SOCIETY TABLOID AT COTTON PALACE

Exposition at Waco to Present Sixteen Days of Most Diversified Amusement and Education.

Waco, Texas.—The usual high standard of second week attractions in the coliseum at the Texas Cotton Palace will be greatly augmented this year as special endeavors are being made to excel even the first week attractions, the Thaviu Band and grand opera artists, in interest.

The decision to present each show carded for both the first and second week of the exposition, without charge, is something new in the amusement world, especially in view of the fact that the Thaviu organization is recognized as being composed of outstanding artists of this and other countries. Then in termination, the second week of typical Cotton Palace presentations, including the children's program on Monday night, coronation of the Queen of the 1926 Cotton Palace on Tuesday night, the reception by the king and queen on Wednesday night, and the presentation of the debutantes of Waco and the Southwest, offers a variety of entertainment and display of Southwestern beauty and court splendor, which is destined to be unrivaled, even by previous presentations at the Cotton Palace.

The Wednesday night program really furnishes an opportunity for those unable to witness the coronation to see the king and queen and the royal court, assembled again for the purpose of doing honor to the king and queen of the 1926 Cotton Palace, and to receive in royal fashion the debutantes of the season.

Other coliseum attractions are being formulated for the closing days of the exposition and all these with those above are what the Cotton Palace management has provided as free attractions. Any other coliseum attraction will likewise be free. The person who pays his admission at the front gate is entitled to come and go at will for any and all of the coliseum programs.

Big Second Week Program

Officials for the Greater Cotton Palace of 1926 are concentrating their energy on the program for the second week, which includes the Queen's Coronation, the women's day program, the children's day program, and many other important social attractions; indispensable features which have grown with the exposition. The Queen's Coronation is to be this year bigger and of more outstanding prominence in the way of international distinction than ever before.

Of especial interest in exhibits this year will be the Silver Fox exhibit. The association has secured from the Genesee Mountain Silver Fox Farm near Denver, Colo., a large number of the fox family, known as the silver fox, and whose pelts are considered by furriers as the most valuable of fox pelts. The exhibit of these cunning and sleek little animals is expected to attract men, women and children.

Concession space at this year's exposition is already at a premium in view of the excellent year for both business and pleasure, which is just ahead. Manufacturers and jobbers of materials and implements are rushing for space, and in view of the crowded conditions of every available concession space at last year's show, this promises to exceed even the wildest expectations of the officials.

Classical and popular numbers are interspersed in the various band programs Thaviu's musical stars. This famous organization will appear during the entire week of the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, at Waco, beginning October 23.

In addition to twenty high-class shows, there will appear on amusement row, at the Cotton Palace, Waco, this year, eight thrilling rides and a number of fun houses. Sixteen days, beginning October 23.

RENEWS FEUD IN WILLIAMSON CO.

(By Associated Press) WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Oct. 28.—The smouldering feud between the Birger and Shelton gangs of Williamson county flared up again today when a band of men attacked the Shaw Garden road house, frequented by members of the Birger clique, and riddled four dilapidated frame buildings with machine-gun fire, but finding no one to fight back.

Enraged at the lack of a human target, the gangsters then set fire to the wooden buildings and burned them to the ground.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs. Annie Kwinski of 526 1st Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis., writes that she became so weak and run-down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs. Mattie Adams, who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women past fifty, say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

MOTHER OF 3 BURNS HERSELF TO DEATH

(By Associated Press) PROVO, Utah, Oct. 28.—Making a living torch of herself, Jennie Young, 26 years of age, is a suicide today.

Protesting her innocence of charges upon which her husband obtained a divorce recently, the young mother burned herself to death this morning.

Mrs. Young leaves three small children.

After writing a note to her husband here, declaring herself innocent, the woman piled a heap of papers on the floor of her home, stood in the center of the heap and applied a match.

FOOTBALL FANS IN STORE FOR TREAT

Baylor to Meet Three Formidable Opponents on Cotton Palace Gridiron at Waco.

Waco, Texas.—Athletic followers in the Southwest will be afforded an unusual treat at the Texas Cotton Palace on the three Saturdays of this year's exposition. Baylor University and her formidable Bear aggregation, under the direction of her new coach, Morley Jennings, meet in gridiron contests which promise to offer three afternoons of intense excitement, requiring every ounce of strength the Waco entry can command.

Baylor will play the Howard-Payne Yellow Jackets, who have never failed to offer the Bears a supreme test in football encounters, on the first Saturday. Little is known of the strength of the Howard-Payne squad, yet it can be assured that Coach "Dad" Amis will bring from Brownwood a team coached to the utmost, and capable of giving the Bears a real scare as they have done on numerous occasions in the past.

A. & M. Second Saturday.
The fighting farmers from A. & M. will tangle with the Bears on the second Saturday, and while various sport scribes over the state are prognosticating on the relative weakness of the Aggie squad, and predicting a let-down from the championship aggregation of 1925, football fans of the Southwest, and patrons of the Cotton Palace, can rest assured that Coach D. X. Bible will bring with him a typical fighting Aggie eleven, capable not only of testing the greatest of grid squads, but of giving the familiar dope bucket a substantial kick. It will be interesting to note the contrast of the success of a Jennings coached Bear eleven against the Aggie crew, in comparison with the Bridges coached varsity, against the Farmers.

The third and last Saturday of the exposition will witness the formidable and ever dangerous Orange and White representatives of the University of Texas. The Longhorn-Baylor game is a thrilling climax to a splendid football card, arranged for this year's Cotton Palace. Already "Doc" Stewart, coach of the Longhorns, has upset the dope by refraining from issuing his usual doleful gloom about the poor showing and miserable chances for the Longhorns to make a showing this year. He has glistened forth on the horizon of Southwestern football with a new tale. He is predicting unmeasurable success for the Orange and White this year, and if his predictions come true, the Baylor Bears are certainly in for a tough assignment on that last Saturday of the Cotton Palace.

Watching Baylor's New Coach.
Baylor, however, promises to upset the proverbial dope bucket herself, by proving to the world in general and to the Southwest in particular that a team with a new coach can produce a winner.

Coach Jennings promises the followers of the Green and Gold something new in a Baylor football squad. He says that he is going to stress the aerial attack, and that he will abandon the usual eight men in the line defense, which was so characteristic of the Bear squads under the Bridges regime.

If he does perfect a real aerial attack it will be interesting to compare it with the brilliant S. M. U. passing machine which carried that institution to the first championship it had ever known. It will be interesting to note this Baylor attack against the Howard-Payne passing attack, for which the Yellow Jackets are known. It will also be interesting to see just how far this new system of attack will fare against the unresisting defense of the Bible coached Aggie team.

Coaches always fear a newcomer into their ranks, for they lose the advantage of the close observation of the system used by the former coach. Morley Jennings and his system are unknown in the Southwest, and the methods he will use to win games for old Baylor can be studied at no better opportunity than in the three Saturday afternoons at the Cotton Palace.

Events in the Lives of Little Men

BEARCATS HAVE LIGHT WORKOUT

The Bearcats went through a light workout this afternoon and Friday afternoon they will take on the Sonora high school eleven at 3:00 o'clock at Fair Park here.

The entire squad is in fine condition for the game and the boys are expected to play their best game of football for the season. Several injured members of the squad have recovered sufficiently to be back on the first eleven.

Coach Wright started a new line-up last week against the Junction Eagles here, and this week is expected to start the same line-up he started last week with probably one or two exceptions.

The games in Ballinger have all been well played and the locals are expected to make an even better showing in the next two contests here before they play the two out-of-town games scheduled. Many in Ballinger believe the Bearcats are going to win the Class B championship of district No. 8, and they are already making plans to witness other games in Ballinger and away from home after the regular season is closed.

Friday afternoon, shortly before the game, the high school pep squad will march thru the streets of Ballinger en route to Fair Park for the game. During the past two or three weeks the pep squad has been very much in evidence on the streets, in school, and on the gridiron.

Everybody interested in athletics for high school students and in the welfare of the high school boys, are urged to attend Friday's game and every other game played by the Bearcats.

GRAND JURY TO FINISH TODAY

The grand jury for the fall term of the 35th district court made a partial report to District Judge J. O. Woodward here Wednesday afternoon when fourteen true bills, all felonies, were returned.

The grand jury has several other matters to investigate today, but District Attorney Walter C. Early said at noon that he expected the jury to complete its work this afternoon.

The investigating body will be dismissed as soon as final report is made to the court.

PRINCE GIVES VENT TO HIS ROYAL DISLIKES

(By Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Oct. 27.—When Prince Charles, second son of King Albert, is given a "functional" assignment he does not like the royal demeanor sometimes reflects it.

The prince was pressed into service as "royal representative" at a soccer game during a visit of his brother Leopold to Stockholm, where he was courting his fiancée Princess Astrid. He rather disliked it. Met at the stadium gate by the burgomaster and escorted to the royal box, Prince Charles listened in a bored manner to the welcome and finally said somewhat testily:

"My brother Leopold is courting and in order to go and see his girl, he turns over all these jobs to me."

It was a hot autumn day but the prince's words somewhat chilled the elderly burgomaster, who said apologetically:

"Your Royal Highness, we appreciate your presence here very highly. It was very amiable of you to accept our invitation. Is there anything that we can do for you?"

Running a parched tongue over his lips, the prince, catching sight of a waiter, replied:

"Yes, order us a couple of beers, I am about dying of thirst."

Popularize Pink Dress Shirts

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—If pink collars, ties and shirt fronts with men's evening clothes should become popular, the movies might be held responsible.

White color flares back into the camera under the strong studio lights, making the photographing of dress shirts an extremely careful bit of work. So Philip Strange introduced a pale pink outfit to the Paramount studio and the result was perfect, photographically.

Pale blue table cloths, napkins, sheets, etc., have been used as a substitute for white for a long time.

Alexander K. Gage, Detroit's assistant prosecutor, believes the hub cap of a wrecked automobile which serves as ash tray on his desk has a good psychological effect on accident witnesses whom he questions.

"No Hat" Custom Gains in Favor of Frenchman

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The "no-hat" custom launched some years ago by Robert Endeline, then manager of Eugene Criqui, former featherweight boxing champion, has grown very fast recently with the price of hats ranging from 100 to 200 francs. The number of hatless men on the boulevards even in these cold Autumn days is extremely large.

But opposition to the custom, hitherto confined to hat dealers, has now sprung up among government functionaries. Chief clerks in the various ministries strolling thru the offices were wont to overlook the momentary absence of their assistants, providing their hats were in the rack outside the office door. But when functionaries came to work without a hat in the morning and then disappeared, the absence of both man and hat was regarded as sufficient proof to warrant the "doeking" of a day's pay.

Now the Functionaries Union has ruled that all their members must wear their headpiece to work.

Oil Burners Change Fuelling Ship From Naval Nightmare to Holiday

FUELLING U.S.S. UTAH IN HAVANA HARBOR

CHICAGO—"Coaling ship" used to be the nightmare of the navy a few years ago. It was the dirtiest task in the life of a seaman and was abhorred by officers and men alike. The ship was moored at the coal dock, doors of cabins were closed fast and even were wadded with cotton to keep out the dust. The entire personnel put on its most disheveled work clothes and prepared for misery.

If the coaling were done at a tropical or Oriental port, for hours a string of coolies bearing coal sacks on their shoulders would trot in and out on the gang planks to the bunkers. Men inside toiled in the black dust cloud to trim the load and grime and muck would spread itself from mast head to waterline.

Now fuelling ship is a holiday, since oil burning engines have displaced coal burners, according to a study prepared by the American Research Foundation, of the uses and distribution of fuel oil. A strip of canvas hung over the side of the ship to prevent possible splashes of the dark brown fluid where the big oil pipe is coupled to the ship's intake is all the protection that is needed. Two or three men for pipe tenders, who may get a bit greasy, have the only dirty job. The rest of the crew in spotless white are not disturbed in their routine, which may include shore leave.

"How well the needs of the navy are provided for is shown by the fact that approximately 2,000,000 barrels of crude petroleum are produced in the United States every day in 1926 from approximately 308,000 oil wells," the survey states. "Tank ships and oil barges of the great oil corporations are ready to serve our warships at strategic points all around our coasts on both oceans and in the Gulf of Mexico. They are ready both in war and peace. Uncle Sam is a good customer and it is a patriotic duty to supply the navy."

EXPERTS ADVISE COTTON FARMERS TO GROW JUJUBES

(By Associated Press)
COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Oct. 28.—Farmers who may have the "heebee-jeebies" over the cotton situation are directed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to the virtues of the jujube.

Esteemed as a pleasant gift in the celestial kingdom whence it comes, the jujube is a fruit with a possible future in Texas, but with very little past. This Chinese product resembles an olive or a plum in size and appearance, depending upon the variety, and in food value compares favorably with the fig and date.

For upwards of 50 years it has been raised principally as an ornamental in Texas, and now the experiment station comes forward with the announcement that it could be made commercially profitable, but like the olive, according to the station's latest bulletin on the subject, the fruit must be eaten to be appreciated and the more one eats, the more one likes it.

"Jujubes may be eaten fresh, dried, candied or preserved. For eating fresh, they should be picked when the first brown spots appear on the fruit," says the bulletin. "They are then crisp, sweetish to slightly sub-acid. The jujube appeals particularly to persons who do not care for highly flavored fruits. The flavor is different from that of most fruits, and jujubes must be eaten to be fully appreciated. Like olives, the more they are eaten the better they are liked."

"As the jujube becomes better known it is destined to become more and more popular. It compares favorably with the fig and date in food value. Dried jujubes carry more protein than dried figs or dates and more sugar than figs. Fresh jujubes analyze 50 per cent higher in sugar than do fresh figs."

"Jujubes have been used in this country mostly as a confection."

The new fruit is recommended to Texas farmers because it is drought resistant, and is remarkably free from injurious insects.

If You Can Set a Clock

—you can set the dials on a new Freed-Eisemann Radio

If you know how to set a clock, you are mechanical enough to be able to enjoy a good radio set to the limit!

You virtually need an engineer's license to operate some sets. But since we are selling entertainment rather than puzzles, we have been careful to select none but the simplest, most practical sets offered.

Chief among these is the remarkable Freed-Eisemann—a set that is installed without fuss or trouble; one that gives you the same stations night after night for the slight effort of setting the dials at the same numbers each time.

We'd like to show you—here or in your home—without obligation to you.

NEGRO RESISTS ARREST; KILLED

(By Associated Press)
MARSHALL, Tex., Oct. 28.—Oliver Madden, 24 years old, a negro, was shot and killed at Hebron, a community 18 miles Northwest of here by State Ranger J. W. Smith and Deputy Sheriff H. T. Prudhouse, the officers said.

The officers said they attempted to arrest the negro for selling whiskey when he opened fire on them.

Be wise and advertise.

2 ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

John Kornisky, Rowena farmer, and John Brem, said to be a cotton picker, are held in the county jail here awaiting the grand jury now in session to investigate cases against them filed Wednesday night following a raid on the Kornisky farm, three miles West of Rowena.

Sheriff Earl McWilliams and three other officers made the raid, arresting Kornisky and Brem after they had attempted to pour out ten gallons of corn whiskey that was found in the home of the farmer.

As the officers entered the house, the two men, each with a five-gallon glass jar of liquor, started running out of the back door as they ran. The officers overtook the men after they had poured out about two gallons. The men made no attempt to break the jars. One quart and one pint bottle of intoxicants were found on a table in the house.

Kornisky and Brem were brought to Ballinger and placed in the county jail. Sheriff McWilliams took the eight gallons of whiskey that was left and placed it with the other intoxicants that he keeps in a cell on the third floor of the jail.

Deputies John White and Ray Howard, and City Patrolman Walter Watson assisted Mr. McWilliams in making the raid.

Ranks of Full Blooded Osages Being Depleted

(By Associated Press)
PAWBUKA, Okla., Oct. 28.—Full blood Osage Indians, around whom much romance has been woven, are disappearing as the white man's blood is being mixed in the veins of each succeeding generation.

Brought into Oklahoma from the Southland and placed on the beautiful hills of the Osage country, the Osage erected his teepee and raised cattle. White men settled among the hills. Land was allotted by the government to the Indian. Then oil was produced and the Osage tribe became the wealthiest in the world.

White blood began to mix with Osage and at present but 600 full blood Osage Indians are enrolled on tribal rolls, the agency here said, out of a total of 2,000 whose signatures or marks appear.

Last Showing of First National Feature and Special News Reel at Palace Theatre Tonight

Neglected love is the theme of Corinne Griffith's latest, First National release, "Infatuation," which closes a two-day engagement at the Palace Theatre tonight.

The picture is based on W. Somerset Maugham's "Caesar's Wife," which achieved notable success on the stage.

As Lady Little, Corinne Griffith is said to give an almost impeccable delineation. Her ability to portray the aristocratic type is well known.

In the supporting cast are seen: Percy Marmont, Malcolm McGregor, Warner Oland, Claire Dubrey Leota Lorraine, Martha Mattox and Clarissa Selwynne.

Included in International News No. 77, showing tonight for the last time at the Palace, are pictures of the destruction of Capt. Rene Fonck's New York-to-Paris airplane, which cost the lives of two of the crew. A few hours after this fatal accident prints were being speeded to every branch exchange in the United States. In addition the news reel shows the tornado-stricken sections in Florida both during the storm and later scenes showing the terrible havoc it wrought.

Besides these timely items, this reel shows George Von Elm cleaning up in the national amateur golf championship; Georges Michel of France landing in Dover after his English Channel swim, and the tennis championships that were held at Forest Hills.

Buck Jones Both Aggressive and Gentle in Coming Film

Theatre patrons who admired Buck Jones in "Lazybones" and enjoyed his quaint conception of the indolent, irresponsible but lovable "Lazybones," will find many traces of the same fine character sketching in his newest Fox picture, "The Gentle Cyclone," which comes to the Palace Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Buck, of course, is the "cyclone," and despite the suggestion of gentleness in the title of the picture, Mr. Jones at times is as vigorous and torpid as his fondest fan could wish. In fact, in many of the scenes of "The Gentle Cyclone" Buck swings a pair of very lusty and decisive fists.

The role presents Mr. Jones in fine contrasts, for at times he is as gentle and apparently as harmless as the title suggests. Again he is the wild-riding, fear-defying Buck Jones of many a vaillant Western picture.

"The Gentle Cyclone" has been made under the direction of W. S. Van Dyke, who has piloted Mr. Jones thru many of his best Western stories. The cast has been selected with unusual care, and a picture with fine entertainment value has been produced, reviewers declare.

Fire Machine Withdraws Smoke for Firefighters
 MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct.
 27—Minneapolis firemen may soon lose the appellation of "smoke eaters," for they now have a machine that literally
 "eats" the smoke for them at fires.

The device resembles the "steamer" type of fire engine.
 It has a boiler-like apparatus with a suction fan attached to a huge hose, about 15 inches in diameter. The hose is run into smoke filled rooms and the smoke drawn out. It has proven especially successful in fighting stubborn basement blazes, where there is much smoke but little fire.

PALE & PEAKED

Texas Lady Was Advised by Her Mother To Take Cardui, Which She Did With Good Results.

Hamilton, Texas.—Mrs. Gladys Postevint, of this city, says: "At times I suffered awfully with pains across my back and through my sides. I would have to go to bed and stay two or three days at a time. It was very worrisome. I managed to keep going, but . . . did not enjoy myself at all.
 "One day my mother remarked on how bad I looked. She said: 'You look so pale and peaked, why don't you take a bottle of Cardui?' She had taken it herself a number of times, and it had always improved her health, so she thought I had better try it.
 "I got the Cardui and began taking it, and from the first dose or two I could see a change for the better. The first thing I noticed was that my appetite was improved.
 I began to be hungry and I enjoyed my meals. I slept better at night.
 My rest was so much quieter that I got the benefit from it. I kept on with the Cardui and took it for several months. The pains in my back and sides grew less until they finally quit bothering me."
 Try Cardui for your case.
