AND ITS UP-KEEP COST IS THE LOW

ENTHUSIASTIC sales talk often begins and ends with gasoline mileage. Some salesmen would like you to believe it is the whole story of automobile economy. But drivers ought to know better. For, the fact is, it's way down the list.

The big items of car economy are low first cost, low up-keep cost and low depreciation. Savings here can make a great deal of difference in cost per mile. Gasoline mileage is more of a talking point than an economy factor.

Check up and you will find that the difference between 17 and 19 miles a gallon is less than $10 for a whole average driving (8400 miles at 18 a gallon). Here are the big iter make the Ford the most econom

A NEW LINE OF ATTACK

President Roosevelt has pledged himself to a new line of attack in the unemployment situation, which is admitted to be very grave. In a broadcasted speech before the Young Democratic clubs of Maryland Monday night the president indicated he would continue efforts along the line of his invalidated NRA, announcing an addition in the way of limiting employment to ages between 18 and $5 years. While he did not say as to the means he expected to use tations, might be classed as to regain the authority allowed under the terms of the invalidated | weeds. Even with the admission. act. It is possible he expects to try again for the enactment of the iaw in terms that will stand the scrutiny of the supreme court. He prought out the fact clearly that the working population of the nation is increased each year and this increase must be met by weeds in Eden. Does he mean provisions for employment or retirement. Just how he expects that the onions grew by themthese over 65 years of age to live, when they are retired under his selves, with none of the pestiferplan he did not make clear, but that would likely be met by some form of pension by the government or by industry insurance. The anemployment situation is admittedly serious and some measures must be evolved to give perpetual relief, since there is little hope of permament reduction of unemployment, even though economic conditions are vastly improved.

The ridiculed and investigated Townsend old-age pension plan proposes to pension the old people, and while the allowance is far beyond the possibility of achievement, the president's announced policy of eliminating the aged workers would make necessary some such measure as that proposed by the advocates of the Townsend plan, the main difference of opinion being as to how the money is to be secured to pay the pensiona.

HEAVY HIGHWAY TRAFFIC

There is no doubt Texas will be visited this year by more people from other states and countries than ever before in its history. Not only is that true, but more visitors will register in this state this year than for many years hereafter. It is, therefore, to the interest of every city, town and community to prepare for the coming of these visitors. Already Texas highways are carrying more out-ofdate motor cars than at any time in the past. Besides inasing auto traffic, travel agencies are reporting greatly increasnds for service. In addition to out-of-state travel, Texans aveling in increased numbers, prompted to do so by the ay centennial celebrations going on apace throughout the state. fore than 30 celebrations are scheduled this month. Crowds thus far have exceeded all expectations at all centennial observances a doubt 1936 will be the greatest travel year in the history of the Lone Star State

Conservative estimates on the number of guests expected to attend the Texas centennial central exposition at Dallas, which ns June 6 and closes November 29, have concurred on 12,000.000. While Dallas was selected by the centennial commission for the al exposition, that city will not contain the whole show, by ns. There is a vital connection between farming and all other lines of builness endeavor, hence a comparison of the output of the factories of the country with the income from farming is aptly made by stasticians in proving the improvement of condition throughout the country. These figures show the country has gone a long way toward recovering from the loss suffered during the depression. They show that the increase in farm income was sufficiently great to permit a good recovery in the quantity of goods manufactured, despite the offsetting influence of an upward price trend. In addition to the support provided by the increase of farm income, other factors, which play a smaller part in determining the value of factory output, were favorable last year Consequently, for the year as a whole, factory output was moderately higher than the output indicated on the basis of farm income alone

In view of the fact that the increase in farm income since the low for the depression has exceeded all previous expansion movements since the civil way, with the exception of two when conditions were not comparable with those of today, the normal expectation would be for a recession in farm income this year. Such a development cannot be anticipated, however, with any degree of certainty in view of the prospect of the continuation of large government expenditures. Under the circumstances, the best assumption is that farm income in 1936 will be about the same as in 1935.

LOOKING TO FLOOD CONTROL

The recent floods along the Ohio, Mississippi and other rivers, which swept a great area of country, killing many persons, derastating the homes of several hundred, and doing untold millions of property damage, were as bad as almost any in our history, and the worst of recent times.

One almost inevitable result of the floods will be a long-time program of flood-control projects, to stop such catastrophies in the future Such a program will entail tremendous expenditures over a period of years, will bring business to all basic industries.

A more immediate result will be the great job of repairing machinery in flooded factories and places of business. Electrical equipment, machine tools, meters and other instruments-no one ret knows how much of this kind of property was ruined. Some of it can be repaired, much of it must be replaced entirely. It is reported that insurance against such damage covers but a small portion of the loss. A similar situation exists as to flooded homes. One slightly mitigating effect of the terrible loss lies in the fact that there will be a tremndous amount of rebuilding.

Certainly the after effects of this terrible destruction will be rebuilding with improved facilities and while this is poor consolation for those who have lost so heavily, it will provide a vast amoun of employment and will hasten measures for flood control, not only in the distressed area, but in every section where the flood magard exists.

The city of Portland, Oregon, has put a $100 bounty on reck less drivers. In a recent move to put teeth into a traffic safety drive, the municipality agreed to pay $100 to each citizen giving information leading to the arrest and conviction of reckless drivers.

A homing pigeon won a handicap race Friday with a large transport plane. Competing against each other and with the airliner, 35 pigeons released in Hollywood arrived in their home lofts after bucking strong head winds over the 110-mile course to San Diego.

Loving county, Texas, until now the only one of Texas' 254 counties which never had sent a man to the state penitentiary, fell by the wayside Saturday. Norman Hill, oilman, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary on conviction of theft of $4.000 worth of pipe.

All but six of the nation's 48 states are represented by organizations in the San Jacinto Centennial association, executives said Saturday. Former residents of 42 states have formed San Jacinto Centennial clubs, sole purpose of which is to boost the centennial in states other than Texas.

The fifth court of civil appeals has upheld a $51,614 judgment against James E. Ferguson, obtained by the Dallas Joint Stock Lank bank, December 1, 1934. Charles McCombs, attorney for the bank, said a Bell county farm belonging to Ferguson and his wife, was sold at auction last year to partially satisfy the judgment. He said it was bought by the bank and the institution still holds the property.
