IF OF us who drink water in preference to tea or Mogen David have noticed in the last weeks that the water in Tahoka tastes bad. Ice also taste bad, and not only that, they stink. I can say quickly that it's not the fault of the water department; there doesn't seem to be anything they can do about it. They blame it on the spell and what has to be done to meet water demand at this time of year with no rain.

Well, this probably isn't a situation peculiar to Tahoka. Some folks we know over in Slaton say water has been tasting bad lately, also, and they have to hold their nose there as well as here to get an ice cube.

I haven't chomped any ice cubes lately, but I use those things really do smell bad, and I think there might be something wrong with our water.

I had a lady who came into the office if she had a problem, and if the ice tasted bad lately, she said, "I thought there was something wrong with my icemaker, like it needed cleaning."

At city hall, it was explained to me that Tahoka has to supplement the Canadian River with well water at this time of year. The well water has higher mineral and fluoride content. It is tested every month and is perfectly safe, we were told.

City Manager Carl Reynolds, people are having to use more soap in their washers and clothes washers because the well water is so hard.

Well water is being used because people are using their lawns a lot right now, and a good rain would help the situation (a good rain would do a lot of situations).

Neither Wilson nor New Home is on the Canadian water hookup; each has city wells and is Tahokans over for a good refreshing drink.

Wilson is on the CRMWA and uses no wells, but the water tastes okay there, we're told. The guy who told us that admitted he had a private well for drinking.

The guy downtown here said the water's flavor is a problem for him--he hasn't touched a drop in two years, you see.

SOME OF the community leaders are worried the Census Bureau is going to miss a lot of people who live in Tahoka because of the way the census people are going about getting the questionnaires to everyone.

It's really the problem--they may not be getting the questionnaires to everyone. In towns like this (and the others in Lynn County) where there is no house-to-house mail delivery--and Tahoka really needs it--the questionnaires are sent to some and not to others.

The Census Bureau apparently had some workers in the north of town, and they left them stuck into front yards, where some folks found them and others not have, particularly since the wind blew like it did last week. Some others living in the city got them by mail. The postoffice workers said many of the forms were sent to the office with only street addresses on them, and they had no idea who they'd get them.

Some reportedly still didn't have forms this week, and some others received two copies. And the publisher of another newspaper in this area was talking with the Senseless Bureau in Lubbock and was told that Tahoka was the most set-up Census operation in their jurisdiction.

It's good to be Number One in something, I guess. People who have problems of any kind with the census are asked to call the Lubbock toll-free number for help: It is 1-800-692-4275.

It's important to get everyone counted. Some of the other things they ask on the form are not so important (idiotic, in fact), but most of us would like to know how many people there are in the city and in the county.

They may never find out, though, the way they're

If You Want Mail, You'll Need Key

Starting next month anyone who wants to get his mail from a box in the Tahoka Postoffice had better have his key with him, because the workers at the Postoffice will no longer go get the mail for those who forget to bring their keys.

Welfare Fraud Charges Heard

A 10th district court grand jury returned four indictments here Tuesday, including two for welfare fraud.

Among those indicted were Beatrice Torres, 42, of Tahoka, accused of welfare fraud in the amount of $526, over a period of two months in 1979, through failure to report the correct amount of income.

Precilano Gonzales, 43, of Tahoka, also was indicted on a charge of welfare fraud, accused of illegally obtaining $1,428 in 10 months of 1979, also through failure to report the correct amount of income.

Floyd B. Whitehead, 38, of Post, was indicted in connection with several cases of thefts of articles from farms in the county.

In county jail Wednesday were two suspects arrested Tuesday in theft of about $450 worth of carpet in O'Donnell recently. The carpet was taken up from the floor of a home owned by David Bessire in March. Charged with burglary of a habitation were Guadalupe Ramos and Reynaldo Arguello, both of O'Donnell.

City police issued four tickets during the week, two for contesting for speed, one for running a stop sign and one for parking in a roadway.

He added that he hoped people would understand that going to get the mail from the back of the box for 10 or 15 persons per day was disrupting the work of the busy personnel. He added that extra keys are available for $1 each to persons who have misplaced their keys. "This action may seem harsh, but we will very much appreciate the public's cooperation in using keys to obtain mail." He also said it is the responsibility of the post-office boxholder to pay box rent by the first of the month after a notice is received. "If rent is not paid on time, the box will be secured so that mail cannot be removed through the door. If box rent is not paid after 10 days, mail will be removed and treated as undeliverable. After another five days, closed lockboxes will be offered for rent."

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

A factory worker writes: "What is our government doing to protect people who work with materials that may cause cancer?"

ANSWERline: Given the size of our Federal Government, and the size of the problem—some 700 new chemical compounds are created each year—it is no surprise that different agencies have different responsibilities in this matter. In 1970, the Occupational Safety and Health Agency (OSHA) was established within the U.S. Department of Labor. This agency has the power to set and enforce health and safety standards in the workplace. And in 1970, too, the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) was established within the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to conduct research and to recommend new standards to OSHA. The National Cancer Institute (NCI), the Federal Government's agency devoted to cancer research, makes its findings and scientific expertise available to NIOSH. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) also is working on the problem of job-related cancer. There are two aspects to this problem: (1) identification of hazards through research; (2) regulation and enforcement of standards to protect workers. Since we have so many different kinds of industries, there also are highly specialized agencies aimed at protecting workers. For example, the Mining Enforcement and Safety Administration (MESA) an agency of the U.S. Department of the Interior, sets standards of safety and enforces them through inspection.

A woman writes: "My 60-year-old aunt has a form of uterine cancer that strikes older women. What can you tell me about it?"

ANSWERline: There are two forms of uterine cancer. Cervical cancer occurs in the cervix, the neck-like opening of the womb (uterus); endometrial cancer occurs in the lining of the body of the uterus. Most cases of endometrial cancer occur among women in the 50-64-year age group. Vaginal discharge or bleeding are early signs of endometrial cancer which can be treated successfully when diagnosed early enough. Your local American Cancer Society Unit has a new pamphlet of information about both kinds of uterine cancer. It is available free to the public.

A reader explains: "Last year's 'Great American Smokeout' prompted me to quit cigarettes for three months. This time, I'd like

Maule, third; and Mrs. Jess Gurley and Mrs. H.B. McCord, Jr., fourth.

Marriage remains strong in America

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — Marriage in America is not ready for a requiem, says a University of Texas sociologist.

According to Prof. Norval Glenn, the institution of marriage remains "strong," even though many individual marriages fail. A major source of its strength, he says, is the willingness of Americans to replace unsatisfactory marriages with satisfactory ones through divorce and remarriage.

His findings reveal that attitudes about marriage remain far more stable than attitudes about other issues such as premarital sex and women's rights. Dr. Glenn says Americans "are distinctly conservative and highly committed to conventional monogamous marriage."

"Rhetoric, the skillful use of words to influence or persuade others, comes from the Greek word meaning 'orator.'"

Phebe K. Warner Study Club Meets

"Texas-Our State" was the subject of a program presented by Mrs. Robert Warren, at a meeting of the Phebe K. Warner Study Club on March 25 in the home of Mrs. W.W. Hagood, with Mrs. Roy LeMond as co-hostess.

The general concept of Texas seems to be highly exaggerated, Mrs. Warren said, and a slide presentation of historical figures and places followed by a presentation of the various Texas Cultures as presented in the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio, indicated a very continental atmosphere and attitude throughout the State.

She added that "Texas is not so much a State of the Union as it is a state of mind." Throughout the State, the settlements of nationalities with their individual customs, religions, clothing, weapons and music provide a thing that makes a group of people special. Mrs. V.P. Carter, Texas Heritage Chairman, arranged for the program.

CONSUMER ORNER

The key to making the right decisions when you go shopping: know before you go.

Helpful film tells story of young couple redecorating their home.

Looking for electrical appliances? It's wise to know in advance the right wattage for your wiring. Draperies? What's the best fabric for your dollar? Flooring? Where will you put it? How will it wear?

For example, if it's sheet vinyl floor covering you want, you should know about the quality and variety of design of the product you buy. Fortunately, this is easy to learn, thanks to a film produced by Mannington Mills, Inc., called "Movin' On."

This 15-minute film, available to clubs, organizations and schools, as well as TV stations, gives dollar-wise consumers down-to-earth hints on vinyl. This film is available from Modern Talking Picture Service, 5000 Park St. North, St. Petersburg, Florida 33709.

Head in clouds

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A woman student at The University of Texas has reason to have her head in the clouds.

Charlotte Smith is one of 10 women in the nation accepted for jet pilot training in the U.S. Air Force. A physics major, she is a cadet in the UT Austin Air Force ROTC, where she is deputy commander of the John H. Payne Squadron.

It is no coincidence that she is interested in flying. Her father is a career Air Force pilot. She hopes eventually to become a flight instructor. Under Air Force rules, she is barred from flying combat missions.

NEWS Of Electric New Technology

A major program has begun to evaluate a new coal-burning technology. This program involves the use of a large EPRI-funded pilot plant that became operational last year in Alliance, Ohio.

The system might allow utilities to burn different types of coal, as well as low-grade fuels, in an environmentally acceptable way without the use of additional expensive pollution control equipment, such as scrubbers.

The idea is to burn coal in a suspension of limestone-suspended during combustion by the force of air that enters from the bottom of the boiler—so-called fluidized bed combustion. The limestone absorbs the sulfur gas produced by burning coal.

A pilot plant technology is being developed by the Electric Research Institute. That organization is part of the nation's electric energy research and development.

DRIVELINE

Oh, Well, Back To The Old Drawing Board... The idea of motorized transport fascinated but baffled inventors for centuries. Even the great Isaac Newton couldn't solve the problem. Sometime in the late 1600's, after figuring out the mathematics of the Law of Gravity, Sir Isaac designed a jet-propelled steam carriage. Unfortunately, it would have required operating speeds in excess of 700 miles an hour, somewhat impractical for the muddy roads of the time, so the idea was shelved.

The government claims the 55 mph limit saves gasoline. Does it really make much of a difference?

—O.R., Pampa
Yes, it does, both to the individual and the nation. As your car's speed increases, so does its wind resistance — a big factor in gas mileage. Most cars can get about 28 percent more miles to the gallon at 50 mph than at 70. At 55 mph your mileage is 21 percent better than at 70. (That's a saving of four out of every twenty gallons!)

If consumers used less gas, demand wouldn't be so great and (hopefully) prices wouldn't rise as high. And we might avoid California style rationing and gas station waiting lines. The Federal Highway Administration says that if everyone went 55 mph, we could save three billion gallons of gas a year. That ain't no drop in the bucket... or tank!

Don't Get Caught in a Bad Deal When Making Lawn Purchases

AUSTIN—Texans across the state who are busy revitalizing their spring lawns and gardens need to be on the lookout for unscrupulous nursery peddlers and "tree experts," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has advised.

"In the past, we have received reports from consumers who have paid for unnecessary or poorly done landscaping services as well as for nursery stock which failed to thrive," Brown explained.

In many such incidents, consumers who are caught in these bad "deals" have been approached at their homes by traveling "experts," who explain that they are in the neighborhood doing other work, Brown said. One such example is the purchase of trees from door-to-door salesmen who offer "bargain" prices for planting trees which they provide.

"Consumers who buy such services find out, too late, that the trees planted in their yards are actually nothing more than sawed off branches, with no root systems, which have been stuck in burlap wrappings filled with leaves and rocks," Brown noted.

Similar experiences have been reported by homeowners who have been approached by door-to-door salesmen who sell consumers on unnecessary fertilizing and pesticide work. Others may purchase "fully guaranteed" plants from street corner vendors which die soon after being brought home.

"Practically speaking, there is very little recourse for a consumer who does business with unknown door-to-door peddlers or street corner vendors of plants and trees," Brown said, "since by the time the person realizes his mistake, the dealer has long since moved on."

The consumer's best defense against being gyped in such deals is to shop around when buying such services and/or products.

"Seek out the advice of recognized nursery and lawn care experts before taking the word of anyone who offers unsolicited advice on your lawn's care," Brown said.

He also advised purchasing plants from established dealers who, by law, are inspected and licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Why joggers ache

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A physical education professor at The University of Texas knows why runners and joggers ache.

Because he has diagnosed hundreds of runners in UT's Rehabilitation Laboratory, Prof. Karl Klein says most running problems occur because one leg is shorter than the other, ankles turn inward, the tension between muscles on the front and back of legs is unbalanced, and many fail to run "pigeon toed" (a toe-inward position with the outside of the feet parallel).

He advises stretching exercises for muscle flexibility and, in the running shoe, heel lifts (to balance posture) and podiatry-designed devices (to turn ankles outward).

UT attracts Merit Scholars

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — GIANT strides have been made at The University of Texas at Austin in the number of National Merit Scholars it has attracted.

For 1979-80, UT enrolled 190 such scholars — an increase of 57 per cent over the previous year. The increase moved UT Austin from 26th to 15th place nationally.

UT ranks third in Texas (behind Rice and Texas A&M) in the number of Merit Scholars. UT has been an institutional sponsor (that is, providing financial support) for National Merit Scholars only since 1978.

In addition, UT ranks first in Texas in the National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students.

Foreign language

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — The chairman of The University of Texas Classics Department views American indifference to learning foreign languages as "a failure to live up to the expectation of world leadership."

Dr. Karl Galinsky believes Americans have relied too much on technology to stay ahead of other nations and not enough on the need to understand the thoughts and cultures of other peoples.

In Dr. Galinsky's opinion, the challenge of foreign-language educators is to find a successful way for combining the study of both language and culture, to go beyond the appreciation of literature that has traditionally marked language study.

This Angel of a Cake, with its rich filling combination of chocolate and peanuts, makes an elegant and delicious dessert, notes the Texas Department of Agriculture home economist.

ANGEL OF A CAKE

- 1 1/4 C. cake flour, sifted
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 1 1/2 C. egg whites (9-10 eggs)
- 1/4 tsp. salt

- 1/4 tsp. almond extract
- Chocolate-Peanut Filling (below)

In a large bowl, sift together cake flour and 1/2 cup sugar 4 times. Set aside. In another bowl, combine egg whites, salt and cream of tartar. Beat together until soft peaks form. The eggs should be stiff, but not dry. Add sugar in 4 parts, beating after each addition. To egg mixture, fold in vanilla and almond extract. Sift in flour mixture in 4 additions, beating 20 strokes after each addition. Bake in preheated oven at 375 degrees F. for 35-40 minutes. (Place cake on bottom rack in the oven.) Remove cooked cake and invert angel food cake pan until cake is cool. When very cool, use an electric knife or very sharp bread knife to slice cake twice horizontally to make three equal layers. SMALL BUSINESS LOAN

MESSAGE—I'd like to expand my small business, so recently I applied for a Small Business Administration Loan. On the application, one of the questions asked if I'm under indictment, on parole, or on probation. Unfortunately, I'm on probation for a minor traffic offense. My record will be cleared when probation ends this December; but I'm afraid the SBA will reject my loan application. I think this policy is a bit harsh. Except for this minor offense, I have a clean slate. Could you please check this and advise me if my application still has a chance? P.D.—Sinton

SENATOR BENTSEN RESPONDS—You have no problem. SBA officials say that question relates only to serious, criminal charges. A one-time traffic offense won't jeopardize your application. SBA officials also report that your application looks very good; your loan should be approved in a week.

PRESCRIPTION PROBLEMS

MESSAGE—I'm a disabled veteran with a heart condition. A private doctor treats me, but the V.A. pharmacy has supplied my drugs for 12 years. Recently the doctor prescribed a new drug for my circulation problems. The V.A. pharmacy refused to give me the drug. My doctor says no other drug will work. I don't know what to do. Any suggestions? K.G.—Waco

SENATOR BENTSEN RESPONDS—The V.A. wants to help you, but the Food and Drug Administration classifies your drug as "ineffective." V.A. rules forbid issuing these classified drugs. However, you qualify for outpatient treatment at the V.A. clinic. A V.A. doctor can examine you and prescribe a substitute drug that the V.A. pharmacy will provide at no cost.

Do you have a problem with government? MESSAGE TO WASHINGTON cuts through the red tape to get answers to your questions about Social Security, veterans benefits, immigration matters and other problems you may have run into in your dealings with the Federal Government in Washington. Write MESSAGE TO WASHINGTON, c/o Senator Lloyd Bentsen, U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510. THERE IS NOTHING WRONG with the bald eagle, but considering the tremendous contributions agriculture makes to America's economy, a more fitting national symbol might be the cow, the sow or the hen, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has suggested.

"Agriculture has always been the basic foundation upon which our growth and prosperity have been built," said Brown. "As world demand for U. S. farm goods increases, the importance of agriculture to our economic well-being becomes even more dramatic."

"The farmer might well be the next great American hero, and the national symbol should reflect the historical and economic importance of Agriculture," said Brown.

Brown noted that the American agriculture industry is one of the few industries to post consistent foreign trade surpluses. This helps offset this country's huge payments for foreign oil, and strengthens the dollar overseas. For fiscal 1979, record U.S. farm exports outstripped imports of farm goods by $16 billion. The agricultural trade surplus has not dropped below $10 billion since 1973, he added.

"U. S. farm exports provide jobs for more than 1.6 million Americans, and generate over $63 billion within our economy," said Brown.

Brown noted that Texas' share of U. S. farm exports in 1979 was over $2.2 billion. Cotton, of course, was the most valuable export, but Brown pointed out that livestock exports through Texas Department of Agriculture facilities exceeded $30 million for the first time last year. Soybeans, feedgrains, wheat and rice were just a few other important Texas agricultural export items.

"The mystique of Texas and our reputation for high-quality food and fiber products gives us a tremendous advantage in overseas trade," he said. "We are becoming more knowledgeable in our selling and trading. We're doing everything we can to develop and maintain markets for Texas farm and ranch products."

FHA/HERO Week Observed

FHA/HERO Week was held during the week of March 24-28. The week began with a new contest called "Mr. & Mrs. Legs Contest". All during the week, students were to vote for the best looking pair of legs. Tuesday all FHA/HERO members found a "Member Day" tag on each of their lockers. Teachers were thanked and honored Wednesday during "The Teacher Appreciation Day". The teachers found many surprises and they were each given a personalized note pad. Red and white was the favorite colors Thursday as the members proclaimed this day a "Color Day". "Hush Day" was held Friday and all the guys had to try to make all FHA/HERO members talk. Unfortunately, the results of the Legs Contest and Hush Day were not tallied due to the sudden fire. Some Secret Grandparents

Farmers Planning Fewer Acres Of Potatoes, Onions in Texas

AUSTIN--Total acreage for both spring potatoes and summer onions are expected to be down in the state this year, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Spring potato acreage is expected to be down 13 percent while nine percent fewer acres are to be planted in summer onions. Total estimates for spring potatoes is 6,200 acres, compared to 7,100 harvested last year. Summer onion producers have announced planting intentions of 7,500 acres, down from 8,200 a year ago. Potato harvest in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is expected to begin in mid-April. Except for a light freeze March 1, growing conditions have been favorable, Brown said.

Mild temperatures in the Winter Garden area promoted growth that was set back temporarily by the March freeze. Harvest will begin there around May 1. In the Knox-Haskell area planting is underway.

Brown said most onion transplanting should be completed this month on the High Plains with harvest expected in July.

Onions are making good growth at Presidio where harvest should begin in early May. The Pecos harvest will start around June 1.

Texas Feedlot Numbers Down

AUSTIN--Slowed movement both into and out of cattle feedlots has resulted in a drop in total numbers reported by Texas feeders in their facilities in March compared to a year ago, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has noted.

ACCORDING TO THE BIBLE

BIBLE Answers for BIBLE Questions: By DOUG CARTER

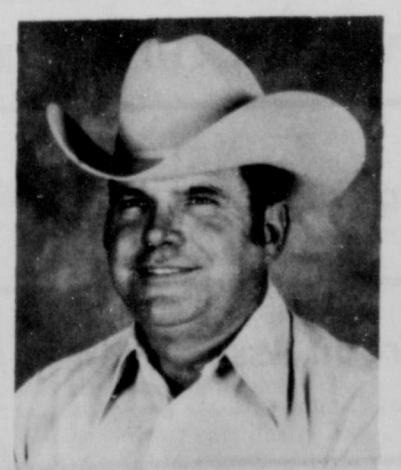

Question: Should baptism be done by sprinkling or immersion or does it really matter?
Answer: The reason we have so many people "walking" in so many directions today is because we have put our own "opinion" on what God has specifically commanded. If God requires one method over the other then it really does matter. There are at least three ways we can know baptism should be done by immersion. First, the things that accompanied baptism in the N.T. suggest immersion. Baptism requires "much water" (Jn. 3:23). It required going into the water, coming out of the water, and a "burial" (Acts 8:38,39; Mk. 1:10; Rom. 6:4, Col. 2:12). Second, the N.T. was originally written in Greek and the Greek word for baptism is defined as "dip" or "immerse," an Arndt and Gingrich Greek-English Lexicon (the most widely respected dictionary available today). The word "baptizo" is defined as "dip," or "immerse" in the Greek O.T., and it was used for Nazman "dipping" himself in the Jordan river. In classical Greek it often referred to the sinking of a ship and this is certainly an immersion. Third, in literature written after the Bible was completed we can see that immersion was originally practiced and sprinkling crept in later. For example, Cyril of Jerusalem wrote, "He who plunges into the waters...the water...flows around the outside." So, when one obeys God in the final step of salvation, the baptism should always be immersion (Lu. 6:46). You are invited to attend a Gospel Meeting, April 13-16, in Tahoka. Darnell Boyd, who was minister at the Tahoka church of Christ from 1967-1972, will be preaching. Not only will there be services at night, there will be a morning service at 10 o'clock Monday-Wednesday, April 14-16. Please come and be with us as we strive to learn more of God's word.

A Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Texas farmers and ranchers who want information about the disaster recovery loan program of the U.S. Small Business Administration now have a toll-free number they may call, says Young, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

SBA has already assisted more than 10,000 agricultural producers in Texas, and this toll-free number will make it easier for farmers throughout Texas to receive information about the SBA program.

Farmers who have questions about being eligible or how to apply for an agricultural disaster loan may receive a brief explanation by calling, toll-free, 1-800-692-4296 from anywhere within Texas. If a farmer has already applied to SBA for assistance, he may leave his name, address and phone number with the receptionist and a loan officer familiar with the application will call back at once using another line rather than tying up the toll-free number for any length of time.

SBA physical disaster loans are available in counties recommended by the governor and subsequently designated by the SBA administrator. Loans are made only for crop losses not already covered by insurance or other disaster or deficiency payments.

When comparing costs of food at home with food eaten away from home, don't forget to add the time and labor of the homemaker for shopping, preparing and cleaning up, says Lillian Chenoweth, a family resource management specialist.

Two Private Letter Rulings (PLR's) from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and a promised "published ruling" could impact heavily on the financial affairs of High Plains cotton producers, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

At issue is the fate of farmers' long standing and much used ability to level tax liabilities from year to year through the use of deferred payment sales contracts.

PCG's accounting firm, Main Hurdman and Cranstoun, advised PCG recently that IRS is questioning the validity of the formal Revenue Ruling 58-162 which stated in 1958 that proceeds from a crop sale by a farmer using the cash method of accounting could be deferred to the year following the year of delivery through a bona fide arms-length contract stipulating that the payment be made in the subsequent year.

In the first of two PLR's (8001001) the IRS addressed the question of a two-year deferral and held that formal ruling 58-162 was not applicable. For federal tax purposes, IRS said, the contract calling for deferred payment at a later date had a fair market value when signed and must be considered as income in the earlier year.

The second PLR (8004004) came January 30, 1980 in reply to a request that IRS rule on whether a one-year deferring of pay by a farmer could shift income to the following year for tax purposes.

The IRS answered that the "... request presents an issue that is currently under study. When the study has been completed it is anticipated the results will be published in a revenue ruling."

In the opinion of Main Hurdman and Cranstoun, "If the forthcoming published revenue ruling follows the IRS position in PLR 8001001 it will take the position that even a one-year deferral is not allowable."

If this happens, Johnson says, the tax burden on cotton producers and other farmers will be significantly magnified. And, he points out, unless there are some transitional rules to phase in the burden of the ruling over a period of several years, hundreds of farmers will be faced with the prospect of paying taxes on two years' production in a single year.

Main Hurdman and Cranstoun noted in its report to PCG that PLR 8001001 cited a court decision in the Warren Jones case to support its position. The Jones case, however, was not related in any way to agriculture. It involved the sale of an apartment house and does not obviate the recognized necessity of farmers to level the wide differences in income from year to year caused by weather and extreme market fluctuations.

Scanning Social Security

By JIM LATIMER

People receiving social security benefits who earned more than the annual exempt amount in wages or self employment during 1979, have until April 15, 1980, to file an annual report of their earnings.

The 1979 annual exempt amount was $3480 for people under age 65 all year, and $4500 for people 65 or over any part of 1979. A person will have $1 in benefits withheld for each $2 of annual earnings over the exempt amount.

The annual report is used by the Social Security Administration to determine whether the person received the correct amount of benefits for 1979. If too much or too little was paid, any necessary adjustment is made after the report is received.

A special monthly test is used during a person's first year of retirement. Under this test, a person can receive a benefit for a month in which he or she did not work, but little or had no work, regardless of total earnings for the year. This monthly test can be used only in the person's first year of retirement.

The exempt amount for those drawing social security checks in $3720 for anyone under age 65 any part of the year, and $4500 for anyone age 65 in any month of 1980.

We have a pamphlet entitled, "If You Work After You Retire" which contains more information about the annual earnings test. This will be sent to you free for the asking. Our address in 1205 Texas Avenue, Room 102, Lubbock, Texas.

On-farm tests proved it...

In 56 comparisons over the last three years, certified Lockett 77 from Pioneer produced an average gross income of $309* per acre ... giving it a $42 per acre advantage over competitive varieties.

Why such an advantage? Outstanding seedling vigor with excellent cold tolerance and seedling disease escape help Lockett 77 make a good stand. Added to that are multiple disease tolerance, hardy plant characteristics, and early maturity ... a combination that helps Lockett 77 deliver outstanding performance.

Farmers who've grown certified Lockett 77 are well pleased with results. Jack and Paul Hopper at Knott recorded a lint yield of 1,553 lbs./planted acre in 1979. Ben Roming at Lariat got 830 lbs./A. And over the last four years at Tell, Texas, Clinton Halford averaged 975 lbs. of lint per acre with certified Lockett 77.

Ask your ginner or Pioneer dealer to show you performance data for Lockett 77 from your area. Then order your share for 1980 planting.

COTTON TODAY

Exports Jump: Cotton export shipments during the week ended March 16 totaled 291,000 running bales, including 131,000 to China, to hit the second largest weekly level on record. This brought the total to 5,237,200 compared with 3,506,100 bales a year ago. The week's new sales for current-year delivery amounted to 134,300 and pushed the total commitments to 8,899,900 bales. The major buyers were Korea, 45,800, and Japan, 31,300. Sales of 368,300 bales for 1980-81 delivery were primarily to China-357,200.

Maid to Begin Overseas Tour: Maid of Cotton Melissa Mock of Altus, Okla. departs this week for an around-the-world tour promoting U.S. cotton. Stops will include Japan, Korea, Hong Kong, Singapore, India, Greece, and England. During her seven-week tour, the Maid will visit major mill customers, participate in store promotions and media events, and make courtesy calls on top government and textile officials. In some countries, the Maid's activities will be filmed by staff members of the National Cotton Council public relations department. The crew also will film activities of a Cotton Council International trade team in the Farm East during the same period. The footage will be included in a CCI film on cotton exports schedules for completion later this year.

Cotton Use, Market Share Up: The seasonally adjusted annual rate of cotton consumption in U.S. mills was 6.6 million bales in February, up 2.8% from January and 7.4% above the weather-depressed consumption rate in February, 1979. Cotton's share of U.S. mill fiber consumption advanced to 26% highest market share since April, 1978. A part of the market share improvement stems from increasing number spindles on 100% cotton. Another factor was the reduced consumption rate for manmade fibers, a significant part of which related to weakness in floor-covering market where cotton is minor factor.

And Cotton yesterday: Arab traders brought cotton calico and muslin fabrics to ports on the Red Sea as early as the 1st Century.

Stock Show Dates Changed

The annual meeting of the Lynn County Stock Show Association was held on March 31, 1980 at the Lyntegar Electric Co-op Meeting Room. The association decided on some major changes for the 1981 county stock show. The show will be moved forward approximately one month to January 21, 22, 23, 24. Other major changes were the Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion of each division would be requested to sale. Also no floor bid will be offered for animals who do not make the premium sale.

Lyndell Wood, Chairman of the building and Ground Committee reported they were working on securing funds for concreting the show barn. The association voted to proceed with the project, and secure help to improve the county barn to make the facility more adaptable to various type of events.

New officers and directors were elected as follows: President, Bob Ballard; President Elect, Tommy Lawson; Vice President, Harold Sanders; Secretary, Stanley Young; and Treasurer, Dwain Lusk. Directors elected were Tahoka, Ed Bartley; Wilson, Jerry Don Ross; New Home, Bob Ballard; and O'Donnell, Billy Jack Wood.
