THINGS IN GENERAL.

Texas leads all states in the Union in diversified farming, as she does in most every other movement for progress and prosperity. We produce in commercial quantities every commodity known to the market and every day in the year there is a harvest going on in the state. Having conquered the realms of agriculture, we are now extending our farming operations into the animal kingdom. We have a bull-frog, alligator, armadillo, ostrich and many other animal farms, but the latest addition is a polecat farm opened up near Gainesville and the skunk is said to give promise of making a profitable farmer. We will soon be able to dispose of our prairie dogs, go to market with our boll weevils and sell the Texas fever. In domesticating nature's delinquents and capitalizing our pests, we are turning waste into profit and that is what makes a country prosperous as well as powerful in commerce. We are likewise illustrating to the world that Texas is the birthplace of the mighty economic forces of 20th century civilization.

The retail merchant has become a powerful ally to the shade tree propagandist and thousands of trees have been given away as an advertisement by the local merchants of Texas this season. Certainly no merchant could spend money to better advantage than in providing a friendly shade for the perspiring populace while they ponder that "The price is the thing," or that "Smith sells it for less." Aesthetic beauty must ever rest upon industry and it is fortunate that the shade tree has been able to plant its roots deeply into the rich soil of trade and likewise it has brought the friendly companionship of the tree within the reach of every citizen. Plant a tree.

The withdrawal of gold from America at this stage of the year, when the country's resources will soon be needed to finance one of the biggest cotton crops in the history of the nation, is viewed with alarm by financial authorities in Wall street. This year there is little talk of curtailing the cotton acreage. It will require a considerable investment to handle the implements, fertilizers and supplies for this year's work. There are no other products that require the return of gold to America until the cotton crop is harvested. It is thought that the local banks in the south will be able to finance the crop and avoid drawing on northern centers, which in turn might result in advancing the loan rates, to the detriment of cotton farmers and to the prejudice of local business enterprises.

The latest figures showing the production of metals in Texas have just been compiled by the United States geological survey and show a total of $220,476, worth of gold, silver and lead taken from the Texas mines during 1911. Silver represents over 97 per cent of the total value of mine production or 424,394 fine ounces valued at $214,929.00, an increase over the previous year of 4,072 fine ounces in quantity and in value of $9,555.00. The mining of this metal was confined to Presidio county and the bulk of the output was from the Shafter district. The lead production of the state during the year, was 122,800 pounds, valued at $5,526. Only one ounce of gold was produced that year, which also came from the mine in Presidio county. No copper was mined in the state in 1911, although the value of the 1910 output was $410.00.—Commercial Secretaries.

Dr. Friedman, a Berlin physician and scientist, claims to have discovered a cure for tuberculosis by means of vaccination. His tests on patients in New York are said to have proven beneficial and given cause for hope that it will be successful. He has gone to Canada to try the vaccine in that climate and will return to the United States within a short time.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

There was a fairly good attendance upon the meeting of the club Monday night and the discussions were of interest to the town and county.

The fair committee reported progress toward agreement upon the date for holding the fair and reunion, and other details and plans were outlined for a most interesting and beneficial occasion.

The road committee reported work having been started on the Hanna valley road at Rock Springs school house. An inspection of the road had been made for several miles west of the bayou and the plan of work outlined.

The committee to solicit co-operation of business men in the purchase of fire extinguishers for the business houses reported good success and all but three business men had agreed to purchase the extinguishers. The committee was instructed to ascertain the best kind of extinguishers and make the order for them, after collecting the money from those agreeing to buy them.

FAIR DATE FIXED.

The committees from the Confederate camp and Commercial club have fixed July 15, 16 and 17 as the dates for the fair and reunion this year and the various committees have commenced preparation for the event. It is safe to say that a liberal premium list will be prepared, an exhibit hall will be built to make exhibits safe and attractive, while various kinds of entertainment will be secured for the occasion. Of course, the outline has not been formed with a degree of certainty that would justify its publication, but the public can be sure that this fair will be more interesting and attractive than any similar event in the history of the county.

Rev. J. T. Weems was among the visitors to Brownwood Wednesday. Gus Fisk and Frank Rahl were among the visitors to Brownwood Wednesday.

C. S. Welch and family of the Center City community were visitors in this city the first of the week.

Walter Fairman and wife went to Fort Worth on Friday night's train to attend the stock show and spend a few days in the city.

John Schlee, one of the best fixed farmers in the Priddy community and a leading citizen of that part of the county, was transacting business in this city the first of the week.

T. T. Nichols left Saturday night for a visit to relatives in Hopkins county and to attend the meeting of the Woodmen head camp in Dallas.

Dr. Darroch of Fredericksburg spent the first of the week in this city visiting his son, Attorney J. C. Darroch, and wife.

J. W. Rumans was here from Trigger Mountain the first of the week, looking after business matters and meeting his friends.

ICE SERVICE

Ice Has Advanced In Price

We will have to PAY MORE for Ice this summer than last. This means one of two things to our customers---we must raise the price or have the strictest co-operation among our customers. We are going to let you help keep the price of Ice down by observing the following rules:

1. Buy an ice-book, which is the only possible way we can keep your account correct.
2. If you wish to have your ice rinsed off and there is not a convenient hydrant, always have a bucket of water at the door.
3. Hang your ice-book on a nail near the ice box.
4. Have plenty of room in your ice box, so the ice man won't be delayed in removing things from it.

By observing the above rules you will get better service and at less cost.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The County Board of Education was in session Wednesday, all members present. Quite a number of school matters were brought before it for consideration. Among other things done, the following recommendations were made by the board:

That the territory now comprised in Gray school district No. 48, and North Bennett school district No. 21, be united into one new school district to be named Midway and numbered 21, and the new school house be built on land donated by W. H. Leverett to the school for that purpose.

That a High school be built at Moline, leaving the schools now in the territory affected as intermediate schools.

That a new school district be created in the territory bounded by Mt. Olive and Head school districts and the Hamilton county line.

That Priddy build a High school in the town for the outlying territory, leaving present schools as intermediate schools.

"I've been selling Studebaker Wagons and Buggies for over 30 years."

"I've sold them because my reputation as a dealer was at stake and from experience I have found that Studebaker means the best."

That tells the Story.

Farmers bought Studebaker wagons before the Civil war and they have been buying them ever since.

Because they had confidence in the name Studebaker and in the sturdy, dependable wagons and buggies they build.

And that confidence has been upheld. Studebaker wagons are built on honor and the Studebaker guarantee goes with every one.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

Lewelling of Dallas has introduced a bill providing for the establishment of a state negro orphan's home to be known as the Dixon State Colored Orphanage.

Senator Townsend's bill, providing that transcripts in criminal cases must be filed with the court of criminal appeals within ninety days, was passed by the senate.

Senator Vaughan's liquor bill was passed to engrossment in the senate, by a vote of 19 to 8. It requires all wholesale and retail liquor dealers to submit an annual report to the comptroller, showing ownership of the concern; all political combinations; and fixing the venue of suit in Travis county or in the home county of the violating concern, at the option of the attorney general.

Senator Greer has introduced a bill regulating and defining massage and providing for a state board of examiners.

The fifty-four hour working law for women has been so amended in the senate as to be unrecognizable. It exempts cotton mills, stenographers, telephone girls and laundries. If passed in its present form, the only female employees who will be affected by its provisions are those employed by department stores.

Tuesday, April 1, has been agreed upon as the date upon which the house will adjourn sine die. Night sessions have been inaugurated.

Terrell's joint resolution, proposing a constitutional amendment that improvement bonds may be issued by a majority instead of a two-thirds majority vote, was passed by the senate.

The Burgess-Glasscock irrigation bill came before the house Monday morning, as pending business, and was passed with much haste. It is said that this measure has received more careful attention upon the part of the committee that reported it, than any proposition proposed in the legislature in many years.

Conference committees on the woman's property rights bill and the Alamo bill are scheduled to meet during the week. It is freely predicted that a substitute for the former will be reported and adopted, and it is almost sure that the Alamo bill will die right where it is. Some few senators, however, are of the opinion that some kind of a bill on the subject may be put through.

Ross of Comanche county startled the house the other day by refusing to remove his hat during the session because the rule against smoking was not enforced. He says he will continue to wear his "lid" until smoking is eliminated in the halls. He was requested to remove his hat by Sergeant-at-Arms Burks.

McKamy has introduced his social club bill, which provides for the organization for bonafide purposes of social intercourse or for the promotion of some lawful purpose, as literature, arts, science, etc.; preventing the dispensing of liquor in dry territory and validating the charters of all clubs now existing and conforming to these provisions.—Commercial Secretaries.

It is announced that Scholten Bros. railroad from Lometa to the cedar brakes will be extended to Llano. The terminus of the road is now only 15 miles from Llano.

Postmaster General Burleson has appointed as his confidential clerk Ed B. Smith, formerly editor of the Austin Statesman and recently a newspaper correspondent in Washington.

A farmer near Celina has evolved a scheme of fishing for ducks. He baits a trot-line with corn and is said to make quite a success of his undertaking, large numbers of ducks being caught on the line.

The Anderson county court house which was burned a few weeks ago, will be replaced by a $150,000 structure. An election held in that county Saturday resulted in the bonds being authorized by a vote of 10 to 1.

The Massachusetts legislature has passed a law which has been signed by the governor, requiring that ladies cover the ends of their hat pins with some device. The penalty for violating the law is a fine of $100.

Fire in San Saba Saturday night destroyed a large amount of property, the estimated loss being $50,000. The Sloan store building and goods, Harber & Son's store and the Masonic temple and other property having been destroyed.

A judgment has been rendered in United States court compelling the city of Hempstead to pay bonds issued in 1889. The city corporation was afterwards abolished and it was contended that the bonds need not be paid, but the judgment this week requires the levy of tax on the territory of the former city corporation to pay the indebtedness.

Gen. Porfirio Diaz, former president of Mexico, who was defeated by Madero's army and forced to leave Mexico, is en route home from his enforced residence abroad. He will be likely to advise drastic measures as a means of putting down the various rebellions in that country and his advice will be followed by those in authority.

A strong effort is being made to have J. D. Manley pardoned. He was a member of the state militia and killed a citizen at Dallas during President Taft's visit to that city. The citizen attempted to pass under the rope to cross the street when he was bayoneted by Manley. He was convicted and given 40 years in the penitentiary and his case has just been affirmed by the court of appeals.

A prediction that the revolutionists in Mexico will regret that they did not accept the administration's offer of amnesty appears to be safe at this time. There are a number of revolutions in progress, but the revolutionists are not in accord and are as much opposed to each faction as they are to the government. The outcome is likely to be that the leaders will all be put to death and many of the poor ignorant creatures who are bearing arms against the administration will be butchered like so many wild animals.

Governor Colquitt issued pardons to 80 convicts the first of the week. Doubtless most of these men were tried and convicted for crimes which they committed and the mauling sentiment that would free them is contrary to reason and justice. Some of them may have been innocent and perhaps a few were given a heavier penalty than they deserved, but this is not likely. The governor should have no power, and certainly has no moral right, to free men who have been fairly tried and justly sentenced when he has no cause to believe that they were not guilty of the crimes charged.

Could never have been the great oil king he is if he had carelessly spent his first money. When he entered the oil fields he went there with only $2,000 that he had saved and with which he was ready to take advantage of a good business chance.

A GOOD PLAN.

When we read of the immense truck crops of east Texas, tomatoes, and peaches by the hundreds of carloads, besides sweet potatoes and other things by the carloads that go to waste because there is no profit in the shipping of the crop, so far as most of it is concerned, and when we learn further that when canned these fruits and vegetables bring the grower a better price, plus the labor and expense, than when sold fresh, and that each year solid cargoes of canned goods come from Baltimore to Texas seaports, we wonder why these people do not can their crops and take possession of the markets that are rightfully theirs.—Orchards and Farms.

What is true of eastern Texas is true of western Texas and all other sections of this great state. Not only could immense profits be realized out of truck growing and fruit canning, but even corn could be made to pay handsomely here, were the farmers prepared to can it when it gets into the roasting-ear stage.
Frequently the corn is spoiled by the hot winds after the ear has formed.
There are many ways to diversify and secure a money crop for almost every month in the year and in this time of progress and development diversification is necessary.

HURRAH FOR PRIDDY.

When a country where the people rule becomes aroused on the subject of popular education, that means safety to her interest and perpetuity to her government. When a community bestirs itself for better education for its children at home, that community becomes a powerful factor in securing all that is best in a free government. The people, generally, are becoming aroused to the, not IMPORTANCE, but NECESSITY of better educational advantages for the children living in the rural districts of this county. I take it that the future prosperity and well-being of our county depends upon a just application of this need. In every community there are some few men who are the real power and strength of that community. When the question of the necessity for education confronts any community, these leading men become aroused first. They find no facilities for the education of their children at home worthy of them. They appeal to their neighbors for help in providing support for a good school. This help is probably denied them. They cannot go elsewhere to a good school nor send their children from home to one without financial sacrifice. But it becomes a matter of choice between a sacrifice of money and a sacrifice of their own children's future. The right thinking man—the real strength of his community—will not long hesitate to choose. What is the result? He Leaves His Farm and Moves to Town to Educate His Children. Who is willing to occupy the home thus vacated? It is not a man, however poor, that cares for the future of his children; but it is a man who does not take their highest interest—an equal chance in life—into account. When you place the farms of a county in the hands of a people who do not care more for their children's future than for money or stock, when you people that community with a class of citizens to whom a bank account is more than citizenship, you, thereby, sound the death knell of all that is worth while in that community.

Churches, schools and roads are the measure of any county's civilization. Agriculture is the basis of a county's prosperity and civilization. The county that long neglects these is lost to the best things possible for them. Thousands of counties in the south are examples of this truth. I have often said sincerely that I believed Mills county the best county in the world. We can keep it so, if we will take advantage of our present opportunities to make schools and roads and proper farm advantages.

I want to point all our citizens with pride to the steps now being taken by the people of Priddy in one of these matters, better school advantages at home. They have one of the richest parts of Mills county. They are maintaining as good schools in that section as is any other part of the county, but they are not satisfied to let educational facilities remain at a stand-still while they are rapidly progressing in all other important lines. That section is peopled principally by Germans. These Germans are not only among our best citizens, but they also have a just appreciation of education. They know that the history of the Fatherland tells how that country became crowded with inhabitants. Something had to be done to enable the people to live. The relief suggested and adopted was FIRST-CLASS educational facilities. Did it pay? All Germany is not as large as the state of Texas; and yet Germany has sixty-five millions of people, nearly as many as the whole United States. But how can they live? They do live and are a prosperous people and a mighty nation. Education gave German products a superiority over the products of all other countries of the world. No matter how well a thing is made by any other country, Germany makes it better because of the superior training her schools have given her people. "Made in Germany" is the highest stamp of merit any manufactured article can bear. Germany's schools did it. The Germans and other citizens of Priddy say they are going to build a high school in their town worthy of their people. When they get this done, where could a more attractive place for a home be found anywhere? The population will increase rapidly because of the school, and the people who are hunting good schools are the best class of people that any country can get.

Star has arranged to build an eight thousand dollar school building, with the result that a number of families in different parts of the county have already remarked in my hearing that when it is completed they are going to Star to make it their future home. Goldthwaite is preparing to build a fifteen thousand dollar High school building, which is causing some of our county's best families to plan to move to Goldthwaite. Now Priddy is going to do likewise and will attract her share of good families as a result. But are our other districts going to advance educationally while this is being done and keep their best citizens at home? Or are they going to sit still and feed these best citizens to the towns above named, accepting in their stead a people who make no difference between a place of good schools and one of no schools? I have faith in our people that all will rise to the present need and save our county from the ruin that neglect has brought to so many others. Many of our districts have already shown themselves awake by the excellent school houses they have built within the past year.

In the meantime, I say, Hurrah for Star, Hurrah for Goldthwaite, Hurrah for Priddy, Hurrah for all wide-awake schools in the county!

Yours for the best schools,
S. H. ALLEN.

Grinding Up Mustard Seeds

is not by any means all to good mustard making. In the first place there's just one mustard seed that will make thoroughly satisfactory mustard—that seed comes from England. Then there has to be extraordinary care taken in the handling and the grinding of the seed so that strength and delicacy of flavor will not be lost.

White Swan Dry Mustard is made from the best selected English seed and is ground by a special process which retains all the "mustardy" goodness of the seed. A little White Swan goes further and gives better results. Not only pure—better than the law requires.

GOLDTHWAITE PEOPLE IN BROWNWOOD

Brownwood, Texas, March 12.—Several Goldthwaite people were in Brownwood today, attending to business and greeting friends. Among the number were Messrs. J. T. Weems, Gus Fisk, J. F. Rahl, W. E. Egger and others.

While here most of the Goldthwaite folks investigated Brownwood's new addition, Brownwood Heights, and several lots were sold to them.

Mr. Egger, speaking of business and crop conditions in and around Goldthwaite, said that this year is going to be one of the best on record. He says the people in Mills county are raising grain this year as never before, having learned that diversification is the keynote of success on the farm. He also said that the opening of the Santa Fe to San Saba has not injured Goldthwaite's growth at all, the town going right ahead with a slow but steady growth all the time. The placing of a Santa Fe demonstration agent at Brownwood will be of great benefit to Goldthwaite and Mills county people, since they will by this means have the advantage of an expert agricultural demonstrator without cost to themselves.

This is one of the most valuable farms in the county and being so near town makes it especially desirable. The purchase price was something more than $10,000 for the 125 acres, practically all of which is in cultivation.

Mrs. Sealey lived in Goldthwaite in the early days of the town's history. Her husband was an engineer on the Santa Fe and at one time owned the property where the Eagle Editor's home is located. Mr. Sealey was killed in a railroad accident at Somerville some time ago. Mrs. Sealey and her son have a hearty welcome by the people here and are kindly remembered by many of the old settlers.
