was to be a charge against the tenant's part of the crop;
plaintiff alleges that the defendant R. H. Stone planted approximately 65 acres in cotton and that he harvested from such crop three bales of cotton for which the rent has not been accounted, and upon which three bales plaintiff claims a landlord's lien; plaintiff further alleges that the defendant became indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $80 for the breaking of the land as provided in such contract and that in pursuance to such contract plaintiff furnished defendant in cash and supplies $139.85, upon which there is allowed a credit of $85.30, making a balance due on said account $54.55, plaintiff further alleges that on or about the 25th day of November, 1925, the defendant

R. H. Stone removed or caused to be removed from the premises upon which grown the said three bales of cotton and caused the same to be moved to Ballinger, Texas, where he undertook to sell
the same to the defendants W. L.
Golden and R. L. Huddleston, who stored said property in the defendant the Texas Compress Company's warehouse; that said bears Texas Compress Company's No. 26,195, cotton yard No. 7751, Gin No.
8329, and another bale Texas
Compress Company's No. 26, 196,
cotton yard No. 7752, Gin No.
7955, and the third bale Texas
Compress Company's No. 36,197,
cotton yard No. 7753, Gin No.
8296; plaintiff alleges he has a constitutional and statutory lien upon said three bales of cotton for the amount of his rent, and for the amount of his advances and for the amount of the debt
for the breaking of land as above set forth; that the landlord's lien is a valid and subsisting lien and is unsatisfied, and the amount due plaintiff for rent is $150, and for the breaking of land $80, for advances $54.55, which sum of money plaintiff alleges is secured by a landlord's lien on said cotton; plaintiff prays judgment against the defendants for foreclosure of his said landlord's lien and the recovery of his said rent and indebtedness and advances, all as fully set out in plaintiff's petition filed in said cause.

Three Things to Be Sure of in Building a Home

1. The Plan. Better safe than sorry. Be sure your plan is perfect in every detail before you build. Inconvenient and unsatisfactory arrangements, too little closet space, too few built-ins, etc., can prove a constant source of regret.
They can be remedied only at considerable expense. We may be able to help you in planning your home.
2. Materials. Trying to save on first cost by using cheap, inferior materials, always proves costly in the end. It is the most unwise of all courses to take. Buy materials that will last.
3. Construction. A good contractor and skilled workmen offer the best insurance against being a victim of "the high cost of cheap construction." Improper construction is apt to result in constant expense, worry and dissatisfaction.
We can put you in touch with reliable workmen.

When you build, build to last. Be sure of these three things. Bring your building problems to us. Let us tell you about our roof that lasts for fifty years.

Easter Egg Hunt for Kiddies

Little Miss Ann Williams was a charming hostess on Friday afternoon, when her mother, Mrs. John Williams assembled a large crowd of youngsters at her home on Seventh Street for an Easter egg hunt. After all the guests had arrived, each was given a colorful basket and told that eggs were hidden. The search for the eggs of many brilliant colors and various other outdoor games were thoroughly enjoyed until new diversion was offered when the little hostess led the way in the dining room where a table laden with every conceivable kind of Easter favor, including pretty novelty paper baskets, and centered with a huge Jack Horner pie from which little yellow chickens were drawn, held the rapt attention of each child. Delicious fruit punch with oatmeal cookies were served.

Those invited to spend the afternoon with Ann were: Victor Miller Jr., Mary Lou Creasy, Genevieve Tunnell, Cordelia Giesecke, Marjorie Lynn, J. T. Anderson, Ralph James Erwin, Joe Simmons Jr., James Powell Wear, Camille Behringer, Gladys Spann, Billie Lehman, A. K. Doss Jr., Ann Katharine Doss, Rosemary Lasater, Teddy Wardlaw, Irene Ludwig, Jack Bandy McGregor, Cordelia Lynn, Junior Miller, Gloria McGregor, Billy Jack Connelly, Paul Trimmer Jr., Nancy Pyburn, Bettie Jean Cowart, Walter Trimmer and Mary Simpson.

The grown-ups present were Mrs. R. P. Tunnell, Joe Simmons, Troy Simpson and Miss Frances Moreland.

Auxiliary Serves Luncheons

On Tuesday and Wednesday of last week at the home of Mrs. George Holman, three luncheons were served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church to the visiting ladies who were here attending the women's meeting.

Lilies in profusion gave added attraction to the rooms and in beauty decorated the fete-a-tete tables where the luncheons were served in two courses.

The out-of-town guests in attendance at these delightfully arranged affairs were: Mr. J. E. Watts, of Itasca; Rev. J. S. Baird, of Dallas; Dr. S. E. Chandler, Brownwood; Rev. Guy Davis, San Angelo; Miss Hattie Tannehill, Larras, Brazil; Miss J. L. Brock, Bryan; H. E. Hardin, Rockport; R. S. Dozie, G. L. Brown, A. J. Hall, H. H. Ratchford, M. L. Wood, Perry, all of Paint Rock; G. D. Crabtree, R. G. Hallum, W. B. Gray, A. Jameson, of Brownwood; W. M. Whitfield, Sanitorium; R. L. Nesbitt, Silas H. Keeton, John Shepherdson, J. T. Matheson, Harper; B. O. Wood, Mays; and R. V. Oberholtzer, San Angelo; Guy McDonald, J. M. Pyburn and A. H. VanPelt, Winters; H. Pick and O. T. Schultz, Bangs; R. C. Gage and John P. Holt, Comanche; B. D. Kennedy, R. G. Hollingsworth and J. A. O. Miller, of Coleman.

Private School Has Picnic

The seven little girls who are the pupils of Mrs. J. M. Skinner in primary school, together with two guests, spent a jolly day on Friday with their teacher. The morning was spent in school work, as usual, but at the noon hour a picnic lunch was spread on the lawn to which all did full justice. After lunch an Easter egg hunt caused much fun and real joy for some time.

Those present were: Dorothy Ruth and Marjorie Lynn, Eleanor Williams, Rosemary Lasater, Katharine Wilson, Wanda and Doris Lane, Irene Ludwig and Juanita Farris.

Honoring Recent Bride

An elaborate motif of pink and white was employed in original and beautiful way last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Scott H. Maek when she gave a lovely party in compliment to Mrs. Bailey Maek, who was Miss Louise LaRoe, of Whitewright, before her marriage last Sunday to Mr. Bailey Maek, who was Miss Louise Maek when she gave a lovely party in compliment to Mrs. Maek. Dainty bride place cards marked places for the guests at the tables arranged for playing forty-two in rooms to which a floral adornment of lilies and violets had been given. The refreshment plate with its pink and white brick cream and angel cake squares, iced in white, had as a pretty favor, a nosegay of violets tied with pink tulle.

The hostess presented the honor with a handsome taffeta pillow.

The invited guests were: Mesdames Horace Murphy, R. P. Lane, R. E. George, Ben Sims of Paint Rock, Floyd Carr, Bailey, Earl Baker, Nora Gee of El Paso, A. B. Stobaugh, R. W. Earnshaw, Homer Carsey, K. V. Northington, Alex McGregor, Oscar Williams of Winters, Clint Penn, Alfred Crager, H. S. Strain, W. B. Woody, Misses Marryatte Smith, Hattie Rue Hartgrove of Paint Rock, and Fannie Wilmetth.

GREASE PAINT BEING DROPPED AS COSMETIC BY MOVIE PRODUCERS

(By Associated Press)

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 5.—Since the beginning of the motion picture industry, grease paint in a multitude of forms has ruled the screen. Now suffering film folk and also suffering film fans are seeing its overthrow.

Improved cameras, better lighting and more sensitive film are making it possible for the stars to appear before the lens without reinforced layers of grease and cosmetics.

In early days, faces were done in yellow to make them photograph lighter. Since then they have passed through most of the colors of the rainbow, some actors even using blue and purple paints to gain better effects.

Women with their finer skins and lighter coloring fared well enough but the "he-men" of the thrillers were wont to be reflected with faces of ghastly pallor but with necks and arms that photographed as shocking challenges to soap and water.

But even with the technical improvements made, dethroning of King Grease Paint is not without a struggle. Actors recruited from the stage are hard to wean from the grease pot. They blush at the facial nudity of acting a part without a mask of paint.

The announcement of Cecil De Mille that he will produce his next picture without grease paint being used by any of the players stirred some protest, more of it, surprisingly, from the men than from the women.

Allan Dwan in directing the picture, "Sea Horses" had a cast including Florence Vidor, Jack Holt, William Powell, George Baneroff and others that used no make-up. It was successful.

Other film folk who have dropped the use of make-up for the screen include Esther Ralston, Mary Brian, Betty Bronson, Theodore Roberts, Wallace Berry, Jane Novak, Eva Novak, Ernest Torrence, Raymond Hatton and Alice Terry.

AGED REPORTER STILL ON JOB

(By Associated Press)

FT. WORTH, April 5.—Seeing returned "forty-niners" pitch octagonal $20 gold pieces at a peg—closest take all—is one of the early recollections of T. O. Walker, probably the oldest active livestock reporter in the world. At 86, "Colonel Timothy" is still going strong; he writes three "leads" a day on an old double-deck typewriter and is a general favorite with cattlemen, packers and commission men at the Fort Worth Stockyards.

Walker was not christened Timothy, altho few know it. Early in life the Gaelicized saint-name was substituted for the "Thyel-man" his parents bestowed on him in Claremont, N. H., where he was born. He likes it, for it suits him. He is a newspaper man all the way through. He published his own sheet, the Bloomfield (Iowa) Democrat, for 20 years; and worked on two Iowa dailies, at Burlington and Des Moines, and two weeklies, at Marshalltown and Eldora, besides his own paper.

Close to politics all his life, the desire to enter never touched him. He was reading clerk in the Forty-eighth Congress, was a collector of internal revenue for six years, and for 21 consecutive years was reading clerk of the Iowa State Democratic Convention. He has been all over North America, including Alaska and Honduras. The Associated Press has carried his livestock reports since the year Garfield was assassinated.

In that year he began covering the stockyards for the afternoon Associated Press member—The Ft. Worth Telegram, acquired in 1909 by the Fort Worth Star. This earliest newspaper experience was with "pulling the devil's tail" on an old Washington hand press, from which he rose to president of the typographical union here, serving three terms. His "inside" newspaper experience in Fort Worth was on the old Register, of which he was first editor.

Longhorn steers were still arriving occasionally at the Fort Worth Stockyards when Walker sold his Iowa paper and landed here in the late 'nineties. He saw several companies fail in the effort to run a packing house here. L. V. Niles, for whom Niles City, now a part of Fort Worth, was named, was the first man to demonstrate that it could be done successfully.

Gradual but steady changes have taken place in the character of cattle brought in since the establishment of the big packing houses here in 1902, but the trend has been always upward, Walker observes. He has seen, too, a gradual drift towards Herefords.

"Colonel Tim" doesn't regard life as a pink tea; but he asks no odds of anyone. He walks briskly without the aid of stick or cane and smokes cigarettes with zest. His friends sometimes have to remind him of his age, as they did on his eighty-first birthday by presenting him with a silver dollar for each year of his life. "I haven't saved much else; but I've got that $81 yet," he laughed.

RARE OLD BOOK TELLS STORY OF THE FIRST CONTINENTAL HIKE

(By Associated Press)

CLAREMONT, Calif., April 5.—A rare volume containing the story of what purports to be the first transcontinental foot journey of a white man in the conquest of North America, is the latest addition to the William S. Mason collection of Western Americans in Pomona College library.

The book tells of the adventures of Cabeza de Vaca, Spanish explorer, in journeying through the Southern section of the United States between the years 1528 and 1536, and of his explorations in the River Plata countries of South America after his appointment as governor of the region in 1540.

An expedition, of which Vaca was a member, left Spain in 1527 headed for Florida and the Louisiana. It was wrecked on the Florida coast. Fifty survivors drifted to the coast of Texas in rudely constructed boats and made shore Nov. 6, 1528. All but fifteen died of disease or starvation and these became slaves of the Indians.

By a stroke of good luck, Vaca staved off threatened death for himself and companions by posing to the Indians as a divine healer, usually being able to cure minor maladies.

After six years, Vaca, with two companions, escaped. They reached the coast of California and turned southward arriving at Mexico City, July 24, 1536.

As a reward for his exploring services Vaca was appointed governor of the provinces of the Rio de La Plata in South America. Here he incurred the jealousy of his compatriots and was sent back to Spain in irons, remaining in prison six years awaiting trial. Eventually, he was exiled to Africa.

Two separate editions of the first portion of the book are known to be in existence—one in the New York Public Library and the other in the British Museum at London.

Controversy Over High Heels Rages on Athletic Grounds

(By Associated Press)
BELFAST, April 5.—Charges that women used bad language on the hock field have given way to keen controversy as to whether women players should wear high heels while playing.

Referees may have a new task of judging whether women's heels are likely to damage the turf as alleged by many ground keepers in the city. Doctors and prominent players declare high heels are detrimental to a player's health, but so far the Hockley Union has not given a ruling on the subject.
