A Sheep and Goat Growers' Association for Mills county will be a big thing and one worthy the best efforts of the citizens in organizing and pushing. Farm Agent Weaver is doing some good work in helping start this organization.

Hundreds of dollars each year are lost to the growers of this county on account of the inability of the raisers to get the right prices for their wool and mohair.

A number of the Confederate Veterans of Mills county left Monday morning and Monday night for Houston to attend the reunion of the old Confederate soldiers.

Among those who attended from Goldthwaite were:

PRICE OF COTTON GRADUALLY INCREASING; BEST WORTH 22.85

Since the big drop the first of last week the tendency of the cotton market has been steadily upward. Although there has been no advance of any great amount at once, the prices have increased from around 19 cents per pound to 22.50, a gain of about 3 1/2 cents.

Many of the farmers here as well as all over the South are holding a portion of their cotton for a better market. It has been estimated that it requires about 46 cents per pound for cotton to pay for raising it, and these farmers are holding for a minimum price of 48 cents per pound. Whether or not they will get it depends largely on their ability to stick it out.

Goldthwaite seems to have the best market on cotton in this section of the state, and as a consequence, they are getting the outskirting trade to this market.

Up until Friday morning there were approximately 2,000 bales of cotton weighed here. Much of that, however, is being held for a higher market.

The grade of cotton this year is ranging from good middling to strict middling.

It has been estimated that there will be from 5,000 to 6,000 bales sold on the Goldthwaite market this year.

SILAS SELF (Disciple of Good Roads.)

Oh, I'm a true disciple of the Gospel of Good Roads. For—goodness knows—I need 'em when haulin' heavy loads. I allus pay my road tax, but kaint see where it goes! Why don't THEY take an' build 'em the goods—Lord only knows!

Other day I went to town; my brand-new shiney car Bounced and shook me all around, an' gave me such a jar. I wuz sore as I cud be from head down to my toes; Reason THEY don't work that road, none but the good Lord knows!

Sunday when I started out my duds was spick and span; I run into that mudhole an', sure as I'm a man, Reckon I'd a bin there yet—but Bill come drivin' mules; Lord knows why they don't fix it—they're confidential!

Little piece on down the road, I run agin' a rock. Beat the dustpan out o' shape, an' give us such a shock—Though I'ce on my way to church, a word jest slipped out—well, I said, "Why don't THEY move it, the Lord alone can tell!"

Oh, I'm a true disciple of Gospel of Good Roads. Folks what don't believe in 'em should all be turned to toads. "Good roads" is what I'm talkin' of mornin's, noon an' night! (That doctrine he should practice—Lord knows his road's a fright!) —Genie Griffin DeWolfe, in Good Roads Magazine.

PRIDDY-GOLDTHWAITE ROAD IS NOW IN GOOD CONDITION

Work on the Priddy-Goldthwaite road has progressed remarkably well within the last few weeks. There is a crew of seven or eight men, under the direction of Commissioner D. A. Hamilton, and they are getting results.

Reports from men who have been over the road indicate that from here to the mountain and over the "bad place" on this side, the road is in the best condition it has been for years, and now the crew is going the other way, fastly putting the road in shape.

However, the worst places on the road have already been fixed and Goldthwaite is receiving the benefit. Several truck loads of the Priddy cotton as well as wagons are arriving here daily and much of the money received for the cotton is being spent here. Gradually Goldthwaite will come into her own again by getting 90 per cent of the Priddy trade.

TEXAS PRODUCTION WELL IS DOWN ABOUT 3100 FEET; EXPECT TO GO DEEPER

The Texas Production company well just across the Bayou is now down about 3100 feet, and is still drilling. After several efforts, a great portion of the water which had been flowing from the well for several months was cut off and drilling resumed.

The well is still in a white lime! Mr. Malone, who is in charge of the Texas Production company interests here, said when interviewed that they were expecting at any time to pass through this lime formation. In fact, geologist reports indicated that they should have passed through it a couple of hundred feet sooner, or around 2900 feet.

Although there is no way of telling what is below this lime, oil men are optimistic that there will be something doing in the way of oil.

Most of the wells at Ranger and in the Breckenridge field struck the pay sand around 3500 feet. It is reasonable to suppose that about the same distance will be required here. There has never been a well dug in this county before even to 3000 feet; in other words, a REAL test of this field has never been made. Should nothing prevent the Texas Production company's well from reaching the 4,000-foot level, we may find oil and plenty of it.

Mills county citizens have great faith in the ultimate finding of a great oil pool here, and Mr. Malone as a representative of the Texas Production company, has the sincere thanks and backing of the people in his effort to prove the field.

At the present rate of drilling, a few weeks should put them down to around 4000 feet. Within that time they may strike oil. We may awake almost any morning now and find that King Oil, the dream of every man, woman and child in the county, is here with his many riches to bestow on the best people on earth.

The called session of the Legislature which adjourned last Saturday enacted laws covering two of the three important measures submitted by the governor—the election bill and the port bill.

The cotton gin and oil mill divorce bills were not finally passed.

As the matter was originally submitted by the governor, the port bill called for legislation to prevent the use of violence and intimidation by strikers engaged in loading and unloading ships at the ports of the state, and thereby tying up commerce in such ports. The Legislature gave the representatives of organized labor full opportunity to be heard, but were not favorably impressed by the declarations of some of the leaders that the bill if enacted into law would not help the situation because it would be disregarded by a great many men in the ranks of organized labor who were willing to make "the supreme sacrifice." Both houses came to the conclusion that it was just as necessary that inland centers be protected from the use of violence by striking, and extended the protection of the law throughout the state. The bill as enacted makes it a felony to harass or hinder or interfere with any laborer engaged in handling commerce by the use of violence; and defines other acts of interference which constitute a misdemeanor. It gives to the governor, when upon investigation he deems necessary, the right to take police supervision of any place or area where the meeting of commerce is being hindered, and to use the state rangers for this purpose. The bill failed to get the necessary two-thirds vote to put it into immediate effect.

The election bill permits all persons, male and female, who have not paid poll taxes, to pay same prior to October 21, and to vote in the general election in November and other elections held prior to February 1, 1921, upon the payment of such poll tax, and gives to others who, under the law were entitled to an exemption certificate but failed to secure it within the time prescribed by law, the right now to secure same prior to October 21, and to vote in the general election in November and other elections held prior to February 1, 1921; and all persons who would be entitled to vote without exemption certificates are permitted to vote without securing either a poll tax or exemption certificate. The election bill places men and women upon the same plane and extends equal privileges to both sexes. All those who hold poll taxes for 1919 will vote on their 1919 poll taxes, men and women alike, until Feb. 1, 1921. Previous to Feb. 1, 1921, all who desire to vote during the year 1921 will have to pay the usual poll tax. The tax collector is required to certify to the election officers, prior to Oct. 23, a list of all persons obtaining poll taxes, and exemption certificates under this law, and to further certify a list of all poll tax payors to the county clerk prior to Oct. 21.

The plan outlined above was presented by Representative J. C. Barroch, and after having been rejected by both houses was finally adopted by the free conference committee, reported back to the House and Senate and finally passed by a two-thirds majority. The other bills which were considered provided for the women to vote in the coming election without payment of a poll tax, and also the young men who became of age since the first day of January, 1920, and denied other men who had not paid a poll tax the right to participate in the election.

PICK-UPS BY OUR CORPUS CHRISTI CORRESPONDENT

Sept. 29. Indications of rain. Storm playing its pranks on a far-off sea. The same daily rounds characteristic of a professional loafer with now and then a slight attack of the blues.

The rarest feeling that ever lights the human face is the contentment of a loving soul.

The past is fixed. No tears can wash away its facts. We should waste no regrets upon it, but from the wisdom which its very sins have taught us we should start afresh on the race.

The person who has wiped wet eyes, moistened parched tongues, put a new star in the sky of a dark life, added beauty and bloom, the song of birds and the blossom of flowers to the lot of another is—whether he be rich or poor, known or unknown, bound or free—one of God's nobility. This don't mean one who has played his or her part with one and trampled on the feelings of another and left his or her sin to wear the wrong out, without even offering to make fair and just settlement. It won't wear, no need to expect it. God requires you to right your wrongs towards your fellowman. Some who read this know they have not done it and perhaps will not on account of a self-willed stubbornness that it takes grace and grit to subdue. Again they won't on account of a pride that goeth before a fall.

One of the most encouraging signs of national advancement is the increased and deeper thinking on the part of some of our young women. They are filling a growing number of important positions in our larger concerns.

Get a move on you, young men. These thinking young women will want thinking husbands who have made character building their chief aims. The business world is looking out for a higher and better type of young manhood, which if you fail to aspire to the girls will. No longer content yourself by thinking they can't, for they can and will.

The laws of this country were made for people to obey. A few people do. How many do not? Those who do not willfully, often encourage others to continue downright harmful disobedience by saying, "It is none of my business; the law provides for men and women whose business it is to enforce the law, therefore I shall not put myself on record as a meddler and incur the displeasure of a neighbor or customer." Suppose if your failure to report a wrong and use your influence to help make the right prevail should work a ruin to your boy, girl, brother, sister, father, mother, or friend, would your fear of meddling more than pay for the harm wrought upon a loved one?

This thing we call a bad cold (we never had a good one) has your scribe very much in its grip and holding on as though it had deed, abstract and all other undisputed title.

We have had some weather here that called for more bed covering Saturday. One of the cotton gins here burned down Thursday night and the round house with some of the shops at Kingsville went up in smoke Friday night. H. C. COBB.

FORDSON

TRADE MARK.

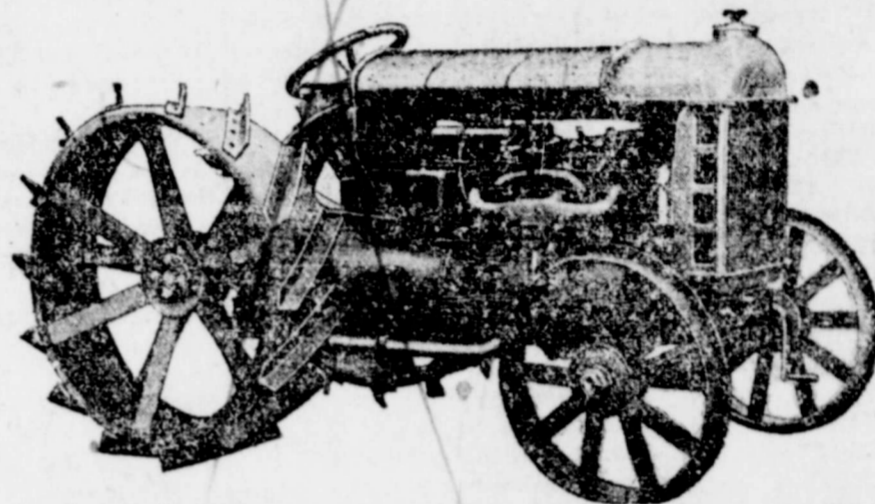

Farm Tractor

The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land almost to half of what it cost with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmer's time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season; getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it helps greatly in solving the labor problem.

As ever, the machine way is proving more efficient, faster, easier than the old hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it helps the labor problem.

The Fordson's first cost is low; and the after or operating cost is low. It is a compact, easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the world.

We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we carry Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson. Let us demonstrate the Fordson on your own farm.

SCHOOL PUSH.

The question of public schools is an ever-living question, and so it should be. A citizen of Mills county was recently heard to remark that many new school buildings in the county is a gratifying and hopeful expression of progress. I was reminded that such progress was made possible in most instances by forming larger school districts. In a country sparsely inhabited like ours the people can hardly tax themselves sufficiently to make worthy schools without considerable territory. In the larger formed districts there is the dissatisfaction of a few families being located quite a distance from school, but creation of larger districts so far is the only way to overcome the weak, insufficient school.

For some years educational interests have grown and grown on the people until the usual country school has failed to meet the growing demand for education. The leaders in state education, after much thought and testing various plans, have advised sufficient territory with which to create a school meeting the needs and demands of the country people.

There is a great need for the farmer to remain on the farm and build worthy schools for the education of his children. The plea and cry to move into town to educate has grown too weak with the passing years to be heard at all.

It is said that half of the people of the world at nightfall go to bed hungry.

I take it that the educated of our state, the school maker and law maker and those who have been successful in educational lines are the best advisers in school matters. If I am to learn to operate a piece of machinery, I know the best and safest advice is to be had from the one who made the machine.

A large worthy institution can be built now more easily than a small two-bit business. As a rule citizens who have no children to educate prefer to co-operate and put money into something of promise and satisfaction.

One other thing is true. A splendid school which meets the demands of these times creates sufficient enthusiasm to carry the boy or girl up to the point of education. Many real fine boys and girls have no ambition for an education because there is no inspiring school about them. A pity, too, that parents with lands and cattle and money should leave a child dependent on others to make life's program for it. Money can't buy leadership, civility, politically nor educationally.

MEXICAN EXHIBIT LEAVES FOR TEXAS

The big Mexican National Exhibit, feature of this year's State Fair of Texas, will be en route to Dallas by September 12, reaching the State Fair grounds about September 17. This information was contained in a telegram just received from Luis Lupian, secretary of General J. B. Trevino of the department of Commerce and Industry at Mexico City by the State Fair management. Mr. Lupian stated also that the official coterie of Mexican ministers and high officials, probably ten in number, will accompany the exhibit to Dallas at that time.

At a later date between 300 and 500 Mexican business men will arrive in Dallas, to be guests of the State Fair of Texas from October 9 to 24.

DUROC ROUND-UP TO BE HELD IN DALLAS

Dallas, Texas.—State Fair of Texas officials announce that Dallas and the state fair grounds have been chosen as the scene of the 1920 Southwest National round-up of Duroc-Jersey futucity pigs, given annually under the auspices of the National Duroc-Jersey association, and this year affiliated with the Texas Duroc Breeders' association and the State Fair management.

The round-up is a competitive affair and each year attracts hundreds of breeders from throughout the United States. This year a total of $2,400 in prizes has been guaranteed.

SHEEP EXHIBITS WILL BE LARGE THIS YEAR

Dallas, Texas.—A greater interest is being manifested in the sheep division of the State Fair of Texas this year at this time than during any previous year, according to announcement just made by J. M. Jones of the Texas A. & M. college, who is superintendent of that division. Not only have the premium classifications in this division been increased, states Mr. Jones, but in addition a modern, commodious sheep barn has been completed, which will be ready for occupancy at the opening of the fair. Mr. Jones has called attention of sheep men to the fact that Rule 14 in the sheep and goat division reads this year as follows:

"Flock—A flock shall consist of one ram any age; one ewe two years old or over; one yearling ewe, and one ewe lamb."

STATE FAIR SPACE IN GREAT DEMAND

Demand for space at the State Fair of Texas grounds this season is unprecedented, according to Secretary Stratton and President Keist. Practically all of the space has been sold, although some remains which may be made available to late applicants. This, however, is going fast. The State Fair officials state that never before in the history of their experience with the State Fair of Texas has there been such a host of applications for reservations of ground space, booths and indoor exhibits.

A bigger show for farmers and a bigger and better entertainment for the farmer and his family is primarily the program of the Texas Cotton Palace this year.

As well as the premium list being considerably increased, the amusement end of the 1920 Cotton Palace has also been arranged with the farmer in view.

Agricultural exhibits from east, west and south Texas will form a part of the mammoth display that will be arranged in the spacious buildings shortly before the show opens on October 30 and which will be a drawing attraction throughout the sixteen-day period that the Texas Cotton Palace is maintained.

Competitive Exhibits

According to present arrangements a triangular competitive contest between east, west and south Texas for prize exhibits will add interest to these agricultural displays. The different district chambers of commerce and agricultural bureaus of chambers in the various towns are interesting farmers in their especial territory in this progressive step.

The extension department of the A. & M. College, which has supervision over 150 county demonstration activities in the state, has agreed to supervise a representative Texas Cotton Palace agricultural production. The extension department's showing has always drawn considerable attention at Waco and it is expected that it will win more favor this year, as increased effort is being put into the gathering of this great collection to put into Texas' farm show-window, the Cotton Palace.

Bigger Livestock Show

This year's Texas Cotton Palace livestock show will also be bigger than ever before.

The barns at the edge of the track which have been maintained for years to stable race horses brought to the Palace, are being converted into sheds never had in the west for swine and cows. The swine and cows will be very much in the interest for the farmer and the stock raiser on as though it had deer, and all other undisputed title.

We have had some weather here that called for more bed covering Saturday. One of the cotton gins here burned down Thursday night and the ground house with some of the shops at Kingsville went up in smoke Friday night. H. C. COBB.

SPECIALISTS PREPARING OUTLINES FOR SCHOOLS FOR SAVINGS DIVISION

Dallas, Texas.—Valuable suggestions, in the form of outlines, will be furnished to teachers of the Eleven Federal Reserve District to aid them in conducting the "earn, save and invest" campaign of the government in the schools this year, according to Dinsmore W. Hume, Federal District Director.

Material for primary grades will be prepared for the Division by Mr. Ella F. Little, Primary Supervisor of Rural Schools, of the State Department of Education of Texas," said Mr. Hume. "A specialist in elementary school work will prepare suggestions to be sent teachers of fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades, to be used in connection with either language or history recitations, or both. Mr. L. H. Hubbard, Superintendent of City Schools, Belton, Texas, will prepare matter for use by high school pupils in their English classes. Negotiations are under way for a specialist in history to furnish the Division outlines for use of high school classes and teachers of history.

"These suggestions will be usable in high school classes already organized; additional classes or periods will not be necessary. They will relate to matters discussed in text books, offer interesting side lights on topics there presented and show how they naturally develop into approval of the principles promulgated by the Savings Division. They are simple: earn something, live on something less, save; invest, put your savings where they are safe and earn something. When school children do this they will find Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates most convenient in denomination, and safe, savings accounts in banks also, meet with approval of this campaign."

LABOR ORGANIZATIONS URGE FUNDS BE PLACED IN U. S. SECURITIES

Montreal, Canada.—The Fortieth Convention of the American Federation of Labor, by unanimous vote, declared regular and systematic investment in Government securities a part of its permanent policy for the benefit of its members and the welfare of the country. The resolution bearing on this subject reads in part: "The American Federation of Labor reiterates its former endorsement and approval of the plan of the Savings Division of the United States Treasury Department now being operated in each of the Federal Reserve Districts.

"All International Unions and Federal Unions are urged to advocate Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates as the best and safest method for saving and investment their members can adopt, against the schemes of those who are now undertaking to take advantage of the Government's savings program and the savings habit formed during the war by introducing thrift systems in industry, through which they will make profit from the savings of workers."

The convention also recommended that unions place their funds in government securities, buy Liberty and Victory Notes and hold them to maturity. The convention's final resolution asked that the government continue and extend the savings work through each of the Federal Reserve districts.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BOND FOR SAME REASON YOU BOUGHT IT

"Whatever your motive for buying Liberty Bonds," says Scribner's Magazine, "the same motives should impel you to manage your investment thoughtfully. Usually selling bonds is unwise as well as unpatriotic. If money is needed for an emergency, money can be borrowed at the bank with the bond as security. If selling a Liberty Bond can not be avoided, sell it through a banker or broker of known integrity, who has facilities for handling it at very small cost."

"He who spends more than he earns treads the path thieves have trod since the invention of jails; only luck can keep him from reaching its end. Live within your income; give your dollars a chance to work for you. Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates are within the reach of every one not on the thief's road."

The laborer works for his money; the capitalist's money works for him. Put $4.25 in a War Savings Stamp and be a capitalist.

The American people spend more money for chewing gum and chewing tobacco than they do for Liberty Bonds.

ADVISES AMERICA TO BUILD MORE SHIPS, AFTER TOUR OF JAPAN AND THE FAR EAST

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Members of the American congressional party which has been touring the Orient for the last few months, have arrived in San Francisco aboard the United States army transport Madawaska. "America must be prepared" was the statement of Congressman Porter of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Foreign Relations Committee. "We must build first line battleships. We must recruit our navy to full strength. Present conditions make it imperative that we have a navy second to none. My studies in the far East have convinced me, as I never before was convinced, that the people of the United States and the government of the United States must build a navy that will outrank all others in the world."

BACKMAN-TINSCH TRAINED WILD ANIMAL SHOWS.

Amusement lovers, particularly the kiddies, all welcome the announcement of the coming of The Backman-Tinsch Trained Wild and Domestic Animal Shows to Goldswaithe Saturday, Oct. 9th, for one day only. The big water proof tent will be pitched on the regular show grounds. Every man, woman and child in Goldswaithe and surrounding country should avail themselves of this opportunity to witness this highly educational exhibition of Wonderful trained lions; one of which actually makes a balloon ascension, accompanied by a beautiful young lady trainer flying far into the lofty peaks of the mammoth canvas and while the Beauty and the Beast are enjoying their aerial flight a display of fireworks are turned loose while the entire tent is darkened. Positively the most inspiring, sensational and at the same time beautiful act ever before attempted or accomplished by any other show in America.

Many other new and novel acts have been added to the Backman-Tinsch Shows, one of which deserves special mention, that of Handsome Mike, the Marvelous Roller Skating Bear, who skates around the big elevated stage with all the grace and confidence of a professional skater of the human type.

Space will not permit but slight mention of the many startling features to be presented by this mammoth collection of animal acts, consisting of lions, leopards, tigers, bears, horses, ponies, monkeys, dogs, interspersed with many novelties by America's foremost lady and gentleman artists of the tented world.

AN APPEAL FOR BETTER SCHOOLS AMENDMENT SENT OUT BY CAMPAIGN SECRETARY

To the Farmers of Texas:—
Do you want better rural schools in Texas?

On November 2, at the general election, a constitutional amendment will be submitted, which simply allows all school districts to vote whatever tax they feel they need for school purposes.
This does not mean that taxes will be increased in any given community.
But does allow the people in that community to increase the school tax if they so desire. It is a local option measure.

You are interested vitally in two things—first, to keep the young people on the farm; second, to give to your children every opportunity that any Texas child may enjoy. Statistics show that, as a rule, the leaders of every community are those who have had good educational advantages. Education increases the earning ability, and greatly adds to the enjoyment of life.

In the past you have been compelled to take such teachers as you could secure. A teacher whom a city child will not accept is not fit for a country child. Our country schools must have better teachers and longer terms.

Good rural schools will do many things for Texas. First, they will help the future farmers to raise better crops and better stock. Second, they will stimulate interest in farm affairs.
Third, good schools add to the selling price of every farm in that school district. Very few people will pay a high price for a farm if there are no school advantages. Then vote for the educational amendment, because "the educated mind is the greatest producing agency in the world, without which fertile soil, timbered land and mineral deposits are so much useless material."

The school, the university and the laboratory are the keys that will unlock enlightenment in the farm work of the future. Scientific farming, which is no longer an experiment but a proven success, comes through advantages your child will receive in a better school system in Texas. Vote for the Educational Amendment to help your child and your community.

The "little red school house" of our father's time does not now contain the same kind of teacher that it did in days of yore. What was good enough, possibly, for us is not good enough for our children. They must live under conditions constantly becoming more complex. Then give the country child a better chance.

The city district has the right to vote such tax as it chooses for its schools. Is not the country worthy of the same privilege? The amendment does not raise taxes. It is a local option measure, permitting all districts to vote such support for their schools as they see fit.

Many members of the Legislature have declared that, if the people of Texas do not carry this amendment at the polls, they will refuse in the future to vote for the $2,000,000 appropriations for rural schools, and to more special state appropriations for the schools.

It is of vital importance to communities to carry this amendment. If you have suggestions, or material, write to the Campaign Secretary, Better School Building

That long-faced guy going around the streets every day,—what is his purpose? how does he get by? who keeps him up? There are about a dozen of them—all engaged in the same business—knocking on the town, knocking on the county, knocking on anything and everything, knocking when other people sleep, continually knocking. There is a panic—hard times are here—we'll be eating cornbread soon—the boll weevil have got all the cotton, the farmers are plowing it under—we are ruined—they tell us.

Listen, Mr. Knocker; let me tell you a few things: You did not have any cotton for the boll weevil to get—and you were ruined the day you were born. You were knocking right out there on the same streets along back in October, 1917, when the total individual deposits in the two banks in Goldthwaite and the bank at Star were $431,413.96 and you said business was dull and would be duller. You kept knocking—about a dozen of you—until October of last year, 1919, when the deposits in the three banks were $692,708.31, a gain of $261,294.34; and you said then we were facing destruction, we wouldn't make any cotton and what we did make would all rot;
you said the price was low, only 30 cents per pound, and that spelled ruination for Goldthwaite and Mills County.

You are here again this year, at the beginning of October, you and your long-faced talk. You acknowledge now that you were wrong last year, and the year before—you say now that last year was the most prosperous year in Mills County, the people had more money the first of October than they ever did before; but, of course you say, they had sold all their corn and over a thousand bales of cotton at that time and this accounted for the high bank deposits that were subject to check of the individuals of this county. And also, you say, cotton went up over $90 per bale during the cotton selling season last year.

But—last year is not this; you know we are R-U-I-N-E-D this year; there is a panic on now; don't you see it? it's flying all around.
The boll weevils have got it all
—A-L-L—this year and what little the farmers won't plow under is selling for twenty-six cents—ruined, we are now, you say.

Now, listen to me, Mr. Knocker;
I am going to tell you something,
and I want you to take that hammer of yours and knock this into the brains of some people of this town who have long ago been forgotten and who are here doing nothing but take up space that is wanted by hustlers because five new business institutions have been started in Goldthwaite within the past few months and five more will be started soon. Yes; keep on knocking, and tell them this:

THE DEPOSITS ON SEPT. 8, 1920, IN THE TWO BANKS IN GOLDTHWAITE AND THE BANK
AT STAR—INDIVIDUAL DEPOSITS, MIND YOU, SUBJECT TO CHECK,—WERE $984,563.10—OR OVER $100,000 MORE THAN TWICE AS MUCH AS THEY WERE THREE YEARS AGO IN 1917, AND LESS THAN TEN BALES OF COTTON HAD BEEN SOLD ON SEPT. 8 THIS YEAR
AND OUR POPULATION IS NO
MORE THAN IT WAS IN 1917, AND WE HAVEN'T BROUGHT
IN OIL YET. EITHER, TELL THEM, MR. KNOCKER, THAT THE DEPOSITS THIS YEAR
OVER LAST YEAR—1919, YOU KNOW—INCREASED NEARLY THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND; (OR INCREASED NEARLY AS MUCH AS THE COMBINED DE-POSITS IN THE THREE BANKS
ON SEPT. 12, 1916). TELL THEM THAT THE PRICE OF COTTON FOR THE LAST THREE YEARS HAS INCREASED AN AVERAGE OF SEVENTY-EIGHT DOLLARS PER BALE DURING THE SELLING SEASON OVER
THE BEGINNING OF THE SEAS-ON—AND WE HAVE ALL OUR COTTON TO SELL YET AND SOME CORN AND WHEAT; TELL THEM THAT AND LET THEM

Torpid Liver

Black-Draught "has no equal for headache, sourstomach, torpid liver and feverish colds." declares Mrs. Annie Whitmore, of Gate City, Va. "It is easy to take and does not gripe, as a lot of medicines do," she adds. "It is good to take in a hot tea for colds, or can be taken in a dry powder. I can't say enough for Black-Draught and the sickness it has saved us."

Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT

has been found a valuable liver medicine, in thousands of homes. "I do not use any other liver medicine," says Mrs. Mary O. Brown, of Europa, Miss. "It is splendid for sour stomach, a bad taste in the mouth or torpid liver. I keep it all the time, use it with the children and feel it has saved us many dollars in doctor bills and many days in bed."

CHURCH HERE LAST SUNDAY

A fine representation of Mills County Baptists met in the meeting house of the Goldthwaite Baptist church last Sunday afternoon to discuss the present State Mission Campaign. The following churches were represented by a pastor or some member: Mullis, Big Valley No. 1, Blanket Springs, Nabors Creek, Scallorn, Long Cove, Staf, Center City, Live Oak, North Bennett and Goldthwaite.

Dr. L. J. Mims, our district organizer, was present and spoke. The spirit of the meeting was fine, and all are sure that Mills county will more than pay one half of her pledges for the second year of the Seventy-Five Million Campaign which ends April 30, 1921. Any church desiring help for the campaign may confer with the following committee to supply speakers for churches needing outside help: Geo. W. Jackson, D. D. Kemper and M. A. Darby. Let all money for the campaign be sent to F. S. Groner, 120 Slaughter Building, Dallas, Texas, in time to reach Dallas not later than Nov. 5. Scallorn has set a worthy example for us all, having already paid two-thirds of her pledges for the second year. It is hoped that many new pledges will be secured now and good cash offerings from those who do not pledge. For the glory of Christ and for the sake of lost and suffering humanity, you are urged to do your part. We send love and Christian greetings to all the churches in the county.

M. A. DARBY,
County Organizer.

EX-SERVICE MEN ARE REQUESTED TO TAKE DISCHARGES TO DALLAS FAIR TO GET MEDAL

Ex-service men, bring your discharge certificate with you to the Dallas Fair and apply at the Army Recruiting Station, 1514 Main St., Dallas, for your Victory Medal. If you can not bring it, send it and papers will be furnished the person presenting it for you to mail to the Victory Medal Office.

The records of the Victory Medal Section of the U. S. army recruiting office show a greatly increased demand by the veterans of the Great World War for their Victory Medals. This is probably due to the former soldiers' intention to be fully equipped with their badges of service on Armistice Day, November 11. Many of the posts of the American Legion are doing their members a real service by assembling their discharge certificates and sending them in to the Dallas office along with the members' applications for the medal.

Preparations are being made at the Victory Medal Office for the expected rush of applicants during the two weeks of the Dallas Fair. Two additional army field clerks are being added to the staff that already numbers five. Office will be open daily from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. except Sunday, it being closed on that day.

Dalrymple, federal prohibition enforcement director for the Chicago district. Chicago breweries are running night and day making the "real stuff," according to the officer.

MR. McDERMOTT WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF TRIP TO NORTH

Mr. Editor:

As promised some time ago, I will now continue my article concerning my trip to the North. We will deal with old New England homes.

In the house we are now stopping there are many very quaint and interesting fixtures. It was built in 1763 and the timber was cut from the forest that grew on the farm. The walls are paneled on the interior and in first class condition. There is a metal fire-board with the date 1763 and the name Thomas Rutter Dale, Brook Dale Furnace, where it is supposed to have been manufactured. There are some other written characters on the board that scholars from far and near have tried to decipher, but have not been able to make out the meaning.

The town of North Easton was founded in 1769 and incorporated in 1725. There is one of the greatest shovel and plow factories located in the city that is to be found in New England; also shoe factory but rather small.

On the McDermott farm there is much rock that contains iron, and this was melted and made into cannon ball, for the Revolutionary Army, in a foundry nearby. There are many traces of the earlier settlers of this place. One of considerable interest is the burial ground of the people who first settled on this place. The inscription on the head stones is still legible, and is as follows: "In memory of George Wilbur; died June 7, 1813, in the 56th year of his age. Depart my friends, dry off your tears, Here I must rest till Christ appears." "In memory of Mrs. Betsy Wilbur; died May 13, 1807, in the 59th year of her age. Death is a debt to nature due, As I have paid it so must you."

Such burial plots or lots are to be found on most all of the old New England farms, as there were no undertaking establishments in those days.

Manufacturing is the chief industry in this section of the country. In the city of Brocton, with 150,000 inhabitants, there are over a hundred shoe factories. W. L. Douglass Shoe Company and the Walkover Shoe Company are two of the largest that are located in this city as well as many smaller companies. In one factory, the Little Shoe Company, most of all the output of the factory is for foreign trade.

All of the cities of New England have either shoe factories or iron foundries and many thousands of workmen are employed as well as women, and most all of these are of American-born parentage. There are great labor troubles facing this section; most factories are only working half time and then have only about half of the regular force at work.

There is very little farming done now in this section, only dairy farms, and a great many of these are forced to quit on account of the high cost of feed and the labor troubles. It costs four to six dollars a cord to have wood cut and there is plenty of it to be had and it is not so hard as we have in Texas. Yet many people have to buy coal and haul many miles because they can't get men to cut wood. Most farms are small, from five to ten acres, and this is planted to hay crops principally, and then they must use commercial fertilizer if they make a crop of hay. Many large loaders are in these hay farms and they cut around them. Not much of a place for a Texas farmer. There are some very fine dairy cattle in this section. The Lowney herd, which supplies the milk for the famous Liggetts Candy Company; this factory is located in Mansfield, and is a great candy factory, probably the largest in the North. Mr. Lowney, the former president of this company, has retired and now lives in the woods nearby. They call it camping, but they have all city conveniences, so it would not be considered a camp in Texas.

Field Brothers of Brocton have the finest herd of Registered Holsteins that are to be found in the United States. The male of this herd is valued at $50,000. Cows sell from $8,000 to $20, 000 each, and calves from $2,000 to $5,000. We visited this dairy and found it kept very clean, and all buildings are very well ventilated. These cows never go out of the barn. It costs a fortune to operate such a farm. Some cows in this herd give 55 quarts of milk a day, or over ten gallons. Some milk cows, don't you think so?

We will give a brief account of the historic places visited in the next installment. R. F. McDERMOTT.

BRITTIAN-TAFF.

Word has been received here of the marriage of B. B. Brittan and Miss Minnie Taff at Fort Worth last Sunday evening. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Fort Worth, the wedding taking place at the church.

Mrs. Brittan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taff of this city, and she was reared in this community. She is a young lady of refinement and culture and is surrounded by a large circle of admiring and loving friends, here as well as at Fort Worth. For the past two years she has held a position at Fort Worth.

Mr. Brittan is not well known in this community, but he is greatly admired by those who know him for his business ability and integrity.

The happy young couple will make Dallas their home in the future.

The Eagle joins the friends of Mrs. Brittan in extending to her and her husband heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a long life of matrimonial bliss.

FROM MRS. LOWRIE.

San Saba, Texas, Oct. 5, 1920.

Dear Friends:

No doubt most of you know all about this little burg for it is so close by that probably many of you have been here, but everything is new to me, as I had never had occasion to wander into this part of the world until I came here to teach three weeks ago.

This is a beautiful place down in the San Saba River Valley for there are some beautiful homes adorned by a natural growth of lovely trees. It would be more beautiful still if the people would take a notion to get rid of the weeds which are growing as vigorously as the grass and flowers and things that ought to grow.

On Sunday afternoon I went out with the Hopkins family for a drive over the country roads, and we drove out as far as Algorita. The cotton stalks in the fields on either side of the road remind one of great bowls of popcorn with here and there a decoration of green. In many of the fields it looked as if there were not room for another open ball on the stalks. I hope the cotton in the fields around Goldthwaite is as fine as some I saw Sunday.

San Saba is a larger town than I expected to find, and it is larger than it appears on first entering the place, for the trees hide a large part of the town from view.

There are twenty-two teachers in the school and over seven hundred pupils were enrolled the first week. Our former Goldthwaite superintendent, Mr. W. W. Hart, is superintendent, and has been here for the past five years. The school is affiliated in all points with the State University and maintains a first class standing in every respect.

The Parent-Teachers' Association entertained the teachers with a lovely reception on Friday afternoon at the close of the first week of school. On that day we met quite a number of the patrons, who gave evidence of hearty co-operation and interest in our work. My work is pleasant and I have a good boarding place with the Hopkins family, who are old friends and lovely people. Your friend,
MRS. S. A. LOWRIE.

CLINE-POTTER.

On Thursday evening at about 7:30 o'clock Arthur Cline and Miss Mattie Potter quietly slipped over to the Methodist parsonage and became united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. M. F. Daniel performing the ceremony.

However, the marriage is a profound secret and we request that each reader of the Eagle keep it such.

Mrs. Cline is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Potter, and has spent her childhood in Goldthwaite. She is a young lady whom all the people admire for her many commendable traits of character and charming personality.

Mr. Cline is a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cline, and he was also born and raised in Mills county. He was a soldier in the late world's war and spent many months on the battlefields of France, attached to the Ninetieth Division. He has been engaged in a number of different occupations and businesses at Goldthwaite and is a young man whom the citizens respect and admire for his uprightness and sterling worth.

The future plans of this happy young couple could not be ascertained on account of the fact that the marriage is a secret, but at present Mr. Cline is a situation with the Texas Production company's personnel on their west of town, and it is presumed that they will remain here for the present at least.

The Eagle joins the host of friends and well-wishers of Mr. and Mrs. Cline in extending to them congratulations and best wishes for a long, happy life.

MR. HARRISON'S CHANGE OF FRONT.

My good friend, Mr Harrison, would have the readers of the Eagle believe that I am a new recruit to the League of Nations, but his efforts in this will be as futile as some of his other performances. While I have not sought to give publicity to my views with reference to this very important matter, still, I have held for sometime some very decided notions about this question. I frankly confess to a "degree of ignorance," on this, as well as all other questions of such far-reaching import, and hold myself ready to be enlightened by any one who has the illumination to dispense. I have been told that there is hope for a fool, but that if he does not know that much his case is hopeless. It occurs to me that one difference, at least, between Mr. Harrison and myself is this: I am ignorant and know it, while he is equally so, but has never made the discovery. When Mr. Harrison refers to me as a "Democratic politician of the first water for some eight or ten years, and who sets himself up as a political tutor of things deep and mysterious," he either knowingly or ignorantly misrepresents the facts, because I know that I have done no such thing. Of course, my friend is well informed, for he admits as much himself, but one trouble about his information is that he knows so many things that are not true.

Yes, with all my ignorance and stupidity, I really knew before I received the benefit of my good friend's illumination that the transfer of Shantung to Japan by Germany was no part of the league covenant, and I here and now affirm that I did not state that it was. But since the league covenant was an indispensable part of the treaty, it seems plain to my uninformed mind that the U. S. Senate could not have accepted and ratified the treaty without accepting and ratifying the league covenant. It is true that there was some similarity between the conditions under which Alsace and Lorraine passed to German ownership and those under which Shantung did the same thing, but at the time of the Versailles conference Shantung belonged to Japan; therefore, it was impossible for Germany to return that territory to China. I believe as a matter of public policy, and of equity as well, that Shantung ought to belong to China, and in this I suppose my astute friend will agree with me, but when I say that I believe that Germany should be required to pay Japan a reasonable price for that peninsula, he will perhaps dissent. However, Japan agreed, under certain conditions, to give back to China this territory, and so far as I know there is no reason to suppose that she will not do so when such conditions obtain. But while this is a matter of importance, it is not, in my judgment, of sufficient importance to justify the senate in refusing to ratify the peace treaty and also the league covenant.

No, I do not know that no "reading, thinking man" can believe in the doctrine of reduction of armament among civilized nations. But I do know that some of the strongest minds in this and other nations believe in and advocate it. Article VIII of the League declares it to be in the interest of peace that there should be a reduction of all armaments of the world as far as possible—consistent with national safety and the obligations of the League. As Mr. Harrison, no doubt, knows, the Council of the League reduces the armament and fixes the limit for each country. That plan, when completed, is to be submitted to all the governments, and each government studies it with a view to its own limitations, and its own limitations with respect to the limitations of other countries. When a voluntary agreement shall have been reached with a limitation for each nation proportionate to its needs, then the countries agree to keep within that limit for not more than ten years. And if the increase of the limit is required by any contingency, the Council is clothed with authority to increase it. What valid objection can be urged to an agreement of this kind? None that I can see. Each nation agrees to limit its armament in consideration of every other nation limiting its armament. Thus, instead of meeting the danger from other nations by increasing our armament, we meet it by keeping down the armament of other nations by agreement. Now, what if Secretary Baker Secretary Daniels did present to the Senate, before President Wilson's return from France, a greatly increased army and navy? Does that disprove the soundness of the doctrine of reduction of armaments among civilized nations. And what does it matter so far as this discussion is concerned if a Republican Congress did cut that program? Does that prove the unsoundness of the principle for which I am contending? And what if the same Republican Congress did save this nation billions of dollars by its refusal to allow the aforesaid secretaries what they asked for the army and navy. Does that constitute a valid argument against reduction of armaments among the civilized nations of the world? But I am wondering if no Democratic Congressman and Senator opposed in any way the proposition to thus increase the army and navy. Will my well informed friend be condescending enough to allow even a small per cent of the overflow of his superabundant illumination to fall upon this point and advise the readers of the Eagle whether any Democratic Congressman or Senator aided in any way in the accomplishment of this marvelous Republican feat?

Oh yes, I know William Jennings Bryan and his opposition to Governor Cox as the Democratic nominee for President. But what has that to do with the League of Nations? If it will be any consolation to my cynical Republican friend, I will confess and deny not that Governor Cox was not I do not think that he would suffer my choice for president, but after all, very much in a comparison of his prohibition record with that of Senator Harding's. Do you? But why all this change of front? I had said nothing about the relative merits and demerits of the two candidates. But since you have raised this question, I will say that Cox is explicit on both the league and prohibition, while Harding has ducked on both. A. R. BROWN.
