Football Field Work Is On

Goldthwaite's new athletic field is being rapidly put into shape. The drone of an air drill and the clatter of a caterpillar tractor drawing a grader are noisy proofs of the work that is going on.

To finance the cost of the new field, a Lions Club committee composed of Raymond Little and Paul McCullough made a canvass of the business district this week and secured a little more than $200.

Other friends of the football eleven and other athletic teams who are interested in the boys having a decent field to play on are urged to show their interest by getting in touch with the committee and making their subscription. The more that is received, the more work can be done and the better the field will be.

Priddy Minister To Teach German In Howard Payne

Rev. A. T. Kluge, pastor of the Lutheran church of Priddy, has accepted a place as instructor of German in Howard Payne college for the coming year. Rev. Kluge, who is a native of Germany and a graduate of the University of Berlin, is well qualified for the position.

This is the first time courses in German have been offered in the college since the close of the World War, President Taylor said. The courses are being given especially for pre-medical students and those who are planning to take post-graduate work in the larger colleges and universities.

Priddy H. E. Girls Achievement Day

Home economics girls left for Santa Anna Sunday noon. As this was our achievement day we thought we should plan something interesting, and more exciting.

When we left Priddy we thought it was going to rain on us, but we made it all right. We went via Democrat and Zephyr. There wasn't much exciting in either of these places, or at least we didn't see any. So we went on to Brownwood; there is where one gets a discount on watermelons if you bring back the rinds. We had quite a discussion on that, but after our discussion, we went on to Lake Brownwood. There we watched the boats and other interesting sights.

By now it was time for lunch. We stopped and ate lunch, then we drove on.

When we reached Santa Anna we drove around the city. Then we climbed the mountains, which were very beautiful. After we started up the mountains we went kodaking. Then we returned very slowly to the bottom of the mountain and started for home.

We came back home via Blanco and Comanche. On our way back, especially we noticed the different landscapes and discussed them. We reached home about 7 p.m. an everyone said they had enjoyed the day to the utmost. We really know we did.—H. E. Member.

DOVE SEASON

The dove season for Mills county will open September 15 and will close on October 31. Regarding dove season the county clerk says:

"Dove season in Mills county opens Sept. 15 at 7 a.m. and closes Oct. 31 at 7 p.m. Bag limit 15 doves any one day and not more than 15 doves in your possession at any time. Get your hunting license for the coming season now if you intend to hunt out of your county."

Parent Teachers To Give Show

The Parent-Teachers Association has signed a contract with the All-States Beauty show features, Inc. of Warm Springs, Ga. to sponsor a special program to be presented in the school auditorium on Friday evening, Oct. 1. The P.-T. A. will cooperate with the officials of the company in arranging an evening's entertainment that will be outstanding from every viewpoint.

The program will consist of three acts: A beauty contest, a Shirley Temple parade, and an amateur contest. Winners in the beauty and amateur contest will be entitled to and will be invited to attend a state wide contest held in San Antonio on Nov. 16, 17, and 18, with all expenses paid while there. While there at the state contest they will receive a screen test and winners of the state contest will be invited to attend the national contest and compete for the titles of "Miss United States" and "The United States Amateur Winner, respectively. The winner of the state amateur contest will also receive an audition and possible radio broadcast over a licensed and recognized station. These opportunities are designed to lead to radio, screen and stage careers.

The winner of the Shirley Temple Parade contest will receive a Shirley Temple dress for her prize and will be permitted to attend the state contest and receive a screen test along with the beauty and amateur winners provided she is accompanied by a chaperone and at their own expense.

All young people in Mills county are invited and urged to enter this contest.

Those interested in entering the contest should get in touch with Mrs. R. J. Gerald or Mrs. Fred Martin as soon as possible.

The Methodist Church

The interest in our Rally Day is growing. Quite a few have expressed themselves most enthusiastically. Remember that it will take all of us working at the job. Last Sunday we had a nice increase in attendance. Let us have another increase next Sunday. A number of classes have set their goals to have 100 per cent attendance for that day. Don't forget we are counting on all of you for Sept. 26.

All the regular services next Sunday. Your place can be filled only by you. Don't let petty hindrances keep you away from church and Sunday school. Meet your friends at church.—Fred J. Brucks.

SOUTH SAYS TREATY FEARS GROUNDFLESS

San Angelo.—The fears that West Texas ranchmen generally expressed when the reciprocal trade treaties with Canada and Mexico were announced have proved groundless, Cong. South of Coleman, himself a cattle raiser, pointed out on a visit here. He reminded that the cattlemen and sheepmen today were enjoying perhaps their greatest prosperity and that importations from the neighboring countries had exerted no ill influences.

South recently sold 25 grass fat calves on the Fort Worth market and they brought the day's top, $8.60. The Coleman man revealed while here that he would seek a third term in the National House of Representatives.

LIBRARY NOTES

Two new books on the rental shelf of the Goldthwaite Library are "American Dream," by Foster, and "Northwest Passage," by Roberts.

Singing Meet Great Success

Singers from eight counties converged on Goldthwaite last Sunday for one of the best attended and most successful singing conventions ever held in this section.

Among the well known singers who appeared on the all-day program were Robert S. Arnold and his quartet from Fort Worth. Mr. Arnold is a songwriter as well as a singer and is one of the leading musicians of the South. Bob Jennings, noted bass, and his quartet from Wingo delighted the crowd. Newt Wolverton of Brownwood also won applause. J. M. Davis, county treasurer of Comanche county with a quartet attended as did the entire singing class from Mount Olive and the Diserne family from Gatesville.

Local talent at the convention was represented by Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Higgins.

The next singing will be held on the first Sunday in December in the Goldthwaite school auditorium.

Lions Meet With San Saba Club

The Goldthwaite and San Saba Lions and ladies met in a joint goodwill meeting Tuesday evening at Miller Lake in San Saba county.

A barbecue supper was served by Bill Richards, after which the Lions and their guests from each city were introduced; and an impromptu program was enjoyed by all.

There were 28 guests from Goldthwaite, but due to heavy rains late in the afternoon San Saba had only 16, but as some San Saba Lions stated, "there was quality instead of quantity" there.

The meeting was very beneficial as each club told of its work, and it was unanimously voted to make this an annual affair with the two clubs.

Former Resident Joins Rangers

Frank Mills, sheriff of Coleman county for eight years, resigned before the commissioners court Monday afternoon to return to the Texas Ranger service after an absence of 17 years. His resignation became effective Wednesday.

George Robey, former chief deputy, was named his successor.

Mills will remain in this county for the coming term of the 35th district court, convening on Sept. 6. His new work will be with the headquarters company at Austin, but he will continue to live in Coleman.

Quite a reputation has been accorded Mills for his work on several murder and kidnap cases including the H. L. McBee murder, or "hanging skeleton case," the Fred Parker case, the Lawrence Brady confession in the Hamner murder, and the finding of the Urshel kidnap money with clues that aided in tracking down "Machine Gun" Kelley.

Recently Mills aided in tracking George Shipley, who was sent to the penitentiary for 15 years in a bank robbery case. His record during his terms, proves that he has never failed to get his man in a murder or bank robbery case. There have been eight murders and 16 robberies with firearms during this time.

Mills came from Mills county to this county when he was a young man and lived in the Santa Anna community.—Santa Anna News.

Local Schools Get Fine Start

The enrollment of the public schools yesterday was 615, making an increase of 40 over last year's 575.

A most enthusiastic bunch of pupils and teachers are entering the year's work with high hopes and Supt. Smith is delighted with the prospects of a splendid year ahead.

He says satisfactory progress is being made on the new building and that most of the crowded conditions in the grades will be relieved as soon as the new rooms are completed.

Mr. Smith says as soon as organization is perfected he thinks the high school will be very comfortable. The new teachers reported in place of some who have resigned are Mr. Arville Layton, who will teach English in the grades and drive a bus. He has a degree from North Texas State Teachers College and majored in English. He comes highly recommended and is proving very efficient. His home is in Winnsboro. Mr. James R. Dameron, who will teach band and also supply in the elementary grades, is a graduate of Daniel Baker College, a former member of Brownwood's "Old Gray Mare Band," comes highly recommended and will start to work Monday. He comes from Blanket.

Miss Marie Hill is a graduate of C.I.A., majored in public school music, minored in voice, was a private pupil of Carl Wiseman. She will teach public school music and have charge of the high school glee club. Her home is in Dallas and she arrived in Goldthwaite yesterday and will take up her duties today.

Baptist Reminder

We want to welcome our school teachers back. We also want to make the new ones feel at home. I am hoping for a most excellent school year. I wonder if we ever pray for those teaching in our public schools. It is easy to criticize them. When we would be critical, let us be prayerful. Our attendance was off some Sunday with so many things interfering. I had to be away Sunday morning on account of the funeral. Sunday night we had a good service with one addition to our church. This brings our church membership up to 443.

Travis Meeks is the Baptist Standard representative in this county. Travis is one of our finest young men. He will be glad to visit any church in the county and explain in detail the terms. We should have at least 200 Standards coming to our county each week.

Come and be with us Sunday.—Franklin E. Swanner.

WILLIAMS-THOMPSON WEDDING IN BROWNWOOD

Miss Mae Rhee Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thompson, and Mr. Burl Dee Williams of Coleman were married at the First Christian church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock before a large group of friends and relatives. The Rev. A. W. Anderson read the single ring ceremony before an altar banked with crepe myrtle, tube roses and ferns. On each side of the altar lighted tapers burned among large baskets of cut flowers.

Miss Imogene Farris played the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. A. W. Anderson, who sang "I Love You Truly." As the bridal couple entered, attended by Miss Nell Currin of Kingsville, bride's maid, and Mr. Norris Purcell of Coleman, best man, Miss Farris played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, and as a recessional she played Mendelssohn's "Bridal March."

Miss Thompson wore a navy

Special Train To Exposition

The Santa Fe railroad has planned a special train for school children, their teachers, parents and friends from portions of District 9 to the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition.

The special is scheduled to originate at Bangs at 6 a.m. Sept. 15 and arrive at the exposition at 2:15 p.m. the same day. Returning it is scheduled to leave Dallas at 9:30 p.m. Sept. 16, and reach Bangs at 5:45 a.m. next day.

The train is one of a series of specials, planned by all Texas railroads to the Pan American Exposition to accommodate the educational movement, beginning on Sept. 10 and ending on Oct. 31. The exposition has offered numerous price concessions to the groups, and a two-holiday for the schools has been proclaimed by Gov. James V. Allred. An optional two-day all expense tour has been provided for $2.25, which includes housing, meals, admission and major attractions.

The train will depart from Goldthwaite at 7:25 a.m. The round trip coach rate from that point is $1.75.

Admission Is Free To Fiesta Grounds

Fort Worth.—Record crowds are thronging the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta grounds nightly now that the 50c gate charge has been removed throwing the turnstiles wide open to the public.

The free gate policy was begun Tuesday night on the heels of the huge attendance which marked the Labor Day week and. Free attractions, notably the Astor House, Silver Dollar dance hall, Gulf studio broadcasts and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce exhibits, continue.

Although the gate charge has been abolished, Director General Billy Rose is sparing no expense to keep Casa Manana, the Pioneer Palace and the Salsic Marionettes constantly fresh and new. Just added to Casa Manana are Cass, Mack and Topsy, comedy team, and Gomez and Wynona, America's foremost ballroom dancers. Paul Whiteman and his band, Everett Marshall, Harriet Hoctor and other stars remain.

DOGGETT REUNION

J. A. Doggett of Goldthwaite and his daughter, Mrs. Viola Ward of Cleburne, attended the annual Doggett reunion held at Lubbock first Sunday in September.

It was a very happy reunion for Mr. Doggett, as he had not seen his sister, Mrs. Fred Brantley of Mayhill, N. M., in 30 years. Another sister, Mrs. A. W. Hardin of Abernathy, Texas, whom he had not seen for nine years, and a brother, Cleve Doggett of Hilton, Texas, were among the 74 relatives present.

After visiting relatives in Abernathy and Post, Mr. Doggett and Mrs. Ward returned home Tuesday night. Mrs. Ward will visit her parents a few days before going to her home in Cleburne.

REVISIT GOLDTHWAITE

Charles F. Cox of Fort Worth and brother, George A. Cox of Ardmore, Okla., called at the Eagle office Monday. They were renewing acquaintance with old friends here, as both had lived here in by-gone years. They had been to Santa Anna for a visit with their half-sister, Mrs. J. R. Bannister, who was formerly Emma Daugherty. A half-brother, Bayley Daugherty, was a valued member of the Eagle staff at the time the family lived here. They were accompanied by a niece, Mrs. Clyde Thompson, also of Ardmore.

25 Eagles Out For Football

Football practice started Sept. 2, about 25 boys working out.

Our first game will be Friday night, Sept. 17, with Comanche in Comanche. The starting lineup will probably be: tackles, Dale McCasland, Fred Marshall, M. Miller; guards, G. Armstrong, B. Hunt, D. Denison; ends, G. Ballard, A. Smith, D. Kirby, H. Faulkner; backs, C. Davis, C. Hill, O. Harvey, H. Shaw; center, Floy McKenzie.

Other boys out are Sumpter Gerald, Marvin Hodges, Stacy, John Bowman, Simpson, Stoddard Gerald, Carter, H. Faulkner, Kauhs, Berry and Wright.

Several promising football players dropped out after two days' practice for various reasons. Ellis Holland, a 165 pound boy and a sure bet for one tackle, Lee Roy Miller, a 150 pound boy at end, Woody Harper, 145 pound tackle, and R. McDermott a 140 pound end.

Promising new men are Marshall Miller, tackle; Dale McCasland, tackle; Darwin Denison, end; Carter, end; Sumpter Gerald, tackle.

Comanche has already predicted they would win their district, and that Goldthwaite would be their easiest game. They have been working out since Aug. 18 and should be ready, but the Eagles have upset the dope more than once before.

Plenty of support from the sidelines has been promised the gridsters. The girls' pep squad has started with 90 candidates. It promises to be the liveliest and noisiest aggregation of youngsters that has ever cheered an Eagle eleven to victory.

Fire Prevention

Austin.—Urging state wide observance of the annual Fire Prevention Week, Marvin Hall, fire insurance commissioner, has written over 425 mayors of Texas cities and towns requesting their continued support of what he terms a most profitable and worthwhile civic project. The week of Oct. 3 to 9 has been chosen and appropriately named Fire Prevention Week of 1937. Adding impetus to the movement will be a proclamation issued by Governor Allred requesting cooperation and support of state, to his community and to "every Texan interested in performing a distinct service to his himself."

"Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today," Hall declared in his letter to Texas mayors. "For years it has taken far too heavy a toll in life and property. May we suggest that you and your city officials, fire marshal, fire chief and his department begin making preparation at once for the proper observance of Fire Prevention Week this year."

Tersely expressing the theme of the Week's activities, Hall wrote: "The fire that never starts will never get out of control. Fires can be controlled, but not until every single Texas citizen accepts fire prevention as his individual responsibility." Since fire losses have a direct bearing upon the fire insurance rates which the people pay, there are a great many profits accruing from prevention. Fire is a habit and easily formed by practicing it. It is most pleasant to be saved or a disaster prevented. Calling for immediate action for tomorrow is the time for your prevention meetings that you invite business men and your community, school teachers, patriotic workers, scouts. It is every citizen's duty to prevent fire!

Mr. and Mrs. H. returned Saturday and family in Harry accompanied and remained over day.

All Brutes Are Not Dumb

By IRVIN S. COBB

THIS story was told years and years ago as dealing with an actual happening. But it was new to me when I heard it recently from the lips of a distinguished visiting dignitary of the Catholic Church. It may be new to some of the readers of this series. Anyhow, I hope so. It would seem that a parish priest in the County Claire was walking along a road when he saw an agry-looking bull burst through a gap in a hedge and trot threateningly across the field where a peasant girl was milking a cow of a staid and venerable appearance. The clergyman shouted a warning. The girl glanced up, then calmly went on with her milking.

The bull continued to advance. He snorted and pawed the earth and tossed his massive head. The alarmed cleric called out again to the imperiled young woman, bidding her run for safety.

She looked about, waved a hand reassuringly and bent again to her task. Just as the distressed onlooker was preparing to risk his own life by distracting the wrathful animal from the reckless colleen, the bull gave a final snort, turned off and lumbered back to his pasture.

The good father vaulted the hedge and proceeded to lecture the girl on her foolhardiness in face of a great peril. With an airy wave of her arm she interrupted him:

"Shure, your Riverince," she said, "I was in no danger whatsoever." "What makes you say that, you foolish child?" he demanded. "With my own two eyes, didn't I see him charging down upon you. It was deliverance that he didn't stick you with both those long horns of his."

"Beggin' your pardon, Father," she said, "but that wasn't all. All along from the first, I knew he wouldn't dare come nearer toward me."

"Why wouldn't he then?" "He wouldn't come by reason of this cow bein' here all the while."

"And what had that old cow to do with it?" asked the astonished priest.

"She's his mother-in-law."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD IT'S FAIR TIME

It's Fair time! Take your camera with you.

SEPTEMBER is fair time and I'll wager that mighty few of you have given any thought to this angle of snapshotting. Right? Honestly, the county or state fair offers more possibilities for snapshotting than space will permit telling about. There's the side-show band with its pattered instruments letting forth loud blasts of discordant music. And there are the not so clean-looking vendors of dolls, trick gadgets, balloons and various other things of questionable value. Everywhere you turn is a subject for good human interest pictures.

But let's look toward the more serious side of the fair—the exhibits, for instance. By making intelligent use of your camera you can snap record pictures that may later prove invaluable. Then there is the judging of cattle, sheep, horses and hogs. If the judging is done in an open-air ring you can get the picture of the winner of the blue ribbon with any camera—box type or folding.

In taking such pictures, or any picture, as far as that is concerned, don't just look in the finder and snap the first thing you see. If the animal being judged has any unusual markings, manage to get to a place near the ring where these markings show up the best in your finder. Try, too, to avoid unattractive backgrounds such as telephone poles, wires or sheds.

Among the innumerable picture possibilities at the fair you will surely want to take some action pictures and a fair isn't complete without the thrill of horse racing whether they feature the veteran driver proudly seated in his sulky or the young, dare-devil jockey.

Snap a picture of the start of the race as the drivers or jockeys maneuver their horses to the barrier or starting post and by all means take your position at the turn of the track as the horses dash perilously around the curve and into the "home stretch."

Remember this, however. If you do not have a camera with a very fast shutter, say one that will operate at 1/500 of a second or faster, don't try to snap a rapidly moving object as it whizzes directly across the lens of the camera or direct line of vision. Your chance of getting a good, sharp picture is much greater if you catch your subject at an angle of about 45 degrees. It's always better to play safe than to take a chance and perhaps get a blurred picture. Load your camera and take along plenty of extra film on that eventful day when you are "off to the fair."

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a big lawsuit over a Scotchman's estate not very long ago, and they had a terrible time finding something for the lawyers to disagree about, so that the lawyers could fight in court and make their clients think they were earning their fees. Both sides admitted that the man was dead and that his will said so and so about who was to get the dough. So they found out they could get up a fight over whether this Scotchman died suddenly or not. One side claimed that the poor fellow died right sudden, so that he didn't have time to make a change in his will that he intended to make. They were trying to prove it.

They put a fellow on the witness stand that had been the Scotchman's financial adviser.

"You say he died sudden?"

"Awful sudden."

"What makes you think so?"

"Well, I know it. Nobody saw him die, and it was a week before the body was found, but there was evidence that Sandy went out mighty quick."

"What evidence?"

"Well, for one thing, there was a letter he had got that day that he supposed to have died, and the stamp on it happened to be uncanceled. The uncanceled stamp was still on the envelope, on Sandy's desk. We all know that if Sandy had had even ten minutes of warning he would have wrote a letter to somebody to make use of that stamp."

H. A. SYKES

Mills county is again in sorrow on account of the passing of another of its honored citizens.

Henry Anderson Sykes of Big Valley crossed the Great Divide at 5:15 Saturday morning after a short illness, and his remains were laid to rest by the side of his wife in Big Valley cemetery on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Sykes, born at Leicester-shire, England, came with his parents and younger brothers to America in 1862, sailing from Liverpool and landing at Galveston. They located at Brenham, where his mother died. Later they moved to Shaw Bend in San Saba county, where his father married. Here Henry Sykes grew to manhood and was married to Miss Margaret Taff Nov. 6, 1884.

They came to Mills county in 1893 and reared a family of two daughters and six sons, who are a credit to them and to our county. All were at his bedside during his illness.

One son died at the age of 4. Mrs. Sykes preceded him in death Jan. 18, 1934, and his brother who came from England with him died Jan. 18, 1935. They leave 25 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mr. Sykes' life was one of service to his home, his church and his country. The large concourse of people attending the funeral services at the Big Valley church Sunday morning attested to the esteem and respect in which Mr. Sykes was held.

Five sisters and two brothers survive: Mrs. Lucy Davis, Mrs. Bob Matthews, Miss Fannie Sykes and Nat Sykes of San Angelo; Miss Mary Sykes of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. A. D. Foreman, Sr., of Houston. They all attended the funeral rites, as did A. D. Foreman, Sr., a brother-in-law, also Mrs. Taff, wife of Mrs. Sykes' brother, and her sons Tom Taff and family of San Saba, and Arthur Taff and family of Lubbock.

The Sykes children are all married. They are: James Sykes, Canyon; Mrs. Mary Henderson, Frederick, Okla.; Lee Sykes and Otto Sykes of Ballinger; A. H. Sykes, Jr., of Winters; Mrs. Lola Miller, and Floyd Sykes of Big Valley. All the children with their families were present at the funeral.

Some of the out of town friends who attended the funeral were: W. H. Forney, Mr. King, Mrs. Johnson and daughter, Mrs. Cheatham and two children, all of Ballinger, Mr. Buchanan of San Saba and Mr. and Mrs. Moreland of Shive.

Former Resident Here Dies in Oklahoma

An illness of two years snuffed out the life of James C. Vickers, 70 year old Bristow, Okla., pioneer, at 4:20 a.m. at his home Thursday, Aug. 26. 35 years of his life was spent in Bristow and he saw it grow from a village to a thriving modern city of around 7000 population.

Vickers came to Bristow from Goldthwaite in 1902. He was born Aug. 12, 1867, and married Miss Maud Creekmore at Dublin, Tex. June 5, 1892. Seven children were born to this union, of whom four are now living.

Although he has been retired for the past few years because of failing health, Vickers ran a cotton business for years and at one time owned cotton gins at Bristow, Mannford, Kellyville, Terryton, Newby and Kendrick. He built the first square cotton gin in Bristow. It is now known as the Albert Kelly gin on the east side of Main street between Third and Fourth avenues.

The first ice plant that Bristow ever had was built by Vickers. He established the first electric light plant here in addition to these other businesses.

He has been a member of the Baptist church for more than 45 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maud Vickers, welfare officer in charge of old age pensions and dependent children applications, three daughters, Mrs. O. F. Millard, of Wynnewood, Okla.; Mrs. Melvin Tarham, Austin; Mrs. Frank Lane of Chattanooga, Tenn. He also is survived by a son, Hammond Vickers of the home address.

Mr. Jim Vickers will be remembered here by many people friends of the Vickers and Charles Hammond families and old time acquaintances.

Texas Cattle Brands are a Part Of History

The big cattle ranches of old Texas, stretching for miles and miles, and including more acreage than European kingdoms, have their heraldry as well established as had the knights of old, the heraldry in this instance being the various brands, of which many thousands were—and are still—on record with the Texas Cattleman's Association, says Harry Van Demark, writing in "Texas Parade" for August.

Brands were often better known than the owners themselves, each having a peculiar significance. Some stood for honesty in breeding, honesty in weight and honesty in dealing, just as the heraldry of knight-hood stood for honor, bravery, and deeds of accomplishment. The announcement that a certain brand was offered for sale was frequently a sufficient guarantee and no precautions against fraud were taken.

In the record of brands every letter of the alphabet is represented, and some letters are found in three or four positions. An exception is "O," which has but one shape and, therefore, can be used only in one position. True, there is the "O" flattened at the sides, but then it is called "mashed O," a "link" or a "goose egg."

"N" is another letter not susceptible to use in many positions for horizontally it is a "Z." The letter "I" too has a very limited use. It is seldom seen except in combination with other characters, and is usually called "bar." "C" and "K" are used in four positions. For example, an ordinary "K" makes one position; turned to an angle of 45 degrees it is the "tbling" brand in all letters except "O" and "I."

The letter brand, which is perhaps the oldest known in the cattle country, usually has its beginning in the initials of its owner. Finally all the letters but one are eliminated. When the cattle business became a great industry, however, and instead of hundreds of ranches, there were thousands, new brands had to be devised. Each cattleman wanted something different from his fellows, else the brand would fall in its purpose.

So, in later years, when all the brands were taken, the necessity for unique and individual brands led to many devices.

One cattleman has a "pig pen"—a square with its sides extended to form the exterior angles. Crescents are common, and one ranch man is represented by a hatchet. A bow and arrow gives the name to one big Texas ranch. The I. J. Kimberlin ranch has a coffeepot on the side and a crutch on the hip. The coffee-pot design is not so intricate as one might think, consisting of only eight lines.

Wine glasses are not uncommon as brands, and the J. W. Friend Cattle Company in Crockett county has a gourd. A rocking chair is the brand of H. P. Opp of Sutton and Menard counties. Lee Brothers have for their brand the graceful fleur de lis. Anchors are common but only the John W. Franks ranch in the Osage reservation boasts of a swastika. A comet, a pitchfork, a knife, a hat, a key, a Masonic square, an hourglass, crossed walking sticks, an apple, a flag, a slipper, a boot, a tree, a fence, rakes, ladders, a flower, a doll baby, a cotton hook, a fishhook, a bottle, bridle bits, a frying pan—these are but a few among the long list of brands registered with the cattleman's association. A scruple indicates that the ranchman was druggist before becoming a cattle owner. Hearts, diamonds, and clubs—of the sort so aptly written about by Mr. Hoyle—are found, but the spades are all of agricultural design.

Ranches oftener take their names from their principal brand than from their owner. We often hear of the Spur ranch, the "Turkey track" ranch, or the "Lazy K." Every ranch has its principal brand, and some have many others. Ranch owners who trade extensively, and who are constantly acquiring cattle with different brands, have plenty of insignia on record.

GARNER FOR PRESIDENT

Vice President John Garner's wide brimmed Texas hat has been tossed into the ring as a candidate for President in 1940 at a most opportune time. No other Democrat can as nearly unite the bitterly dissenting factions of the Democratic party as our own "Cactus Jack."

John Garner has elevated the post of vice president from one of ineffective obscurity to one of considerable importance in national affairs. He has demonstrated invaluable diplomatic ability and his grasp of fiscal affairs is unrivaled. John Garner would make an ideal Democratic president.

FEWER LAWS

The United States News has compiled the record of the last three congresses in enacting major laws. It shows that the legislators are nowhere near as eager as they used to be to put new laws on the books.

The 73rd Congress (1933-34) passed 27 major laws, including the NRA, AAA, TVA, SEC, and four important monetary acts. The 74th Congress (1935-36) passed 19 major laws, including the social security act, a revision of banking legislation, the National Labor Relations Act, and four farm aid acts.

The last session passed but six major laws. And some of these—such as the law to plug loopholes in the income tax—were practically universally supported.

Wouldn't it be splendid if our law-makers could get caught up with making new laws and would start repealing some of the unnecessary old laws that now clutter up the statute books?

$14,500,000 WANTED

Governor Allred has called the State Legislature to a special session on September 27 for the purpose of raising money to pay the bills the legislature has already incurred or authorized. Here is what is needed according to state tax experts:

Old Age Pension Fund	$ 3,500,000
Teachers' Retirement System	1,500,000
Blind and Dependent Children	1,500,000
To keep present deficit of $15,000,000 from growing larger	5,000,000
To wipe out present deficit in five years	3,000,000
TOTAL	$14,500,000

This is the amount that is needed over and above the taxes that are already received.

Governor Allred says in effect, you people of Texas voted for these increased expenditures, now write your representative and senator and tell them where to get the money to pay them.

What are the possible sources from which this extra money may be secured?

First are the present ad valorem taxes. Do you want to pay higher taxes on your house and land and other property?

A sales tax is the proposal of many. With it you would have to carry a pocket full of tags of some kind to pay a tax on every purchase. Many states are doing this now. It is a terrible nuisance, but it raises the money. One advantage claimed for it is that everybody pays a sales tax—that is, of course, everybody except those rich enough to go outside the state for their bigger purchases.

Another plan is a state income tax. Of course if it were collected only on the big incomes, just a scab-the-rich proposition, a lot of people would approve it. But the trouble is there aren't enough of the rich in Texas to secure $15,000,000 a year from them every year. We might get it the first year, then a lot of them would start moving out of the state, just as they have moved out of Oklahoma because of that state's new tax laws. When income tax laws are once authorized, the tendency is to extend them lower and lower so as to include more wage earners. While the federal income taxes begin with $1000 a year income for married men, there is no assurance that a state law would stop there.

Luxury taxes have been proposed. Here again the trouble would be to raise as much as $15,000,000 from this source. When you make anything cost too much, people simply won't buy it.

Taxes might be still further increased on gasoline. About one-third the price you pay for gasoline now goes for taxes.

The Eagle is not going to make any recommendations to Senator Davis and Representative Patterson as to what to tax. The Eagle has for many years been counseling economy in state expenditures. Before the recent election, the Eagle stated that it believed the proposed constitutional amendments which would require more tax money should be voted down at this time. These

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL by MAX BERN

Fifty Centuries of Experience

Why does our Constitution restrict the powers it grants our government?

Because human nature never is perfect, we must protect ourselves against its weaknesses.

To provide this safeguard was the great aim of the authors of our Constitution. By their experience in colonial government, by their trials under royal despotism and by their study of the great lessons of history, they learned that human nature could not resist the temptation to become all powerful. They knew this led to tyranny and despotism. They knew this was a weakness of human nature and that human nature changes but slightly in thousands of years. They knew these weaknesses wrecked most governments.

For this reason our Constitution divides our government into three separate branches—Congress, the President and the Courts—restricts the powers granted to each branch and makes these branches independent of each other.

Concerning this, Washington said, "The necessity of reciprocal checks in the exercise of political power, by dividing and distributing it into different depositories, and constituting each the guardian of the public weal against invasions by others, has been evinced by experiments ancient and modern, some of them in our country and under our own eyes. To preserve them must be as necessary as to institute them."

Under this principle of our Constitution, no one branch of our government is all powerful. And by maintaining this principle, concludes Washington, we prevent despotism.

SCHOOL FLAGS

Starting this fall, schoolteachers in Georgia who do not display the Stars and Stripes at their schools each day they are in session will not be paid the salaries recently voted them under a new system of state school support. The State Board of Education ruled to that effect. Such a ruling ought not to have been necessary. Schoolteachers in every state in the union should have enough love and respect for their country to want to display its flag before the future citizens whose minds are entrusted to their training. Since it seems to have been necessary in Georgia, we congratulate the Georgia State Board of Education on its action.—Detroit Free Press.

Q. How can sawdust, now wasted, be utilized to advantage in the building industry?

A. Sawdust from southern pines, hickory and maple, when mixed with certain chemicals, makes an excellent pliable plastic that can be molded into wall board, floor tile, table tops, and other products at about the same cost level of lumber.

A beautiful book with brilliant cover showing Texas Capitol surrounded by Six Flags, size 9x12 pages, indexed, classified by subjects, with numerous historical pictures ready to be pasted in book.

Q. What was the first name given the city of Victoria?

A. Mexicans called it Las Sabinas, which American settlers translated into Cypress Grove. The county and city were renamed Victoria by Martin de Leon, the empresario, in honor of Guadalupe Victoria, an assumed name for Juan Felix Fernandez, first president of the Republic of Mexico.

Q. Are all Indian mounds in Texas Indian burial places?

A. Many mounds that are supposed to be Indian burial places prove, when opened, to be kitchen middens, where Indians piled bones, trash, ashes and refuse of all kinds, which they covered with dirt to keep down offensive odors. Midden is an archaic word to describe these refuse heaps.

Q. Where was the Austin site of the first mansion of the Republic of Texas?

A. The Austin mansion of the Republic was on the block north of the present Seventh street and east of Brazos, the lofty site now occupied by St. Mary's Academy. The block belonged to the Republic and later to the state until 1854, when it was sold to former Governor H. P. Bell, then a member of the U.

amendments were voted down in Mills county, but they carried in the state, and it is up to the legislature to raise the money.

If you know a painless way in which to raise it, write your representative and senator right away. Incidentally if you think the state is spending enough money already, you might add a postscript to that effect.

AVIATION LEADERSHIP

Pre-eminence of the United States in the aviation world soon may be lost, we are told on high authority, because several European countries have entered more actively into fundamental research and are spending heavily to build up both their commercial and military aviation. After the World War this country assumed a definite lead in airplane design and construction which it has been able to maintain through careful research and planning. Dr. Joseph Ames, chairman of the national advisory committee on aeronautics, cites the numerous advantages derived by American aeronautics from the scientific investigation at Langley Field, but agrees that foreign countries have borrowed many of our ideas and are now engaged in developing some for themselves. At other times we have been told that American leadership in plane development was in danger; but there is more evidence in support of that idea now. The large appropriations of Russia, Germany, Italy, France and England for military aviation are a matter of record. To the advantage of several of these countries, too, are the tests to which their planes have been put under the actual fighting conditions in Spain, and the improvements which are sure to grow out of this. Many new types of fighting, bombing and combination craft have been introduced and are being put to severe trials under the eyes of military experts and scientists. To the United States goes largely the credit for the new "sea clippers" and "flying fortresses" but Dr. Ames believes that the United States will have to be very alert to hold the lead as changes take place.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES

Many Americans have visited Shanghai and retain vivid memories of that great metropolis and its busy harbor, crowded with the shipping of every nation. Many Americans also know Madrid, and closing their eyes can recall the splendid hotels, and great stores which used to line the Gran Via, as well as the magnificent palaces, art galleries and churches, which formerly characterized the Spanish capital. There are even a few of us—for Americans are great travelers—who know both Shanghai and Madrid, for all the 10,000 miles that separate them. And to them the current devastation in the two cities comes home with almost sickening force. The destruction of modern warfare is fortunately an abstraction to most people. Imagination is totally unable to picture the effects of bombs and high explosive shells unless it can also construct an actual background for the setting. But when the Gran Via and Nanking Road can both be visualized, and when the effect of a shell bursting on the busiest F street corner is superimposed, a faint shadow of what is now actually happening in the world will come to mind. A mind touched even by the wing of such a shadow is not likely to harbor any great optimism for the future of our civilization.—Washington Post.

BISHOP CANDLER RECALLS

Bishop Warren A. Candler, grand old man of Southern Methodism, on the occasion of his 80th birthday, indulged in a little reminiscing, and, out of the wealth of observation and experience incident to a long and active life, declared that people of today do not really know what constitutes "hard times." The bishop was talking of those days in the South immediately following the close of the War Between the States when a country impoverished by unsuccessful war, drained of all its wealth, felt the ravishing hand of the reconstructionist and the cruel threat of the carpet-bagger. Those were the days even more than the days of the war, that tried the souls of Southern men and women; when heads of families returning to their homes to find the broad acres laid waste, the homestead frequently wrecked and ruined, and the women and children bravely carrying on in homespun and fed largely by the little corn they could raise on some tiny garden plot. Those Southerners started life anew from scratch. They turned a few acres of earth and raised the food that saved them from death by starvation. They seized plow and hammer and saw and plane and rebuilt from the ruin of their lands and their lives a newer and fairer South. The depression of unremembered memory, which began in 1929, is now a thing of the past. The South and the rest of the nation have won back to normalcy, or better, in agriculture, industry, trade and employment. Means are available for the care of all. To those few who yet face hardship, the words of Bishop Candler and his generation should point to the memories of all survivors of the human qualities that triumphed 60 years ago and should bring courage for a successful fight today.—Atlanta Constitution.

NOW THE GREEN SHIRTS

Modern dictatorship has made a fetish of its shirts. Infant Fascism was swaddled in the Black Shirt. Europe stopped laughing at Adolph Hitler when the Brown Shirt became vogue in Berlin. Now in South America we have the Brazilian Green Shirts, members of the Intelligence Democratic party rising to prominence with a cry for nationalism of the familiar Fascist mold. Instead of the swastika the Integralist wears a Greek sigma on his left sleeve. Leader Plinia Salgado, like his European models, understands the psychology of organization that employs ritual of dress and emblem. We will probably hear more from Integralist Salgado and his band; their choice of shirt hues indicates a subtle imagination. How drab would appear the black and brown of continental dictatorship beside the flaming green of Brazil's new political conquistadors! Our Latin-American seeks to furnish his Fascism with gay trappings. New paint for the garnished rainbow of modern despotism.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

FARM

Nine billion dollars is the American farmer's loss since 1929. More than most of his production in the best financial year since 1929. More than 100,000,000 from last year's income. It takes the value of the wheat which the farmer has by his own consumption the record of recent years. Black, chief of the Agricultural Economics, that American farmer will receive more than 100,000,000 of 1932, the bit wheat and 100,000,000. There has been a decrease in farm income since. But this year besides being largely distributed. In 1936 farmers had a good crop the drought section many other farmers. This year has caused some picture as a whole. The farmer's debt is more than it has been for between 1930 and 1936. The burden on farmers by a billion and a farmer is a good one. He has something to supplement factories and equipment he is making payrolls for the week. He is able to buy a machine. An important factor in the country.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

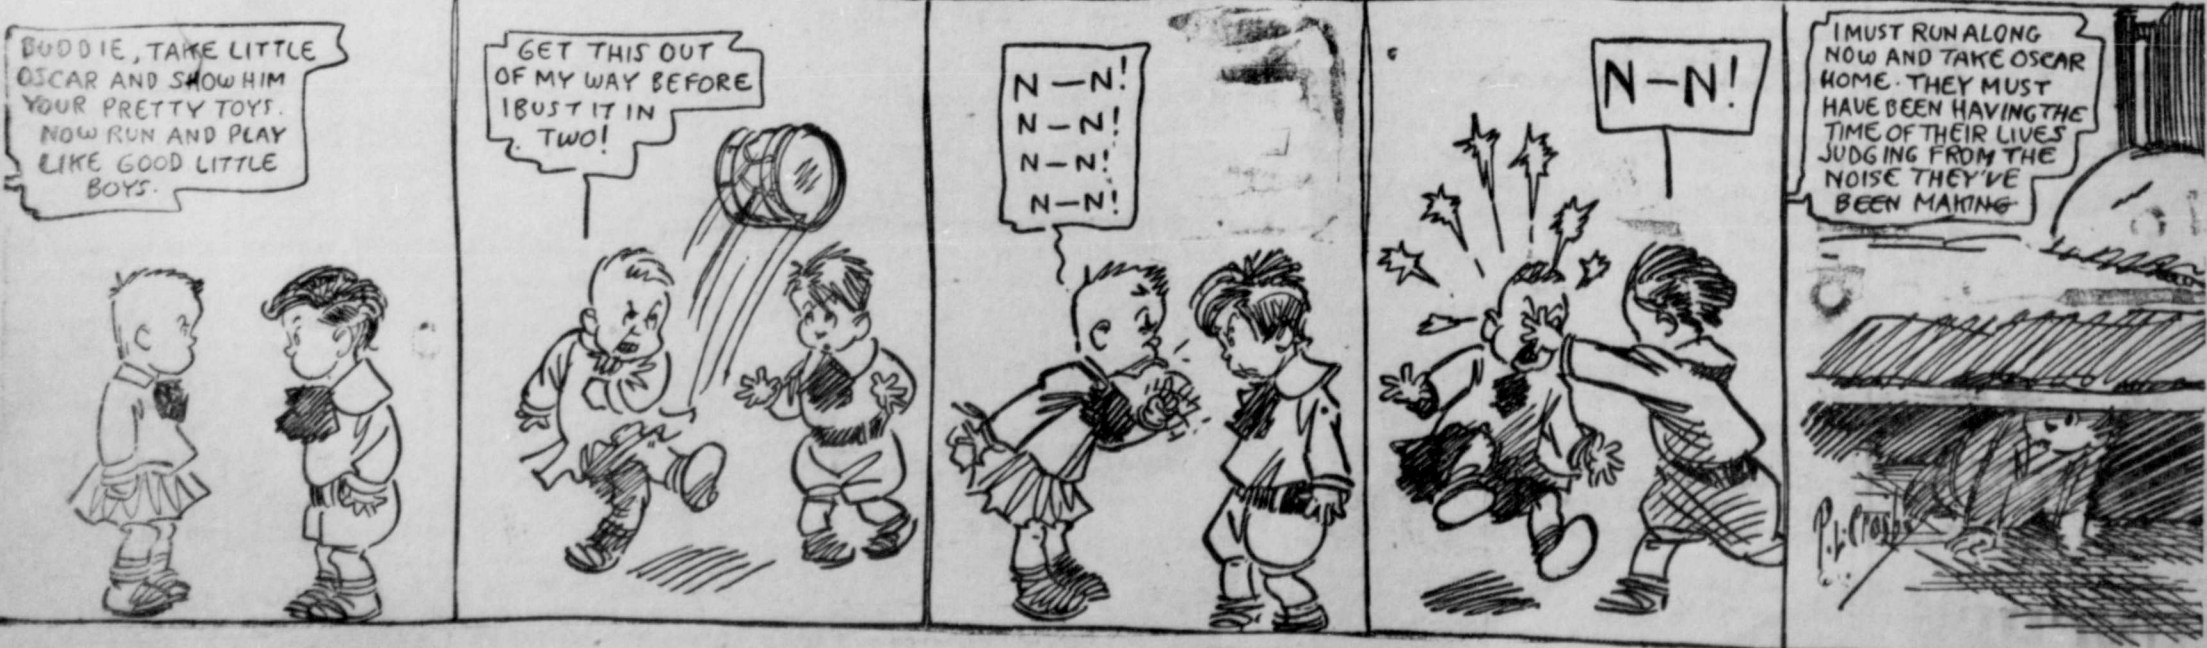

INNOCENT BYSTANDERS

The disruptive effect of war between China and Japan already have begun to our foreign trade. To information obtained from traders in New York, shipments to Shanghai are being held up or diverted. Ports to North China, general ports from China, are dwindling. As yet, trade with Japan does not appear to have been seriously affected. But if the war (as it gives every indication) that business is to start to fall off, as Chinese concentrate their resources on military and seek to become self-sustaining as possible practical terms this means that one of the important outlets for the products of American farms, cotton plantations, and our factories, is rapidly shut off. Other trading undoubtedly are having the experience. War in the may temporarily stimulate munition industries in other countries, but its on the normal exchange will be altogether vicious. It is upon the further of that exchange that the economic welfare of the day largely hinges. The time of international trade yet back to the level of is not yet back proportion even to the 1914 level. City Times.

Beautiful town of Goldthwaite, Nestling beside the hill.
For you my heart is pining,
And it always will.

CHORUS
Goldthwaite, Goldthwaite,
Beautiful town of Goldthwaite,
Where I was born
On an autumn morn
Beautiful town of Goldthwaite.

Town where I spent my childhood
Near by the swimming pool,
Where the gang congregated
Evenings after school.

Though I am growing old,
Memories of you, I cherish,
More than silver or gold.
