THINGS IN GENERAL.

According to a statement recently issued by the United States geological survey, the highest mountain in the south is located in Texas in the northwestern part of Culberson county. The name of the mountain is Gaudalpe Peak and is 9,500 feet in height. Mount Whitney in California is the highest peak in the United States, being 14,501 feet.

It has been officially announced that 17,000 new subscribers will be added to those using the service of the telephone and telegraph companies in Texas this year. In order that these subscribers may get the regular service, it will be necessary to spin into wire just about 1,000,000 pounds of copper, to rob 500 acres of forest land of 30,000 poles, and to ship to Texas 1,000,000 gallons of creosote with which to treat the poles.

There are more farmers in Texas who own their own farms than in any other state in the Union, according to a report just issued by the Federal Census department. There are 198,195 farmers in Texas who operate the farms on which they live while Illinois, which is considered one of the leading agricultural states, has only 145,167 of this class. During the past ten years the number of farms operated by their owners has increased 8.1 per cent in the United States, while the increase in Texas during the same period was 11.9 per cent.

According to a report recently issued by the Federal Census Department, the average value per farm of all farms in the state of Texas is $5,311, an increase over 1900 of $2,578 or 94 per cent. The average value per farm, of the farms operated by owners is $6,203 and the average mortgage debt per farm, is $1,584, leaving an equity of $4,619 per farm. The state of Nevada has the largest mortgage debt per farm, which is $1,738, Iowa ranks second with a debt of $4,048 per farm while North Carolina has the smallest mortgage debt per farm, which is $517. The average for continental United States is $1,715.

The average value of farm land in Texas for the state as a whole is $14.53 per acre according to statistics recently issued on the Thirteenth Federal census. In nearly half of the counties (119) the average, is between $10 and $25. Ninety counties show an average value of less than $10 per acre. The greater number of these are in the western and southwestern parts of the state, but a few are in the extreme eastern part. Higher average values of farm land, ranging between $25 and $50, are found in 28 counties, nearly all of which are located in the eastern part of the state. Twenty of these lie in whole or in part in the belt of the Black and Grand Prairie sections of the state, where there are, also six counties with average values between $50 and $75 per acre.

Although Texas is one of the leading lumber producing states of the Union, and there are large timber areas located within her boundaries, the Bulletin of the Forest Reserve, recently issued by the department of agriculture, shows that no forest fires have been recorded in Texas by the government since 1899. The tabulated list of forest fires in Texas shows that there have only been 56 fires recorded in the history of the state, beginning with 1880. Of this number 5 were from unknown causes 4 were caused by lightning, 16 by incendiaries, 22 by brush burning and 9 by campers. Of this number 51 occurred in 1880, covering 599,359 acres that year and the losses were estimated at $273,990. In 1885 there were 8,000 acres burned over Texas with a loss of $20,000. In 1886 two fires covered 175,000 acres; in 1887 fires covered 20,000 acres; in 1889 they covered 5,900 acres. In the latter three cases the losses are not given. —Commercial Secretaries.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Interesting Meeting Held—Officers Elected For The Year.

The first meeting of the Commercial club for the new year was held Monday afternoon, the unfavorable weather making the afternoon meeting preferable to a night meeting and it resulted in a much better attendance than is generally had at the night meetings.

This being the time for the election of officers for the year, Mr. L. E. Miller was re-elected president, J. C. Street was elected vice president, Edward Goslin was re-elected secretary and H. G. Bodkin was elected treasurer.

There was considerable discussion of subjects of interest to the town and county and the president announced that he would appoint committees to look after the fair and other enterprises and would announce the appointments later.

Nothing definite was settled about an exhibit hall for the fair grounds, but the discussions revealed a determination to build such a hall before the next fair and reunion. It was also stated that liberal premiums would be provided for the exhibits for the fair. The Boys Corn clubs will come in for a liberal share of these premiums.

The people of all parts of the county are invited to attend the meetings of the club and those who have in mind improvements that could be made for the benefit of the town or country are urged to either attend the club meetings or make their suggestions to the officers of the club, for the organization is formed for the advancement of all interests of Mills county.

The business men should make a special effort to attend the meetings of the club each Monday night.

A case of meningitis was reported from San Angelo this week. The sufferer was the son of a ranchman near that city.

Editor R. M. Johnston of the Houston Post was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Joseph Bailey, a United States senator from Texas, who resigned last week. Governor Colquitt had already announced his determination to appoint Mr. Johnston before the resignation was received, hence it occasioned no surprise.

The warden of the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., where the convicted dynamiters are confined, has issued orders forbidding visitors being admitted to the prison. The order was promulgated after the officials of the prison had received threatening letters stating that the prison would be dynamited and officers killed. The letters were anonymous, of course, but they are supposed to have been written by friends of the convicted men.

The parcels post has hit the express companies hard, which fact gives consolation to those who fear the injurious effect of the system on the commercial interests of the smaller towns. While the tendency to order from foreign dealers will be augmented greatly by the low rate of the parcels post, there is no danger of overcharges at both ends of the line. If the local merchants will make strong bids for the mail order trade they may find that the system will not be injurious to their business in the aggregate.

A bill "to protect the rights of women citizens of the United States to register and vote for members of the house of representatives," has been introduced in the House of Representatives by Eurtan Lee French. The bill provides that "women who are citizens of the United States and possess such qualifications of age, residence, property or education as may be required of men to make them legal voters in the several states, shall be eligible to register and vote in all states of the Union at all elections for members of the House of Representatives."

A Baptist laymen's missionary conference is to be held in Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 4 and a large attendance is expected from all parts of the nation.

Anderson county's court house at Palestine was destroyed by fire Sunday night. Some of the records were lost, but most of the important records and documents were saved. The building was valued at $50,000 and there was $35,000 insurance.

The blizzard the first of this week did great damage to the orchards in California and growers of oranges and lemons claim they have lost vast amounts by the freeze. The records for cold weather for the last 30 years was surpassed by the blizzard of this week.

The vacancy in the United States senate caused by the death of Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas was filled by the governor of that state appointing Editor Haskell of the Little Rock Gazette to fill the unexpired term. This made two editors appointed to fill unexpired terms in the senate who took the oath of office this week.

A physician in Minneapolis, Minn., made desperate by pain and his inability to find a surgeon to give him relief, stood before a mirror in his office and made an incision in his jaw, cut away the flesh from the point of the chin almost to the ear and scraped the bone. The operation failed to give him relief and his condition is serious.

The following from the Farm, and Ranch is logical and well said: "Do not expect something for nothing, or even much for little. You will be disappointed if you do. We must render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's Give value in what you sell and demand value in what you buy. Honesty is not only the best policy; it is the only business policy. No business can long survive without honesty."

A dozen eggs shipped 1800 miles by parcels post were received in good order in Houston this week. The postage was 31 cents.

Mr. A. McPherson has been dangerously sick for several days and his recovery is thought to be extremely doubtful.

The Texas presidential electors will meet in Austin Monday and select a messenger to the presidential electoral college, which meets in Washington.

The federal white slave act has been submitted to the supreme court for an opinion as to its constitutionality. The Jack Johnson case is involved in the decision.

S. J. Tullos returned the first of the week from a visit to Comanche county, where he bought a nice farm. He has no intention of moving to that county, however.

An entire family suffered from ptomaine poisoning in Marshall Tuesday night from eating canned goods. There were six in the family and their lives were saved by timely arrival of assistance.

Considerable opposition to the confirmation of Col. Johnston's appointment as senator is developing among the legislators and it is by no means certain now that that body will endorse the governor's appointment. There are many members of the legislature who say that Morris Sheppard was selected to succeed Senator Bailey and they intend to vote for his election when the matter is brought before the legislature. Of course, there will be no opposition to Mr. Sheppard's election for the full term, which begins in March, but the un-expired term is where the controversy has arisen.

Oscar Nation, editor of the Velasco World and a step-son of Carrie Nation, the renowned saloon smasher attempted suicide in Houston Wednesday morning. He fired a shot from a revolver of large caliber into his breast near his heart. The ball went straight toward his heart for about an inch and then turned and came out under his arm, inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound. Physicians who attended him are at a loss to understand why the bullet changed its course. It is said that financial difficulties caused him to attempt self destruction, but this theory seems unreasonable, when it is known that he was editor of a country paper, which would make financial difficulties impossible it seems.

The report that our Ambassador has returned to the Mexican capital with a demand for the resignation of President Madero is probably an exaggeration. But one can think this and still believe that President Taft and Secretary Knox have become convinced Madero is incapable of restoring peace, and that present conditions will be made indefinite if not interminable so long as he remains President. Whether true or not, there is a good deal of ground for that opinion. Madero has been in control for more than a year now, and if there has been any progress whatever toward the restoration of peace it has been at a rate which does not promise the accomplishment of it under a generation, and this, too, notwithstanding Madero has had certainly all the help he could expect or ask from the United States, if not in fact more than we should have given if governed by strict considerations of justice. We have spent a good many hundreds of thousands of dollars in aiding Madero indirectly, but, despite this aid, he has improved conditions very little if any. If Uncle Sam has lost patience with him, he could hardly be accused of being undilgent or of acting precipitately. Nevertheless, it is not likely that anything like a formal demand has been or will be made for the abdication. The extent of Washington's action in this direction would probably be an authoritative but informal hint to the powerful men who are sustaining Madero that this government would be glad to have them withdraw that support.—Dallas News.

LOOKING BACKWARD.

An Interesting Report of an Indian Fight in Mills County.

Mr. S. M. Bull gave the Eagle the following article this week, which was taken from the writings of a correspondent of the San Antonio Express. It gives an account of an Indian fight in the western part of this county and the settlers engaged in it are well remembered here and some of them have relatives living in the same section now. Mr. Bull knew all of the parties quite well and remembers the circumstances of the fight. He thinks the name "Albert" Jones should be "Andy" Jones, as he knew no Albert Jones in this country at that time. Otherwise the article is correct.

Report of the Fight.

In March, 1863, the people of Hanna's Valley were suddenly aroused by the report that Indians were in the settlement. In a very short time the following men were in the saddle armed with rifle and sixshooter and on the trail: Owen Lindsey, Albert Jones, John Jones, David Hanna, Isaac West, Jim Robins, Jim Williams, Pick Moss, Powell, Robins and Martin. Owen Lindsey and Albert Jones being splendidly mounted and knowing no fear, out-rode the others and near the mouth of Pecan Bayou discovered the Indians trying to climb the steep mountainside. They had discovered the white men and, abandoning their horses, were getting into a good position to fight. The two foremost men dismounted and charged them and a fight commenced at close quarters. Lindsey killed one Indian and was himself transfixed with an arrow and fell, at the same time receiving a blow on the head with a rock, as the Indians were almost over them and not more than thirty yards away. In a few minutes the other men were all present and a hard fight took place, the Indians standing their ground well, as they had a strong position on the hillside among the rocks. They had much the advantage, being well protected, and could hurl rocks down on their assailants. In the end the Indians really got the best of it and finally retreated on up the mountain. Albert Jones was shot in the left leg with an arrow, which he pulled entirely through his leg, making a serious wound, but he recovered. Powell was wounded in the arm, Robins in the side and David Hanna's horse was killed under him. Lindsey's body was sadly borne back over the same ground where a short time before he had ridden, strong and well, eager for the battle.

The battleground where Lindsey fell is a bleak and barren mountain, but a lasting monument to the memory of a gallant young man who shed his last drop of blood in trying to rid the frontier of the cruel and blood-thirsty savages."

BUSINESS CHANGE.

J. D. Urquhart this week sold his stock of goods, known as the Racket store, to W. W. Condon, who is now in charge of the business.

Mr. Condon has been engaged in the painting and paper hanging business here for several years and will continue that work, together with his store. He will also sell paint and painters supplies. He is an old resident of this city and has a great many friends in the town and country who wish him much success in his business.

Mr. Urquhart will take a well deserved and much needed vacation from business for a few months, but it is safe to predict that he will not remain idle long, but will soon engage in some other line of business.

STREET TAX DUE

Those subject to street work are notified that by the payment of $3 they can secure a receipt exempting them from street work for one year. The undersigned is now prepared to issue such receipts and those who fail to pay will be called upon to do the required work.

DR. KOEN DEAD.

The announcement of the death of Dr. W. C. Koen in Houston Thursday was received with sadness here, where he was well known and had many relatives.

Dr. Koen came here in 1911 suffering with dropsy and leakage of the heart and spent several months here for the benefit of his health. He has made his home in Houston since leaving here and was enabled to engage in the practice of his profession for some time. He was a brother of Rev. C. H. Koen of Canada and had a number of relatives in this city, all of whom have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

Rev. Koen, Mrs. S. M. Bleeker and S. O. Koen left Thursday night for Houston to attend the funeral.

PAY POLL TAX.

This is the last month in which a poll tax receipt can be issued that will entitle the holder to vote in elections of any kind during the year 1913. Those who do not care to pay their property tax before the close of the month can have their poll tax receipt issued independent of their property tax receipt. True, after this month 10 cents on the dollar will be added to property tax receipt as penalty and it is a money-making plan to pay all taxes before the close of this month, but every citizen should be sure to secure his poll tax receipt at once, for it is certain that elections will be held during the year and every citizen wants to be entitled to a vote on public questions. It is not safe to delay in this matter. Better pay your poll tax at once. DO IT NOW.

LASLY-WELCH.

T. D. Lasly and Miss Florence Welch were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother in this city last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, in the presence of a few relatives and friends, Rev. R. S. Pierce, pastor of the Methodist church officiating.

The announcement of the marriage was a surprise to the friends of the young people only so far as to the date, for it was generally known among their friends and associates that the marriage would occur. Mr. Lasly is a popular salesman in Geeslin company's store and has been identified with the business community for several years. He has the confidence and friendship of all who know him. The bride has been a popular member of Goldthwaite society since coming here from Center City several years ago. She has a great many friends here and elsewhere and she and her husband have the hearty good wishes of all who know them.

The Eagle joins in extending congratulations to the popular young couple.

NEW YEAR'S CHEER

Honoring Mrs. H. A. L. Greenwood of McKinney, Mrs. Walter Fairman delightfully entertained the Embroidery club and a number of invited guests on Friday afternoon, Jan. 3, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

After being invited into the parlor a very pleasant time was spent in conversation and several piano selections were played by Miss Lillie Martin and Mrs. W. E. Miller.

A duet "Holiday March," was played by Marjorie and Edward Greenwood, which was appreciated by all.

The hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Sam Allen, served delicious chocolate. Dainty little cards were then passed for a New Year's Cheer contest. In a cut for the prize, Mrs. J. C. Street was presented with a pretty sterling thimble. The honoree was also given a thimble.

Refreshments of fruit gelatine and cake were served and every one present expressed themselves as having had a delightful afternoon.

MR. TUBB DEAD.

Mr. Thos. J. Tubb died of apoplexy at his home in the McGirk community yesterday morning about 8 o'clock.

He was in Goldthwaite Thursday looking after business and was in his usual good health. Arriving at his home late in the afternoon he was stricken with apoplexy while giving attention to his stock at the barn. A physician was hurriedly summoned and he was given every attention. He regained consciousness and was able to sit up and converse, but another attack prostrated him, and he did not regain consciousness, but lingered only a few hours, when he died.

Mr. Tubb was an old settler in this section. He was 66 years of age and was universally honored and respected. He numbered as his friends all who knew him and the many expressions of sorrow heard when the news of his death reached this city was an evidence of his high character and the esteem in which he was held by the people.

The bereaved family can be sure of the sincere sympathy of many friends in this city and in other communities.

RAISE LOTS OF FEED.

G. W. Vierling has been in Brady several days on business, chief among which is the purchase of some engines to use in pumping water to irrigate his Kimble county ranch. Mr. Vierling has already completed the purchase of a big pump, and is preparing to irrigate an immense tract the coming season.

In order to get a good seed bed for alfalfa, he has put 100 acres in oats, and after this is harvested will put the same land in June corn. This will enable him to get the land thoroughly worked and in fine shape by fall, when he will seed the one hundred acres in alfalfa. He is also putting another 100 acres in milo maize and will get two cuttings from this crop. At present he has 2,000 bales of alfalfa stored in his immense barn, and while offered 70c per bale at the barn for same, he expects to realize 75c.

Mr. Vierling's pet hobby is the raising of hogs, and he is already starting in the business on a large scale. He has purchased some fine registered hogs in the north and will place them in his herd in the near future.—Brady Standard.

AN APPEAL TO MILLS COUNTY BAPTISTS.

By J. C. NEWMAN.

Dear Brethren: You will recall that at our last association I was appointed representative of our South western Baptist Theological seminary for this association. The purpose of this appointment was to look after the endowment campaign which is now on in full force. In a stirring resolution our association, by unanimous vote committed itself to this movement. The convention in November likewise committed itself, and the months of January and February were given to this task.

Since it is impossible for me to see you all and visit all the churches and attend to the duties of my pastorate, I am making this appeal and beg you to prayerfully consider the following:

Ministerial education has long since passed the doubtful and experimental stage. The need is so apparent to every thoughtful person that argument is unnecessary. All concede that if we are to meet the demands of advancing civilization and accomplish the God-given task of "teaching the nations" and bringing them to a knowledge of Christ we must educate our preachers. We can never win in this holy war against sin of every kind with an unequipped and undrilled army. I would not dare put forth my hand to pluck a laurel from the crown which success has placed upon the efforts of thousands of our uneducated and un-equipped ministers who have fought so valiantly against such odds. All honor be to such heroes. Nothing can dim the splendor of their achievements. But their success in no way argues against a trained ministry, but rather encourages us to greater preparation for the future. Our preachers of the past were easily equal to others and to the demands of civilization and we must keep them so if we would be faithful to the demands God has laid upon us.

If education and training enables a man to be a better doctor, lawyer, teacher, mechanic or farmer, who deal with earthly things will it not also make a better workman of him who deals in eternal things? We have schools for the education of men in other lines of endeavor, then does it not stand to reason that we should also have and maintain a school for our preachers and other religious workers? Southern Baptists in endeavoring to supply the need of a better equipped ministry have established an excellent seminary at Louisville, Ky., that has for many years been the equal of any similar institution anywhere. Also a Bible department is maintained in all our Baptist colleges, but these cannot at all supply our need. Louisville is too far away for many of our preachers and other Christian workers to attend and a Bible department can not equip a man for the complex duties of the ministry; hence the establishment of a school of the prophets at Fort Worth.

Our Southwestern Seminary is the logical outgrowth of the Bible department of Baylor University. It is located at Fort Worth, on a beautiful eminence overlooking the city and is now on its fifth year of separate existence. Though the school is new and yet in its plastic state, its growth has been phenomenal and the character of work done has been the equal of many older institutions of the north and in the matter of Bible exposition and evangelism it is the equal, if not superior, to any in the land. We have many reasons to be proud of it and should not allow it to suffer a day for endowment.

The seminary has no income from any source. No tuition is charged and it has been sustained thus far by a few men who wanted to demonstrate to the public the importance, the power and the spirituality of such an institution before asking the brotherhood for anything for its support. If it is to live and bless humanity it must be endowed. It can not always be sustained as it now is and the convention last November agreed to give these two months to the raising of $500,000 permanent endowment, which, with what it already has, will suffice for present needs.

A gift to this worthy cause will not be consumed but will be invested and the interest thereon will be used to educate our young preachers and other religious workers, who will avail themselves of its benefits and will be a stream of blessing that will flow on and on until Jesus comes. Contributions can be made in cash or a note payable in four annual installments and bearing interest at six per cent. When you sign one of these notes it means that the seminary has that much money invested, the interest of which will assist in sustaining it and the good set in motion will flow out to bless the world with the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus.

You give your money for missions and other worthy objects and that is well, but there is no better investment possible than in the minds and hearts of our young people who shall go out to lift up the world, now dying in sin.

Beloved, don't pass this appeal by until you have given it the most earnest prayer, but resolve to do your best for this tremendously great enterprise. Some can give $500 and be the better off for having done so, others can give $100 and others smaller amounts, but the way the payments are made all can give something. There is certainly no more important and worthy object before us and whatever you give is that much invested for eternity, to bless in the highest possible way this and all the generations to come.

If you cannot see me about this matter, phone or write me and I will gladly come to see you if possible and give you any further information or assist you in any way possible. I hope every church and every member will take this matter up in a worthy way and may the Lord bless you in so doing.

Five persons were injured in an automobile accident in Fort Worth Sunday night when the driver of the car "headed in" to a Santa Fe train at a street crossing.

A contract has been made by the business league of Waco to donate $50,000 to the builder of a ten story hotel in that city. A former mayor of the city has contracted to erect the hotel and will begin work at once.

The announcement has been made that W. D. Cowan, editor of the San Saba Star, is a candidate for the position of postmaster of that town. He is well qualified in every way for the position and has always kept his democracy on straight. The Eagle is for Cowan against all comers.

A decision by the supreme court of the United States this week upholds the government in the prosecution of certain cotton speculators who, in 1910 combined to force the price of cotton upward. The decision of the higher court does not refer to the guilt or innocence of the men charged with violation of the anti-trust law, but upholds the contention of the government that if the men entered into such a combine it was in violation of the anti-trust law.

One of the most important duties confronting the coming session of the Texas legislature is to make the necessary provision for the care of insane people of the state. The asylums are not nearly large enough and many of these unfortunate people are held in county jails. If the treatment given them in asylums is to be of benefit it is necessary that they receive such treatment promptly, as well as that they be given proper care—such care as can not be given them in a county jail. If it is necessary to double the size of the asylums let it be done, for the present condition is not what should be expected from the great state of Texas.

One of the most enterprising postmasters in the state is Postmaster Strong at Houston. He has organized a school of instruction, of which he is teacher, to give information to the patrons of his office as to the parcels post. Such matters as the character of postage required for these packages is easily understood, but the different zones and the various uses to which the system can be put will not be easily understood by the whole people. The sending of C. O. D. packages by mail and even the collection of the postage from the person to whom such mail is addressed must be thoroughly understood before the system can be given a fair trial.

It is a fact that the average editor, like the average citizen, is prone to "head in" on subjects he does not understand and frequently takes positions he can not maintain in the light of reason and conditions surrounding, is recognized by everybody. This is true of the discussion of the right of this government to make such regulations and impose such charges for the use of the Panama canal as it deems proper, since the canal is to pass through territory controlled by this government, and the work is entirely at this government's expense. The objection of the English government to American vessels being allowed the use of the canal at a less cost or without cost, while vessels flying the flags of other nations are charged a higher rate looks to the average citizen to be without reason. When the treaty was made which agreed upon equal rights should a canal be dug, it was not contemplated that either nation would take the entire responsibility and bear the entire expense of the enterprise. We may be just "heading in" on a matter we do not understand, but if the question should be passed to us for settlement we would say that England has no right to object to the United States managing the canal as it sees proper.

RESOLUTIONS BY UNION.

Adopted at the Recent Meeting and Ordered Published.

The called meeting of the Farmers Union adopted some important resolutions, which are here given:

Resolutions.
To the Honorable President and Members of Mills County Union:

We, your undersigned committee on resolutions, beg leave to make the following report:

Knowing that for many years past, that the destruction of insect eating birds has become alarming to such an extent that many of the best thinking people of the county have become alarmed for the future of the agricultural welfare of this county, therefore, be it resolved,

1st. That we as a class condemn the ruthless destruction of our birds, and

2nd. We deem it our duty to have more stringent laws aiming at the prevention of said slaughter, and, be it further resolved, that a petition be taken up and sent to our representative, asking him to favor some law that will cover said subject.

Resolutions Of Respect.

Whereas, through the Divine providence of an All wise Creator, Mr. C.
L. Featherston of Pleasant Grove, brother of our beloved and honored president, W. M. Featherston, has been called away from this life to join the innumerable hosts of the just ones made perfect and, whereas, in the death of Brother C. L. Featherston Mills county has lost an honorable and upright citizen, and the Farmers Union of Mills county, a loyal and sympathetic friend.

Therefore, be it resolved by the members of this union, that we extend to Brother W. M. Featherston and the family of his deceased brother, C. L. Featherston, our earnest and sincere sympathy in this,
their dark hour of trouble and grief.
And furthermore be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded Brother W. M. Featherston and a copy be furnished for publication, and a copy spread on the minutes of this meeting.

It having come to our notice that there is a movement on foot asking the railroad to stop the practice of selling merchandise from the railroad tracks, such as apples, potatoes, etc., and, deeming such on the part of parties to us unknown, as detrimental to our welfare,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we,
the Mills County Union, in regular session assembled, do deplore said action, and should said statement prove true after due investigation, pledge ourselves to such action as will prevent such a move from becoming successful.

Respectfully submitted,

Wm. BIDDLE.
F. A. SCOTT.
B. P. SEVIER.

me to pay them, consequently I hope

I have worked hard, even when un-you should help me. I am willing to part with my home to pay debts, in fact, am trying to sell land for that purpose, which would be entirely unnecessary if all would come and pay part of their indebtedness to me, if not all.

OUR SCHOOLS.

As we come to enter into a new year it is one of the most important things to gird up our minds and life with good resolutions and strive to make for the better in every way. A feeling that we are good enough and doing well enough in our relations to the world and each other is a feeling which leads to blight and weakness.

I look back and see that we have in some ways made advancement in educational lines. Our public schools are manned by a better scholarship than a few years ago. It is known that as our schools are made strong so will our civilization be strong and noble and will the individual character receive strength and more nearly reach proper standards of life.

I am told that Mills county last year had more school districts to increase school tax than any other county in the state. That means Mills county is leading in right lines. It means, if we continue up, that our sons and daughters shall in future days lead in developing a happy and prosperous civilization.

The present form of the teachers institute in this state is somewhat an experiment, but as things go we will soon have passed the stage of experiment. The legislature has for some years been pointing to better school conditions. Don't be nervous at the cost of these institutes. If there is a better way to care for the unspeakable responsibility of educating, we can find it out by experiment and investigation. Then to look at so grave a problem only from the viewpoint of dollars is to belittle the whole question.

I began this article in order to say something about school trustees. We have a right and a duty to busy ourselves to secure the best teachers, but behind it all and first of all, we should exercise school interest in selecting trustees. One successful in business and a good neighbor and a lovable friend is no argument for office of trustee. One who is not willing to give some time and sacrifice means, if need be, for the interest of his school, should not accept a place so responsible for the culture and development of the youth. There is an occasional man who has no children to attend school who would be a helpful trustee, but this is not the rule. The teacher and school need, above all things, a man to stand by the work, whose heart is in the matter, who keenly feels for the moral and intellectual interests of his community. A zealous, yet a careful and considerate, trustee is one of the indispensable things to a growing school. One who can talk up, (not talk down) live up, stir up and get up an atmosphere essential to the making of the best human life.

It would be another step far upward to create an organization for training and evolving school trustees, but with right school ideals advocated we can evolve them without the organization. SAM SAY, Mullin, Texas.

CLUB ETERTAINED.

The Merry Maids and Matrons met with Mrs. J. H. Randolph Jan. 7.

Tables were placed for progressive games, which was a pleasant diversion from regular work. After several games were played it was found Master James Charles Gillespie held highest score, and he received a linen handkerchief. Mrs. Young proved the lucky one in a cut with Mrs. Geeslin for next highest score and received a beautiful crochet tie.

Delicious chocolate and sandwiches were served by the hostess. Guests other than members were Mesdames Young, Madden and Miss Madden.

On next Tuesday evening Mesdames J. A. Gillespie and M. J. Thorpe will entertain at the Gillespie home. The next regular meeting will be held Jan. 21, with Mrs. Leonard Skaggs. REPORTER.

HAS HARD LUCK.

Mrs. Mattie Sharp, who lives on Avenue B, is the victim of a series of misfortunes. About six weeks ago while trying to catch a train in Dublin, she fell and sprained an ankle, which has kept her in bed for some time. She was attempting to get off a Texas Central train at the Frisco crossing in Dublin, in order to catch a Frisco train to Brownwood, and fell in jumping from the car. This accident was very painful, and she was unable to walk until about three weeks ago, when, with the aid of crutches, she attempted to walk about the house, but fell again, and broke her left arm just above the wrist. This accident together with the former one, has confined her to her bed ever since. Mrs. Sharp, at the time of the Dublin accident, had hardly recovered from injuries received when her milk cow ran over and bruised her at her home here some time ago.

Hal Sharp, a son, who lives in Fort Worth, while out in the country on Thanksgiving day, accidentally shot himself through the right hand, and his condition was such that his mother persuaded him and his wife and baby to come to Brownwood. He is still disabled by the wound, which became inflamed in some manner and is very painful.—Brownwood Bulletin.

BOX SUPPER.

There will be a box supper at Pickens Springs school house Saturday night, Jan. 18. A program will be rendered, there will be special music for the occasion and the evening is sure to be one of enjoyment for those attending. The receipts will be used to buy an organ for the use of the school and public meetings at the house. The patronage of the public is requested.

JOB WAGON.

I am again running my job wagon and solicit trunk hauling and other job hauling. Phone me at my home or at Will Grisham's store.

SABBATH BELLS.

The dear old bells! How grand is their sweet yet solemn music, as their brazen throats and iron tongues ring out on the bright spring morn the calls to worship Him who gave sunshine and the birds and the balmy air. What countless thousands have responded to their call, and then passed away, and other countless thousands came, who again passed on for countless thousands more. Our lives are short, the bells will chime for ages—then heed their admonitions. God bless their chimes; how many hearts have their music melted! How many thoughts presented of the past, how many times directed to the future, to eternity. Their music is an exhortation that lifts the soul from out its lethargy, and shames the sins within us. They remind us of our faults—not rudely, but with the gentle touch of harmony and peace, and a dreamy bliss steals o'er us as we listen to the sounds and remember the promise of forgiveness and muse upon the joy and purity of Christian life.

How many gray haired sires this morning list to the church bell chorus and muse on the sounds they'll make for their last knell. It can't be long, at most, they know. They dream of the past, of the pleasures and the pains, the hopes and fears, and know that the time draws near when they must learn the secret of eternity. But the bells are chiming! "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

How many aged and widowed mothers are this morning seated in the old arm chairs where the sun streams in, and pensively musing under the spell of the bells of the time when their knell struck upon their ears with such agony that fairly rent their souls; of the struggle to say, as the ground closed o'er their husbands' forms, "Thy will, O Lord, not mine, be done." But the bells now chime, "He doeth all things well," and in the bright heavens no portents come.

How many of the middle aged are listening to the bells, with their gentle reminder that "in the bustle and strife of life there is a duty due, a religious love and reverence to Him who saith, "I am the way; follow me and I will give you light and life."

How many a youth will listen to the bells with shame for his dissolutions and faults, and turn his thoughts to the lessons his mother taught him at her knee, and of the bright future she drew for him as a Christian man!

How many maidens fair are listening to the bells, first dreaming of their merry marriage peals, and then to think of the crowning glory of true womanhood—true Christianity?

How many prattling children clap their tiny hands in glee, or stare with wonder-opened eyes at the steeples high, as the bells ring out for them as well, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Bless the bells. May they chime on to eternity, and turn our thoughts always to the Father, the Protector, the hope of all, and our footsteps toward the shrine.—Temple Mirror.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

On the afternoon of Jan. 3, at the home of her father, Mr. W. N. Sullivan, Mrs. Julia Ledbetter very delightfully entertained, the occasion being the first birthday of her little son William. The room into which the little guests were invited was prettily decorated, the dainty color scheme of pink and white being combined in attractive style over the windows and doors.

Several of William's baby friends were present, but his guests were numbered mostly among children older than he. They enjoyed many jolly out-door games ever dear to childhood's days. Then the joyous crowd was bidden to again enter the house, where the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Lois Sullivan, served delicious refreshments, consisting of divinity, stuffed dates and fruit.

The next interesting feature was the cutting of Master William's first birthday cake. Broad streamers of pink and white were gracefully festooned from the ceiling to the four corners of the lace covered table on which the cake rested. The cake was decorated with pink and white candles and bore a single taper in the center, which marked the ending of the first year of the little fellow's life. In Master James Lowe Rahl's chosen slice of cake was found the nickle. "Now, little James Lowe, may this nickle be the nucleus about which you may gather a nice fortune, so that you may be a benefactor to many, an oppressor of none."

All too soon came the time for the favored friends of the young celebrant to bid him goodbye, leaving him alone in his baby-like innocence to enjoy the sweet little gifts bestowed upon him by his many friends.

B. M. C. MEETING.

A most pleasant occasion was last Friday evening, when the Bachelor Maids met, with Miss Nina Burks hostess.

The game for the evening was the names of cities, the letters not coming in order, as: "O! I sat on Ann"—San Antonio. This was very interesting and amusing for the time. Miss Mamie Kelly received the prize, a set of gold cuff buttons and collar pins.

Misses Perry and Bonnie McPherson were voted in as members.

Musical selections by Misses Nora Hooks and Nina Burks were enjoyed.

This being the first meeting of the year, it was indeed a good beginning, as each girl reluctantly bade Miss Burks goodnight with many expressions of gratitude for so enjoyable an evening.

The next meeting will be with Miss Kate Fairman.

Prof. A. J. Street and family left the first of the week for their new home in Fort Worth, followed by the good wishes of many friends in this city and surrounding country.

—Harris & McCullough have just got in a car of cypress shingles and also a shipment of red cedar shingles. Tear off that old roof and put on new shingles right now.

Capt. D. T. Bush and wife of Caradan returned Saturday night from Pecos, where they had been for a visit to their son John and his family. Capt. Bush owns some valuable property in that section and purchased more while there this trip.

We have bought the Dick Brinson barber shop, next door to our Grocery store, and will continue the business, with two first class barbers in charge. Messrs. Richards & Freeman will be glad to have their friends call at any time, and guarantee satisfactory barber work. We also represent a first class laundry. YOU ARE THE JURY.

Hear The Testimony Of Goldthwaite People And Decide The Case.

Doan's Kidney Pills are on trial—are being tried every day for weak kidneys—for exhausting kidney backaches. What is the verdict? Read Goldthwaite testimony—personal experiences of Goldthwaite witnesses. There can be only one verdict—a chorus of approval.

Joe Taff, prop. Taff hotel, Goldthwaite, Texas, says: "For two years I was subject to attacks of backache, often being unable to get about. When stooping, like a flash of lightning, a pain shot through my kidneys and I was unable to move. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Clements' Drug Store, relieved me and I have not been bothered for several months. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly live up to representations and should be in every home."

The above statement was given May 28, 1909, and when Mr. Taff was interviewed on October 24, 1911, he said: "Nothing has occurred to change my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills. I willingly confirm the public statement I gave in their praise three years ago."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. (adv)

HAMILTON

Mr. Harrison Tippie, 79 years old, died at his home here last Monday.

Ivan Austin and Eph Roddy spent part of last week in Goldthwaite and Brownwood.

Last Saturday Mr. W. C. Pierce, formerly county commissioner from Shive, a man of about sixty-five years of age, left his home near that place just after dark in a buggy taking with him a shotgun, and telling his wife that he was going to sit up with a sick neighbor. Instead of doing so, however, he went to Comanche, and has not yet returned. Mrs. Pierce thought nothing of the matter until the next day, when, as he failed to come home, she began an investigation. No one had seen or heard anything of him until Monday evening when it was learned that he was in Comanche. It was ascertained over the phone that he had stopped at a hotel in that town, leaving his buggy and horse at the stable, but that he had bought a ticket for Dublin, and all efforts to locate him at the latter place have proved futile.—Herald.

LAMPASAS

Mrs. Vallant is employed in the city schools to assist in supplying the place temporarily made vacant by the accident to Prof. Battle.

The family of J. F. Dennis, who moved here some months ago, has returned to Goldthwaite, where they will make their home in the future.

W. F. Hearne of Mills county, is here for a few days. He has some good property in Lampasas county and looks after it closely.

The commissioners court of Lampasas county has made arrangements to put all the tillable land on the county farm into cultivation, and a score or more of grubbers will be put to work at once to dig out the trees, stumps and stumps and make the land ready for the plow. There are about 140 acres of this farm, and with the exception of a few acres, it is all tillable.

The body of Mrs. A. A. Jones, known here as Mrs. J. M. Brown, arrived from Dallas Thursday morning. She died in a sanitarium at Dallas Wednesday afternoon. The body was accompanied here by her husband, Dr. Jones, his son, Leslie, and her daughters, Misses Mary and Jimmie Brown and the funeral was held from the residence of T. S. Landrum, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the remains being placed in Oak Hill cemetery, near the body of her former husband, J. M. Brown.—Leader.

Look over the Eagle carefully this week or any other week—look over some subsequent copy or one published heretofore—and say conscientiously, did you ever see a better local paper published in a town of this size?

TEXAS DRAWS HEAVY GREEK IMMIGRATION.

Sons of Greece Prosper in Lone Star State—Race May Again Climb Pinnacle of Power.

The report of our Federal Immigration department shows that 37,000 Greeks came to the United States last year to find homes and Texas is the state most favored by Greek immigration. The per cent of Greeks departing from the United States is less than that of any other nationality. Their occupations show that they do the chores of industry rather than manage its affairs or rule in the professions, yet notable exceptions encourage the hope that this fallen race may again climb to the pinnacle of power.

They are the descendants of men who spoke with the tongues of angels; whose nation lifted civilization to its most towering heights and whose citizenship gave the world the most polished and powerful products of the human race. Cut loose from the source of their inspiration, they have lost their way in civilization and while we study with profound reverence the masterful works of their forefathers, the present generation blacks our shoes, sells us popcorn and runs our errands.

There is no better location on the globe for these people to regain their lost prestige than in Texas; we are fast being recognized as the nursery of art, science, literature and industry, and society is laden with healing balms that will revive stunned races and invigorate subdued mankind.

The history of the Greek race affords a most fertile field for the study of government, society and man. As a nation their statesmen struck the solid rock of wisdom and a stream of inspiration gushed forth filling the world with power, ambition and beauty. Watered by the fountains of government, society yielded its golden fruit and fired by an ambition to serve mankind its people made civilization quiver with poems, tremble with eloquence, charmed with art and mastered with philosophy.

This gem of nations when touched by the blight of dissension in government and folly in leadership withered and faded away. There is no greater force in human life than government and to wield its powers intelligently is the highest function of man.

CITY COUNCIL.

The city council held its regular monthly meeting Monday night, but there was no business transacted outside of a routine nature.

The council is short two aldermen, Messrs. Burnett and Gardner both having resigned recently. The vacancies will not be filled until the regular election in April, hence the city's business will be looked after for the present by three aldermen and the other city officials.

W. E. Grisham and wife returned Sunday morning from Temple, where Mrs. Grisham had been in the sanitarium for several weeks.

Miss Dorothy Goldman, one of Mills county's popular school teachers, was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Saturday.

Mrs. Goldman was summoned to Ballinger the first of the week by a message announcing the serious illness of her son Arthur Vanort.

C. S. Welch and Jas. A. House of Center City were in to see the Eagle Wednesday and Mr. House ordered the paper sent to his sister, Mrs. Elmer Capps, at House, N. M.

The various candidates for speaker of the house of representatives have established headquarters in Austin and are preparing for the contest when the legislature convenes next week.

Business men who give their patronage to those who do not or will not pay accounts are teaching a dangerous lesson. The hard pay man will be encouraged to continue to take their goods without a reasonable hope of paying for them, while the prompt paying customer who wants the business man's patronage is forced to "stand off" his bills in order to have a chance to get such patronage. The plan works a hardship all around and is detrimental to all parties.
