John Louis Koethe Elected President Alumni Association

Kenneth Slagle and Lois Lefevre Other Officials

At the annual Alumni Banquet held last Friday night in the high school auditorium, John Louis Koethe was elected president, Kenneth Slagle, vice president, and Lois Lefevre, secretary-treasurer. The retiring officers were Harry Olsen, president; John Louis Koethe, vice-president; Mrs. Grover Thaxton, treasurer; Mrs. Wayne Lefevre, secretary.

About 125 persons were present to enjoy the delightful program which was as follows:

Invocation, Vincent Stine; Welcome, Harry L. Olsen, President; Response, Lulu Logan Smith; Stunt, Led by Frank Selvidge, Piano selections, Helen Prewitt; Vocal solo, by Naomi Kimbrough; Exhibition dance by Shirley Langston and Harry Brookshire; Address, Houston McMurry; School Days and Bless Be The Tie That Binds, by Association.

The auditorium was decorated with colored lights, Chinese lanterns and balloons.

Mr. Jack Dale served as toastmaster.

During the latter part of the evening a business session was held at which time Mrs. Frank Bunting made a motion to appoint a committee to decide whether or not the association should continue to meet every year or every second or fifth years. The motion passed and the committee was appointed to report at a later date. Whether or not the association will meet next year depends upon the decision of the committee.

OIL NOTES

Shell Oil Company is rigging up a spudder to drill the plug from the sand at 4,923 foot depth in the No. 1 W. A. Davis well, located in block 93, J. Belcher survey, an offset to the Burns No. 1 Browning discovery well. This well showed a series of sands with considerable oil down to the 5,100 foot mark.

The Burns rotary rig which was used in drilling the Shell Davis No. 1, has been moved to a new location on the C. L. Wynn land in block 34, H. Williams survey, abstract 704, where a 5,000-foot test will be drilled. This location is about two miles west of Joy.

Gant crew is preparing to drill No. 1 Earl Spring, which is 660 feet west and will offset the No. 7 well just completed on the Worsham land and which is known as Committee land. This is in proven territory, and will be drilled to 3,900 feet depth.

Mrs. William Mann, Mrs. Charles Hughes of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Arch Hurley of Tucumcari, N. M., were guests last Wednesday of Mrs.

Rain And Hail Did Much Damage

Heavy rains, hail and high winds ripped over Henrietta and surrounding communities late Monday, injuring property and persons in some places.

Hail described as big as hen eggs pelted the highway between Jolly and Henrietta.

In the Rock Springs community several barns of Mr. Ben F. Nimmo were blown away and a great deal of damage done to his crops.

The barn on Mr. A. M. Smith's farm was blown down and his crops completely wiped away.

One hundred and twenty-seven window panes were knocked out at the Texas Company Plant.

Monday night at least four persons received treatment in Henrietta for injuries sustained when their automobiles were thrown out of control by blinding dashes of ice.

Most seriously injured were three California women whose automobile overturned twice after the hail had blinded the driver five miles west of here. They were Mrs. Lyn Armstrong, who suffered from lacerations on the head and from shock; Mrs. Flora Kenneth, shock, and Mrs. F. Stevens, cuts on the ankle. They are from South Citrus City, Calif., and were enroute home from Dallas.

A half dozen cars were reported to have been forced into the ditch on the Wichita road. No damages to homes and gardens in Henrietta were reported. However a few roofs had leaks in them due to the hard hail.

The harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph.

County Clerk On Attendance Committee

Temple, Texas; May 12.—It was announced here today that Lawrence Nuckolls, Clay County Clerk, has been named a member of the Attendance Committee for Texas County and District Clerks Association which meets here May 18, 19, 20. The appointment was made by Ben Ligon, Corpus Christi, President of the Association, and announced by Jack Spoons of Belton, secretary.

Outstanding speakers will appear on the program of the convention which will be attended by approximately three hundred clerks from over Texas generally. Entertainment features are a big barbecue and a ball at the Doering Hotel will be provided.

Important Notice To Farmers

Wednesday, May 24th, at 10 A. M. Mr. E. R. Eudaly, Extension Service Dairyman, will discuss feeds and feeding at the Agricultural building in Henrietta.

Due to the poor prospect for a feed crop this meeting should be of interest to every farmer and stockman.

Mr. Eudaly has had many years experience in feeding cattle and the preservation of feeds. He is an interesting speaker and will bring some important facts that will be of value to every farmer.

Don't forget the time and place. Everybody is urgently invited to attend.

M. S. DUNCAN, County Agent.

Maury Maverick Is Winner In May 9th Race For Mayor

Maury Maverick, former congressman from the San Antonio district, was elected Mayor of the Alamogordo, N. M., May 9th and will take up his official duties early in June.

Maverick was defeated, along with Congressman McFarlane and others, in the campaign last spring of the same kind of campaign waged against each of the men. Mr. Maverick's victory was good news to his many friends in the state, and it is gratifying to see the splendid mentions being given him in the press by many who opposed him bitterly last year. It will make San Antonio a good mayor, we predict.

Love You Texas

By Boyce House

For a long time, there has been criticism of vacancy racketeering and there is no question but that land-owners and good faith occupants of land have been subjected to abuses.

A bill was offered early in this session of the Legislature with the announced purpose of protecting good faith occupants from shake-downs but the measure placed the reward of the legitimate vacancy-lander so low (1-24th) that he would have insufficient incentive to recover vacancies (unsold land belonging to the State) and so the taxpayers of Texas would lose 10,000 acres worth $150,000,000 to foreign-owned oil corporations who would be enriched to that extent—this commentator pointed out a few weeks ago. At the same time, the column also urged that the reward of the good faith occupant be raised.

In line with these suggestions, the legislature increased the vacancy-finder's share to a royalty of 1-16th of the State will have a 1-8th royalty on the land in an oil field) and the occupant of the land will receive the remaining 13-16ths. This will be his and not subject to any existing lease held by an oil company.

Those advocating the bill in the House had said they wanted to help the occupant. Well, that change was certainly helping him because as it now stands, if there is a vacancy but it is not discovered, he gets nothing, whereas this amendment would give him the surplus of all the oil except 3-16th. When the amended bill came to the House, certain of those who had been leading the fight for the bill objected to the changes and it was sent to a committee. They dropped the mask and the tears that they had been shedding were of the crocodile variety and that in reality they were simply stooges for foreign oil corporations.

Their move was beaten and the bill has gone to the Governor. He has advocated, in a special message, that protection be given to land-owners and good faith occupants and this bill does that. It also provides a filing fee that the vacancy-lander must pay from $1 to $100. It also provides the Land Commissioner to name the surveyor to make the survey; it places the trial of the land in the county where the land is and, even if a vacancy is discovered, it gives the good faith occupant the prior right to all the surface of the 16ths of the oil.

There is in the "old joke" contest a story of a man who was a time-traveler. Here's a time-tested favorite: An inexperienced traveler who had memorized his itinerary started off, "Ladies and gentlemen, when I was on my way to the Lord and I knew I was going to say, Now, only you know."

Somewhere in Mexico the mountains approaching Monterey are grim of solid rock, mile after mile of solid grandeur. Their almost perpendicular slopes not only are devoid of a single human being or even the hardiest of animals but there is not a tree, a flower or a blade of grass to hide their awesomeness.

As the train stops at a little town, (some 50 members of the Texas State's good will pilgrimage) swarm to buy the novelties for which this town is famous—small baskets of fully two dozen tiny baskets of dried. The skill and patience required to make one set of these souvenirs (a day's work at the very least) brings its reward—one peso, which is 20 cents in American money.

In Monterey, we are guests at a dinner-dance given by the Monterey Lions in the Casino, most exclusive club in the city. (Incidentally, it proved to be the finest repast of the entire trip—white fish with a divine sauce and broiled chicken with a flavor unknown even to a Southerner). Monterey is proud of being the brewing center of the Republic and the visitor is served a pair of bottles of beer at a time—which makes each guest a "two-bottle man."

It is night when we reach San Luis Potosi but vendors of opals (for which the city is renowned) are not to be foiled by the darkness. With the aid of tiny flashlights, they display flashing gems in the palm of the hand.

We enjoy the finest luxuries to be found on the railroads of the United States—Pullmans, lounge diner where well-prepared, reasonably-priced meals are served. (It startles one to receive a bill for $3.75 until he realizes that it is in Mexican money, and is only one-fifth of that amount in U. S. currency.)

Eight States are represented in our group and while some chat, others play Chinese checkers, others read, a few take a nap, and the rest gaze at the scenery—peons plowing with oxen, a stately hacienda, a white-domed church and a cluster of straw-covered adobe houses at the foot of a mountain, naked babies, giant maguey; it is a constantly changing, always-interesting panorama.

Some quarters have not yet become reconciled to the fact that since the election of Jerry Sadler to the State Railroad Commission, that body is a three-man commission and no longer a one-man show. All three of the elected representatives of the people have a voice in its affairs—which is quite different from the condition that prevailed for three years when, frequently, one of the members was entirely ignored, not even notified of meetings, and the decisions usually were those of one Commissioner.

WHEAT WORLD OUTLETS HAVE DECLINED 25 PER CENT

College Station, May 16.—World outlets for wheat have shrunk by 25 per cent in the last 15 years.

Such a decline is shown by figures compiled here by Jess Watson, wheat farmer and member of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee. Europe, which in the 20's bought about 80 per cent of the world's wheat exports, furnishes an example of the trend among importing countries, Watson points out.

The background: The 22-wheat-importing countries in Europe have cut their impact more than a third since the peak of the 20's in spite of the fact that Europe's largest importer, the United Kingdom, has maintained its requirements around the 200 million bushel mark.

About 80 per cent of the drop in European imports is accounted for by Italy, Germany, and France, whose policies of stimulated home production and restrictions on consumption and imports have had their effects.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Browning were in Henrietta Saturday.

Plenty of Eggs
With bright prospects for a plentiful supply of eggs and poultry in Texas, these foods are coming for extra attention as regular additions to the diet.

Eggs are richer than most foods in some of the minerals and vitamins the body needs, Jennie Camp, home food production specialist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service points out.

Since much of the mineral and vitamin content is concentrated it is one of the first foods added to the baby's milk diet.

Eggs are particularly valued for their iron, vitamin A and for their protein, which is in a readily available form. They are also rich in phosphorus and are a good source of calcium besides vitamins G and E, and the yolks are one of the relatively few good natural sources of vitamin D.

Nutrition workers consider eggs one of the better foods to help promote growth of children. The Texas Food Standard, prepared by Extension Service nutritionists, specifies an egg a day for children and adults also need to a minimum of four or five every week.

Slow cooking at a low, even heat is the secret of success for all egg dishes, Miss Camp said.

Dean Deale 4-H Club

The Dean Dale 4-H club girls met in the auditorium May 11th, with Miss Hayden for the purpose of discussing views from the bedroom window. She had recreation, played games and sang, "Put On Your Old Gray Bonnet," and "Dreaming." The house was called to order, roll called, minutes read and corrected. We heard a report from the financial committee. The meeting was turned over to Miss Hayden.

Miss Hayden explained to us about the county-wide meeting for girls, women, men and boys, Saturday, May 13th. We then had our demonstration on views from the bedroom window. She told us how to arrange the lawn so the family and neighbors could play.

We then played some games that could be played on the lawn.

Meeting adjourned at twelve o'clock.

Beautiful bouquets of pink roses, larkspur, and Queen Ann's Lace centered the linen covered tables. The dinner menu was chicken salad green beans, new potatoes, tomatoes and lettuce, ice tea, orange sherbet and wafers.

Following the dinner, Misses Mary Nell Milner, Ruby Wood, Peggy Clark and Ruth Wood, accompanied by Mrs. Merrill sang, "I Want You To Know Him."

By Pierce Brooks.

A national poll recently revealed the astounding fact that only 1 out of 8 citizens claimed to know the words of our national anthem and an astonishingly low percentage of our public schools today have with in their rooms the flags of our country. A people who would be unwilling to commemoarte in song and in story, in statue and museum, a heroic band like that which followed Sam Houston 103 years ago would be unworthy of the boon that freedom gives. Like music and like flags monuments speak the universal language of man. They are and have ever been co-extensive with the vast and various pathways of men. Throughout the unfolding annies monuments have been used by organized governments to glorify heroic and glorious men, great events and immortal acts. Carlyle has told us that freedom is the one purport, wisely aimed at, unwisely, of all mens' struggles, and sufferings, in this earth. The immortal Gladstone has wisely said, "A happy home is the only guard and foundation of the arch, the state and civilization." Minutes have no homes and when men have no homes, but only eating and sleeping places, they soon become brutes.

Do not keep the aiabaster boxes of our love and tenderness sealed up until our friends are dead. Let us fill their lives with sweetness. Let us speak approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them and while their hearts can be thrilled by them.

These are times that try men's soul's. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot, will in this crisis, shrink from service of his country; but he that stands it now deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny is not easily conquered. Yet the harder the conflict the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly.

When our state becomes the grandest State between the Oceans all the world will have a desire to know all about the men and women whose blood, tears, and heroism rescued this beautiful paradise from Mexican misrule and the Indian scalping knife. Then, I trust, some Homer of Walter Scott, or McCauley will put in tablets of undying record the deeds of the founders of Texas.

An observant philosopher has said "I care not who writes the nation's laws, if I may listen to it's songs." It may not be that we who occupy executive and legislative offices need to take second place in the work of influencing the thoughts and actions of our fellow citizens. Patriotic organizations suggest the teaching of—American History, or the study of the Constitution, or the making of pilgrimages to our sacred shrines. These are all good and yet I believe that were we to have more singing of our patriotic songs in the schools and in all groups where it can properly be done, we will have contributed greatly to the perpetuation of our patriotic ideals and to the protection of our country from the destructive germs of "isms" which fill the air.

JUST CRUISING

(By the Captain)

Well, you've doubtless often heard the saying, "it hailed stones as large as hen eggs." That is just what happened Monday evening, for the hail in some sections actually covered the ground and many of the stones were as large and in some instances, larger than the hen egg. But, aside from reports from the immediate section of Rock Springs the damage done by the hail storm was not as much as might have been expected. Several cars of tourists enroute to Wichita Falls were blinded by the heavy rain and hail storm and some three or four cars were in the side ditches one particular car bearing three women and a man en route to their home in Los Angeles, Calif., overturned and one of the women occupants was injured by receiving a broken shoulder blade and other minor injuries. They were aided by a local citizen and brought here where the injured tourists received first aid departing on their return journey home.

With the passing of today, (Friday, May 19th) comes the close of the 1938-39 term of the Henrietta Schools. Our schools have enjoyed a very successful term, every department showing an increase both in attendance and interest manifested. The Class of '39 listed some 65 graduates, two of whom finished their work with the Christmas or mid-term session, the remaining 63 finishing their work towards final credits necessary to graduation with the final examinations or tests taken this week. The commencement exercises will be held this evening in the First Methodist church and a capacity house will be registered for this closing annual meeting of the school term.

The legislature now has before it for consideration the "usual" omnibus tax raising measure, the purpose of which is to raise the needed funds for paying the Old Age pensions. But one thing must be said in behalf of those who brought about the defeat of the sales tax,—they stood by their guns and fought down the efforts of those desiring to place this general sales tax burden on the people. We hope to soon give the list of those who "stood pat" and voted down the constitutional amendment effort every time it came up. This saved the people the necessity of voting down the proposed amendment had it been submitted to a vote by the entire state, but we believe it would have been voted down. There are too many ways by which the needed funds might be raised without the need of a general sales tax being put on all the people, if the legislators want to find them. We still believe it would be far more popular and quite a bit fairer to every Texan if the legislature would place a tax on all natural gas produced in the state and other resources produced and which together with the natural gas is being piped out of the state. If the outsiders are to enjoy our natural resources, they should be required to pay for this luxury. We understand that 82% of the natural gas produced in Texas is piped out of the state. If this is so, a reasonable tax thereon would raise the needed funds to pay the pensions, without other taxes, if the legislature would see that it is done. Just what will be done is yet to be seen.

representatives Dickson, of Sweetwater, and Doyle Pevehouse, of Corsicana, bondsmen who effected Anderson's release from the Travis county jail, after the self-admitted lobbyist for $30 pensions for the aged had refused to post his own bail and had remained in jail for a week were shown in a picture carried in several of our exchanges last week, Anderson being shown in the center with Rep. Dickson on his right and Rep. Pevehouse on his left. Anderson was held on charges of contempt of the House of Representatives, the outgrowth of the pensions campaigner's refusal to testify before a House Committee concerning his own and the Union's activities in soliciting dollar membership contributions from the aged, unless given a hearing before a full House meeting and the proceedings broadcast over a state networks, which he offered to pay for. Representatives Dickson and Pevehouse joined in a statement declaring that "we are of the opinion that the old people of Texas are entitled to a lobbyist in Austin, if they want one, and if they want to organize and contribute funds in support of their own campaign and just cause, they have a constitutional right to do so. Why have the members of the legislature not objected to and jailed other lobbyists in Austin?"

Thus it will be seen that not all of the representatives down at Austin are afraid "to speak out in meeting." Reps. Dickson and Pevehouse "told the other representatives something when they asked "why" they had not objected to and jailed other lobbyists in Austin? If the people really knew just what goes on down at Austin "behind the scenes" and things were still run like they were in the old days when cattle rustlers were found, taken out and strung up, there would likely be several such parties every now and then.

Immaculate Sermon Delivered Sunday

A splendid sermon on Growing and Outgrowing was delivered by John R. Fulmer, pastor of the Church of Christ, in the Baccalaureate service rendered Sunday morning in the First Methodist Church in which 65 graduates listened with profound interest to such instructions provided to enlighten them in their future paths down the highway of the coming years.

Long before the eleven o'clock hour the spacious auditorium of the First Methodist church was filled to its capacity by friends and relatives of the graduates. Almost every community in Clay county was represented at the gathering due to the fact that about one half of the graduates were residents of rural communities.

In part of Mr. Fulmer's sermon he referred to the Bible and quoted as follows: "This Book contains: The mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, and practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you, comfort to cheer you. It is the travelers map, the pilgrims-staff, the pilots compass, the soldiers sword, the Christians charter. Here paradise is restored, heaven opened and the gate of hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet. Read it slowly, continually, prayerfully. It is given you in life, will be opened at the judgment, and remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibility, will reward the greatest labor, and condemns all who trifles with its sacred contents.

Glorious book! It not only teaches us how to live but it teaches us how to die."

The musical program was rendered excellently in its various numbers by a selected group of local artists.

The processional with its unusual number in march was an incentive to our supporters of public schools to be carried willingly in their efforts to carry on the educational work of the young.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Shaw, of Stanfield, were visiting friends in Henrietta Saturday and shopping with local merchants.

Mr. J. M. Massie of Stanfield, was shaking hands with friends in the county seat last weekend and shopping with our merchants.

Mr. Pete Moser of Hurnville, was greeting friends in Henrietta Saturday afternoon and shopping for supplies.

Educational Exhibits are being prepared and a well planned program is in store for the Clerks who attend.
