

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

FORTY-ONE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1935.

NUMBER FORTY-FIVE

Meritorious Fourth Was Observed Yesterday

Observed in Goldthwaite

The meritorious Fourth was observed in Goldthwaite in good style, all being suspended in the public places as a mark of respect for the day. Rural mail carriers made their rounds as usual. The day was one of the four and recommended suspension of business. Christmas, Armistice, Thanksgiving and July 4 dates usually observed.

Local Wrecks

Automobile wrecks reported in this county last week, one resulting in the death of a passenger, while others were minor. A serious wreck occurred on the morning of the 4th in the town of Temple, in which a car was involved. She and two young people were occupants and the wreck was the blowing out of a tire. The car was damaged and the occupants were injured.

Near Priddy a car in which people were riding from Priddy, on the highway, went off the road and was badly damaged. The driver, Bert Goeke of Priddy, was injured. Miss Fulton of this town was in the car and was hurt, although not seriously. The car was damaged by glass from the window and Miss Fulton was cut on the throat and teeth. None of the injuries are serious or will have results.

A wreck on the town Saturday which four young people were involved. The wreck was a blowout. The driver, Miss Elizabeth Tate, was injured. The children were then taken into the living room, where Janie Ruth was given a bundle of gifts which pleased her very much.

Fruit

One of the much appreciated samples of his office one and if all the crop this year is in the sample supplied, it is indeed excellent.

Mr. Wesson to the Eagle in this way we are sure we will not be disappointed.

Elder Here Sunday

It is made that Chas. Nixon will be in the pulpit in the church Sunday morning at 10 o'clock service.

Methodist Notes

The meeting at the Methodist church closed Sunday night. From the beginning to the close excellent interest was maintained. Brother Wells is a fine preacher. His sermons were highly appreciated by all who heard him. Not one word was spoken to which anyone could take exception. Some of the Baptist people said that Brother Wells was simply a Baptist preacher in the Methodist church. The Methodists retorted by saying that the Baptists were Methodists but did not know it. All were well pleased.

As a personal worker, Rev. B. L. Nance is in a class by himself. He was constantly on the job. He was tireless and tactful, and all who came in touch with him were bettered by the contact. The people of Goldthwaite would welcome a return of these gentlemen.

The result of the meeting was not all that was desired. No meeting ever held has been that. There were several additions to the local congregation; the exact number I had not learned. The congregation received a great spiritual uplift; this will count for much. No high pressure methods were employed in the meeting, either in urging a yielding to the gospel message or in financing the campaign. The offering to the evangelists was free from all urging; it was simply a free will offering, and adequate to all purposes.

Next Sunday morning the presiding elder, Rev. Charles Nixon, will preach for us. Bro. Nixon needs no words of commendation. He is well and favorably known and should be greeted by a large congregation. Now that the meeting has closed let us see to it that there is no letdown in faithfulness in every service. Yes, the weather will doubtless be hot for the remainder of the summer, but our people do not propose to neglect their secular affairs because of hot weather. Why, then, neglect the weighty matter? An old maid convention choir is a mighty fine institution, but those who constitute this fine body certainly do not excuse the men who should be their helpers. Be on the job next Sunday, and every other Sunday.

J. S. BOWLES.

Birthday Party

Janie Ruth Simpson celebrated her sixth birthday Friday, June 23, with a party entertaining a number of little friends.

After the small guests arrived, several games were played. The children were then taken into the living room, where Janie Ruth was given a bundle of gifts which pleased her very much.

A GUEST

Board Meeting

Notice to the executive board of the Mills county Baptist association:

There will be a meeting at the Baptist church in Goldthwaite on Saturday at two o'clock, July 13, for the purpose of discussing a change in the date of meeting of the Mills County Baptist Association. Be sure and come.

F. R. HINES, secretary.

Postoffice Business Shows Increase

Postal receipts at the Goldthwaite post office for the past three months have shown an increase over the corresponding period of the preceding year. As postal receipts are universally considered a good barometer of business conditions, the increase in postal revenue indicates a general improvement in business here.

Sales of stamps were 20 per cent higher than for the second quarter of 1934 and exceeded the sales of the last three months of last year, which included the big Christmas mailing season. The value of money orders written this year was approximately double that of those written for the second quarter of 1934.

Wreck at Lampasas

Burgess Rudd, salesman for the Comanche Chief, was in a car accident four miles west of town on the Lometa road Sunday night about 9:00 o'clock. Rudd was coming around the corner just beyond the second turn the other side of the Tom Huling place, coming toward Lampasas. The lights from another car coming over the bridge between the turns blinded him and he went into the ditch, turning over several times.

The car was badly damaged, but Mr. Rudd escaped with minor injuries. He had the car brought to town for repairs and went on to Killen in another car to get Mrs. Rudd. They returned Monday and Mrs. Rudd spent the day with Mrs. Myrtle Thomas, who is a cousin of Mr. Rudd. They left Monday afternoon after having the car repaired just enough to make the trip home.—Lampasas Record.

Bold Thieves

Wednesday morning thieves stole three pairs of shoes from O. H. Yarbrough's Bargain Store on the west side of the square. The shoes were stolen from the shoe department while the clerks in the store were in the front of the building. As soon as the theft was discovered the officers were notified and three young men who were transients and strangers here, were captured on Front street, near the railroad, and the shoes were recovered. The young men were taken into custody and placed in jail, where they will likely remain for some time.

Tax Discount Held Illegal

The last several sessions of the Texas legislature have evolved plans for the relief of delinquent taxpayers and some of the acts appear to favor the delinquent and penalize the prompt payer. One of the acts has been called to the attention of the attorney general and a report from Austin says:

The attorney general has ruled an act permitting discounts for prompt payment of property taxes was unconstitutional. The law enacted at the last called session of the forty-third legislature, proposed a discount of 3 per cent for payment of taxes in October, 2 per cent for payment in November, and 1 per cent in December.

Those paid in January would bear the full cost, and penalties would be graduated for the latter remittances.

The attorney general held that collectors and their bondsmen would be liable for the difference between the full amount assessed and the discounted amount collected if the law was invalidated.

Bankhead Law Will Be Extended

A report from Washington says that the amended agricultural adjustment bill recently passed by the House and reported Wednesday by the Senate Committee on Agriculture, provides that the Bankhead cotton control law may be extended for the crop years of 1936-37 and 1937-38 upon assent of two thirds of the producers who actually vote in referendums, to be conducted by the adjustment administration. If adopted by the Senate the provision is certain to be met with opposition in the House where a proposed extension of the Bankhead law beyond this year was eliminated under pressure of opponents of the processing tax and cotton exporters.

The bill reported to the Senate also ratifies action of the Secretary of Agriculture in fixing the national cotton allotment for this year at 10,500,000 bales and ratifies as well all apportionments and other actions taken pursuant to such allotments.

A new section is added to the Bankhead law authorizing an appropriation for administrative expenses to compensate ginners at the rate of 25 cents a bale for expense incurred in operation of the act, when application is made for such compensation.

The amount of cotton fixed by the secretary as the national allotment is that which may be ginned without the payment of a ginning tax equal to 50 per cent of the average lint price at the ten designated spot markets. Recently the AAA announced the average to be 12 cents a pound. Therefore, the ginning tax on excess cotton for the current season is 6 cents a pound. Last season it was 5.67c.

Showing Progress

A report sent out from College Station gives credit to a Mills county farmer that is well deserved. The report says:

"At a cost for materials of $6.30, W. N. Griffin of Ebony, in Mills county, tanned three cow hides which he made into a set of wagon lines, two bridles, two sets of tugs, four hame strings, two belts and had a supply of leather left. The leather is a fair product, and Griffin probably could not have afforded the harness if he had not made it himself."

Feed Crop Fine

From every section of the county comes the reports of a fine feed crop and corn is especially good. The crop is far enough matured to preclude the danger of damage from almost any cause, therefore, it is believed that a bumper corn crop is sure. The late rains were beneficial to all feed crops and there have been few years when the forage crops were better in this county.

Paving Work

The work of preparation for the street paving is still in progress in this city. While no actual paving has yet been done, the streets on the three sides of the square have been made ready and laying of the paving will soon begin. The Fisher street side of the square, is to be done by the highway department as a part of No. 74a improvement.

Sunrise Breakfast

Miss Dorothy Eunice Morris gave a sunrise breakfast on the hillside near her home, east of this city, last Saturday morning, honoring Carl B. McDaniel Jr., of Randolph Field, who is visiting in the city. Ten boys and girls enjoyed the hospitality.

Highway Work Is Under Way

Work on highways 74 and 81 has been in progress several days and preparations are being made to build the underpass that is to carry the traffic under the Santa Fe in the northern part of the city. The highway is to veer from Fisher street at the north end, near the residence of Jo Frizzell and will go under the railroad where the branch coming out of the Oden field is spanned by the railroad track.

A considerable amount of machinery has been assembled here by the contractors and it is expected a large force of men will be put to work in the very near future. The highway improvement will be of vast benefit to the county and this section of Texas and the labor employed will have a beneficial influence on business, as the payroll will be large.

Wood Convicted

A sentence of ten years in the penitentiary was assessed against Stanley Wood by the jury which had deliberated in his trial for forty-four hours. The verdict was returned at 7:50 o'clock Sunday evening. Wood was charged with the murder of Fred Brown, Coleman county ranchman.

Upon reading of the verdict court attendants said Wood's face was wreathed in smiles and he gaily saluted the jury and the court. He started to leave and was stopped by Deputy Sheriff Ivan Ellis. Wood then went to the judge's bench and asked District Judge E. J. Miller if he had anything to say to him at that time.

Wood replying to him in the negative.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Mr. Brown was a nephew of Messrs. B. F. and E. M. Geeslin and had other relatives and many friends in this county who were very much interested in the outcome of the trial.

Bronte Bank Robbed

Bronte, Coke County, Texas, July 1.—Today two unmasked robbers, armed with shotguns, held up the First National Bank here this afternoon but became alarmed and fled with less than $500.

The men forced L. T. Youngblood, bank president; J. T. Harmon, vice president; Mrs. C. G. Williams, cashier, and Miss Virginia Youngblood to lie on the floor while they entered the cashier's cage. When the robbers became suspicious of passersby, they left the bank officials in the vault and fled. The vault was not locked, however, and Youngblood and others were liberated.

Lawn Party

Lawrence Morrison and Melmoth Young Stokes gave a lawn party at their suburban home Wednesday evening, honoring their friend and guest, Carl B. McDaniel, Jr., of Randolph Field, San Antonio. A large number of boys and girls participated in the games and other features of entertainment.

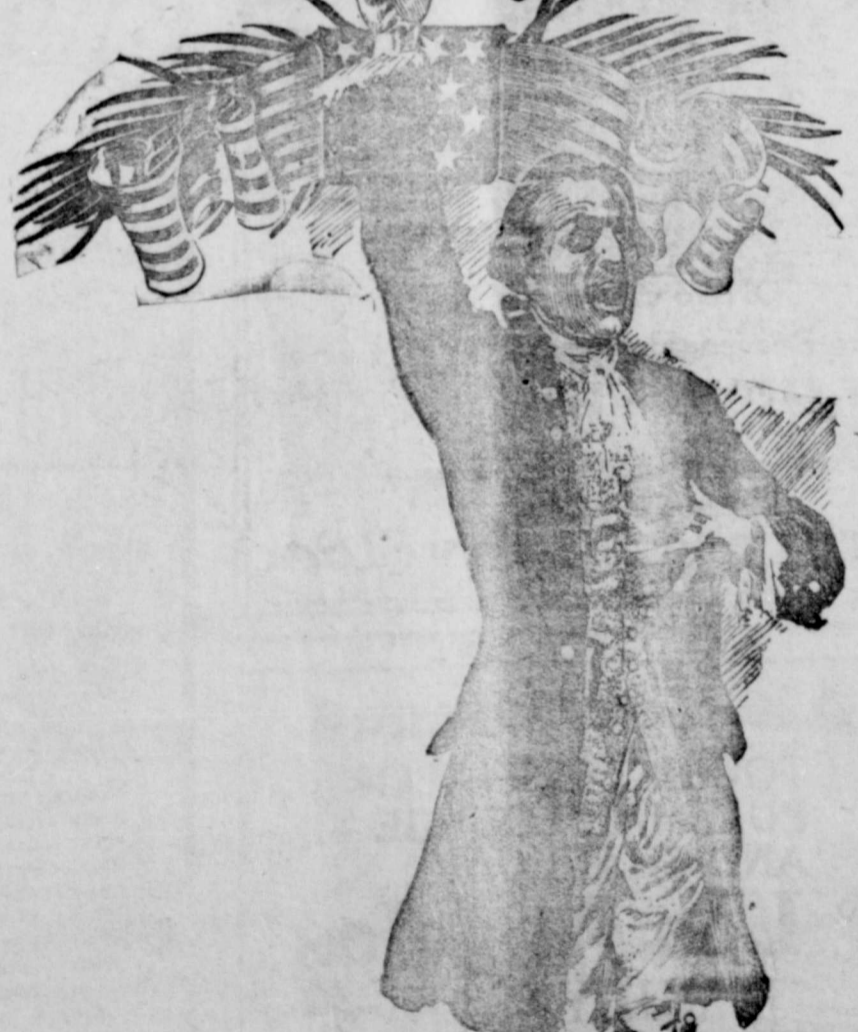

Cherry lime punch with cakes formed the refreshments. The pleasures of the evening continued until a late hour. A GUEST

CLOSE DIVISION IN SOME CASES IS UNAVOIDABLE

It is often said, when a decision of the court is by a vote of five to four, that one judge determines the result. This is more striking than accurate, for the actual decision is that of five judges. But if the concurrence of six judges were required, then if there were four judges of the opinion that the statute was constitutional they would in effect out-vote the five and it could still be said that the vote of one judge had made the result possible, as otherwise there might have been the required six votes.

If seven votes were necessary to hold a statute invalid, then three judges would outweigh six on a judicial question, and still a change of one vote might be determinative.

It is urged that as legislation should be held to be repugnant to the constitution only in clear cases, and as this is recognized as a principle of decision, a division is the court should be regarded as enough to show reasonable doubt.

Plainly, that suggestion can not be carried to its logical limit. If it were the action of a single judge in a court of first instance, holding an act to be unconstitutional would be conclusive, for is he not a reasonable man? Or, if that judge should decide the act to be unconstitutional, and in the circuit court of appeals two judges agreed with him, but the third dissented, should not the majority bow to his dissent as sufficiently indicating doubt?

To meet a threatened shortage in West Point cadets, Secretary Dern has waived entrance examinations for this year and sent out a hurry-up call for congressmen to fill their appointment quotas. The war department chief also announced that candidates might enter the military academy at any time during July, instead of on July 1, the customary enrollment date. Congress recently increased each member's appointment quota from two to three, but because of the lack of time of preparation, many youths named failed to report for examination or were unable to qualify.

Employment of several thousand workers, more than 30 per cent of Fort Worth's employable labor, is in prospect as the school board and recreation department seek government funds for landscaping and improvement programs totaling $2,699,770. In one of its largest peacetime orders, the navy Saturday put down $8,507,337 for sixty huge patrol planes which it considers the world's best in their class. Actual specifications were guarded so carefully, however, that some chose to call the ships mystery planes. Navy officials said the new flying boats, designed by the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y., were of markedly greater speed and of considerably greater range than the type that made a mass flight from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, in January, 1934. The navy acknowledges the six ships that made this flight can do 125 miles an hour.

After collecting 52 cents for every dollar spent, the treasury Saturday closed its books upon the fiscal year with a deficit of nearly $3,500,000,000.

The recently appointed industrial commission organized Saturday and set a hearing in Dallas for July 8, to compose differences in a garment strike there.

A resolution calling on governments to undertake immediate stabilization of currencies was unanimously adopted Saturday at the closing session of the International Chamber of Commerce Congress.

The New York Times says in a special dispatch from Washington that former president Hoover will formerly announce late this summer that he is not a candidate for the republican presidential nomination.

Legislation to amend the AAA act to enlarge the power of Secretary Wallace, was approved by the senate agriculture committee by a unanimous vote. The bill was passed by the house on June 18. A number of minor changes was made, but there was little further limitation on the power of the Secretary of Agriculture to regulate marketing of farm commodities. The committee amended the measure in an effort to make more certain that the federal marketing amendments should apply only to commodities moving in interstate commerce or considered a burden upon it.

Millions of the government's gold will be buried in the middle of Fort Knox, Ky., where 1,300 soldiers are on duty. Treasury draftsmen, it was disclosed Saturday, have been ordered to rush construction of a huge underground vault at the army post—31 miles from Louisville—as part of the government's policy of removing monetary stocks from vulnerable coast cities. Much of the gold now stored in New York and Philadelphia will be transferred to Fort Knox. Not long ago nearly $3,000,000,000 were sent from San Francisco to Denver. The Rocky Mountains and Appalachians thus will guard the precious bul- lion from any possible enemy invasion or mobs.

Unwilling Dallas police received dozens of emergency calls after a trailer containing a cage confining three lions broke loose from a circus truck. The trailer smashed into a ditch and jarred the cage door open. Police remembered their duty and rushed to the scene, whence all had fled—except the lions. The cage door was wide open, the lions peacefully seated inside.

Death, racing against its all-time record of 36,000 killed in traffic accidents last year, was almost even at the 1935 half way mark Sunday. Preliminary estimates indicate that highway accidents took more than 15,000 lives during the first six months of 1935, only a few hundred less than during the same period of 1934. Though May figures compiled by the national safety council, showed the 1935 death list had reached 12,050, only 550 below that of last year, the difference, officials of the council said, is about the number normally killed every July 4.

A resolution calling on governments to undertake immediate stabilization of currencies was unanimously adopted Saturday at the closing session of the International Chamber of Commerce Congress.

The New York Times says in a special dispatch from Washington that former president Hoover will formerly announce late this summer that he is not a candidate for the republican presidential nomination.

Legislation to amend the AAA act to enlarge the power of Secretary Wallace, was approved by the senate agriculture committee by a unanimous vote. The bill was passed by the house on June 18. A number of minor changes was made, but there was little further limitation on the power of the Secretary of Agriculture to regulate marketing of farm commodities. The committee amended the measure in an effort to make more certain that the federal marketing amendments should apply only to commodities moving in interstate commerce or considered a burden upon it.

Millions of the government's gold will be buried in the middle of Fort Knox, Ky., where 1,300 soldiers are on duty. Treasury draftsmen, it was disclosed Saturday, have been ordered to rush construction of a huge underground vault at the army post—31 miles from Louisville—as part of the government's policy of removing monetary stocks from vulnerable coast cities. Much of the gold now stored in New York and Philadelphia will be transferred to Fort Knox. Not long ago nearly $3,000,000,000 were sent from San Francisco to Denver. The Rocky Mountains and Appalachians thus will guard the precious bul- lion from any possible enemy invasion or mobs.

Unwilling Dallas police received dozens of emergency calls after a trailer containing a cage confining three lions broke loose from a circus truck. The trailer smashed into a ditch and jarred the cage door open. Police remembered their duty and rushed to the scene, whence all had fled—except the lions. The cage door was wide open, the lions peacefully seated inside.

Death, racing against its all-time record of 36,000 killed in traffic accidents last year, was almost even at the 1935 half way mark Sunday. Preliminary estimates indicate that highway accidents took more than 15,000 lives during the first six months of 1935, only a few hundred less than during the same period of 1934. Though May figures compiled by the national safety council, showed the 1935 death list had reached 12,050, only 550 below that of last year, the difference, officials of the council said, is about the number normally killed every July 4.

After collecting 52 cents for every dollar spent, the treasury Saturday closed its books upon the fiscal year with a deficit of nearly $3,500,000,000.

The recently appointed industrial commission organized Saturday and set a hearing in Dallas for July 8, to compose differences in a garment strike there.

SCHOOL APPORTIONMENT

The state board of education Monday set a $17.50 per capita apportionment, amounting to $28,000,000 to be paid over to schools during the fiscal year 1935-36 on the 1,600,000 scholastic census count.

It announced that except for the statutory limit of $17.50, the per capita apportionment could have been fixed as high as $19 or $20. Only once in the past, in 1929, did the apportionment reach $17.50. It was $16.50 for the current year, and $16 a year ago.

The board reported that this year the school fund, augmented by special tax levies, caught up with the usual deficit of four to eight months, and will end the year, Sept. 1, with a cash balance of about $2,500,000.

The per capita was set after a conference with school officials invited by the board to meet with it.

Result of the augmented school fund, and the fact the apportionment will not use it all up will be that the automatic tax board in July will reduce the present constitutional-limit tax for educational purposes, so as to absorb the surplus in 1936-37.—Austin American.

A GROWING SYSTEM

A report from Austin gives some encouraging facts, when it says:

Recent news reflected Texas' educational system as a healthily, growing youngster.

The men and women who teach farm boys and girls received salary raises from $5 to $10 monthly by the state board of education.

The highest possible per capita apportionment, $17.50, was fixed for the fiscal year 1935-36, meaning that on the basis of the 1,600,000 scholastic census the allotment would total $28,000,000. The apportionment has been equalled only once before, in 1929. This year's figure was $16.50 for each child of school age.

There were other encouraging signs, too.

Harry Hines, the Alford-appointed chairman of the state highway commission, returned from a Washington trip with the announcement that $85,000,000 would be available for new bridge and road construction, and for repair to culverts, spans and bridges washed out by recent floods. The money, part of which will be available soon, will be the means of connecting gaps, replacing second class roads with concrete and giving employment to several thousand men now on relief rolls.

WE ARE WEAKLINGS

An ordinary honey bee, weight for weight, is thirty times as strong as a horse. A very small bug can drag six matches—the equivalent to a man pulling three hundred and thirty beams as large as himself. An ordinary house fly can lift a match and in doing so exerts as much power, in proportion to its size, as a man uses when he holds a wooden beam fourteen feet long by thirty inches square. But imagine a new born baby of 8 pounds who could lift two tons, or an average man who could lift 78,400 pounds. But that is what each would lift if they were as strong in proportion as a crab.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theodor's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theodor's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

Smiles Her Way To Fame

by Gloria Lane

DORIS FORD smiles her way to fame and fortune as New York's favorite artists' model. Her winning expression has been painted on canvases by such well-known artists as Howard Chandler Christy, James Montgomery Flagg and McClelland Barclay.
Because Miss Ford finds her lips and teeth play an important part in the charm of her smile, she has a special beauty ritual. To keep the contour of her mouth soft and to encourage a cupid's bow effect, she practices a two minute lip-exercise every day. With the tip of her index finger in the cleft above her upper lip, and her middle finger and thumb in opposite corners of her mouth, she draws her fingers to the center, holds it a second, and relaxes. This is repeated several times.
Miss Ford's sparkling white teeth are kept thoroughly clean in her two minute rotary brushing treatments. She selects a tooth brush with round end bristles and massages her gums until they glow. This is done without irritation and assures her firm healthy gums and teeth... perfect smile.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

CARADAN

Well, here we come again to let you hear from our fair little community. We have had plenty of rain and the crops are looking fine, also gardens and everything in general. Our oats are turning out much better than we thought. The thresher is in our community at present and everyone is very busy working at the thresher. Everyone in the community is very busy canning corn and other vegetables which are very nice and will be appreciated next winter when we do not have vegetables.

We had preaching at Caradan Saturday night and Sunday, Sunday night and Monday night by a Christian preacher. We welcome him back. Remember that we still have Sunday school and B. T. S. and we want a large crowd. Sunday night is our regular singing night and we want a lot of singers there to help us sing.

Watch in the Eagle and see when our meeting starts at Caradan, as it will be starting soon and we want a large attendance throughout the revival season. Jess Stewart and several others of this community played tennis at the Beard home Sunday evening.

Several from this community attended the meeting held by the Primitive Baptist at Mount Olive last Sunday.

Those who visited in the Walter Reynolds home Sunday were Deward Reynolds and family and Lloyd Reynolds, Mrs. Lillian Oatis and Jimmie Reynolds of Dephava Reynolds also returned to start her business course at Shamburger's Business College, where she will finish in time to return for her senior year in high school.

Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Batchelor were callers on Milton Cline for peaches Monday of this week.

Jess Stewart and family, Lee Stewart and family went to the river fishing Tuesday of this week and report having caught a nice mess of fish.

Lloyd Reynolds and boys and little daughter visited her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cline, this week.

Well, you will hear from me next week and maybe we will have a little more news for you and more visiting news.

With Conoco Germ Processed Oil in your crankcase, you KNOW the strain won't hurt your motor!

Tests prove this new alloyed oil has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oils and resists heat better!

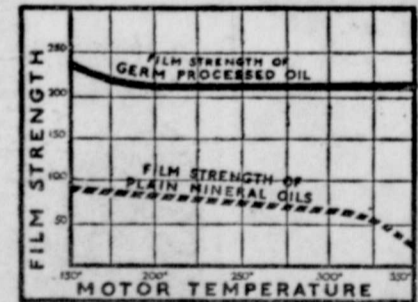

On July 4th or week-end and vacation trips, you'll want to drive far and get there in a hurry. And you don't want that nagging worry of "I wonder if this speed and heat will hurt anything in my motor."

You can't always be sure when you use plain mineral oils, for they have little film strength and oils over-refined by new cleansing processes have even less. Moreover, as motor heat goes up, these oils rapidly lose film strength.

Film strength is the load-carrying ability of an oil, the quality that keeps bearings and cylinders from wearing out. Lack of film strength results in costly damage.

You can drive without a worry when you use Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! It has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil. Heat does not lessen this advantage.*

Supervised road tests—over good and bad roads, at low and high speeds, in all kinds of weather—give practical proof that Germ Processed Oil protests motors better. In every test, gravimetric measurement of motor bearings showed that Germ Processed Oil prevented wear far better than plain mineral oils. Tested in a fleet of cars equipped with the new alloy-metal bearings used in many 1935 cars, a high-quality plain mineral oil permitted 45% more wear on connecting rod bearings than did Germ Processed Oil.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the first alloyed oil—alloyed, much as metals are, by adding concentrated oily essence to highly refined oil. It is the only oil made by the Germ Process. It is the oil with the "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and never drains away!

Banned Books

Ireland Most Censorious Country
Boston Most Puritanic City

Ireland is the most censorious country over printed works. Boston appears to be the most puritanic city, and China, or at least one of its provincial governments, found "Alice in Wonderland" objectionable.

These estimations arise out of an exhibition of books which have been banned for moral, religious, or political reasons from the time of Confucius to the present. The exhibition is at the Junior League of New York City.

Historical Bans

The Chinese governor acted against "Alice in Wonderland" because he felt that to give animals human speech placed people and beasts on the same level and that his aim was offensive.

ANSWERS FINAL CALL

A sad message Saturday to D. J. Price stated that his mother had passed over the river of death, at Hico. She had been ill for some time and only six weeks ago her husband, W. T. McCarty, passed away and since that time she has been declining, yet her loved ones did not realize that she was so near the border land.

Mrs. McCarty was a cultured Christian with a magnetic personality, a charm and dignity that was endearing to all with whom she came in contact.

Mr. Price left at once for Hico Saturday and the funeral services were held at Hico Sunday. Sincere sympathy is extended to our beloved friend and fellow townsman and other relatives.

NEW MAIL CARRIER

Haskell Holmes, mail carrier on star route here up to July 1st, Mrs. Holmes and their two little girls, bade good bye to their friends here and all out on the route, where the ties of friendship were strong, and left Saturday for their old home at Quanah. The family has been in our midst for just one year and had been a help and pleasure to a wide circle of friends and in the Sunday school, League and church.

Mrs. Edrah Ketchum entered the new duties of mail carrier Monday morning on the star route. She was reared at Ridge and is well known in this section and has many friends and it is anticipated that she too will be just as loyal, efficient and faithful as her predecessor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ketchum have now located in this city on east Sherman street.

"The Distinguished and Increasingly Popular NEWS-WEEK"
—The Churchman

NEWS-WEEK is a weekly newspaper published in the form of a magazine; a news-magazine. It operates like a great daily newspaper; it is served by more than five thousand correspondents in the strategic news-centers of the world; its teletypes are fed twenty hours a day by radio, by cable, by wire.

Yet it functions in a way difficult in the daily presentation of news; it incorporates in its treatment of events a background of fact possible only through remorseless research on innumerable fronts; the pictorial fact completes its presentation.

Daily newspapers keep news-readers abreast of the events of the moment; that is the peculiar duty of the newspaper. Busy news readers read NEWS-WEEK to gain a brief, compact understanding of all the week's news they need to know.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon due notice of same being given to the editor personally at this office.

EDUCATION FOR THE TIMES

State Superintendent Woods has hit the nail squarely on the head when he remarked that present day education must be made to fit present day needs.

The fact is that too much of our education has as its aim the achievement of a leisurely culture. This was all very well back before the civil war when the only man who was expected to receive a college education was one who was born to spend his days ruling a plantation and following manly sports.

Although today college attendance is vastly greater than it ever has been before, the percentage of secondary school graduates who go to college is still relatively small.

If the state department, through its inspectors and regulations, will take steps in this practical direction, the high costs of state education in recent years will be more nearly justified.

SOME GOOD ADVICE

In a statement from headquarters of the Texas Relief Commission, Texans are urged to discourage hitchhikers by refusing them rides.

The reason for the relief commission's suggestion is not so much for the safety of the public as it is for the more efficient administration of relief to those who need it.

After all is said, hitch-hiking is nothing but begging. The father who would be humiliated deeply if his son would pass his hat to the passersby for pennies and dimes, too often condones the same son's wagging his thumb for free transportation worth dollars.

Where you know the person begging a ride, granting the request is simply a matter of judgment. Where a stranger flags you down, however, taking him into your car is not a sign of freeheartedness, but foolishness.

THE FUTURE OF COTTON

Notwithstanding the government's continued and expensive efforts to improve the cotton market and, incidentally, the condition of the cotton farmer, the outlook for the market does not seem to be so bright.

BACK TO THE LAND

Careful observers and keepers of statistics tell us that the "back to the farm movement" is gaining momentum. They tell us that where a few years ago the farm population was being depleted by an exodus to the cities, the trend has completely reversed and streams of people are going from urban to rural areas.

Also there has been an encouraging, although small, increase in the value of American farms. Between March of last year and March of this year farm values rose in thirty states and declined in but five, remaining unchanged in the other thirteen.

TWO GREAT STATES

A striking similarity between Texas and North Carolina is in the average age of their population. Considerably more than one-third of the population of North Carolina—37.8 per cent—consists of children under fifteen years of age.

Continued wet weather has damaged the vegetable crop, materially reducing the production of potatoes in the Eagle Lake-Wharton section, tomatoes in East Texas, cantaloupes in the vicinity of Milano, and onions in the Farmersville-Garland district.

Wheat improved as it ripened, and the estimate now stands around 9,000,000 bushels, or less than a quarter of an average crop. Harvest is under way.

Ranges have been greatly benefitted, and livestock is doing well.

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe railroad bulletin says of conditions in Texas: "The fairly favorable weather which prevailed generally over Texas during the first half of June was followed by unusually heavy rains in the northern, eastern, central and southwestern sections of the state, with continued wet weather during a period of one week.

The overflow of the Colorado river destroyed all crops with the exception of rice on several thousand acres. The oats crop in the central and northern parts of the state being practically mature, and approximately 25 per cent harvested, was badly damaged by the rains.

Wet weather made it impossible for farmers to keep up with their work. As a result the cotton crop, which is up to a good stand, is badly in need of cultivation.

In Northwest Texas rains ranging from a trace to five inches have made changes for the better in the agricultural situation. Cotton shows a good stand, but a large acreage is late.

The rice crop is getting off to a good start under favorable conditions.

Ranges have been greatly benefitted, and livestock is doing well.

HOG-CORN POLICY

"Twenty-eight thousand Texas farmers have signed contracts with the government to decrease the amount of corn they might produce and the number of hogs they might raise.

It is said that an eagle in teaching the young to fly drops them from a high point and sail under them, catching them on their wings.

Temporary relief does not and should not mean permanent care for those who receive it.

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

LABOR DISPUTE BILL

As anticipated, Congress has passed the Wagner labor dispute bill in form little modified from the original objectionable measure sponsored by the Senator of New York.

A frequent criticism of the new dealers is that their ranks are recruited from theorists who reason for the ideal instead of the practical.

The Wagner bill presupposes that industry is tyrannical and that labor is fair.

The Plain Dealer advocated America's adherence to the league when it was an issue at the close of the war.

A great government able to help people who are in need should do so.

The colleges distribute honors in the form of learned degrees. The statesmen who have solved national problems is made a doctor of Laws.

Meanwhile the pitcher who can twist a baseball so the baffled batter can't locate it with his swinging stick, may be better known in his home city than the constructive statesman of the patient man of research.

AMERICA AND THE LEAGUE

Many are ready to emphasize the "failures" of the League of Nations. Few in this country are frank enough to see that America's refusal to become a member of the league may be in large measure the cause of these shortcomings.

The thought is well put by Miss Sarah Wambaugh of the league secretariat in her address to the Flora Stone Mather seniors in Cleveland Wednesday.

While Miss Wambaugh was saying this to the Mather graduates, Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, was declaring in a broadcast from New York that the United States could not hope to remain out of any major war that might start in Europe.

The Plain Dealer advocated America's adherence to the league when it was an issue at the close of the war.

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

Miss Jimmie Reynolds of Dallas, who is visiting in the family home at Caradan, made the Eagle an appreciated call Wednesday.

Mrs. Chas. Evans and sons, John Vernon and Wilbur, and little daughter, Melba, of Mexia, stopped for a short visit with relatives here Saturday. They were enroute to San Antonio, Houston, and Galveston. Wilbur remained with relatives here until the family's return.

J. D. Brim, Jr., known to his friends as "Dude," has purchased the Royal cafe, of which he has been manager and part owner for a long time. He is giving the same high class service that has made the place popular with its patrons and he is assured a good business. He has an advertisement in this issue.

Mrs. King Childress has been in charge of the Eagle's linotype this week, during the absence of J. T. Helm, the regular operator. Mrs. Childress was engaged in this line of work for several years and notwithstanding the fact that she has not handled a machine for two or three years she took hold like a veteran and the result has been very satisfactory to us all. True Mr. Childress has been within calling distance in case of machine trouble and as he is an expert on the mechanism of the machine everything has moved along smoothly.

DEATH OF W. H. CARPENTER

The announcement of the death of W. H. Carpenter in a Brownwood hospital Monday night was received with sadness in Goldthwaite—especially by newspaper folk and other friends who had known and had been associated with him. He had been associated with the Comanche Chief for many years and his going is indeed a sorrow for newspaper workers wherever he was known.
