Road Bond Issue Is Favorably Received

Reports from over the county following the hearing preparatory to the calling of a $525,000 road bond issue here Monday indicate that the project is being favorably received, and many predictions that the issue will carry by a large majority in the election called for September 1st have been made.

The farmers as a whole are supporting the present plan more heartily than any previously proposed project, it is said. A large percentage of the citizenship of the towns of the county has announced in enthusiastic support of the program, and practically no dissension has been registered to date, according to current reports.

The $525,000 issue represents Runnels county's one-third of the funds necessary for the construction of 55 miles of highways across the county, the state and federal departments each matching the Runnels county quota dollar-for-dollar. With a materialization of the proposed project, the county will be provided with an all-weather road system equal to those of adjoining counties.

Plans call for twenty-nine miles of 18-foot concrete highway to be laid from the termination of the San Angelo highway to the Runnels county line two miles west of Miles now under construction, to a point near Hatchel. The remainder of the road to the north line of the county will be cared for by Winters, where no election will be held at this time, due to the desire of the people of that section to undertake a system of lateral roads in conjunction with the completion of highway No. 30. About 26 miles of highway No. 23, from the Coleman county line near Talpa, through Ballinger to the Concho county line, five miles from Paint Rock, will be treated with asphalt topping, according to present plans.

THREE LADS GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE OF 25 DAYS IN JAIL

Three 13-year-old lads, sons of prominent Ballinger families, who were caught in a watermelon patch by Deputy Sheriff John D. White Wednesday morning, were meted a 25-day jail sentence, which was suspended during good behavior.

This is the first melon filching case reported this year. County Attorney C. P. Shepherd declared rigorous prosecution will be enforced in all such violations, he stated.

Sixty-four from Runnels Enjoying Short Course

The 19th annual farmers short course opened at College Station July 30th with the largest attendance in the history of the organization.

By Sunday at 7 p. m. 3,500 delegates had registered with people coming in on every train Sunday night and Monday morning. A make-up Monday morning revealed the fact that 1,000 4-H club boys and 800 4-H club girls were on the campus.

Dr. T. O. Walton made the welcome address.

The program outlined for the week is one of the most practical and instructive ever offered.

M'Cord Well May Be Big Producer

A revival of interest in the Runnels county oil area is seen in discoveries gained in the Ross & Pendleton-McCord No. 1, about 20 miles northeast of here, which blew in Sunday night with a heavy production. At a depth of 3,500 feet the top of pay sand was encountered, but cave-ins followed. While drillers were attempting to clean out the hole, it blew itself in, through between 200 and 300 feet ofavings, with 500 feet of open hole.

The well is continuously spraying oil, and it is estimated that in the present condition it is producing about a million cubic feet of gas and more than 40 barrels of oil per day, through cave-ins. It is believed by promoters that this will prove a real producer when cleaning operations, which are already under way, are completed. With each step of lowering the casing oil is sprayed over the top of the rig.

It is predicted conservatively, that this discovery will open a large territory. The well appears to be in the same strata as the Watchhorn No. 1, which is still producing an abundant quantity of gas, piped into San Angelo for consumption. Watchhorn No. 1 was brought in at 3,475 feet, by the Kansas Drilling Company, and the same drillers are developing the McCord No. 1. While the latter well was drilled to a depth of 3,500 feet, the difference in altitude of the wells shows that they are from the same strata, which, it is believed, will prove a large field.

Dr. Bede, of the University of Texas, who made a survey of this section several years ago, declared that geological formations in this section indicated that the oil supply was deep. The Watchhorn test was the first deep test, and it served to verify Dr. Bede's findings. McCord No. 1 is the second deep test, and its apparent success will stimulate deep drilling, it is believed.

The McCord tract, on which the new well is located, is in Coleman county, a mile and a half from the Runnels line. The field embracing the strata from which the well is producing extends well into Runnels county, according to geological analysis.

E. D. Norman and family left this week for a 10-day outing in the Davis Mountains.

For Sale—One "Used Husband"

"There are questions greater, deeper and more important to the South than prohibition," Senator Harrison stated, adding that Tammany stood shoulder to shoulder with the South against its common enemies in the Reconstruction days. "If it hadn't been for their unwavering sympathy and cooperation Southern institutions and civilization today would not be preserved and intact. When now at one of the first opportunities to show our gratitude we arrogantly protest and as a section slap them in the face because of religion or indifference to some legislation we lose our unflinching ally, and remember, there is no other political ally to whom we can go," the brilliant Southern orator stated.

America's Gold Aids Germany's Rehabilitation

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, August 1.—America's gold is chiefly responsible for the post-war economic rehabilitation in Germany.

Out of an approximate $1,122,000,000 borrowed by Germany in the last four years, $750,000,000 was furnished by bankers in the United States, according to a department of commerce analysis.

A report submitted by Trade Commissioner Clayton Lane, of Berlin, showed that loans for the last year were $377,000,000, a decline of eleven per cent from 1926.

Borrowing Drops

The drop in German borrowing probably was the result of a letter written to the government by S. Parker Gilbert, agent general for reparations, who urged greater economy in public expenditure and fewer loan flotations by public bodies.

Ninety-two per cent of the 1927 borrowing represented long-term loans, seventy-five per cent of which went to private enterprises for the rebuilding of German industry. There was a sharp decline in long-term loans to public bodies and enterprises, although short-term loans to governmental bodies were somewhat heavier than in 1926.

Of the long-term loans since the international advance of 1924, fifty-six per cent went to private enterprise, 26 per cent to public bodies, 16 per cent to public enterprise and two per cent to church corporations. The short term flotations over this period were principally taken by public bodies.

Holland Helps

While the United States has supplied 70 per cent of Germany's financial demands since 1924, the proportion fell to 64 per cent in 1927. The Netherlands was the next largest source of capital. England supplied less than 10 per cent in the four years, although it supplied long-term credits in 1927 which were not listed as formal loans. Switzerland and Sweden were credited with most of the remainder.

"German borrowers received about 3,830,000,000 marks in long-term foreign loans out of a total per value borrowed of 4,250,000,000 marks," the department said. "They have received 10 per cent less than they will have to repay when the loans mature."

Outstanding German foreign loan indebtedness at the end of 1927 was 4,203,160,000 marks. On the estimated interest rate of 6.55 and 5.5 per cent on long and short term loans the total interest charges due in 1928 will amount to about $68,700,000.

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By Alice Langelier
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

Shawls and Jackets with Many Spangles

PARIS, Aug. 1.—Say it with spangles seems to be the rule for shawls this summer. Even the heavily-embroidered shawl coverings which hail from sunny Spain is gleaming with them.

One of the smart shops which makes a delightful showing of them is making a specialty of those from Grenada, not of silk but of black net, elaborately embroidered in every color of the rainbow and spangles as well. There are also more modern ones of soft, Persian silk in narrow striped design with deep fringes made of narrow strips of the same material and the inevitable little gold and silver pieces which make it sparkle.

Smaller shawls of heavy net are spangled all over with shiny paillettes in red, blue, green, and purple. Another designer is showing a charming new shawl of bright-colored silk, the favorites being jade-green and French blue with long fringes and a deep border of gold or silver spangles. A little spangled jacket of square-meshed net covered with shiny sequins, made with or without sleeves, is also a popular wrap for summer wear. It is particularly attractive for the cocktail hour.

A novelty of the season is the little jacket of printed crepe de chine on a dark background with small design, made in a loose coat-shape and worn with the sports or tennis frock of pure white jersey, kasha or crepe de chine. A kerchief, narrow belt and flat handbag, all of the same material, complete the costume.

Lee Expresses Gratification for His Big Vote

CISCO, Aug. 1.—Gratification was expressed by R. Q. Lee, congressional candidate, who apparently has received a plurality over his opponents in the Democratic primary last Saturday. Mr. Lee expressed his appreciation both of the support given him by counties throughout the entire district, for the loyalty of his friends who worked hard for him, and for the clean campaign which preceded the election. His statement follows:

"My heart overflows with gratitude for the expression of confidence in me manifested by my friends and the people of the nineteen West Texas counties comprising the 17th congressional district. It is extremely gratifying to me that my support was general throughout the district. There were four splendid gentlemen in the race with me, and I am not disappointed that those men carried some counties and towns I did not lead, although I was runner-up in most counties I did not lead. I am particularly pleased over the high plane upon which this campaign was conducted. I believe that all five of us who engaged in the race can take the other by the hand and truthfully state that we are actually better friends than we were before the campaign. This fact to me is as pleasing as the handsome vote given to me by the voters."

Texas Mother Knew Answer

"Yes sir, I am certainly proud of my little boy," says Mrs. J. S. Bellah, 104 Huff Ave., San Antonio. "He's the picture of health as you can see, and I feel like he'll always be that way as long as I can get California Fig Syrup. I have used it with him ever since he was a year old. I know what to give him for his colds and his feverish, upset spells because Mother used California Fig Syrup with all of us as children. I have used it freely with my baby and he loves it. It always fixes him up, quick."

In many homes, like this, the third and fourth generations are using pure, wholesome California Fig Syrup because it has never failed to do what is expected of it. Nothing so quickly and thoroughly purges a child's system of the souring waste which keeps him cross, feverish, headachy, bilious, half-sick, with coated tongue, bad breath and no appetite or energy as long as it is allowed to remain in the little stomach and bowels. Fig Syrup gives tone and strength to these organs so they continue to act as Nature intends them to do, and helps build up and strengthen weak, pale and underweight children. Over four million bottles used a year shows its popularity. The genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years, always bears the word "California."

Rotary Is Host to Secretaries

The Rotary Club was host to visiting commercial secretaries of the "Heart of Texas" district, who were present on the invitation of J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger organization, at the regular weekly luncheon Wednesday. The secretaries were in conference here throughout Wednesday.

Secretary Burk of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, made an address on good roads. Runtels county was only 15 days ahead of Brown county in the calling of an election for a good roads bond issue, Burk declared. A hearing has been called to be held at Brownwood, and sentiment in that county is strongly in favor of good roads, he said.

The program of the luncheon consisted of vocal selections by Miss Helen Williams and Miss Jewel Chaney, by an American Legion quartet composed of A. R. Jones, M. H. Boynton, R. W. Earnshaw, and Troy Snapsen, S. L. Culwell, former pastor of the Ballinger Methodist church, pronounced the invocation. Judge O. L. Parish presided at the meeting in the absence of President H. C. Lyon, who is in Abilene.

VITAL STATISTICS SHOW 13 BIRTHS, 12 DEATHS, FILED

Vital statistics recorded by W. A. Forgey, county clerk, for the month of July show thirteen births, as compared with 12 deaths. These figures, however, are not representative of the county as these statistics are now filed in various zones of the county, in accordance with a recent ruling of the state board.

Of the births, ten were boys and three girls, and of the deaths eight were males and four females.

Rev. S. L. Culwell, former pastor of the Methodist Church here, was a visitor in the city Wednesday.

DOES THE SHOE PINCH?

The shoe bill pinches all but the favored few—so does the new shoe.

Why not give your feet a real treat and buy new soles from our shop, instead of new shoes?

They will look as good as new—and feel better. There is as much difference in the quality of Resoles and the skill in applying them, as between good and cheap new shoes—more perhaps.

Skilled workmen in our shop, rebuild shoes with the most modern shoe factory machinery.

Hard, flinty, heavy weighing, acid, swelled, thick soles are dear at any price. In our shop, we resole with the same weight of leather that your shoe was originally built to carry. We do not "cobble"—we rebuild.

If you look in your closet tonight you will probably find several pairs of shoes needing new soles or new heels.

Bring them in to us and save the price of a new pair of shoes.

Plane Maps City This Morning

The slumber of hundreds of Ballinger citizens was disturbed by the shrill screams of a siren at about 6 o'clock Wednesday morning, and many persons hastily turned out of bed to learn the whereabouts of a fire. The piercing sounds seemed to emanate from the upper air, however, and perplexity reigned for a brief moment, when it was discovered that a siren on a transient airplane was from whence the noise came.

It developed that the craft was an aerial mapping plane from Love Field, Dallas, that took off early in the morning from Abilene for this city, which is to be the western terminus of an aerial survey to be made to Corpus Christi. The plane landed at Kinsolving Field, Abilene, Tuesday afternoon.

The plane is carrying Pilot Nemo Black and Raymond Oakes, photographer. The photographs are being made from an altitude of about 10,000 feet, it was said.

D. N. McWILLIAMS, 92, DIES AT TALPA

The funeral of D. N. McWilliams, 92-year-old pioneer citizen of this section, who died at the home of his son, O. O. McWilliams, at Talpa at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning following an illness of more than a year, was to be held in Glen Cove cemetery at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Elder Willie Barrett, of Breckenridge, and with King-Holt Company undertakers in charge at the grave.

The death of Mr. McWilliams had been expected for several months, during which time he was practically helpless. His wife died six years ago.

He came to Coleman county in 1878, and lived in this section since that time. For the most part he lived in Talpa, where his old family home is located.

He is survived by three sons and three daughters, T. J. McWilliams, of Lawton, Oklahoma; E. Shannon McWilliams, and R. E. (Earl) McWilliams, of Ballinger; Mrs. Eva Williams, of Vernon; Mrs. R. H. Herring, of Ballinger; and Mrs. J. B. Pentecost, of Winters.
