

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

CITY-THREE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MARCH 19, 1937

NUMBER THIRTY

Agent Gives to Mills Growers

Farmers in Texas have been hit by drought, floods, boll weevil and a host of other things operate their farms and are probably suffering. But the inferior seed and fertilizer at the gin are doing more to injure them than any other factor. Farmers should be planting their crops with a good seed and fertilizer. The warm days of spring will soon be here and everyone is urged to see that their property is cleaned of the accumulation of trash. It is only through individual responsibility and effort that one can have a clean and neat appearing city.

In planning your spring cleaning start with the house itself in the attic and work down, not forgetting the basement. Attics and basements are the greatest collectors of refuse and therefore of dust and dirt that the house possesses, and their neglect often constitutes a serious fire hazard. Do not forget to screen against flies and mosquitoes. The better the job of cleaning and with a garbage pail kept tightly covered, the fewer flies there will be because flies love dirt and filth and breed in garbage and other filth.

Authentic Music For Cavalcade Of the Americas

Dallas.—One of the greatest tasks in the production of "Cavalcade of the Americas," huge spectacle of the greater Texas and Pan American Exposition, opening here June 12, for a run of 142 days, was the arrangement of authentic music for the big show. Music forms an harmonious background, accentuates the drama of the new world in its struggle for liberation, and expresses the romance of the Latin American countries. From the moment the performance opens, with the sacrifice of a beautiful maiden to the sun god to the exciting closing act, in which the inter-American peace conference hears the stirring music of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the music is both authentic and fitting.

"Full credit for this splendid job goes to our musical director, Lloyd Kerr," said Jan Isbell Fortune, author of the play which will be presented by some 300 actors on the world's largest stage.

It was more of a question of what music to use in "Cavalcade of the Americas" than in the 1936 show," said Mr. Kerr. "The new cavalcade covers a period of five centuries, and opens in the land of the Aztec, who knew little more than nothing about music. To be true, their only music was a dirge, or a rhythmic beat with little theme or harmony."

Religious music carries out the general theme of several scenes. When Columbus sets foot on the soil of the new world in one of the early scenes, he proclaims the land Spanish territory, and the entire group sings "Te Deum," an ancient hymn.

Walter Damrosch, music council for the National Broadcasting Company, aided in the adaptation of period music for the show, as did Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, who is an authority on period music, and more generally he is known as the "Tune Detector." The Pan American Union furnished material on period music of the Latin American peoples, and the New England Conservatory of Music co-operated in making selections associated with the early history of the United States.

"Cavalcade of the Americas" presents one of the most varied assortments of music ever assembled for a production of its kind," said Mr. Kerr. "Each tune typifies the period and locale of the scene.

"South American music, as we know it, began to develop with Spanish colonization. The tango which is not to be confused with the rumba, the latter being of Cuban origin, is typical of Latin American development," Kerr said.

From those scenes of the Spanish Conquests begins the "art" music of "Cavalcade."

In scenes depicting our own "gay nineties" we hear such as "Sidewalks of New York," "Bird in a Gilded Cage," "A Bicycle Built for Two" and "Sweet Marie," all of which were popular at the turn of the century.

"Cowboy" tunes provide the musical background for the dramatization of episodes from the early days of Texas and the West.

The music keeps pace with the dramatic development of "Cavalcade of the Americas," which climaxes with President Roosevelt's history making visit to Buenos Aires, and the Inter-American peace conference.

"Stars and Stripes Forever," the music selected for the actual conference at the insistence of the people of the Pan American countries, will be played for the Cavalcade scene.

Mr. Kerr is a graduate, teacher and soloist of the New England Conservatory of Music.

Even Simple Home Life Is Dangerous

Expert Tells How to Avoid House Hazards

Ignorance of Danger and Careless Use of Modern Equipment Is Cited

By WALTER JAMES STUBBS
Safety Engineer

The American home should be the safest place on earth—but it isn't. On the contrary, life in the American home is perilous. Fire and accident make it so. And instead of decreasing, the nation's peace-time casualty list is increasing rapidly.

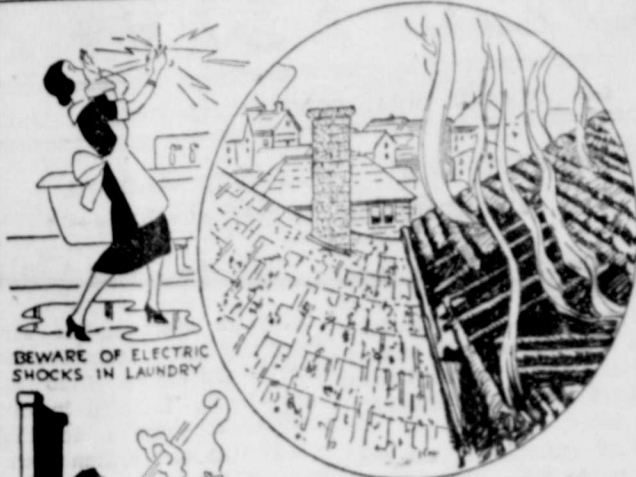

Adventurers go to Africa to shoot big game; to the Alps to scale dizzy mountain heights; to the polar regions for exploration. But statistics indicate that they may be safer than if they had remained in their homes in America. In 1935, according to the National Safety Council, 21,500 persons died as a result of accidents in American homes. In 1936, the total grew to 39,000 deaths. That is more than double the number of fatalities that occurred in private industry and almost twice the number of deaths resulting from motor accidents during the same period.

The worker in his factory or en route to and from home by motor is safer than he is at home. He is careless at home. He is more careful at work or on the road.

Fire is a tremendous hazard in the American home. According to the National Fire Protection Association, a home is attacked by fire every two minutes throughout the year in this country. In 1935, there were 260,000 home fires and the loss totaled between $55,000,000 and $100,000,000. Eight thousand deaths were caused by burns, fires and conflagrations. Eighty per cent of those deaths came from fire in the home.

The use of combustible roofs, instead of fire-retardant roofs such as asphalt shingles and tiles, careless habits in smoking and the use of matches; defective chimneys and ducts and defective wiring are among the major factors in the tremendous annual fire loss.

Fire and accident can be virtually eliminated in the home through care. Make a survey of your home today. Note the unsafe conditions in cellar, on roof, wherever they exist. Inform other members of your family of these dangers immediately. Then set about the task of making them safe. Failure to recognize unsafe conditions and failure to correct them after they have been noted are the fundamental reasons for America's appalling peace-time loss of life.

It makes them too slippery. 5—Don't permit water to remain in cellar near electric outlet. Combustible roofs have caused great percentage of home fires. Fire-retardant roofing materials, such as asphalt shingles and tiles, resist fire. |

El Paso Professor Tells About Hitler

Adolph Hitler's regime is the product of a very unusual period in Germany, Dr. Fredrick W. Bachman, professor of romance languages at the College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso, recently pointed out on his return from Germany, where he studied political situations.

"Shortage of food and work after the war and the apparent inadequacy of the new republic to cope with social and economic conditions were used as political capital in the organization of the Nazi party," he said. "Disillusioned German youth returning from the war was glad to join with an organization which offered glowing promises instead of the philosophy of despair."

Contrary to popular opinion, Dr. Bachman said, Hitler was the seventh rather than the first member in the organization of the party. The Nazi platform was built on 25 principles, chief of which was the claim that Germany's losses in the war were caused by betrayal by a ring of international Jewish Communists.

You were knifed in the back, Nazi leaders told the people, and by constant repetition made them believe it.

Three months of propaganda convinced Americans that they were fighting to make the world safe for democracy, so it is not surprising that ten years of propaganda could make the Ger-

Planting Time for Vegetable Gardens

College Station.—"One half acre garden, properly cared for, will produce an average of $100 worth of food for the family." This statement was made by J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist, who pointed out that year in and year out, the garden should be the most profitable area on the average farm.

For each member of the family, 600 feet of row space should be allowed, Rosborough said. To supply a balanced vegetable diet this 600 feet of space should be divided into 200 feet devoted to potatoes; 100 feet to yellow and leafy vegetables, such as mustard, cabbage and carrots; 100 feet to tomatoes; and 200 feet to such miscellaneous vegetables as onions, beets and turnips.

Over a large portion of the state, the time is at hand to plant Irish potatoes, according to Rosborough, who recommends the Triumph and Irish Cobbler varieties. Cabbage and onion plants should be set out, and tomato plants started now. For deep south Texas, where most tomatoes have already been planted, Rosborough indicated that the Bonnie Best tomato was a good all around variety, while for the rest of south Texas and east Texas, he preferred the Marglobe. He favored the Earliana, June Pink or Magee for the blackland belt, and Earliana or June Pink for west Texas.

English peas should be planted in rows that have been laid off 12 inches apart with 24 to 30 inches between rows. By this method the peas will tend to support each other in their upward growth, Rosborough pointed out.

Miss Mollie Fisherman spent the night with the McOirk family last week on her way to visit her uncle in Big Spring.

Mrs. S. M. McCracken of Waco spent last week here with her husband, Mr. McCracken, who is county supervisor of the Resettlement Administration.

Mr. Smith, Mrs. Fred Martin, Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Cloninger and Mrs. Claude Saylor acted as chaperons. V. A. BOYS ENJOY STOCK SHOW
Twenty-one Future Farmers were on the Goldthwaite school bus that left Saturday morning at 5 o'clock for the Fat Stock Show. They arrived there at 9:30 and the rest of the morning was spent in going through the Swift and Armour packing plants. After lunch the boys went into the stock show grounds where they remained until after the rodeo. The rodeo was the most interesting with Homer the clown and his mule, Mae West; the world's champion horseshoe pitcher; world's champion trick roper and many good cowpunchers. The trip was enjoyed by everyone who went.

GOLDTHWAITE-SAN SABA TRACK MEET
This seems to be a lucky year for the Goldthwaite Eagles. For not only did they win to victory over the Armadillos in the football game last fall, but they have again won in a track meet held last Tuesday, March 9, in San Saba. The most interesting events were the 440-yard dash, run in 54 seconds. The best time made on the heavy track was the 880-yard dash, run in 2 min., 20 sec., and the relay. All three events were won by the Eagles.

Roosevelt visited the Texas State College for Women (CIA) on her tour of the Southwest, Miss Amalese Gough, editor of the Lass-O, college newspaper, was on hand to extend her an official welcome from the press. The young lady, who is a senior journalism student from Beaumont, interviewed the President's wife, and expressed enthusiasm over her gracious informality.

HOW LONG CAN A THREE-QUARTER WIFE HOLD HER HUSBAND?
YOU have to work at marriage to make a success of it. Men may be selfish, unsympathetic, but that's the way they're made and you might as well realize it. When your back aches and your nerves scream, don't take it out on your husband. He can't possibly know how you feel. For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three realms of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age." Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Glue stains on fabrics can be removed with vinegar. A pinch of salt added to very sour fruits while cooking will greatly reduce the quantity of sugar needed to sweeten them. A tasty "frosting" for cup cakes can be made from marshmallows. Just before removing the cup cakes from the oven, place half a marshmallow on each cake and allow to melt slightly. Sandy water in which spinach and other vegetables have been washed should not be emptied into enameled sinks. The sand will mar the enamel and leave ugly marks. White enamel can be cleaned with turpentine. Rub with a cloth moistened in turps, then with a dry cloth. You can produce your own sour milk for use in sour-milk recipes by simply adding a teaspoon of vinegar to each cup of fresh sweet milk.

6 PER CENT MILLS COUNTY FARMERS ARE TENANTS
Tenants constitute 46 per cent of the farmers of Mills county, according to figures released today by S. M. McCracken, county supervisor of the Resettlement Administration. The Resettlement Administration survey has shown that in many Texas counties more than 70 per cent of the farmers are tenants. The high per cent of tenancy is confined to no one part of the state, for in Terry County near the New Mexico border 72 per cent of all the farmers are tenants, while at the opposite corner of the state, in San Augustine county, the figure runs to 65 per cent. In Haskell county and in Jones county, the heart of central west Texas' most fertile cotton area, 70 per cent and 68 per cent, respectively, are tenants. In the famous black land belt where more than a million bales of cotton are normally raised within a 100-mile radius, Ellis county has 68 per cent tenancy, Navarro county 72 per cent, Hill county 67 per cent and Williamson county 66 per cent. The lowest per cent of tenancy is in the hill country, where the farmers grow their living first and make cash crops more of a secondary matter. Typical of this type of county are Gillespie, Kerr and Kendall counties, that the percentage of tenancy ranges from 21 per cent to 27 per cent. Some comparatively low tenancy areas are also found in southeastern Texas, where there is another area of small live-at-home farms. In five counties just north of Beaumont, the percentage of tenancy runs from 32 per cent to 38 per cent, as compared with an average for the state of 57 per cent. The Resettlement Administration is carrying out a three-point program to improve the conditions of tenant farmers and help them toward eventual ownership of the land. These activities are: 1. Rural rehabilitation, which resulted last year in lending $9,010,971 to 29,653 Texas farm families for the purchase of teams, tools and equipment that they would have been able to obtain in no other way. The central feature of this program is guidance in "live-at-home" methods, such as have kept certain sections of the state low in tenancy and high in percent of owner operators. 2. Debt adjustment committees, organized by the Resettlement Administration and working under its supervision, are preventing hard pressed land owners from losing their farms through foreclosure and thereby swelling the ranks of tenants still farther. 3. Construction is now in progress or authorized on 183 farms in Texas which have been bought for sale to farm tenants on 40-years time at not more than 3 per cent interest. these farms are using the original buildings which are to be remodeled or replaced by new ones. All these activities being carried out by the Resettlement Administration are along lines suggested for more intensive prosecution by President Roosevelt in his recent message to Congress in regard to tenancy. Houston—W. L. Clayton of Anderson-Clayton & Co., the world's No. 1 cotton merchant, believes the world will use more cotton in 1937-1938 than ever before. "This year it appears as if the world consumption may be as much as 29,500,000 bales," Clayton said Wednesday, his first day back in his office after a two months' tour of South America. The cotton year is from Aug. 1 to July 31, he explained in discussing consumption figures. In the pre-depression year of 1928-1929, world consumption climbed to 25,800,000 bales which then was an all-time high, according to Clayton. Two years later the consumption had dropped to 22,427,000 bales. Last year's consumption climbed to 27,729,000 bales. The consumption figures are the brightest spots in the world cotton picture, according to Clayton. Mrs. J. B. McCasland and little daughter, Brockie Deacra, of Center City community were pleasant visitors at the Eagle office Saturday afternoon.

CENTER CITY

Winter returned Saturday afternoon after several days of spring-like weather. Freezing weather continued until Tuesday. Some think the fruit is killed while others believe it is not hurt on account of the accompanying rain.

On account of the cold spell there was no Sunday school Sunday. Bro. Ryan did not fill his appointment. We believe this is his first time to remain at home on account of the weather.

A number from here attended the plays at Star last Friday and Saturday nights. They reported a most enjoyable time and congratulate those people for staging such entertaining plays.

Uncle Jim Dalton celebrated his 79th birthday last Sunday at his home. At the noon hour a fine birthday dinner was enjoyed by all present. Outside the weather was cold and disagreeable while inside all was happiness. Those who enjoyed the day with Mr. and Mrs. Dalton were their daughters, Mrs. Dan Harris, her husband and little son, of Ibex; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Newton, Robert Campbell and two children, and Avril Carter. Uncle Jimmie received a number of nice gifts and many wishes for other years of health and many more happy birthdays.

KEEPING TAX MONEY AT HOME

The Mairitz tax remission measure which was recently discussed on this page has passed the House in the Texas legislature and is ready for action by the Senate.

If this bill becomes a law, Mills county will have an average of $9,000 a year to spend on its lateral roads and local improvements.

BUILDING IS ACTIVE

Last week the Eagle published a resume of building activity in and near Goldthwaite. It was surprising to note how much it amounted to when added together.

For the full year of 1936, both residential and non-residential building showed sharp gains over 1935. The increase for the two classes of building combined amounted to 61.3 per cent.

CONNALLY SCORES AGAIN

Senator Tom Connally of Texas has introduced another bill in Congress which is likely to make history. While everyone has been talking about the necessity of taking the profits out of war, Senator Connally, himself a veteran of the World War, has drawn up a carefully considered bill which would strictly limit the profits to be made by industrial concerns during hostilities.

The measure would serve two purposes. First it would abolish the discrimination felt so keenly in the last war when men were risking their lives in the trenches at a dollar a day while their more favored brethren were waxing fat and rich from the profits from war industries.

The second end would be to finance a considerable part of the expenses of war from current incomes instead of from the savings of the future. Both objectives are meritorious in the extreme.

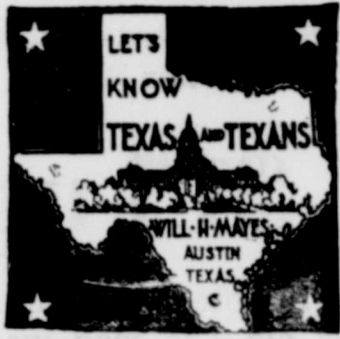

GOOD BYE HORSE RACES

The action of the Texas Senate in voting 20 to 8 to prohibit betting on horse races in Texas is a gratifying sign. All of the fervid eloquence in behalf of the sport of kings is left suspended in mid-air, hot air, of course. The Senate measure does not abolish racing, it simply makes illegal the betting feature.

But the tight lipped gentry who follow the races from coast to coast, who do the fixing of jockeys and trainers and helpless horses, the scurvy tribe who live by their wits on other people's money, will have to go to work if they come to Texas after this bill becomes a law.

And the rich spendthrifts who are able to bet and lose, may wend their way as formerly to the race tracks in other states where this too-expensive sport has too firm a grip to be outlawed.

THE ANNUAL OPERATION

In this column answers will be given to questions as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the state and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas

Q. Was the capital of the Spanish territory of Texas ever at Adeaes.

A. While Texas was first designated as a Spanish province in 1691, it was not until after 1717 that Spanish authority was established. In 1722, when the administration of Texas was separated from Coahuila, the capital was fixed at Adeaes (now Robeline, La.) but later was moved to San Antonio, which became the center of Spanish life in Texas.

Q. What has been the increase in Texas State government expense in 19 years as compared with the increase in population?

A. Increase in government expenses in that period has been 40.6 per cent, while increase in population has been 14.1 per cent.

Q. When were traffic lights first used in Texas?

A. As early as 1750 Nacogdoches used lanterns suspended on poles to mark traffic intersections and barred left turns by horsemen and horse-drawn vehicles.

Q. What was the second settlement in the Davis Mountains?

A. The tremendous amount of mail and express, together with increased travel caused by the California gold rush of 1849, resulted in an order dated Oct. 23, 1854, establishing Fort Davis as an army post, although the initial run of a Concord coach, drawn by six mules, and guarded by 18 well armed mounted men, had been made over the San Antonio-El Paso link of the

PROPOSAL TO INCREASE TRUCK LOADS KILLED

Austin, Texas.—The house of representatives killed a controversial proposal to increase the load limit of trucks above the present 7,000 pounds, tabling, 72 to 51, a minority committee report to print the measure. The highways and motor traffic committee had reported unfavorably, 11 to 5.

A number of appropriation bills were passed although a member urged the house to start practicing economy. A general emergency appropriation for colleges, state departments and eleemosynary institutions was blocked.

Before taking up race appeal, the senate passed a bill authorizing leasing of experimental station lands of Texas A. & M. college for mineral development, attaching an amendment to make the minimum sulphur royalty $3 instead of $1 a ton.

The senate state affairs committee set a hearing on a proposal to increase the tax on oil production to six cents for March 18. A six-cent tax bill has passed the house.

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest and Importance

FAR FROM PACIFIC

The recent bombing episode at Addis Ababa and its bloody sequel indicate that all is not well in Italy's newly-acquired empire. Repeatedly during recent months statements from Rome have asserted that Ethiopia is quiescent and even happy under Italian rule. Such assertions now sound rather hollow. The Italians admit that at least 3,000 natives participated in an attempt to recapture Addis Ababa coincident with the effort to eliminate Marshal Graziani. And it is also significant that the military command, as a retaliatory measure, has felt it necessary to execute hundreds of natives suspected of harboring concealed weapons. Such wholesale massacres are a sign of uneasiness on the part of the conquerors. They also throw a sardonic light on the nature of Italy's "civilizing" activities in the land once ruled by Haile Selassie. As others before her, Italy is discovering that victory in the field is merely the prelude, not the final act, in the process of subjugating a backward people. At a time when national finances are none too prosperous a large army of occupation must continue on the alert in Ethiopia. The idyllic picture of swords being beaten into plowshares by happy Italian colonists is far from fulfillment. Some day, perhaps, the alleged wealth of Ethiopia may repay Italy for the blood and treasure spent in the conquest of the East African kingdom. That day is not yet. The subjugated kingdom continues to be a drain on the Italian exchequer and a chronic cause of alarm. The bombing episode at Addis Ababa cannot be dismissed as the Italian press at first attempted, as an "episode of common criminality." — Washington Post.

ARMAMENT RACE

Ambassador Bullitt's criticism of Europe's armament race, indicates that the Roosevelt Administration is maintaining a constructive policy regarding world peace. The stupendous increase in armament abroad not only represents the international distrust that is often the prelude to war, but piles almost intolerable tax burdens upon the people. However, the statement by Mr. Bullitt that "we are entirely aware that there is always some possibility some nation might drive us into war," may need clarifying. If the ambassador is familiar with public opinion in this country, he should know that nothing short of a direct attack is likely to drive America into war. The nation has had enough of stumbling into other countries' wars.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

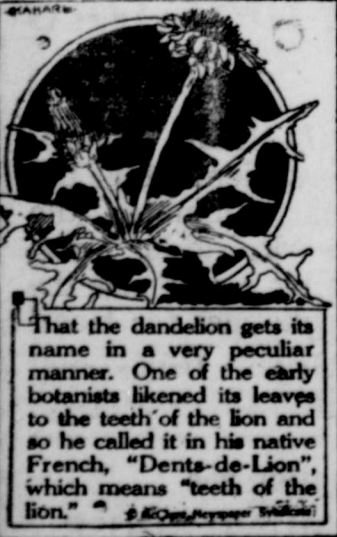

CAUSE OF FATALITIES

Night driving at high speed in rural districts is the outstanding cause of a very large majority of the 36,000 fatal automobile accidents a year, according to a report of a sub-committee of the Accident Prevention Conference sponsored by the Department of Commerce. Reduction of maximum speeds, better lighting equipment and bumpers is the solution of the problem, according to the committee. "What is happening," declares the report, "is cars are being driven at night in rural sections too fast for lighting conditions. The average car today is capable of making a speed of from 70 to 100 miles an hour, and speeds of from 60 to 80 miles an hour are not uncommon in rural night driving. These are unsafe speeds and are the causes of most rural night driving fatalities." Road surface conditions play only a minor part, according to the committee; liquor is a factor, but there is "no evidence" that drunken driving is on the increase; speed is not the same menace in cities because there is better law enforcement. The problem, or this part of it, narrows down to one of engineering and production. If the committee is correct in its findings, the manufacturer by reducing maximum speeds can reduce the death-toll considerably. There is little excuse for night driving on the highway at the rate of from 60 to 80 miles an hour. This is safe in the daytime only on an open stretch of road and even then a blowout may prove fatal. The public, however, demands speed and the manufacturer meets the demand. The people have been educated to greater and greater speed. Solution of the problem therefore cannot be passed to the manufacturer and immediately put into effect. It must have public support. It must have the approval of car owners and car buyers. — Louisville Courier-Journal.

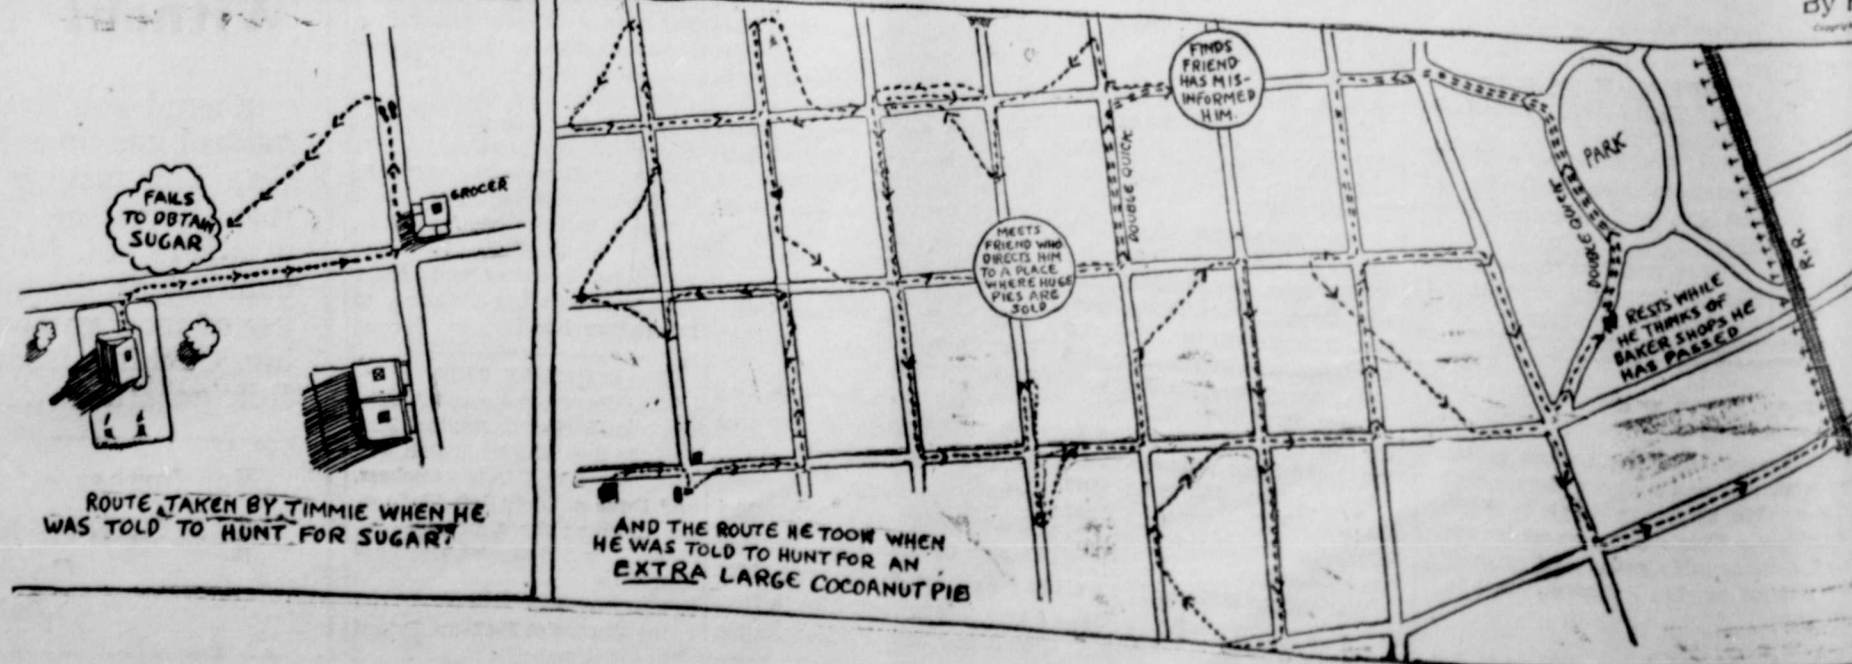

HIGH COST OF MESSIAHS

The government of Alberta, Canada, has decreed a 60-day moratorium on private debts contracted before Jan. 1, 1936. Alberta is the province which believes in Santa Claus and elected a government pledged to the social credit or Christmas every day scheme of universal happiness. Somehow the gears didn't mesh; the perpetual motion device didn't work; Santa Claus remained at the north pole. But the experiment is being paid for just the same. With the whole world emerging from the depression, Alberta remains in difficulties. They are so severe that another moratorium has been decreed. There is a moral in this for voters who choose to follow political Messiahs against the advice of every one competent to pass an opinion on economic experimentation. If the Messiahs are elected, the bill generally comes high and it has to be paid. Alberta has been saved by the courts from some of the worst consequences of its citizens' folly, but the evidence already given of the economic and political gullibility of the people of Alberta guarantees a retarded development of the province's resources. Alberta is a new country and therefore in need of capital for investment.

'AUTOMOBILE STRIKES AFFECT EVERY STATE IN THE UNION'

The automobile industry is one of America's largest buyers of raw materials and manufactured products. The map above shows a few of the principal products bought by motor manufacturers in each of the 48 states, at a total cost for 1936 estimated at more than $1,600,000,000. Significant as this is in indicating the nation-wide effects of a strike, it is far from complete. Another map might show, state by state, the thousands of dealers and salesmen directly affected. There is no way to picture indirect losses in retail sales and government revenue through reduced taxes and increased relief
