SMITH TELLS PROBERS HE HAS NO TREASURER

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 10.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith today told the Senate campaign funds committee that he has not authorized anyone to act as chairman or treasurer of any national campaign for him, that he has done nothing personally about the boom started by friends and he has not personally contributed any funds.

Gov. Smith further stated that he does not intend to leave the state of New York and has made no patronage promises.

George VanNamee, public service commissioner, in charge of the governor's New York campaign, who followed Smith on the stand, declared that the biggest individual contributor of the Smith $103,000 campaign fund is William Kenny, of Brooklyn, a contractor who contributed $70,000, of which sum $50,000 was a loan.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Vaughn left Thursday morning by way of Abilene for Paris, Mo., to visit Mr. Vaughn's mother and other relatives for ten days or two weeks.

Interesting Primary Fight

The primary fight between Senator James E. Watson (left) and Herbert Hoover (right) was of more than ordinary interest. The present wave of enthusiasm among Republicans for Hoover had made it clear that Senator Watson, strong as he is, had a real fight on his hands. Senator Watson triumphed over Hoover but by a small majority.

McCarver & Lynn Pay $32,500 for Building

McCarver & Lynn, local real estate and abstract firm, has purchased from T. S. Lankford of Abilene, the building at the intersection of Eighth Street and Hutchings Avenue, for the sum of $32,500, it was announced here Thursday by W. C. McCarver.

The building is located in the heart of the business district and is considered one of the most valuable pieces of business property in Ballinger. It occupies a lot 60 by 140 feet.

Mr. Lankford was in the city recently and closed the deal which transferred the property to McCarver & Lynn. He owns considerable other property here but since his removal to Abilene he has sold quite a bit of his holdings in the city.

Mr. McCarver said his firm contemplated no improvements on the building at present.

This building is now occupied by the G. A. Ludwig dry goods company, who have the building under lease for one more year. Mr. McCarver said his firm had three years left on their contract for the building they now occupy.

This is the only town property owned by the real estate firm at present, Mr. McCarver stated. McCarver & Lynn formerly owned several houses in the residential districts but they have been disposed of several months ago.

"We believe this is one of the most valuable corners in Ballinger," Mr. McCarver said, "and that Ballinger will build and grow around these four corners on Eighth and Hutchings."

ROTARY CLUB ENJOYS TREAT

Members of the Ballinger Rotary Club enjoyed a program at Wednesday noon luncheon that was declared the best ever offered before the local organization.

With only one member of the club absent, the program committee sprang a surprise when they announced an out-of-town program. Mrs. Lillian B. Milyko, soprano, and Mrs. Helen B. Crocker, contralto, of San Angelo, were presented in a group of songs that called for not less than three encores for each. Mrs. Milyko has recently moved from New York city to San Angelo and established a voice studio there. She is a soprano of rare quality and her numbers heard by the Rotarians were especially well received. Two of her renditions were composed by David Guion, which added to their interest. Mrs. Crocker's rich low tones were pleasing to the listeners and her third number, a low arrangement of "Annie Laurie," was conceded a gem. The two ladies sang several duets that were excellently rendered.

Dr. J. C. Curran, of New York, spoke to the club for forty-five minutes on business. He asked permission at the beginning of his address to tell the truth in every statement he made and he did so to the delight of his auditors. Without exception every member who heard the address asserted it was the finest they had ever heard, and the Rotarians are making strong efforts to bring Dr. Curran back to Ballinger and present him to the entire citizenship of the town some night next week. A little humor mixed with wonderful truths about business made his forty-five minute address seem like only a few minutes had passed. At the conclusion of Dr. Curran's talk he called each man seated at the table by his name. Most of the men he had never been introduced to, but had asked once who they were. He did this to demonstrate what can be done by a little practice, and urged that business men and clerks study faces and use them in their business.

ALLAGOOD MAY ENTER NATIONAL MEET IN JUNE

Henson Allagood, of Miles, now attending high school in San Angelo, may enter the national track meet to be held in Chicago in June, it has been learned here. Allagood formerly attended Ballinger high school where he made an excellent track, football and basketball record. His work on the gridiron will be remembered here especially, as he aided materially in winning a number of important games for the locals. Allagood went to the district and state track meets and won easily over all opponents in the half-mile distance event and he is now training with high hopes of attending the national meet.

Henson has not been pushed hard this year by any competitor and it is believed he has a fine chance to capture the national meet. San Angelo sportsmen are said to be making plans to send this fast youngster to Chicago and if he goes, his many Ballinger friends and former classmates will wish him all the luck in the world.

Allagood was a member of the San Angelo relay team which went to the Kansas relays to lower the record held there. He is good in both dashes and distance events.

Group Pays Visit to Winners In the Living Room Contest

Tuesday, May 1st, was probably one of the most pleasant and profitable days in the life of the Runnels County Womens' community clubs. Mrs. Hollingsworth, our capable home demonstration agent, had set this day aside for the living room inspection tour.

Promptly at 9:00 o'clock the ladies began to arrive at the court house lawn in Ballinger and the Winters Chamber of Commerce office, the designated starting points. Some ten cars formed a line, with Mrs. Georgia Singletary, accompanied by Mrs.
Hollingsworth, Miss Ima Mc-Kown, Mrs. S. W. Cooper and Wm. Powers in the lead. Our first stopping place was Victory.
Here we inspected the living room of Mrs. J. M. Eoff. This room was not completed for the recent contest but was considered worthy of inspection. The main attraction in this spacious room was its wall covering and draperies. The color combination here was considered very good. While this was primarily a living room inspection tour, we could not fail to take note of Mrs. Eoff's well arranged yard. A profusion of old time spice pinks were in full bloom, forming a center for many other beautiful shrubs.

From Victory we formed a line and drove back through Winters.
Here the honk of motor horns announced that there was something special taking place in old Runnels county on this May day.
We were then on our way to Norton, some fifteen miles southwest. One and one-half miles west of Norton we found our next room for inspection. This was in the home of Mrs. Roy Roper and had been completed by Mrs. Roper with a total expense of $24.48. On entering this room our attention was called first to its bright spots. These were revealed in the valance at the curtain tops, flower pots, vases, pillows and candles. The fern pots, vases and candles were lacquered in rich orange. A slatted fruit plate was shaped to form an attractive fern stand, which was enameled to match the deep ivory of the woodwork. The floor covering was linoleum in colors matching the wall paper. A large fireplace with mantel was enameled to match the other woodwork. Possibly the best feature of this room was the correct hanging of its pictures.

After leaving Mrs. Roper's home, someone discovered that it was near noon and suggested we drive back through Norton and thence to Padgett's pasture, where lunch would be spread. As we neared Norton, horns began to honk and Norton awoke to the fact that for once she was in need of a traffic cop. Here we purchased ice and were off for the Padgett pasture. We would not attempt to describe the beauty of the great grove of pecan trees that greeted our vision as we made our way toward the bank of Valley Creek. However, we had two individuals along who failed to see the beauty of the trees above them, in their excitement over a few scattering nuts beneath the trees. They were Misses Georgia Singletary and Ima McKown. Miss McKown even forgot to hand out her cards until her attention was called to this omission and right here we pause to mention the kindness of Miss McKown in opening every gate on the entire route and some of them were regular old wire ones. Miss Singletary also deserves special mention for furnishing and driving her comfortable closed-in car.

Now about that lunch. It was just wonderful! And such a variety all spread out on beautiful linen lunch cloths. This lunch was prepared by the community club women. After the guests had assembled around the spread and invocation had been spoken by Mrs. L. K. Parr, we discovered that our man was missing. (We failed to mention that Mr. Farmer went along to repair the flat tires.) After all had eaten until we were sure we would never hunger again, Miss McKown volunteered to fill a plate and go in search of our man. This she did, not forgetting to take her card along. Just at this time Mrs. Hollingsworth called on Mrs. S. W.

Cooper, representative of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, for an after-dinner speech. Mrs.
Cooper stated briefly her mission on this trip, assuring them that the Winters Chamber of Commerce and our good town paper, the Enterprise, were ready to cooperate in anything for the upbuilding of Runnels county and especially in the community work. Next, the club presidents were asked to speak. This was answered by pulling stunts. Wish we might give these stunts in detail but time and space would forbid. However, each called forth laughter and applause. One very practical and commendable stunt was that of the Hagan club.
The president stated that their stunt was to have the largest number present. She ended by saying, "We pulled it," which was true. There were sixteen members present with six absent.
Spring Hill club, however, had the largest per cent present, having a membership of sixteen with twelve present. The following clubs were represented: Rowena, Brookshire, Pumphrey, Norton, Hagan, Victory and Spring Hill.

Just before leaving our lovely picnic grounds we glanced at the line of cars and made the discovery which caused us to wonder if the Chevrolet dealers had framed up on us. In straight line facing south were seven Chevrolet cars placed in such positions as to suggest a demonstration. We have failed to discover the secret of this peculiar happening up to this good hour.

It is now two o'clock and we are off to Spring Hill, our next place of inspection. We made this point by way of Ballinger and our noise awoke the citizens of our good county seat town to the realization that something was passing that way.

Arriving at Spring Hill, a community with a deep sandy soil and beautiful orchards we inquired as to why it was known by that name. Someone said that there were two springs near the school house. This sounded real interesting just at this hour and we looked longingly toward the school house but dared not suggest another stop.

Through the sand we drove to the home of Mrs. L. K. Parr. Here we inspected the living room which won first in class one. Mrs.
Parr is a widow, age 58 years, and made every piece of furniture in this room with the exceptions of a victrola and bookcase and had remodeled the bookcase.
The color scheme for this room was rose and brown. The settee was a rich dark oak, upholstered in brown velour. A massive armchair, rocker, library table, fancy end table, lampstand, and foot-stool were made to match the settee in every detail. The draperies were of rose rayon and the beautiful magazine rack was lacquered in rose and decorated with a stenciled medallion. Mrs.
Parr made this rack from apple boxes which she sawed out by a marked pattern. This rack was one of the most attractive we have seen anywhere. Mrs. Parr stated that she has more orders for this magazine rack than she can fill and expects to realize some money on it. Something over one hundred women have inspected Mrs. Parr's room. She keeps a pencil and tablet at one side of the door where each one

STOMACH SPELLS
Oklahoma Lady Gives Interesting Account of Long Use of Black-Draught
In Her Home.

Sageeyah, Okla.—"I have taken Black-Draught ever since I was a child, and can recommend it as a splendid medicine for family use." says Mrs. Cora Maberry, of this place. "My mother used it, in bringing up her family, and after I had a home of my own, I continued to use it, as I thought it was especially good to give the children."
"My children did not mind taking Black-Draught, and so when they got upset with stomach spells, or were constipated, I gave them Black-Draught tea."
"If I found that they were taking cold, I was quick to start giving them Black-Draught, as it helped them to throw off the impurities which caused the trouble."
"My children are all grown now and have homes of their own, but I still keep Black-Draught in the house and use it myself when I wake up in the morning feeling dull and 'headache', and have a bad taste in my mouth."
"Black-Draught is a simple remedy for constipation, and I prefer it to others because it is purely vegetable. I always feel better after I have taken a course of it."

registers as they enter. The total expense of this room was $24.00. Mrs. Parr's kitchen won first in the kitchen contest two years ago.

Leaving Mrs. Parr's home we next visited Mrs. Owen Aycock in the same community. Mrs. Aycock's living room won first in class two. The furniture in this room was finished in light oak. The bright spots were a fern stand, magazine rack, and coal bucket, lacquered in red and a flower pot in dull green. The window drapery was cream marquisette with a heavy blue fringe valance. The wall paper was a combination of cream and blue. The table scarf, chair cushions and floor covering of linoleum were also a combination of cream and blue. Another good feature of this room was the correct height of each picture on the wall.

Our next and last room for inspection was in the home of Mrs. N. S. Wright, two miles east of Miles. On this route we passed through the busy little town of Rowena. Here we thought for a few anxious minutes that we had lost our charming young candidates. Miss Singletary made a stop at the filling station for some gas and noticing a group of handsome young gentlemen who appeared to be at least twenty-one, both she and Miss McKown shuffled their cards and left us waiting outside. Here at Rowena we found out why no more of their club women could accompany us on the tour. The P. T. A. were having a special meeting and the Rowena women were 100 per cent for the P. T. A.

After leaving Rowena and driving back one mile west, we noticed corn and maize up to a good stand and plenty of moisture in the ground to insure its growth for several days.

Just before reaching Miles, someone began to vision ice-cold soda pop and spoke in no uncertain tone the desires. At once everyone became dissatisfied and as we entered Miles both old and young began to read the signs over every store front. At last we found a drink stand but it developed that the noise of our horns had driven the clerks out and one lone man remained to serve the drinks. Our candidates were equal to the occasion, again volunteering their service. Just now Mrs. Cooper announced that the drinks were a treat with compliments of the Winters Chamber of Commerce. Misses Singletary and McKown, Mrs. Hollingsworth and Mrs. Cooper did some speedy curb service, serving some thirty-eight or forty persons and delivering the empty bottles in about twenty minutes.

From Miles we made a detour at the suggestion of Mrs. Hollingsworth. However, Mrs. Hollingsworth just as readily consented to back track when we found ourselves up against the fence, whose gates were not to be made. We made our way back through Miles just in time to see the Baptist preacher leaving town. From here we drove out to Mrs. Wright's home. Mrs. Wright's living room was entered in class two. The walls and ceiling here had been covered with sheetrock. The walls were painted blue and the ceiling was a rich cream. The woodwork was a light oak. The floor covering was conglomium in a dull gray. The bookcases were built around a wall flue. The curtains were white swiss with rose dots. The amount spent on this room was $130. After having fully inspected this room the guests were invited into the dining room where we were served iced lemonade and cake from a snowy white table.

This being our last work for the day our crowd began to separate. It was nearly six o'clock when we arrived at Ballinger and found that our chauffeur had been waiting almost two hours.

Despite the fact that there was an epidemic of measles, flu, and incubator hatching there were some sixty people on this tour and all expressed themselves as having a happy day. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the day with the exceptions of three flat tires, one at Victory, one at Norton and the last at Rowena. These caused but little delay as we were near a repair shop with the last two and our man did the work at Victory. Mrs. Hollingsworth invited us to accompany her on the next trip, at our own suggestion.

Mrs. Hollingsworth certainly deserves credit for the way in which she is putting over these programs; she loves the work, and that is the secret why she does it well. Her workers are a jolly good "bunch" and appreciate her very much.

The number of miles covered on this tour ran well above a hundred—nearly the 120 mile mark. —REPORTER—

B'WOOD LAWYER FOR DIST. JUDGE

E. J. Miller, a member of the firm of Jenkins, Miller & Wilson, attorneys and counselors, Brownwood, this week makes public his announcement for district judge of the 33rd judicial district, composed of Rummels, Brown, Coleman, Concho and McCulloch counties, subject to action of the Democratic primary.

Judge Miller was in Ballinger a short time ago and talked with friends here in regard to his campaign.

Following is his announcement: To the Voters of Rummels County:

"I was reared on a farm in Callahan county, taught school five years in Brown, Callahan, Coleman, and Mills counties and have been practicing law in Brownwood for more than 20 years.

"I have had a varied practice in local appellate and federal courts. Think I can conservatively say, successful practice, as I have handled a good many important cases, have been in the appellate courts more than the average lawyer and have won at least 75 per cent of all the cases I have ever been in.

"Practiced alone the greater part of the time, but am now a member of the firm of Jenkins, Miller & Wilson.

"My candidacy is a response to what seems to be a general demand for more prompt and careful disposition of the business of the Court. If elected I will give my full time, six days per week if necessary, to keep the dockets of the Court clear, and see that the business of the Court is promptly dispatched without fear or favor.

"I will give such careful consideration to the issues of law and fact involved in contested cases as will largely decrease the number of appeals and reversals. "I entertain the very highest regard for the standing of the judiciary and feel that no condition should exist, nothing should be said or done that can give any reasonable grounds for questioning the purity of the stream of justice. If elected it will be my first endeavor to so conduct the business of the Court that every citizen regardless of wealth, class, business connections or social standing may bring his cause before the Court with the assurance that it will be tried upon its merits uninfluenced by any other considerations." 10-1td-1tw

"The Gorilla" Closes Run at the Palace Tonight

Edward Small, of Asher, Small and Rogers, the producer of "The Cohens and the Kellys" and "McFadden's Flats," now presents his latest, "The Gorilla," adapted from the famous stage play of the same name written by Ralph Spence. "The Gorilla" is considered the weirdest of the mystery stories and features Charlie Murray with Fred Kelsey as the two dumb sleuths, Mulligan and Garrity. "The Gorilla" closes a two-day engagement at the Palace Theatre tonight.

Ken Maynard Returns to Palace With New Western Feats

Ken Maynard, known as the one-man circus or rodeo, who has made daredevil horse-back riding a fine art, will exhibit his new feats at the Palace Theatre tomorrow and Saturday in his latest thriller, "The Devil's Saddle."

Bros. circus, and previously the champion horseman of a barnstorming rodeo troupe, Maynard graduated to the "movies" when he "out-grew" the apparently ultimate in "under the tent riding."

Maynard is a saddle trickster without any rival, and his sensational riding has contributed as much as anything else in advancing him to movie stardom. With each successive picture, and "The Devil's Saddle" is his sixth starring vehicle, Maynard unfolds a series of spectacular riding scenes which stand out as the highlight of the production. Tarzan, the cowboy hero's white wonder horse, is the second party to the thrilling episodes of the production, and supporting members of the cast include Kathleen Collins, Paul Hurst, Earl Metcalf, Francis Ford, Will Walling and Tom Bay.
