

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1935.

NUMBER ELEVEN

Justice Day Will Be Observed

Justice Day will be observed in Goldthwaite Monday. No set day has been outlined for observance, but it is a rule of the Retail Merchants association to observe this date, and they expect those having business offices and some of the professional men to observe their places. It would be well for those making appointments in person or by phone, before starting, to make sure of no conflict or the necessity of a second trip.

Hallowe'en Party

Hallowe'en night up the hill at the Art and Civic clubs and their husbands. Mr. W. P. McCullough's party was approaching the front of the house, we found the most contraptions ever in front of a door. Every-thing quiet, until reaching the door when suddenly an owl was heard.

The front, front is back, says the owl, 'to get a hallowe'en party.' The owl and were received by a witch, who had her hands across the door. We went into the l-o-n-g hall, where we found many weird mounts in front of us, which were footing uncertain.

Some years ago I spoke to the pastor of one of the churches in the town where I lived about the work of the Red Cross and he told me that his people did not believe much in its work, as they usually looked after the needs of their own people. But that very year a cyclone struck a community where their people were rather strong in number, but poor. They needed help, but could not meet the demands within their own force, and were compelled to accept aid from the Red Cross that they had esteemed rather lightly. Let us enlist the largest number this year that we have ever had in Mills county.

Last week the citizens of Mills county were called upon to endure a degree of sadness that was appalling. Mr. Elliott and a child both of Mullin, passed into eternity. Mr. Elliott was a talented musician and a most useful citizen. His loss will be felt in musical circles, besides the great loss to his sorrowing family.

Sammie Smith, a Goldthwaite boy, a valuable and honored citizen, was called into eternity, leaving a fine family to weep. While his funeral service was being held here, this writer was attending the funeral of Mr. W. A. Teague, an aged and useful citizen of Star. Thus, four valued citizens of our county left us the same week. Our sympathies go out to all.

Serious Accident

G. W. Smith had the misfortune to lose the index finger of his right hand Tuesday, while engaged in "unchoking" a gin where they were attempting to gin damp cotton. His finger was cut in a chain and was mashed that it was necessary for him to be carried to hospital in Brownwood to the injured member X-rayed and amputated. The insurance given him considerable

Methodist Notes

Most of the folks who usually attend services at the Methodist church meandered around to other places last Sunday, as the pastor of the church was attending conference in San Antonio. Some, I noted, were at the Baptist church, where they heard a good sermon by a visiting preacher. This gave him a good audience to preach to and the people had a good sermon.

Brother Duke returned Sunday night from San Antonio and, as indicated on this page last week, will be the pastor of the Methodist church for the coming year. The people are delighted to have him with them again.

This is the season for the Red Cross to put forth its usual efforts for enrollment. For the most part, the people of the county are glad to subscribe to the work of this great organization. Certainly no greater work could be well imagined than this. It is the one organization that can be depended upon for world-wide charity. It knows no clique or clan. It simply rushes to the rescue when, and wherever, the need is greatest. One dollar is the membership fee. Let all our people be ready to aid in this great work, always needed, never more so than at this time.

Making Good

PHENVILLE, Tex., Nov. 1. Clara Blackwell of Center is one of the 29 students chosen for an honor class by the first year English at Bartleton college. Having excellent work in English the first six weeks, Miss Blackwell will participate with the other students in the study of essays, short stories and diction as prescribed in both terms of freshman year.

Turkey Market Opens Monday

While Monday will be the time for the opening of the turkey market, those who have the big birds for sale can find a market for them before the date of the official opening of the market. It is said the grade of turkeys in this county is much better than last year and it is believed and hoped that the market price will also be better than last season, although it has not been announced up to this time.

Priddy School Carnival

On Thursday night, October 31, a very successful school carnival was held on the school grounds, when general proceeds amounted to $69.75. The money is to be equally divided toward athletics and library fund.

Booths of various kinds were offered as a many sided entertainment. Bingo, shoot the "nigger" babies, a negro prize fight, midgets, the fastest runner in America, the swimming match, the ground hog, a trip around the world, the Topsy Turvy boys, and an abundant supply of popcorn, candy, peanuts, hamburgers, coffee, cake and pie kept pleasure seekers in high spirits until 9:30 o'clock, when the evening was climaxed by the coronation of the queen of the high school. The procession was played by Miss Hilma Hein, as members of the royal house appeared. Raymond Tie-mann acted as herald, with the trumpet, and announced the following attendants:

Lady Erna of the house of Kluge, Lord Lester of the house of Farrar (seniors); Lady Mar-jorie of the house of Swindle, Lord Ira of the house of Townsend, (juniors); Lady Nelma of the house of Greele, Lord Raymond of the house of Schrank, (sophomores); freshman maid of honor to the queen, Lady Kathleen of the house of Walker, escort, Lord Glenn of the house of Dunlap; senior maid of honor to the queen, Lady Mildred of the house of Mason, escort, Lord Paul of the house of Tischler. Her royal highness, Lady Elvera of the house of Schrank, was crowned queen by his majesty, King Paul of the house of Schwartz. The royal crown bearer was little Billy of the house of Ship and jesters to the king Walter Kluge and Carl Jeske. As entertainment for the royal group, Hilma Hein rendered a vocal selection and Marjorie Swindle played an accordion solo. The ceremony was very impressive, and served as a beautiful background for our high school gathering.

The first meeting of Priddy P.-T. A. will be held Friday night, November 8. Everyone is invited to attend. A program will be given free. Also election of officers for the coming year will be seen after.

Special Program

The Garden club will have a program of pictures and a lecturer at the Melba theatre this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Everybody invited.

Home and Accident Prevention Program

The Red Cross is attempting to again lend a hand for the welfare of our people. This time it is an effort to prevent disaster or misfortune in the home. It is a drive to educate parents and children in the safe-guarding of their lives and property. Most accidents or tragedies could be prevented if a trained mind would only take the necessary precaution. This training is going to be done through the schools and school children. Literature pertaining to it has been left by the Red Cross representative at Judge Gerald's office, and every teacher in Mills county who has not already received a supply is urged to call at his office. Every parent is urged to make the inspection the Red Cross asks for, and to see that it is returned to the teacher. Do your part and help this effort.

Tuesday Study Club

Mrs. Sparks Bigham was hostess to the Tuesday Study club at the home of Mrs. S. P. Sullivan. The reception rooms were attractively decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Earl Fairman, assisted by Mrs. Paul McCullough and Mrs. Robert Steen, Jr., gave a review of Franz Werfel's "Forty Days of Musa Dagh." This book has been acclaimed as one of the really great recent books, and just falls short of finding a permanent place in literature.

Mrs. Sullivan sang a number of beautiful songs, accompanied by Miss Ruby Lee Dickerson at the piano.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the program to club members and a number of guests.

Nazarene Remarks

Our church will begin a revival meeting November 24, with Rev. Lee P. Phillips, the pastor of our church in Coleman. Let everyone work and pray for a great revival.

Sunday evening at 7 p. m. the services will be in charge of the young people and Woman's Missionary society, at which time a missionary program will be rendered.

Monday morning (Armistice Day) a delegation of our young people will leave for Ballinger, for the first zone rally of the north-west zone for this church year. Let everyone work for a great year in our zone and in our district, as well as in our local young people's society.

Pastor Appreciated

At a conference in the Baptist church in this city Wednesday night the salary of the pastor, Rev. Franklin E. Swanner, was increased $25 per month for the year, which was indeed a fine testimonial to the high esteem in which Brother Swanner is held by his congregation. He is also appreciated by the people of the city, regardless of denominational lines, and he has many friends in other communities of the county, who are glad to know of this evidence of appreciation by his congregation.

Fellowship Meeting Plans Made

There is to be an old time fellowship meeting at Rock Springs Sunday, Nov. 10, beginning at 9 o'clock and continuing through the day. Everybody has a cordial invitation to attend and carry lunch, to be served at noon. There will be no set program, but there will be something doing every minute—speeches, songs and fellowship talks. In the afternoon W. P. Weaver will have charge of an old time choir, when the songs of long ago will be sung by those who sang them in the old sacred harp fashion. The people of Rock Springs church and community are preparing for a great time and hope for a large crowd.

Will Rogers Fund

There is a wide-spread movement to raise funds to provide a monument for the late Will Rogers. W. C. Dew has been appointed chairman for this county to receive subscriptions from admirers of Mr. Rogers, who wish to contribute to the monument fund. It is a voluntary matter and there will be no personal solicitations. Those who wish to contribute are notified to leave such contributions at the Trent State bank, and all amounts will be forwarded to the proper committee for use in providing the monument.

Mayors Proclamation

The annual roll call for the Goldthwaite chapter of the American Red Cross will begin on Armistice Day, November 11, and end Thanksgiving Day.

Workers who helped in the roll call last year lost no time in turning from their solicitation to carry on the year's program of relief for victims of accident, disaster and disease.

They come to us now to remind us that our memberships, which will finance the work of another year, are due. Since our Red Cross asks so little from the community, and contributes so much, I urge a speedy response again this year.

The Red Cross is recognized by city officials as a potent factor in meeting present needs, and as an agency of incalculable value in the event of possible emergency.

I, therefore, as mayor of Goldthwaite, hereby set aside the designated period as the time when all past members are asked to renew their memberships and those who have not before been members add their names to the roll of honor in Mills county.

West Texas Pecan Growers Association

The Texas pecan growers have decided to send a committee to Washington, seeking government aid for their industry. The meetings have been arranged by the West Texas Pecan Growers association.

The committee will include H. G. Lucas of Brownwood, E. W. Harrison of South Bend, C. H. Matthews of Eagle Lake and Wendell Mayes of Brownwood.

The group has been directed to ask the community credit corporation and the agricultural adjustment administration to make a loan of 8 cents a pound on average selling pecans.

Baptist Reminder

"The widening horizon and the alluring challenge" will be the sermon subject Sunday night at 7 o'clock. This theme should appeal to young people. The subject Sunday morning will be "The glorious experience."

The W. M. S. met in their various circles. Mrs. Bowman's circle met with Mrs. Littlepage with ten present. They will not meet Monday. Mrs. Sansom's circle met with Mrs. Grover Dalton with nine present. They will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. W. B. Jackson's circle met with Mrs. Chas. Rudd with 12 present.

An Attractive Residence

Oscar Burns was here from Coleman last week end and contracted for the erection of a nice dwelling on the site of his old family home on Parker street, just south of Walter Fairman's home. The building is to be of hollow tile, faced with native stone, and will contain five rooms and bath, with all modern conveniences. According to the plans, it will be quite an addition to that part of town. It is understood the place will be for rent for the present, but it is likely the Burns family will occupy it some time in the future, if they decide to return to Goldthwaite to make their home.

Auto Wreck Causes Injury

Last Friday morning as Mrs. R. F. McDermott and her daughter, Miss Elsie, were en route to church services at Lometa their car overturned at the 3-mile crossing, south of town, on the Lampasas road. Miss Elsie, who was driving, suffered a broken arm and Mrs. McDermott was bruised and badly shocked. The young lady was carried to the X-ray at Brownwood, where the broken arm was given attention, and she was able to return home Saturday night, and is reported to be doing nicely, although the broken arm is quite inconvenient, as well as painful.

Community Singing

A number of song lovers from Goldthwaite have attended Sunday afternoon singings lately at Caradan and McGirk and greatly enjoyed the programs.

At McGirk we found the best organization we ever saw. The class has a full set of officers, keeps minutes of the meetings, and collects dues sufficient to defray expenses for lights and other costs of the organization. This class, with C. C. Newton leader, has history covering fourteen years of successful existence. When called, the class came forward promptly, and probably as many as fifteen members led during the meeting. The class meets on second and fourth Sunday nights.

At Caradan we found a class of good singers with many leaders, under the direction of Lee Stewart, who now lives in Goldthwaite. Among the leaders, the Bledsoe twins and Porter triplets attracted much attention.

Pleasant Grove and Pompey have good classes and the Goldthwaite "statics" expect to visit these communities at an early date. It is not generally known that Goldthwaite has a singing class, which meets in the homes of members each Tuesday night. We urge all classes in Mills county to come to the convention at the Goldthwaite school auditorium the first Sunday in December and Saturday night before. Remember the dates.

SONG LEADER.

Pastors Placed For Coming Year

The Methodist conference for the West Texas division was held at San Antonio last week end and the session held through Sunday, when Bishop Boaz read the appointment of pastors for the various charges for the coming conference year. Few changes were made in the Llano district, of which Goldthwaite is a part, but there was about the usual number of changes throughout the conference bounds. The appointments for Llano district were:

Presiding elder, Charles Nixon; Art, F. W. Radetzky; Bandera-Medina, E. W. Deckert; Bertram-Leander, Foy Thomas; Blanco-Johnson City, Kermit Gibbons; Burnet-Lake Victor, G. T. Hester; Briggs Circuit, E. C. Young, supply; Center City Circuit, H. H. Liles; Boerne-Center Point, M. Williamson; Comfort, J. W. Rowland; Castell, Charles T. Hardt; Chapel Circuit, G. T. Other Preachers Placed

Rev. Grady Timmons, who has been serving a church in Nashville, was transferred to Travis Park church, San Antonio. Rev. King Vivian, who resigned as president of Southwestern university, Georgetown, was assigned to the Nashville church, that has been served by Rev. Timmons. Rev. E. A. Hunter, presiding elder at Brownsville; Rev. Dennis Macune, Bishop; Rev. E. P. Neal, Mission; Rev. J. E. Lovett, South Bluff, Corpus Christi; Rev. H. H. Dare, Palm Heights, San Antonio; Rev. W. S. Highsmith, Laredo; Rev. L. D. Brown, Poteet; Rev. F. M. Jackson, Rock Springs and Martelle; Rev. T. M. Mitchell, Bloomington; Rev. R. S. Pearce superannuated.

Funeral Attendants

There was a large attendance at the funeral of Sammy Smith last Friday and among those from a distance were:

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Reese, Lampasas; Mrs. Ralph Coleman, Eugene Coleman, Mrs. Eddie Coleman, Izora; Mr. and Mrs. Oran Laceywell, Richland Springs; M. V. Isome, Miss Marie Hampton, Boyd Hill, W. A. Winkelman, Claude Parks, C. J. House, Asa Richards, Howard Hill, Whitney; Miss Leone Ballard, Wallace Cloud, Hamilton; Mrs. Clifton Ringus, Gatesville. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nuickles, Clifton; Mr. Nickols, manager of Community Public Service company, Mineral Wells; Mrs. J. C. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Will Potter, Brownwood; Mrs. Tom Davis, Mrs. Erwin Jones, Mrs. Jim Welker, Hamilton; Mrs. Ollie Solomon, Miss Nell Solomon, Mrs. Henry Reece, Harold Reece, Bobbie Reece, Waco; Miss Nell Smith, Walter Smith, Menard; Mike Coleman, Henry Harverson, Fort Worth; Miss Beatrice Long and Olen Langford, Arizona; John Holmes, Whitney.

Week Of Prayer

The Week of Prayer programs were held at the Methodist church the first of the week and were very well attended, except Tuesday, when the weather was so bad there was no meeting held. This is a week annually observed by the Missionary Society of the Methodist church.

RED SORES BOILS RASH

For the treatment of sores on feet, legs or any other part of the body, Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil will be found unusually effective. This oil, perfected by a distinguished surgeon of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, has a twofold action. First, it combats infection. Second, it aids healing. This is usually the treatment you want for a sore.

Besides sores, Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil is good for the treatment of boils and skin rashes, itch, etc. Hundreds who have tried everything else for sores and broken out and itching skin, say nothing has given them the relief that Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil has. Try this wonderful treatment for sores on any part of the body or for boils or skin itch and see how beneficial it is.

Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil is made by the makers of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine and is sold by all drug stores at 50c and 60c with guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

A REASONABLE CHARGE

The Eagle, like all other newspapers, makes a reasonable charge for the publication of cards of thanks, obituaries, lodge resolutions and similar articles. This is not a new rule, but has been in effect all of the years of the Eagle's publication. The charge for these articles must be assumed or guaranteed by the writers or some other responsible party.

PEP SQUAD

The pep squad was not represented as a whole at San Saba last Friday, but at that, San Saba knew we were there. We haven't given up, because we must bring home a winning team, and unless we back a losing team, we can't expect our Eagles to win!

The pep squad has been looking forward to the game with Bangs. See this game, and the loyal members of the pep squad. Back our team, and whether we win or lose, let's do our part.

"A-HOMINES"

The "A-Homines" club met in the home of M. Y. Stokes, Jr., on Monday night. The business meeting included the reading of the constitution, which was written by a special committee, with Mrs. Barnett's help. The purpose of the club has been mentioned in an earlier report. The club colors are purple and gold; the flower is the rose. The motto selected Monday night is "Crescat scientia," which means "May knowledge increase."

After the business meeting, Mr. Stokes showed some slides of old Roman buildings, statues and people. The slides of the amphitheatres and the coliseum were especially interesting, for they are the most remarkable buildings in the world. It was learned that the Romans were interested in prize-fighting. A picture of a statue of their "Jack Dempsey" was shown. Several scenes of a Roman house were shown. The boys of the club are going to make a Roman house in the near future. These slides gave an opportunity to study old Roman dress. The decoration committee will dress some dolls in these styles.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Stokes family again for the use of their home as a meeting place, and for the showing of the slides.

P-T. A. MEETING

Let's not forget that next Tuesday is the meeting day for the Parent-Teachers association. Insist that all your mothers be present.

DANNY, THE DIRT DAUBER

Half a column of this paper was originally saved to be devoted to San Saba's defeat—by Goldthwaite, rather than of Goldthwaite. Although this is practically an untalked-of subject, it might be said here that the Eagles were not as badly defeated as several teams that defeated the Eagles. Oh, well, better luck next year.

Hallowe'en night was practically over at ten o'clock, since the football boys, and consequently most of the girls, had to go home; however, there was not much left to be done after ten.

If anyone wants an anonymous letter printed, Danny will print it. Mail it to him in care of Mr. Smith.

It's a pity some girl couldn't have K. C.'s pretty, curly hair; then she wouldn't have to waste money on permanents.

Louise Ohlenbusch is living with Mary Clements. We hope this experiment will be as fortunate as Connie's and Virginia's.

FROM THE CLASSROOM

Last Friday the teachers showed extraordinary school spirit by deferring any previously assigned weekly tests until Monday.

Some very interesting work is being done by the Latin club and the newly-formed Spanish club, both of which are under the sponsorship of Mrs. Barnett.

The seniors will sell popcorn balls and candy at the Bangs game here Friday (this afternoon).

The senior class and the football team sincerely regret the absence of Julius Mills, due to an operation.

The junior class has a new member—Joe Davis. Joe attended G. H. S. last year, and are very glad to have him back.

GLEE CLUB REPORT

The Girls' Glee club has been very busy the last two weeks, finishing up their two songs, "When de Banjo Plays" and "Prayers of Handse and Gretel," to be sung next Thursday and Friday nights. On these nights the Glee club is sponsoring the picture show, "Redheads On Parade." The Glee club is to sing two numbers; there will also be other selections rendered by various pupils of Mrs. Sullivan's. Everyone is invited to come. The show is said to be an unusually interesting one. Also we want you to see the progress that the Glee club has already made this year. Any member of the Glee club will be very glad to sell you a ticket any time between now and that time. Be sure and go. We know you will enjoy it.

Sometime during the last few weeks the Glee club membership has been increased by one member. The very welcome member was Mary Clements. Her entrance into the club at the first of the year was delayed by an unlucky case of mumps.

Again let me remind you to be sure and see the show, "Redheads On Parade," with John Boles and Dixie Lee, either next Thursday or Friday night. We are sure you will enjoy it.

Laxative combination folks know is trustworthy

The confidence thousands of parents have in good, old reliable, powdered Theodor's Black-Draught has prompted them to get the new Syrup of Black-Draught for their children. The grown folks stick to the powdered Black-Draught; the youngsters probably will prefer it when they outgrow their childish love of sweets. Mrs. C. W. Adams of Murray, Ky., writes: "I have used Theodor's Black-Draught (powder) about thirteen years, taking it for biliousness. Black-Draught acts well and I am always pleased with the results. I wanted a good, reliable laxative for my children. I have found Syrup of Black-Draught to be just that."

AGAIN, A NEW AND MORE BEAUTIFUL FORD V-8

Speaks for Itself

MORE than two million Ford V-8's, in America alone are now in the hands of drivers. These owners have heard, from the car itself, a clear story of motoring value and pleasure that far outstrips all previous achievements in low priced cars.

Now, the 1936 Ford V-8 speaks for itself. . . new beauty of line; new, brighter colors; easier steering and gear-shifting; super-safety breaks. We urge you to get this car's story from the driver's seat—to know at first hand its V-8 performance—its luxury-car comfort and roominess.

Let the last word about the 1936 Ford V-8 "be spoken by the car itself." Make arrangements today through:—

Mount Olive High School

A BOX SUPPER

There will be a box supper at Mount Olive school Friday night (tonight). The funds will be used to build a night basket at Caradan to be used by the Mt. Olive and the Midway teams, and the Mt. Olive Caradan outside teams. Everyone interested in basket ball in this section of the county is invited to come and bring or buy a box. Let's all help make a good sport and have some good, fun.

SIXTH GRADE POSTERS

The sixth grade class made posters for their health lesson Tuesday. All the posters were good, but the following were voted best by the room: First place, Norma Conway; second place, Norma Conway; third place, Maudine Burks.

There are several pupils in the sixth grade that are doing fine work, but if anyone wishes to do better work than Norma, they will have to get busy.

The sixth grade welcomes Johnny Stephens from Pecan Wells, as a new member of their class. Johnny seems to be well prepared for the sixth grade, and already settled down with the other happy sixth graders.

NEW PORTABLE

The intermediate room has a new portable. We need some new records. We are practicing on a negro song now, and will be able to give you some entertainment as soon as the weather settles.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED

We received our work books in English, history and health this week (Monday). Some of the pupils of this room did not attend school last week and did not get in on the order. Another order will be made soon. If you did not get in on the last one, bring your money to school as soon as possible. This next order will probably be the last.

BASEBALL

The Kittens and Cats are having it up and down every day. The Cats seem to be getting the best of the Kittens, but both teams are getting good practice.

WE WONDER WHY—

Bozy takes such care in cleaning his feet before entering the school house now.

Miss Neal stopped at Will Roberts' home Wednesday night. Mr. Cooke did not wear his glasses Thursday.

All the school kids are glad it rains every Friday night.

THIS AND THAT

They say that a man is known by the company he keeps—and sometimes otherwise.

Is Detroit the third of Ford city of the United States?

They tell us life is what we make it, and if that be true, some of us need a little more training.

Young people can travel so fast today they can meet more temptations in one evening than grandmother could get around to in a month.

"Yes, he took his misfortunes like a man—blamed it all on his wife."

The primary children are very busy now. We are learning many things that we are proud of. Soon we are going to show the other two rooms that we do know how to sing, too. We have our new song book, and with the aid of our portable, we are really going to enjoy our music period, as well as the others.

The eighth, ninth and tenth grades have received our English work books, and think we like them much better than making a note book. We are getting history books, also.

The trustees met at the school house Monday in a business meeting. Bids will be received at the school house Friday night for laying in the winter supply of wood for the school.

Come to Mount Olive Friday night to the box supper.

We are ordering new curtains for all the windows and a new flag and Miss Neal is getting a reading table and some new records for the portable.

We are getting electric wiring and supplies to install electric lights, the electricity to be furnished by car batteries. We are also getting a new gasoline lantern. When we get these installed, we will have plenty of light for our programs.

High school attendance is falling behind that of the other grades, due to cotton picking weather.

Be sure to come to the box supper, as we are going to reorganize our P.-T. A. Let's all cooperate and have the best school ever.

JOKES

Glyndon: This match won't light.

Jack: What's the matter with it?

Glyndon: I don't know. It lit all right a minute ago.

The Mighty Comma

Arnold was having trouble with punctuation, and was being called down by Mr. Cooke.

"Never mind, Arnold," said Mr. McArthur, president of the school board. "It's foolish to bother about commas. They do not amount to much, anyway."

"Don't they?" asked Mr. Cooke, turning to Mr. McArthur.

Then he asked Arnold to go to the board and write this sentence: "Mr. McArthur says Mr. Cooke is a fool."

"Now," Mr. Cooke continued, "put a comma after McArthur and another after Cooke."

"Jack," cried Mrs. Hightower, "Come into the house this minute. I have an errand for you to do."

"Why, mother," exclaimed Jack. "I want to grow up to be a law-abiding citizen. Dad says the new code forbids child labor."

Mr. Cooke, to class: Can you give me an example of wasted energy?

Arnold Scott: Yes, sir, telling a hair-raising story to a bald-headed man.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were going over the budget. He ran across an item, "H. O. K. $3" and another "H. O. K. $6."

"My dear," he asked, "What is this item H. O. K.?"

His wife replied, "Heaven only knows."

Maudine Burks and Jimmie Lee, who had seen their first football game.

Maudine: "I don't see how football players ever get clean."

Jimmie Lee: "Silly, what do you suppose the scrub teams are for?"

PLEASANT GROVE

As I write this letter I believe everyone would be glad to see some sunshine, as they have plenty of rain for a while.

The Parent-Teachers association was re-organized, with Miss Casbeer president. All patrons are invited, and visitors welcome.

Dean Hall and Oscar and Jack Covington from Lampasas county have gone to west Texas to work.

Arch Collier and family, Mrs. Collier and family spent Sunday with W. F. Virden and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Miller and daughter visited his parents Sunday.

Lewis Covington and family spent last Sunday with Mr. Collier near Star.

Misses Fern and Chorlene Bryant visited Miss Novaleen Berry Sunday.

Mrs. Hazel Lowe visited with the Irwin family Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hall went visiting Sunday, but I failed to learn where.

Mrs. O. K. Berry had relatives visiting her from Moline Sunday afternoon.

Travis Griffin and family from South Bennett visited Mrs. Covington Sunday.

J. J. Virden and Miss Lizzie and Billie Collier spent Monday with W. F. Virden and family.

Levi and Brit Berry visited in Moline Sunday afternoon.

Miss Vera Horton and Leonard Collier from near Star were calling in this community Sunday evening.

Quay Irwin spent Saturday night with L. C. Covington.

Troy Berry called on Harvey Jeffery Sunday.

League services and singing were well attended by a large crowd Sunday night.

LIVE OAK

There was a large crowd at Sunday school Sunday morning. We are very glad to see such interest in the Sunday school and believe it will continue. Next Sunday is preaching Sunday, and we are always glad to have visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Irk Black entertained the young people with a hallowe'en party Friday night. Everyone enjoyed it greatly.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Weathers and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson Sunday.

Mrs. C. G. Featherston and son, Charles Eugene, visited Mrs. O. U. Tumlinson and children Sunday afternoon.

Miss Juanita Howell spent Sunday with Lorene Denman, and Lorene spent Sunday night with Juanita.

Izetta Featherston visited Louise Harwell Sunday.

Mrs. Tom House has been ill, but is improving this week.

Walter Fairman made a short call to the Harwell farm Sunday. Oleta Knight visited her aunt, Mrs. Joe Anderson, Saturday night and Sunday.

Bledsoe & Rudd buy pecans at warehouse in old Lane wagon yard.

BIG VALLEY

Cold weather and cold rains have kept most of us sitting around a good, warm fire.

There has been a good bit of sickness in our community this past week.

M. V. Nowell, who has been ill for some time, is very low at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Long of Midland and their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers, came in Sunday evening to visit relatives and friends in the Valley and elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson and daughter, Roberta, visited in the Cockrell home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Weaver and baby have been on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson went to Richland Springs one day last week, and while there Mrs. Nelson was taken ill. She was able to return home Sunday, but is not doing so well at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Long of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers, Flora Weaver, Robert Weaver, Mrs. Wm. Dennard and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Long spent Monday in the Jim Burdett home in Neighbors Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ware and little daughter of Menard have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hale, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman Knowles and children visited in the G. A. Knowles home Sunday.

The hallowe'en entertainment at the school house was enjoyed by all, from all reports. Quite a bit of money was made up, which is to be used for school equipment.

Robert Weaver, who has been on the sick list, is better at this.

Mrs. G. A. Knowles visited a short while Sunday evening with Mrs. Walter Nelson.

Little Miss La Verne Sykes spent Sunday afternoon with little Miss Lovena Lawson.

Those who visited a while in the Liva Weaver home Monday night were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Long and Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Padgett, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dennard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Mills and children of McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Long and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Sammy Smith, together with Mr. G. W. Smith and family and other relatives, desire to express their sincere thanks to their many friends and neighbors for the great kindness to them and the many expressions of sympathy at the time of the death and burial of their husband, son and relative, Mr. Sammy Smith. Especially are they appreciative of the beautiful flowers provided for the funeral. All of the acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy are sincerely appreciated by the entire family.

MRS. S. W. SMITH
and Children,
MR. AND MRS. G. W. SMITH
MRS. ETHEL BRASWELL and Family.

MRS. McLEAN PASSED AWAY

Mrs. C. D. McLean, an aged lady and old resident of this city died at her family home Monday morning at an early hour, after a long illness.

While all that skilled physicians and loving friends could do was done for her, the hand of death could not be stayed. The large attendance at the funeral Monday afternoon was an evidence of the high esteem in which Mrs. McLean was held and the sympathy felt by the people of the community for her husband and other members of the family.

Interment was made in the cemetery here at 4:30 Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Goum are the proud parents of a son, born Sunday.

LOWER BIG VALLEY

More soaking rains have been falling. We have had almost two weeks of rainy weather. With a large amount of the crops still ungathered, we are all wishing for dry weather.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL

A large crowd was present at the hallowe'en carnival, sponsored by the P. T. A. Thursday, October 31. The school ground was a spooky place and the crowd was well entertained.

The first feature on the program was a basket ball game between the Mullin team and the Center City team. This was the first game to be played here, and it was a very interesting game. The Mullin team was victorious.

The boxing show, which was staged in the high school auditorium, was the next feature on the program. Some very interesting boxing matches were presented by high school and grammar school boys.

Other entertainments were the "Fish Pond," "Oddity Room," "The Bargain House," and "The Spooky House." Several booths furnished eats and drinks.

A very large crowd attended the carnival and had a great time.

The proceeds received from the carnival will go to the athletic fund and to the home economics department.

PLAY PRESENTED BY P. T. A.

On Saturday evening, November 2, the local Parent-Teachers association staged a play in Mullin school auditorium. The play, entitled "Whittlin'," was a comedy in three acts. The proceeds are to be divided between athletics and the home economics department.

Under the direction of Mrs. S. J. Casey, the eight characters were efficiently portrayed.

The part of the village doctor, "Dr. Adam Good," (Doc Yak), was played by Tom Wallace.

"Mrs. Josiah Wilson," a kind old lady, was characterized by Mrs. Julius Lockridge.

"Ruth Wilson," a charming young girl of about twenty, and the daughter of Mrs. Josiah Wilson, was portrayed by Mrs. Glynn Kittle.

M. S. Savoy played the part of a wayward youth just back from the war, who, by a peculiar coincidence, fell heir to a place in the Wilson home. "Jimmy Edwards."

W. C. Preston had the part of a wealthy old crook, "Dave Patterman," who was trying to cheat Mrs. Wilson out of her home.

"Gyp," played by Frank Masters, was Jimmy Edward's pal, who tried to get him to continue his shiftless life.

Hazel Rouse played the part of "Annabelle Dee, a silly, giggling girl.

The part of the village messenger boy, "Johnny Dee," was played by Kenneth Masters.

The large crowd which was present evidenced the fact that the community is still giving the P. T. A. their most enthusiastic support.

GARDEN CLUB PROGRAM

The club will meet with Miss Era Hancock Friday, Nov. 8, at 1:30. The program:

Mrs. I. McCurry and Mrs. H. R. McDonald: Special music.

Mrs. W. C. Preston: Address on indoor flowers in winter.

Mrs. G. M. Fletcher: Talk on flower display.

Mrs. R. H. Patterson: The allegory of flowers.

The hostesses of this occasion are Mrs. H. R. McDonald, Mrs. J. P. Lockridge and Miss Era Hancock. The meeting will be with Miss Hancock.

ERNESTINE INGRAM

An angel came Sunday night and touched the spirit of lovely little Ernestine Ingram, waiting her home before she ever had been touched by any of earth's woes or sorrows.

She had brightened the happy home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ingram for fifteen months, was the apple of the eyes of the little sister, only two years older. A baby's smile is the purest, sweetest gift bestowed upon humanity, and the tiny clasp of their little fingers are magnetizing to the heart strings.

THE PRICE OF PEACE

Everything worth having costs somebody something, and that is true as to nations as well as individuals. We read a lot about world peace, which seems to be the common goal of mankind, if one is able to judge from the speeches and writings of educators, statesmen, editors and others who set out their thoughts for the public enlightenment. Undoubtedly there does exist a strong yearning for peace, almost amounting to a demand on the part of a somewhat disillusioned human race.

In the United States there is no exception. However, here as elsewhere, few seem to understand thoroughly that peace will not descend upon the world unless it is earned by the people of the world, who must be ready to pay the price necessary to establish law and maintain order among the nations of the earth.

Without going into any argument about Italy's venture into Ethiopia, it is significant to notice that the League of Nations does not rely upon moral judgment or the pressure of public opinion. Of course, the value of these factors can not be over-estimated, but their potency in preventing the use of force may be doubted. The League of Nations has adopted the policy of sanctions against Italy, but there is no misunderstanding as to the eventual necessity for the use of force.

By remaining silent, or permitting its future course to be uncertain, this country would prevent any concerted action in support of the League's position. It would, in effect, encourage future aggression by a stubborn insistence upon its rights as a neutral trader. If, as a matter of fact, we believe that human life takes precedence over property rights, there should be no hesitation as to our national policy. Moreover, there should be no secrecy about our attitude toward the present or any similar crisis in the future.

DRUNK DRIVERS

One notable accomplishment of the much belabored Texas legislature is the new law prescribing penalties for driving an automobile while intoxicated. This law provides a penalty of 30 days in jail or a $50 fine, or both. The fine, to our way of thinking, is superfluous. It will provide an easy means of escape from punishment for too many reckless drivers, and those who draw the jail sentences will be limited to the comparatively friendless few.

Mexico has a law which provides a six months jail term for every driver who injures anyone while driving. Whether drunk or sober, the reckless or inept driver in Mexico who injures a fellow human being must go to jail. That may seem a drastic law, but its good effects are revealed by the caution which all automobile drivers in Mexico exercise, and all includes even touring Americans. If such a law should be enforced in this country, the alarmingly high death rate from auto accidents would drop to as low a figure as the death rate from railroad wrecks.

ACCIDENTS OUTRIDE WAR

According to statistics assembled by reliable authorities, accidents in this country have caused more deaths in the last ten or fifteen years than we all the wars in the nation's history. These figures reveal that within the time designated there have been an appalling number of deaths from automobile accidents. While the automobile is not the only source of fatal accidents, it is the principal one. Some curious facts have developed, however, by the investigations of these statistic compilers. One example is that industrial accidents have caused less than half as many deaths as highway accidents. Accidents in the home show a grand total running into large figures. The department of health in the state of Kansas reports that 39 per cent of the falls within the home occurred in the bedroom; 21 per cent in the living room; 16 per cent on stairs or steps; 6 per cent in the bathroom and 3 per cent in other places.

A campaign of education against accidents is now being conducted throughout America, and should have universal support.

A SAFE BASIS

Bank deposits by the citizens of a country or any section of a country is a safe basis upon which to estimate the prosperity of such country. If this basis is applied, it must be apparent that our country is rapidly returning to normal, and prosperity surely is not far away. The reports from financial circles show an increase of nine hundred million dollars in savings accounts over a year ago. Reports received by the savings division of the American Bankers association, as announced October 30, showed that savings, including time deposits, in banks in the United States, increased 4.1 per cent for the year closing June 29, in comparison with the preceding year and the number of savings accounts grew by more than 1,750,000. The percentage gain is nearly double that of June 30, 1933, which was 2.2 per cent; the general manager in charge of the division, announced in analyzing the returns. "The gain, which is general throughout the United States, amounts to $899,979,000."

INCREASING EMPLOYMENT

The unemployment situation in America was the main actuating cause, in fact the only cause, for setting up the relief or dole system by the national government. This condition has been largely overcome by the return of business and industry to normal, as shown by a government report, which says that during the month of September 350,000 men and women were returned to private employment in the reporting industries of the nation, and that these latest and continued gains mean that nearly 5,000,000 men and women have found employment in the reporting private industries since the low point of the depression in March, 1933, and during this same period there has been an increase of over $104,000,000 per week in the payrolls of these particular reporting agencies.

THINGS IN GENERAL

Dives and Lazarus—the ennui of surfeit, the desperation of despair.

We despise the rat that goes around our trap. For the same reason do we sometimes hate men.

Courage is the doing of what you fear to do, or dread to do. What you can't use, you lose, and know that you must do. At last we are going to shuffle off the stage just like the penniless man.

The commercial honesty that seeks merely to avoid the law and thereby keep out of jail is not honest enough.

The young man with money and little else will find in the airplane a welcome means of rising in the public notice.

Wife: Since the doctor extricated my tooth, it changed my bite.

Husband: I wish he had changed your bark.

Goofus: I doctor myself out of a book of medicine I picked up at a bargain.

Rufus: Look out! Some day you'll die of a misprint.

Miss Smart: It takes all kinds of people to make a world, you know.

Miss Snob: That may be, but I'm glad I'm not one of them.

Hatred is love at low tide. The joy of living is in the living; Don't cringe—that's cowardly. The "fast life" always kills. Don't fawn—that's despicable.

When you don't feel like reading, that is very likely the time to read a light, but wholesome, book. When you really want to read, that's the very time to read some volume that deals with great realities and the profounder truths of life. The one dread we have is that when we reach our winter days we shall have every reason to bemoan the wasted hours of the springtime of life. The movements are golden. In nature there is a hibernating animal. Youthtime is the day of preparation against life's long winter evening. In the aftermath of our pilgrimage but few new thoughts are born. The mind, weary with the toll of years, turns within for rest. At the sunset we feed on the un-forgotten treasures of the past. That person who refuses to cultivate the habit of reading good books yields to mental disintegration. It is not how many books you read. The character of the books we read is prophetic. In a large sense, literature is the undergirding of character. It is the foundation of shifting sand or the impregnable rock on which manhood rests. Just as the physical nature betrays the character of the nutriment it receives, so does the mind reveal the pabulum on which it is forced to subsist.

Britain's Economic Recovery

Great Britain's marked recovery from the low point of the world depression and the relatively strong financial position of the British government have attracted widespread attention. While other countries still labor under huge budgetary deficits, the British chancellor of the exchequer has twice in succession announced a surplus at the end of the financial year and reduced taxation for the following year in spite of increased government expenditure. Since the first national government took office in August, 1931, there has been a drop of three-quarters of a million in the number of registered unemployed and a rise of over a million in the number of insured workers in employment.

The index of industrial production has been rising since the middle of 1932, and in 1934 had almost reached the 1929 level. While production, foreign trade, industrial profits and more recently wages have all increased, wholesale and retail prices have remained relatively steady and the cost of living has tended downward.

At the same time the gold value of the pound has fallen, exports amount to little more than half their 1929 value, agriculture is unprofitable, and over 2,000,000 British workers are without employment.—Houston Chronicle.

MORE PUSH

The average American mind is enamored with quantities and the largeness of things. We have a quantitative mind, rather than qualitative. More than any people in the world, we want larger towns, longer roads, larger ranches and larger churches.

Most alluring is money. The American wants, and toils for, more money, whether he needs it or not. Of course, these times most of us really need more money with which to meet honest obligations, but the wealthy class have few to retire. The retired people in America are the have-nothing, do-nothing class.

The story comes from a teacher of psychology in Texas Tech that three men, a German, an Englishman and an American, on a vacation, went to Africa to hunt elephants. After thrilling experiences and reasonable success, they each agreed on returning to write something of interest about elephants. It was supposed their friends would not only enjoy their wise sayings, but would get first hand information as to how the elephant fits into his place since the creation. The German wrote on the conservation of elephants. The huge animal should be more or less preserved for the future. The Englishman wrote on the commercial value. The various and useful articles manufactured from the elephant. The American's writing, characteristic of the American, headed his article: "More Elephants and Bigger Elephants."

Any human life should have a full program, crowded with worthy and useful activities. Sometimes zealous activities should be of the negative form. The church mind has been for some years absorbed and lured by large numbers, and forgot to place emphasis on quality. This most sacred and useful institution is the only institution marred by the American spirit. The church has lost much of its power and influence because of Sabbath desecration and other immoral conduct within its membership. And really the accusing world doesn't seem to know that those out of the church are obligated to observe all moral laws and principles as well as those who are within the church.

It will be a new day and a happy day indeed, when all we professors live so thoughtfully and carefully that the church to which we belong can take pleasure in defending our cause and conduct. SAM SAY.

HOG-PRODUCTION

In noting that the agricultural administration is considering the wisdom of allowing "an increase of 30 per cent" in hog production under the 1936 contracts, the Baltimore Sun comments: "Now, alas, it develops that the experts in the AAA missed their guess (in 1934) by a wide margin. To be exact, the secretary of agriculture implicitly estimates in the margin of error to be no less than 30 per cent. A factory-manager making such a mistake would be sacked, but the AAA managers are going right ahead with new plans for next year, as though nothing at all had happened." There would appear to be several things that our facetious Maryland contemporary doesn't know. One is that it was the 1934 drought, not the control program, which reduced the farm hog stocks to such an uncomfortably low margin. Another is that, even this year, the hog contracts allowed an increase of 20 per cent over 1934. Another is that very few farmers were able to raise even 90 per cent of their base this year, because of the shortage of feed after last year's drought and the subsequently small foundation herds. Another is that very few farmers will be able to bring their hog production up to the base figure next year, to say nothing of increasing it 30 per cent—and this still an aftermath of the drought, indirectly. In fact, knowing something about hogs out here in Iowa, we rather suspect that the Baltimore Sun is much more anxious to be funny than accurate or informative about this AAA business.—Des Moines Register.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

MEET COMPETITION WITH QUALITY

American cotton growers should strive to meet foreign competition, not with cheap cotton, but a quality of cotton as nearly uniform in staple as it is possible to get. Quality seldom goes begging on any market. In South America, in India and in many other cotton growing countries, labor thrives on low wages. When growers in these countries become more thoroughly equipped and become better informed on cotton culture, American cotton of the same quality, if sold at all, will go at prices that will lower our standard of living many points.

America can grow quality cotton, but before we do, our farmers will have to make better soil selections and avoid planting on land impregnated with root rot. Cotton grown on root rot land is generally weak in fibre, even though it happens to open. There must be regional plantings of seed, uniform in type and staple. Nothing but seed that has proved its quality and adaptability to well defined regions and soil types should be used.

The federal experiment stations, in co-operation with the extension service and state experiment stations have already made considerable progress in developing seed for certain regions and in securing the help of cotton growers in making the tests.

For many years American cotton growers have been trying out different kinds of cotton. In some sections hardly two farmers have planted the same kind, and through cross pollination, we have developed a mixture that has a dozen different lengths of staple in each boll. Such cotton is undesirable, because of the big percentage of waste in spinning. In order to compete with foreign growths it now has become necessary to plant uniform types of the best varieties.—Farm and Ranch.

CAN WE STAY OUT?

There are thoughtful students of the subject who say that if war breaks out in Europe the United States can not possibly stay out of it. They have convincing reasons for their opinions. Americans, they say, are an emotional people. Injustice and oppression, outrages by great nations against small nations, and inhumanity in its numerous forms, arouse them to righteous wrath and make them clay in the hands of propagandists.

Then, too, there are the economic aspects of the situation. There is money to be made in war. Trade along certain lines booms and men with money to lend are glad to get it out in the hope of a rich return. Why, they ask, should they be required to forego the possibilities of profit when they would be within their legal and moral rights in taking advantage of them?

Eventually, it is claimed, these influences, which play so heavily upon the sentimentality and the acquisitive natures of men, break down the forces of common sense and prepare the field for the super-patriot, the profiteer, the saber-rattler and the sincere idealist who believes we owe a debt to humanity.

These dangerous possibilities are actual, not fancied. But when they arise we should keep our emotions and our sympathies under rigid control. One way of achieving this end is by keeping the past vividly in mind. If we are fully aware of the realities, we will not yield before the pressure of the sentimentalists.

And the realities are not difficult to remember. They concern about 50,000 young men killed, 200,000 others more or less seriously wounded, a debt of twenty-two billion dollars of our own and loans of eleven billions to our allies.

If we remember these facts, the prospects of our remaining out of war will be improved.—Punxsutawney, Pa. Spirit.

DELAY IN AAA CASE

Delay of argument in the Hoosac Mills case to Dec. 9 is justified, in view of the importance attached to it in administration circles and in current public discussion. There is need of settling the issue as early as possible, because the government program can not be developed to its best advantage as long as the dark cloud of possible unconstitutionality hangs over it. A postponement of three weeks is not much, remembering how long the AAA has already gone without benefit of court sanction. The attorneys for the plaintiffs in the case are right in contending that it is too important to be rushed.

There is a possible advantage to the national administration in delay of the argument until Dec. 9, which will postpone decision until after Jan. 1. A decision before Christmas, as has been urged by the government, would leave a hiatus between date of court opinion and convening of congress, which would tend to the confusion that would follow an adverse decision. If the court does decide against the processing tax, then the government, according to announcements that have already been made by Secretary Wallace, will turn to congress for assistance in maintaining AAA rentals and benefit payments. It will be well to have a congress in session for immediate consideration of the problem that will be raised, if the court decides against the farm administration's right to collect the processing tax.—Dallas News.

Chinese Exchange Declines

The sharp break in the Shanghai dollar this week was accompanied by reports that China will soon abandon the silver monetary standard and join the sterling group. If this were to occur, the American silver purchase program would accomplish what Chinese statesmen and bankers, who have felt the silver standard to be outmoded, have failed to achieve during the last two decades.

The export tax on the white metal, imposed by the Chinese government to check the rise in Chinese currency and heavy exports of silver, has caused the price of the metal in China to rule substantially lower than in the world market. This has stimulated large-scale smuggling of silver out of the country. Illegal exports of this kind are difficult to suppress, even in a country which enjoys full sovereignty over its entire territory. The central government of China enjoys only nominal authority in a number of provinces, and none at all in a number of foreign concessions. It has not been possible to halt smuggling, and there has been a steady outflow of silver from China through Hong Kong, the European settlements in Shanghai, Tiensin and several other points. Much of this metal finds its way into the vaults of the United States treasury, which has continued to acquire silver abroad at a moderate rate.

Silver exports from China and internal hoarding of the metal there have led to financial and economic disturbances which create an urgent need for a remedy. Popular resistance to the general use of paper currency is very strong, while a simple devaluation of the existing silver currency through a reduction of its metallic content is also widely opposed. On the other hand, support for the plan to join the sterling bloc is reported on the increase. The fact that Japan is a member of this group makes the proposal particularly attractive, since it would eliminate exchange fluctuations between the Chinese currency and the Japanese yen.

If the Chinese should give up the silver standard, it would release a large amount of silver that would presumably be absorbed by the United States gov-

NO HUMILIATION

Whatever Texas does be done well. There might be some argument as to whether an old age pension desirable or not. But there be no argument that in pensions the effort should provide for people past five, who through sickness, disaster, or some circumstance over which they had no control lost their way.

The principle involved is the state or industry should provide for those who have served as citizens and employees when they reach that age their services are no longer sirable or available. In stance should one of these be humiliated; in no case should one of them be down to complete destitution before becoming eligible for the pension. A state, a social industry that would reduce pauperism in order to extend hand of help should be deemed by all thinking people.

An old age pension should be a badge of honor; it should that a man had grown old in human service and was recognized by his country. Do not want the pension Texas to carry only the name of sworn paupers, of people who take their kin and their own care of or starve. Let them as old men and as ladies who have come down to the eventide of life and are deserving of comfort through all the days that main in the shadows.—Record.

ARTIFICIAL FRONTIER

When the little territory Memel was taken from Germany after the war and handed to the newly created state of Lithuania the result was obviously an artificial frontier. The people Memel were predominantly man in culture and sympathy. And even though Lithuania needed Memel in order to have an adequate seaport, there only the flimsiest basis for action of the allied powers confirming the transfer of territory. The final count of in the recent Memel elections shows that the people are still predominantly German. The Lithuanian party kept five seats in the Landtag, the German party has its seats. This means that for practical purposes the people Memel are pitted against Lithuanian government, though subject to its orders. Enjoying a theoretical autonomy they are not a free people cause their one ambition re-enter the Reich, however difficult the conditions of Germany today. Artificial frontiers, established by nations tortuous in war, are usually seeds of new conflict. Change a boundary does not change opinions and sympathies of population involved. Memel certain to be a disturbing factor in European politics for decades to come, if it is not returned Germany meanwhile. If it is a question between Germany and Lithuania, of course, Memel would promptly become German for Lithuania has not the means to defend itself. But since arrangement is guaranteed Britain, France and Italy, Memel has no choice but to wait for more favorable chance to return its northernmost Baltic province.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

On the other hand, China's adherence to the sterling area would probably strengthen economic relations with China possibly at the expense of United States. Thus, the silver buying program threatens to injure our foreign economic relations with the Orient, which was originally designed to strengthen.—New York Journal of Commerce.

It is expected to strike this within 200 feet. If they fail to strike pay, it is understood that the well will be plugged back and acidized.—News.

Saturday, November 9, is the date set as our county teachers institute.

There were 7,829 bales of cotton, counting round bales as half bales, ginned in Hamilton county from the crop of 1935 prior to October 18, 1935, as compared to 7,668 bales ginned to October 18, 1934.

Mrs. C. D. McKinley had as her guests the first of this week her sisters, Mrs. Gerald Bryson and brother, W. W. Ligon, of Comanche, and Mrs. Robert Steen, of Goldthwaite.—Herald-Record.

How Cardui Helps Women To Build Up

Cardui stimulates the appetite and improves digestion, helping women to get more strength from the food they eat. As nourishment is improved, strength is built up, certain functional pains go away and women praise Cardui for helping them back to good health. . . . Mrs. O. E. Ratliff, of Hinton, W. Va., writes: "After the birth of my last baby, I did not seem to get my strength back. I took Cardui again and was soon sound and well. I have given it to my daughters and recommend it to other ladies." . . . Thousands of women testify to Cardui's benefits. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

CONDITIONS IN TEXAS

The Santa Fe Bulletin notes conditions in Texas:

Production of cotton in Texas this year, according to government estimate as of October 1, will be 3,175,000 bales, which is substantially greater than that of last year, when 2,406,000 bales were produced. Fair weather, which has prevailed generally the last month, has enabled farmers to make good headway in harvesting their cotton crop, and has been beneficial in preventing damage to lint from wet weather.

The corn crop has matured and now is being gathered; quality good; yield, 30,000,000 bushels, more than 2 1-2 times the yield of last year.

The harvesting of rice is progressing satisfactorily with the yield above normal.

Wheat planting in the northwest is nearing completion. Early planted wheat is up to a stand from fair to good. It is in need of moisture to make early winter pasturage.

Feed crops, spotted in the north plains, generally are from fair to good. Fear of frost in the northwest has brought on the harvest of late planted feed crops for fodder or silage.

The turkey crop is developing favorably, with birds thrifty and feed abundant, giving assurance of their being in good condition for the Thanksgiving and the Christmas trade. Livestock generally is putting on flesh, with ranges abundant for this season of the year.

Women's Inferiority A Myth

Mere man has always (or at least until very recent years) dominated woman. He has so long regarded woman as being the inferior sex that the idea seems to be so deeply rooted, that even the modern rolling pin can not shake it. But according to Dr. Alfred Adler, noted Viennese psychologist who recently visited this country, the supposed inferiority of women is absolutely without biological reason; the domination of the male over the female is a "mere fictional invention of the male sex." Yet, women need not jump for joy, for the great psychologist says this "inferiority complex" can not be shaken off. It is impossible to change, he declares, while all the talk about woman suffrage movements, emancipation, etc., is mere bluff. Contrary to popular belief, he says, women's inferiority status has not been changed by the advances of women due to these movements.—Pathfinder.

8 1/2 chilly hours since he parked BUT NO CHANCE OF DAMAGE... HIS ENGINE stays oiled

Today you can use a winter oil which builds itself right into the "innards" of your engine. That is, a certain portion of Conoco Germ Processed Oil really forms a BOND with metals, and stays on continuous duty where all the worst friction used to come.

This uncanny action, created by the patented Conoco Germ Process, automatically wipes out the costliest winter wear . . .

"Dry," unlubricated, wracking starts? . . . Not with the oil that's Germ Processed to stay up on the job every minute, every hour, every day that you park—"whatever the weather" . . . Not when Germ Processed Oil has become a part of all metal surfaces . . . Not with the Hidden Quart, which has enabled many an engine to run with the crankcase absolutely empty—in verified show-down tests.

And this same patented Germ Process means extra protection not only for the conventional babbitt bearings, but for the newest bearings—whether copper-lead, high-lead or cadmium-alloy. Germ Processing also creates the high-durability oil film . . . hence a light, free-flowing winter oil that's tougher too, for the toughest going of all the year. You and your Conoco man can make this whole Winter "act gentle" to your motor, beginning today. Drive in.

PUBLIC SPEAKING AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

By Tolbert Patterson

The exact functions of public schools are hard to ascertain. What should be taught, and how these things should be taught are questions that are perplexing to educators and laymen everywhere. There is being sponsored in our state at this time one of the greatest curriculum revision programs ever undertaken. It seems that in all of our efforts at adjustment and improvement, the word "practical" is becoming the key word in our vocabulary. In other words, in our public schools the boys and girls should be taught subject material, should acquire skills and should learn to do those things that will be of practical use tomorrow. This attitude is responsible for the encouragement given trades, industrial and vocational teaching in our public schools during recent years.

There seems to me, however, that there is one type of training which is being sadly neglected and which is not receiving the emphasis due. I refer to public speaking. A certain amount of public speaking training could be given without capital outlay to the community, and could be made available to the students in any size and type of school.

Training in public speaking is as necessary and essential as is the development of certain skills in reading and arithmetic. Much of our present day adult activity is centered around group or cooperative work. People work together in groups, spend their play time in group activity, study in groups and worship in groups. Every type of workman, including the farmer, spends a certain amount of his time in group work with other people. In fact, this is a day when men and women should be able to express their thoughts in public, talk before a group, command and demand certain rights as individuals. Can today's citizen be a thoroughly efficient citizen if he or she is not able to express thoughts publicly? I am of the opinion that tomorrow's citizen will be even more handicapped if such training is not secured.

What can be done in a definite and formal way to place such training within the reach of every boy and girl in our public school? Two very definite efforts could be made that would do a great deal toward giving every student formal public speaking training.

1. All high schools should offer classes in public speaking. This course could be made a requirement of all students. This is being done in our own school. Any teacher qualified to teach English could give some profitable training in public speaking. In smaller schools, grades and classes could be combined for formal classes in public speaking.

2. The principle of "learning by doing" is very applicable in training individuals to think and speak on their feet and before a group. Children will acquire a certain amount of skill if they are given the occasion and opportunity to practice before an audience. Larger schools can sponsor debating clubs, literary societies and other organizations to afford this opportunity. The same opportunity can be made in smaller schools with fewer organizations. Every small community needs a "Community Club." The title is descriptive of the type of organization. Such a club would offer the medium by which the community citizenship could transact all business of a community nature. It would also afford the opportunity for boys and girls to render programs whereby the two fold purpose of community entertainment and public speaking training will have been served.

Most of all, we need to become conscious of a neglect in this phase of our public school training; then, we will find a way to remedy the deficiency.

HALLOWE'EN CARNIVAL A GREAT SUCCESS

On hallowe'en night a very large crowd met at the school house for a celebration of the night.

Many came in costumes, and had many guessing who they were.

Each booth was lovely in their lovely decorations of orange and black, and there were "spooks" of all kinds.

Lovely refreshments of many different kinds were served from different booths, under the auspices of the local P.-T. A.

The boxing game was very laughable, and Mullin just didn't realize the talent here till that night.

The proceeds of the booths, fishing ponds, house of horrors and all others were very satisfactory.

To each that so willingly gave to make this night a success, the P.-T. A. bows their thanks—Mullin Enterprise.

December Desserts

ANY December days are holidays, and holidays mean good dinners and good dinners mean desserts. But too many rich desserts are apt to have the effect of unduly prolonging some of the youngsters' holidays—in bed. In order to avoid this undesirable contingency, we are suggesting below a whole series of fruit desserts because natural fruit sugars are not only delicious but they are easier to digest than the other kinds. The natural fruit sugars of plant-ripened pineapples, especially, have been pronounced by scientists to be of a type all ready for human assimilation.

That is one reason why Hawaii, where the best pineapple is grown, plays such a prominent part in this series of holiday desserts. Another is that this pineapple's acid content turns alkaline in the body (ask any doctor or dietitian if that isn't the right thing for it to do), and still another is that it contains a powerful enzyme, called bromelain, which helps to digest the proteins of the heavy holiday dinner which has presumably gone before. So here goes for safe, sane and healthful holiday sweets:

Puddings, Hot and Cold

Baked Pineapple Pudding: Cream two-thirds cup butter, add slowly two and one-half cups confectioner's sugar, and continue creaming. Add four well beaten eggs and drained contents of two 8-ounce cans of crushed Hawaiian pineapples. (Save the syrup to use in another recipe.) Bake in a 1 1/2 quart casserole at 350° for 45 minutes.

evaporated milk, or fresh cream, and pour into a greased baking dish. Bake until set—about one half hour in a slow oven, 300° to 325°. This serves eight.

Pineapple Snow Pudding: Soften two teaspoons gelatin in two tablespoons cold water, and dissolve in the syrup drained from one 8-ounce can of pineapple tidbits and heated to boiling. Add four tablespoons sugar, and stir until dissolved. Add four tablespoons lemon juice, chill, and when thick as syrup, fold in four stiffly-beaten egg whites. Chill again, pipe lightly in glasses, garnish with tidbits and pour over a thin creamy custard sauce. This serves six.

With Rice and Ice Fruit Rice Dessert: Boil three-fourths cup rice, drain and cool. Add one-half cup sugar and one teaspoon chopped preserved ginger to the contents of two 8-ounce cans of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, cook until thick, and then cool and add to rice. Add two diced bananas, and chill thoroughly. Serve with cream flavored, if desired, with a little nutmeg. This serves eight.

Pineapple Ice-Box Dessert: Cream one-half cup butter, add one and one-fourth cups confectioner's sugar, and cream again. Add three slightly-beaten egg yolks. Add one-half cup chopped toasted almonds, the drained contents of two 8-ounce cans of crushed Hawaiian pineapples, and cream. You'll find it an inspiring help.

gers, fill with the mixture and set in a refrigerator for eight hours or overnight. This serves six.

Birdbreads and Gingerbread

Pineapple Birdbread: Drain thoroughly the slices from a No. 2 can of Hawaiian pineapple, and dip each slice in condensed milk so that both sides are well covered. Then coat heavily with moist coconut from a can. Lay on a greased pan, and brown in a moderate oven. This serves eight.

Pineapple Gingerbread: Melt together two tablespoons butter and one-half cup brown sugar, add the drained contents of a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple, and pour over it a buttered cake pan. Pour over it the batter, made as follows:

Beat one egg, and add one-fourth cup sugar, one-half cup molasses and one-fourth cup melted butter. Stir together one and one-fourth cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ginger and one-half teaspoon salt, and add alternately with one-third cup hot water.

Bake about half an hour in a moderate oven, 350°, turn out and serve with plenty of whipped cream. This serves eight. Be sure to save the pineapple syrup from any recipe in which it is used as an invaluable ingredient in your holiday punches and sauces. You'll find it an inspiring help.
