CAR WRECK IN AUSTIN

Austin, Texas, December 1 — Mrs. J. A. Young of Lubbock, employed in the state treasury department, was in a hospital for observation tonight to determine the extent of injuries received in an automobile accident shortly after noon today (Tuesday). This was Mrs. Young's first day in the hospital. She was returning from lunch with her husband, Mrs. George D. Templin, wife of the Travis county district clerk, when their automobile collided with a taxicab. Mrs. Templin was uninjured. Mrs. Young's physician said she was suffering from concussion. He said he did not believe she was seriously hurt.

Mrs. Young, nee Zina Taylor, is a sister of Mrs. F. P. Bowman of this city. She was reared in Mullin and lived in Goldthwaite for a number of years, where she has a great many friends who sincerely regret the accident. A recent communication to Mrs. Bowman said Mrs. Young was not permanently injured by the accident, but before her recovery from its effects she was stricken with appendicitis and underwent an operation for that trouble. She is recovering now and it is believed she will soon be able to leave the hospital.

G. A. DINNER PARTY

An entertainment was given at the home of Mrs. R. V. Littlepage Saturday evening in the form of a dinner party. A turkey dinner was served for ten guests at six o'clock. The turkey, by the way, had been killed by Mr. Littlepage on his hunting trip. The dinner, which consisted of four courses, was perfectly delicious. After dinner the girls retired to the living room. From that time until the breaking of the party the room was a hubbub of laughing voices. Various stunts were executed by different girls for the benefit of the others. Finally, the girls took a very short leave, because everyone enjoyed herself immensely.

REPORTER.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society held their business meeting last Monday with a good attendance.

It was decided to try to get a coop of hens and a coop of turkeys to send to the orphans' home for Christmas.

The painting of the church and parsonage is going forward and we hope to have it finished by the holidays.

So many have asked for homemade pies that we have decided to have a pie sale Saturday, December 17, mostly sweet potato pies, or any kind we can get orders for.

TURKEYS FOR ORPHANS

The Missionary Society of the Methodist church is soliciting a coop of turkeys for the Orphanage at Waco. Those who will donate one or more turkeys for this good cause are requested to notify any member of the society or leave the fowl at any of the grocery stores in the city and it will be delivered. While turkeys are cheap, they will make a feast for the children at the orphanage just as much appreciated as if the price was a lot higher.

I. O. O. F. ELECTION OF OFFICERS

At a regular session of Goldthwaite lodge No. 330, I. O. O. F., Tuesday night, December 6, the following officers were elected: Dr. L. P. Huddleston, Noble Grand; D. O. Simpson, Vice Grand; Lewis Hudson, Secretary; J. E. Greathouse, Treasurer; J. E. Greathouse, representative to grand lodge; Lewis Hudson, alternate representative to grand lodge; C. D. Bledsoe, cemetery trustee.

RABBIT RIDGE

This community is still hoping for some hog killing weather. Mrs. Weeks and boys spent Thursday afternoon in the Will Stark home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and Louie Ponder sat until bed time in the Marvin Spinks home Wednesday night.

Those who went to the singing at Goldthwaite Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Mr. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Spinks and Mr. and Mrs. Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Black have been going to Scallorn to see Mr. Bradley's father, who has been real sick. I am glad to report he is a little better at this writing.

Abijah Stark has been the lucky hunter. He found a fox.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Horton visited Dorman Westerman and family Sunday afternoon.

C. H. Black and family moved Monday. We regret losing our good neighbors.

Miss Julia Dee Fallon of Center Point ate supper with Mrs. M. L. Spinks Sunday night.

The Bradley boys and their company went hunting Saturday night. I didn't hear what they caught, but they made plenty of noise.

Those who spent Sunday afternoon in Grandma Westerman's home were Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Lowe, Mrs. Dorman Westerman and little daughter.

A. F. McGowan went to town Wednesday.

Mr. Weeks from Big Valley

Singing Convention

The Mills County Singing convention was held in this city Saturday night and Sunday. The Baptist congregation offered their church building for the meeting and it was literally crowded with singers and interested hearers from many communities. The singers, under the leadership of President Carl Spinks, had prepared a full program and it was carried through in a most successful manner. They sang by classes, quartets, trios, duets and solos to the edification and delight of all who were fortunate enough to get inside of the building or within hearing distance. Some of the audiences had not attended previous conventions of the singers, but they will not miss these meetings in the future, if it is at all possible to get there.

The next convention will be held at South Bennett and doubtless full details will be announced at the proper time.

PROGRAM COMMITTEE.

SANTA CLAUS HAS COME

Santa Claus has already left a supply of very fine pecans at the Eagle office and we now think more of him than ever before. The pecans were brought in by J. J. Cockrell of Big Valley and we are mighty glad Santa picked him out to bring them, for he knows how to do the job right. The pecans are as fine as can be grown in Mills county, which is tantamount to saying they are as fine as could be desired. We certainly appreciate Mr. Cockrell's part in the transaction and will hold him in grateful remembrance.

Barn Burned With Heavy Loss

Liberality of Friends Is Unparalleled

J. W. Flatt of the Live Oak community had the misfortune to lose his barn and contents by fire last Thursday night. There is no clue as to the origin of the fire. The barn contained 400 bushels of corn, an equal amount of oats and 3000 bundles of feed and it was all consumed. Mr. Flatt at once purchased lumber to rebuild the barn and by the time he secured the material his neighbors were at work clearing away the debris and building the house. As soon as the barn was completed the neighbors hauled in feed and filled it. This, the Eagle believes, is the most outstanding act of neighborly kindness recorded in the county. Mr. Flatt and his good wife are overcome with gratitude and he was in Wednesday to insert a card of thanks to those who helped in any way.

This is just another proof sustaining the Eagle's claim that Mills county is located in the best part of the world and that the Mills county people can not be surpassed anywhere on earth.

BRIDGE TEA

Mrs. C. A. Eacott and Mrs. John Schooler, as joint hostesses, entertained with a bridge tea on Tuesday afternoon, at the Eacott home. The home was beautiful with appropriate Christmas decorations. The attractive bridge tables and other appointments carried out the Christmas theme.

Several interesting games of bridge were enjoyed in which Mrs. Kelly Saylor won high score and Mrs. Tom Hawkins of San Simon, Ariz., won consolation Christmas novelties were presented to the winners.

Players for four tables of bridge and about fifteen who called at the tea hour enjoyed this delightful affair.

Covers were laid and a dainty salad course was served, featuring the season's colors.

LEGION MEETING

The Harry F. Edmondson Post of the American Legion has leased the Woodmen Hall over Joe Palmer's grocery store and will hold its regular meeting there next Tuesday night.

Plans for a wrestling match to be sponsored by the post will be discussed at this meeting. An interesting program is promised.

Social Events of the Past Week in the City

CLUB MEETINGS AND OTHER ENTERTAINMENTS

TUESDAY STUDY CLUB

Mrs. Joe A. Palmer was hostess to the Tuesday Study Club at her home at the regular meeting this week.

A number of items of interest were discussed during the business hour.

Mrs. J. T. Helm was leader for the program on Southern Writers. Mrs. E. D. Stringer, Mrs. Frank Taylor and Mrs. Sparks Bigham read interesting papers on the subject and Mrs. R. H. Mayfield, who was ill, sent in a paper, which was read by Mrs. Helm.

Mrs. Lester Berry sang "My Old Kentucky Home."

Mrs. Palmer served a delicious salad course with fruit cake and coffee. She was assisted by her sister, Mrs. J. C. Darroch of Brownwood.

Mrs. R. M. Thompson, Mrs. J. W. Kelly and Mrs. J. C. Darroch were guests.

ENTERTAINMENT

On Friday evening Mrs. G. H. Frizzell and daughter, Miss Georgia, entertained in a very charming manner at their pretty home atop the hill, with a six table bridge party.

Big fluffy yellow and white chrysanthemums were attractively arranged throughout the reception suite.

Two courses, a salad and sweet course, were served.

Mrs. Marvin Hodges and Kelly Saylor received rewards for high scores.

A GUEST.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

County Clerk Porter has issued marriage license to S. A. Couch of Mullin and Miss Ruth Tully of Indian Gap, Hoover Hodges and Miss Viola Soules, both of Moline. He also has an application for license for Henry Hopper and Miss Ella Steigemoller, both of Priddy.

ART AND CIVIC CLUB

Mrs. Claud Eacott entertained the members of the Art and Civic Club and other guests with a five-course luncheon at her home at noon Thursday. Appointments suggestive of the Christmas season were used.

It being "Federation and Presidents' Day" Mrs. Harry Allen, as president, was honor guest. Mrs. Roy Rowntree, presiding, carried on the program as the luncheon progressed.

A vocal solo was given by Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., with Mrs. Fred Martin as accompanist. Mrs. Allen gave a very vital talk on "Citizenship."

Reports from the state convention of Federated Women's Clubs, which recently met at Corpus Christi, were heard: Mrs. Jake Saylor spoke on "Outstanding Women of the Convention;" Mrs. Rowntree and Mrs. Martin gave some interesting convention notes. "Benefits of Being Federated" was the round table discussion.

At this time the guests were "hushed" by a knock at the door and little Billy Leverett, dressed as Santa Claus, entered and presented the honor guest with a gift from the club members.

At the close of this delightful luncheon, all stood and sang "Holy Night."

After the guests departed, the Club members remained for a short business session, at which time officers for the coming year were elected.

A DELIGHTFUL PRESENT

Mrs. Oltrogge has the sincere appreciation of the Eagle editor and wife for one of the most delightful fruit cakes we have ever seen. It was intended for Christmas, but we could not withstand the temptation to sample it and now we fear it will not last until Christmas. However, we will endeavor to keep enough of it to bring back recollections at Christmas dinner. It was certainly kind of the good lady to remember us in this way and no present would have been more appreciated.

STAR SCHOOL NEWS

Choral Club

The girls in the Star Choral Club are learning some beautiful songs for the program to be rendered soon. The director has chosen some outstanding numbers and all the girls are very interested in making a success of them. We are very glad to report that some boys have joined the choral club.

Activities in the Grades

The first and second grades have a hot campaign on, as to which one can get the most Christmas trees between now and the 23rd of December. If the child makes 100 per cent in his reading lesson, he is awarded a small Christmas tree to paste on a bright colored sheet of construction paper. The student receiving the greatest number will be given a present. They are having much better reading lessons.

There is scarcely any change in the honor rolls this week. The fourth and fifth grades retain their same leaders. In the third grade there is a change in the "B" class. Eunice Horton has forged ahead by two points for second place. We are all becoming more interested in our Christmas program.

CROSS EYES

POMPEY CREEK

The Better School and Home Club of Pompey Creek community met Friday, Dec. 2, at 7 o'clock and rendered their first program.

The house was called to order by the president and the minutes read by the secretary, after which a short program of readings and music were given, followed by a 40-minute play entitled "Jerry."

The program committee appointed as follows for the next program: Mrs. A. E. Bean, Mrs. Roy Weeks, Misses Alma Blackwell and Mildred Carlisle and L. R. Tesson.

There will be two plays given Dec. 22 and 23. More definite announcements will be made at a later date.

SHE FINDS JOB IN KITCHEN PLANNING

As a new profession for women, that of "kitchen planning," has just turned up in the trade directories. So far as known there is only one exponent of this novel way of earning a living, but she has succeeded in making a good living out of it, even tho she launched her new business just about the beginning of the depression period. She is Mrs. Ann C. Willis, and she has offices in six cities.

One day may find her in New York at the office of an architect, planning ideal kitchens before the house plans leave the blueprint stage. Another day she is at a client's house, perched upon a stepladder measuring her china and the space it requires, asking about the size of the family, the scale of entertaining, and the consequent demands made upon the kitchen. Between these stops she may drop in to study a kitchen that, like Topsy and Turvy, "just grew," full of mistakes that no one, least of all the owner, realized were being made, and that now is to be done over.

In the comparatively short time Mrs. Willis has been a "Kitchen Planner," she has discovered that a great many kitchens have exactly the same defects. For instance, they lack sufficient storage space, with the result that utensils have to be piled in stacks and working surfaces become cluttered up. Another common defect is that sinks, stoves and tables are the wrong height. This, of course, is easily remedied, but many housewives tire themselves out day after day bending over a low sink without ever realizing what the trouble is. Most kitchens, she finds, don't get enough light and air. Daylight is best, of course, and it should come from the left when you're standing in the position you most frequently occupy. Two windows are preferable, to give cross ventilation, but when that's impossible the one window should be opened from the top. Electric blowers are useful in such cases and cost little to run.

If your kitchen is so large and so old-fashioned that the unnecessary space wastes time and energy, move everything into one corner of the room, Mrs. Willis suggests in the American Magazine. Put the stove over within friendly distance of the sink. If your husband is handy with a hammer, get him to build a cupboard near the newly assembled kitchen, or buy a kitchen cabinet. A table on wheels (old go cart wheels are excellent for the purpose) will prove a great help in eliminating steps.

If, on the other hand, your kitchen is small and you are cramped for space, her advice is to build cupboards over the ice box and put slender ones in narrow places. Very often they can be built in under the sink, in space that usually goes to waste. Next, weed out pieces of china rarely used and banish them to the cellar or the attic.

LOST 20 LBS. OF FAT IN JUST FOUR WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast — It's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

EARLY DAYS IN GOLDTHWAITE

The Eagle received a copy of the Robert Lee, Coke County, Observer a few days ago and it contains some references to people who lived here years ago and some who still live here. The Observer editor is A. W. Puetz, who was a small boy when the family moved away from Goldthwaite. He says:

"In he stepped and right straight before he told us, we told him who he was—yes, you're Sam Ross from Goldthwaite, used to trade horses down there with my dad. Been about 30 years since we had seen him—he was a man buying, selling and swapping horses—we were a 10-year old kid. Father run a livery stable and traded horses too.

George Seaborn run a wagon yard, so did Joe Proctor—those were the days of local option. Two brothers, one a pro and the other an anti in the saloon business, fell out over it and didn't speak to each other for more than a year. But Sam and Wad Ross were horse traders, built up a big business, moved to Fort Worth and got rich and old man depression came along and slowed 'em down. Wad Ross married Miss Laura Hicks, our best friend—she always kept we boys from fighting on the way home from school. She pulled me and Ed Blanton apart one day, but after we had passed her house and got around the corner, we got together again and the thing came off—ask Ed, Jake Harper, Shelby Cox or Oscar Burns. She was a grown young lady and we all just kids, about 10. She is dead now, but we'll never forget her and her good father, L. O. Hicks, a minister.

Then there was John Roberts. We had a cow that always kicked the bucket out of our hands if we failed to tie her legs together, (which we usually did with a baling wire), then run us out of the lot over a rail fence, and paw up the dirt around about. John would tell we boys old Keeney was only apologizing to us and it got our goat.

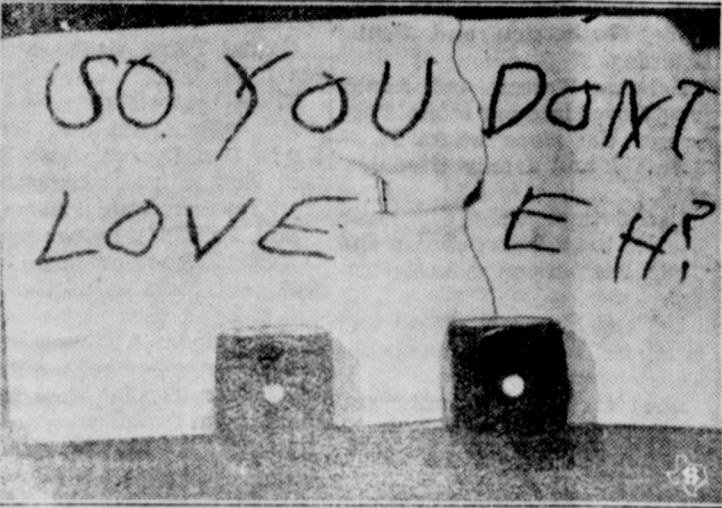

Sam and Wad Ross were in the crowd on the court house square one first Monday in 1901, when they were auctioneering horses and mules to the highest bidder, just west of the old windmill on the square, when Claude, our younger brother, came running in the house out of breath, eyes "bugged" out and told mother there was a man up there in town preaching to the mules. The man was standing on a platform completely surrounded by mules and he was talking very loud. How else could it look to a small boy two blocks away, who could see nothing but that man and those mules?

So Sam Ross dropped in on us by chance to put an ad in the paper and his face had remained with us for 30 years.

Strangled With Her Silk Stockings

• MRS. LEONA BUCHANAN H. K. BUCHANAN •

* The frail body of Mrs. Leona Buchanan was laid to rest Sunday, leaving behind one of the most baffling murder mysteries on police records. The pretty 34 year-old film booker was found nude and strangled to death Thursday in her Dallas apartment following a drinking party. Here is the mysteriously worded death note, with the dice which weighed it down beside her when her body was found. Upper left is the murdered woman. Her husband, who rushed to Dallas from Oklahoma when he learned of her death, is shown in upper right.

UNIVERSITY'S NEW ENGINEERING BUILDING IS WELL EQUIPPED

The new engineering building of the University of Texas at Austin is to be finished sometime during the second semester, will be one of the finest equipped buildings of its kind in the Southwest. The expenditures for plumbing will total $2,200, for heating $45,054, lighting equipment $56,829, laboratory equipment $12,512 and the architects fee is estimated at $2,000, making a total estimated cost of $391,945.

One of the many unique features of the building will be the special "illumination demonstration" room. Four lights constructed by the General Electric company solely for educational purposes, and capable of making thirty different light effects will illuminate the room.

The department of communicative engineering will have a complete manual telephone service system, valued at between $20,000 and $25,000 given to the University by the Southwest Bell Telephone company, when it replaced that system with the dial system in San Antonio, September 10.

Another gift to the college of engineering is that of a well-known make of automobile, which possesses only the chassis, motor, and other mechanical parts. An electric motor operates the parts of the chassis and motor which have been constructed in such a way as to allow all students to see every detail of the working parts of the machine in operation.

SAFETY REACHES ITS MAJORITY

The organized safety movement in America is coming of age.

It was born in 1912 to combat the appalling death and accident rates then prevailing in many industries. It has since immensely expanded its usefulness so that it works not only to protect life in the factory, but in the home, on the highways, in the school—wherever the risk of accident exists.

Its achievements are its monument. Despite vastly increased industrial production, fatalities have been cut more than thirty per cent. Factories which were once known as "human slaughter houses" are now safer for the workman than is his home. Accidental deaths to children have been cut through the introduction of safety education into school curriculums. The number of children injured or killed by automobiles has dropped materially—but the adult toll of automobiles has jumped at a dizzying rate.

In this last field the safety movement has met its greatest obstacle. The highways are thronged with irresponsible, incompetent and reckless drivers that last year claimed 34,000 lives and were responsible for hundreds of thousands of accidents. Safety on the highway can come only when automobile operators—like factory workers and executives—realize their responsibility and become "safety conscious." Then organized safety movement will have conquered its greatest enemy.

Boys Offered Best Stories

Bad times are good times for magazine readers, according to the editor of youth's favorite magazine, THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION. More people are writing than ever before, he states, and finer adventure, more gripping yarns, more downright reading thrills are due the magazine subscriber than ever in history.

THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION in 1933 will be loaded from cover to cover with great experiences. For adventure the reader will travel with the Royal Canadian Mounted thru forests and mountains, penetrate to the military posts of Borneo; ride with cavalry in India, plunge into the Amazon jungle.

There'll be character-building stories of the professions, of school and college life. There'll be articles on sports, travel and science, that take boys to the Orient, that explain the mysteries of ocean liners and air transports. There'll be stories that satisfy the boy's wholesome appetite for fun and thrill, and his keen desire to learn.

THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION costs just $2 a year or $3 for three years. In other words, when you subscribe for three years, the magazine's savings enable them to give you a subscription for only a dollar a year! It's the ideal gift for that boy you're interested in, be he son, nephew, neighbor, cousin, or son of your business associate. And an attractive gift card bearing your name will go to him if you request it. Send your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 West

ROCK SPRINGS

Sunday was a beautiful day. Those who attended Sunday school were John Roberts and wife, J. O. McClary and wife and Ethel, Austin Cooke and Nellie D and Mrs. Nickols. Next Sunday will be our church day. There will be church Saturday morning, Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Don't forget we go to Center Point Sunday afternoon to hear some good singing.

Several from here attended the singing at Goldthwaite Saturday night and Sunday. Everyone reported lots of good singing.

The League from Center Point rendered the best program here Sunday night. We have heard in a long time. Everyone on the program had studied their part well. That community should be proud of their young folks and the older ones, too. No wonder we read such good news from Center Point, because Bo-Peep has such an excellent memory. The quartette was fine. Bro. and Sister Sparkman's duet was real good. I feel sure that you people are proud to have this good family living with you. If Bro. Sparkman can teach school like he can sing, he is a fine teacher. We welcome the League back again next year.

Those who dined with George Bohannon and family Sunday were E. D. Roberson and wife, Sherill Roberson and Vera Mae Hale, Austin Cooke and Mrs. Eula Nickols. No wonder George and son are the picture of health. Their cook sure knows how to prepare a good meal.

Mrs. M. R. Circle is spending this week in San Saba with her son and wife.

The news from Rabbit Ridge last week was fine. Keep it coming Cross Eyes.

Oscar Gatlin accompanied his sisters to Brownwood Saturday. He did his Christmas shopping.

Saturday morning bright and early W. C. Webb, J. T. Robertson, Louie Ponder, Marvin Spinks, James and Shirley Nickols saddled their horses and headed for Mullin to Trades Day. Well, there was some trading done. Marvin Spinks and Shirley Nickols traded for some different horses. I can't say whether they were new or old animals, especially the one Spinks got. Mrs. Nickols was loser as it was her horse Shirley traded off. Now he claims the new horse.

Mrs. Lula Gatlin and Mrs. Dwight Nickols from town spent Thursday afternoon in the Nickols home.

I guess you remember the continued hog story we had not long back. While in town Saturday I heard of one something like the Gus Roush hog. Hammond Bodkin bought this hog and her family. The last time he saw this hog she had left her family and was coming west towards Rock Springs. This is a good place for wild hogs to come. If Mr. Bodkin will just ask Roush, he can get this bunch of wild hog chasers out here and they will bring his hog home in the future. We hope the hog will decide to come home to her family.

Rev. G. C. Ivins and wife, Haynes Harrison and wife from town were inspecting our new road Sunday afternoon. Just ask them. They can tell you what a good road we have to the bayou.

W. A. Daniel went to Fort Worth Sunday afternoon with a truck load of hogs.

George Bohannon and family from town attended services here Sunday night.

Mmes. Nickols and Doggett and baby dined in Joe Roberts home Saturday.

Some sold turkeys again this week. Too bad the price is so low. Jack Robertson's horse fell with him Monday night and he is suffering with a bad hand.

Fred Cockrell and wife, Mr and Mrs. Conley from Fort Worth and Charley Stark and family from Center Point visited in J. C. Stark's home last Friday night.

Mmes. Nickols and Roberts and children visited with Mrs. Doggett Monday.

Harvey Dunkle and wife and Mrs. Woody Traylor and Christine spent Wednesday with Gus Roush and family in town.

Mrs. R. C. Webb has been real sick this week, but at this writing she is improving.

Monday morning Little Billie Ruth Daniel wasn't feeling well enough to go to school, so up in the morning she got to feeling better and told her mother she was going hunting, so her mother decided she had been gone too long, she would go see about her.

She met Billie Ruth about two miles from home, bringing in a great big armadillo. She wants to sell it and make her some Christmas money. She is eight years old.

Joe Roberts and wife from town canned chill meat in the Nickols home Wednesday.

Homer Doggett and family visited his parents Saturday night. As I close the wind is blowing real hard. By the time this is read I hope we have had a good rain and then a norther.

BUSY BEE.

SENORA CALLES

Senora Llorente de Calles bade a wordless farewell to Mexico the other day and slipped away into Forever Land. By her side stood the Man of Iron who had been as wax in her slender fingers. His bowed head hid the face that men have called hard; his heaving shoulders choked back the cry of anguished loss. Soft-footed attendants drew the curtains at the windows and shut the door quietly behind them as they left him alone with the Senora.

But 30 years old she was and lovely as the fairest of her race. Gently, unobtrusively, her life had lain in the arms of his fierce affection for only two short years. The flower of a strong man's last autumn of youth has succumbed and left him to a winter of old age suddenly come upon him. And there the General in the darkness of the death chamber fights the battle in which there is no victory, save by surrender.

Because he has shown himself a great man in a time when his country needed great men, because he has known how to be a great patriot also when his tour of official duty came to an end, because his stern old heart is torn with a sorrow that visits all sons of grief—the people of the United States join the population of two continents in sympathy and regret.—Dallas News.

SHE FINDS JOB IN KITCHEN PLANNING

As a new profession for women, that of "kitchen planning," has just turned up in the trade directories. So far as known there is only one exponent of this novel way of earning a living, but she has succeeded in making a good living out of it, even tho she launched her new business just about the beginning of the depression period. She is Mrs. Ann C. Willis, and she has offices in six cities.

One day may find her in New York at the office of an architect, planning ideal kitchens before the house plans leave the blueprint stage. Another day she is at a client's house, perched upon a stepladder measuring her china and the space it requires, asking about the size of the family, the scale of entertaining, and the consequent demands made upon the kitchen. Between these stops she may drop in to study a kitchen that, like Topsy and Turvy, "just grew," full of mistakes that no one, least of all the owner, realized were being made, and that now is to be done over.

In the comparatively short time Mrs. Willis has been a "Kitchen Planner," she has discovered that a great many kitchens have exactly the same defects. For instance, they lack sufficient storage space, with the result that utensils have to be piled in stacks and working surfaces become cluttered up. Another common defect is that sinks, stoves and tables are the wrong height. This, of course, is easily remedied, but many housewives tire themselves out day after day bending over a low sink without ever realizing what the trouble is. Most kitchens, she finds, don't get enough light and air. Daylight is best, of course, and it should come from the left when you're standing in the position you most frequently occupy. Two windows are preferable, to give cross ventilation, but when that's impossible the one window should be opened from the top. Electric blowers are useful in such cases and cost little to run.

If your kitchen is so large and so old-fashioned that the unnecessary space wastes time and energy, move everything into one corner of the room, Mrs. Willis suggests in the American Magazine. Put the stove over within friendly distance of the sink. If your husband is handy with a hammer, get him to build a cupboard near the newly assembled kitchen, or buy a kitchen cabinet. A table on wheels (old go cart wheels are excellent for the purpose) will prove a great help in eliminating steps. If, on the other hand, your kitchen is small and you are cramped for space, her advice is to build cupboards over the ice box and put slender ones in narrow places. Very often they can be built in under the sink, in space that usually goes to waste. Next, weed out pieces of china rarely used and banish them to the cellar or the attic.

Women who suffer from weakness often have many aches and pains which a stronger state of health would prevent. Women in this condition should take Cardui, a purely vegetable tonic that has been in use for over 50 years. Take Cardui to improve the general tone of the system in cases of run-down health and "tired nerves." Women have found, in such cases, that Cardui helps them to overcome pains and make the monthly periods easier. CARDUI is safe and wholesome for women of all ages. Try it! Sold at the drug store.

LOST 20 LBS. OF FAT IN JUST FOUR WEEKS

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast — it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

EARLY DAYS IN GOLDTHWAITE

The Eagle received a copy of the Robert Lee, Coke County, Observer a few days ago and it contains some references to people who lived here years ago and some who still live here. The Observer editor is A. W. Puett, who was a small boy when the family moved away from Goldthwaite. He says:

"In he stepped and right straight before he told us, we told him who he was—yes, you're Sam Ross from Goldthwaite, used to trade horses down there with my dad. Been about 30 years since we had seen him—he was a man buying, selling and swapping horses—we were a 10-year-old kid. Father run a livery stable and traded horses too.

George Seaborn run a wagon yard, so did Joe Proctor—those were the days of local option. Two brothers, one a pro and the other an anti in the saloon business, fell out over it and didn't speak to each other for more than a year. But Sam and Wad Ross were horse traders, built up a big business, moved to Fort Worth and got rich and old man depression came along and slowed 'em down. Wad Ross married Miss Laura Hicks, our best friend—she always kept we boys from fighting on the way home from school. She pulled me and Ed Blanton apart one day, but after we had passed her house and got around the corner, we got together again and the thing came off—ask Ed. Jake Harper, Shelby Cox or Oscar Burns. She was a grown young lady and we all just kids, about 10. She is dead now, but we'll never forget her and her good father, L. O. Hicks, a minister.

Then there was John Roberts. We had a cow that always kicked the bucket out of our hands if we failed to tie her legs together, (which we usually did with a baling wire), then run us out of the lot over a rail fence, and paw up the dirt around about. John would tell we boys old Keeney was only apologizing to us and it got our goat.

Sam and Wad Ross were in the crowd on the court house square one first Monday in 1901, when they were auctioneering horses and mules to the highest bidder, just west of the old windmill on the square, when Claude, our younger brother, came running in the house out of breath, eyes "bugged" out and told mother there was a man up there in town preaching to the mules. The man was standing on a platform completely surrounded by mules and he was talking very loud. How else could it look to a small boy two blocks away, who could see nothing but that man and those mules?

So Sam Ross dropped in on us by chance to put an ad in the paper and his face had remained with us for 30 years.

UNIVERSITY'S NEW ENGINEERING BUILDING IS WELL EQUIPPED

The new engineering building of the University of Texas at Austin is to be finished sometime during the second semester, will be one of the finest equipped buildings of its kind in the Southwest. The expenditures for plumbing will total $24,200, for heating $45,054, lighting equipment $56,829, laboratory equipment $12,512, and the architect's fee is estimated at $2,000, making a total estimated cost of $391,945.

One of the many unique features of the building will be the special "illumination demonstration" room. Four lights, constructed by the General Electric company solely for educational purposes, and capable of making thirty different light effects will illuminate the room.

The department of communicative engineering will have a complete manual telephone service system, valued at between $20,000 and $25,000 given to the University by the Southwest Bell Telephone company, when it replaced that system with the dial system in San Antonio, September 10.

Another gift to the college of engineering is that of a well-known make automobile, which possesses only the chassis, motor, and other mechanical parts. An electric motor operates the parts of the chassis and motor which have been constructed in such a way as to allow all students to see every detail of the working parts of the machine in operation.

SAFETY REACHES ITS MAJORITY

The organized safety movement in America is coming of age.

It was born in 1912 to combat the appalling death and accident rates then prevailing in many industries. It has since immensely expanded its usefulness so that it works not only to protect life in the factory, but in the home, on the highways, in the school—wherever the risk of accident exists.

Its achievements are its monument. Despite vastly increased industrial production, fatalities have been cut more than thirty per cent. Factories which were once known as "human slaughterhouses" are now safer for the workman than is his home. Accidental deaths to children have been cut through the introduction of safety education into school curriculums. The number of children injured or killed by automobiles has dropped materially—but the adult toll of automobiles has jumped at a dizzying rate.

In this last field the safety movement has met its greatest obstacle. The highways are thronged with irresponsible, incompetent and reckless drivers that last year claimed 34,000 lives and were responsible for hundreds of thousands of accidents. Safety on the highway can come only when automobile operators—like factory workers and executives—realize their responsibility and become 'safety conscious.' Then organized safety movement will have conquered its greatest enemy.

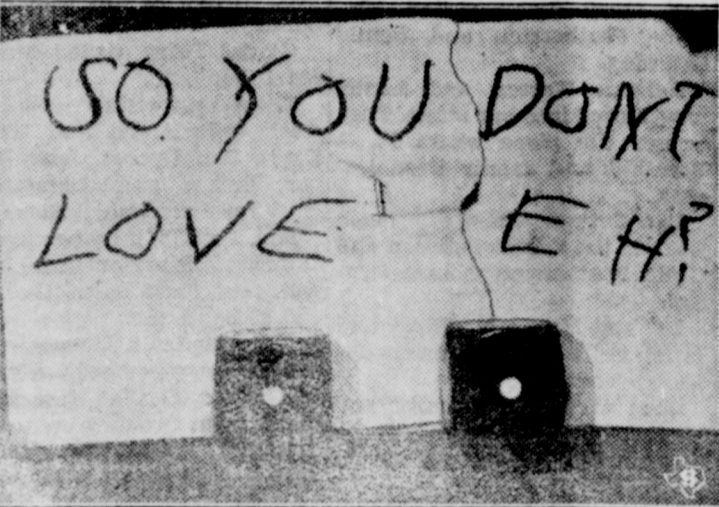

Strangled With Her Silk Stockings

MRS. LEONA BUCHANAN

H. K. BUCHANAN

The frail body of Mrs. Leona Buchanan was laid to rest Sunday, leaving behind one of the most baffling murder mysteries on police records. The pretty 34-year-old film booker was found nude and strangled to death Thursday in her Dallas apartment following a drinking party. Here is the mysteriously worded death note, with the dice which weighed it down beside her when her body was found. Upper left is the murdered woman. Her husband, who rushed to Dallas from Oklahoma when he learned of her death, is shown in upper right.

Boys Offered Best Stories

Bad times are good times for magazine readers, according to the editor of youth's favorite magazine, THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION. More people are writing than ever before, he states, and finer adventure, more gripping yarns, more downright reading thrills are due the magazine subscriber than ever in history.

THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION in 1933 will be loaded from cover to cover with great experiences. For adventure the reader will travel with the Royal Canadian Mounted thru forests and mountains, penetrate to the military posts of Borneo; ride with cavalry in India, plunge into the Amazon jungle.

There'll be character-building stories of the professions, of school and college life. There'll be articles on sports, travel and science, that take boys to the Orient, that explain the mysteries of ocean liners and air transports. There'll be stories that satisfy the boy's wholesome appetite for fun and thrill, and his keen desire to learn.

THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION costs just $2 a year or $3 for three years. In other words, when you subscribe for three years, the magazine's savings enable them to give you a subscription for only a dollar a year! It's the ideal gift for that boy you're interested in, be he son, nephew, neighbor, cousin, or son of your business associate. And an attractive gift card bearing your name will go to him if you request it. Send your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY-YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 West

Sunday was a beautiful day. Those who attended Sunday school were John Roberts and wife, J. O. McClary and wife and Ethel, Austin Cooke and Nellie D and Mrs. Nickols. Next Sunday will be our church day. There will be church Saturday morning, Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. Don't forget we go to Center Point Sunday afternoon to hear some good singing.

Several from here attended the singing at Goldthwaite Saturday night and Sunday. Everyone reported lots of good singing.

The League from Center Point rendered the best program here Sunday night, we have heard in a long time. Everyone on the program had studied their part well. That community should be proud of their young folks and the older ones, too. No wonder we read such good news from Center Point, because Bo-Peep has such an excellent memory. The quartette was fine. Bro. and Sister Sparkman's duet was real good. I feel sure that you people are proud to have this good family living with you. If Bro. Sparkman can teach school like he can sing, he is a fine teacher. We welcome the League back again next year.

Those who dined with George Bohannon and family Sunday were E. D. Roberson and wife, Sherill Roberson and Vera Mae Hale, Austin Cooke and Mrs. Eula Nickols. No wonder George and son are the picture of health. Their cook sure knows how to prepare a good meal.

Mrs. M. R. Circle is spending this week in San Saba with her son and wife.

The news from Rabbit Ridge last week was fine. Keep it coming Cross Eyes.

Oscar Gatlin accompanied his sisters to Brownwood Saturday. He did his Christmas shopping.

Saturday morning bright and early W. C. Webb, J. T. Robertson, Louie Ponder, Marvin Spinks, James and Shirley Nickols saddled their horses and headed for Mullin to Trades Day. Well, there was some trading done. Marvin Spinks and Shirley Nickols traded for some different horses. I can't say whether they were new or old animals, especially the one Spinks got. Mrs. Nickols was loser as it was her horse Shirley traded off. Now he claims the new horse.

Mrs. Lula Gatlin and Mrs. Dwight Nickols from town spent Thursday afternoon in the Nickols home.

I guess you remember the continued hog story we had not long back. While in town Saturday I heard of one something like the Gus Roush hog. Hammond Bodkin bought this hog and her family. The last time he saw this hog she had left her family and was coming west towards Rock Springs. This is a good place for wild hogs to come. If Mr. Bodkin will just ask Roush, he can get this bunch of wild hog chasers out here and they will bring his hog home in the future. We hope the hog will decide to come home to her family.

Rev. G. C. Ivins and wife, Haynes Harrison and wife from town were inspecting our new road Sunday afternoon. Just ask them. They can tell you what a good road we have to the bayou. W. A. Daniel went to Fort Worth Sunday afternoon with a truck load of hogs.

George Bohannon and family from town attended services here Sunday night.

Mmes. Nickols and Doggett and baby dined in Joe Roberts home Saturday.

Some sold turkeys again this week. Too bad the price is so low. Jack Robertson's horse fell with him Monday night and he is suffering with a bad hand.

Fred Cockrell and wife, Mr and Mrs. Conley from Fort Worth and Charley Stark and family from Center Point visited in J. C. Stark's home last Friday night.

Mmes. Nickols and Roberts and children visited with Mrs. Doggett Monday.

Harvey Dunkle and wife and Mrs. Woody Traylor and Christine spent Wednesday with Gus Roush and family in town.

Mrs. R. C. Webb has been real sick this week, but at this writing she is improving.

Monday morning Little Billie Ruth Daniel wasn't feeling well enough to go to school, so up in the morning she got to feeling better and told her mother she was going hunting, so her mother decided she had been gone too long, she would go see about her.

She met Billie Ruth about two miles from home, bringing in a great big armadillo. She wants to sell it and make her some Christmas money. She is eight years old.

Joe Roberts and wife from town canned chili meat in the Nickols home Wednesday.

Homer Doggett and family visited his parents Saturday night.

As I close the wind is blowing real hard. By the time this is read I hope we have had a good rain and then a norther.

BUSY BEE.

SENORA CALLES

Senora Lorente de Calles bade a wordless farewell to Mexico the other day and slipped away into Forever Land. By her side stood the Man of Iron who had been as wax in her slender fingers. His bowed head hid the face that men have called hard; his heaving shoulders choked back the cry of anguished loss. Soft-footed attendants drew the curtains at the windows and shut the door quietly behind them as they left him alone with the Senora.

But 30 years old she was and lovely as the fairest of her race. Gently, unobtrusively, her life had lain in the arms of his fierce affection for only two short years. The flower of a stork man's last autumn of youth had succumbed and left him to a winter of old age suddenly come upon him. And there the General in the darkness of the death chamber fights the battle in which there is no victory, save by surrender.

Because he has shown himself a great man in a time when his country needed great men, because he has known how to be a great patriot also when his tour of official duty came to an end, because his stern old heart is torn with a sorrow that visits all sons of grief—the people of the United States join the population of two continents in sympathy and regret.—Dallas News.

UNITED PRESS AND TEXAS NEWS PHOTO OFFICIAL SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE TEAM

Here is the official Southwest Conference all-star team for 1932 picked by ballots of coaches and sports writers of the conference for Texas News Photos and the United Press. Texas Christian University, the champions, placed five men. Texas university, second place holder in the conference, placed four men. Baylor university and Texas A. and M. placed one man each, while other 10 conference schools are not represented. Wallace of Rice and Baxter and Sprague of S. M. U. were close contenders for first team position ever. T. C. U.'s great line gained four positions out of seven, while Texas' outstanding backfield received three. Baylor's lone representative, is an outstanding star, as is Nolan, Texas A. and M.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

NEWS IN BRIEF

Two men were captured at the south edge of Borger Monday afternoon after the First State bank of Panhandle was robbed of $3500. All the loot was recovered.

Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo, wife of the United States Senator-elect and daughter of the late President Woodrow Wilson, underwent a successful operation Monday in a Los Angeles hospital for removal of her appendix.

Announcement is made that President-elect Franklin Roosevelt plans to make a thorough study of the whole structure of the federal government during a series of talks with experts he will call to Warm Springs late in January.

Congressional action to increase the income of the American farmer by elevating the general level of agricultural prices to a par with other commodities was advocated by the farm board before a congressional committee this week.

Louis Blaylock, former mayor of Dallas, died at his home in that city Monday, after a long period of failing health. He was 83 years old and was one of the best known men in Texas. For many years he published the Texas Christian Advocate for the Methodist denomination.

President Hoover this week presented to congress a drastically reduced budget, recommending a 2 1/2 per cent manufacturer's excise tax, retention of the gasoline tax, an additional 11 per cent cut in government salaries, and a big slash in veterans' benefits.

Regulation of private motor truck operations in Texas by the state railroad commission was upheld by the United States Supreme Court in a decision this week. The decision, from which only on justice dissented, was at once hailed as of greatest importance, for it established for the first time a method through which states can in the future regulate the use and operation of the private contract carriers.

Mrs. Nettie Houston Bringham, last surviving daughter of Gen. Sam Houston, first president of the Republic of Texas, died early Monday in a San Antonio hospital of injuries received when, en route to Houston, the automobile in which she was riding upset near Schulenburg late Saturday. Slight injuries were suffered by Mrs. Bringham's daughter, Mrs. Nettie Bush, of San Antonio, who was driving; the latter's daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Maude Haltchew of Abilene.

Pronounced dead by a physician, Sam Harlin, a laborer in Los Angeles, was brought back to life Wednesday by having his throat slashed. Harlin was eating when a piece of food lodged in his throat. The doctor pronounced the man dead, and then in one final effort to restore life performed a delicate operation. He slashed Harlin's windpipe and with the aid of artificial respiration, restored him to life. The man was removed to a hospital, where it was said he would recover.

By a margin so narrow that a change of five votes would have shifted the result, the house of representatives Monday defeated the Garner prohibition repeal resolution. The vote was 272 in its favor and 144 against. A two-thirds vote was needed to approve the resolution, since it was for amendment of the constitution. The action by the house virtually spells the death knell for prohibition repeal in that branch during the short session. Speaker Garner indicated that it would go over to the new Democratic congress, which is pledged to the platform. Nevertheless, the Democratic leadership plans to go ahead with its program to legalize beer for the purpose of imposing a tax. Only two Texas representatives in the house voted against the resolution to repeal the eighteenth amendment. They were Representatives Thos. L. Blanton and Wright Patman.

HOW CAN I?

Q. How can I clean an aluminum tea kettle?

A. Take a solution of 30 parts borax and 1000 parts water, to which a few drops of spirits of ammonia have been added. Polish by hand.

Q. How can I make a bedbug destroyer?

A. Oil of pennyroyal, 1 drachm turpentine, 8 ounces; kerosene oil, enough to make one gallon.

A good bedbug killer is benzene, pure and simple. The vapor it must be remembered, is inflammable.

Q. How can I blue gun barrels?

A. Dissolve 2 parts of crystallized chloride of iron; 2 parts solid chloride of antimony; 1 part gallic acid in 3 or 5 parts of water; apply with a small sponge and let dry in the air. Repeat this 2 or 3 times. Then wash with water and dry. Rub with boiled linseed oil to deepen the shade. Repeat this until satisfied with the result.

Q. How can I judge the age of an egg?

A. A new-laid egg placed in a vessel of brine made in the proportion of 2 ounces of salt to 1 pint of water, will at once sink to the bottom. An egg 1 day old will sink below the surface, but not to the bottom, while one 3 days old will remain just immersed in the liquid. If more than 3 days old the egg will float on the surface. The amount of shell exposed increasing with age, and if 2 weeks old, old a little of the shell will dip in the liquid.

Q. How can I clean oil paintings?

A. Wash oil paintings with warm milk and water. Then dry them without rinsing.

Q. How can I make a convenient twine holder?

A. Place the ball of twine or cord in a jelly glass. Punch a hole in the tin lid of the glass for the cord to run through.

Q. How can I clean wrought iron?

A. Dampen a woolen cloth in sweet oil, rub thoroughly and then polish with a dry woolen cloth.

Q. How can I make a hand-cleaning paste?

A. Dissolve 2 1/2 pounds of white soap in 5 1/2 pints of hot water. As it cools and sets, stir in one pound of fine sand.

SKINNING FURBEARERS

There are two methods of skinning fur-bearing animals—open and cased. The raccoon, bear, beaver, badger and cougar should be skinned open. The mink, marten, weasel, fisher, fox, skunk, wolf, wolverine, muskrat, house cat, wild cat, civet and opossum should be cased.

To skin an animal open, cut from the point of the lower jaw down the belly to the vent, down the back of the hind legs, and on the inside of the front legs across the breast to the point of the brisket, then peel off the skin. Animals that can be used as rugs or mounted, such as bear, mountain lions and wolves, should have the feet skinned out to the end of the toes, leaving the claws attached to the skin. Cut off the feet of other animals.

To skin an animal cased, cut from the feet down the inside of the hind legs to and around the vent. Peel the skin carefully from the hind legs and skin the tail by slipping a split stick over the bone. By gripping the stick with the right hand (with the bone of the tail between the second and third fingers) and holding the animal with the left hand, the skin may be stripped off easily. The tail may be split all of the way down without damaging the sale of the pelt. Is is a good idea to split the tails of foxes and skunk to keep the tail from becoming tainted. If any of the bone is left in the tail, it will spoil.

Peel the skin from the body by keeping the skin as free from fat drawing it towards the head, and flesh as possible. Draw the skin from the front legs to the last joint and cut off here. Cut the skin loose around the eyes and ears. When removed the skin will be in the shape of a long pocket with the flesh side out. As the tails of muskrats and opossums have no fur their tails are cut off.—B. G. Roberts in the Farm Journal

BAPTIST CHURCH

Mr. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., had an article in the Eagle last week entitled "They Cry for Bred and are Promised Beer," that ought to be read by every citizen in America. There has not been an editorial in any paper anywhere that expresses the truth any clearer and more forceful than this one by Mr. Stokes. If you have not read it, find your last week's Eagle and read and digest it.

Since last week's paper we have been asked by several if we knew where "Rabbit Ridge" was, and if we did to please let the public know. And as that is our business finding out things, we immediately began to see if we could locate this place, and to our surprise it's a little community bounded on the north by the home of Allen Ross and on the south by the home of Hardy Bradley, just about four miles west of Goldthwaite.

A gentleman who is working for Messrs. Roy Wilkins and Hurley Wilcox, by the name of Earl Fairman, was sent by these gentlemen out to a ranch, where men were employed building fence. Mr. Fairman, on reaching this place just before noon, was urged to remain during the noon hour, being assured that a pig had been baked and that Dooley's had been roasted in the old fashioned way. Mr. Fairman, from reports, enjoyed the pork and the potatoes, but just before leaving he was informed that instead of a baked pig it was a baked armadillo, and since that time inquiry has been made by several at some of the produce houses if they were in the market for armadillos. Any one wanting information about how to cook an armadillo can find out by asking the Fairman Hardware company. Not only do they have the recipe for cooking them, but also have the utensils they should be cooked in.

We spoke to the student body at the high school auditorium last Tuesday morning. We gave them that same advice they have had ever since they started to kindergarten. Poor boys and girls, how they are punished by preachers and other speakers during their school career. They always have my sympathy.

We did not have our regular service Sunday morning and many did not make their regular monthly offering. Let everyone that has not contributed be sure to do so Sunday. We must take care of our expenses and if everyone who is able would make an offering weekly or monthly it would not be any trouble to take care of all our obligations the first of the month. Just remember that during the winter we have more expense. And certainly everyone that can possibly do so wants a part in taking care of these expenses. Let everyone give to our church work according to the way God has prospered them. The Lord does not expect any one to do more, and that is a matter that every one must settle themselves, and the only place that this preacher has ever made about finance is that men be honest with God and themselves in this matter. We would not for anything hurt any one's feelings about this matter, but it is the duty of the minister to remind you of these things and leave the results with God and man.

Regular services Sunday. We had 226 in Sunday school, splendid congregation at the night service. Let's make it even better Sunday. We can do it, that is, if every one will see that some one who does not attend regular is invited. Remember that our evening services begin at 6:45.

TIME TO CALL A HALT ON BRIDGE PLAYING MAN!

Enthusiasm for contract bridge in America has gone to far, declares Ely Culbertson in a nation-wide appeal for a moderate attitude toward the game. "American temperament is such that they are likely to become over-zealous at whatever they undertake," he declares in the American Magazine. "When bridge ceases to be a game, when winning becomes more important than the game itself, then this bridge business has gone too far.

"The quickest way to ruin a good thing is to have too many of it. Those who take bridge so seriously that they are unable to be sportsmen should never play. It is a recreation, not a primary interest in life.

"Bridge must be put in its proper place in the scheme of things. When a pastime results in unsatisfying delicatessen suppers and neglected homes and children, it ceases to be wholesome play, and becomes a subject for viewing with alarm."

TOM MIX RETIRES
TONY TO STABLES

Veteran of 20 years active service in films with his master, Tom Mix, the famous horse Tony today is on the retirement list.

In his place on the screen with Mix will be seen Tony, Jr., a chestnut sorrel, which like Tony, has white stockings on each foot and a white diamond on the forehead. The new equine star, however, is no relation to his famous predecessor.

Tony, now 23 years old, was acquired as a sickly pony by Mix for $12.50 in 1909, and was fed by hand on a mixture of milk and oats until he gained strength and the appearance known to millions of "western" fans.

Having trained him, Tom took Tony when he joined the old Regill Film Co., and introduced the horse to the cameras in 1912. Since then the horse has helped Mix earn approximately $7,500,000, has traveled in state with the star, slept in the finest stables in America and Europe, and become a household name wherever the Mix films were shown.

Tony, retired because of a recent hip injury suffered during work in a film, will be housed in the Mix stable at Universal City.

AGED CITIZEN CALLED HOME

Joseph A. Jones died at his home in Mullin, after suffering for several days with the flu and pneumonia. He had been in bad health for over a year and moved to town several months back in order that he and his wife might be convenient to a doctor.

Uncle Joe, as he was known by his friends, was born in Mississippi Sept. 5, 1848, came to Texas in his young days and was married to Mrs. Rebecca Barnett at Williams Ranch in 1884. To this union only one child, Miller Jones, was born and he died in 1891. Mr. Jones is survived by his wife and one brother, who now lives in Hill county, but was unable to be with his brother at his death.

The body was laid to rest in the I. O. O. F. cemetery in Goldthwaite Saturday afternoon.

LEGION PROGRAM

Friday afternoon the Harry F. Edmondson Post of the American Legion gave an interesting and instructive program at the school auditorium. L. L. Wilson, commander of the Post spoke for a short while and introduced M. Y. Stokes, Jr., of Goldthwaite, who gave a very interesting address, showing some of the principles for which the American Legion stands and the great American ideals. He also displayed a number of relics of the late war, which attracted the attention of the youngsters of the school as well as the adults.

Welcome back again Mr. Stokes Mullin is always glad to have such ideas brought to her people.

SCHOOL CAMPUS WORKED

Friday was work day on the school campus in Mullin. At an early hour several citizens with wagons and teams and trucks reported ready for duty, others appeared with shovels and hoes. Work began in earnest and tons of dirt were transferred from the ditches to the school yard, where the Mullin P. T. A. is striving to build up a beautiful campus.

At the noon hour the ladies of the district spread a sumptuous feast for the workmen, one which all enjoyed, judging from the way the men and boys worked at the feast.

The work was not completed, but later, probably one day will be set aside, and dirt hauling and planting will both be done. Let us all do our part.

Fred Wilson and wife of Big Spring and Mrs. R. F. Williams of Ruscola are the guests of Mrs. H. Wilson this week.

TRADES DAY IN MULLIN

Trades Day, and everybody had a good time. It was packed with excitement, especially as it came to a close with prizes given away for the ones who could write the best hand on a slip of paper and drop it in a little box. The judges however, got things mixed up and gave prizes to some whose names they could even read. Jno. M. Scott pinch hit for the two judges, W. C. Hancock and G. M. Fletcher.

Earlier in the evening J. N. Crockett took another hand in the cow business by closing his eyes and pulling the trigger of a 22. He missed the red cow, hit a telephone pole, but even at that they gave the cow because he had another that would keep this one from getting lonesome. Ask your neighbors all about it.

While the crowd at the goat roping was estimated at 300 there were 300 more up town doing a little bargaining. Prizes were given to the quickest man and horse that could rope a loping goat, then tie him. Pete Weston got four dollars out of the deal, but it seems others did better.

After supper on the basket ball court the town was served a refreshing game. A substantial meal was dished out by the high school boys and the town boys. To aid the digestion the women of the town served a little dessert by taking a hand at the game. Reba Tillman and Renie McCurry hadn't forgotten how. Sometimes you'd laugh, sometimes you'd cry from laughing. Then the juniors played. Me Mosier had to make four goals or lose his rep. He made them and then some.

It didn't cost a cent except the P. T. A. sold candy and popcorn.

HIGH SCHOOL BALL NOTES

Early High came down Friday night and played the Bulldogs and the girls team on the Mullin court. Our girls won the ribbon, the score being 23 to 18.

The boys, too, were victorious, the score being 23 to 16. Five games and good sportsmanship was exhibited by all the contestants. The Mullin girls are playing unusually well this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hays and Mrs. Floyd Fox of Goldthwaite spent Sunday at the home of Chas. Hays.

Gifts—Hudson Bros.

Mrs. E. J. King is recovering from a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Kely and Mrs. R. A. Martin were among the crowd in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Guthrie on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lindsey and Miss Flowers attended Trades Day Saturday.

Walter Fairman of Goldthwaite was a business visitor in Mullin Monday.

Mrs. Ernest Obenhaus of Goldthwaite visited Miss Verna Lee Barker last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rasco are visiting their son, Jess, on his Pecan Bayou farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney McCurry now have apartment in the Dr. Jones residence.

Miss Katherine Kemp of Brook Smith visited home folks in Mullin Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Louise Meyers and Mrs. J. H. Carlisle attended the Trades Day program here and both won prizes that were presented by Mullin business men.

Miss Martha Dudley of Prairie, while attending Trades Day in Mullin Saturday, called at the Enterprise office and had her subscription set up until 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Carrol were in town Saturday, Mrs. Carroll reports raising 250 turkeys this year.

J. D. Edmondson this week leased his farm in San Saba county, near Locker, to Sam Kiker.

P. M. Henry, who has been suffering from flu in a Brownwood sanitarium, is reported as greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansell King and children of Cross Plains have been the guests of Mrs. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Renfro, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Wilson are visiting in Waco. While there Mr. Wilson is attending the Grand Lodge of Masons, now in session in that city.

Mrs. John M. Scott and Misses Anna Lee Hancock, Lillian Doris Fletcher, Wyno Rose Tillman, Iva Lee Daniel and M. E. Williams expect to leave Friday morning for Belton to attend the annual meeting of the T. H. S. P. A.

W. A. Triplett and daughter, Irma Grace, were among the crowd in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bramblett have moved to the Wiley Hery place and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Leverett of Lake Merritt have moved on R. C. Dudley's ranch at Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Guthrie and Miss Arline Herrington have returned from a visit to several points in the west. They visited friends and relatives in San Angelo, Sherwood, Best, McCamey, Sheffield, Ozona and other places of interest.

Mrs. Wm. M. Andress of Bellville spent the latter part of the week here with her sisters, Mrs. Chas. Masters and Mrs. Stark, and her brother, Ebb Oxley. Mrs. Andress was glad to be among old friends here again and met a large number of them on Trades Day here Saturday.

The Trades Day here was very attractive and a large group of people were here and enjoyed the fine barbecue and sociability of meeting and mingling with friends and neighbors. The merchants report very satisfactory results and in January they plan to have another, even better Trades Day.

The A B C of the War Debts Question

The subject of War Debts is far from being as simple as A B C, but the main facts can be simply presented.

December 15 is the due date for payments of principal and interest of the war debts due the United States from England, France, Italy, Belgium and eleven smaller European nations.

Now Germany has refused to pay any more reparations, so the allied nations want us to cancel their debts to us.

Last year President Hoover gave the allies a moratorium of one year on their payments.

There are roughly three possibilities. First, and most unlikely, is that the European nations will go ahead and pay us what they owe.

International bankers with headquarters in New York, who have made loans of vast sums to European countries fear that if the war debts are paid the private debts can not be paid.

Workers for peace call attention to the fact that if these European nations would spend less on armies and navies, they could pay their debts.

The tariff question is linked with the war debts question because there is not enough gold in the world to pay these debts.

Just two things may be taken for granted in this discussion. One is that bad as it hurts to lose the money honestly due us, the people of America are not going to be foolish enough to go to war over it.

Even though it is desirable to do business with these nations, our friendship and good will is certainly more necessary to them than theirs is to us.

Scandal Touches the Schools

Houston citizens are more or less accustomed to shocking incidents which probably get more publicity from the yellow press of that city than is good for it.

All Houston has been shocked by these disclosures, and mothers and fathers there are sadly wondering how close to their homes the respoiler may have come.

The situation is more than sad—it is tragic. The grand jury is commended for disclosing the facts, unpalatable as they may be; it is well for it to return indictments in every case where crime can be shown.

If fathers are dissolute and mothers are careless, what can we expect the children to be? Even though the parents themselves are virtuous and law-abiding, if they lack the confidence of their sons and daughters, if they are willing to leave to the church and the school the full duty of warning the youth against the dangers that lurk along the primrose path, they need not be surprised if these lessons are not heeded and their children go astray.

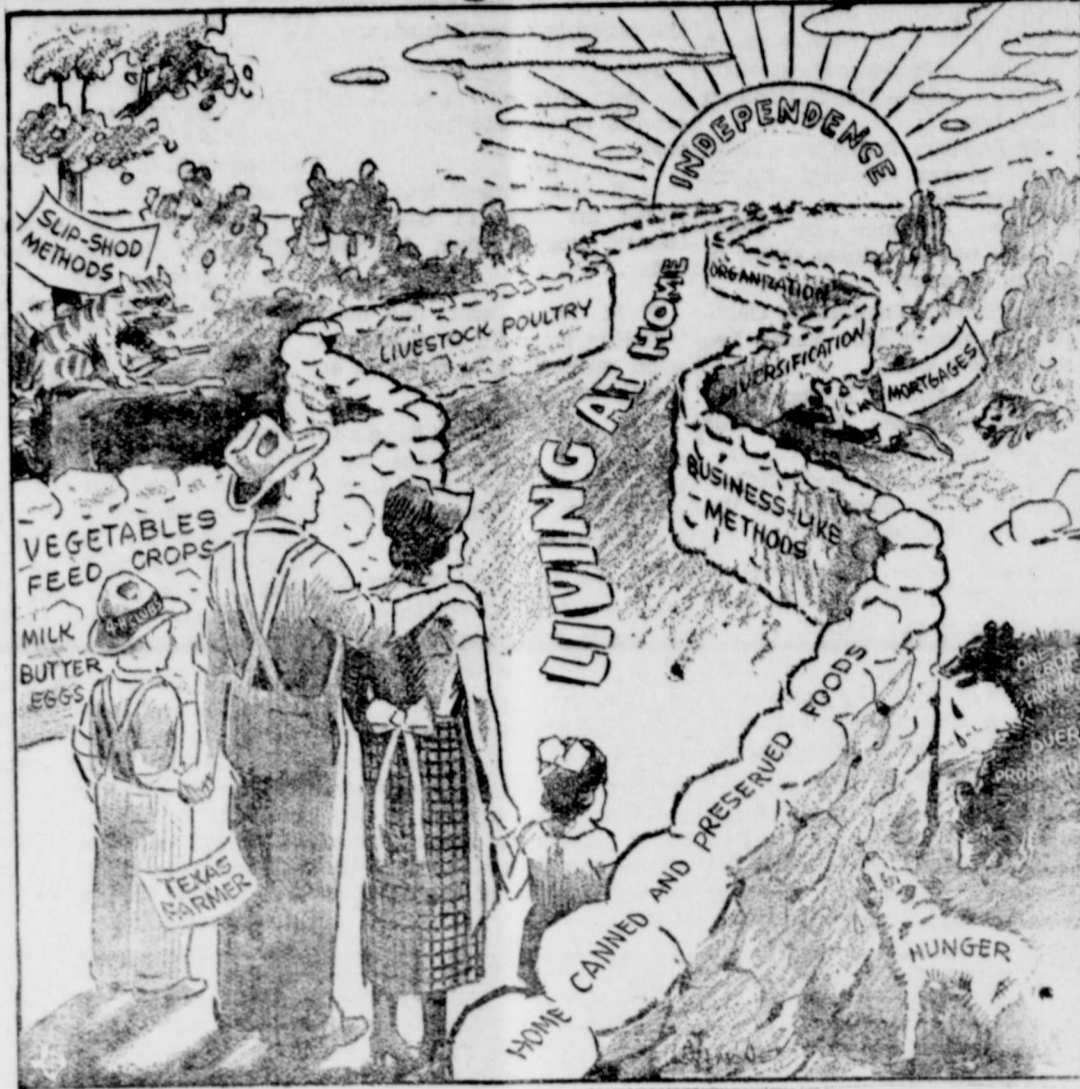

Those of us who are fortunate in living away from the false glitter and glamor of hectic city life should not be too complacent. Human nature is much the same whether we live on shady country roads or busy city streets.

The Revolt That Failed

What happened to the two million voters who were going to set a new record for Socialism in the last election? Returns are not yet accurate or complete, but there is small chance that the Socialist total for the entire United States will exceed 700,000 votes.

The conclusion is obvious. The American people while clamoring for socialistic planks to fill individual needs, do not yet want socialism for everybody.

On the Right Road at Last!

THE REALM OF SCIENCE HOW RATS REASON

Further evidence that reasoning is done, in some mysterious manner, by the whole outside rind or "cortex" of the brain, not by any smaller reasoning center like the brain centers for muscular movements or for sight, hearing or other senses, is proved by recent experiments on rat brains carried out by R. F. Maier of the University of Michigan and reported by the Wistar Institute Bibliographic Service, of Philadelphia.

The live at home program helps everyone. It makes the farmer more independent. It saves him more cash to spend for what he wants to buy and it helps the dealers with whom he trades.

Two Ossining N. Y., youths, whose identities are concealed, entered the art store of C. J. Drier with a discolored canvas which, they thought might be worth a couple of dollars.

It has been found that 5 1/4 bushels of corn will burn and give off as much heat as a ton of the best coal.

Two Ossining N. Y., youths, whose identities are concealed, entered the art store of C. J. Drier with a discolored canvas which, they thought might be worth a couple of dollars.

Mr. Drier's interest was aroused. He cleaned the painting and took it to art critics in New York City. There it was discovered to be the work of a famous Dutch painter, Kuypse, who lived from 1625 to 1700.

The critics put an estimate on the painting of $15,000 and Mr. Drier returned it to the youths until a purchaser can be found.

Mr. Drier said the painting had been in the attic of the boys' home for many years and was taken down when a search was made for second-hand articles with possible resale value.

government to pay him a bonus for his crop when prices go down, but he does not want Uncle Sam to step in and set a limit to how high prices may go when they start to rise once more.

Although this spirit of individualism which fosters the competitive system may be costly, we do not yet have any evidence that the other extreme—state socialism—is any improvement in the long run.

And to twist the proverb while there's hope, there's life.

Here is a picture that tells a story, points a moral and preaches a sermon. The story it tells is of the recent unprecedented increase in raising on the farm the food and feed that is consumed there and the canning or preserving of the surplus at gathering time to be used later on in the year as needed.

The moral is that those families who are practicing living at home are already on the road to independence. The sermon consists of a warning that the dangers of hunger, foreclosed mortgages and over production lie in wait for the family that lets its defense weaken.

Although it refers specifically to the farmer, this picture also has a lesson for the family that lives in town. That lesson is simply to make use of foodstuffs when they are cheap and plentiful and to preserve them for a time when they will be scarce and high if they can be obtained at all.

If Mills county farmers had to depend on a single crop of five cent cotton to live on this year, this county would sadly learn what depression really means.

Keeping Up With Texas WHERE TAXES GO

The Texas state government has one of the largest libraries in the world. Its board of education has purchased books enough to overshadow the Congressional Library in Washington.

The state owns several hundred automobiles, likely about 500, but there is no record available, except by checking up on every department and institution in the number of cars.

The Texas government undoubtedly buys more gasoline than any private corporation in the state, however, large, for the contract calls for purchase of 5,200,000 gallons for the year, 5,000,000 alone for the highway department.

All this gives an idea of the size and ramifications of state government, judged by its purchases, but when the comptroller issues his report showing totals each department expended not only for supplies but for meals, travel, etc., during 1931, a much clearer view will be furnished, showing where the money goes.

Q. How can I preserve the fingers when laundering very dirty articles?

A. Instead of rubbing very dirty towels, collars and neckbands, over the washboard by hand, lather them well and scrub with a small stiff brush. It preserves the fingers and the material and does the work more satisfactorily.

Q. How can I remove rust spots from cotton and linen goods?

A. Dissolve potassium boaxalate, 200 parts, in distilled water, 8,800 parts; add glycerine, 1,000 parts; and filter. Moisten the rust or ink spots with this solution; let the linen lie for three hours, rubbing the moistened spots frequently, and then wash well with water.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS HAVE TO SAY

LOST MONEY

These are indeed selling days. And there's a wonderful opportunity for genuine salesmanship. Here are figures presented by Mr. Stanley, taken from authentic sources, upon trade conditions in McCulloch county.

Where did that nearly $3,000,000 go? It did not go into savings accounts, for bank statements reveal no such savings. It did not go into hiding, for if such a sum were hid out, it would leave virtually no money in circulation.

LEGISLATORS STUDYING QUEBEC'S LIQUOR LAW

Legislators in Washington, who are wondering what sort of a liquor law should be adopted by the United States, following repeal, are making a study of the Quebec plan, which is the most likely model for adoption.

The essential policy of the liquor commission has been to make beer and light wines cheap and easily accessible while whiskies and other spirits are expensive and more difficult to obtain.

A MISSIONARY TO THE HEATHEN

Utah has just performed the incredible feat of bringing the political career of Reed Smoot to a close. For 30 years this distinguished apostle of the Mormon church has represented his state at Washington.

His successor, Elbert D. Thomas, is professor of political and social economy at the state university and is perhaps as amazed at his recent victory as is the rest of the nation.

DANGEROUS

The fall and winter months are the most dangerous of the year for automobile driving.

Rain, snow, sleet, hail and ice, early darkness, haste to reach home and escape the cold, tightly closed cars and low visibility, all contribute to the hazards.

Skidding is a chief danger of cold weather driving. The motorist must confront not only a visible wet or icy surface, but one hidden under a bed of fallen leaves.

Last year 1740 persons were killed and 51,720 injured in 44,510 accidents due to skidding cars.

"The automobilist can not carry the driving practices of the late spring and summer over to the fall and winter without running a great risk of accident," says Maxwell Halsey, traffic engineer of the national bureau of casualty and surety underwriters.

"Have your car thoroughly inspected for any mechanical defects that may have developed during the summer.

"Be especially sure your brakes are effective, be sure your tires are in first class condition, also your lights and your windshield wiper.

"Cut down on your summer speed.

"Allow for early darkness and for decreased visibility.

"If you find your car going into a skid, do not jam on brakes."

Available statistics indicate that automobile fatalities in the United States decreased 10 percent the first 7 months of the year. If that record were maintained up to and including Dec. 31, it would mean that 10 percent of human lives taken by motor cars during the year would fall below 30,000 for the first time since 1928.

Under the most perfect conditions the driver of an automobile should exercise extreme care. When the bad days come, there should be stretched to the utmost.—Exchange.

position of influence in the national capital.

As a matter of fact, the new senate-elect from Utah could well spend his time converting some of those particular heathen who represent western states in congress. Most of them in the past have been distinguished mainly by the narrowly intolerant ignorance they have displayed towards all things Oriental.

The Japanese exclusion clause of 1924 was featured mainly at their insistence and in no way contributed to a sane and reasonable solution of a difficult problem.

If Mr. Thomas will act as interpreter of Japanese life and character on the floor of the United States senate, he will perform an inestimable service to that county and to America.—Houston Chronicle.

San Saba

J.H. Burke Wednesday shipped out 109 head of beautiful white face calves to market.

It has been estimated that as many as 450,000 containers of food have been canned in San Saba county this year.

Archie Moore and Miss Clara Teat surprised their friends on Tuesday, when they announced that they had been married since last June 19.

The record of Carl Bryant, special agent, shows that there were 7,419 bales of cotton ginned this year prior to Nov. 14, as compared with 6292 bales for the same period last year.

J. M. Carter, well known citizen former business man and resident for half a century, died in a Glen Rose hospital near six o'clock last Friday morning. His body was brought home for interment and funeral services and burial were Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hennersdorf and daughter, Maxine, of San Angelo came for the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arhelger. The beautiful new car was placed in the Arhelger garage and it was locked. That night the car was stolen, the locks being broken. A couple of days later the car was found parked on a street in San Angelo, very little worse for the wear.

Mrs. T. A. Murray, Mrs. C. T. Jones, Tom Hudson and Hudson Kelley were returning from Kerrville in the big Cadillac automobile. They had been to take Tom Murray, student in Schreiner Institute, back to school following the holiday vacation. In the highway beyond Bell Mountain a beautiful deer appeared in the highway. Apparently the car lights blinded the buck and he dove headlong into the car. This stunned his excellency, and the boys leaped from the car, bulldogged the buck, tied him, loaded him into the car and brought him home.—News.

Hamilton

Mrs. T. A. Gardner and daughter, Mrs. L. C. Weatherby, of Lometa, were here for the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives.

There were 12,477 bales of cotton ginned in Hamilton county from the crop of 1932 prior to Nov. 14, 1932, as compared with 11,960 bales ginned to Nov. 14, 1931.

Marvin Spivey was in Hamilton from the Evant section last Monday afternoon and during a business visit to the Herald-Record office reported the loss by fire at about noon that day of the home in the West Point community of Sam Hill. The fire originated from a defective flue and had gained such headway before being discovered that very little of the household furnishings were saved. The home was a total loss, the house having burned to the ground. The residence was a nice five or six room bungalow.

A testimony of the universal love and esteem in which Muri George and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas George, are held in Hamilton was the engulfing sorrow that accompanied the spreading of the news in this city of his sudden and tragic death in Fort Worth on Thanksgiving Day in a motorcycle crash. Muri George, a graduate of the Hamilton high school in the class of 1932, and one of the most popular students in the school throughout the years of his residence in this city.

A man by the name of Clyde Williams of Waco, was brought to the Hamilton sanitarium last Wednesday night about 9 o'clock suffering from severe burns on his legs and arms. Mr. Williams was enroute from Waco to Hamilton and was on the road between Meridian and this city when his truck cab burst into flames. He sustained painful burns before he could get out of his seat and extinguish the fire in his clothing. His truck was entirely consumed. He was on the road to recovery when taken to his home.

About 8 o'clock on Thanksgiving evening Olin Bottlinger, 22 years old, was seriously injured in a car accident. Young Mr. Bottlinger was driving his car, a Ford roadster, through the little town of Ireland, when something went wrong with the steering

Comanche

A Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion will be organized at Comanche, according to Mrs. J. H. Arthur, who is assisting in the movement.

A K. Polls was arrested at Hallettsville and brought to Comanche Friday by Sheriff Dwight Brightman and placed in jail on a swindling charge.

Wallace Eakin was arrested at Llano Friday on an alleged burglary charge and was brought to Comanche and placed in jail to await trial in district court.

The residence of Mrs. N. E. Palmer on North Main street, was destroyed by fire at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The blaze, it is thought, started from a gas heater in the bath room.

Mrs. J. W. Reese, former tax collector of Comanche county, and member of a pioneer family of the county, died suddenly at her home in Comanche at 10 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Reese, who had been feeling as well as usual during the day, suffered a heart attack and died within a few minutes, after a physician arrived.—Chief.

Lometa

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weatherby were in Austin for Thanksgiving. Jack Kirby, who is teaching school in Center City, and Rex Ivey, spent the week end in Lometa investigating business competition.

On Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reynolds and baby, Mrs. W. A. Eger and Mrs. G. W. Tippen of Ebony were the guests in the W. W. Tippen home.

Monday night at about 1 a. m., the fire alarm sounded and the report went out that the Reporter office was on fire. As is the custom of the local fire department its response was immediate and by their good work the fire was extinguished before a great deal of damage had been done. In the past 15 months 3 fires in the business district have been extinguished in time to avoid any serious damage.

As H. Wilson and family were sitting at the supper table Monday night, they were alarmed by a fire in their barn just back of their house. They sent in the alarm immediately and the fire boys responded as soon as possible. However, the Wilson home is too far away from a fire plug to be reached with the hose and only the chemical was of any use. This equipment, supplemented by garden hose and buckets were used to good advantage in preventing the spread of the flames to the residence. The barn contained winter feed and miscellaneous items, all of which was completely destroyed, and which we understand was insured.—Reporter.

Lampasas

Seventy-four Lampasas county people took advantage of splitting their state and county tax payments this year without incurring a penalty by so doing.

A half-million pounds of wool stored by Senterfitt & Scott for the growers of this section is being carried out this week by trucks to Houston to be shipped to Boston.

A contract has been made by Louis Ulrich for the construction of a new home on the same location of the one which was burned three weeks ago last Sunday afternoon.

R. H. Whigham and Jake Spurlin were given the job of painting the hands, the figures and the marks of the big clock in the court house tower this week. They also placed one-inch netting wire over the faces of the clock to keep the birds off the hands and out of the openings.

Seventy-two half gallons of whiskey is some "booze" for these "dry" times, but that is the amount found in one man's car just about five miles from Lampasas, in Burnet county, Wednesday afternoon. He just drank too much of his own stuff to keep safe from the officers.—Record.

gear and he lost control of the machine and it went into a ditch and was overturned. The driver was alone in the car and was thrown clear of the auto when it keeled over. His left arm was broken and his chest was severely bruised and crushed.—Record Herald.

A CAUSE OF INSANITY

Dr. Henry A. Cotton, internationally known for his work with the insane, reported a new conclusion to the board of managers of the Trenton, N. J., state hospital, when he completed 25 years of service there.

The 56-year-old physician, who has long held functional mental disorders result from toxic poisoning of the brain, announced he "was convinced" no patient should undergo a serious abdominal operation, or any operation, without all infected teeth being extracted.

From his experiences as medical director of the institution for 23 years and as medical director emeritus and director of research for the past two, Dr. Cotton concluded:

1.—A laparotomy (incision into the abdominal cavity) for any purpose is dangerous and liable to result fatally if the patient has infected teeth.

2.—A recognition of this fact has reduced my mortality rate for operations for release of adhesions (of the colon) from 19 per cent to 3.7 per cent.

3.—Eighty per cent of the so-called functional group suffer from pathological conditions in the colon which must be surgically corrected before they will recover their mental condition.

4.—As the mortality has materially reduced, I do not see how my criticism from the standpoint of the public as to these surgical acts on assuming the director-procedures is justified.

Dr. Cotton, one of whose first patients in 1907, was to release patients from strait-jackets, announced in 1918, after 11 years of experimenting, he believed functional mental disorders were the result of toxic poisoning of the brain from infections in the teeth, tonsils, and the gastrointestinal tract.

On that theory he treated patients until 1930, and actually recoveries during the 12 years totaled 2000, twice as many, he said, as would have recovered spontaneously.

Dr. Cotton, in treating patients suffering from mental disease, has made many operations on the colon, for he asserts most patients are victims of chronic constipation.

Since 1923, rather than operate for total removal of the colon, he adopted the method of releasing the adhesions found around it, and the mortality rate dropped from 33 per cent to 19 per cent, and more, recently, by extracting teeth also, to 3.7 per cent.

THIBET--THE FORBIDDEN VALLEY OF MYSTERY

Strange is the land and strange are the people. One of their strangest customs is the practice of polyandry—one woman has two or more husbands. It is common for the wife who is taken by the eldest son of the family to become the joint property of all the brothers. If a brother should leave the family, he is not entitled to compensation in respect to his share in the wife. The relationship of the younger brothers to the wife exists only so long as they remain in the family. The women defend polyandry on the ground that it gives the women more importance in the community. The women of the upper classes rather despise the comparatively helpless women of India and rules of polygamy under which they live.

Strange also is the treatment of the dead: The Thibetans do not go in for burials. A few of the very highest lamas are embalmed and then gilded, to be placed in some temple, where they are to serve as objects of worship. Some of the lamas are cremated, but wood is scarce, and so the Thibetans have evolved their own methods of disposing of the dead.

In certain instances the flesh is fed to the dogs and pigs. Kites and vultures join the feast. The dogs are outcasts that roam every town and village hunting for something to eat. Beggars, known as ragyabas, will hire themselves out to keep off the dogs till the vultures appear, for these Buddhists believe that to insure a good rebirth the corpse should be devoured by birds rather than by quadrupeds. The first portions hacked off the body are fed to the oldest vulture of the flock, which will waddle forward to receive its portion when called. The birds are very tame and respond individually when the officiating lama calls their names. Now on with the pilgrims to Lhasa. As the road from the west nears the holy city, it narrows and then passes through a shrine. Pilgrims pass through in single file, and then on emerging the object of their search bursts upon them in all its magnificence. Immediately on their left they are face to face with the gigantic structure of the Potala palace which covers the whole face of the hill. The sudden appearance of the immense building is most impressive. It is a building of stone and white-washed brick, 900 feet long and more than 70 feet higher than the golden cross of St. Paul's in London.

And what of the great ruler, the dalai-lama, whose home is this magnificent Potala palace? The limit of life for the last four dalai-lamas has been 11, 18, 18 and 18 years, respectively. In other words the boy dalai-lamas have all been puppets in the hands of the priestly oligarchy, which really ruled the land. These all-powerful priests, fearing that an adult dalai-lama might not always be putty in their hands, saw to it that the supreme ruler was called to a new incarnation when he reached the age of majority.

The present dalai-lama is the first one in more than a century to escape from this fate. He is a man of great strength of character. He was handpicked by China, then very powerful in Thibet, for China did not want to see the rulership of the land fall into the hands of one of the wealthy and powerful families of Thibet, and so this peasant boy was himself shrewd and cautious in preserving his own life, for he has always avoided eating food that was not first tasted by his attendants, and he has avoided many dangers that his enemies have planned for him.

What will happen in Thibet on the death of the present dalai-lama? Will his chief counselor, Tsarong, seize the reins of government and declare himself king, or will he choose an infant dalai-lama that can be molded to his own way of thinking? Or will the old prophecy come true, that the 13th dalai-lama will be the last, and that after his death Thibet will be opened up to the "white barbarians" of the west, and that the title of dalai-lama will become but a hazy memory of the past?

J. H. RANDOLPH LUMBER

Could Your Car Pass a "Cold Test" like this?

Through deep snow drifts that blanketed Wolf Creek Pass, 10,800 feet above sea level in Colorado's Rockies, a great V-type snow plow doggedly pushed its way. A whirring rotary plow spouted clouds of snow, clearing the roadway. And soon, despite temperatures daily below zero, workers of Liberty Truck & Parts Co., of Denver, had opened the 15-mile road.

"We used Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and Conoco Gasoline exclusively in our Cletrac Tractors with wonderful results," wrote a Liberty official. "We had no difficulty starting our motors in the mornings."

There's a "cold test" to guide you in buying motor oil! Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly dewaxed and circulates freely below zero. It makes Winter-starting easier. More important still, it saves your motor from terrific punishment during the starting period, when half of all motor wear occurs! Other oils drain away overnight. A "Hidden Quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor and lubricates before your motor starts.

Only Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil can offer you this vital protection, for it is the only oil that penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. Let it protect your motor this Winter. . . .

We have instructions from the post office department, which reads as follows:

"While star routes will operate as usual and mail to or from such routes is to be handled as on other days, there will be no city delivery, village delivery, rural delivery or window service on Christmas day or the day following, and only the most necessary postal work will be performed."

Special delivery and perishable mail will be delivered and no doubt box holders will receive the same service as usual on Christmas day, and also on the day following, with the exception of window service.

We ask that the public co-operate with us in mailing packages as early as possible on Christmas Eve in order to avoid delay in the service. All mail must be in the post office not later than eight thirty o'clock during the Christmas holidays, otherwise it will be delayed twenty-four hours in arriving at its destination.

Any co-operation that the public may offer will be appreciated.
ROBT. F. McDERMOTT,
Postmaster.

CELEBRATES FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On November 30, friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hollis gathered to honor them on their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

A bountiful dinner was served to 69 relatives and friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis were surprised to find a five dollar gold piece under each of their plates. One gold piece was made in 1882, the year Mr. and Mrs. Hollis were married. The money was sent by the oldest son, Claude Hollis, of New Mexico, who could not be present at the celebration. All the rest of the children were present—L. A. Hollis, Robert Hollis of Robert Lee, Mrs. Charley Kight, Mrs. Jesse Massey of Ridge.

The guests out of the community were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pool of Richland Springs. Mrs. Pool is a niece of Mrs. Hollis; the four Roberts brothers, Mr. Wood, Tip, Dan and Charley and wives. These four men were present when Mr. and Mrs. Hollis were married. L. C. Atkinson was there also and remembers being at the wedding. However, he was a very small boy.

Mr. Hollis was born in Missouri in 1849 and he came to Texas in 1870. He left Missouri with a drove of mules and went to Louisiana. He was water-bound in Arkansas for eighteen months and was over two years getting into Texas. Mr. Hollis settled near Williams Ranch, the only town near then. When he landed at Williams Ranch he was arrested by the rangers as a murder suspect, but soon proved to be the wrong man. Mr. Hollis has been in Texas 62 years and says he never has had a cross word or any trouble with any man since he has been here. He is one of the most highly respected citizens of the county and well liked by all.

He has passed his 83rd birthday and until the past two years has been able to do a great deal of work, but is getting very feeble. He is almost blind and is fast losing the use of his lower limbs, but is very jolly and likes to talk of the pioneer days here.

Mr. Hollis was married to Miss Ellen James in 1882. They were married on the farm where they still live. It belonged to Mrs. Hollis' father at that time, Ike James.

Mrs. Hollis was born in Red River county, Texas, in 1863. She has lived in Texas all her life. She is well and does all her house work.

The aged couple received quite a few nice gifts. Everyone enjoyed the day and left at a late hour, wishing them much more happiness in life. A GUEST.

CARD OF THANKS

We want to express publicly our thanks to all of those good neighbors and other friends who so loyally and liberally gave assistance and sympathy at the time of the burning of our barn and the destruction of our feed stored therein. It is not often such kindness as this is manifested and we are indeed grateful. Especially are we thankful to the elderly people, many of whom responded quickly to the need and we love and honor them for it.
