Special Venires

The cases of Cecil and Doyle Salyer, charged with robbing the First National bank of this city on April 16, have been set for next Tuesday, May 13, and a special venire of 54 men ordered in each case. The men are still in jail, bond having been refused.

The case against W. B. and Bailey Fowler, charged with the murder of Dr. J. C. Barrett last week, has been set for next Thursday, May 15, but a special venire has been ordered at this time. W. B. Fowler was admitted to bond in the sum of $5000 Wednesday afternoon.

Jury Next Week

No jury trials have been had this week, but jurors have been summoned for the next two weeks, as well as 108 for special venires. Those on the regular panel for the two weeks are:

Good Rains Fall Over Mills County

A Real Trash Mover On Two Occasions

One of the heaviest rains that has fallen in this section fell here Sunday afternoon from about 1 to 3 o'clock. The total precipitation was about 21-2 inches on an average. Some report a slight increase over this amount, while very few sections or communities estimate a less amount. Creeks were flooded, tanks were filled and the ground was thoroughly soaked. There was naturally some land washed more or less, but the damage along this line was not great. For a time travel was checked on the highways, where the branches and creeks were not bridged, while a few places on neighborhood roads became impassable for a time. The fields received a thorough season and already the good results are being observed. Some farmers who had abandoned hope of their small grain are now expecting to reap a small crop, while grain that had not begun to head will very likely mature a full yield. Corn bottom season and cotton land was given an impetus by the was put in prime condition and where it had already been planted the growth will be rapid.

Again Tuesday afternoon there was another heavy down-pour and while it was not as much as that of Sunday, it put out a lot of stock water and augmented the season in the ground.

The fact is, Mills county has received about all the rain needed for some time to come and a few showers at intervals will cause the crops to do well and it may be that bumper crops will be harvested in this county.

COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

The County School Board met Monday and organized by re-electing W. M. Johnston, president. County Judge L. E. Patterson is ex-officio secretary of the board and the other members are: J. W. Geeslin, Center City, member at large, H. M. Kirby, Live Oak, R. C. Duren, Mullin; J. J. Cockrell, Big Valley.

All schools were classified in the county according to schedule sent out by the state department of education.

STAR CIRCUIT

Star Circuit work is doing fine. We had our second quarterly conference last Sunday at Pleasant Grove. With all the rain and bad roads, we had a real good crowd and good reports from each work.

Preached at Star Sunday morning, Presiding Elder Barr preached at Pleasant Grove Sunday night.

There will be church Saturday night and Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and Mothers' Day program Sunday night, May 11. So let's all go and carry our Mothers to that program.

Everyone think of Mother in some way. H. E. MORELAND Pastor.

STRUCK BY A CAR

Mrs. Elmer Berry was struck by an automobile on the highway near her home, east of the city, Tuesday afternoon and painfully bruised, but her hurts were not serious. The car inflicting the injury was driven by a negro woman, a member of a delegation of negroes en route from Waco and Dallas to a convention at San Angelo. Mrs. Berry and her son were endeavoring to drive a calf through a gate and she did not see the approaching car until too late to avoid it. The negroes stopped immediately and rendered such assistance as was necessary. Mrs. Berry was carried home where it was found she was not seriously hurt, the car having knocked her down, but it did not pass over her. The negroes came to town and their statement of the accident was taken, which proved to be true. Mr. Berry and others agreeing that the accident was unavoidable and not due to the fault of the negroes. After a thorough investigation by the officers the delegation was allowed to proceed on the way to the San Angelo conference.

APPROACHING NUPTIALS

Relatives and friends here of Miss Adell Wilson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Em Wilson of Corpus Christi, have received the pleasing announcement of her approaching marriage to Mr. Hildred Lockhart at Corpus Christi Saturday, May 10. Miss Wilson is a favorite with a large circle of friends in this city, where she grew to womanhood, and all are pleased to extend congratulations and good wishes in advance.

Mr. Lockhart has a limited acquaintance here and is highly recommended by all who know him. He is chief electrician for the Broadcasting company at Corpus Christi and has been associated with the company at other places.

They expect to pass through Goldthwaite Sunday en route to Brownwood and other places, for a visit to relatives, and it is hoped by their friends here they will spend a few days at this place.

NO SUNDAY FISHING

The board of directors of the Mills County Hunting and Fishing Club met Saturday morning and unanimously decided to close the lake to fishing on Sunday until the meeting of the stockholders in July, when the matter will be submitted for instructions. The directors were actuated by a desire to give the best service possible to the greatest number of stockholders and if their decision was wrong it will be easy for the stockholders to correct it and the time will not be long until the annual meeting.

ONEAL — TUBBS

Ernest Oneal and Miss Leona Tubbs, both of McGirk community, were married in the county clerk's office in the court house Monday morning, Judge L. E. Patterson officiating. Mr. Oneal was principal of the Live Oak school the past session and his bride is a member of a well known and prominent family of McGirk community.

THE STORM

A worthy contribution will be sent to Frost, Texas, tonight, (Thursday) from the citizens of our town to help take care of those who were so unfortunate to not only lose their property, but many of their loved ones; as a result of the storm that passed over our state last Tuesday. The pastor of the Baptist church will make some announcements Sunday morning from his pulpit in reference to this contribution. The amount will be given out, and the names of all contributors, and the amount, will be in the pastor's possession for anyone that so desires to examine. More will be said next week in this paper.

STORM DAMAGE

There was some damage to trees, fences and outhouses by wind Tuesday afternoon, but nothing of serious consequence except the damage to a residence on M. H. Fletcher's farm, across the highway from his residence, four miles east of this city. The residence was occupied by George Hammond and children. He was in town and the children became afraid of the cloud and went to the storm house, hence there was no one in the house. The building was moved about twelve feet east and struck a large tree, which prevented it going further. An automobile standing on the east side of the house was struck by the moving building and one wheel damaged, but the car was not injured much.

A DALLAS TRAGEDY

Members of the Little family and their friends were horrified Wednesday to learn that Mr. George Little, brother of the late Mr. L. H. Little, had become demented at his home in Dallas and had killed his son, Vaughn, and stabbed himself. As soon as the report was received T. F. Toland of this city and W. T. Little of San Saba left for Dallas.

Mr. George Little is well known here, where he has visited frequently and Vaughn was also well known here and popular.

The daily papers report of the tragedy says:

"His forehead battered in with a handax Tuesday night while he slept at his home, A. Vaughn Little, 45 died shortly before midnight in a hospital. His father, G. W. Little, 79, was found wandering in a hallway outside their room, his throat slashed with a knife. He was taken to a hospital and was in a serious condition. The elder Little is a retired grocer.

Alben J. Swanson, who lived in the same house, heard a man groaning. Opening his door into a hallway, he saw G. W. Little staggering along with blood streaming from a wound in his neck.

"I must have gone crazy," he said, Little cried, "I think I've killed Vaughn."

SOCIAL MEETING

The Parent-Teachers association will hold a social meeting at the Grammar school building next Tuesday afternoon, May 13, at 4 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

MRS. W. E. FAIRMAN, President.

PRISONERS RETURNED

Sheriff C. D. Bledsoe returned Monday evening from Imperial, Neb., having in custody Doyle and Cecil Salyer, charged with the robbery of the First National bank of this city on April 16. The men were arrested at Waureka, Neb., by City Marshal L. N. Wiley of that city and delivered to the sheriff at Imperial, which is the county seat of Chase county, for safe keeping. The marshal was courteous and helpful to Sheriff Bledsoe and proved himself a brave and vigilant officer. He believed the state of Texas paid a reward of $5000 for the arrest of persons charged with bank robbery, having conflicted the bankers' association reward with state authority, but he was allright when informed of his mistake. The sheriff of the county had employed special guards for the jail and Sheriff Bledsoe had to pay $46.40 for board and guarding the men. He and George Lewis, who accompanied him, reached Imperial at 12 o'clock noon on Saturday and left there with the prisoners at 1 o'clock the same day, travelled continuously until Monday evening to reach Goldthwaite.

The men arrested have a brother who is a farmer near Imperial and they have worked in that section in times past. They had very little money on their persons when arrested and as far as the Eagle is informed they have made no statement regarding the charges against them.

The sheriff will get his expenses paid by the state for bringing the men here for trial, but there was no reward of any kind for their arrest, as far as announced.

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Play of the Goldthwaite High school was presented at the auditorium last Friday night, to a large and appreciative audience. A heavy cloud early in the evening deterred some from attending, but the auditorium was well filled when the curtain went up. Those taking part had learned their assignments well and gave evidence of careful training. The play, "The Rainbow's End," was an appropriate selection for the cast and everything was just right. The characters were well chosen and the audience was pleased with every feature, including the between acts specials and the music.

Those responsible for the selection of the play and cast are entitled to as great laudation as were those who took part in the play and it was creditable to them all.

The door receipts were decidedly satisfactory and will be used in the interest of the school.

The state convention of Lions clubs is to be held in Austin next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It is expected that Goldthwaite Lions club will be well represented.

The flower yards and porch boxes about town are looking fine, where marauding chickens are not allowed to destroy them. The Lions Club is offering a number of prizes on well kept premises, but those who have neighbors with chickens allowed to range and depredate at will need not hope to secure any of the premiums.

Archer Grocery Co., best place to trade after all.

James J. Preston, a traveling salesman representing a wholesale grocery firm of Brownwood and well known in this city, died at his home in Brownwood last Thursday night, his death being attributed to heart failure. He was in Goldthwaite on Thursday apparently well and the announcement of his death was a sad surprise to those who knew him.

Don't put your winter clothes away dirty. Have them cleaned by Burch and the material will be preserved.

Prof. and Mrs. E. D. Stringer started to Hamilton Friday night, after the Senior play, but had not proceeded far until their car ran onto a pile of loose gravel and turned over. Neither of the occupants suffered serious hurts and the damage to the car was slight. They were brought back to this city and their car was soon repaired, but they abandoned the week end trip.

If your account has run over 30 days at Archer's it is past due.

Presiding Elder W. L. Barr and his wife and children were week end visitors in the home of Rev. H. E. Moreland in this city and he went over to Pleasant Grove to hold the quarterly conference for Star circuit Sunday afternoon. They left Monday morning for Dallas to attend the Methodist general conference, to which body Mr. and Mrs. Barr are delegates from the Llano district. The conference will likely continue the greater part of the month and will be attended by preachers and laymen from all parts of the South.

THE IMMORTALITY OF INFLUENCE

"No one of us liveth to himself," that is the reason one hundred and sixty-two friends and relatives gathered at the North Bennett church in memory of Rev. C. H. Miles on his 82nd birthday. Everyone knows the old soldier of the cross as he has preached throughout the length and breadth of Mills county.

The day was spent in the service of the Master at the request of Brother Miles. Brother Leach preached at the morning hour on the theme, "What Makes a Man Great." At the noon hour a fine dinner was served, which was greatly enjoyed by all. In the afternoon a sermon was preached and W. T. Sparkman delivered an address which was enjoyed by all. Several spoke their appreciation for Brother Miles, which should drive the truth home to our hearts more and more that "no one lives to himself." There is nothing on earth, or in heaven that stands alone. No drop of water, no grain of sand, no atom of creation. Everything belongs to some system of society of which it is a dependent and essential part. So it is in the moral and religious realm, no man stands alone. Let us hope that we all shall occupy such a place as Brother Miles is now and has been occupying for the many years, that of making the world better by having lived in it. The final outcome, no doubt, will show that the deeds of his life live on in hearts of his relatives and friends.

The spirit of a person's life is ever shedding some power upon humanity, just as the blossom is steadily bestowing its fragrance upon the air. Ward Beecher says, "that a man should move in the world just as an orange tree would if it could walk to and fro in the garden flinging perfume from its blossoms that it holds up towards heaven."

The world can tell when we have been with Jesus. Not only will tell on the world, for no life can be pure in its purpose, strong in its strife, and all who come in contact cannot be stronger and purer, thereby, a simple, pure, Godly life is the greatest moral magnet on earth. Then influence is like the shots that were fired by the farmers of the Revolution, which were heard around the world. So every thought and act of our lives are felt to remote distance. Our influence is as immortal as our souls. The men who built the pyramids have slept the sleep of death for four thousand years, but the pyramids still stand. You and I build pyramids of influence that will not last four thousand years, but for ages and ages and out into eternity. Then we say with the poet:

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime."

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

Among the items of good news we gather from the report that the big industries are carrying out their full program of new construction as outlined in the Washington conference last winter; that savings deposits are again increasing; that more life insurance is being written; that the oil producers are beginning to curb over-production through voluntary co-operation, and that conditions in the food industries are generally good. At the same time we learn that car loadings are about 7 per cent below their level of a year ago; that employment or pay roll indexes are off from last year's figures about 20 per cent in the hardware and machinery and 34 per cent in the automobile industries; that the textile business shows no improvement, and that foreign trade shows a considerable falling off in both exports and imports.

In brief, business conditions are spotty. There has been seasonal improvement during the current month, but the pace is still slow and the volume is not yet back to normal. That is what Mr. Barnes means when he speaks of an "adjustment of production of goods to current consumption" and the "continued cautious, prudent merchandising policies in retail distribution."—New York World.

EXPLOSIONS AND FIRES

Recently there was a gas explosion under a New York street. The result was devastating. Telephone, telegraph and department wires were disabled. Streets were blocked, and four persons were injured. According to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, such explosions are most frequently the result of waste gasoline in sewers or accumulations of gas formed by decaying materials. Few American cities adequately safeguard their underground sewer pipes against explosion. In consequence, useless and unnecessary waste results. The United States as a whole has lagged in fire prevention. We have the knowledge and the means for outlawing the waste. There is no lack of funds for fire fighting facilities. Yet our annual toll leads all other countries by a wide margin. The reason, of course, is simple—personal carelessness. Too many otherwise intelligent citizens adopt the attitude that because they have an insurance policy, fire waste is of no importance to them. They don't realize that every fire, great or small, destroys part of our national wealth and acts as an obstacle to employment, home-owning and industrial development. For several years our direct financial loss by fire has been close to $500,000,000 annually—enough to employ 400,000 people at $100 a month. It is said that the indirect loss is still greater. Apparently, American wisdom and economy end at the point where fire begins.

HOME TOWN THOUGHTS

Community life is called a partnership. To draw dividends of progress, invest time and effort in home town causes.

Our home town gives most of our prosperity. Look out how you injure that prosperity by spending money elsewhere.

A public movement, to accomplish its ends, has to tell the people about its efforts through the newspapers. Also if a business is to grow, it needs to tell the people about its goods through advertising.

Ambitious folks don't like to live amid disorder. It would depress them. They get busy, and ash-heaps and piles of litter vanish as the damps of night disappear before the morning sun.

Careless neighbors see the contrast, and it makes them uncomfortable. Before long you also see them agitating rake and spade. They may not alter their habits as the result of argument, but they are moved to action when they see a neighbor outshine them.

Which illustrates the recent remark of the head of the Ohio Building and Loan association, that "when you put a progressive family on a backward street, you raise the level of the whole street." Many of our folks in Goldthwaite would admit that the sight of improvements made by their neighbors had induced them to beautify their own home places.

Pioneer Radio Girl Likes to Remain Voice to Fans

Vaughn De Leath
A shad-y tree to shal-ter me And close my cares a way

Vaughn De Leath Prefers Not to Make Public Appearances

New York City.—Vaughn De Leath, pioneer radio girl who has broadcast nine years, is often approached by concert managers who wish to take her on tour but she has consistently refused to accept public appearance engagements, as she wishes to be known simply as a voice.

"Besides I am so used to singing to my world audience that I really don't know how it would feel to appear on the concert stage, knowing that I was only singing to the thousand or so persons in the auditorium," the original radio girl declares.

"It is the vastness of radio that gets me, and I can sing ten times better into the microphone than I can in my own parlor. Of course phonograph recording is also singing to the whole world. When I first began to broadcast I was often not clearly heard, but people were so enthusiastic over this strange new toy that they didn't complain. They were anxious to hear anything. Now the public is most fastidious and a singer must be absolutely certain of her program and the clarity of her voice."

"At the present moment I would say that the waltz ballad is the most popular song on the radio, though preferences go in cycles. During the summer 'hot music' was in the ascendancy. 'A Shady Tree' by Walter Donaldson, which follows his 'At Sundown' and 'My Blue Heaven' is the most liked song on the air. Both words and music bring to mind a picture of spring and on cold winter nights, this has a great appeal."

From Europe, Africa and Asia, this pioneer radio headliner receives fan letters. In addition to a secretary, Miss De Leath has often had to call in the aid of an interpreter to read her mail. There have been bulky official looking letters bearing the crest of an African potentate, quaint long strips of praise on Chinese stationery, square sturdy envelopes from English country towns and thousands of letters of appreciation from American fans.

A man at Fort Worth went to sleep in his car near Lake Worth and a passing car bumped his car off into the lake and he was drowned. He may have been within his rights at the time of the accident, but many people presume on their rights on the highway and get hurt.

When A CLEANSING MEDICINE Is Needed

"I HAVE taken Black-Draught all my life, whenever in need of a medicine for constipation," says Mrs. G. C. Burns, of Buna, Texas. "My mother and father used it in their home for years, and I was raised to think of it as the first thing if I had a headache or was constipated."

"At one time I had indigestion real bad. I was all out of sorts; my skin was sallow, and I had gas pains. After a course of Black-Draught, I got all right. I have given Black-Draught to my children, whenever they needed a medicine of the kind."

A Diesel-motored automobile has been driven from Indianapolis to New York. The fuel for the 792 miles cost $1.38. If all the cars in Texas were Diesel-motored it is not hard to figure what would happen to the revenue of the state highway system from gasoline. The point to the comment is the fact that it is proposed to bond the highways and pay the bonds with the gasoline tax. Oil men scoff at the idea that gasoline will give out before the forty years or thereabouts for which the bonds would run. But we are prone to overlook the possibility that perhaps the demand for gasoline could run out before the gasoline does. A kerosene tax in 1890 would have yielded revenue. But nobody would propose a tax on kerosene now. It would be like taxing candle wicks. And the men who are working on the Diesel aim to make gasoline go the way of kerosene and candle wicks. —Dallas News.

The real mystery of a famous murder case in California has been discovered after a period of eight years, during which time the case became one of the unsolved murders of that part of the country. Recently, a weekly magazine conducted a series of contests to allow murder story fans to solve real crime mysteries by adding fictional solutions. This particular crime was included, yet not a single imaginary solution came near the actual facts in the case, which have just come to light. After eight years, the murder of a wealthy Los Angeles manufacturer was solved when an investigator discovered that the murderer had been hiding all these years in a secret compartment in the home of the murdered man. The wife of the murdered man had aided the scheme by allowing herself to be locked in a closet so that no blame would fall on her and all these years has been sheltering the murderer of her husband. —Denton Record-Chronicle.

1 1/2 Ton Truck $520

No matter what your business may be, bear in mind when you buy a truck that it's wise to choose a Six!

A six-cylinder engine runs smoothly—saving both the chassis and body from the harmful effects of vibration. It is more flexible in traffic. It requires less gear-shifting. And it maintains high speeds more easily.

The Chevrolet Utility Truck gives you all the superiorities of six-cylinder performance—(justified by a great 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine. And, in addition, it brings you all the advantages of modern listed at the left.

Come in today to see this sturdy six-cylinder truck. You can see for yourself why it's finding its way to the Chevrolet.

A body type available for every business

Leading body manufacturers developed, for the new Chevrolet trucks, an unusually wide line of bodies available in capacities, special designs to fit the needs of every business.

COMANCHE

Mrs. C. E. Whittenton died Friday at her home a mile north of Comyn and was buried Saturday afternoon at the Comyn cemetery.

The city tax rate was fixed at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday afternoon. The new tax rate will be $1.40.

Miss Ella Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Wallace, of Sipe Springs, died at 4 p. m. Saturday and was buried in the Sipe Springs Cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Sixty six different garments were displayed in the Comanche High School auditorium at 10 a. m. Friday when members of Miss Dudley Hicks' Home Economics Classes together with twenty two small children were presented in a style show.

Forty six relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Alleorn Sunday to help Mrs. Sara Neely celebrate her 92nd birthday, many friends joining the crowd in the afternoon to extend congratulations.

Tommy Black, son of Mrs. Della Black of Comanche, was killed instantly at 1:30 p. m. Friday near Ballinger, and was buried at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at Board Church. Mr. Black, who drove a truck for the West Texas Produce Co., was on a detour and on slick road when his truck skidded and went into a ditch, he was pinned beneath the steering wheel. Occupants of a car, immediately behind him were the first to render aid but apparently he was dead when they reached the truck.—Chief.

BROWNWOOD

Due to the fact Highway 7 as routed by the road engineers will cut the fair grounds in two and due to financial difficulties, there is a possibility that the Brown County Fair Association will discontinue to operate following a meeting called for Thursday.

Vernon Beard, Brownwood, was arrested Friday afternoon by Norman Jack, chief deputy under Bert Hise, chief of police, in connection with the robbery of the First National bank of Goldthwaite of approximately $4,200 on April 16. Beard was placed in the Mills county jail late Friday afternoon.

Ella Mae Owens, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Owens, 1109 West Baker street, received a broken leg and a severe cut across the forehead late Saturday afternoon when run down by an automobile driven by Fred O'Neal, mechanic. The accident was unavoidable, witnesses declared.

Funeral services for Joseph Lee Kart, 49, prominent ranchman and cattleman, were held Saturday morning at the Coggin avenue Baptist church. Mr. Karr was stricken with paralysis Saturday, April 26. He had been unconscious most of the time since.—Record.

CAPITAL AT WORK

As a general rule it may be said that the larger the accumulation of productive social benefits which flow from it. The "corporations" which the politicians talk so much about are large accumulations of capital. For that is all a corporation is. It is a type of organization, wisely provided for by law, the chief function of which is to gather together small amounts of capital into a large amount and to put it to work in some productive activity. The benefits which the corporation returns to the owners of the capital it uses, its stockholders, are the dividends it earns on that capital. But the benefit which it returns to the community in the form of the goods it produces, the employment it provides, and frequently the market affords for the raw products of the people, are always far greater than the benefits which the stockholders receive.

That is why we should desire to attract capital to the cities and towns of Texas, even from the ends of the earth. For capital at work in a Texas town cannot fail to benefit the people of that town to a far greater extent than it benefits its mere owners, no matter who those owners are or where they may live.—Texas Weekly.

ANOTHER PUSH

In the minds of some people the responsibility of rearing children makes the coming of a child into the home a doubtful blessing. I have already said in effect that to accept the responsibility, joyfully and with highest possible ideals to be transmitted to children is the intended order from the beginning of the race. Anything less reduces happiness and is disastrous to progress in the human career.

There are just a few things fundamental to making a real life, to the growing within a child the elements of worthy, competent manhood or womanhood. One thing is essential and that is to establish early in the history of children a growing unshakable confidence in the Bible as the message of God to man. Some parents don't seem to understand how necessary such a full confidence is. It forms the greatest anchor to life known to our race. No person is worth a pewter button who has not a serious sense of their responsibility somehow, somewhere, to authority, to society, but there must be a sense a greater sense in respect to parental responsibility and a deeper and more serious sense of responsibility to Divine Authority. To be conscious of debt to authorized authority is really good for any human life.

Well, well, the question comes up now and then as, to disagreement between some of the sciences and the Bible. The question needs to be settled especially in the mind of the youth. We are in a day of education and investigations. Every thoughtful person desires all the helpful information and investigation and hails with delight the present spirit of education. There is no disagreement between any established truth in science and the Bible. All along the years there has been one class of scientists who have wanted to find a fact which would prove some of the Bible untrue; and some of them have gotten into our school text books, but such points as are not biblical are suppositions. I take pleasure in quoting a few words from Honorable Philip Mauro of New York, whose knowledge is broad and profound on various subjects. Mr. Mauro refers to Mr. Wallace, who was among the most prominent scientists and a contemporary of Charles Darwin and has in his final and last conclusions set aside many of the things which science had sought to establish. Mr. Mauro says this, "The Bible was not written to impart the kind of knowledge we call science and yet it is the only book in the world truly scientific; for it is the only book which gives precise, accurate and absolutely reliable information upon every subject whereof it treats." It will always be true that no discovered fact in nature will be out of harmony with the Bible. All the attempts to discredit its authority is a vain effort to get released from serious responsibility. Doesn't take scholarly people to be so foolish. Some of the most illiterate and ignorant people I ever knew were anxious to find fault with the Bible. SAM SAY

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.—Clements, The Rexall Store. if

New Upholstery Fabrics

By Rose Warren

SINCE about a third of the new upholstery and drapery fabrics used in this country are now being made with rayon, and since American designers and decorators, as well as such French experts as Rodier and Mme. Henri, are using them more and more, it is interesting when you want to make use of these delightfully modern fabrics, to learn that they do not belie their sturdy appearance and that they wear very well. These new textiles are in many ways an advance over the old. Design, for instance, is no longer superimposed. It now grows naturally out of the cloth. Jute, linen and thick strands of wool are combined with the rayon to form these fabrics and result in cloths that are not only durable but especially suited to modern upholstered furniture. The simplicity and absence of complicated detail in furniture of the modern taste requires fabrics that are bold in design and yet with such studied simplicity that they are elegant in effect. Some have bold designs. Some have none. The texture is allowed to stand for itself. Numerous interesting weaves break up the surface of such cloths. Rayon moiré departs from the customary moiré because of its large sized ribs and impressive design. Rayon satin on the other hand, is done with subtle weave effects that capitalize the beautiful sheen of the fabric. Less formal and lustrous is rayon jaque which has a mottled surface in light and dark colors. The same fibre is used for some of the new pile cloths with most interesting cut and pressed surfaces and heavy modern damasks are being done with rayon designs that have a plastic quality. Really one of the main charms of Rayon moderne, in its best and most beautiful forms, is that it fits with its surroundings. These new fabrics do the same thing, with their just repellent surfaces and their stout weaves.

METHODIST CHURCH

Those who regularly attend
our services, (Sunday school, etc.) cannot help but notice the growth of our church interest in the last few weeks.
The four recent additions to our church membership, for which we are devoutly grateful and of whom we are proud,
is but part of the manifestations of the spirit of Life within. Our prayer meetings are attracting others. Our song service is promising to be our center of attraction. The new hymn books that came as a result of our Easter offering will afford us music in quantity and quality that will inspire us to greater growth in grace. Our choir deserves an opportunity to show its great ability, yet we must take heed lest we impoverish our church life by not giving the masses an opportunity to express their praise in the regular worship. The wonderful collection of hymns, choruses, duets, doxologies, solos and children's hymns, will prove worse than tinkling brass and clanging cymbals if we do not recognize and charitably consider the tastes, needs and religious demands each of the other. The choir, congregation, quartet, duet and solo, together with our highly appreciated orchestra (senior and junior) each in their place, all working at it hard and joyously (going to seed on no particular part) but remembering ours "Is a great God and greatly to be praised."

Mention has not been made sufficiently of the Flaming Cross service on Easter night.
It was indeed a wonderful service, well attended and will not be forgotten soon. Those who sponsored it have a right to be proud of the outcome.

Next Sunday is Mothers' Day. We do not celebrate it in the best way by touching reminiscences, but by joyous worship of her God. Let us each be at our post next Sunday morning and night, at all the services. The only mention of Mothers' Day we think needful is for the mothers of the coming generation, that they prove equal to the task in this their hour of great opportunity and thus watch our work with our children of today, and our church of tomorrow will be one strong enough and true enough to meet the issues of and overcome the obstacles which it must confront. To the extent of our faithfulness will our Zion be the "glory of God and the joy of the whole earth."

If we can be of help to you command us. You can help us.
May we count on you? Our full house will be fuller with you in it. Our praise will be more potent with your petition intermingled. Our ranks of Christian fellowship will be more victorious with you as a loyal fellow-soldier.

Come early to get a seat.
Yours in His service,
S. D. LAMBERT

DECREASE IN COUNTY

According to the census enumeration, the population of Mills county is 727 less this year than ten years ago, the figures being 8292, against 9019 ten years ago. This decrease is accounted for by the fact that as the county abandons cotton culture the need for workers grows less. The county has changed from an all cotton county to diversified products.
The mohair and wool, turkeys, chickens, poultry products and small grain now have the attention of a large percent of the rural population and these interests require far less labor than the cotton, hence the necessity for a reduction in the population. There were 1492 farms enumerated in the county.

Precinct No. 6 — Priddy — shows a decrease of 11 for the ten years, the figures for this year being 702 against 713 ten years ago. In the precinct 151 farms were enumerated.

Past Grand High Priest Sam
J. Helm and Grand Secretary
Tom Barkley of the Masonic Chapter are to be here Monday night to lecture the Goldthwaite Chapter, beginning at 7 o'clock prompt.

firm of McLaugh & Darroch, was among the visiting attorneys here the first of the week.

W. E. Fairman, who has spent several weeks in the sanitarium in Temple, was expected home last night and his condition is said to be much improved.

W. H. Laughlin of the South
Bennett community was a pleasant caller at the Eagle office Wednesday. He moved here about a year ago from Edwards county and likes the country.

Mrs. J. D. Miller and son, W.
B., of Weinert spent Monday and Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. D. T. Bush. They left for Lometa Tuesday evening, where they will visit another sister.

Prof. and Mrs. D. A. Newton made a week end visit to their daughter, Mrs. McNeill, at Valley Mills. Mr. Newton returned Sunday night, but Mrs.
Newton remained for a longer visit.

Dr. Lester Vick and wife and her brother, Mr. Bauldwin, all of Amarillo, were guests in the J. H. Randolph home last week end. Dr. Vick is a brother of Mrs. Randolph and he and party had been to a convention in San Antonio.

Walter Fairman purchased the building formerly occupied by Dr. R. A. Swanger's office, at the corner of Fourth and Front streets, and has had it moved onto a lot at the corner of Reynolds and Third streets, near the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Em Wilson, who had been in San Angelo attending a meeting of the directors of his radio company, went to Brownwood the first of the week to visit Ernest Wilson and wife and look over the company's business at that place. While there he was stricken with acute indigestion and for a time his condition was indeed critical. His daughter, Mrs. R. L. Armstrong of this city, was summoned to his bed side. She returned Wednesday morning and reported him improving and out of danger.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

We are mindful of the Divine injunction that was penned by the Apostle Paul—"In everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." It certainly behooves Christians to give thanks for every blessing bestowed upon them, blessings both temporal and spiritual.

I am sure we are all thankful for the splendid rains which have recently come to water the thirsty earth. Above all else we should be thankful for the provisions our Savior made for our salvation from sin. We are prone to forget the cost of our salvation, the tremendous sacrifices our Savior made that we poor, weak, frail mortals of earth might be free from the burden of sin. This salvation cost our Savior the agony of Gethsemane, the shame, disgrace and suffering of the cross. In view of all this, how much are we willing to sacrifice for the cause our Savior bled and died to establish? I suggest that we show our appreciation for what our Savior has done by being attentive at all services, the object of which are to advance the cause he suffered to establish.

We desire if possible a hundred per cent attendance upon the part of the membership of the Church of Christ. Our next goal is to have as many attend
the midweek prayer meeting Wednesday evening, as we have members in the congregation.
We made a splendid showing last Wednesday evening with an extra large class. We are making an extra effort next week. We will succeed sooner or later, so why not next week?

We made another record last Sunday in Bible study, and we are asking that this record be broken this coming Sunday.

The writer is to preach at Lake Merritt school house at 3 p. m. the second Sunday in this month. We hope there will be a good attendance.

ROCK SPRINGS

Sunday was a great day for us all. We had Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. and Brother Sparkman preached two good sermons. In the afternoon we were blessed with a big rain, which put water in all the creeks.

Monday was workers meeting.
We had a good crowd, and the meeting was good from beginning to end. If the roads hadn't been so bad after the rain our house couldn't have held the people.

Miss Minnie Hill went to

tion.

Walter Robertson and family
from Lake Merritt visited J.
T. Robertson and family Sunday.

Hardy McClary and Homer Doggett and wife visited in the Nickols home Sunday.

Douglas Robertson and family visited Woody Traylor and J. T. Robertson's Sunday.

Claud Laird visited his wife and baby last week end in Mrs.
Mary Faulkner's home.

Mrs. L. B. Porter visited Earl Clements and family in the city last week.

J. O. McClary and wife and daughter and Brother Sparkman and wife took dinner in the McNutt home Sunday.

Several from here attended the closing exercises at Center Point school Friday and Saturday night. All enjoyed the programs.

Mrs. L. B. Porter and Mrs.
Eula Nickels enjoyed fish with Homer Doggett and wife last Friday.

C. O. Stark and family from Center Point spent Sunday with Joe Davis and wife.

Mrs. R. E. Clements visited in the Nickols home last Wednesday afternoon.

We are glad to know W. A.
Daniel is still improving.

Miss Fay Ellis spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Ethel McClary.

The tennis courts were not very popular Sunday afternoon, as they stood in water
all afternoon.

Dwight Nickels was out to church Sunday night.

Miss Oneta Traylor visited her friend, Mr. Turner, and parents in San Saba county
last week end.

Mrs. Marion Robertson and boys attended church Sunday morning. They took dinner in the Traylor home.

R. C. Webb had business several days last week away from home.

We hope to find out before the month is gone why N. P.
Weaver wasn't at the Workers meeting Monday. He was on the program. We don't believe he stayed out on that account.
We always enjoy the laymen talks. Mr. Kemper's talk was fine Monday.

There will be plenty of work for everyone when it gets dry
again. BUSY BEE

G. E. BUCHANAN HURT WHEN HIS CAR GOES IN DITCH

G. E. Buchanan was painfully injured Saturday night when his car went into the ditch near the B. F. Romans residence. Mr. Buchanan stated that the roads were very slick just after the hard shower and his car almost went into the ditch on one side then veered and plunged in on the other side of the road. He has a badly wrenched back and is cut and bruised considerably. He was picked up by a traveler and brought home in a short time and is under the care of a local physician and resting well.

JOE FRANCIS IVY VALEDICTORIAN

The seventh grade of twenty students have faithfully competed for the honors of the 1930 class and Joe Francis Ivy is the valedictorian and Miss Wyno Rose Tillman, Salutatorian. Joe Francis had a lead over Wyno Rose by twelve points and also by two A plus's on daily averages. It was a very interesting and close race and both have done exceptionally good work and are to be congratulated.

Their teacher, Mrs. J. M. Scott, has spent the year with them, giving them the best of her ability and talent and always endeavoring to guide them to higher ideals.

P. T. A.

The P. T. A. had their regular meeting, Thursday afternoon.

The meeting was well attended. Mrs. Preston presided over the meeting in her quiet dignified way, which proved to her members she was going to make us a real president.

We decided to sell cakes and pies next Saturday, May 10, to finish paying for our piano. You mothers who have not had an opportunity to meet with us, we would appreciate very much if you would help us in this way.

Mrs. Preston and Mrs. Leineweber served cream and cake which was enjoyed by everyone. It is indeed a treat to be entertained by these charming ladies.

MRS. PRIDDY ENTERTAINS THE THURSDAY NIGHT CLUB

One of the most enjoyable events of the year was on last Saturday night when Mrs. Priddy was at home to the Thursday night club. She, in her charming manner, made everyone glad they were there. The rooms were lovely, decorated in cut flowers.

Progressive "42" and bridge were enjoyed by all. A contest of every imaginable 'gate' from navigate to car gate, furnished laughter and careful thought to all. Mrs. L. J. Smith won the prize, which was highly appreciated. A lovely plate consisting of tuna fish sandwiches, celery, oives, cake and ice tea were passed to the following: Mesdames L. J. Smith, M. E. Casey, Ford Lienneweber, W. S. Kemp, W. C. Preston, C. L. Summy, C. C. Hancock, A. G. Weston and Misses Lucy Wilson and Carrie Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. J. L. Chancellor, Mrs. G. W. Chancellor and children and Miss Mary Kemp visited relatives in Brownwood recently.

GEORGE MARTIN DEATH

Sad news was cast over this city Monday when from home to home the news flew that George Martin had died at 4 p. m. on May 5, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Martin, in Center Point community. He was young and cheerful and fought a faithful heroic fight or life and health.

Two years ago, this summer, George and his smiling happy bride were horribly burned and she then answered the final call. At times it seemed that George would again be restored to health; after long months of pain he grew better for a few months. Then the fatal illness came and George has passed over the River of Death.

He was a member of the Baptist church. A most devoted son and a good friend. He leaves many relatives and friends who are sad and lonely, for he has gone.

Rev. L. J. Vann conducted the funeral services and interment was at Oak View Cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. A beautiful floral offering covered his mound.

RIDGE GIRL WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Faye Massey won the scholarship offered by the John Tarleton Agricultural College for making the highest grades in her classes. Zelda Kelso won second place and Reba Dale Cornelius won third place. These girls will probably enter the Mullin school this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hancock visited in the home of their son, Mack Hancock, last Sunday.

Mrs. O. E. Rice and Mrs. Lienneweber were recent visitors to Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Elliott and children visited relatives in Zephyr Sunday and started home immediately after the big rain, but could not cross Pompey Creek. The bus came along and they rode home on the bus.

Miss Mary Lou Preston spent the week end at Pompey with Miss Ida May Roberts.

Mrs. A. E. Pyburn of Duren was called to Eola Sunday to be at the bedside of her daughter, Mrs. Jess Green, who will submit to an operation at an early date.

Mrs. Daniels and children of Oklahoma and Mrs. Collins of Cross Plains are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Chesser of Goldthwaite. These young ladies were reared here and were formerly Misses Callie and Ruth Chesser.

Mrs. Buford and Miss Annie Jo Vaughn of Dallas came over the first of the week to see their father, R. T. Vaughn, who is very ill. He returned to Dallas with his daughters where he will receive surgical treatment.

Tarleton Station, April 8.—According to an announcement just issued from the registrar's office at John Tarleton College, 67 students are on the honor roll for the six weeks' period, ending Saturday. Five students have straight A records; the other 62 made above a B in each subject. Among those making this fine record is H. H. Lockridge of Mullin. Lockridge has been on the honor roll five times this year. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lockridge have been elected to teach the Colby school in Comanche county.

They are deserving young people and we expect great results from them in their school teaching in the year of 1930-31.

DOGS GET IN THE SHEEP

D. B. Eaton, F. E. Burkett, E. A. Kemp and Edgar Burkett have been among the sheep men who have lost a number of sheep by sheep killing dogs recently. It is a disgusting sight to a man after months of hard work, through a cold winter with sheep, to find them slaughtered by dogs. It was just too bad for the dogs too, for a few of them at heard their last call—after a bit of poison was distributed.

Miss Lillian Doris Fletcher was a week end visitor in Zephyr.

Thurman Hicks of Stephenville visited his friends here Sunday.

The Editor received an interesting letter from C. E. McCormick of Houston, who spent the happy days of childhood here. He is making good and enjoys reading his home town paper.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Read announce the arrival of a son, Hicks Eugene Read, on May 30, 1930. Mrs. Read is better known as Miss Lalla Williams. Mother and son are doing well in a sanitarium at Brownwood.

Mrs. Jim Campbell of Star week with Mrs. Randolph Whitely.

Sam Morgan has returned home from Temple and is at his ranch home, seven miles south of town and at the last report, was slightly improved. He expects to go back to Temple in about ten days for treatment.

In a recent issue of the paper, we stated that the National Commander of the American Legion, O. L. Bodenhamer is a resident of Bakersfield, California, when his home is in Eldorado, Ark. He was making an airplane tour of the western states at the time the article was printed.

The Fayette County Democratic Executive Committee has decided to bar all candidates for office unless their applications are accompanied by affidavits that they supported the Democratic ticket from constable to president in the last general election.

Photostat copies of letters seized by New York police, purporting to show that the Communist International of Moscow was responsible for the fomenting of strikes and riots in the United States, were made public Friday by Police Commissioner Whalen.

A remarkable record is that of Mrs. George Waller of Burlington, Wis., who at the age of 74, twenty years ago was elected chairman of the Public Health Association of that city and has held that post for twenty consecutive years, has been re-elected at the age of 94.

The Commissioners Court of Bell County entered an order to employ a man to co-operate with the State Live Stock Sanitary Commission in eradicating the scabies among the sheep and goats of the county following quarantining of several herds on account of the disease.

Livestock and poultry were reported killed in a rain, hail and wind storm that swept Sweetwater Friday night. Hail was reported to have drifted to a depth of from four to fifteen feet west of there. More than two inches of rain fell there, and the fall in other sections was said to have ranged from one-half inch to four inches.

Two States, Texas and Wyoming will plant white birch trees to honor mothers on Mother's Day, May 11, following the custom nationalized by the American Forestry Association. Officials of the State of Texas will take part in the ceremonies sponsored by the Old Trail Drivers of Texas, when the State mother's tree is planted in the grounds of the Alamo.

Now comes a Collin County farmer with a marketing plan for the Southern cotton grower, if the Government will adopt the plan, which provides for sampling and grading at the gin, where a ticket is issued. The ticket is then taken to the postoffice and the grower receives a negotiable money order for the bale on a 25c per pound basis.—Clarksville Times

Gov. Dan Moody Friday assumed the role of peacemaker among the politicians of Texas and attempted to pour oil on the troubled political waters by admonishing both sides to stop their bickerings and get together. He scolded them as not being justified in their pet appellations of "Tammanyites" and "Hoovercrats." The Governor charged that the Republican party is the enemy of prohibition and that the ten-year record shows it.

A special from San Angelo says: The world's deepest cable tool wildcat, Ash Brothers, Irion County, was abandoned Friday at 8,900 feet in dark, sandy lime, after salt water had been encountered at 8,885 feet. The test was the deepest, by more than 250 feet, ever drilled with cable tools. Gambling for a fortune on a 2,800-acre block, the test was put down without outside aid. It was in the center of section 20, Washington County school lands, seven miles northeast of Barnhart.

POSTAL EMPLOYEE ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT KONJOLA

Stomach and Bowel Troubles Soon Banished. "Should Have Taken New Medicine Long Ago," He Says.

MR. FRANK B. NORMAN

"I suffered for a long time with stomach trouble," said Mr. Frank B. Norman, 828 Mississippi street, Amarillo. I had a very poor appetite and after eating I was subject to painful accumulations of gas. I was troubled with constipation and found it necessary to take cathartics constantly. I was losing strength and energy and no matter what I tried in the way of medicine, nothing seemed to help me.

"I seemed to improve in health from the time I began taking Konjola. My appetite picked up and I was able to assimilate my food better. I did not have that tired out feeling in the morning and my work was easier and more pleasant. Constipation soon passed and cathartics were no longer necessary. After continuing the treatment for a time I realized that Konjola was the medicine I should have taken long ago. I am continuing to take Konjola and am recommending it to all my friends."

Given a real trial over a period of from six to eight weeks, Konjola has made a record without parallel in the history of medicines. Ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness readily yield to its power.

Konjola is sold in Goldthwaite, Texas, at Hudson Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

SOMEBODY GROWS IT FOR YOU

When a farmer goes to town and buys a can of milk, a slab of pork, canned tomatoes, dried beans and a dozen other kinds of foodstuffs, he is patronizing farmers who have produced them for him. If he were buying direct from these farmers and could exchange other products with them, the trade would be even and profitable, but when he buys of the merchant, he is paying from three to four profits. The grower gets the small end of it.

The moral in this comment is, it is not what you can sell an article for that counts most, but what you must pay for it when you find it necessary to buy. When you sell pork on the hoof, you get around 9 cents a pound. When you buy it, you pay from 25 to 40 cents per pound. You pay railroad transportation to the packing house; you pay the commission merchant his profit; you pay the packer a profit and your share of the wages and salaries of packing house employees; you pay transportation and icing back to your own town on the prepared product and then you pay a profit to the retail merchant.

There are many items of food that a farmer can not produce to an advantage, but most farmers are so situated that by a little management, they can cut their food expense more than half; have more food; a greater variety and a better quality than they are able to purchase for cash or on store account. The cost of living is a large part of what any person is able to make, whether he live in the city or on the farm, and if this cost can be cut in half, or better, the money received from major crops means something more than just a means of paying the merchant and the banker for food already consumed or for money borrowed to carry one through until the crop is laid by.—Farm and Ranch.

SPRAY SUCCESS IS CONVINCING

No one knows how much an orchard will really produce until it is carefully sprayed for one season. The research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers cites the case of a farmer of Du Page county, Illinois, who last summer followed a recommended spray schedule and pruning instructions furnished by the state college of agriculture. He spent $66 for materials to spray his orchard five times. The result three and one-half-acre apple in cash returns was the sale of $1,300 worth of fruit right at his home. Another result of this successful application of spray, was the attendance of 117 farmers at a meeting and demonstration held by the state extension specialist near there this year. This large turnout led the extension worker to remark, "Money not only talks, but also convinces."

HOW MUCH DO WE OWE OUR CRIMINALS

The criminal class is one of the best paid in the United States. We usually regard crime as a social problem, overlooking the economic aspect. Yet one estimate places the nation's annual crime bill at 13 billion dollars. It will be said, of course, that our criminals are not actually "paid," in the sense of being employed. But it amounts to the same thing. Crime could not exist without public indifference and slothfulness. We talk about it and don't act. We calmly watch our legislatures pile new laws each year on the sagging statute books. We read that we have the highest homicide rate in the world and, along with it, the lowest conviction rate for criminals. The American people pay for crime. It is to a large degree within their power to lower the gigantic annual bill presented by the underworld society.

Removal of Attorney General Mitchell was demanded in the House of Congress Wednesday by Representative Putman, of Texas, who charged he "has failed and refused" to prosecute oil companies for violations of the antitrust laws.

An alleged counterfeit was shot and killed in San Antonio Saturday night. He was approached by an officer for investigation and made fight. A number of counterfeit $20 bills were found in his pocket. His companion fled and escaped.

The mystery of the disappearance of a large number of mail pouches at Temple recently was solved a few days ago with the arrest of a night baggageman for the Santa Fe Railroad. A search of his house and garage by United States postal inspectors resulted in the recovery of merchandise estimated to be worth $3,000 according to the officers.

The ordinary conveniences of the town home are heat, light, water, bath, a kitchen sink, sewage facilities, telephone and radio. These conveniences now have come, or are coming, to the farm; and an important feature of the situation is that usually they cost less in the country than in the city. A windmill for pumping water, and a septic sewage system can be installed on the farm for less than the cost of sewage tax on a town lot. Thousands of farms take light from power companies at city rates, or less, and those not near power companies can install farm lighting plants and operate them for about the cost of buying juice. Few farm homes are without telephones. Radios are almost as common as telephones. As Arthur Brisbane says, "You can get in the country everything you can find in the city, plus fresh air, sunlight, flowers, health, longer life, greater happiness.—The Earth."

A FAIR SAMPLE

The easiest way to belittle yourself in the eyes of a stranger is to make disparaging remarks about your home town. If you tell a stranger "this is a hick town and a hundred years behind the times" that stranger is apt of glance at you and make a mental, if not audible, comment that "judging from the sample before him it sure is."

For a town is just what you are. There is no use in trying to highbrow your way through and regard yourself as superior to your community, for you are not if you have lived here long enough to claim citizenship.

Your town is made up of a lot of "yous" and you are just a fair sample of it. If you don't like your town, move out of it and make room for some one who does like it. But as long as you are a citizen of it and a part of it, defend it if you care for the good opinion of others. Don't defame it and don't bring down the contempt of others on yourself by such an attitude toward the town where you reside. The stranger may have a lurking suspicion that sometimes he might want to move to a town like yours, but when he hears this sort of comment coming from you, he is apt to change his mind, for he does not want to associate with a town filled with people like you.

A town, like a stream of water, can rise no higher than its source, and you are the source for your town and the many other "yous" just like you.—Exchange.

Miss America Passes Up Titles For Yankee Mates

Life is sweet—er, Ri-ta, when you are near.

Dukes and Princes Need No Longer Apply, Says Singer

New York City.—Princes and dukes from across the water may sigh in vain for United States daughters and dowries. Miss America isn't having any titles this season, thank you! She's found something far more to her taste right here at home—a Yankee sweetheart.

At least that is the opinion of J. Harold Murray, who plays the lead in Rio Rita, popular new musical show produced by Florenz Ziegfeld.

Mr. Murray bases his conclusions, like Will Rogers, upon "what he sees in the papers" and even more pertinently upon personal observation. He is the kind of leading man who always has feminine admirers, no matter what role he plays. But lately he has discovered that the role does make a difference.

"The number of letters from fans increases by leaps and bounds as soon as I begin to play an American hero," he declares. "I have played men of every nation—and generally princes, dukes and the like. You would think a glamour would surround these that would make girls more enthusiastic than they ever could be about a plain American 'Mr.' But that does not seem to be true and I have noticed that lately there have been few marriages between American girls and Europeans of title."

"Since there are just as many old castles in the Old World crying out to be restored with American dollars as there ever were, I deduce that it's our girls who have changed—and I think, for the better. Perhaps the war did it."

Mr. Murray's singing of "Rio Rita," title song in the Ziegfeld production is a musical sensation here. He was chosen several years ago by Caruso for an operatic career, but has always stuck to operetta and musical comedy.

Middle Life Suffering

"Three years ago, I was in bad health," says Mrs. J. B. Bean, of Kirbyville, Texas. "I was going through a critical time, and I suffered a lot."

"My back hurt almost all the time, and my legs and ankles ached. My head hurt me until sometimes I would be almost past going."

"As I had used Cardui before, and knew how much I had improved after taking it, I got a bottle and started taking it. I continued to use it for several months. After a while I regained my health, and I feel that I could never have gotten through that awful time without Cardui."

Court has convened, and the grand jury is in session at this time. So one must be very careful about what he says or writes. In fact men ought to be careful as to what they say and do at all times, if they would the grand jury would have already adjourned, the jail would be empty and the district attorney and the judge, with all the other officials, could go fishing, and the lawyers would have to go hunting.

We had a little trial last Sunday morning at the court house (so this preacher has been informed) that the public will doubtless be interested in. Uncle Jimmy Rahl, who is our J. P., and who is a mighty good man, as well as a man whom every one thinks well of, has had his commission taken away from him by the Honorable Joe Curtis. I mean that part of his commission that allowed him to grant divorces. We all understand that divorces could only be granted in this court under the direction of Deputy Harry Allen, and that license could be issued only by County Attorney Pribble, and that ceremonies could be performed only by Uncle Jimmy, who incidentally mentioned an old grievance that once existed between Uncle Joe and Deputy Owen Priddy, and as a result of this Uncle Joe just called a court of inquiry, appointing himself judge and declaring Uncle Jimmy's commission "nil!"

Workers conference at Rock Springs last Monday was well attended. Good speeches, good fellowship and a bounteous feast at the noon hour were enjoyed by all present.

Our superintendent was away last Sunday, and we did not have quite as many present as usual. However, we went before the two hundred mark, the "Athens" had fifty present, which is a splendid record, and some of the other classes made just as good showing.

Sunday is "Mothers' Day" known all around the world as such, and we are doing our best to have a prepared program that will be in keeping with the day. Mothers' Day is not a day set apart by the congress of the United States for people to gather and cry, but it is a day set apart in honor of "Mothers." But what if people do shed a few tears? It's no disgrace. It doesn't show weakness. People ought not to think of this day as a day of sorrow, but a day that will bring to our memories the joys of yesterday, and when people shed tears on such an occasion generally they are shedding tears of joy and not tears of sorrow.

An outline of the program for Sunday will appear in another place in this paper. Read it. Make up your mind to attend. Come for the Sunday school hour. Bring your friends with you. Let's see to it that every ship with us. Remember that body has an invitation to work the Sunday school will start promptly at 10 a. m.

You rural people come to our service Sunday, you will be glad that you attended.
G. C. IVINS, Pastor.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR CLEANLINESS

"There is no substitute for cleanliness!" has been adopted as the slogan for the poultry program of Ohio by the extension specialists of that state. Sanitation in the poultry ranges and houses, to a degree which would have been regarded as absurd even in the country homes before running water was known, is the essential and only successful method for the prevention of poultry diseases which cut heavily into poultry profits and which are more expensive to cure than to avert, say the specialists.

Water is indispensable in cleaning, whitewashing and disinfecting and its availability will to a great extent determine the quantity and extent of its use, according to the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Clean range and sun parlors for baby chicks and growing pigs are of no avail unless the brooder and pig houses are kept clean to a hospital-like degree.

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

Hurrah! Hurrah! Mr. Editor it sure has rained. You have heard of trash movers. Well this was a straw stack mover. It actually moved half a straw stack out here and I am a truthful woman, not given to prevarication. If you don't believe it, just come out here and see.

We had more than fifty in Sunday school, counting visitors. We think this was real nice for a country church on a threatening day.

Roy Dellis, who has been employed in Amarillo, came in Friday night to visit home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Conner, Miss Irene Tullos and Mr. Sanderson took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hayes Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Spann and baby of California are visiting her sister, Mrs. Gracie Kennedy.

Mrs. Geo. Lewis and daughters, visited Mrs. R. E. Davis Sunday.

Mrs. J. D. Kennedy is visiting her grandmother Bledsoe of Big Valley at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Oden and children visited Mrs. Oden's parents Sunday.

The youngsters went to a party at Mr. Ledbetter's Saturday night.

Some of the gentlemen played dominoes at Bozar Saturday night. The laurels went to Bozar.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Byler and children of Brownwood spent the week end in the L. L. Hayes home.

A SUCCESSFUL SALE

The sale of pies at South Bennett school house was quite a success Saturday night and the occasion was one of pleasure to many, as well as giving the candidates an opportunity to speak. The object of the sale was to raise money for the piano fund for the school and District Clerk John S. Chesser served as auctioneer in disposing of the pies. The receipts amounted to more than $30, which was decidedly pleasing to those who planned the entertainment. Most of the county candidates were present and all were given an opportunity to tell of their candidacy.

my arms and leg and muscles hurt me all the time. I suffered with indigestion and constipation and my whole system was full of poisons. It was the luckiest day of my life when I started Sargon. I eat anything I want without a trace of indigestion, I sleep without having to get up once at nights, all the pains in my body are gone and I feel years younger. My nerves are steady, I sleep good and never have headaches any more." —T. G. Murphy, Seminary Hill, Ft. Worth. Clements Drug and Jewelry Store, Agents.

GOOD ROADS PAY

A recent survey claims the average cost of operation for all motor vehicles in the United States has gone down to 6.43 cents per mile; including insurance, depreciation, tires, fuel and maintenance. On high type roads the average is but 5.44 cents; on low type, 7.5 cents. Thus good, smooth, long-wearing pavements pay for themselves in lowered automobile operating costs. At present, the need of good roads is especially apparent in rural districts. Trunk highways are laid out to go from city to city by the shortest possible route. As a result, the majority of farmers, who it is estimated pay seven per cent of the total road tax, live on unimproved, dirt roads which are totally impassable during many months of the year. Modern, yet inexpensive, hard surfaced farm-to-market or feeder roads give the farmer all-year-round contact with his markets and adjacent towns. They help relieve traffic congestion on main highways and stimulate social and economic relations. A number of states, notably New York, have adopted rural road programs which should be emulated throughout the nation. For every mile of main highway built, between five and fifteen miles of feeder highway should be built at the same time. In this way can progress be served.

LET'S COUNT THEM ALL.

In a recent meeting concerning the dairy industry of Texas as it was agreed by those who have been trying vainly to get accurate data, that so far as Texas is concerned at this present moment, all the statistics we have are guesses. The same thing obtains in our neighbor states where dairying has made such rapid progress during recent years.

Since we do not know exactly where we stand in this great industry, we are somewhat handicapped in planning its future. We ship a lot of dairy products out of the state, and a lot more are shipped in. Whether the net result is loss or gain, is unknown.

The present census will give us the nearest approach to the truth about our dairy situation that we shall have for another five or ten years. It is to the interest of everyone who keeps dairy cows or is kept by them to get accurate data into this census in order that we can size up our status and determine whether we should push ahead, slow up, or back up.

Of course, we can make some general conclusions from mere observation, and we are not ready to say the Southwest should back up in any dairy development, but we are not sure in choosing between the other two alternatives.—Farm and Ranch.

LUCK AS SUCCESS FACTOR

President Carlton of the Western Union says the idea of hard work and faithful performance as the secret of success is "bunk." It is good luck, the "breaks," that makes the difference between mediocrity and success, he says. He is the first but one of the few leaders in industry and business who have admitted that luck played a great part in their success.

But business and professional life today is intensely competitive, nevertheless, and if a man gets all the "breaks," if he is lucky in his heredity in a business way, so that he has a "pull," and happens to be in opportunity's path right along, still, under present competitive conditions he will not last long in a place of high responsibility if he depends entirely upon the "breaks." It is a rule, for most people at least, that to hold his job, to say nothing of getting it, a man must make "good," enough.

While nobody can deny the importance of luck, yet on the other hand nobody can depend upon it. Luck is notoriously fickle, and in the long run a man is apt to be as unlucky as he is lucky. There is a good deal to the law of compensation, of action and reaction. What goes up must come down, and usually there is as much hard luck as there is good luck in a person's life. It is not to be imagined that Mr. Carlton, in stating his opinion that "the big thing in success is 'the breaks,' intended to say that these should be relied upon by a man seeking success.

The old fashioned rule of hard work, industry, fidelity, and so on, is the only dependable chart for the ordinary success seeker, even though employers sometimes play it too fine in preaching to their employees and smugly attribute their own success to their personal merits, rather than admit, like the president of the Western Union, that a large part of it was due to "the breaks." —Star-Telegram.

Foreign Musical Shows Need Jazz for Success

NIKITA BALIEFF

Where is my Meyer? — Where's my Meyer? — Each week's higher

So Says Nikita Balieff of Chauve Souris Fame

New York City.—"No show from Peking to Rio de Janeiro can be successful unless it has at least one specimen of American jazz to offer. So says Nikita Balieff, producer of the famous Chauve Souris.

"Jazz is the only universally spoken language," he declares, adding: "It makes no difference where I am, Leningrad, Paris, London, the people must have jazz rhythm for their musical entertainment. No other music in the world's history has ever become international. Friends bring reports that Japan, China and India are enthusiastic, too. As a good showman, I know that it is necessary to put this rhythm into my productions.

"I have had several tunes introduced in Paris, songs written by Americans which became popular abroad long before they were heard in this country. An instance of this was 'I Miss My Swiss.' That song was so popular by the time I arrived here that everybody knew it, and I had to get something new for the Chauve Souris.

"This year I reversed the process by bringing to New York a song by a German who has studied American rhythm. He is Anton Profes, one of Germany's greatest composers. He wrote for me 'Where Is My Meyer?' While the song is distinctly German in character, it is decidedly American in rhythm, and I do not hesitate to admit that if we had not been taught by an American director the essential rhythm, the song would not be the sensation that it is now.

"America holds the key to an international language. Set the tempo to American music and the whole world will speak and sing it in two years."
