Waco Trade-Trippers To Be Here on Friday

Representatives of the Waco wholesalers, manufacturers, jobbers, educational institutions and professions will leave Waco Tuesday morning, May 4, by special train on a trip throughout this trade territory and will be in Goldthwaite from about 8:50 a. m. to 9:20 a. m. Friday, May 7, to visit and exchange greetings with the business men. It is hoped the town will give them a royal welcome.

Local Man Injured In Auto Accident

Last Monday afternoon, April 19, about 2 o'clock as T. R. Dempsey was driving to Cameron his car was run into by another car and pushed over the embankment of a creek several miles from Lampasas. Mr. Dempsey was badly cut and bruised on his face, hands and chest, in fact, had it not been for his watch in his shirt pocket just over his heart, he would have been killed as the watch stopped a sharp piece of glass that would have pierced his chest. The occupants of the other car stopped and carried him to the hospital in Lampasas, where he was given medical attention, and on Tuesday he was able to return to Goldthwaite. Mrs. Dempsey was called to be with him.

Cemetery Association Thanks the Public

The Cemetery Association wants to thank the public spirited people of Goldthwaite for their liberal help in making it possible to have the cemetery nicely cleaned off and all paid for. Danger of catastrophic flood damage diminished throughout the northeast American flood area as the Ohio led the retreat of rain swollen waterways back to normal channels. Municipal cleanup squads and dislodged residents followed with mops and brooms the slow recession of the waters. Three thousand persons were homeless in Wheeling tonight as the Ohio inched back into its banks.—Temple Telegram.

MARY HARDIN-BAYLOR PRESIDENT RESIGNS

Announcement of the resignation of Dr. John Crumpton Hardy as president of Mary Hardin-Baylor at the closing banquet of the all day celebration honoring Dr. Hardy, and the presentation of Dr. Gordon G. Singleton of Macon, Ga., as his successor, climaxed the day's activities at Belton last Tuesday. The announcement surprised the assembled southern educators, Baptists, faculty and students, who paid tribute to Dr. Hardy on the anniversary of his 25 years as president of the college. The celebration of the day had been arranged by the board of trustees. Dr. Hardy was elected president emeritus of the college immediately after the acceptance of his formal resignation at the meeting of the board of trustees held Monday afternoon. Provisions were made for a home on the college campus for Dr. and Mrs. Hardy. The new college president, whose unanimous election followed the acceptance of Dr. Hardy's resignation Monday, and who will assume office July 1, comes to the college at the age of 47, the same age as Dr. Hardy was when he accepted the presidency 25 years ago.

PRESIDENT FISHING

An eight car special train carrying President Roosevelt on his Gulf coast fishing vacation headed across Georgia and Alabama tonight for its first stop at Biloxi, Miss. White House aides explained the 6 a. m. departure from the national capital instead of 1 a. m. as first planned was due to a desire to avoid a five-hour lay-over on some siding on the way which the slow schedule called for. The switch in arrangements, they said, caused no interruption in schedules and also afforded the President more opportunity to rest.—Temple Telegram.

JUNE 30 IS CLOSING DATE TO GET SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS

Plans for an intensive campaign to assign social security numbers by June 30 to every wage earner in employments covered by the federal old age benefits provisions of the Social Security Act were outlined by M. D. Dewberry, field representative of the Social Security board. "Although approximately 900,000 account number cards have been issued in the state of Texas we are certain that there still are thousands covered workers in this field area who have not yet applied for account numbers," Dewberry said. "The postoffices will continue to receive applications for account numbers through June 30. Until that date, applications are in easy reach of any unregistered worker; after that date an applicant will have to contact the nearest Social Security board field office in order to establish an old age benefits account. We hope, therefore, to bring all affected workers into the program while facilities of the postoffices are yet available."

Ohio River Again On Rampage

Wheeling, W. Va., April 28.—Flood waters of three states rolled down the sluggish Ohio river tonight, leaving thousands without homes in their wake. The river released its grip on the Wheeling industrial district of approximately 200,000 population as the third day of the flood threat ran its course. Danger of catastrophic flood damage diminished throughout the northeast American flood area as the Ohio led the retreat of rain swollen waterways back to normal channels. Municipal cleanup squads and dislodged residents followed with mops and brooms the slow recession of the waters. Three thousand persons were homeless in Wheeling tonight as the Ohio inched back into its banks.—Temple Telegram.

CLOSING DATE FOR SIGNING WORK SHEETS SET FOR MAY 15

May 15 has been set as the closing date for signing work sheets, both for the county and state. The county agent's office will have clerical arrangements to take care of all applicants until the closing date. It is hoped that every farmer will sign before that time. The above date also applies to the Pasture Program. Measuring fields will start at once. Measuring this year will be done by plane tables, which is a more correct method than that heretofore used. Six crews under direction of J. C. Long, each headed by a supervisor who has had technical training in engineering, will take the field and should finish by June 30.

The Methodist Church

At the morning hour, 10:50 o'clock, the Sacrament of our Lord's Supper will be served, preceded by a brief message by the pastor. At the evening hour the pastor will continue his series of messages on the "Ten Commandments." At this time those who attend the evening service are invited to bring definitions of a Christian and place them in the collection plates. Help may be gotten from any source. It is hoped that thought along this line may fix more definitely in the minds of those who submit definitions the meaning of Christian. Invite your friends to join you in this experience. The pastor has been happy to note an increase in the congregations, both at the morning and evening hours. And there has also been an increase in the Sunday school attendance. Faithfulness in attendance upon the services of the church means much to the growth of the church spirit.

WPA PROJECT WORK IN LAMPASAS COUNTY

Austin.—Gibb Gilchrist, chief engineer of the state highway department, announced the department will ask the Bureau of Public Roads to approve projects costing $15,600,000 in the regular 1938 federal program. The projects include one for Lampasas county—surfacing of Highway 74-A from the Mills county line to Lemeta. Lampasas, April 28.—A WPA project for sewer and street improvements in Lampasas was made Wednesday as the state WPA office in San Antonio announced allocation of $1,562.62 for the work. The city's share of the project will amount to $2,717. Nineteen workers are allowed in the project. No announcement of the starting date of work has been made.

PRIDDY SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

For the benefit of a few of our members in the Priddy Missionary church, a Sunday school exists right here in your own church. This Sunday school has started with only a few members, and we need all the members who live around here. This Sunday school is apparently a new idea, but if you find that you can attend, please do so; no harm will come of it, and the services may be of some help to anyone that would care to attend. Please remember, any member of any denomination is more than welcome to our services. Beginning Sunday night, May 2, we will have a singing with our new church books. Please bring any new books that you might have. Singing will start at 8 p. m., and Sunday school will start at 10 a. m.—Jesse L. Roberts, Reporter.

Wild West Days Live Again in Pecos

Pecos.—The rip-roaring days of the old wild West were revived Tuesday night near here when a young gunman held up a Texas and Pacific freight train and forced three of the crew from the train and fired seven shots at them. He then set the engine on fire in an unsuccessful effort to run away with the train. A 25 year old suspect was arrested three hours later at Toyah by Sheriff Roberson and a heavily armed posse. Trainmen told Sheriff Roberson the gunman surprised them in the cab and forced them at pistol point to leap from the train. Engineer Walter Dehlinger, Fireman G. H. McKnight and brakeman Joe Montgomery told officers the bandit fired at them as they fled from their 50-car train. Dehlinger said he shut the throttle before jumping and had brought the train to a stop. "We're going for a ride," McKnight said the gunman told him as he was forced back into the cab and ordered to start the train again. He said the man set the engine on fire as he attempted to get under way again. McKnight related that he extinguished the blaze and jumped again amid pistol fire after he was ordered to detach the engine and proceed. Had the engine been severed, he told officers, the train would have collided head on with a fast freight near Kent. Trainmen organized a group of hoboes and rushed the engine but were unable to find the bandit. Officers said they believed he had hidden in a box car and ridden to Toyah. The man who was arrested surrendered peacefully. He was armed with a loaded pistol. No charges had been filed, but the suspect was taken before the grand jury.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

NEW LAW GOVERNS ALL MILK LABELS

Austin.—The fraudulent use of grade labels on milk and milk products was outlawed in Texas last week when the legislature passed a bill authored by Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur. Hereafter when a grade "A" or a grade B or a grade C label is used, the milk must meet the specifications of that particular grade. The specifications are those contained in the United States Public Health Service milk ordinance and code. Enforcement of the new law will be the responsibility of the various grades, he still can sell his milk and cream by labeling it milk or cream. More than 125 Texas cities already have stringent milk ordinances but the cost of supervising dairies was prohibitive to small rural communities and as a result milk has been sold under all kinds and types of labels. Provisions of the new law will insure rural residents of properly labeled milk.

SULAK TAX PLAN

Senator L. J. Sulak of La Grange, one of the outstanding leaders of the 45th Texas Legislature in efforts to solve the intricate tax problems of the state, maneuvered in the Senate Friday morning to have his latest effort looking to that solution down as the first order of business in the upper body Monday morning. He sent up this measure as an amendment to Senator Clint Small's substitute to Senator Sulak SJR-5, which called for submission of a constitutional amendment for the voters to decide if they wished a 2 per cent sales tax to finance granting of old age assistance to all over 65 years of age. Small's substitute would keep the aged assistance on the needy basis and include other parts of the social security program. It also abolishes the ad valorem tax, except as such is pledged to schools, confederate pensions and other specific purposes, according to S. Deane Wasson of Austin.

Senator Sulak's amendment accepts the ad valorem tax abolition plan, and places revenue levy on natural resources with occupation taxes under a graduated plan. Sulphur would be taxed at $1.50 per ton, as against the $1.28 per ton levy sent up from the House. Based on the present value of $18 per ton at the mine, this is a levy of eight and one-third per cent. Based on long tons of 2200 pounds, it would amount to .0007 or 7-100 of a cent per pound.

Petroleum pays under a graduated schedule.

ROCK SPRINGS

(Too late for last week.)
How sad we were Monday morning when the word came from Brownwood that our neighbor and friend, Mrs. Will Guynes, had passed away. We hated to see her go, but she had suffered for three years.

Mrs. Guynes was a good neighbor. She leaves her husband and two sisters and other relatives to mourn her going away. Her two sisters, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Raniston of Houston, were at her bedside while she was ill. Her nephews and nieces, Frances and Allan Howard, and Willie O'Day and wife of Houston, Will Daugherty and wife of Fort Worth, attended the funeral.

We extend our sympathy to Mr. Guynes in the loss of his wife. We also express our sympathy to Mrs. Will Dew in the loss of her brother.

Those who failed to hear our Goldthwaite boys at Brady Friday afternoon missed a treat. They were fine. Of course we heard the announcer most and he was wonderful. He will make a Bob Burns some day if he continues to go on the air.

SNAPS AT IRRIGATION

Erosion has destroyed millions of acres of good land in the United States. Irrigation, making desert lands to blossom, is the antithesis of erosion—a blessing and not an evil. Irrigation prevents or overcomes erosion in many instances notwithstanding erosion's cause often is excess water distribution on sloping ground. The two are such opposites in effect, irrigation is so identified with land reclamation and saving, that an Idaho story of erosion threatening an irrigation project of 350,000 acres in the Boise River valley is almost as paradoxical as that of the man biting the dog. The Department of Agriculture is concerned over a report of the Forest Survey covering the situation. The condition of the upper watershed threatens the irrigated area, the report says, and will lead to heavy losses unless it is checked. How to check it is not so easy. Some reasons for the adverse development are loose soil, too much running over by livestock, unfavorable plant density and slope of the land. There is an emphasis on overgrazing. Excessive run off from rain and melted snow has been bad. It is manifestation in new form of the great weather phenomenon that in recent years has affected so large a part of the United States. Many causes like those mentioned are fundamental, but the sovereign remedy for most of the trouble is rain, good old rain, such as the country used to have, but not too much in one place, as the states recently afflicted by floods will agree.—Minneapolis Journal.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERNIS

Government by Majorities

Is a 5 to 4 vote of the Supreme Court sufficient?

Our government is based on majority rule.

The House of Representatives has 435 members and can pass a law by 218 to 217—by one more than half—that is, by a majority.

The Senate has 96 members and can pass a law by a vote of 48 to 48 with the deciding vote cast by the vice-president as presiding officer of the Senate—that is, by 49 to 48. This also is majority rule.

The Supreme Court has 9 members and can make a decision by a 5 to 4 vote. At least 5 votes are required. As in the House and the Senate, this is majority rule.

A vote of 218 to 217 in the House is the equivalent of 4.02 to 4. A vote of 49 to 48 in the Senate is the equivalent of 4.08 to 4. A vote of 5 to 4 in the Supreme Court is proportionately a larger majority than required in either the House or the Senate.

Except where otherwise specified in our Constitution, our government is based on majority rule. Representatives, Senators and the President are elected by majority votes. Laws are passed by majority vote. Similarly, Supreme Court decisions are based on 5 to 4 votes or majority votes.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

THIS one was told me by a movie feller they call a cutter. That is a fellow that if the picture hasn't been taken had enough in the first place, why he cuts it all up and puts it back together so it makes it look like something. Well, here I meet him in Berlin the other day and he is a real producer and buyer and seller of movies, and is a real live hustling kid. If you haven't gone into the movie business yet, why you can't do worse than Walter. He will sell you anything that was ever taken. Well, we sit having a party one night, arguing over the movies, and just as I was going to sleep he broke out with the following. He went back home to where he had lived in Pennsylvania. He asked about a certain Jones family that used to live there and they told him here is what happened to them. "Tom, he is out where you come from in Hollywood. He is in the movies. He is a Movie Sheik and doing fine, they say. Jack, that's the next one; he turned stage Actor and you see his picture ever once in awhile. William is an Artist; he is a pretty good Painter, they say. Mary, the Sister, is doing some literary work, but Sam, he never amounted to anything at all. He stayed here and it just took about all he ever made to support the rest of them."

TESTS SHOW THAT COWS THRIVE ON GRAPEFRUIT

Gainesville, Fla.—Cows like their morning grapefruit, too. They take it fresh if they can get it and let the juice squirt where it may. But there's a comparatively new industry in Florida that would give bossy a morning citrus snack and eventually return $1,500,000 annually to growers.

Tests are being conducted on citrus feed for cattle with excellent results, experiment stations report. Already commercial production has started on a small scale. Two factories are turning out the product.

The citrus canning waste and cull fruit used in the feed, peel and pulp left over after the juice and hearts have gone into containers, are dried and pulverized. Bossy likes a little salt added, but that's about all.

Formerly the waste was discarded as useless.

Dr. Wayne Neal, animal nutrition specialist with the state experiment station, said his tests showed conclusively that citrus feed ranks with beet pulp in food and meat from steers fed on it is normal.

"Livestock fed on citrus feed have made gains according to their feed intake," said Dr. Neal. "The beef has been of excellent quality. We have observed that animals fed citrus pulp improved in condition, assuming the appearance of those fed on bran, oats, linseed oil and other feeds. The experiments also showed it is palatable, easily digested and does not cause any physiological disturbances."

EYES IMPORTANT TO CHILDREN'S HEALTH

Austin—"One of the valued by-products of May Day—Child Health Day activities of recent years has been the stimulus to physical examinations in the schools of our state," is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. Early detection of these defects and their correction will assure better health and well being to our coming generation.

A child with defective vision cannot be expected to do the required work in school until this handicap is removed. Inflamed, watery eyes, granulated lids, chronic styes, nervous actions as habitual winking, may be caused by a defect and should have immediate attention.

The far reaching effects of infected tonsils on the system has been recognized by health workers for years. Many of the ills of later life, such as heart disease, arthritis, deafness, are directly traceable to tonsils that became infected during childhood and were allowed to remain untreated.

Austin, April 27.—The House sent the Senate today a proposed constitutional amendment which would increase the pay of members of the legislature from $10 a day when they are in session to $3,000 per year. The vote was 194 to 35.

The lawmakers would meet in regular session each two years as they desired, remain here as long as they desired and return at the call of the governor.

NO FRENCH LOAN AGENCY

In refusing the French government permission to maintain an agent in this country for payment of coupons of its proposed billion dollar defense loan Secretary Morgenthau has acted wisely. If his decision is not based strictly on the letter of the Johnson act forbidding the floating of loans in the United States by debtor governments, it exemplifies the spirit of the statute and sound policy besides. Facilitating payment of interest to our citizens on the principal of foreign loans that could not lawfully be sold in America would be an incongruous procedure on the part of the United States government, whatever its technical legal status. This situation would not be changed by the fact that Americans would have to make their subscriptions in France, either by sending money from this country, a legally doubtful transaction, or by using their funds on deposit abroad. If France can borrow a billion dollars for defense or for bolstering up the franc, it would seem that she should be able to raise money for a payment on her war debt to the United States. We have had not even a token payment for years. * * * Philadelphia Inquirer.

ONCE MORE THE SALES TAX

Austin dispatches tell once more of the desperate efforts that are being put forth there to have the legislature enact a general sales tax.

Without arguing the desirability of increased pensions at this time, it is evident that the addition of still more taxes on an over-taxed people should be voted down.

Where are all those candidates for office who, only last summer, were telling us how they were going to retrench, economize, and lower our taxes?

ELECTROENCEPHALOGRAPHERS

JUST A COUNTRY SHERIFF

Sheriff Homer Sylvester of Plattsmouth, Neb., doesn't look like a hero. He's only five feet four, in fact. Neither does he look like the typical hick town sheriff the movies like to ridicule.

We don't imagine Homer will get any vaudeville or movie contracts like some of the rapid fire G-Men who have blazed their way to glory.

Of course a lot of city fellows, even including some who came from small towns themselves, will go on sneering at the country constables and chin-whiskered sheriffs.

NATIONAL INCOME RISING

The downward trend of the national income produced in the United States, which began last November, was extended in February for the fourth consecutive month, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

The national income produced during the first two months of 1937 amounted to $10,716,000,000 as against $8,933,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1936, an increase of 20 per cent.

February apparently marked the end of the downward movement of the national income which began in November. Preliminary reports indicate that when the figure for March is available, it will show an advance.

A Tale of Two Chaplains

By IRVIN S. COBB

IN FRANCE five men of a field battery were killed by an aeroplane bomb which a German airman dropped. The regimental chaplain, a Presbyterian, conducted the funeral of the victims.

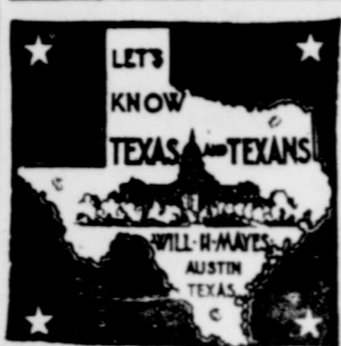

He came from a little New England town. When his mother learned that a clergyman of a faith other than her own had buried her boy she wrote to the colonel of his regiment and asked that a Catholic service likewise be read over his grave.

The Presbyterian led the other clergyman to a grove of trees near a small stream and pointing out a certain mound said: "This is the one."

As the priest took out his little book and stepped to the head of the grave, the Presbyterian chaplain said: "What are you going to do, that I didn't do? I read a service for this boy and I said a prayer for him."

The Catholic chaplain came to attention. "O'Malley," he commanded, "as you were—before our friend here tried to make a Protestant out of you!"

THE DEAD DO NOT BRAG

"The world," said Mr. Lincoln at Gettysburg, "Will little note nor long remember what we say here but it can never forget who they did here."

A great man had come to dedicate humbly a monument to little men who had fallen heroically. No bronze plate in the Gettysburg monument records that it was erected, merit who had no part in the stubborn defense of Round Top nor sight of the shambles in the peach orchard.

Present-day men whose names are suggested for the cornerstone of the San Jacinto memorial may be justly entitled to preservation in the memory of posterity. Let them have their monuments, should this prove the case. Surely they do not ask or desire a share in our belated permanent recognition of the imperishable glory won by the men of San Jacinto.

When glory guards with solemn round the bivouacs of the dead, her vigil ought not to be invoked to advertise the living.

NOAH'S FLOOD

A reader of the Forum wrote me to write to The Farm News to explain there were righteous people drowned in the flood, giving chapter and verse. It would be a fearful thing to think there were none righteous enough to be saved but Noah and his family.

Well, the world was in a bad condition then, but isn't it in a bad condition now? And conditions are growing worse. The righteous will have to come up through these great tribulations. And we must consider these times people are enlightened and are not ignorant of their pro ways, that all are on trial, trying them with good times and bad times, trying them with automobiles and other machinery: trying them with radios and picture shows, especially the last mentioned; with the automobile call for other base temptations. But we still believe there will be many who will not be overcome with these temptations.

These times seem to be coming around like Christ said they would. "As the days of Noah were so shall the coming of the Son of Man be." The spirit of pride is leading the world today, such evil spirits were in most people in Noah's day. But where did the spirits of the righteous go when they were drowned in the flood? Let us consider Peter, 3:19 and 4:5.—C. F. Ellis, Gould, Opa.—In The Dallas News.

BEHIND THE TIMES

Dr. Lorenz, for all his distinguished ability in his own field, is badly wrong and 40 years behind the times when he enters the educational world to suggest that boys and girls should be separated in high school classroom. Boys and girls will have to live together in the same world, not with a lessening, but in an increased relationship. Then why should they be separated in school? They will not stay separated after school hours even though you fill a high school building with partitions. To have a mixture of boys and girls in the family—brothers and sisters growing up together—is beneficial. They learn to understand each other's viewpoints. In the same way, in the classroom, they serve to blend and to modify each other's trends and mental outlook. Most teachers will testify strongly to that. Dr. Lorenz perhaps has in mind he instances where unhealthy conditions have developed among small groups within high schools. But that is the unusual, not the normal situation. And just as many, perhaps more, such instances occur outside high school. There are activities, of course, where boys and girls should be separated, such as the hygiene classes. That is to allow greater freedom of instruction and discussion. But just why a bright, clean-minded youth and a bright clean-minded girl—cleaner-minded and more idealistic they are than most of us oldsters!—should not sit in the same room to study algebra, is beyond us.—Milwaukee Journal.

Trinity Canal to Remove Physical Barrier To Lone Star State's Industrial Progress

Realization of the long-sought Trinity River canalization plan for a commercial waterway to the gulf, tapping Texas' rich interior, is imminent, according to the All-South Development Council. With the estimated cost of the 400-mile project pared from $102,000,000 to $60,000,000 under revised plans, and many forward-looking groups adding support of this project to the movement, being evidenced throughout the state, for the enactment of a sound policy of taxation to encourage industry in Texas, proponents of the long-sought waterway look for a successful outcome of hearings soon to be held in Washington. This aerial compositograph (background) shows the "headwaters" of the proposed canal the newly-impounded lakes in the Fort Worth-Dallas area. Inset at left is Gen. Herbert Deakney, retired U. S. army engineer in charge of perfecting engineering plans. At right, a modern Diesel-engined tugboat such as will ply the waterway, with a load of 1,000-ton barges.

The straightened, 400-mile course from Fort Worth to Galveston bay. Experts estimate that these lakes, the new Mountain Creek lake near Dallas, and other slack-water pools in the area, will provide easily twice as much water, at any time, as the canal will require. This will not be a disconnected, isolated project, the Council points out, but a valuable link in an integrated inland waterway system that serves 60 per cent of the nation's population. This is true because it will connect with the Intra-coastal canal at Galveston and thence with the Mississippi, thus tying up to the great canals and rivers that serve the prosperous midwest. Strong support which is rallying behind the move to establish this

EIGHTEEN HOURS TO EUROPE

Airplanes carrying 40 passengers and nearly three tons of cargo will soon be flying from New York to Europe in slightly more than 18 hours.

This fact does not amaze the modern reader because he knows it is not only possible, but inevitable. Perhaps the only thing impossible about modern aviation is to predict some future achievement too fantastic for people to believe.

The linking of the continents by air is man's final conquest of the vast ocean wastes.

In early times, the ocean's horizon was the end of the earth. Adventurers pushed back that horizon, approaching it first in tiny craft propelled by oars, then in ships gaining power from sails raised in the wind, eventually in vessels driven by steam.

Now the ocean has no horizons and the earth no limits beyond which men may not go.

The months required to traverse the Atlantic in sailing craft were reduced to days by steam, and now to hours by air liners.

The continents are as close together now as were neighboring villages in relatively recent times.

Airplanes are making millponds out of the greatest oceans, the interchange of the world's by contemporaries or whatever eliminating time as a factor in goods, in the travel of men.

These are wondrous times indeed, with the only element of dread in the thought that these devices may be used by men to destroy as well as to travel and trade.

Men were foolish enough to cross the seas by sail and by steam to make war on other men. If they do that by air, they may regret their ingenuity.—San Antonio Light.

DIPHTHERIA PREVENTION

A health slogan applicable to May Day-Child Health Day, "Immunize Now—Stamp Out Diphtheria," is designed to intensify the campaign against one of the most deadly foes of children, according to Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

If parents would have their physician administer toxoid to their children as soon after they reach the age of six months as possible, much suffering and many deaths could be prevented. The administering of toxoid is a very simple procedure and causes the child little or no discomfort. In approximately 90 per cent of the children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life long immunity to this disease.

To be sure, four to six months after the final dose of toxoid, the child should be Schick tested so that the parents will know definitely whether their child is immune. The test consists of just a few drops of diphtheria toxin between the layers of the skin. If the child is immune, no reaction will be noticed. If not, there will appear redness at the sight of the test that reaches its height the third or fourth day.

WORKS BOTH WAYS

Effective control of the devastating floods that periodically descend upon various regions of America would be a boon not only to man, but to innocent wild life, according to the American Wildlife Institute, which is dedicated to the conservation of the nation's game resources and nature's interesting and inoffensive creatures generally. And by the same token, it is pointed out, certain features of scientific game management constitute a species of flood control. Floods carry to doom innumerable wild animals and birds and render waste their feeding, nesting and breeding grounds. This not only makes serious inroads into their different races, but, in the case of game life, spoils the sport of the hunters. Works designated to check turbulent waters and regulate stream flow come first in importance, undoubtedly, in preventing vast inundations, but the planting of vegetation which is a part of good game management, plays its part by binding soil with roots, creating absorptive humus and helping to prevent disastrous erosion. Had such planting been started in a big way in years past, the institute declares, flood damage and the consequent loss of invaluable topsoil might have been materially reduced over the country.—Los Angeles Times.

OPIMUM MENACE

At present the centers of most of the world's illicit trade are Manchukuo and those Chinese provinces where Japanese influence is large. It is estimated that these areas "north and south of the Great Wall" yield 90 per cent of the raw opium produced in the entire world. There is no doubt that in the illicit traffic Japanese nationals are extremely active. Japan's stern and successful repression of drug addiction among its own people contrasts strikingly with its tolerance, if not encouragement, of the evil with the Chinese. If the Chinese government could accomplish its avowed purpose of uprooting the poppy, forbidding opium smoking and eradicating the use of drugs at least in large measure in the territory under its control, Japan would have to do likewise or stand convicted before the world as encouraging the poisoning of the Chinese people. Success of China's program would, moreover, remove any excuse that Great Britain, The Netherlands, Portugal and Siam now have for continuing to permit opium smoking in their Far Eastern territories. If the abolition of opium smoking were accomplished, then hope could be entertained of limiting sup-
