MARRIED IN BRENHAM

Mayor W. H. Thompson of Brownwood and Mrs. Elizabeth Reichard were married yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at the bride's residence in Brenham, only a few relatives and intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left Brenham in their car for their home in Brownwood. They reached Goldthwaite at noon and were guests in the home of his niece, Mrs. Joe A. Palmer, for lunch, after which they proceeded to Brownwood.

Mr. Thompson is a brother of the Eagle editor and was engaged in the dry goods business in this city a good many years ago, afterwards locating in Brownwood, where he was in the banking business and later in the wholesale grocery business for a number of years. He has large property interests in that city, as well as being mayor and city manager.

The bride has been a leader in social and religious circles in Brenham. She has visited in Goldthwaite a few times and her acquaintances here join with the friends of her husband in extending good wishes.

PECAN GROWERS MEET

There is to be a meeting of pecan growers of this section in San Saba, today and Saturday, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. This is the regular meeting of the West Texas Pecan Growers Association. The meeting is to be held in San Saba hotel and W. J. Millican, one of the officials of the organization and one of the main pecan boosters in Texas, says that all pecan growers and those interested are invited to attend whether they are members of the organization or not.

A program has been prepared for the occasion and a banquet is to be furnished by San Saba people this evening at 7:30, and a fine feed is promised. Carl Blasig, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Brady, is to be toastmaster for the banquet.

TAX PLAN WRONG

A special committee of the senate announced yesterday that something was radically wrong with Texas' tax system and it was becoming increasingly necessary that changes be made.

The committee was created by the last special session of the 43rd legislature to study the financial condition of the state, with particular reference to recommendations to the next legislature designed to provide a balanced tax and financial program.

The committee declared there were two main reasons for the state's "failure to receive the proper revenues now prescribed by law." One is the improper assessment of known assets; the other is the complete escape from taxation of "hidden assets."

Methodist Notes

Everything is moving smoothly along Methodist lines these days. If the congregations hold out through "dog-days," as they appear today, the prospect will indeed seem good. Of this, however, there should be no fear. As a matter of fact, the congregations have usually been good at this church at all seasons of the year.

Last Friday evening the board of stewards were the guests of the pastor and his wife at a dinner. The occasion was one to be long remembered, both for the generosity that inspired it and for elegant repast itself. After the dining the board met in an informal business meeting and discussed matters pertaining to the welfare of the church. All left with a sense of gratitude to our pastor and his wife for their gracious hospitality.

Next Monday evening all Methodists and their friends are invited to attend a church meeting at the church. At that time the board of stewards, aided by other organizations of the church are to entertain the entire membership. A splendid program will be given, refreshments will be served and an all-round good time may be expected. Do not miss this occasion, but be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock, when as Mark Twain said in advertising one of his lectures, "The trouble will begin."

At the set-up meeting held at Llano last week, plans were made to divide the district into zone meetings, with the hope that these zones may be helpful, one to the other. Our zone is made up of Goldthwaite, Lometa and Center City churches. The first meeting will be held Dec. 12. The place will be announced later. Our pastor, Bro. Duke, will be the official head of the zone. Let us all get ready for this meeting and make it a force for mutual helpfulness.

The chairman of our board of stewards, W.M. Johnson, has begun his duties in a very commendable way. He is, in fact, manifesting very commendable zeal and judgment. Well aware of his own limitations, he has acquired an able assistant, Miss Myrna Miller, one of the most efficient members of our choir, will hereafter be known as Mrs. Johnson. All parties are to be congratulated. J. S. BOWLES

Tuesday, Nov. 27, the Parent Teachers association met in a special called session with a few members present.

In business session a balance of $174.46 was reported in the treasury. Room mothers were appointed for some of the grades, and it was especially urged that the high school teachers appoint room mothers soon.

An amount of $15 was allowed to the grammar school library, with which books for the library are to be bought. The home economics department was designated to make a cover for the piano in the grammar school auditorium and present the bill to the organization.

The welfare committee reported something around $40.00 worth of clothes, quilts, etc., collected for the needy.

An allowance of $7.50 was made for the purchase of records for the music department.

The senior class won the attendance prize.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on the second Tuesday in January, 1935.

STREET SERVICE

Rev. Johnie Lovell, pastor of the Old Time Religion Church of the Air, will be in Goldthwaite Saturday afternoon at 2:30 to hold services on the street. You are invited to hear him.

Many Checks For Farmers

The farm agent's office had received 800 checks up to Wednesday as second payment on cotton land rental. These checks do not include the parity payments, which are not due until December, but there will be a considerable amount involved in these parity checks.

Cattle checks for the first and second quotas have practically all been received and distributed, while about one-half of the checks in payment for sheep and goats have been received and the remainder will likely be here in the next few days and Mr. Weaver and his assistants will give notice to those to whom they are payable as soon as they are received.

The county agent received 679 checks, aggregating $14,000, in one mail this week.

All of this money has been helpful to those receiving it and has made a big improvement in business, especially in the way of the settlement of obligations.

NAZARENE REMARKS

It is indeed a privilege to have one of the best known, most universally loved and most frequently quoted minister of our day to be with us for a service on Friday, December 7.

This remarkable man, affectionately known as "Uncle Buddie" has for fifty years been engaged in evangelistic work, covering the whole of the United States and Canada, and recently toured Palestine and Egypt, and is still going strong, able to preach two and three times a day. "Uncle Buddie," in all of his tours, has traveled a distance of over 1,275,000 miles. He is known by such titles as the "Modern Miracle," "W a l k i n g Bible," "Weeping Prophet." He comes to us with his characteristic burning gospel message, freely spiced with native Irish wit, sparkling with rich humor and dripping with tenderest pathos. It is said of his congregations, "They laugh then cry, then laugh and cry at the same time." Many people have traveled hundreds of miles to be in one service and hear this most unique and most frequently quoted preacher in America. As a rule, the buildings where he speaks are filled to overflowing. Public is cordially invited. Don't forget the place—Nazarene church. The date—Friday, Dec. 7. The time—7:00 p. m.

The services were well attended at the Nazarene church last Sunday. All departments of the church have made marked increases in membership and attendance since the beginning of this assembly year. The Sunday school has had a gradual growth and has almost doubled in attendance since we came.

We had a splendid response from our people in a nice Thanksgiving offering last Sunday evening, following our Thanksgiving—Missionary program, which was rendered by our Junior Missionary Society. CHARLIE HARRISON, Pastor

TRIGGER MOUNTAIN

W. M. S. AND Y. W. A.

The W. M. S. and Y. W. A. met Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 29, at the church owing to the bad weather there were only eleven of our members present. However, the program was very interesting. The ladies have been quite busy the past week preparing gifts for Buckner Orphan's Home. We are glad to report that they succeeded in baking about 1200 cookies for the orphan's Thanksgiving dinner, and also gave $5.00 as an offering.

Our next meeting will also be at the church December 7, which will be an all day prayer service.

BONUS PETITION

All ex-service men who desire to sign the petition to have the soldiers bonus paid can call at S. W. Smith's office, Texas-Louisiana Power Co., Goldthwaite, or Gilbert Chancellor's office, Mullin. On Saturday they can sign at the county clerk's office if it is more convenient for them than at the other places.

WRITERS THANKED

The Eagle sincerely appreciates the kindness and loyalty of its correspondents and other writers. Last week a request was made for the letters to be sent in early, on account of the Thanksgiving holiday, and they all came in as desired. This is certainly appreciated by the editors and the other workers in the office and we thank all of the writers heartily.

Cotton Crop Very Short

The ginners of Mills county have reported to the federal department of commerce the ginning of 4292 bales of cotton of the crop of 1934 up to Nov. 14, as compared to 6236 bales up to the same time last year. This reduction of approximately 2000 bales was due as much to the curtailing of the acreage as to the dry weather during the growing season. While few crops made an average yield this year, owing to the unfavorable season, the crop would not have been heavy under the most favorable conditions, because of the small acreage devoted to cotton. Farmers realize, however, that had there been no reduction in cotton acreage throughout the cotton growing states the crop would have scarcely been worth picking, hence the reduction in acreage was decidedly beneficial.

CATTLE BUYING

Government purchase of 1000 cattle in Mills county started Tuesday and the schedule closes December 4. Only condemn cows over 2 years will be accepted. Due notice of concentration points been posted and producers may deliver at the most convenient point.

Dr. E. D. Rhoads is our B. A. I. inspector and Pat Kennedy, appraiser. All producers who sold after Sept. 12, and those who never have signed up will participate in the quota. It is thought that enough condemn cows to fill the quota will be available. If a condemn cow has a calf under 2 years old or any condemn calf will be accepted.

Goat buying closed last Saturday with the purchase of approximately 4000 more goats.

FARMERS' MEETINGS

Meetings are being held in the various communities for the purpose of giving needed information on the Bankhead referendum to be taken December 14, and other matters relative to the administration of the government's activities. All meetings will open at 7:30 p. m.

The following places are on the schedules: Ridge, Thursday, Nov. 22; Pimpey, Monday, Nov. 26; Priddy, Wednesday, Nov. 28; Prairie, Thursday, Nov. 29; Mullin, Friday, Nov. 30; Star, Monday, Dec. 3; Big Valley, Tuesday, Dec. 4; Pleasant Grove, Wednesday, Nov. 5; Center City, Thursday, Nov. 6; Ebony, Friday, Nov. 7. It is desired that a good attendance be had and we will thank you to give the meeting in your community full publicity through the school and through out the community. Other meetings will be had when requested by producers in the community.

REHABILITATION CHECKS

Counties participating in the rural rehabilitation program received November allotment checks totaling $236,100, it was announced by the head of the rural rehabilitation department of the Texas relief commission. These checks will cover rehabilitation needs in 76 counties of the state, other counties, having enough rehabilitation funds on hand from previous allotments to take care of their needs for the remainder of this month.

MERRY WIVES CLUB

A profusion of chrysanthemums, roses and other fall garden flowers in attractive arrangement decorated the home of Mrs. Walter Fairman Tuesday afternoon, when she was hostess to members of the Merry Wives Club.

Three tables of club members and substitutes composed the personnel of the affair. Mrs. Dew and Miss Conroy won high score. Both were presented with attractive gifts by the hostess.

READERS OF DAILIES

Those who subscribe for daily papers in combination with their Eagle subscription are urged to send in their subscriptions at once, as some of the dailies expect to advance their prices Dec. 1, and again January 1. There will be no cheaper rates for the dailies than those made heretofore. In some cases the Eagle can save you a good amount on those subscriptions.

CORRESPONDENTS NOTICE

The Eagle appreciates your letters, but must know who does the writing. Sign your name to EVERY LETTER. The name will not be published.

Thanksgiving Observed Here

Thanksgiving was universally observed here yesterday. Business houses remained closed throughout the day, the public school suspended from Wednesday afternoon to next Monday, in order that the teachers might have an opportunity to attend the state meeting of teachers at Galveston. The postoffice was closed a greater part of the day and rural carriers did not make their rounds, while the star route carriers delivered mail as usual.

There were no public religious services in Goldthwaite for Thanksgiving, as the churches had included a Thanksgiving reference in the services last Sunday.

THE COTTON PROGRAM

Secretary Wallace, indicating concern over the dwindling consumption of cotton, this week invited producers to reduce an additional five per cent in 1935 after ordering them to make the maximum slash possible—25 per cent. Thus a reduction of one-quarter must be made in average number of acres planted in cotton during the 1923-1932 period. The two year cotton contracts which called for a 40 per cent cut in 1934 placed the 25 per cent limit as the maximum cut which could be required for next year.

A statement by Wallace and an accompanying review of cotton's position gave the figures which showed that, even with the plow-up campaign in 1933 and the almost 15,000,000 acres taken out of production this year, the United States and the world still has one of the largest carry overs on record.

Consumption has dropped this year both at home and abroad. Under the circumstances, the secretary took out as many acres as he could; opened the campaign to let non-co-operators come in and invited the extra curtailment.

Additional benefit payments aggregating $7,500,000 were promised to farmers already under contract in the program announced.

BRADY MAN CHARGED

W. W. Cox returned last night from Austin, where he made bond Monday in the sum of $1000 before the United States Commissioner to appear before the federal grand jury to answer charges of misappropriation of government relief funds during the period in which he served as McCulloch county relief administrator last year. Mr. Cox went to Austin Sunday, accompanied by R. L. Burns and J. M. Pate. He returned the nominal bond under which Mr. Cox is held. The complaint was made by J. L. Adkins, government secret service agent, who has been conducting an investigation of the administration of local relief funds for the past couple weeks.

Oil Well Going Down

Work on the oil well in the Rock Springs community is going steadily on and those in charge of operations are hopeful of bringing in a real well in the very near future. They are working night and day and the indications are decidedly encouraging.

The bringing in of this well will be a great thing for this section and will put Mills county on the map as oil producing territory. Everybody is hoping for the best results and, from all reports received, there is good cause for indulging strong hopes. Of course, the results can not be known as a certainty, as there is always a chance for disappointment, but the people in charge of this well know their business and the fact that they are putting good money and lots of it, into the prospect well gives good cause for hope and encouragement.

MARRIED AT LOMETA

Friends here of Mr. W. Marsh Johnson and Miss Myrna Miller were informed last Saturday of their marriage in Lometa, Rev. L. C. Mathis, pastor of the Methodist church in that city, officiating.

The contracting parties are well known and popular in Goldthwaite. Mr. Johnson is a member of the firm of Johnson Bros., agents for the Texas Co., and is recognized as a business man of integrity. He is chairman of the board of stewards of the Methodist church and takes interest in civic affairs and improvement. The bride was reared in this county and is a popular member of the public school faculty, where she is appreciated for her efficiency and devotion to duty.

After the marriage ceremony they went for a wedding trip to several places of interest and are expected home this week end, where a hearty welcome awaits them by their large circle of friends.

DUREN IMPROVING

E. A. Duren, former commissioner of Mullin precinct, is still in the sanitarium in Brownwood, where he was carried after the accident last week, in which his left arm was badly broken, when his car was side-swiped by a truck on the highway between Mullin and Goldthwaite. He is said to be resting well and there are strong hopes of saving the arm, although it had not been set at last reports received here. The physicians were waiting to reduce the swelling before setting it. There is a break in the elbow and another near the shoulder. A number of his friends from Mullin have visited him in the hospital and some of his relatives remain at his bedside.

Football Boys Extend Appreciation

The Goldthwaite high school football team wishes to extend their appreciation to the pep squad, student body, faculty and their supporters from the town and county for the wonderful co-operation, encouragement and backing they have given the team this year. Although we have won only one game we have received your support throughout the entire season.

A football team must have co-operation, backing and encouragement. When they are winning or when they are losing.

The football boys also wish to extend their appreciation to Coach Cloninger for the effort he has put forth this year, trying to build up a winning team. Even though his team did not win all the games they expected to, they have learned how to be good sports and good losers.—Capt. Bill Todd.

Revelers Sing At Methodist Church

Monday night the Revelers sponsored "The Girl of the Limberlost" at the Melba Theatre, and sang "Swanee River Blues," "In the Evening by the Moonlight Long Ago," "Freckle Face" and "Pardon My Southern Accent." They wish to thank all of the people who helped them by attending and Mr. Pence for letting them sponsor the show.

They also wish to thank Miss Ruby Lee Dickerson for her work with them.

These boys are enthusiastic and are interested in the club and hope to appear before the public again soon.

Six Week Tests Postponed
 The six week tests, which have been given on Monday and Tuesday of the seventh week, have been postponed until Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, because of the Thanksgiving holidays.

Did You Know
 That Friday was the first time in six years that the Eagles have defeated the San Saba Armadillos?

That there are more new students in high school this year than ever has been before?

That there is only one more six weeks before mid-term examinations?

That there has been more improvements made on the buildings and campus this year than any two years put together?

Capillas

Last Sunday night the Capillas were invited to sing at the Methodist church. They sang two selections from the Methodist hymn book, "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "All Hail the Power." They also sang two special numbers, "Sing Unto the Lord," and "Praise the Lord."

The Capillas greatly appreciate the invitation extended to them by the Methodist church Sportsmanship and Co-operation. One of the greatest honors a boy or girl can receive is to be called a "good sport." Sportsmanship is recognized the world over in every field of activity, either athletic or literary.

On the football field a boy is recognized and praised for his qualities of sportsmanship and co-operation. He doesn't have to play in the backfield and make the touchdowns to be praised.

People on the sidelines watch the men in the line as well as the men in the backfield. The boy that co-operates with his team mates and plays a good, clean game of ball will stand out from the rest of the crowd. He is not only respected and admired by the people on the sidelines, but by the opposing team as well.

A player that can co-operate with his fellow players, even though the other fellow gets all the glory and he receives none, is the most valuable player on the team.

In any phase of life, people recognize sportsmanship and co-operation as the most desirable of qualities.

Always treat the other fellow square and he will treat you square in return.

Grammar School Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club of the grammar school is improving rapidly. The club is composed of the sixth and seventh grade girls, directed by Miss Doris Scott.

We have made only one appearance so far, but are practicing so we will be able to respond any time. We are learning several songs and are all very interested in our work.

Chapel Program

Last Friday morning during assembly period, Mr. Cloninger gave a short talk on the San Saba game. Then Clark Huddleston, ex-football player of Goldthwaite high school, and now a student of a business college in Abilene, gave a short talk on "What It Means to Play San Saba." Billy Johnson, John D. Ford and Connie Saylor also gave short talks on the San Saba game.

Two members of the faculty, Mrs. Barnett and Miss Gati'n, also gave short talks on the football game. The pep squad gave a ten minute pep rally.

What I Think About Football

Football is one of the greatest sports in existence in the high school today. Each year more students are taking part in football. It develops the mind of a student into a quick-thinking machine. A student must pass at least three subjects before he is eligible to play football. This causes the student to study harder so he will be eligible to play. Football shows just how much "guts" a player has. If a player is yellow he will always be shown up on the football field.

Football develops quick thinking men, who can co-operate with their fellow players.—Geo. Johnson.

What I Think About Football

In my estimation football is the greatest sport that is now in practice. Football not only teaches one "how to take," but it teaches one how to think in a crisis. It is helpful in one's studies, because a boy must be mentally awake as well as physically fit.

Football develops initiative, sportsmanship, co-operation and respect for one's fellow players. Every boy should be encouraged to play at least two years in high school, because it will help him very much in later life.—Bill Todd.

School Holidays

The public schools of Goldthwaite will have Thanksgiving holidays from Wednesday until Monday. The staff members of the High School Herald wish to extend their best wishes for a happy Thanksgiving to everyone.

The Appreciation of the Pep Squad to Their Leaders and Sponsors

The pep squad wish to express their thanks to their leaders and sponsors for their faithfulness, patience and suggestions. Sometimes the cheer leaders might think that the squad didn't appreciate their hard work, but they really did.

Two of the leaders, Daphne Evans and Gertrude Johnson, will be out of high school next year, and they will certainly be missed. Daphne has been yell leader for four years and will be present with a school sweater, with four stripes on the sleeve by the pep squad, as a token of appreciation for her loyal work during that time. However, Willie Faye Gray, the other yell leader, will be with us next year and we know that she will continue her good work with the pep squad.

Appreciation

The pep squad has been very loyal and enthusiastic in everything the leaders have planned. Each Tuesday and Thursday evening of every week the pep squad stayed and practiced in order to present a new formation at each football game and we hope the results were well worth their time and energy.

The sponsors have been a great help to the leaders. At each practice one of them always criticized us in order that we might look better and be more nearly perfect. Without their help the pep squad would not have been one of the best that Goldthwaite high school ever had.

Thanksgiving Pantomime

The sixth grade presented a play to the grammar school students last Wednesday, in which they gave a scene from "The Courtship of Miles Standish." Everyone enjoyed the play, as it was close to Thanksgiving and was very appropriate.

Pep Rally

A large crowd of high school students met last Thursday night in front of the Baptist church and marched in couples down Fisher street to the intersection of Fisher and First. A bonfire was built and a pep rally was held. Songs were sung and the pep yells were given. After enthusiasm and spirit had been aroused for the coming game, Mr. Smith and several of the girls and boys made talks on the game with San Saba.

Pep Squad Formations

The pep squad was at the game last Friday yelling and cheering the Eagles on to victory. This game was the last game to which many of the girls will go as members of the squad. That was probably one reason they made it such a success.

They had learned new songs, new yells and a new formation. The formation was carried out during the half. It was composed of 36 girls who marched out on the field and formed a square, six girls to each row. Each girl carried a large black cardboard with a letter, either an E, A, G, L, E or S, and as the signal was given, six girls flashed their letters in such a way as to spell Eagles. Then before marching off the field a yell was given for each team.

Coach Extends Appreciation

To those who have been so loyal with their support and consideration, I wish to thank sincerely.

Anyone will support a winning team, but it's a lot different when a team loses. I think we have had wonderful support considering the results of the season.

I want to thank the merchants and the people of Goldthwaite for your time, influence and interest in our football team. I hope you are in some way satisfied with this football season and, look forward as we do, to another season for better results.

To the pep squad, Daphne Evans, Lawrence Bledsoe, teachers, Mr. Smith and student body I thank you for your confidence, your co-operation and most loyal support.—S. E. Cloninger.

OPHELIA HORTON MARRIED

Miss Ophelia Horton and C.B. Allison of Spur, Texas, were recently united in marriage. Miss Horton, a graduate of the Methodist Home and a teacher in its school for the past three years, will be greatly missed by the children and her associates.

Though a quiet unassuming young lady, she had made a host of friends during her girlhood days here and also during the period she taught. The wedding came as a surprise to her closest friends, who wish for her much happiness as she travels down life's rugged pathway.

Mr. Allison is a teacher in a school near Spur, and it is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Allison will make their home in that city.—Sunshine Weekly.

OVER THE WORLD

Cotton farmers will vote December 14 on whether they wish the Bankhead cotton control act continued in force for another year. The date of the balloting has been announced by Secretary Wallace and the voting will begin at 9 a. m. on that date. The balloting will be closed at 5 p. m. The question on which voters will answer "yes" or "no" is: "Are you in favor of continuing the Bankhead act for next year?"

In two hours and two minutes deliberation Saturday, 12 federal court jurors in Chicago, shattered the government's charges of a $100,000,000 mail fraud against Samuel Insull and his 19 business associates with a verdict of acquittal. Between lunch time and the dinner hour, the voluminous case, against the ruler of a one-time $2,000,000,000 utility system was put into the hands of a jury and decided in his favor.

Merchants from coast to coast are anticipating the largest Christmas trade since 1931, the National Retail Dry Goods association reported Saturday, asserting December sales are expected to show an increase of 11 per cent over 1931 and 21.5 over December, 1932. The association's estimates were based on a survey of its 5000 member department and specialty stores and thirty states are represented in the tabulations.

The state of Nuevo Leon, Mexico, will spend over 700,000 pesos on road building next year, according to information received from Santiago Cerna, Monterey, civil engineer. The appropriation is the largest in the history of the state for road building and consists of 350,000 pesos allotted by the state itself, which is matched by federal funds for the same amount and an additional state allotment of 50,000 pesos for maintenance.

A Denver glass eye firm has received many a queer request, but the one that came from an Albuquerque, N. M., man was labeled the queerest. The customer wrote: "Please send me the exact duplicate of the glass eye I'm sending you, only make it a little bit bloodshot. When I have been out with the boys the night before, my glass eye remains nice and bright while my one good eye wakes up dull and bloodshot. I want 'em to match." The Denver firm expects to fill the order.

All church property, regardless of sect or use since 1859, belongs to the nation, the supreme court of Mexico ruled this week.

Samuel Insull and all his co-defendants were acquitted of mail fraud charges Saturday by a federal court jury in Chicago, which deliberated a little more than two hours. A demonstration broke out in the court room as a poll of the jury affirmed the verdict.

Charges that Japan, by accumulating vast stocks of opium in Manchukuo, sought to make drug addicts of the Chinese population and thus "weaken their morale" were revealed Monday in confidential League of Nations records published for the first time.

Reports of a Franco-Russian military alliance are viewed in Berlin, Germany, as having a possible "poisonous effect on the international atmosphere. No official comment was forthcoming, but one government spokesman said "an alliance between two such highly-armed nations as France and Russia is regrettable."

A young couple, each 14 years old, announced the birth of a daughter in Fort Worth Saturday. The daughter weighed five and a half pounds and is normal in every respect, the attending physician reported. Both mother and child are doing well. The parents are the youngest on record in Fort Worth.

We don't know how long it's been going on, but there's rather a vogue just now among travelers to use the United States money order service. People going over, for instance, to Dallas, simply stop in at the post office and mail the money order to themselves at Dallas. It protects them from possible loss or theft. —San Antonio Light.

New deal money lending reached a point Sunday where nearly $7,000,000,000 was owed to the federal government. A survey of the five principal emergency credit agencies showed loans outstanding to public and private enterprise aggregated $6,946,069,897, and only the future could determine definitely when the flow of money would stop. As security, Uncle Sam holds everything from corn in cribs and mortgages on individual homes to bank and railroad bonds. The obligations spread over terms from six months to thirty years.

The AAA passed the half-billion dollar mark this week in disbursing its flow of cash to farmers. On July 28, 1933, Wm. E. Morris of Nueces county, Texas, received check No. 1, signed by President Roosevelt. It was a $517 payment to Morris for plowing up part of his standing cotton. Since that time 7,241,676 checks have been mailed out for a grand total of $506,046,428.

Italy jumped squarely into the middle of the Balkan battle over international terrorism Saturday, lining up with Hungary in demanding immediate investigation of Yugoslav charges linking Hungary with the Marselles murders. A complaint Yugoslavia filed with the League of Nations this week charged Hungary with complicity in the assassination of the Slav king, Alexander, last month and charged Hungary harbored terrorists.

Pointing out that Texas already has a large share of high posts in congress and that election of Sam Rayburn would result in "bad feeling" toward the state, Congressman Thomas L. Blanton, in a statement Saturday said he will support Joe Byrns of Tennessee, Democratic majority leader in the contest for the house speakership. Mr. Blanton emphasized the fact that speakers generally have been elected through the advancement-in-office method, and said he believed Byrns is the "logical candidate." He wisely said Texas "can not afford to be hoggit" in the holding of high government offices.

The largest tiger ever killed in India is now on display in San Antonio. This great cat weighed 347 pounds. It is known to have killed over 100 natives of India. The animal was killed on November 20, 1933, after a four-day hunt in the jungles on the outskirts of Syihet, Assam, India. During the hunt it killed six of the native beaters. It made its first attacks during the busy season of the autumnal tea pickings in 1929, and the many slayings that were traceable through the unusually large paws, during this period had made the bagging of it desirable for more than just a trophy. Native alarm was running high and fear of the "devil beast" was then prevalent among the Hindus. All sorts of myths had been invented by this superstition.

Fine rains fell here last week. Another shower Tuesday and all are hopeful for a good grain crop. Many had sowed grain before the rain and it is up looking fine.

He will preach here next Sunday, so let's do our part to be there.

The teacher of the junior class has made a rule to give each pupil a mark every time he talks. Quite a few marks have been given, thus restoring order. The class seems to be progressing in some ways, while as usual there are a few drawbacks.

The ninth grade students are now preparing for examinations. We hope that we will have some very fine grades this term and they hope that their class will be one of the best classes in school this year.

Helga Tischler was absent one day last week.
Thursday they had some English talks, which were based on book reports.

They organized their class on Monday. Nela Jeske was elected president; Wilma Nauert, vice president; Dora Mae Steinmann, secretary; Nelda Jeske, class reporter. We know that all of these members are capable of doing their work well. They will do their very best and in that way hope to succeed.

What If
Mutt Ivy was good looking? Wilma Nauert could sing. Cecil Fickel could play a piano Hazel Eakin was a silly junior.

The eighth grade students are preparing for examinations next week.

The seventh grade pupils had a lesson the other day in English, in which they had to tell about loyalty, truth and honesty. These subjects were discussed thoroughly.

They often enjoy class by drawing slides and letting them compete in answering questions.

The fifth and sixth grades have named themselves the "Bellows."

The following made a 100 in spelling all last week. Fifth grade, Myrtle Schrank, Minnie Steinmann, Oleta Walker, Mervene Schumann, Dorothy Langley, Pauline Eakin, Norma Gene Hill and Lorene Dreckhammer.

Girls Sports
The basket ball girls of Priddy did not play a game this last week end, but they really put in some work. Everyone worked diligently. The girls played the boys by girls' rules and beat them by a big score of 14 to 8. This shows that they have really put in some work. They have also learned how to make free shots, this being done by practice and good will of the players and the coach.

The Priddy basketball girls are going to Indian Gap Thursday, Thanksgiving day.

Priddy Boys Defeat Pompey
On the Priddy court last Friday the Priddy Pups downed the Pompey Creek boys by the score of 26 to 8. Johnnie Mason was high point man, having 15 points to his credit.

Pompey Creek made only one field goal and six free goals.

The Pups were downed by the Prairie boys after the game with Pompey Creek by a score of 23 to 17. However, Geeslin, the center for the Pups, had to go home on the bus and did not get to play. Townsend was high point man, having six points to his credit.

Beads On A String
A capacity house roared with laughter, when the Priddy Sons of Rest presented "Beads On A String." Despite several drawbacks, among which was incompetent advertising, was a success. Ab Dinkler, a would-be detective, played by Coney McDonaid, kept the crowd in a constant uproar with his wisecracks and immense inability to perform his duties as a "detective."

Mr. Crimland and Miss Brasel, as Mr. and Mrs. Davis, respectively, interpreted the parts of two wonderful parents, spots and rows included, very ably.

Lydia Tiemann as Cleopatra, Cleomarine Johnson, was a sight for sore eyes. Last we forgot, Walter J. Marwitz as Uncle Ben, the man with the "laker in question", added much to the already bewildering plot. The remainder of the cast, played their parts to good effect and contributed to the success of the show.

The biology students are getting up to date with their writings and experiments. They are going to change their methods of studying now and have a lesson in the text book three days out of each week and laboratory work the other two days.

REPORTER PASSING OF JOHN W. HILL

A message was received in this city Wednesday afternoon bringing the sad news of the death of Mr. John W. Hill, which occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Giles, in Seguin. It was stated that his remains would be interred in Center City cemetery yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Hill was a pioneer resident of this county and was well known, especially to the older citizens. He was manager of the Farmers Alliance store in this city in an early day and was, through his connection with that business, interested in the newspaper business in this city for some time, the Mills County Advocate having been published as the organ of the Alliance.

After retiring from that business he located on his ranch in the South Bennett community, where he continued to make his home, although spending much of his time among his children after the death of his wife, which occurred several years ago. His health had not been good for several years and it was known here for some time that his condition was serious hence the announcement of his death occasioned no surprise.

THE VALUE OF A SMILE

Just think! To make a frown it takes fifty-two muscles, while it only requires fourteen to smile. Isn't it better and cheaper to smile than to frown? Hearty laughter strengthens the heart beat, deepens breathing and brings more life-giving oxygen to the various parts of the body and aids digestion. A smile is nature's best antidote for the troubles of the mind and body. A smile betrays cheerfulness, cost nothing and gives much. It blesses him who gives and the one who receives it.

ABSENT

Lucille Harmon was absent from school Monday on account of illness. Eammon Perry was absent on Tuesday. Garland Spinks had to work at home Monday. Elmo Fallon was absent Monday.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. A. J. WISE

Mrs. Martha Abagail Fleming Wise was born and reared in San Saba county. She was born June 19, 1864, and was married to Allen J. Wise March 3, 1887, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fleming.

She united with the Church of Christ in 1884. They lived near and in Richland Springs until Mr. Wise went into business at Moran, where they lived until she was called home November 23, 1934. She was confined to her room and bed fourteen months, but she bore her suffering without murmur. She was brought to their old home in Richland Springs, where she lay in state three hours, where her relatives and friends paid their last respects to her.

Her remains were laid away Sunday evening beneath a bank of flowers in the Richland cemetery, in the presence of a host of relatives and friends. There were fifty-five friends who came with them from Moran.

Bro. J. B. Miller of Richland Springs and Bro. Brown of Lone Wolf, Okla., conducted the services at the grave. The seven boys of Mrs. Cora Ford and Judson Wise were pallbearers.

Mmes. B. A. Elliott, R. C. Black, Wilbur Grace, Carl Hopkins, Tom Petty, Thelma Pope, Yates Clayton, Misses Helen Allen, Ouida Hubbard, Zack Bedford, all of Moran, were the flower girls.

Mrs. Ruby Pinnet of Lone Wolf Okla., Mrs. Nolla Camblin of Shreveport, La., Mrs. Mayme Jeremy of Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Elsie Anderson of Moran and three grandsons, Judson Wise, Austin, State University, and one grand daughter, one brother, T. F. Fleming of Pinlon, N.M., three sisters, Mrs. Ann Kirkpatrick of Junction, Mrs. Effie Luckie of San Saba, Mrs. Cora Ford of Lometa, and several nephews and nieces.

To know Mrs. Wise was to love her. She had a lively disposition, always had a kind word and a smile for every one. Her life was radiant with sparkling enthusiasm.

Friends can not find words to express their deep sympathy to the bereaved family. May each find comfort in Him, who alone can heal a heart wounded by the sword of separation, in the prayer of one who loved her. XXX

REORGANIZING RELIEF

The pleasing information comes from Washington that the relief administration is preparing a reorganization of the entire system and that a work program is to take the place of the dole plan as operated the past year. Most of those who have been the beneficiaries of the government's relief system will, very likely, favor the idea of being allowed to earn what they get rather than having it as a free gift. In some places there has been a slipshod system of work in return for the supplies passed out with a free and liberal hand by the government, but there has in reality been very little actual benefit to the government as a result of the plan.

There is nothing creditable for those who need help from the government during a time of depression, stress of misfortune and we should all be proud of our great and liberal government for its activity in behalf of those who were and still are in need of help, but there is no doubt the system has been imposed on in many cases and in many sections, hence the announcement of intended reorganization is received with satisfaction.

Another feature of the reorganization plan that is wise and helpful is the declaration that the wages paid to workers will be in keeping with the schedule of pay in the district or territory where the relief employment is supplied. It should be neither higher or lower than conditions and customs have maintained, while at all times affording a sufficiency for the support of the workers and those dependent upon them, without creating dissatisfaction with the economic conditions and regulations around them.

VOTING ON COTTON PLAN

The secretary of agriculture has announced the date for the cotton farmers of the south to vote on the acceptance or rejection of the Bankhead cotton control law for the next year. Everybody recognizes the need and benefit of some character of government control of cotton production, in the interest of the cotton growers themselves. Various voluntary plans have been tried during the past three-quarters of a century, but none have ever resulted in benefit. It has, therefore, become apparent that some means of forcing a curtailment of production to somewhere near the world's needs has become necessary. The arbitrary curtailment of production, however, is fraught with considerable danger, in that other countries are encouraged to grow cotton when the American supply is reduced and the price increased, but the government has recently endeavored to reach a reciprocal agreement with the nations that are large users of cotton whereby they will take our cotton and we, in turn, will buy their products. When and if this plan is perfected there will be an assurance of a market for the cotton produced by the American farmers, many of whom will advocate the control measure when they have the assurance that the objectionable features developed this year, because of the plan being untried, will be eliminated.

BLANTON ENDORSED

The Eagle sincerely believes that Congressman Thos. L. Blanton is right in his announcement that he will not support Congressman Sam Rayburn's candidacy for speaker, for the good and sufficient reason that Texas has already had many honors and should not get in the attitude of endeavoring to get everything in sight. Such a course would inspire opposition and a belief that the people of this state are unfair in their claims for public honors and public patronage. Mr. Blanton has been in the public service so long that he is able to weigh public questions separately and ascertain the public pulse-beats without misapprehension. It is an unusually broad view he takes and requires considerable courage to take such a stand when one of his own colleagues is the candidate for the honor, yet those who do not know that Mr. Blanton has the courage of his convictions and fearlessly faces any opposition and any criticism need only to investigate his record to find he has always stood four-square for what he thought right, regardless of whether it was popular or unpopular.

Mr. Blanton is still our congressman, but when the time for the change comes, we believe we have the same character of man in our incoming representative, Hon. Chas. L. South.

THE NEXT DEPRESSION

Of course we are all hoping that the depression through which we have just passed, or are passing—if you prefer it that way—will be the last and that future years will bring an unending era of prosperity, but history gives us very little grounds for such hope. The economic cycle swings constantly and is never still. The world has had depressions in the past and they have always been followed by years of plenty. It is possible that another major depression will not occur during the life time of the present generation, hence the lesson we have learned, or should have learned, from the experience of the past five years will be lost, other than the small benefit those who come after us may get from the history of this time. Many people now are planning and preparing against the next depression, which is a wise purpose, for if they do not experience the reversed economic conditions, it is well to prepare for protection, as far as possible, of those who come after them. At any rate, we of this day can have the pleasure of looking forward to a greatly improved economic condition for the world at large and ourselves in particular, having the knowledge that the same result has followed all former depressions as far back as history records.

A BUSY SESSION

The forthcoming session of the national congress is scheduled to be one of the busiest in the history of that august assembly. Many of the administration's policies are to come up for consideration and ratification and many matters outside the announced policies of the Democratic platform demands are to be laid before the session of both houses. The most outstanding of these questions for consideration will be the cotton production control, the soldier bonus and the old age pension, the latter demand being backed by one of the largest petitions ever brought before a law-making body. The overwhelming Democratic majority in both houses of congress adds to the responsibility of the law-makers and there will doubtless be more people interested in the proceedings of this congress than have taken interest in such matters since the world war.

FOES OF AMERICA

Representative Dickstein, vice-chairman of the special house committee which has been investigating alien propaganda, recommends that the life of his committee be extended so that it can probe deeper into the plots of communist agitators in our midst.

There should be no hesitation by the house of representatives to give its committee this enabling extension and also whatever further power may be necessary to make its investigation of communism effective and thorough.

It is reported that the Communists occupy a nine-story office building in New York city, utilized exclusively to house their propagandist activities.

They are said to have a school with 3000 students and an organized school system which extends throughout the United States.

Rep. Dickstein charges, what is now a matter of general knowledge, that Communists are at the bottom of most of our labor disorders and are incessantly fomenting local strikes, in their pursuit of public disorder for its own sake, as tending to the achievement of their ultimate aim—the overthrow of society.

These sinister activities are known to be directed by aliens, many of whom are illegally present in this country. They have penetrated through our barriers by stealth and deception, aided by the apathy or collusion of our immigration authorities, from the top down.

There has been flagrant laxity and partiality, which the artful and under-cover Communist has been quick to take advantage of.

With Communism, there can be no truckle or half-way measures.

It is not entitled to the protection of our constitution, whose violent overthrow is the openly avowed purpose of communism.

The constitutional guarantees of the right of assembly, free speech and press, cannot logically be invoked by a Communist.

He exists to destroy American institutions, to destroy the constitution, to strike down its guarantees of freedom and to abolish American liberty.

As Daniel Webster said in one of his great speeches: "The constitution can not contemplate an event which must be preceded by its own destruction."

In other words, the constitution does not exist to protect its enemies in their work of undermining and destroying it.

The Communist is an enemy of the United States—and a contemptible enemy, because he whines when he is caught or exposed, and clamors for the protection of laws, which he hates and violates.

For the present, let us at least expose him pitilessly—and all malice-fed and brain-twisted confederates, in whatever walk of life, official or private, they are found!

And let him be dealt with when found!

Allen Communists ought to be deported, and citizens who conspire against the government ought to be deprived of their citizenship.—San Antonio Light.

LOOKING FORWARD

With all the elections over, things are very quiet in Cottle county. With the short crop now on—one of the shortest in the history of the county—the folks do not have much work to look after. That means they are very much at "leisure." Until it rains there will be little, if any, farm work done. The land will not be in much shape to work until the rains do come this way, which it is hoped will happen soon. The optimists have their hopes all in first class shape, and are believing there will be a good crop next year.—Paducah Post.

REPUBLICAN VITALITY

The Democratic victory in the general election possibly put the elephant to bed for a time, but he will be out as sure as shootin' if the little mule doesn't walk a bee-line. It will be well for the party now in power to keep this in mind in every undertaking. The opposing party will be watching and planning a comeback.—Edgewood Enterprise.

VIEWES OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST AND IMPORTANCE

THE COTTON PROGRAM FOR 1935

What May Be Done

If cotton growers vote to retain the Bankhead act for the 1935 crop, it does not mean that it will apply in exactly the same manner as in 1934. In fact, the bill itself provides that the method of the allotment must be different. Here is the language:

"Allotments to any farm may be made . . . based upon (1) a percentage of the average annual production . . . for a representative period; or (2) by ascertaining the amount of cotton the farm would have produced . . . if all the cultivated land has been planted to cotton, and then reducing such amount by such percentage . . . as will be sufficient to bring the total of the farm allotments within the county's allotment; or (3) upon such basis as the secretary . . . deems fair and just."

The first method was adopted for 1934, and the act continues: "After the crop year 1934-35 the apportionment shall not be on the basis set out in paragraph (1) . . . of this section." For the ensuing year, therefore, the allotments will be made either by method (2) as above, or by some other method under (3). These two provisions (2) and (3) give wide latitude for changing the application of the Bankhead to avoid inequities which have shown up under the 1934 method of allotment.

Method (2) has its advocates, it being practically identical with the McDonald amendment to the so-called Clair plan. The present proponents of this method, however, favor its application on only a domestic allotment, with freedom to plant and produce ad libitum above the domestic quota.

Under (3) any other "fair and just" method could be used. Among those which have tentatively proposed is the "50-50" plan adopted by Limestone county farmers as described in a previous issue of Farm and Ranch. It proposes that no farm be allowed to plant more than half the cultivated land in cotton.

The "50-50" plan is undoubtedly sound from an individual farm management standpoint, as well as for the ultimate interest of the entire cotton belt. Its constitutionality, however, is questioned, if dependent upon enforcement by fine and imprisonment. It is possible it could be implemented by a tax on the surplus if a grower planted more than half his land. The principal argument offered for this plan is its simplicity and its protection of the small farmer against the large operator.

The "family allotment" idea proposes that each cotton-growing family receive a minimum base allotment of three to five tax-free bales, the remainder of the national quota to be allotted on some other basis. Support for this proposal lies in the argument that it would encourage land owners to keep all share croppers and tenant families on the land; and that the minimum allotment of a cash crop is equivalent to the minimum wage in industry. It has been objected that this would be "according to how many children the grower has." It may be retorted that this is the basis on which many large land owners now accept tenants.

From the foregoing it will be seen that if not all the evils complained of in the 1934 operation of the Bankhead act can be corrected without destroying the law itself, the choice then lies between restriction of production until the present surplus is reduced, and no restriction, which would possibly undo all that has been done by drouth and law during the past two years.

Since all those who have taken allotments and received tax exemption certificates under the present laws have agreed to cooperate in further adjustment programs for 1935, it remains with them to decide whether those who have not signed up shall be free to plant and produce at will, thus jeopardizing the efforts of the great major-

OLD AGE PENSION

The answer of sound economists to the Townsend plan was condensed succinctly in a recent issue of the Literary Digest. "They regard as a fallacy," the Digest declares, "the notion that because the pension money would be spent as fast as it was received, its constant return would replenish the source from which it was received. A nation's income may be expressed in money, but, in reality, it consists of goods subject to consumption. The rapid spending of $19,200,000,000 by non-producers would not replace the goods it bought, but merely boost, beyond belief, the prices of all goods." To this argument might be added a few associated facts. This huge pension sum would not add to the national wealth, but instead would curtail the national income by increasing prices and reducing consumption. The stipulation that each month's pension fund must be spent within thirty days would encourage profligate spending, which not only is uneconomic waste, but destroys the virtues of thrift and saving. Beneficiaries would be non-producers, where the benefits would do the least good, whereas, taxpayers would be the actual producers, where the burden would fall the heaviest. Although the removal of old people from employment would provide a certain number of jobs for younger people, the liberal sums of $400 a month to old couples would promote dependence of younger relatives upon aged parents and thus reduce economic endeavor among producing classes. The exorbitant tax necessary to provide the pension fund would be an insuperable barrier between producers and consumers and would thus reduce the very national income which must bear the tax. Past experience with old-age pension legislation has shown that the number of pensioners and the amount of pensions they receive both tend to increase. The acceptance by the government of this responsibility would, in the very nature of American politics, cause ambitious politicians to vie with each other in promising extravagant benefits not only to this class, but to others.—Texas Weekly.

LICENSE THE DRIVERS

Demand for a law that will make travel on Texas roads at least somewhat safer should be so strong and so unanimous that the legislature that meets in January will have no option of adopting it but will make it one of the first things accomplished. Some bills have heretofore been before Texas legislatures that were disregarded, perhaps by the press of other business, but this time there should be the conclusion fixed in the minds of the legislators that nothing is or can be more important than the saving of life or the prevention of injury to the person.

And it should not be a revenue raising law. Unfortunately too many laws enacted recently or offered and given some consideration, having a taxing appendage that makes them more attractive to tax spenders but obnoxious to others. The auto pays enough taxes now and the purpose of any legislation with regard to use of the roads should be for conserving life.

First in efficacy, and without cost being necessary, would be a license law for drivers—a license law that is enforceable and that would insure ascertaining the mental and physical ability of everyone who desires to drive a motor vehicle on a public road. With this law providing for cancellation of right to drive for stated periods as punishment for certain infractions, and without leaving it optional with a jury whether such sentence should be suspended, there should and would be a decrease in the number of deaths and injuries on the highway.

It is a matter that the next legislature should be compelled if needs be to take notice of and take action on as well.—Paris News.

A TOWN SHOWS THE WAY

The small town of Harrodsburg, Ky., the scene on Friday of the dedication of a monument by President Roosevelt to George Rogers Clark, has given an example that might well be emulated by other cities and towns in arousing interest in historic persons and events.

Harrodsburg has been for many years a sleepy, but altogether delightful place near Lexington, and the bluegrass farms which are the home of the race horses for which Kentucky is famous. It was not until a few years ago that it awakened to the possibilities its attractions as a pioneer settlement west of the Alleghenies, and as the site of the fort from which George Rogers Clark embarked upon wars with the Indians that were to fasten the grip of the colonies on the great Northwest territory. Beginning with a replica of old Fort Harrod, other buildings of historical interest were marked and where possible restored.

The enterprise of the little community began to attract the tourists. Congress appropriated $100,000 to erect a monument to Clark and today Harrodsburg is reaping the reward of its enterprise in recreating the romance that surrounded the settlement of Kentucky. The success of Harrodsburg's endeavor is worth the attention of some of our own towns and city. Annapolis especially is so rich in historic treasures that it might well consider whether it is making the best of its opportunities.—Baltimore Sun.

OUR POLITICAL AGENTS

Power entrusted to weak hands, or strong hands governed by weak hands, is like putting edged tools into the keeping of savages. The first and principal fruit of political victory is public responsibility. The man who has been given authority is expected and obligated to use it wisely, not so much to prove any pre-election theory he may have announced as to serve well those who are subject to his ministrations. Experimental statesmanship is always hazardous. Statesmanship is simple in its parts. The more complex it is made the less dependable it may be. In a democracy the people must be allowed to retain rights which are theirs by nature rather than by gift. In general, the masses of any country wish to be relieved of the details of self-government by ballot. They try to choose administrators wise enough to know right ways and honest enough to go right way. This imposes upon their agents severe tasks and strict attention to duty. An irresponsible in responsible office is an affliction upon his constituents. Able administration in either public or private business requires concentrated thinking with an open mind. Those who can't think or won't think, or whose minds are closed to history and experience, grieve those who suffer under them.—State Press in Dallas News.

WOMEN AND WAR

Delegates to the convention of women's clubs at Buffalo were told by one speaker that no war was ever brought on by a woman. This plainly implies that some have other force than Helen's face must have launched a thousand ships against Troy. It minimizes the role which Cleopatra is supposed to have played in the wars of her time. It disposes of the heroines who led wars of liberation, Deborah and Boadicea and Joan of Arc.

Still, if one insists on being realistic or cynical, it is not hard to dispose of the famous ladies who drove men to fight. We need only suppose that Helen was carried off by Paris in a tribal raid against her will in order to rid her of all responsibility for the woes of Troy. Cleopatra's gentlemen friends may have flattered her by suggesting that they were fighting for her smiles but really they were fighting for provinces and empires. Men have always let women cajole them into doing the thing, that they, the men, have wanted to do.—New York Times.

STYLES IN NEW YORK

The annual national horse show at Madison Square Garden, New York—which always brings New Yorkers out in their best bibs and tuckers—revealed among style highlights velvet coats and gowns in new transparent and Lyons versions, these not only in black, but in vivid shades, particularly those in the brilliant stained glass window tones. These rich tones were noted also in gowns of satins and heavy pebbly crepes—silks and synthetics. The silhouette generally was pencil slim. There were only a very few bouffant robes de style. Pearls were favored among jewels.

With style interest in Palm Beach and cruise fashions, New York shops are featuring some charming frocks in new pebbly Acelle crepes. White frocks are first in importance—cut on straight simple lines. Some of the smartest are the shirtmaker frocks, buttoned down the front from neck to hem, and with patch pockets on skirt and blouse. Almost all are accented by vivid color touches often introduced through scarf treatment—handkerchief squares, Ascot and the long flowing scarf done in Regence manner.

Pockets on evening dresses are new and smart—particularly on metal cloth gowns and those of lames and clokey fabrics. The soft ringlet coiffure—not sausage curls—high on the head is favored among evening hair stylings. Done in the manner of Dumas, it is often accented by a discreet little rhinestone trim in coil roll design, which is decidedly new and smart among the new hair ornaments.

The vogue for the high throat shoe continues, many day time models in the favored black and rich tobacco brown, in suedes, kid and patent featuring the practical scuffless heel. Narrow shiny patent leather pipings are featured on many of the suedes. The demand for handbag matching shoes continues.

"Mange"—a favored new orange shade being featured in Paris mid-season showings—is noted in new Palm Beach collections along with printed silks synthetics and cottons, all of which are important not only for frocks, but for blouses with soft tweed suits.

Buttons continue to grow more and more important in the high style picture. Lanvin in her mid-season collection showed many models—including evening models, with skirt slit, slim and straight—buttoned entirely down the front.

One of the smartest hostess gowns seen in New York shops is fashioned of a new two-toned Acelle satin—petal pink on one side and pale blue on the other. While heavy supple satin continues the favorite fabric for bridal gowns, there are lovely models in creamy white transparent velvets—cut princess style with long flowing trains.

MOUNT OLIVE HIGH SCHOOL

(Too late for last week)

Weather Report
Monday—Clear.
Tuesday—Clear.
Wednesday—Cloudy.
Thursday—Wet.
Friday—Still wet.

An Accident
Mr. Smith was not able to teach the first of the week because of an accident that happened last week. No, his wife did not hit him. He says that his car ran over a stick and it flew up and struck his face. Sounds a little thin, but must be true, as he had two witnesses.

New Library Books
This fall the ex-teachers and students association voted to do something for Mount Olive school. They decided to buy some new books for the library. Each ex-teacher was taxed 25c and each ex-student 10c. The money was given to Mr. Cooke to spend as he saw fit. He ordered and received the following: One dictionary for the intermediate room; seven large popular classics for the seniors and intermediate room; two phonograph records and two sheets of popular music for the junior glee club.

We, as pupils and teachers, wish to thank the association for this valuable contribution.

Happenings of the Week
Eva Koen taught during Mr. Smith's absence.

Columbus Reed was seen studying last Monday.
Billy Hightower and Jimmie Lee Wilcox were caught exchanging notes.

Tuesday, Velma Leach asked why Alvin Hodges was not in school this year.

Better English Drive
The seventh grade Better English club put on a better English drive last week. Every pupil in Mr. Cooke's room made a poster for the club. The seventh grade asked each room to help with the drive. It is hoped that the poster and the correcting of mistakes will improve the English used on our school grounds.

Seniors Get Rings
The rings for the senior class came last Thursday and, boy, were they beautiful. This is the first year that Mount Olive seniors have ordered rings and the most of them are tickled pink.

Clinton Harris was very proud to get his ring, but for some cause is not wearing it.

New Basketball Suits
Friday the Bobcats bought nine new basketball suits. They will be able to play better ball now.

P. T. A.
The P. T. A. will have its regular monthly meeting Friday night week. An interesting program will be rendered. Some important plays will be discussed, so be sure and come.

Basketball Game
The Center City boys will meet the Mount Olive Bobcats for a fast ball game on the Bobcat court Friday. The Mount Olive cats have been working hard to make the very best showing, and be able to win a few games, which we think we will do.

The pep squad has been working very hard and will do their part Friday.

When the Thermometer Drops in GOLDTHWAITE

Use the Right Winter Oil...

... to get positive starting, improved gasoline mileage and utmost motor protection!

You save money the year 'round by using New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. But, during the cold months, especially, the low cost operation of your motor car demands the proper Winter grade. You'll get—

1. POSITIVE STARTING. These lighter grades permit your motor to reach higher "cranking speed." You save your battery. You choke less—waste no gasoline.

2. DEFINITELY MORE MILES PER GALLON OF GASOLINE. This free-flowing oil never thickens and "drags."

3. UTMOST MOTOR PROTECTION. Conoco's "Hidden Quart that never drains away" protects vital parts from starting wear.

New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil in all grades, including 10W and 20W—in refinery-sealed cans or in bulk. Drive into a Conoco Red Triangle Station today and get ready for Winter.
