FFA Boys Rank High In Judging Contests

This chapter, as a whole, is proud of its judging teams that went to Stephenville last Saturday to compete in the Area IV judging contests.

Goldthwaite was represented by three judging teams, composed of the following boys: Livestock judging—Ellis Mahan, Walter Carroll and Duren Kerby, with Sterling Barton and Woody Harper as alternates. Sterling Barton was distinguished as the third high man in the judging of sheep, hogs, horses and fat cattle combined and first in the hog division.

Dairy judging—Sam Graves, Wilbur Hill and George Ballard, with Rex Collier and Glynn Collier as alternates. These boys, unfortunately did not receive any award, but did get some valuable information. However, there were about sixty teams entered, so the boys had some very stiff competition.

Grain judging—Hubert Shaw, Loyd Ervin and J. T. Soules with John Bowman as alternate. This team won tenth place.

Loyd Ervin won fourth place in the individual list of this contest.

On Monday, April 18, the Grain and Livestock judging teams will go to A&M College to compete in the state contest.

Santa Fe to Drop Day Trains Sunday

For the first time in the memory of most citizens here, Goldthwaite will have only one passenger train each way a day beginning next Sunday.

The two motor trains, Nos. 73 and 74, known locally as the doodlebug or dinky, will be discontinued after running since January 11, 1937. Before that these trains had run at night.

The petition of the railroad company was approved by the Texas railroad commission after a hearing in Temple on April 1. The company declared that less than 10 passengers a day were riding the train, and it was losing $24,000 a year.

Other retrenchment steps of the railroad include a reduction to a five-day week for section crews, the dropping of a number of section hands, and reducing local freight service for this division to every other day.

MOM SAYS THAT'S MORE'N IT COSTS TO RUN OUR 'LECTROLUX!

Less than the cost of your Daily Newspaper

PROOF... What Owners All Over West Texas Say ...

Do I think my Servel Electrolux is an investment? I think it is the best investment I have ever made, and I don't see how I ever got along before I purchased it. I am sure that I have already saved more than the purchase price of the refrigerator.

Food, that either had to be disposed of daily, or had deteriorated, making it unfit for use, now keeps perfectly safe until used. Of course this is due to the fact that Servel Electrolux can be depended upon to keep food safe in an unvaried temperature. Food and vegetables retain their fresh crispness and can be bought in quantities, which certainly is a saving. The operating cost is the least I know of in a mechanical operated refrigerator. The fact that the mechanism is silent makes Electrolux "tops" with me. So I think my investment is paying big dividends when I think of the food I save, and at the same time am safeguarding the health of my family by saving food perfectly preserved by my Servel Electrolux.

MRS. FRANK COX, Antelope, Texas.

When you buy an Electrolux your problem of keeping food is over, also your worries as the cost of operation is so small compared with old time ice bills ... An Electrolux makes life worth living ... Of all things bought for the home for convenience, I prize my Electrolux most highly.

MRS. PAUL BEARDEN, Decatur, Texas.

There are two reasons why this is true:

(1) Servel Electrolux costs so little to operate.

(2) Its freezing unit has no moving parts.

That is what makes it the different refrigerator—different from all others. No moving parts to wear, to give trouble, to make noise. It is as silent as Nature freezing ice. A tiny gas or kerosene flame takes the place of all machinery.

And that's why you don't "buy" a Servel Electrolux — it's an investment. One that actually pays you dividends, throughout the years. A small down payment will put it in your home—why not TODAY?

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC

Some cattle owners figure grazing problems with a pencil that is too short. For example if a certain pasture would produce 78,000 pounds of beef, a 90 per cent calf crop, and a 400-pound calf at eight months when stocked with 78 head of cattle, some would figure that 116 head of cattle on the same grass would produce approximately half again as much beef and calves.

Over in New Mexico the State Experiment station tried it out. Instead of a 50 per cent increase all along the line, they found that the same amount of grass produced only 9800 pounds of beef, a 35 per cent calf crop and a 280 pound calf at eight months.

Even increasing the number of cattle only 9 head to a total of 87 brought about a marked decrease in production with only 21,960 pounds of beef, a 70 per cent calf crop and a 40 pound lighter calf at the end of eight months.

Every man who is raising stock is raising it for a profit. These tests indicate pretty conclusively that over-stocking leads promptly to a loss.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Spring clean-up week, which is an annual observance in thousands of American communities and should be in all of them, is now on. The week was started primarily as a beautifying movement—old shacks are torn down, vacant lots are cleaned of debris, homes are painted, grass-grown fields are cut and the harvest burned. It's amazing how little is needed in many cases to change a squalid street to one that is pleasant and charming to the eye.

Furthermore, something other than a better looking town results from a clean-up week that is loyally and enthusiastically supported by all citizens. For a sound, thorough clean-up process is one of the best possible ways of getting rid of fire hazards. A town which rids itself of old, unused buildings, and which does away with litter and grass-ridden lots, becomes a far safer place in which to live and work.

Clean-up week should not stop at exteriors. Everyone should go through his home inside as well as out in search of fire dangers. A congested attic or basement, filled with ancient magazines and broken furniture and clothes that will never be used again, is the perfect starting place for a blaze. Frayed or amateurishly repaired light cords, improperly stored inflammable liquids, dirty or worn heating units—from such things as these come fires that destroy hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property and thousands of lives.

Every town should make this year's clean-up week the most thorough in its history. It's an easy job, if everyone does his bit to help. And it will pay big dividends, in beauty, safety and cash.

THE FARMERS' BEST FRIEND

The best friend of the farmer is the insect-eating bird, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The economic value of birds is most evident on the farm and should be most appreciated here. Birds thread thorough garden and field crops, inspect the orchards, explore ornamental shrubbery and clamber over saplings and trees of the woods, clearing insects wherever they go. Many of these insects are so destructive that the farmer, in his constant fight for pest control, should regard the feathered allies as among his greatest friends.

Last year, insects destroyed $1,590,000,000 of produce in the United States. Birds destroy annually one-third of all insects in America, or an actual saving of approximately $530,000,000.

All birds are worthwhile, except possibly the crow, and the sharp-shinned, blue darter, and cooper hawks. For real enjoyment, and to complete the happiness of rural life, the cheery call of the bob-white quail at day break or dusk is without equal. This clean-living little fellow, whose diet consists of over 50 per cent noxious weed and grass seeds, not to mention his love for the more dangerous weevils and hoppers, ranges through a list of foods worthless to man. To the sportsman, he is without parallel. All this hearty little fellow asks is clean water, escape covers and grassy fence rows. Your eroded and waste land planted to shrubs, bunch grasses, and food plantings will serve as his nesting

Laughing Around the World

The Retort Direct

By IRVIN S. COBB

A NEW YORKER, who does a good deal of unnecessary galavanting around the country, chasing up history on the back roads, once found himself paradoxically lost in the sticks of New Brunswick. Several well intentioned natives steered him toward Government roads, but in the end he lost his intellectual compass, so to speak, and brought up in a strange section which was utterly without sign boards. He hailed a yokel who was trudging along the highway.

"What place is this?"
"I dunno."
"Where does this road lead to?"
"I dunno."
"How can I get out of here?"
"I dunno."
"Well what in blazes do you know?"
"Well—I know I ain't lost."
The New Yorker insisted on shaking hands.

Drinking Water Must Be Pure

Constant supervision over public and private drinking water supplies by trained technicians of the State Department of Health is an essential part of the State's program to rid Texas of communicable diseases, says the state health officer.

This necessary work goes on quietly but effectively in every part of Texas. Sanitary engineers are concerned not only with the purity of water supplies for towns and cities but on farms and rural communities as well. Our problem here is the entire water shed from which the water supply is drawn and water is investigated for possible contamination from the time it reaches the water shed until it is consumed.

Through this work we hope to control diseases such as malaria typhoid, typhus and yellow fever, and dysentery. The inspection of water supplies for schools is, of course, an important part of the work of the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, and this division of the Health Department has done a splendid work in helping protect child and public health generally in Texas.

Stop—do not drink that water, consider for a moment, it is pure? It may be clear, germs of dysentery and typhoid will not cloud it, the taste may be all right but is it pure? Think for just a moment whether this water has been protected from its fall from the clouds to the moment it entered this glass.

Day by day a trained staff of engineers from the State Health Department are advising and assisting in the building of safeguards for your water whether it is drawn from a faucet in the city or the well on the farm. This work is extensive and intensive requiring great vigilance.

The sanitary engineer is interested in the whole watershed from which the water supply is drawn, he examines it for sources of contamination, he follows down the watercourse to see if domestic and industrial wastes enter it. The water plant is then studied for proper design, capacity, and treatment of this necessity of life. Even the distribution system is checked and special attention is given the plumbing, which, if of improper type, may completely nullify thousands of dollars spent in securing pure water for distribution.

The well is studied for source of its supply its location for the possibility of surface contamination. Samples are analyzed and full suggestions are given free for protection of the water.

Personnel of this division devote a considerable portion of their time to schools and their water and sewage systems so the child is protected at all time. Even the water in swimming pools comes under the watchful eye of this group.

Texas Tax Eaters Enjoy 546,000 Meals

The State of Texas during the last fiscal year paid traveling expenses for employees totaling the equivalent of 600 tours around the world.

In hotel expenditures is expended enough to furnish room for a single employee for 300 years.

Approximately 546,000 meals were bought at State expense, enough to last a single man 500 years providing three meals a day.

These figures were revealed in the consolidated expense account of the State, compiled by Comptroller George H. Sheppard, for the fiscal year that ended last September 1.

The total travel expense for all State officials and employees was $1,344,315.

Following is the tabulated bill for the 12 months period on which the State paid out the money:

Table with 2 columns: Category, Amount. Includes Fares ($54,515), Mileage paid car owners (773,302), Hotel (224,693), Meals (268,287), Other expenses (23,518), Total ($1,344,315).

The report did not include the daily subsistence allowance of Texas Rangers which amounted to $27,000 for the year.—Austin Times.

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest

Wild Flowers In Bloom

The prairies and forests of Texas are rich in beauty now. An early spring has caused the trees to take on their green coats and a carpet of luxuriant grass is spread over the plains. In the woods of East Texas the beautiful dogwood and magnolia trees are in bloom and violets are to be found everywhere. A drive on paved highways thru the East Texas forests, with perhaps a picnic lunch spread on the ground in some attractive spot, is a fine way to enjoy this outdoor beauty.

Texas bluebonnets, Indian paintbrush and other beautiful wild flowers are blooming in profusion on Central and South Texas prairies. There are any number of routes the motorist may follow to drink in the beauty of the Texas landscapes. One loop recommended is from Houston to Rosenberg, to Bellville and Brenham, and thence back to Houston through Hempstead.

Picking wild flowers along the highways is prohibited by law, as the Texas highway department warns. But since patrolmen can not be everywhere at once enforcement of this law is in the hands of each individual flower lover. The person who pulls up bluebonnets deprives many thousands of others of the pleasure of seeing them and reduces the quantity of seed available for next year's volunteer crop.

The highway department and numerous garden clubs are carrying forward programs of highway beautification in which all Texans. The beauty of our wild flowers is an asset which should be cherished and protected by every Texan.—Houston Chronicle.

The Lieutenant Governor

The current campaign of candidates for the Lieutenant Governorship promises to attract almost as much attention as the prospective rough and tumble race for the Governorship. Not only are there several candidates seeking the office, but many questions involved in the campaign for the Lieutenant Governorship will be brought to the forefront of the people's thinking, and there likely will be no scarcity of spectacular personalities in the campaigning of the next few months.

The Lieutenant Governor actually has more power in shaping legislation than does the Governor, although he does not always elect to use it. He can influence the progress of all the Senate's work, and the bicameral legislative system thus makes it possible for him to influence the work of both houses since there must be agreement between two legislative branches before any measure can finally be passed. The indications are that several of those now seeking to become Lieutenant Governor, would use all the authority available if elected, and for this reason the field of candidates should be given more careful consideration than is usually accorded those seeking this much-underestimated office.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Toward Better Driving

The system of printed warning tickets, hereafter to be issued by members of the police department to motor car drivers for minor traffic law infringements, should contribute to the comfort as well as the safety of driving on the streets of Kansas City.

Most of the violations described as "minor" are relatively unimportant as the immediate cause of accidents. Thus an analysis prepared by the National Safety Council shows that slightly less than 2 per cent of some 24,000 fatal accidents could be traced to the practice of cutting into a traffic lane or passing another vehicle on a curve or hill, while failure to signal and improper signaling accounted for only 1 per cent. But what annoyance and anxiety such driving habits cause other persons using the streets!

Every driver knows how prevalent are these discourtesies of the road, and the fact that they produce so comparatively few serious accidents must be attributed to the carelessness and skill of other operators of motor cars who are called upon constantly to make allowance for the driver who weaves through traffic, turns from the wrong lane, double parks or otherwise ignores the regulations. If the police, through the issuance of printed admonitions, backed by the threat of more serious measures later, can eliminate some of these harassments, they will have helped to improve our general driving standards as well as to protect our lives.—Kansas City Times.

How Old is Old

"If a man past 50 is killed," writes a reader, "the papers report it with a headline that probably says, 'aged Man Killed by Auto'. I am past 50 and I do not consider myself an aged man. At what does a person cross the line separating middle from old age? A newspaper writer replies: "for any person who has passed his 50th birthday, old age will not begin until after his 60th. When he reaches 60, it is put off again." This tendency strengthens nowadays, compared with the traditional attitude toward age. Men and women past 50 used to acknowledge they were old. Shakespeare wrote of himself as old when he was in his early forties. Why the changed attitude now? Partly it is because people, on the average, live much longer than they used to and retain their health, as a result of more hygienic living and better medical service. Partly, perhaps, it comes from discarding beards and long hair, which made men and women old and venerable before their time. Largely, though, we may feel younger, and act younger, and look younger, because we have adopted a Cult of Youth. We might almost call it a religion.—Hamilton Herald-Record.

Intemperance

Those men who destroy a healthful constitution of body by intemperance and an irregular life, do as manifestly kill themselves, as those who hang, or poison, or drown themselves.—Sherlock.

Edgar E. Furr of Goldthwaite will preach here at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, April 17. Everybody is cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. S. L. Singleton, who has been at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hubert McMullen, at San Angelo since the 16th of January returned home Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. McMullen brought her in their car and stayed with her until Sunday evening. She seems to be doing fine, though not able to be up all the time yet.

All the neighbors as well as the family rejoice to see Mrs. Singleton able to return to her home. Her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Griffin, and other members of the family had her house all cleaned and partly repapered for her. Her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ab Singleton and daughters, Janie and Jenave, came over from Goldthwaite to be at the happy homecoming. Her granddaughter, Jenave is staying with her to do the house-keeping for her.

After an absence of several weeks, Dr. and Mrs. May are in the community again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Clements visited in this community Sunday. They are living for the present at the old Hooper home at Indian Creek.

The Stork was very generous to this community this past week. He left three babies: To Mr. and Mrs. Mose Smith a daughter, Patsy Faye, born Tuesday, March 29; to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Perkins, a son, Ronald Averitt, born Tuesday, March 29; to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds, a daughter, born Sunday, April 3.

Pasteurization of Milk Recommended

NEW YORK, April 4.—Pasteurization of all milk intended for human consumption has been recommended by a group of scientists representing the Health Organization of the League of Nations.

The report just received here by the Milk Industry Foundation covers nutritional, hygienic, economic and social aspects of the milk problem and corroborates American health authorities' recommendations on pasteurization.

"No raw milk can ever be regarded as completely safe for human consumption," the report states. "Even if produced from healthy animals, milk is so subject to contamination from human and other sources that it must always be regarded in the raw state as a potentially dangerous article of food."

"The only satisfactory method of ensuring the final safety of the product is to subject it to some form of heat treatment that can be relied upon to destroy any pathogenic organisms that may be present. It is our considered and emphatic opinion that all liquid milk for human consumption should be adequately pasteurized or boiled."

No argument against pasteurization is supported by adequate evidence, the scientific group states.

Children's Home Built in Abilene

ABILENE.—Work is to begin within 30 days on construction of a $250,000 children's home on the southern edge of Abilene under contracts awarded this week by Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Hendrick, who have donated funds for the foundation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendrick have also provided funds for all operating expenses.

The main building, only structure provided in the present bids will consist of three connected sections with an overall length of 417 feet and a maximum breadth of 175 feet.

The home will be located on a 52-acre site south of McMurray College.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendrick have in two years erected a large wing to the Hendrick Memorial Hospital here (formerly the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium) and retired the hospital debt. They also contributed most of the funds for construction of a new Salvation Army citadel.

Evant Fire

After the fire at Evant last week, which destroyed four buildings, merchandise and fixtures of the Henderson and Thompson grocery store were moved from the streets to the Masonic building, joining the Press office, where they are going right on with business.

Contents of the Evant Drug Store were placed in the Manning Garage, where they are engaging in business until the former building is repaired.

The Evant Post Office moved to the Winters Garage immediately after the fire, but is now located in the building between Cole's Cafe and Burney's Tin Shop.

The contents of Cole's Cafe were placed back in the same cafe building and business was resumed immediately.

Damages from the fire were estimated at $5,000.—Four County Press.

WHO, WHEN, WHERE?

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?
 Or a key for a lock of hair?
 Can his eyes be called an academy, because there are pupils there?
 Who travels the bridge of his nose?
 Can he use, when he shingles the roof of his mouth?
 The nails on the end of his toes?
 What does he raise from the slaps of his tongue?
 Who plays the drums of his ears?
 And who can tell the cut and style of the coat his stomach wears?
 Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
 And if so, what did it do?
 How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?
 I'll be hanged if I know, do you?—Ex.
