GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1935.

Turkey Market Opens Soon

The turkey buyers are preparing for the opening of the turkey market, which is only about a week away. The price, it is expected, will be satisfactory, although the exact figure can not be known at this time. The turkeys are reported to be very good and the birds are not in as good condition. In the main, although some flocks are said to be very fine. However, with a few exceptions, the sale of turkeys is not a lot of money in circulation throughout this section. There are very few large turkey farms, but most farms raise turkeys that will be in the market.

Central Texas Pecan Growers Association

The Central Texas conference meets next week in our neighboring city of Brownwood. This is one of the really great conferences of the entire church. It would be well for the Methodists of our city to take advantage of this occasion to visit the conference sessions at least part of the time. The first session will be held Wednesday night of next week. The beer barons of the nation have given utterance lately to an alarming condition with which we are confronted, and are making an appeal for help in the emergency. They affirm that in the last year their sale of beer fell some one hundred million barrels below what they should have expected. Not only do they affirm this, but they have decided that the reason is due to the fact that people attend picture shows, buy cold drinks, candy, milk, coffee, cakes, ride in cars and do other unseemly things to the detriment of the beer business. Something ought to be done about this. Our lawmakers should take a hand and put a stop to it all. What right have people to buy candy, cold drinks, ride in cars, go to picture shows and do these other unseemly things of which they are accused when the beer business and patriotic band that is paying such magnificent dividends to the support of our government is actually suffering, through the needless extravagance of our people? Really, our people should be patriotic and quit buying red beans, salt bacon and corn meal so as to be more generous to the beer barons. But these oppressed people do not propose to give up entirely under these discouraging circumstances. They propose to conduct a campaign and capture the younger class of people. All under eighteen years of age are to be placed under proper tutelage and taught to like beer, so as to be loyal patrons of the "suds and shops." So you fathers and mothers, by all means, place your sons and daughters in the school of these patriots so they can learn how to be patriotic. Another department that is to be organized and put to action is the public press. They boldly affirm that they must buy the public press, as they say they did when they were fighting for repeal, in order to carry the campaign into the homes of the people, where the fight is really to be won. So here is the attitude of these oppressed beer barons. The fight is on and really has been on for many moons. All we need to do is fall in line with the program and we shall have a condition entirely suited to the state of mind of the liquor interests. J. S. BOWLES.

Award Bridge Contract

A contract for the new bridge across the river, to replace the structure destroyed in the June flood, is awarded early this morning according to the Llano plan for the state highway department. Construction will begin within 30 days after the contract is let. The new bridge is of the vertical curve type and will be 800 feet long. The center will be 10 feet higher at the ends. There will be a 24 foot roadway and a four-foot sidewalk on the upstream side. The bridge will be used for road and sidewalk, and the ends will be of steel resting on concrete piers.

High Level In Employment

September advance in industrial employment to highest level in five years reported by Secretary Perkins. She says factory pay rolls nearly apace in listing these figures: Approximately 350,000 workers returned to wage-paying in September, as compared with August's 155,000 gain. Pay rolls for both manufacturing and non-manufacturing industries advanced more than $12,000,000 over August. A major portion of this gain or more than a third of a million workers, Miss Perkins said, was in manufacturing industries and retail trade.

Loans On Corn

Secretary Wallace says the Commodity Credit Corporation approved recommendations of the AAA for 45-cent loan to farmers who signed adjustment contracts for 1935. The loan will become effective December 1 and will mature July 1, 1938. Loans will be made on No. 3 white corn, which can be propounded and sealed on the

Methodist Notes

Next Sunday is conference Sunday. Bro. Duke will be at San Antonio, where the conference session is held. So there will be no services at the Methodist church Sunday, except the Sunday school and the Epworth League services. These will be held at the regular appointed hours. The conference year closed up in fine shape. All the financial obligations have been met. The year has been prosperous in every way and the pastor will be returned, a plan entirely satisfactory to both pastor and people. It is to be hoped that there may be a unity of action for the incoming year that will bring great prosperity to the church.

Belton College Gets Legacy

A gift of $46,302.59 was made to Mary Hardin-Baylor's endowment fund recently, President J. C. Hardy announces. The gift comes from the personal estate of Mrs. Mary C. Hardin, as provided by her will. This sum, added to that which the Hardins previously had given, brings that amount to a half million dollars. Doctor Hardy says Mr. and Mrs. Hardin made their first gift to the college at the beginning of the endowment and debt-paying campaign when they gave an annuity of $125,000.

Highway Work Delayed By Rain

The rains the past week or more have greatly delayed highway work in this county. Good progress was being made prior to the rains, and as soon as the ground becomes dry enough for the work to proceed regularly, it is believed a fine showing will be made, as the contractors have all of their forces and tools ready to work as rapidly as possible. Considerable inconvenience is caused in this city by the delay, as some of the streets are under construction and are blocked to traffic.

Many Bones Found By Geologist

The discovery of a veritable graveyard of prehistoric animals, dating back to the pleistocene age, has been announced by a Wichita Falls geologist. The massive bones of elephants and bison, mingled with those of turtles, dogs and horses were brought to light through explorations in a bed of gravel on the divide of the Wichita and Brazos rivers, 20 miles west of Seymour.

Ginners Report Below Last Year

The report of cotton ginned in Mills county prior to Oct. 18 shows 3,409 bales of the 1935 crop, as compared to 4,116 bales up to the same date last year.

Two Proposals Are Submitted

Governor James Allred Wednesday submitted the topics of liquor regulation and the drivers' license to the Texas legislature.

He said, in a message: "In view of the progress made and the urgent necessity for prompt and effective action, I hereby submit to you the matter of carrying out the people's will by proper regulation of the liquor traffic. Failure to act not only leaves the liquor traffic unregulated, but is costing the state conservatively at least $10,000 a day in revenue, which should be applied toward retiring the present state deficit and to provide funds for old age assistance."

Cigarette Tax Ruled Valid

Cigarette smokers who have been buying their smokes in carton lots direct from Oklahoma vendors and thereby avoiding the state tax, received a setback in a decision handed down Friday by the second court of civil appeals. State Comptroller Sheppard is not attempting to interfere with interstate commerce when he enforces the state's cigarette tax law, held the opinion written by Associate Justice Martin. An injunction restraining activities of the comptroller granted in ninety-sixth district court by Judge Power, was dissolved and Oklahoma tobacco companies, who have been reaping a rich harvest through selling cigarettes direct to users by solicitors in Texas appeared to be at least temporarily thwarted.

Nudist Colony For Centennial

There'll be nudists either in or just outside of the Texas Centennial central exposition next year. Should corporation officials stay by their decision to ban the undressed cult from the big fair, then the owner of the nudist concession at the San Diego exposition will install his birthday-tuit troupe in a show adjacent to the exposition grounds. "I'm sure Texans and Dallasites want to see our artistic presentation, and they're going to," he said Monday, after conferring with exposition officials. "If the exposition refuses to give me a concession in the grounds, I'll build a nudist village right across from the entrance on Second avenue," he said.

Missionary Society

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the election of officers, and to attend to any business on hand. After the business meeting a prayer program will be carried out, as the week of prayer begins on Monday. Several prayer services will be held during the week at 3 o'clock at the church. All Christians are invited to attend and worship with us. REPORTER.

Flags Available For Veteran's Funerals

The relatives of any honorably discharged war veteran may secure without charge a regulation United States flag to drape the casket, if application is made to the postmaster at the county seat before the funeral. A supply of flags is maintained at the postoffice in Goldthwaite, so that they may be issued without delay when required. Such flags are retained by the nearest relative of the deceased veterans. In order to avoid delay, the veteran's honorable discharge or other proof of his satisfactory service should be brought to the post office by the relative applying for the flag.

Nazarene Remarks

The San Antonio district assembly, which was held at San Antonio, was well attended by pastors and delegations from over the district, as well as representatives from the church at large. The first day was given over to the Y. P. S. and W. M. S. for their conventions, which was climaxed that night with an address by Miss Dora Carpenter, our missionary from South Africa. Other representatives of the church from outside the district were Dr. Bracken and Rev. B. M. Hall, representing our college in Bethany, Oklahoma. Reverends John and Grace Roberts from Pilot Point, Texas, representing the rescue work at Rest Cottage, as well as many others. Services for both the school and Rest Cottage were held Wednesday and Thursday, respectively. All these services were stirring, especially the inspirational addresses given by Dr. Williams, the presiding officer. Dr. Williams proved his efficiency as an executive in disposing of the business so well that the assembly adjourned a day earlier than usual.

We were very glad to have increases in all of our departments to report to the assembly; but as we face the new church year, let everyone put forth a greater effort this year than we did in the past for a continued increase. It can be done! Services Sunday are as follows: Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Junior society, 5:30 p. m. N. Y. P. S., 6 p. m. May everyone go by the clock. CHARLIE HARRISON, Pastor

Fatal Contact With Live Wire

Sammie Smith was killed instantly Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock when he came in contact with a high voltage electric wire, while working on a transformer at Covington, near Cleburne. He was accompanied to the place of the accident by three young men, and when they saw his left arm had come in contact with the wire, they pulled him off from it and he fell to the ground, but was never able to speak or give signs of life. An ambulance was summoned and he was hurried to the hospital at Cleburne, but the most heroic efforts failed to revive him. The remains reached Goldthwaite Wednesday night and were conveyed to the home of his parents, where they remained until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when they were carried to the Methodist church for the funeral services and from there to the cemetery for interment, the last sad service being conducted by the Masonic fraternity, of which fraternity he was a member and had served as master of the lodge at this place. Sammie Smith was a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith, and was reared in this city. He was manager for the Community Public Service Co. here for a long time and was transferred from this place to Gatesville, and was later given the management of several of the company's plants, with headquarters at Whitney. He was popular with the people here and his high standing was attested by the many expressions of sorrow and sympathy for his family, as well as by the large attendance upon his funeral. He is survived by his wife and three children, his parents, one sister, Mrs. H. L. Braswell, and other relatives here and elsewhere.

Contract Club Is Entertained

Miss Lucille Conro entertained the Thursday Contract club October 24, at the home of her mother, Mrs. L. R. Conro. High score was awarded to Mrs. S. E. Cloninger. Mrs. D. A. Trent was guest. Club members present included Miss Conro, Mrs. Cloninger, Miss Adeline Little, Mrs. Frank Taylor, Mrs. Walter Summy, Mrs. Gilford Scott and Mrs. W. S. Saylor. XX

Cotton Exemption

The county agent's office has just received forms on which cotton producers may make application and receive exemption on lint cotton not to exceed 110 pounds for home use. Exemption can be received only by making application through the county agent's office in person. Landlord and tenant may each secure an exemption of 110 pounds for home use.

Wheat Contracts

All wheat producers of Mills county who wish to enter into a wheat contract with the secretary of agriculture for the period 1936 to 1939 must make application this week. Contract provides for 5 per cent reduction from base average for the year 1936. For additional information inquire at county agent's office.

Baptist Reminder

I will be out of town Sunday. Rev. T. F. Cooper, pastor of the Baptist church at Mullin, will supply for us. Bro. Cooper is doing a very constructive work at Mullin. You will enjoy having him at both services. Now that the days are shorter, I feel that we should start our Sunday evening services a little earlier. We will begin B. T. U. at 6:00 and preaching at 7:00. We had 101 in B. T. U. Sunday night. This is fine. I trust that we will continue to grow. FRANKLIN E. SWANNER.

Junior Art and Civic Club Meeting

The Junior Art and Civic club met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Lillian Summy. The purpose of the meeting was to adopt a constitution. The members found the constitution written by the committee on constitution and by-laws favorable, and will vote on the by-laws at its next meeting. "Learn to do by doing" was selected as the club's motto. The white lily was selected as the club's flower. Green and white was selected as the club's colors. "To make a better citizen" was selected as the club's object. After the business meeting the members and guests enjoyed a talk made by Mrs. J. H. Saylor on "What the Art and Civic club has done," and a piano duet by Miss Elsie McDermott and the hostess. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and punch were served to the following: Misses Elsie McDermott, Charline Brim, Ima Lois Bayley, Beatrice Bledsoe, Mmes. J. L. Brim, Herman Richards, W. D. Leveritt, J. H. Saylor, John Schooler. The club will meet again Nov. 13, with Mrs. Herman Richards. REPORTER.

Merry Wives Club

Mrs. Walter Fairman was hostess to the Merry Wives club Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 29. Guests for the afternoon other than club members were Mmes. A. H. Smith, Frank Taylor, Paul McCullough, Gilbert Scott and Miss Lucille Conro. Contract was played and after four spirited games, it was found Mrs. W. C. Dew had scored high for club members and Mrs. A. H. Smith for guests. Each were awarded love prizes for their skill in playing, or was it luck on the part of Mrs. Dew? Refreshment plates of ice cream and cake and dainties were enjoyed by all. XX

Warning Useless

Anonymous writers are like reckless automobile drivers and careless pedestrians, warnings and arguments, rules and laws are all useless. It would seem that the rule that the identity of writers must be known to the publisher is so well known that a reiteration would be unnecessary, but some folk just can't understand, else they do not believe it. This week the Eagle received an account of the death of a good citizen that was doubtless true in every detail, but was signed by "Yours truly," hence it went to the bean basket.

Corn-Hog Vote

The corn-hog referendum, which was voted on Saturday, Oct. 26, carried by a seven to one majority over the United States. The votes for Mills county were as follows: Signers: Yes, 138; no, 16. Non-signers: Yes, 20; no, 12. Total: Yes, 158; no, 28.

An Elaborate Flower Show

One of the most colorful and outstanding events ever seen in Goldthwaite was staged by the Goldthwaite Garden club Saturday, October 26, at the office of the Community Public Service company. California "All American" zinnias were the reigning flowers, but local roses, chrysanthemums and dahlias were there to be judged, and many of them wore blue and red ribbons and honorable mention. The display of zinnias was more beautiful and gorgeous than the club had hoped for, on account of all weather conditions, but after all were arranged in attractive receptacles and placed in the different classes, a more beautiful display could hardly be imagined. A flower grower of California presented the seed to the Garden club, and they were planted in August and came into bloom by the latter part of October. A very attractive modern dining room was arranged in an Indian setting. The table was laid with an Indian blanket and dishes of peasant pottery. A modern electric kitchen was featured by the club. Tea dainties served during the calling hour were the courtesy of Mrs. Jane Brim of the Brim Grocery company. The center piece of the table was a gazing bowl surrounded by Polantha roses, cut from the municipal rose garden. Two silver peasants graced the sides of the table. About three hundred and fifty guests called. The club is indebted to the Community Public Service company, and their manager, for the use of the office and the many courtesies extended us. REPORTER.

Tate, Jayton; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Tate, Brownwood; Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Tate, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Tate, Goldthwaite; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Tate, Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. McMahan, the only sister, and her husband, from San Angelo. There were eleven children, eleven grand children and one great grand child present. This was the first time all the children and in-laws had been together with Mr. and Mrs. Tate at the family home in Snyder. The occasion was indeed pleasant and would have been much more so had it not been for the illness of Mr. Tate. They parted hoping to make the gathering an annual event hereafter.

TOWNSEND'S REPORT

Dr. Francis E. Townsend's campaign for old age pensions took in $636,795.32 in 15 months, the California physician's followers were told at their first annual convention Friday in Chicago. Its directors spent, in pushing their drive, a total of $585,446.42 in that time, said the financial report. Doctor Townsend himself received $7,532.75, the report said, including expenses estimated at "about $74 a week." The co-founder of the Townsend plan, R. E. Clements, former Long Beach, Cal., real estate man, was paid a few dollars less—$7,517.22 for the 15 months. The report covered the financial status of the movement from July 1, 1934 to September 30, 1935.

However, the few out of the eighteen who enrolled Monday, became acquainted with their new work, and they, together with those who were unable to attend, are beginning the second week very enthusiastically. We are hoping that soon everyone will be able to come, and we shall get well on the road to one of the happiest years ever.

ROCK SPRINGS

Bro. Bedford Renfro from Rattler preached Sunday morning and Sunday night.

We were blessed with fine rains, which we needed. Now we need sunshine, so everybody can get back to work. I am guessing there will be lots of washing done this week by the housekeepers and their helpers.

Beryl and James Roberts' nice Jersey cow died Sunday. She ate quite a lot of lye soap, which killed her. She was a Christmas present, given to these boys by their Grandmother Nickols twelve years ago. She had helped to raise these boys and their brother and sister.

When you read this, I will be far away. I am with my daughter and husband in Gonzales. They met me in Austin, and we went to the capitol to see some of our friends. I am expecting a good time, as the fair will start the fifth. I hope everyone stays well and are still enjoying life and health when I come home. The news will still be in print from here if my spirit doesn't think it is too big a job.

We extend our sympathy to Will Kelso in the loss of his brother.

Lady's Painful Trouble

Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Hallsville, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pains disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . If Cardui does not help YOU, consult a physician.

HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL

Frollic! Fun! Joy! That was the hallowe'en carnival at the court house last Saturday night. Everyone—large, small and middle-sized—enjoyed it, and no one was bored with it.

There were eats of every kind and fashion, and surely no one went away hungry. Then there were spooks and haunts in every corner, and what noises they were making! For those who are fond of the aquatic sports, there was a fish pond and no suckers in the pool. There was a vaudeville for those who love entertainment and a real house of haunts. The popularity contest in which Miss Willie Faye Gray, senior, was elected hallowe'en queen, was not only fun-making, but also money-making. The old-fashioned picture gallery, which featured so many of our parents in their school days, furnished amusement for hours at a time. Bingo was the great game of the day, and the prizes were bargains, even though you had to play several games for them.

The Parent-Teachers association is thankful to all those who helped to make the affair a success. Something above one hundred and twenty-five dollars was taken in, all of which will go back into the school in one way or another. So let's keep backing our P.-T. A.!

The next meeting is Tuesday, November 12.

NEWS BRIEFS

A total of 85 civilian conservation corps camps have been assigned to Texas for the sixth six-month period of emergency conservation work, which began October 1.

The eighty-seventh annual session of the Baptist general convention of Texas will meet in Houston November 5, 6, 7 and 8 in the city auditorium. Dr. J. C. Hardy, Belton, president, will preside. Music will be directed by H. P. Black, Waco, and the convention sermon will be preached by Dr. G. L. Yates, Amarillo.

William B. Shearer, cashier of the state treasury of California, who is under indictment for embezzlement and grand theft, was arrested in Houston Monday afternoon by city detectives who recognized the 74-year-old fugitive from photographs. The elderly man, alleged to have taken $24,000 from the state treasury of California, admitted his identity readily and agreed to waive extradition.

At least 2,000 persons are dead or missing in a storm which ravaged the southern peninsula of Haiti. Most of the casualties were caused by floods which followed the hurricane a week ago. Thousands were reported homeless and hungry. Populations of valley villages were believed to have been wiped out as rains sent the streams from their channels, demolishing the frail, thatched huts of the natives.

A speed-up in the work relief drive was indicated when Administrator Harry L. Hopkins reported employment figures showing a 110,737 gain in dole-placing jobs in two days. Checking over November allotments which have been forecast as the last federal contributions to direct relief, Hopkins said 1,421,470 persons were at work last Saturday, compared with 1,310,733 on the preceding Thursday.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of the president, appeared in district court in Malden, Mass., Friday as defendant in a suit for $1,000 damages based on an automobile accident. Young Roosevelt, a student at Harvard, was being sued by Hyman Barlow of Malden, who alleges that April 27 he was struck and injured by an automobile driven by Roosevelt in the business section of Boston.

For the first time in 54 years a member of the Wesley family is not in the postoffice at Margaret, Hardeman county, to sell stamps across the window and exchange greetings with those who had come for their mail. A mother-son tenure as postmaster that had endured since 1881 was broken when H. A. Wesley, who had served since 1895, resigned last week. From the time he was a lad of 15 until his appointment he had been in the office helping him mother, Mrs. John Wesley.

AAA officials in Washington expressing delight at the overwhelming indorsement of a 1936 corn-hog control program in a nation-wide farm referendum, are making plans to increase pork production next year. They indicated the increase would be 25 to 30 per cent over this year. Present high prices of pork have been much under discussion recently, with critics of the new deal stressing them and AAA officials, saying that the shortage of hogs was caused by the drought, not by the AAA policy of controlled production. While the aim will be to increase production, Secretary Wallace was quick to assert that efforts will be made to avoid excessive over-production.

Howard Pierson escaped immediate trial for the murder of his father and mother Saturday through a jury's verdict in district court in Austin that he is now insane. Should he be found sane at any later time, he would become subject to trial for the slaying April 24 last of William Pierson, associate justice of the Texas supreme court, and Mrs. Pierson. The verdict did not cover the issue of the sanity of the 21-year-old defendant at the time he shot his parents to death near Austin. Pierson admitted the slaying, saying he had lured his parents to the scene of the crime on a pretext of showing them an India relic, after first telling a story that they were shot down by a holdup man. It developed in the trial that his parents had been warned that his mind was not right, and other relatives also testified to his insanity. None of them, however, expected him to kill or hurt members of the family.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

COST OF LIVING CLIMBS

Food, rent, clothing and coal all showed upward price trends during September, according to surveys of the national industrial conference board. With an increase of .6 per cent over August, living costs were 3.1 per cent above the level of those of September, 1934, and 16.8 per cent above the low of April, 1933. Purchasing power of the dollar was 119.8 cents, as compared with 120.5 cents in August, and 123.5 cents in September, 1934. The board found that food prices had risen 1.3 per cent from August to September; rents had advanced .8 per cent for the same period; clothing, .1 per cent, and coal, 1.2 per cent, slightly less than seasonal. ## W. R. ELLIOTT PASSES AWAY

W. R. Elliott suffered a nervous collapse at his home in the western part of town Friday, due to the serious illness of his youngest son, and died instantly from a gun shot wound in the temple, said to have been self-inflicted. He was alone at the moment, having just requested his son to go to the pet dog and play. Mr. Elliott was a World war veteran, and leader of the orchestra here for ten years, always striving to teach the pupils valuable lessons in harmony and tone. His upright life was a fine example to the student body and his Christian influence will live on for eons. His youngest son and beloved wife were both in a hospital and the boy was seriously ill. Interment was at Zephyr Sunday afternoon, with Rev. Cooper, Rev. Wilkerson, Rev. Vann and Tolbert Patterson all assisting in the last sad rites. The orchestra that he first organized here rendered a lovely musical number. He is survived by his wife and five children, Gerald, Charles, Imogene, W. R. and Elizabeth; his mother and several sisters, besides other relatives and friends here and at Zephyr, his former home. The lovely floral offering was a tribute to the high esteem his loved ones and friends had for him.

RIDGE CITIZEN CLAIMED BY GRIM REAPER

Mr. Walter Kelso, age 40, farmer and bachelor, was found dead in the Cryer pasture Saturday by Oscar Cooksey and Jess Rasco. Relatives and neighbors had been looking for him for several days, as his horse was found riderless. He was last seen the first of the week, and indications are that he made an effort to go home but failed. The continued cold rains hastened his death. Interment was in Williams Ranch cemetery Sunday. He is survived by one brother, Will Kelso, and eight sisters, Mmes. W. O. Kelsey, Bob Martin, Oquin, Alsup, Aaron, Shanon Alsup and Austin.

LITTLE JUNIOR ELLIOTT CALLED BY DEATH

W. R. (Junior) Elliott, age 11, son of Mrs. W. R. Elliott and the late W. R. Elliott, passed away at dawn Tuesday morning in a Brownwood hospital. He suffered a relapse after a long illness and all medical skill and devotion could do was of no avail. The little boy's spirit was called by the Master. "Come unto me, for such is the kingdom of heaven." "Junior's" father preceded him in death by a few days, and he was laid by his father's side in the Zephyr cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Sincere condolence is extended to the grief-stricken little mother and the brothers and sisters, grand parents and other relatives, by whom he was so dearly loved.

CLOSED SERVICES FOR THIS YEAR

Rev. Chester Wilkerson held his last services at the Methodist church Sunday for this year's work. The pastor and church are greatly rejoiced over the church now being free of any indebtedness. The recent payment was made possible by the generosity of one member who gave so liberally in order to lift the obligation. Great plans are being made for the dedication of the church the fourth Sunday in November and that will be a time of rejoicing. Annual conference meets in Brownwood November 6. The church would be glad for the return of the present pastor, who has been here only one year.

CRIME PREVENTION

What can be done to prevent crime? Our land is studded with schools and churches. Our civilization is equipped with every facility for perpetuating itself. Yet it falters, it shows weak spots, rotten spots, knot holes and blowholes. It limps and groans. The best test of any nation's civilization is the measure of its public order. If there is invariable public order then its citizens are highly civilized. It is a compliment to the Scandinavian nations, including the ### Netherlands, that their reputation for public order is proportionate to their reputation for integrity of character. Their comparative freedom from crime, even of petty crime, is the fairest recommendation of the civilization. Yet, those nations are not rich. Their people have to work hard and deny themselves many luxuries common to our country. Therefore, to excuse our lawlessness by calling it an outgrowth of hard times is to ignore some facts which have been revealed abroad.—State Press in News.

CUT DOWN THE HOME WORK

Angelo Patri, well known New York educator and writer on child education, does not believe that children should be burdened with school work at home. He says:

"I know that education by books is highly important. Books are a large part of school life. But they are not all of life for the children. Unless children live fully in their day, they will never live completely. They will lose the best of life. Children need leisure. We all do. They need a space of time for rest and change of interest, a time when they feel free of the pressure of the daily grind, a time in which to enjoy being alive. So cut down the home work."

This is sound advice. There is no more sense in school children having to slave over their text books until late every night than there would be in the merchant bringing home a few choice bargains to sell in his living room. It is quite true that too often the complaint is justly raised that children do not learn enough in school, but it is quite likely that this very condition may be due to their teachers having surfeited them with home work. It is just as possible for a child's mind to turn away from too much schooling as it is for his stomach to turn against a food of which he has eaten too much.

Too much school work at home wrecks the home atmosphere. Parents must nag to get the children started studying and then to stop them in time to get a reasonable night's rest. Children may use it as an excuse to dodge the household chores which it is their right, as much as their duty, to perform. Visitors, interesting radio programs and an evening's entertainment away from home are either forbidden or prove serious handicaps to the studying child, and often to his parents, also.

There are, of course, a few children to whom home study is not irksome, who really enjoy working on their lessons at home; a still larger group can not be cajoled or forced into home study at all, but the vast majority plod through their assigned home work night after night, partly because of parents' and teachers' threats and partly because of a real ambition to stand well in the class. However, with a reasonably competent teacher in the class room, it is safe to say that the net educational gain of any child will not be increased by home work. If the class work is presented clearly and intelligently, there is no necessity for adding a long list of home assignments to it, and no value in so doing. If the class work is not properly handled, no amount of home work can make up the deficiency.

A fixed policy of no home work except for exceptional reasons is already being followed by many schools, and a step in that direction has been made by Superintendent A. H. Smith in the Goldthwaite schools this year. It will be a brighter day for education when that program has been universally adopted.

INDORSEMENT ENCOURAGES

This newspaper, like many others, has printed columns in pleadings, warnings and arguments against the reckless and negligent drivers of automobiles, as well as the careless and negligent pedestrians, but has seen very little, if any, benefits of such publications. A writer in these columns last week approved and encouraged the continuance of the efforts toward a betterment of the conditions and a reduction of the death and injury toll of the highways as a result of the motor traffic. This paper has, therefore, been heartened to continue the campaign and to join with other publications in an effort to convert the reckless drivers, which one paper denominates as the "lunatic fringe." This article says that 5 to 10 per cent of the drivers cause 90 per cent of the accidents and death toll, and says further that these reckless drivers have so far shown themselves to be 100 per cent deaf to the most elementary principles of reason. Its members know that excessive speed is the most prolific of all causes of serious accidents, and that a collision that would be unimportant at 20 miles an hour will probably prove fatal at sixty—yet they continue to push the throttle through the floorboards. They know that passing on hills and curves is an invitation to the coroner—yet, so important does time seem to them, that they are perfectly willing to risk their necks and the necks of other drivers to save a few usually unimportant minutes. They know that weaving in and out of traffic, driving on the wrong side of the road and similar stupid practices, may mean sudden death in one of its most horrible forms—yet, they persist in these practices. An annual death toll that hovers around the 35,000 mark, as well as the appalling number of injuries, demand heroic measures as remedies, one of which is swift and severe punishment by the duly constituted authorities who should and must enforce the laws of traffic and against reckless and drunken driving.

FIGHTING FOR PEACE

As the negotiations proceed in the various capitals of Europe, and as the League of Nations deliberates and declaims, it becomes more and more evident that the world is still ruled by force. Friends of the League have been loud in proclaiming its success in handling the Italo-Ethiopian situation, but the Fascist soldiers continue to force their way into Haile Selassie's kingdom with just as much speed and effectiveness—and just as much bloodshed, let us add—as if the League had never spoken.

It may be that by October 31, the date when the League's sanctions are to become effective, Mussolini will have taken as much of Ethiopia as he can well digest and will be perfectly willing to call a halt, at least for the time being. But on the other hand, it is perfectly clear that if Italy is not ready to stop, it will take more than economic sanctions to stop her. It may not be necessary to open fire, but she must be convinced that the League's backers have enough guns and men to back up what they say.

The idea of conciliation by council is beautiful, but the trouble is that so far, it has never worked. And as long as human nature is what it is today and what it has been since the records run, there will be no peace gained without battles, and no peace maintained without armies prepared to fight for it if necessary.

PARENT-TEACHER CLUBS

Parent-Teacher associations are, in theory and practice, a definitely constructive force in the life of the United States; agencies that do their material part toward making education worthy of the name in this country. In general terms, these associations strive to bring home and school into closer relationship so that there may be an intelligent co-operation between two great forces in the development of children. The movement means education for adults as well as for children on a broader and better scale than would otherwise be possible. It does a great deal to keep parents in direct touch with what is happening in the schools and affords an avenue by means of which helpful suggestions may travel the more easily and smoothly back and forth. In practice, the P-T. A. concerns itself actively with a great many undertakings that are designed to promote the genuine welfare of the children in home and community as well as in school. It is constantly busy to see that the child is adequately protected. Particularly during the years of depression, for example, the P-T. A. has made hot lunches for needy children in school one of its main objectives in a great many communities, and it has done a most excellent job. It likewise sponsors clinics designed to keep well babies well, and it conducts the so-called Summer Round-Up that looks to the needs of children of pre-school age each spring. The things mentioned here, of course, are but examples, but they are typical—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Syrup Production Control

A production control program for commercial producers of sugar cane syrup is the latest program launched by the AAA. This program does not apply to sweet sorghums or seeded ribbon cane ordinarily used in Texas for making syrup.

Eligibility to participate in the program is based on four points. The producer must agree not to have more acres of sugar cane in 1935 than he had in 1934. He must not manufacture more syrup for any purpose in 1935 than in 1934. He must not sell more in 1935 than in 1934. He must have sold 200 gallons or more in 1934 to be eligible, or if he sold less than that, he must show that he paid a processing tax on at least 100 gallons prior to June 1, 1935.

The contract, when written, will cover the 1934 producing year and the 1935 producing year. The payments for 1934 will be 10 cents per gallon, providing the sales exceed 200 gallons or the processing tax was paid on at least 100 gallons.

The 1935 payment will be made after proof of compliance of the current year. The exact amount has not yet been set, as it will be based on the parity price of syrup as determined by the secretary. Whatever the price, however, the parity price will be paid on 88 per cent of the 1935 production, provided actual production does not run under 88 per cent of the base.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCY

The signs at Geneva seem to point definitely to the fact that the league, spurred on by Great Britain, will push sanctions to the limit against Italy. France is slowly coming to the belief that it must throw in its fortunes with England, not Italy.

In Great Britain itself there are accumulating signs of an approaching crisis. The nation is going heartily into an expansion of naval power, along with air forces. It is assumed that the plan to summon a naval conference of naval powers, which in theory should meet this year, is abandoned. It is obvious that under world conditions nothing could be accomplished. A struggle for naval supremacy is on and this means competition in naval construction.

The hurried summons of parliament unto session on the 22nd implies that something is in the wind. It is practically certain that the government will insist on a newly-elected parliament, and that the election will be held in November, after a thirty days' notice. The present government, largely conservative, will surely be returned to power and will then have a five-year tenure before it. The Labor party is in no condition to win an election and the Liberal party is moribund.

Mussolini must begin to realize that he butts his head against a stone wall when he calls in question British supremacy in the Mediterranean and Red Seas. The British empire is so definitely founded on the control of the sea route from England to India through those seas that it must defend that passageway even at the cost of war with any rival, at this juncture—Italy. Mussolini must either acknowledge his blunder and defer to British interests or take the consequences. Incidentally, it may be noted that France no longer heads the league. Great Britain has assumed leadership France is losing its prestige on the continent, perhaps owing to its vacillating politics due to changing ministries.—Dallas News.

OTHER LANDS' COTTON

The drop in the purchases of raw cotton from us by foreign countries can not be set down merely to a general decline in world consumption. This substitution would probably have been more thorough had it not been for a technical factor. Spinning machinery must be adapted to a particular type of raw cotton.

For example, American is a medium staple cotton, Egyptian a fine or long staple cotton, and Indian a short staple cotton. Spinning machinery must be altered or replaced to take care of different kinds of cotton. This change is expensive. Once it is made, however, it tends to be a permanent one. Foreign spinners who have been taking American cotton may be willing to pay a premium for it if the premium is not too great and if they do not believe it will continue for a long period. But once they become convinced that the premium will continue, they will undoubtedly begin altering their machines on a wholesale scale to take other cotton. The American restriction program has tended to stimulate the raising of cotton in other parts of the world. With the exception of India, every one of the competing countries has increased its production compared with the 5-year average of 1925-27 to 1930-31. The increase in China has been 50 per cent, in Russia 62 per cent, in Brazil 161 per cent. It is this rate of increase in particular foreign countries, much more than absolute amounts, that is significant of what the AAA program may eventually mean for American cotton-growers.—Henry Hazlitt, in Current History.

THE SOY BEAN

A recent disaster in a soy bean oil factory in Chicago may serve to call fresh attention to the legume which now is coming into such extensive use and popularity. The soy bean, according to an article by W. L. Burleson, in a university of Illinois agriculture bulletin, has become a "wonder bean." Today there are few crops, he says, that out rank it in interest of future possibilities. Indiana has had a conspicuous position in the development of this product. It was at the Fouts Brothers farm in Camden, this state, where the American Soy Bean Association was organized in 1915. Not many of those there foresaw that shortly there would something like 100 soy bean products in the market. Originally this bean was purely an agricultural substitute crop. It supplied home grown, high protein foods, and was immediately introduced by the farmer who sought a substitution in the rotation of corn or oats. Now its use has expanded. One of the important uses of the oil made from the soy bean is in mechanical arts—chiefly, perhaps, its use in manufacturing oil for paints and varnishes. Mr. Burleson is authority for the estimate that in Illinois one out of every ten farmers has buildings painted with soy bean oil paint, and the estimate is probably good for parts of Indiana and other central states. More than 10,000,000 pounds of soy bean oil were used in the manufacture of paints in the United States last year, and altogether this year perhaps 25,000,000 pounds of soy bean oil will be used in food products and in the industries. The oil farmers recall days when soy beans were unknown, but now it is said that this crop is used for "everything from hay to hairpins." —Indianapolis News.

FARM TO MARKET ROADS

President Roosevelt has been a champion of farm-to-market roads. Farmers and their advocates everywhere in the nation have advocated farm-to-market roads. Well, the senate of Texas has taken action. A bill said to have been drafted by the state highway department that will make it possible to use a two million dollar fund on farm to market roads, now excluded because they are not a part of the state highway system, has been passed by the senate and sent to the house. The congress of the United States, before adjournment, made a provision for a three hundred million dollar fund for all the states to inaugurate a system for the farmers and city consumers. There was a hitch in it somewhere when the federal set-ups were made and the prevailing wage system was responsible for this hitch. Now it is for the house to co-operate with the senate and make possible the use of the two million dollar funds for the proposed system. Farmers need the roads. City consumers need them. They may come some day.—Mineral Wells Index.

FOREIGN POLICY

It is increasingly necessary for the United States to establish a clear and decisive foreign policy, both respecting foreign commerce and the broader political question of keeping peace. The neglect of this problem in administrative circles makes it the more imperative for unofficial groups to interest themselves in it, and to help mold a public opinion that will compel decisive public action. It is, therefore, gratifying to learn that a distinguished committee to consider questions of foreign policy has been formed at the instance of the Carnegie endowment for international peace. There are conservative bankers and liberal publicists in this group. Both political parties are ably represented. The membership has little in common other than a genuine interest in foreign af-

Hamilton

G. R. Thomas, formerly of Ennis, is the new Methodist pastor on the Gustine-Lamkin circuit. Rev. Thomas, a young S. M. U. graduate, succeeds Rea H. Crain, who recently resigned to enter Columbia university in New York. A distinct event of the past week in Hamilton society was the farewell courtesy of the Central Christian church congregation to Rev. and Mrs. Granville Walker, and the reception to give opportunity for making the acquaintance of Rev. Lee Romine, the newly called pastor. Jack Lewis is in the Hamilton sanitarium and Everett Maddox is confined to his bed at his home in this city, both suffering from severe injuries sustained in a car accident at Walnut Springs on Wednesday night at about 11 o'clock. The men were en route home from a business trip to Glen Rose. Rain was falling in a heavy shower and the windshield wiper on the car failed to work. In passing through Walnut Springs the auto crashed into a concrete lamp post on which the lamp was not burning. The car was badly wrecked. Mr. Maddox is severely bruised and lacerated about the head and face and is thought to be injured internally to some extent. Mr. Lewis suffered a broken jaw and cts and bruises, but is resting satisfactorily.—Herald-Record. Saturday of last week J. B. Huckabee of Shive was called to the bedside of his son, Willie Huckabee, who lives near Goldthwaite. Mrs. C. C. Baker and son, Curtis, left Sunday for Oklahoma City, where they will spend several days and go on to Little Rock, Arkansas, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. J. J. Duffie. Mrs. J. O. Davidson, Vivian Jo Davidson, Harold Davidson and Miss Mary Sabrina McKelvain were injured in an auto accident near Waco last Sunday, when the car in which they were riding collided with another at the intersection of another road. They received many cuts and bruises, but escaped serious injury. The occupants of the other car were more seriously injured, but it is reported that they are also recovering.—News.

San Saba

Judge Carl Runge of Mason was here on legal business this week. M. D. Doak, who lives on the Riverside fruit farm at Big Valley, was a visitor to town Saturday. Elder Hulén L. Jackson of Commerce has moved to San Saba to assume the pastorate of the Church of Christ. Work is going on this week on the grounds of the stadium at the old cemetery location. Most of the graves are being moved to other cemeteries with only a few covered up. Lee Gage is recovering from a knife wound inflicted in the upper part of his right thigh when he tried to close a sharp pocket knife like striking a match on the trousers leg about two months ago. Eight boys have returned from a CCC camp in Arizona and brought back two Gila monsters that were caught near the camp there. They say that boys around camp catch the monsters and have them staked out.—Star. caused the driver to lose control of the car, and they crashed into the bannisters of a concrete culvert. Three of the Mexicans were severely injured. Ovalle's injuries proved fatal and the other two are still in the local hospital in a serious condition.—Leader.

The prisoner was brought to Comanche and placed in jail and now faces charges of car theft. W. H. He suffered a broken leg when his car collided with another near Rio Grande city and was taken to the hospital. Funeral services were conducted in Comanche at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Y. # NEWS IN BRIEF

Because of the low price of pecans, the Llano county producers sent a telegram to Secretary Wallace asking relief be given pecan growers, and urging his support of the plan of the 8-cent advance by the government on one-half of the 1935 crop, which would be placed in cold storage. Conditions in the Indian cotton industry show a general improvement, reports foreign crops and markets. Consumption of Indian cotton by India mills is up about 13 per cent over a year ago, exports have increased about 20 per cent and cotton imports show a gain of nearly 40 per cent. Gold that has been flowing from Europe to the United States in recent months, singularly enough has not affected the position of the European central banks. Although many tons of the precious metal have been shipped from France, for instance, the gold reserves of the bank of France have increased instead of declining. Mexican military authorities have resorted to use of bombing planes to suppress rebel uprisings, shelling the town of Mesa Redonda and killing 26 insurgents, it was announced officially. In addition, a squadron of bombing planes was made ready to take off for the region of Los Altos to combat rebels in control of that area. Infantry reinforcements will be rushed to the region. Largest fine ever assessed in federal court in San Antonio, a penalty of $18,410 and a five year sentence in El Reno reformatory, Saturday were imposed on Everett A. Vordenbaum, former Randolph Field postmaster, who plead guilty to embezzling the amount of the fine. "This seems to be the same old story," said Judge R. J. McMillan, "gambling on the stock market and then embezzling to repay losses." Gen. An official government decree by Italy Saturday night authorized 441,000,000 extra lire, about $35,721,000, for new construction and transformation of naval craft. Another decree established a high naval command in Italy's Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean sea. Egypt's domestic cotton manufacturing industry is making progress, despite foreign competition, the department of commerce reports. The two important Egyptian textile mills were able to increase their sales during the 1934-35 season as a result of a promotion campaign to encourage home industry, the report said. A few branch plants were established in the interior, necessitating the installation of additional looms and spindles. The discovery is reported of a "natural born" hypnotist, completely untrained, but able to master ferocious animals and poisonous snakes is interesting scientists in Russia. He is a 10-year old lad from a village in the north Caucasus. Reports from the village say he has hypnotized vicious dogs, cats and steppe snakes. Though Soviet professors say animal hypnotism is well known and comparatively simple, they have never before heard of an untrained hypnotist. Prices received by farmers have risen in recent months, the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture reports in a general survey of the price situation. Prices paid by farmers, however, have declined and prices received relative to prices paid are now the highest in more than five years, the survey determines. The general level of farm prices appears to be some-

Burglary in the capitol in an apparent search for secret records of the house rules committee's utilities lobby investigation has been disclosed. Rio Grande water rights of Texas are to be fought for in the supreme court of the United States in a suit Attorney General William McCraw is preparing to file. In past years the Rio Grande afforded water for everyone, regardless of state boundaries, but due to recent "high powered" irrigation developments in New Mexico, the people living along the Rio Grande in Texas have been deprived of their water rights, according to the contention of the Texas attorney general. CROSS CHILDREN MAY HAVE WORMS Watch for upset little stomachs, bad breath, fretfulness, loss of weight, itching around nose and arms. TO A FRIEND
By Tolbert Patterson

In the passing of Walter Elliott the Mullin community, and in fact all within the reach of his life, suffered a great loss. Mr. Elliott died at his home in Mullin at 4:30 p. m. Friday, October 25. His life was closely incorporated in the life of the Mullin community. For some twelve years he had directed the music activities in the Mullin school and community.

The motivating forces in this man's life are worthy to be emulated by all men. First, his own life was dedicated to a definite and worthy life's work. Few of us have so completely, wholeheartedly and sacredly dedicated our efforts to a definite line of accomplishment as had this noble character. Music was in his soul and from this soul he gave his all with music. Many are the times, although physically unable, that he met his classes or directed his orchestra.

Second, the man was of an humble or unpretentious nature. Many individuals in his position and with his ability grow away from this good trait, or never acquire it. There was no superfluity in his manner. He never sought popularity, publicity or headlines for himself. He was content and happy if he could help some student or friend to a worthwhile service. For himself he preferred to keep in the background.

Third, he had incorporated in his life the Christian virtues of honesty, truthfulness and sympathy. He was fully trustworthy and reliable. His word was more binding than any bond. He stood four-square on matters of principle. He asked no quarters and he demanded no favoritism. For him, matters of right and wrong were not to be compromised.

Fourth, his life was one of perseverance. He had to work hard to secure his early musical training. Nothing daunted his determination for the realization of his heart's ambition, a mastery of music. The same characteristics marked his daily work.

Fifth, he loved his family. His wife, mother, three sisters and five children survive him. His life, efforts and interests included his family. For them he had ambitions and hopes. For them he made many personal sacrifices.

Dedicated to a definite work.
