GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1929.

NUMBER FORTY-SEVEN

Grand Jury Re-Convened Yesterday For One Day Session

District Court Has Busy Session

The court has had a pretty busy session this week, although there has been no grand jury and the trial of the cases has been handled as expeditiously as could be done with care and good judgment.

When the Eagle was put to press last week the trial of Calvin Dalton, charged with killing Colbert Jones, was on trial and came to a close about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon, when the jury brought in a verdict of acquittal. This was the second trial of the case, the former trial having resulted in a hung jury.

After the Dalton jury reported the court adjourned for the week and Judge Brewster and District Attorney Taylor left for Temple to spend the week end at home.

Judge John Watson of Cameron is holding court here in Judge Few Brewster's stead, while Judge Brewster holds in Cameron. The fact that Judge Brewster was district attorney when some of the indictments were returned by the grand jury on which trials are to be had this term of court, disqualified Judge Brewster to try the cases, hence the necessity for exchange of benches.

The Grand Jury was reconvened yesterday to prepare a new indictment in a case where the indictment returned was found defective.

Cases Heard

Woody Carlisle plead guilty selling intoxicating liquor and received a suspended sentence of one year and one day.

MUCH COTTON BROUGHT TO GOLDTHWAITE MARKET

The Goldthwaite Market is Best

A great deal of cotton is being brought to this market now and the result is that business is steadily improving. The reports say the crop hereabout will be light, but the fact that Goldthwaite buyers always will pay the top market price for cotton as well as everything else the farmer has to sell, makes this quite an attractive market, hence cotton is brought here from a considerable distance. The gins are running full time and when the total is announced, it is likely the result will be decidedly satisfactory. While Mills county farmers are by no means dependent upon the cotton crop, it is one branch of their business and helps to build up a good total in the bank each year.

MARRIED AT SNYDER

Mr. Earl J. Tate of this city and Miss Bonnie Helena Bertram of Snyder, were married at the last named place the early part of last week and arrived at their home in this city last Friday night. Their arrival was the first intimation the friends of the groom had that he was married or had such intentions.

Mr. Tate is connected with the Mills County Cold Storage Co., and after Oct. 20th, will have charge of that company's business at Lometa. He is a popular young man and has the good wishes of all who know him. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Tate of Snyder, but has lived in Goldthwaite for several years. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bertram of Snyder, in which city she grew to womanhood, surrounded by a large circle of admiring friends.

The young people have the hearty congratulations of the people of Goldthwaite, as well as their friends elsewhere.

PEP SQUAD

All high school girls who were interested in a pep squad met in the high school auditorium Monday afternoon for the purpose of organizing. We are going to do all we can to help the "Eagles" come out on top this year. There are 26 girls in the pep squad, with Mrs. E. D. Stringer as sponsor.

The following officers were elected: Yell leader, Hilda Gene De Wolf; assistant leader, Kathleen Keese; secretary and treasurer, Myra Nell Johnson and reporter, Annigene Johnson.

HOLLAND'S MAGAZINE

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will have charge of the subscriptions of Holland's Magazine for renewals from Oct. 1st, and all those whose subscriptions expire within the next few months or any one wishing to subscribe, the Society would appreciate greatly, if they will call some member of the Society and give them your subscription. x

Two Strong Teams Will Contest

It is expected there will be a large attendance at the game.

OCTOBER BRIDE-ELECT

Society was enlivened last Friday night, September 27th, by the announcement of the betrothal of a member of a prominent family.

The engagement announced was that of Miss Mildred Stephens and Mr. Horace Caldwell, which was made when Mrs. Fred Martin, sister to Miss Stephens, entertained with a beautifully arranged party at their home on North Parker Street. Miss Stephens is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stephens of College Heights, and Mr. Caldwell is of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin. Mrs. Martin passed a beautiful handmade, yellow basket, from which each guest drew a nut sweet. Miss Vivian Campbell found within the one she drew a paper that contained the following:

"Since the proof of the pudding is eating the cake, Then the joy of this party is telling the date, Then Caldwell and Mildred will be happily wed, 'October 15,' they have joyfully said."

Score cards that were passed were embossed with a maiden holding an engagement ring. Miss Stephens, bride-elect, wore an attractive model of yellow chiffon, with slippers of white satin. Mrs. Martin, hostess, wore an orchid frock of chiffon with full ruffled skirt and sleeves.

Yellow and orchid colors were used in decorating the home. The game tables were covered with Normandy lace over yellow satin, centered with a corsage or flowers in shades of yellow and orchid mingling in colorful effect. The corsages were cut for at each table. C. A. Eacott was the lucky one at head table and he had the pleasure of presenting it to the honoree. Several games of forty-two were played.

A salad course, followed by an ice course was served to the Treble Clef Club and a few friends, namely: Misses Vivian Campbell, Ellen Archer, Vera Berry; Messrs. Blake Hudson, Raymond Little; Mrs. S. P. Sullivan; Messrs. and Mrs. C. L. Stephens, I. O. Harvey, R. V. Littlepage, Frank Bowman, C. A. Eacott, T. F. Toland, Walter Fairman, and J. V. Coekrum. Each received a popping plate favor that contained a cap and a fortune and also a spray of lilies of the valley to which was clinging a wedding bell. Each read his fortune and wore his cap, which created much sensation, as all were befitting. The honoree was presented with a beautiful Waffle Batter Pitcher, the gift of the hostess. —A GUEST.

PENSION LAW CONTEST

Austin, Sept. 27.—A ruling by Attorney General R. L. Bobbitt on the constitutionality of the law passed by the Forty-first Legislature that has deprived many Confederate widows of their state pensions will be sought immediately, R. B. Walthall, chairman of the Board of Control, announced Friday. He added that he will suggest to Bobbitt that he transmit such ruling to S. H. Terrell, state comptroller, Walthall being optimistic that the law will be found unconstitutional, in which event aged widows, those cut off because under 75 years old, will be reinstated.

"The question has been raised as to the constitutionality of the act," Walthall said, "and a ruling by the Attorney General if followed by the Comptroller would solve a vexatious problem, avoid a special session and result in caring for these poor women. Anyway, I am going to lay it before the Attorney General at once. The special session seems to have fallen through. At least nothing more is heard of it, and I understand that the Governor is in doubt whether anything could be done as far as appropriating funds are concerned because of the condition of the treasury."

"I feel satisfied myself that the bill passed and signed by the Governor violates the Constitution. I have received letters pointing this out and they are still coming in. The Constitution provides that a 7-cent ad valorem tax be collected for the Confederate soldiers and their widows who came to Texas prior to 1910, requiring that the widows shall have been married before 1861."

"This tax was collected and placed in a special fund to be disbursed to those named in the amendment and each person had a pro rata interest in that fund until it was exhausted; yet the Legislature comes along and cuts out certain widows while this fund is still intact. Unmistakably the quarterly payments made to pensioners on funds created from the tax collection August 31 were paid out of the special of 1928, which taxes were authorized and collected under the constitutional amendment of 1924. So all pensioners on the rolls August 31, 1929, had their share of that fund. I do not believe an act of the Legislature could legally take away a portion of that fund from the widows."

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Bible Study from 10 to 10:45 a. m. each Sunday. We had a large number in attendance at Bible Study last Sunday. We are asking for 125 in the classes next Sunday. We are urging each member to help us to get that number.

Preaching from 11 to 11:45 a. m. each Sunday. Subject for next Sunday morning is—How to Build up the Church Concluded.

Subject for Sunday evening—Faith, the Great Moving Principle.

We are having very encouraging crowds at each service. The results are also encouraging. Two placed membership with us last Sunday. Brother, Sister, Friend, and Neighbor, meet with us at the place of worship next Sunday. —YOUR MINISTER.

METHODIST CHURCH

The Sunday School attendance was very inspiring. If the crowds keep growing and interest increasing they may expect a better preacher for next year. We are indeed grateful for those who come to church regularly, but are concerned about those who come seldom or never. Too many have the stay away from church habit. "Habits are at first cobwebs, then cables." Break loose and go to church Sunday. Certainly your life is concerned with another realm. "Too low they build, who build beneath the stars." May you find fellowship with Christian people and communion with God next Sunday. A very hearty welcome awaits you at the Methodist church "where you are a stranger but once."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Next week has been designated as "Fire Prevention Week" and during that period, the public schools will give instructions in how to prevent fires, especial care will be given to the subject by citizens, much propaganda will be sent out by various departments of the government and everybody will be supposed to use extra care during that week with the hope that the impression made by the observance will be of lasting benefit in reducing fire loss and preventing extra hazard in the future. Texas loses an immense amount each year thru carelessness with fire and while the hazard has been reduced to some extent, it is still far greater than it should be at any time. Every citizen should take an interest in the observance of "Fire Prevention Week" Oct. 6-12.

JUNIOR A. AND C. CLUB

One of the most delightful social events of the season occurred on Tuesday afternoon. The Junior Arts and Civic Club and its guests met in the home of Mrs. R. L. Steen Jr.

The rooms were attractively decorated with early fall flowers. The club hours, from four until six, passed rapidly with "forty-two" as the chief diversion. A delicious plate of fruit salad collation and iced grape juice was served. A brief business session followed. A very prosperous and happy year is anticipated. —REPORTER.

FORMER CITIZEN DEAD

R. C. and Wick Webb of Rock Springs, were called to Rising Star last Friday by a message announcing the death of their mother, Mrs. M. B. Goss, whose home was at that place. She was a former citizen of this city and at one time owned the suburban home south of town now owned by Henry Cryer. Her many friends here and the friends of the family were distressed when the announcement of her death was made.

ZONE MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society will have an all day meeting at the Methodist church Thursday, Oct. 10th. Mrs. Cunningham, District Chairman, will preside and there will be delegates from Llano, San Saba and churches in Mills county. —MEMBER.

W. H. THOMPSON HELD UP BY TWO MEN IN PAWN SHOP SUNDAY NIGHT

Redeeming a pistol and taking seven other guns and about $12 in change, two men held up W. H. Thompson, pawnbroker, at his place of business at 1002 Fisk Avenue, late Sunday night.

A man giving his name as Floyd Jones, brought the pistol Saturday night and pawned it with Mr. Thompson, stating that he would probably be in late that night to get his property. He came however, at 10:30 p. m. Sunday and awoke Mr. Thompson whose residence is on the same lot with his store.

With him was another young man. The man who pawned the pistol, said that he called for it late that night because he was going back to the oil fields. Mr. Thompson dressed and went to his shop to accommodate the men.

As soon as he had given the man his gun and some change from the transaction, the two young men pulled other guns on him and made him stand still while they loaded their pockets with pistols and cash from the shop.

Mr. Thompson recently moved his place of business from Brown street to its present location in a little building on the front of his lot on Fisk Avenue.—Brownwood Bulletin.

TEXAS HIGHWAY PATROL

The organization of Texas' new state highway patrol is proceeding with greater dilatoriness than seems necessary. There is a vast need for such a force. It is only by the employment of such an agency, made efficient and as large as required, that the State will ever be able to bring about orderliness of highway traffic and obedience to the State traffic laws. The recent complaint of the Attorney's General's Department citing widespread disregard to traffic laws by heavy motor trucks and loads, speed and safety, practices of drivers, will never be enforced as long as local peace officers are depended upon to do it. In the first place, they can not; in the second place, it is the State's job.—Star Telegram.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N

The first meeting of the Goldthwaite P. T. A. will be held in the high school building, Tuesday, October 8th, at 4 o'clock.

Anyone interested in the purpose of this organization is eligible for membership. A committee is now soliciting members. Every patron of the school will be asked to join, and co-operate with the Association. The second Tuesday of each month is regular meeting date.

MRS. WILBUR FAIRMAN, President.

A FINE DINNER

The dinner served by the ladies of the Methodist church in the court house last Friday, was certainly delightful. A more elaborate menu has never been attempted here in a public dinner and certainly it could not have been surpassed at the price charged—fifty cents. A large number of the ladies of the church contributed to the menu and assisted in serving. Those who were so fortunate as to have the opportunity to dine with the ladies were apparently mighty glad of the opportunity. The receipts from the undertaking were decidedly satisfactory to the ladies.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

On Saturday the voters of Fisher county authorized the issuance of $1,400,000 road bonds for the county, a part of which is for the purpose of retiring existing bonds.

A tropical gale of considerable proportions, originating in the West Indies, struck Florida Saturday and resulted in a number of deaths and much property damage.

While crossing a street in Georgetown Saturday night, the depot agent for the railroad at that place was instantly killed, being struck by an automobile driven by a Mexican, who was later arrested.

The editor of a sensational paper at Jacksonville, Fla., called the "Blue Shirt" was shot and killed by an irate citizen of that town Saturday night. He was a well known writer of sensational articles and a few years ago was the editor of a paper called "The Menace," which was freely circulated over the country.

Federal and state officers are in search of three men who sent an anonymous letter to a banker of Victoria threatening death if he did not place $2000 under a bridge near that city. The bridge was heavily guarded and an airplane was used in the endeavor to locate the men who were supposed to be lurking in that section but they did not appear.

A truck driver from Coleman was shot and killed in Santa Anna last Friday night by a night watchman in the town, following a difficulty over the truck driver "Hat" Gibson, refusing to move a motorcycle from a street crossing. Gibson had been reprimanded on a previous occasion, it is said, for violating the traffic laws of Santa Anna. He and the city marshal were engaged in a scuffle when the night watchman came to the help of the other officer.

At Neeman, Wis., Victor Larsen is causing the members of the medical profession a great deal of puzzlement. Everytime a baby is born to Larsen's wife, Larsen's hair falls out. Ordinarily he has a growth of red hair. When a child is born, the hair starts falling out and Larsen becomes nearly bald. When the child becomes several months old, the hair comes back again. No definite diagnosis of the case has been made although Larsen has gone through the experience four times, having four children.

white chalk. The new board is made of ground glass, electrically lighted from the rear. Everything written on the glass is made to stand out by the light. It is not yet in general use.

The national health is in good state, judging from telegraphic reports of the prevalence of communicable diseases received at the public health service in Washington. Typhoid fever is showing the usual fall rise and with the start of school there has been a slight increase in diphtheria. Meningitis is still doing "flips," up one week and down the next, but still higher than it has been at this season for the last four years. A seasonal increase in the number of cases of infantile paralysis is expected.

The fossil skeleton of a giant hog which stood seven feet tall has just been mounted at the University of Nebraska. The terrible pig in his prehistoric day was as high as the tallest modern automobile. The fossil was dug up in Sioux County, Neb. Only two of the giant hogs have ever been discovered, the other being smaller than the university's specimen. The pig lived during the early Miocene age, which would give him an antiquity of some 12,000,000 years.

FORD ON BOOZE

Henry Ford says: "For myself, if booze ever comes back to the United States, I am thru with manufacturing. I would not be bothered with the problem of handling over two hundred thousand men and trying to pay them wages which the saloons would take away from them. I wouldn't be interested in putting automobiles in the hands of a generation soggy with drink. With booze in control we can count on just two or three effective days' work in the factory—and that would destroy the short day and the five-day week which sober industry has introduced."

"Gasoline and booze don't mix; that's all. Booze doesn't go with industry. No one is as good with a brain half fogged. I would not be able to build a car that will run two hundred thousand miles if booze were around, because I wouldn't have accurate workmen, and without accurate workmen, I could not get the necessary precision in work, even with machinery, because more people are making machinery to make the car today than make the car itself."

TWO KINDS OF YOUTH

Lots of people, some of them college presidents, haven't yet learned that young people are facts, not theories. They have tempers and temperaments, not mere outlines with nothing inside, as so many theories do. To "have a good time, live joyfully and do no wrong" is what the young wish for themselves. Their energy and their youth demand good times, joyful living. Their judgments dictate happiness, but does not dictate meanness. Meanness in college youth testifies to some of inferiority complex. An occasional collegian is so desirous of excelling in something he is willing to excel in meanness. He craves the publicity attendant upon bad action because he inwardly feels that he can't win attention by good action. The bad-actors are the inferiors in any group, in or out of college. President Benedict is too wise to deny the young their right to good times and joyful living. He can not prevent them from doing wrong, if they will do so. But he can and does warn them of the ill consequences. That is about as much as anybody can do for the young. To inter-

COST OF A CAR

The class in automobile expenditure will now take a pencil and paper. The problem is, "Can we afford a car?" Every member of the class may copy these figures, submitted by the American Motorists' Association, and reach his own conclusion. The average cost of operation and maintenance for an Automobile in 1928 was $293. That included $101 for fuel and lubricants, $82 for labor, $55 for replacements, $34 for tires and $21 for accessories. Depreciation averaged $125, based on a retail price of ten years. Total cost of owning a car, $418 for a year. And as Patrick Henry said, "We have no way of judging the future except by the past." All right. The average family will study these average figures and decide that it's too expensive to buy an average car, then go right out and buy one. And perhaps it's just as well. For our national prosperity seems to be mainly an automobile prosperity. People don't just buy cars because they are prosperous. They are prosperous largely because they buy cars. According to the economists, automobiles are the biggest factor in keeping the whole industrial machine running at its record-breaking pace.—Brownwood News.

RURAL ROADS IMPROVE

Low cost of paved highways for rural districts are becoming increasingly common, as the new agricultural era develops. Production of road oils and asphalt has steadily increased over a period of a few years. To the modern farmer, good roads are as important as they are to his city neighbor. Economical surfaces with low maintenance cost and excellent wearing and driving qualities, have proven a boon to rural America.

diet harmless amusements to youth because they are not amusing to the old is foolishness, therefore ineffectual. With students, as with their elders, it is brains that afford the surest guidance. There is an old saying that blood will tell. It does in a way. But it is not blood, but brains that tell the most.—State Press in Dallas News.

MARRIED FIFTY TIMES

In this day of record-breaking, Adrienne Gyot of Belgium steps up and blandly claims the record for the largest number of marriages made by anyone in a monogamous country. In her list are the names of 50 husbands, and she is still a young and beautiful blonde. Adrienne did not exactly step up and make the claim, but admitted it after she was arrested at Brussels for bigamy. Her record showed that her charming career started in her early life at Mons, her native city. Becoming conscious of her power she went to Paris and there annexed her first husband, a wealthy one, at the age of 19. From that time on she flitted from one husband to another, marrying men of various nationalities, including a few Americans. She was about to attend her fifty-first wedding at Brussels when an ex-husband recognized her. Adrienne argued that she had a perfect right to marry as many as she pleased.—Pathfinder.

HAZING DOES NOT GO

Most of the educational institutions over the country have put their seal of disapproval upon hazing and most of them are making it as disagreeable for the brutal hazers as they have heretofore made it for the defenseless and inoffensive victims. The State University of Oklahoma is one of the institutions that evidently means for hazing to cease, as shown by the action of the regents last week. President Bizzell of the University tried to control hazing at Texas A. & M. some years ago and finding it impossible to prevent the brutal sport (?) resigned his office and went to the Oklahoma University. A report of the proceedings of the regents at Norman says: "Pep organizations are ruled forever from the campus of Oklahoma University and fifty-four students were suspended Friday by the board of regents which had investigated the surreptitious padding of freshmen in defiance of school laws.

"The 'jazz hounds' and 'ruf necks' had held a secret rendezvous with seventy-five pledges to their groups along a country road near Norman last Wednesday night. The pledges were initiated with boards. Frank Buttram, chairman of the regents, who announced the suspensions and rulings against pep groups said that those excluded from the school were juniors and seniors.

"The action may seem drastic," Mr. Buttram said, "but this is a school of 5,000 students supported morally and financially by the State. We can not tolerate such performances and defiance."

Foreign Flavored Lyric Results In New Type of Jazz

NIKITA BALIEFF

Balieff of Chauve Souris Predicts Musical Change

New York City.—In writing modern American music for such foreign productions as the Chauve Souris are our musicians developing a new type of music? "No matter what part of the world we play in, we find it wise, oh very wise, to have an American song as the song hit of the show," declares Nikita Balieff of the Chauve Souris. "It would seem that whether people understand music or not, they can always understand American jazz. It is the easiest to memorize, and has the catchiest tune. "But the hit songs American composers have supplied for the Chauve Souris and similar productions are not the ordinary type of jazz song. The tunes are pure jazz, but the lyrics have a foreign flavor. The present song hit of the Chauve Souris, "Oh, You Oughta Hear Olaf Luff, I Miss My Swiss" and "Oh Katharina," are examples of the blending of jazz tunes and lyrics suitable for foreign interpretation. "That a distinctly new type of modern music will eventually result from this marriage of American rhythm with foreign lyrics is predicted by music critics. "Morris Gest who brought the Chauve Souris to this country and has contributed so much to the American stage is perhaps on the way to contribute as much to American music for this new type of music has been developed under his guidance.

GAS-ELECTRIC ENGINE ON SANTA FE

A gas-electric car of 400 horse-power will soon be placed on the Santa Fe run between Brownwood and San Angelo, it was learned Wednesday from A. A. Mader, foreman of the round house. This car will be able to draw two or three standard coaches, and will use the same schedule as now being run between the two cities. The new type motive power is expected to arrive here any day now.

Two improvements in the Santa Fe round house yard, one just completed and the other underway, are improving the functioning of the yard and the looks of the place.

At a cost of about $35,000 a water treating plant has just been finished and was put into service two weeks ago. A two-story building, eighteen by thirty-five feet in size, and a water tank twenty-four feet in diameter and sixty feet tall, with accompanying machinery make up this new detail which softens the water which comes from the mains and goes to all parts of the plant.

New concrete floors with asphalt tops are now being laid in the round house office and machine shop at a cost of about $15,000, Mr. Mader said.—Brownwood Bulletin.

IMPROVING THE FLEECE

Quantity may go hand in hand with quality in wool production. Investigation by the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, show that length of staple and weight of clean wool per fleece are associated with superior quality. The inheritance of the sheep, its feed, management and seasonal environment are the most important factors that influence quality and quantity of wool. Successful sheep raisers have found that rigid culling of aged ewes and light producers is a good practice for the immediate improvement of their flock.—Selected.

PUTTING DOLLARS TO WORKING

Investment has been defined as the productive employment of capital. It is nothing more or less than putting dollars to work. As our industrial civilization develops and grows more complex, the need and demand for concentrated capital grows greater.

The ordinary citizen today plays a more important part in industrial finance than ever before. The day when great industries could be controlled by a few men of wealth has passed. No financier, or group of financiers, could conceivably possess the amount of money necessary to the inauguration and growth of a modern electric utility, for example, or an automobile company. This capital must be supplied by millions of citizens, in all the walks of life, and of almost every financial status.

This modern trend of "speculation" on the part of our citizens has created a group of critics who see in it only a menace. But speculation, in the modern sense, means investment of savings in industries that provide necessities and luxuries of daily life. It creates new businesses and aids in growth and maintenance of old ones. It is the institution on which our progress, socially and industrially, depends.

The fact that millions of people are buying for investment sound stocks and bonds from reputable brokers and bankers, is one of the most optimistic signs of the times. Its possibilities have yet been unimagined.

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1882, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of incalculable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borosone, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borosone, in a size to fit your needs and price, from

RELIEF that is REFRESHING

"We have used Theford's Black-Draught for years in our family. I can highly recommend it for many ailments. We take it for colds and for constipation. "I have four children, and I give it to them. When my little girl gets bilious, or complains of headache, I give her a treatment of Black-Draught, and she is all right in a day or two. "Sometimes when I have indigestion from improper eating, I have headache. Then I take Black-Draught. I always feel fresh and have more energy after I have taken it."—Mrs. E. A Houston gambler, regarded as the incarnation of honesty in Houston gaming circles, was charged in Federal court Thursday with sending first-class mails as fourth-class material. Hugh Wallace, postal inspector said that the charge grew out of the gambler sending a letter in the same package with a pair of dice, paying postage for the merchandise only.

A ten day hearing of the contest between the citizens of Smithville and the management of the M. K. & T. Railroad over the proposed movement of the shops and headquarters from Smithville to Waco was concluded in Austin before the railroad commission Saturday, and both sides were given until Nov. 1 to file briefs.

Texas producers of live stock are asking a repeal of the tariff law provision which permits the temporary use of pasturage in Mexico and return of live stock to United States without payment of duty if done within eight months. Some of the larger stockmen, however, want the provision retained, and would like to see it extended if possible. The law now includes all domestic animals and their offspring, whether driven or strayed across the border.

Eighteen convicts made their escape from the prison house on the Wynne state farm, near Huntsville, Friday night. They dug a tunnel running 70 feet from the prison house to another house outside the prison enclosure. Several of the convicts were life termers and a number of them are desperate characters. One of the "Santa Claus" bank robbers sent up for 99 years from Eastland was among those making their escape.

BAPTIST CHURCH

An explanation is the first thing in order in these notes. This information is for the benefit of school teachers, lawyers, doctors, and preachers. Our district clerk, a man who is a likable fellow, has a peculiar way of signing his name. He signs his initials John S., and one of our leading professors wanted to know what the "S" stood for. This was quite a surprise to our district clerk, for he thought that all qualified teachers ought to know that "S" stood for "simpleton." He knew that lawyers, doctors, and preachers knew better. Anyway, the information given is for the benefit of all professional men, and hope that none of our teachers will make such inquiry again.

We had 221 in our Sunday school Sunday, bringing our average for September up to 200 plus. We also had three additions, making a total of fourteen during the month, or since the Association. There are others that doubtless will cast their lot with us at an early date.

If there is a person living in this town, or in the surrounding communities that is subject to having the blues, or a disposition to become disgruntled, by all means such a person ought to attend the services of the Baptist Church. One just can not retain such an attitude if they worship with us, and the sermon delivered by the pastor is always the least part of the service. But the Sunday School, the music, and the fellowship are such that a person can't keep from being helped. So if you are disponded, discouraged, or in trouble, attend our services and we will help you.

Next Sunday we want all teachers who are Baptists and who are teaching, and who expect to teach, to be present. Matters not where you are teaching, or where you are going to teach. Nothing unusual, just want to find out the number of teachers that the Baptist Church has teaching. Information will be given thru these columns next week.

Pastor speaks Sunday morning on "How to Get Along With Your Fellowman." Sunday evening, "A Cure for Worry."

You are invited to worship with us. G.C. IVINS, Pastor.

JEWEL THIEVES

A reward of $500 has been offered by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Mills and the information broadcasted over radio and mailed out to the various officers of the state in the hope of catching and convicting the thief or thieves that robbed their home of some $5,000.00 worth of jewelry last Thursday night. At this time no clue has been found, but work will not be let up until every effort has been made to find the robber or robbers, it is stated.

Some time during the night while the family was asleep, the house was entered and diamonds and other jewelry, a pocket book and a pocket knife were taken from the bedroom of these people. Two diamond rings, a diamond bracelet, a diamond bar pin and a wrist watch belonging to Mrs. Mills was taken as was a diamond stud and the other pieces mentioned above, from Mr. Mills. It is believed that someone who knew the arrangement of the house secured the jewelry, or informed the persons who did secure it.

While the value of the jewelry was a decided loss, Mr. and Mrs. Mills regret the loss more because of the fact that all of them represented gifts and sentiments that they like to hold in their memory. It is the hope of many friends that they will be able to recover their loss and that the culprit or culprits will be given sufficient punishment.—Lampasas Record.

UNDER FIRE

When the new currency appeared, a resemblance between the small bills and tobacco coupons was noted. At about the same time, one of the largest chains of cigar stores stopped giving coupons, removing to some extent the cause for this chiticism, it such it was. Other objections seemed trivial, and it appeared that the country was just as pleased with the little bills as if they had been as big as a newspaper or a blanket.

But now Louis A. Hill, former director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, launches a savage attack on these monetary dwarfs. He denounces them as "the poorest, confessedly the cheapest and without a doubt, the most dangerous issue of United States currency in history," and warns the treasury to expect a flood of counterfeiters.

Under this withering fire the bills may be expected to crumple up and hide their faces in shame. To be compared to a cigar coupon was humiliating, but to be denounced as 'poor' and 'cheap' must be heartrending for a bill that emanates from the treasury of the most prosperous nation on earth. What is more, this criticism justifies some concern. It had been said that the new currency would be more difficult to counterfeit than the old. But Mr. Hill predicts that increase in counterfeiting will more than absorb the savings anticipated as a result of the reduction in size.

However, it is doubtful whether any congressional investigation committee, which it is said may call upon treasury officials to defend the new bills, could promptly settle the issue he has raised. How can it be proved that Mr. Hill is right and the treasury officials are wrong until an increase in counterfeiting operations is perceptible? If that should happen, something would have to be done about it. But the treasury expects no such increase, and if there is none each of us regardless of the size of his bill case, will uncomplainingly pocket the new bills, or as many of them as we may get our hands on.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

BELOVED FARMER

The farmer must feel that he is the most fortunate person in the world. Everybody loves him. Even those opposed to giving him what he wants love him. Whatever is refused him is refused in the mood of honed-eyed affection. Each refusal is an act of kindness, conceived for the purpose of improving his lot.

We suggest that any bandits who chance to operate on the countryside learn something of the new technique. The highwayman who holds up a farmer in his automobile should explain to him first of all that he is a believer in agricultural rehabilitation. He should remark that the only reason he is relieving the farmer of his automobile is that automobiles are dangerous, and that he can't bear the thought of one so dear to him having an accident. He should add that he is only doing the farmer a good turn in relieving him of his wallet, since an ancient proverb has it, money frequently led to unhappiness, and could any true friend wish another unhappiness? In helping himself to the farmer's watch, the bandit should point to the fact that the watch might attract lightning, and that above everything else, he wished the dear farmer to be perfectly safe. Finally, while shooting his body into the nearby ditch, the robber should explain to the dying man that in death there is a peace that surpasseth understanding, and that he wanted his friend to whom he was devoted to enjoy a calm and blessed tranquility which would be permanent.—Minneapolis Tribune.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?

How often do we hear people boast of their indifference to the levying of new and higher taxes, because (they think) they pay no taxes anyhow. It is a fact that should be well known to every adult person that nearly all taxes are paid indirectly.

In many lines of business a very large percentage of the gross income is required to pay various taxes, license fees, inspection fees, etc. These expenditures are, necessarily, charged up to those who buy the products or services of the firm. No concern could stay in business long unless it calculated its profit over and above the cost of doing business, and taxes are one of the first items on an up-to-date cost sheet.

The landlord must figure taxes when he fixes the rental on a house, so the renter pays taxes on a home whether he owns it or not. Likewise, the merchant charges taxes as part of his costs, and the consumer pays. Most of us pay no bills to the railroads for hauling freight, but we pay the freight just the same, and one of the main items used in calculating freight rates is the tax paid by the railroad company.

Practically all taxes—property, income and corporation—are paid by the ultimate consumer, and generally a nice little extra percentage is tacked on for good measure. So the real taxpayers in this country are not on the assessor's list.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and restless, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have digestive pains and disturbances, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, old-fashioned remedy, which you can get at 35c per bottle.

DECIDING CROP FACTOR

When our farmers in the Southwest learn to appreciate the value of humus in the soil, we are going to have better crops at less cost per pound of cotton or per bushel. Humus is organic matter thoroughly rotted and taken into the body of the soil, becoming a part of it. It serves two purposes. It fits the soil for absorbing and retaining moisture and prevents rapid erosion. It serves as a vehicle in the multiplying of bacteria necessary to plant growth.

When soil has a fair portion of humus in it we say it is in good physical condition. It is easy to work. Plants grow rapidly and fruit heavily. It makes the use of commercial fertilizers more profitable, for the poorer the soil the less use one gets from chemical mixtures of fertilizers. The more humus, the more fertilizer used, the more profit, up to a fixed limit. Most soils well filled with organic matter will produce normal crops without adding fertilizer, but if you desire a bumper crop, fertilization under such conditions will result in quick plant response.

Crop rotation with the turning under of occasional legume crops will build humus into the soil, and then, with early spring rains on fall-plowed lands. Enough moisture will be stored for plant use during droughts such as experienced in North Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas the season just closing. It may look like a waste of money to turn a crop of sweet clover, cowpeas, or other legume into the soil, but it is not. It is an investment which will return to the farmer an attractive dividend.—Farm and Ranch.

If you have any of the following symptoms, we have the remedy, no matter what your trouble has been diagnosed: Nervousness, stomach trouble, loss of weight, loss of sleep, sore mouth, pains in the back and shoulders, peculiar swimming in the head, frothy-like phlegm in throat, passing mucous from the bowels, especially after taking purgative, burning feet, brown, rough, or yellow skin, burning or itching skin, rash on the hands, face and arms resembling sunburn, habitual constipation, (sometimes alternating with diarrhoea), copper or metallic taste, skin sensitive to sunbath, forgetfulness, dependency, and thoughts that you might lose your mind, gums a fiery red and falling away from the teeth, general weakness with loss of energy. If you have these symptoms and have taken all kinds of medicine, and still sick, we especially want you to write for booklet.

Secretary of Art In Cabinet Advocated by Famous Musician

Roy Ingraham

Roy Ingraham Thinks New Department Necessary

New York City.—What this country needs to make its diplomatic relationships and commercial brotherhood with foreign lands is not more cable lines, but a Secretary of Art in the Cabinet, with a whole department devoted to music.

"A mutual understanding of each other's music will do more to solder together broken international relationships and to build a bridge of understanding for commerce and trade than anything else," says Roy Ingraham, famous New York orchestra conductor.

Mr. Ingraham has played before peoples of many countries and has studied their reactions to our music and their art. "Music is an international language," he declares. "And we have only to teach foreign nations what we are trying to say with our music and to learn what their music is saying to establish a permanent bond of understanding. I know this from my own experience. 'Nobody's Fault But Your Own,' is an English lullaby which I play nightly and which is clamored for by Argentine, French, American and German alike. We give it to them in our musical rhythm, that is, we translate it in our own language, but it is understood by everyone."

Why then, argues Ingraham, does our national government neglect this obvious channel for building up strong international relationships?

"We won't have another Lindbergh in a century, if ever," he points out, adding, "let us then organize a recognized Department of Art whose business it will be to carry something of warm-hearted, cultural, musical America to other lands. If Big Business would only realize it, such a movement would be a short and not a long cut to better commercial relationships."

WOMEN AND WHISKERS

It is only men with conspicuous whiskers, large, bushy whiskers, who are not hen-pecked. Man lost control of his own home when he abolished his facial foliage. This is because women are afraid of the whiskery men. The Hebrew patriarchs understood this, hence their law against the razor, shaving prohibition, as it were. Certainly they gave their prohibition of razors a religious setting, but all prohibitions have the same. The patriarchs were rulers of their homes. Father was the important member of the family, and mother obeyed him just as the children did. Of course the children moved away as soon as they grew big enough, but mother had to stay on and be bossed. They gave women a secondary, or tertiary, place, even in their sacred literature. This was because they were not afraid of the women being scared of the patriarchal whiskers.—State Press in Dallas News.

FEELS IT HER DUTY TO TALK ABOUT ORGATONE

"I have suffered 10 years but all my troubles are relieved and I feel that it deserves all the credit," says Brownwood woman.

"I have just finished my first bottle of Orgatone, and am feeling fine and really do think it is my duty to pass the good word along and feel that Orgatone deserves all the credit you can give it," said Mrs. Julia A. Martin of 1310 Avenue D, Brownwood, Texas, while at her home, talking with the Orgatone representative.

"My stomach has been out of order for ten years," she continued, "and I couldn't find anything to check my trouble and I kept getting worse. I had severe pains in the pit of my stomach and at times would get so dizzy and bilious I could hardly stand and would have to hold to something to keep from falling."

"I suffered nearly all the time from indigestion, and everything I ate disagreed with me, and gas would form until I could hardly get my breath. I was very nervous and had terrible dull headaches nearly all the time. I had a severe case of constipation and always felt tired and worn out."

"I began taking Orgatone because of what so many Brownwood people were saying about it and I had read so much in the papers. I began to improve right away and now have only taken one bottle and feel better than I have in ten years. I don't have indigestion and eat most anything I want, and those dull headaches have left me. Orgatone has worked wonders for me, and I am entirely relieved of all my ailments, and I am more than glad to say a word for it."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Goldthwaite, at the Hudson Bros. Drug Store.

FIELD NOTES

By the Missionary.
I guess that it about time for me to give an account of my work since the association. I am the servant of all the people in Mills County and they have a right to know about the Mission work. A number of people have asked me how I feel about the future work in this county. My one reply is that I am optimistic and that the future work here is as bright as God's own promises. It is not for me to sound a low note about the Lord's work.

The following is a report of my work from August 15th to October 1st.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

It may seem a little too early to begin soliciting orders for Christmas Cards, but time gets away pretty quick and before we realize its passage, the coming event is upon us. But what we started to say was that the Eagle office has both samples and stock for Christmas cards that can not be excelled and those who call early and have their cards prepared or laid aside will get the most satisfactory service. Just come and look at the samples and there is not a question about your order being placed.

MISS GOLDA HARRIS BECOMES BRIDE OF OKLA. CITY, MAN

At the home in this city of the officiating minister, Rev. John D. West, former pastor of the bride, Miss Golda Harris, of Indian Gap, was united in holy marriage to Charles B. Ramsey, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, on Friday morning, September 20, at 7:30 o'clock.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey left for his home in Oklahoma City.

The bride is the daughter of the late James (Uncle Jim) Harris, one of the pioneer settlers and business men in Indian Gap. Her mother, Mrs. Jim Harris, still lives in the old family home. Mr. Harris was a man of affairs and it was said of the bride that her father always consulted her about business deals and relied implicitly upon her judgment, and in other ways she has proven herself to be an exceptionally good business woman as well as being womanly, amiable in disposition and charming in manner. She is loved and admired in a large circle of intimate friends, and is universally respected for her true, fine Christian character. Mr. Ramsey is in business in Oklahoma City, and is recognized in public affairs of that city as a man of influence.—Hamilton Record-Herald.

SOME DELAY AND WHY A PLEA FROM CANADA

The Eagle expected to strictly adhere to its rule that a subscription account must be paid within the current year or the name be dropped from the list, but a number of names have been left on because the editor knows the parties and knows they will pay as soon as convenient. To be sure, a large number of names were dropped and no reflection or offense is meant, but these were cases where the editor did not know the determination or desire of the parties and had no way of ascertaining, as they made no indication. It is sincerely hoped all whose names have been dropped will renew promptly, for we assure them there is no desire to lose them as patrons and we hope for the friendship of most of them. It is merely a matter of business, besides the postal requirement forbids carrying long time accounts and mailing the papers at second class rate.

The Harris family is well known in this county and section and the bride has many admiring friends hereabouts.

The roads department of the Providence of Quebec, in conducting a campaign to reduce automobile fatalities, say, have yourselves and your machines under control, be more eager to respect rights of others than to insist upon full exercise of your own, do unto others as you would have them do unto you, and always and ever be careful.

The truth in this message is unassailable. Care, competence good judgement, these are the three graces of accident prevention. A really unavoidable accident is almost non-existent. Behind every mishap, whether its result is a bent fender or a number of dead, is the figure of the inconsiderate, careless or incompetent driver.

The accident toll can never be reduced without public realization of the facts and willing public cooperation. Every driver should understand that his own life is in constant danger so long as the reckless and incompetent crowd the highways. This message from Canada has a personal application to every American motorist.

PARTIES TO ORDER

Professors ordinarily have played a decidedly minor role in politics. With the exception of Woodrow Wilson their participation in partisan affairs has been limited largely to aiding candidates for office and lending a certain dignity to the efforts of the rough-and-tumble element of machine organizations.

The average professor is too much engrossed with duties of his profession to spare much time in politics even if so inclined. Frequently the professional politician develops tendencies which scarcely promote his usefulness in the American arena.

He often advocates an idealistic platform which causes sound business interests to shudder or else develops a demagogic tendency to alienate conservative public opinion.

The latest educational foray into the political field has been directed by Prof. John Dewey of Columbia University, who announces the formation of the League for Independent Political Action.

He will act as chairman of what he hopes will become a new national political party. A committee of a hundred has been created to organize opposition to the Republican and Democratic parties.

PREVENTION OF CRIMES

The Illinois Association for Criminal Justice believes the effort to prevent crime by sporadic crusades for law enforcement will not bear any lasting results.

The association recommends that a research and statistical organization be formed which act both as a fact finding body and a yard stick for measuring the efficiency of our agencies of law enforcement.

This is good advice. Too many crime reformers have gone off at half-cock, and have only added to the complexity of the problem.

The country seems to be flooded with seers, each with his pet panacea for the ills of society.

As a matter of fact, our laws and administrations of justice are so embroiled in red tape and technicalities that nobody knows "what it is all about." Every year thousands of new statutes go on the books; every year the criminal seems to grow in inverse relation to our burden of laws.

We need simpler and better laws. We need less technical jurisprudence and more common sense. And we need such an organization as the Illinois Association advocates which can bring a scientific knowledge and viewpoint to the war against the underworld.

ATHLETIC BOUT

The following account of an athletic bout at South Gate, Cal., appeared in the local paper of that city. Warlie Hunt is the son of Mr. Pearl Hunt, and the family formerly lived at Satr.

Ring announcement of bout between Warlie Hunt, formerly of Star, Texas, and Rube Ellis, of Montebello, Calif., Sept. 11, 1929. The boys are on their way to corners after having received final instructions from Referee Pappys.

Round One— The boys come to center of ring, touch gloves and are on their way. Hunt leads with two light lefts to the head with small damage. Ellis steps back set to counter with right hand, shoots right to Hunt's jaw, shaking him up some. Hunt comes back with right to body with veteran-like speed. Ellis' knees sag, Hunt shoots three light to head in clinches, referee break them. Ellis counters right hard right to body as bell rings. (Hunt's round.)

Round Two— Boys meet in center ring jabbing with lefts to face, crossing with rights. Hunt forces Ellis to ropes with hard rights to stomach, Ellis weakens under body attack. Hamilton calls to Hunt to shoot his right. Hunt steps back, shoots hard right to chin, dropping the 200 lb. boy in his tracks. Referee counting as bell saves him. Crowd wild with excitement for Hunt. (Hunt's round.)

Round Three— Boys come from corners circling ring. Hunt is sent out by his handlers to stop Ellis in this round. He forces Ellis about ring shooting hard lefts and rights to head and body. Ellis being experienced boxer tries hard to avoid punishment by trying Hunt up in clinches. Referee breaks boys by force. Hunt again forces him about ring, fighting like tiger at bell. 1,800 people wild with excitement for the 17 year old Hunt. (Round a draw.)

Round Four— Ellis comes out with rush, surprising Hunt, fighting him along ropes. Landing rights and lefts to body, looks like a sure defeat for Hunt due to Ellis' experience. Sudden tho, Hunt clinches, swings Ellis to corner and starts terrific attack to body and head, fight ring Ellis along ropes and across ring putting every ounce behind his punches. Ellis clinches, holds tight for protection, Referee breaks them at bell Hunt decidedly the victor, wins his first fight without scratch, defeating the best amateur heavy weight on the Pacific Coast.

He is now in training developing his left for another contest in about 30 days. He is one of the greatest heavy weight prospects that has been seen in the last 10 years. He is carefully trained and managed by a veteran of the game, Chas. D. Hamilton of the South Gate Athletic Club.

SPELLS OF BACKACHE

"I HAVE used Cardui at intervals for sixteen years, when I suffered from weakness, and it always helped me," says Mrs. J. W. Jirright, R.F.D. 2, Troy, Ala.

"Mostly I was afflicted with bad spells of backache. At times I felt as if I would drag one foot after the other, in a helpless sort of a way, and once I got down in bed. My husband urged me to take Cardui, and I soon found what a fine medicine it really was. When my second child was little, I was in very bad health. I did not pick up as I should have. I was weak and sickly. I do not believe that I would have come through, but for Cardui."

Just Like An Ostrich

A medical authority says that a person who tries to cover up skin blemishes and pimples with toilet creams and powders is just as foolish as an ostrich that buries its head in the sand to avoid danger. Skin eruptions are nature's warning that contamination is throwing poisons into your blood stream and weakening your whole constitution. Remove the contaminated condition and you will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your disfigured skin. The best way to do this is with a course of Herbine, the vegetable medicine that acts naturally and easily, which you can get at

DO WE THINK LIKE THE WOMEN?

The man who urged his pupils to dare to be snobs is out with another interview that is in similarly provocative vein. This time he says that the country is being ruined by the overplus of women teachers in our schools. Women, says this gentleman, don't like to reason; they prefer to arrive at conclusions. They don't enjoy having their premises tried in to by Doubting Thomases. They esent inquiry into methods. They are interested chiefly in results. They want order, neatness, docility and the minimum of questions asked.

When teachers of this average type paside over the schooling of a race from generation to generation, their influence is surely felt, our alarmist pedagogogue assures us. And that's how the county has gone to the dogs, and not thru prohibition, war, professional sports, short skirts, commercialized religion, farm mortgages and other causes as pointed out by other viewers with dismay. The sad truth is we can't reason, won't take the pains to get interested in politics, and we will have a duck fit every time anybody comes up with an unusual theory.

America calls anybody a radical who doesn't take the majority view, says the gentleman. And who is to blame? Why, it's the sweet young thing in crepe de chine, and not much of it who teaches the young idea how to shoot rubber-nosed arrows; nothing will be harmed, should the shaft really find its mark after all. The gentleman says so.

The thing to do about it is to hire some men teachers. If you are in that line and are a man yourself, maybe you'll agree with him. But the school boards hire the best of what is offered for the salaries they have in hand to pay. Sometimes it looks as if the feminization of the American mind will have to continue, alarm or no alarm.—Dallas News.

The Melba Theatre will soon have a real "Talky Movey." Will Pence (the manager) is putting Cel-o-Text overhead to deaden the sound.

Now that the melancholy days have come, we can't have anything to be melancholy about.

We are going to the Melba every night it has a talkie because we know the house will ring like a lot of these Talkie theatres do.

"You can't know too much, but you can say too much," remarks Silent Cal.

If your wife talks too much at home, line the inside of your home with Cel-o-Text and deaden the sound.

Raymond Little says he saw a sign in a hardware window "Iron Sinks," and he thought any fool knew that.

"Yes," said Julian Evans, "and time flies, sulp springs, jam rolls, grass sloop music stands, moonlight war rubber tires and organ stop. Bright boys—both of 'em."
