THE COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

Lions Perfect Plans For Decorations

The Lions club has definitely determined to prepare a Christmas tree at the northeast corner of the square, at the intersection of Fisher and Fourth streets, and has made arrangements to have it lighted for fifteen nights, beginning the night of Dec. 15 and running to Dec. 31. This tree will be an extra large one and a committee from the club will see to having it brought in and erected, while a committee of ladies of the club, composed of Mesdames Earl Fairman, D. A. Newton, W. P. McCullough, D. H. Harrison and R. M. Thompson, will confer with the Lions committee relative to the proper decorations.

Mrs. Gray's Mother Is Buried

The friends of Mrs. W. P. Gray of this city will be interested in the following news: Mrs. Hester Ann Everett died last Saturday morning at her home in Waco. Her funeral was held from the Wesley Methodist church of that city, Rev. Charles Wilkins officiating.

Mrs. Everett is survived by five sons, J. Y. Everett of Big Spring, J. B. S. L., and L. A., of Waco and W. H. Everett of Houston; six daughters, Mrs. S. M. Todd, May; Mrs. D. L. Wood, Killen; Mrs. W. A. Gould, Floydada; Mrs. J. S. Smith, Waco; Mrs. W. P. Gray Goldthwaite; one sister, Mrs. Tex Burks of Oklahoma.

There are 79 grand-children, 117 great-grand-children and 19 great-great-grand-children. Mrs. Everett was of pioneer stock, having come to Texas before the civil war. She lived to the mature age of 86 years, 50 of which were spent in Coryell county and 24 in Waco.

Active pall-bearers were: Clarence Wood, Horace Gray, J. D. Everett, Truman Smith and Albert Everett, (grand sons).

Honorary pall-bearers were: Dr. J. T. Harrington, Dr. D. L. Wood, Tom Reece, Victor Williams, John Byford, Will McCormick, Louis Graham W. R. Cooper, G. J. Hesselein, Lee Abbott, George Kendrick, Sam Angel M. A. Morris, J. D. Jay, and Walter Whitworth.

Mrs. Gray and the family have our sympathy in their bereavement. S. D. LAMBERT.

NO SPECIAL RATE

The former management of the Eagle made a special Christmas subscription rate for several years, but found it unsatisfactory and detrimental; hence the present management will not follow the lead in offering a reduction. It is probably all right for state papers to make special reductions at given periods, but a county paper's "field" is too small to justify the reduction and consequent loss. The Eagle appreciates the patronage of the good people who see proper to subscribe for the paper at the regular rate and assure them that all readers pay the same price every time and all the time.

METHODIST CHURCH

The week that has gone was not lost if all the folks made as good use of it as the workers in the Methodist church. The attendance at all of the services was but an echo of the real interest in the hearts of the folks. The Sunday school showed great interest, the number having increased all that could be expected. The talk heard in the places of business give reason to expect the growth to continue in a way that will mean permanent goodness and greatness. I cannot see how good citizens and well meaning folks can habitually absent themselves from that which means so much to their own home and the life of the entire community, state and nation. One man recently said the church is the protector of our communities, property being more valuable, human life safer, virtue less in danger where Christian institutions exist. The church is the conservator of values of the past, the creator of ideals in the present, and the torchbearer of tomorrow's progress. While the spirit of giving is in the air and good will is finding more room in your heart, would it not be a fine time to settle that worthless uneasiness that has been your foe the greater part of the year and give yourself to that program that will make for your abiding peace and happiness and the joy of all with whom you have to do. Go to church Sunday resolved to get in the swing of the right Christmas spirit. Join with the children and that companion in going to the house that was built in the name of and for the sake of Him whose birth we soon celebrate. We shall be glad to have you at the Methodist church. Good music, warm fellowship, and a helpful message. You are welcome where you are a stranger but once, Goldthwaite Methodist church. Sunday school 9:45. Preaching, morning at 10:50, and evening at 7:00. Leagues, Junior 10:50 in church basement. Hi-League 1:30; Senior 6:00. Prayer meeting Wednesday night, followed by choir practice.

Our gratitude is due you who have made these services possible and our earnest desire is that you may get the most from each and all of these services, both of benefit and pleasure. S. D. LAMBERT.

PLAN CHURCH DEDICATION AT PRIDDY

A Big Celebration Next Sunday

The Zion Evangelical Lutheran church at Priddy has just completed the erection of a new church building, which is by far the most costly church building in this county and is an ornament as well as credit to the Priddy community. The building is gothic style, brick veneer with tile roof. The floor space is 68x40 feet one way and 36 feet at another angle. Aside from the main floor there is a gallery that runs entirely across the rear and the total seating capacity of the building is estimated at 500.

The cost of the building, besides the seats, is $13,000 and the members of the congregation have contributed the labor besides the financial outlay. There are about 200 members of the church, while the congregation is composed of about 500.

The new building is to be dedicated Sunday with elaborate ceremonies beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and continuing throughout the day. Rev. I. M. Mansur is pastor of the church and will naturally be master of ceremonies, but Prof. W. J. Goerner, D. D., of Southwestern University of Georgetown will be the main speaker of the day. His sermon in the forenoon will be in the German language and will be repeated in the afternoon in the English language, in order that all may have the benefit of it. Dinner will be served on the grounds and a cordial invitation is extended to the people of all faiths to attend this dedicatory service and take part in the singing and other exercises, as well as enjoy the bountiful dinner.

Sunday night, beginning at 8 o'clock, Rev. J. M. Bergner of Walburg, Texas, will deliver a sermon in the church.

Monday night, at 8 o'clock, Rev. G. Senff will preach to the local Lutheran league.

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock the congregation will celebrate its fortieth anniversary and at this service Rev. Read Becker will be the speaker.

St. John's Lutheran church is also located at Priddy and has a larger membership and congregation than the Zion church and is in a prosperous condition. Rev. Mansur is also pastor of that congregation. He is a scholarly man and interesting speaker. He deserves a great deal of credit for the progress made by the churches at Priddy during the four years he has been pastor at that place.

Priddy is one of the largest and most prosperous communities in Mills county. The citizenship of the town and community is mostly German, yet there are a great many American families there and they are equally as prosperous as their German neighbors. Goldthwaite merchants and business men generally appreciate the people of the Priddy community highly and realize that they are among the best customers and supporters of this town, as well as giving loyal patronage to business interests of the home community.

There will doubtless be many from Goldthwaite and other surrounding towns and communities in attendance upon the services to be held in dedication of the new church Sunday.

WORKERS CONFERENCE

The monthly Workers Conference was held with the Baptist church here Monday. There was a large attendance and an interesting program.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The year 1929 will soon be forever passed and gone. How many of us keenly realize that we will have to meet our record made in 1929 in the judgment? How many of us will look back over this year's service and see our mistakes and will feel keenly the need of improvement? How many of us will stop amid the busy affairs of life and give some serious meditation to the vast eternity toward which we are so swiftly traveling? How many of us will be startled with the fact that we have not performed our whole duty, have not done our best? Are there not a few who have not even made a child's play at doing the will of God? If so, how many of these few will strive seriously, earnestly, and honestly to do your duty in the future and ask God to forgive the carelessness, negligence and indifference of the past? How many of us who are regular in the attendance of the services of the church will look about us and see who are careless, indifferent and negligent about doing their duty and then exhort them to activity in the Lord's service? How many of us realize that our passage through the Pearly Gates into the Eternal City of God, our future joy, peace, bliss and happiness depends upon an earnest, honest, devoted and faithful performance of our duty in the vineyard of the Lord? How many of us realize the serious and solemn truth stated by Paul when he said, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." How many of us will from this time decide to "sow to the spirit" that we may "reap" life everlasting? How many will read and seriously consider these questions and make an honest effort to profit by them? How many of our members will be absent next Lord's day without a scriptural reason, a reason the Lord will accept?

Bible study from 10 to 10:40 a. m. Preaching from 11 to 11:35 a. m. Communion from 11:40 to 11:50 a. m. Contribution finished and the benediction at 12 noon. Young people's class meets at 6 p. m. Preaching at the evening hour each Lord's day. Don't forget the mid-week prayer meeting, Wednesday evening. Last week, Wednesday, November 27th, there were 58 in the prayer meeting. BAPTIST CHURCH

Sam Oden has been considered by this preacher as being one of his best friends, if he went come and hear him preach. But Sam made an awful blunder the other day, one that really ought to cause him to go to the Baptist church for the next year. He met the editor of the "Eagle" and called him the Baptist preacher. Since that time the editor has been stepping in such a dignified way that it has caused much comment. But everybody will forgive Sam, for there are only two classes that the public will not forgive for making a blunder—an editor and a preacher.

There have been a number of "Athens" to report to me this week. If there are any parents that would like to know how to "raise" their children, why they should ask the teacher of the Athens Class.

Thanksgiving has come and gone and this preacher and his wife have been the recipients of so many good things to eat, from both the folk in town and out of town until space will not allow him to write each of their names, and we wish for each another prosperous year. The good people of Center Point know exactly how to prepare a Thanksgiving dinner, and Mrs. W. B. Jackson knows how to prepare a Thanksgiving supper, and as a result of this we have already made arrangements for that day in 1930.

My typewriter is out of commission and I doubt the printer being able to read what I have already written.

Just one other thing, Mr. Baptist. The Sunday school is expecting you to be present next Sunday, also everyone that is a member of our Sunday school, whether you are a Baptist or not. Now if you don't belong to a Sunday school, we have a place for you. Let every member of our Sunday school ask someone that don't go to Sunday school to be in ours Sunday morning.

Capt. Hutchingson Honored

The Hico News-Review tells of an honor paid Capt. J. C. Hutchingson of that city, who is a brother of the late Mr. J. P. Hutchingson of Center City and is related to a number of Mills county folk.

Reception at Home.

Hico friends gave substantial recognition of their love and esteem for Capt. J. C. Hutchingson, for more than half a century an honored citizen of this community, when they gathered at the home Tuesday evening of last week—his ninety-second birthday—and presented him with $103.25 in cash.

Other friends and relatives sent useful gifts and beautiful flowers, and the Hutchingson home, in which he has lived during all the years that he has resided in Hico, was a veritable bower of pot plants, green foliage and sweet scented blooms. Capt. Hutchingson's daughter, Miss Johnnie, and Miss Beulah Truss, housekeeper, received the gifts and visitors, and expressed to each guest the appreciation of the entire household. Capt. Hutchingson, notwithstanding his 92 years, had a cheerful word for all who called and was grateful beyond expression for the substantial remembrance and the presence of his friends, many of whom he had known since early manhood.

Seated at the dinner table, which was profusely decorated, included relatives and a few close friends. The relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis and daughter, Edith Irene; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Denson of Goldthwaite; Mrs. I. N. Adams of Fairy. Friends present for the dinner were Mrs. Ben Randall, Mrs. H. Smith and little Betty Baldwin, Leonard Howard and Mrs. Laura Homer.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borosone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borosone Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borosone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borosone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at

Save Ten Thousands Lives

In spite of the tremendous progress made in industrial safety work in recent years, we are still a long way from perfection. According to James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, if all establishments had adopted the program of the National Safety Council, one-third of the 24,900 lives lost in industrial accidents during 1927 would have been saved. It should be emphasized that safety is not something separate and distinct from industrial operations, but an integral part of them. Every accident, no matter how trivial, causes delay, destruction or waste, in time and material. A factory which has no accidents accomplishes its object with a minimum of interruption and a maximum of efficiency. The safe establishment is the successful and prosperous one. In recent years our industrial leaders have realized this more clearly, providing safety education and protection for the worker as a necessary phase of operation. The expense of safety measures is returned many times over in increased efficiency and production. When all plants, large and small, realize this fact, almost ten thousand lives, now lost in avoidable industrial accidents, might be saved yearly and the American industrial order reach new standards of economy and efficiency.

AN IMMINENT DANGER

"While we are producing oil and its products in far greater quantity than any other nation—and have from 1857 to 1928 produced 65.4 per cent of the world's output of petroleum—this country by no means has a corresponding percentage remaining of the world's known petroleum resources," says the Detroit, Michigan News. "By extreme and high pressure methods for one, by boring down 8,000 to 9,000 feet at $150,000 and more per well, we keep up our enormous output. But in face of the facts, how long is our domestic self-sufficiency in supplies of oil and gasoline to continue? Almost every oil authority is of the opinion that if present over-production and waste continues the ultimate result must be a ruinous oil shortage. Yet our laws, outmoded and inadequate in dealing with modern conditions, literally force oil producers to waste our resources by allowing irresponsibles to produce as much oil as possible—regardless of demand. The United States relies on an adequate, fair-priced supply of oil products as a necessary adjunct of its social and industrial life. Researches in the field of substitutes promise little hope of success in the near future. Our "domestic self-sufficiency" in oil supplies may not be the permanent thing it seems. Oil waste is a criminal folly. Unless it is stopped, the future progress of the United States may be menaced.

IDEAS CHANGE

About sixty years ago the following article appeared in a Boston newspaper:

"A man about forty-six years of age, giving the name of Joshua Coppersmith, has been arrested in New York for attempting to extort funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires so that it will be heard by the listener at the other end. He calls the instrument a 'telephone' which is obviously intended to imitate the word 'telegraph' and win the confidence of those who know of the success of the latter instrument without understanding the principles on which it is based.

"Well-informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over the wires as may be done with dots and dashes of the Morse code, and that, were it possible to do so, the thing would be of no practical value. The authorities who apprehended this criminal are to be congratulated, and it is to be hoped that his punishment will be prompt and fitting, that it may serve as an example to other conscienceless schemers who enrich themselves at the expense of their fellow-creatures."

COMBINATION OFFER

The Eagle is prepared to offer bargain prices for a combination subscriptions for the Star-Telegram, Dallas Semi-Weekly News and other papers. In some cases almost the entire subscription price of the Eagle can be saved. Those who know their time will expire to the state dailies or semi-weeklies within the next few weeks are requested to bring or send their subscription to the Eagle office and they will save money thereby, in many cases. The Eagle takes subscriptions for almost all papers and solicits the patronage of those who will bring or send their subscriptions.

FEAR'S USEFULNESS

Psychologists have been busy with the subject of fear, which, among universal qualities of the animal kingdom, obtains distinction because of the difference between its character and results when operating in man and when operating in other animals. What is instinctive in animals, and a source of their preservation, becomes in man, psychologists say, a degenerative and altogether harmful quality, subliminal regions, notably, that widely commended undermining mental and physical health. One such authority, Dr. Louis L. Mann, distinguished Jewish scientist and scholar, of Chicago, recently delivered before the Indiana federation of Women's clubs such an indictment of fear as a human emotion regarded as ignoble only.

Many believe, or sense to believe, that if fear were banished from the mind of man an incalculable change would take place in human relationships and a sort of millennium would be reached at a single bound. Some believe that if every mortal had courage to look every other mortal in the eye without a tremor some interesting events would follow. They are right. But the character of the ensuing developments is not so certain. The pessimistic might even envisage a world of heroes fearlessly engaged in the nerve-racking occupation of hunting jobs.

It is to be feared that the plain citizen, despite the psychologist and the psychoanalyst, will incline to the old-fashioned notion that a little fear in the seething cauldron of human emotions will always be a salutary ingredient. Fear in the best sense need not be synonymous with cowardice or timidity. It may be an expression of modesty of the part toward the whole, a tribute of inferior to superior worth. In addition, fear sometimes gives a fillip to existence as is shown by numerous people who place themselves in hazardous positions for the sake of the thrill.

FIGHT COMPETITION

For many years the people of the South have looked to Minnesota and Wisconsin for their butter and cheese. Some, of course, was purchased from other Northern and Eastern States, and here in Texas we have consumed no inconsiderable amount of butter produced in California. Until a few years ago the people of the South, and particularly the Southwest, were willing to concede all rights in the dairy industry to those states that had made records in production and quality. We were too busy raising cotton. We thought it cheaper to raise cotton and buy butter, cheese, and meat than to produce it ourselves. Now it is different. The dairy industry is spreading rapidly throughout the South. As a matter of fact, in every section of the United States where producers of other farm products have failed to realize a profit, they are turning to dairying, and that means that those who milk cows will have to reduce cost of production and increase consumption, or else we will have a surplus.

Wisconsin and Minnesota dairymen who have millions invested in animals and equipment, are fighting to retain their prestige and their markets. The only way they can succeed is by producing a better product for less money. Should they do this, we will see a lot of new adventurers in dairying in the South and in the West quit the business and go back to less strenuous forms of farming.

In the old dairy States at this time there are more cows on test than ever before. Dairymen are not only eliminating the poor producers, but are getting rid of cows that make small profits. They are reducing the cost of production by milking only heavy producers—animals that not only pay big profits from milk produced on the feed consumed—but which drop calves that can be disposed of at high prices. In the matter of quality of product, they are already past masters in the art of taking care of milk and cream and in the making of butter and cheese.

In this newer dairy section of the South we cannot expect to secure herds of big producers except over the rather lengthy route of breeding up. In the meantime we must meet competition by producing better and cheaper feedstuffs, and by feeding in such a manner as to secure maximum results from the animals we now have. We must also prepare ourselves to meet seasons of low prices, for not until we have a better average of production can we expect to make a profit every month in competition with dairymen of long experience and better cows.

Professor Van Pelt, of Waterloo, Iowa, is authority for the statement that Texas, and we presume that he had in mind other states of the Southwest, would some day become the leading dairy state in the country. In the meantime, however, we may expect quite a number of those who are now beginning to milk cows to drop out. Others will take their places, and we hope Professor Van Pelt's prediction will eventually come true. —Farm and Ranch.

AMERICAN PROSPERITY

The American worker is the best paid in the world according to a recent survey made by the Ministry of Labor of Great Britain. This unbiased authority takes into consideration not only actual wages received, but the "real wage"—the buying power of money in the various countries concerned. On this basis, with the real wage in England counted as 100, the average wage in Germany is 65, in Italy, 45, in France, 55, in Canada, 143, and in the United States, 179. In other words, the United States worker is three times as prosperous as his brother in Germany, four times as prosperous as the Italian worker, and one-fourth more prosperous than the worker in Canada, who comes nearest our standards.

BACK TO FUNDAMENTALS

Our attitude toward crime can be simply phrased—much talk and little intelligent action. Countless cures have been suggested but there is one plan that remains untried. That is, to go back to fundamentals in our treatment of crime. It is an inescapable fact that as the number of laws increases the amount of crime increases. As legal red tape grows a steadily increasing number of criminals escape punishment. And society, to use a colloquialism, "gets it in the neck." There has been, for example, a certain amount of agitation for stringent anti-pistol laws on the grounds that these would disarm the underworld and turn it into a place of holies. Nothing could be more absurd. What more could an active criminal class, which violates all laws in the pursuit of its "profession," ask than to have a citizenry deprived of individual protection? To go back to fundamentals would mean to sharply disassociate the good citizen and the criminal and not pass laws that act to the disadvantage of the former. It would mean to erop our weedy growth of red tape and burdensome legislation that tends to make justice a farce and favors the law-breaker above the law-keeper. —Exchange.

TO BE CONSIDERED

The advice given by Supreme Court Justice Lewis to the State Crime Commission concerning the jury system should be carefully considered by that body. Justice Lewis proposes that the requirements for a unanimous verdict should be abolished in criminal cases, except those involving indictments for murder in the first degree. In a few States the requirement for unanimous verdicts has been wiped out and the results show that court procedure is expedited and the ends of justice served at least as well as under the older system. No one convicted by a majority vote of a jury would lose his right to appeal, with the Appellate Courts weighing the evidence as well as deciding disputed points of law. The preservation of the old requirement for a unanimous verdict where life is forfeited by conviction is necessary and should not be questioned. Justice Lewis advises a change in the law providing that the majority requisite for conviction of crimes below first degree murder should be fixed at nine. That would seem to be reasonable. It would reduce the possibility of jury tampering. Moreover, it would lessen the possibility of escape for criminals through the obstinacy of a small minority of the jury or even a single juror, holding out against the weight of evidence. —Brooklyn Eagle.

WIFE STARTED HIM ON SARGON; LIKE NEW MAN

"After putting Sargon to the test in my own case, I can easily understand why so many people are enthusiastic about it."

"My health was so bad that I was hardly able at times to do a day's work. My food disagreed with me, I was bilious and constipated, suffered with headaches and my whole system seemed filled with poisons. My kidneys were weak and I never felt strong and well. My wife persuaded me to try Sargon and now I feel like a new man. My stomach is in fine condition, my strength and energy have returned and my kidneys don't bother me like they did. Sargon Pills overcame my constipation and biliousness, my headaches are over and I'm telling all my friends what this wonderful treatment did for me." C. J. Holcomb, 1561 Missouri Ave., Fort Worth.

Sargon may be obtained in Goldthwaite from Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store.

FARMING BY RADIO

If the prediction of Dr. Lee DeForest, pioneer radio tube inventor, comes true, it won't be long before a farmer will go to work in the morning at banker's hours, walk into a nice clean office, push a few buttons and start his farm machinery in operation by means of ultra short-wave radio.

He could then sit down, read the morning paper, call up his neighbor talk to him over the telephone and watch him over his television. He could take the afternoon off with the assurance that when he comes home his work will have been executed just as smoothly as if he had been there to superintend it.

"I can visualize many tasks performed by aid of radio control in the future," says Dr. DeForest. "In fact, out in the Middle West where I was born I can picture the farmer seated in an observation tower, controlling tractors by ultra short-wave radio. The country is so flat that at a few feet elevation a man can see for miles. A transmitter on the tractor itself can flash back a signal to the farmer, indicating the exact state of affairs and how orders are being carried out."

CALF FOR EVERY BALE

Somebody suggests that cotton farmers set for their goal "a fat calf for every bale of cotton," but that's too many calves. If we say a calf, a hog or a lamb grown and fattened for market for each bale of cotton grown, we should be within a reasonable goal and add many a dollar to the income of every farm family and change them from year-round debtors to financial independence.

Think of this while you are planning your crop for next year. Leaving out the dairy farm which find a good use for feed crops, the addition of one meat animal per bale of cotton expected and the planting of the proper feeds to finish them for market, will make possible the rotation that is so badly needed on many Southwestern farms to overcome low-yielding cotton yields, and some may be surprised to find, as a Nueces county, Texas, farmer did, that feed crops sold thru livestock netted him considerably more per acre than did his cotton. —Farm and Ranch.

AVIATION RECRUITS

Due to the interest in aviation at the present time, numerous inquiries are made at this station relative to the qualifications necessary for enlistment in this branch of the Regular Army. The following requirements, in addition to the other qualifications necessary for enlistment in all other branches of the Army, are necessary:

(a). High school graduation, or men having the equivalent to a high school education.

(b). Specially qualified men, such as motor mechanics, or men having experience of value in the Air Corps.

(c). Former soldiers. An ex-service man may enlist in the Air Corps irrespective of the branch of the Army in which he served.

R. T. Hammond, Sgt. U. S. Army, In Charge of Station.

A TICKLISH JOB

Keeping tax rates at a proper and justifiable level is an exceedingly ticklish matter. If the rate is too high, prospective industries and home owners are driven away. On the other hand, if public improvements are not up to par, the community is considered backward and old-fashioned and the average family or industry does not care to locate in such a place. It is only by co-operation of all citizens and business-like administration of public affairs, that tax rates may be kept within legitimate bounds without hindering progress.

Imagine your Motor

Constantly immersed in Oil

That, in effect, is what happens when you fill your crank case with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—none of its hundreds of moving parts are ever without lubrication.

A MOTOR OIL, to do a 100% job, must lubricate all the time. That means that it should provide a lubricating film at every stage of motor operation including starting when the engine is cold. In other words, the motor should have a perpetual oil bath.

And that's exactly what happens when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil for the very good reason that this super-lubricant because of the patented germ process by which it is produced, actually combines with the bearing surfaces to form a film which adheres indelibly. It never leaves the bearings—and that means constant lubrication.

Think of the saving this means to the motoring public! Automotive engineers estimate that from 40% to 60% of the destructive wear and tear on a motor is caused in the starting operation because, with ordinary oil in the crankcase, the moving parts have no lubricating film when the engine is cold—and the oil is not distributed until 5 or 10 minutes after starting. Imagine the abuse to the engine during these periods of running with absolutely no lubrication! No wonder Conoco Germ Processed Oil is hailed as the revolutionizing motor lubricant. Its "carry-over" film has solved the greatest lubrication problem of the day. It assures longer life and smoother operation in any motor where it is used.

And never forget that to produce Conoco Germ Processed Oils the exclusive germ essence principle is applied to only carefully selected paraffin base crudes, resulting in a lubricant with greater film strength, greater adhesiveness, greater tenacity, greater stamina and lower friction than any other oil on the American market.

Draw up to the Conoco Red Triangle and give your motor a perpetual oil bath. Ask for Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

Star Makes New Will After Reading Script of 'Barnum Was Right'

Glenn Tryon made a new will after he had read the script of 'Barnum Was Right' Universal talking farce-comedy which comes to the screen of the Melba Theatre Saturday night, Dec. 7.

Among other things, his part called for him to be chased by a shark, attacked by a band of crooks and blown up in a summer hotel.

"Never mind, Glenn," said director Del Lord, "your role also causes you to find a horse-shoe as a sign of good luck."

"What good will one horse-shoe do against breaks like that?" replied Tryon. "Barnum Was Right" is one of the most amusing of the Tryon comedies and farces that Universal has produced. It deals with the adventures of a young man, in search of a fortune and the girl, who seeks to draw patronage to a summer hotel through spreading reports of pirate treasure concealed on the premises.

Charming Merna Kennedy is the girl. She co-stars with Tryon. The strong cast includes Otis Harlan, in a featured role. Basil Radford, Clarence Burton, Lew Kelly, Isabelle Keith and Gertrude Sutton.

"Barnum Was Right" was taken from the successful Broadway farce of the same name.

A BIG STILL

Sheriff Bledsoe, Deputy E. O. Priddy, Constable Lee of this city and City Marshal Clem Hancock of Mullin made a raid on a still three miles southwest of Priddy Monday night and captured the largest whiskey making outfit ever seen here. It was well arranged, with a large copper still on a brick foundation, with hose and water connections and a well built furnace for holding the fire. About 20 gallons of whiskey were taken in the raid, together with seven barrels of mash and nine or ten empty barrels. A man giving the name of M. B. Reed was arrested in the house and was brought to jail. He claims to have lived in Dallas until recently and it is said he has only been in the community where the still was discovered, for about two months.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

An attorney's fee of $1,000 on a $2,000 insurance policy collection case is not excessive where the issue is raised too late, it was held by the Austin Court of Civil Appeals.

With both his legs run over by a heavy coupe, a hijacker arose from his prostrate position and kicked V. P. Montgomery of Sherman, according to Mr. Montgomery's report of an alleged hijacking on a bridge crossing between Sherman and Whitewright Sunday night.

President Portes Gil, in a statement Sunday, said Mexico would continue a strict policy of retrenchment in an effort to balance its budget, but added this would be impossible until the problem of public debt had been settled. He said definite steps have been taken to solve the debt problem on the basis of Mexico's capacity to pay.

A commodity loan of $1,000,000 was granted the South Dakota Wheat Grower's Association of Aberdeen, S. D., Friday by the Federal Farm Board. The $1,000,000 will be used to supplement loans obtained by the South Dakota Association from the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at Omaha, Neb. It will enable the association to make advances to its grower members in line with the wheat loan policy announced by the Farm Board last month.

The minds of boys begin to record events earlier than those of girls, but not enough for them to brag about. Dr. Kate Gordon, associate professor of psychology at the University of California, at Los Angeles, makes this announcement after testing the memories of 750 college students. Taking the students at their word, she found some bright ones who could recall things which happened when they were six months old. The average memory, however, began at 3.58 years for girls and 3.30 for boys.

Texas will spend approximately $500,000,000 for public improvements in 1930, Governor Dan Moody advised President Hoover Friday in his response to the Chief Executive's request for a compilation of such outlays in an appeal to speed construction to offset any ill effects from the stock market drop. The Governor said a survey of thirty of the principal cities and towns revealed that $250,338,000 would be spent for public works during the year and that this amount did not represent more than two-thirds the total for the state.

Senora Maria Teresa Landa de Vidal, who was Miss Mexico at a recent beauty contest in Galveston, Texas, was acquitted by a jury Sunday after trial on a charge of murdering Gen. Moises Vidal who married her bigamously. The jury returned a verdict an hour after receiving the case. The trial attracted great attention throughout Mexico. The closing arguments, which lasted ten hours, were broadcast by radio. Wife No. 2 admitted she took the General's own pistol and shot him after she had read in the newspapers that Wife No. 1 had filed charges of bigamy against him.

Big Rattler At Kitchen Door

Recently Mrs. W. D. Snell of the Pecan community was engaged in doing chores about the back yard after nightfall, when she was startled by a peculiar rattling noise near where she stood by a storm cellar door. She stood very still listening and soon the rattling changed to the well known "singing" of a rattlesnake, and in the half light she saw the reptile crawl under a loose plank at the edge of the storm cellar door. She ran into the house for a flashlight and to call her husband, who was just recovering from a severe illness. Mr. Snell took his gun and armed with the flashlight, they went in quest of his snake-ship. Mrs. Snell raised an end of the plank under which she had seen the snake take refuge, and revealed the coiled monster. Mr. Snell shot, and the snake tumbled into the storm cellar. Mrs. Snell said she was afraid to follow into the cellar that night, but saw blood where the reptile had been coiled and on the cellar steps and was satisfied to let this evidence of the decease of his snakeship suffice until morning.

When daylight came Mrs. Snell found the huge snake dead in the storm cellar. He measured fifty-four inches in length, and measured some 18 inches around the largest part of his body. He carried nine rattles. Mrs. Snell said the snake was a diamond rattler and was beautifully marked and was an altogether magnificent specimen of the reptile family. —Hamilton Herald.

FEWER COWS AND MORE AND BETTER MILK

It is more profitable to have one good cow and feed her properly than to have six just ordinary animals. The A. and M. College exhibit at the State Fair presented this fact to the public in such a manner that it could not fail to convince an ordinary observer. The College presented the figures, the result of actual experience. In one table was given the pounds and cost of feed and the production of six ordinary cows. In a parallel column was the cost of feed and the production of one good cow. The good cow produced a profit of $11 more than the six ordinary cows. The cost of labor was not figured, and this was to the advantage of the six cows, for it takes less time and labor to feed and milk one cow than it does to perform the same service for six.

We have in Texas what we call the average cow which produces about 2,700 pounds of milk per annum. The average cow in the United States, however, produces 4,500 pounds of milk per annum. Therefore, it can be seen that the Texas average must be raised if milking cows is to become profitable.

It is encouraging to know that most farmers who have become interested in dairying as a side line have learned to appreciate the value of a purebred sire of merit, and if calves are properly raised it will not be many years before Texas will have an average cow production equal to the general average of the entire country. Over 6,000 purebred dairy bulls have found new homes in Texas during the past two years, and in another year or two one may reasonably expect a marked improvement in the productive ability of our dairy herds.

It is of proportionate importance for the farmer who keeps a cow or two for home use, to have good cows. Why milk four or five scrubs when one good cow will supply the needs of the family. —Farm and Ranch.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 1.—The United Press says: The heavy general rainfall which relieved the drouthy conditions in many sections and provided needed moisture for growing crops was an important development in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District during the past 30 days, says the Monthly Business Review, issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

"The additional moisture," the Review states, "greatly benefited that portion of small grain crops already sown and will enable farmers to complete seeding operations and to proceed with preparation of the soil for next year's crops. As a result of the additional moisture and favorable temperatures prevailing during October some of the feed and minor crops showed a higher prospective yield on November 1 than a month earlier. The rains, likewise, improved the physical condition of the District's ranges and livestock but the conditions figure is still noticeable below that of a year ago.

"The trade situation reflected improvement during the month. The sales of department stores in larger cities evidenced a further seasonal increase of 17 per cent as compared to the previous month and were 2 per cent larger than in October, 1928. Wholesale distribution was in larger volume than in the previous month and some lines of trade showed an increase over a year ago.

"The commercial failure record in the Eleventh District which has shown a relatively favorable trend during the current year, while more unfavorable in October than in the previous month, continued to reflect an improvement over the corresponding month last year.

"The daily average deposits of member banks in the District rose from $22,635,000 in September to $300,260,000 in October but continued to run below those of a year ago reflecting the reduced agricultural income. While Federal Reserve Bank loans to member banks declined from $34,112,983 on September 30 to $25,825,752 on November 15, most of the reduction occurred during the last four days of the period.

"Construction activities reflected a substantial improvement in October, the valuation of building permits issued at principal cities being 30 per cent larger than in the previous month and 17 per cent larger than in the same month last year.

"The production shipments, and new orders for lumber, while showing an improvement

BACK TO THE FARM

A new back-to-the-farm movement has been started in Texas, and its influence has already crossed the boundary lines into the adjoining Southwestern states. It is a movement of livestock to the farms where dairy cows, beef animals, sheep, and hogs gave way a number of years ago to the onward advance of Old King Cotton. Now they are on their way back home to become important factors in adding to the income of farmers and in building a new foundation for a more permanent and prosperous agriculture.

The dairy industry has probably made more progress in the Southwest during the past three years than any other sections of this country. Sheep are found on more farms than ever before, and there is more interest in the production of pork. Another branch of the livestock industry is now finding its way back to the farms. The feeding to a fine finish of Texas produced baby beefs and steers on Texas produced feedstuffs has been discussed in Farm and Ranch rather extensively in times past, is now being promoted by the Breeder-Feeder Association of Texas and this organization has the support and co-operation of many bankers and every prominent agency in Texas interested in the profitable development of our farming interests.

The importance of this move cannot be over-estimated. The Southwest can produce a great variety of feedstuffs for which there is no market except thru livestock. It produces the finest of feeder animals, approximately 1,000,000 of them being shipped annually to the corn belt to provide a market for Northern-grown feeds. The plan is to bring about a feeder movement in the Southwest which will enable farmers to secure a profit from their grasses and other waste products and which will provide a market for feedstuffs necessary to be grown in a crop rotation program. Thus will the fertility of the soil be increased, more humus added, and more cotton produced per acre because of the stored-up moisture and better soil conditions.

Livestock is the foundation for profitable agriculture. —Farm and Ranch.

over the previous month, were on a smaller scale than a year ago.

"Total production of crude oil increased in October but due to the longer month the daily average flow was smaller. There were 27,784,550 barrels produced during the month as compared to 27,299,250 barrels in September and 23,152,100 barrels in October last year," the Business Review said.

WANTS TO TELL OTHERS ABOUT IT

"One Bottle Of Orgatone Did Me More Good Than Everything Else," says Brown-wood Housewife.

"After I had tried doctors and nearly every make of medicine known and spent several hundred dollars in trying to recover my health, one bottle of Orgatone did me more good than everything else put together, which certainly was a wonder to me," was the statement made recently by Mrs. Jennie Routh of 210 N. Broadway, Brownwood, Texas.

"My health gave way several years ago," she continued, "and I began to go down hill so fast that I got to where I wasn't able to do my work and enjoy it, everything I did was a burden to me. I had to force down what I ate and nothing gave me any nourishment, and even water soured on my stomach, and I couldn't keep anything down. Everything I ate would come up and seemed as if it couldn't pass my stomach for my digestion was terrible. I had gas, and bloating spells, and of mornings would wake up with the most terrible headaches. I had a bad liver, and had pains in my back and sides. I was very nervous and restless and got to where I didn't get any rest or sleep at all. I was also bothered with dyspepsia, and had been sick all my life, it seemed and never found anything that would bring me out of it, and I had gotten to where I really didn't have much hopes of ever being well again."

"Since taking Orgatone, it is the greatest surprise I have ever had and a pleasant one, too. I have not had indigestion or sour stomach since I began taking it, and can eat anything I want, without even the slightest trouble. I'm not nervous as I was, and wake up every morning feeling refreshed and full of energy and don't have the headaches as I used to. Orgatone has certainly done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken and I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from stomach trouble, for it has been a blessing in my case."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Goldthwaite, at the Hudson Bros. Drug store.

DEER HUNTERS HAVE VERY BUSY SEASON

Mr. W. W. Tippen and Mr. C. E. Hayben have recently returned from a deer hunt in New Mexico, with a party from other sections of this and other states, and report a most wonderful time.

The party was successful in bagging five deer and Mr. Mayben and Tippen brought back a fine black tail deer that was probably the finest ever seen in this section.

Besides this party several have gone to hunt nearer home. Some have returned with favorable reports and others are still in the "wilds." —Lometa Reporter.
