VOLUME FORTY-ONE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1934.

NUMBER SIX

District Court Second Week

The second week of district court convened Monday and continued in session until Tuesday afternoon, when an adjournment was taken until next Monday. Judge Brewster was unable to be here, on account of the illness of his daughter and he secured Judge R. B. Cross of Gatesville to preside in his stead. It is thought Judge Brewster will preside over the court next week, as his daughter's condition is reported to be much improved.

Only two cases were tried by juries this week and both resulted in a mistrial.

State vs. Oran Conway, charged with felony theft; plea of guilty and punishment assessed at two years in the penitentiary.

State vs. Grover Dixon, charged with felony theft; mistrial.

State vs. Olan Langlitz, charged with burglary; mistrial.

The cases of Raymond Wilson, Vivian Milam and Orvil Johnson, charged with robbery with firearms, have been set for Monday and a special venire of 108 men summoned to appear at 10 o'clock. The court has appointed F. P. Bowman and E. B. Gilliam to defend the parties.

It is likely the criminal docket will require all of the time of the court next week, which will complete the time allotted for the fall term of the court at this place.

There are a number of civil cases to be tried, including eight divorce cases.

LISTING CERTIFICATES

Any cotton producer holding surplus cotton tax exemption certificates may dispose of them as follows:

1. He may hold them over for his personal use in 1935, in the event the act is in effect at that time.

2. He may sell them to another cotton producer living in the same county where certificates were originally issued.

3. He may surrender them to county assistants in cotton adjustment for sale through the national pool.

All certificates listed for sale in the national pool will be surrendered by the producer and sent in to Washington for sale at 4 cents per pound. Any certificate not sold by the national pool will be returned to the producer and may be used by him in 1935, if the act is in effect at that time.

Anyone having surplus certificates and unable to find a local sale are urged to list certificates at once for sale in the national pool.

If certificates are listed in national pool your share in whatever amount is sold at the rate of 4 cents per pound and remaining portion unsold will be returned to the individual producer who listed them.

Methodist Notes

The writer of these inoffensive and non-important notes has been so busy with other duties which seemed important, that the readers came near missing the effusions of this week. One of these responsibilities was a day spent out at the Gatlin ranch, trying to impress the manager of that rather extensive institution, his superior knowledge as to the correct way to care for cattle, sheep, goats, armadillos and other livestock. I fear that the knowledge which I tried to impart was not properly appreciated. Another thing to take my valuable time from the Eagle readers, was a fishing trip to Ratler with Judge Darroch. There we used all the persuasive argument and eloquence of two rather loquacious professions to induce the finnie tribe to contribute to an attractive dinner for us. Well, we made rather a poor out in our attempt. So far as this writer is concerned, his friends all admit that there may be poorer fishermen in Texas than he, but no one ventures the information as to where they may be found. Fish seem to be perfectly safe with such sorry fishermen around.

But what place does a talk about fishing especially fit into these notes? None whatever, I suppose, except that there has always been some relationship between preachers and fishing.

It was announced in these notes last week that the last quarterly conference for the year was to be held Monday night of this week. The date was changed and the meeting is to be held tonight. Let all take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Our afflicted folk are getting along very well, Capt. Walters has not been well enough to attend church for three weeks. He is rapidly recovering from the jolt he got by coming in contact with a moving car. We hope soon to have him persuading music out of that horn which for years he has used in the choir. We miss Bro. Kelley very much. His fractured shoulder is rapidly recovering. It has been many years since Bro. Kelley missed a service in the Methodist church at Goldthwaite, if he was in town. We miss his face.

Only three more Sunday remain of this conference year. Let us all be present at all these services.

JERNIGAN-BURKS

Sunday morning at half past eight o'clock, Mr. Malcolm Jernigan and Miss Letha Burks were united in marriage by Rev. J. S. Bowles at his home in this city. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoover.

Both these young people are products of Mills county, both having been reared here, where they are highly esteemed for their genuine worth.

Immediately after the ceremony they departed for Fort Worth and Dallas, where they will visit for a few days. They will continue to reside in Mills county.

SELF CULTURE CLUB

The initial meeting of the twenty-ninth year of the Self Culture club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. R. M. Thompson. Everyone seemed anxious to begin work, as was shown by the good attendance.

The program was very interesting. We were glad to welcome our two new members, Misses Love Gatlin and Louella Patterson.

The club is sponsoring the placing of new school zone signs and widening the sidewalk on College street, or at least smoothing it to keep the children from having to walk in the street.

Mrs. Thompson was assisted by Mrs. Henry Martin in serving refreshments.

Highway Work Is Increased

Work on highway No. 81 will be largely increased, according to information reaching Resident Engineer G. R. Burtner, and others in connection with the highway work.

The first appropriation made for the work on this highway in Mills county was $9000, to be used at the rate of $3000 per month. Word now comes that $36,000 has been apportioned to this highway by the highway commission to be used on the same basis as the former appropriation, i. e. $3000 per month. This $36,000 may include the $9000 already expended, but in any event it is a good and liberal appropriation and has increased the zeal of the advocates of improved highways in this county.

It is hoped and believed that after the right of way for 74A is secured the allotment for work in this county will be largely increased.

CAPELLA'S REPORT

The Glee club met this afternoon in Mrs. Sullivan's studio and organized the club for another year.

The following officers were elected: Ima Lois Bayley, president; Gertrude Johnson, vice president; Alleen Martin, secretary and treasurer; Naomi Langford, reporter.

Sixteen girls have joined and others will probably join later. Mrs. Sullivan, as well as the sixteen members, seemed very enthusiastic and full of vim and vigor.

Each girl has decided to work hard and set as her goal — to win at Belton. Mrs. Sullivan, in addition to working twice each week with the glee club, has decided to give each girl an extra 45 minutes in sight reading of music and voice training.

Mrs. Sullivan's leadership and ability can not be doubted, as she is well known over the country for her training and the determination of each girl. We are going to Belton and bring back that cup.

TRAIN HITS CAR

Last Saturday night R. G. Blackburn's automobile, occupied by Henry Blackburn and two Casbeer boys, had a head-on collision with a Santa Fe freight train at the Fifth street grade crossing and as a result the front end of the car was badly damaged. The accident occurred as the passenger train south bound and a freight train going in the opposite direction were passing. The driver of the car was blinded by the light from the passenger engine and did not see the freight train until too late to stop. None of the occupants of the automobile were hurt, but the damage to the car will reach several hundred dollars.

FINE APPLES

J. J. Cockrell, the fruit grower, who always grows a crop — rain or no rain — brought a sample of his yellow delicious apples to the Eagle office this week. These, he said, were culled from the samples he was sending to the Dallas Fair for exhibition. He has been awarded first prize on this variety of apples several times in succession and has never missed getting first place when he made the exhibition. The Eagle confidently believes he will get "in the money" this time.

P. T. A. PROGRAM

P. T. A. program for Oct. 9. Leader — Mr. Ramsey. Introduction of senior class — Mrs. Barnett.

Song, "The Eyes of Texas" — led by Daphne Evans, accompanied by Mrs. Smith.

Talk on Texas Centennial. Business session.

Cotton Market

The issuing of the cotton certificates made quite a rush of cotton to the market and, as a result, the market has been somewhat lower. Yet, the present price of 12-1-4 would seem pretty good if we had not received a better price earlier in the season. However, many believe the market will react after the effects of the rush, coupled with the seasonal receipts and that a better price will be received in a short time.

As the producers and business people have come to understand the provisions and object of the Bankhead law they seem more friendly to its provisions and it is doubtful if any considerable number could be found to advocate its repeal. One thing is pretty certain and that is that most producers and landowners will be willing to sign up for a reduction of the crop next year as it is morally certain the law will continue in operation for the 1935 crop.

ROCK SPRINGS OIL WELL

The well being drilled in Rock Springs community prospecting for oil is said to have reached a depth of approximately 1200 feet and the promoters and drillers are very hopeful. The work on the well has been shut down for several days on account of a broken cog in the main machinery and it was necessary to carry the part to Wichita Falls to have the repairs made.

It is the purpose of those directing the drilling to go down 1700 feet or more, as it is believed oil will be found around that depth.

VOTING ON PROGRAM

Fear that white and negro tenant farmers might not have ample opportunity to express their views has led AAA officials to set aside a plan for referendum among cotton growers on the form of next year's voluntary adjustment program.

Only a few days ago enthusiasm for the referendum idea — now being tried out on the corn and hog phase — had reached the point where a note on the voluntary cotton program seemed assured.

Now, the consensus is to confine southern voting to the Bankhead compulsory bill, since the referendum to see whether it should be continued for another year is called for by the act itself.

ELIMINATING UNWORTHY

Texas relief officials have invoked stringent provisions of the recently enacted relief law in a determined drive to eliminate unworthy recipients from relief rolls.

Exhausted relief funds necessitate paring of rolls to persons actually in need, Adam R. Johnson, state director, told county administrators. Meanwhile Claude D. Teer, chairman of the state board of control, the state agency designated as relief administrators, left for Washington at the request of the assistant relief administrator. Teer expected to confer with Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator and Williams on the Texas relief situation.

Texas has pending an application for an advance of $2,000,000 to provide direct relief until proceeds from the sale of $1,000,000 state bonds are available later in the month. Other applications pending aggregate $4,000,000 for subsidiary forms of relief.

Last available funds have been mailed to Texas counties.

CENTENNIAL SEALS

The Art and Civic club of this city is selling centennial seals for the benefit of the museum. Those desiring to help in the good work can communicate with Mrs. J. H. Saylor or other members of the club and the seals will be delivered to them at half cent apiece.

Livestock Buying Will Continue

To date 5083 cattle has been sold to the government and a quota of 500 has been set for next week. This quota will be given to the 224 producers who have not sold any cattle. Prospects are good that congressmen and stockmen from Texas now in Washington, will succeed in securing additional livestock quotas for Texas. The 500 quota is being prorated and buying will start next Monday, following the schedule here given: Precinct 1, Monday; Precinct 2, Tuesday; Precinct 3, Wednesday, and Precinct 4, Thursday.

The sheep buying is nearing a finish with 11,000 bought. Goat buying will start soon with all individual quotas out to 47 per cent.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Ira Alldredge honored her little son, Gasland, with a birthday party Saturday afternoon.

Interesting games were played, after which the birthday cake, containing the emblems and four candles, was cut, which caused much merriment among the little folk. It was served with a fruit drink to the following and many of the mothers: Juanita Harper, Mary Joe Carter, Bobby Lee, Roddy Walton, Mary Leigh Alldredge, Charles Royce Head, Sammy Lane McCasland, Veta Fay Simpson, Mary Margaret Simpson, Nelda Mae Harper, George Coleman Walton, Nelson Ray Harper, Naomi Ruth Harper, Haskel Robertson, Jim Tom House, Duane Robertson, Winnie Lee Tumlison, Brockie D. McCasland, Lottie Lizzie Carter, Doris Alene Harper, Billie Harper, Billie Joe House, Oneta Fay Tumlison, Norman Tumlison and the little honoree, Garland Alldredge.

He received many nice presents from his little friends, who wish for him many more birthdays.

A NEIGHBOR

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. McPherson celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Tannehill, nee Doris McPherson, in Fort Worth last Sunday. All of the children were present and a most delightful day was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Littlepage were among the guests on the happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. McPherson now live at Vineyard, near Fort Worth, but they lived in Mills county a good many years and have a great many friends here who are glad to offer good wishes to them and express hopes for many more happy years for them.

TEXAS CENTENNIAL

All Texans can play a vital part in celebrating the 100th birthday of their state in 1936 by contributing ideas for songs, slogans, and other features that can be utilized in connection with the Texas Centennial celebrations to be held at San Antonio, Houston, Goliad, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Huntsville, Gonzales, Galveston, Dallas and other cities in the state that year. Subject matter for the songs, slogans and ideas cover a large field because of the many historic communities and events related to Texas' progress, all of which are to be commemorated in a suitable manner.

CORN-HOG REFERENDUM

All signers of corn-hog contracts will have opportunity to vote by ballot on the continuation of the program through 1935. The vote will be taken Saturday, Oct. 6, at 2:30 p. m. in the district court room. The ballots will be "for" or "against" continuing the program next year. Should the "against" vote carry, the program and payments for 1935 will be withdrawn.

Baptist Reminder Commissioners Will Convene

Our B. T. S. came up to 100 Sunday night. This is the largest number we have had since we started the organization. Our B. T. S. is something like a year old now. It has grown in interest from its beginning. The B. T. S., under the direction of Mrs. T. F. Sansom, is giving a social tonight, Oct. 5. All our church people and friends of the church are urged to be present. You will enjoy every bit of it.

Our Sunday school superintendent, F. P. Bowman, was well pleased Sunday morning, since all our teachers, either were present or had a substitute. We had 152 present, which was a good attendance. We should try to make it better, now that vacation time is over.

I feel that the Baptists of this county made a very progressive move at our fifth Sunday meeting Sunday afternoon, when we perfected an organization of our work in this county. Floyd Sykes of Big Valley was elected as our president and Mrs. T. F. Sansom was elected as our secretary. We will meet every fourth Sunday afternoon in each month, except in the month when we have five Sundays. We will continue to have our fifth Sunday meeting and have our program on Sunday afternoon, which will not interfere with our first Sunday meeting program. Our first meeting will be held at Scallorn Baptist church and we urge that every church in the county plan to be represented. A program is to be arranged later.

We are changing our services on Sunday evening from 7 and 8 to 6:30 and 7:30. You are urged to be present at all our services Sunday.

Sunday school 10 a. m. Sunday morning.
Preaching 41 a. m. Sunday morning.
B. T. S. 6:30 p. m. Sunday evening.
Preaching 7:30 p. m. Sunday evening.

FRANKLIN E. SWANNER

MONDAY'S BIBLE STUDY

Circle No. 1 met in the home of Mrs. Allen Ross, our new chairman for the coming year. Ten answered roll call. Mrs. Otis Carothers read the twelfth chapter of Romans, after which Mrs. E. B. Anderson led in prayer. We then went into a business meeting and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Ross, chairman; Mrs. Wm. Johnson, teacher; Mrs. Ed. Gilliam, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Flora Jackson, reporter.

The orphans' home box was discussed and every one was willing to donate to this great cause. Mrs. Johnson brought a very interesting lesson on the book of Romans, first giving us a history of its writer, Paul.

Mrs. Ross, assisted by Mrs. Gal-lowsay served a delicious drink and cake.

As we are entering upon a new year's work, let us put much time and thought in our lessons. Let's give to Him the best that is within us for He has given so much to us. Let us make our circle one of the best circles, if not the best, in our W. M. U., and in this way co-operating with our president, Mrs. Carl Bledsoe we will do much for the ongoing of our Master's kingdom.

We will meet with Mrs. Charlie Tudd next Monday afternoon with Mrs. Jeff Priddy leading the devotional.

EVERYONE COME. REPORTER

NEW POSTMASTER

M. Y. Stokes, Jr., has been appointed acting postmaster at Goldthwaite, replacing Mrs. Stokes, who has served as postmaster here for several months. He will assume the duties of the office as soon as an eligible officer can be secured to relieve him as public relations officer in Fort Sam Houston. During the interim Mrs. Stokes will continue in charge of the post office at this place.

SCHOOL NOTES NEXT WEEK

The pupils of the public schools of the city will begin next week the contribution of a column of school notes to the Eagle each week, under the heading of The High School Herald. All school activities, including athletics, are to be included in the column, which will be submitted to Superintendent A. H. Smith before being published. Those who have contributions for the column are requested to hand them in Mr. Smith and he will submit them to this office, after giving them his o. k.

Commissioners Will Convene

Commissioners court is to convene in regular monthly session Monday and Judge R. J. Ger-sald will preside over the court for the first time.

Some important matters are to come before the court, as well as the regular routine matters. Considerable interest will be taken in the developments of the term.

BLUECATS VS. EAGLES

After an embarrassing defeat by Lometa on Sept. 20, and a week's hard work, the Goldthwaite Eagles showed lots of scrap against the Comanche Indians last Friday, Sept. 28. The score though 0-0 was pleasing enough to those who saw the game. Unlike last year, the Eagles plowed right on through the final quarter of the game, giving everything they had for a touch down. The pep squad gave excellent support to the team all through the game. That is the good thing about football, even the onlookers play their part.

The starting players on both teams were:

Goldthwaite	Comanche
Campbell	LE Setterfield
Ed Soules	LT Carver
B. Johnson	LG Newsome
E. Doggett	C Huffman
G. Johnson	RG Barrett
Lucas	RT Carter
Coffman	RE Hall
Todd	QB Mahan
McDermott	FB Walker
Rudd	LH Swetzier
Ford	RH Williams

During the game Huddleston, Jones, Carter and Wallace Johnson substituted at tackles, Davis and Yefborough substituted in the backfield for the Eagles.

Ford, Campbell, Todd and Doggett showed up for the Eagles, while Mahan, Swetzier and Huffman starred on the Indian side.

Tonight at Coleman the Eagles will play a night game against the Blue Cats. We haven't played Coleman in four years, since Gray, Locklear, Bledsoe and the Nickols brothers were on the team. That year the Eagles tied Coleman 0-0. This year we're all hoping that the Eagles will take the field.

AN OLD PAPER

C. J. Duey of Big Valley brought to the Eagle office a few days ago a very old and interesting newspaper. It is the Boston Weekly Globe, dated April 8, 1834, and contains much that is interesting regarding events of that time. One subject is the power of the federal government to issue an unlimited amount of paper money. An account is given of the beginning of a gigantic coal miners strike and it gives an account of a reception in the White House in Washington by Mrs. McElroy honoring Mrs. Grant. The paper belongs to Mrs. N. A. Duey and was taken from the effects of her father, Mr. A. J. Howard, who died in San Saba in 1924. It is the purpose of the family to put the paper on exhibition during the centennial in 1936. It will certainly be interesting to all who see it.

Lois and Eula Belle Dewbre visited in the Daniel and Dewbre homes Monday afternoon.

Harry Oglesby and Jack Dennard from Big Valley went to Fort Worth with W. A. Daniel last week with a load of cattle. Ask Jack Dennard where they slept and what kind of cover they used. If they go again I expect they will need heavier cover than before.

Since the cattle killing and shipping, some are canning meat again this week.

There was a party at Mrs. Eula Nickols' Friday night. Saturday

CARING FOR THE AGED

The problem of caring for the aged has been complicated by many factors during the last few years. The work of doctors and dietiticians has enabled more people than ever to live to old age, but jobs for elderly workers have become increasingly scarce. Moreover, the chill blasts of economic depression have made it impossible for many to save for old age, and the relatives of many of the aged have been unable to provide for them.

That cruel relic of the middle ages, the poor farm, has been until recently the only American provision for the needy aged. At present, however, twenty-eight states, plus Alaska and Hawaii, have followed the example of foreign countries in putting old-age pension laws in operation, and President Roosevelt has promised to seek old-age pension legislation from the next congress. Texas and most of the other southern states have been lax in this respect.

State old age pensions have varied greatly in their provisions and in their results. In general, however, pensions have been found cheaper than poorhouses, as well as more humane. That Texas people are interested in the enactment of old-age pensions in this state was attested by the popularity of pension planks in the platforms of Democratic aspirants for the governorship. The next legislature will do well to give this subject its serious attention, whether or not federal aid becomes available for state old age pension systems.—Dallas News.

Joe Roberts and family from town spent Sunday in John Roberts home.

J. A. Johnson and wife and Vernon Johnson and family from San Saba county spent the day in the Ellis home Sunday.

Mrs. Homer Doggett and Janice spent Friday night in the Nickols home.

Shirley Nickols spent Saturday night in his mother's home. Dwight Nickols and wife also visited in the home Sunday afternoon.

Raymond Williams from Center City visited with the Robertsons and Dunkle families Saturday night.

Horace Cooke spent Saturday night with his father. He likes his school work fine at Center City.

Rabbit Ridge, I am so glad the little rabbits won't have to hop to school this year. They are very lucky to live close to their teacher's route. I hope they don't have any car trouble.

The sheep killing was at the J. F. Davis place last Tuesday. It seems bad to see our stock condemned. Some of the men can't see why the government don't condemn some of the women. Well, it is just like the stock — some would be shipped and some knocked in the head. I feel sure it would be the same way if the men were turned over to the government. BUSY BEE

Black-Draught For Dizziness, Headache Due To Constipation "I have used Theodora's Black-Draught several years and find it splendid," writes Mr. G. W. Hooley, of St. Paul, Va. "I take it for dizziness or headache (due to constipation). I have never found anything better. A short while ago, we began giving our children Syrup of Black-Draught as a laxative for colds and little stomach ailments, and have found it very satisfactory." Millions of packages of Theodora's Black-Draught are required to satisfy the demand for this popular, old reliable, purely vegetable laxative. 25¢ a package. "Children like the Syrup."

EDUCATIONAL MATTERS

The public school teachers of Texas through the state department of education and the state association of teachers are undertaking a statewide study leading to a curriculum revision. The purpose of the study is three-fold, first that the subjects now taught may be evaluated from a standpoint of their real worth to the boys and girls of the present day; second, that those adjudged of little worth, if any are so found, may be dropped from the list of subjects taught and more worthwhile subjects put in their place; third, that a more uniform plan of teaching may be adopted throughout the entire state.

For the purpose of carrying on this work the state has been divided into twenty-one sections. The section affecting Mills county includes eleven counties as follows: Shackelford, Stephens, Callahan, Eastland, Coleman, Brown, Comanche, Hamilton, Lampasas, San Saba and Mills.

A. H. Smith, superintendent of the Goldthwaite public schools, is general chairman for the entire district. He will be assisted in the work by Miss Opal Gilstrap, deputy state superintendent, a local chairman from each county, and advisors from the colleges located in the district.

The plan is that the work shall continue through a period of four years, the first year being given over to a study of the conditions as they exist; during the second year it is planned that definite remedies for the existing errors may be worked out; the newly organized courses will be tried out during the third year and by the end of the fourth year it is hoped that successful courses will have been installed in all the public schools of the state.

Independent organizations such as ladies' clubs, parent-teacher associations and any other civic organizations are invited to participate in the study. The ultimate aim is that the schools may render a more worthwhile service to the youth of the land.

The state health department through the extension division of the University of Texas is conducting a statewide study this year to determine the cause of absence of pupils from school. To carry on this study fifty schools scattered throughout the state have been selected. Goldthwaite is included in the fifty. The co-operation of both parents and pupils is asked in the work. Every absence from the local schools is reported to the state office and the reason for that absence given.

During the month of September 32 pupils were absent from high school with the reasons given as follows: Truancy, 1; sickness in home, 1; work, 9; sickness of pupil, 15; out-of-town, 5; miscellaneous, 1. In the elementary grades 42 absences were reported with reasons assigned as follows: Out-of-town, 6; sickness of pupil, 17; sickness in home, 3; car trouble, 1; work, 13; miscellaneous, 2. Thirty-two absences were reported from the primary grades with causes assigned as follows: Working, 4; out-of-town, 5; sickness in home, 1; sickness of pupil, 19; miscellaneous, 4. A. H. SMITH

SOUTH BENNETT

There was a good crowd at Sunday school Sunday morning. We are hoping to increase our number. Let's all try to be there next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blackburn and baby moved last week and Townsend Perry and family are now occupying the place where Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn lived. Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn moved on Bob Blackburn's place, recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Perry. We welcome Mr. Perry and family into our community.

Miss Rose Miller was sick one afternoon last week and was unable to attend school. Evelyn Covington taught school in her place during the afternoon.

Aaron Stacy is attending the school at Center City this year. He is staying with his aunt, Mrs. Wm. Biddle.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer visited in the Travis Griffin home Wednesday afternoon. M. L. helped Mr. Griffin haul baled hay.

Miss Rose Miller spent the week end at her home in Big Valley.

Walter Simpson and family sat until bed time with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Covington Friday night.

J. W. Hill was brought home from the hospital at Brownwood last week. He is somewhat improved and we are hoping he will soon be well. B. R. Casbeer visited him in the Willis Hill home awhile Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond Bodkin visited in the Claud Smith and Willie Smith homes one evening last week.

We are certainly glad to know that the ones who were injured in the wreck at Waco, are doing so well and are hoping they will all be well soon.

Dan Covington and wife took Aaron Stacy to Center City Sunday afternoon to Mrs. Biddle's.

J. M. Casbeer of Anson is visiting his parents, B. R. Casbeer and wife, and other relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer and children spent several days last week in the B. R. Casbeer home, while work is being done to reconstruct the small house on the Casbeer place, where Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Casbeer plan to move. Jake Saylor moved the house Saturday. The house has been used for a feed house, but by several days' work will soon be ready for Mr. and Mrs. Casbeer to live in.

Barton Smith and family visited in the Claud and Willie Smith homes Sunday afternoon. Thirty were enrolled the first day of school, while there are a few who haven't started yet. This

NEWS FLASHES

Dr. Mary Sanborn of Meredith, N. H., has officiated at the birth of more than 5000 babies, and has been married twice.

A statement from Rome says: "Crime as it is known in America, crime on a grand scale, has been driven out of Italy under the Fascist regime. When a crime does occur it is apt to have some comic element about it. It is almost as though criminals feel so out of place that when they do plan a 'job' they feel called upon to 'clown.' The most recent crime of this type was in the Commune of Treviso. A 75-foot bridge over the river Sile was stolen during the night and no trace has been found of it. The bridge, built of American cedar, was constructed shortly after the war and had been in use ever since. Then came one day the peasants nearby awoke and found it gone. Even the pilings which had supported it had been sawed off just at the water level.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle must observe its rule of long standing of making a small charge for articles written by persons giving their views on any public issue. Matters of public record or on current events are news, but private views in advocacy or opposition to political or personal issues come legitimately under the head of advertising. There is no good reason for expecting to give voice to one's views at the paper's expense. The editor pays a good price for this privilege, as the preparation of every line for publication costs real money.

Postal clerks and bankers in Springfield, Mo., have completed a jigsaw puzzle worth $1500. About a week ago a woman appeared at the postoffice with a bag of paper money worth that amount. She had torn the currency into fragments and hidden the pieces, because she was afraid of thieves.

Ninety million Russian voters, 10,000,000 more than there were three years ago, will participate in Soviet general elections to be held starting Nov. 10, to elect the delegates to the seventh All-Soviet Congress. The 10,000,000 new voters are mostly children and youths, sons and daughters of Kulaks, who are doing useful work for the Soviet Union.

One hundred and thirty banks in 121 counties of West Texas have qualified to make modernization housing loans, according to R. A. Stuart, director of the West Texas District of the Federal Housing Administration. Chairmen of better housing programs have been named in 62 places.

A woman hospital patient in Chicago, indirectly owed her life to a robber Saturday. Dr. Philip Shapiro was en route to the hospital to perform a blood transfusion Friday night, when the robber boarded his machine and ordered him out. Advised of the circumstances, the robber permitted the physician to drive first to the hospital before taking his money and automobile.

There were 58,915 deaths in Texas last year, the census bureau announces. This is a death rate of .98. It means that one of every 100 persons in the state died during 1933. Because 1933 was the first year for which the bureau received statistics for the entire state, no comparison can be made with the death rates of previous years.

Baylor College, Belton, has qualified according to the terms set out for participation in the Hardin Trust Fund. By liquidating its total indebtedness the college will share to the extent of 25 per cent in the $900,000 trust fund, which the Hardins have set up for the benefit of certain Texas Baptist institutions.

A true freak of nature, an apple tree on the farm of William A. Bryson, near Uniontown, Pa., has bloomed three times since last May. When the first spring blossoming in May appeared, nothing was thought about it, but in July a second crop of buds burst into bloom. But the Bryson household was properly astonished when they awoke one morning to find the abnormal fruit tree sprouting its third "spring dress."

Latest dispatches received at the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences from the Bartlett Arctic Expedition's schooner, the Morrissey, indicate that the schooner is moving steadily south and away from Baffin Land. "Ice conditions are quite heavy," the report stated, "but we are not in danger, although our collecting activities have been hampered considerably." The expedition started last June to collect birds, animals and plant life in the Arctic regions.

Importance of regaining foreign cotton markets is stressed in a survey of the American cotton industry made public this week by the director of the University of Texas bureau of business research, an authority on cotton. "So far, other cotton growing countries of the world have been quick to take advantage of the program of the United States to restrict production to raise prices and have increased their production accordingly," he explained. "On the other hand, the United States restriction program has been accompanied by an increase of thousands of rural people in the south on public relief rolls. These facts are gradually driving home to the south a realization that cotton and its related industries are the foundation of the economic life of the south and the fear is arising that greater economic disorganization and poverty must fall on the region unless foreign markets are regained for fifty per cent or more of the region's normal raw cotton production.

Pie Supper

Friday night, October 12, 1934, there will be a pie supper at the Big Valley school house. Everyone is invited to come and bring a pie. The proceeds will be used to buy athletic equipment for our school. There will be a thirty minute program.

At this meeting the parent-teacher association will be organized. All parents are urged to come.

BRAVE GIRLS

The Richland Springs Eye-Witness tells this:

En route to Brady this morning the editor met two young girls, both still in their teens, and who were drifting 580 head of sheep, together with several head of cows, from Hobbs, N. M., to a ranch 12 miles beyond Richland Springs, and adjoining the Gibbons ranch. Both girls, on foot, were attired in dresses, and were neat in appearance and modest in behavior. They said they had been eight days en route, and had driven the flock of sheep the more than 300 mile route with the loss of but two head. Their parents, while nowhere in sight, were understood to be following in a trailer, and in which they camped over night.

SCIENCE WONDER STORIES

Chemists Create Building Material

MANY chemical products are outstanding in their appeal to beauty—Cellophane, rayon, Dacron. Another product of real beauty has now been developed.

Experiments recently led chemists to substitute a sheet of pyroxylin plastic for the former adhesive used in laminated construction. Marbled Pyralin was the result, replacing many paneling materials, such as plywood, metal on wood, and resin finishes for paneling.

By the skillful use of photography, the texture and color of an actual piece of marble or onyx is transferred to a sheet of pyroxylin and this is laminated between sheets of glass, the result being an easily applied decorative panel that is easily cleaned and practically indestructible. Such panels are used for decorative store fronts, interiors of hotel lobbies and office buildings and other places where permanent decorative motifs are desired.

ONE-SIDED TAX VIEWS

Several estimable school men of Texas have joined in urging a severance tax on natural resources as the ideal form of taxation for Texas—in fact, as a sort of panacea for all our taxation ills.

They give many facts favorable to such a proposition. Unfortunately they give no attention at all to the facts that can be offered in opposition.

Judging by an article in the current issue of the Texas Outlook, the organ of the State Teachers Association, they believe that most any kind of a natural resources tax could be levied without harm to the state's welfare. They argue the ethics of the case, how the people of the state are entitled to a part of the wealth that lies underground, they tell how much can be collected, how the state government could be financed amply by such a system, how other tax burdens could be lifted, and they argue that non-Texans would do most of the paying, since our natural resources are largely sold outside the state.

It's a beautiful picture. As presented by the schoolmen, it leaves one wondering why we have been so foolish all these years not to see it, and why now there should be a single voice raised in opposition to it.

But, as might be expected, some important points are omitted. Texas is not the only state or country which produces oil or gas or sulphur or other mineral products. If other states or countries levy less tax on their production than we do, then we simply turn development to other states, and we restrict, if we do not stop, our own production and exportation.

Furthermore, nearly all products are sold in competition with other products. If the price of one gets out of line, the consumer turns to others, or, if this is impractical, he is likely to curtail his consumption.

Thus, a too heavy severance tax, like any other tax that is too heavy, can destroy business, put men out of work, and, in the end, produce less revenue for the state than will a smaller tax, adjusted to the economic conditions of the day, and to the conditions under which the product taxed is produced and marketed.

The size of the wise severance tax must be a matter for careful calculation by men with all the economic factors before them. No layman can say, even remotely, what such a tax should be in any particular instance, and most assuredly we can not determine the amount by merely determining how much we

DALLAS FAIR WILL OPEN SATURDAY

The State Fair officers announce that everything is in readiness for the opening of the 48th annual exposition Saturday.

More new features are promised for the state exposition this year than ever before in its history. With its new quarter million dollar race plant which brings back horse racing to the state fair for the first time in many years, a new type of show in the auditorium—"The Show of a Century," a huge musical extravaganza, the return to the policy of presenting free entertainment to visitors in the form of sensational outdoor attractions and many other innovations, President Herold has promised the people of Texas an entirely new exposition.

Despite the drastic drought through which the state passed this summer, the agriculture and livestock shows bid fair to be better than ever. A complete showing of livestock will be on the grounds throughout the 16 days. The agriculture show will be a recommendation to farm leadership as every county exhibit is from a county where there is stationed a home demonstration agent, a vocational agricultural instructor or some agricultural agency which is ready to lend its aid in combating such conditions as Texas has undergone this year.

The 48th annual exposition will open by celebrating its annual Press Day, to which every newspaper editor in Texas is invited. The Press Day program this year includes luncheon at the Baker hotel, the afternoon at the races and at night in "The Show of a Century," at the auditorium.

want for the schools or the state treasury, or some other purpose.

The discouraging thing about the propaganda of the schoolmen is that they give no indication that they know that the severance tax problem is a very complicated one, and that there are two sides to every proposal for a specific increase in such a tax. It all appears one-sided and simple to them. — Houston Chronicle.

Kitchen In Black and White

KITCHENS, as much as any room in the house, are subject to style trends and especially to color trends. After a wave of color, the present vogue is distinctly for white. Contrast of black trim is very smart, often with brilliant color accents of red or green in curtains and other accessories.

The above setting shows a kitchen which has been effectively brought to the present day style requirements by means of the paint brush. Walls, cabinet and kitchen furniture are of whitest white with table trim of black and golden and Modern Home Decoration Service color contrast in the linoleum. It presents an immaculately fresh and spotlessly clean effect. To keep the kitchen in this perfect condition is no longer a problem as there are now available new household finishes in whitest white, made on a synthetic base, which withstand hard washing and are highly resistant to stains and knocks. Also they do not turn yellow or grey with age but maintain the original freshness of pure white. The new household finishes, which are entirely easy to apply, are especially practical for kitchens where hard usage occurs.

Presiding Elder Lovett preached to a well-filled house Sunday morning. He has always brought us such good messages and it seems the thoughts he made so clear were better than ever. He is serving his time out as an elder and will not be with us again holding conferences. A fairly good report was turned in at the conference in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Laughlin, Miss Williams and Misses Hines of Scallorn visited in the Will Harbour home Sunday and attended church services.

We were glad to have so many visitors from Pleasant Grove. Come again.

Miss Myrtle Harbour of Lometa spent several days with Miss Gladys Casbeer last week.

It is very quiet here this week, as most of the men folk are attending court.

Jno. Carter, Jr., and Medford Langford accompanied Joe Langford to the hospital at Temple Monday for treatment. He has not improved as rapidly as all had hoped for. However, we are hoping his condition is not serious.

Carl Karnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Karnes of Star, was carried to Temple Monday for treatment. His parents, a nurse from Star, his grandmother and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Collier accompanied him. His condition is quite serious and their many friends sincerely hope he will be back with his school work soon.

Joe Atchison and family of Falls, spent Saturday night with his brother, Thomas, and family.

Hollis Hendry received word from his brother, R. G., in California that their daughter, Evelyn, was hit by an automobile, resulting in a broken leg and head injuries. Word later stated she was resting well, but would probably stay in the hospital two months. They moved from this community several years ago to Oregon, where they own a home. They rented that place and moved to California this year. Evelyn was a beautiful child and her many friends here express sorrow in learning of the accident and extend sympathy to her good family.

Alvin Harper returned from the Legion hospital last week. He is much improved.

Members of the Booster Band were entertained by Bro. Brown and wife at the parsonage Saturday afternoon. Many games were played and delicious cake and fruit drink were served. All had a nice time and hope to meet again with them before conference.

Mrs. Joe Langford left Tuesday night for Temple to be with her husband.

E. M. Geeslin, who has been at Mineral Wells for his health, returned last Wednesday and is reported doing very well.

We were glad to have Bro. Highsmith and family with us Sunday for the noon hour at the church. They are always welcome to come any time.

Bro. Brown and wife visited in the E. M. Geeslin and J. P. Booker homes Tuesday.

Mrs. Doggett and daughter of Post spent several days visiting her sister and mother, Mrs. R. E. Head and Mrs. Nickols.

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

The fifth Sunday meeting was well attended. We had a great meeting.

The W. M. U. met with Mrs. J. M. Hays Tuesday afternoon, with fifteen members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleburne Masters of Mullin spent the week end in the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. W. O. Oden, and family.

Mrs. J. D. Robertson and Nelda spent Friday with Mrs. Jimmie Griffin.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bramblett spent Sunday in the J. H. Long home.

Roy Dellis left Sunday for Goose Creek, where he has employment in the oil fields.

Mrs. J. D. Robertson spent Monday with Mrs. W. O. Oden and Mrs. Florence Masters.

Mrs. E. W. McNutt returned home Friday, after a most delightful visit in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Maye Gill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oglesby of Big Valley were supper guests in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Hays Tuesday evening.

Jack Davis and J. D. Nix are visiting relatives in Falls county, this week.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Hays visited Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Nix on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. F. D. Reynolds was hostess to an old time quilting bee at her home Thursday. About 15 ladies were present. They quilted two quilts. At the noon hour a bountiful luncheon was spread to the enjoyment of all.

Miss Lucille Daniel called on Mrs. J. J. Northcutt Tuesday.

Mrs. J. C. Sanderson spent Friday with Mrs. J. M. Hays.

Margaret Oden visited Loraine Calaway Saturday afternoon.

REPORTER

TEXAS RELIEF WORK

Texas relief commission officials announce orders have been placed for material out of which 168,000 comforters will be made and distributed to destitute persons in the state for use this winter.

These comforters will be made by women from relief rolls working in the 166 sewing rooms already established by the commission in 111 counties of the state.

A. C. Allen, head of the production department of the works division, said the program contemplates the use of 1100 bales of cotton, 1,680,000 yards of covering, all of which will be furnished without charge by the federal government. Comforters will be of standard size, 72 x 90 inches, and the program likely will get under way in the next 15 days, Allen said.

Sewing rooms at this time are concentrating on the manufacture of children's clothes in order to make many youngsters presentable for school. Relief officials have been informed that thousands of school children over the state have been forced to forego school thus far this fall because of lack of clothing.

These sewing rooms, begun in small measure last year, are now producing garments for relief clients in large volume. In them are made dresses for women and children, shirts and overalls for men, women and children, overalls and play suits for children and other wearing apparel.

Scraps from garments are salvaged and made into quilt tops and cotton batting is supplied for the making of quilts which also will be distributed to the needy.

Old clothing contributed to these rooms is renovated and larger garments are remade into smaller ones for school children. In some instances shoe repair shops have been established in connection with sewing rooms when unemployed cobblers are found on relief roll in the community. He is supplied with tools and materials so that he may half sole shoes, repair tops and heels.

Location of a sewing room is based on the number of women on relief rolls in a community available for this type of work. Size of the room varies, some containing as few as six machines, while the largest has approximately 60 machines. This room is at Dallas, employs 120 women per day.

Communities must co-operate in establishment of the rooms by supplying the building and utilities. The Texas relief commission furnishes materials and equipment.

A competent supervisor directs the women in their work, enabling them to learn correct methods of cutting and making clothes, teaching them how to earn a living and at the same time providing clothing for thousands of the state's relief roll clients.

FIXING PRICES

The city council of San Antonio has a very unusual problem to solve, according to the San Antonio Light, which says: Mayor Quin and the city commissioners face an unusual task—that of fixing "just prices" for haircuts and shaves.

The mayor said unionized San Antonio barbers had advised him they would present a petition Thursday asking the city council to set standard prices.

The union barbers complained that they cannot compete against 10-cent shaves and 25-cent haircuts, the mayor said.

Recently the city fixed milk prices, but the opinion at the city hall was that the request from the barbers was a horse of a different color.

WHERE THE LESSON MUST BE TAUGHT

No greater misstatement was ever made than that old people make wars and young people fight them.

The man and woman who have raised a child dread war with all their souls. The great majority of elderly men and women who have experienced the insecurity of life, of income, of property; who realize with what effect and what danger of disaster and failure they have come to places of reasonable security in life, recoil from economic turmoil that may destroy the work of a lifetime, and blast the hopes of the younger generation.

It is the younger element, which knows nothing of the gripping fear of exposing some loved one to tragedy and death; which looks on a secure and respected place in life as a prize to be won by frontal attack rather than a state to be attained only by long toil, constant care and a large measure of good fortune—It is such young people who quickest heed the challenge to conflict, who first cast aside the restraining influences, knowing not what they sacrifice, to rush forth to the bloody fields of battle.

No, the old men do not make war; and leaders do not make a people go to war—not against their will. Whether by events or by propaganda the people are made to go to war—that certainly has been the unending procedure in Europe prior to the outbreak of the world war. Every people wanted war—and the leaders, after the first blows were struck, at least, could not have prevented it.

If we go to war again it will be because the people demand war; and if the people ever demand war again it will be because the younger people have first demanded it, and are first ready to march off to battle.

These facts are important, because they show us where the war evil must be fought—with the younger people. It is hard to make them understand the realities of life which they have not experienced, the reality of the insecure nature of their civilization at home, the realities of international controversy and the fields of war.

Yet here lies our task. Unless we can truly turn them that they will spurn the outpourings of the cleverest of war propagandists, then there is little hope of keeping our nation from future conflict.—Houston Chronicle.

A LOVELY gift which any girl welcomes is a toiletry set for her bedroom or dressing room. It is especially nice as a wedding gift, if you want something rather personal, but at the same time in good taste for the occasion. For graduation, too, it is most acceptable. The above illustration shows a set in Pyralin, a pyroxilin plastic material, in a new design. It has a satin pearl finish on an amber-like base, and comes in the pastel shades of maize, rose and jade which harmonize with the feminine boudoir. The decoration is of inlaid gold and black. For more sophisticated taste and ultra modern room, there are sets, strictly modern in design, in striking combinations such as ivory and black, or with trim of chromium.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Lee and sons of San Angelo spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. Ellis Smith, and other relatives.

S. S. Farmer is at home again and is on crutches and one leg in a plaster cast. He fell from a plow recently and broke a bone in his limb.

Miss Frances Ratliff is at home from the hospital, where she spent a week and lost an appendix. She is recuperating rapidly and almost well again.

W. H. G. Chambers of Cross Cut was meeting friends in this section the past week end and visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Triplett and Mr. Mills and family.

Mrs. W. H. McFarland and family have moved from the C. P. Alberty residence to her residence on the opposite side of the street. She is improving and remodeling her home.

W. M. Smith and family expect to move to Abilene at an early date for college advantages. Mr. Smith has been residing in the Prairie community for a long time and will be missed greatly.

W. J. Shirey and family have written friends here that they had an enjoyable trip via Houston and New Orleans and made excellent connections at all points and landed in Albertville, Alabama, their old home, forty-eight hours after leaving here.

The sheep killing business still progresses at Pompey Monday. Most of them were old ewes and W. A. Triplett had 370 killed. He has a large flock of sheep left, all that the dry pastures can well sustain through the winter, with probably a liberal supply of high feed.

Mr. Roller, superintendent of the Monarch Engineering Co., in charge of the construction of the concrete bridges over Mullin creek on the new highway, says business will be over for awhile for him, and he plans on going to Colorado to see his family and his farm. Mr. Roller has been with the Monarch Engineering Co. about thirty years. He raises alfalfa hay on his farm.

WINFRED DUREN

Funeral services for Winfred Duren were held at Duren on Thursday afternoon and Revs. L. J. Vann and J. L. Jones officiated. A great concourse of friends were present to attend the sad rites.

Winfred Duren, aged 17, died on Sept. 26, 1934, from a self-inflicted gunshot wound. He was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Duren, prominent citizens of the Duren community, and besides the parents, he is survived by five brothers and two sisters.

Winfred was a fine, industrious dependable young boy and the beautiful floral offering and the vast crowd at the funeral testified of his esteem held by friends in this section.

Randolph Funeral Home had charge.

Among the out-of-town loved ones who attended the last sad rites were Mr. and Mrs. Cap Gray of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. G. Ward and daughter and son of Swenson, Miss Estelle Duren of Brownwood and Mrs. John Berry of Goldthwaite.

WILLIAM W. MOSIER

ANSWERS FINAL CALL

W. W. Mosier was born in Dallas county, June 23, 1870, and died at Santa Anna, Texas, September 27, 1934.

He was married to Miss Elizabeth Roselle in 1891 and moved from Hill county to Mills county in 1899.

Mr. Mosier was a prominent and leading citizen of this section and was highly esteemed by all who knew him. He and his devoted wife have reared seven worthy sons and daughters, who will always cherish his honorable name. All the children and beloved wife were present at the time of his going. He fought a good fight and was a strong and healthy man until a few months ago.

The children are Willard Mosier, Mullin; Mrs. Lela Jeffers, Longview; Fred Mosier, Mullin; Walter Mosier, Brownwood; Miss Artie Mosier, Zephyr; Mrs. Mattie Musgrove, Coleman; Luther Mosier, Zephyr.

Interment was Friday at Oak View cemetery. He was a member of the Mullin Masonic lodge and his brothers in Masonry were the pallbearers. Rev. Moore Eubanks officiated.

FORTY-TWO PARTY

On last Friday night, Sept. 28, a progressive forty-two party was given, sponsored by the local P. T. A. at the school auditorium.

The evening was one to be long remembered as both young and old forgot the cares of life and all had a wonderful time.

The ladies of the P. T. A. served cake and cream, sandwiches and punch, which brought a nice sum to be added to the treasury to buy needed things for the school.

At a late hour they departed hoping that history would repeat itself in another gala affair in the form of a progressive forty-two party in the near future.

HANCOCKS TO LEAVE SOON

Mrs. C. C. Hancock and son, Charles Hugh Hancock, expect to leave in a few days for Post, where they will make their home.

C. C. Hancock has a good position with a dry goods firm in that city and has been there most of the fall. This good family will be greatly missed in this city, both in church and civic affairs.

Last year Mills county ginned 6245 bales. Upt to Sept. 16, this year 2216 bales have been ginned. Our town's quota so far is 360 bales, a number which has surpassed estimates made before the season started. One estimate was 200 bales, while another estimated 300. E. A. Kemp and Walter Fairman are the cotton buyers here this year.

SAN SABA MAN KILLED

A special from Corsicana Tuesday said:

"C. G. Robinson, 26, of San Saba, was instantly killed Monday in an automobile accident, four miles south of Buffalo, B.F. Strong, 24, Robinson's companion, is in a Texas hospital with both legs broken and other injuries. The accident occurred when the coupe in which the two were riding figured in a head-on collision with a cotton truck. The truck occupants were only slightly injured."

SCIENCE WONDER STORIES

Miracle of the Glass Sandwich

ONE of science's most useful gifts to the world in recent years is the glass sandwich or, in other words, laminated safety glass. This usually consists of two sheets of glass welded together with a thin layer of a transparent material, either cellulose acetate or cellulose nitrate. Such safety glass is widely used for windshields and side windows of automobiles. If it receives a heavy blow, it may shatter, but the glass is held intact because the pieces stick to the plastic interlayer.

Safety glass has been in the process of perfection for twenty-five years, during which time many obstacles have been overcome, including haze, dirt, discoloration and deterioration from the action of the sun and loss of adhesiveness. The cellulose material and the process of manipulation both had to be improved. It takes enclosed machinery, air conditioning in the factory, vacuum floor cleaning and clean uniforms for workmen to make modern safety glass what it now is.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle must observe its rule of long standing of making a small charge for articles written by persons giving their views on any public issue. Matters of public record or on current events are news, but private views in advocacy or opposition to political or personal issues come legitimately under the head of advertising. There is no good reason for expecting to give voice to one's views at the paper's expense. The editor pays a good price for this privilege, as the preparation of every line for publication costs real money.

Give the Eagle your order for N. R. A. cuts for your advertising. We can also order rubber stamps of the same style.

Limiting Taxation

Three of the eight proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on by the people of Texas next month have to do with taxation and are, therefore, most interesting to the property owners of this state. The most discussed of these three amendments bearing on the tax question is joint resolution 13, which provides that the legislature shall have no power to levy a rate of taxation more than $22.50 per capita for the citizenship of the state. This includes ad valorem, license, permits and fees. In the Texas Tax Journal for September, Mr. Jay very ably discusses the taxation question and the amendments affecting taxation matters. He very properly says that Texas collects only one-fifth of its revenues from the ad valorem tax and that since the provision exempting homesteads valued up to three thousand dollars from taxation practically the only people who pay ad valorem taxes are the owners of business and other corporate property. The fact that the burden of taxation is placed on these two sources does not remove the burden from the commonality, since it is well understood that the customers must pay the taxes in the last analysis, as that is the only source from which business of any character can collect it. This one limitation should be made as evidenced by the fact that at the present time a hundred and forty-six million dollars are due the state and its various taxable sub-divisions on delinquent taxes, showing that the limit of the people to pay has very nearly been reached. Whether this method of limitation is the right one, or whether some other means must be found, is the question confronting the people of this state and on which they must pass in the general election in November?

Our Constitutional Rights

It is possible and, in fact, very likely that most citizens of Texas are familiar with the provisions and declarations of our state constitution, but that more important document—the federal constitution—is about as little known, no doubt, as any public document ever placed in the archives of government. Yet, we hear a great lot of talk these days about constitutional rights and constitutional provisions. The chances are that most of those quoting the contents of the document know vaguely that its purpose is to guarantee liberty and opportunity for all and to assure stable, representative government. There never was a time when a general study of the constitution would be so valuable as now. Today it is being criticized, it is accused of the crime of antiquity and those who would change it say it has outlived its usefulness. The result of these attacks on the constitution are already reflected in legislation and in governmental procedure. It should be everlastingly kept in mind that the constitution is the bulwark that stands between us and one "ism" or another. It would be a good schooling for a lot of the expounders of the provisions of the constitution and its critics to read it, paying special attention to the sections which compose the Bill of Rights. Those sections reflect all that man has striven for through thousands of years of turmoil—the widest possible liberty, the right to live as an individual, dominated by none.

Causing and Curing Depressions

President Roosevelt and his administrative helpers have used and are still using every means possible, and some hitherto thought to be impossible, in ending the depression and removing its effects. Yet none of them can tell us the cause that brought on the condition the world over that resulted in the depression. Some tell us it was the extravagance of the people, others attribute it to the automobiles and various other things, but in reality none have been able to locate the cause, if indeed there is one great cause. Maybe it is in the cycle of time and events. At any rate, no statesman, economist or scientist has been able to tell us just how to live and act that we may never experience another depression so blighting and impoverishing as the one the world experienced for three or four years.

It is natural that we should attempt to force recovery and it is almost inevitable that such efforts should largely fail. Economic laws which are as old as organized government cannot long be circumvented—precisely as these laws make depressions, they eventually present us with the cure. No one conversant with the history of this country can believe that it will not pull itself out—but natural, not artificial, forces will deserve most of the credit when that is done.

Heavy Fire Loss

October is the month in which all people are supposed to join in an effort to remove fire hazards and to prevent loss of property by fire. The annual national fire loss reaches an almost unbelievable figure and is an illustration of the result of what carelessness can accomplish. Not all fires are caused by carelessness, but by far the greater number result from that cause. Few householders can protect themselves against faulty electric wiring and fire communicated from adjoining property, but the loss from these two sources are infinitesimal as compared to the loss from all other causes, all or at least most of which can be prevented by caution and attention to removing hazards. A heavy loss is caused by careless handling of fire, using coal oil or gasoline in starting fires in stoves and furnaces and by the neglect of examining flues before putting up stoves for winter. All of these causes can be removed by a reasonable amount of care and an immense national fire loss could be prevented if everybody would observe the common rules of caution. Look your property over and in the future make the same inspection at regular intervals. It will minimize the chance of fire—and that means safety to life and money in your pocket.

Constitutional Amendments

There are eight constitutional amendments to be voted on in the election in November and it is likely not more than two or three of them are understood by the general public. This being the case, how can they be passed on intelligently? Three of them refer to matters of taxation, but the other five are important also. One of these has for its object the placing of all officers in the larger counties on a salary basis and abolishing the fee system entirely. This amendment would not necessarily interest the people of Mills county, as it refers only to counties of over 20,000 population. However, the amendment leaves the matter to the discretion of the commissioners court in the smaller counties. The other four amendments are also important to a greater or less extent.

Health Hint

WHOOPING COUGH

"There is no other communicable disease as dangerous as whooping cough to the very young, and there is no other disease causing an equal amount of suffering of which parents show such an unaccountable disregard, not only for the safety of their own little ones, but also for the lives of the neighbor's children," said Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer. "There is no natural immunity against this disease during the first six months of life as there is against measles. It is at this age that whooping cough strikes its hardest blow and over 50 per cent of the deaths occurring in children are under one year of age. The disease is usually transmitted by direct contact with the secretions of the nose or mouth, and only a very short exposure is required to contract the infection. Handkerchiefs, drinking cups and toys also may transmit the infection. "The infection is communicable from the appearance of the first symptoms and is most contagious at this early period when the nature of the affection can only be suspected. The incubation period is commonly seven days. A slight fever, running of the nose and a cough make their appearance so gradually and insidiously that a diagnosis is practically impossible unless a history of exposure is obtained. When the "whoop" appears there is no mistaking the disease. If there is whooping cough in your community keep other children away from your little children and keep your children at home. Call your physician early. Isolation of all cases for at least two weeks from the development of the characteristic cough should be rigidly enforced."

ODD ACCIDENTS

Stanley Kadluboski is alive today because a policeman decided to demonstrate to a crowd how first aid should be applied to drowning persons. The New York lad had been under the water for 10 minutes before his rescue and had been pronounced dead by the coroner. But before the undertaker arrived the officer had revived the little chap. About 15 years ago as a little girl, Mrs. Catherine Boudreau, was playing in the yard of her home in Ireland, when a cricket flew into her ear. Constantly recurring pain caused her to go to a physician recently. He found the insect's skeleton still there. A similar experience befell a Georgia school boy, Lee Hille, who scratched his ear with a lead pencil because it tickled. A piece of the lead broke off and while probing for it the medico found a good-sized, living butterfly.

Little Winks, late White House dog, had nothing on T. Thompson's little brown pup, Buster. This family was ready to eat supper, when a Minnesota tornado lifted the summer kitchen from over them. They rushed to the cyclone cellar and when the gale had subsided, they found Buster gorging himself on the untouched supper.

While cleaning fish a member of a California fishing crew laid his knife aside for a moment. A baracuda gave a flip, throwing the knife with such force as to cut a deep gash in the man's arm.

And speaking of fishing, Preston Moore of Washington believes "fisherman's luck" is bad luck. While angling in Potomac waters another angler swung his line, struck Moore in the back of the head with the heavy sinker and sent him to the hospital.

Henri Gayot, a nine-year-old French lad, was playing in the field where his father was harvesting. He fell and was caught up into the machinery of the reaper, passed on through and came out neatly tied up in a sheaf of wheat—scared but unhurt.

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railway bulletin says of conditions in Texas:

Conditions are favorable for late-planted feed crops. Small grains are being planted throughout the entire state to provide fall and winter grazing. Feed on hand is scarce. Large acreages of grain, mostly wheat, have been planted in the northwestern counties. Some growth has been satisfactory, but much of it is backward.

Rice harvesting and threshing have been delayed in some localities by rains, but delay is not serious and the general outturn is good.

Condition of birds, and ample feed and water, give assurance of a normal turkey crop this season. With the advent of rains and cooler nights birds rapidly are putting on weight.

Pastures and ranges are making response to recent rains. Moisture is sufficient for present needs, and stock water is ample. Additional rains are needed to insure good winter grazing.

Intermittent rains over Texas during the last few weeks definitely ended the drouth, and have been of material benefit to all growing crops, as well as improving the outlook for the fall season for other crops.

Cotton still is blooming and fruiting in many sections of the northern half of the state, but most of the crop is made, and more than half of it has been picked. Practically all sections show improvement recently. Rains have stopped premature opening and bolls are filling out better than heretofore. Top crop prospects have improved. It is too late to expect material crop increase, as maturing of late bolls will depend on escape from early frost and increasing insect damage. Picking is making rapid progress and will be completed two to six weeks earlier than usual. Grade of lint is from average to good with much short staple reported. Holding by producers is about normal.

TEXAS PLANS EXPOSITION

Texas now appears definitely committed to an elaborate Centennial Exposition in 1936, in celebration of the 100th anniversary of that state's independence from Mexico. Dallas has been designated as the city of the central celebration, and current news reports from the Lone Star State indicate that promotional forces are rapidly being mobilized and that sentiment of dubiousness regarding the possibilities of financing the project is being pushed into the background.

It was originally estimated that the exposition financing would require an outlay of some $15,000,000, but plans are now being laid on the basis of an expenditure of $13,500,000. Dallas plans to raise $2,500,000 of this amount by a municipal bond issue and perhaps an added million by popular subscription.

Joint celebrations are planned in several other Texas cities, and these communities are also expected to contribute to the financing. For the remainder, it is proposed that the federal government be asked to contribute a like amount.

There is little doubt that sentiment toward this undertaking in Texas has been influenced by the success of Chicago's Century of Progress exposition, although conditions surrounding the two projects must be recognized as widely contrasting. —Montana Standard.

—EDITORIAL COMMENT—

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

The growing influence of international news in shaping the destinies of nations gives merit to the suggestion of Dean Carl W. Ackerman of the Columbia School of Journalism, that international journalism be studied more seriously in educational institutions. The development of rapid communication and widespread news services has enabled the pulse of world opinion to beat more rapidly than ever before.

Perhaps one of the most outstanding influences of international journalism is in its virtual ending of the old type of secret diplomacy which formerly did much to foment wars. That the eloquent appeals of Woodrow Wilson for open diplomacy were largely ineffective is indicated by the fact that secret treaties and understandings were being made under his nose and without his knowledge. Newspaper exposure of secret negotiations between nations has done more than anything else to bring about the general practice of open diplomacy during the last few years.

Just as the invention of printing and the speeding of travel and communication helped to develop nationalism now helps to develop a sense of world social unity. A Hitler or a Mussolini may be able to feed to his own people a partial or warped account of events in their own country, but no dictator has yet succeeded in imposing any effective or lasting censorship on cabled news. Propaganda may fool the people at home for a time, but no ruler can escape the effects of world opinion.

The various nations since the world war have altered or modified their policies in deference to opinion expressed outside their own borders has been made obvious on many occasions. No nation is strong enough to risk economic boycott or the combination of other nations against it. True, the Japanese seizure of Manchuria and the Hitler terrorism in Germany were carried out in defiance of world protest, yet even these steps might have gone farther if the protests had not been made. In the future, we may expect world opinion, as developed and expressed by international news, to be an even more potent factor in political and economic affairs.—Dallas News.

POLITICS AND PAPERS

Rabid political newspapers of any party constitute a pullback to the urge for nobler and better things in life.

No one questions the wisdom of editors who strenuously and honestly differ with government administrations. Such opposition is the sign of political health in a republic and must continue as such.

But when apparent animus, partisan bias, and misrepresentation characterize the whole makeup of almost every page, such a publication becomes merely another public enemy. The people of America have lost the Danas and the Greeleys in large centers of population, with few exceptions. But, thanks to the country dailies and weeklies, and good books, the power of the printing press is still a bulwark in the progress of civilization throughout the world.—Printing Industry.

INCREASING TAXES

Last year the people of the United States paid two billion dollars more for taxes than they did for food, and three times as much for taxes as they paid for clothes. The expenditure of state and local government in Texas last year was fifteen times as much as the federal government collected in this state in income tax. Under the present organization there are 8466 units of local government in Texas, each with the power to tax and to incur public debt. The debt of local units of government in Texas alone exceeds by several million dollars the combined capital, surplus and undivided profits of all of our national banks located in eight of our leading southern states. In Texas cities today, more than half the revenue collected must go to retire public debt. Legislative appropriations have for years increased at an alarming rate. The rule has been that each legislature has faced tremendous pressure to spend more money than the preceding legislature. That the Texas taxpayer is reaching the end of his ability to pay is established by the constant pyramiding of delinquent taxes, which have now reached the alarming proportions of 146 million dollars in this state. Taxes have become so numerous that now they have exhausted the dictionary for names and are coining new names for these levies on the thrift and enterprise of the American people. I have before me a bulletin from another state which speaks of a "syncro" tax. Just what this is I do not know. But this much I do know: Relief will not come to the taxpayer by finding new names to define the process of extracting money from his pocket. — C. A. Jay in Texas Weekly.

HELPING THE BORROWER

Twin moves to accelerate and expand credit for industry and real estate building have been made by the government's two largest financial agencies—the treasury and the reconstruction corporation.

Chairman Jones of the RFC, after a conference with President Roosevelt, announced the president had approved a plan whereby the big lending corporation would buy preferred stock and capital notes of trust companies that specialize in mortgage loans with a view to encouraging these institutions to rebuild the mortgage market.

At the same time, Secretary Morgenthau, in a special meeting of chairmen of the industrial advisory committees of the twelve federal reserve banks, urged more speed in the handling of industrial loan applications. These committees are supposed to make recommendations to the banks on such applications.

At a press conference after his visit to the White House, Jones issued a formal statement saying the RFC wanted to encourage the organization of privately owned trust companies that would engage especially in the mortgage loan business. He said he did not expect the government corporation to put much money into the undertaking, but that it was the purpose of the move to encourage private institutions to help restore the mortgage market to normal.

YOUTH—A STATE OF MIND

Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind. It is not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips and supple knees, it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions; it is a freshness of the deep springs of life.

Youth means a temperamental predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite of adventure over love of ease. This often exists in a man of fifty, more than in a boy of twenty.

Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old by deserting their ideals. Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul. Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair—these are the long long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust.

Whether seventy or sixteen, there is in every being's heart the love of wonder, the sweet amazement at the stars and starlike things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unflinching childlike appetite for what next, and the joy in the game of life.

You are as young as your faith and as old as your doubt, as young as your hope, as old as your despair.—Current Topics.

POLITICS AND NATIONS

Republics haven't fared so very well in the alignment of nations since the war. Some countries have sought to become republican, only to discover that their people didn't get the idea

LITTLE CAUSE FOR ALARM

Cotton acreage reduction campaigns in the south, in 1905, 1915, 1921 and 1927 were claimed as life savers to the south, but except for the 1905 campaign they were not very successful. The present agricultural adjustment administration program has effectively curbed production, removed a huge price-smashing surplus, helped cotton prices and started farm and business recovery. There are some, however, who question these gains because of the fear of surrendering cotton markets to foreigners.

This series based on figures of the cotton section, agricultural adjustment administration, has shown reported decreases in 1934 cotton acreage in India, Egypt and Russia. The difficulties in future big expansion of cotton acreage in these countries have been mentioned. In the present article the Chinese situation is examined.

The pressure of population on food supply is so great in China that increases in cotton acreage will probably come very slowly. Famine is a danger never very far distant from the Chinese people. Transportation is very poor, and this limits the importation of food into the interior where cotton might be grown. This also makes it hard to market cotton. Many areas are entirely shut off from the outside food supplies and must grow all their own food.

The Japanese are a strong influence in China. They are attempting to develop the country, and this, of course, tends to increase of cotton production. The average size of cultivated tract per Chinese farmer in Kiangsu Province, which is a leading cotton section, is 3.7 acres. The average size of cotton patch per farm is slightly less than one-half acre per farm. Modern gins are unknown in many sections. This means that ginning must be done by hand, but there is no lack of labor for this work.

If cotton prices should get so high in China that they are out of line with food prices, there would probably be a tendency to increase cotton acreage in certain parts of the country. The chances, however, are that cotton acreage will continue to grow very slowly. At present China offers little threat to the American cotton grower.

No one would deny that foreign competition in cotton growing is a constant threat to the south and always has been. That such competition will rapidly take away America's markets is another matter. Sensible American production to assure a decent American price will not throw away foreign markets. Adjustment, which is the cornerstone of the AAA cotton program, does not always mean reduction.—AAA Bulletin.

very well. Every orator with a particularism organized a political party and the whole mess of them was so confused in the parliament that nothing sensible could be done. The appeal of politics was so strong that politicians sought to make everything political. In some cases a dictator had to rise up from nowhere, or from the army, and take charge. Such dictators usually abolish the parliament or limit its sessions, in order to keep the contending factions from unsettling everything, or from allowing anything to be settled. Russia is classed as a republic, but is not so in fact. It is an autocracy with republican forms except that any republican form that interferes with the autocratic form is abolished. Poland is a republic in form, but General Pilsudski is the government. Hitler is the government in Germany. Italy is a kingdom, with a highly respected king, with a court and an aristocratic tradition, but Mussolini is the ruler. England represents the heart of the people, while the premier and parliament represent the brain and body of the nation. As countries grow in population and problems increase in complexity, the tendency is to concentrate more and more power in fewer and fewer hands. We might get a glimpse of this fact in our own America. — State Press in Dallas News.

Hamilton

C. E. Kirchman and daughter, Mrs. Mattie Smallwood, moved from Hamilton on Monday to their new home three miles east of Fort Worth, on the Grapevine road.

Mrs. Charles Curtis Baker, Jr., and little children, Curtis and Stella, left Wednesday morning for a visit of several days in Dallas with relatives of Dr. Baker.

An automobile party composed of Mrs. Ocie Striplin, Mrs. J. M. Baxley and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Davis made a trip to Dallas Sunday and returned Tuesday. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Striplin. They report the injured young man as still improving, though naturally his recovery is slow.

The Baptist Men's class lost in an attendance contest to the Althean class. The losers were obligated to entertain the winners and a most delightful social occasion on Tuesday evening, September 25, resulted. A banquet was given by the men in the basement hall of the First Baptist church, with the women of the Althean class as guests, and there were eighty-two present.

Lev Hopkins, an invalid and cripple, who formerly lived at Goldthwaite, where he grew to manhood, and who was visiting in Hamilton and this county, died on Wednesday, September 26, at an early hour, in the morning. The body was borne to the Rock House cemetery for burial. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. John D. West on Thursday morning at graveside in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. Lev Hopkins was born in Brown county, Texas, November 30, 1880, and was at the time of his death fifty-three years, nine months and twenty-six days of age. He is survived by his widow, who was Mrs. Mattie Guthrie; one brother and four sisters. His brother is J. B. Hopkins of Cleburne, Texas, and his sisters are Mrs. J. L. Lewis of Hamilton county, Texas; Mrs. J. R. Bodenhamer of Eldorado, Arkansas; Mrs. J. E. Albright, Brownwood; Mrs. W. L. Brinson of Rochester, Minn. His wife, brother and three sisters were present for the last sad rites.—Record-Herald.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McMillan have gone to South Texas racing meets.

Grand jurors for the fall term of court in San Saba county will begin their work Monday morning, October 22.

Several thousand fish were placed in the waters of San Saba county Thursday from the Cisco fish hatchery by H. R. Morell, district game warden.

Rev. B. B. Hestir, evangelist for the Brownwood Presbytery, began a revival meeting at the New Hope Presbyterian church in Sloan Monday night and is having good crowds.

Ordinarily there is sufficient grass for the livestock in this country and there is no need for the prickly pear for feeding purposes, but present conditions have changed things along the stock water line also.—Star.

Brownwood

Repair work on the gate tower and conduits at Lake Brownwood, begun last Saturday, is being rushed feverishly this week by a crew of men working.

A check for $6000, representing the last half of the relief allotment for Brown county for the month of September, has been received.

At a meeting of Brown county cotton farmers held in the district court room Saturday morning, resolutions favoring amendments to the Bankhead cotton act were adopted and forwarded to United States secretary of agriculture.

Preliminary work at the state park at Lake Brownwood on converting present barracks there into winter quarters and construction of six or eight additional buildings to accommodate a 250-man CCC camp was started Wednesday.

Continuation of the federal government's drouth relief cattle purchase program was the object of a mass meeting Thursday morning of Brown county cattlemen, business men and citizens held in the district court room.

Brown county has been allotted a quota of thirteen enrollees for the next period of conservation corps camps, according to notice received Wednesday by C. E. Boyett, county relief administrator. The quota may be raised or lowered on further notice.

Brownwood boasts the first of a series of "scales stations" to be built by the state highway patrol for weighing loaded trucks. This station was built by the maintenance department of the state highway department and was built upon specifications devised by engineers of the department.—Banner.

Comanche

Eleven hundred bales of cotton had been weighed at the Comanche cotton yard up to noon Tuesday.

At a meeting of the Comanche school board Tuesday night, Miss Lulan Gilmore was elected to fill the position of teacher in the West Ward School.

M. Coleman, mayor of the city of Comanche, this week issued an official proclamation, designating one year as fire prevention year in the city of Comanche.

The Comanche county pecan crop will be larger than the average and heavier than within several years, according to C. F. Denny, pecan grower, who said that he has the biggest crop he has ever raised.

Tow Wilson, who had been in jail at Brownwood for several weeks on an automobile theft charge, was taken to Eastland Monday for arraignment on a burglary charge. Wilson also faces five charges of burglary in Comanche county.

The peanut crop of Comanche county is the shortest within several years, according to C. F. Denny, public weigher, who said that he had interviewed farmers from different sections of the county and that the average would not exceed five bushels per acre.—Chief.

The county agent is calling a meeting of all those who signed corn-hog contracts for 1934 and others interested in such a program for 1935. The purpose of the meeting is to find out if the producers want such a program for next year.

C. D. Stokes personally invites every man and woman, who has lived in Lampasas county fifty years or longer to meet on Oct. 10, 1934, in the state park, two miles east of Lampasas, where he will have prepared for them an old time barbecue dinner. Over 400 names are already listed.

At a called meeting of the Lampasas county commissioners court, September 26, an order was passed for the county clerk and county attorney to prepare necessary transcript for issuance of the Bend bridge bonds. Said transcript is to be handed to the court to submit to the attorney general for his approval.—Record.

SPENDING BY DECREE

Comptroller General McCarl has interposed a very simple objection to the expenditure of $15,000,000 to begin work on a gigantic forest shelter belt in the drouth-stricken middle west. Congress, he says, has not given even blanket authorization for this particular enterprise. Consequently, when the president presumes to allocate drouth relief funds to this costly undertaking he is overstepping his prerogative.

It is indicative of the times that Mr. McCarl should have to invoke a fundamental principle which has been observed in the spending of federal money ever since there was any federal money to spend. Congress has control over appropriations, and no funds may be drawn from the treasury without its specific authorization. In this instance congress has given no consideration to the scheme of planting rows of trees from the Canadian border to the Texas Panhandle. That idea was adopted solely by the executive branch of the government. On its own sweet will it is attempting to inaugurate a project that would ultimately cost the taxpayers about $75,000,000,000. For less unauthorized expenditure than this the English people, three centuries ago, brought their king severely to heel.

Experts differ as to the practicability of the tree-planting enterprise. Some believe that it would be an effective deterrent to high winds and drouth. Others of equal authority regard the entire project as ridiculous. Certainly the whole undertaking should have been studied by congress from the viewpoint of practicability as well as cost. But President Roosevelt apparently thought his nod of approval was sufficient. The incident pointedly illustrates the extent to which the responsibilities of congress have been undermined.

A conscientious Comptroller General is able to block unauthorized expenditures of this sort. But it is not his function, of course, to restrain that reckless delegation of power which gave rise to this attempted usurpation. Only congress is to blame for the wholesale substitution of executive decrees for legislation.—Washington Post.

President Roosevelt reorganized the NRA, appointing a committee of six, headed by Donald R. Richberg to take charge of Board policies and future legislation. He named another board of five members to take over the actual administration of NRA in place of the one-man job held by Hugh S. Johnson, resigned. In his sweeping reorganization the president also stipulated that all future decisions of policy and legislation would be reserved to himself.

Expansion in the demand for merchandise in both wholesale and retail channels and the breaking of the long drouth were the outstanding business developments in the Eleventh Federal reserve district in August. The Federal Reserve Bank Business Review showed Sunday department store sales in large cities reflected an expansion of 21 per cent over the previous month, but only 4 per cent over August, 1933. The sales in August were 81.8 per cent of the 1923-1925 average, the highest point of the present recovery.

Sheriff Sanders, who received the nomination of the Citizens' Party in the recent primary for sheriff of Harrison county, equivalent to election, boasts a record that is rarely equaled. When he has served his coming two-year term he will be one of the oldest sheriffs in Texas from point of service, with twenty-six years in the sheriff's office to his credit. Sheriff Sanders is perhaps the only sheriff in Texas boasting the distinction of putting a mob in jail when it tried to get two prisoners he had for safekeeping from an adjoining county.

An unemployed mechanic at Coblenz has perfected a motor car, which can travel on water as well as on land. In a recent demonstration to a party of journalists, the mechanic drove his motor car along the road beside the Moselle. Then he turned it into the river, drove some distance along the water and finally returned to the road. There is nothing abnormal about the appearance of the motor car—which weighs 1400 pounds—except that it has a paddle wheel at the back. It is protected underneath by rubber and sailcloth, which enables it to float. The front wheels act as a rudder and steering is described as "quite easy."

One item of the toll of the recent infantile paralysis epidemic was disclosed in Los Angeles, when it developed that 137 physicians, nurses, laboratory workers, active in fighting the epidemic are recuperating from the

It was said these workers were afflicted more severely than most of the patients under their care, because the workers' resistance had been undermined by long hours and irregular sleep. Their afflictions have been classed as "industrial accidents" and all are receiving state compensation.

With the Dionne quintuplets still thriving in their Ontario home, the dominion bureau of statistics has produced figures showing Canada today enjoys the distinction of a remarkable record for multiple births. In the period from 1926 to 1932—seven years—20,497 twins were born in a total of 1,690,032 births in a country with a population of but 10,500,000 persons. The proportion of twins was one in 82.5. Two hundred and three triplets were born in the same period. There was one quadruplet birth in 1931, but all four little girls died within a few hours. In 1923, however, quadruplets were born in New Brunswick and all are still alive.

During that week, the NRA has furnished workers to clean up all vacant lots, streets and alleys. It is urged that all property owners co-operate with them, and use every effort to clean up and beautify their premises and especially to rake up and burn all trash and rubbish that would create a fire hazard.

As a part of the clean-up work, attention is called to all cess pools, sink holes or damp places where mosquitoes might breed. A little kerosene properly applied will do wonders in eradicating this pest.

A city ordinance requires all pit toilets to be kept in good condition. All property owners are requested to see the ordinance is complied with on their premises. Now is a good time to see to this matter.

With best wishes to all, let us work together to make Goldthwaite a clean, safe, sanitary beautiful city. H. G. BODKIN Mayor.

ELECTION BALLOT

The ballot to be used in the general election in Texas November 6, will list four parties, Democratic, Republican, Socialist and Communist.

In addition, E. J. Hix of Houston is running as an independent candidate for congress from the eighth district and there may be other independent candidates certified direct to county officers and not through the secretary of state.

The voters may choose between four candidates for United States senator. They are Tom Connally of Marlin, Democrat, the incumbent; U. S. Goen, attorney of El Paso, Republican; W. B. Starr of Cisco, Socialist; and L. C. Keel of Ranger, Communist.

Seeking to be governor of Texas are the following: James V. Allred, of Wichita Falls; D. E. Waggoner and George Clifton Edwards of Dallas, and Enoch Hardaway of Breckenridge.

The 21 Democratic nominees for seats in the national house of representatives are opposed by eight Republicans, one independent and two Socialists.

The voters will pass on eight constitutional amendments which would provide, among other things, for classification of property for taxation purposes; county management and control by the commissioners courts; abolition in certain counties of the fee system of compensating district and county officers; creation of new counties by legislative enactment; amendment or repeal of home rule city charters every 12 months, enabling officials of home rule cities to hold office for four year terms and taxation of University of Texas school lands.

SCIENCE WONDER STORIES

A Film That Sees Like An Eye

It has often been said that in scientific research one thing leads to another, by which it is meant that one improvement in a process or a material is often used as the basis for newer experiments. This was true in the old battle between the iron-clad warship and the steam projectile. When armor was made that kept out the projectile, new projectiles were made that pierced the armor, and so on.

One of chemistry's newest contributions to photography came about the same way. Panchromatic film made possible the use of incandescent lighting in making motion pictures. Then that sort of light necessitated improvements in the film. And from that demand was born the superior panchromatic film which for the first time achieved a relative color sensitiveness having a response throughout the spectrum almost exactly like the human eye, recording the visual brightness of reds and greens most accurately in gray tones of silver.

Portrait artists, cinematographers, color photographers, and other technicians who demand the utmost in photographic quality now use this film.

PRESIDENTIAL POLICIES

President Roosevelt spoke to the country Sunday night over the radio in a national hook-up. The salient points of his address are given for the benefit of those who did not hear his talk and have not read the full text of his message. He said in part:

"I am happy to report that after years of uncertainty, culminating in the collapse of the spring of 1933, we are bringing order out of the old chaos with a greater certainty of the employment of labor at a reasonable wage and of more business at a fair profit."

"The government has come to the assistance of business and with the full expectation that the money used to assist these enterprises will eventually be repaid. I believe it will be."

"We count, in the future as in the past, on the driving power of individual initiative and the incentive of fair private profit, strengthened with the acceptance of those obligations to the public interest, which rest upon us all."

"We have passed through the formative period of code making . . . and have effected a reorganization of the NRA suited to the needs of the next phase, which is, in turn, a period of preparation for legislation which will determine its permanent form."

"If the codes which have been written have been too complicated, if they have gone too far in such matters as price fixing and limitation of production, let it be remembered that so far as possible, consistent with the immediate public interest of this past year and the vital necessity of improving labor conditions, the representatives of trade and industry were permitted to write their ideas into the codes."

"During the last 12 months our industrial recovery has been to some extent retarded by strikes, including a few of major importance. . . I propose to confer within the coming month with small groups of those truly representative of large employers of labor and of large groups of organized labor, in order to seek their co-operation in establishing what I may describe as a specific trial period of industrial peace."

"To those who say that our expenditures for public works and other means for recovery are a waste that we can not afford, I answer that no country, however rich, can afford the waste of its human resources. . . I stand or fall by my refusal to accept as a necessary condition of our future a permanent army of unemployed."

"Nearly all Americans are sensible and calm people. We do not get greatly excited . . . by awesome pronouncements concerning the unconstitutionality of some of our measures of recovery and relief and reform. We are not frightened by reactionary lawyers or political editors. All of these cries have been heard before."

"In our efforts for recovery we have avoided on the one hand the theory that business should and must be taken over into an all-embracing government. We have avoided on the other hand the equally untenable theory that it is an interference with liberty to offer reasonable help when private enterprise is in need of help."

ALLRED WINS AGAIN

Litigation to keep the name of James V. Allred, Democratic nominee for governor, off the general election ballot is at an end.

The supreme court refused to reopen the case whereby three residents of San Antonio would have barred Allred's name on grounds he exceeded the legal limit in campaign expenditures.

In all points the supreme court sustained decisions of the fourth court of civil appeals, which had dissolved a district court injunction and held the expenditures law unconstitutional.

The district court order had restrained Secretary of State W. W. Heath from certifying Allred's name, but certification was had immediately after that order had been dissolved.

The supreme court refused to grant Joe Burkett, attorney for the plaintiffs, leave to file motion for rehearing on the court of civil appeals action.

M. Booker of Caradan community looked after business in the big town Saturday.

Rev. J. W. Kelley, who fell and broke his left arm near the shoulder last week, is reported to be getting along as well as could be expected.

Blake Hudson is still in the hospital in Temple and is reported to be getting along well. It is hoped he will be able to come home in a few days.

Miss Frances Page, who was injured in an automobile wreck near Waco several weeks ago, is reported to be getting along nicely and it is hoped she will soon be fully recovered.

Judge J. C. Darroch, who was quite sick for several days, is now able to be up and about.

You can have your sausage ground and seasoned at Bill's Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dew were among those who went to Brownwood to hear Bishop Boaz preach last Sunday night.

W. A. Richards has had some attractive improvements made on the interior of his store and cafe, which are advantageous to the business.

Dumble Hamilton is now one of the Trent bank employes. His friends are glad to see him there again.

Charm In Modern Upholstery

Modern Home Decoration Service

The above furniture grouping, designed by Gilbert Rohde, is equally pleasing and practical, with its modern lines and materials that offer comfort with durability. The small chair is made of polished chromium plated tubing which does not scratch or mar easily, and the large chair of a combination of tubing and flat polished chromium plated spring steel. The practical and high style features of these two pieces are further carried out in the upholstery of white Faubourg in leather finish a lacquered fabric which is washable. The large table with metal frame has a lacquered wooden top; cork is used for the other. Note, too, the indirect lighting and the plaid design in the draperies, both of which are mod-ern notes.
