

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

VOLUME THIRTY-NINE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1933.

NUMBER FORTY-NINE

Home Loan Officers Named

The Federal government's home loan plan, recently inaugurated, of which Jas. Shaw, who recently resigned as state banking commissioner, is the chief executive officer in this state, is getting into shape to function. Attorneys and appraisers have been appointed in all counties. Judge E. B. Anderson has been named as attorney and examiner of abstracts in Mills county and R.M. Thompson is appraiser. So far these appointees have received their full instructions and it is suggested that those who desire to avail themselves of the benefits of the home loan act make their applications direct to the Dallas office. Full information will be given through the Eagle as soon as the head office authorizes the publication.

Catastrophically Injured By Automobile

W. A. Knight and his sister, Mrs. Roach Fox returned the first of the week from Paducah, Kitle county, where they were killed some days ago on account of the serious injuries suffered by their brother, Pete Knight, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Dallas parsons on the highway near Paducah. His right leg was broken below the knee, his right arm was broken in two places and he was otherwise badly injured. The car that struck him proceeded on its way until met by a truck and then the driver turned back and assisted the truck driver in carrying Mr. Knight to the hospital, according to the report given his family. When his brother and sister left him they thought he was getting along fairly well, but a message Wednesday night told his death.

Pete Knight was reared at Center City and was married here to Miss Bernice Hamilton before he left several years ago for Matador, Motley county, where he has since been agent of the Watkins medicines. He leaves his wife and several children at Matador and a number of relatives and a host of friends in this county, who are sincerely grieved because of his death.

Barn Burned With Considerable Loss

Last Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock the barn at Sam Frizzell's residence on Sixth street, was destroyed by fire, together with its contents, which consisted of a considerable amount of corn and other feed stuff, some harness, a new $45 saddle and other articles. Two horses were stabled in the barn and were released without injury, while one hog was burned to death. The fire is believed to have been caused by a cigarette being carelessly thrown down. A large crowd was attracted to the fire, but the fire company and streams of water playing on the blaze and volunteers could do but little assistance.

BIRTHDAY PICNIC

On Sunday, June 30, John Henry Bowman was 11 years old, on the next day, Monday, at 30, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman intended a small group of boys to accompany them to the lake for birthday picnic. The youngsters enjoyed a swim and water sports, after which a picnic feast was spread, topped off with ice cream and cake. The boys then decided to take another plunge in the cool lake waters and very reluctantly came out for the return trip to town. John received a number of ice gifts and everyone present had a fine time and wished him many happy returns of the day.

ONE PRESENT.

Methodist Notes

The Methodist church has been rather disorganized the past few Sundays because of the meeting at the Baptist church. Following an established custom, there have been no services at the Methodist church Sunday evenings in three weeks. In the mean time the pastor has been engaged in a meeting at Pleasant Grove church. The meetings are over now and we shall now have something of a regular program.

The meeting at the Baptist church closed Sunday night. It was a pronounced success in all things. The membership was increased by forty-eight additions and they were also greatly revived in a spiritual way. The pastor and people and the religious element of the town are greatly encouraged. Now let us all settle down to the regular routine of church work and continue to do some worthwhile things for the Kingdom of God.

One of the troublesome questions that is giving many people grave concern is a question which has grown of late years out of our educational problems and policies. Within the memory of us all there were questions raised about finding people properly prepared by education for the many jobs which were to be had. Today we are raising the question: "What are we to do with our college graduates?" A friend from another state told me in a letter of a few days since that he had two sons who had graduated with honors from a great university more than a year ago, and since that time had not been able to earn in any way as much as twenty-five dollars.

By a process of reasoning superinduced by such examples, men are ready to conclude that the colleges have failed, and that a college education is not worth the cost when it comes to dealing with the weighty problem of a living.

The job, the problem of meat and bread so intimately associated with the job, must of necessity always enter into the discussion of all cultural things. So it is not remarkable that the problem of college work must, after all come back to the problem of meat and bread. Nevertheless, important as meat and bread must always be, the entire emphasis must not be placed at this point. It has always been true that man "cannot live by bread alone," neither can he live without it. Why so much discussion of the college graduate with out a job? I know hundreds who never saw a college also with out jobs, and yet no one is advising that we quit wearing overalls because of the fact that the daily toiler is without a job. Are all lines of activity to be discouraged because of a lack of jobs? At this point it has occurred to me that our young people, fresh from schools and without a job that would pay them anything, should look around and see if they can not in the emergency before them create a job for themselves, which would in some way repay their own community for the opportunity to attend college.

But you say that you owe the community nothing. Well, that is the conclusion of the ones who are either too ignorant to know, or else too selfish to try to do his part for a great common good. All owe something to the larger good, most of all is this true of those who have been privileged to attend college. Why not be willing to work without pay where no job is to be had or to be willing to loaf where no remunerative job is to be had? Why not do this and take the pay in the gratitude of a public, who would be glad to help you if within their power to do so? There is plenty to do. There is the church, the Sunday school, the young people's organization. Besides this, there is a vast field open to those who wish to further equip themselves for a broad.

BAPTISTS MEET AT TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

The Mills County Baptist Association will meet with the Trigger Mountain church August 18, 1933, at 8:15 o'clock p. m. Bro. Franklin E. Swanner will preach at that hour.

It is desired that we meet at 9:30 a. m. Saturday, August 19, for organization and after this to hear reports of committees. The following committees have been appointed to report at that time, to-wit: Missions—L. L. Hays. Benevolence—G. A. Buchanan. Education—F. P. Bowman. Christian service—Mrs. E. B. Anderson.

We hope to have some able speakers with us in addition to our local preachers and laymen. The women will have their meeting at 2 o'clock p. m. Sunday. We hope on that day to have an all day meeting, and to finish any unfinished business and promulgate a greater Christian fellowship among the churches and Christian people.

Some hour Sunday we hope to have a kind of memorial-fellowship time. We suggest that everyone bring their dinner on Sunday, so the people of Trigger Mountain may have a better opportunity to enjoy the meeting. We hope all the pastors in the Association will be there and all the churches be represented and that we shall have a very gracious meeting. G. W. JACKSON, Acting Moderator.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Methodist church in regular business meeting.

Suffers Injuries By Mad Bull

Last Sunday Mr. Julius Summerfeld was badly injured by an infuriated bull he was driving from one pasture to another, east of Priddy. The animal was known to be dangerous, but Mr. Summerfeld was accustomed to handling him and, therefore, did not exercise the caution that one would have used who was afraid of him. The animal was a "muley," which accounts for Mr. Summerfeld not being killed, as the animal struck him with its head, badly injuring his chest. His hurts are bad, but if no complications set up he is expected to recover.

Methodist Church To Hold Bible Class

Rev. H. M. Ratliff of Austin will begin a week of Bible study at the Methodist church Sunday, August 6.

He will preach at both the morning and evening hours. It is hoped that all Methodist churches of the county, and all others interested in the work of our young people will meet with us in these services. Rev. Ratliff is one of our most competent and scholarly men, and will be of great service to all who hear him.

Come, let us work together. S. O. HAMMOND, Pastor

JUBILEE AND RACES PLANS PERFECTED

The fair association officers and committees have everything in readiness for the jubilee and races, Aug. 17, 18. Roy Gray gives assurance he will be here with his carnival, a number of race horses are here and others are coming.

SLIGHTLY INJURED IN TRUCK WRECK

Wednesday afternoon as Ray Priddy and others were coming to Goldthwaite in a truck they were the victims of a pretty bad wreck. As they were passing through the North Brown community, a large-bull walked into the road from the weeds and stepped immediately in front of the truck. Two of the animal's legs were broken and he was otherwise injured, the engine of the truck was pushed out of its place and the truck badly damaged. Mr. Priddy, who was at the steering wheel was injured by being thrown against the wheel and it was thought a bone in his shoulder was broken. The other occupants of the truck were not seriously injured.

Business Men Here Co-operate

All business houses, firms and companies in Goldthwaite are giving full support to the N. R. A. and conforming to the requirements as far as they are understood. Most of us do not really understand "what it is all about," but we realize the effort is for the betterment of all interests and to reduce unemployment and we will give hearty support. Most lines are not yet under a strict code, hence the final result of the plan can not yet be judged. Some believe that the requirements are not for small towns, but the person who really knows about it has not yet appeared. The most any of us know is that we intend to abide by the requirements, whatever may develop.

Baptist Reminder Cotton Being Turned Under

Rev. Franklin E. Swanner, who is in a meeting at Caradan, reports 351 present at the Baptist Sunday school here last Sunday, and 48 additions to the church as a result of the meeting. Twenty-six were candidates for baptism.

Bro. Homer Starnes was licensed to preach last Sunday by the Baptist church and preached his first sermon Wednesday night.

Successful Revival Brought to Close

The revival conducted at the Baptist church for about two weeks came to a close Sunday night and is characterized as one of the most successful ever held in the city. There were 48 additions to the church, many of them by baptism, as a result of the meeting and the new pastor, Rev. Franklin E. Swanner, was also given an opportunity to get acquainted with all of the church-going people, as large congregations attended every service. The church spirit of the town was helped by the series of services and the entire town will feel its benefits.

Prof. E. D. Stringer Goes to Winters

Prof. and Mrs. E. D. Stringer left Tuesday for their new home in Winters, where he will be the superintendent of the public school system, having exchanged places with Prof. A. H. Smith. They leave many friends in this city who regret their decision to change their place of residence and sincerely hope for their success and happiness.

Acceptances from the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture are on file in the county agent's office and formal notices were mailed to contract signers July 31.

Flowing up cotton is now well under way, while Performance and Certification blanks are being properly filled at the county agent's office for mailing to local committeemen. As soon as cotton is all destroyed, the local committeemen will check up the measurements and present certification papers. It is not necessary for signers to call at the county agent's office, as the required papers will be presented by local committeemen.

County Agent Weaver informs the Eagle his office is still short on blanks and that the work has been handicapped from the beginning by lack of supplies. However, it seems likely the job will be finished next week.

Down On the Farm

By O. G. H.

Young turkeys should be watched at this time and kept free from intestinal worms. Since ranges have dried up the lack of green feed lowers resistance of the fowls and makes them more susceptible to worms. Individual treatment is dependable and necessary. Birds will not develop for early markets, neither will they reach the No. 1 stage for the Christmas market if allowed to go through the summer infested with worms. Do not delay—treat birds at once.

As ranges deteriorate because of the continued dry weather, sheep and goats begin to show symptoms of stomach worms. To delay treatment is to entail loss. Don't delay—apply dependable treatment.

CROSSEYES.

Large Catfish Caught in River

A fish story of unusual proportions has come to the Eagle this week and it does not belong in the believe it or not column either. Every word can be substantiated. Orby Spears and a party of friends went fishing in the Colorado river at the mouth of the San Saba river last Saturday night and set out their hooks. Next morning they had two catfish caught, one weighing 35 pounds and the other 33 pounds. These fish were big enough to make their handling interesting, but most fishermen would be willing to have the same experience every time.

Guests Entertained At Summer Home

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fairman entertained a number of their friends Tuesday evening with a barbecue and picnic supper, at their summer home, at Lake Merritt. All of the guests arrived on time and were given a hearty welcome by Mr. and Mrs. Fairman, in their accustomed cordial manner. After a short time spent in pleasant conversation supper was announced and the guests were conducted to a long table in the residence, where a tempting spread was displayed and enjoyed.

The entire evening was most delightfully spent and the guests tarried longer than they intended, being unwilling to leave such congenial and pleasant company. This delightful occasion added largely to the popularity of the appreciated host and hostess.

Family Reunion Being Held

The Henson-Ross family reunion has been held at the Burnett crossing, on the river, and was to have ended last evening. This is an annual occasion and is always largely attended.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Paul Limmer of Priddy transacted business in the city Monday.

Most of the farmers have been busy this week plowing up the cotton pledged in the reduction campaign.

W. J. Stark, one of the good men of Rock Springs community, looked after business in this city Monday.

The Eagle appreciates your order for job printing.

District court will convene in this city the last Monday in September, which will be the 25th day of the month.

Miss Ruby Cobb, accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Cobb of Brady and two other ladies from the latter city, left the first of the week for an auto trip to the world's fair at Chicago.

Clyde Faulkner, who owns a good farm and knows how to do several other things, such as deliver the mail on the routes out of Goldthwaite, made the Eagle an appreciated call Monday.

It is as important for a regular correspondent to sign a communication as for a stranger to sign. The editor cannot know who did the writing without the name is on the letter.

Rev. H. E. Moreland filled the pulpit at Pleasant Grove, Rev. S. O. Hammond, who was conducting the meeting at that place, having returned home to fill his pulpit at the morning service.

Use Eagle Want-Ads for best results.

Harold Yarborough left the first of the week for Barksdale to spend some time in the Boy Scout camp. His brother, William Glenn, accompanied him to the camp to get him properly located.

Miss Laura Nelson, one of the efficient teachers of Mullin school, was a pleasant caller at this office Saturday. She recently returned from a visit to the World's Fair at Chicago and enjoyed the trip very much.

Miss Fannie Jackson, who is a teacher in Baylor college at Belton, is expected home this week end, for a visit. Her sister, Miss Theo, who is home demonstrator for Bowie county, will likely come with her for a short stay.

Burch is prepared to clean and press garments for any member of the family and takes orders for made-to-measure garments. See his samples for spring clothing.

The subject of "codes" and N. R. A. requirements is being discussed pretty thoroughly in Goldthwaite, as is the case in all other cities throughout the country. The window cards and stickers are in evidence in all places of business.

Mrs. S. E. Ross of San Angelo, who visited Mrs. J. H. Randolph and other friends in this city last week, called at the Eagle office Friday. Mr. Ross was on a business trip to South Texas and came back by Goldthwaite and accompanied her home. Mrs. Ross was reared in this city and she and her family have many friends here who are always glad to see them.

Adding another pleasant occasion to the series of courtesies to honor Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, who left Thursday to make their home in Goldthwaite, a chicken barbecue was given at the Winters Country Club Tuesday evening. Hosts for the occasion were Messrs. and Mesdames J. M. Skaggs, E. A. Sheperd, Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Brophy.—Winters Enterprise.

It is to every citizen's interest to patronize the home dealers in his community, for they help to pay taxes to support the schools and government, as well as give assistance to those who need any sort of help.

A. H. SMITH CLOSES TEN YEAR SERVICE IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Elected Head of Public Schools at Goldthwaite

Bringing to a close a successful ten years work as superintendent in the local schools, A. H. Smith and family left Thursday for their home at Goldthwaite, where he will assume duties of the superintendency of the schools in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been quite active in church, civic and social affairs during their long residence here and it is with a feeling of sadness and a deep sense of regret expressed from many friends here that they have taken up a new place of residence.

Mrs. Smith has been pianist and organist at the First Methodist church for a number of years and was one of the most faithful workers in the church, while Mr. Smith served as superintendent of the Sunday school. Both will be greatly missed from the regular services.

Beginning his work here in 1923 when the schools had no affiliation, inadequate buildings, and equipment, Mr. Smith has been instrumental in gaining 31 affiliated credits, building a $110,000 high school building, $12,000 gymnasium; remodeling the grammar school building and otherwise building the schools up to one of the best equipped school systems in the state.

Ten years ago the faculty was composed of only 18 teachers and with the rapid growth of the school and new courses added, the teaching force was increased to as high as 26. Home economics, vocational agriculture, commercial work, additional history courses, advanced arithmetic and public speaking are among the courses added to the curriculum.

Due to the improved conditions Mr. Smith secured membership for the school in southern association of high schools and colleges. This was brought about by the high quality of work, attainments of high school graduates while in college, standard equipment of first-class and especially trained teachers. This is the only school in the county having merited the distinction of membership in the association, which is the highest rating granted any school in the state.

Not only have the schools advanced in a material and literary manner, but the importance of athletics has been stressed. Football was added the first year of Mr. Smith's superintendency and different phases of the interscholastic league work have been promoted and developed to a high degree. A number of county and district championships have been won, including football, basketball, debating and declamation.

Mr. Smith has held office at different times in the Mid-Texas Teachers association and is now vice-president of the organization. He is also vice-president of the Texas State Teachers association. By his prominent affiliation with the two organizations of educators of the state Mr. Smith has gained state-wide recognition for the Winters schools. His work here has been worthwhile and commendable and in his new field of work he will have ample opportunity to give better service made possible by his ten years of leadership and efficient management of the Winters schools.—Winters Enterprise.

BRIDGE PARTY IS FAVOR

BY MRS. DEFFEBACH

Mrs. Lyle Deffebach and her mother, Mrs. Mary C. Blair, were hostesses Friday morning at a bridge party to compliment Mrs. A. H. Smith, who left Thursday for Goldthwaite.

Roses and bluebells in profusion were artistically arranged to give a summer time setting for the game tables, which held attractive appointments, which reflected the summer theme.

Games of bridge terminated with Mrs. W. A. Pace scoring high and was presented a pair of sheer silk hose. Guest prize was a pair of Madera linen pillow cases. A dainty salad plate was served.—Winters Enterprise.

CALL BURCH

When you want a suit, dress or single garment cleaned or pressed, call Burch and he will please you.

ROCK SPRINGS

There wasn't any Sunday school or B. Y. P. U. Sunday. Sunday is the day set to call a pastor for another year. Be present.

Some from here attended the church services at Goldthwaite and Big Valley last week.

Some went to Lake Merritt to the baptizing Sunday afternoon. We are glad the meeting in town and at Big Valley were successful. We are always glad to hear of souls being saved.

Last Tuesday evening Loy Long and family from town, Mrs. Nickols and James, Waldine and Bernice Traylor enjoyed a good supper and a swim on the river with the Ells and Sowers family. Mrs. Ellis' sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Tipton, and family from League City, Vernon Johnson and wife from San Saba also enjoyed the evening. The boys caught fish while the rest had a good time eating grapes, sweet pickles and had ice cold water fights. We hope it won't be long until we can have another supper like that one.

D. Greathouse is helping Joe Roberts build a tank this week. They are ready for a rain.

Mrs. Eula Nickols called on Mrs. Jesse Lowe last Friday afternoon. She reported Mrs. Lowe better. We hope she can soon be well.

Greta Marie Traylor is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Robertson.

Mrs. Homer Doggett and baby visited her sister, Mrs. Joe Roberts, and family last week.

Philip Nickols will soon be set free from the mumps. He is able to boss Shirley this week. They are cleaning up around where the barn burned.

Landy Ellis and wife, Richard Sowers and wife, Mrs. Eula Nickols and James, Miss Ethel McClary, Herbert Cooke and August Kauhs, attended church at Wellview Sunday, in San Saba county. They heard Rev. Watkins preach. He delivered two good sermons.

Harvey Dunkle and wife left Tuesday morning for Desdemone.

Mrs. Gus Roush and son visited in J. T. Robertson's home Monday.

Ray Stark and wife came home Saturday morning from Sabine. They report lots of rain where they have been.

Shirley Nickols is helping Mr. McClary with the work, while Fred and Ethel are gone.

Mrs. Woody Traylor and her daughter called on Mrs. Sullivan Monday afternoon.

Rudolph Cooke and Shirley Nickols went to C. J. Crawford's last Friday, across the bayou. Rudolph went to talk trade.

Dial Rainey and family went home last Friday afternoon, after a visit with her father, J. C. Stark.

August Kauhs from Bulls Creek, Ethel McClary and Herbert Cooke sat until bedtime in the Nickols home Sunday night.

Granmother Weems visited her daughter, Mrs. Hicks, and family this week.

Mmes. Wilcox and Frizzell from town visited in W. A. Daniel's home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Eula Nickols spent Wednesday in the Hutchings home at Center Point.

Shirley Nickols worked for Jack Long at the Gulf station Saturday and he worked Sunday afternoon for Homer Doggett at the same place.

Some of our neighbors are through plowing up their cotton. There will be some money circulating in Mills county soon. Jack Robertson is still an early riser. He still has work at town.

Mrs. C. Ballard spent last week at Moran with her daughter, Mrs. Clifton Ballard, and family. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Iva Ballard, and son at town took her as they went to see Mrs. Ballard's father, Mr. Long, out west.

Mrs. Eula Nickols called on C. L. Stephens and wife in town last Tuesday. Ben Davis' boys from Rabbit Ridge went fishing in this part of the world Monday evening. We hope they found water.

Mrs. Orby Woody and daughter from town were out looking about their garden and melons on the Gatlin farm Saturday morning.

If you ever want to build a tank and need any advisors just call Joe Roberts or James Nickols. They would be glad to help in any way.

E. L. Pass and mother had company last week. Mrs. Pass

DRINKS 12 QUARTS 3.2

At Patterson, N. J., Michael Sciro drank 12 quarts of 3.2 beer—48 eight-ounce steins—to prove it was not intoxicating. The beer was consumed in one night in a contest, in which five others, one a woman, dropped out after the first 15 minutes. Sciro went on for 16 minutes more and gulped down a total of 384 ounces. A physician then examined Sciro and found him "neither liquefied nor intoxicated."

Nagging Pains

are WARNING SIGNALS

TEMPORARY pain relief remedies may save you much suffering at the moment, but putting a mask over a warning signal does not clear up the condition it was telling you to avoid.

When periodic pains, due to a weak, run-down condition, distress you, treatment for the cause of the trouble should be started without delay.

Take Cardui to build up against the nagging symptoms of ordinary womanly ailments. It has been used for over 50 years. So many women praise CARDUI, it must be good to have the widespread use that it has today. Sold at drug stores.

"This new day has brought to woman deliverance from the bondage of a double standard of morals. . . . Even in spite of Christianity we have gone on for centuries demanding that our women be lily white while we ourselves had the privilege of walking the path of pitch. But that belongs to the past. Today, what is wrong for the man is wrong for the woman, and what is right for the man is right for the woman.—Dr. C. G. Chappell.

NEWS BRIEFS

Cotton pickers, composed of entire families of Mexican laborers, are moving to the cotton fields of the Rio Grande valley section.

Instructions to act swiftly in recommending sound and useful public works providing the maximum employment went to 48 state advisory boards from Secretary Weeks, federal administrator, last week end.

The $5,000,000 economy program, entailing the dismissal of 1523 public school teachers, as proposed by the board of education of Chicago still stands, over the objections of thousands of citizens of that city.

A citizen of Gonzales, who recently sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a set of hand-carved dominoes made from a local wood known as bois d'arc, in a fancy hand-carved box of box elder wood, has received a letter of thanks from the president.

Walter McGee, confessed leader of the gang that kidnaped Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of City Manager H. F. McElroy of Kansas City, and collected $30,000 ransom, was assessed the death penalty Saturday in a Kansas City court. The kidnapers were arrested recently in Amarillo, Texas.

Diogenes, in his search for an honest man, probably was looking for a citizen of Childress. The man whose only employment is that offered by the R. F. C. committee at $1 a day, found a purse containing $112.05. He immediately turned it over to authorities and the owner was found in Dallas. The workman found the purse under a tree, where the Dallas man had stopped by the highway for an outdoor lunch.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 applications for loans in Texas have already been received by the Home Owner's Loan corporation, the agency set up by the federal government to refinance home mortgages, according to James Shaw, the director. This includes applications received in the Houston, San Antonio and Amarillo branches. Inquiries are being received at the rate of 300 to 400 per day.

A carrier pigeon was sentenced to death by a Jugo-Slavian military court Monday. The pigeon was accused and convicted of "espionage." The culprit was brought to earth about 100 kilometers from Belgrade, and when examined, military secrets were discovered written on tissue paper bound to the bird's leg. The discovery led to a number of arrests and the cleaning up of a large human spy organization. The pigeon is among those who are to be shot.

Farmers heavily indebted can, under a special provision of the farm mortgage act, obtain a new type of loan aimed to provide relief they particularly need to tide them over until more prosperous times. That act authorized the reconstruction corporation to make $200,000,000 available to the farm credit administration for loans to farmers, on either first or second mortgages, of up to 75 per cent of the appraised normal value of the farmer's property, less prior mortgages or liens on his property.

The mystery of the missing cornerstone picture has baffled Presbyterians of Houston. Back in 1894, an auspicious occasion was the laying of the cornerstone for the First Presbyterian church's new home. The ceremony was elaborate and its crowning feature was when a Houston pioneer, then 90 years old, came forward, while her photo was placed in the copper box which went into the foundation. The minister took her autographed photo and read to the crowd the inscription on the reverse side. Then the photo was placed in the box, the box closed and placed in the foundation. Recently the church burned and the building was razed. Members of the church sought and found the box. It was opened in the presence of the pastor and others, including a son of the man who placed the picture in the box and recalled the day. The seal on the box was unbroken, but the picture was gone.

EVERLASTING EROSION

Mount Everest still raises its 29,000-foot crest in the air, a patch of ground never pressed by the foot of man, the latest British expedition having returned with its object unaccomplished. The story is much the same as that recounted by the parties that set out for the summit in 1922, 1924 and 1930. Storms and wintry conditions were too much for the explorers.

But the feet of man will sometime press the pinnacle which has for eons defied all feet except that of the angels. Mount Everest is not a fixed principle. It is subject to the vicissitudes of time, to earthquake, to avalanche, to erosion. Man is steadily gaining conquest over the world, and Everest is steadily losing height. Sometimes man will conquer the highest terrestrial summit, and sometime that summit will be level with the surrounding plain. We may not live to see such a come down for the proud peak, yet the come-down will come. The decline is inexorable. Everest is mighty and so far has prevailed over man. But man is ingenious and Everest is not eternity. There are only two eternities within the grasp of finite conception. Those are space and time, neither of which has beginning nor ending, and together they are identical in terms of the eternal. Everest occupies space, a quite limited space, and is a monument to time. Its age is beyond the hazard of geological estimate, yet it fails to share with time and space the quality of eternity. Some day, within eon duration, what was Mount Everest will be a level with the circumjacent terrain, perhaps a glacial lake, a depression instead of a rise. Time, the unthought, will work that transformation. Vineyards now climb and grapes now cluster upon the sides of Olympus, where the ancient gods held rendezvous. Olympus has not appreciably been reduced, but erosion has not neglected it. Sometime the throne of the mythical Zeus will merge unmarked into the footstool of the living God.—LaGrange Journal.

MELONS AND MILEAGE

Watermelons are reported to be getting thin-skinned. Not that they are troubled with anything like an inferiority complex; this condition is rather a result of an effort on the part of every honest watermelon to give consumers a little more for their money.

As a matter of fact watermelons are said to be getting so thin-shelled that the railroads are forecasting recourse to oversize egg crates to assure safety in transportation. Watermelons that enter the northeastern states from such distant points as Georgia, Alabama and Texas should not be too sensitive; they have a long way to travel and need a pretty tough casing to guarantee against punctures.

Of course it is very laudable and enterprising for the watermelon to break away from tradition and make its rind a negligible consideration to the consumer. But twentieth century conditions, the rushing of perishable products from one part of the world to the other, demand modifications in the structural specifications of even watermelons. Their wearing qualities have become an important consideration. The popular brand of watermelon of the future—the best seller—may not be the one that can display the most luscious interior, but the hard-shelled affair that can make the most mileage without blowouts. And furnish the most material for watermelon pickle! —Christian Science Monitor.

on its hump, but it cannot enjoy live as a samel should. And many ex-husbands are a good deal like camels. — State Press in Dallas News.

DANGERS TO BE AVOIDED

Writing in his magazine, The New Outlook, on certain phases of the new Industrial Control Bill, Alfred E. Smith states that he has always advocated governmental supervision of business when public interest demanded it, but that he would be unfavorable to a permanent policy, which would tend to make us all civil servants of government.

The industrial control bill was passed as an emergency measure, and has much to recommend it. It is an aggressive attempt to give legitimate business a chance to get on its feet. It is true that as civilization grows more complicated, a broader social control is necessary—but the line must be drawn between a policy which supervises business in the role of umpire, and one which makes government the main player in the game. Undoubtedly the administrators of the new bill have these pitfalls in mind.

TEXAS SPACE WILL BE FILLED AT CHICAGO

The space set aside for a Texas exhibit at the Century of Progress Exposition is to be occupied in the near future and with a showing so comprehensive and varied as should reflect credit on the state and its six millions of citizens. The active work of the committee backed by the concerted support of the press, has assured the assembling of material which will give the world some conception of the unrivaled resources of Texas and which will be transported to Chicago at an early date for installation in the waiting booths.

The exhibit will thus be in place in time to impress the heaviest influx of visitors to the great exposition and it should yield returns to Texas out of all proportion to the amount invested in the showing.

The contributors, committee workers and chambers of commerce who have made the exhibit possible merit heartiest commendation. They have served the state constructively, not only by assuring creditable representation at Chicago, but by laying the ground, which will warrant Texas in extending invitations to the outer world to take part in its own centennial celebration in 1936.—Dallas Journal.

A Laxative that costs only 1¢ or less a dose

NEXT TIME you need medicine to act on the bowels, try Theodor's Black-Draught. It brings quick relief and is priced within reach of all. Black-Draught is one of the least expensive laxatives that you can find. A 25-cent package contains 25 or more doses. Black-Draught is made of approved laxative plants, firmly ground so you take the medicine into your system just as naturally as you get nourishment from the food you eat.

Refreshing relief from constipation troubles for only a cent or less a dose—that's why thousands of men and women prefer Theodor's Black-Draught.

TWO-WAY RULE

That Illinois judge who decided that men have as much right to sue for alimony as the women have, has started something that he perhaps had not thought of doing. The marriage market may now pick up. Just think how nice it will be for the men when they get tired of working for wifey. They can quit work and sue for alimony. Wifey may not have anything with which to pay allotted weekly sum, but that won't make any difference. The ex-husband can appeal to the judge and he will order wifey to get it. The day of emancipation for poor man is here.—McKinney Examiner.

And if the wife does not come up with her alimony, she may be put in jail for contempt of court. That is the way courts have been treating husbands in arrears. Of course, the widow could not be jailed for debt. There are laws against that. But she could be sent to the hoosegow for not doing what the court ordered. The distinction between imprisonment for debt and imprisonment for not paying alimony is so fine that only an eagle-eyed judge can see it. But let us hope no lady will be locked up for holding out on her ex-husband. A lady in jail is a sad, sad sight—worse than a boy with a dunce cap on. But equal rights should imply equal wrongs. If it is right to lock a gentleman up for not coming across with the alimony, then it is not less right to reverse the situation. Alimony, by the way, comes from alo, by which the Romans meant 'nourish.' It has the same root word as aliment, which in its place means food. So, alimony is food money. Right here comes in the question how much is food money? In a New York case the a week, but on this amount he cannot hope to grow fat. Is there anywhere a sensitive woman who would enjoy seeing her discarded husband looking like he was living on his Adam's apple? A camel can live for weeks

Miss Gladys Holland, daughter of Mrs. Louie Jones, was operated on for appendicitis at the Medical Arts hospital in Brownwood early Sunday morning.

Our merchant and postmaster, P. R. Reid, who is always at his post of duty, and Mrs. Reid, who always assists him, decided to take a much needed vacation and left with a family fishing party for the San Saba river Friday morning. Nelson Williams was left in charge of the store and postoffice. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Reid and their children, Dale and Miss Vera Rae, the party consisted of Mrs. Reid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts, Miss Odene Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Billie McNurlan, Norvell McNurlan and Charm Whittenburg.

There was quite a good response to the call for workers on the tabernacle Wednesday. Fourteen men worked. All the new cedar posts were placed and the sides raised and fixed in place. It begins to look very much like a tabernacle again. The workers were W. M. Clements, Cloud Mashburn, Earl Day, Tillman Smith, Ernest Russell, Charm Whittenburg, Will, Frank and Truman Crowder, Lillard Wilmeth, Alvin Hanna, Jim Wilmeth, John Briley and Wood Roberts. They set Tuesday for their next working day.

Allen Lovelace announced Sunday that the Baptist meeting at Ridge was beginning that morning and would last all this week and over next Sunday. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. Stanley of the Hopper Stanley Clothing store, Mr. Buck of the Buck cleaning establishment and Mr. McFarland, all of Brownwood, fished with the Wilmeth boys on the Colorado on Thursday night and went back to Brownwood early Friday morning with several pounds of fish. One yellow cat weighed 9 pounds.

Miss Marie Wilmeth went to Brownwood Thursday, where she visited Miss Ruth Gherke until Saturday night, when she left via the Santa Fe to attend the world's fair at Chicago. At Temple she was to meet Misses Ila and Lella Boyd, friends from near Liberty, who were to accompany her. She is to return Monday, August 7.

The people of this community were glad to learn that Mrs. Hutchison, widow of our lamented Dr. Hutchison, was able to be taken back to her home in Brownwood last week, after several week's stay in a Brownwood hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reynolds and their little daughter, Miria Nell, spent Thursday with Mrs. Effie Egger.

Mrs. Arle Egger and tiny daughter, Arline Estelle, of Ridge spent from Sunday to Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Will Crowder. We are glad to learn that the little daughter, who has been sick so much, is now doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Egger from near Regency visited Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Williams Friday.

Mrs. W. A. Burn, Mrs. Nellie Malone, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wilmeth, Gene Wilmeth, Misses Bernice and Lucie Wilmeth, Grace Briley, Mr. and Mrs. John Briley and J. B. Jones were guests for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dwyer Sunday after church. Mrs. Dwyer always has for her guests a feast of beauty as well as good things to eat. Her flowers are a joy to any lover of the beautiful. Petunias, zinnias, pink carnations, gerberia, crepe myrtle, all blooming luxuriantly, as though there were no drought.

Remember, Bro. Clem W. Hoover of Goldthwaite is to begin a meeting at the Church of Christ tabernacle Friday night, August 11. All are cordially invited to attend.

FINES-PRISON TERMS FACE CODE BREAKERS

A report from Washington says that both fines and prison sentences are provided by the national recovery law for violation of codes of competition.

There is a fine of $500 for each violation of the terms of a code approved and promulgated by the president. No provision is made under this section for imprisonment, but each day that the offense continues is regarded as a separate violation.

Also, violation of any standard set by a code is considered a breach of the federal trade commission law, punishable like any violation of the anti-trust statutes.

When the president finds it necessary to impose licenses on any business because of activities contrary to the policy of the industrial law, persons who continue operating their business without obtaining a license are liable to be fined not more than $500, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both, each day again to be considered a separate offense.

Violations of regulations proclaimed by the president, such as those now set up for amplification of the voluntary re-employment agreements, also are punishable both by the $500 fine and six months imprisonment, but no provision is made for each day's violation being a separate offense.

This last provision has been interpreted at the recovery administration as applying to anyone fraudulently displaying the blue eagle insignia devised for those who sign the re-employment agreement.

CARADAN

The Baptist revival started Sunday. Rev. Hays, our pastor, preached for us Sunday morning and night, but on account of the illness of his wife he cannot be with us this week. Rev. Swanner is taking his place, so we are sure of a great revival.

Mrs. Alley Jackson has been having trouble with her tonsils, but is reported better at this time.

We extend congratulations to the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Lois Williams of Center Point. They drove over and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson Saturday night.

Some of the young folks enjoyed a party in the Herman McNeil home Friday night.

Mrs. Joe Anderson accompanied Mrs. Bachelor and Lula of the North Bennett community to Holder Saturday.

Miss Juanita Hazeltine visited in the Will Knight home last week.

Mrs. Joe Anderson is visiting her parents in the Center Point community and attending the revival at that place.

GOVERNMENT WOULD AID CREDIT EXTENSION

The plan of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to purchase preferred stocks in banking institutions of the nation, and thus assure the extension of credit which is a vital essential to business recovery, has been accorded the hearty approval of President Roosevelt. Since this can be done without cost to the public treasury or increase in the tax burden, and the addition of capital would strengthen the banks for service, the soundness of the plan cannot be questioned.

Yet there are many bankers, Chairman Jones has reported, who are afraid to sell stock to the government on the basis proposed, because the sale might be interpreted as indicating that their banks are in weakened condition. Only the malicious or ignorant gossip would so interpret it, for it is made plain that stock would be purchased only in sound banks. The fact that the government is a partner in a local banking institution should strengthen public confidence, and carry as much weight as the posting of a blue eagle by a business establishment. — Dallas Journal.

Mullin News

News Notes Clipped From the Mullin Enterprise

CENTER CITY

Light showers fell here Sunday morning. All were so sure a good rain would come that only a few went to Sunday school. Later a number went visiting.

Grandma McCasland returned the first of last week from a visit to her son, Frank, in New Mexico.

Prof. Huggins is progressing nicely with his class in singing. The number increased to about 75 the second lesson. Now they can really sing many of the new songs. The visitors each are well pleased and wish to encourage these youngsters all they can.

We are requested to state that the singing program in last week's Eagle will be changed or added to as the leader and those on the program see fit. Prof. Huggins and wife will remain for the evening. A number of singers from Brownwood have promised to be here. So be on time with your books and enjoy a good program. We are expecting many visitors. Come if you can.

Rev. Sam Taylor, pastor of the Baptist church in San Saba, will begin a meeting here Friday night. Bro. Sparkman, the pastor, is holding a meeting at Center Point and expects to be here later. Come and help make this a good meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Metcalf and children of Bangs visited her brother, Ira Aldredge, and family Sunday night. They left Monday for Gonzales.

Joe Langford, accompanied by Naomi and Annabel, made a business trip to Indian Gap Wednesday.

Jimmie and Aldele Welch spent Saturday night with some friends on the river.

Annabel Langford expects to spend next week with Bill Lucas' girls at Star.

Mrs. Fritz Solomon and children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Miles.

Mrs. Bachelor and Miss Lula of North Bennett visited singing Tuesday afternoon.

Aaron, Virgil and Willadene Sparkman of Pecan Wells are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Head, and attending singing school.

Prof. and Mrs. Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Head and little son attended a singing convention at Buffalo, near Bangs, Saturday night and Sunday. They returned by way of Center Point and attended church.

Uncle Tom Williams and family are expecting Sam McBurney and family of Scottsdale, Ariz., and many other relatives to join them in a big dinner Thursday. Here is hoping all will have a good time.

Jack Robertson visited in the Tom Williams home Sunday.

Lester Collier visited the Covington boys at Pleasant Grove last week end.

Misses Ima, Emma, Mildred and Leonard Collier attended church at Pleasant Grove Sunday night.

Bro. Mitchell and family left Tuesday for their home at Harwood, after a visit to relatives here.

Lewis Covington and son, L. C. and Chester, visited Mrs. Collier and family Tuesday.

Talmage Chatman, Sam and Arnold Head attended church at Center Point Monday night.

Mrs. Ben Head and children are visiting in the Sparkman home and attending church at Center Point.

Prof. Doss Richardson's recital here was a great success. The pupils have done well and we are proud of them. A number of his pupils at Indian Gap were present and helped with the program. We are expecting these to do equally as well with more practice, as Mr. Richardson expects to be back at the beginning of school to resume his work here.

Marion Karnes of San Antonio came in Tuesday for a visit to relatives.

Henry Martin and wife and Miss Dera Humphries returned Tuesday from an automobile trip to New Mexico.

Give the Eagle your order for V. R. A. cuts for your advertising. We can also order rubber stamps of the same style.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Linkenroger returned yesterday from Waco, where they were called the first of the week on account of the death of her brother, which resulted from an automobile accident.

Renew your Houston Chronicle subscription through the Eagle office. Daily and Sunday our months for $2.20.

BIG VALLEY

Cool winds have tempered the heat somewhat. We do not greet our friends now with comment on the hot days we have had.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnston with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Weaver, visited Mrs. I. M. Weaver Sunday afternoon.

We were glad to see our Rock Springs friends at church during the meeting.

O. S. Gray of Arlington was in the valley last week.

Wm. Dennard had a car accident one night last week, as he came to church. We are glad to report the worst hurt was to his pocketbook, for car repairs, and that was not much.

J. M. Hays went to Temple Monday to see Mrs. Hays, who is a patient in a hospital there.

Beryl Oglesby celebrated her seventh birthday the first. Cake and candles were in evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Clary of Abilene are visiting her mother, who is ill at Walter Nelson's.

Mrs. George Mauldin, who has been here to see her mother, Mrs. B. F. Bledsoe, returned to her home in Louisiana. She expects to go by the Rio Grande valley.

Mrs. Wakling of near Cleburne has been here to see her sister, Mrs. F. L. Hartman.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weaver and son, Walter Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Weaver and Miss Ouinteta Myrl, and Flora Weaver were guests at a birthday dinner last Friday, honoring Judge Robert Weaver, at W. M. Johnston's in Goldthwaite.

Bro. W. T. Sparkman, wife and daughter were in the valley on Tuesday to get his corn to fatten the porker.

There was baptizing at Cockrell shoals Sunday afternoon. It was a very pretty service. Dewey Bohannon took Mrs. J. C. Morgan to Comanche county Tuesday, where they went in answer to a call for their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Greeley.

VETERAN CLAIM

BOARDS TO OPEN

With 90 days to complete their task, the first federal boards of this week to review the claims of 150,000 veterans for pension payments on ailments presumed to have originated in service.

President Roosevelt, announcing his approval Friday of regulations creating the boards, sanctioned an order authorizing $50 monthly to Spanish-American war veterans 50 years or older, who are 50 per cent disabled and in need. He will define need later.

Between 70 and 90 reviewing boards will be established immediately and announced as quickly as possible. The boards will determine by October 31, whether the veterans should continue to receive benefits on the presumption that their disabilities resulted from service, or if they should be removed from the rolls.

Until the board decides his case, each veteran will draw 75 per cent of the amount received prior to July 1, when the economy law became effective, or until October 31. The president has the authority to extend these payments after October 31, if necessary, to permit the boards to complete their work.

A special board of 15 members will give a final review to the work done by the regional boards.

The original economy law provided that veterans on whose cases the boards will pass should be removed from pension rolls on July 1, but legislation worked out in the closing hours of congress provided for the boards to review the case of each.

Each board will take up the veteran's classification automatically, without his having to submit a petition, but American Legion officials have urged each former soldier to file immediately any new or unrepresented facts that might help to establish that his ailment resulted from service.

The boards will have five members, three appointed by the president and two veterans' administration employees. The presidential appointees will be paid $15 a day and allowed expenses while sitting.

Veterans in the classification with which they will deal were allowed benefits under a law of 1924, prescribing that certain diseases, such as tuberculosis, meningitis and neuro-psychiatric troubles, should be presumed to have originated in service if they developed before January 1, 1925.

P. T. A. PRESENTS PLAY TO A LARGE CROWD

The P. T. A. presented the play "Spooky Tavern" to a large audience in the school auditorium Saturday night. The proceeds amounted to $16.70, which will go to pay the debt on the pipes recently laid on the school campus.

This was one of the best plays that has been presented this year, and the entire audience thrilled at the numerous clever "spook" scenes and comic actions presented.

The following is a cast of the characters who took part: Miss Elizabeth Mills, L. J. Smith, Hoyt Williams, M. E. Williams, Teet Fletcher, Rosa Meck Fletcher, Burgess Fisher, Seth Farmer, Marvin Hamilton, Dimples Beahars and Mrs. J. P. Lockridge.

WILLIAMS—SHERFIELD

Miss Williams and Miss Iylene Sheffield of Center Point were married Saturday afternoon at the home of Rev. Sparkman in the Center Point neighborhood. Rev. Sparkman reading the sacred words.

They were accompanied by her sister, Miss Wilma Sheffield.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Williams and is an industrious farmer. The bride is the amiable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sheffield of Center Point.

Both young people have many interested friends who wish for them the acme of success and happiness all along the journey of life.

MULLIN GIRL GRADUATES

Miss Nell Kirkpatrick's name is on the list of students at Daniel Baker, who will graduate on August 19. She has a wide circle of friends over the county who will congratulate her on receiving her degree. She is a fine and talented young lady and one of the best teachers in this part of the state, and now holds a responsible position in the Brownwood schools.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered Sunday by Rev. I. K. Floyd of Austin Avenue Presbyterian church at the First Presbyterian church in Brownwood.

McGARRITY—SAWYER

News has been received here of the marriage of Miss Naomi Sawyer and Taylor McGarrity in Brownwood Saturday.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Nora Sawyer of this city and is a most lovable young girl, with all the qualities that will add to a successful wife and home maker. She has been employed in a Brownwood store for some time. The groom is a stranger here.

May their be a useful and happy journey together.

SOCIAL EVENT

At 8:30 Tuesday evening a group of young people assembled at the home of Miss Teet Fletcher.

Immediately after their arrival games were started. A conversation game was played, which interested the guests immensely. Snap was also played. The radio furnished music for the occasion.

About 10:30 the guests chose partners and were directed into the dining room, where refreshments, consisting of delicious punch and wafers was served.

The guests departed at a late hour, wishing for another similar entertainment soon.

CAR WRECK NEAR HAMILTON

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lockett and grandson, Bobby Boland, started to Clifton Tuesday morning and had a wreck near Hamilton.

They phoned back for their son, Bert, to come for them, as their car was badly damaged, but none of the occupants of the car were hurt, except for nervous shock.

COM. McCURRY HURT

Commissioner I. McCurry received an ugly wound on his leg Tuesday afternoon while working with the grader, on one of the roads just out of town.

He was brought to town and a physician attended the wound and he is now doing nicely, but it will probably be several days before he will be able to use the limb other than to hobble about.

Grace Perkins is in Belton visiting her sister, Mrs. Tolly Roberts.

F. E. Leinweber is relief man at Zephyr this week on the Santa Fe.

THE TREE ARMY AT WORK

The Civilian Conservation Corps, popularly referred to as the "Tree Army," has 24 work camps in the Texas district. This is an area which excludes the Texas Panhandle on the north and the Paso-Big Spring salient on the west. In the pine forests of East Texas the work is primarily forestry. It includes the protection of growing trees, and the provision for future forests.

But in Central Texas the camps are mostly either state park camps or erosion camps. The state park camps, as the name indicates, are developing state parks in areas of natural beauty. One of the finest is the one at Lampasas on Sulphur creek, three miles east of town. Lampasas has two parks in the town itself. Fifty years ago these parks were famous throughout the state and attracted thousands of visitors annually. But no one suspected that a tract of even greater natural beauty would be found on a farm three miles from town.

With the skilled direction that is being given to this project, a playground and scenic spot are being developed which will undoubtedly out rival the older parks in town.

Mills country has areas equally suited for parking. It would be wise to locate them and have them ready to submit, in case additional C.C.C. camps are opened in Texas this fall. Already a rumor is out to the effect that the C.C.C. camps in the extreme northern states will be moved to Texas and California for the winter. If this is done, Goldthwaite will have an opportunity to speak for one.

The erosion camps are less striking, but their work is calculated to become of great importance. They are providing demonstrations of how the soil may be saved by terracing and other methods of scientific soil preservation. As their work proceeds, they will undoubtedly become the gathering places of farmers who are interested in protecting their investment and increasing the yield of their land.

None of these three projects—forestry, parking or erosion control—could ever have been performed on a sufficiently adequate scale by private enterprise. While President Roosevelt's primary idea was to take the unemployed boys off of the streets and provide them with healthful work and supervised recreation, the work they are doing will undoubtedly prove of increasing benefit to the people as time goes on.

CLEAN HANDS

A striking gesture of probity was made recently when Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, newly appointed chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, which will operate Muscle Shoals and other great government projects, filed a schedule of all property owned by himself, his wife and all other immediate members of his family.

Charged with the expenditure of millions of dollars in public funds, Dr. Morgan is determined to show to the world that when he leaves his office his hands are clean.

Although we are firmly convinced that it is the exception, rather than the rule, for public officials to betray the trust imposed upon them, there has never been an official too highly regarded for some envious calumniator to whisper that the official was padding his purse with the public money or was using his official position to make money in investments and other means not open to the public.

Dr. Morgan evidently does not care for his children to have the finger of scorn pointed at their inheritance. He has told what he now has. When he leaves the chairmanship, he will make another accounting. If he has as much then as he possesses now, he will be a fortunate, as well as an honest citizen.

HONESTY IN SMALL THINGS

Most of us claim to be honest and it is doubtful, indeed, if even the highwayman, hijacker or kidnaper would lay claim to being a thief. Few people really intend to be dishonest and much of the dishonesty we find is, in reality, an error of the thinking rather than a desire to take from another that which rightfully belongs to him. Even when the property of another is appropriated it is frequently the case that it is taken with a fixed determination to return it or its value, but too often the calculation miscarries and then it is the owner loses the value the same as if the intention had been to steal it. Good intentions do not remedy the matter in such an instance, but the crime may be less reprehensible because of the intent at the outset. It is not always large values that prove the principle in the guilty party, but in trivial things that the characteristic of dishonesty becomes apparent. One who appropriates the belongings of another even to taking his newspaper from the postoffice, when it is accidentally placed in the wrong box, shows a lack of the proper conception of the rights of others, yet the person who takes the paper away and keeps it would be horrified to be accused of theft, but the principle is there, just the same.

MEXICO WONDERS

Oftiz Rubio, former president of Mexico, now lives in San Diego, California. But his retirement from Mexican politics is being intruded upon by American gangsters who are demanding $50,000 from him under threat of a kidnaping. A Mexican president, well qualified to look an out-and-out bandit in the eye and tell him where to go, quails before the anonymous threats of California bad men and asks the police for protection.

We hope Mexico will bear with us in this instance. It would be embarrassing to have the Mexican navy send its ship to San Diego harbor for the protection of Mexican citizens. We'd hate to see a Mexican army rushed up from Lower California to protect the life and property of one of its citizens.

In fact we think the thugs who have been preying on infirm bankers and helpless infants are going just a little too far. American police officials have proved harmless enough to them, why should they take a chance on what the Mexicans might do?

TENET OF SAFETY

Safety on the highways is principally an attitude of mind, but better cars and roads won't attain it. Indeed, they tend toward the opposite result. It has long been the experience that when a stretch of poor road is converted into a broad, straight, smooth highway the number of accidents increase—because motorists overestimate the safety factor. They lose the sense of caution that a poor road naturally creates—and the death and injury rate booms. The same thing is true of automobiles. The manufacturers give us cars with better brakes, surer steering, more perfectly balanced bodies—and we abuse them to the point where the automobile accident rate breaks all records.

THE REALM OF SCIENCE

KEEPING UP WITH TEXAS

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad bulletin for July says of conditions in Texas:

Weather conditions over the greater part of Texas during July were such that growing crops did not make normal seasonal growth. Extremely high temperatures, insufficient moisture and hot winds combined to damage all crops the first half. Beneficial rains then fell, but were mostly confined to southern areas, and too light to assure crops.

Cotton now is in its most critical stage, and beginning to show deterioration particularly in the shallow black land sections of Central Texas and the sandy areas of East Texas. A general rain is needed for future growth, but the value of such rain is problematical. Extensive shedding and increased insect activity would be almost certain to follow. Picking is general in South Texas and will be brisk in central sections in early August. Premature opening of bolls on small plants is hastening picking. Conditions are spotted in the northwest where cotton was planted as late as July 1.

Wheat harvest in the northwest is practically finished, the yield running about as indicated in the July report. The yield for the state will be around 12,000,000 bushels, not a good half crop. Plowing for fall wheat planting is under way.

A heavy acreage has been planted to feed crops, much of it late. Rain has been sufficient to start these crops, but not to make them.

Heavy local feeding and movement of cattle will be necessary unless rains come soon.

Texas again leads the United States in total value of its crops and livestock, with a grand total of $425,995,000 for the year 1932. This is a recent estimate by the United States Department of Agriculture. It places Texas crop value at $281,862,000 and livestock at $144,133,000.

A new idea in textile design was on display at a cotton carnival held in celebration of National Cotton Week, at Texas Technological College, Lubbock. A scarf in modernistic effect, featuring colorings and motifs of the cotton plant, proved an innovation. The scarf was designed at the suggestion of Mrs. Edgar T. Neal, Texas editor, magazine and industrial feature writer, who is the originator of cotton colorings and motifs in textile.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

THOMAS JEFFERSON AND PUBLIC EDUCATION

Thomas Jefferson was perhaps our first American statesman to make "education by the state," a fundamental doctrine of our political belief. The old system of education was founded upon the premise that "education was primarily for the benefit of the individual." Accepting that doctrine, we could not tax everybody to secure funds to educate the masses. The new conception of education, which was proclaimed by Jefferson is that all the people will tax themselves for the purpose of securing funds to educate all the children in order that the welfare of all may be preserved and perpetuated. This conception really means that the leaders of a democratic government should always consider first the problems of providing adequate educational facilities for all its citizens because the general welfare and perpetuity of the nation depends upon the education of all its citizens.

With Jefferson liberty was a passion. It was the fundamental thought of his life. In all his writing and planning, "liberty for all" was his big objective. He advocated and worked for a system of education for all the children so that liberty might be gained, safe-guarded and preserved. Dealing with this thought in his autobiography we find the following sentence, "And the people, by the bill for a general education, would be qualified to understand their rights, to maintain them and to exercise with intelligence their parts in self-government." And in a letter to Mr. Wythe, dated August 13, 1786, he wrote: "I think by far the most important bill in our whole code is that for the diffusion of knowledge among the people. No other sure foundation can be devised for the preservation of freedom and happiness."

Jefferson's program of education included: First, a system of elementary schools all over the state within reach of all the children. Such schools were to be free and were to provide competent instruction in reading, writing, common arithmetic and general geography. Second, a college within a day's ride of each home where would be taught ancient and modern languages, higher arithmetic, geography and history. These institutions were to be maintained at public expense and students from among the poor, who showed aptness of judgment and correct disposition, were to be selected. Third, a university in which should be taught all the sciences in their higher degree. It was not until the end of his life that he saw the realization of the third part of his program.

If the maintenance and perpetuity of our nation depends upon an educated electorate as taught by Jefferson, why should we not, during this critical period, do everything possible to see that public education is carried on in an efficient manner. Let us again emphasize the fact that the future of our nation depends upon the education of all its citizens. Yes, it will cost money to provide adequate educational facilities for all the children, but, in the words of Jefferson, "the tax which will be paid for this purpose is not more than the thousandth part of what will be paid if we leave the people in ignorance." — Reproduced from the Congressional Record.

THE PENALTY IS DEATH

The Kansas City jury, recommending the death penalty for the kidnaper it found guilty, merits congratulation. There will be some protests, for Mary McElroy, the victim, was recovered unhurt. The tender-hearted will advert that a long sentence would be sufficient punishment for her abductor. But Walter H. McGee was stunned when the verdict was read, carrying with it the mandatory death sentence. The only way to scotch the kidnaper's snake is to execute the kidnaper. There is no easy money when every waking moment after the crime must be

THE NEW ALMA MATER

The new state aid law passed by the last legislature contains some provisions that are of immediate interest to patrons who want to transfer their children. All transfers must be made by August 1. The state proposes to transport high school students whose grades are not taught in their home districts to accredited high schools. The state allows $2 per month per child for this purpose.

Are we to assume from this that high school students will be relieved of their responsibility for getting to school? Why not leave that responsibility where it belongs, on the student and the student's parents? Why not save $2 a year on him and at the same time teach him that the state is not a wet nurse? Some great educations were obtained by men and women who, as boys and girls, trudged through floods and snow to schoolhouses miles away from home. Perhaps we owe contemporary youth more than was owed to their forbears. But we may be paying the young in the wrong coin. We may be teaching them to let the taxpayers look out for them—when everybody knows the taxpayer can hardly look out for himself. A boy walking three miles or five miles to school learns things along the way. The same boy riding to school in a bus may learn something about the bus, but little else. It is bootless to discuss matters of this sort, however. Our state and nation have definitely chosen to stand to old and young in loco parentis. The government has become our parent, mama and papa in one. Perhaps it is better so. The government is not all-wise, but lots of us are so foolish we do need looking after as long as we live. —Savvy Star.

passed in dread of the hangman's noose or the death chair. When every participant in a kidnaping realizes that death is the penalty he faces, there will be fewer offenses of the sort. There should be none for which the supreme penalty is not exacted by the law. The man who knows that eventually he must walk the grim "last mile" will hesitate to take the first step. — Dallas News.

100 YEARS OF CO-EDUCATION

Higher education has been available to women of the United States for just 100 years and it may be remarked that opportunity first came to the sex no in any specially set-up institution for women alone, but in a college that threw its doors open to both men and women. This was Oberlin College at Oberlin, Ohio.

With that beginning, co-education in the universities and colleges of the nation spread in order until by 1862 many colleges and universities, especially those of the west, were open to women as well as men. In fact, this experiment that was made 100 years ago at Oberlin in progressive acceptance, has changed the educational order of the United States to the point at this time of seeing co-educational schools heavily in the majority among institutions higher learning, with 1008 1490 institutions of this character co-educational, 227 admitting men only and 255 devoted to the exclusive training of women.

As early as fifty years ago, almost fifty years ago, in 1890, one out of every three students in universities, colleges and professional schools of the United States was of the gentler sex, with 102,618 men and 58,311 women enrolled. Nor has this difference been tempered any way since, save for a slight increase in the ratio of women students enrolled in the schools of 1929-30. In Missouri the ratio of the sexes comes even nearer to a level, with 16,111 men and 9764 women attending college classes the year of mention.

Of course, it would be difficult to measure the result of the growing trend expressed by women seeking higher education, counting women who have succeeded to the practice of various professions, the physicians and surgeons, engineers and attorneys and so through the list. But possibly a glance at the list of male and female professors and instructors in these institutions of higher education may suggest the picture: 1890 little more than 13 per cent of college and university teaching staffs were women, while in 1930 the percentage was something higher than 20. — St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

EYE and how we see

Common Defects Of The Eye And How They Are Corrected

THE commonest defects of vision are caused by irregularities in the shape of the eyeball, due sometimes to a defect in birth, sometimes to advancing age and sometimes to straining and over-working the eyes. These defects can usually be corrected by man-made lenses placed in front of the eyes. These lenses bend the light rays just enough to overcome the natural defect.

In the case of farsightedness, the eye-ball is flatter than is normal. This tends to focus the rays of light which make up an image behind the retina, thus delicate receiving screen which corresponds to the film in a camera and which "takes the pictures". As a result of this back-of-the-retina focus the image appears blurred. It is corrected by a convex lens. This lens is thicker at the center than at the edges so that the rays of light passing through it converge at a shorter distance than is usual.

In the case of nearsightedness the eye-ball is deeper than normal and the image formed by the lens falls short of the retina. People who are nearsighted can only read when the reading matter is held very close to their eyes. Distant objects are hazy to them. The lenses which correct this error must be concave—thinner at the center than at the edges.

In the case of astigmatism, which in most cases means an uneven curvature of the cornea—that "wavy crystal" of the eye, rays of light do not enter the eye at the same angle and therefore are bent or focused at different points. Some of these rays focus exactly on the retina where they should, while others focus in front of or in back of it. This causes a fogged image and resulting muscular strain to bring it into sharp, clear focus. The optical expert provides a cylindrical lens to correct this error.

These are the commonest defects of vision. They are corrected by man-made lenses. Often two or three kinds of lenses are necessary to provide utmost comfort for all eye-jobs. One set might be focused for reading and similar close tasks and another set for distance. These latter are usually tilted to overcome the out-door obstacles of cross sunlight.

Lampasas

Gordon Mackey of Temple was a business visitor in Lampasas Wednesday.

The fire department was called Tuesday afternoon to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Harkey on Fourth street. A trash fire caught the grass and weeds in the vacant lot back of the home, but it was soon under control without damage to the property.

Sheriff A. R. Harvey and his deputies put in a very busy morning Saturday. They raided ten beer joints and confiscated 16 gallons and 250 bottles of beer and a great deal of bootlegging equipment, such as crocks and bottle cappers. Of the ten places raided, three were operated by colored men and the other seven by white men or women.

The first bale of 1933 cotton for Lampasas county was ginned Wednesday morning by Gillen's gin. The cotton was raised by Leonard Proctor on Mrs. Jessie Northington's farm. The bale weighed approximately 510 lbs. and was purchased by Albert Bullion for Senterfitt Grocery company for 10 1-4 cents per pound.

A large crowd of flight fans braved the discomforts of the heavy dust clouds Wednesday night and attended the boxing matches at Camp Miriam. Most everyone states that the road to the camp was undoubtedly the dustiest they had ever traveled. The reforestation boys put on seven matches between themselves, some of which were very interesting and others that were only mediocre.—Leader.

Hamilton

Tuesday night 48 Hamilton business men went to Lamkin for the second of a series of good will trips.

Sheriff Mack Morgan has been making trips over the county, posting notices of the special election to be held here August 26.

By authority of the railroad commission, the motor car operated between Comanche, Stephenville and Hamilton will be discontinued Sunday, August 6. Logan Drank of Jonesboro, who is a member of the C. C. C. camp at Hamilton, suffered an attack of appendicitis Wednesday evening of this week and was operated on.

Funeral services were held Friday, July 21, at McGirk for Galtner Ball, who died July 20 at his home in that community. Mr. Ball has been in ill health for the past three or four years, but has not been bedfast but a few months.

The picking of wild flowers will be illegal in Texas after September 1. So will the picking, pulling up, tearing up, digging up, cutting, breaking, injuring or destroying of any tree, shrub, vine, flower or moss growing on public or inclosed property.—News.

San Saba

Leasing of 10,000 acres of land north and west of Algerita is the latest development in the oil activity in San Saba county.

Plans for a $10,000 improvement of the city water works, the rebuilding of the Fair Park under city ownership and the construction of an auditorium-gymnasium for the public schools are under way to provide for the rehabilitation program in San Saba to carry out the national plan of President Roosevelt.

The city of San Saba needs $20,045.30 every year to pay on the principal and interest of its bonded indebtedness, according to R. W. Bursleson, councilman. About $6,000 is needed for current running expenses, including light, salaries and upkeep.

Mrs. W. M. Johnson, 50 years of age, formerly Miss Pearl Blanche Biggs, died at her home in Goldthwaite Monday night at 7 o'clock and was buried in the Goldthwaite cemetery at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Just before noon Friday the siren began to ring and the fire boys got into action with Worth Nance in the driver's seat and the fire truck was out of the city hall and on its way to the fire before anyone could see what was happening. The call was from a small house near the Mill Pond, where some people were camping.—Star.

Comanche

The Ex-Rangers Association is to meet in Comanche August 8, 9, and 10.

Comanche city schools will open Thursday, September 7, according to an announcement by Supt. W. G. Barrett.

The commissioners court voted to meet the last Monday in each month to approve bills and to attend such other matters as may come before them.

The state railway commission Thursday granted the Cotton Belt railway permission to discontinue the motor car service between Comanche and Stephenville via Hamilton.

A crowd estimated at over a thousand was at Van Dyke Thursday morning and others were still arriving at one o'clock to make the biggest gathering at the Comanche County Old Settlers Re-union within several years.

Ninety-four descendants and other relatives of F. M. (Uncle Frank) Willford and a number of visitors gathered at the Sturkie bridge, near Hasse, Monday and Tuesday for their annual reunion and picnic. There was an increase of 23 over the gathering last year.

Oliver Walker, whose sentence of ten years for robbery of the State Bank of Proctor more than a year ago, was recently affirmed by the court of criminal appeals, was brought to Comanche Friday by his bondsmen and delivered to the sheriff.

A Hoover vacuum cleaner was "borrowed" from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sanders "for an hour" Tuesday by a traveling mechanic and up to Thursday at noon neither Mr. or Mrs. Sanders had seen any thing of the accommodating mechanic nor their cleaner.

Probably the most cash ever to be distributed among the farmers of Comanche county during mid-summer will be received within a short time when $136,845 will be paid 1727 farmers by the federal government for destroying 19,851 acres of cotton under the cotton reduction program.—Chief.

Brownwood

The commissary, which has been operated in Brownwood for some time by the County Welfare board, will be discontinued when the present supply of merchandise on hand is exhausted.

Inability to secure milk from Brown county dairymen in sufficient quantities to ship it by truck to Comanche has caused temporary abandonment of the plan to supply surplus milk from this county to the cheese plant recently opened in Comanche.

Petitions for a local option election in Brown county were not presented the commissioners court at the regular meeting Monday, but will be presented in time for the commissioners court to call the election August 26, backers of the local option vote said this week.

Congressman Wright Patman of Texarkana, ex-service man, Legionaire, bonus advocate, fiery orator and the man credited with causing the resignation of the Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, will be the principal speaker at the American Legion Division convention in Brownwood October 27 and 28, it was announced this week by O. H. Turner, adjutant of the local post, and division commander.—Banner-Bulletin.

Lometa

Miss Maudie Belle Kirby of Goldthwaite was a week end visitor in the T. F. Scott home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Windell entertained friends with a porch party of forty-two and bridge Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Westerman and Christine Renfro of Goldthwaite were visitors in the John Shelton home Sunday.

Edith and Virginia Earl Kirby returned from Brownwood last Saturday, where they have been visiting in the home of their uncle, E. M. Davis, and family for the past week.

Mrs. Henry Robbins passed through on her way home from Taylor and with her was James Edgar, her son, who had been in school for the summer term making a straight A card. He completed his summer work

Styles In New York

Simplicity rather than sophistication is the keynote for children's frocks and for back to school dresses, cotton in dark fast dye colors are favored. Brown is important — particularly the wood shades, which are more youthful than the dark true browns. Wine shades are also important — both browns and reds carried in new checks and Scotch plaids. Simple and practical is the jumper dress, also the yoked frock with two-inch inverted pleats all around. Composition and wooden buttons are noted on some of the most charming of these children's dresses — in medium and never exaggerated sizes.

Fall Handbags Feature New Clasps and Trims.

Composition clasps and fasteners are important on new fall handbags, which are otherwise distinguished, in many cases, by new shapes — including new rounded treatment, irregular and sometimes bizarre shapes with bottoms accentuated. Nickel, wood and pyroxylin plastic are all featured as frames and, among bag materials, one notes soft grain leathers, antelope, reptiles and fabrikoid. Rich reddish brown leathers are decidedly important, vying in style interest with the ever-favored black.

Cellophane and Suntan

Cellophane umbrellas and sun capes — dramatic new items among beachwear accessories in New York shops, they tell us, — are settling the burning question of suntan, which, as every one knows, is no style asset unless achieved in a soft and even tone. The beauty about the little shoulder sun cape is that you can make it yourself — by simply folding a 40-inch sheet of the natural transparent cellophane of the moisture proof type lengthwise through the middle, cutting out the circular neck (using a saucer for a marker). Then bind all around with a white or colored bias cotton tape, fold back the corners at the neck and tie with a bow of the tape — and, presto, — you are all ready for your place in the sun.

Knitted Styles Continue

There's lots of string noted in midsummer fashions which promise to carry over into fall — knitted cotton string frocks, sweaters, blouses and hats — light, cool and airy — smart for traveling, for it packs without getting mussed up. String fashions are simple in line and important in natural color. There are knitted costumes, too, in other yarns — cotton and rayon, wool, and wool and rayon — all smart for late summer and early fall. One smart model seen in a New York shop features yellow wool and rayon yarn and is trimmed with large brown composition buttons, worn with brown lacquered fabric accessories — hat, belt, shoes and handbag.

Campus Clothes for Fall

It's none too early to begin thinking about clothes you are taking back to college. With a little thought in their planning, they may be selected for late vacation wear as well. Among campus togs now featured in smart shops are the new tunic models in frocks and suits — both in belted models, the latter in straight or swaggar expression, which may answer well for sports, campus wear and for more formal afternoon wear. Satins, soft woolsens, silk and rayon crepes, knitted weaves in cotton, silk, wool and rayon are all noted in these styles. As to color, browns — rich and dark, including a new cut plug tobacco, and browns with rust and orange tones, are smart and youthful.

Initialed Lingerie Smart

Initialed lingerie is practical as it is smart, and is being featured among college clothes displays in New York shops — where you may have this decorative touch done while you wait.

Smartly tailored initials and monograms are pressed right on with a hot iron — and they stay on with that decided hand-embroidered look through successive launderings.

Scuffless Heels on Modish Shoes

The almost endless array of beautiful shoes, slippers, pumps and sandals in many designs and an almost endless profusion of combinations of leathers and fabrics that is constantly being created is one proof, if there were no others, that the women of this country are style conscious in the matter of footwear. And now shoe heels that are subject to the hardest wear and are the source of so much worry and trouble, walking, dancing and driving the car, and are so prone to be cut, scraped, scratched and soiled, have been made scuffless, and yet match any shoe material that happens to be the style of the moment.

Wednesday the first bale of the 1933 cotton crop in Lampasas county was ginned in Lampasas, the report coming by wire. This is the earliest that any record holds, for the county. The bale weighed 1410 and ginned 517. It sold for 10 1-4 cents in Lampasas. The owner of the bale, L. Proctor, who lives lives 2 1-2 miles east of Lampasas. — Reporter.

Farm and Factory To Benefit From New Recovery Act

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The National Industrial Recovery Act sponsored by the President gives every promise of benefiting agriculture as much as industry. Horace Bowker, president of The American Agricultural Chemical Company, asserted here at the Field Day of the New Jersey agricultural experiment station. "It has been my privilege to observe at first-hand the point of view of the men who will administer this act and to learn broadly of some of the plans for its administration," Mr. Bowker said. "While my own viewpoint in respect to economic would probably be characterized as thoroughly orthodox, it is my reasoned judgment that these men will succeed in making this momentous piece of legislation produce the desired results in stabilizing industry for the primary purpose of spreading employment and increasing wages. And that in reality is the solution of the common problem of the farmers of the nation, for the revival of effective demand through a revival of purchasing power is the only way out of the depression. The real test will be whether industry is unselfish enough to place the public interest first, thereby most successfully serving its own immediate ends." Signs multiply indicating that industry will accept this challenge in a forward-looking and not a reactionary spirit. If this is so, I believe the Recovery Act will be a success and will show the way to a new and a sounder economic era."

Mr. Bowker pointed out that continual agitation of farm problems has done an injustice to American agriculture, and cited statistics showing that the incidence of depression has fallen about equally on farm and industry. While farm prices have declined disastrously in comparison with commodities the farmer buys, due to a continued high level of production, experience as well as recent developments prove that they will recover more rapidly. Moreover, the figures showing a decline of 57 per cent in farm income since 1929 are not representative since they disregard "imputed" income from farm products consumed on the farm and other important items. A recent survey of 921 corporations showed a net loss of a quarter of a billion dollars, between 1929 and 1932, and factory payrolls declined even more than slump in farm income, so that Mr. Bowker feels, industry has in many respects made a worse showing than the farmer.

USE OF FEDERAL HIGHWAY FUNDS IS STIPULATED

Of the $24,244,000 allocated to Texas for highway construction work under the $400,000,000 national appropriation in the industrial recovery act, one-fourth or $6,061,000 must be spent for building roads in and through municipalities, according to a decision of the Emergency Federal Public Works Administration at Washington.

Another quarter of the total sum allocated to Texas must be spent for the construction of feeder roads, and the remaining half of $12,212,000 will be available for regular federal-aid roads.

This allocation was made, according to the federal bureau of public roads, which will assist in supervising the expenditure, in order that work might be undertaken quickly.

It was explained there that state highway departments, generally, had adequate advance plans for adding to their federal aid highway systems, and that if definite allocations of the sums to be spent on this type of construction were made at the outset, this work could be pushed with utmost speed.

The remaining two types of work will come along slower, the bureau believes.

The third quarter, or $6,061,000 allocated for roads through municipalities, is set aside for use in building, or maintaining through highways that run thru places that are incorporated. The bureau holds that any community which has an incorporated government is a municipality.

The fourth $6,061,000 will be used for a type of construction never heretofore financed with federal funds. This will be expended for feeder roads, highways that give access either to large centers, or to roads that lead to large centers of population or marketing or distribution centers.

Before all the Texas allocation is spent, each of the 25 counties in the state will receive some direct benefits from this expenditure.

METHODIST NOTES

er field of usefulness by a better equipment.

I actually know some graduates from good colleges who have not acquired all the knowledge that is to be had. When their diploma was delivered I was not with the understanding that they were at the end of the road so far as equipment is concerned. Why should we pay out vast sums for entertainment when we have just as good talent among our own people? Why not get together, you jobless college graduates, and others who are really worthwhile, and get up some home talent entertainments, and show to your own home communities that you are willing to contribute as well as receive. Show that you are not merely an absorber of public good, but a dispenser of some of the good that has come to you from the old home town. I have seen our communities pay out hundreds of dollars for some of our nationally known organizations, when we had talent in our own town that would put these mercenary hirelings to shame.

Quit talking about jobs for paltry pay, and in the absence of a job that would pay you a dividend, invest so that you can repay the community with your talent.

FARM LOANS TO BE SPEEDED

A county by county campaign to speed refinancing of farm mortgages will be undertaken by the farm credit association, which was authorized to loan up to $2,200,000,000 to farmers at the last session of congress.

Henry Morgenthau, jr., governor of the administration, explained the campaign would be employed to expedite the mortgage refinancing program and to supplement plans already under way in five states for buying up farm mortgages held by closed and restricted banks to aid in their liquidation.

In the campaigns, a group of appraisers, five or more, will go into a county and will there appraise all farms whose owners or mortgage holders have asked for refinancing. The mortgage holders will include closed or restricted banks, banks which are in full operation, in some cases insurance company and any other holders of claims against land. In many instances the mortgage holders are satisfied and do not intend to seek refinancing.

Several Burglaries Have Been Reported

A number of burglaries have been reported here lately and officers have some hot clues. Several arrests of suspects were made at Brownwood and some of the articles stolen in Goldthwaite have been recovered, but a lot of the stolen goods may not be located. Sunday night burglars entered the home of Goodloe Miller and stole a pair of shoes and other things. A package of articles taken from the house was found in the backyard, the thieves evidently having been frightened away by the return of some member of the household sooner than was expected. It is a good plan to keep your doors locked and a shotgun near at hand, in order that the depredations may be stopped.

News of the Week

Archibald M. Johnson, 47, younger son of United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, committed suicide by shooting at his home Monday. Johnson was divorced by his wife at Reno June 13, and she since has remarried in Chicago.

An unnamed girl clerk in the U. S. treasury department at Washington, D. C., is credited with giving authorities the first definite clue to the whereabouts of the missing $500,000 bonds which subsequently were traced to San Antonio.

Japan's decision to embark upon the greatest naval building program in the history of the empire was generally interpreted in Washington as marking the complete failure of disarmament gestures at Geneva, and what is perhaps more important, the abrogation of the 5-5-3 naval treaty upon its expiration in 1935.

The large over-subscription of the treasury's offering of $850,000,000 in bonds and notes was particularly cheering this week to treasury officials. They regard it as an indication the government will have little if any trouble in future long-term refinancing at a low interest rate. They also feel the treasury could easily refinance the $6,000,000,000 fourth Liberty loan issue paying, 4 1-4 per cent.

Texas ranks eighth in the list of forty-two states from which wheat allotments will be made, according to an announcement by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and wheat farmers of this state will receive from the federal government this fall approximately $4,076,864 and another sizeable sum next spring. The plan was announced as a part of the Federal crop reduction program.

A 15-year-old, La Union, N. M., girl is ill in a hospital in El Paso, victim of improper dieting in an attempt to reduce her weight. Physicians say she has pellagra, dreaded skin disease, which results from lack of the right kind of foods. She blamed her condition on fear of schoolmates' criticism. Because of her 138 pounds, she said, they called her "Fatty." For three months, she told doctors, she lived on lemon juice and soda water.

THE FRENCH LOTTERY

Faced with a large deficit, the French government has decided to go into partnership with the goddess of chance, that gaudy demimondaine of the financial Olympus. It intends to establish a national lottery to tap the gambling instincts of a people singularly adverse to direct taxation. It needs a method of raising money that will be as painless as possible and seems to have found it in the lottery. To assure its dignity and respectability—as well as its honesty—the highest financial authorities in the republic will sit on the board of directors. Also, since the state's share of the proceeds will largely be devoted to the war pension fund, this skillful stroke of policy will enlist the support of the powerful veterans' organizations.

It is just 101 years since France outlawed the lottery as demoralizing to the thrifty habits of her people. Before that it had been used as an occasional expedient by the chronically hard-pressed Bourbon kings. For a time the harum-scarum Casanova had directed the royal lottery, much to the satisfaction of Louis XV and of his own yawning purse. But the scruples of a more austere age frowned on such a compromise with dubious revenues, and France, along with most other fastidious countries, excluded it from her fiscal system.

However, the success of the Spanish lottery and of similar systems in the Latin-American republics has aroused the envy of more conservative exchequers. France has now yielded to the smiles of the well-heeled siren and hopes to reap enough from the admissions to her new folles financieres to save her scruples of statecraft. — New York Herald Tribune.

TAKE A TIP

New adjustments of wages, shorter hours, and Process Taxes all over the nation—will mean higher prices of all manufactured goods.

We are at a loss to even predict prices in the future, as they are all subject to all the new adjustments in labor and Process Taxes. In other words, we don't know how high prices are going, but we can promise you that everything is going up and we do not know how long it will be before they go up. We can't even quote prices on some things, and we don't know how long we can maintain our present low prices.

IT'S YOUR TIME TO BUY

It's our opinion that every penny you spend before the new adjustments will save you another penny just like it.

We do not know when the Process Tax on Cotton Goods will be collected from us, but it is not on us yet.

WE DO NOT MEAN TO SAY that we will not KEEP Low Prices. This store ALWAYS has the Lowest Prices, and we will KEEP the present Low Prices as long as possible, but we don't know how long that will be.

Let us suggest that you buy your Blankets, Outings, Sheetings, Duck, Overalls, and all heavy goods now, because they are going to be taxed according to weight.

We will be glad to explain all we know about the new taxes and adjustments to you, because if you know about the particulars you will see more clearly that we are going to save you money if you buy from us—RIGHT NOW!
