Lions Outline Plan For Work

The members of the Lions club and their wives enjoyed a banquet at the Saylor hotel last Thursday night and everybody seemed to have a good time. The object of the get-together meeting was to discuss plans and formulate a program for the club work for 1930 and much enthusiasm was displayed.

The most important work before the club at this time is the securing of play ground equipment for the Goldthwaite Public School grounds. A committee appointed at a previous meeting has already made investigations as to the requirements, cost and other particulars and the main thing left to be done is to raise the money to pay for such equipment as is needed immediately. It was reported that the grounds really should be provided with $2,000 worth of equipment, but $400 or $500 worth would suffice for the present. The entertainment committee of the club announced plans in formation for a play by local talent in the school auditorium for the purpose of raising the needed funds.

Other matters were also discussed, among them the proposed highway change from the Lampasas to the Brown county line and a committee composed of W. P. McCullough, O. H. Yarborough, Homer C. DeWolfe and T. F. Toland was appointed to look into the matter and ascertain all facts, so the club would know whether or not the plan would be favored.

Those participating in the meeting were enthusiastic for the future of the club and the work in hand.

CAR BURNED

Tax Assessor Earnest Tyson's new Dodge sedan was totally destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, in the Walter Fairman pasture, a few miles north of this city. Mr. Tyson had gone to the pasture to feed his goats and in crossing a ravine fire burst forth from beneath the hood and in the twinkling of an eye the entire car was a mass of flames. It is certain the fire was caused by a 'short' in the electrical equipment and the heat thus generated soon melted the gasoline connections and released a flood of gasoline. Fortunately, Mr. Tyson was able to get out of the car without being injured and as he carried some insurance on the car the loss will not be very heavy.

A CAR ACCIDENT

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. Y. E. Hoover's automobile was badly damaged by running into a post on Fisher street, near the residence of Sam Sullivan. Mr. Hoover's son was driving the car and in attempting to miss another car he ran it into the post. There was no damage to the glass, fenders or other parts of the car except the frame, which was so badly bent that it had to be carried to Brownwood to be straightened.

A SMALL BLAZE

A fire alarm last Saturday afternoon caused the fire boys to make a run to the Solomon residence on Front street, occupied by Dane Huffman and family. It was found the alarm was caused by a defective flue causing the roof to ignite. It was soon extinguished without serious damage.

Sunday School Class Serves Banquet

Mrs. S. P. Sullivan's Sunday school class, of the Methodist church, enjoyed one of the most sumptuous banquets ever served on a like occasion, Tuesday evening in the new Saylor garage building, north of the Saylor hotel. A strong representation of the class was present, together with a large number of their friends. After the class and their guests were assembled, the banquet was spread and enjoyed to the limit. The menu consisted of turkey and dressing, cranberry sauce, celery, stuffed vegetable salad, hot rolls and coffee, followed with sherbet and cake in the class colors of green and white.

After the tables were cleared following the feast, score cards were passed and a number of games of progressive forty-two were enjoyed, then there was singing, a few amusing stunts and the company dispersed, all acclaiming this one of the most pleasant social occasions they had ever enjoyed and praising Mrs. Sullivan and her helpers for this and many other entertainments provided heretofore. As a result of this delightful affair Mrs. Sullivan's class will doubtless gain a number of members and certainly gained in popularity, both for the organization and its teacher.

Surprise Birthday Party

On New Year's day, Mrs. Frank Shave, Mrs. Lena Flatt and Mrs. Jim Kincheloe were joint hostesses to a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shave, honoring Mr. J. W. Flatt.

The reception rooms were attractively decorated in autumn leaves and hand made roses, yellow and pink being the most popular colors. The guests were favored with several readings by little Misses Loretta and Kathleen Flatt.

The birthday dinner was prepared by the children of Mr. Flatt. Turkey, creamed potatoes, salads lettuce, cakes, coconut and pineapple pies, punch and hot coffee were served.

Those honored by these ladies were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flatt, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Flatt and son, Mrs. Horace Webb, Mrs. Dewey Webb and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shave, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Flatt and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kincheloe, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kincheloe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shave. As the guests reluctantly departed, each one wished for Mr. Flatt three score more such birthdays.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. G. C. Ivins phoned the Eagle that his typewriter was broken and he was unable to write his usual announcements. He stated that the regular services would be held in the church Sunday and he assured us he would prepare an article for the next issue of the Eagle. Brother Ivins' writings are appreciated and enjoyed by many readers of the paper and they will be disappointed this time by his inability to prepare his copy, but will look forward with pleasant anticipation to the next week's issue.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

We were very encouraged with the large attendance at all the services last Lord's day. About the largest number we have had in some time were present for Bible study between 10 and 11 a. m. An extra large crowd was present for the sermon from 11 to 11:35. Forty-five young people were in attendance at the young people's class from 6 to 7 p. m. We were also greeted with an extra large class last Wednesday evening at prayer meeting. Sixty were present and much interest was manifested as we studied the 7th chapter of Hebrews. Especially was the class interested in an explanation of the 3rd verse—"Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days nor end of life; but made like unto the son of God; abideth a priest continually." To so many the above statement shrouds Melchisedec in complete mystery. If the above statement is applied to Melchisedec as a man, there is no explanation. We just can not comprehend how it can be possible, and in fact it can not be. But when we take into consideration the fact that Paul is discussing the priesthood and not the man as a man, the mystery clears away. Under the Jewish order or Levitical priesthood, the priest descended from the priestly family. So they had descent in the priesthood. Not so with Melchisedec. He did not descend from a priestly family. Therefore, in the priesthood he was without descent. In the Levitical priesthood, the priests had fathers and mothers in the priestly family; that is their fathers and mothers were in the priestly tribe before them, so in the priesthood they had fathers and mothers. Not so with Melchisedec. He was not of a priestly tribe or family, therefore, his father and mother were not in the priesthood before him. So in the priesthood he was without father and mother. In the Levitical priesthood they had a beginning of days and an end of their priestly life or service as priests. They began their days as priests at the age of thirty and ceased to be priests at the age of fifty years. So they died as priests (or ceased to be priests) at the age of fifty years. Not so with Melchisedec. There was no set time for him to begin as a priest. No certain age to reach before he could begin to serve as a priest. So in that sense he was without the beginning of days in the priesthood. The priest of Judaism ceased to be priests at the age of fifty years. So they died, so to speak, as priests, at fifty years. Not so with Melchisedec. There was no age limit to his priesthood. He continued in the priestly office just as long as he lived. He was without the end of life as a priest. That is in the priesthood. In other words, he did not die as a priest like they did under the Levitical priesthood. Therefore, he was without the end of life in the priesthood. Paul is contrasting the priesthood under the Jewish order with the priesthood under the Christian order. The point he makes is, that Christ is our High Priest. Christ is not a priest after the order of Aaron, but after the order of Melchisedec. Christ, like Melchisedec, did not descend from a priestly family or tribe. Christ was of the tribe of Juda. Paul said: "of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood." You see Christ, like Melchisedec, was without father and without mother in the priesthood. That is he did not descend from a family of priests. All that has been said about Melchisedec is also true about Christ as a priest. No time set for him to begin or cease to be priest. Melchisedec was king and priest at the same time. Christ is also King and Priest at the same time. Paul is showing the superiority of Christianity over Judaism. In the 7th chapter of Hebrews the priesthood is under consideration. He is discussing the priesthood, not the men as men. For the want of space this will have to suffice for this time.

Save Our Soil

Some time since the County Agent held a terracing school on J. D. Fallon's farm, in the Center Point community. J. W. Spinks and son learned to operate the level and Mr. Spinks has bought an instrument and laid out lines on his farm, as has J. M. Spinks.

A school was held on Ben Long's farm in Big Valley not long since. W. L. Eddy has secured a level and a corsican grader and requested a school for his community Wednesday, but owing to the cold weather the meeting was postponed.

S. J. and W. T. Fisher, Mullin, secured a level a few weeks ago and the County Agent will meet them for instruction on S. J. Fisher's farm Tuesday, Jan. 14, in the afternoon. All neighboring farmers invited to attend.

Mrs. J. M. Baker, Lake Merritt, has requested a meeting for instruction on her farm Wednesday, Jan. 15th, afternoon, at which time an effort will be made to organize a group to carry on the work in that community.

Meetings will be held soon with J. A. Curtis, Ridge; R. T. Roberts, Ratler, and Clarence Geeslin, Caradan. These men will try to interest their neighbors in organizing the work for their communities.

We hope to make this a banner year in soil saving. Farmers must co-operate in this great work. The County Agent can only supervise the groups that have sufficient interest to buy a level and train to do the work.

Some men who want their lands terraced and, sooner or later will have it to do, fail to attend these schools of instruction held in their communities, then sound a note of complaint. They just as well understand now that the above plans will be adhered to and it is up to the land owner to terrace or let his land wash away.

W. P. WEAVER,
County Agent.

FIELD NOTES

By the Missionary.

We certainly had a wonderful Workers meeting at Trigger Mountain. The largest crowd we have yet had and some of the best speakers I have heard since I have been in the county. You know Baptists are great people. If you want a large crowd, just get up a little issue. But they have a way of settling things to their own satisfaction, whether it suits anybody else or not.

In the afternoon the Board was called to order by the moderator, G. C. Ivins and free speeches were admitted. The Missionary's report showed a deficit of $83.98. The Board felt that under the existing circumstances they could not carry out the county mission program, so the Missionary offered his resignation, to take effect the first of March and the Board accepted it. I have it in my heart to render the best service possible the next two months.

Respectively,
W. A. THORNTON.

BAD WEATHER

The present week has been one of the most disagreeable, in point of weather, experienced in this section for a good many years. Sleet and ice have covered the ground and the extreme cold has seriously retarded travel and has made a mighty dull time in business circles. It is claimed that a spell like this is beneficial to the land and presages a good crop year and we hope there are benefits, for it certainly has been disagreeable.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

A Houston druggist was hijacked and robbed Saturday night and in turn the hijacker was shot and afterward captured in a hospital, where a woman companion had carried him for surgical attention.

A 19-year-old Temple youth, Earl Homuth, was killed in an automobile accident Saturday night near his home at Temple. It was the same old story,—he didn't see the vehicle ahead until too late to make the rapid turn.

Robbers who drilled through the brick vault of the Beasley State Bank early Saturday got only $50 for their trouble, officers of the institution said. They did not get into the safe. The bandits obtained entrance to the bank by cutting a rear screen and unlocking a window.

Stockholders will be asked to approve a $200,000,000 increase in the capital stock of the Southern Pacific Railroad Lines at the annual meeting in Anchorage, Ky., April 9, the Lines at the annual meeting in Texas offices announced Friday. Two million shares would be issued at par value of $100.

Completing his investigation of Friday night's spectacular fire in the artist's studio of the Capitol in Washington beside the majestic dome, David S. Lynn, architect of the building, said he was unable to determine whether the blaze had its origin with "a careless smoker or from spontaneous combustion."

Plans for filing of suit for recovery of title to approximately 200 acres of valuable oil land in Crane county claimed to be University of Texas land were discussed at a conference last Friday by members of the university land leasing board. There are approximately twenty producing oil wells on the land.

The Mexican who assisted Harry Leahy in the murder of Dr. Ramsey of Mathis, Tex., which crime Leahy was recently electrocuted, was given five years in the penitentiary as a penalty for his participation in the crime, he having pleaded guilty and claimed he did not know of Leahy's purpose in advance. It was largely due to his confession that the details of the crime were learned.

The State Commissioner of Agriculture, Friday mailed forms for ascertaining the cost of producing last year's cotton crop to all reporters of the department. He estimated that an average price of 17c a pound was paid during the last season for cotton and that the cost of production was as much or more in the majority of instances. When the average cost of production is ascertained, he believes he can arrive at a price which should be the minimum to be paid.

Earthquake rumors flew thick and fast for several hours on Saturday morning as people in various parts of the city of Corsicana reported feeling tremors at irregular intervals. No damage was reported but considerable excitement resulted. In an effort to discover the center of the disturbance and the source, a canvass of all possible blasting operations was started. A check of various seismograph crews operated by the oil companies was started but all of them were found to have been idle since the first of the year.

One of the remarkable reports coming from the Rio Grande Valley is that Richard Kieberg and two hands from the King ranch were driving across country a few days ago, they spied a buck, chased it until they got close enough for one of the men to grab it by the tail, the deer's horns got tangled in the spare tire on running board, and the animal was captured.

Another election has been ordered by the City Commission of Cleburne to determine if the city will establish a municipal light plant. It will be held Feb. 11. The same proposition, submitted to vote Nov. 1, 1929, was defeated. Since the election some investigating has been done and it is found the electric rate at Cleburne is one of the highest in the country.

Unreasonable salaries, in some instances netting certain county officials $22,000 a year; the receipt of interest from trust funds, extra compensation for services deemed in line of regular duties and extreme allowances given for collection of delinquent taxes are some of the ills prevalent in Texas because of the fee system, so it is claimed in the report of the legislative committee to investigate fee officers.

The statement is made in the record under which the Rock Island and Frisco Railroads were granted permission to make extensions and execute trackage leases in the Panhandle that the Waggoner ranch of 770,000 acres is not to be subdivided until after the death of the owner. Of that tract, 250,000 acres are in Wilbarger County, where some of the line is to be built. Only 1,900 acres are in cultivation. The soil is declared to be highly productive and the ranch underlaid with oil with some producing wells on it.

Jumping from a car in which he was riding when he heard a train approaching, E. A. Standridge, 53, Waxahatchie painter, was struck and his body cut into several pieces when he was hit by the south-bound Texas Special a few days ago. The Manchester England Cotton Association has again complained to the United States Department of Agriculture about the unsatisfactory baling of American cotton and damage caused by marking ink running into the cotton. In registering the complaint, the secretary of the Manchester association, says that after years of agitation "no headway has been made in the matter of securing a neater package. The neatly packed bales received from every other cotton-growing country are in striking contrast with the development of cotton growing outside America and with the inevitable keener competition, the South in its own interests should make strenuous efforts to effect reform."

EGG MARKET

Profits from farm poultry were higher in 1929 than in any recent year, a compilation of figures by poultry authorities indicates, and conditions point to a profitable season during the coming year. Egg prices are up and it looks as if they were going to continue at a good level during the entire season.

There are several reasons for this. One is the fact that hatcheries this year have increased their capacities, due to annual increase of business over the past few years. These hatcheries are paying higher prices for hatchable eggs, and will take a larger percentage of the egg yield than ever before.

Cold storage figures that the beginning of the year will find a shortage of eggs in storage, and this shortage will be made up, to further make inroads upon the egg supply. As a result, fall and winter prices in 1930 should be high. At the same time, grain prices are reasonable, and conditions point to a profitable year from poultry for those farmers who take their flocks seriously and give them the attention which they must have if a profit is to be derived.

One sure way of realizing a profit from farm poultry is to increase the egg production of the entire flock. Figures indicate that the hen which lays 180 eggs a year has a labor income of almost three times as much as the hen that lays only 125 eggs a year. By securing good stock to replace the old hens this spring, the productivity of the entire flock can be increased.

Hatcheries themselves furnish the quick and logical method of building up the farm flock to a profitable egg-production level, particularly since the leading ones of the country have banded together under the slogan, "Hatchery Checks For Greater Profits," to insure better flocks and square dealings.

Higher egg production per hen, and increased size of farm flocks, offer the solution to profitable farm poultry, regardless of prices.—Farm Information.

MONEY THROWN AWAY

Diversion of milk bottles from their proper use causes a loss of $20,000,000 a year, according to an estimate of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, Department of Agriculture. As the value of all glass manufactures in the United States in 1925 was $295,959,000, the wastage of milk bottles must be exceptionally great. A further statement that 20,000,000 milk bottles picked off dumps in one city last year were worth more than $1,000,000 indicates the money waste reported represented by 400,000,000 bottles. Is it any wonder that of late years the retail price of milk has averaged 14c a quart, as compared with 8.9c at the beginning of the World War?

The bureau indicates a belief that a large part of the milk-bottle loss arises from housewives keeping them as containers for other commodities. If the assumption be warranted, even casual observers will conclude the total wastage is far above the estimated amount. For every traveler knows that in urban sections throughout the land, next to tin cans, the most conspicuous article of litter in streets, vacant lots and rubbish dumps is milk bottles. No statutes providing penalties for their violation have been effective to prevent the diversion or destruction of these bottles. No inducement offered by dairy companies has served to prevail upon the people to take care of milk bottles. The substitution of paper containers has been attempted, but this also involves great waste. Could the bottle wastage be reduced by one-half, the price of milk could be reduced. But as long as it is easier to chuck a bottle away than to wash it and set it out for removal by the milkman, millions of persons will contribute to this enormous wastage.—Philadelphia Ledger.

American Music Sent Home by Diplomats

Harold VEO

My Angel-line, when all is green in Ar-ca-dy, — all re-fer-ence to you, sweet-heart!

Introduction of Jazz to Europe Affected by Embassies

New York City.—The introduction of jazz into foreign countries may be traced directly to foreign embassies in Washington declares Harold Veo, internationally known orchestra director.

Mr. Veo has conducted orchestras all over Europe, has directed at several inaugural balls in Washington, and has played for practically every diplomatic ball in the capital city.

"I have watched the effect of our jazz on hundreds of foreign diplomats," says Veo. "The first time one of them hears it, he invariably wrinkles up his forehead, taps a thoughtful diplomatic toe, and says, 'It is a strange new music, but there is something in it which reminds me of one of our own folk songs. There are bits of that tune, where have I heard it before?'"

"What he hears, of course, is an echo of cosmopolitan America, and in this 'something' that is his native music. Pleased, he sends records home."

Diplomatic balls in Washington usually begin with the national anthem of the embassy, then there are one or two national waltzes, but the rest of the dance program is American jazz, says Veo.

"Diplomatic Washington does not like the so-called 'hot music.' Its preference is for our foxtrot ballads and waltzes. 'My Angel-line,' a waltz song by the writers of 'Ramona,' is perfect for diplomatic affairs. It has a foreign flavor done in real American rhythm, at a rather slow tempo."

Mr. Veo, one of America's master interpreters of modern music, is the great grandson of Lubarski, the world's greatest flutist. Lubarski was court flutist to the Empress Catharine, lived to be one hundred and ten years old, and played the flute for one hundred and fifty years.

PROFITABLE DAIRYING

No matter what the price of milk or cream, there are certain conditions necessary to profitable dairying, and we list them as follows:

Good cows. Balanced rations individually according to production. An abundance of home-grown feedstuffs, including a liberal supply of legumes. A good pasture with plenty of water available. Shelter from cold weather and heavy rains. Kind treatment of animals. A good milk barn and facilities for the handling of milk and cream.

Probably the greatest factor in economical production of the cows have been secure and sufficient pastures and plenty of home-grown feedstuffs including the legumes. The farmer who turns his back to the woods at all seasons depending upon their own living, produce milk cheaply, but in sufficient quantity to pay it. The farmer who produces an abundance of feedstuffs either starves his cows to a point of small production or else uses his profits to buy feed. The cost of production is the big factor in the dairy column.

It is suggested that every farmer in the Southwest should have enough good cows to produce home needs for milk, butter and cream, but he should have no more unless he is willing to develop good pastures, produce the necessary feed and attend to all other matters carefully and in detail. Dairying as a major project on the farm of the Southwest should give a reasonable profit on the investment and labor involved, but keeping cows will not give desired results. —Farm and Ranch.

KEEP TOWARD REFORM

Getting rid of the shysters—ambulance chasers—the fellows who hang around the law house and police station taking victims—the lawyers who frame up damage suits in order to secure settlements and whose methods of practice may come within the letter of law, but are dishonest when measured by the ethics of any other business or profession, is of chief concern to the upright, upstanding members of the profession in Texas. Under the present law there is little chance of success in any effort to rid the profession of the undesirables. Therefore, the Texas Bar Association is going to ask the State Legislature for the second time, to pass a law, making it a self-governing association, prescribing rules for the conduct of members of the profession and making more easy the process of bringing disbarment proceedings.

Therefore, the members of the bar have disclaimed all responsibility for the abuses that have grown up in the practice of law. Only in very extreme cases has any member ever instituted proceedings to disbar another lawyer for crooked practices. No one can even ask that a lawyer be punished by taking his license to practice away from him. Members of the bar also deny responsibility for the cumbersome proceedings in our courts; for delays before and during trial and for the many other acts to delay justice. Under the proposed law, making the Bar Association a self-governing body, responsibility is placed directly on the members of the profession. Lawyers will no longer be able to sidestep the issue and will have to come in the open and clean house in a public manner. —Farm and Ranch.

Contract Children's Diseases

As we can, and do, contract many of our diseases. And, usually, they come from them much more than we do. For instance, many adults have worms, an ailment usually associated with children. Sometimes we suffer intensely and take expensive medical treatments, without realizing that worms are the cause of their trouble. Yet, the symptoms are the same in children, loss of appetite, grinding the teeth and restlessness, itching of the nose and sneezing, and the same abdominal pains. And, the same worms that rarely and harmlessly come from the mother and pass on to the child, are the cause of the child's trouble. The same worms that rarely and harmlessly come from the mother and pass on to the child, are the cause of the child's trouble. —Farm and Ranch.

THE ORIGINAL SOURCES OF WEALTH

The soil, the sea and the air are the only original sources of wealth. Of these the soil as a producer of wealth is by far the most important. Hamper its development by reducing the income of the producers, and all other industry is adversely affected.

In view of the fact that industry has prospered in face of depressed conditions in agriculture, there may be many who will accept this statement in theory, but not in fact. Industry has prospered above that of agriculture for several years by receiving ample protection in taking from the farmers more than his net profits. Farmers have continued to produce under adverse conditions. They have produced enough to feed and clothe the world, but only at a sacrifice of capital stock. This source of supply is being exhausted in many sections. There are fewer farmers and more is being produced per man, but not more profit. Should this continue, the decrease in acre yield will begin to make an appreciable dent in the amount other industry can take from the rural districts.

Farmers are not misers. The greater their buying power the more they will buy. It is only the lack of money that keeps most farmers from constructing new barns and new homes; from purchasing new labor-saving machinery, trucks and automobiles; from equipping their homes with modern facilities and good furniture, and their families from purchasing the latest of clothing in style and material. A prosperous rural district is always of more substantial value to any city than the fluctuating pay rolls of manufacturing industries.

Industry has been organized many years. One co-operates with another in all essential matters of interest in general, and in defending themselves against the indictment that the agricultural industry is being strangled, the argument to the effect that farmers should organize and fight their own battles is always used. Now, thru government agencies, a move has been started to do the very thing that leaders in other industry has advocated, with the result that the Federal Farm Board program is meeting with considerable opposition. It seems that everybody would like to see better times on the farms of the country, provided that in bringing it about no one else suffers even a temporary inconvenience.

Hundreds of millions of dollars are spent in developing industry and millions in paying the way for new outlets for manufactured goods. Trade missionaries go into distant parts of the world seeking new markets while right at home is a potential market that exceeds in importance all the other markets roled into one. Give agriculture a chance to increase its buying power and the money will eventually find its way into trade centers in exchange for manufactured goods. —Farm and Ranch.

FIGHTING ARSON

Appreciable progress has been made in recent years in the war against arson, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters. In 27 states stricter laws have been adopted with heavier penalties inflicted on offenders. Public opinion, realizing that arson is one of the most despicable of crimes, is at last making itself felt. In 1928, there were 549 arrests for arson, and 274 convictions. Of our annual half-billion-dollar fire loss, $200,000,000 is attributable to unknown causes. Much of this total results from incendiary arson. The crime of arson, always associated with greed or revenge is a blot on civilization. It must be eradicated if the homes, industries and lives of our citizens are to be safeguarded. For every arsonist is a murderer or a potential murderer. The fact that law enforcement authorities are alive to the seriousness of this crime and that convictions last year totaled 50 per cent of the arrests, shows that a greater record of punishment for arson is being achieved.

Dr. Everett Buys Snakes

Dr. W. B. Everett, formerly pastor of the Baptist church at this place and a practicing physician here, has recently made a most unusual purchase at Sterling City, where he now lives, according to a newspaper report which says: "Jim Clifton, Sterling City, sold to Dr. W. B. Everett, Sterling City, M. D., eight big rattlesnakes, some of them six feet long at an unannounced price. Dr. Everett, who has been treated in most criminal cases. This should be an incentive to redouble efforts. The war on arson is of benefit to every person and the public must co-operate if complete success is to be ultimately attained.

Clifton, who is a ranchman caught the snakes with wooden tongs, in a cave. In the spring, rattle snake hunting parties are common in the Southwest.

Rejuvenating Old King Coal

With the advent of electricity the forecast was made that the use of gas would be discontinued, but today gas is being used in greater quantities and for more purposes than ever dreamed of when electricity appeared as a lighting competitor.

It has also been predicted that coal as a fuel is becoming obsolete. It is undoubtedly true that the use of coal in the old crude manner which causes volumes of smoke and much fuel waste, will pass into the discard. But modern scientific methods of using coal feed it automatically into furnaces, eliminating smoke and increasing heating efficiency. Thus is science and invention rejuvenating the oldest fuel industry and putting it on a competitive basis with modern automatic, thermostatically controlled heating plants, where mechanical and not human hands do the work.

- Chevrolet announces

THE GREATEST CHEVROLET IN CHEVROLET HISTORY

Today, Chevrolet presents the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History—a smoother, faster, better Six—with beautiful new bodies by Fisher.

Basically, it is the same sturdy, substantial Six which won such tremendous popularity in 1929. But it is a greater car in every way—for there are scores of vital improvements which contribute to comfort, performance, endurance and safety!

An improved six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower; four Delco-Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers; fully-enclosed internal-expanding weather-proof brakes; a new dash gasoline gauge; heavier and stronger rear axle; new Fisher non-glare windshield; larger tires—

—these are typical of the many improvements which make this car the Greatest Chevrolet in Chevrolet History.

But most impressive of all—this smoother, faster, better Six has been made available—

At Greatly Reduced Prices!

During 1929, more than a million three hundred thousand persons bought six-cylinder Chevrolets. This enormous volume has made possible many savings in the Chevrolet factories and, in keeping with its long-established policy, Chevrolet is sharing these savings with the public. No written description can do justice to the extra value and quality provided in this new car. Visit your Chevrolet dealer—see this car—ride in it—and judge for yourself its sensational value.

Mrs. Langford Passed Away.

Mrs. A. T. Langford died at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
Sammie Smith, in this city
Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock,
after a long illness with heart trouble and complications.

Mrs. Langford was reared in this county and made her home in the Center City community the greater portion of her life. Her husband, Mr. A.
T. Langford, died several years ago, since which time she has been in failing health. She is survived by eight children and a number of other relatives, including a sister, Mrs. Henry Morris, and a brother, J. M.
Adams, formerly of Star and now of Richland Springs. All of her children were at her bedside when the end came except one son and he had been
with her up to a few days ago,
when he was called to his home
in Western Texas by the serious illness of his wife. Several of her other relatives were also at her bedside and assisted in ministering to her in her last illness. After her death it was found she had written an outline of her desires as to her funeral and other particulars.
She requested that Elder Dykes preach the funeral sermon and her sons act as pall bearers, even indicating the manner in which they should be dressed.

The remains were laid to rest in Center City cemetery
Tuesday afternoon, after funeral services in the church at Center City. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather,
a large number of her friends
and the friends of the family gathered at the church and the grave to pay their respects
and to prove their sympathy
for the bereaved family.

Jake Benningfield Dead

Mr. Jake Benningfield died last Friday morning in a sanitarium at Childress, where he had spent some time with the hope of saving or at least prolonging his life. He had been suffering with Bright's disease
a good many years and had been confined to his bed for several months. His brothers,
Rev. Joe Benningfield and Lee Benningfield of this place and Jim Benningfield of Coke county and his sister, Mrs. Cloud, also of Coke county, were with the members of his immediate family at his bedside at the time of his death. His remains were laid to rest in a cemetery in a rural community seventeen miles north of Childress,
where he had made his home.

Mr. Benningfield was reared in this county and lived here until thirteen years ago. He had many friends here and all were grieved when the announcement of his death came.
He leaves a wife and three children, who have the sympathy of all who know of their bereavement.

Ice Mine Phenomenon

About three miles from Couderport, Pa., on the famous Couderport pike which connects with the Susquehanna trail, there is one of the rarest of natural phenomena, an ice mine. Ice in considerable quantities is to be found in it at all seasons of the year and the hotter the weather the greater the bulk of the ice.

THINK SAFETY

If our terrible accident record is to be lowered Americans must learn to think in terms of accident prevention.
In the home, in industry and in the automobile the majority of accidents occur not only because someone is careless but because someone fails to automatically do the right thing in an emergency. It is a noteworthy fact that the great decrease made in recent years in the industrial accident record
has been the result of an attitude of mind that makes safety an essential, integral part of any industrial operation. Executives think in terms of safety, exactly as they think in terms of profits or production.
In many of the schools of the nation children, through the medium of graphic, interesting lessons, with an appeal to the imagination, are being taught accident prevention. They are shown that safety should be a major factor in any act. As a result, a coming generation will have a subconscious, automatic grasp of the accident problem that will save countless lives in future years. The work has already borne fine fruit in that the death and injury rate among children in schools where safety is part of the curricula, is constantly decreasing. Adult Americans can all take a lesson in safety from the schools where their children are being educated and from the great employing industries. It is said that no one has a sound grasp of a foreign language until he can think in it; in exactly the same way no one grasps the accident problem until safety is a constant factor in his mental processes.

As a result of a hearing on a petition for a $1,000,000 road
bond issue held in Groesbeck recently it is expected that an election date will be set when the Limestone County Commissioners meet in regular session, Jan. 13. It is thought that the election will be set for late in February.

Last Friday Mrs. Homer Eakin, who became a bride over long distance telephone from Waco, Texas, posed for photographers in the kitchen of her new Cleveland, Ohio, home
while the bridegroom demonstrated his ability to dry dishes.

WOMEN AS JURORS

There is no reason why women shouldn't be good jurors.
At least as good as men jurors.
Before women were admitted to the jury box, men hadn't made a vast success at jurying.
An all-woman jury certainly doesn't require as many cuspi-dors as an all-man jury, and very likely the former will arrive at a verdict with less of time than the latter. A woman on or off the jury, always has something to do at home, or at the church, or in her social circle, therefore is willing to render her verdict today rather than postpone it till tomorrow. Men jurors always pretend to be sacrificing their time patriotically. They all say they can't afford to serve, but as good citizens they consent to the sacrifice. Then when twelve of them get on a case
it takes them longer to bring in their answers than it took the lawyers to tell them what the trouble was. Did you ever hear of an all-woman jury disagreeing on their decision and forcing another trial? You did not. It is only men juries that hang, and cause delay and expense. When men jurors are getting $3 a day and board, there is always a tendency to draw an extra day's pay, whereas women are anxious to cash out and get down town
before the stores close. It might be a good idea to har-men from jury service.—State Press in Dallas News.

Mrs. F. R. Broadus, of Salt
Lake City, Utah, who spent Christmas here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Harvey, was summoned home last Friday by a message saying her husband had been injured in a railroad wreck at Wichita, Kansas. When she reached home she found him resting
well, with no permanent hurts and later reports say he is doing well and will soon be fully recovered.

After 53 days of unconscio-ness, caused by an injury to her head, suffered in an automobile collision, Miss Ruby Miller of Beeville, 17, high school girl, has regained consciousness. Governor Moody, on his way to the coast, assisted in taking the girl from the wrecked car last Nov. 3. She was in a hospital at Taft for 4 weeks and later taken to her home.

She was offered a position for the fall term also but has not definitely decided to accept for the fall term of 1930. Miss Petsick has been a most faithful and successful principal of the school in this city for the past five years. She is also an active worker in the church and Sunday school and has a large circle of friends among the young people and aged who would sadly miss her and regret her departure. Yet if she decides it is best for her to accept the position in the fall, all join the Enterprise in wishing for her a most pleasant and profitable place in the lives and hearts of the Belton people.

THOUGHT HIS CASE WAS HOPELESS, SAYS GORDON

"Before I took Sargon I had stomach trouble so bad I lost sixty-two pounds. Five years ago I went to a famous clinic and they said my condition was very serious, and advised me to live on goats milk. I paid $3,000 for a herd of pedigreed goats and have lived principally on goat's milk ever since. Even then my liver was so inactive I've had to take four to six grains of calomel ever week for the past five years in order to keep on my feet at all.

"I'm now on my third bottle of Sargon and have gained back nineteen pounds of my lost weight already. Sargon Pills regulated my liver and thank goodness my calomel days are over at last. I feel more like my old self than in five years and wouldn't take $5,000 cash for what Sargon has already done for me."—R. D. Gordon, Tulsa.

Sargon may be obtained in Goldthwaite at Clements' Drug and Jewelry Store.

THE ROAD TO HAPPINESS

There is a lesson in the story of the triple golden wedding celebrated by the three "aged couples" in Wisconsin.

Fifty years ago these mere boys and girls decided they would all be married at the same time. One couple was seated in a new top buggy, another on the front seat of a rattling spring wagon and the third rode the back of the wagon. They drove to Baldwin, Wis. where a kindly justice of the peace performed the ceremony. They were happy and carefree, but took the marriage vows with all the sincerity of that golden time in our history.

Fifty years have passed. What about this triple wedding—are the participants still living together happily?

George Krauss, 73 and wife, 69; Henry Huber, 77 and wife, 69, and Mark Sanderson, 75 and wife, 69, will tell you emphatically "yes." Because just the other day, in the presence of their many children and grandchildren this group re-enacted the anniversary ceremonies in commemoration of that triple wedding which has stuck throughout half a century and which will, they say, continue happily "until death do us part."

To these six aged people the occasion was much the same as that of fifty years ago—flowers, sweet old-fashioned music and thankfulness. The new thoughts and new ideals which sprang from their happy reunions were still fresh in their minds; naught save the joy of living for each other had colored their married life. True, the trials which come to a father and mother must have been theirs. They never complained nor did they "fuss" at one another.

And so there is a lesson in this golden wedding anniversary story. A background of love, sincerity and hope is paraded through the mists of the past as these aged folks resolve to reconsecrate themselves to one another. Though the shadows of life may be dimming for the aged couples, the spark of love and devotion is ever bright and they have lived up to their marriage vows as devotedly in the past as they shall in the future. They lived in a day when modernity did not threaten the home. They knew not of the modern synthetic pleasures which are in reality but "pitfalls" of life.

A VICIOUS ATTACK

Alvin Bohannon reached home here Sunday, after spending several days in a hospital in Corsicana, recovering from a vicious attack by a negro, who was on board a freight train going into that town. Bohannon was on the same train and for some unknown reason the negro attacked him with a knife and cut him several times. The negro escaped and Bohannon was found by section hands lying beside the railroad track, weak from the loss of blood. He was carried to Corsicana and placed in the sanitarium. His father, Mr. C. E. Bohannon, was notified of his condition and the young man was sent home as soon as he was able to travel. He is still weak, but it is thought he will suffer no permanent injury from the attack.

POLL TAX PAYMENT

Every voter should be sure and secure a poll tax receipt before Feb. 1. The receipt must be dated prior to the first of February, else it will not entitle the holder to vote in any of the elections the next twelve months. There is sure to be a primary as well as a general election this year and other elections may be held, hence it is of the most vital importance that citizens secure their poll tax receipts. It is important that all taxes be paid before Feb. 1 and in cases where the tax is not paid prior to that date a penalty of 10 per cent is charged. This penalty is made mandatory upon the collectors and they have no option in the matter. They must either collect the 10 per cent penalty or pay the amount themselves. However, in case a citizen can not pay his entire tax, a provision is made enabling him to pay his poll tax and allow the other taxes to go on the delinquent list, but he can not pay other taxes and allow the poll tax to go delinquent. Pay before February first.

Their pleasure was in each other—and in living.

It is lamentable that the divorce court records of this day are heavily taxed with the decrees which tear asunder the once sacred vows of marriage.

There is nothing so vital in our American life as the bliss which marriage should afford. Young people do well to remember the story of the triple wedding which is still held sacred. And we can think of no more fitting way to close than in the words of the aged couple themselves: "Happiness is all a matter of compromise, living for each other; not being too inquisitive into the secret recesses of your mate's heart. A good home, good home cooking, and—oh, yes—children. That is our formula for happiness."—Denison Herald.

HOW OUR LANGUAGE LOOKS TO FOREIGNERS

We'll begin with box, the plural is boxes,
But the plural of ox should be oxen, not exes,
One fowl is a goose, and two are called geese,
Yet the plural of mouse should never be meese.
You may find a lone mouse or a whole nest of mice,
But the plural of house is houses, not hiee.
If the plural of man is always called men,
Why shouldn't the plural of pan be called pen?
The cow in the plural may be called cows or kine,
And the plural of vows is vow, never vine.
If I speak of a foot and you show me two feet,
And I gave you a boot, would a pair be called beet?
If one is a tooth and the whole set are teeth,
If the singular is this and the plural is these Should the plural of kiss ever be written keeses?
The one may be that and the two may be those,
Yet hat in the plural should never be hose.
And the plural of cat is cats not cose.
We speak of brother, also of brethren,
But though we say mother we never say methren.
So the English, I think you will agree
Is the funniest language you ever did see!—Menard Messenger.

A NEW AGE OF LUBRICATION BEGINS
THIS NEW MOTOR OIL CHARACTER

"Penetrative Lubricity"

CONOCO Alone Has this New Character

Since the discovery of the wheel, lubrication has been a necessity and a problem. The first rude barrows which pre-historic men built, needed lubrication, and one of the brighter tribesmen began rubbing the axles of his primitive cart with raw animal meat.

With Watt's invention of the steam engine in 1763, metal-on-metal friction resulted. Then it was that animal and vegetable oil lubricants became definitely unsatisfactory. Their tendency to leave corrosive deposits ruled them out.

Mineral Oils Are Discovered

After the drilling of the first oil well in 1859, mineral oils became commercially successful. Because petroleum was plentiful and was freer from gumming and corroding tendencies, it rapidly supplanted animal and vegetable oils.

But since 1901 there have been practically no changes of fundamental importance in refining motor oils.

Now since 1901, think of the changes that have been made in motors! Probably the make of car you drive today was not even manufactured in 1901. Certainly its needs for oils are far more exacting!

The Development of Germ Process

Forecasting that ordinary mineral oils would eventually fail to meet the increasing strains put upon them, Wells and Southworth scientists began a study of the germ process occupied 16 years. The result was the isolation of the Germ Process, a process that provides increased lubricity introduced into mineral oils. They were patented and Continental exclusively for North America. The germ process brings you the first and only better oil of the century!

Germ Process Penetrative Lubricity

The Germ Process adds one of the most important characteristics to CONOCO Germ Process Oils. It enables them to penetrate faces! This means that an oil actually penetrates all working parts under all conditions. In starting 60% of motor wear occurs when any failure of the film of life, remember this—the germ film precludes any possibility of the germ-essence naturally occurring—and we call that lubricity Penetrative Lubricity as the characteristic of this new oil.

SHOOTING AT BANGS

Roger Read, 31, Bangs farmer, made appearance bond of $1,500 shortly after two o'clock Saturday afternoon on charge of assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of L. L. Flippen, 40, also a Bangs farmer, at a Bangs produce house about noon Saturday. Read surrendered to Deputy Sheriff L. L. Walter shortly after Flippen was wounded.

A SAD VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Lancaster and their six-year-old son left Goldthwaite shortly before Christmas to visit at Burk Burnett. After Christmas they went to the home of his father, Mr. J. R. Lancaster, north of May, and there the little boy became ill and died with paralysis on New Year's day. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all their friends here and elsewhere.

ONE STEP FARTHER

Less than five years ago the spokesman for a large group of co-operatives flouted the idea of Governmental supervision over farmer co-operatives. He and his followers, by inference if not by actual statement, said that they knew all there was to know about co-operative marketing, and by grace of Federal statutes which removed the co-ops from the penalties of the anti-trust laws, they would run their own business as they pleased.

ON FEWER ACRES

Virginia is undertaking her own measures of farm relief. That is to say, the State has drawn up a program which is to be recommended to the incoming Assembly for its adoption. Among the items considered and favorably listed are:

1. Co-operative marketing act to be extended to include co-operative purchasing and dealing with non-members on a nonprofit basis up to a stated limit of total business.
2. More instruction in home economics for farm women.
3. Provision for a standard trade mark for Virginia farm products.
4. Increased activity on farm-to-market highways.
5. Encouragement of electrification of farms.
6. Added library facilities for rural sections.
7. Prevention of surplus production.

This last-named recommendation is particularly well worked out. The State is urged to discourage drainage and development operations which tend to add to farm land acres. Especial effort is recommended to aid the marginal farmer to leave his poor land and find work where he can labor to better advantage. In this connection a free employment agency is suggested. Vocational education of farmers to become something else besides farmers is to be provided for.

It is even proposed that the title of agricultural lands on which taxes are delinquent shall revert to the county in which they are situated. This is drastic indeed in the direction of contracting the tillable acres. But it is clear that it is logical and direct. It will withdraw from cultivation those acres which are least profitable. And it will gradually relieve the situation.—Dallas News.

ROADS FOR 1930

It is forecast that the states will spend approximately $1,100,000,000 during 1930 on highway construction. Municipalities and counties are expected to expend an equal amount, or a total of over two billion dollars. This is a substantial increase over 1929. A quarter-century ago road building appropriations were an insignificant part of any governmental budget; now they are exceeded by few other items. Our progress, social and industrial, is determined to a large extent by the adequacy of our highways. As trunk highways are improved there is a growing necessity for farm market roads. A farmer living 10 miles from a trunk highway and inaccessible to a properly built feeder road to that highway, is practically isolated from the standpoint of reaching markets with a load of produce, several months of the year. These feeder, or farm market roads, must be improved or built not only to furnish additional transportation routes and relieve congestion on through roads, but to give the farmer his just share of improvements and public road funds which are expended. Every state, in addition to each mile of thru highway, probably needs 10 miles of less expensively improved farm market, or feeder roads.

FIRE AT BLANKET

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Blanket Ice factory at Blanket early Friday morning, causing a loss of approximately $5,000 to the operator, Oscar Sides. Citizens of the town living near the plant, notified the town night watchman but the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to do anything but watch the structure burn to the ground. The plant had not been in operation for several months. It was a frame and brick structure.—Brownwood Record.

Common Origin Explains Striking Similarity

New York City.—Although the staccato rhythms, the siren sound of the saxophone and the sometimes brassy bombast of American jazz would not seem a twin brother to the graceful rhythms found in stringed Spanish music, both have a common ancestry. This statement is made, and proof of its truth offered, by Hugo Mariani, musical director of the National Broadcasting Company with an audience that is the largest in the history of the world. Says Mr. Mariani: "The Moors invaded Spain, bringing their music with them from Africa. Jazz, too, was born in Africa. Americans first heard its primitive rhythms in New Orleans, a city of great Spanish influence. Jazz took its next uncertain steps in San Francisco, a decidedly Spanish city. It was there that Paul Whiteman found it and helped it develop into the international music it has become today. "This common ancestry is one reason why so much of the Spanish or Moorish influence is discovered in our modern American music and another reason why many Americanized Spanish songs have become so popular. 'Rose of Mandalay,' while in direct showing Spanish influence, clearly conveys the music of the Moors in its refrains. It has that something which all Eastern and desert music gives out."

SICK AT HIS STOMACH

"I WAS suffering from stomach trouble in 1917," says Mr. C. K. Nelson, a railroad engineer living in Pulaski, Va. "I had a tightness in my chest, a shortness of breath. There seemed to be a heavy weight in the pit of my stomach, and quite a bit of nausea, yet I couldn't vomit. I tried different remedies, yet suffered on just the same. When in West Virginia on a work train, I was in such a condition that I just gave up and came home. I could not stand to work in my condition. Some one told me about Black-Draught. I started taking it in small doses after meals. It helped me, and I went back to work."

THE CHILDREN'S AGE

"This has been rightly called the children's age . . . But child labor is still with us."

These words, spoken by Dr. Owen R. Lovejoy, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, at the twenty-fifth anniversary conference of the National Child Labor Committee in New York, sounded the keynote of the entire meeting. This is not saying that many signs of real progress were not recognized by those who spoke. But the fact that thousands of children in the United States are still employed long hours at the expense of their well-being and happiness.

One of the most gratifying signs of advance referred to in the conference was the forthcoming White House Conference on Child Welfare. Here those who have for years been striving to stop the exploitation of child life will have an opportunity to lay their case before the entire country with a directness and an impressiveness that have never before been afforded to them. Practically every question relating to the well-being of children is to be considered, but the one controversial issue that will enter into the meeting will be in the field of child labor reform.

That the excessive employment of child labor is a disgrace to any Nation is almost a truism. Yet it has proved in the past, and is proving in the present, exceedingly difficult to call a halt to the system. The advance in national standards has done much to improve conditions. Much remains to be done. And there is doubt whether the situation will ever be radically remedied until there is a vastly more aroused public opinion than there is today. — Christian Science Monitor.

Senate Republican independents are seriously considering supporting a sugar bounty to apply to American producers of sugar alone as an amendment to the pending tariff bill. Senator Borah, of Idaho, is preparing the bounty amendment but is not ready to say what figures will be proposed. He said its purpose would be to extend benefit to American producers and for that reason Philippines sugar growers would be excluded.
