GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1938.

NUMBER NINETEEN

NEXT MONDAY IS "LAST MONDAY" TRADES DAY HERE

Mullin's First Fair to Held March 4-5

A catalog for the Mullin fair is to be held at the Melba theatre here on March 4 and 5, and this week. Preparation for a general fair and a crowd are going forward. The management of the fair is in the hands of the committee, directed by Patterson, Lee R. Tesson, county agent, W. P. Weaver, and others.

No Change Made In Insurance Rate

Marvin Hall, State insurance commissioner has announced that Goldthwaite will continue to receive a 15 per cent credit in fire insurance premiums, due to the city's good fire record for the past five years.

Commissioner Hall explained that once each year the Texas Fire Insurance Commission promulgates and publishes a fire record credit or penalty for all eligible Texas cities and towns.

The fire record varies from a 15 per cent penalty, or "bad" fire record, to a 25 per cent credit, or "good" fire record. Credits of 20 and 25 per cent apply only to those cities and towns whose average annual fire insurance premium volume is at least $20,000.

Methodist Missionary Society

The Methodist Missionary Society will have an open meeting Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the dining room of the church and all the ladies of the town are invited to be present to hear a review of the book, "Return to Religion" by Bro. Brucks.

Ranchmen Losing Sheep

The following is a letter to the County Agent, in reply to inquiry concerning the loss of pregnant ewes:

Dear Sir: Your letter of January 11, has been referred to us for answer. In reply, we wish to say the symptoms described are those of pregnancy disease. There is no treatment for it after it develops; however, it can usually be prevented by exercise. In some instances the pregnant ewes are driven for about ten minutes each day. The grain ration should be balanced and from one to two ounces of blackstrap molasses for each ewe should be put on the feed each day. We would be glad to have the address of the ranchmen who own the sheep.

If recommendations in this letter are carried out, we would be glad to have a report. Yours very truly, R. P. MARSTELLAR, Dean, School of Veterinary Medicine.

Clements—Mathis

Announcements have been received here of the marriage, on Sunday, February 20, of Miss Dorothy Dell Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas Mathis of Kingsville, Texas to Mr. David Owen Clements, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Clements of this city.

The wedding took place in Kingsville at the Episcopal Church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and the young couple left for Galveston and other points on a wedding trip, after which they will come to Goldthwaite to make their home.

Miss Mathis has frequently visited here and has many friends who will welcome such an attractive member into the social group of younger married people.

Mr. Clements is one of Goldthwaite's native sons and is one of the most promising young business men, as well as being a member of one of Goldthwaite's most prominent pioneer families. A more extended notice of the wedding will appear next week.

School Board Re-elects A. H. Smith

A. H. Smith was re-elected superintendent of the Goldthwaite schools by the trustees of Goldthwaite Independent school district at their meeting Saturday and has accepted the position for another year. The election was no surprise, as the progress made by the school system here under Mr. Smith has attracted much favorable comment.

Since he became superintendent in the fall of 1933, the Goldthwaite school plant has been enlarged and improved in many ways. This year saw the completion of a brick addition to the grammar school and other improvements. At the present time a WPA project is building a fine athletic field which was begun last year with privately subscribed funds.

Prof. Smith has inaugurated the school bus system here with seven school busses now bringing children from outside the city limits to the Goldthwaite schools. These busses travel a total of 375 miles daily, carrying 384 students. Of these 132 live in the Goldthwaite Independent school district, and the remainder come from other school districts. In addition, 70 students are transported in these busses to other schools in Mills County.

Mr. Smith has also organized a Home Economics Department and an approved Vocational Agricultural course, and last fall secured a band director so as to have a high school and grammar school band.

Property valuations recorded in the tax collector's office are slightly lower now than at any time in the past five years. This means that all of the additions and improvements have been made without any additional cost to the district.

Game Association Is Organized

A group of about seventy-five stock farmers and ranchers from the various sections of Mills County met in the district court room Saturday, February 19, at 2:00 o'clock and organized the Mills County Game Management Association.

The purpose of this organization is to protect, conserve, and increase desirable wild life species of birds, fishes, game animals, etc. The A&M College of Texas will co-operate, without charge, with members of any unit of the organization.

Approximately 65,000 acres have already been signed up and it is hoped that the county will be one hundred per cent in having all of its ranchmen co-operating to preserve desirable wild life in Mills County.

The program requires no enrollment fee and no regulations prohibiting an individual from hunting or fishing on his own property, or granting such permission to other, but it is the aim to prevent complete destruction of the more desirable wild life.

A stencil, for making markers to be displayed in conspicuous places on the land signed up, has been ordered and will be left at the County Agent's office for the use of members.

Following are the officers for the county and the committeemen who will be furnished with enrollment blanks for the convenience of those who wish to sign:

Ex-Marine Evangelist to Give Life Story

Ex-Marine Evangelist Noble E. Berryhill, who tells the story of his life Saturday night at 7:30 at the Church of the Nazarene. The story will include many interesting and thrilling incidents connected with marine service in China, South America and the Islands of the sea, his conversion, call to preach and the romance of a preacher. The public is invited.

Dedication Program For New Mullin Auditorium-Gym

On Thursday evening, March 3, 8 p. m., the Mullin Community and West Mills County generally will gather in the newly completed auditorium-gymnasium for a dedication program.

Another progressive step forward has been made in the progress of Mills County and in the Mullin School community especially in the completion of this Auditorium and Recreation House.

The program as planned will prove of immense interest and every citizen will be looking forward to the occasion. The School Board this past week let contracts for complete stage equipment. New folding chairs have been purchased, and the hardwood floors are being finished for this occasion.

The complete program will be carried in next week's issue of this paper.

In the meanwhile, every citizen interested in the project should make plans to be present for this program. An outstanding speaker and other attractions will feature the program.

One-Variety Cotton

The order for Bagley Cotton seed will go forward within a short time. All who have not paid should place in the Trent State Bank $1.55 for every bushel of seed they desire. This is a low price for certified seed and will secure separate ginnings.

Final reports show that only 44.5 per cent of Mills County cotton sold last year, was tenderable. This was a severe loss to every cotton grower in the county and will be further felt when the much needed "subsidy" falls short of the expected 3 cents.

It is now up to the patrons of the Mills County Gins. Join in this effort to improve the staple and prices. Why not plant the adopted variety.

W. P. WEAVER, County Agent

Goldthwaite Merchants Offer Entertainment As Well as Bargains

Wintry Weather Damages Fruit

The winter's heaviest frost fell Monday night and fruit tree blooms that had bravely withstood two previous nights of sub-freezing temperature, were badly blighted.

At the Riverside Fruit farm in Big Valley it was estimated that 50 per cent of the crop was damaged by the freeze, early plums suffering most. No damage at all was done to apples and peaches which had not yet budded.

Road Committee Named by Lions

Marsh Johnson, Earl Clements and Kelly Saylor have been named by Lion President A. H. Smith to serve as a Good Roads committee. The club plans to make a comprehensive study of the entire county road system with the purpose of offering suggestions for improving outlying roads now inadequately maintained due to lack of funds.

Motor Vehicle Registrations

On Tuesday, March 1, we will begin the registration of Motor Vehicles, and every one desiring to obtain the 1938 license plates will please bring their 1937 registration receipt, when applying for their 1938 license receipt and new number plates.

Fine School Paper

One of the most attractive school publications that has come to the Editors desk is the Hutto, Texas, "Hippo Live Wire." This is an eight-page magazine type publication filled with interesting items from every department of this very modern public school of which Bob Mayfield is the superintendent.

This school is the one we have mentioned a number of times in our columns and which has received nation-wide publicity on account of the new up-to-the-minute methods used in teaching, whereby the teachers in the school actually teach the pupils instead of merely hearing recitations which have been taught by parents at home.

Methodist Church

Next Sunday will be Father and Mothers Day at our church. We hope that all the children will bring their parents to Sunday School and Church services. We urge all the Fathers and Mothers and heads of homes to help us make next Sunday a day that will be helpful to all. We are counting on you to be present.

For the night service we will have an illustrated lecture on Milton's, "Paradise Lost." This is one of the great classics of literature and should be read by every Christian. You will receive food for thought from this picture and the lecture. Don't miss it but bring your neighbor and friends.

Morning Services at 10:50 a. m. Evening Services at 7:15 p. m. Church School at 9:45 a. m. Epworth League Meeting at 6:15 p. m.

Free Movies In Morning and Afternoon

Having settled on the last Monday of each month as Goldthwaite's monthly Trades Day, Goldthwaite merchants have since been busy making plans for a gala occasion for next Monday, February 28.

Besides free picture shows at the Melba theatre, including one morning show and three afternoon shows, another entertaining feature has been arranged which will interest everyone.

Tickets for the show are free to those who call for them at their dealer's.

In addition to the entertainment features, many worthwhile special bargains are being offered on this day. A glance through the advertisements in this issue of the Eagle will show many offers worth making a special trip to Goldthwaite to secure.

Junior Basketball Tournament

The Junior basketball tournament will be played Saturday, February 26, at Star.

Playing will begin at 9:30. All schools that have junior teams must be present at 9:00 o'clock to draw for places.

To be a junior, a boy must be under 15 years of age on September 1, preceding.

Cemetery Working

There will be a cemetery working at Pleasant Grove on March 4.

Everyone interested please take notice and be there.

New Housing Law Will Permit Everyone to Have Good Home

The Federal Housing Administration program under the amended law, signed by President Roosevelt on Thursday, February 3, 1938, is designed to assist families of moderate means to obtain adequate and decent housing on the most favorable terms in the history of the country.

In the language of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, it is intended "to utilize the best available means for achieving a sustained long term residential construction program with a minimum expenditure of federal funds and a maximum reliance upon private business enterprise."

It deals solely with projects and mortgages that are considered economically sound. It is designed to be largely self-sustaining through the operation of a federal mortgage insurance system which has been carefully established and successfully operated since 1934.

"This program," said the Administrator Stewart McDonald, "should prove a stimulus to the construction industry but too much should not be expected of it at once. The machinery is here for the government to do its part. The success of the program in the long run, however, depends upon the whole-hearted, voluntary co-operation of private capital and private industry, by which I mean the lending institutions, the material and equipment manufacturers and distributors, the builders and developers, and labor."

Persons, partnerships and corporations are eligible to borrow money under the modernization and repair credit plan. The borrower must have an assured income, demonstrate his ability to repay the loan, and own the property to be improved or have a lease on it running at least six months longer than the term of the loan.

Amounts up to $10,000 may be borrowed to repair or improve existing structures and amounts up to $2500 may be borrowed for the erection of new structures.

Repayment of the loans may be spread over a period not to exceed five years for modernization and repair work and not to exceed ten years for the erection of new structures for residential use.

Banks and other lending institutions will be insured against losses up to 10 percent of the to-

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

"CANDID" BABY PICTURES

No camera-consciousness in this young maestro! Any parent will treasure an album of expressive snaps such as this one.

HAVE you ever thought of taking a series of "candid" or "off-guard" pictures of the baby in his lighter or more active moments, and saving them in a special album entitled "We Knew Him When"?

Any parent who owns a camera can build up a splendid collection of pictures such as this, and if your baby is like most babies, the same pose or expression will never pop up twice.

A small baby is probably the world's ideal subject for "off-guard" pictures, because he is altogether lacking in camera consciousness. Once he learns that you won't let him chew the corners off the interesting black gadget, or pull the shiny piece of glass out of the front, he dismisses the matter and proceeds to more important things. Thereafter, you can shoot away to your heart's content.

You don't need a high-speed miniature camera to take "candid" pictures of this sort. A speedy lens is helpful, because then you can use higher shutter speeds and catch the youngster when he is trying his skill at somersaults or endeavoring to smash his rattle to pieces and see what makes it work. But a box camera will do the work pretty well if you are careful to watch for momentary pauses in the action. Even the most industrious baby comes to a brief halt now and then.

During the winter months, most of your "off-guard" baby pictures will be taken indoors, and many of them at night. Amateur photo bulbs supply enough light for the night snapshots, and your film dealer will have booklets or leaflets showing how to arrange them. With lights arranged properly, the night snaps are almost as simple as those outdoors in sunshine.

In shooting the off-guard baby pictures, watch for expressive gestures and fleeting expressions, and train yourself to catch them instantly. Snap tears as well as smiles, for they will help you remember your baby as he is now. And, whenever you put a picture in your special album, write under it the day and year when it was taken. That will help make the book a day-by-day biography which grows in value as the years roll by.

tal loans they make under the new Title I program.

If the loan is made for the purpose of building a new home, security will be required in the form of a mortgage or deed of trust covering the property improved. In addition, there will be certain general construction requirements which will assist in protecting the investment of the home owner.

The provision for these new homes costing not in excess of $2500 under Title I should not be confused with the plan of home ownership sponsored under Title II of the Act. The facilities afforded under Title I are intended primarily for those citizens who live on farms, or in rural areas or in the marginal zone surrounding the larger cities where the standards established by the mutual mortgage insurance system are not applicable. Title II provides for 25 year loans on more expensive homes.

Gross business transacted by the Federal Housing Administration under the old law has passed to two billion dollar mark, of which approximately $650,000,000 was transacted during 1937.

Have a good time—LAST Monday.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

IN CHICAGO they got a lot of new improvements to take the place of cops. Seems like they can't afford to have a cop in every home and store, not all the time anyhow, and a man can't spend all his time standing around with a gun in his hand instead of waiting on the trade.

There was an awful polite fellow from Alabama went to Chicago and started a jewelry store, and sure enough, the third day in comes a guy with a gun and a helper and started cleaning out the place. The Alabaman backed up against the wall with his hands up, and the bandit says, "Now, you stay there and mind your business, and if I see you tryin' to reach for a push button or a lever to call the cops, I'll lay you down, see?"

"Yes suh," says the Alabaman, and the bandits went ahead taking stuff out of the showcase.

"You shouldn't take that there tray out," says the Alabaman, "if you'll pardon my saying so suh," when the robbers lifted a big tray of diamonds out of the case.

"You keep out of this," says the one with the gat.

"Yes suh," says the Alabaman. And after a few minutes he says, "I only wished to say, suh, that it annoys the cops very much, suh, when you lift that tray out, because it rings a big bell at police headquarters, and irritates the men. I think I see quite a lot of them coming now. Yes, here they are. Sorry, gents."

O. M. Conoley Hears From Son in China

Lieutenant O. M. Conoley, one of Uncle Sam's "Fighting Marines" stationed in China has written his parents a thrilling description of the war in Shanghai, which he observed at firsthand.

"The war in Shanghai finally came to a dismal close," he writes. "I was atop the Ioo Fung flour mill, our observation post, and watched the Japs come into the Chapel area of Shanghai. The whole district had been levelled by artillery fire, but there were several large buildings left. The Japs burned everything as they advanced, and the smoke and flame actually hid half the sky. It was by far the largest fire, or I should say, group of fires that I shall ever see.

"They drove all before them, and when they cornered Chinese troops, they left nothing to your imagination. They shot them down like rats. I saw ten cornered on a point of land extending out into the creek, and when the Japs finished up, they were a sight to behold.

"The fire lasted two days, and then the fighting gradually moved inland, and that's the last of it I have seen.

"I have been transferred up the coast north to Peiping (or Peking), and will stay out there for a full tour of duty—30 months from the time I left the States.

"I am in Company C of the Embassy Guard. The post has about 500 men and 20 officers, and we have all the sports you want. Horses to ride, a gym to play in, swimming pool, a small-bore rifle range, all within the Embassy compound. I was out horseback riding this afternoon for two hours and enjoyed it very much.

"We left Shanghai on January 3 and sailed up the coast on the USS Bridge, disembarked at Ching-wan-tau and then came by train to Peiping. We started at 11 one night and rode until 3 p. m. the next day. That trip will linger in my memory as the most miserable I have ever taken.

"The temperature was dropping and we were on an unheated train. The farther we went, the colder we got, until finally eight of us were huddled up against each other in a small single compartment for warmth. The weather here is cold, and we wear fur caps and gloves.

"I haven't been to everything yet, but I will get there by and by. This city used to be the seat of the old Chinese Emperors, and what they couldn't think to do and build, wasn't worth knowing. Their winter palace is here, their grand canal, their temples and tombs, their walls and all such.

"The Embassy quarter is surrounded by a wall about 30 feet high made of gray, square stone. It is about 20 feet wide and is filled in between with grey packed mud. It's a mammoth thing, and over each of the four gates is a very large block house.

"I live above the Chinese post office and have a very nice set of rooms with my servants. I'm afraid though, that I will have to move any moment. The Japs will want to see them all of the since they conquered tory long ago.

"I was in a camp there sat their idol on. All about him were food, corn, wheat, wondered that with people starving to death not a particle of it touched. However they ed down the big treeing the temple to wood.

"There are no fences and you can ride for never see anything but mud shacks."

Read What Your Neighbors Think of Servel Electrolux in Town — on the Farm

Olney, Texas
February 25

If I could get $1000 for my Servel Electrolux and knew that I could not get another, I would not sell it.

Mr. Kimberlin's mother, brother and sister have Electrolux. They are perfect. One runs on kerosene, one on wet gas and the others on gas. We are all satisfied with our buy.

I live on the lease, 8 miles east of Olney. If I bought some other automatic refrigerator I could not use it now. Mine serves me in town and country. Last year I lived in town any number of my neighbors owning automatic refrigerators, after seeing mine in will buy and have bought Electrolux. as my bill never ran over $1.25 per month the mer I lived in town.

I shall try to enumerate the economical ties of my Electrolux:

1. It is safe on any gas, as it automatically cuts off, in case the gas should go out on main line. This often occurs on leases.
2. It saves gas, oil and wear and tear on car, as we do not have to go to town for ice.
3. Saves our time, as we do not have to wait with ice.
4. It is clean, easy to keep clean, and a beauty.
5. I have perfect refrigeration that I had with ice, therefore:

A. I can buy a large quantity of vegetables, milk, eggs, meat and everything we need. This saves money. I also save money as I do not throw away left overs. I use days later, in soups, hash or fixed any way.

B. I can cook a large quantity of anything and save gas. It will keep perfectly needed.

6. I am always prepared for guests — as Electrolux is always ready for guests — just a small store.

7. I can prepare ahead of time for expected guests and will not have to spend all my cooking while they are visiting me.

8. The greatest economy is that my Electrolux will do me a lifetime. It is as nice as the one I bought it 2 years ago. It has no moving parts wear out and operates so cheap.

9. It does not make a noise to get on nerves and my guests nerves.

I do know I could write a book on "What Like My Servel Electrolux."

My, and is it cold here? We have just about decided spring isn't here after all.

There was a party in the Brooks home, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Hodges, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Manning, spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Pearce Hodges of Mullin. They had the pleasure of seeing Jake and Paul Hodges from Bakersfield, California, who have been in Texas the past several days on a visit.

Mrs. Ed Grimland and Mrs. Carl Smith are both on the sick list. We hope they are soon well again.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Hodges and Mrs. L. W. Hill drove over to Killeen Saturday to see Mrs. Ola Toliver.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Snider called on Mr. and Mrs. Will Elmore Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Dee Pearce spent the week end with her uncle, Steve Bellew and family at San Saba.

Foolish Pride

It is amusing to contemplate the price we pay for the pleasure of appearing sophisticated.

When a man and his wife leave the prairies for a visit to New York City, the wife is likely to buy a trunkful of new clothes, although during a week in the big city she may not see a person she ever saw before or will see again.

The man in turn will pass out tips a hundred per cent too high to porters, doormen, waiters, headwaiters, and ticket concessionaires, to impress these strange, impersonal servants that he is a guy who knows his way about.

This quirk in human nature affords a rich harvest to those who entertain the visitors in New York—Imperial Magazine.

By Mrs. Dora Goode

I've been waiting for two weeks or more for "that blizzard" to hit so I could tell you how cold it was, how deep the snow, how thick and heavy the ice; tell you about the mud, the slush, rain, fog, the dark and gloomy days; of how the fruit was all killed, trees, flowers, shrubs all frozen and black; about how we shivered and stayed at home hugging the nearest corner to the fire, forgetting to call the neighbors over the telephone to see how they fared; of how the eggs all "busted" in the nests in no time, and the chickens all froze off top and bottom; then sunshine and of how the snow slid and plopped off the house, the ice cracked and tumbled, how the postman finally got by, the school buses started again, and all was well. But it never came, I mean the blizzard, though we did have ice several times last week. But nothing seems to be hurt seriously. However, as I write this, it is cold, dark, rainy and sleety from the northeast and looks as though we might have some of the afore mentioned weather.

Meanwhile things have been going on as usual. The peach trees are in bloom, the wild plums, redbuds, and pears, rose in bud, things look okay. Some folks have colds, some are well, and some are betwixt and between.

Mrs. Smith, of Waco, is visiting with her niece, Mrs. Clair Sheldon, who is convalescing from an operation in the Santa Anna hospital.

Mrs. Willie Platte has been in the hospital for an appendicitis operation.

The P.-T. A. ladies are working on a play which will be presented before very many moons.

Miss Mary Soules, who is teaching in West Texas, visited home folks over the week end.

Wednesday of last week was a gloomy day with weeping clouds in the sky. And sad were the hearts of relatives and friends of Mrs. Annie Waddell, of Lake Merritt, who was buried in the Hurst Ranch Cemetery.

Mrs. John Waddell visited relatives in Austin and Marlin last week.

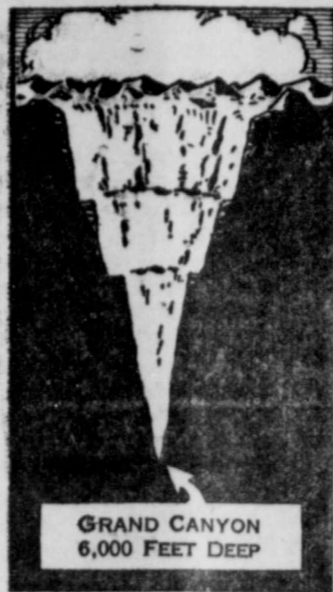

Clair Sheldon has sold his interest in the "Helpy-Selfy" store to his father, Wales Sheldon, and is moving to Lometa. He has purchased a store there and will continue in the same line of work.

High hopes are being entertained now of soon having a bridge across the Bennett creek between Star and Moline. Officials are considering such a project and it appears it will be no fancy dream. The bridge is surely much needed.

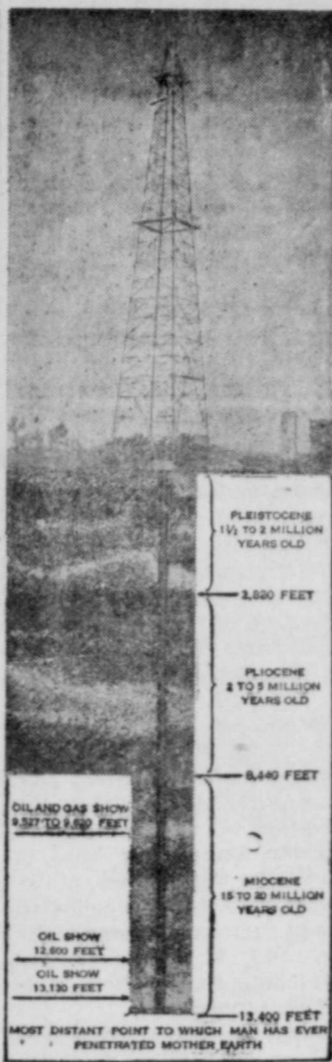

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clary are fencing and preparing to build a house on their lot on West College St.

World's Deepest Oil Well

GRAND CANYON 6,000 FEET DEEP

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY has just completed drilling the world's deepest oil well, the Kern No. 2-A, near Wasco, Kern County, California, to 13,400 feet—more than two and a half miles—and the most distant point to which man has ever penetrated Mother Earth. In the column at the extreme right are shown the names, ages, and depths of the three major subsurface formations penetrated by the Continental drilling crew. In the left hand column at the right are shown the depths at which oil and gas were encountered. The artist's drawing above compares the depth of this California oil well with the depth of the Grand Canyon. The well was drilled by one of Continental's own drilling crews.

Amusement Zone Of New York Fair Biggest in History

NEW YORK (Special)—An amusement zone designed to accommodate at one time the entire population of cities the size of Akron, Atlanta, Birmingham, Dallas, Denver or St. Paul will greet the millions of visitors to the New York World's Fair 1939, Grover A. Whalen, president of the Fair corporation, announces.

By far the largest entertainment section ever constructed, it will contain enough shows, devices, restaurants, villages, shaded rest spots, secondary streets and plazas to handle more than 250,000 fun-seekers.

One huge theater-restaurant alone will have seats for 5,000. Another music auditorium will seat 2,500. An amphitheater to contain huge crowds will be built by the state of New York at a cost of $1,500,000; erected at the head of one of the lakes it will be the scene of operas, aquatic exhibitions, pageants and other extravaganzas.

The visitor to the Fair will walk about two miles merely to pass through the amusement section which will be laid out in the form of an oval loop with no "dead end" streets. The 250-acre tract will be divided into at least thirteen villages or zones and every concession will conform in design and atmosphere to the particular zone in which it is located.

Your Mileage Merchant Advises...

Try to have the two cars slightly "staggered"—not exactly in line with each other. This often helps if bumpers lock, especially when the car with its bumper below can reach a drain or similar depression. Another way is for the car with its bumper on top to get up on a curb or "hump." That's all "just in case."

Now ask the poor fellow who wants your help to get into HIGH—keeping his clutch pedal down—letting it back gradually only after you get his car under way.

Push with your LOW gear. That's easiest on your car... for half a block. Then if the other fellow's car hasn't started, have him get into neutral and push him up to a nearby Mileage Merchant for Special Winter Blend Conoco Bronze like yours. That can't help but get him started... Then the way to dodge further battery trouble, dangerous oil dilution—and embarrassment—is to get sure-starting Conoco Bronze all winter! Continental Oil Co.

The birds that were singing last week, when I wrote, are silent today. Perhaps they are hovering on the south side of a tree. It is raining, sleet and snowing now, but probably by the time this is printed it will be pretty weather again.

Do you know of some kind of fruit trees that are immune to frost? That's the kind we need down here. I am afraid that most of the fruit is killed. Maybe the trees will go dormant again and bloom out anew in the spring.

But old man winter has hit again. A good rain fell Wednesday and Thursday. The temperature dropped a little below freezing Thursday night and it has been real cold since. Sunday night and Monday the rain turned to sleet.

Dalton—Cornelius

One of the simplest and loveliest home weddings ever witnessed, took place in a living room made into a veritable bower of ferns. Here the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Dalton, to Mr. Wayne Cornelius was solemnized at 2 o'clock p. m. Saturday, February 19. A rich and dignified background for the wedding party was the altar arrangement. A large mirror was garlanded with greenery and flanked by formosa pines and palms, which made an aisle extending almost to french doors, where stood tall white baskets of flowers. Floor canelabra in which burning pink candles shone softly on the scene.

Rev. Homer Starnes of Brooksmith officiated at the ring ceremony, prior to which "At dawning" was sung softly and beautifully by Mrs. Homer Starnes, aunt of the bride, accompanied by Miss Merle Stages of Brownwood. Miss Lillian Summy played the wedding processional, and continued playing softly through the ceremony.

Four junior bridesmaids, Sara Starnes, Dorothy Patterson, Emily Starnes, and Gerry Collier, gowned in bouffant frocks of taffeta in pastel colors, and carrying colonial nosegays of yellow daffodils, held satin streamers of white ribbon, outlining the aisle up which the flower girl, Nancy Lou Stovall, also in pastel taffeta, preceded the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a sea mist crepe gown, draped with Venise lace in self color and fastened at the throat by a single antique ornament, which was worn a century ago by some ancestress. Her bouquet was Columbia roses showered with statice.

She was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Richard Burgess of Fort Worth, matron of honor, who wore dusty pink crepe and carried an arm bouquet of pink snap dragons. Miss Virginia Bowman, maid of honor, wore rose beige and carried a bouquet of apricot stocks. Mr. Carlos Patterson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Mrs. Grover Dalton, mother of the bride, wore a modish costume of ruby rose crepe with corsage of rose snap dragons. The grandmother, Mrs. G. H. Dalton, print crepe with corsage of violets.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home. Pastel flowers in pink and yellow, were used in decorating. A satin damask cloth covered the table in the center of which a mirrored plaque reflected an oblong container of white narcissi, yellow daffodils, and pink snap dragons. Pink tapers burned in crystal holders at each side. At one end a punch bowl stood and at the other the tiered wedding cake wreathed in pink roses and topped with a maline tied arch in the center of which hung a white wedding bell. Mrs. Fayette Collier presided at the cake and Mrs. Garland Barrett of Brownwood served punch.

Miss Catherine Fairman presided at the bride's book. As the couple left on their wedding trip, Mrs. Cornelius was wearing a three-piece suit of imported angora in buff and terra cotta, made tuxedo style. Her accessories were of british tan.

The bride studied at Howard Payne College and Southwest Texas Teachers College. The groom was a student of Howard Payne College and at present has a position with Saylor Chevrolet Company.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stovall, Hamilton, Mrs. R. M. Burgess, Jr., of Fort Worth, Mrs. L. C. Pitts and daughters of Georgetown, and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Barrett and children and Miss Merle Stages of Brownwood.

The President's Birthday celebrations, recently successful throughout the nation, were to aid victims of infantile paralysis only. The Spring campaign of the Society for Crippled Children is to raise money for children accidentally crippled, crippled by disease, or crippled from birth. The money will go to aid unfortunate children with club feet or cleft palates as well as those deformed through infantile paralysis or similar diseases.

FOR ADEQUATE NATIONAL DEFENSE

It is evident from the controversy now raging over the administration's national defense program that there is wide diversity of opinion as to what constitutes adequate national defense.

On the other hand, opponents of the administration program point out that experts are virtually unanimous in declaring that no foreign nation or group of nations is powerful enough to land troops on American shores in sufficient numbers to accomplish any military aim.

It was the former view that drove America to war with Germany in 1917. We were not attacked, but we had good reason to believe that without our assistance the Allies would be defeated.

Aside from a few pacifists and a sprinkling of subversive propagandists, all Americans now desire security for this nation. The question at issue is whether or not a big navy will give security and whether the same end may be achieved in a less expensive manner.

Our opinion, after a careful study of both sides, is that adequate security may be achieved at far less cost and with less provocation to other nations by building up the United States Army and maintaining the Navy at its present level of size and efficiency.

At the outset, we must abandon all claims to extra-territorial rights in China and must resign ourselves to seeing Japan eventually absorb the Philippines. Furthermore, we must relinquish the Monroe Doctrine so far as it applies to South America.

These concessions are not as drastic as they first appear. In the event of a war in which the United States were not the aggressor, we would eventually be forced to withdraw to this zone, possibly maintaining a precarious foothold in Hawaii.

Having thus reduced the zone of action for our navy from one-half to one-third of the Pacific Ocean and an undetermined sector of the South Atlantic to that of the actual coast line of the United States, it is obvious that our present navy, efficiently maintained, should suffice.

"But," object the Big Navy advocates, "this would make it possible for enemy fleets to approach within easy raiding distance of our coast cities. Los Angeles and San Francisco might be shelled in a hit and run attack."

But such raids have no decisive bearing on the outcome of the war. Even in such weak-willed people as the Chinese, they arouse the will to resist. The World War amply proved that no matter how much a position might be shelled or bombed, if it could not be taken and held, the effort was virtually wasted.

America does need defense forces along its coasts. It needs pursuit planes to attack and drive off raiding bombers. It needs fixed and mobile anti-aircraft batteries for the same purpose. And it needs a unified system of military roads over which to maneuver the new high speed implements of land warfare which the Army is gradually acquiring.

Today the standing Army of the United States is approximately only one-tenth that of Soviet Russia and one-seventh that of Japan. Its available equipment and armament is in approximately the same ratio.

While this increase would cost far less than the proposed naval building, it would return far more benefits to the homeland. The pay of the additional officers and men would be spent in the United States, and not in ports of call here, there and everywhere.

In fact, an adequately retrained and equipped Army could perform most of the economically sound functions of the CCC, WPA, and NYA and at the same time develop an effective fighting arm. We are well aware that the professional soldier has a decided aversion to his troops doing anything but train and fight.

There is also a decided and increasing aversion on the part of American taxpayers towards the squandering of public money without adequate returns. A compromise which would permit the rotation of training and useful public work by a newly recruited, civilian army under military discipline should prove of incalculable benefit to our system of national defense.

The United States does not require a Navy equal to that of Great Britain with her vast and far flung empire. It does not require a standing army so large as to be restless for war. It does need protection, and a large, dual function army such as we have described, seem most adequately to meet this demand.

HERITAGE OF NAMES

Most Texans have heard that their own state is named after an Indian word meaning friends or allies, but few may know that twenty-four states in the union have names derived from Indian words.

Laughing Around the World

The Fabian Policy

By IRVIN S. COBB

THE other day somebody told me a story of a man under sentence of death to whom the jailer came with the word that he might follow any congressional session he pleased during the time which would elapse before the fatal date.

The situation having been made clear, the messenger awaited the captive's decision.

"Well, old man," he said finally, "what is it you want to do?" "I think," said the prisoner, "I'd like to learn Chinese."

The hearing of this story reminded me of another—a blood brother to it—which was current in Tennessee years ago.

One chilly evening in the early part of March the sheriff entered the county jail and addressing the colored person who occupied the strongest cell, said:

"Gabe, you know that under the law my duty requires me to take you out of here tomorrow and hang you. So I've come to tell you that I want to make your final hours on earth as easy as possible. For your last breakfast you can have anything to eat that you want and as much of it as you want. What do you think you'd like to have?"

"Mr. Lukins," he said, "I b'lieves I'd lak to have a nice worter-melon."

"But watermelons won't be ripe for four or five months yet," said the sheriff.

"Well, suh," said Gabe, "I kin wait."

But Only Spain Pays

A tale whose terror grows with each recounting is being told over again in Spain. The war has taken to the air with greater vigor than at any time in the seventeen months of its tragic history. Civilians behind the lines, more than the men at the front, are paying the price.

Benefactor of Mankind

Ira M. Hicks, who died in Chicago two weeks ago, had no huge fortune to bequeath to science, but he had an unusual brain. So he gave that to Chicago university and a Temple, Texas, Clinic. His bequest contains a little lesson in consideration for others from which many of us might profit.

WHERE BELLHOPS THRIVE

Among the quotable figures that might come in handy when visiting relatives are around are those concerning the hotel business. Texas alone has 1,724 of the 28,822 hotels in the U. S., ranking as the seventh state in the amount of receipts in 1935.

On Our Way

Many persons have been led to believe that the Federal government trimmed expenditures during the past year. Such is decidedly not the case. Expenditures have risen steadily (exclusive of the Veterans' bonus in 1936) for the nine year period.

Take for instance the regular operating expenditures of the Federal government which include legislative, judicial and civil establishments. They rose from $637,000,000 in 1933 to $814,000,000 in 1937. Likewise consider for a moment Public Works, which includes such items as public highways, reclamation, flood control, public buildings, etc. This rose without halt from $458,000,000 in 1933 to over $1,000,000,000 in 1937.

And there is a popular belief that relief spending was recently rigidly curtailed. Yet official financial statements show that from 1933 to 1937, expenditures for unemployment relief, which includes direct relief, work relief, and the Civilian Conservation Corps, also rose without halt from $359,000,000 to $2,466,000,000. If you do not believe these figures, take a look at the total estimated Federal debt for the end of fiscal 1937—$38,528,000,000. Compare this to the total debt in 1931—$16,801,000,000. It takes no mathematical genius to see where the country is headed. And at the rate we are going, it won't take long to get there.—Industrial News Review.

MEASURING A MAN

LESSON TEXT—Mark 16:7-11. GOLDEN TEXT—Matthew 12:12. PRIMARY TOPIC—A Man of more value than gold.

Awful is the scene that we go with our Lord to the sea of Galilee and the shore of the country Gadarenes. Distressing words is the plight of the demons of Satan, the assurance that Christ is the devil and his hosts, and the disappointing men as they brother's spiritual need and personal gain.

The same mighty words of the two great spirits of good and evil. God goes on in our day. It is still "greater" in the world. It is the truth that we choose what is a attitude toward the world, specially toward the Christ.

I. The Power of Satan

Foolish men solemnly boldly about Satan as were only a weakling, but a creature of legend. The devil who is in operates through its, or demons. They where active, and it is Scripture that they are body through which the tion. Demon-possession, so common in our day, exists, especially in a field. There are some that the almost unbending and brain-wielding gangsters is as a demagogical control.

Spiritism is another which seems to be a of demons. It is evoked together a fraud, but simulation of the dead who are the familiar diums. Christian people have nothing to do with others imperil themselves such contact.

The text graphically what becomes of a person who has gotten into the zone of Satan. It is a dark picture known to us of year of 1938. But, the is a way of deliverance.

II. The Victory of Jesus

The command of Jesus preceded the demons (v. 7). Notice those who hated our Lord doubts about His deity. He knew Him. It is that many voices His deity come from the professor's chair, radio, in the name of the demons knew Him for though they adjured torment them, they must obey His "come out of the asked permission to torment the owners. The came to see what he saw the demons clothed and in his right they greatly rejoiced the name of the Lord (v. 15), "and they him to depart" (v. 18).

Why were they so sons are suggested, place that would interest business. Swine value in their sight tion of demon-possession. Such are the men who buildings for tavern halls because they Akin to them are those against the expenditure to keep the church school operating, and ing of missionaries into unto harvest.

A tract entitled "The pertinent and search "Suppose I were offering every soul I led to that impel me to do now do because of the love of Christ?"

Another reason for that they did not were turbid in their state somnolence. Someone the reason the church does not have a because it doesn't want fires began to burn would have to be worldliness would have away, the pursuit of Piggy Wiggly have to be set aside sought souls. Our able "churchianity" ruined. Well, is it may God forgive us, begin the revival in us, begin, Lord, in me!

San Saba

The annual meeting of officers stockholders and members of the Production Credit Association which met here Monday and held its business meeting in the district court room had some two hundred stockmen and farmers in attendance.

There are eight counties in this district: San Saba, Llano, Mason, McCulloch, Lampasas, Burnet, Gillespie and Mills. The directors of the association are: J. T. Epperson of Llano; H. D. Braley of Fife; J. H. Smith of Lohn; Ed Young of Lampasas; and W. R. Payne of San Saba.

Petitions are being circulated in San Saba County, asking the commissioners' court to call an election on a $182,000 bond issue as the first step toward getting the right-of-way and improving Highway No. 74 east and west across the county.

San Saba County and her neighbor, Llano County, are two of the few counties in all West Texas, as well as the entire state, having not a single mile of paving.

John Burleson of Lubbock was visiting in San Saba Wednesday morning. Mr. Burleson is an old-timer in San Saba and Goldthwaite. He established the first livery stable in Goldthwaite and carried the mail between the towns, and was just passing through, meeting old friends, having left here in the '80's and not being back since. He was in a new Lincoln Zephyr and his grandson, John Gibbs, was acting as chauffeur. Mr. Gibbs is also of Lubbock, and is vacationing. It was his first visit to this part of Texas and he and his grandfather were enjoying the trip.

Five victims of appendicitis among San Saba's population were taken to hospitals last week. These are: County Supt. E. G. Hillman, operated on in Temple; Constance Moore, Coleman Hospital; Jane Carter, Brady; Mrs. James F. Clark, Temple; and Evelyn Grumbles, Temple.

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. Bad kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Miss Evelyn Kauhs

Miss Evelyn Kauhs, affectionately known as "Vangie," was born in Spicewood, Texas, on May 14, 1896. While she was a young girl, her family came to the vicinity of Goldthwaite, which has been their home ever since.

Miss Kauhs obtained her nursing training at Scott and White Hospital in Temple. Before going to Borger in 1926, she nursed at Breckenridge. During her twelve years at Borger, she won many friends and was loved by all classes. The Borger Times paid the following tribute to Miss Kauhs: "The popularity of the quiet, unassuming nurse was proved when hospital attendants reported their telephones jangling constantly through the days before her death, to inquire of her condition. Many of the calls were from patients Miss Kauhs had nursed from serious illnesses back to health."

She is survived by four sisters: Gertrude, Eula and Mrs. Edna Shaw, all of Goldthwaite, and Mrs. Augusta Wiedbush of Indian Gap, Texas. Five brothers: Ernest, Fritz, Julius, August and Carl, all of Goldthwaite, also survive.

If we measure life by years, then Miss Kauhs was not allowed the normal measure of life. But, if we measure life by the standards of measurement that Christ used, then her life was worthwhile indeed. One of these measures of life was "love thy neighbor as thyself." Miss Kauhs loved to the point of sacrifice. No one can really render an acceptable service as a nurse without a real love for humanity that needs the expert and kindly ministrations that the great army of nurses give day by day.

Another measure of life is service. Christ said that the greatest in the kingdom would be the greatest servant. Here again, Miss Kauhs' life measures high. Doubtless there were many times when her love for suffering humanity made her go the "second mile" in order to render a needy service to some suffering patient. Though the measure of her life was short in years, yet the measure of her life from the standpoint of love and service is great indeed. Christ said to those on his right hand, "Inasmuch as ye have done it to the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," and they entered in because they had believed and loved and served.

Mrs. M. L. Casbeer, our faithful correspondent from South Bennett, was operated on in a Fort Worth hospital on last Thursday, February 17, for the removal of her appendix and a tumor. She stood the operation well and Mr. Casbeer returned home Tuesday morning and reported her recovering nicely. However, she will have to remain in the hospital for some time yet.

Mrs. F. P. Bowman and party who attended the Intercollegiate Debate in Temple Wednesday, returned by way of Georgetown and visited a short while with the J. E. Peck family.

Mrs. Julia A. Templin

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia A. Templin, 85, pioneer resident of Mills County, who died in Brownwood, Friday morning at 1 o'clock, were conducted Saturday afternoon in the Methodist Church at Mullin, at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Chester Wilkerson, pastor of Methodist Church at Blanket, officiating. Burial was in Mullin Cemetery, by the side of her husband, Rev. G. W. Templin, who passed away in 1917.

Mrs. Templin was born November 23, 1852, in Knoxville, Tennessee. She was married to the Rev. G. W. Templin in October, 1870, and came to Texas in 1871, settling at Star, Mills County. Later they moved to Mullin, then to Goldthwaite, where Bro. Templin was elected to the office of County Treasurer, which office he held for four years.

The family lived here for about seven years, before returning to Mullin. Rev. Templin and his wife were both much loved members of the Methodist Church, and of the highest type Christian characters. Rev. Templin was a Methodist minister for a long period of years, until the loss of his voice forced his retirement, and during his years as a minister, his splendid wife aided him in work in every possible way.

Soon after the family returned to Mullin the oldest son, Elmer, of Marble Falls, was called in death, just three years before Rev. Templin died.

Mrs. Templin has made her home with her children since his death, spending part of her time with each child.

She is survived by the following children: Mrs. J. Z. McAllister, Manor; Mrs. A. J. Cokrum, Goldthwaite; Mrs. R. H. Coker, Wellington; Mrs. Dan Heubner, Manor; J. M. Templin, Elmout, California; J. B. Templin, Brownwood; George Templin, Austin; and Sam Templin, Galveston. Twenty-six grandchildren, 25 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild also survive.

Jones of the Regency community, passed away at his home on Tuesday, Feb. 22 and his remains were laid to rest in the Regency Cemetery on Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a large group of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Mr. Jones, who was 77 years old, had lived in that same community for 74 years.

He is survived by his wife and several children.
