

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME THIRTY-NINE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1933.

NUMBER THIRTY-EIGHT

Forest Workers May Leave Soon

Sixteen Mills county boys out of the 22 who registered several weeks ago for forest work in the president's Civilian Conservation Corps are expected to receive orders soon to go to Waco for physical examinations at the U. S. Army recruiting station. Those who pass the examination will be sent to San Antonio for two weeks of training before being assigned to a camp.

Raymond Lawson of Caradan, who was the first to apply in Mills county, was accepted promptly and has been in Camp Bullis near San Antonio for several weeks.

W. C. Dew, chairman of the Mills county relief committee, yesterday wired headquarters at Austin that the Mills county quota had been completed and was awaiting orders. This was in response to instructions that all county quotas must be completed by May 25, or they would be reduced and counties completing their quotas would be given the agencies to fill.

Notice was also received by Mr. Dew that the regulations had been changed so that it was no longer necessary for an applicant to have been on the relief rolls if it appeared likely that his family would require public aid later. This ruling will make a number of other Mills county men eligible for appointment in case the quota is enlarged.

Commissioners To Hear Equalization Pleas On May 29

The commissioners court will in session several days this week on a board of equalization, inspecting conditions of property in the county for taxation. A large list was prepared for notification to appear May 29, to show cause why the rendition should not be raised.

A very little business was transacted other than equalization of valuations.

BASEBALL
Goldthwaite and Mullin will play baseball here at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, sponsors of the local team announced yesterday.

Fatal Accident

Tuesday morning about 9 o'clock the body of Mr. Wm. C. Brady was found beside a wire fence, on Brown's creek, in Center Point community. Officers were notified and Judge Jas. Rahl held an inquest at the scene of the tragedy. He found that Mr. Brady had been accidentally shot in the groin with his own gun as he was attempting to cross the fence. The gun was standing in position below the body, which made it evident that the shot was accidentally fired. After the inquest the body was prepared for burial and interred in the Williams Ranch cemetery that afternoon.

Mr. Brady had only lived in Center Point community a few months, but is spoken of as a very likeable man. His wife is a daughter of Mr. J. N. Newman of that community, but nothing is known of his other relatives.

Billions Asked For Public Works

President Roosevelt sent to Congress Wednesday a two-fold unemployment relief program operating through a $3,300,000,000 public works plan and a "great co-operative movement throughout all industry in order to obtain wide re-employment."

The President urged that Congress adopt this program before adjournment of the special session.

For his co-operative program of industrial planning Mr. Roosevelt proposed:

1. A shorter work week.
2. A "decent" wage for the shortened week.
3. Prevention of unfair competition and "disastrous" over-production.
4. Limitation of the operation of anti-trust laws.

New revenues must be provided to finance the public works program, Mr. Roosevelt said. In this connection he said repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, now pending before the states, would restore former revenue laws which would "yield enough wholly to eliminate these temporary re-employment taxes."

It is estimated that Texas will receive $23,000,000 for highway building if the president's recommendations are accepted by congress.

Program For Commencement

The commencement sermon will be delivered Sunday, May 21, in the junior high school auditorium at 10:50 a. m. Bro. Clem W. Hoover, pastor of the First Christian church, will preach the sermon. Our graduation exercise will be in the same building Wednesday, May 24, at 8:30 o'clock. Dr. A. E. Prince of the First Baptist church of Brownwood will deliver the address.

We have two good speakers for these occasions and everyone will enjoy hearing them.

The following will be the program for Sunday morning and Wednesday evening:

Sunday, May 21.
Prelude—Orchestra.
Invocation—Orchestra.
Invocation—Bro. S. O. Hammond.
Anthem—Praise Ye the Father (Gounod)—Choir.
Chorus: Trust in the Lord (Handel).

Presentation of scholarships—R. H. Mayfield.
Presentation of loving cup to honor pupil in seventh grade.
Dismissal.

State Needs Cash
In a gloomy message to the Legislature Wednesday, Governor Ferguson asked the legislators to remain in session until they balanced the state's budget. For the next two years $118,000,000 is needed, the governor declared.

More Relief Funds

Mills county will soon be given another allotment of RFC funds members of the local committee were told Tuesday by Marshall B. Thompson, field representative from the Texas Relief Commission, who was here to inspect the work and records of the Mills county committee. Mr. Thompson was very complimentary of the way the committee was operating and stated that the requirements of the commission were being complied with better here and that the funds were being handled better than in most of the counties he had inspected, and that full value was being received for the money expended. He asked for samples of some of the special forms being used for the records here. He also complimented the committee on being able to continue its relief work throughout the month. A great many other counties have exhausted their resources and will be unable to grant any more relief work until new allotments have been received, he said.

Prices Still Up
Local wool men are rejoicing over the good prices being paid here for wool. As high as 22 1-2 cents is reported to have been paid here this week for choice clips, and a number of sales have been made from 21 to 22c. Although the market was slightly weaker yesterday, it was still averaging three times last year's price.

Butter fat will take another jump to 23c next week, the Goldthwaite Dairy Products Co. has announced. For the past two weeks the price has been 21c. Prior to that it was 18c, and as low as 15c was reached before President Roosevelt was inaugurated. Milk receipts have increased rapidly as a result of the higher prices.

Horse Races Okehd
By a vote of 78 to 41, the Texas house of representatives this week voted to legalize betting on horse races in Texas. More than enough votes to pass the measure in the senate were mustered yesterday.

Highway No. 7 May Be Held Up

A single strip of right of way only 300 feet long is holding up the acceptance by the state of the new right of way for highway 7 between Goldthwaite and the Brown county line. This section of the new road is in Mullin, but joint action by the county and Mullin city officials will be required to secure the land and deed it properly to the state.

A jury of view has been appointed to convene next week and determine the value of the land. Judge L. E. Patterson stated yesterday. They will also pass on a small tract crossed by the paved loop the highway department has agreed to build in Mullin connecting the main highway with the business section of the town.

Until these tracts have been properly acquired, the highway department will not ask for bids for contracts to construct the new highway.

CLASS SOCIAL

The T. E. L. class met in a business and social meeting May 16, at the beautiful mountain home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McCullough.

An interesting program was rendered, the subject being stewardship. Plans for the future of the class were discussed, after which the class went into the election of officers. We are expecting our class to take on new life with the plans that are in the making.

It is said to get things coming your way, it is first necessary to go after them, so let's go after new members and not be satisfied until we are one hundred per cent class each Sunday. Mrs. McCullough, assisted by members of the class, served a beautiful refreshment plate consisting of pressed turkey sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, iced tea, cake and jelly.

It was indeed a pleasure to enjoy the hospitality of this home—real southern hospitality—and to admire the artistic needle work of our hostess. We hope to be invited back again soon.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Allen Ross and daughter, Miss Norma Sue. A GUEST.

Methodist Notes

The past week has been both busy and enjoyable. Two days were spent at the district conference at Llano. The sessions were enjoyable and I trust profitable to all the Goldthwaite Methodists who were there.

It was the privilege of this scribe to be entertained, together with two ladies from Lampasas, in the hospitable home of Mr. W. W. Hart and family, friends of other years. The entire family, which includes Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Miss Mary, a fine young lady, and Joe, a youngster of seven summers, really embarrassed us with their unstinted hospitality. We really all felt we were in the hands of our friends, and so we were. We regretted very much not to have met the two young men of the home, who are attending the Texas University. Mr. Hart is of the opinion that he is superintendent of the best school system in Texas, and the people of Llano are just as enthusiastic as to the superintendent; a mutual admiration society in other words.

It was my privilege, Friday of last week, accompanied by Rev. S. O. Hammond, to visit the closing exercises of the Hurst school, just over the line in Hamilton county. Both were invited to make talks on prohibition. I wonder if anyone else in Texas has been invited to speak at the close of any school on this subject? The probable reason why we were invited to speak on this subject is in the fact that Mr. Horton and his sister, who taught there, are in accord with the effort of those who are trying to keep Texas dry. May their tribe increase.

I might as well say here what has long been on my mind: Rev. S. O. Hammond is an embodiment of the highest degree of brotherliness as is to be found this side of the better world.

He can, at any time go any place, and do anything at his own expense, and smile at the most adverse circumstances as if he really enjoyed it all. He can start on a long trip, break down, be hauled back home for repairs, and treat the whole thing as a great joke while others look like they had met with a great calamity. He seems at all times obsessed with the idea: "Smile and the world smiles with you."

The people called Methodists, together with many not so-called, had a great day at the Methodist church Sunday. The house was filled to capacity to listen to and enjoy the program put on by the orchestra and Glee club from the Methodist Home of Waco. These children came to command Mills county for anything they want. If they want a truck load of eggs, a hundred and fifty goats, a car of canned goods a hundred chickens, cash, or anything else, all they have to do is to speak up. The entertainment put on by these youngsters was at the top of several they have given here which is saying much for all have been good. The climax of the entertainment was reached when Dr. Barnett, superintendent of the home, presented one of our Mills county children. All remembered when she went away as a mere child, with five others from the home, robbed by death of both father and mother. Now she had returned almost a young woman, cultured, educated, beautiful. I doubt if there was a dry eye in the house, when she stood so grandly before this admiring audience.

The entire program convinced me a conviction I have always had, however, that our greatest investment is in the youths of our country. The money invested in them may be only "an intangible asset", still it is worth more than all the stocks and bonds of the financial universe. Our biggest asset is not in cattle, horses, hogs, sheep and goats, valuable as these may be, but in the children. Upon these depend the future of our country. Texas has several homes for neglected and underprivileged children, and needs many more. Let our people rally to their support. The sacrificial spirit of Doctor Barnett and his wife can not be estimated in dollars and cents: Eternity will reveal the true value. May the Methodist church of the great southwest rally as never before to the support of this providential institution. Its value could be doubled and tripled, if our people would furnish the sinews of war—mere money. I mean.

HEART O' TEXAS LEAGUE MEET

The Heart O' Texas League Meet will be held at the Methodist church at Center City Sunday. We have prepared a program for your benefit. Lunch will be served to all. We invite everyone of you to come the morning. Visit our Sunday school and spend the day with us. X

Ebony Suffers Storm Damage

In response to belated storm reports from Ebony, in the extreme western part of Mills county, Goldthwaite citizens yesterday were co-operating with the churches and the local chapter of the Red Cross in collecting furniture, clothing and other supplies to be sent with Red Cross flour to the storm sufferers.

One truck load of supplies was carried out yesterday by County Commissioner J. H. Burnett, and he will take another load today. R. F. C. relief workers have been offered to the stricken community by the Mills county relief committee to aid in rebuilding and restoring damaged public property there.

Storm Was Severe

The following account of the storm was written by the Eagle's Ebony correspondent:

Ebony was the victim of a real storm last week and was really entitled to feature in a first page news story, but so defective is our means of communication with the outside world that not even our own county paper got an inkling of our plight.

The storm was Wednesday night, May 19, the same time as that which struck Brownwood. No lives were lost—thanks to the many storm houses in this community—but there were many homes wrecked. The homes of R. V. Beeman, Mrs. Irene Reeves, Edward Egger, Dewey Smith, Victor Kincaid, Lloyd Neal, and Mrs. Maud Newbury, were all torn to pieces. The Baptist church and tabernacle were blown down, and the Church of Christ church house and tabernacle were blown down. P. M. Sawyer's house was blown off the blocks and badly damaged. The portico to P. R. Reid's residence was blown down, the store was partially blown off the blocks and the gin was blown down.

The men of the neighborhood have been giving their services, trying to help the homeless construct some kind of shelter out of the wrecks.

The rain and storm continued most of the night Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Neal were not in a storm house, but were in a ditch most of the time after their house blew away, yet they escaped unharm.

Tom Perkins was at his sister's Mrs. Newbury. They were busy with supper and were not noticing the storm, when suddenly the house fell about them and they crawled out to the cellar. Mr. Perkins' house was badly damaged, he found next day. He has no storm house, so when a storm threatened another night he brought all his family to Meek Russell's, where they could have the protection of a storm house. Outhouses were damaged at Dick Singleton's, Bob Egger's, Mrs. Nellie Malone's and Billie McNurlin's. Much timber was blown down everywhere. The school house was damaged some. Since the storm much rain fell Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night.

TUESDAY STUDY CLUB GIVES LOVELY TEA

As a conclusion to its year's work, the Tuesday Study Club entertained the members of the clubs of the town, together with their many friends, with a seated tea at the home of Mrs. R. E. Clements on May 6.

The spring motif predominated in the colors blue, green and white. The table was attractive with its Irish lace cover and miniature marine scene, illuminated with burning tapers. While the guests were being served a salad course, music was furnished by Dick Weatherby, Floyce Aileen Dickerson, Charline Brim, Evelyn Gartman, Lillian Summy, Clara and Virginia Bowman and Mary Margaret Bigham.

The program for the afternoon consisted of a book review presented most skillfully by Mrs. Magee of Brownwood. She reviewed Charles Morgan's popular novel, "The Fountain."

Members of the house party were presidents of the various clubs Mrs. R. E. Clements, Mrs. Roy Rowntree, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. R. V. Littlepage, Miss Vivian Campbell, Mrs. Clements' sister, Mrs. Emerson of Brownwood, Mrs. Magee and members of the club.

MARRIED AT CENTER POINT

Lester Adams of South Bennett and Miss Lorena Higgins of Star were married at the residence of Rev. J. D. Long in Center Point community Wednesday night. That gentleman officiating. The young couple was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Virgil Terry of this city. They will make their home in South Bennett community. They have a great many friends who extend good wishes to them.

COMMUNITY LETTERS BY EAGLE CORRESPONDENTS

CENTER CITY

Fine rains fell here the first of the week and everything is growing fast. Farmers are busy with their crops, shearing sheep, etc.

Our school closes this week. We have had another successful school year. All our teachers were re-elected and now we look forward to a better one next term. A picnic lunch will be served at school today (Friday), also an all day program will be rendered by the pupils.

A large number, perhaps a majority of Center City people attended the closing program and barbecue at North Bennett last Friday. All report a most enjoyable time. Miss Lois Blackwell closed her second term at that place. We are all proud of Lois and wish for her the best of success at Mount Olive next term.

STAR

The school year of 1932-33 is drawing to a close. There are sad thoughts being intermingled with thoughts of happiness. We are happy to know that we soon shall part aside the troublesome problems of school life, but the thoughts arise when we begin to realize that our schoolmates of the senior class will not be with us again. We feel their leave-taking so keenly that we forgive them all their domineering ways and scornful manners, which they have assumed toward the rest of us.

The class roll is as follows: Lorena Higgins, valedictorian; Loraine Knowles, salutatorian; Faye Thompson, Ona Ghent, Carmen Lucas, Mildred Collier, Opal Gordon, Nelson Shave, Albert Hamilton, Avery Lee, Avery House, Alton Lee and Olen Teague.

Those graduating from the seventh grade are Vela Stephan, valedictorian; Grace Waddill, salutatorian; Violet Petrey, Delala Witty, Cuba Lucas, Vera Horton, Ima Pearl Hurst, Dewayne Harper, Myrl Hamilton and Edward Gummelt.

The pupils of the third, fourth and fifth grades are rejoicing over a promotion of about 87 per cent. Those making the highest averages are Eileen Roberts of the fifth grade, Stoddard Gerald and Ione Waddill and Viola Collier tied for honors in the third grade.

The seniors went on their annual picnic last Thursday. This event was immensely enjoyed by all. A real thrill was acquired by crossing the river on a hickory log, where the chaperone, Mrs. Thompson, could not follow. At the lunch time delicious sandwiches, cakes and fruit were relished. The enormous amount of lemonade might have been tasteful, had we drunk it instead of pouring it all over each other. After lunch the boys enjoyed a refreshing swim.

The senior reception was enjoyed by all present Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Collier were kind in giving the seniors this opportunity of a real nice time together. So far this has been the crowning event of the year.

Sunday was a cool day, so no one went to Sunday school that I heard of. Some had company and others were visiting.

Bro. J. R. Davis was to preach Sunday at 11 and there was to be a Mother's Day program, too. I didn't learn why Bro. Davis failed to preach.

There were thirteen at B. Y. P. U. Sunday night. The subject was "Our Mothers." The program was fine. Mrs. John Roberts played special music, which was pretty.

The prayer meeting on Saturday night has turned out to be singing, so I've been told.

In last week's letter I made a mistake, so I must correct it, for some might miss the next fifth Sunday meeting. It will be Caradan and not Trigger Mountain. The association will be at Trigger Mountain.

As I write we are getting a rain. We need a real good, slow rain.

Landy Ellis and Richard Sowers wives' people from San Saba county spent Saturday night and Sunday with them. I failed to get everybody's name.

Mrs. E. L. Pass and Leona from town and Mrs. Pass' mother and sister from Copperas Cove spent Friday with Mr. Pass and mother.

Several from here went to Big Valley Friday night. It was the best play Big Valley ever put on. Some went to Center Point. All reported it a good play.

Ashley Weathers and wife, who live across the bayou, are very proud of their son, who has come to make his home with them. They feel like now, in about 15 or 20 years they will have lots of help on the farm.

Claud Holley and wife from Gonzales, Joe Roberts and family from town dined with their mother, Mrs. Nickols, Sunday. Dwight Nickols and wife from town spent an hour in the afternoon in the same home. Fred McClary and Rudolph Cooke also feasted and Herbert Cooke and Joe A. Davis dropped by at supper time.

Glenn Nickols from town spent Saturday night and Sunday with his mother.

Elbert Davis and wife were called to Brownwood one day last week. Their daughter was in a car accident. I am glad to say they found here not injured very badly.

Mmes. Traylor, Nickols and Daniel and daughters spent last Wednesday afternoon visiting Mmes. Robertson and Turner in Big Valley.

James Nickols traded his mule for a horse Saturday.

Jack Robertson and Rudolph Cooke are really working. They are hoeing corn for W. A. Daniel.

Glenn Nickols from town joined Shirley Nickols and Wick Webb in a fox hunt Monday afternoon.

Miss Ima Gene DeHay from Brownwood visited in the Dewbre home this week.

Nellie D. Cooke and Ethel McClary spent Monday in the Nickols home.

Ben Davis and sons from Rabbit Ridge visited his father and brother Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. O. McClary visited Mrs. J. C. Stark one afternoon last week.

Mrs. Jim Circle is visiting her parents in San Saba county.

The Big Valley ball team disappointed our team and the Rabbit Ridge team Sunday by not coming for a game.

Mrs. Homer Doggett and daughter visited in Dwight Nickols' and Joe Roberts' homes the early part of the week.

Harvey Dunkle has been complaining with rheumatism lately.

Jack Robertson, the broncho rider, let a wild horse throw him into a wire fence Monday morning. He didn't get a scratch, just tore his shirt—another job for mother.

Nellie D. Cooke spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. J. C. Stark.

Mrs. Eula Nickols made a pop call in J. R. Davis' home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Jess Cockrum and Katherine visited in the McClary home Monday afternoon.

J. O. McClary and Fred are building a car shed this week.

Some from here went to Center Point Sunday afternoon to the singing. Don't forget, Center Point, to pay this back the fourth Sunday afternoon. BUSY BEE.

BULLS CREEK

Mrs. Jenkins has returned from an extended visit from West Texas with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Boswell and little son visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nowell Sunday.

Mrs. Buster Oneal spent Sunday evening with her home folk—the Renfro family.

Mrs. J. B. Alvis, Mrs. Myrtle Miller and two daughters, and Mrs. Watson Miller and small son visited Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Nowell last Saturday.

Morris Sellers spent Wednesday afternoon with Carlton and Herbert Renfro.

Mrs. J. H. Burnett made Mrs. M. V. Nowell a short call Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McConal and Adolf Hefner spent Sunday afternoon in the Frank Insall home.

Mrs. Ben McConal had relatives to spend Saturday night with her.

Billie Insall came near getting rattlesnake bitten late Sunday evening.

Vesuvius Sellers visited Lore Renfro Monday.

Mrs. Jenkins spent Saturday night with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Nowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonzo Wilkerson spent the day Thursday with Frank Insall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben McConal spent Sunday on China Creek, visiting her relatives.

PRODUCTIVE WORK IS THE TEST

Any relief program that is sound must be based upon "productive" work. We can, for example, build unnecessary post-offices, federal buildings and state houses until the taxpayers are blue in the face. A certain amount of distress will be eliminated, a certain amount of temporary employment provided, and that is all. Unless the money spent gives us something actually needed it has been wasted.

Individuals and industries must eventually provide the "productive" work. This does not mean we should refuse charities—give to them by all means. Charity in itself is a productive venture of a sort. But it is better if the same amount of money can provide normal jobs, add to the nation's purchasing power, and give the spender himself something he needs and can use.

Property improvement is "productive" work. Prices for materials and supplies of all kinds are at unprecedented low levels. Mills, factories and quarries are inactive, waiting for orders. There are millions of people in this country who can afford to spend ten or a hundred or a thousand dollars to repair a furnace, renew or replace a roof, buy and install some labor-saving appliance, overhaul an automobile, paint a home or do a multitude of similar tasks. The property-owner who does this will get his improvements at much less than their real value—and he will be putting dollars into "productive" relief work.

Remember that while honest charity is good, jobs are better and cheaper.—Industrial Review.

PRISONER CALLS FOR TOOLS, MAKES KEY AND ESCAPES

John Vellkoff's last trick was his best. Sentenced to jail in Denver, Colo., for assault, Vellkoff called for tools. He proved himself an expert carpenter, an artistic landscape gardener and a metal worker whose skill in manufacturing cell furniture was nothing less than amazing.

One day Warden James Norton surveyed John's empty cell. He learned too late that John was also a locksmith par excellence. Vellkoff had made a key, let himself out and departed.

SUSPECTS ARRESTED

From the Star-Telegram.

Four men sought by Texas Rangers in three recent bank robberies and other crimes in this section are in custody in Los Angeles, Ranger Capt. H. T. Odneal and Ranger Sid Kelso were advised Saturday.

The men were captured by Los Angeles county authorities upon information furnished by the rangers, after one of the quartet had eluded them by only a few hours. Kelso learned that the fugitives were headed toward California, after he had missed the capture of one of them at Godley a few days ago.

Kelso said an attempt will be made to return the four here for questioning, after they answer two charges of robbery in California. A part of the merchandise taken in the California robberies was recovered by the two rangers Friday.

Six Guns Among the Loot

The recovered loot consisted of a radio taken in the robbery of a Western Auto Supply Company store in Glendale, Cal., and six guns taken in the robbery of a Sears, Roebuck & Co. store at Long Beach, Cal.

The men are believed to be responsible for the robbery of the First National Bank of Grandview on March 6, the Citizens State Bank of Knox City on March 30, and the Farmers & Merchants Bank of Priddy on March 31. The combined loot in the three robberies amounted to nearly $28,000.

Similarity of the three methods used in each of the three robberies led rangers to believe they were committed by the same persons. In each case the robbers captured a hostage, in two instances a nightwatchman, and in the third a filling station attendant, cut the telephone wires into the town, and burned their way into the vaults of the banks with an acetylene torch.

A shotgun left behind by the bank robbers after looting the Priddy bank was of the same kind as the recovered weapons stolen from the mail order store in California, the rangers said.

The four men also have been identified from their photographs, and one of them named in a confession by another person, as the robbers who held up a packing company office in Dallas about six weeks ago and escaped with $1500. The same quartet is blamed for the holdup of a store at Handley a short time before the Dallas packing company robbery.

Three of them have been sought by postoffice authorities in the recent robbery of two railway postal employes in which six packs of registered mail were stolen.

The two California offenses occurred shortly before the series of bank robberies in this state.

HOW SHE LOST 29 POUNDS IN 3 MONTHS

"I am using your Kruschen Salts to reduce and I've used a bottle and a half and dieted some and lost 29 pounds in 3 months. I feel so much better and intend to keep on taking the Salts as I was almost 50 pounds overweight." Mrs. Thelma Graveley, Roseville, Calif., (Jan 11, 1933).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world, but be sure and get Kruschen Salts, the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living — money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

Meal Planning

How much should a family spend for food? The answer to that question depends upon how well planned the food budget is. A simple, thoroughly practical way to divide the food dollar is explained carefully in an attractive booklet, "Planning Meals," which may be secured free of charge at the Eagle office.

Chapter headings of the booklet are as follows: Two Pictures, Vegetables and Fruit, Meat, Fish and Eggs, Differences in Proteins, The Place of Milk in the Diet, Bread and Cereals, Our Diets Are Improving, Fats and Sweets, Planning the Day's Meals, How Much to Eat and Checking Back on Yourself.

The booklets have been furnished to the Eagle by the State Health Department at Austin. If you want a copy, just come in and ask for one.

MAY DAY

In Communist Moscow 350 airplanes droned their way over the Red Square as thousands of uniformed comrades in the bolshevik army marched past the mausoleum of Lenin in tribute to his memory. In Fascist Berlin the Lustgarten was jammed with cheering German youths who hailed Hitler with patriotic frenzy as the hope of the nation. In that Democratic country which is America, in the city of Chicago, Communists hurled bombs with deadly precision into the haunts of the hated industrial class.

Thus was May Day celebrated across the world, and it would be well for the people of the United States soberly to take stock of themselves and their institutions as they read of outrages on this side of the Atlantic, of oppression across the ocean. If Hitler is right, America is wrong, and so with Joseph Stalin. The German is for the dictatorship of the Right, the Russian for the dictatorship of the Left. America is or was for the rule of the majority, for the rights of the many against the privileges of the few, whether those few be capitalists or Communists.

In a world of changing ideals and traditions, the echoes of May Day in Europe and America still ring in the ears of Americans who care for the old ways, the old standards, the old opportunities. The troublous times through which the nations have been passing gave the opponents of Democratic governments and institutions a rare chance to tear down. It remains to be seen whether or not those peoples which still cling to the old order of things can readjust their system so that it can maintain its prestige and benefit its citizens at one and the same time. —Houston Chronicle.

ILLINOIS SALES TAX UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Illinois' 3 per cent retail sales tax was held unconstitutional last week by the Illinois supreme Court on the ground that it was not uniform. The law exempted farm products and motor fuel products sold at retail. The decision was unanimous with two justices specially concurring.

"By imposing a tax upon persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail," the court said, "the legislature designated one class upon which the tax was imposed. Having designated one class, the legislature then attempted to exclude from that class farmers selling their own products. Such exclusion results in an improper classification and the act is not uniform in its application to the class on which it operates and cannot be sustained. Likewise, the act in exempting the business of selling motor fuel at retail exempts without basis in fact from such class a business belonging thereto, and so violates the uniform requirements of the constitution."

MORE PUSH

They say the depression is soon to react in returned prosperity. They say again that the farmer is the first to feel the crisis and the last to be relieved of his present vexing burden. I have heard old "Mr. They Say" talk all my life and have come to believe that he is not very careful at times about his gossip.

I am saying two or more things about the times. In the first place, some folk think of a crisis only in terms of financial decline. Our worst crisis is not a financial one. The money condition has been too bad. I don't wonder that every conceivable force is being employed to get business back on its feet. Had the same energy been exerted on moral lines, there would have been no financial depression.

Then again, we have taken business decline too much to heart in refusing to contemplate the ground of happiness and success. Our business has been so much interrupted that we allow ourselves interrupted beyond limit. Some of the best things of life come by way of interruptions. Samuel Morse once visited in Europe. He was indeed poor, but he loved his parents and it took a month or more to hear from them. He kept puzzling over a sentence that he had memorized at Yale. "If the circuit of electricity be interrupted, the fluid will become visible and when it passes, will leave an impression upon any intermediate body." It is said he paced the deck of his ship all night studying the bewitching current and interruption of electricity. When morning came he had worked out a code with all its varied and extensive uses and we have it.

The young wife finds it necessary all at once to cancel her engagements. She retires from the view and activities of the world. Later society receives her again with a sweet babe in her arms. The babe, with proper training is destined to move kingdoms and build nations. We all came by way of just such interruptions and why should we require a smooth, open road all the way?

Should a highjacker rob our boy or daughter of very much money, it's too bad. We rave until the thief is brought to justice and the money restored. If the devil ropes boy or daughter thru public practice into Sunday ball games or Sunday picture shows, why that's the way of others, that's too common to alarm one. We're better to be robbed a thousand times of much money than fall in worthy character and moral dignity. My hat is off to the man or woman who scorns and shames such evils, as out of the question. I greet such man or woman heartily, even though I walk through a mud-hole to honor them. SAM SAY

Dollar A Day Paradise Is The Traveler's Dream

A book has just been published in New York that is likely to depopulate that city and send the inhabitants scurrying over the Atlantic to the Balearic Islands. The name of the book is "What Price Mallorca" which is harmless enough, but it has the alluring sub-title of "Paradise at a Dollar a Day." It seemed too good to be true so I meandered over to the Hotel Algonquin the other afternoon and bearded the author in his suite, writes Margaret Conias in the San Antonio Light.

"Mr. Waxman," I said, "how about this Paradise at a dollar a day. Is it true?"
"It certainly is," he replied, "and as a matter of fact I know several places in Mallorca where you can get a room and three meals a day for 80 cents."
"What sort of accommodation would you get for that?"
"Well," he said, "you'd get a well furnished single room, with linen sheets and a linen pillow case on the bed and all incredibly clean, too. Then you'd get fruit, coffee and rolls for breakfast; fish, meat, rice, cheese, dessert and fruit for lunch and for dinner, soup, chicken, two or three vegetables, dessert and free wine."

"Stop, you're breaking my heart," I cried.
"And," continued Mr. Waxman, completely disregarding my agony, "for $1.80 a day you

MARRIAGE

Mr. Albert Vahrnkamp of Calene and Miss Oleta Ledbetter of Chappel Hill community came to the Hays home the eleventh instance and were happily made man and wife. Mr. Vahrnkamp comes spoken of as a very fine young man. Miss Oleta grew to womanhood in Chappel Hill locality and has taught in the public schools in various parts of Mills county. She will be much missed in these parts, as the young couple are to make their future home at Calene. They start life together under good promise and fine prospects and we wish their joys multiplied by thousands. L. L. HAYS.

MARSHMALLOW ICE CREAM

Marshmallows give a lovely smoothness to an ice cream mixture—a lovely flavor.

One cup sugar, 1-4 cup water, 1-2 pound marshmallows, 2 egg whites, 1 tablespoon vanilla, 1 1-2 cups heavy cream.

Bring sugar and water to the boiling point and let boil until mixture spins a thread. Remove from range and add marshmallows cut in quarters. When partly melted beat with a rotary beater until mixture is smooth. Pour gradually onto the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, beating constantly until cold. Add vanilla and fold in cream which has been beaten until it will hold its shape. Freeze, using three parts of finely chopped ice and one part of rock salt. Or pour into the tray of freezing unit and let freeze for half an hour; stir mixtures and return to unit to finish freezing.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

H. J. R. NO. 43

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That subsection (a), of Section 20 of Article XVI, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

(a) The manufacture, sale, barter or exchange in the State of Texas of spirituous vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication, or any other intoxicant whatever except vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight, (except for medicinal, mechanical, scientific or sacramental purposes) are each and all hereby prohibited. The Legislature shall enact laws to enforce this Section, and may from time to time prescribe regulations and limitations relative to the manufacture, sale, barter, exchange or possession for sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight, (except for medicinal, mechanical, scientific or sacramental purposes) whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct, town or city may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale for beverage purpose of vinous or malt liquors containing not more than three and two-tenths (3.2%) alcohol by weight shall be prohibited within the prescribed limits; and provided further that in all counties in the State of Texas and in all political subdivisions thereof, wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article 16, of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county or in any such political subdivision thereof, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters, capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicant whatsoever, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in said county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine it to be lawful to manufacture, sell, barter and exchange in said county or political subdivision thereof, any spirituous or malt liquors containing not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight. Those voters opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the following words: "Against the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, authorizing the sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight."

Section 2. The foregoing amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held throughout the state on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933. At this election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballot the following words: "For the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, authorizing the sale of vinous or malt liquors of not more than three and two-tenths per cent (3.2%) alcoholic content by weight."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for such election and to have same published as required by the Constitution and Amendments thereto. W. W. HEATH, Secretary of State. (A Correct Copy)

BIBLE STUDY

Mrs. Harry Palmer entertained Circle No. 3, in her home Monday afternoon from 2 till 4. For our devotional Mrs. Flora Jackson read the 34th Psalm.

We were indeed glad to have our president, Mrs. E. B. Anderson, with us. She led our Bible study, which was very inspiring.

We just took a part of the Psalms and will finish the rest in our next lesson.

Mrs. Palmer served a lovely plate of fruit gelatin and cake. We are glad to welcome our pastor and wife to our little town and feel like that he has cast his lot with the best people on earth.

May we all co-operate together and be co-laborers for the ongoing of His Kingdom and the advancement of His great work. We will meet with Mrs. Luther Rudd next Monday. REPORTER

YOU SHOULD HEAR AND SEE "SAFETY FIRST"

This play will be staged in the Goldthwaite High school auditorium Tuesday night, May 23, by the "Sons of Rest" of Priddy. You should hear and see this thrilling play. You will always wonder who and what's next. This is a play that's different from all others. Come and see—Safety First. Plenty of good music. Price of admission will be very little. Don't forget the date.

HIGH SCHOOL

After a severe attack of examinations and spring fever we are glad to be free of our cares and troubles for a few months. Vacation is always welcome, after a few strenuous months of school.

Our closing day program will begin at 10:30 today (May 19). It will be a joint program sponsored by the three divisions of our school. Several of our friends from Goldthwaite have promised to be with us in this program. Then dinner will be served. In the afternoon there will be several baseball games. Our juniors will play a team from Midway. The outsiders do not have a game matched at the date of this writing, but we are sure to have an enjoyable day, so we ask you to come and be with us.

The play we are presenting tonight is "Let Toby Do It." The cast is as follows: Toby Perkins (a boy of all work) — Sammie Roberts. Roxy (a great help) — Eva Koen. Lizzie Evans (somewhat crooked) — Nadine Hodges. Frank Dalton (from the city) — Doris McCarty. Uncle Josh Simpson (everybody's friend) — Chas. Roberts. Henry Simpson (his son) — Cecil Scott. Mary Sanders (Uncle Josh's ward) — Alma McArthur.

This is a rural comedy drama in four acts with lots of laughs. Come and help us enjoy our last play of the year.

NONSENSE

The following conversation is reported between Mr. Roberts and his lady friend:
She: You remind me of the sea.
Mr. Roberts: Wild, restless and romantic?
She: No, you make me sick.
Mr. Poer asked his health class what would stop falling hair.
"The floor," answered the bright pupil.
Women used to look in the mirror to see if their hats were on straight. Now they look in the

CENTER POINT

The rainy weather last week end greatly interfered with our church services. There was only a small crowd at each service. Our school closed last week, completing another successful term. Much good work has been accomplished through the constant efforts of the students and teachers to make this year's work count. The pupils were ready for a vacation, but will soon be looking forward to the opening of the next term. We will have the same teachers again for another year.

The plays Thursday and Friday nights were greatly enjoyed by large crowds.

Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Curb of near Duster spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Newman.

Mrs. Arthur Neely and Miss Loraine Duey went to their home Saturday, after teaching a successful school term here.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Harmon and children spent Tuesday in the Joe Spinks home.

Singing Sunday afternoon was attended by quite a large crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. George French and children of Duren visited in the L. W. French home Tuesday night.

Cone Sullivan of Big Valley spent Saturday night and Sunday with Carl Spinks.

Bro. Renfro spent Saturday night with Edgar Jenkins. Johnnie Taylor is staying at Goldthwaite with his grandmother, Mrs. J. S. Wesson, and is employed with the construction gang.

Misses Era and Vera King of near Mullin spent the week end with Alva and Adeline Spinks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith, Mrs. Hallford and Mrs. Ida Smith visited in the Conner home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Lawson and children visited his parents on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson visited in the Spinks home Sunday.

Miss Arlie Taylor is getting along nicely after an attack of influenza.

B. I. Lawson and Kyle went fishing Tuesday afternoon, but report very little success.

Weldon Hill of the Lake Merritt community is a frequent visitor to our community.

There was a fatal accident in our community Tuesday morning, when Tex Brady, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Newman, met death at the hands of an accidental discharge of a gun. Reports are that Mr. Brady left home about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning to hunt the turkeys. He was a great lover of hunting and usually carried his gun when about the pastures. He was gone from the house nearly an hour, when he was found dead. The accident occurred only a short distance from the house. Evidence shows that he had gone through a fence and some of his clothing hung on the fence, causing by some unknown way the gun to go off. The bullet entered the lower left side of his body and traveled upward. It is supposed he lived only a few minutes, but all indications are he did not die instantly. The

SOUTH BENNETT

There were 76 present at Sunday school Sunday. The Mother's Day program was enjoyed by everybody.

Rev. Davee preached for us in the afternoon.

M. L. Casbeer, Will Horton and Virgil Casbeer attended the program given by the orphan children Sunday at the Methodist church in Goldthwaite.

Mrs. M. L. Casbeer has been visiting her mother the past week.

Mrs. Cicero Warren and Rev. Davee ate dinner in the J. M. Stacy home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Casbeer and family, Charline Warren, Frank Benningfield and Evelyn Covington spent Sunday in the Clyde Featherston home.

Berlin Whit and Vernon Samples were shearing sheep in the community last week.

Dan Covington has traded for a Willys Knight automobile.

Ben Casbeer, Evelyn Covington, Aaron Stacy and Charline Warren spent Thursday in the Featherston home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Morris visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simpson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hill spent Saturday night in the Laughlin home.

We elected a superintendent and teachers for Sunday school Sunday. Mr. Moore was re-elected superintendent, and teachers are as follows: Mr. Webb for class No. 1; Willing Worker, Mr. Moore, class No. 3. Mrs. Moore, re-elected, and class No. 4, Mrs. J. M. Casbeer.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Featherston, Frank Benningfield, Evelyn Covington, Ben Casbeer, Charline Warren and George Wayne Featherston went to Pleasant Grove, even if it did look like rain.

Valera Stacy spent Sunday night with Vernadine Warren.

Mildred and Murel Herrington visited Florine and Earline Simpson Sunday.

Zella B. Conway returned home Saturday from Star, where she has been working.

The people of this community met Saturday and worked the cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Poer entertained the young people of this community with a dance Saturday night.

Folks, we'll let you in on a secret—it's chigger time.

CARADAN

Everything is looking good in and around Caradan since the late rains.

Saturday and Sunday were our church days. Bro. Hays preached four good sermons, which were enjoyed by all.

Everybody come to Sunday school Sunday morning at ten o'clock. We are planning a children's day service the second Sunday in June and want all the children and young people to help in the program.

Mrs. A. J. Cline returned from San Antonio Sunday, where she had been visiting her mother and other relatives, and staying with Alvin in the hospital. We are glad to report Alvin is improving.

Mrs. Stame Harwell and children visited in the home of W. W. Reynolds Sunday evening, also Mrs. Roy Harwell and little son, Laura and Earl Jackson.

Bro. and Sister Hays visited her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swindall, Sunday after church.

Everyone remember Sunday is Bro. Joe Benningfield's regular Sunday to preach at 11 o'clock and Sunday night, too.

Sunday evening is singing at Caradan. Everyone attend the church services, Sunday school and singing. We need your cooperation and appreciate your help at Caradan.

Our school is preparing two plays for their closing exercises. Everyone has an invitation to attend. The title of one is "The Black Heifer," the other is "The Hoo Dooded Coon." Come—laugh a little. It helps drive away blues.

Aubrey Cline is shearing sheep for M. Denton. XXXX

PICNIC AT PRIDDY

There is to be a school picnic at Priddy today (May 19) at which time there will be baseball games and other amusement. The Gatesville reformatory band will furnish the music and there will be a basket dinner and supper on the grounds. The general public has an invitation to participate.

body was found by Jim Simpson, brother of Henry Simpson, of Rock Springs community. The body was laid to rest in the Williams Ranch cemetery Wednesday morning. He leaves a wife and other relatives to mourn over his sudden death. Relatives have the sympathy of all of us.

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich.

May 9, 1933

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future.

Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS S. J. R. NO. 3.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of Texas be amended by adding thereto a section to be Section 3, which shall provide:

"Section 3. (1) Holding the belief that the highest degree of local self government which is consistent with the efficient conduct of those affairs by necessity lodged in the Nation and the State will prove most responsive to the will of the people, and result to reward their diligence and intelligence by greater economy and efficiency in their local governmental affairs, it hereby is ordained:

"(2) Any county having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more according to the then last Federal Census may adopt a County Home Rule Charter, to embrace those powers appropriate hereto, within the specific limitations hereinafter provided. It further is provided that the Legislature, by a favoring vote of two-thirds of the total membership of both the Senate and the House of Representatives, may authorize any county having a population less than that above specified to proceed hereunder for the adoption of a Charter; however, as a condition for such authorization, it is required that notice of the intent to seek Legislative authority hereunder must be published in one or more newspapers, to give general circulation in the county affected, not less than once per week for four (4) consecutive weeks, and the first of such publications shall appear not less than thirty (30) days next prior to the time an Act making proposal hereunder may be introduced in the Legislature. No County Home Rule Charter may be adopted by any county save upon a voting vote of the resident qualified electors of the affected county. In elections submitting to the voters a proposal to adopt a Charter (unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature) the votes cast by the qualified electors residing within the limits of all the incorporated cities and towns of the county shall be separately counted but collectively counted and the votes of the qualified electors of the county who do not reside within the limits of any incorporated city or town likewise shall be separately counted and separately counted, and unless there be a favoring majority of the votes cast without such collective cities and towns, the Charter shall not be adopted. It is expressly forbidden that any such Charter may in any way affect the operation of the General Laws of the State relating to the judicial tax, fiscal educational, police, highway and health systems, or any other department of the State's superior government. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the adoption of a Charter provision inimical to or inconsistent with the sovereignty and established public policies of this State and no provision having such effect shall be validly as against the State. No Charter provision may operate to impair the exemption of homesteads as established by this Constitution and the Statutes relating thereto.

"(3) a. A Charter hereunder may provide: The continuance of a County Commissioners' Court, as now constituted, to serve as the governing body of a county to operate hereunder; or, may provide for a governing body otherwise constituted, which shall be elective, and service therein shall be upon such qualifications, for such terms, under such plan of representation, and upon such conditions of tenure and compensation as may be fixed by any such Charter. The terms for service in such governing body may exceed two (2) years, but shall not exceed six (6) years. In any event in addition to the powers and duties provided by any such Charter, such governing body shall exercise all powers and discharge all duties which, in the absence of the provisions hereof, would devolve by law on County Commissioners and County Commissioners' Courts. Further, any such Charter may provide for the organization, re-organization, establishment and administration of the government of the county, including the control and regulation of the performance of all duties required in the conduct of the county affairs, subject to the limitations herein provided.

"b. A Charter hereunder may provide (that Judges of County Courts, including that County Court designated in this Constitution), and Justices of the Peace be compensated upon a salary basis in lieu of fees. The jurisdiction of the County Court designated in this Constitution, and the duties of the Justices thereof, may be confined to that general jurisdiction of a Probate Court which elsewhere is defined in this Constitution. The office of Justice of the Peace may be made either elective or appointive. Other than as herein provided, no such charter shall provide for altering the jurisdiction or procedure of any court. The duties of District Attorney and or County Attorney may be confined to representing the State in civil cases to which the State is a party and to enforcement of the State's Penal Code, and the compensation of said attorneys may be fixed on a salary basis in lieu of fees.

"c. Save as hereinabove and hereinafter otherwise provided, such Charters, within the limits expressed therein, may invest the governing body to be established for any county electing to operate hereunder with the power to create, consolidate or abolish any office or department, whether created by other provisions of the constitution or by statute, define the duties thereof, fix the compensation for service therein, qualifications and conditions of tenure in any such office, save, that no such Charter other than as hereinbefore authorized, shall provide to regulate the status, service, duties or compensation of members of the Legislature, Judges of the Courts, District Attorneys, County Attorneys, or any office whatever by the law of the State required to be filled by an election embracing more than one county. Excepting herefrom nominations, elections or appointments to offices, the terms whereof may not have expired prior to the adoption of this Amendment to the Constitution, at such time as a Charter provision adopted hereunder may be in effect (save as to those offices which must continue to be elective, as herein elsewhere specified), all terms of county officers and all contracts for the giving of service by deputies under such officers, may be subject to termination by the administrative body of the county, under an adopted Charter so providing, and there shall be no liability by reason thereof.

"d. Any county electing to operate hereunder shall have the power, by Charter provision, to levy, assess and collect taxes, and to fix the maximum rate for ad valorem taxes to be levied for specific purposes, in accordance with the Constitution and laws of this State, provided, however, that the limit of the aggregate taxes which may be levied, assessed and collected hereunder shall not exceed the limit of total fixed, or hereafter to be fixed, by this Constitution to control counties, and the annual assessment upon property, both real, personal and mixed, shall be a first superior and prior lien thereon.

"e. In addition to the powers herein provided, and in addition to powers included in County Home Rule Charters, any county may, by a majority vote of the qualified electors of said county, amend its Charter to include other powers, functions, duties and rights which now or hereafter may be provided by this Constitution and the statutes of the State for counties.

"(4) Any county operating hereunder shall have the power to borrow money for all purposes lawful under its Charter, to include the refunding of a lawful debt, in a manner conforming to the General Laws of the State, and may issue therefor its obligations. Such obligations, other than those to refund a lawful debt, shall not be valid unless authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the area affected by the taxes required to retire such obligations, who may vote thereon. In cases of county obligations, maturing after a period of five (5) years, the same shall be issued to mature serially fixing the first maturity of principal at a time not to exceed two (2) years next after the date of the issuance of such obligations. Such obligations may pledge the full faith and credit of the county; but in no event shall the aggregate obligations so issued, in principal amount outstanding at any one time, exceed the then existing Constitutional limits for such obligations and such indebtedness and its supporting tax shall constitute a first and superior lien upon the property taxable in such county. No obligation issued hereunder shall be valid unless prior to the time of the issuance thereof there be levied a tax sufficient to retire the same as it matures, which tax shall not exceed the then existing Constitutional limits.

"(5) Such Charter may authorize the governing body of a county operating hereunder to prescribe the schedule of fees to be charged by the officers of the county for specified service, to be in lieu of the schedule for such fees prescribed by the General Laws of the State; and, to appropriate such fees to such funds as the Charter may prescribe; provided, however, no fee for a specified service shall exceed in amount the fee fixed by General Law for that same service. Such Charters as to all judicial officers, other than District Judges, may prescribe the qualifications for services, provided the standards therefor be not lower than those fixed by the General Laws of the State.

"(6) a. Subject to the express limitations upon the exercise of the powers by this subdivision to be authorized, such Charters may provide (or omit to provide) that the governmental and, or proprietary functions of any city, town, district or other defined political subdivision (which is a governmental agency and embraced within the boundaries of the county) be transferred, either as to some or all of the functions thereof, and yielded to the control of the administrative body of the county. No such transfer or yielding of functions may be effected, unless the proposal is submitted to a vote of people, and, unless otherwise provided by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of each House of the Legislature, such a proposal shall be submitted as a separate issue, and the vote within and without any such city, town, district, or other defined governmental entity, shall be separately cast and counted, and unless two-thirds of the qualified votes cast within the yielding defined governmental entity, and a majority of the qualified votes cast in the remainder of the county, favor the proposed merger, it shall not be effected. In case of the mergers hereby authorized, without express Charter provision therefor, in so far as may be required to make effective the object of the proposed merger, the county shall succeed to all the appropriate lawful powers, duties, rights, procedures, restrictions and limitations which prior to the merger were reposed in, or imposed upon, the yielding governmental agency. Particularized to provide that the power to create funded indebtedness and to levy taxes in support thereof may be exercised only by such procedure, and within such limits as now are, or hereafter may be, provided by law to control such appropriate other governmental agencies were they to be independently administered. Such mergers may be effected under proposed contracts between the county and any such yielding governmental agency, to be approved at an election as hereinbefore provided for. In order to increase governmental efficiency and effect economy the county may contract with the principal city of the county to perform one or more of its functions, provided such contracts shall not be valid for more than two (2) years.

"b. In case of the partial or complete merger of the government of a city operating under a Home Rule Charter, with the government of a county operating hereunder, those city Charter provisions affected thereby shall cease to control, and the county Charter provisions shall control.

"c. When any embraced incorporated city or town elects to merge its governmental functions with those of the county under the provisions hereof, such Charter may provide for defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, provided, however, that in defining or redefining the boundaries of such cities and towns, such boundaries may be extended only to include those areas contiguous to such cities as are urban in character; and as to such cities or towns and for the benefit thereof the county, in addition to the primary city and county tax herein authorized and any other lawful district tax, may levy and collect taxes upon the property taxable within such city or town as defined or redefined, within the limits authorized by Sections 4 and 5 of Article XI of this Constitution, or any Amendment thereof, for incorporated cities according to the population, provided that no tax greater than that existing at the time of such merger or for any added purpose shall be imposed upon any such city or town unless authorized by a majority of all votes cast by the resident qualified voters of such city or town.

"d. Areas urban in character though not incorporated, under appropriate Charter provision may be defined as such by the governing body of the county, provided, however, that no portion of the county shall be defined as an urban area unless it has sufficient population to entitle it to incorporate under the then existing laws of the State; and no such urban area, when created, shall be vested with any taxing or bonding power which it would not possess if it were operating as a separate incorporated unit under the then existing Constitutional and Statutory provisions of this State; and provided further that the governing body of the county for the government of such areas shall have and exercise all powers and authority granted by law to the governing bodies of similar areas when separately incorporated as a city or town, and such areas shall be subject to additional taxation within the same Constitutional limits as control taxation for a city or a town of like population. Likewise such Charter may provide for the governing board of the county subject to existing Constitutional and statutory provisions to define, create and administer districts, and have and exercise the powers and authority granted by the Constitution and laws relative to the same.

"(7) No provision of this Constitution inconsistent with the provisions of this Section 3, of Article IX, shall be held to control the provisions of a Charter adopted hereunder, and conforming herewith. Charters adopted hereunder shall make appropriate provision for the abandonment, revocation and amendment thereof, subject only to the requirements that there must be a favoring majority of the vote cast upon such a proposal, by the qualified resident electors of the county; and no Charter may forbid amendments thereof for a time greater than two (2) years. The provisions hereof shall be self-executing, subject only to the duty of the Legislature to pass all laws (consistent herewith) which may be necessary to carry out the intent and purposes hereof. Further, the Legislature shall prescribe a procedure for submitting to decision, by a majority vote of the electors voting thereon, proposed alternate and elective Charter provisions."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the fourth Saturday in August, 1933, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"For the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

"Against the Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas, adding Section 3, providing authority for the adoption of a Home Rule Charter by the voters in counties having a population of sixty-two thousand (62,000) or more, to effect more efficient and economical government within such counties, and to authorize mergers of separate governmental agencies within such counties as may from time to time be authorized by vote of the people therein."

Each voter shall scratch out one of the above listed clauses on such ballot, leaving unscratched that particular clause which expresses his vote on the proposed Amendment to which it relates.

Section 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election in conformity herewith to determine whether or not the proposed Constitutional Amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and the Governor shall have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FALLEN!

On one day in one large Texas city last week three men filed voluntary petitions in bankruptcy. All three were known throughout the state as financiers and, to those who knew them personally, as high flyers. One owes eight million dollars and has a little more than one hundred thousand to settle with. Another owes over twelve million dollars, and the third, a stock-broker, not only owes more than he can ever pay, but has brought ruin to his personal friends and customers.

It is unbecoming to gloat over any man's misfortune. It is sad to see a man fall after working his way to the top through honest industry. But when success has gone to a man's head like wine, when he has squandered his money like a drunken sailor, when he has contemptuously ignored the friends of his youth and sought to set himself up as a social lion, he need not expect any very great amount of sympathy when his tower of cards crashes and falls.

At least two of these bankrupts are undeserving of any sympathy. They got theirs while the getting was good, and their policy was "let the devil take the hindmost." Now that they are in trouble, they run to take refuge in voluntary bankruptcy, although their creditors, apparently, were willing to let them try to work it out. One of them lists fine horses as part of his assets. From a geeky, small town lad he had blossomed into a sophisticated man-about-town whose hobby was fine horseflesh. Hardly a Sunday paper could go to press without a picture of himself, his wife, or one of his horses. What a pity he couldn't learn horse-sense from them.

One of the others came of a fine old Texas family whose word, for generations, has been as good as its bond. He early surrounded himself with questionable associates. One of his pet extravagances in the heyday of his success was a private office in a building which he had foreclosed from a widow. In it he spent $20,000 installing a private bar. He sported a private yacht on which parties were held costing thousands of dollars. In his path was the wreckage of many a private estate and personal fortune. Those who opposed him soon found themselves ruined. But now he is a bankrupt. He has disarranged the family name still more by asking to be relieved of his debts.

These were among the giants of the days of the big wind. They were the apostles of greed and gold. They continued to profit from the misery of the depression and fancied the prices would always go lower and they would become richer and richer because the people they despised were growing poorer and poorer each day.

But the tide at last turned. It has engulfed their stables and their pictures and their yachts. It has sent them scurrying off to seek refuge in the bankruptcy courts, and three more of the mighty have ignominiously fallen.

IN THE HOLLOW OF HIS HAND

On May 27, 1927, the world was thrilled by the flight from New York to Paris of Charles Lindbergh, American air mail pilot. It was not seen possible that any one man will ever again be greeted with such tremendous and wholehearted applause as that which was showered upon that lanky, touzel-haired American boy. He was entertained by European royalty and diplomats, he was almost mobbed by cheering crowds in Paris, in Brussels and in London. He was brought back in triumph to his native land on a mighty steamer. He was welcomed by the president of the United States, and upon his breast was pinned every decoration proud governments could bestow. He made a tour by air throughout the nation, and everywhere was received with loud acclaim. America, as a result, became air-minded overnight. Truly it might be said of him when that he held the world in the hollow of his hand.

Six years have passed. How is Lindbergh's great feat regarded now? The ocean has been spanned many times since then, but Charles Lindbergh is still the only man who has flown it alone and unaided from New York to Paris, and is practically the only navigator who, after crossing the Atlantic, has landed exactly where he intended to, although the latest flights have been made with the help of far better motors and instruments than Lindbergh used.

Lindbergh is still flying, and he still has almost a perfect record with regard to accidents. Only last week he and his wife were caught in a Panhandle sandstorm. Instead of trying to outrun it, he prudently landed and waited for it to blow over. This is the secret of his almost uncanny success. He has made many sensational flights, but in each one he left nothing to chance that might be foreseen and foreplanned.

But his very eminence and success have brought to Charles Lindbergh sorrow almost too grievous for any man to endure. Not only has he not been allowed to live his own life and do his work as he desired, but solely because of his prominence, kidnapers seized and murdered his first-born son.

It takes no flight of the imagination to know that the Lone Eagle of the skies would far prefer to be still only a comparatively obscure air mail pilot destined never to hear the plaudits of the world or have its honors lavished in his hands, if by such renunciation he might once more hold his baby son alive and smiling in his arms.

THE CITY POOR

Final passage in the legislature at Austin last week of the measure to submit to the people in August the question of voting twenty million dollars in bonds for unemployment relief was due to the pressure brought by the mayors of Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth. Mayor Holcombe of Houston told the legislators that 55,000 people in the largest Texas city were entirely dependent upon charity for their daily bread. In San Antonio 17,000 heads of families are getting their sustenance from the relief committee, and in Fort Worth about half that many are on the relief rolls.

Say the small towns and rural sections through their legislators. "We are taking care of our destitute and will continue to do so without the need of a bond issue. The relief funds that have been distributed in the smaller counties have proved helpful, but nobody would have starved without them. We'll continue to accept federal and state aid if any is going to be distributed, but we don't want to see precedent shattered and state bonds issued."

The cities, in reply, assert, "It is the poor from the small towns and farms that are making our relief problems so heavy. If all the people who have moved to the cities from the country in the past ten years would go back home, we could take care of the unemployed without any trouble. But these people pulled up stakes, left their former homes and moved to the city. Now they have lost their jobs and can't or won't go back to their old homes."

What will the people do about the bonds on August 26? If they could be assured that the money would go only to those actually in need, they would feel more like supporting them. But no

KEEPING UP WITH TEXAS

TEXAS IS FIRST

Texas exported merchandise valued at $300,000,000 in 1932 and was probably the nation's premier export state for the year, figures compiled by the department of commerce indicate.

While complete figures for the year are not yet available for the other major export states—with the exception of California—the Lone Star State had a lead of more than $21,000,000 over New York at the three-quarter mark. During the last three months of 1932, Texas added $90,000,000 more to its exports, making a total for the year of $299,650,783. California exports last year aggregated less than $150,000,000.

Unmanufactured cotton, valued at $206,531,570, was Texas' principal export product. Others were lubricating oil, $9,538,761; gasoline, $25,801,946; illuminating oil, $6,176,744; sulphur and brimstone, $7,022,942, and carbon black, $2,649,498.

Texas exports in 1932 were approximately 10 per cent off in value from 1931, when the total was $324,370,164. However, this was a comparatively small percentage decline compared to some of the states. At the end of September, 1932, New York's exports were running about 45 per cent behind 1931, while Texas, at that time, was running 3 per cent ahead of the corresponding period for 1931.

leaves. It damaged the room of A. H. Estep's house so badly that members of the family had to hold a table over the mother's sick bed to protect her from the storm.

HEALTH HINTS

DIPHTHERIA

Texas loses more than five hundred of its children each year from just one preventable cause, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. Diphtheria, that ever present menace to children, is responsible for this great loss.

Dr. Brown says that no parents would allow their children to run in front of trains or automobiles, but many allow them to run the danger of contracting diphtheria. Children need not have this disease, as it is easily prevented by a simple, harmless treatment with toxoid.

If you have a child six months old or more, take him to your doctor and ask to have him immunized against diphtheria. Do not wait until your child goes to school, as babies and little children need this protection more than children who are going to school.

The treatment consists of two or three injections of toxoid, according to age, one week apart. Fewer do not protect. The doctor can tell if more are needed to protect the child by giving the Schick test four to six months after the last treatment of toxoid. It takes that long for protection to develop.

There is no guess work about toxoid. It is a safe and proven preventative. Do not confuse toxoid with anti-toxin, the first prevents a child from catching diphtheria and the second, when used in treatment, cures a child sick with the disease, if given early enough. If your child is sick do not wait but call a doctor as this disease develops and becomes dangerous rapidly.

such assurance is possible. If conditions continue to improve as rapidly in the next three months as they have the last two, there can certainly be no justification for imposing this burden upon the taxpayers and future taxpayers of the state. Time will tell, and it will have to speak fast, because August 26 is not far away.

THE REALM OF SCIENCE

TOLTECS AND AZTECS ASSOCIATED WITH MOUND BUILDERS

A visit to the ruins of Toltec and Aztec civilizations in Mexico has strengthened the belief of Dr. Henry C. Shetrone, director of Ohio State Museum, that there is a definite link between these cultures and that of the North American mound builders.

Dr. Shetrone is one of the closest students of mound builder civilization, and now that he has made his first inspection of a culture that is traced back to the Mayan people, is convinced the two are related.

Greater progress in establishing the theory has not been made heretofore, he says, largely because authorities in the two fields have not made themselves sufficiently familiar with details of both.

Mayan civilization had its rise in Guatemala and Yucatan perhaps 2000 years ago, and its splendor, rivalling that of Egyptian times, only now is being revealed bit by bit as the spade digs into jungles and lava beds.

Toltecs and Aztecs Follow

The Toltec and Aztec civilizations followed, and it is from these peoples, it is believed, that exiles or migrants wandered north to build the mounds in the Ohio, Tennessee - Cumberland and Mississippi valleys.

The resemblance between the "pyramids" of Central America and Mexico and the mounds of the North is obvious, says Dr. Shetrone. Both were reared as monuments, either to the living or the dead, or as foundations for temples and sacred structures.

But it is the decorative designs, conventional symbols and art motifs on pottery, monolithic stelae and ruins of temples that are most convincing.

He found depictions of the "eagle warriors" humans who wore head decorations in the form of that bird, in art work of both regions. In several instances, the characteristic warriors are portrayed carrying severed human heads, supposedly those of victims.

In the Mexican area, these pictures appear as sculptures on architectural remains; in the mound area they are relief designs on copper plates and gravures on shell ceremonial ornaments.

The mound builders employed the feathered serpent as a symbol, while the creator god of the pyramid builders was "kukulcan", a combination of words meaning the quetzul bird and the snake.

Explanation of Symbol

The feathered serpent symbolized power to go in the air as well as in the water and on the earth, and the ripple of the serpent's movement, borne on the wind or in the water, represented life.

Other ceremonial and artistic designs common to the two areas employ the spider, woodpecker, the human eye and hand. Spool-shaped ear ornaments, certain features of potteryware and figurines of stone and terra cotta also are similar.

Corn, or maize, was the base of the economic life of both peoples, while both used tobacco.

The wild parent plant of maize, "teosinte," was indigenous to the highlands of Mexico and Guatemala, whose cultivation must have begun centuries before the earliest Mayan ruins.

The Nahuans, from whom the Toltec people apparently got their language, used tobacco in cigar or cigarette form, while the North Americans preferred the pipe. Careless Nahuans left cigarette stubs in the ruins that have been discovered, while in the North American mounds pipes of high artistry have been unearthed. In one instance the rank tobacco they smoked was found.

A STATUE TO LEE

There is something about the magic name of Lee to which the heartstrings of the Southland still throb. We shall never get over the bigness and the simplicity of the man. Please God we shall never wish to.

In the completion of the $50,000 fund for the purpose of raising here a memorial to the great Southerner, Dallas adds nothing to Marse Robert's fame, of course. But it erects in stone and bronze a fingerprint in aid of our lads who are coming on. They will meet times which call for courage and unselfishness and love of the land that bore them. Then will the likeness of Lee be as a rainbow set in a stormy sky. And, regarding it, they will take heart and play the man, as thousands of their elders have done before them at the thought of the old soldier who conquered defeat.

Only a small part remains to be raised—$1200 it was a day or so ago—and opportunity is given for many small gifts to represent a goodly number of our people. It is to be hoped that the fund is filled out quickly and that a noted artist is commissioned to give us a Lee worthy of the man who made the name the property of the world. — Dallas News.

AN EXPENSIVE LESSON

The future of government-in-business is not so bright as it seemed awhile ago. The people have discovered something. They have found that the only way their community can build, for example, a power plant, is to float a bond issue. They have found that this requires vast sums of additional tax money—laid on top of already onerous taxes. They have found, too, that when such technical endeavors as power plants are operated by politics, deficits customarily occur. These, as well, must be paid by the people through increased taxes. Again, they have found that bookkeeping for a publicly owned utility, not subject to public regulation, is of a curious sort. Pleasant reports are issued, which take little or no account of overhead, depreciation, wear and tear. When the time comes for replacement of broken-down machinery there is usually no money in the till—and the taxpayer is again called upon.

People are learning by dear experience that when government goes into business in competition with its citizens, they have lost, not gained—that such service furnished them "at cost" means generally "at cost" to their own pocketbooks. The proponents of schemes to put government into business never put up the money—they put up the "spiel" to obligate the taxpayer and then they absorb tax funds through countless new jobs. — Industrial Review.

BEAUTIFYING ROADS

Gutzon Borglum, famous sculptor, has become chairman of the Texas Highway Park Board and is to have charge of a vast program of beautifying the state's highways in preparation for the Texas Centennial in 1936.

This program calls, among other things, for the planting of oleander trees along both sides of 8000 miles of state roads, the planting of palm and date trees along 1500 other miles and of semi-tropical trees along other highways. Texas is buying wide borders of land by its highways to develop parkways, which will be planted to evergreens. And billboards are to be demolished.

Here is a scheme which can hardly be praised too highly. People who motor through Texas in years to come will have much reason to thank the state officials who thought of this program. — Longview Daily News.

POTASH DISCOVERIES

Two years ago the state of New Mexico produced four per cent of our country's demand for potash, a necessity to growth of many crops. Last year it supplied eight per cent; now it is said to be capable, as far as agriculture is concerned, of meeting the entire domestic need. And the production is potassium sulphate manufactured from this source of material can be sold to farm at about forty-two per cent more than the price heretofore prevailing on imports from abroad.

For ages those rich deposits of potassium sulphate in the southwest, unknown to man, it was not geologists, by trained research and skilled exploration, discovered them and pointed the way to their development, that it became a boon and a power over our economic life. The scientist on a government survey or on private enterprise, who experiments in a laboratory or delving into the strata of earth, is no idle figure. NOW THE MONEY WILL BE KEPT IN TEXAS

Now that the act repealing the "gin-marriage" law has been signed by the governor of Texas, the discovery is reported of the blunders that legislators more often than occasionally commit. The Texas legislature voted to eliminate both the tie-of-intention and health requirements from the law, while the senate voted, as it thought to retain the health provisions, but proceeded to approve a sequent paragraph that repealed all of the old law.

The old law, therefore, is dead and with it has passed the measure of protection with which enlightened common sense should surround the estate matrimony. What the legislature wanted to do, and though it was doing, would not have effected the purpose at which repealists aimed. Retention of the health certificate requirement would have put no end to the migrations of the matrimonially inclined to adjoining states.

But the job has been done. We are back on the easy again. The marriage license money and the fees to marry dominies and justices will be kept in Texas and there even be accretions from neighboring states that have been harvesting many Texas lars in the last few years. The sacred home wedding, which some of the advocate repeal have been trying to make desirable. — Dallas Journal.

THE MOTORIST'S ATTITUDE

Tremendous progress has been made in raising the safety standards of industry. Much of it, of course, is due to better guarding of machines and patent safety devices. Of still greater importance is an attitude of mind that progressive industry have developed in their work—the attitude that takes chances and thinks before it. That has been the principal cause of fewer and less severe industrial mishaps.

The solution to the high accident problem is much the same. It lies in making the motorist realize his responsibility to make him act on the highway as he wants others to. Care, competence and courtesy are the trinity of automobile accident prevention. Their violation is responsible for ninety per cent of accidents.

The time is always ripe for campaigns to thus educate the motorist. Such campaigns should be continuous, as they are in industry. They should be intensive and well-directed. Last year we lowered the automobile accident rate a trifle—this year every driver should make it a personal business to create a safety record. — Exchange.

TORNADO TRICKS

How it feels to be in the path of a Texas tornado was realistically recounted by H. F. Bradberry of Abilene, after he had returned from Iberis, ten miles southwest of Abilene, last week. His story was published in the Abilene Morning News and was given the Eagle by J. A. Allen. Mr. Bradberry said:

"I was visiting my father, O. B. Bradberry, at Iberis. At 4:50 we saw the cyclone cloud forming in the southwest, about a mile and a half from the house. It shaped into a funnel. There were eleven of us in the house, and we all went to the storm cellar. My father, myself and two brothers, Harold and Price, all large men, held onto the door, but it was torn from our hands and disappeared completely.

"The cyclone had passed in three minutes and hail and rain followed. We popped out of the cellar, and found that the house had been spared. The house was not even damaged, but large trees, some of them eight inches in diameter, had been twisted off."

"We looked southward. The Iberis Baptist church, 400 yards away, had been destroyed. In scantlings, it was scattered over 50 acres.

"The Arthur Trammell house, 100 yards south of the church, and the barn were demolished. Even the sewing machine had been torn to pieces no bigger than your hand. The storm had torn the front frame and glass out of an alarm clock, but left the face and works. The clock was still running. The Trammell family, four of them, went into a small cellar used for storing fruit, and none of them was hurt.

"The family of Jim Rhodes, who recently died, escaped by winding their arms around trees in the yard and clinging there until the storm passed. They saw the cloud too late to go to the cellar at Trammell's.

"The Rhodes house was damaged and the barns were destroyed. The garage was clearly lifted up and carried away from a late model coupe. The garage was destroyed, but the wind did not move the car out of its tracks. The Rhodes place is 150 yards south of the Trammell's.

The cyclone was not more than 400 yards in width, and the damage to crops was not heavy. Fields on the Bradberry place were practically untouched."

LOBBY HOUNDS LOSE

Austin lobbyists, whose methods are being scrutinized by the legislature because of the recent fist fight between a lobbyist and a legislator, would be more effective if they were less persistent, in the opinion of one member of the house.

This member, serving his first term, told of the approach on him in connection with the new oil and gas conservation commission bill, which he opposed.

"I was met at the door of the house by oil men from my district every time I stuck my head out," he said. "They argued and talked and argued, one even went so far as to threaten—he said, 'You'll be sorry.' I told him that if my vote was to cost me my place in the legislature I was going to vote as my best judgment dictated.

"When they saw I was not willing to change my position, they sent for two men from my home town—two very close personal friends, who helped me during the campaign, went out over the district and worked for me.

"One of them worked in a bank. He told how these oil men had their accounts with his bank, how their prosperity depended upon a new commission, how if they went broke, the bank would go broke, and the community would go broke. This man slept with me for three nights and never left me. Finally I told him that if it were going to cost his friendship I was going to vote against the bill. I knew it didn't mean that much to him.

"So far as I'm personally concerned, I would have viewed their case more favorably had they laid it before me and then left me to draw my own conclusions."

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardul has helped thousands of women: "I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. J. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day. "My mother had taken Cardul, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time." Cardul, the purely vegetable medicine which so many women take and recommend, is sold by local druggists.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

S. J. R. NO. 30.
Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto another section, Section 51-a, which shall read as follows:

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF TEXAS

S. J. R. NO. 32
Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
Section 1. That Section 1-a of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:
"Article VIII. Section 1-a: Three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes; provided that this exemption shall not be applicable to that portion of the State ad valorem taxes levied for those counties or other political subdivisions now receiving any remission of State taxes, until the expiration of such period of remission, unless before the expiration of such period the board or governing body of any one or more of such counties or political subdivisions shall have certified to the State Comptroller that the need for such remission of taxes has ceased to exist in such county or political subdivision; or until this Section shall become applicable to each county or political subdivision as and when it shall become within the provisions hereof."

EBONY

Ralph Wilmeth dropped in on his homefolk Saturday night from Teachers' College at Denton, where he and his brother Lillard, and his sisters, Berni and Lucille, are housekeeper and attending school. He can't get the car that they might be ready to move themselves when school closes June 3. He returned Sunday afternoon. Unless hindered by bad weather, Bro. Clem W. Hoover of Goldthwaite will preach here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. We will try to find a place for him to preach. Perhaps the school house will be available. A boy, weighing 11 1-2 pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Barn Tippen Friday morning, May 19.

DR. NELSON DEAD
Dr. A. D. Nelson died in the sanitarium in Temple Monday night, after a short illness and his remains were brought to his old home in Big Valley, where funeral services were held and interment made Wednesday afternoon.
Dr. Nelson was reared in Big Valley and spent his early life in that community. After attending medical college and securing a certificate for the practice of that profession he located in Goldthwaite for some time, but later moved to Richland Springs, where he continued to practice his profession. A few weeks ago he became ill and it was determined by physicians he was suffering from Bright's disease. He was carried to the hospital in Temple just one week prior to his death.
Dr. Nelson was in his 69th year and was never married. He leaves two brothers and other relatives in Big Valley. His parents died there some years ago and are also buried in Big Valley cemetery. He was a nephew of the late Dr. S. L. Smith, who was a practicing physician in this city for a long term of years. He was a polished gentleman and had the friendship of all who knew him and his death caused universal sorrow among his friends in this county as well as in the community where he had made his home for the last several years.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State on the Twenty-sixth day of August, A. D. 1933, at which election all voters favoring such proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment to the Constitution providing that the Legislature may authorize the issuance of bonds of the State of Texas, not to exceed Twenty Million ($20,000,000.00) Dollars for relieving the hardships of unemployment and for the necessary appropriations to pay said bonds". These voters opposing said amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words, "Against the amendment to the Constitution providing that the Legislature may authorize the issuance of bonds of the State of Texas, not to exceed Twenty Million ($20,000,000.00) Dollars for relieving the hardships of unemployment and for the necessary appropriations to pay said bonds".
Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.
W. W. HEATH, Secretary of State. (A Correct Copy).

SUMMER CAMP FOR BOYS
Prof. R. H. Mayfield has announced that he will conduct a summer camp for boys over 10 to open soon after the close of school. Several choice locations for the camp are under consideration. It will be operated on a share-work basis which will not only reduce the expense to the boys, but will give them useful instruction in camp life. Mr. Mayfield has conducted summer camps for three years and is a former scoutmaster. Parents and boys interested may secure full details from him or from O. H. Yarborough.
