Letters

Were Missent

The news for this issue. The news well written and addressed, but by a person who handled some of the news. It was simply one of the unfortunate incidents that cannot be remembered. The writers whose letters were placed named did not in the paper are given information that they may send the reason for the

Methodist Notes

We had a fine day Sunday, among the Methodist folks. Brother Duke had fine audiences at both the morning and evening hour. The Board of stewards had a pleasant and profitable meeting in the afternoon. At this time the work for the closing weeks of the conference year was discussed and the prospect for a splendid finish is flattering.

The one disappointment Sunday was the announcement that Brother Duke was to go Monday to Houston, where he was to have an operation for a cataract in one of his eyes. Upon reaching the hospital in Houston it was found that the cataract was not ready for the operation, so he and Mrs. Duke are expected home the early part of next week.

Many have been asking if we will have a change of preachers at the end of the conference year. I think I express the opinion of everyone concerned when I say there will be no change and that Brother Duke's return will be welcomed by all concerned. As a matter of fact, the quarterly conference weeks ago requested this, and the board of stewards had a letter written to Bishop Boaz last Sunday urging him to grant this request.

We are glad to note that at this writing Dan Yates, so sorely afflicted now for some weeks, is resting well and that there is every indication that he is on the road to recovery. We trust and pray that this may be so.

The new hymns will be from the press the first of October. I wonder if it would not be a fine idea for us to order a number now and have several nights of practice on these fine new hymns. Have this, not alone by and for the choir but by the entire congregation. I am sure that we would have a very profitable and enjoyable time, if the entire congregation were to spend several evenings in this way. Especially since we have such competent talent in our congregation to teach the songs. Who will second the motion?

At a called meeting of the members of the adult division of the Sunday school Monday night, plans were discussed and adopted which we trust may be for a forward step in our Sunday school work. We need to get behind, rather before, every good work and push—or pull, if we are before—for the best interest in Sunday school advancement. The Sunday school, or anything else for that matter, that does not advance, must in the nature of things recede.

Brother Duke, last Sunday evening, announced that at the close of the Sunday school rally next Sunday a "surprise speaker" would have charge of the morning services. As this is a "surprise" I am not presumed to know who the speaker is. In the language of the late lamented Will Rogers, "all that I know is what I read in the papers." I only know that it is not in the papers, or any place else, that this writer is the "surprise speaker." So the best way to know exact facts is to be on hand Sunday morning for both Sunday school and this announced service.

Our legislature, as we all know, is in session at Austin. No set of men have ever been confronted with a more annoying and important problem than is this body. In an attempt to legislate for the liquor sale is a problem that Solomon, with all his wisdom, could not do so as to have a law suited to all. The people of Texas said by their vote that they wanted liquor sold in Texas, but by the same vote demanded that the old time saloon should not return. For myself, a life-long prohibitionist as I have always been, an enemy to the sale of liquor in every form, and conscious of the curse of the old time saloon as I am, I would prefer the old time saloon to the sale of whiskey in the hotels, the restaurants, the drug stores and clubs. Far less damage would, in

Highway Advocates

Touring Route

A number of prominent citizens who are interesting themselves in the building of a highway from Dallas to Del Rio, to pass through Goldthwaite, were here Monday and met with some of the leading citizens who are interested in highway construction and improvement.

The party was composed of Col. R. A. Thompson, former state highway engineer and now city engineer for Dallas; W. G. Cullum, highway commissioner of Dallas; Dr. J. H. Corby, mayor of Maypearl; Roy Connally, secretary of Waxahachie chamber of commerce; O. M. Landers, chairman Waxahachie highway committee; H. C. Odle, Meridian.

Messrs. W. M. Johnston, Paul McCullough, Julian Evans, H. G. Bodkin, T. F. Toland and Judge R. J. Gerald accompanied the delegation to San Saba, where a meeting was held with some of the prominent advocates of highway construction and improvement.

It is proposed to build this highway from Dallas, through Waxahachie, Meridian, Hamilton, Goldthwaite, Brady, Junction and Rock Springs to Del Rio.

A meeting of citizens from the towns interested will probably be held at Brady in October, it was stated.

Former Citizen

Highly Honored

Judge J. C. Darroch has been appointed as special master in chancery to hear application of the Texas Power and Light Co. for an injunction forbidding another light and power company engaging in the business in Brownwood. The Brownwood Bulletin of Monday said of Judge Darroch's appointment:

A special master was appointed by District Judge E. J. Miller Saturday afternoon to investigate petitions filed with City Council concerning calling of an election to vote on whether Brownwood Public Service should be allowed a franchise to build an electric power plant in Brownwood or not. The master was named after attorneys for Texas Power and Light Company and R. O. Mathews had told the court they could not agree upon age eligibility of some of the signers of petitions filed with the city council.

J. C. Darroch, practicing attorney, was named during the hearing of a temporary injunction petition brought by the T. P. & L. to restrain Mathews from continuing with his building plans. The hearing was continued until after the master makes his investigation.

Ten Questions

The order to Mr. Darroch contains 10 points upon which he will base his findings. The order tells him to find how many of the petition signers were 60 years or over on January 1, 1934, how many of this number requested their names removed from a petition asking the election, other voting qualifications of persons over 60 years and how many of these names remained on the petition after midnight, June 30, 1935.

Entertain Teacher

Honoring Miss Lucy Mae Ricks, bride-elect, former teacher in Brady high school, members of her Home Economics class for the last three years, entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward Geeslin with a personal shower tea, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The house was beautifully decorated with red roses and other late summer flowers.—Brady Standard.

P.-T. A. Get-Together

On next Monday evening, Sept. 23, the Parent-Teachers Association of Goldthwaite extends to all patrons of the Goldthwaite school an invitation to meet faculty, school board and each other in a friendly get-together at the Grammar School Auditorium.

Parents, we urge you to be present with us, and let's get acquainted. We want to know you and want you to know us. We feel that we might be of value to you and we are sure you can be of help to us. Your faculty cannot do justice by your child nor your child by the faculty unless faculty and parents are acquainted, so take this one evening to help develop our school into what you and I want it to be.

We wish especially to urge those patrons who live in the country and who are new in our school to be with us. The Parent-Teachers Association is your organization. Its chief and only thought is that of helping better the school. Consequently it is of great importance that all those interested in the school meet each other in this informal meeting.

If you are interested in the school in any way, don't miss this!

The following program will be rendered:

Music: Blue Rhythm Orchestra
Greetings: President of P.-T. A.
Reading: Larry McCasland (Center City)
Glee Club: Goldthwaite high school.
Dancing: Mrs. Walters Hester
Dancing: Miss Brummergem, Brownwood

Baggage Burned

In Trailer Fire

William Glenn and Harold Yarborough, Allan Campbell, J. N. Bayley and Doyle Wilson started for Austin Tuesday, to enter the state university. C. E. Bayley was conveying them in his automobile and a trailer was attached to the car to carry the baggage. When they reached a point about two miles this side of Lometa, fire was discovered in the trailer and before the baggage could be removed most of it had been ruined, as was a valuable wardrobe trunk and a Gladstone belonging to Harold Yarborough, and possibly other articles of value. Worth Johnson's clothing was in the trailer, but he was in another car.

The origin of the fire is not known and is a subject for conjecture. The most commonly accepted theory is that sparks from the exhaust from the car ignited some inflammable articles in the trailer, but other theories are equally as plausible.

At any rate, the loss was considerable and the students forced to come back to Goldthwaite and get more clothing and other baggage before proceeding to the university. They re-arranged their wardrobes and left Wednesday morning for the capital city and are now enrolled in the university and ready for a season of hard study.

The trailer was not badly damaged, as the fire was discovered and the baggage that had become ignited was unloaded hastily.

Business Change

J. D. Brim, Jr. has sold the Royal cafe to Lamar McLean, who is already in charge of the business. He has retained most of the employees of the place and added others, and will keep the business up to the high standard heretofore maintained.

Contract Signers

A recent ruling provides that all people who sell hogs keep some evidence of their sales. This evidence may include sales slips, cancelled checks, book records etc.

W. P. WEAVER.

Looks Like War

Very Soon

The caldron of war boiled fiercely this week, as development after development in the Ethiopian situation threw an ominous dark cloud over the peace of the world.

In Rome, spokesmen for the government said that Italy undoubtedly would reject the League of Nations compromise plan with Ethiopia.

Mussolini ordered the nation's tax program reorganized to provide millions for war.

The Italian cabinet authorized the expenditure of millions to replenish the navy oil reserves. Thousands of Black Shirt troops were shifted into Libya to meet the threat of an uprising of Senusite tribesmen on the frontier of Libya and Egypt, a development that may hamper Mussolini's activities in Ethiopia.

Me a n h i l e authoritative sources in Great Britain indicated that an announcement would be made soon of a great concentration of British aviation reinforcements in the Mediterranean.

Between 125 and 150 British warships, now anchored in the Mediterranean, were placed on a "precautionary basis" by the admiralty. Though naval leaders denied there was anything menacing in this move, the world greets the protestations with doubt.

Fellowship Workers

A theatre party was arranged for the entertainment of Buel Condon, former president, and other members of the Fellowship Worker's class, who were to leave for school.

The party gathered last Friday evening at Miss Ruby Lee Dickerson's home. Later, the group entered the theatre and admired a very desirable picture. For further entertainment, Mrs. Duke graciously opened her lovely home to the guests.

A business meeting was held, during which the following officers were elected for the new year:

President, Carlos Patterson; first vice president, Floyd Blair; second vice president, Ruby Lee Dickerson; secretary-treasurer, Ethyl Tyson; assistant secretary-treasurer, Ruth Florence Mullin; reporter, Mrs. Malcolm Jernigan.

At the close of the business meeting, our teacher, Mrs. J. C. Evans, presented, in the behalf of the class, a token of appreciation to Buel, who has indeed been a worthy president.

The guests were complimented with refreshments served by Misses Claude Carroll and Annie Gene Johnson in their pleasing manner.

Changing Carriers

J. L. Stewart of Caradan, who will become carrier on route No. 3 out of Goldthwaite, plus a part of the route out of Star, on October 1, was a visitor to the city yesterday. C. L. Stephens, who has been carrier on this route since it was established, will retire Oct. 1 and Will Roberts, now carrier at Star, will take over Mr. Stewart's route out of Caradan.

Improving Buildings

Supt. Oscar Swindle of the Priddy school was a visitor to this city yesterday and stated he expected his school to start a week from next Monday, provided the improvements on the buildings have been completed by that time.

A Reasonable Charge

The Eagle, like all other newspapers, makes a reasonable charge for the publication of cards of thanks, obituaries, lodge resolutions and similar articles. This is not a new rule, but has been in effect all of the years of the Eagle's publication. The charge for these articles must be assumed or guaranteed by the writers or some other responsible party.

Baptist Reminder

Sunday will be Children's Day

in our Sunday school. We are expecting 100 in Sunday school from 14 years down. This will include three of our departments. The cradle roll should have 15. The primary and beginners' department should have 55. The junior and intermediate departments must have 50. We can easily have this number if we all work just a little. How about it? Will you do your part? Every child you see, speak to him about going to Sunday school. If he is not in Sunday school, we want him.

Our B. T. U. is showing much interest. We had 70 present save one, Sunday night. This is the best attendance we have had for some time. There is a place for every age in our training service. You will enjoy it if you come. If you miss the opening exercises Sunday evening, you will miss an unusual treat.

Our Sunday evening services will be held at 6:30 and 7:30. We invite you to be present at all of our services Sunday.

Sunday morning my subject will be, "Two Great Men Discuss the Greatest Question of Life." Sunday evening, "Six Voices Calling the Unsaved."

FRANKLIN E. SWANNER.

Off To College

There has been an exodus of young people from Goldthwaite the past week to the different colleges.

Buel Condon and Miss Mary Louise Fairman went to Abilene to Simmons college and Abilene Christian college, respectively.

Misses Billy Weatherby and Mary Ellen Trent to Southern Methodist University at Dallas. James Booker, Max Harrison, Bert Patterson, Lawrence Bledsoe and Clark Huddleston to John Tarleton, Stephenville.

Misses Geraldine Hester, Floyce Aleene Dickerson, Gertrude Johnson, Lucille Bledsoe, Daphne Evans and Evelyn Gartman to C. A. Denton.

Harold Yarborough, J. N. Bayley, Doyle Wilson, Raymond Ummy, Allen Campbell, Maston "Ribbon" Worth Johnson and Miss Josephine Ligon, Texas University, Austin.

Misses Virginia Bowman and Elizabeth Littlepage, Baylor, Belton.

Others very likely have gone, but failed to report their names.

Beautifying Highways

The work of beautifying the highways in preparation for the centennial is under way all over the state and the McGregor Mirror urges the people of that section to help and the same advice is good for this section when it says:

News dispatches tell us that the city of Atlanta expects to have a million dogwood trees and almost as many crepe myrtles planted on highways leading into the southern city by the end of 1936.

We hasten to call attention to the undertaking and to commend it to the citizens of our city.

There is no reason why our highways should not be beautified by flowering trees native to our section. Such an undertaking would undoubtedly attract many visitors, besides proving beneficial to our own citizens.

A Freak In Fruit

J. J. Cockrell, the fruit grower who is well informed in fruit culture and knows just about all there is to be known on the subject of fruit growing, brought to this office a sample of peaches that were a third growth on one of his trees. More than this, there were nine peaches in one cluster on a single branch. It is unusual for peach trees to produce a second growth, but when a third growth is produced it is an indication, at least, that the owner of the orchard is something of a wizard.

Congressman

Will Help

Hon. Charles L. South, congressman for this district, came home after the adjournment of congress, but was called back to Washington to look after some public business in connection with some of the departments. The Eagle received a much appreciated letter from him this week, in which he states a readiness to look after such business in the national capital as the people of his district may desire. It is, therefore, important that those needing such assistance take the matter up with him at an early date.

Nazarene Remarks

The church met in its annual business meeting last Wednesday evening to elect officers of the various departments of the church. The trustees, stewards, Sunday school superintendent and the church school board were elected. Mr. W. T. Keene was re-elected superintendent for the Sunday school. The delegates elected for the district assembly to be held at Grace Church, San Antonio, October 15-18, were Mrs. W. C. Fox and Mrs. Charlie Harrison.

Every one take notice that one week from next Sunday is rally day for our Sunday school. May every one catch the spirit and rally on this day to continue the work of the Sunday school in a larger way. Everyone is invited.

CHARLIE HARRISON, Pastor

Singing Convention

A large concourse of people attended the all day singing convention at Center Point Sunday. A real feast was spread at the noon hour and the Center Point ladies were duly complimented for the lovely treat.

County Clerk L. B. Porter is president of the convention, and he sang services were magnetizing for a house to overflowing with appreciative guests. Three little ones, about six, eight and ten really won the compliments of the day with their sweet songs.

Writers Will Meet

Mrs. Nickols of Rock Springs, chairman of the program committee for the get-together of Eagle correspondents, has named Mrs. J. M. Oglesby of Center City and J. J. Cockrell of Big Valley as assistants and has asked that they meet in the Eagle office Saturday afternoon, as soon after 1 o'clock as possible, to outline plans and a program. It is hoped those named will accept the duty and we will expect all correspondents to be present at the get-together, at what ever time it is fixed.

Cotton Ginning

Well Under Way

The department of commerce reports that there had been ginned 104 bales of cotton in Mills county, for the season of 1935, prior to Sept. 16. No comparison is given in the report of the amount ginned up to the same date last year.

Postmaster Going

To Convention

Postmaster M. Y. Stokes expects to leave Sunday for Dallas, where he will join an excursion of Texas postmasters for the trip to the postmasters national convention in Chicago. He expects to return home the following Sunday.

RALPH H. REED, STANDARD OIL HEAD, PROMOTED

Ralph H. Reed, assistant manager of the Quincy division of the Standard Oil company, has been promoted to a similar position at Green Bay, Wis., the change to become effective October 1. He and Mrs. Reed will leave Friday night for Green Bay to arrange for a residence, will return to Quincy in a few days and will leave September 20 for their new home.

The promotion to Mr. Reed is a well-deserved one. The Green Bay territory extends almost to the Canadian border and within fifty miles of Milwaukee. It has 770 employees on the staff, considerably more than the Quincy division.

Mr. Reed came here from St. Louis as assistant manager slightly more than two years ago. Since then he has been active in all civic matters and for the things that are good for the city. He is president of Rotary, a director of the Salvation Army and numerous other organizations. He and his wife are prominent in social circles.

Mr. Reed said that it is with reluctance that he and his wife leave Quincy, where they have made many friends, socially and in the business field. The promotion is one, however, that he cannot refuse.—Quincy, Ill., Herald-Whig.

FIRST CONFERENCE GAME AT BRADY FRIDAY

We have six letter men to build our team around. Captain Doggett at center, Fred Soules at guard, George Johnson at fullback, alt. captain Davis at quarterback, V. L. Doggett, quarterback and Earl Harvey, a letter man in 1933, will be back this year. George Johnson has been shifted from guard to fullback and V. L. Doggett has been shifted from guard to quarterback.

Our first conference game will be played at Brady, Friday night at 8 o'clock. The starting line-up will probably be L. W. Doggett, center; Luckus, I. T.; F. Soules, I. G.; G. Ballard, I. E.; Langford, R. G.; Miles, R. T.; J. D. McKenzie, R. E.; C. Davis, I. H.; H. Gatlin, R. H.; V. L. Doggett, Q. B.; G. Johnson, I. B.

Through the cooperation of the senior classes the past two years and this year, and the Parent-Teachers Association, the seating of the school auditorium is well along. Seats have been bought for almost all the west half of the auditorium, and are being set to the floor this week. When the seating project is completed the auditorium will indeed be a pleasant and comfortable place for the various assemblies in connection with school or community gatherings.

Since the report last week there has been an increase of 33 in enrollment, bringing the total enrollment today (Tuesday) to 551. Indications are that by the time the crops are gathered the enrollment will reach the six hundred mark.

At a joint meeting of the trustees of the Live Oak board and the Goldthwaite board, held last Saturday night, a trade was closed by which the pupils of the Live Oak school will attend the Goldthwaite school.

At present the pupils in the Live Oak community are being served by the Center City bus.

Miss Ruby Cave, who was a teacher in the Live Oak school, has been employed as librarian in the Goldthwaite school, and assumed her new duties last Monday.

The regular faculty meetings have been changed from the afternoons to nights. By this change teachers who have other duties in the afternoons may attend the meetings. The members of the faculty will carry on a course of study this year relating to the most efficient and modern methods of conducting school. While the faculty realizes that the Goldthwaite school can not become the largest school in the country, it is the belief and ambition of every member that it may be the most modern and most progressive school in the country.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle, like all other newspapers, makes a reasonable charge for the publication of cards of thanks, obituaries, lodge resolutions and similar articles. This is not a new rule, but has been in effect all of the years of the Eagle's publication. The charge for these articles must be assumed or guaranteed by the writers or some other responsible party.

PEDESTRIANISM IS NO JOKE

The National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters points out that of the 36,000 fatalities resulting from automobile accidents last year, 16,000 were pedestrians.

Two elements of this situation are important. One is the statistical truth that by far the greater number of pedestrians involved in accidents are doing things which they should not do. The other is that a pedestrian may be in the right, but that doesn't reduce the disadvantage at which he will always be until collision-proof armor is invented.

Ironically the pedestrian has become standard material for the jokesmiths and cartoonists, just as the hen-pecked husband or the taxpayer. No doubt we shall have a new version of the old wheeze, making it the pedestrian, not the chicken, who crosses the road to get to the other side.

The premise of many jokes, that the pedestrian is a persecuted animal, does not hold water. The pedestrian is safe from any automobile if he observes a few commands:

1. Cross only at intersections.
2. Cross with the traffic signal whenever there is one.
3. Keep children off the street.
4. On rural highways walk to the left facing on-coming traffic.
5. Avoid walking from behind parked cars.
6. Look!

FARM WOMEN MODERN

According to a city born and city educated woman who now has the job of directing recreational activities in rural America, the balance between country women and city women is no longer in favor of the latter. She claims that balance is rapidly shifting in favor of country women. This authority is Ella Gardner, who for the past seven years has been a member of Uncle Sams Children's Bureau staff, and who has recently assumed new duties as sociologist in recreation with the Department of Agriculture's extension service. Having had wide opportunity to contact with the mothers of the boys and girls she has instructed, Miss Gardner believes the country woman of today is as well dressed, as cultured and as poised as the city woman. Besides, the rural woman is almost always far better informed on the political situation and current happenings than her city cousin.—Pathfinder.

ASKS FOR APPROPRIATION

MARLIN, Sept. 16.—Senator Tom Conally today wired Rexford G. Tugwell, in charge of the Rural Resettlement Administration at Washington, urging that he immediately allocate an additional $1,000,000 to Texas for agricultural projects out of the land utilization appropriation.

So far, only about $110,000 has been allotted to Texas for these projects, Connally said. He declared it was his understanding that approximately $10,000,000 of the land utilization sum authorized by congress had not yet been allocated. Projects requiring the entire $1,000,000 requested have already been approved by the State Planning Board and by the Texas experiment station at College Station.

The new and old buses are now running on schedule time and school is moving along nicely.

Herman Carlisle of Pompey suffered considerably from one bee sting on his head Wednesday.

He became so ill he was rushed from his home at Pompey to a physician here, who soon gave Herman relief. Herman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Carlisle, prosperous farmers in the Pompey community. No doubt, henceforth and forever more, Herman will extend to the busy bee a chilling atmosphere.

PENSIONERS NOT MENDICANTS

The special session of the Texas legislature, that assembled in Austin Monday, is already wrestling with some very difficult problems, one of which is prescribing conditions under which this state will co-operate with the federal government in providing pensions for its aged citizens. Various plans have been suggested and various requirements have been discussed and are still being discussed, both by the legislators and the laity, the most important provision being that of the financial status of the pensioner. If there is to be a line of financial demarcation it will be indeed hard to fix, for if it is on the basis of tax renditions it will be manifestly unfair, since many conscientious renderers of taxable property will be penalized to the extent of having their names withheld from the pension list, while many less scrupulous in making such renditions will be rewarded by receiving a pension.

The most equitable plan would seem to be to place all citizens of sixty-five years and over on the rolls, as is done in the case of Confederate veterans and their widows, without regard to their financial worth. To do otherwise would be to provide pensions for negroes and the more thrifless of the white people and debar a large class of white citizens who will help to provide the finances for payment of the pensions by paying taxes.

RECOVERY IS RAPID

Business recovery has been rapid throughout the country for the past several months, notwithstanding many believed the invalidation of the NRA would delay a return of the business of the country to normal. Statistics compiled by commercial and industrial organizations that are non-partisan in character, make it plain that government supervision was not necessary to the rebuilding of business and industry from the effects of the depression. These reports show currency circulation, which is one of the best arbiters of retail trade, has made strong gains. Railroad car loadings are well up with increased agricultural shipments. Electric power production leads the field—it is expected that production will soon reach a new all-time high. Construction is well ahead of forecasts for this season. Residential building is about 125 per cent ahead of last year. Motors are star performers in the business parade—in the first seven months of this year, car production was greater than the entire 1934 total. Most industries show better employment figures than past summer seasonal experience would have indicated, especially those which benefit from building activity. Payrolls naturally follow employment and are higher than was anticipated and there is a general spirit of confidence throughout the country.

A BIG UNDERTAKING

Reports from those charged with the duty of preparing the observatory for the University of Texas, under the terms of the will of the late W. J. McDonald, who provided the funds for this wonderful equipment, say the grinding of the 82 inch lens for the observatory, which is being erected on Mount Locke, near Fort Davis, is well under way. The company having the contract for the preparation of the two and one-half ton disc hope to have it finished in 1936. Most of the rough grinding of the disc has been completed in the shops of the makers, but it is not yet ready for tests. The surface of the mirror is now a portion of a sphere, having a radius of approximately 54 feet. This means that approximately one and one-third inches of glass have been removed from the center of the disc, giving it a concave figure. The next step will be the polishing of the mirror and the changing of its shape from a sphere to a paraboloid, which may take several months. The latter geometrical figure has the property of reflecting parallel beams of light in such a way that they are all concentrated in one point, which is called the focus. The observatory building is completed and ready for the installation of the telescope and other equipment.

PRESERVE THE CONSTITUTION

Nobody seriously desires to destroy the national constitution, although some moves and quotations would indicate such a design. These opponents of the important document are mostly motivated by resentment because of some recent decisions by the supreme court of the United States, but their ire will soon subside and they will then realize that the highest court has interpreted the constitution correctly, and to destroy the constitution or curtail the rights and powers of the supreme court would be a national calamity. The constitution is the supreme law of the land and its provisions protect the lives, liberties and fortunes of the people in America. Organizations have been formed to preserve the constitution, but this is more of a political move than one of necessity.

A convention has been called at Houston to discuss the importance of preserving the constitution and Hon. Alfred E. Smith, who was the Democratic nominee for president some years ago, also sees danger in some of the moves to reduce the powers of the supreme court, but there really appears to be no serious cause for alarm.

HOPING FOR RESULTS

Thousands of work projects have been submitted to the federal authorities in charge of the funds for such enterprises. While actual appropriations have been few and the approval of applications are surrounded and enmeshed in a great amount of red tape, it is entirely possible that some of the funds will be eventually released. Where millions and even billions of dollars are involved, the inspection and investigation of every detail is necessary; hence, progress must be slow. In Texas alone applications have been made for $176,570,000 of these funds. Some have been rejected and others have been delayed for more complete investigation. The plan as outlined is to have these work projects take the place of direct relief for the unemployed and the funds must of necessity be appropriated for the projects before long, else the plan will fail.

PREVENTABLE DISEASES

The beginning of another school year is now at hand. The weeks have provided for school children the opportunity for mental rest and relaxation. They have likewise made for physical growth and development. Thousands of boys and girls will advance to a higher grade as they turn toward the school house. In addition, a new group of children, escorted by parents or older children, will be entering school for the first time.

The years spent in school represent training for life work. Such training accomplishes most when administered to pupils and students with clear minds and sound bodies. Moreover, this training must go on without serious interruption. Other things being equal, the school with a fine record for attendance is more apt to approach a high standard of education than the school with poor enrollment due to avoidable disease, says the state health officer.

It is unfortunate from any standpoint when children are kept away from school because of illness; doubly so when sickness is due to preventable causes. No school need have its attendance record shattered because of an outbreak of smallpox or diphtheria. Parents in increasing number are having children safeguarded against these diseases in the first year of life. Likewise through child health conferences, for pre-school children, more and more attention is being given to work of immunization against preventable diseases and to the correction of dental and other remedial physical defects. Such measures will go far toward assuring good health and regular attendance throughout the period of school life.

Possibility that the proposed $150,000 South American air derby to promote the 1936 Texas Centennial exposition will become an actually seemed remote Friday, when exposition officials announced that definite decision would be delayed for several weeks. At the same time it was learned that Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president and organizer for the proposed flight, was no longer on the Centennial payroll.

Soviet military strategists dropped an army from the sky Sunday as they practiced their latest war maneuver—mass-landing of fully equipped troops with parachutes—at Kiev. The air was darkened with jumpers bearing rifles and submachine guns. They landed behind enemy lines, formed ranks quickly and bore down upon an opposing airdrome. Whole regiments, landing from the skies, succeeded in capturing the airdrome, but later came to theoretical grief. When they used the airdrome as a base from which to advance overland and attack the main enemy forces from the rear, they were met by a quickly mobilized defense force which, with the aid of tanks and armored trains, annihilated them.

Hugh Johnson, stormy petran of NRA days, has advised President Roosevelt that he wants to be relieved of his job as Works Progress Administrator for New York City by October 15 at the latest. He motored to Hyde Park from New York to ask Mr. Roosevelt, he said, whether the original stipulation that he only hold the job until that date still held.

President Roosevelt announced orders Saturday for the Works Progress Administration under Harry L. Hopkins to take over the works relief drive until the permanent public works program of Secretary Ickes reaches a greater volume of employment. In a detailed explanation of the whole works problem at his regular press conference, the president related that a parley provided a program for the coming six weeks with $85,000,000 additional for direct relief—another reduction in this. As for the contest between Secretary Ickes' public works plan and Harry Hopkins' temporary works idea, he said the problem was reduced to the proposition of dollars, men to be employed and the time for completion.

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

THE COTTON LOAN

Relieving the economic difficulties of the farmer—making it easier for him to pay his debts and increasing his purchasing power—remains one of the hardest nuts the administration has tried to crack. So many of the plausible remedies have such uncomfortable and unforeseen consequences. Hog control, while effective for a time last year, has merely meant a pork shortage and sky-high prices this year. The absurd venture into potato control, with its threat of spud bootlegging, can be expected to accomplish little more than provide another national joke to take the pace of "not raising hogs business" which tickled the country's risibilities last year. No defeat, however, seems to dampen the zeal of the new dealers, hence we find the same governmental agency which has already sacrificed our foreign cotton markets on the altar of higher prices and which, as a result of last year's operations, is in possession of some 6,000,000 bales of cotton in which a loss is foredoomed, now offering a new cotton loan to farmers of 10¢ a pound. In addition, it offers to compensate the grower, providing he agrees to next year's crop limitations, for the difference between the average daily price and the 12¢ level. While not quite as favorable as last year's 12¢ loan, the grower is nevertheless assured of a good return. If he borrows 10¢ and sells his cotton in a market averaging 11¢ he obtains another cent from the government as a party benefit. But from the government's standpoint the plan is a most expensive one—not as bad as last year, but bad enough. It involves heavy outlay, presumably to be taken from the proceeds of processing taxes, if the later are not nullified by supreme court decision this fall. It involves further a potential heavy loss on Uncle Sam's cotton holdings, for indications point to lower prices for the staple than those currently prevailing. If it is the plan to let our price of cotton approach nearer to the world price than it is currently, in order to dispose of as much as possible of this crop's exportable surplus then there can be no further answer than a loss running into those gigantic figures that seem to be common to war emergencies and new deals.—Magazine of Wall Street.

SWASTIKA FLAG

Tall oaks from little acorns grow, mused the philosopher. New York's Magistrate Louis Brodsky is a small man internationally, yet single-handed he may have changed the flag of modern Germany. When the Reich entered official protest to Brodsky's characterization of the Swastika emblem in the Bremen trial proceedings as a pirate flag, it was clear that the Nazi government had no good grounds for complaint. No insult had occurred to the flag of the Third Reich. The Swastika flag is a party emblem, of no more importance outside the Reich than the Democratic donkey of the G. O. P. elephant in this country.

Now Hitler would change all that. The Reichstag assembles to make the Swastika Germany's national emblem. Scrapped for the second time will be the silk won in honor at Worth and Sedan and carried to greatness by three generations of Germans. There was enough tradition behind the old red, white and black banner to revive it after the collapse of the Weimar Republic. Now it is to be washed away by the rising tide of Nazism. A good many Germans have died because of the Swastika. Now they can all die for it.

Hitler would purge the Reich of the Jew, but nothing he attempts can get away entirely from the influence of a people whose imprint is deep on the advance of world civilization. He cannot even change his flag without owing the move to New York's and Jewry's Louis Brodsky.—Dallas News.

JAPAN'S WAR GAMES

Somewhere in the Northwest Pacific the Japanese fleets have entered the "second phase" of their annual war games. The "first phase" went practically unnoticed by Americans; the beginning of the second was noted in a 10 line dispatch from Tokyo, which added that the "grand naval maneuvers" would not be concluded until mid-October. So little attention was paid to them in this country that the average American probably is unaware that they are in progress, cares little where they are held and has not even discussed their possible significance with relation to his own land. This average American considers Japan naval practice strictly a business and concern of Japan, and lets it go at that. This typical, and timely illustrated American attitude is in sharp and refreshing contrast with that taken by official and unofficial Japan last spring when plans for the American naval maneuvers in the Pacific were outlined. The Tokyo press viewed the American practice with real or simulated alarm, protested that the fleet itineraries would bring our fighting ships too close to Japan's Pacific outposts, hinted rather broadly that the staging of our annual maneuvers in mid-Pacific was unfriendly, or menacing, or something, to Japan. Their outcry bore the appearance of a deliberate effort to stir up anti-American feeling among the Japanese people. The American fleet maneuvers were held, nevertheless, though our government took measures to allay any real apprehension in Japan. Nether war nor any complication ensued. In retrospect the Japanese protest and agitation are seen to be groundless. But, meanwhile, other protests have been lodged by Tokyo against such trivial and minor incidents as a cartoon in an American periodical and a burlesque hunt staged by a fun-loving American community. Americans are criticised abroad for so many things that the American willingness to permit the fleets of other nations to conduct their own war games in their own way and according to their own plans, without criticism or protest, such as was so recently aimed by the Japanese at our own naval practice, may with propriety be commended to the attention of our fault-finding foreign friends. In this respect, at least, the American people provide an example worthy of emulation abroad.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

KEEPING RECORD STRAIGHT

In a recent issue of Liberty one of its "Twenty Questions" asked: "What governor of a state in the United States of America resigned and became president of an independent republic?" And its answer read: "Sam Houston was governor of Tennessee, from which office he resigned. He later became the first and only president of the Republic of Texas."

With Texans patriotically immersed in their Centennial period, and brushing up on past history, we imagine Liberty heard from that one, Sam Houston, of course, was neither the first nor the only president of the republic of Texas. David G. Burnet served as president ad interim until Houston was elected, and later both Mirabeau B. Lamar and Anson Jones served regular terms with distinction until Texas became a state in 1845.

This simple misstatement of historical fact is of course not a serious error. There will be more important questions propounded to, and answered by, the Texas Centennial next year than that concerning the number of terms Houston served and who preceded and followed him in office. We merely correct Liberty's error to keep the record straight. Sam Houston was the "one and only" in many respects, but he was not the one and only leader who guided Texas during its years of proud sovereignty.—Dale Miller, in The Texas Weekly.

ALL GAMES CAN BE

The idea that by legalizing gambling government can reduce crime, did not come in the mind of anyone with practical knowledge of the rackets or first-hand knowledge of the criminal world. All the inclusive talks made by Edgar Hoover of the department of justice, there has been that removal of the ban on roulette wheel and the fact that it would make things easier for the society and easier for the He knows better. But the tastic notion bobs up here throughout the country even as it recently bobbed in Chicago. Eminent respectable persons appear as its spokesmen. Academic authorities represent in sociological terms, the palaces of chance, however unexpected aid from the band and the professional evildoer. Ask any man who knows the gambling racket the inside and, like C. Riley Cooper, expert on crime, who says he learned three-shell game when he was 15, he will tell you it is crooked; that there is no which cannot be fixed to house, and that the fire is the rule. Legalize it, heed recently, and there will be no fewer murders, no crooked politicians, no police, or crooked citizens, merely would be more gamblers. Pertinently he asks, "Has something which is in crooked end crime?" It is headed notion that it is there are lots of hard-boiled sons who would like to see notion prevail. There would more revenue for that world lords of luck. The levy of the politician be made respectable for purposes as a lawfully license fee. But the unmutually profitable alliance of gambling and politics would be broken. The syndicate wanted to protect its against competitors would have to pay the licensing fee for its monopoly. The combine would continue the cover of legal sin.—Chicago Daily News.

THE CAPITALISTIC OC

Occasionally the economic terpretation of history in general becomes hard low. A case in point is the soning of the maritime of the Soviet supreme court denouncing the "capitalist behavior" of a ship's crew for mutiny against the captain, who had ordered the cut loose from a burning which he was towing. The was left to its fate. The was sentenced to be shot part in the performance nine members of the crew imprisoned for failing to against the captain's order thus "clinging to the traditions of capitalism."

Mutiny against the captain is not, to be sure, a tradition of capitalism. But have not the learned ian jurists overlooked that going to the rescue of in distress has been a tradition of the sea for centuries, capitalism or no capitalism? The of shipping is filled with ces of ships going hundreds miles off their courses to answer calls of distress. Why that as such a part of the gusting traditions of capitalism as the tradition of fleets" as the tradition of dience to orders? Why, in attempt to tie the tradition the sea to any economic system?

So far as the practice of against unreasonable orders concerned, we reserve judgment on the Soviet court's approval until we are informed happens to the Soviet crew mutinies for the wrong reason, in spite of the court's gust with life on the boat capitalistic main, such a could happen.—Baltimore

LOVE and a DOLLAR

DING-A-LING-AL-I-ING!
"Hello? Oh, hello, dear. Don't tell me you're not coming home to dinner! Oh, you are coming—well, that's just grand. You're bringing—I don't hear you—whom are you bringing? Oh—Andy and Marg—that's fine. Be here at six, won't you? Goodbye dear."

And then she looks in her purse in the dresser drawer and finds— one dollar! One dollar for four! Well, you can't let a good husband down. After all, a dollar goes a long way—if you know how to stretch it. People have learned that in the last few years.

Good Morning Grocer

So off to market. Can't trust to the telephone. Andy loves asparagus, but suppose it isn't fresh picked. Anyway fresh asparagus is expensive if it's good. Canned asparagus is always good—you can phone for that. But then that nice pineapple and cabbage salad calls for fresh tender cabbage. Better go and select it.

The wrist watch says eleven o'clock. Ample time to get the canned raspberries and make that pretty raspberry ice cream that Marg likes.

Thus that perfect wife we read about sums up the situation. She's got more than love-and-a-dollar—and here's what she bought and how she prepared the perfect dinner:

- Hamburger and Asparagus Toast 36¢
- Potato Chips 7¢
- Tomato Fritters 13¢
- Cabbage and Pineapple Salad 12¢
- Rolls and Butter 8¢
- Raspberry Ice Cream 19¢
- Tea 3¢

Hamburger and Asparagus Toast: Sauté three-fourths pound hamburger steak in two table-spoons dripping until slightly brown. Stir with a fork to keep the pieces separate. Melt one tablespoon butter in a pan, add one tablespoon flour and stir until smooth. Add one-half cup water and the contents of a can asparagus soup, stirring until creamy and thick. Add the meat and pour over the toast.

Tomato Fritters: Beat one egg slightly, add two cups canned tomatoes, and one and one-third cups crushed cracker crumbs, and season with salt and pepper to taste. Let stand for ten minutes. Drop from a spoon into plenty of hot fat in a skillet. Brown on one side, turn and brown on the other side. Drain on brown paper. This makes about twelve small fritters.

Cabbage and Pineapple Salad: Combine one cup finely shredded cabbage and one-half cup crushed pineapple. Mix with four table-spoons mayonnaise and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Raspberry Ice Cream: Scald together the contents of one 6-ounce can evaporated milk, one-third cup sugar and three table-spoons water. Cool. Add two table-spoons lemon juice and one cup canned raspberries which have been mashed and pressed through a sieve. Freeze.

We still maintain that paying cash is the best way to keep out of debt.

One of these days the world will be more like you want it, but you won't be here.

Warning: The death rate in the United States moved upward last year. Watch your step.

No man protects his property by standing idle while robbers take what his neighbors have.

We want peace, like everybody else, and like them, we don't want to take any risk to get it.

Adults who criticize children for playing would be better off if they did some playing themselves.

The get rich quick scheme that attracts you has gotten the savings of better men than you are.

The difference between seeking and getting business is often in the advertising methods used.

Compliments usually make people feel good and think well of the speaker, be he truthful or not.

It is hard to visualize the horror of hurricanes and floods, unless you have been in the midst of one.

Farmers have about made up their minds that it is time for them to be getting a good living out of the soil.

Fast driving is said to be the cause of most automobile accidents, but you can hardly get a fast driver to admit it.

The idea of woman's superiority falls by the wayside when one considers the prerogatives that many of them get.

The man or woman who thinks that a public question is as plain as mud probably knows little or nothing about it.

Forward looking boys are now cautiously approaching their parents and finding out what the prospects are for Christmas.
