BLANTON GOES BACK TO WASHINGTON

(Abilene Times)

Congressman Thomas L. Blanton of this city stated Saturday that he and his family would leave Tuesday for Washington, where he is to continue his summer work of checking up and investigating "our numerous and eternally increasing bureaus, commissions and independent establishments of government."

Each summer for the past six years he has engaged in this work and with the completion of three more bureaus his work will have been finished and he will be ready with his reports for the next session of congress.

He will be absent until the appropriations committee is through he stated Saturday.

Concerning this activity he said:

"We have ten departments of government presided over by ten members of the president's cabinet and in each such department there are numerous bureaus. For instance, there are sixteen bureaus in the department of interior; there are twenty-two bureaus in the agricultural department; there are eighteen bureaus in the treasury department, and in addition to the numerous bureaus in the other seven departments, there are seventy-three commissions and independent establishments of the United States Government."

Congressman Blanton, in his checking up and investigation of them, ascertains what becomes of the money that each receives from the treasury annually, into whose pockets it goes, what benefits the people receive therefrom, whether such appropriations are duly authorized by law, and whether such bureaus are of sufficient value to the people that it should be continued.

Then, after gathering this detailed information he is prepared, when the supply bill granting appropriations for that bureau is before the house for passage, to make proper points of order against all items of appropriations therein which are unauthorized by law. And every appropriation he knocks out of such bills is just so much saved in taxes for the people. And we have seen reliable evidence of the fact that by his points of order Congressman Blanton has been able to knock several hundred million dollars out of appropriation bills.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Brooking spent last Tuesday afternoon and evening in Brownwood at a medical association. Dr. Brooking stated that he listened to some very interesting discussions on Infantile Paralysis, Pallegra and other subjects.

Joe Taff of Bellville, Texas, has been spending his vacation here renewing old acquaintances.

G. D. McMullen of Indian Creek community had business in town the first of the week.

LITTLE ORPHAN CHILDREN

Little orphan children appeal to the hearts of everyone. Their helplessness, their utter dependence, their loneliness and lack of loving parental care which should surround every child, make them the most pitiful of all charity cases. Even when they are in so fine an institution as the wonderful Buckner Orphanage at Dallas, they are still at the mercy of strangers for their support, and that institution by the very magnitude of its service must in turn look to the public for funds to carry on its gigantic enterprise of mercy to these helpless little ones. With the approach of winter the problem of clothing for these more than 600 inmates looms up large indeed.

Buildings, food, heating facilities and things of that sort are a heavy drain on the cash contributions to this institution—and then clothing—well you know what it costs to clothe your own little fellows. As you unpack your winter clothing or look through your children's school things you will

FORMAL INTRODUCTORY ASSEMBLY, SEPTEMBER 12

On Monday morning, September 12, the 1927-28 term of the Goldthwaite Public Schools was formally opened with a program at the high school auditorium. The Auditorium was packed with patrons and students of both high school and grammar school.

The program was opened with a talk by Judge F. P. Bowman. Mr. Bowman made an enlightening talk on "Fire and Water" in which he gave a graphic description of our grammar school building. He enumerated the dangers of the aforesaid building as a perilous fire hazard. In conclusion, Mr. Bowman extended to the school his hearty co-operation and helps.

We were further honored by short talks from the following: Brother Dance, Brother Neal, Brother Dosier, Mr. Edward Geeslin, Mr. Obenhaus, Mr. Mark Leverett and Mr. Albert Hunt. Em. Wilson, president of the School Board, acted as chairman of the meeting and also favored the audience with an instructive talk.

Judge Patterson, County Superintendent, made an excellent talk that was highly appreciated by the pupils, faculty and patrons.

Mrs. Palmer, principal of the Goldthwaite Grammar School made an interesting talk, offering her help and encouragement.

Mrs. Edward Geeslin rendered a beautiful vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. John Berry. Mrs. Geeslin gave a badly needed chastisement to the absent fathers.

In a short intermission between two of the talks, Ruby Lee Dickerson and Mrs. John Berry rendered as a duet, the Hungarian Rhapsody Number Two.

After the program was concluded, the faculty was introduced to the student body by Mr. Newton. The books were then issued and lessons assigned.

HUDSON BROS. INSTALL MECHANICAL COOLING SODA FOUNTAIN

Workmen last Saturday completed installing Hudson Bros. new $3500 Liquid 100 percent mechanical soda fountain. This fountain is the last word in soft drink dispensaries. It mechanically keeps several kinds of cream frozen, cools all syrups and fruits, cools the drinking water, etc., electrically, without the aid of ice. A concrete base was run to hold this piece of equipment and Hudson Bros. are inviting their friends to come and see their new fount.

Julian Evans has accepted a position at Hudson Bros. new fountain taking the place of M. D. Queen, who is attending school.

'Can You Direct Me To A First Class Soda Fountain?'

When you put on a brand new necktie which is just a bit different from the common, ordinary garden variety of ties you see on most people, you feel somehow that it would be a shame at least not to put yourself where the tie could be seen and of course, generally admired. Not that you want to appear conspicuous, but maybe unconsciously you feel like "strutting your stuff."

Now, we are no "shrinking violets" ourselves and while we wish to appear duly modest, we've got something to show the wide world and we herewith invite the wide world to take note. Your own attention is most particularly invited.

We spent a lot of time, thought and cold cash installing a new Electrically Refrigerated, 100 percent Mechanical Soda Fountain. It is the last word in modern up-to-date equipment. We believe the best is not too good for our customers. We use only pure true fruits and flavors. Everything is strictly sanitary. Our dispensers, John Ross and Julian Evans, are experienced and expert.

Come in and inspect our Fountain, you'll be delighted and we will be glad to have you.

Yours for a BETTER DRUG SERVICE

You can find plenty of tire dealers who'll be glad to dicker with you, tempt you with all sorts of "special" deals.

I can't. It goes against my grain to pad up list prices in order to give you a discount or a "long trade"—to make myself a good fellow at your expense.

I've been in the tire business for a good many years. I've watched the "bargain boys" and the "long discount" fellows come and go. Every year my business has increased.

Every year more shrewd tire buyers come to me for Goodyears—and they "stay put" and Goodyears. Doesn't it seem logical that Goodyears will prove the best buy for you.

Mrs. Eula Nickols spent the day Tuesday with Duke Clements and family in the city.

Mrs. Tom Cave and Miss Ruby visited in the McNutt and Nickols homes Monday afternoon.

There were seven from here entered in G. H. S. at Goldthwaite Monday morning. There were 3 girls and one boy. They were Mary Douglas Forehand, Nellie D. and Rudolph Cooke, Eugene and Horace McNutt, and Elizabeth and James Nickols.

Those who go off to other places to enter schools are: Herbert and Horace Cooke, Florence and Ray Stark, May McNutt, and O'Leta Daniel. The first five are going to Stephenville and O'Leta is going to Belton. This community will certainly miss these young folks. They have all been good church workers, always willing to do what was right. We wish them a very pleasant school term.

In our B. Y. P. U. last Sunday night our lesson was about Paul. Our Quiz leader, Mrs. Ben Forehand, after her quiz, had prepared a paper in regard to our young people so Busy Bee is having it published:

We have been thinking about the life of Paul in the past week's study, and tonight we are reminded of his parting with the church at Ephesus as he was passing by for his last time. As the Ephesians were overshadowed with grief because of Paul's leaving their vicinity and wept most because of his words that they should see his face no more; So, we feel keenly the loss which we are about to sustain in the going away of our young folks the coming week. Not so much because we fear we shall see their faces no more, for we hope to do that. But in all probability we shall never have their united assistance in the church work as we have in the past, as they will probably each choose his life's work and enter into new fields of action.

As they go, we are glad to have the assurance in our hearts that they go armed with the Christian Armour, and are boys and girls of righteous character.

We want to commend them for their efforts to uphold the cause of Christ in this community by serving as Superintendent, teachers, and pupils in our Sunday School and working so faithfully in the B. Y. P. U. since childhood. We hope they continue this beautiful service wherever they may go, and thereby help complete the great gospel plan of winning the lost to Christ. Our loss of them will weaken our church, yet we bid them God speed and trust they shall be a blessing to all with whom they come in contact.

Paul suffered many afflictions and shipwrecks, but the Lord always stood by him to comfort and cheer him. So your pathway may not always be strewn with flowers your plans may be frustrated and shattered, your ideals may not be attained and materialized, but be of good cheer and trust in God and He will bring you out more than conquerors.

May God's richest blessing rest upon each of you and may his loving hand guide you in paths of righteousness and shield you ever from the temptor's snares till we meet again.

After this good paper, Jno. W. Roberts made a good talk, which everyone enjoyed.

Everyone who is not in school is picking cotton.—BUSY BEE.

THE KINGDOM DIVIDED
1 Kings 12: 1-24

GOLDEN TEXT—Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall. Prov. 16:18.

Lesson Setting and Survey

About 975 B. C., Rehoboam at forty-one, ascended the throne of his father, Solomon, in Jerusalem, Israel proper having a population of about six million within 1,300 square miles of territory, though the whole kingdom covered 60,000. But Ephraim and the northern tribes, chafing under the heavy taxes and forced labor required to support the extravagant capital in Judah, asked the new monarch to meet them in national assembly at Shechem, thirty miles north of Jerusalem. Rehoboam, whom Solomon had sent into exile, and the prophet said should be king over ten tribes, voiced the demand for a lighter yoke. Rehoboam asked for three days time during which time he consulted his father's experienced advisors who counseled compliance with the popular demand. But he counseled also the young men who had grown up with him in the glitter and glare of the court, and they advised him to lay heavier burdens on the people and to maintain a more glorious court than Solomon. This was exactly to his liking, and so on the third day he gave in bitter words the decision which proved disastrous.

Lesson Text and Outline
1 Kings 12: 12-20

I. THE DECISION OF THE KING.

12 So Jerusalem and all the people came to Rehoboam the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come to me again the third day. 13 And the king answered the people roughly, and forsook the counsel of the old men which they had given him, 14 and spake to them after the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions. 15 So the king hearkened not unto the people; for it was a thing brought about by Jehovah, that he might establish his word, which Jehovah spake by Ahijah the Shilonite to Rehoboam the son of Nebat.

II. THE DIVISION OF THE KINGDOM.

16 And when all Israel saw that the king hearkened not unto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we inheritance in the son of Jesse: to your tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David. So Israel departed unto their tents. 17 But as for the children of Israel that dwelt in the cities of Judah, Rehoboam reigned over them. 18 Then king Rehoboam sent Adoram, who was over the men subject to taskwork; and all Israel stoned him to death with stones. And king Rehoboam made speed to get him up to his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem. 19 So Israel rebelled against the house of David unto this day. 20 And it came to pass when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned, that they sent and called him unto the congregation, and made him king over all Israel: there was none that followed the house of David, but the tribe of Judah only.

Notes Analytical and Expository

1. REHOBAM made a fatal blunder in his decision. With counsellors brought or summoned from Jerusalem, he had considered for three days the demand of the northern tribes as voiced by their representatives at beautiful and historic Shechem. Then with five blows he drove in the wedge that split his kingdom. (1) He answered the people roughly in word, tone, and temper. (2) He rejected the good advice of the elders who counseled concession in the interest alike of king and people. (3) He aligned himself with the young imperialists who craved a yet costlier court and who resented any seeming dictation to the crown. (4) He announced a policy of taxation and forced labor surpassing that of Solomon. (5) He declared that in pushing program he would chastise the rebellious, so that everybody would speak of Solomon's whip (straight lash), and of Rehoboam's scorpion

(knotted and barbed scourge), popular demand. But his foolish Thus the king bodily refused the course had been divinely fore- phesies to both Solomon and Jer- seen and foretold so that the pro- boom came to fulfillment.

Tribes saw that their demands 2. JEROBOAM took advantage of the situation. When the Ten Tribes saw that their demands were rejected, they rebelled at once. The old line of cleavage between the north and the south was reopened and never again rejoined. They took up the cry of inde- pendence from Judah. They threw off the yoke of David's line. They called for mobilization of their armies to enforce their action. Rehoboam's efforts to win them back through Adoram, his minister of finance, resulted in the stoning of that official to danger, the king fled precipitate- death. Finding himself in grave- ly to Jerusalem. Determined to compel the allegiance of the re- volting tribes, he raised an army of 180,000 men. But at the word of Jehovah, the army was demobilized and civil war averted. Judah and Benjamin and those other tribes living in their narrow ter- ritory remained loyal to the crown. But the kingdom of Saul, David and Solomon had fallen for ever to pieces.

Jazz Baseball Team Makes Initial Bow

Fred Rich

Orchestra Leader Organizes Musical Nine to Meet All Comers

New York City.—The first jazz baseball team is ready to meet all comers. Fred Rich, manager, captain and pitcher of this interesting organization boasts that he is willing to pit his nine against the most professional players. The interesting thing about Mr. Rich's team is that it was originally a jazz band. In fact, it still is, outside of baseball hours. It plays at the Astor Hotel. Mr. Rich came from San Francisco, where jazz was nurtured in its infant days. His earliest ambition was to lead an orchestra and as soon as he heard about jazz, he decided he wanted a jazz orchestra. The combination of a baseball team and a jazz band was suggested to him by a realization of the relation of rhythm to sports. "I am experimenting with the muscle-flexing powers of rhythm," he explains. "It is a well-known fact that muscles move more efficiently when they move involuntarily. The action that does not have to be prompted by conscious volition is a freer, more graceful, more efficiently performed action than is the voluntary. It is my theory that if baseball players, or any other athletes, can be steeped in music, which is rhythm in sound, they will acquire a new facility. My efforts with my own men would seem to prove that this is the case. "We often practice to the music of some rapid-fire, blood-stirring, muscle exciting popular number such as 'Pretty Little Baby.' There is a very marked difference in the athletic efficiency of the men with music and without. But the music at the moment of playing is not so important as the sense of rhythm acquired by constant jazz playing. At the risk of being labeled a crank or freak, I would even go so far as to recommend jazz playing for any baseball player."

HOW TO SEE THE STATE FAIR OF TEXAS

One of the most novel and useful pieces of "literature" ever put out by the State Fair of Texas has come to this office in the form of a folder entitled "How To See The State Fair." It is about the size of an ordinary railway folder and opens out to a sheet 18x24 inches. It contains a fine pictorial map of the fair grounds, itself a handsome and convenient feature, showing every entrance and exit, all the streets and roadways, all the buildings in their proper places, the new 3-4 mile race track, the new Midway and in fact, every salient point in the immense plant. Best of all is a description of a tour through the various buildings so written as to call the attention of the visitor to every item of interest that is to be seen. A perusal of the guide will convince anyone that, no matter how often he has visited the State Fair there must have been hundreds of interesting things which, somehow, he missed or overlooked.

There will be no reason for missing anything this year, for the guide tells where everything is to be found. And it reveals the fact that the new directorate has kept its promise. There seems to be listed and described so many new things that it looks like an entirely new fair. If that is so, then the prediction of a million at tendance this year will not be far wrong.

Roy Rupard, secretary of the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, will send a free copy of the folder to anyone writing him, it has been announced.

GRID GRIND STARTS ON LOCAL GRIDIRON

Football season opened with gusto Monday, September 12 when Coach Stringer and 25 candidates took the field. The team was put through a brisk workout, and at the end of practice there were 25 tongues hanging out and twenty-five pairs of legs barely shuffling along.

Regardless of sore muscles and the ill effects of the first evening practice, prospects are bright for a good club this year. They should be especially bright this year, considering the fact that only six let-terms were lost from last year's squad. Twelve new candidates are out for the team along with thirteen old ones.

The six men lost from last year's squad were Page, Hester, Rudd, Summy, and Carothers. The old men who are back for the team again this year are: Linkenhog (captain), Cave, Locklear, Evans, Stephens, Rahl, Patterson, Johnson, Wilson, Yarborough, Weatherby, Dickerson, and Harper. The new men are: Bohanon, Harvey, Leverett, Renfro, Rudd, Bradley, Queen, Benningfield, Frazier, Barnett, Morris, and Ritchie.

Exercises and running will continue for the remainder of the week, with signal practice and scrimmage starting about the middle of the second week.

No definite schedule of games has been arranged yet, but the first game will probably be played the thirtieth of September with Lometa High School on the home grounds.

Everybody come out and give us your support and we will guarantee you a hard fighting football team that will give you plenty of thrills and sportmanship.

K. T. O. CLUB RE-ORGANIZES

Wednesday at twelve-thirty o'clock the first annual meeting of the K. T. O. Club was formerly opened for reorganization with Frances Page presiding as chairman pro-tem. After reviewing the membership of this organization, the summer months, we found which has been disbanded during that we were only seven in number, since three of our members, Mina Steen, Euna V. Bin, and Lelia Pribble, graduated from Goldthwaite High School last spring, forfeiting their membership in our club.

After careful deliberation it was decided to add no more names to the exclusive seven, at least, not at present. Our members are Garetta Little, Pauline Dalton, Eloise Kyle, Ruby Lee Dickerson, Rachel Johnson, Frances Page, and Anniegene Johnson.

ANGLES AND TANGLES

Save the Fish

This is the time of year when many small creeks become dry. Thousands of fish perish in the mud holes. Many of these could be saved with very little effort and without expense.

We should not wait until the water is very low, but seine the falling water holes now and place the small fish in places where the water supply will not fail. We ask the government fish department to send us a supply from the hatcheries, and at the same time permit tons of our own native stock to be sold for just a little consideration.

If we do not save what we have we should not complain at the scarcity, and poor fishing next year.

Aviation

The deplorable loss of life in the numerous attempts to "fly the seas" has called forth a demand for control of ocean flying.

Our office boy has a plan which we think is worth trying out and which we commend to the officials having in charge such matters.

The office boy says that no one "without regard to sex, age, color, or previous conditions" should be permitted to venture over the waters without a duly issued license to do so, and that no license should be issued to any one until the applicant should have successfully negotiated at least two round trips across either the Atlantic or the Pacific ocean.

It might be well for the regulators of the aviators to consider it and try it out.

On Trial

An interesting trial was held at Tyler, Texas. It is referred to as another "flogging case," and is an echo of the days of the modern Ku-Kluxers.

That a conviction will be had is quite doubtful, for where the Klan men have been active convictions for mob violence are very difficult to secure.

It is proper, however, to state that the case was transferred from Harrison county, to Tyler with the hope that the State might get justice.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Soward of Robstown visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunt last week. They were accompanied home by Albert Jr., who will visit there for a few days.

Mrs. Ernest Tyson, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Frankie Ellison, visited friends and relatives in San Antonio last week.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

(1). It has pleased an all-wise Heavenly Father to remove from our midst, our sister, friend, and neighbor, Mrs. J. J. Cockrell, who fell asleep at her home in Big Valley community, August 24, 1927.

(2). In her home-going, next to her family, the church and Sunday School has sustained a great loss. She was a teacher in Sunday School and performed other duties that her Master would have her do.

(3). We extend our sincere sympathy to the grief stricken husband and children and commend them to a God who does not permit the sparrow's fall, without his notice and authority.

(4). We pray that her loved ones may take courage in this dark hour and say with the Psalmist David, she cannot come back to me, but I can go to her.

(5). We bow in humble submission to the Father's will, and say all things work together for good to them that love God and are called according to his purpose.

Humbly submitted,
Mrs. G. A. Buckhannon,
Mrs. J. C. Moreland,
Mrs. Wm. Dennard.

Miss Mina Steen left Monday morning for Brownwood, where she will attend Daniel Baker College this winter.

That Unproductive Period Cut

The job of making 8,000 new feathers is certainly an awful drain on a hen's system. Let's hope you are not one of those who figures that feed doesn't matter because the hens aren't laying. Wrong feeding now will add weeks and months to that unproductive molting period.

Now, more than at any other time, your hens need Puma Chicken Chowder and more of it. Chowder is the mash that will put on feathers in a hurry. Chowder will cut short the unproductive period and put your hens into laying when egg prices are high.

The cheapest ration frequently is not the most economical. The ration that will cut short the unproductive period is the economical one. So get Chowder busy now—before ad during the molt.
