An announcement of interest to their many friends is that made by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Allen of Owen street of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Melissa, to Hugh Wilmer of Baltimore, Md.

The ceremony occurred at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 14, in St. Paul's church, Richmond, Va., in the presence of relatives of the groom and a few close friends, among whom was Raymond Weeks, former head of the French department of Columbia University, in whose home near Richmond, Va., Miss Allen had been visiting the past summer.

She studied under Mr. Weeks during the years she attended Columbia University, where she received her Master's degree in 1919. She graduated from Crescent College in 1915 and received her B. CLASS ENTERTAINMENT

The Fidelis class met Monday evening and enjoyed a real feast. Only a few of the members were present, owing to the cold.

First, plans were discussed for the class Christmas tree. It was arranged to have this about two weeks before Christmas, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Jackson and. Listen class, if you miss this, you will certainly have regrets, because there is going to be plenty of fun and a world of eats.

We then gathered around the fire and cooked a fine supper. This was evidently good, because there were only a few crumbs left. We had as a guest Mr. Jas. Williams.

Come out next Sunday and join the Fidelis class, the class whose aim is: "To know wisdom and instruction; to perceive the words of understanding." Proverbs 1:2. FIDELIS REPORTER

UNION PRAYER MEETING

The Union Prayer Meeting will be held with Mrs. Lewis Hudson on Friday afternoon and with Mrs. Fuller the following Friday.

ZONE MEETING

On last Thursday morning twelve members of the Woman's Missionary Society and two other ladies drove over to Mullin, to meet with the Society of that church and delegates from a number of other Missionary Societies in Zone 3, which is made up of San Saba, Llano, Lampasas, Lometa, Richland Springs, Cherokee, Center City and Mullin.

An interesting program was conducted by Mrs. H. T. Cunningham of Kerrville, who has been our district secretary for several years. A beautiful prayer was offered by Mrs. Hugh Moreland at the opening of the morning session and Mrs. Cunningham chose as the subject of a very inspirational talk, "Walking and talking with Jesus," and stressing service in His Kingdom.

At the noon hour we were all invited into the basement of the church and there we found a most delicious turkey dinner prepared for the guests. Dainty place cards were uniquely arranged. They bore the tidings of Thanksgiving on tinted autumn leaves.

After partaking of the sumptuous luncheon, we all reassembled in the auditorium and the afternoon devotional was led by Mrs. J. M. Lewis of Richland Springs.

Mrs. Eli Fairman, a former citizen of Mullin, made a splendid talk on service in the Missionary Society. She spoke from experience, as she has been a faithful worker for many years and hopes to serve many more.

A most appropriate reading, entitled "Let me live in a house by the side of the road, and be a friend to man" was beautifully rendered by Miss Carrie Kirkpatrick. A duet was sung by two charming young ladies, Misses Reba Tillman and Hazel Hancock, accompanied by Mrs. W. S. Kemp at the piano.

All the reports from the different societies were then given and were indeed encouraging.

A great deal of credit is due the Mullin Society and church for the splendid manner in which they entertained the visitors, as it was quite undertaking for the size of the town.

Mrs. L. L. Wilson, president of the Mullin Society, was elected leader for Zone number three.

Mathis Dam, located forty miles west of Corpus Christi crashed at noon Sunday. One-half million gallons of water was reported pouring through the gap hourly. The crater is seventy feet wide and four feet deep.

Driving his car alongside his burial plot and among the graves of his relatives in a cemetery at Beaumont, H. S. Purvis, 41, local manager of a biscuit company, shot himself through the head with a pistol Friday afternoon, dying instantly.

Increased sales by department stores during October with decreased industrial production, a decline in factory employment and a further downward movement in wholesale commodity prices have been reported by the Federal Reserve Board in its monthly summary of business and financial conditions.

Sometimes a motorist gets the better of a hitch-hiker. Driving along the road, a Sweet water man picked up an elderly woman hitch-hiker, she shoved a pistol into his back, ordering him to stop the car and to hand over his money, but instead he grabbed the gun, threw it out, ordered the woman to follow it—and drove on.

The appeal of John W. Brady, former Associate Justice of the third Court of Civil Appeals, on a three-year sentence given him at Dallas on a charge of the murder of Miss Lehia Highsmith, Supreme Court Commissioner of Appeals stenographer, in Austin on Nov. 9, 1929, was at the head of the list of cases submitted to the Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday.

A refund of $72,735 to Secretary Mellon for over-assessment in income tax in 1926 was announced Friday by the Internal Revenue Bureau. The announcement said the refund was due to duplication of income, shift of income and contributions. The bureau allowed the secretary an additional deduction of $525.26 for contributions made during the year to two associations.

A series of twenty-five low water dams is being built across the Blanco river in the hill country southwest of Austin. Two of the dams have been completed. The project is unique because it is being carried out as a community project with about ninety citizens donating their efforts to the construction of the first two dams. The dams are being completed primarily to provide better fishing along the river and to encourage tourist traffic. A similar project of twenty-five low-water dams along the Pedernales river is being planned by the citizens of the valley of that stream.

Offering reciprocal accommodation to out-of-state motorists, the chief of the highway patrol and the law enforcement division of the highway department, Saturday wrote to every state seeking permission to allow Texas motorists to operate with 1930 license plates until Feb. 1, the legal time allowed in Texas to obtain a new license plate, and extending an offer of the same privilege in Texas. The states were asked to notify the Texas department of the legal time they allowed motorists to obtain a 1931 license, and were told that Texas would allow motorists of that state to operate here until that time.

Dallas Man Suffering With Kidney Ailment Finds First Relief in New Medicine

MR. W. E. ROWLEY

"For over a year and a half I suffered with rheumatism and kidney trouble," said Mr. W. E. Rowley, 216 Bryan street, Dallas. "I had dull aching pains across my back and was forced to rise frequently at night. A constant pain in my right leg caused me much misery and I limped in getting around. Pains in my back and side did not permit me a good night rest. I felt dull and listless and my vitality became lower and lower.

"A friend, who knew my condition, told me about Konjola. Konjola did so much for me that I am at a loss to express my appreciation. The rheumatic pains in my leg have left me for the first time in a year. My kidneys are once again functioning properly. My sleep is no longer broken by pains in my side and back. I have only taken two bottles, but I certainly shall continue the treatment. It is recommended that Konjola be taken over a six to eight week period. Best results are usually obtained in such cases.

Konjola is sold in Goldthwaite, Texas, at Hudson Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

THE RECORD COUNTS

Color of hair or feathers, type of a cow's horn, or the number of points in a hen's comb are, of course, mere esthetic considerations, but the bodily conformation of the cow or the hen has a definite and fairly well authenticated relationship to her capacity for milk or egg production. In meat animals, the determination by external points gives a very accurate measure of the economic value of the animal.

It is not so accurate in the case of milk cows or hens. The true test of the hen is the laying record and the final test of the cow is her milk and butter fat record. Why not make these records a part of the requirement in the show ring? Many a good-looking judged by points only, falls short of her promise when it comes to production. On the other hand, some high producers have bodily defects which put them out of the running when judged by externals only.

Valuable though the standards now used are, as guides in selecting the ideal animal, they fall quite short of infallibility. They have served well in giving breeders ideals toward which to work. They will still be as valuable in the future, even though they change somewhat from time to time. They have served as a sort of primary educational curriculum in dairy and poultry husbandry, but we believe that the time has come to lay out a more exacting advanced course.

In short, we believe that steps should be taken to require milk records of every cow that has had a lactation period and egg records of every hen that has passed a laying period. We do not presume to say what weight these records should have in deciding between two birds or animals, but we insist that proved performance is of great importance than theoretical capacity. We are willing for those whose specialty it is, to decide this point. But we would like to see animal and poultry husbandry people, in conference with breed associations, go

ADVERTISING PAYS

That crust of severe dignity which encases the Beaumont Journal was sufficiently thawed Wednesday to permit the printing of one of the best among recent examples of news paper humor.

According to that Texas paper, California, fearing the achievements and progress of Texas would focus the attention of the world upon this section, pulled off a train robbery.

Seriously, Texans could learn a lot about the advantages of publicity from the native sons of the Pacific's favorite shore. California believes in advertising, and lots of it. And why shouldn't she? Through advertising she created a prosperous industry from a motley bunch of orchards and vineyards. Through advertising she built great cities from small villages. Through advertising she made the California climate and California scenery synonyms for Paradise.

Texas has the resources, the climate, the scenery—everything necessary for duplicating and even improving upon, California's notable advertising triumphs. She lacks only the conviction that advertising is the answer to her problems.

Wherefore, in addition to a good five-cent cigar, Texas needs a salesman capable of selling Texans upon the worth of the modern worker of miracles, advertising.

THE KLAN RACKET PLAYS OUT

Except in Alabama, where the campaign of Senator Heflin for re-election as an independent Democrat has led to some revival of the strength of the order, the Ku Klux Klan, with its associated orders is playing out. But it will probably cause some surprise to learn, as we do from a copyrighted article in the Washington Post, how complete has been the debacle. It amounts practically to the death of the Klan in 47 states.

The Post's figures, from an authoritative source, show that at the height of the movement in 1925 the Klan had 8,904,871 members. In 1930 it had 34,964.

But what a glorious racket it was while it lasted. From ordinary memberships and from the additional fees of Knights, Kamelia and Knights of the Great Forest the Washington Post estimates that the order took in $90,000,000 between 1920 and 1925, inclusive. Nine million people all dressed up in sheet and pillow case and nowhere to go presented a spectacle too ridiculous to last long. It was dangerous enough while it lived. Its demise is good news for the country.—New York World.

into the merits of our proposal and give the producing bird or animal a chance to get the benefit of her production records in the show ring.

We invite discussion on this point and hope to see a beginning made by the time of the next fair season.—Farm and Ranch.

SIGHT SAVING CLASS

It is estimated that 3,000,000 children attending our public schools have defective vision so serious that it retards their mental development. Tens of thousands among these have such poor vision that even with properly fitted glasses they cannot see well enough to go thru school in the usual way.

There are others who are suffering from progressive eye disease, whose sight will be entirely ruined if it is not protected. In a few schools sight-saving classes have been organized. Three hundred and fifty of such schools distributed in ninety-five cities and twenty-five states are conducted at present.

Each school should deal with this problem. The child with defective vision should not be allowed to overstrain the eyes. A shorter course of study should be provided, with special attention to manual training.

The problem is to save the remaining sight of each child. These children should not be encouraged in the love of reading, which may result in total loss of vision.—Royal Neighbors.

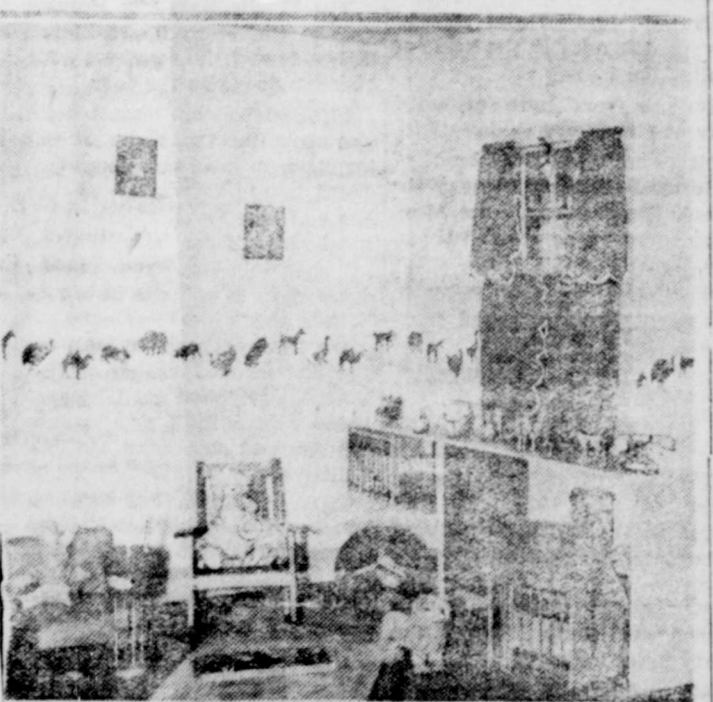

THANKSGIVING BERRIES

The Pilgrim Fathers, who instituted our Thanksgiving Day, also discovered how well cranberry jelly goes with turkey. Cranberries grew wild in Canada and the United States, especially along the east coast, but in 1800 their cultivation began in Massachusetts. Wide tracts of low, easily-flooded marshes were utilized, ground worth from ten to twenty dollars an acre having been made to yield from two to three hundred dollars worth of cranberries to the acre. Massachusetts and New Jersey in the east, Wisconsin and Washington in the west produce a large share of our cranberries. So popular are these berries for Thanksgiving feasts that a large per cent of the crop is consumed in November.

BEAUTY in the HOME

Playroom Colors That Last

Bobby and Sister must have a play-room, both for their own joy and for the protection of the rest of the home, but just how to manage it is a question that needs some thought in every family. Cheerfully attractive colors, materials that are not easily destroyed, and toys that stimulate the imagination are some of the things that have to be considered. Above is a picture of a play-room shown recently which seems to have all the necessities.

The walls of this room corner are finished in a charming yellow tint of flat wallpaint and the trim of the window and baseboard are in light blue brush duco. The shelf in front of the window is done in quick drying colored enamel in canary color while the benned turkeys, buffaloes, camels, ducks and horses on the wall are in the same enamel in black, Dutch blue and Chinese red. The window grapes are in rayon—red, edged with white.

BROWNWOOD

County Superintendent J. O. Swindle returned to his post of duty Monday morning, after having been in bed for the past several weeks on account of an appendicitis operation. Fire of unknown origin Friday night damaged a residence at 1422 C avenue to the extent of $3,000, according to Fire Marshal Ivan Ellis. The residence belonged to Charles E. Baughman of Austin. A total of $3,669.65 has been raised for charity work in Brownwood with several other committees to report, according to Mrs. Sterling Holloway, secretary of the Relief Association. The Contract Luncheon club was extended a delightful courtesy on Wednesday at noon, when Mrs. Lindsey Thompson entertained that group. Pink roses and pastel shaded carnations were grouped in the room where the guests were seated at quartette tables. A total of 71 fires in Brownwood during the first ten months of the year caused a loss of $158,399 to Brownwood property owners, according to a letter received Saturday by Mayor O. W. McDonald from State Fire Marshal J. W. DeWeese. Quite a bit of excitement was caused, but no damage was done Thursday when two electric wires came into contact with each other. The high tension wires threw sparks onto the roof of a dry goods building. The wiring had been straightened by the time the fire department arrived.—Record.

FARM DOLLAR BUYS MORE EQUIPMENT

In other periods of depression, farm purchasing power has been at low ebb but then, as now, farm equipment was lower in the comparative price range than almost any other similar manufactured commodity said Charles Deere Wiman in an address before the recent thirty-seventh annual convention of the National Association of Farm Equipment manufacturers. However, in former years the farmer paid more for some implements than he does today; and didn't get nearly so much for his money. In 1878, a two-wheel riding sulky, less eveners, sold for $68 which was higher than the price paid today for a three wheel, frameless plow much better in every respect. These depressions have emphasized the need for still lower costs in crop-producing operations stated Mr. Wiman, who pointed out the demand for the straddle-row walking cultivator which came shortly after the close of the Civil War. In the Seventies came the sulky plow followed by such outstanding labor-savers as the twine binder, the gang plow, check-row corn planter, hay loader, grain elevator and farm engines. Every piece of machinery must be designed to save money and labor through its use, he asserted, since to farmers planning is being based, to a rapidly increasing degree, upon what farm machinery can do for him. The farmer's problems are the problems of the farm equipment industry and all should work for those measures which will place the American farmer on the road to greater profits and agriculture on a higher plane where it rightfully belongs, Mr. Wiman concluded.

They play in water that makes them blue, And they are both pretty too; Both of them play, they seem to have lots of fun, They swim so fast they want to run. They like to run and play, I could watch them all day; They eat fish bait and oats, And swim like little boats.

BEAUTY in the HOME

New Fabrics Give Colorful Simplicity

COLORFUL simplicity is the note chiefly apparent in a bedroom recently shown, done in the French Provincial manner, a style having an increasing vogue in America because, if adequately interpreted, it is adaptable to almost all of our homes and fits in so well with Early American pieces. In fact, as a well known decorator remarks, "The motives that lead to the creation of French Provincial in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries were much the same as those behind Early American both of which were simplifications of the ornate, found in great measure houses and chateaux of that period." In the illustrations above, a French Provincial sleeping room is shown done in a soft rose with accents of yellow, mulberry and green. The walls and woodwork are painted a bluish pink. The furniture is in solid wood, not veneered, and is finished in clear duco. The draperies and upholstery on Louis XVI chairs and dressing table are in toile de rae, a new

All the gold mined in the world since the discovery of America could be cast into a 35-foot tube. Since the Washington Monument was opened to the public in 1888, nearly 10,000,000 persons have visited it. Enthusiasm for the permanent headquarters of the Federation of Women's clubs to be erected in Austin turned the order of the state convention at Houston into bedlam last week when members sprang to their feet simultaneously in the Rice Hotel ballroom to make pledges which amounted to more than $19,600. The fifth district received the prize, reporting forty-seven founders and patrons, each of whom gave $100 or more. A proposed six-hour day for railroad workers was indorsed Saturday by representatives of five brotherhoods in the industry, who had been in session in St. Louis for two weeks. Under the Texas parole system Jesse Carter, a negro, said to have been in the state penitentiary longer than any other convict, serving a life sentence for murder, has been granted a general parole. THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement. For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper. The lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the interiors of the new Fisher bodies provide a new degree of comfort and luxury: greater roominess; fine quality mohair or broadcloth upholstery; more pleasing interior fittings; and a new, completely equipped instrument panel.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better to provide more thorough satisfaction for the owner.

And along with these improvements, Chevrolet offers the smooth performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—four long semi-elliptic springs—four hydraulic shock absorbers—a safety gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

MRS. F. M. LONG PASSED AWAY

Mrs. Nannie Magdalene Long, widow of Mr. F. M. Long, died at the home of her son, James Long, Monday morning at 9 o'clock, and her remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at this place Tuesday afternoon, by the side of the grave of her husband, who preceded her in death by several years. Mr. and Mrs. Long were married in Coryell county on Dec. 24, 1884, and four children were born to them—two boys and two girls. Both of her daughters preceded her in death, but her sons survive her. The eldest James, is county surveyor of this county and lives in Goldthwaite, while her youngest son, Albert, lives in Dallas, where he is assistant city attorney.

The family moved to Goldthwaite in 1906 and Mr. Long was engaged in the real estate business and was county surveyor until time of his death. Mrs. Long united with the Methodist church at the age of 14 years and lived a consistent Christian life. She was a long and patient sufferer, but was ready to go when the summons came. SCHOOL BRIEFS

Miss Viva Delbeck became rather ill Friday afternoon, while taking part in our club program.

Both teachers and pupils are glad that the grilling tasks of exam week are over. We are now entering upon our third month of school and trust that it will be a successful one.

In spite of the fact that the weather has been rather unpleasant, we have had a full attendance this week. Our school grows larger nearly every week. We have many more pupils enrolled now than at the beginning of the term.

Our professor enjoyed seeing the Goldthwaite Eagles trim the Rochelle football squad last Friday. He predicts that Goldthwaite will have won another victory over Lometa before this goes to print.

Thanks, Busy Bee, we are glad you enjoy the paper.

Ivan Spinks and Arvon Davis made us a visit Monday.

Mrs. Brown has her room decorated. You should see it. Most especially the windows.

A GOOD THEME

Lindon Davis prepared an exceptionally good theme for his English class last week. He chose for his subject, "The Adventures of Rip Van Winkle." Presuming that he had gone to sleep in the year 1930, he told of the many things which were revealed to his astonished eyes upon his awakening twenty years later. The theme won the commendation of his teachers and classmates.

Johnny Fallon says, "No wonder I failed in that Latin exam. I thought that I was taking a test in English."

SCHOOL LIBRARY

Our Literary society has determined to build up the school library. We are asking that each family in the community donate one good book or sufficient funds to buy such. Now come on folks and show us that you are behind the school by helping us in this effort.

HONOR ROLL

The pupil who makes the Honor Roll at Center Point certainly has to work. Only those making a monthly average of "A" are allowed this distinction. In the Senior room two pupils came up to that standard. They are R. E. Shelton and Vergie Mae Taylor. Several only missed it in one subject.

In the intermediate room only one made it, Curtis Taylor.

Primary room—J. C. Wesson, Alvin Spinks, Ouella Wesson, Wilbur Meyer, Perry Shipman, Sherman Perry, Lucille Taylor and Dorothea Marie Davis.

AN ACCIDENT

On last Friday night Johnnie Taylor steered his Chevrolet into a ditch by the side of the road. Although Johnnie believed he was almost killed at the time, it was found that little damage was done. A burned out light fuse was blamed as the trouble.

THANKSGIVING OBSERVED

We are observing Thanksgiving by having a school holiday. On Wednesday morning we were entertained in chapel by an appropriate program.

DIDJA EVER

Didja ever find a "monkey wrench" in your desk? Did you? Gorman Perry found it to be a useful implement. He tightened up the parts in his brain.

Didja ever have a tooth pulled at school? Say; Huell and Zona Lee did.

Didja ever forget to study? Did you? Howard did.

Didja ever lose your temper "control"? Huh? Mr. Cooke did. No, there is no reward for it. He has found it.

IMPOSSIBILITIES

It is an impossibility for Leslie Shelton to come to school every day for a week.

It certainly would be impossible for Julia Dee Fallon not to comb her pretty black, straight hair exactly four dozen times a day.

OUR CLUB

Our Good English club met last Friday and we all had a very interesting contest and R. E.

Shelton won the prize, which was the queerest "little man" you ever saw. R. E. said he wished it had been a "little lady" instead.

WHAT IF—

Johnnie Taylor had been a Sailor instead of a Tailor?

Johnnie Fallon had been a Fall-off instead of a Fall-on.

Perry Shipman had been a Shipwoman instead of a Shipman?

BAPTIST CHURCH

Lost, strayed or stolen, thirty-nine Baptists, including one county demonstrator; also one brother-in-law to the Baptist church. The only one that has been found is Brother Wallace Leverett, and we are seeking information from him as to the whereabouts of the others.

We asked a Methodist Monday morning what they did with the rich young ruler. He frankly confessed that he did not know him and, therefore, could not give the desired information. There is one thing in common that we all know about this young man, and that was his wealth came between him and his Lord. Many folk misinterpret what the Savior meant when he answered the young man. The thing that was between the Master and the young man was his money. It could have been pleasure. It could have been something else. Jesus simply wanted to teach the lesson that he must be first in man's affection, or not at all. The great Master of life pointed out the moral and spiritual perils that beset riches, but never branded riches as inherently sinful, neither did he commend poverty as morally meritorious. Men do not go to heaven because they are rich or poor. Rich and poor alike go to heaven because they repent of their sins and believe in Jesus Christ as their personal Savior. Rich and poor alike go to the place of punishment because they won't believe on Christ as their Savior.

Southern Baptists are to have what is known as the Fourth Sunday School Conference, in Jackson, Miss., January 13-16, 1931, an attendance of 4500 is expected. Mr. T. F. Toland, our Sunday school superintendent, has been selected as one of the state's transportation directors by the Sunday school board. If there are those who are interested in attending this convention from our association, see Mr. Toland, and he will help get identification certificates that entitle you to reduced rates. By all means some one from this section ought to go.

Next Sunday is the fifth Sunday, and also the last day of November. Suppose every Baptist attend church Sunday, and let's put in our offering for the month of November, if we have not already done so. Our finances so far have been going fine. Just remember that every penny helps, and with our entire membership doing what they can certainly means that we will move right along in a wonderful way. If you are not able to help in a financial way, for heaven's sake do not let that keep you from attending our services. We need your presence. We need your prayers. We need your fellowship. We are doing our best to let everyone know regardless who they are, and what position in life they may have, that they are an important factor in carrying on our work at the Baptist church. We just can't be at our best without you. Those of you who have been absent, won't you be present next Sunday for both services? Just remember, if you don't get any good from the service, if you will attend with the right frame of mind, that you certainly will be an inspiration to this preacher. G. C. IVINS, Pastor.

BY THE WAY

Although thought lightens work, it produces weightier results.

If you watch the clock when you are twenty, you are apt to be a watchman when you are sixty.

The mind is like the stomach. It is not how much you put into it that counts, but how much it digests.

A lot of people never know where their next check is coming from, and a lot more never know when their last one is coming back.

If you only dream, you will undoubtedly find life a nightmare.

A man isn't licked until he begins to blame his wife for his failures.

Co-operate. Remember the banana. Everytime it leaves the bunch it gets skinned.

It takes a real fellow to walk erect when straightened by circumstances.

It may be alright to "say it with flowers," but that doesn't mean you're supposed to throw bouquets at yourself!

The fellow who acts like a nut shouldn't blame the rest of us for taking a crack at him once in awhile!

Unless you are digging, you are liable to be covered up.

The best way to get to the top of the tree is by getting down to the root of things.

Very few people have weak eyes from too much looking on the bright side of things.

A university man is said to have earned his way through college by taking care of a baby. A good many others have flunked trying to do the same thing.

OUR GOLDFISH

By Jimmie Frizzelle

We have some little goldfish. Some goldfish in a bowl. And I imagine they had rather be there.

Than out in the cold. I had rather they would be in the bowl too.

Because Mary would catch cold and So would Sue.

One is silver and one is gold. But they are not so very old.

OUR LITTLE GOLDFISH

By Constance Trent

Little goldfish, little goldfish; From where did you come?

From spring or pond or brook-lets that run?

Ten thousands of fish that live, are not half as pretty as you. So do you think you would like many more

Playmates than you do?

For the fish that live in the dark blue sea, Wouldn't mind eating you and me

Gifts from Miller's Jewelry store are gifts that can be enjoyed through the years.

"When I was a child, if I did not feel well, or if I had a cold, my mother gave me Black-Draught," says Mrs. Orpha Hill, of Wofford, Ky. "When I was married, it became a family medicine in my own home, as it was in my mother's."

"I take it for headache and especially for constipation. When I get bilious, my skin gets yellow and I have a very bad taste in my mouth, and a drowsy feeling all during the day. My eyes burn and I get dizzy, or my head is 'swimming.' When I take Black-Draught, it seems to drive the impurities out of my system and I feel fine. I am seldom without this reliable remedy."

THE PESSIMIST

Get rid of the idea that the world and the people in it are going downward rapidly because things are different from what they were when you were young.

Notwithstanding your attitude great advancement is being made.

You compare the present unfavorable with the past because you are of the past, and have not kept up with the march of time.

You may not desire to be modern, which is an admission that you are a back number.

Living in bygone years is a quick way to lay yourself on the shelf of uselessness.

How can you expect to gain satisfaction and enjoyment out of the present and what it affords if you shut yourself off from what is offered?

No one suffers so much as you from lack of adaptation to modern ideas.

Of course you are unhappy and discontented when practically everything at the present time is displeasing to you.

You can't bring back the past for which you long—why regret conditions over which you have no control?

Whiners are not wanted—you are here and you can select plenty of good things from modern ways and methods and be one with the world and your friends.—Houston Chronicle.

They are so very lively, And so very, very gay, It makes me want to stay there And watch them all day.

AN UNFINISHED EXPERIMENT

We have a report on our desk which tells of an experiment with cultivated and uncultivated orchards. One orchard was set out in a field where the land had been prepared. It was cultivated regularly and winter crops used. The other orchard was set out in native sod and was never cultivated. It produced earlier, better and more fruit than the former. The difference in treatment was in the use of nitrate of soda around the trees in the uncultivated orchard (whereas, the cultivated orchard was not fertilized).

Now the question is: What would have happened if the cultivated orchard had received regular treatments of nitrate of soda? Is it not possible that it would have done better than the orchard set out in the sod, which remained uncultivated, but in which the weeds were mowed once a year?

From the heading of the article, "Trees set in sod surpass cultivated orchards," one would get the idea that it was best not to cultivate, and this has been a mooted question for some time. But, had both orchards received the apparently needed fertilizer, would not the results have been different?

Farm and Ranch is inclined to believe that the nitrate of soda had more to do with the improved production than the lack of cultivation. Orchards should be fertilized if best results are obtained.—Farm and Ranch.

HITCH HIKERS BANNED

After more than 14 months of operation the Maine law against hitch hiking is declared effective and beneficial by General J. W. Hanson, chief of the state's highway police, although not a single prosecution has been necessary.

The law forbids any person on a public highway to "endeavor by words, gestures or otherwise to beg or secure transportation in any motor vehicle not engaged in carrying passengers for hire, unless said person knows the driver thereof or any passenger therein." An exception is made in case of sickness of an emergency nature. Maximum punishment for violation of the law is $50 fine or 30 days in jail.

Hitch hikers are a nuisance to motorists, and many cases are on record in which persons soliciting a lift have robbed and even murdered those who thus befriended them. On the other hand, most kindly disposed persons would willingly give an honest pedestrian a ride if there were any way to distinguish him from the other kind.

In this matter, as in so many others, a vicious minority seems to make necessary a law which imposes a hardship on those who have no wrong intentions. Law or no law, it is safer not to pick up the unknown hitch hiker.—Exchange.

STAGED A COMEBACK

The sheep and goat country of the Edwards plateau goes into winter much better condition than was dreamed of two months ago when panicky conditions prevailed. The September rains made rapid recovery possible.

All of which merely again stresses the great advantage which Texas agriculture and live stock raising have over most other areas in the matter of a long growing and pasture season, extending far into winter when other states must resort to grain feeding. The possibilities of Texas for a quick comeback were never more apparent than during this year and it should be reflected in better business once the idea that conditions have already changed for the better becomes general.

There is more to the matter than that, however. The drought has been of great educative value to Texas farmers and stockmen. They have learned that they must store up reserves in times of plenty against periods of unfavorable crop seasons. It will mean that a better farming system will follow the older slipshod methods. As Texas farmers get more and more into dairy farming and cattle feeding they have more at stake and will pitch their crops along lines required to give stability to their operations.

The size of the Texas cotton crop has shrunk consistently since August 8 report, which placed it at 4,496,000 bales, as against an estimated 4,175,000 bales as of Nov. 8. This has helped to reduce the United States cotton crop substantially and should be reflected in higher prices when spinners make up their minds to get into the market actively. Already campaigns are under way to reduce the cotton acreage in Texas and throughout the South in 1931. When Texas learns to produce as much cotton on one-half its annual acreage cotton farming will show more profits, but that is a story not within the compass of this article. There also is need for raising better staple by planting better varieties and

"THE LUMBERMAN"

Americans Are Becoming Authorities on Music

CHARLIE FRY

No Longer Unappreciative of Art, Says Leader

New York City.—The not infrequently heard accusation that Americans do not appreciate good music is absurd. Americans do like good music but it must be translated for them into their own American rhythm. They do not understand it in French, Italian or German phraseology.

It is Charlie Fry, musical director of the Million Dollar Pier at Atlantic City, who is authority for this theory.

Fry has played to twelve million people in the last few years. In fact, he holds the greatest attendance record of any musical director in this country.

All Native
"Examine the good music of any land," he insists, "whether it be that of Italy or the South Sea Islands, and you will see that it is native music. It speaks the language of the people for whom it was created. America is a new country politically and musically speaking. We have no record of its music before the English and Spanish settlements, except in rare cases of Indian tribes. While America was creating and evolving its own music, alien artists presented us with the works of their native masterpieces.

"Because we did not respond to it as did their own countrymen, we have frequently been accused of not appreciating 'good music.' But now that America has a music all its own, the absurdity of this idea is proved.

Music-Mad
"Today as a nation, America is music-mad but highly discriminating. In fact, all the civilized countries of the world are borrowing this rhythm which we have created. Many of our popular numbers will be classics of the new generation.

"I am playing a foxtrot this year, 'You're A Real Sweetheart,' which I predict will live as long as the folk dances of Hungary and the coal-miner songs of Wales. It has it."

Charlie Fry has a vivid family background for his own career as a foremost interpreter of modern American music. His grandfather was first violinist for Jenny Lind and one of the first foreign artists to take native American music seriously.
