All communications must bear the signature of the writer to insure publication.

Several communications were crowded out this week for the lack of space and being out of season, and by not bearing the writer's signature.

The Fort Worth Record gives an account of a great victory won by the little Japs at Port Arthur—sinking four battle ships and three cruisers for the Russians in the Korean Bay.

If you are looking for a good location to go into business, you could find no better place than Gomez. It is a thriving little city, situated in the center of Terry County, and has as good soil as can be found on the plains or elsewhere.

For good neighbor, The Avalanche, seems to think that, Terry's Voice has hushed its tones in death. Never so Bro. Avalanche, we only missed one week's publication. We have no doubt but what Bro. J. J. D. would like to write up its obituary when he reads the good things prospectors say about Terry, who have passed through Lubbock and bought homes in Terry the best county on the Plains.

An exchange recently gave notice that in case a certain carriage whip was not returned to a certain place before the next issue, it would publish the name of the party who took it. The place designated was the backyard of a certain block. The next morning after the first notice came out—the night being very dark—seventeen whips were picked up in said back-yard. Yet there are people who do not believe in advertising.

Don't be afraid of a little fun at home, good people. Don't shut up your house lest the sun fade your carpets, and your heart lest a laugh should shake down some of the dusty cobwebs there. If you want to ruin your son, let them think all mirth and social enjoyment must be left on the threshold when they come home at night. When once home is regarded as only a place to eat, to drink and to sleep, the work is begun that ends in gambling-houses and degradation. Young people must have fun and relaxation somewhere. If they do not find it at their own hearth-stones it will be sought in other, perhaps less profitable places. Therefore let the fire burn brightly at home, ever delightful with all those little arts that parents so artfully understand. Don't suppress the buoyant spirits of merriment around the lamp and firelight of home that blot out the remembrance of many a care and annoyance during the day; and the best safeguard they can take with them into the world is the unseen

Shall We Batch, or Begin Housekeeping.

Editor Voice:—Since organization now seems to be the leading topic in the minds of the people of Terry County, I will contribute my mite.

The only objections I have thus far heard to organization are: an increase in taxes, and a possibility that within twelve months a railroad might build through our county, move our County Site and thus incur double expense. Whether or not organization would necessarily increase taxation is a mooted question, but granting this contention, would not the benefits accruing and to accrue from organization far out weigh the extra costs? I think so. As I see it, organization is the proper step toward progress, development, the building of schools and churches, and all tending to a higher civilization, and it seems to me that those opposing are consciously or unconsciously, placing themselves on record as enemies of these laudable objects.

If the benefits of organization are not worth the extra costs it might entail on Terry County, then it is reasonable to infer that the same is true of all other counties in Texas, and hence, we shall make haste to advise all these counties to disband and go to Austin to transact their business. But if this is a good fiscal policy for a county, then why not for a state? So why not do away with all home government and go to Washington and be done with the whole matter? Perhaps our opponents will not care to carry the matter quite so far, but under their premises where can they stop short and still be logical? If it is a bad fiscal policy for Terry County to organize at any time in the future, and yet we are very likely soon to be paying extra taxes to help build a court house at Stanton. As to railroads it is "possible" one might build through the county within twelve months. It is also "possible" such a thing might not occur inside of twelve years; and if built it is "possible" it might miss a county site if we had one, and "possible" to pass through a county site if we had one. In short if we postpone organization until the "possibilities" of railroad corporations have exhausted, then the people of Terry County are certainly to be pitied.

From all the foregoing, and much more, I am heartily in favor of organization, yet right or wrong I am willing to submit to the decision of a majority of the people.

Respectfully,
C. W. Duke.

Too Little Training for Children.
Neglect to train children in some useful employment is essentially an American sin. They order things better in Europe. There every one must know how to do something, men and women, plebeians and those of the blood royal. The present king of England is a bookbinder by trade and served his apprenticeship just like anyone else. It is said that he can do no mean job yet. There are princesses who are dairymaids, cooks, florists and the like. In this country the idle youth develops into a manhood of ineptitude and helplessness, to be tossed about on the waste waters of desolation. To prevent this it may yet be necessary for the government to supply the deficiencies of parents and guardians and make each young man self-supporting.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

A Market Romance.
He called upon his sweetheart,
The fairest girl in town;
'Twas noticed in the parlor
That Gus was going down.
The honeyed words and phrases
Would break the silence long,
And then 'twas plain that Sugar
Was ruling very strong.
Her father's heavy footsteps
He heard were coming near;
Accused in the kitchen
Soon filled his soul with fear.
Outside the lordly mansion
He fell by cruel chance,
And blocks of Rapid Transit
Snowed quite a quick advance.
But there can be elopements
When love is true and real;
So there was consummated
A Western Union deal.

At the End of the Street.
At the end of the street that is palatined
A little house stands which few can see
Built years ago with vines entwined
It faces its neighbors modestly Shrinking from public gaze. It seems To say, "It may be I'm out of place,
But surely, for love of the old-fashioned kind
In this weary world there should be space."

For two there are, who dwell therein--
Wrinkled their faces and white their hair--
Far from the social whirl and din
Of modern life, with its heart-breaking care.
Two who, full many years ago,
Pledged their truth and have kept it true.
Finding in faithfulness nothing but joy-- Naught in that bargain of youth to rue.
As the shadows fall on their well-spent life,
Hend in hand they are facing the Light;
To him she is still the sweetheart wife;
To her he is ever the faithful knight.
And the little house knows those valiant g and
Envy it, though they seem so blind;
For is it not filled with a rare thing--
Love of the real old-fashioned kind?

Where They Tunnel for Water.
 The citizens of the town of Sweet Canyon county, Id., have adopted a novel method of obtaining a water supply for domestic and irrigating purposes. The water is dug out of the hillside, with wells like tunnels, and not down into the earth as ordinary wells are dug. Just back of, or, rather, on the east side of the town is a bluff and high land above. Out of the bluff clear, sparkling mountain water can be procured almost anywhere by merely running a tunnel in from twenty to forty feet. At one point in the town a stream sufficient to irrigate a fine orchard and garden, besides an ample supply for domestic use,
 and for watering all the teams that pass that way, comes pouring out of the forty-foot tunnel.
 Neither the spring freshets nor the summer droughts affect its flow. In summer time its waters are cool and refreshing; in winter, warm, and no teeth chattering is the result of a sip from this sparkling rivulet.
