The Progress of a Progressive House

LITTLE more than one year ago we began our career in the Dry Goods business in Goldthwaite. We came here a perfect stranger and you were all strangers to us—but now we no longer feel like we need an introduction. We feel like you know us, and we know the most of you. In a business way it's been a success. Our business has grown from the very beginning, and now we have a business any firm should be proud of. In the beginning of our business we adopted four very definite principles, and made a determination to live up to them. They were:

- To be absolutely honest with each customer.
- To be courteous in all dealings with all men.
- To be liberal in the treatment of any and everyone who comes in contact with the business, be he a customer, employe, or friend.
- To give the customer the very lowest prices that the purchasing power or ability of the firm, coupled with an economical management and a fair, legitimate profit would permit.

In other words, honor, courtesy and liberality were made the code ethics of the business, and that code is religiously adhered to today. No more conclusive evidence than this could be given of the fact that our house is steadily going forward—enlarging its scope of operation, broadening its field and increasing its ability to supply every person's wants in this and surrounding counties.

Our buyer expects to leave this week for the Eastern markets to complete our purchases—we expect to buy a class of merchandise that was never shown in Goldthwaite—we expect to show a class of merchandise that any concern should be proud of. Make it a point to visit, see if our statements aren't correct. We have for several weeks been receiving fall and winter goods, and a great many of these goods we are selling cheaper than we can buy them at the present market values. Later in the season visit our store—visit each department and see the different lines we carry—make a special visit to our Men's department and you will see one of the best assorted stocks in West Texas.

Twice he was given a life sentence and once he was sentenced to hang.

It has always been claimed that cattle and sheep could not be grazed on the same range, but late years have proven the utter fallacy of the contention. There are many Texas ranchmen to-day who have cattle and sheep in the same inclosure, and it is noticed the cattle have no objection to the presence of the sheep, and do not disdain the succulent grass that has been trod by the hoof of the sheep. It will be a great day for Texas when the antipathy long existing against the sheep has been dissipated and Texas stockmen recognize the fact that the sheep properly handled is as much a money-maker as his bovine brother. Texas needs more sheep and must have them. They should be today running on every ranch and stock farm in the state.—Fort Worth Telegram.

WASHBOARD.

Editor Eagle:

Once more I venture into Eagledom, revealing the recent happenings of this beautiful portion of the country.

Warm dry weather still prevails, a fine rain would be very highly appreciated.

The Indian Gap picnic of July 12 and 13 proved a grand success. There was nothing lacking in the line of amusement. The Gustine brass band played for the occasion both days.

On Sunday July 21, Houston Harris and Miss Nona Honeycutt were united in marriage at Pottsville. An ice cream supper was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harris Monday night complimentary to the young couple.

O. K. Rea and family returned home from Clifton last Tuesday, where they spent three weeks at the bedside of Mr. and Mrs. Rea's oldest son, Olive, who had been sick with typhoid fever for sometime. On Friday July 19, God in his infinite wisdom saw fit to claim this intelligent young man in the very bloom of youth, at the age of 25 years. Olive has for several years made his home at Clifton, at which place he was couried and I am told he leaves a host of sorrowing friends and relatives. He was your scribe's schoolmate and friend in years gone by. I express deepest sympathy to the grief stricken parents brothers and sisters.

Mrs. J. M. Boler and mother, Mrs. M. H. Germany and Miss Pearl Boler are visiting relatives at Whitney, Hillsboro and other parts of Hill county.

Several young people of this part and Indian Gap attended the Pottsville picnic last Wednesday and reported a nice time.

Miss Bertha Boler of Blanket has returned home, after several days visit with J. M. Boler and family.

Mrs. G. W. Gartman and children of Goldthwaite are the guests of Andrew Brannou and family.

Prof. King expects to begin a music class next week at the home of Mr. John Fortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ferguson of Mc Lennan county passed through this part a few days ago, en route for Coleman. They spent a few days here with his brother, R. H. Ferguson.

Miss Ada Busbee has returned from Brownwood, where she attended the normal.

Miss Maude Gartman of Goldthwaite is the guest of the Misses Harris.

Miss Cole, a former student in the Belton Baylor college, is now visiting Misses Etta and Anzie Price.

Mrs. N. R. Hamilton left last week for a visit to relatives near Santa Anna, Coleman county.

Clifton Swindle and Austin Boler spent Saturday night with friends at Evans.

Mrs. J. M. Costley and children attended the encampment at San Saba last week.

Albert Staten has returned to his home near Midland.

Arrangements have been made to build an arbor for the Baptist protracted meeting, which will begin on Saturday evening before the third Sunday in August and last during the entire week.

Festus Swindle is preparing to build a new residence in this community at an early date.

News is scarce and the day disagreeably warm, so I will say goodbye for a while.

John P. Lanford, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lanford, died at San Angelo Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock with peritonitis, after a siege of slow fever. He was 23 years old and a member of the Christian church. After finishing school about eighteen months ago he moved to San Angelo, where he was employed in a furniture store when this sickness overtook him.

Little Nina Gage, while helping her grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Brown, gather the eggs Thursday evening happened to a very painful accident. It seems there was one up by a tree and after Nina had handed the eggs to her grandmother she jumped to the ground. When she jumped in some way her ring caught on a nail in the tree and the weight of her body pulled the finger from her hand—Chief.

Election Next Tuesday.

In several former issues of this paper the editor has endeavored to give a clear idea of the amendments to be voted on next Tuesday. Most people understand the full details and particulars, but if there be those who do not thoroughly understand the various amendments they are urged to study the question thoroughly. There seems to be an erroneous impression about two of these amendments. The amendment allowing an increase of the salaries of the governor and lieutenant governor is not to be voted upon at this time, but is to be submitted at the next general election. There is a law in existence allowing a small pension to the widows of Confederate veterans and the amendment permitting the maintenance of a home for those who need the care is a good one and certainly should receive the hearty support of all Southern people. The meagre amount allowed by the state as a pension to these aged women, who are entitled to the same care and consideration as the old soldiers, will not support them, and there is no argument against this amendment. It should be adopted by unanimous vote and the Eagle hopes to see it adopted by an overwhelming majority.

Bridge on Fire.

A small bridge on the Santa Fe road between Antelope Gap and Lometa was discovered to be on fire Sunday night shortly after dark and but for the arrival of the passenger train at the place the bridge would have been destroyed and great damage might have resulted. When the train reached the bridge the flames were rolling high and the rails were red with heat. Water was taken from the engine to extinguish the flame and the bridge was saved. Had the passenger train arrived at the place a few hours later, after the fire had destroyed the bridge, a wreck would have been certain and loss of life would have likely been the result.

Cases Set.

All witnesses and others interested in the prohibition cases to be tried in county court are notified that the cases will not be called until Monday of the second week, which will be Aug. 12. Parties who have been summoned as witnesses in these cases need not appear until the second Monday.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of that human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by R. E. Clements Druggist. 50c.

Cemetery Meeting.

The Cemetery association held a regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, at which time Mrs. R. M. Thompson was elected president to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. W. W. Fowler, resigned. It was decided to build several stiles across the fence at convenient places, to prevent people climbing over the wire and tearing it down.

The people are not taking the interest in the work of the association they should take and that is necessary to the care of the cemetery. Two or three men and a few ladies have all the duties to perform and they should have the assistance of the entire community. The care of the cemetery should be interesting to all who have friends and loved ones buried there, but it is a fact that frequently there are not enough people in attendance upon these meetings to make a quorum, although the meetings are held for the purpose of transacting business in connection with the care of the grounds.

Notice of Meeting.

There will be a protracted meeting at the Baptist church beginning on Thursday night before the second Sunday in this month. These services will be conducted by Eld. W. C. Lackey of Austin, Texas, and will continue for an indefinite time. Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. All are cordially invited to attend. "Come now let us reason together saith the Lord". Isa. 1:18. X

W. A. Couch of the Caradan community received notice Monday that his father, Mr. Matt Couch, had been killed by Mexicans near Tampico, Mexico, and he left Wednesday morning for that place to look after his father's estate. The old gentleman formerly lived in the neighborhood of Pottsville, and after the death of his wife a few years ago he made his home with his son at Caradan for a time. He left here the early part of this year for Mexico and bought land there. The report received here was to the effect that he had a misunderstanding with one of the Mexican laborers whom he had employed and that night two of the Mexicans entered his tent to murder him. He killed one of them before he was killed.

The famous case of the bondsmen of W. R. Collender, ex-Collector of Victoria county, against the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore, has been finally settled after a litigation of over four years. The plaintiffs won in every court and secured a mandate from Federal Judge Maxey compelling the company to pay the money for the judgment rendered to the amount of $16,633.03. The case was the one in which the State claimed that Collender, then collector for Victoria, was short in his accounts and compelled his bondsmen to pay the shortage. The bondsmen were protected by an indemnity bond in the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company and they brought suit against the company to recover. Three of the original signers of the bond have died since suit was instituted.
