VOLUME THIRTY-NINE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1933.

NUMBER FORTY-SIX

Cotton Reduction Believed Certain

Mills county has completed its work in cotton acreage reduction and it is believed the same has been attained in the rest of the cotton growing belt. The action to be signed for in this county was 8,178 acres and to Wednesday night 7,754 acres had been approved by the county board and there were reports to be checked by the board. This represented a total of 19,580 acres planted to cotton by 678 farmers in Mills county. While most of the contracts were accepted by the committee, some of the estimates were considered too high and returned for correction. Mills county's average yield, on five year basis, is 119 pounds per acre, while the estimate presented to the committee averaged 134 pounds, but it is believed the reductions will be acceptable to the growers and the report will show Mills county to be in line for the reduction. The time for signing the contracts closed Wednesday night and the final reports for the federal department will soon be ready. County Agent W. P. Weaver expresses his sincere thanks to the committee composed of W. C. Joe Langford and E. A. Up, for the valuable service rendered him, the county and farmers by this committee. He also received valuable assistance in the work from Luther Es, who assisted in his office, from Miss Neta Cockrum, who served as stenographer to dictate the work.

Ability and Talent Are Recognized

The Goldthwaite students in the University summer school at Austin have attracted recognition in the circles in which they are associated and are very highly appreciated for their ability and talents. Miss Mary Lee led the League services at the University Methodist church last Sunday evening and Bulletin of that church said: "League programs this summer ought to be improved by using Leota Simpson's musical ability, Mary Bowles' dramatic personality and Ophelia Horne's leadership." Joseph Bowles was one of the stars in a play presented at the university Tuesday night.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

After consulting some of the Methodist brethren, who are interested in our work in Mills county, it is the decision to postpone the fifth Sunday meeting of the Caradan church, which was to be held with the Caradan church. The postponement is on two or three grounds: First, the preaching will be busy in several places. Second, the county association convenes a few days later, at which time the matters of interest can be looked after. Third, the fifth Sunday meeting in October will be expected to be held with the Caradan church. J. M. HAYS, Pastor at Caradan.

A CAMPING PARTY

Mrs. G. H. Frizzell and daughter, Miss Georgia, have been enjoining a party of relatives and friends with a camping party at Lake Merritt. In the party Miss Willie Johnson, Weatherford, Mrs. Kilpatrick and daughter, San Angelo; Raymond, San Benito; Mr. and Mrs. Hank Overstreet, San Antonio; Walter Johnson and Jimmie Frizzell, jr.

LEGION MEETING

The regular meeting of the American Legion will be held in the Legion, Hall in Goldthwaite on Friday, July 18, for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other important business. It is important that all members attend and take part in the meeting. L. L. WILSON, Commander.

Methodist Notes

The meeting at the Methodist church, as all now know, closed abruptly Sunday night. It had been the purpose of the pastor to continue another week, but for some good and sufficient reasons it was thought best to close after a week's duration.

It is probably safe to say that all was not accomplished that was desired, but after all much was accomplished. We had good preaching, the singing was of a high order and was led from beginning to the close by home talent. There was a commendable spirit of co-operation among the Methodist folk and others, which is worthy of good people, and the people feel repaid for the united effort. Rev. J. J. Mason, who did the preaching in the meeting, will ever have a fixed place in the hearts of the people, for his fine sermons and splendid spirit while among us. The people would welcome his return at any time.

Much has been said—much is being said almost every day among church folk about religious conditions in our town. Doubtless much may be said that is to our detriment. Conditions are not ideal. As a matter of fact they were never just what we should desire here, or any place else, so far as my knowledge extends, but I sometimes fear that we are prone to magnify the objectionable and minimize the things that are to be commended.

If I were an old sinner, the worst in the town, and should hear said the things that I hear almost daily by professed Christians about the church folk, I should, I think, stand entirely clear of such people as they are represented to be by Christian people and other critics. As a matter of fact, these good hypocrites of the saints are the echo of the hypercriticisms of the ultra hypercritics from the underworld, who have damned the saints in all the generations of the past and will always do so.

I speak advisedly when I say that conditions in Goldthwaite are in no sense peculiar. As a matter of fact, I doubt not that the religious life of our people (Continued on page 8)

Work To Start On Two Hiways

A report from Austin to the daily papers this week gave assurance that contracts would soon be authorized on the highway from the top of the mountain to the Brown county line and on 81 from Goldthwaite to the river. This information is not official, but is understood to be dependable, just the same.

The matter of right-of-way through Mullin has been adjusted and the engineering department has everything in readiness on both highways. The remaining highway work, as designated heretofore, will doubtless come in due time and it is now believed the state highway department will soon have all of the highway work in Mills county contracted.

There has also been an appropriation for lateral roads in Texas and it is believed this county will share in that appropriation. Engineer Hunn and Commissioner Burnett made a trip to Brown Wednesday and Mr. Hunn went to Mullin yesterday to go over some lateral roads with Commissioner McCurry, with a view to recommendations for appropriations for improvements. If these appropriations are secured it is expected that all precincts will share in the benefits and all of the principal lateral roads will be improved. Not only will this be a great help in road betterment, but it will put a good amount of money in circulation in the county for workmen and teams.

Fairman Warehouse Damaged By Fire

Last evening about 8 o'clock a fire was discovered in the Fairman Co. warehouse, at the rear of the store, but it was soon extinguished without serious loss. The fire started in a pile of mattresses or a lot of inflammable toys and it is thought it was the result of the intense heat of the afternoon creating combustion. The fire company was on the job promptly, which doubtless prevented a serious fire. The loss, although not heavy, was fully covered by insurance.

County Business Is Transacted

Commissioners court was in regular monthly session Monday and transacted routine business.

The highway money was divided to the various precincts in accordance with collections from those precincts. Precinct No. 1 received $347.31; No. 2, $63.42; No. 3, $124.18; No. 4, $35.67.

The school districts of Lake Merritt and Trigger Mountain were consolidated under the name of Lake Merritt Consolidated common school district. The trustees for the district named are R. C. Petty, W. O. Oden, J. Y. Tullos, A. A. Reynolds, J. F. Burdett, J. H. Vaughn, J. D. Nix.

Accounts against the county and official reports were audited and approved.

ACE HIGH CLUB

Mrs. Clarence Cave and Mrs. Ernest Obenhaus were joint hostesses to the members of the Ace High Bridge Club Thursday afternoon, July 6.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Cave. The color scheme was pink and green which was carried out in the table decorations and lovely refreshment plates.

Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, frozen salad, olives, angel food cake and iced lemonade.

After the social hour, a business meeting was called for the purpose of electing a vice-president and selecting club colors. Mrs. Duard Howard was elected to fill the place of vice president. The colors selected for the club were yellow and white.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Ross Wheeler and Mrs. Herman Kaufman July 20.

Guests present were Mrs. Gus Obenhaus of San Angelo and Mrs. Carl Keese. Members present were Misses Mary Fallon, Hope Carews, Barbara Cryer, Mmes. Tom Cryer, Duard Howard, Ross Wheeler, Herman Kaufman, Raymond Bledsoe and the hostesses, Mrs. Clarence Cave and Mrs. Ernest Obenhaus. REPORTER.

Two Burglaries Friday Night

Two burglaries and one attempted burglary were reported last Friday night and so far the guilty parties have not been apprehended. Other depredations have also been reported, such as pumping gasoline out of cars and the like. On Friday night some one possessed of a pass key entered the home of Wilbur Fairman and made a thorough search, but it is not known what was taken from the residence. All trunks and dresser drawers were opened and their contents strewn about the rooms. Entrance was also made in Walter Fairman's residence and a screen on the window at Robert Littlepage's home was cut, but entrance to the house was not effected.

Wilbur Fairman and family are in Chicago at the fair, while Walter Fairman and wife and R. V. Littlepage and wife are at their summer homes at Lake Merritt.

WASTED ENERGY

The Eagle has discontinued the practice of "bothering" with writers of anonymous communications. Such articles are just dropped into the bean basket that stands at the left of the editor's desk and the incident is closed, but now a new "evil" has to be combated. Some have ideas, plans and policies regarding the coming prohibition election—the abolition or retention of the eighteenth amendment—to be held Aug. 26. They blandly send in their articles to this newspaper without so much as a notation that the amount of the charge shall be submitted on the first of the coming month. They send it in as purely "news" and indicate they are endeavoring to do their part in helping the editor to "fill up" the columns of the paper. Such articles go to the bean basket, along with the anonymous communications and the propaganda for the various issues. The Eagle gladly publishes such articles, but on the basis of "filling up" our pocket book rather than our columns.

Baptist Reminder

It is certainly interesting to know that we can start our revival Sunday with a baptizing. Mrs. Herman Kaufman and Mrs. Raymond Bledsoe, both came for baptism Sunday morning, and Robert Cook joined the church on promise of a letter. The baptizing will be at the lake at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. We would certainly like to have a good number present.

We are anxious to have all the Christian people of our city to come and be with us during our meeting. We have a singer coming who will surely be appreciated by all. He is one of the best in the state. Plans have been made for the services to be held outside Sunday night and each night following. Services will be held on the lot between the church and the parsonage at 8:15 each evening. The morning services will be in the church building at 10 o'clock. FRANKLIN E. SWANNER, Pastor.

School Board Holds Regular Meeting

The Goldthwaite school board met Monday afternoon and Supt. A. H. Smith was present for the meeting.

The resignation of Jess Hall as a member of the board was received a month ago and was accepted at this meeting.

Miss Garetta Little was elected to fill the place in the faculty made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. E. D. Stringer.

The board adopted a resolution making the new law governing state and county delinquent taxes applicable to the Goldthwaite school district. Accounts were audited and ordered paid.

TEACHERS COMING HOME

Most of the teachers who have been away to summer school will have completed their courses by the end of this week and will be home for a vacation before the opening of their schools in the fall.

Goldthwaite Wins From Evant Nine

Before the largest crowd that has been a ball game at fair park this season Goldthwaite defeated Evant Sunday 12 to 4. The score was quite a surprise to the followers of the team, as a much closer game was expected. It was only two weeks ago that the locals were lucky to eke out a 4 to 3 verdict over the Evant crew and their return engagement here was supposed to be anybody's ball game throughout the nine innings of play. The Evant team came over with the determination to win this game, but it seems they hadn't figured on the tight pitching of one—Mr. Turner—who by the way, is getting to be quite a pitcher and the lusty hitting by his mate. The down fall of the Evant team Sunday can be attributed to an off day by their starting pitcher, Whatley, who didn't last but four rounds and saw his offerings batted all over the lot before he retired. The Evant battery, Whatley and Oney, were recruited players from the Pearl team, which has had a very good season. Whatley was relieved by Lefty Henry in the fifth inning and Henry gave a fair account of himself the rest of the way. However, the damage had been done and the outcome of the game was never in doubt after the third inning. The fireworkers started in the first inning with Jones leading off with a single—after Tate flew out to right field Littlepage reached first on an error and then the big catcher, Fuzzy Heath, connected for a home run. This mighty drive off of Heath's bat rolled over the race track and hit the center field fence, bringing three scores and from then on the scores continued to pile up. The hitting stars for Goldthwaite were Littlepage, Heath and Nickols. Heath having a perfect day at the bat with a homerun, double, two singles and walk. Littlepage didn't get but one hit, but it was a home run that knocked in three scores. Nickols got three singles out of five trips to the plate.

Much can be said about Turner's pitching in his few starts for the local club. Any pitcher who can go in against a hard hitting crew like Evant boasts of and hold them to five hits must have something on the ball. He was coasting along behind a big lead Sunday and did not have to bear down after the first inning, but he had them in the palm of his hand all afternoon and polished off the contest by striking the last man out to end the game. He struck out seven men and issued one walk. The Evant pitchers got 5 Goldthwaite men by the strikeout route—three being credited to Whatley and two to Henry. The Evant infield helped their two pitchers out of a hole twice by two nicely executed double plays. It is not to be denied that the local ball club is enjoying a successful season so far and it is hoped the fans will continue coming out in greater numbers for each game.

Goldthwaite has won nine out of their ten games this season. The only game lost was to the strong Dr. Pepper team of Brownwood, who they will play a return engagement with this next Sunday in Brownwood.

Lake Club Elects Directors

The annual meeting of the Mills County Hunting and Fishing club was held Wednesday afternoon in the court house. The board of directors serving the past year was re-elected, i. e., W. P. McCullough, Walter Fairman, Monroe Fletcher, Walter Weatherby, Dow Hudson, Fred Martin and Robt. Steen, jr. The directors will meet later and elect the officers for the ensuing year. REPORTER.

Churchwell and J. W. Churchwell are defendants, numbered No. 2391 on the docket of said court, in which cause a judgment was rendered on the 2nd day of May, A. D. 1933, in favor of the said plaintiff, The City National Bank of San Saba, Texas, and against said defendants hereinabove named, for the sum of one hundred and twenty-two and 10-100 ($122.10) Dollars, with interest thereon at the rate of 8 per cent per annum from the date of judgment, together with all costs of suit, I did on the 5th day of July, A. D. 1933, at 9 o'clock A. M., levy upon the following described tract and parcel of land situated in the County of Mills, and State of Texas, and belonging to said above named defendants, to-wit: 640 acres of land lying and being in Mills County, Texas, located about 22 miles southwest from the town of Goldthwaite, and being out of Sur. No. 11, B. B. & C. Ry. Co., Original Grantee, Wm. R. Smith, Patentee, and known as the J. M. Churchwell Place. And also 32 shares of stock in the Star National Farm Loan Association of Mills County, Texas, of the par value of $5.00 per share and standing in the name of J. M. Churchwell and Susan Churchwell.

And on the 1st Tuesday in August, A. D. 1933, the same being the 1st day of said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M. on said day, at the court house door of said county in the town of Goldthwaite, Texas, I will offer for sale and will sell, at public auction, for cash, to the highest bidder, all of the right, title, and interest of the said Mrs. Mary Griffay and husband, N. J. Griffay, Mrs. Nancy Elizabeth Northcutt and husband, A. J. Northcutt, Jr., The Star National Farm Loan Association of Mills County, Texas, G. A. Churchwell, W. A. Churchwell, J. H. Churchwell, Mrs. Etta Williams and husband, S. P. Williams, J. A. Churchwell and J. W. Churchwell, in and to the above described property.

The said land to be sold subject to the undivided one-half interest of The City National Bank of San Saba, Texas, in and to 440 acres thereof, and further, the said land and the said 32 shares of stock to be sold together and not separately, and to be sold subject and subordinate to the lien held by the Federal Land Bank of Houston, securing the unpaid portion of a note executed by J. M. Churchwell and wife, Susan Churchwell, in favor of said Federal Land Bank, dated January 4, 1923, payable to the order of said Federal Land Bank at Houston, Texas, for the principal sum of $3,200, with interest at the rate of 5 1-2 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, conditioned for the payment of said sum and interest on the amortization plan in 69 semi-annual installments, due and payable on the 1st day of July and January of each year, providing for 8 per cent interest from and after maturity of each installment, as is more fully shown in a deed of trust executed by J. M. Churchwell and wife, Susan Churchwell, dated January 4, 1923, as the same appears of record in the deed of trust records of Mills County, Texas, in Vol. 13, page 356, to which record reference is here made for description, and subject to the rights and equities of The Star National Farm Loan Association of Mills County, Texas, and of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, Texas, as is prescribed by the provisions of the Federal Farm Loan Act.

Dated at Goldthwaite, Texas, this 5th day of July, A. D. 1933.

GOVERNMENT TO STOP SELLING BELOW COST

Indications that the government through the industrial recovery act and the agriculture act would positively prohibit the selling of goods below cost, unless to dispose of distress stock, were made in an informal address by General Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the first bill, and Charles J. Brand, administrator of the second, before the national chain store meeting held in the auditorium of the department of commerce building in Washington recently.

Particularly did Administrator Brand score the "loss leader," which he had discussed before a smaller group of chain store executives.

There is no thought, he said, in attempting to curtail anyone's selling activity so long as it goes along legitimate channels, but when a merchant or other individual sells goods for less than they cost him then there is going to be action, he promised the chain store people. The producer and the public have a part in the scheme of things just as much as the distributor, and no merchant can justify selling at cost as an advertisement or get business for himself at the expense of the producer, or the grower and then make up for that cut, or that loss, through getting a higher price on other products.

BROWS, HIGH AND LOW

No more can "lowbrow" be considered a belittling term. To be a "lowbrow" is to be (according to the measurements made by Dr. Hardlick of the Smithsonian Institution) in the same class with the presumed "cream of the Nation's intellect," the members of the National Academy of Science. These in turn are put in the same category with the Tennessee highlanders of old American stock—the group that has been least changed by the new racial streams.

The "highbrows" are, in order of their centimeter highness of brow in relation to stature: The Alaskan Eskimos, the American negroes, the American Indians. The average forehead height of the "white old Americans" is over that of the extant Indians and much lower than that of a selected group of Indians. But the head of the cultured man is growing broader and larger—presumably because of the enlarging brain—the skull meanwhile growing thinner. And despite the lower brow, the premature loss of hair and the disappearance of "dental units," he grows "more comely," "more refined" of face and more sensitive in his perceptions. And he is not at the end of his evolution. He has, in fact, now from 10 to 100 times more brain capacity than he uses.

It is of interest to describe the "American" as this great anthropologist, who came to America as an immigrant boy, has found him to be in the present:

He is, in general, more frank and big-hearted, more artless, more generous, more tolerant and liberal. He greatly loves sport and wholesome laughter. He is a good sport and a great teller of tales. He is a shrewd business man, a daring manufacturer, a hustler, a mechanic. He likes to live and let live. He is trustful, democratic, friendly and on the whole a fair politician. He is not a hypocrite nor a sycophant, nor is he sly, treacherous or persecuting, or fanatical, or unforgiving. He is a big healthy, cheerful, generous boy till late in life and even throughout.—New York Times.

While Lawrence and Melmoth Stokes were at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago last month they enjoyed watching the unique baby bathing beauty contest staged in the million dollar children's playground at the fair—the Enchanted Island. Here is little Miss Patricia Downs of Evanston, Illinois, who won the coveted title of "Miss Enchanted Island." She is a blue eyed blonde just 3 1-2 years old. The Stokes boys saw her crowned, but they liked the "Orphan Annie" puppet show better, they said.

The federal weather bureau announced Wednesday that as a result of the economy campaign the Fort Worth weather bureau will be closed.

Burial alive of four black maidens at the funeral of an Ethiopian tribal king is related in a report from Professor Hugo Adolf Bernatzik, describing his visit to Portuguese Guinea, in West Africa.

Secretary Swanson said this week the navy will ask $77,000,000 of public works funds for battleship modernization which will give the United States a fleet of "battleships equal to those of any navy." Swanson said the navy also is seeking around $37,000,000 for shore station construction.

A bond issue for $48,000 has been called by the McCulloch county commissioners court for the purchase of right of ways on highways through the county. The date of the election has been set for Monday, July 31. Included in the contemplated road construction program is a new concrete bridge over the Colorado river.

Appeal from a $1000 fine assessed him in Collin county on conviction on a charge of sowing Johnson grass on the farm of his former wife was filed in the court of criminal appeals this week. The offense allegedly occurred May 6, 1931. Records stated the farmer owner was 72 years old and that she and the defendant were divorced in 1928. The defendant was assessed the maximum fine under the statute prohibiting injuring the land of another by planting Johnson grass.

FATHER PRESENTS SON WITH 365 YEAR OLD BIBLE

Kristian Falkenberg of Walla Walla, Wash., recently presented to his son, Wendell Falkenberg, on his eighteenth birthday, a Bible which bears an imprint of Christopher Barker, dated December 22, 1878, London.

Mr. Falkenberg obtained the Bible in an antique shop in London while on a recent visit there. The quarto volume bound in thick calfskin, and which is now 355 years old, is one of the rare Geneva "Breches Bibles". It bears the peculiar name because its Elizabethan editors translated the seventh verse of the third chapter of Genesis as follows:

"Then the eyes of them both were opened and they knew they were naked, and they sewed figge leaves together, and made themselves breeches."

Bound with the Bible is a Psalter, an "Almanacke" for 1578-1610, a book of common prayer, collects and concordances with a preface, signed by Robert F. Herrey. The musical notes of the Psalter are diamond-shaped instead of round, and initialed thus: "L" for "La," "R" for "Re," etc. The Psalter was printed by John Daye in 1583.

On the torn and yellow fly leaf is a much faded ink inscription dated August 8, 1594, stating that the Bible was presented to Charles Edwards, an English lad, sixteen years of age, by his Calvinistic grandfather in the days of the Restoration and King Charles II.

The inscription reads: "The Lord give thee favors to make A good use of him To God's onor And glorie And bring in comfort into your soull. Amen."

"My Son, be thou faitfull in living to God's commands in his ordinances and to his commandments And preceyts, having the fear of God before Thine Eie continually in Taking diligent care and good in all Thy proceedings In Thy jurnnie in thy Spirituall Soujarns in The wal to Glorie."

GHOSTS WALK

The town of Thurber, once the largest industrial center in central west Texas and most populous town in Erath county, was closed up and vacated July 1. Only a few persons remained to operate a garage and care for a warehouse.

Thurber is owned by the Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Co. and has been headquarters for the company for many years. The offices have been moved to Fort Worth.

The town had seen lively days with the opening of coal mines in that region almost a half century ago. Thurber was established as headquarters for the mining company. The population grew, at one time reaching nearly 8000.

Besides the coal mining industry there the Texas boom town was the site of one of the largest brick manufacturing plants in the state. The mines, the brick factory, the town are all closed, leaving a ghostlike silence on the vacant streets once crowded with noisy wheels.

Thurber always was an unusual town, being company-owned and having only one business establishment of each line.

Got Over Weak, Painful Condition By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pain in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." For over 50 years, Cardui has been helping women just as this Texas lady describes above. Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

The treasury will shortly issue a Texas half dollar in commemoration of the independence year of the Lone Star. Designs will be prepared and the coins turned over as mintage to the American Legion to be sold at a dollar each.

ANCIENT SACRED RELIC MAY CONTAIN SILVER CUP USED AT THE LAST SUPPER

An object of reverence to millions of Christians and one of the earliest relics of the faith is enshrined in the Hall of Religion at A Century of Progress, Chicago's 1933 Exposition.

It is the Great Chalice of Antioch, earliest existing vessel thought to have been connected with the Holy Eucharist. According to an outstanding authority on archaeology and early Christian art, Dr. Arthur B. Cook of Queen's College, Cambridge, England, it raises the presumption that the cup it contains might be the very vessel used at the Last Supper.

The Chalice, according to Dr. Gustavus A. Eisen, to whom was entrusted the renovation and preliminary study of the vessel, dates from the first century, A. D., and probably was constructed between 50 and 70 A. D. This opinion is concurred in by Dr. Cook, by Dr. A. T. Olmstead, president of the American Oriental Society, and by many other authorities. Some, however, hold that the Chalice is of a later date, probably of the Fourth century.

Constantly Guarded

The Chalice is the most important item of the Kouchakji silver treasure, which includes book covers, a plain silver cup and a ceremonial cross, all of silver. They were discovered in 1910 by Arabs digging a well or cellar in the city of Antioch.

The Chalice is displayed in an appropriate setting at a Century of Progress exposition, and is guarded night and day. It is an open-work container of silver, beautifully wrought, 7.56 inches high, standing on a pedestal and holding a cup which would contain about two quarts of liquid. This cup, likewise of silver, is a Jewish Passover bowl of great antiquity, identical with those used when Christ walked the earth.

Brought to New York

The Chalice was carried to Paris by its owner, together with the other objects of the discovery, in 1913. There Leon Andre, archaeological expert for the Louvre and other great museums, examined and cleaned and care, it was restored and the them. Shortly before the battle of the Marne, when Paris was threatened by German armies, the Chalice and the other objects were removed to the City of New York, where they have remained for safety's sake in the vaults of a Fifth avenue bank.

The renovation and preliminary studies of the Chalice were begun by Dr. Eisen, noted scientist and archaeologist, shortly after its arrival in New York. Day by day, as he worked on it, the relic gave up its secrets. The silver of the cup and its open-work container was heavily oxidized and would not permit ordinary methods of cleaning. Little by little, with infinite patience beauties of its decoration made apparent.

The church at Antioch dates from 41 A. D. It was there that the followers of Jesus first became known as Christians, and thence for many years missionaries were sent to preach the gospel. As to the probable connection between the early church and the Chalice, Dr. Cook writes:

May Be Holy Grail

"With the fall of Jerusalem, Antioch became the main center of Christianity in the East, and so the inner bowl of the Chalice may have been not improbably brought thither from Jerusalem, where it may have been the very vessel used in apostolic times by the infant church. Indeed, a presumption that it was none other than the cup of the Last Supper is raised."

Dr. Cook's words open up a field of speculation regarding the Chalice which embraces the whole legend of early knight-hood. If this vessel chanced to be the cup of the Last Supper, then that search which for years claimed the devotion of Europe's noblest blood, was never ended. Indeed, not to a Knight of the Grail, but to a humble Arab workman, would thus be given the honor of its recovery.

NORTH BENNETT

We had a good crowd at Sunday school Sunday and also a good prayer meeting Sunday night. Bro. Lewis Sparkman led the services. We will have prayer meeting again next Sunday night. Mr. D. D. Kemper will lead the services. Everybody come that can and enjoy them with us.

Several from our community went to the singing at Caradan Sunday. They sure enjoyed the singing.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS

It is Time to Buy Flour before the Tax goes on. On August 7, there will be a 35c a sack added to our flour—Federal Tax—if we have any—in stock.

We want our customers to save this Tax by Buying Flour Now! Don't wait until the Last Day, as we will probably sell out before that date and if we were to buy from the mill before that time the tax would be in effect then.

We have a Fresh car of Flour.

Mullin News

News Notes Clipped From the Mullin Enterprise

Collection Started For Texas Exhibit

Already the collection to provide Goldthwaite's quota for the Texas exhibit at the Chicago's world's fair, which collection has been sponsored by the Texas press, is being made in this city. The first contribution to the fund was $1 by W. E. Miller. Other contributions will be gladly accepted and promptly forwarded. Goldthwaite's quota is $13.24, being one cent per capita, according to the last census.

NEW ORPHANAGE HEAD

Hubert T. Johnson, principal of the Gatesville public schools, was chosen superintendent of the Methodist orphanage at Waco Wednesday by the orphanage board.

Johnson, who will assume his duties Aug. 1, is 32, and vice president of the State Teachers' association. He was educated at the North Texas Teachers college at Denton and Southern Methodist University at Dallas.

He takes the place made vacant by the death of Mr. Barnett.

HAZARDS AFOOT

Pedestrian deaths in 1932 were 44 per cent of all deaths due to automobile accidents. There were 12,770 foot travelers killed out of a total of 29,000 automobile accident deaths in the United States. This fact appears in an analysis by Maxwell Halsey, traffic engineer of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Mr. Halsey finds four chief facts in pedestrian accident problem:

1. Auto-pedestrian accidents are only 5 per cent less than auto-auto accidents.

2. The pedestrian is almost twice as likely to be killed as the motorist.

3. Only 25 per cent of all accidents occur outside of cities or towns, but they are responsible for more than 50 per cent of all deaths.

4. Accidents to pedestrians walking along rural highways are at least four times as fatal as any other type of accident.

Pedestrians should walk in single file facing coming traffic; avoid blind spots; get out of the way of meeting or passing cars; wear light colored clothing at night or carry a reflecting device. The motorists, in turn, should know that pedestrians are not entirely visible at night. They should avoid the extreme edge of the road and sound their horns for any pedestrian situation that seems doubtful. Street lighting, wide sidewalks and traffic signals should be provided.

States without laws prohibiting hitch-hiking, or laws requiring pedestrians to walk to the left facing traffic, should pass them.

A big per cent of the accidents to pedestrians can be traced to the pedestrian who feels that he has "as much right to the road" as the motorist, or that he is "as good as anybody" and doesn't have to give way to the automobile driver. A mighty host of these independents get away with their defiance, but when one does lose his contention for the right of way he loses for a good while.

SCHOOL FUND GETS JUDGMENT

In district court at Austin this week Judge C. A. Wheeler entered judgment for $81,734 in favor of the state in its suit against the Shell-Petroleum Corporation for bonus and rentals on oil and gas leases on school lands. No appeal will be taken. The amount is to be added to public school fund, which had a balance as of June 30, last, of only $329,151. The state's suit involved approximately 75 leases in 20 counties. The court refused to permit Shell to join landowners in the litigation through cross action, a move opposed by the Attorney General. Recovery of $81,734 represented the full one-half of bonus and rental on oil lands forfeited and repurchased under the forfeiture and repurchase acts of 1925 and 1926. Nearly 3,900,000 acres of land have been forfeited and repurchased under those acts.

WILD FLOWERS LAW

On Sept. 1, when the new law takes effect, the offenders will be subject to arrest and punishment under a direct law which leaves no chance of escape by subterfuge. The law provides that no "shrubs, vines, flowers, or moss growing on the enclosed land of another" be removed without written permission from the landowner. That is positive and clear enough, and the person who is led to appropriate for himself some of the natural beauty of the outdoors in the course of an afternoon drive can have no excuse if the law exacts its penalty for the trespass and destruction of wild flowers.

The law was needed in Texas, both for the protection of the natural beauty which increases the attractiveness of the outdoors in the spring and summer and for the education of a great many whose appreciation of that beauty is destructively acquisitive. Wild flowers belong outdoors; very few specimens will stand cutting, even if it is done carefully. Heaps of such blooms along the highways, where they had been discarded by some automobile party, which had ravaged fields along the road, are all too common in the spring months. Each of them tells a tale of tragedy—the wanton and profitless destruction of beauty. It does not matter that the destroyers are moved by an appreciation of that beauty which makes them wish to keep it with them. The destruction is as great as if their only wish had been to destroy.—Star-Telegram

Mrs. O. E. Smith spent several days visiting in Brownwood during the past week with her daughter, Miss Mabel Smith, who is attending summer school at Daniel Baker college.

Mrs. Jessie Roberts and son, Billie, of Kerrville came in this week with Mrs. E. V. Bolten, who has been visiting with them for some time. Billie remained over to visit with his grandmother for awhile.

Sheriff C. D. Bledsoe, wife and daughters of Goldthwaite were among the out-of-town guests, who attended the Baptist revival at the tabernacle Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Couch, who for several months, have been living on the south plains, have moved to Eola, where they will hereafter receive the Enterprise.

Mrs. Jessie Roberts and son, Billy Travis, of Kerrville accompanied their grandmother, Mrs. E. V. Bolten, home Saturday. Little Billy remained for a long visit with his grandmother and Mrs. Roberts returned home Sunday.

Lloyd Hancock and family of Gatesville visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tip Hart and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hancock, the past week end. They also enjoyed meeting again W. M. Hancock and wife, who were here on their vacation from Kingsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rice and daughter, Miss Fern Rice of Arizona, stopped over Sunday and visited with Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Jones while en route to Kentucky for a visit. Miss Fern Rice remained over to visit with her aunt, Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. T. M. Kemp and daughter, Miss Ruth Kemp, of Los Angeles, Cal., have written Miss Mary Kemp that they are in Chicago, enjoying the fair, and expect to come by Detroit and get a new car, then would be here by July 18 for a visit.

Mrs. W. T. Gilmore and Miss Nell Kirkpatrick and Mary Ruth Hancock of Brownwood were Saturday visitors with relatives here. Mary Ruth is spending the month with her aunt, Mrs. Gilmore.

Mrs. J. L. Burkett has received news from her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Massey, that her little seven-year-old son, Joe, has had a siege of diphtheria and is now partly paralyzed and also is considered in a critical condition by his physician.

A rain is badly needed here on the cotton and feed crops. We have had no rain since the last of May, and as a result, the corn crop has been cut very short. Other crops are now in a bad way if the dry weather continues.

Miss Ethel Deane McFarland is making an extended visit in Dallas with her brother, George McFarland, and family. She expects to enter John Tarleton college for the last term of summer school and then enter the senior class in that college in the fall.

Hobson Shirey, Collis Gilbreath, Coy King and Jeffrey Durham of Fort Payne, Ala., made a brief visit here the first of the week in the homes of W. A. Triplett and W. J. Shirey. The boys had been to Arizona and California and were going home, after a pleasant summer touring the west.

E. L. Burkett and family and John Burkett visited Lee Burkett at Bend in San Saba county, and attended a revival Sunday. Bro Hoover of Goldthwaite was conducting the revival, and there was an unusually large crowd present. A delicious dinner was spread at the noon hour and all had a feast of the best of the land.

Mrs. Sam Weeks and son and Mrs. Jim Small of Lufkin, Mesdames Andrew Smith, Webb Perkins, Tip Carlisle, John Carlisle and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosler of Mullin were among the relatives who visited Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carlisle at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Carlisle Sunday. Mrs. W. H. Carlisle has been in declining health, but glad to report she is now improving. Other recent guests in this home were Ed Carlisle and daughter of Ranger.

THE PRESIDENT TELLS THEM

No more dramatic or more forceful statement has ever been made by a president of the United States than was President Roosevelt's outspoken ultimatum last week to France and the gold bloc nations.

Such outspoken candor sends a thrill of pride through every loyal American. At last we have a president who speaks with the authority and power conferred upon him by the constitution and statutes of this great republic.

France has had the temerity to upbraid the United States for deserting the gold standard and for failing to keep up the price of the dollar abroad. French francs, based on gold, have jumped from less than four cents apiece (3.92c) to 5.5c.

President Roosevelt's decision, says Dr. Irving Fisher, noted Yale economist, "marks the greatest presidential decision since Lincoln's proclamation, marking the abolition of slavery. It means, in fact, the abolishing of the debt slavery which comes from great depressions.

Thus two great results have been achieved. The American people have been assured that no matter how much pressure France may bring at the London conference, no steps will be taken now to halt the upward progress of American domestic prices and the consequent relief of American debtors.

President Roosevelt has told the world where he and America stand. He begs no pardons, offers no humble apologies, resorts to no diplomatic subterfuge. The president tells them, and in such a way that they will most assuredly stay told.

TEXAS COMES THROUGH

To Texans who have peered through dusty windows into the darkened, empty hall with Texas state seal above the door at the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago, the news that the Texas exhibit will be installed soon comes as good news.

It has been a hard job to raise sufficient money from voluntary contributions to pay for the Texas exhibit. Other states have had the same experience, and many of them will not be represented at the exposition at all.

Fair visitors who admired the glories of California, the industries of Michigan and the resources of Florida by next week will be able to learn something of the wealth and advantages of Texas. For too long Texas' size, geographically, has been the sum and substance of Texans' claims for notice from citizens of other states.

Texans throughout the state are being invited to have a share in thus proclaiming the importance of Texas to the world. Goldthwaite has been asked for only an insignificant amount—an average of only one cent per capita.

The Texas exhibit will open next week because its backers have confidence that the people of the state will rally to their support and pay off the deficit that now exists. If you want a share in this worthwhile enterprise, send in your contribution whether it is one cent or one dollar, and the Eagle will forward it to the treasurer of the fund at Dallas.

GOOD BYE TO GIN MARRIAGE LAW

If you are planning to commit matrimony, you can save three days time by waiting till September 1 to get your license. Because the gin and jitters bill passed four years ago will pass away with the last day of August.

Office more we may be regaled with stories of the county clerk being rousted out of bed at midnight to issue a license for a hilarious couple all set for life journey in double harness. No longer to the ordinary expenses of the marriage ceremony must be added an automobile trip or an airplane flight to a state which issues marriage licenses instantaneously.

And no longer will hapless county clerks and marrying parsons in Texas border counties see business slipping away from them never more to return.

There are no statistics available, but we would like to know just how many marriages the three-day notice prevented. Certainly there has been no lack of divorces and annulments in the past four years. We'd like to know how many bashful maidens changed their minds from Friday to Sunday, and how many would-be husbands lost their nerve during their enforced contemplatory vigil.

The best feature of the law remains, that of requiring a clean bill of health from the bridegroom. Perhaps some day it will be really enforced, though that would almost inevitably lead to its repeal.

Marriages, like the prices of cotton and corn, set a new all-time low last year. Maybe now they will perk up, giving employment to the players of wedding marches, the justices and the parsons and the necessary county clerks. At any rate a word of caution to the uncoupled is in order. The speed limit is off, and after September one, the nuptial knot may be tied as quickly as a calf hitch by a rodeo star.

THE REALM OF SCIENCE KEEPING UP WITH TEXAS

LIFE ON MARS

For many years the layman has believed, and many scientists have disputed, that there is life on Mars. Recent studies through more powerful telescopes, and with the spectroscope, are now convincing scientists that life not only can, but does exist, though none are prepared to say it is inhabited by human beings.

The spectroscope reveals that the atmosphere of Mars is practically identical with that of the earth, and that water vapor and oxygen, two requisites of life, are plentiful. Its polar regions are covered with snow during the winters, the telescope reveals, but this almost entirely melts in the summers, the white turning to reddish brown and then green.

Mars's much-discussed "canals" connect up spots of green, or oases, and the green areas are greatly reduced in the winters, turning to reddish brown, as if the vegetation was dying off. Animal life is always possible where vegetation is found.

Mars is now easily visible in the evening sky, as it is still very close to the planet Jupiter, and Jupiter is the brightest star in the sky at this time. Mars is the smaller of the two and has a decidedly reddish hue, while Jupiter shines with a much brighter bluish light.—Pathfinder.

CATS CARRY REFLECTORS

Have you ever wondered why it is you can see the eyes of a cat gleaming in the dark, while the eyes of humans and certain other animals do not have this effect? The reason for this phenomenon is that cats and other nocturnal animals are equipped with a special reflecting membrane in the back of the eye, which makes the eye more sensitive in semi-darkness by focusing all the light possible upon the retina.

It is this reflected light that we see when a cat watches us in the dark. Human eyes lacking in pigment, and especially albinos, explains the Better Vision bureau, may also glisten in the dark, but the pigment of normal eyes will absorb the light.

It was the eye of the cat that suggested the invention of the signs you see on the roads to warn motorists to stop. While these signs are not lighted, they reflect the light of any approaching auto whose lamps are lighted. The signs are made up of a number of glass or metallic plates which are set at such an angle that the light is thrown back.

These signs of course are much cheaper than signs which require the use of electric current. Henry Berliner, the Washington inventor, has just perfected a device made of a special metal which will still further cut the cost of such warning signs and thus help to reduce the dangers of the road for both drivers and pedestrians.

GULF STREAM SHIFTS

In spite of the assurances of Prof. Charles F. Brooks of the Harvard meteorological department that the thing is improbable, Capt. George H. Grant of the liner San Blas insists that the gulf stream has shifted 150 miles closer to the New England coast and that its speed has increased from three to five knots. The captain was so surprised that he put his ship back into the port of Boston to report the matter.

GOOD TO EAT

FRUIT AND MEAT

One seldom thinks of eating fruit and meat together, and yet, after all, such combinations are fairly common.

We eat apple sauce with roast pork, and cranberry sauce with roast turkey. These combinations are well known, but how about ham with oranges? Really, this is an excellent combination. You need six servings of fried ham, two tablespoons flour, two cups orange juice, two or three oranges for slicing and a little parsley. Fry ham. For six servings a ham steak of about 1 1/2 pounds will be required. Add flour to 2 tablespoons of fat from frying ham and cook until lightly browned. Add orange juice, stirring well to avoid lumps. Cook

Increase in electrical output for Texas as shown by the monthly report of the U. S. geology survey is attributed to increase in industrial consumption incident to resumption of activities by numerous Texas manufacturing plants.

Expenditure of $250,000,000 in Texas from the $3,300,000,000 public works appropriation will provide employment for many and increase activities in many other lines, including industry which will be called on for many of the materials entering into the building program.

Flour mills at Sherman set a new record for production for the year ending May 31, the total being 1,249,373 barrels, an increase of nearly 300,000 barrels over the previous high in 1932. Nearly 6,000,000 bushels of grain were used in the production.

A major development in Texas industry is the growth of the manufacture of women's clothes, largely wash dresses. The 1930 census shows there were thirty-eight plants making women's clothes, employing 2097 persons with payrolls aggregating $1,350,036 and producing articles valued at $5,310,971, more than half of which—$2,686,051—was "value added by manufacture."

Texas has nine cement plants, giving employment normally to 233 salaried officials and employees and 1484 wage-earners with payrolls respectively of $717,285 and $1,369,175. They take $4,156,893 worth of raw materials and transform them into $11,762,429 worth of finished products, by manufacture adding a value of $7,605,536.

Health Hint

SUMMER ROUND-UP

The congress of Parent-Teacher associations and the Texas state department of health are sponsoring the ninth annual summer round-up of preschool children. The purpose of this campaign is to send to the entering grade of school or kindergarten a class of children as free as possible from remedial physical and mental defects.

The ultimate goal is to educate parents to the need for early periodic examination of their children by the family physician or dentist in order to insure correction of hampering defects which might not otherwise be discovered until the child enters school.

Each year more than 200,000 children enter the first grade of school in Texas. Many of these children are suffering with some remedial defect that makes it impossible for them to keep pace with their fellow students. It was for this group that the summer round-up was devised. Some of the defects most commonly found are defective vision or hearing, diseased tonsils, adenoids, and decayed teeth.

In 1931 Texas had more associations registered than any state in the union. In 1932 Texas lacked two registrations of having more associations registered; than any state in the union. Preschool children are first examined and all defects noted. The local group makes a check of these children in the fall to see if the corrections have been made. After the fall check-up each unit will be graded on the per cent of preschool children examined and on the number of defects corrected. Texans have always responded heartily to this campaign, realizing that a child must be healthy to do satisfactory school work and enjoy life.

5 minutes or until sauce is thick. Pour sauce around ham on serving dish. Garnish with parsley and orange slices.

Orange Meat Salad

Two cups cold roast lamb, veal, chicken or duck, 4 oranges, lettuce. Cut the meat (lamb, veal, chicken or duck) into small pieces and marinate in salad marinade. Peel oranges and cut in small pieces. Combine oranges and meat and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with French dressing.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

CHEER FOR MR. GARNER

Vice President John Nance Garner, who talked very little during the presidential campaign last year, now continues his tradition of silence by refusing an offer of $52,000 a year to talk five minutes a week over the radio. An unnamed firm wanted the vice president to discuss public affairs on their weekly program, but the vice president thought no more favorably of the offer than he seems to think of the invitations with which, under Washington's social usages, he and his wife have been showered these past few months.

This latest manifestation of vice presidential restraint reflects great credit on the author. Because of his skill as a rough-and-tumble parliamentarian and his realistic attitude toward the proverbial pork barrel Mr. Garner has been the target of a great deal of hostile criticism, some of it, as he would probably admit himself, deserved. But the fundamental quality of the man is exemplified in the promptness and decision with which he has refused to allow his name or the high office he holds to be identified with an advertising scheme conducted for private profit.

The refusal is the more important because few men in these days of depleted incomes turn down chances to make $1000 a week for five minutes easy work. There is an element of high decency in such a refusal for which Mr. Garner ought to get a real cheer.—Clifton Record.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP IN THE DEPRESSION

At a time when men and women are greatly disturbed and bewildered by the complexities of existence, they tend to turn towards spiritual things. That seems to be borne out by the fact that 1932, a year of intense depression in the United States, saw the churches of the nation gain greatly in numbers.

Almost a million people declared themselves communicants of the various denominations. At the end of 1932, some 50,037,029 persons above the age of 13 were enrolled as members of the country's churches. The Baptists lead all others in the number newly enrolled, followed by the Eastern Catholics, the Methodists and the Lutherans.

As the membership of the churches has been increasing, so the contributions have declined since 1929, although the change has been slight when we consider the manner in which so many middle-class incomes have been depleted and the millions of faithful communicants unemployed.

The church has fared better than most other organizations. It is gaining steadily. From 1900 to 1933, church membership in the nation mounted from 27,383,060 to 50,987,029, an increase of 82.3 per cent. During the same period the population increase was 65.8 per cent. Which would indicate that modernist America is not yet ready to abandon the old ideals and spiritual values.—Exchange.

WAR HORSES IN KANSAS

Jack rabbits are again becoming plentiful in the San Angelo area and shotguns and poison are being resorted to in an effort to cut down their depredations on crops.

But the problem is worse in Kansas, where the "war horse" jack rabbits have returned to the prairies. These huge rabbits, the size of a small dog and famous for their leaping, are running off the small jacks and taking the country.

Farmers in the Cimarron brakes say the scarcity of green stuff has developed in the war horses a taste for automobile tires and fresh paint. A ranchman found his truck tires in shreds the other morning. The huge rabbits have been known to tackle a coyote and best him.

"This is a bad indication," said a long-time resident of the southwest. "We had a scourge of the war horses just before the world war, and an Indian legend is that they never return unless a war is brewing."—San Angelo Standard.

LIBRARY AID FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

The fact is not generally known that small public schools of Texas, ones not having over 10 teachers, and not having received the regular salary aid from the state, may receive $10 per teacher from the state rural aid fund for libraries, provided their school boards will match this amount with a similar fund. The boards are entirely free as to their methods of providing their part of the money. It may be done out of tax revenue, through gifts from individuals or by money-raising enterprises.

The library amendment to the state aid law was written by William Eilers, veteran Texas educator and rural school inspector for the state department of education, and it was adopted by the recent session of the legislature.

Mr. Eilers states that he offered the amendment to the state aid law because the small schools which have not received aid are the only ones which have no libraries. In the state aid schools, each school board is required to supply the school with $25 worth of library books for each room, in order to get aid the first time.

But there are 1500 small schools in the state which have never received salary aid, and a very large majority of these have no library facilities. It was to correct this situation that the new offer of state aid was made.

These facts should be broadcast by friends of the smaller schools, with the hope that every such school will be provided with a reasonably good library in the very near future.—Houston Chronicle.

JUST TO BE HONEST

How pleasant life would be if everybody was honest. To be honest is to be natural, fair, just, straightforward in thought, conduct, speech. To be honest is to be truthful, sincere, candid, genuine, real; free from guile, duplicity or fraud. To be honest is to be faithful, upright, virtuous.

The old adage says "Honesty is the best policy." And it is. The honest person is the happiest. He has confidence in himself, he inspires confidence in others, he is always ready to help. When others succeed he does not envy

STORM SIGNALS OUT

No half-way measures are being taken now with national defense. Hard on the heels of the thirty-two fighting ship program to bring the American navy up to treaty strength comes Secretary Swanson's announcement that the rest of the fleet is to be reconditioned. The battleships are to be modernized and shore construction brought up to date. The work fits in with the public building program to stimulate employment. But it fits in too with the international situation, the practical failure of the disarmament conference and Japan's new attitude on naval reduction.

While the work both of building the new ships and modernizing the old is a lengthy program of years' duration, its launching will serve notice on the world at large that the United States has no intention of surrendering its foreign possessions to any acquisition power, and that the navy will be kept on a footing to defend the seelanes. As much has already been said in the new naval policy aptly described by the New York Herald-Tribune as the new bill of rights for the American navy.

The comprehensive plans for the navy constitutes a turnabout from the policy of leading the world toward disarmament. Regret that this is true is mitigated by the candor of necessity. Events have clearly shown that at least one signatory to previous naval reduction agreements has used the sincere world desire for disarmament to further its own military ends. A first-class navy may be disturbing to the dream of world peace, but it leaves far less cause for disquiet on the side of national safety.—Dallas News.

but is joyful for their sake. The honest man does not covet his neighbor's house, goods or honors. He is satisfied with what he has, his wants are few, and he likes to gain his own livelihood. He provides for himself and for his own. He will not lie, steal or deceive. He doesn't know how. His life is an open book for all to read; he has nothing to conceal, therefore no worries. Usually, during these peak loads, additional units are called upon to pour energy into the lines. But the human body cannot be treated in exactly the same way. The only thing to do is to provide the working parts with special equipment, if we can, during the heaviest work, and see that they rest and recuperate after it. In the case of eyes, we must see to it that there are special glasses to aid them to do special work, such as sewing or reading or fine drawing. The consequences if we fail to do this are obvious. Since there is only a certain amount of nervous energy available for the body if the eyes take more than their share, some other organ will suffer. If the stomach, say, takes up its normal amount of energy so that the eyes do not have enough to get through some unusual job, the eyes will suffer. Often we feel that strain in our eyes and in other parts of our body as well; all of the delicate muscles are kept strained and overworked beyond what should be expected of them, and the results are felt too in impaired digestion, even in back-aches and a general run-down condition. Glasses will help, because they lessen the work of the many eye muscles, but even if we do not rest the eyes frequently during the hardest work by looking up every so often, and after the work by plenty of sleep.

Brownwood

The first salvo of prohibition's heavy oratory was fired in Brownwood Monday night by Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church, Fort Worth, who addressed a large and enthusiastic audience at the Howard Payne auditorium.

Chester Harrison, who has been serving several months as acting secretary of the Brownwood chamber of commerce, was elected secretary of the organization at the weekly luncheon of the directors Wednesday. Mr. Harrison accepted on a half-time basis.

Workmen started this week at Clear Creek on highway 10, topping the highway with asphalt from that point north toward Brownwood. As soon as this work is completed, the topping will be extended from Clear Creek south to the Colorado river.

Brown county's quota of 4,500 signatures to petitions endorsing the Texas Centennial for 1936, will have been secured within the next few weeks, with many signers to spare, according to O. H. Turner, post adjutant. Work of securing signatures will not be stopped when the quota is reached, but efforts of the legionnaires will be continued until the largest possible number of people have been seen.

Resolutions of respect to the memory of James W. McCartney, prominent young local attorney, who died April 18, 1933, following an airplane accident, were adopted by members of the Brown county bar at memorial services held in his honor Monday in the district court room. Following the services Judge E. J. Miller adjourned court for the remainder of the week out of respect to Mr. McCartney's memory.

Julian W. Malone died Friday, June 30, from burns received two weeks earlier when a gasoline engine upon which he was working exploded. Mr. Malone was working on the engine, located in a well from which water was pumped to irrigate his truck farm. Fumes from the engine became ignited and the subsequent explosion threw burning gasoline over him, severely burning his face and body.—Banner-Bulletin.

Lampasas

According to Albert Field, at whose home Eric Junkind, the electrician stays, the latter's car was stolen Tuesday night. However, after some excitement and searching, the car was found in the alley just back of the house.

The polo club fostered the celebration for the Fourth in Lampasas, the features being races, polo and goat roping. The baseball game failed to materialize when the team from San Saba called just before time to start that they could not come.

John Kyle Oliver had his collar bone broken and suffered some bruises Tuesday afternoon when his pony fell on the race track at the fair park. He had entered the pony race and his pony stepped into a crack in the ground filled with loose gravel, falling and throwing John.

While the lack of rain the past six weeks has cut the yield of the corn crop considerably, there are many fields in this section that will make fair to good yields, according to reports from various farmers. Several have said they will make an average of 20 bushels per acre, some parts making as much as 30 or more bushels per acre.

Mavis, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Spencer, who live between Oakalla and Florence, was drowned Tuesday afternoon while wading in the Lampasas river below Oakalla some 12 miles, at Sing Sing. Funeral services were in the Mohomet cemetery Wednesday. A large crowd, between 100 and 200 people, were enjoying a picnic at this place. In the afternoon about forty or fifty children were wading in the river, where it was shallow. It was not known just how long the child had been drowned when she was missed by the other children, but her little body was found in water not more than 18 inches in depth. It was believed by the physician who was called that she stumbled and fell on a rock as two of her front teeth had been knocked out.—Record.

Comanche

Representative Thos. L. Blanton of the 17th congressional district will speak at the Tarleton college auditorium July 14, at 8 o'clock in the evening, members of the Erath county Democratic committee announced.

Prospects are good that federal highway 67, which is the same as state highway 10, thru Comanche county, will be paved within a year.

A tub and a barrel filled with bottles of iced beer were taken at a dance near Wilson Saturday night and one alleged salesman was arrested by Comanche and Erath county officers.

A childhood game of counting moccasin tracks left in her father's yard by prowling Apache Indians is recalled by Mrs. R. W. Lusk of Woodson, who was born 75 years ago on Little Mountain Creek, near the present site of Comanche.

Over $100,000 will be paid to Comanche county farmers probably this month for cotton destroyed. Practically every farmer is signing to destroy half the crop, the maximum amount allowed under the plan and the acreage payment will be from $7 to $10 per acre.

Last month was one of the driest June's within recent years according to information obtained from R. C. Graham, fire chief, who said the total rain fall was only .29 inch, which fell on June 11 and 12. The rain last year during June was 3.38 inches.

S. C. Findley of Brownwood former newspaper man and teacher and county superintendent at Comanche, recently received notice that he had been appointed deputy internal revenue collector for the Dallas district and will serve under W. A. Thomas, internal revenue collector for the northern district of Texas.

For the second time within less than two years, the State Bank of Proctor was burglarized about 3 a. m. Monday morning, when four or five men entered the building by tearing off a screen and breaking a small window and got away with $12 in small change, which they found in a drawer in the vault. The robbers also took 500 envelopes bearing 3c stamps and 1000 one-cent postal cards from the bank which belonged to the Proctor postoffice. The thieves made an unsuccessful attempt to carry away the safe and had it removed from the vault when it crashed partly through the floor and fell out the front door causing a crash that awakened R. W. Hughes, Proctor telephone operator.—Chief.

Lometa

Miss Billie Kirby of Goldthwaite spent the third and fourth with Elizabeth Skiles.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Stephens, Mrs. Henry Stallings of Brownwood and Miss Irene Malone of Sour Lake left Saturday night for Chicago to attend the world's fair.

Mrs. Berta Simon nad brother, John Stephens, or Chico, were visitors for several days this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will G. Allen.

"Red" Tillman of Mullin was a visitor in Lometa Monday night and Tuesday morning. While here he visited a short while in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Biggs.

While sitting quietly at home yesterday, Dr. Whittenburg received a broken shoulder. He was reading and the rocker in which he was sitting broke and he received quite a fall. He went to Lampasas to have it X-rayed to find if the break was any more complicated than he thought.—Reporter.

In the special school election, to validate the bonds of the San Saba independent district, held here Saturday, the proposition of maintenance carried by a vote of 215 to 20, and the validation of bonds carried by a vote of 211 to 25.

The farmers of San Saba county are almost solidly behind the president in the campaign for cotton acreage reduction and the whole campaign for ending the depression and the rehabilitation of the business of this county. 13,000 acres is the acreage reduction quota of the county.

During the shower and flurry Tuesday afternoon, when a rain attempted to fall here, there was a miniature cyclone struck the J. T. McConnell farm, two miles east of town. This is commonly known as the Kuehn place. A whirlwind struck this house, completely demolishing the large glass window panes on the east side of the house. Nearly a half inch of rain fell at the house. Just across the creek and elsewhere the rain was only a "crack".—News.

Hamilton

A revival meeting is being held at Dry Fork Rev. O. O. O. Newton is conducting the services and R. L. Webb is leading the singing.

A rain and wind storm hit Lamkin last Tuesday afternoon about 4 p. m. The tabernacle at the Primitive Baptist church was blown down and completely torn to pieces. Several porches were blown off and a few shacks blown over, but no serious damage was done.

On Friday of last week while canning vegetables at her home, Mrs. George Ashmore was severely burned about the face and body, when a pressure cooker blew up while in operation. While she suffered much pain, Mr. Ashmore says she is doing nicely and will soon be entirely recovered.

Mrs. W. B. Hurley possesses a clock that has been in use in her family generation for over 100 years. The clock is about three feet tall and one foot wide. It has recently been revarnished and cleaned up and it keeps perfect time. Sixty-two years ago the clock was given to Mrs. Hurley's father.

According to the county agent, who has charge of the effort in Hamilton county to obtain a cotton acreage reduction at the hands of the federal government, the plan is working with the expected amount of success. The Hamilton county organization has been out of blank forms and have been greatly handicapped on that account, yet 7,395 acres have actually been signed up and another 2,708 acres have requested that they be depended upon when the blank forms arrive, guaranteeing more than 10,000 acres on Hamilton county's quota of 17,800 acres.—News.

VETERANS BEAR

ECONOMY BURDEN

Upon cutting expenditures for veterans the Roosevelt administration has depended largely to reduce the cost of government, but congress amended the legislation and lessened the severity of the cuts first ordered. Here in brief is the net result, as published in the San Antonio Light:

The appropriation for veterans during the fiscal year begun this month is $581,988,000. Last year it was $927,949,000.

Between 400,000 and 500,000 ex-service men, among them 387,000 world war veterans who have become partially disabled since the war and cannot attribute their condition to service, have received their last government checks. Last year the latter group drew $83,000,000.

Veterans Re-Rated

The veterans' administration is undertaking to re-rate 338,000 disabled veterans whose condition is attributable to war duty. The funds to pay them have been cut from $203,689,000 in 1933, to an estimated $118,272,000 for 1934. Of this group, 150,000 cases are "presumptive," meaning there is no evidence that war caused their troubles but laws have given them the right to claim so. Special reviewing boards will be set up to decide in each case whether the claim is to remain in force or whether the man shall be dropped from the roll.

Service-Connected

In re-rating those definitely of the service-connected class, and the remaining presumptive new schedules of disability percentage and payment go into effect. A man judged 10 per cent disabled will get $9 a month or up, depending on conditions. If 100 per cent disabled, from $90 up, the ratings running in multiples of ten. Previously they ran 10, 25, 50, 70, and 100 per cent. For the service-connected the re-rating is to be effective from July 1, and will be accomplished as quickly as possible. They are expected to be reduced an average of 18 per cent.

Presumptive Cases

As for presumptive cases, until October 31, or until an earlier board decision each man will be cut 25 per cent. After determination, those remaining on the rolls are expected to get, on the average, 18 per cent less than up to this year.

All world war and Spanish America war veterans who are totally disabled, regardless of service origin, will receive base pay of $30 a month.

Roughly 75,000 Spanish American war veterans have been taken off the rolls. Of the 123,000 remaining, most will receive $15 a month instead of $20 to $60.

Emergency Officers

No change is made in compensation to widows, orphans and dependent parents of deceased veterans, but three quarters of a million is to be saved by sifting out cases in which fraud or mistakes entered. A flat 10 per cent cut is in force for pensioners remaining from the earlier wars, civil, Mexican, etc.

Heretofore, any former soldier falling ill could go to a government hospital. That is no longer possible. The veterans' hospitals will care only for those suffering disabilities which originated in service plus all they can of the others who are destitute.

The 6015 emergency retired officers receiving payments aggregating $11,000,000 in 1933 will be reduced this month to approximately 2500 for whom $3,000,000 is allotted.

M. Y. Stokes, Jr., left Sunday for San Antonio, in response to a call to service of certain reserve officers of the army in the business recovery campaign. Mr. Stokes is a captain in the service and is the only reserve officer assigned to duty in the army headquarters at Fort Sam Houston. He is pleased with his assignment and will likely remain on duty there until some time this fall. His family will remain here for the present, but may go to San Antonio later to be with him until he returns home.

CENTER CITY

Summer is here in all its heat. The rains we had hoped for failed to materialize and pastures are drying out fast. We are in hope rains will come in time to make fall feed and cotton.

Sunday was a quiet day here. There were no church services and not so many attended Sunday school.

Our community was saddened last Thursday, when news came that Mrs. Lee Woolsey had passed away in a Hamilton sanitarium Wednesday. She was Miss Kate Walton before her marriage and had many friends who were grieved to learn of her death. She left a husband and two sons and two daughters, besides other relatives. Her remains were interred in the cemetery here Thursday evening. Our sympathy is extended to all bereaved and especially to the little boys and girls who will miss her so much.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walton of Valera attended the funeral of Mrs. Woolsey last Thursday.

Mrs. Covington and daughter, Miss Edith, Mrs. Lewis Covington, Mrs. Bill Virden of Pleasant Grove and Miss Mary Holley of Fort Worth visited Mrs. J. M. Oglesby Thursday evening before attending the funeral of Mrs. Woolsey.

Hugh Carroll and family of Ralls arrived Monday night for a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Reid, and other relatives.

The party at Walter Robertson's last Saturday night was enjoyed by many.

Members of the Masonic lodge served ice cream in cones to their families last Saturday night. A number of the ladies brought cakes and all report a fine time together. Our best thanks are extended to these gentlemen for their thoughtfulness and here is hoping they will decide on another before the summer is ended. There were a number of visitors present.

Thos. Atchison and family visited in the Ellis Reid home on Tuesday.

Thurman Head of Lometa has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Owens.

J. M. Oglesby and little daughters made a business trip to Lampasas last Saturday.

Raymond Casbeer spent several days last week with his sister, Gladys, at Stephenville.

Charles Royce, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Head, was quite ill Sunday and was carried to the doctor. He is improving now.

A number are reported on the sick list.

Ewell Venable and family visited relatives here Sunday.

Ira Aldredge and Walter Robertson are on the river fishing. Here is hoping they have luck.

CARADAN

A large crowd attended Sunday school and church Sunday. Bro. Renfro filled Bro. Hays' appointments over the week end. We are always glad to have Bro. Renfro preach for us. We also had an excellent singing Sunday afternoon and we certainly appreciated the help of Rock Springs, Center City, Trigger Mountain, Priddy and all the other communities that attended.

Ed Obenhaus and family spent Sunday in our community and attended church and singing.

Bill Gray of Mason came after his wife and sons Sunday, who had been visiting friends and relatives in our community. Elmer Gray and family and Miss Juanita Hazeltine accompanied him. Miss Hazeltine remained for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson spent the week end visiting in the Center Point community.

Bro. Renfro took supper with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Petsick Sunday night.

The singing school, which is in progress, will close Friday.

will compare favorably with that of any other town in the state. There has always been a class here who have refused to come under the influence of the churches. There is that class now and probably they will continue here as long as they live. They were here more than a quarter of a century ago, when I first knew the town, and their successors are still here. Many that I knew then are not here and their successors, sad to say, will soon be gone.

While all this is true and will probably remain as a condition to worry about, yet the fact remains that we are in the main, a religious people, many of them as fine a people as can be found upon the earth. They may be criticised from the pulpit and by unthinking people on the street; the preachers may come in for their share of hatred by the underworld, sometimes these being reinforced by people of whom we have a right to expect better things, but after all, when sorrows come, and the skies are as dark as midnight for these critics, the place to seek for help, even the severest critics well know, is at the hands of these same people who have been most severely maligned.

"There is so much bad in the best of us. And so much good in the worst of us. That it scarce behooves the most of us, To talk about the rest of us."

With the mercury hanging constantly around 100 these days, there is much reason for getting warmed up without much provocation. Find a good shady place when you get warm, get a good cool drink of water and cool off. J. S. BOWLES.

Return to this state of 60,000 Texas cattle now grazing on parched Kansas feed lands is seen as a possibility soon, unless heavy rains fall there in the next few days. The cattle, many of them from ranches in west Texas, would be returned here to be fed in feed lots of west Texas cotton oil mills.

Bars of the Kimble county jail separated a burglary suspect and his sweetheart, but they didn't prevent the couple's marrying. When their wedding day arrived the groom was in jail, unable to make a $2500 bond to gain his freedom. Justice of the Peace E. M. Burt performed the ceremony on the first floor of the county jail in Junction.

An irresistible desire to "get right with God" impelled R. T. Bennett, negro ex-convict, to confess unexpectedly at his murder trial in Dallas Wednesday that he strangled Mrs. Leona Buchanan in her apartment last December 1. A jury which heard the negro change his plea of innocence to one of guilt, after the trial had been in progress two days, sentenced him to death. The jury deliberated but six minutes.

Applications for federal funds for 58 projects are ready to be turned over to the state administrator of the federal public work's program at Austin. Total cost of the projects would be $12,056,843, headquarters of the state emergency relief committee announced. These applications will have been checked by the state committee and are ready for presentation to federal officials. Reports on 1900 more projects, which would cost $395,263,987, have been received by the state committee and more are arriving each day.

When a swarm of angry bees attacked a man Saturday near Milano, it was necessary to build a fire and smoke them out before they would leave their prey. The victim was driving his mule team and wagon along the highway about the time a bee hive fell off a truck. The bees were released when their home fell apart and immediately clustered upon the luckless teamster. He was so badly poisoned that his condition was considered serious. The truck from which the hive was lost was taking 200 hives to Houston.

To hasten fortification of employment and purchasing power, the administration has under consideration a direction to all industry to pay a minimum wage and restrict working hours until the Roosevelt recovery program takes fuller effect.

This was acknowledged in a high quarter along with assertions that the president is pleased with progress to date.

While anxious for speed on restoring employment and lifting purchasing power by means of the industrial control law, it was said that Mr. Roosevelt realizes the establishment of the codes fixing hours of work, minimum wages and production is a tremendous task for any industry.

Mrs. J. C. Mullan, Miss Ruth Florence and Gaylord have all been quite sick a part of this week, but were reported improving yesterday.

News of the Week

Charles Nathaniel Haskell, Oklahoma's first governor, died last Wednesday in Oklahoma City.

Cotton mill activity in the United States during June was the highest on record, it was reported by the New York cotton exchange.

President Roosevelt pressed a button at the White House late Saturday, signaling the start of construction work on the gigantic San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge.

More than 17,000 acres of school land in Bailey and Cochran counties belonging to Childress county will be placed on the market soon. The price will range from $8 to $25 an acre.

E. C. Brand, Sweetwater banker, has been appointed state banking commissioner by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Brand succeeds James Shaw, who resigned to become Texas director of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. The home loan office will be opened by Shaw in Dallas.
