VOLUME FORTY

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1933.

NUMBER THREE

School Opens For Fall Term

As had been previously arranged and announced the local public schools opened for work last Monday morning. The opening may be said to have been characterized by two outstanding characteristics, namely the lack of any show or formality and a businesslike attitude on the part of both faculty and pupils. The doors were opened and pupils marched in to their classes. Some few adjustments have been necessary during the week on account of oversize classes and conflicts in pupil's schedules. For the most part classes have been regularly since the first day.

Enrollment for the first day was as follows:

Grades

First grade, 39; second grade, 33; third grade, 42; fourth grade, 44; fifth grade, 36; sixth grade, 33; seventh grade, 45.

High School

Freshman, 37; sophomore, 39; junior, 35; senior, 46. Total for entire school, 438.

New pupils have been enrolled every day since the opening. Rooms and classes throughout are well filled.

The doors will be opened and teachers on duty at 8:20 each morning. It is far better for your children not to come to school before that time each day. If they do come before that time there is no one here to look after them.

Your faculty feels that they have entered into a good year of work and will endeavor to give you the best year in the history of the school. Yours truly,

A. H. SMITH.

ZONE MEETING

A delegation from Goldthwaite Methodist Women's Missionary Society attended a zone meeting at Lampasas Tuesday, where a most interesting program was presented. This city supplying several of the numbers. Mrs. R. M. Thompson responded to the address of welcome and Mrs. Eli Fairman conducted the devotional service in the afternoon. Most of the churches of the zone were represented and a comparison of plans and work was decidedly beneficial to all.

At noon an elaborate lunch was served in the Methodist church dining room in that city, the menu being supplied by contributions of edibles from the different societies.

These zone meetings are always pleasant and helpful and the one at Lampasas was one of the best yet enjoyed. VISITOR

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINED

On Friday afternoon of last week the Philathea Sunday school class was entertained in the home of Mrs. Dan Westerman. There was a splendid attendance and much important business was transacted. After the business was all attended to Mrs. Westerman served delicious ice cream and cake, and the ladies enjoyed a social hour in pleasant conversation.

The guests, other than the class, were Meses Albert Hunt and Roy McKinley, with her small daughter, Dorothy Nell.

NAME NEW TEACHER FOR BRADY SCHOOL

Miss Stella Cobb was Monday night elected to the faculty of fourth Ward school. Miss Cobb takes the place of Miss Mildred Bailey of Brownwood, who announced her resignation in a letter to the school board.

The new teacher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Cobb of Goldthwaite and a sister of W. C. Cobb and Howell E. Cobb of Brady. Miss Cobb received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Texas last June. —Brady Standard.

Methodist Notes

The attendance at both church and Sunday school was slightly above the average last Sunday. The evening service might well have been larger. We had some present who have not been regular in their attendance during the past. We were glad to see them present and trust they may be beginning with a new determination.

As was announced in these notes last week, we are to have that all day service with a great barbecue. Possibly this will occur on the first Sunday in October. The exact time will be announced soon. When the time is set you would just as well begin to get ready to come. You cannot afford to miss it. We expect to have a great crowd and a great day.

Somehow we have all felt that there was a loss in our congregation and in our town during the summer and no one seemed to know why this feeling, until a few days ago, Rev. J. W. Kelly, one of our faithful superannuates, returned for a visit among us. Bro. Kelly has spent the summer on his farm out on the plains of West Texas. So long has he been among the citizens of Goldthwaite that we feel his loss when he returns.

The members of the Missionary society who went to Lampasas to the Zone meeting last Tuesday had a great time. There they were able to compare notes and arrange plans for future activities, and have a great time in a social way. There is one thing about the attendance from here that I shall not undertake to fathom, however, Dan Yates went along, and why, is entirely beyond my comprehension. It may be that Dan is renewing a latent enthusiasm in the ladies' work. This I am sure would bear improvement. It is rather difficult for me, knowing Dan as I do, to attribute to him this motive. I am disposed to think that the loaves and fishes, in other words, the fine dinner, which he knows is always provided at these meetings, was the prime incentive. At any rate Dan went and we shall expect him to give us a full report of the proceedings next Sunday.

It is only six weeks until the meeting of the West Texas conference. This is not news, but should serve as a reminder; a reminder that there is much to do if we are to finish our year's work in a way that is entirely creditable. The Methodist church at Goldthwaite, so I think, has a record that is unique so far as meeting its financial obligations is concerned. Only twice, so I think, within its history has the church failed to meet its obligations. It may have had poor preachers, as preachers are valued; they might have a poor delivery and not much to deliver, but the people have always fallen in line when it came to the final test and given many times given even sacrificially and paid every claim expected of them. Let us hope that this good record may be continued. Let all hands unite and do ourselves proud in this great cause.

The Sunday school lessons for the present quarter, while in the Old Testament, which is usually considered rather dry, have a special appeal to me. They are along a line of thinking that is one of my special hobbies—that of leadership. I sometimes wonder if we give the thought to the matter that is commensurate with the importance of the subject. In every other line of living, thought is being expended upon the subject of leadership among the young people. This is true in the lodges, the commercial clubs, the political parties. Why not give our young people a place of responsibility and encourage them to give us the advantage of suggestions, and aid us in our work? It would pay to give them a trial. I fear that we older folk are failing to discover the possibilities locked up in the viril young manhood and womanhood of our times. Consciousness of this fact is vital to all our future in all fields of activity.

City and School Tax Rolls Ready

The city and school tax rolls for 1933, with comparison of last year's assessments and budget, make some interesting showings:

The school tax roll for 1933 shows the following in comparison with the 1932 roll:

Real property assessed:
1933 $665,376.00
1932 712,713.00

Personal property assessed:
1933 $328,362.00
1932 388,857.00

Total rendition:
1933 $ 993,738.00
1932 1,101,570.00

Loss from last year $107,832.00

In order to make up for delinquents, it was necessary to put 50 per cent of collections in the sinking fund this year.

The maintenance fund for 1933 is $4969.30 as compared with $7710.62 last year.

The city tax roll for 1933 shows:

Real estate rendition of $369,255.00 as compared with $399,514.00 last year.

Personal rendition is $192,745 as compared with $195,642 last year. The loss in city rendition was only $3,356.

The city rate is the same as for 1932. Also a change of only about $3000 was made in assessments in equalizing same.

Had it not been for the work on Fisher street in connection with the paving of state highway No. 81, the rate could have been lowered. However, this or some similar public work was necessary in order to secure the R.F.C. money allotted to our city.

The city had to pay for the material and supervision, but the labor was paid for by the R. F. C.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

Editor J. J. Gregg, owner of the Santa Anna News, is one of the Eagle editor's most appreciated friends. After reading the editorial a few weeks ago regarding the beginning of the fortieth year of the Eagle's publication, he says:

"The Goldthwaite Eagle started out last week on its fortieth year of service to Goldthwaite and Mills county. The present editor, R. M. Thompson, has been with the publication more than thirty years of its useful and serviceable life, and states in his editorial column last week that he expects to remain in his present position as editor and owner of the Eagle the remainder of his life, 'if that should be a thousand years.' In this connection we feel like saying that, after the present editor of the Eagle has passed through the evening of life, and the twilight shadows are now beginning to lengthen, and he has crossed the silent river and his remains are buried beneath the sod to await the coming of the judgment, his successor will not be a more loyal man to his friends, his town, his county or his state than has been Editor Thompson. His able editorials have not only been elevating to his own home people, but to his fellow publishers as well. Long may he live and would that his tribe might increase."

PEP SQUAD

On Tuesday, Sept. 12, the Goldthwaite High School Pep Squad was organized. There were over 80 students present and we are looking forward to one of the best pep squads we have ever had.

The following were chosen as officers of the pep squad: Daphane Evans, main yell leader; Jack Bradley and Lucile Hoover, assistant leaders; Gerry Hester, secretary; Charline Brim, reporter; Misses Una V. Brim and Vivian Campbell, sponsors.

There are to be several games at home this year and we are expecting everyone in Goldthwaite to get behind the team and help the pep squad to boost them.

Cotton Checks On the Way

The government checks due farmers in Mills county for plowing under their cotton have been expected for several days, but had not arrived up to yesterday morning. Mr. Weaver, county agent, has been expecting them by every mail and it is very likely they will reach his office today or tomorrow. It is known that checks are being issued to counties alphabetically and some of the "M" counties have already received those due, but Mills is rather far down the line and will be reached in due time. One thing we all know positively and that is the checks will come and will be valid when they do come. Our dear Uncle Sam does business methodically, but does it right and his promise is sure and steadfast, so we need only to exercise a little patience, with the assurance that the money is certain to be forthcoming when our turn comes. Mr. Weaver will notify those who have checks due as soon as they arrive and we know it will only be a few days until the notice will be issued.

WHEAT ALLOTMENT

Mills county wheat farmers are making applications at the county agent's office for allotment contracts and information can be had as to the plan and eligibility by asking the county agent.

At a meeting of growers the ninth, the following county allotment committee was elected: J. A. Holland, president, Mullin; A. A. Moore, vice president, Mullin; R. C. Duren, secretary, Mullin; W. C. Dew, treasurer, Goldthwaite; L. W. Wigley, Mullin; J. D. Fallon, Goldthwaite; Chas. Noack, Priddy.

It is suggested that producers make application for contracts at county agent's office at once. Applications for loans on winter wheat may be made at the county agent's office.

Producers will receive an allotment payment of 28c or 30c less the expense of the cost of the county organization. The chief local expense will be clerical help, printing, production data about applicants and contract signers in newspapers, inspection expenses next spring (probably $2 per farm) and other expenses authorized by the county committee.

P. T. A.

The Parent-Teacher association met at the regular meeting Tuesday, September 12. Punch was served and a musical program was given by Misses Greta Little, Robert Elizabeth Littlepage and Mary Ellen Trent.

Mrs. J. M. Campbell, who has very ably served the organization as president for the past year, tendered her resignation.

The following new officers were elected: Mrs. Clem W. Hoover, president; Mrs. Jake Saylor, first vice president; Mrs. Wilbur Fairman, treasurer.

COTTON COMING IN

There has been a steady stream of cotton wagons and trucks to the gins and on to market this week and the receipts have been heavy in all the cotton growing states, but there is no denying the fact that this rush will soon be over. With favorable weather the next few weeks, most of the cotton will be open and then it will be out, ginned and marketed mighty quick.

The market price has been pretty good and some farmers have regretted that they plowed under such a large per cent of the crop planted, but they should remember that the plow-up plan should be credited with the good price.

Receipts at Goldthwaite cotton yard for the season up to the time the Eagle was put to press were 725 bales and most of it was of a high grade.

Regular Session Of Commissioners

Commissioners court held a regular monthly session Monday and transacted considerable routine business, such as auditing reports and approving accounts.

The highway money was divided to the various precincts from which it was paid in. Precinct No. 1 received $117.50; No. 2, $125.68; No. 3, $137.56; No. 4, $81.20.

The regular session was continued until next Monday, at which time the 1933 tax rolls will be received and inspected, preparatory to sending them to the comptroller for approval.

PRECINCT ELECTION NOT LEGAL

The attorney general's department this week wrote County Attorney Prible that the commissioners court would have no authority to order a prohibition election in one precinct in the county. The letter was in reply to an inquiry as to whether or not the commissioners could order such election at this time. The attorney general stated that where a county voted for prohibition in the state-wide election in August the commissioners court would have no right to order an election other than county-wide and that not within six months after the former election.

LEGION MEETING

The American Legion held an interesting meeting and important meeting in the lodge room here Tuesday night, at which time it was decided to discontinue the use of the Woodmen hall for the present.

The next regular meeting will be held in Mullin the second Tuesday night in October, which will be October 10. This meeting will be held jointly with the Legion Auxiliary and at that time the newly elected officers will be installed.

The Legion officials invite all members to be present in the meeting at Mullin.

A NIGHT ON THE COLORADO

A long, low chain of blue black hills, a golden three-quarter moon, the quiet stillness of the silent willows, the soothing music of the swiftly flowing river—ah, who wouldn't enjoy a September night on the Colorado?

Last Friday night a party of young people from Live Oak and Center City, consisting of Dick Parker, Clifford Rose, G. W. Simpson, Lucille, Jack, Jimmie Yvonne and Ailde Welch, Louise Harwell, Elton and Bertha Roberts and Ruth, Margie, Ollie Mae and Glenn Featherston, spent a pleasant night at the Roberts' shoals on the Colorado river.

As soon as our camping ground was reached, we gathered a night's supply of driftwood and built a roaring fire. Then we donned our swimming suits and set out to find the river. The night was dark and the place was strange to most of us, so we joined hands to insure a greater amount of safety on our quest. Clifford Rose soon ascertained the location of the river by falling off a ten-foot bluff into it. We had not been swimming long until the moon rose and illuminated the dark hills and river with its crystal light.

After a hilarious hour of swimming and boat riding, Lucille Welch checked the roll to see if any of us were missing, and then we went up to camp and prepared and ate supper. Then we spread quilts around the fire and all sat down or lay down as individual fancies dictated and enjoyed a pleasant period of talking together. The Welch sisters, assisted by the rest of us made the hills reverberate with the echoes of beautiful songs like "Moonlight On the Colorado" and "Where the Silvery Colorado Winds Its Way". Reading were given by Yvonne Welch and Ollie Mae Featherston and magnificent stories of early school experiences, dormitory happenings, etc., were told. Before we had heard all about Jack Welch's first geography lesson and the prize joke on every one else present, it was long past midnight.

Some few wanted to go to sleep, so they rolled up in quilt and made a heroic effort to fulfill that purpose. Margie and Ollie Mae Featherston decided that it would be a good time to realize a lifelong ambition to stay awake all night, so they together with several others who gallantly agreed to stay up with them, took a box of doughnuts and went down on the shoal where they built another campfire. As the night advanced the moon shone with unnatural brilliance, the frogs croaked with unnecessary loudness and the whippoorwills whistled weirdly among the hills, so the band of night owls on the shoal found it no hard matter to keep awake. Boat riding on the silent river under the waning moon just before dawn was grand, even if we did have to ball water at an impossible speed to keep from sinking.

At daybreak we went up to camp and awoke the sleepers.

Football Squad Out for Drill

Sept. 4, the Goldthwaite Eagles started their session of football training. The Eagles lost several letter men this year, but have a nice looking bunch of juniors and sophomores, who will try to fill their shoes.

The lettermen returning to play this season are Kirby, Todd, Smythe, Campbell, Saylor, Huddleston, Boland and Hunt. With these men and the new material that has been acquired, the Goldthwaite Eagles stand a very good chance to claim honors this year, if they can secure your backing.

The football schedule has not been completed yet, but as it stands now, you are very likely to have a good many games at home.

Sept. 29, Lometa, here; Oct. 7, open; Oct. 14, Lampasas, here; Oct. 21, Brady, there; Oct. 27, Santa Anna, there; Nov. 4, open; Nov. 11, Richland Springs; Nov. 18, San Saba.

For the last two years the people of Goldthwaite have cried "Let's have more games at home," and yet you never come down to the field to back your little team, when they do have a game here. It's your team when they come out winners and someone else's team when they lose.

Why did the Eagles come out at the end of the horn last year? It was because you did not give them the backing they needed. Goldthwaite turns out smaller crowds to a football game than any town in this district.

There are slackers in every town, but so far this little team of yours has done their best to hold up the honors of their town and school. Are you going to stand by them—win or lose—or do you want to be a slacker? Lometa is coming over here the twenty-ninth and is coming to fight hard. Make it a special point to be there and if we get beat don't say that it's not your team. Stand by them with the hopes that they will win next time.

Who are our town slackers? Well, we will find out the 29th.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Saturday afternoon at three o'clock little Miss Jerry Vaughn celebrated her third birthday with a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Vaughn. The house was decorated with beautiful zinnias and roses. The guests were met at the door by little Jerry. She wore a lovely green crepe de chine dress and hair ribbon to match. In her little, dainty way, she invited each little guest in. Little Billy D. Leverett asked each of the guests to the little register book, where their names and a wish was placed. After registering the children gathered in the yard and played games for an hour. They then marched in the house and much fun and excitement was caused by looking at the birthday presents. They then gathered in the dining room, where a large, white birthday cake with three pink candles for decoration drew all the attention of the little eyes. Much excitement was caused by blowing out the candles.

Mrs. Vaughn, assisted by Mrs. W. D. Leverett and Miss Erma Lois Roberts, served pink ice cream cones and white cake to the children. Mrs. Dan Calaway and Ruth Vaughn served pink ice cream and cake to the twelve ladies, who called during the afternoon. Over thirty guests were present. The guests were Cella Ann Simpson, Billie D. Leverett, Norma Ruth and Carline Featherston, James Carroll and Johnnie Bob Calaway, Anna Louise, Melba and Charles Kennedy, Mary Allah, Majorie and Dorothy Bryant, Lamar and Kenneth Keese and Grace Huffman. At a late hour the little guests departed wishing Jerry many more happy birthdays.

A CHANGE OF SYSTEM

There is no doubt in anybody's mind that our present method of collecting taxes must be amended in some way, but it requires the mind of a statesman—not that of a peanut politician who seeks popularity with those who are delinquent with their tax obligations—to determine just how the change can be made to enforce collection of taxes. That it is not the small home owner in the main, but property owner who hopes to avoid final payment of the obligation that is withholding the tax money. The Texas Tax Journal, a recognized authority in tax matters, comments on the situation and says:

"In our June issue we stated that there was upward of over $100,000,000 due the state and its political subdivisions in delinquent taxes. C. A. Jay, vice-president of the Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural Conference, now states that after a survey of this subject this figure runs to $120,000,000. The most astounding revelation along this line is: that he estimates that 5 per cent of the total persons delinquent owe 35 per cent of the aggregate taxes delinquent.

"If it is true that in commercial activities the people who by promptly paying their monthly bills and obligations, thereby maintaining their credit, pay a certain percentage to cover losses suffered by reason of those who fail to pay their bills, and this same law works with reference to taxes, what a heavy burden the willing taxpayers are shouldering. It is difficult to estimate what percentage of this huge delinquency is owed by those who by reason of business conditions of the last three years, are totally unable to pay, but it has been conservatively estimated we think, by those close to this situation that 50 per cent of the total is delinquent by choice and not by necessity.

"Another thing in our opinion contributing to this delinquency is the law passed by the legislature remitting penalty and interest on delinquent taxes. We believe that this law has placed a premium on delinquency, and leads those who are delinquent to remain so, in hope that further dispensations will be forthcoming from the same source. If anybody is entitled to a bonus or premium we think it is the fellow who gets together somehow the money he owes and pays his tax so that the government may be carried on."

After all is known and considered as to the amount due and the cause for such delinquencies, the fact remains that a remedy is absolutely necessary.

CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING

At this time of year—every year—business improves along most lines. The crops begin to move, employment increases, many accounts allowed to run during the dull season are paid and merchandise sales increase. This year is holding the average, and conditions are much improved over the dull season of summer months. The RFC has been helpful, in that considerable money was paid out during the dull season, enabling the workers to pay for supplies that otherwise would have been bought on credit or done without. The plow-under cotton campaign was also beneficial, in that the crop was reduced and the price improved to that extent. Had the full cotton acreage remained and the crop grown to fruition it would have scarcely been worth gathering. Other plans are in the making by the federal government to reduce the cotton acreage for next year, to prevent a recurrence of the conditions this year, as will also be evolved to prevent an over supply of wheat. The government has also greatly assisted by giving employment to the people in highway construction and reforestation. The indications are that the country is recovering from the depression and we all hope and believe there are better times ahead.

MORE HELP NEEDED

There is danger that many individuals may form the conclusion that all the help needed, for those who have suffered from the two or three years of depression, has now been supplied and efforts in that direction can now be discontinued. We have only gotten the relief and rebuilding campaign well under way and a continued effort and co-operation is as important as it was at the beginning. The depression was world wide and it is doubtful if any country has gotten as far on the way to recovery as has ours, especially a country where the interests are as varied. To provide employment is better than charity, although some objects are still deserving of liberal giving. The Houston Chronicle very properly says: "There will be yet more for the public to do through its various community chests and charity and welfare organizations, but the effective part now played by state and federal government will give renewed impetus to private endeavor, and cheer to local workers."

There can be no question in the mind of anybody about the need in the wonderful section of Texas designated as the Rio Grande valley, where such terrible havoc was wrought a week ago by wind and water. Those people are energetic and enterprising citizens who have made a productive area out of what was once neither attractive nor productive. They have invested heavily—in some cases their all—in that fertile region and now, through no fault of their own, have lost so heavily as to be in dire need of help. The poorer of the residents there need food and clothing and a helping hand might well be extended to all of them. If every person will help, much of the distress and need can be relieved.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

It is every automobile driver's responsibility to prevent accidents and to protect others on the highways. Fixed rules of traffic should be observed of course, but rules alone will not provide the safety and protection. When one takes over the steering wheel of an automobile he takes over morally the responsibility of protecting those on the highway and the pity is that the punishment for violating this responsibility is neither sure enough or severe enough to insure an observance of the obligation. The governors of 34 states and the commissioners of the District of Columbia have issued proclamations and messages on this subject. More than 90,000,000 persons—74 per cent of our total population—live in that area. Seventy-five per cent of all automobiles in the country are registered within the area covered by those proclamations, and last year about 76 per cent of the 29,000 deaths from automobile accidents occurred in the participating territory.

In 1932 there was a decrease in automobile accidents and fatalities, as compared with 1931. This year the trend has been reversed, and the toll is again on the upgrade. The reckless, the discourteous and the incompetent still rule the highways. The public streets and roads are still shambles, both for persons and for property.

Only the individual motorist can conquer this organized destruction. There are few such things as unavoidable accidents, and it has been proven that raising the safety factors of roads and vehicles does no good—the driver simply trusts to the engineers, and operates his car even more recklessly.

WHEAT, COTTON AND RELIEF

When congress passed a resolution making available for relief purposes, through the Red Cross, some 45,000,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bales of cotton, there were some misgivings in metropolitan centers. Even if the wheat was turned into flour and the cotton in cloth, as congress intended, what could the city dweller do with them? He was accustomed to buy bread, not flour, and it was many a year since he, or his wife, had made clothing at home. Nor could he live on bread alone. The paramount need was for a package of different staple foods that could be cooked on a tenement stove.

How this problem was met was told in a supplementary report published by the Gibson committee. It is impossible to read it without realizing again both how little would have been done in this field without co-operation, and how much was actually accomplished by dint of a common effort which can have had few peace-time parallels. With the permission of congress and the aid of the unemployed themselves, $4,000,000 of raw materials was converted into more than $7,250,000 worth of serviceable food and clothing, and distributed to the need of New York City, all without a penny of profit to anyone. Bakers and bankers, grocers and truckmen, Red Cross workers and "nutritionists" worked together to make this great community undertaking a success. It will serve as a model for future attempts at relief in kind.—New York Times.

IT MAY COME

Many states are literally taxing the automobile owners to death. Officials seem to think they are legitimate prey for any kind of a burden they wish to impose upon them. Add to this the greed of the oil companies and you have a situation which seems difficult of belief.

There is a limit to which car owners can be squeezed. There is a bottom to every man's pocket. A lemon is of no value after the juice has been squeezed out, and an automobile ceases to be of value when there is no money with which to buy gas.

Automobiles are the key industry of the nation, and if they are throttled by excessive taxation and exorbitant prices for gas the people will be forced to lock them up in their garages and let them stay there.

Many of us still remember how to ride horses, mules and donkeys, or even a steer.

It may come to that.—Editorial Ledger.

HEALTH HINTS

MAKING HEALTH CONTAGIOUS

If given omnipotence, Robert G. Ingersoll once said, the first thing he would do would be to make health contagious instead of disease. He expressed a wish which to some extent, has been realized.

Communicable diseases spread from one person to another thru an invisible medium, germs. The means of combating these diseases also spread from one person to another thru an invisible medium, knowledge.

Typhoid fever was once a continually recurring scourge. Health, so far as typhoid was concerned, became contagious when the knowledge passed from one person to another that the disease was carried from the sick to the well thru infected water and on the feet of flies.

Health became contagious so far as smallpox was concerned as the knowledge of vaccination went from man to man and from city to city, rendering quite rare a disease which formerly constituted a chief menace to life.

Tuberculosis — once the first cause of death and now seventh — is another example of how health is made contagious. As one person learned from another that the disease was curable, patients came to accept the new treatment of rest, fresh air and nourishing food supplanting old measures which included windows closed air-tight, and medicines taken out of bottles. And as the knowledge that tuberculosis was preventable passed from one person to another, more people came to have recourse to building positive health, as well as protecting invalids from infecting others by observing simple rules which doctors prescribe.

The reason typhoid and smallpox vanished so quickly when knowledge about them became epidemic, was that the means of protection were simple and easy. A clean water, milk and food supply for the community, and widespread vaccination did the job. The citizens could immediately forget the problem. But tuberculosis was different. In this case, not only was inoculation with knowledge needed among the public, but to accomplish anything, this knowledge had to "take" in the sense of causing people to do something about it in their daily lives. If we still had to boil water to be safe from typhoid, the chances are the disease would still be with us, if in addition to vaccination we had also to do as many inconvenient things as we must do to be free from tuberculosis.

What are these inconvenient things people have to do? By and large they can be expressed thus: Healthy people must assume under certain circumstances, that they may have tuberculosis. At signs of cough, fever, indigestion or fatigue from slight exertion, they must seek a thorough chest examination, by

DANGER FROM RATS

The state health department sends out a warning against rats and tells of some of the dangers from them. It says:

"Texas sustained a fifteen million dollar loss last year on account of rats, declared Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. This figure is a very low estimate based upon the probable number of rats in the state, two for each person. No doubt many suffer losses that would pay their taxes, and this does not take into consideration the losses from diseases, time and money, caused by the rat.

"Typhus fever is on the increase in Texas and the rat is the cause of its spread. Old World typhus fever has a high death rate, while the type we have in Texas, sometimes called Brill's Disease, has a low death rate. It occurs among persons who work or live in rat infested buildings. It was the observation of this fact that led to the discovery that rats are carriers or transmitters of the disease. It appears that the rat suffers attacks of this form of typhus fever and that the fleas harbored by the sick rat bite man and thus human infection results.

"Although this disease is not commonly fatal, it cannot be considered lightly. The intense headache, the high fever, and the great mental depression are its most unpleasant features. Like in sea sickness, the patients greatest fear is that he is not going to die. The illness generally lasts about two weeks.

"The control of typhus is very difficult and it depends upon the extermination of rats and this is no easy matter. Trapping and poisoning help, but the best results are obtained by starving the rats. This is done by having all buildings where food is stored ratproofed. The state department of health and the U. S. department of agriculture will be glad to assist communities in their program for the extermination of this pest."

a physician who has observed cases of tuberculosis, and is familiar with the earliest symptoms. Parents must help the health and school authorities to give their children the harmless tuberculin test, which picks out suspected cases, and also the X-ray, which helps to establish the presence or absence of disease. They will do this when the knowledge has come to them that tuberculosis usually starts in childhood, and that when it is found so early, measures can be taken to ward off its later effects in adolescence. Especially when children or adults are members of families where there is a case of the disease, must a thorough examination be made. The secret of preventing tuberculosis lies in the examination of all "contacts." By this is meant all persons who live, work or play with the person having the disease whether the "contact" has any symptoms or not.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

COTTON ACREAGE

Secretary Wallace is impressed with the need for increased cotton acreage reduction next year. Despite a reduction of 4,000,000 bales to this year's crop, production will exceed 12,000,000. Stocks on hand are in excess of 8,000,000, which is only 1,500,000 bales less than last year. This year's acreage reduction was an emergency measure. Preparation for next year's crop should be made on a scientific basis with the view to making production coincide with requirements and gradual elimination of surplus. It stands to reason that the government cannot adopt a policy of considering every crop in an emergency. The government would like to leave the solution in the hands of the farmers. Secretary Wallace intimates as much and assuredly he is giving ample time by serving notice in advance of the gathering of this year's crop. Past experience, however, does not encourage the belief that the farmers will be able to agree. The south has gone through this situation in the past. One plan suggests another. Farmers in one state propose a different plan. Volunteer plans cannot be compulsory. Penalty may not be inflicted for refusing to agree or failure to carry out the agreement. The department of agriculture made good this year. It had many obstacles to overcome. It is the only agency that can accomplish results next year or in the years to come. Public sentiment will support any plan adopted by the federal government and compel its observance.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Up to the age of 14 the average child's reading can be plotted out nearly as exactly as his physical diet, or his school grading.

Of course, individual variations occur, but as a general thing the child goes through almost the same phases of development as the human race.

For the very little child, up to 4 or 5, animal stories are in order, and preferably those in which the animals talk and act like human beings. These are followed by fairy tales which lead almost imperceptibly into mythology. Some children skip the fairy lore and enter the myth stage at once, but, if possible, a certain amount of the fairy interest should be slipped in, simply to develop the imagination.

By the age of 10 or 11, sometimes earlier, often later, comes the hero-worship stage, when the great men and women of the past come alive and arouse admiration and stimulate ambition.

It is at this point that the break between the chosen reading of the sexes first becomes apparent. The girls will read the hero stories, but will start at the same period to begin what are commonly known as "girls' books." While the boys will sometimes read these also, it is not usual, but as a general thing they will interlard their hero tales with adventure stories.

The next stage shows marked variation in taste between boys and girls. During adolescence the average girls will take to poetry and somewhat sentimental novels. The boys are especially addicted to tales of romantic adventure or to scientific and technical subjects.

Henceforth the child's reading will follow the lines of his personal predilections, colored and enriched, it is to be hoped, by his earlier mental diet.—Brook B. Church in Abilene News.

TWO WARNINGS VOICED AT BANKERS' CONVENTION

The guaranty of deposits provision in the banking act of 1933 will cause the closing of thousands of American banks in the opinion of bankers in convention at Chicago, as expressed in a resolution urging postponement of the operations of that provision. A speaker warned that unless an assessment liability limit is fixed in that clause of the act many member banks may quit the Federal Reserve system.

The warning is made rather interesting by the fact that in an earlier address to the convention Chairman Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, warned that bankers must be more liberal in extension of credit in aid of the recovery program or the government will have to make loans itself. Strict protection of depositors and liberalization of loan policies are conflicting ideas, seemingly, yet both are sound.

The alternative presented by Chairman Jones may have to be followed if the sinews for the recovery war are provided in time to make the war effective. In that event the banks may be enlisted in the work of keeping books on recovery loans. The new deal on banking methods presents difficulties for the banking business in the matter of adjustment.—Dallas Journal.

NO TEARS FOR ANOTHER FLOW-UP CAMPAIGN

There will be no shedding of tears over the destructive job of plowing up millions of acres of healthy and maturing cotton plants next year, such as have fallen in this first year of the Rooseveltian new deal. And habit-hardened old Beck will have no such impossible job to balk at.

The government's acreage reduction program for 1934-35, which was unanimously endorsed at the Dallas meeting of concerned representatives from the four cotton-growing states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, has no plow-up feature to it. It calls for elimination of acreage to the extent of 40 per cent of the five-year average

TAX EXEMPT SECURITIES

According to reports from the east, the next session of congress will take up the matter of tax-exempt securities. There is reason to believe that legislation preventing the issuance of such securities by the government will be passed. If this is done, it is estimated that approximately $150,000,000 will be added to the federal treasury.

There is good argument for such action by congress. As a rule the type of citizen in the best position to contribute heavily to state and federal treasuries is the one who invests part at least of his capital in securities that are exempt from taxation. The citizen who has a small income, raising a family and more often than not, owning a home, is the one of whom, in the final analysis, the burden of taxation falls heaviest.

The burden of taxation on real property has become so heavy in this and other states, that the matter of finding some other means of creating revenue is one of the absorbing questions of the day. Under the present system and this is true in Texas, little or no tax is paid on personal property, including notes, mortgages and other forms of paper which persons of wealth are prone to invest. The citizen who is paying most and there should be more equitably distributed, to include the individual whose chief investments are in securities which, under the present system, are exempt from taxation.—Bryan Daily Eagle.

HOW WE CAN HELP

The valley will rebuild itself. Already the evidence of that clear. But it must have as much help as Texas can give. It does not want charity—except for immediate relief of its stricken and destitute thousands—but wants to help itself.

Its friends say much can be done this year. There is a time to raise a bumper vegetable crop. If the Texas citizens will provide the market for the crop at reasonable prices, not withdrawing patronage from local growers, but by purchasing those imported from other states the valley farmers will yet be able to secure an income this year.

Needless to say every type farm credit must be made available to these farmers for seed and, where necessary, for living expenses, until their crop comes in. With that kind of costing us really nothing in the long run, these valley people get back on their feet. We depend on that.—Houston Chronicle.

age at the time of planting year, with compensation acreage reducers in the form of cash rentals, to be paid in installments. The whole-hearted support the new program for which administrator Cobb made appeal should be accorded. The cotton growers have profited by plow-up campaign this year only in the way of direct compensation, but through prices for cotton produced could have been hoped for expected if the entire crop had been allowed to mature.

The sane and happy way to reduce acreage is to limit planting. The farmers by are as keenly aware that reduction must be held to a reasonable volume as the government officials who invoked revolutionary measures in an effort to restore the industry to a generation basis.—Dallas Journal.

San Saba

Prof. S. G. Boynton, native San Saba county boy, has been appointed by state superintendent A. L. Woods as a deputy state superintendent under the new setup of the department of education. Boynton formerly taught school in this county and for the past four or five years has been Supt. Hutto.

According to report from the Bethel community the residence of G. R. Lane, pioneer citizen of that community, was completely destroyed by fire about noon Monday. No report is available as to the origin of the fire. Absolutely everything in the home is a loss, with no insurance.

Early Wednesday morning the residence on the F. B. Hall ranch a few miles east of town was completely destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The house was on the side of the railroad track and contained the household goods of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith, who were staying temporarily at the Hall ranch home near the highway.—News.

J. A. Quinn, who has been with the U. S. postal service for thirty years, will retire on October 1 from his duties as carrier on Route 2.

Frank Hendrick & Son of Lamesa arrived in San Saba this week with equipment to open a Piggly Wiggly grocery store in the remodeled Williams building.

M. G. Estep, who has operated the Estep grocery on the south side of the court house square for the last four years, recently sold his business to G. L. Huckabee, who was formerly connected with the schools of the county as a rural teacher, as county superintendent and as superintendent of the San Saba high school.

Charlie Tupman, traveling salesman for Walker Smith grocery company of Brownwood awakened at 4 o'clock Friday morning and found a man in his room rifling his pants. Tupman tackled the intruder, and the pair dived out the window to have a wrestling bout on the lawn. On account of a slick shirt on the back of the trespasser (according to Tupman) he got away with the salesman's pocketbook which contained some cash and a few checks on which payment was stopped.—Star.

Hamilton

An enjoyable event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Stephan, near Star, Sunday, September 3.

The pastors of the Baptist churches in the Brownwood district held a meeting in Hamilton Tuesday morning to organize for the "Every Member Campaign" to be launched in the near future.

The Andersons of Indian Gap is one of the best known and most highly respected families in the county, and every one will read with interest of the celebration of the annual family reunion at Glen Rose, which was held Sunday, September 3, in one of the beautiful parks of that city.

Cotton Belt railway officials have been notified that the Interstate Commerce Commission has granted a hearing to the company to be at Waco Sept. 25 for discussion of conditions on the line. The company has made application to abandon its line from Stephenville to Hamilton and Comanche. The hearing at Waco will be public.

Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Bynum of Wright City, Okla., came in last week for a visit with their daughter and her family at Indian Gap. Rev. Bynum visited with friends in Hamilton before leaving for his home. Mrs. Bynum remained with her daughter for an extended visit. Rev. Bynum said their daughter, Miss Ruth Bynum, will teach in DeKalb, Texas, this school year. She has many friends in Hamilton and the county who will be glad to learn of her success in her profession.—Herald-Record.

The Hamilton County News has passed into the ownership management and partnership of James L. Power and W. F. Billingslea.

Up to Tuesday night of this week Public Weigher Talley reported he had received at the Hamilton yard 1057 bales of cotton and it is being sold rapidly and still his yard seemed to be

Brownwood

No poll tax levy will be made this year by the city of Brownwood, it was decided at a meeting Tuesday night of the city council. Tax rates for city and school were fixed at the meeting at $1.85 on the $100 valuation, the same figure as last year.

C. W. Lehmburg, Brown county's new county agent, assumed his duties Monday, and after a conference with the commissioners court, announced he was ready to begin active work among Brown county farmers. One of the first duties he will undertake will be the launching of the government's wheat acreage reduction program in this county. It was this work that caused the commissioners court to employ an agent at this time.

Brown county commissioners court next week will launch a determined drive to secure payment of $177,641.10 in delinquent taxes. With tax payments for the current year due to start October 1, the county faces the heaviest delinquency in its history, and some methods must be devised to secure payment of at least a portion of this amount. This was the consensus of opinion at the meeting of the commissioners court this week, and the weekly meeting next Monday is to be devoted largely to devising the best means of securing payment of the delinquent taxes.—Banner-Bulletin.

Sheriff Jack Hallmark, Deputy Ivan Ellis and Cy Thigpen, member of the city police force, accompanied by Sheriff Carl Bledsoe and deputy of Goldthwaite, spent all of Thursday afternoon in uncovering one of the most complete whiskey stills ever located in this part of the state, the still being found in Mills county, below Ridge, about ten miles from Brown county line. Two men, Clarence Lankford and Fred Sullivan, were arrested during the raid and both taken to Goldthwaite to answer charges. The still was destroyed and 27 gallons of whiskey confiscated. The officers completely wrecked the still, one dozen smash barrels and other equipment.—Bulletin.

Lometa

Mrs. M. Mayberry and daughter will leave this week for Athens, where they will reside this winter.

H. J. Robbins was a visitor in Long Cove last Sunday. Mrs. Robbins stopped at Pleasant Grove for the singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Carothers of Adamsville spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carothers.

Miss Lillian Hunt of Goldthwaite, who has been visiting the Misses Godwin, has returned to her home. Miss Tiana Godwin in turn, spent Sunday night with Miss Hunt, leaving Sunday night for Pumpville, where she will teach this winter. Before school starts Miss Godwin will visit a few days with her sister, Mrs. Rufus Ross, of Iraan.

Mr. Dillion is here in the interest of the new highway project which will connect Lometa with some of the best highways in the state, and will give several hundred men employment. In a statement made to the Reporter representative Wednesday morning Mr. Dillion said that the first phase of the work would be the relocating of a road site and that the surveying would probably begin in a few weeks. He also said it was practically assured that a hard surface road would be constructed between Goldthwaite and Lampasas in a short time.—Reporter.

Lampasas

L. I. Warner, 84, of Lake Victor, who suffered a severe stroke of paralysis last Friday, is reported to be greatly improved at the present time. He is able to use his arms some now and sit up a little.

The grand jury for the September term of district court has been in session this week and returned five bills of indictment in felony cases which will be brought to trial on September 18. Of the bills returned, two were for selling liquor, two for theft and one for bigamy.

The people who live on the Naruna road will soon have a new road to travel into Lampasas and it will be quite a convenience to them when the Sulphur creek is high. A cut-off road is now being built which will put the travel from that road into Lampasas on Fourth street.

Sulphur water has been found in one of the wells being drilled in the Lampasas state park site. The well was dug to a depth of 55 feet by hand and then drilling was started and after getting down to about 30 feet with the drill they stopped to make some repairs they were in very hard rock and had not struck water, but while making the repairs sulphur water came into the well and is now standing within about 25 feet of the top of the well. The well is something like 85 feet in depth.—Leader.

VACANCIES IN HISTORIC CORPS

It is announced by Major P. D. Cornell, U. S. Marine Corps that a few vacancies now existing in this famous military organization will be filled through the marine Corps Recruiting Station at 535 St. Charles Street, New Orleans, La., during the month of October.

All applicants for enlistment must have been graduated from an accredited high school or attended an institution of higher learning, and, due to the high qualifications required of an applicant he must be of the highest type both physically and morally.

Men enlisted at the New Orleans office, after a period of intensive training, which consists of close and open order drills, the use of rifles, machine guns, bayonet, automatic rifles, Stokes mortars and all the other implements of modern warfare, are transferred from Parris Island, S. C., where they receive this initial training, to one of the many Marine Corps Posts at home or abroad. Many of these men, who desire to serve at sea with the Fleet are sent to the Sea School Detachment at Norfolk, Va.

Any young man desiring information about this service should write Major Cornell at the above address and he will furnish him with full information and application blanks.

FIRST HAND REPORT

Mrs. Beulah Tucker writes to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hez Cobb, regarding the recent storm at Santa Maria, in Rio Grande Valley. The letter is dated, Saturday, Sept. 9, and says: Dear Folks,

So far as we can see around here, newspaper reports of the storm are true. It was twenty-six hours of terror. We thought every minute our house was going over. No one slept Monday night except the two new school teachers, who were staying here.

School opened Monday morning. All books had been issued and most of the children had gone home. We were in the middle of assigning lessons in high school when the storm began striking. Most of the Mexican homes were completely destroyed, so the books are all gone. Pupils are being called back Monday so that we can get a record of books. School won't start anyway until Sept. 18. It will take some time also to repair the school buildings.

The storm struck about 12 o'clock Monday. At nine that night our roof began leaking. Throughout the night and until 2 o'clock Tuesday our house leaked terribly. It being new saved us. We moved and mopped and managed to keep everything dry. I don't see how anything stood in a wind like that. There was no official measurement of the wind. The instrument in Brownsville broke when the wind reached 90 miles. Weathermen guessed it to reach between 90 and 115 miles. They guess Santa Maria had 100 miles. The wind started in the northwest, whipped to the north and east and finally closed in the southeast.

Nearly every home around ours is off the blocks and some of them have roofs off and windows out. The ceiling paper broke and fell in every room in our house except the little front bedroom and it was circled. The paper dropped in great strips in the northeast bedroom. It seemed that the wind raised edges of the tin and the rain was driven under.

Tuesday morning about nine one post of our front porch blew out and the porch came very near tearing away from the house. Dan got out and re-entranced the one that was left and it barely held the porch until the storm was over.

Poor people, not only Mexicans, but many Americans, were digging around in the remains of their homes and furniture in water nearly knee deep Tuesday afternoon for their clothes. Very few shade trees are left. Most of the limbs are split off of what are left. We were very fortunate. Besides our home, cars, furniture and clothes, we still have the big shade tree on the west that shades most of the house, though it has no leaves on it now. The fruit is practically all gone. We have gathered some, but it is still quite green. Many trees are split. The orchards are set back many years.

Dan, Ruby and I have been helping our neighbors clean up and build back their homes.

SOUTH BENNETT

We had a good rain Sunday afternoon, which will stop cotton picking for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Montgomery and baby, Bernard Perry and wife and Ralph Perry helped Travis Griffin and family celebrate Travis' birthday Wednesday night by helping eat ice cream in the Griffin home.

Clyde Featherston and family visited in the J. M. Stacy home Sunday afternoon.

The baby of Mr. and Mrs. Ab Hill was real sick last week, but we are glad to report it improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children, Misses Evelyn Covington and Charline Warren and Ben Casbeer spent Saturday night and Sunday with Elton Horton and family at Caradan.

Mrs. Jim Elder visited her mother, Mrs. Dick Griffin, and family one day last week.

Willis Hill and family enjoyed a trip to Brownwood Saturday.

Will Horton visited in the Ray Davis home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Featherston visited in the Stacy home Monday and helped with the building of the Stacy house, which is beginning to look real nice.

Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children visited with Mrs. Walter Jones Saturday.

Dixie Webb is some improved, but is still unable to be about much.

Willis Hill and family spent Sunday visiting relatives at Star. J. M. Casbeer and family left Monday morning for Anson, where they plan to pick cotton. Houston Kuykendall and Bill Horton visited in the J. M. Casbeer home one night last week.

Ames Herrington and family picked cotton for John Whitt Saturday.

J. M. Casbeer and family and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children visited Mrs. Travis Griffin Friday.

There were visitors in the Stacy home, but I failed to learn who they were.

Let us all be at Sunday school next Sunday. Rev. Cochran will preach and it is also singing day. We will also have to elect another superintendent to fill J. M. Casbeer's place, until our regular superintendent, Mr. Moore, returns home. Let's be there at 10:30—everyone. ROSEBUD

GUARANTEE OF DEPOSITS

Deposit guaranty should operate to strengthen the banking system of the country, and to restore to the banks in time many of the millions now deposited in the postal savings. The fruits of public confidence should be general stimulation of business and extension of credit on a surer basis than has prevailed for some years past.

Banks of the United States welcomed the control which the government assumed when the holiday crisis broke. That meant survival for the sound members of the banking system, and a strengthening course for the weak ones. The provisions of the new banking act aim at an extension and continuation of control. Conformity to them is essential to banking soundness that can not be questioned.—Dallas Journal.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

CENTER POINT

Bro. W. T. Sparkman filled his appointment here Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. The crowds at each service were not so large, as there was a misunderstanding among some as to whether there would be church this week end.

There was no singing Sunday afternoon, as almost everyone attended the funeral at Goldthwaite.

The Spinks, Davis and Sheffield families received the news Saturday of the sudden death of their cousin, D. D. Kemper. The family and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community. Mr. Kemper's going east saddens over all who knew him. Clyde Taylor and Geneva Sparkman entered school at Goldthwaite Monday as members of the senior class. We wish for them success in their school work.

Mrs. B. I. Lawson happened to a painful accident Saturday afternoon, when he fell from the barn loft and hurt his arm. Although no bones are broken, the bruises have been quite painful.

Mr. and Mrs. Lois Williams and Miss Georgia Sparkman dined in the Fallon home Sunday.

News Notes Clipped From the Mullin Enterprise

CENTER CITY

A much needed rain fell here Sunday afternoon. It will put pastures and forage crops in fine condition for stock. Also newly broke land is ready for sowing grain. Some had planned fall gardens, but most of them perished in the drought. Those who are planting again may be sure of some vegetables—the quick maturing varieties.

Grandmother Nickols returned last week from West Texas to spend the winter with her daughters, Mrs. Ellis Head and Mrs. Henry Venable.

William Biddle, Miss Gladys Casbeer and Mrs. Chester Head and little son visited in Lometa Saturday afternoon.

Miss Pearl Casbeer left last week for Lometa, where she will teach school again this winter. Her brother, Raymond, accompanied her and will be asenior in that school. All his friends are glad he has this opportunity and feel sure he will make good.

Prof. Hollis Blackwell and sister, Miss Lois, went to Mount Olive last Friday to locate a place for Miss Lois to stay while she teaches there this winter. Hollis teaches again at Pleasant Grove.

Miss Naomi and Anna Bell Langford entered school at Goldthwaite Monday. With these young folks leaving and probably others to join them soon, it will be rather lonesome here and we'll be mighty glad to have them come back again.

Talmage Chatman accompanied the "Help Others" quartet to Cherokee Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Head, Miss Eula-bell Chappell, J. M. Oglesby and family went there Sunday for the San Saba singing convention. If you have not heard this quartet sing you have missed quite a treat. They are the Head brothers, Sam, Aubrey, Arnold and Woodrow. They sang at the convention at Pleasant Grove, probably their first time away from home, and all seemed pleased. We are counting on them to really make good.

Prof. Wm. Huggins is teaching a singing school at Star. He and his wife visited relatives here the first of the week.

The party at Chas. Welch's home Monday night was enjoyed by the young folk here.

Ellis Head and John Mohler Oglesby celebrated their birthdays Tuesday.

Miss Maida Hudson is visiting her brother and other relatives this week.

Tom Nickols of Austin visited his mother and sisters the first of the week.

Bro. Brown came from Mullin Tuesday night to begin a training school here, but on account of busy times it was thought best to postpone the school until a later date. He will come back next Sunday and probably set a date.

CARADAN

Cotton picking is the main object of the day in and around Caradan. We'll all be glad when that job is over, but still our 9-cent cotton does help.

Bro. Hays did not fill his regular appointment here Sunday on account of the illness of his wife. We regret very much to learn of the serious illness of this good woman and friend, and we are sincerely wishing for her a recovery to health. We miss her.

Some from our community attended the funeral of Mr. Kemp-er Sunday. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones. May God's blessings rest on each of you.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Page and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson had business in Dublin Monday.

Those who spent Sunday in the Deward Reynolds home were as follows: Mrs. F. M. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Page, and Bill Anderson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Petsick and little daughter, Jessie Frank and Misses Kate and Laura Petsick visited relatives in Brown county lately.

Little Marian and Don Reynolds are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. F. M. Anderson, this week.

Mark Leverett and family spent the week end in the home of his mother, Mrs. Will Leverett.

Joe and Charlie Anderson sheared goats in the Lake Merritt community last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Anderson called awhile in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe

The Eagle appreciates your order for job printing.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Overstreet of San Antonio were here the first of the week, she visiting in the home of her father, G.H. Frizzell, while he looked after business, as salesman for a wholesale paper house.

It is to every citizen's interest to patronize the home dealers in his community, for they help to pay taxes to support the schools and government, as well as give assistance to those who need any sort of help.

Joe M. Spinks, a leading citizen of Center Point community and a friend of the Eagle of long standing, was a visitor to the city yesterday and told of a rather thrilling experience he had on the road to town when a bumble bee attacked his team and caused them to run and plunge for a considerable distance, when a passing automobile attracted the insect and it deserted the mules.

Spinks, in the Center Point community Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Coley Stevens and little daughter, Leona, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alley Jackson, recently.

Our community was blessed with a good rain Sunday.

SENORITA DOOLITTLE.

P. T. A. SOCIAL

One of the outstanding events in the history of the Mullin high school was the "get acquainted" social sponsored by the P. T. A. on last Friday evening, September 8.

The co-operative spirit of the Mullin patrons was manifested by the goodly number present. This spirit of co-operation is very prevalent in Mullin and is conducive to a successful school term.

An interesting program was presented, which read as follows: Opening address—R. H. Patterson.

Introduction of teachers. Response of teachers. Address to patrons—Supt. Tolbert Patterson.

Piano solo—Mrs. Glenn Kittle. Reading—Miss Mary Lou Preston.

Saxophone solo—Miss Clemmie Mae Hancock.

Address—Rev. L. D. Brown. Violin solo—Burgess Fisher. Words of appreciation and welcome—Miss Nell Kirkpatrick, S. J. Fisher, S. J. Casey and Mayor McNeil.

L. J. Smith played a number of musical selections. Refreshment plates consisting of ice cream and cake were passed to those present.

The faculty consists of the following members: Supt. Tolbert Patterson, Misses Laura Nelson, Sybil Guthrie, Mildred Mills, Clemmie Mae Hancock, Marsalette Summy and Oleta Fisher.

The patrons are to be complimented on their selection of Mrs. S. J. Casey as president of the P. T. A. She is a most admirable and efficient leader. To Mrs. Casey and her co-workers is due the outstanding success of the social.

P. T. A. REPORTER

SLUMBER PARTY

One of the loveliest parties of the season was that given Friday evening for the girls by Mrs. W. H. McFarland as a farewell social for her daughter, Miss Ethel Dean, who is leaving in a few days for John Tarleton College at Stephenville.

The girls came immediately after the P. T. A. open house at the school house. Although it was Friday and 13 girls were there. A gala time was had.

Ice cream and cake was served all through the night and no one tried to sleep. About three o'clock they sang popular songs for some time. A nice breakfast was enjoyed and the girls left wishing Ethel Dean a profitable winter in school.

Those present were Misses Blanche Burkett, Ailine and Ozella Ince, Nell Guthrie, Ida Mae Roberts, Grace Perkins, Wyno Rose Tillman, Pearle Moore, Ethel Dean McFarland, and Merle Lockridge. Out of town guests were Lee Ruth Graves of Lake Merritt, Verdie Smith of Prairie and Callie Ree Jackson of Lubbock.

JUNIOR SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENTERTAINED

The juniors of the Methodist Sunday school and a number of their friends were entertained by their teacher, Mrs. Clem M. Hancock, at her home on Wednesday of last week. Songs and games of every description occupied their time for about two and one-half hours of happy play.

Refreshments were served to the following: Leston Romans, Gerald Davis, Billie Louise Neill, Aline Farmer, Bobbie Casey, Mary Ruth Fletcher, DeAlva Perkins, Marie Clarady, Helen Wigley, Tilma Doyle Knowles, Ernest Lynn Fisher, Jimmie Smith, Joyce Preston, Wilma Preston, Theda Faye Daniel, Bonita Daniel and Oleta Utzman.

Tip Hart and family were called Monday to the bedside of their son, J. T. Hart, at Blanket, who was thought to be suffering from an attack of meningitis. Last report was that he is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney McCurry visited Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Crockett at Bronte on their return home from San Angelo the latter part of the week. They report Mr. Crockett and family "just fine."

Mrs. W. S. Kemp accompanied her son, Wilba Kemp, to Waco Wednesday and he entered Baylor university. Miss Mary Kemp accompanied them to Temple and visited her old friend, Miss Eva Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pafford and children were guests in the O. H. Pafford home Sunday. This was among the first visits for the little grandson, James, to make his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Pafford.

Mrs. R. H. Jones is at home, after a summer on the coast. She was very fortunate in leaving one day prior to the storm and her daughters went a number of miles inland and report no material loss at Ingleside.

Misses Lillian Doris Fletcher, Lee Ruth Graves and Ethel Dean McFarland are among the group of students from here attending John Tarleton at Stephenville this fall and entering this week for a year of study.

Vernon Jones has returned home from a year in Florida, attending the university there. He expects to leave in a few days for Austin, where he will be one of the faculty in the University this year and teach chemistry.

Robert Luther of Oranville, California, spent the first of the week here with his aunt, Mrs. W. H. McFarland, and uncle, C. P. Alberty. Mr. Luther was en route home from a visit to the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago.

The following people were among the out of town guests who were called here to attend the funeral of Baby Patsy Ruth Wilkins: Mr. and Mrs. Newt Dempsey and Shorty Pafford of Post, and Mrs. Gladys McCone of Muleshoe.

Miss Katie Jule Crockett was at home to a merry group of her friends Thursday night. The young people made the best of the last week of vacation and all had a jolly time and this social affair at Miss Crockett's home was a most delightful occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Goodwin were at home to a group of close friends and relatives with a dinner on Sept. 10, and all enjoyed the happy associations as well as the delicious dinner.

The carpenters are at work on the Church of God building and are putting in windows and the completion of the building will be a decided improvement for the church and town.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barton of Lubbock spent the week end with E. L. Burkett and family and his mother, Mrs. Blanche Barton, returned to Lubbock for an extended visit with her son.

MULLIN MAN STATE UNIVERSITY TUTOR

Vernon Jones of Mullin, 1932 graduate of Texas Technological College, was recently selected as a tutor of chemistry in the University of Texas with a stipend of $500 per year. He will work on his doctor's degree, majoring in organic chemistry and minoring in physical chemistry and mathematics.

Jones graduated from the high school in Wichita Falls in 1929. He made a splendid record at Tech, having one of the highest averages in chemistry ever made by a student of the institution. The year after graduation he was awarded a graduate scholarship at the University of Florida. He will receive his master's degree from that institution at the next commencement.

Jones is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Jones of Mullin.—Brownwood Bulletin.

WHITE—ROMANS

Last Wednesday evening, September 6, Miss Esther Romans and Mr. Dan White were united in marriage at the home of Elder I. A. Dyches, he performing the ceremony that made them husband and wife.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Romans of Mullin. The groom is a son of E. F. White, a former Mullin citizen.

The young couple will make their home in the Center Point community.

RECENT SOCIAL ACTIVITY

Miss Tootsie Hancock entertained a group of friends at her home Saturday night, September 2. Miss Teet Fletcher, who is leaving for Tarleton, was the honored guest.

The guests arrived about eight o'clock and interesting games were started. Many amusing games were played on the lawn.

Refreshments consisting of lemonade and cake were served to approximately 16 guests. At a late hour the guests departed hoping for another party soon.

A GUEST.

There were 29 present at Sunday school and church Sunday morning. The B.Y.P.U. was well rendered Sunday night.

We wish to extend our sympathy to the bereaved, E. W. McNutt and family in the loss of his mother, Mrs. Will Guynes in the loss of her brother in Oklahoma, the Kemper children in the loss of their father. May God's richest blessings rest on each and every one of you is our prayer.

John Roberts and wife visited Saturday and Sunday in Ernest Strickland's home in Brady.

Rosebud, I sure was glad to see such a long letter from you. Some one said to me the other day that if my letters continued to grow Mr. Editor would have to add another sheet to the paper. That will be alright. He will not mind it. So you come your long letters and we will fill both sides with good news.

We are glad our neighbor, Mrs. J. O. McClary, is back at home again, after a stay at the lake and a short visit in Fort Worth last week. We are glad her health is better.

Several from here attended the funeral of Grandmother McNutt and Mr. D. D. Kemper at town last Wednesday and Sunday.

There were two who entered school at Goldthwaite from here Monday morning.

Mmes. Joe Roberts and Nickols called in Grover Dalton's home in town Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Zona Robertson from Big Valley spent last week with her son, J. T. Robertson, and family. George Bohannon and family from town attended B. Y. P. U. Sunday night.

Those who helped on the Nickols barn free of charge were Duke Clements from town, Otis and Besse Hutchings, Center Point; Landy Ellis and wife, Fred and Ethel McClary, W. A. Cooke, Joe Davis, Miss Nellie D. Cooke, John Roberts and Joe Roberts and family, Homer Doggett and family from town.

R. C. Webb and wife spent a few days in Lampasas last week visiting relatives. Mrs. W. A. Daniel was real sick last week end, but at this writing she is better. Miss Nellie D. Cooke's friends, Miss Isabelle Bates, from Stephenville, spent a few days last week with Miss Cooke.

Haskell Gatlin and Clark Davis from Rabbit Ridge visited James Nickols Sunday afternoon. Joseph Bowles from town, who has been working for the past weeks for Oscar Gatlin, had a telegram to come out west to begin teaching in a school this week. We are proud for this young man.

J. D. Dewbre and family were called to Brownwood Thursday to the hospital, where their daughter, who lives at May, was to undergo an operation for appendicitis. We hope she can soon be well again.

Mrs. Orby Woody from the suburbs of Goldthwaite made a short stay in this community Thursday morning.

Most of the work on the Nickols barn is completed. Before the work was finished James could tell most everyone how to mix cement. The three Nickols boys, all think now they could build most any sized barn.

Mrs. Eula Nickols and boys visited Zona Robertson from Big Valley in the Robertson and Dunkle homes Monday night.

Those who enjoyed ice cream in the Turner home Sunday were J. M. Traylor and family, Marion Robertson and family, Woody Traylor and family, E. D. Roberson and family and Fred McClary. Allen Ross from town happened to pass, so he was invited in to help eat the cream. He didn't have to be begged.

Mrs. Eula Nickols spent Monday with Mrs. W. A. Daniel and daughter and Walton Daniels and wife Monday.

Joe Davis and family and Mrs. J. C. Stark spent Sunday with Ray Davis and family at South Bennett.

Two of our brilliant young men went to Brownwood Monday to go to Moward Payne. They were Cone Sullivan and Sherrill Roberson.

W. A. Daniel went to Fort Worth Sunday. Miss Oleta came home with her father.

Homer Circle and wife from San Saba spent Sunday with his parents.

If my thumb wasn't so sore I would try to think of more news but it is pretty sore just where the pencil fits. Maybe next week it will be well.

WAGES AND DOLE

This column knows of a Texas postoffice with an annual business of not much more than $12,000, which carries eighteen people on its payroll. We are not saying such a condition is wrong. As everybody is being told, employment is the main thing. The money that is paid out for salaries and wages comes back immediately, through the retail merchant's till. Something can be said for the old dole system, on the ground that dole fund revolves rapidly. It is paid out this week and is spent next week. Britain's dole policy has firm defenders in that country. Nobody starves in England, and unemployment is decreasing. The dole keeps body and soul together but doesn't fatten either. Doleing there has been systemized so that there is little waste. It may be better than haphazard charity, hit or miss appropriations for poor relief. It was formerly alleged that the dole tended to make work abhorrent to the workless millions of Great Britain. That allegation appears to be contradicted by the gradual but notable reduction in the number of dole claimants.—State Press in Dallas News.

Transparent Garment Packer For Traveling

ONE of the newest of the beautiful things for the home is also one of the most practical and also a double need that many ladies have for many years. It is a transparent garment packer wherein the transparent coverings which may be folded for traveling a gown or even the most crushable sort with the knowledge that it will come out unwrinkled, and be protected from dust, or from the stains of powder or face creams that sometimes overturn during a trip.

The picture shows how the gown and case are folded for traveling. Cellophane, moistureproof, is used for the case which will cover even the longest dinner gown. Generous flaps of the same material at ends and sides cover the garment, and gown and packer are folded over three times, not only protecting the dress from stains from the outside but also from rubbing on its own material. Several dresses may be carried at the same time, their hues being apparent through the transparent coverings which are bound at the edges with fabrics in various colors. Another new packing item is a transparent bag for slippers, each bag big enough to hold one pair.

One of the best home features of the garment packer is that when unfolded, it may be hung up in the closet with the gown inside secure from harm. For further ease in identifying the gown, a small flap is provided at one corner beneath which a piece of paper or card may be slipped bearing penciled data

IMPROVING THE HIGHWAYS

Road engineers are constantly seeking means of improving without excessive cost the thousands of miles of concrete and asphalt highways that link the cities of the country. Cobblestone and brick pavings were early discarded because of the general roughness of the surface. Wooden blocks served to deaden the noise of traffic where tried and even fabrics of cotton have been tried, but the same thing is wrong with them all. They wear out.

Engineers and experts are working on a rubber surfacing material, while over in England an iron surfaced street is being tried out.—Pathfinder.

"Proud and glad to do our part"

WITH President Roosevelt's acceptance of the NRA Automobile Code, Chevrolet, the world's largest builder of motor cars, officially begins operations in accordance with the administration's recovery program.

Although the official code was signed only a few days ago, it will be of interest to Chevrolet's many friends to learn that the Chevrolet Motor Company started to carry out the spirit of today's recovery program over three years ago!

At that time, we put into operation a "share-the-work" plan, whereby our workmen cooperated in spreading the work to give more men jobs. By means of this plan, as well as by regulating hours of work per week to meet retail demand, and by building up parts stocks in lean seasons, it was possible to carry 33,000 men on our payroll through the depression. For eleven months of each year since 1929, we have kept our employment within 10 per cent of this average. We are justly proud of that record. We are also proud to say that Chevrolet workmen did not, at any time during the depression, become a burden on public welfare departments.

On August 1st of this year, Chevrolet announced a blanket wage increase as well as the adoption of a 7½-hour, 5-day week and the employment of 12,000 additional men. This wage increase was the second in the last 4 months. Chevrolet having been among the first to put a blanket wage increase into effect.

We feel that the President's recovery program deserves the whole-hearted support of every citizen and manufacturer in America. It is a bold, swift, courageous plan to start the ball rolling toward economic recovery. Its sincerity is unquestioned. Its objectives are admirable. And the direct, forceful steps the President and his associates are taking to make it a success, should stir the pride and admiration of every American.

We are proud and glad to do our part. And we are deeply grateful to the American people for the patronage that has enabled us to anticipate the present recovery program and to play our part today. After all, the immense number of men employed by Chevrolet is a direct result of the continued preference America has shown for Chevrolet.

Bradley Guthrie of Mullin is staying at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. H. Reeves. He is helping put the finishing touches on the new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts visited the Tip Roberts family at Ratler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Egger of Regency called at the Dwyer home Monday morning.

Mrs. Mildred R. Roberts accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Elliott of Brownwood on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. Maxine Cottle, at Hobbs, N. M., last week. Mildred and Maxine were school mates in Brownwood high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reynolds and little daughter, Mirla Nell, Lillard, Gene and Bernice Wilmeth and Ray and Glenn McDearman of Regency visited at the home of Mrs. Effie Egger and her mother, Mrs. Lydia Tippen, Sunday.

Parents of our eleventh grade pupils were busy this week, making arrangements for sending their children off for their senior year. Clayton Egger, Alline Lovelace, Pauline Haynes, Noel Haynes, Odene Russell and Lucille Wilmeth expect to enter the senior class of Brownwood high school next Monday.

Charles White of Los Angeles, who has been visiting at the home of his uncle, S. H. Reeves, started on his return trip home last week. He went by Baird to visit his sister, Miss Anita White, and other relatives there. From there he expected to go by Texhoma to visit his aunt, Mrs. Sam Hodges. He expected to be back in Los Angeles for the opening of school, September 11.

Mrs. Allen Lovelace and daughters, Alline and Joyce, went to Brownwood Sunday afternoon and spent the night with relatives there. While there Mrs. Lovelace completed arrangements for Alline to attend school in Brownwood next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Willis spent Sunday with Mrs. Willis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Crowder.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Austin Cawyer, little Edna Beth Cawyer, Mrs. E. O. Dwyer, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mitchell, Grace Briley and Mrs. Clara Wilmeth were present for a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Briley Sunday after church.

Little Curtis Crowder is sick. Pneumonia is feared.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egger, and J. D. Love ate dinner at the Whittenburg home Sunday.

J. R. Wilmeth and daughters, Lucille and Bernice, Mrs. Effie Egger and son, Clayton, Wood Roberts and granddaughter, Odene, were in Brownwood Monday looking after school arrangements.

Miss Lucille Wilmeth was the guest of Miss Vivian Day at Brownwood Monday.

News of the Week

Application for a self-liquidating federal loan of $6,000,000 to dam the Colorado river near Bronte and irrigate 80,000 to 100,000 acres in Coke and Runnels counties will be sought at the Fort Worth meeting of the committee, Sept. 19.

The strength of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce has been thrown into the fight for suspension of the Texas anti-trust laws, one of the subjects for consideration of the special session of the Texas legislature.

The jingle of reindeer bells was heard in the San Antonio postoffice far ahead of season a few days ago, as a young man appeared to make his application for work during the annual Christmas holiday mail rush. He was told to return December 1.

In Hartford, Conn., a dog was such a pet with children in the neighborhood that when police impounded it for being unlicensed they raided their banks to collect $2 for a tag. They returned the animal to the owner, who has been unemployed and could not afford the license.

Scaling Mount Tompanogos, one of the highest peaks of the Rocky Mountains, is considered quite a feat for young and sturdy mountaineers. Arthur Salt, intrepid Provo mountain climber, thought so little of the accomplishment, however, that he hiked to the top of the peak on his seventy-second birthday last week.

Near Carrollton, Ohio, the other day, Mrs. Margaret Markley Hibbs, celebrated her birthday anniversary. She has lived 106 years and the neighbors gathered to give her a party. Her home has been on the same farm for 40 years, following the death of her husband, who was a veteran of the war between the states. Mrs. Hibbs reveals her secret of longevity as "don't worry."

Engineers in the Denver office of the United States bureau of reclamation recently completed plans for the largest hydro-generators ever conceived. The generators are to be installed in the Boulder dam power plant at a cost of between two and three million dollars. The power plant is completed 15 such generators will be installed, with a total capacity of 1,835,000 horsepower.

A turtle, upon the back of which was carved the inscription, "S. B. W., age 27, April 28, 1754," was found on a farm near Cumberland, Md. Its finder said it was the second time the turtle was captured. It had escaped the last time. Records disclosed that a man bearing the initials inscribed upon the turtle's back had lived on the farm nearly 200 years ago.

A cow recently caused the filing of a suit for $5000 against the town of Manitou, Colo. A citizen sued for that amount, charging that the municipality "wrongfully compelled him to dispose of a cow," while permitting other residents to retain theirs. Because of the cow, he declared, he had been "harassed and persecuted" by the defendant and had suffered damages in the amount demanded.

Yellowstone Park rangers and scientists are still pondering, after 50 years of mystery, over the strange sounds heard over Yellowstone lake every morning in the late summer. The weird inexplicable noises begin like the muffled sounds of birds in flight with whirring, flapping wings, rise quickly in crescendo and end as a sustained note with distinct rhythmic quality. All theories so far offered for the phenomenon have been dispelled by observations.

A posse of 200 men—every one of them ready to shoot—is ready to meet further depredations of gunmen along the Texas-New Mexico border. The posse, made up of sheriffs, deputy sheriffs and former Texas rangers, was created as an answer to a recent epidemic of bank and filling station hold-ups along the Pecos river, once the stamping grounds of "Billy the Kid," notorious western desperado of a half-century ago. The current crime wave resulted in the killing of six well known southwestern peace officers by criminals infesting that region.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

Fall Lingerie Subscribes to New Fitted Lines

Early rumors of the princess silhouette reached the ears of the makers of knitted lingerie. As a result the new fall panties and all-in-ones of rayon and silk, and all rayon jersey are skin-fitting and almost seamless. The new weave might be compared to a silken serge.

This is what they've done to panties. Some are absolutely fitted about the waist, not a gather to be found. A flat pocket at the left side conceals tiny snaps. Other all rayon panties with Alencon lace trimming at the bottom, have a few little shirrings at the waist just on the sides! front and back are flat. And the new yoke line in panties—when there is a yoke—is way lower than the three inch yoke we've been used to. Thus the seams are dropped off the tummy, where they might make ridges under delicate fabric frocks.

And the knitted silk and rayon and lace foundation garments have their new tricks, too. Important shaping emphasizes the bust and gives it an uplifted contour. Carters are detachable.

We hear that these knitted, fitted all-in-ones are being worn over the girdle by smart women who crave a slick silhouette.

The charming chemise had beware of this new competition.

This knitted type of lingerie is dear to the heart of many college girls and business women, who find a saving of time and money in their easy laundering. Many a bathroom rack that boasts monogrammed towels in the day time is adorned with a dainty pantalette at night.

Rainy Days Have Costumes All Their Own.

Smart new raincoats are made of Japanese silk coated with a preparation that gives them a delicate, kid-like surface. The silky inner surface makes them pleasant to wear. They are designed in military double-breasted effects, with composition buttons and water proofed velvet-lined collars. Colors are red, blue, green, brown, champagne, black and white.

In addition to this belted type, another leading raincoat silhouette is the balmacaan, or swag style. Still another is the hip length cape collar over the sleeveless coat, which is especially practical for wear with heavy winter coats. One amusing raincoat of the balmacaan type comes in a husband and wife set.

In addition to the important silk with leather finish, there are waterproof silk crepes, suede fabrics, broadcloths, tweed texture, corduroys, satins, velveteens, oiled silked, simulated pigskin and gaberdine. Quite a collection of fabrics for the humble raincoat.

New Dressing Table Sets Are Smartly Styled

Have you gone modern in your bedroom, and sought in vain for a modestly priced dressing table set that would harmonize with a cream colored rug and black furniture? There is one that would suit you perfectly, combining pyralin and metal in severe and beautiful form. Five articles are included in the set. The mirror is backed with ivory, and edged with a wide black band. The handle is a straight shaft of chromium-plated metal, with a little ball of plastic composition at the end. The brush echoes the design of the mirror, having the same chrome handle. The comb is in jet and ivory pyralin, while a mirror.

BEND GROWERS SELL PECANS

Seven carloads of pecans grown in the Bend community along the Colorado river will be shipped to a San Antonio buyer this fall. The sale was made by the Bend Pecan Growers' association. The price was 8 cents a pound, delivered at Lampasas, the shipping point. Each car will contain 30,000 pounds.

CALL BURCH

Burch is prepared to clean and dress garments for any member of the family and takes orders for made-to-measure garments. See his samples for spring clothing.

tray and puff box of crystal glass with plastic composition cover completes the set.

Or, if your bedroom is decorated in French period furnishings, and you yearn for something modern yet romantic, there is another set that would be just the thing. Even the name has a wistful yearning sound; for it is called the "strolling minstrel" set.

Here is why: Against the colored back of each piece is a little motif outlined with gold depicting some pose of a little singer who plays a guitar and sings to his lady love. This is the first time that a carved motif has been set into the back of a piece of toileware.

Washing Tablecloth on Table Saves Laundry Bills.

Busy housewives who are willing to be practical as long as they can be smart, too, will enjoy the new designs in fabric-koid tablecloths, which are as well styles as their snootiest fabric sisters. These lacquered fabric cloths are heat-resisting, crack resisting and liquid resisting.

The newest design is a delicate large block pattern in fine white lines on beige, green or blue. This lacquered cloth has a lustre like damask. And the pattern is carried on to the border where there are wider stripes of the white.

Another gay pattern for the dinette is the polka dot design, which comes in soft green with white dots, or in beige with dots of green, red or blue. Unbreakable tableware can be found that will match either the dots or the background, and thus form a charming set for breakfast or children's luncheon.

An expensive hand-made peasant linen table cloth was copied to make still another design carried out in lacquered fabric. The pattern here is in the border, where it is carried out in gay reds and blues and greens, but narrow strips of geometrical design criss-cross on the surface of the cloth.

Styles Flashes

A new evening cape that was bought in Paris for a movie star in New York is made of eight silver fox skins. The skins are worked vertically so the wrap is of knee length.

Delicate strands of monkey fur, which has a feather like appearance, are set into the top sections of black and colored antelope suede berets. This is a result of the strong trend for trimmings on hats. A hat without a feather or ornament of some kind is going to look as if it suffers from neglect, this season.

Satin gloves were an immediate fashion success when first they appeared. They seemed a little bulky, however, so clever designers made them up in elastic satin, in street colors, with the result that they fit like classic leather types. They are priced under five dollars.

The oriental influence has had an interesting effect on design this season. Soft colors are used, such as rusty rose, rich China blue and bright lacquer and vermilion tints. These last are found in new suede belts. One shoe designer is using cut outs on evening shoes which resemble the circle motifs of Shinese silk designs. Tiny stand-up neckbands are seen on satin collars and capelets.

Printed and plain satins, mostly in the black and white range, are now being worn for evening. For dinner, black velvet is a pleasant change from flat-surfaced fabrics.

Use This Laxative made from plants

TREDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT is made from plants that come up from seeds and grow in the ground, like the garden vegetables you eat at every meal. NATURE has put into these plants an active medicine that stimulates the bowels to act—just as Nature put the materials that sustain your body into the vegetable foods you eat. In Black-Draught you have a natural laxative, free from synthetic drugs. Its proper use does not make you have to depend on cathartic chemical drugs to get the bowels to act daily. Find out by trying Black-Draught what a good medicine it is for constipation troubles. In 25¢ pkgs. (dry). P.S.—For Children, get the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Tredford's Black-Draught. 25¢ & 50¢ bottles.

33 Bushels Per Acre Wheat Yield For Hoosier Farmer

ALFALFA plus fertilizer produced a bumper wheat crop for H. N. Fowler, of El Dorado, Saline County, Illinois, this year. A six-acre alfalfa field yielded an average of 33 bushels per acre, he reports in a letter to the American Agricultural Chemical Company, leading makers of commercial fertilizer, while his whole 35 fertilized acres averaged 26 bushels. Forty five acres of wheat grown without fertilizer averaged only 8 bushels.

H. N. Fowler, of Saline County, Ill., knows how to raise wheat, as his photograph above shows.

soil when costs for doing so were low. Thus, when prices of farm products improved, I would be in a position to get big yields, and thereby secure larger profits."

Check plots on Mr. Fowler's wheat prove that alfalfa alone will not provide sufficient plant food for a good crop. The addition of 9-16-6 fertilizer at the rate of a hundred pounds to the acre approximately doubled the yield. Three years ago a twenty bushel per acre yield reduced his bushel cost to 43 cents as compared with a bushel cost of $1 when only 8 bu. per acre were grown on unfertilized land. His cost this year should be even less than 43 cents.

Alfalfa rotation, plus fertilizer, is the formula of H. N. Fowler for raising wheat.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miller left Wednesday night for Chicago to see the fair.

Mrs. J. N. Keese has been visiting in Austin the past week.

Miss Elsie McDermott will leave Saturday for Denton, where she will enter the College of Industrial Arts this fall.

Bert Peterson left Wednesday for Stephenville to enter John Tarleton school for the opening term. He is a graduate of Goldthwaite school.

John and Mayfield and his wife and daughter were visiting relatives in this city Wednesday, preparatory to leaving for Austin, where they will spend the winter.

M. Y. Stokes, jr., and his wife and sons are expected to arrive from Fort Sam Houston tonight, to remain at home until Sunday, when they will return to San Antonio.

E. A. Duren of Pompey Mountain section looked after business in the county capital one day this week. Mr. Duren was county commissioner for several years and made a good one. His friends in this city are always glad to meet with him.

Mmes. Walter Fairman and Claude Burch visited in Dallas several days this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Youngblood, who have returned to Dallas to make their home.

Rev. S. O. Hammond and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Yates and Mrs. Walter Bayley were among those who attended the Methodist annual meeting in Lampasas Tuesday.

R. C. Duren was a visitor from Mullin to this city one day this week.

Worth Johnson has entered Howard Payne college for the winter term.

Mrs. Lee Long and children spent the week end with relatives in San Saba.

Miss Leona Pañs and Katie Roth Graham went to Brownwood Monday to enter school.

E. T. Smith of Reed, Okla., spent the past week visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. R. A. Swanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver have returned to Waco, after a visit to relatives here and he is again employed in the public schools of that city.

The Missionary society will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. B. Johnson. A World Outlook program will be presented with Mrs. Wallace Stroud leader.

J. J. Cockrell and sons expected to leave their orchard in Big Valley yesterday with a truckload of apples for the market in Brady and elsewhere. If the apples are as nice as those he left in the Eagle office Wednesday there certainly should be ready sale for them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts visited in the C. E. Strickland home in Brady last Sunday. The family has moved back to their home in town, after living for some time on the ranch. Mrs. Strickland's health is not improved, which is very much regretted by her friends here as well as those at Brady.

District court will convene in this city Sept. 25, which will be one week from next Monday.

Mrs. Elder is spending this week with her daughter, Mrs. Ray Blackburn, and family.

E. B. Gilliam, III, (Sonny) is spending this week in Brownwood with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gilliam.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Johnson and daughter, Miss Anniegene, spent the week end at Beaumont visiting his sister and also visited in Galveston.

Mrs. Allene Smith returned to her home near Comanche Friday, after several weeks visit here with her grandmother, Mrs. Weems, and other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Wm. McCall and daughter of Waco returned home Monday, after a visit in the homes of her sister, Mrs. Dera Humphries, and her aunt, Mrs. E. B. Anderson.

The Cemetery association has had two men, with J. A. Allen as director, at work this week, killing Johnson grass, which is almost taking the grounds at the cemetery. They have used a barrel of poison, which is said to be good in destroying seed and roots of the grass.

Tom Kemper, Mrs. Callie Collins and Mr. and Mrs. William Collins of Clyde, Jim Holt of Cross Plains, V. E. Gotcher of Brownwood, Lester Barrett of Richland Springs, Garland Barrett of San Antonio, attended the funeral of their brother and uncle, Mr. D. D. Kemper, last Sunday.

MR. KEMPER PASSED AWAY

Mr. D. D. Kemper died some time last Friday night in his home in Caradan community and his death was discovered when members of the household entered his room to summon him to breakfast Saturday morning. He was apparently in good health when he retired Friday night and his death is attributed to heart failure, from which he had suffered a long time, although he had only a few previous attacks which had been serious. His son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Starnes, of this city were in the home with him when his death occurred, but he had made no sound and the indications are that he passed away in his sleep.

His remains were brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Grover Dalton, in this city, from which place the funeral took place Sunday afternoon, services being held in the Baptist church, conducted by two of his friends and former pastors, Rev. L. L. Hays and Rev. A. R. Watson, both of whom pronounced beautiful eulogies on Mr. Kemper's life and his value as a Christian and a citizen. The church auditorium was filled to standing room with the friends of Mr. Kemper and family and the service was one of sadness for them all.

Mr. Kemper was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of the county. He was tax assessor of the county for six years from 1916 to 1922 and then served as deputy for his successors in office for another six years. He was one of the best informed men on tax values and tax matters generally of any man in the county and his information and advice in that line was frequently sought and always appreciated.

He was in his 70th year and is survived by his wife and three daughters, Mrs. Grover Dalton and Mrs. H. J. Starnes of this city, Mrs. R. S. Burgess of Denton and by several grandchildren and other relatives.

As a young man Mr. Kemper engaged in school teaching and later engaged in business for a number of years. He was a man of the highest character—honorable and honest to the last degree. He was one of the most industrious and energetic citizens the county ever claimed and was possessed of a jovial and friendly disposition that made him appreciated by all who knew him. He was well versed in the scriptures and took a great interest in church and Sunday school work.

The manner in which he was appreciated as a Christian and church leader was voiced by the two ministers in their talks at the funeral and one of the touching tributes to his memory was the beautiful flowers piled about his bier by a large class of the G. A. girls at the funeral services.

A good man has gone from among us and every man who knew him has lost a friend by his going.

Peace to his ashes and repose to his soul.

A NIGHT ON THE COLORADO

and after a morning swim we prepared breakfast. Jimmie Welch and Elton Roberts shot an aged squirrel and with it and the remains of our midnight supper we had a fairly nice breakfast.

After breakfast some of our crowd patched up the leaky boat and cruised around, some fixed up a swing and did some high diving and some of us hiked up the river to Rock Bluff. This bluff, which is about half a mile up the river from the Robertson shoal, is one of the most picturesque places in Mills county. It is a long, perpendicular shelf of jagged rocks, varying in height from ten to twenty feet. The top of Rock Bluff affords a splendid view of the river and of the Catclaw community in San Saba county. After climbing up and down the bluff, making snapshots of some of the beautiful scenes, and taking a ride in a borrowed boat, we came back to camp, where most of the others were assembled.

At 11 o'clock we broke camp and started home, each one having the memory of a glorious night on the Colorado stamped indelibly on his or her mind.

News of the Week

President Roosevelt has directed that $63,000,000 be made available for five areas hit by floods and other disasters. The areas are North and South Dakota, where there has been drought and grasshopper plague; the Panhandle section of Texas; the Rio Grande valley and a portion of Florida.

Harvey J. Bailey, accused planner of the $200,000 Urschel kidnaping in Oklahoma City, will resist trial in Oklahoma county "because officers have expressed personal hatred for him and inflamed the people." A demand for change of venue to the Tulsa or Muskogee Federal courts probably will be made, counsel for the notorious gunman revealed as a last-minute strategy to avert scheduled trial to begin Monday.

Funeral service were planned yesterday for Mrs. Nesbit Brawley, 24-year-old mother, who died in a hospital in Gilmer Wednesday, after vainly attempting to rescue her two children from fire which engulfed the farm home. The young mother poured kerosene in a kitchen stove to start a fire. The can exploded, throwing liquid fire over the room. Brawley was seriously burned in attempting to rescue his wife and children.

City gas rates charged by the Lone Star Gas company were ordered reduced from 40c a 1000 cubic feet to 32c by the Texas Railroad Commission. It was estimated the rate reduction will mean a saving of $1,400,000 annually to rate payers on the Lone Star system in Texas. This decision by the commission climaxed a five-year fight by Texas municipalities served by the Lone Star, numbering more than 250, for a regulated gate rate.

MARCH TOWARD REPEAL

STEADY AND UNBROKEN

The elections of Monday and Tuesday added four more states to the repeal column, bringing the total to twenty-nine and leaving but seven more to provide the majority required for ratification of the twenty-first amendment. The single-track-mindedness of the states that have recorded their will leaves little doubt of the final verdict. Repeal seems inevitable, and it may go on record that none of the states voted against it.

That possibility is strengthened by the fact that such a dry stronghold as Maine has been for these many years joined the procession and that Volstead's Minnesota also fell in line. Acceptance of the inevitable may be the only course open, and all advocates of strict control of the traffic in the congress, the state legislatures and the ranks of the citizens will do well to give study to sound regulatory measures designed to keep the business in check and to provide adequate protection to states that want to remain wholly or partially dry.—Dallas Journal.

NUDIST COLONY IN TEXAS

A report from Houston says the southwest nudist movement now has a postoffice box, a site and an organizer, named Sevier, 31, a black-haired, athletic man, who says sun-bathing helped him get rid of his sinus trouble.

The movement has no members, but will have as soon as Nudist Sevier gets a six foot fence built around his grove of pine trees in a Houston suburb and has gymnasium equipment set up on the plot.

"The fence isn't going to keep outsiders from seeing us," explained Sevier. "In fact, it will be lattice work.

If you and twenty-five other nudists are in an inclosure, another pair of eyes won't hurt you.

"The clothes women wear give them glamour, cause curiosity and mental complexes," said Sevier. "That is not good."

He will hand-pick his members, taking care to admit no abnormal persons of "Peeping Toms" to Shady Acres.

"Nudism must be kept on a high plane," he said.

EBONY

Three services were held at the tabernacle here Sunday. J. B. Jones of Brownwood preached at the morning service. Jim Nicholson, Goldthwaite, preached in the afternoon and night.

Miss Merle Haynes, Noel Haynes and Pauline Haynes left Saturday for Brownwood, where they will attend school this year. Noel will enter Howard Payne college.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dwyer, Mrs. Austin Cawyer and Edna Beth Cawyer visited the Ernest Durham family at Elkins Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McNurien and little son from San Saba county visited the Billie McNurien family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Reeves, Mrs. Mildred R. Roberts and Charles Stanley Roberts returned Sunday afternoon from a two days trip to San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts and Miss Odene Russell visited Mr. and Mrs. Billie McNurien Sunday. Miss Odene went to Brownwood in the afternoon to be ready for the opening of school Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Reynolds visited at the Tippen home Sunday.

J. D. Love is picking cotton for Bob Egger this week.

After four weeks spent at the Briley home, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Mitchell left Monday morning for Fannin county. They expected to spend Monday night with Mrs. J. F. Bateman in Fort Worth. Then they would go on to Telephone to spend the rest of their vacation with Mr. Mitchell's mother, Mrs. Virginia Mitchell. By the last of the week they expect to be at home at Bailey near Bonham. The Bailey school, of which Mr. Mitchell is principal, will open Friday, Sept. 15.

Everett Philen of Regency visited his aunt, Mrs. Effie Egger, Sunday.

Clayton Egger went to Brownwood Sunday afternoon to be ready for the opening of school Monday morning.

Miss Evelyn Reeves spent Saturday night with her cousin, Mrs. Nell Singleton.

J. B. Jones and his wife and baby of Brownwood spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilmet.

Allen Lovelace took his daughter, Miss Alline, to Brownwood Sunday afternoon that she might be ready to enter school Monday morning.

Mr. Moore of Bend visited the pecan orchards in our community last week.

Bob Egger has been suffering for three weeks with a bad foot. Something like a spider bite.

Miss Lucile Wilmet left Sunday afternoon for Brownwood, where she will attend high school this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horton and children of Bangs visited and fished at the Wilmet place Thursday night.

BIG VALLEY

Bedford Renfro visited in the valley last week, en route home from conducting the funeral of the little daughter of Mr. a Mrs. Owens.

We want to say Big Valley appreciated the play Cat Claw on in our school house. Get together affairs like that are helpful to the morale of a community.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ogles took their boy, Cartwright, Temple last week to have tonsils removed. He is now again doing well.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Denna were home Sunday making practical use of the Bible teaching by taking care of a mother at babe that came their way. "Obey is better than to sacrifice and to harken than the fat rams."

Jeremiah Roberts, who lived in the valley some years ago passed through the other day. He ate dinner with Hugh Denna. His wife is a daughter of John Long.

John Burnett coming home Monday night was blinded by car light as he came around the Lawson hill and ran into the ditch. All this explains why he was wearing a plaster on his nose. Fortunately no serious injuries.

Sunday is preaching day. Where you are there?

Mr. McNeil from the Big Grande county loaded a truck of apples in the valley Tuesday. He came this way with citrus fruit before the storm in his section.

Jim Hays spent the day home Monday. He reports Mr. Hays much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sykes and Lavern spent Sunday in town. Judge Robert Weaver and wife are home from seeing the fair in Chicago. Guess he met Hus Johnson and got a pointer. Any way he is having a new rosette on his Big Valley home.

CARD OF THANKS

The members of the Kemp family are sincerely thankful to all of their friends for the great kindness shown them and the sympathy expressed for them at the time of their bereavement. Everything that good friends could do for them was done promptly and the sympathetic spirit that was displayed cannot be forgotten. The beautiful flowers and the kind expressions and acts will ever be remembered by every member of the family.

where she will attend high school this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horton and children of Bangs visited and fished at the Wilmet place Thursday night.
