

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, MAY 6, 1938.

NUMBER TWENTY-NINE

Season at Lake

The game fishing season at Lake Mills County is in full swing. A considerable number of anglers are flocking to the fishing club at Lake Mills. The fishing is excellent, but no exceptions have been reported. The weather was blamed for some fish, some of which were reported to be of the bream being members and who have been at the lake. Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Rufus Burleson, E. Milton Stinnett and Mrs. Orville Milton; Hugh McRobert Wolf, H. F. Pinks of Hico; and Walter Wiss, Lou Shedd of

Fourteen members have been added to the FFA and 4-H Club. This brings the total membership up to 75. New members are as follows:

R. E. Lee, Ira Aldredge, Clarence Geeslin, R. N. Miller, J. M. Geeslin, J. B. McCasland, L. T. Arnold, John Walton, J. H. Randolph Lumber Co., Grover Myers, Henry Featherston, D. Hartman, Hern Harris, Mrs. B. E. Dyas.

Methodist Church

Mother's Day has won such a place in the life of today that we strive to honor our mothers in every way possible on that day. And it is fitting indeed, that we do so.

There is much truth in the statement that "the hand that rocks the cradle, rules the world."

At our services Sunday, we will do special honor to the mothers. Let us urge every family to attend the services and thus do honor to our mothers in the finest possible way.

All the regular services will be held Sunday.

Merry Wives Club

Closing its season's activities, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gilliam, Jr., entertained the Merry Wives Club, Monday, May 2, at the former's home.

The game rooms were artistically decorated with snap dragons and larkspur.

At the beginning of the games, each guest was given a slip of paper which contained the name of a movie star. Each in turn impersonated his chosen star.

Awards in games were received by Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Saylor for club members and Mr. and Mrs. Slyvan Cloninger for guests.

A delicious salad plate was served to the following members and guests: Messrs. and Mesdames, C. M. Burch, Marvin Hodges, Tom Toland, D. Albert Trent, Kelly Saylor, Walter Fairman, Raymond Little, Sylvan Cloninger, Owen Clements, and Hugh McCullough of Hico.—Reporter.

Library Notes

Special thanks are due Travis Meeks for the many good books he has contributed to the Mills County Library. In addition to a number already presented, he last week added the following: "A Raw Youth," Dostoevsky; "Adventures in Contentment," Grayson; "Migrations," Scott; "White Shadows in the South Seas," O'Brien; and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," Stevenson.

U. S. Army Engineers Due in San Saba Soon

A group of United States Army engineers are expected to arrive in San Saba within the next few days to start surveys along the Colorado and San Saba River watersheds and their tributaries, with a view to building dams and conserving soil and water. The engineers will be in this district for several months.

High Winds Tuesday Cause Alarm

Many families scurried to stormhouses for shelter Tuesday night when the south wind which had been blowing hard all day assumed gale proportions. A rain varying from 1-4 to 1-2 inch fell during the storm.

No material damage was reported in Goldthwaite but several chicken houses were blown down at Priddy. Recent rains have made everything grow rapidly, especially Johnson grass and weeds. Grain is looking good again.

More FFA and 4-H Club Members

Fourteen members have been added to the FFA and 4-H Club. This brings the total membership up to 75. New members are as follows:

Lions Club Hears Students

With the largest attendance in recent months, the Lions Club met Tuesday evening in the recreation room of the Methodist Church. After a splendid dinner the members were entertained by their four guests, all winners in the recent Interscholastic League district events at Brownwood. John Bowman played two piano numbers, Lester Moreland spoke on the question of taxes, Miss Oleta Henry discussed the unsettled conditions in Europe, and Miss Mamie Lou Womack gave a declamation.

In the business session, a variety of matters came up for discussion including a fence and lights for the football field, the new bridge over the Colorado River, and sidewalks for Goldthwaite with WPA labor.

In order not to conflict with the Methodist District Conference, the next meeting of the Lions will be held on May 24. W. M. Johnson and Sam Sullivan were appointed to arrange the program.

Goldthwaite P.-T. A. Closes Year's Work

The Goldthwaite P.-T. A. closes its year's work with a special birthday program, May 10. This organization has done much good work this school and a good attendance is appreciated at this special program, May 10, at the usual hour.

How many times have you cried for me?
How many tears have you dried for me?
How many days have you worried along?
How many years have you filled with song?
Nobody knows but you, mother dear.

How many times have I hurt your heart?
How many times have we had to part?
How many prayers have you said for me?
How many miles have you walked for me?
Nobody knows but you, mother dear.

How many times will your heart be glad?
How many times will you say of your lad,
"I knew he'd repay me for all of my pain."
I knew that my work would not be in vain."
Nobody knows but you, mother dear.

And so I am giving this day to you,
To cheer you up, make you smile anew.
So that you may know on this sacred day,
That your son is thinking of you and pray
As nobody can but you, mother dear.

Why not go to church Sunday in memory of that precious mother if she has gone, or if she is still with you go to her and go to church with her and make her heart glad on this Mother's Day. The pastor, Rev. Joe M. Tyson, will speak at the morning hour on the subject of mothers using as his theme, "Is It Well." Bring your old mother with you.

Yarboroughs Make Trip

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Yarborough returned Saturday from a trip to North Texas and Oklahoma. After attending to business in Seymour and Wichita Falls, they went over to Temple, Oklahoma and visited Mrs. Yarborough's brother, Floyd Mullan. Mr. Mullan is manager of the furniture department of the B & O store, the biggest country store in the world, and a veritable showplace.

'Ex'es' Whip 1938 Team in Second Annual Tussle

The second annual football game between the team of next season and the team of ex-members of the Goldthwaite High School Eagles ended Wednesday afternoon with the "Has-beens" leading 12 to 0. The old teamsters seemed to have the stronger team, as they carried the ball during the better part of the first part of the first half and part of the second half. Most of the plays attempted by the Eagles were via the aerial route, but the surging line of the graduating team either batted them down or blocked all receivers, as the Eagles completed only two but those for good yardage.

The "Colfax" team, so-called after the college in the senior play a year ago, scored with the last play of the first quarter after a series of line smashes by Captain Clark Davis, and Chas. Hill. Their second counter was recorded when J. D. McKenzie ran 65 yards from a line play. Both of the tries for extra points, first through the line and a pass, were stopped by the Eagles.

A more accurate account of the way the game progressed can be obtained from the following results.

Delegation Saves Transportation Aid

Transportation aid for Mills County schools was cut from $10,248.00 to $6,374.00 by the State Auditor, Flagger Tannery of Austin.

Judge R. J. Gerald, A. H. Smith, Tolbert Patterson and J. O. Swindle were delegates that went to Austin Saturday, April 30 and had a conference with the Auditor.

They succeeded in having practically all the fund restored. The trip was quite worthwhile. There will be a state-wide blanket cut on the fund at a later date.

Contract on the Colorado River bridge is expected to be set for May 24, at Austin.

Several schools in the county have closed.

Art and Civic Club

Mrs. Paul McCullough, as leader, was responsible for a program of unusual interest, when Mrs. John Schooler entertained the Art and Civic Club on Wednesday afternoon, April 27.

With a combination of features, every member and guest entered whole-heartedly into the spirit of club work, feeling deeply the sentiment of the past motto, "Law, Harmony and Truth."

This brought to a fitting close the very pleasant and profitable administration of 1937-38.

A tinge of sadness was evident on account of the place made vacant by the passing away of Mrs. M. Y. Stokes, Jr., who had been a loyal member of long standing. Resolutions of sympathy were read to the club. She has gone the way of all men, however, and life with its activities must carry on.

Mrs. Jacob Saylor and Mrs. Jno. Schooler gave brief reports of the district convention they recently attended at Eastland.

For a small art exhibit, each member was asked to bring a treasured piece of art and tell about it. After a secret ballot was taken, Mrs. W. P. McCullough was found to be the prize winner, on her entry of a quilt which was made of home spun materials, beautifully quilted with spun thread. The prize, a lovely angel food cake, was baked and donated by the president, Mrs. C. A. Eacott.

The address of the afternoon was made by the leader on "Art Collecting as a Hobby."

The final and most impressive part of the program was the installation of new officers linked with a short resume of the history of the club, with Mrs. Walter Fairman, a charter member, presiding. The various administrations from 1916 until the present were represented by Mrs. Fred Martin, Miss Lucile Conro, Mesdames Jacob Saylor, Harry Allen, Marvin Hodges, W. P. McCullough, and C. A. Eacott. Each of these, in turn, presented Mrs. Schooler, incoming president, with a blue and white carnation, wishing for her and her corps of officers a most successful administration.

Miniature carnations and pansy corsages were presented the other officers by Mrs. McCullough.

Mrs. Maston Pribble and Mrs. Owen Clements were welcomed as new members.

Guests were Mrs. Lewis Hudson and Mrs. Dow Hudson.

Mrs. Schooler served delicious spring-time refreshments, each plate bearing a midget black parasol as an appropriate favor.—Reporter

Air Mail Week Draws Interest

Indications that Air Mail Week, May 15 to 21, will attract a record amount of air mail are increasing, according to Postmaster M. Y. Stokes, Jr. While it is not considered probable that mail planes can stop in Goldthwaite, arrangements are being made to connect with special mail planes at near-by points to handle the mail that will be collected here. Special stickers for air mail envelopes are being prepared to provide an interesting souvenir of the occasion. Information about them is already being sought by stamp collectors at distant points.

Entertained With Formal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Oran Carothers gave a formal dinner Saturday night, April 30, in honor of Ruby D. Berry who will graduate at Goldthwaite May 27.

Dinner was served at eight-thirty. Lorene Covington and Syble Miller helped Mrs. Carothers serve the dinner.

The table was beautifully decorated with flowers and candles. After dinner several delightful games were played and enjoyed by all. At about eleven o'clock, the guests expressed their appreciation for the enjoyable time made possible by Mr. and Mrs. Carothers.

The following were present: Dealva Virden, Willie Leston Berry, Lee Roy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Miller, Lorene Covington, Syble Miller, Ruby D. Berry and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Carothers.—A Guest.

Self Culture Club

Mrs. J. M. Campbell was hostess to the members of the Self Culture Club in their regular meeting Thursday.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. A. Palmer, Mrs. J. A. Hester presided over a short business session.

The program for the afternoon was on "Music, Drama and Art" and was led by Mrs. E. B. Anderson.

After roll call, interesting papers were read by Mrs. J. H. Saylor and Mrs. J. A. Hester.

A delicious ice course was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Raymond Little.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. J. H. Saylor May 12.

Description of Two New Postage Stamps in the 1938 Series

The Post Office Department at Washington has announced its intention of issuing a complete new series of ordinary postage stamp designs during the current year. The description of two of these has been made public. Others will be announced from time to time.

The 1½ cent stamp:

This stamp was placed on sale in Washington May 5, 1938. It will bear the portrait of Martha Washington, will be the same size of the present 1½ cent stamp and like its predecessor will be brown in color. It will be printed on flat background without border, and the design is arranged vertically. The portrait will be placed in left center of stamp and in upper right-hand corner will be the words: United States Postage, with denomination lettering in modernized Gothic at bottom.

The 1 cent stamp:

The 1 cent stamp was placed on sale at Washington on April 25, 1938. The stamp is the same size as the former 1 cent stamp, and is arranged vertically, will be printed in green, on flat background, with no border. The stamp bears the portrait of Geo. Washington in profile in the left center, facing to the right. Appropriate lettering and figures top and bottom designate the stamp's value.

The 6 cent Air Mail Stamp:

The new 6 cent Air Mail Stamp will be placed on sale May 14 first at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, and Dayton Ohio, as a tribute to the Wright brothers, builders of the first successful airplane and at St. Petersburg, Fla., where the first passenger flight was made. The stamp will be of the usual Special Delivery size, arranged horizontally. The stamp will be printed in bi-color the border in blue and the central design in red, the latter depicting an eagle with out-stretched wings bearing in its talons a shield, an olive wreath, and a bundle of arrows. At the top of the stamp is a panel of conventionalized wing design, divided in the center by a small U. S. Shield.

Mother's Day! One of the year's most appealing days. So we will take due notice of it next Sunday and decoration of the building, songs and sermon will carry that motif. All mothers are invited and all sons and daughters likewise, for each with out the other would make all such celebrations very flat indeed. Come, mothers, to receive honor. Come, children, to give honor.

At 10:00 the Sunday school will have a place for you to study the Scriptures under inviting circumstances. At 11:00 will be the worship. At 7:00 in the evening the B. T. U. will meet. And for the final service of the day at 8:00 will be the evening worship. Earnest effort will be made to minister to every comer in an effective and pleasing fashion.

Cheetah Racing is the Latest Sport Thrill

Cheetah racing—that's the newest thrill for sporting fans. There are dog races, pigeon races, even camel, frog and pig races; and now several cheetahs, which resemble long-legged leopards, are being imported from East Africa to England for racing.

Cheetahs rank among the world's swiftest animals," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. In long distance runs they become winded, but for short dashes of an eighth or a quarter of a mile they can outdistance all other animals. Cheetahs can streak past a horse, outrun a greyhound bounding along at forty-five miles an hour, and can travel two yards to one of the swift Indian antelope.

"Fastest member of the cat family, cheetahs have legs longer and thinner than those of other feline creatures. Their narrow bodies are usually about four feet in length. Their tails add to their grace in running and are believed to help them make sharp turns.

"Related to leopards, and some times called 'hunting leopards,' cheetahs have tawny bodies spotted with black, but the spots are small and round unlike the more varied markings of leopards. They purr like pumas, and sometimes actually chirp like birds. Strangely, these 'cats' have several doglike characteristics. They sit high on their haunches as dogs do, and their claws are only partly retractile, instead of slipping back completely into their sheaths as do claws of cats or lions. They also become docile pets.

"Cheetahs inhabit the open plains of Africa and Southern Asia. Killing them is restricted in Tanganyika. The racing cheetahs enroute to England came from Kenya. Ancient sculptures shows that the Assyrians and Egyptians used the animals in hunting. For centuries, they have been trained in India and Persia to capture antelopes.

"Since young cheetahs cannot be trained to pursue game, only mature specimens are captured. Fierce and hostile at first they are made submissive by the strange procedure of depriving them of food, sleep, and peace. After they have been scolded and teased for some time they become docile as house cats. Frequently they share the beds of their native trainers.

"In India, it has been the custom to take a cheetah hooded and chained in a cart to within about two hundred yards of a herd of antelope. Then the hood is removed, the chain loosed, and the animal streaks across the plain in pursuit of his quarry. Overtaking it, he pulls it down, kills or holds it till the hunters arrive. The cheetah is then given a ladle of the antelope's blood as a reward, after which he is hooded again, and re-chained. If ever loose and disobedient, he will usually return immediately if the keeper merely holds out the wooden ladle.

"When 14th century crusaders returned to Europe, they brought hunting cheetahs back with

Man Who Caught Santa Anna Buried In San Saba Cemetery

The Texas patriot who, 102 years ago captured Santa Anna and marched the haughty emperor before Sam Houston at San Jacinto is buried in the San Saba Cemetery.

He was Siron R. Bostick, at the head of whose grave there is but a modest stone marker. Beside him is the body of his wife.

Both were residents of this city for many years. He came to San Saba in the early days, long before the coming of the railroad. He was not a man of wealth and lived a quiet life, though enjoyed telling friends of the battle in which he had a part and of the battle in which he had a part and of his capture of the Mexican general.

The 44 caliber cap-and-ball pistol, with which he captured Santa Anna, was one of his greatest prizes. For many years the gun was kept in the vault of J. E. Hagan, who acquired it from Decker Bostick, a grandson of the San Jacinto hero.

Dud S. Barker, former Texas Ranger and later a well known West Texas sheriff, later purchased the gun, adding it to his big collection of firearms.

J. D. Estep, pioneer hardware merchant here, recalls that Bostick many times related to him how he captured Santa Anna, and points to Wortham's History of Texas, on page 300, volume 13, to be exact, relating that Bostick was one of a squad of seven men sent by Houston to look for the Mexican leader.—San Saba Star them. Europeans used the animals for hunting for several centuries. In Florence, the Medici ruler, Lorenzo the Magnificent, possessed several. In the chapel of the Medici palace is a mural painted by Benozzo Gozzoli in 1469, which depicts hunting leopards on leash and riding on a horse's haunches."

Health Notes

May is the month when most Texans take a look at the thermometer, make a dive for their bathing suits and hunt the nearest swimming pool or lake. Swimming is a fine sport but it does involve certain hazards. It is tragedy enough to have a drowning accident but far greater tragedy if no one present knows how to save life by artificial respiration.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, advises that the "Prone Pressure Method" is the accepted one for restoring life from drowning. The method involves the following steps:

Place patient down, one arm stretched above the other bent, with face resting on it.

Rescue measures should begin at once and continue rhythmically until natural breathing is established. This may take four or more hours. The procedure is:

1. Kneel, and straddle the patient below the hips, placing hand on small of the back with fingers over the lowest ribs, tips of fingers just out of sight.
 2. With arms straight, while counting one, two, swing forward bearing weight on body firmly, but not violently.
 3. Swing backwards while counting one, straightening up and thus relieving pressure. This allows air to be drawn into the lungs.
 4. Rest in this position for two counts.
 5. Repeat these movements rhythmically, forward and backwards, without interruption, about twelve to fifteen a minute, until natural breathing is restored.
 6. Meanwhile, if assistance is at hand, a physician should be sent for, patient's tight clothing should be loosened at neck, chest or waist, and patient should be kept warm.
- Patient should not be moved from this spot until he is breathing naturally and then should be carried in a lying position to a place where he can be kept warm and receive expert Medical attention.

140-Lb. Gar Caught In Creek At Weimar

There was Sunday school Sunday morning with several present.

Since the two rains last week, the farmers are getting awful far behind with their farm work. The wind will soon dry the ground and they can go right on with their plowing.

Prof. Horace Cooke from Star spent Saturday night and Sunday with his father and Rudolph and family.

Those who had a good time in the Spinks and Western home Saturday night were: Richard Souders and family, R. E. Collier and wife, Rudolph Cooke and family, Ducey Bohannon and wife, J. T. Stark, Adrian Long and family and Eula Nickols. Most everyone played dominoes.

J. T. Robertson was made happy Monday morning when he received a telegram saying his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Henson from Arizona would get here that night. They will also visit with their mother, Mrs. Zona Robertson in Big Valley.

Sunday is Mother's Day as most everyone knows. To those who have a mother, I hope you can be with her for she is the best friend any child ever had. I know because I use to have one it will be a sad day for me as I can't have all of my children and grandchildren and in-laws with me on this Mothers Day like we use to be. There would be a vacant chair and Mothers never change, I guess. In their tender thoughtfulness. All her gentle long life through, she is bent on caring for you, and although you may be grown, she still claims you for her own, and to her you'll always be—just a youngster at her knee.

Sunday will be church day. I don't know whether there will be a Mother's Day program or not. But I feel sure Bro. Wade will preach a good sermon.

Rev. B. F. Renfro preached at China Creek in San Saba County Sunday.

Roth Robertson from Big Valley is plowing his father's corn on his grandfathers place this week.

The little folks play last Friday night in Big Valley was real good. Those who attended the banquet seemed to enjoy it too on Thursday night. Big Valley is really coming to the front believe it or not.

E. D. Robertson and family and his brother, Sherrill, spent Saturday night and Sunday in Lubbock with their parents. They helped to celebrate their father

"Perk up" with PURSANG

Overwork, illness, wrong food, lack of exercise—all collect their toll. Now's the time to get back to normal. Are you feeling discouraged and "run down" these days? It may be because indoor living, worry and overwork have conspired to wear down your resistance—and reduce the iron content of your blood. An iron deficiency can weaken energy and make a man or woman imagine almost everything is wrong when really the condition is not serious. If you are "below par" just start taking Pursang. See how much better you feel in two or three days. Pursang contains iron and copper compounds—effective in increasing hemoglobin, the substance that makes red blood red. At the same time it stimulates appetite and aids digestion. Pursang contains no sugar. Begin your Pursang treatment today!

South Bennett

By Mrs. M. L. Casbeer

We had church services at the school house Saturday night, Sunday morning, afternoon and night with Rev. Kerr of Brownwood doing the preaching at all of the services except the Sunday afternoon service, which Rev. Joe Benningfield of Pleasant Grove had charge. Large crowds attended each service. Rev. Kerr won't be back with us until the first Sunday in August, when our Revival Meeting begins for ten days.

Our dinner on the ground that was announced last week was called off, but the visitors from other places were guests in different homes at the noon hour Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Joe Benningfield and daughter, Rev. Kerr and Mr. Wicker from Caradan were dinner guests in the Morgan Stacy home-Sunday.

Elton Horton and family of Caradan, Elam Horton, Ben Casbeer and J. M. Stacy, Jr., dined with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Featherston, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eckert and son Billie John, visited in the Walter Simpson home after Church, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Faulkner called in this home later in the day.

Rev. Kerr spent Saturday night in the Bill Eckert home and Sunday night with M. L. Casbeer and family.

Mrs. Morgan Stacey dined with Mrs. Dan Covington Sunday evening.

J. T. Hart who is working in West Texas, spent the week end visiting his wife and daughters, who are staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dennis. He returned to his work Sunday morning.

Guests in the M. L. Casbeer home Sunday at noon were, Henry Simpson and son Doward, Houston, Ruby D. and Bailey Kuykendall, J. M. Casbeer, Jr., Alta Simpson and Reta Belle Horton.

Grandpa Wayne Featherston was sick Saturday night. We are glad to know that he is better and hope he continues to improve.

Burthel Roberts and wife visited his parents, Maynard Roberts and family Sunday.

A meeting was held at the South Bennett School house, Monday night, to see about building a phone line from this community into town. It was decided to build a line with seven parties on each line. The work is to start soon.

Rev. Kerr dined Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Johnson and children.

Bina Beth Casbeer spent Tuesday night with her grandparents at town.

Rev. Fred J. Brucks of town, will preach at the South Bennett School house Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Let's all attend that can.

W. A. Whittenburg, 78, long time resident and beloved citizen of this community passed away Monday afternoon at his home on the Ebony-Regency road. Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon by J. B. Jones of Brownwood, and he was laid to rest in the Ebony cemetery.

He had been in failing health for several years. Sunday morning he helped Mrs. Whittenburg with the chores, and seemed as well as usual. About eight o'clock he suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he did not regain consciousness.

He had been a member of the Church of Christ for about 40 years. He was one of the humblest and kindest of men. As soon as word passed out over the community that he had been stricken, a stream of friends poured into the home offering services and sympathy.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Whittenburg; two daughters, Mrs. Levy Williams of Indian Creek and Mrs. Marguerite Egger of Ebony; one son, Charm Whittenburg, of Ebony; one grandson, Clint, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg. Two grandsons, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams preceded him in death.

He is survived by two brothers Tom and John Whittenburg of Sweetwater; three sisters, Mrs. Anna Lou Bennett and Mrs. Lyde Love of Houston, and Mrs. Emma Dobbins of Port Worth.

Tom Whittenburg and Mrs. Emma Dobbins were present for the funeral. Many friends and relatives from Brownwood and nearby places were also present.

Pall bearers were Wister Egger, Hubert Reeves, P. R. Reid, Hershey Sykes and J. A. Wilmeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lane announce the arrival of a daughter, Geraldine, born at the home of her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Crowder Thursday, April 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ketchum and Grandma Ketchum made a trip to Goldthwaite Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecl Egger and little Ynelle and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Dwyer called on Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts Sunday night.

Truman Crowder of San Angelo, who is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Crowder, attended church here Sunday.

Grandma Wilmeth and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Briley had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dwyer Sunday after church.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie McNurlin and children, Norvelle and Loyal Gene, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Egger and little daughter, Pat, of Brownwood, were among the number who called at the Whittenburg home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilmeth and baby, Lucy Gale, of San Saba County, and Mrs. Wilmeth's mother, Mrs. H. G. Duckworth, of Mason, spent the week end at the Wilmeth home and attended church here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Duncan and Harlie V. Duncan returned to Aransas Pass Sunday. They have been visiting their parents for the past two weeks.

W. Crawford took his wagon and team home Wednesday. He has been working on a tank for C. J. Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crawford are in Graham, Texas, at the hospital, where he is taking treatments. They will be gone about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Eral Hale, Johnnie and Geraldine Weathers attended a party at Mr. and Mrs. Cecl Allan's Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davee, Mr. and Mrs. Skipper and daughter of Goldthwaite, called in the Slack and Davee homes Sunday.

The school bus of children were surprised Monday afternoon at the Bayou bridge, when they were stopped by Mrs. M. L. Jernigan and Mrs. O. Renfro. They didn't know but what it was a hold-up and sure enough it was. The ladies had made 10 gallons of fruit punch and had a barrel of cookies. Did they have a feed? No, it was a feast.

They left thanking Mrs. Jernigan and Mrs. Renfro for such an enjoyable surprise.

There will be a Christian meeting start at Ridge May 9. A preacher from Cherokee will do the preaching and Bro. Furr of Goldthwaite will lead the song services. Let's all try to go. It will last five nights, Monday through Saturday night. Come and bring someone with you.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL
by MAX BERNS

Limited Powers

Why does our Constitution grant only limited powers to our government?

After fighting for and winning their independence from arbitrary English rule, the American Colonies undertook to set up a form of federal government for themselves that would protect them forever from the oppression of an all-powerful government. This was the prime reason for incorporating in our Constitution the principle of dividing the government into three separate and independent branches—the legislative (Congress), the executive (the President) and the judicial (the Supreme Court and other federal courts).

While ratification of our Constitution was pending Washington, who had been chairman of the Constitutional Convention, wrote: "My creed is simply that the general government is not invested with more powers than are indispensably necessary to perform the functions of a good government; and consequently, that no objection ought to be made against the quantity of power delegated to it;

"That these powers, . . . are so distributed among the legislative, executive, and judicial branches, into which the general government is arranged, that it can never be in danger of degenerating into a monarchy, an oligarchy, an aristocracy, or any other despotic or oppressive form, so long as there shall remain any virtue in the body of the people.

"It will at least be a recommendation to the . . . constitution, that it is provided with more checks and barriers against the introduction of tyranny, and those of a nature less liable to be surmounted, than any government hitherto instituted among mortals hath possessed."

THANKS FOR BILLION DOLLARS!

Speeding 3,000 miles through the clouds from the orange groves of the West, Patricia Ellis, youthful screen star, brought to President Franklin D. Roosevelt a baby navel orange tree, the direct descendant of the parent tree sent to California 65 years ago by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Thus did 15,000 California citrus growers symbolically repay the U. S. Government a billion dollar debt in one of the most unique events growing out of the strangest story of plant propagation in the history of horticultural science.

At the White House, in behalf of the President, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt received the tree and a box of navel oranges from the original 65 year old tree.

Since the propagation of this seedless variety, more than nine million navel orange trees have sprung into abundant growth in California's sun-kissed groves and the original importation has been characterized by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as "the most valuable fruit introduction yet made."

Methodist Merger

The plan to consolidate the principal bodies of American Methodism naturally is the center of interest in the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at Birmingham. The merger now appears to be well along toward consummation, the Southern conference—the last of the three to act—having voted 434 to 26 for reunion. A ruling of the judicial council of the conference on constitutionality of the vote seems to be the only hurdle remaining.

The Texas delegation, which voted solidly for merger, was free of the misgivings that affected a few delegates from other parts of the South. An objection was voiced last week that consolidation might bring an embarrassing mingling of Negroes and Whites in some instances, but this obstacle has been carefully considered and is viewed by the majority as a trivial matter that can be adjusted amicably.

White and colored churches should be able to exist in the same denominational body as easily as white and negro schools exist in the Texas public school system. The Negroes will continue to maintain and attend their own churches; and when general conferences are held in the South, involving both races, it should be easy to work out seating arrangements that will be mutually satisfactory. Before the church splits took place, Southern Whites generally showed no qualms against having Negroes worship on occasion in the same church with them.

The Methodist merger movement has proved a tedious task, and still more time must elapse before consolidation is fully effected. But the major obstacles appear to have been overcome, and an excellent example has been set for other denominations that remain divided on issues that became irrelevant long ago.

STYLE SHOW IS SUCCESS

The Spring Style Show of the Homemaking classes of Mullin High School was held on Friday night, April 29 in the auditorium in connection with the Senior Play.

Raymond Hamilton acted as announcer for the event. The first year class modeled school costumes, while the second year group appeared in a tailored dress.

Out of these groups the best dresses were selected, and the first place winners will model their dresses at the Homemaking Rally in San Antonio on May 5-7.

In Homemaking I. Gara Nan Plummer was declared winner, with Wilma Preston second and Helen Wigley third.

In Homemaking II. Coleta Fay Wigley first, Billie Louise Nellie second and Ovella Smith third.

British Penal Justice

Three young "Mayfair men" of England, all of them from well-to-do families were recently found guilty in Old Bailey of robbery with violence, and a fourth youth, from the same social stratum, was found guilty of conspiring to rob.

These young men were found guilty on the charge of stealing eight rings, worth $13,000, from a person whom they had lured to a Hyde Park Hotel and attacked with a mallet, injuring him seriously.

Found guilty of a felony, were these young "Mayfair men" coddled, lectured to, and turned over to the probation officers by the court, as is too frequently the case in this country? They were not! Lord Hewart, Lord Chief Justice, gave them heavy sentences, remarking that the advantages of their upbringing gave them less excuse for their crimes. He punished them more severely than if they were of the average run of thugs tried before this court.

Robert Paul Harley, twenty-six, son of an army officer and the oldest of the four who, it was said, made the actual attack, pleaded guilty to receiving the rings. He received seven years' penal servitude, two years of hard labor, and twenty strokes of the cat-o-nine-tails. He was a Wellington College man, and had lived for some time in the United States and Canada.

David Wilmer, twenty-four, son of a Brigadier General and a graduate of Rundle School, received five years' penal servitude two years' hard labor, and fifteen strokes of the cat-o-nine-tails.

Peter M. Jenkins, twenty-two, son of a deceased woolen broker and a graduate of Harrow School one of England's most aristocratic institutions, received three years' penal servitude and two years at hard labor.

John Christopher Mainwaring Lonsdale, the fourth man, a graduate of Radley College, Oxford, found guilty only of conspiring, received eighteen months at hard labor.

British penal justice may appear cold, hard, and rigid, but it does discourage crime, and that is what penal laws are for.—EX.

Religious Rights Stressed at Fair

NEW YORK (Special)—A tribute to the constitutional right of freedom of worship will have a prominent part in the statuary to be placed upon the $60,000,000 Central Mall of the New York World's Fair 1939. Grover A. Whalen, president of the Fair corporation, announces.

Part of a group known as "The Four Freedoms," the statue will depict a chaste, young girl, her face raised to the skies, holding a prayer-book in her hands. On the base of the statue, a number of churches of various denominations will signify that freedom of religion in this country is not confined to any one sect or creed.

Roadside Parks

When the Texas highway department started out on its program of establishing roadside parks, it embarked on an experiment.

The sites for the parks were donated but the first ones were given by the landowners only after much argument and persuasion. County officials had to be talked into paying about two-thirds of the initial cost and all the maintenance cost.

The state highway officials slowly forged ahead until there were roadside parks here and there all over the state. As motorists began to depend on them, public favor swung to the side of the highway department.

The National Youth Administration became interested and some 200 parks were built by the NYA.

Now the state is dotted with the parks, each with tables and benches, a barbecue pit and, with a few exceptions, shade trees. Soon there will be a thousand of the parks on Texas highways.

The idea has spread to other states. Motorists have carried the word of the convenient parks and several other states have investigated, then adopted a similar program.

The roadside park is a blessing to travelers. There, amid surroundings of natural beauty, they can stop to prepare a meal or eat one already prepared.—Houston Chronicle.

Mrs. Mollie Lowrie who has not been well for several weeks, left Wednesday night for Beaumont to stay with her daughter for awhile.

Harry Martin left Wednesday for Clovis, New Mexico, after spending a few weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin.

Strength Lies in the Foundation

Anything of safe and lasting usefulness must be carefully cared for from the very start. When your pullets reach the age of six or eight weeks, their foundation for really good hens is not complete. These pullets should be placed on MID-TEX GROWING MASH, and by keeping them on this ration you are sure of a properly developed pullet that will lay PROFITABLY.

MID-TEX GROWING MASH contains MANAMAR, which has shown such wonderful results in our chick starter. Remember, you get MANAMAR only in MID-TEX feeds.

DISPELLING THE FOG

Already the consistent opponents of the Roosevelt administration have begun their clamor against the enactment of the relief and business revival program which was the subject of the President's recent message to Congress, according to Charles Michelson, Democratic press chieftain.

It is to be observed that none of these economists and statesmen suggests a better plan, or any substitute plan, for bringing about re-employment, providing for the destitute, or getting business back to healthy activity. They deplore the situation, set the blame for it on the President and, consistent as ever, they insist that anything that the President proposes must be wrong.

It does not matter much whether what he does is aimed at accomplishing more efficiency in government, or sterilization of a billion dollars' worth of gold in the inactive fund. Five or six years ago this country was in the throes of a terrific economic disaster. Hungry people had to be fed, re-employment was a desperate necessity, and business, screaming in its agony of almost complete collapse, had to be braced up.

These things, and the circumstances that we came through a desperate period without violence and with American institutions intact, give the real picture of what the money-spending is. The program now before Congress is even half as successful, the country can throw up its hat and cheer, despite the melancholy forebodings of those who take the position that whatever the Democratic administration attempts is unmixing evil.

WHY ECONOMY WAITS

Every sensible man and woman realizes that our governments are spending too much money, requiring the collection of too much taxes. Yet almost everyone is interested in having the government continue to spend for the things he wants and cut down somewhere else. Obviously this is impossible.

We are all tax payers most of us direct tax payers. Some of the landless among us pay more than people who own lands and houses. Some of us who cannot quite balance domestic budgets pay more than people who tuck something away in savings each month or week.

So much is realized by our politicians. They know that, as a whole people, we want governmental economy. Therefore, to please all the people our politicians declare for economy.

But, to please us by groups, the politicians also declare for special group benefits. These benefits, of course, must be paid for with money taken from the people as taxpayers. In order to pay them, all the people must continue to be heavily taxed.

The average aspirant to office wishes to line up as many "group" or "bloc" voters as possible. So, after a preliminary declaration for economy—to please everybody—he gets down to the business of bidding for "bloc" support by promising various and sundry things which cannot be had without knocking economy into a cocked hat.

Lightning rods for umbrellas. Lightning rods were the invention of the 18th century French inventor, Benvenuto Cellini. The "rod" consisted of a metal cord suspended from the umbrella, and which trailed along the ground. In 1778, in Paris, fashionable women had similar lightning conductors attached to their hats!

You Are A Partner In The Community

The necessity of working for the upbuilding of the home community should be apparent to everyone. The growth and development of each community adds to the prosperity of all.

You are a partner in your community. If it grows and thrives you profit in hard dollars and cents. If its growth is retarded and it goes backward you lose. You and your neighbors have the making or breaking in your hands.

Do your share and there will be no question as to the outcome. It means money for you and your family. It means the same thing for your neighbors.

Frequently a community will fall into a rut of indifference and the prosperity that might have been theirs is lost for want of a little push and enterprise.

Had the killer's hand been stayed when he shot down the policeman who had sought to question him, that might have been called an "Act of God."

As it was, the prison warden did not agree with the prisoners' comment; he said it was merely a case of a worn-out generator. It will be interesting to watch the outcome of the present commotion: Will justice be carried out, as originally decreed? Or will another killed have his sentence commuted to life imprisonment—and then after some years of serving his sentence, be turned loose upon the public thru pardon or a parole?

In constantly increasing tax burdens, making more difficult for all of us the necessary task of earning our living.

The only remedy is for the people themselves to face squarely the fact that they cannot take more and more money out of the public till without putting more and more money in the same till. If they want the politicians to be honest with them, they must first be honest with themselves.

vestments besides spending large sums each year to maintain the establishments that stand before you, as monuments of their implicit confidence that the community can and will make good.

The lines of merchandise carried by our merchants are most complete—they are bought from the best wholesale markets and sold at prices that entitle the home town merchant to the trade in this community.

Cash is the motor that will make the home community forge to the front. But not in the way you think. You will not be asked to part with money. Not the cash that comes out of your pocket, but the cash that stays there is what will build up this community.

What Now?

When the generator in the death chamber at the Huntsville prison failed to operate last Friday night, the killer who was waiting to be seated in the electric chair, referred to the breakdown as an "Act of God."

An Open Letter To A Speeder

"I saw you barely miss a little boy on a tricycle this afternoon and heard you yell, 'get the H - - out of the way, don't you know any better than to ride in the street?'" He didn't answer you because he hasn't learned to talk very well yet. So I'm going to answer for him.

"No, the little boy doesn't know any better than to ride his tricycle in the street. He has been warned not to, but little boys don't always heed warnings, especially traffic warnings; for example, the one limiting the speed of automobiles.

"I'm going to tell you something about that little boy. He has a mother who endured considerable inconvenience, anxiety and suffering to bring him into the world. He has a father who has worked hard and made many sacrifices to make him healthy and happy. The supreme purpose of their lives is to have their little boy grow up to be a useful man.

"Now stop a minute and think. If you should kill a child, how would you feel facing his parents? What excuse could you possibly offer Him whose Kingdom is made up of little children?"

"Children, my hasty friend, were here long before you or your automobile were thought of. All the automobiles on earth are not worth the life of one little boy. We don't know what that little boy may some day be. But we know what you are, and it's unimportant. We could get along without you, but we can't spare a single little boy on the street."—Ex.

County printing and supplies continue to be imported from San Antonio and Austin to the tune of about six thousand dollars a year, which means tax-paying, payroll supporting home-owning Hidalgo County printers and newspapermen are losing in commissions round a thousand dollars a year.

Progress of Weekly Newspapers

The advance and progress made by weekly newspapers in the Southwest over a period of the past 20 years has been nothing short of amazing. Today it is possible to find these business institutions located in virtually every community in Texas, well-established and forming an integral part in the welfare of the community in which each is located.

For instance, today we find numerous weekly newspapers providing their reading clientele with the very latest facilities in modern editorial content. Mentioning one of the items not heard of in the weeklies of 20 years ago, we see on every hand the weekly publications of 1938 introducing local picture features. This was nothing more than a dream in the weekly newspaper field, even in the World War days. Readers expected this type of service only from the dailies.

We also see great improvements in the advertising service, which favorably compare with the very largest publications in the form of illustrated mat services.

Further, we see many weekly newspapers printing news reports from community centers surrounding the town of publication. And that is not all. We see many weeklies employing from two to three times as many workmen as in former days.

Weekly newspapers of Texas and the Southwest have progressed more than the average line of business during the past 20 years. This may be due to the awakening or merchants, or to the energetic methods of publishers. At any rate the condition exists. The fact still remains that many of the weekly newspapers in Texas today are taking the lead in the business and civic life of their communities.

We often hear that highways and competition from the larger cities are destroying the small towns. Notwithstanding all of this, it is encouraging to see the weekly newspaper taking a substantial outside competition at every hand.

This is but another instance of the advance and progress made by the weekly newspapers of Texas and the Southwest during the past 20 years.

Smart Hens

Hens do their own bookkeeping in a nest just patented by Orlando E. Kellum of Moreno, California, for fine breeding stock.

When the hen enters the nest the door locks automatically to prevent the entrance of another hen. When she lays her egg another door opens automatically permitting her to leave. As the second door opens it operates the lens of a camera which takes a picture of the hen and of the number painted on her back or side. In that manner her owner keeps track of how well she tends to her business of producing eggs.—Ex.

SPECIAL PICTURE HOBBIES

ONE of the attractions of the hobby of amateur photography is that it provides an almost unlimited number of hobbies within the hobby; as many, in fact, as there are things that the eye can see. Ships, flowers, trees, clouds, locomotives, colonial architecture, historical monuments, gargoyles, machinery, babies, horses, dogs, cats, birds, insects are only a few subjects which have their devotees as special picture hobbies. Enthusiasm for photography combines with the collector's instinct, resulting in albums of photographs of the chosen subject that are a source of pride, pleasure and instruction.

In addition to the enjoyment of making the photographs, the value of a special picture hobby is that it usually leads to an accumulation of knowledge about the subject that is educational and broadening. If the photographer starts making pictures of flowers, he soon discovers that there are many things about flowers that he never knew before. He is likely to become quite a botanist. So with ships. He is likely soon to be studying up on marine architecture and enjoying it.

Above is an amateur photograph from the album of an insect specialist. This is a hobby which affords him the extra enjoyment of walks into the woods and fields in his hunts for specimens. He photographs them on the spot and captures them to take home for indoor shots. He has become an amateur entomologist. Now he really knows about "bees' knees," "butterflies' eyebrows" and how many legs a caterpillar has. He finds that photographing insects in the open fields, garden or woods, is really a sport. Some kinds you can stalk successfully but he tells you that, more often than you would suppose, you have success by lying in wait for an insect to come within lens range and pose itself on flower, leaf or twig on which you have focused. If you locate yourself in a place where there are plenty of them, it won't be long before one of the multitude hops or flies into position in front of your waiting lens. Of course, if you do not have a close-focusing bellows camera, you should use a portrait attachment in order to get a large image, and in either case you will usually need to have an enlargement made from the important part of the negative.

The exposure should usually be twice that given regular outdoor scenes with the same light conditions. Being close to the subject there is less light reflected, and, as detail is essential, it is better to double the exposure time, and also to use a small stop. Your camera should be stationary on a support. You must expect some failures because of the refusal of an insect always to stay in position long enough for the required exposure, but that adds to the value of the successful pictures.

Grasshoppers, bees, spiders and their webs, the praying mantis and the butterfly offer good opportunities; so does the wasp's nest, if you care to take a chance.

New Colored Lights For San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO.—Invisible sunlight, imprisoned within the walls of an amazing new lamp and bombarding chemical powders, will duplicate all the pastel tints of the rainbow in a $1,000,000 night illumination extravaganza for the palaces of the Golden Gate International Exposition, to be held next year on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay.

Simultaneously in New York, engineers announced their new tubular fluorescent lamp to the world. New "cool" light sources, producing colors rivaling the rainbow, are made possible by the new lamp and will have their first large scale outdoor application at California's $50,000,000 Exposition.

Twenty-three hundred of these new, revolutionary lighting tubes will be used in specially designed floodlights for providing colored illumination of the walls in the Court of the Moon, Court of Reflection, Court of the Seven Seas, Court of Flowers and for other locations.

Retail Sales Continue To Increase

Retail sales in Texas continue to make a far better showing than in the Nation as a whole, according to the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. Aggregate sales, as measured in dollars, during March of a representative group of department stores, dry goods, and apparel stores, men's and women's specialty stores were only slightly below those of the corresponding month last year and exceeded those of February by almost the normal seasonal amount, the report said.

Reports from 106 retail establishments showed total dollar sales during March of only 2.4 per cent below those of the like month last year, while the increase over February was 21.6 per cent. The fact that Easter came in March last year whereas this year it came in April lends further optimism to the current showing.

Hamilton

The situation looks very encouraging for another oil test play in the Hamilton County territory.

Rev. and Mrs. Gid J. Bryan left Monday for Birmingham, Alabama, to attend the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, which convened Thursday, April 28.

Here in the latter days of April Mrs. Walter Cole has a chrysanthemum blooming out in her yard on south Price avenue. And chrysanthemums are strictly fall bloomers! In fact, along time ago the chrysanthemum was called a "frost pink."

Dr. R. A. Swanger is in San Antonio this week for the State Convention of Chiropractors and to be present for the Homecoming celebration at the Texas College of Chiropractors in the Alamo City. He is a graduate of the school.

At a meeting of the School Board of Hamilton Independent District on Wednesday afternoon of this week, President R. B. Miller presiding and all members present, the faculty was named for 1938-39 with the teachers including the entire personnel in the system re-elected.

Probably many Hamilton business men wish some of the past partons who owe them sums of money would join the church if they would have the same experience as an Eastland man recently. Thomas Seelye of that city said he had received 10 cents from a Princeton Illinois man who in a letter told of taking "a piece or two" of candy from Seelye's automobile years ago. The letter related the man had recently joined the church.

EDUCATION the Broad Highway

Our Schools are Worthy Institutions

Today, as never before, we see the necessity of broader education. Barriers crash before those who are prepared. Every child should be given the opportunity of attending first-class educational institutions. We are fortunate in Mills County. Our schools rank high among those of the state.

To those who have made our schools possible, we pay tribute. Likewise, we salute the teaching profession, men and women who have given more than liberally of their time and effort in making our schools outstanding in the field of education. Their qualifications tell a story of careful preparation.

MOTHER'S DEPARTED

Clipped from the Newport News, Virginia Daily Press
April 23, 1938

Don't tell me that's my mother dear,
Lying there alone;
That's just an empty dwelling,
The spirit now has flown.
And though that form to me is still
The dearest thing I know;
I know her soul's in heaven,
So I'll try to bear the blow.

I know the Scriptures plainly say,
That all flesh is as grass;
And just as flowers fade away,
So from this earth we'll pass.
And as I look upon that form,
With hands crossed o'er her breast;
I'll try to hold God's word as truth,
That things are for the best.

I'll kiss those hands that worked for me,
Those arms that 'round me twined,
I'll kiss those lips that smiled on me,
But now are cold I find.
Those eyes are closed which watched o'er me,
And though it's hard to bear;
Yet the flesh shall profit little,
So the Bible doth declare.

So though that form is beautiful,
Just molded in the clay;
I know it's just the chrysalis,
The life has flown away.
And though I know I'll find it hard,
To see all things as right;
Yet the thought that mother's gone to God,
Will help me in the fight.

So please don't say that's mother dear,
That form they'll lay away;
For that was just her dwelling,
A house that's made from clay.
But she has gone to Heaven,
Where I know she's free from sin;
And it's there I'll meet my mother,
When the Savior lets me in.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING

We glean the following from the Brownwood Bulletin about our worthy citizen W. H. G. Chambers.

Mr. Chambers, county trustee at large, a leader in educational matters of this county for 15 years, has entered his resignation, as he has moved to Mills County.

During the long years of active service, he has been a consistent worker, always doing what he thought was best for the boys and girls of the county. The fairness and honesty manifested by Mr. Chambers at all times won for him the confidence and admiration of the school people of the county.

During the trying days of consolidation he saw the school system of Brown County grow from 79 small rural schools to 18 in number 10 of these central high schools.

All the pupils of this county know Mr. Chambers and have heard his words of praise for their works. The fruits of his service will not close, but will be seen in the lives and standards of our schools.

Mrs. Ida Hiller

Mrs. Ida Hiller, nee Kallwass, was born on December 23, 1852 in Gallinsoo, Germany, and came to America in 1870. On October 11, 1874 she was united in holy wedlock with C. Hiller at Trenton, Ohio. They moved to Arlington, Texas in 1877, and in 1883 came to Hamilton County and made their home in the McGirk community where she resided until her death on May 2, 1938.

Mrs. Hiller's husband preceded her in death on June 1, 1902. Their union was blessed with nine children, six sons and three daughters, W. F. Hiller, O. H. Hiller, A. E. Hiller, W. E. C. Hiller, O. E. Hiller and L. W. Hiller and Mrs. W. M. Havens, Mrs. A. H. Shaffer, and Mrs. N. N. Newton. All the children were at the bedside of their beloved mother when she departed from this earthly life.

Mrs. Hiller further leaves to mourn 44 grandchildren and 32 great-grandchildren. She had attained the age of 86 years, four months and nine days. May she rest in peace.

Financial assets of the University of Texas and its medical branch at Galveston now total $50,444,254, an increase of $2,831,005 over the previous year.

MOTHERS DAY MAY 8

Many a good intention and resolution has fallen by the wayside, short of fulfillment, and the lovely plans we make and dream over, where our mothers are concerned are no exceptions; for their love and unselfishness sometimes makes us negligent and we expect mothers sacrifices.

Mother's Day is happily a second chance. "Let not the low descending sun view from your hands no worthy action done."

It is a day set aside for expressing appreciation and love, especially to Mothers. Fathers are equally as dear. Remember them as graciously if possible, as they did you in the shadows and sunshine, with their overwhelming love in the days of your childhood.

If you have no parents on this side of the Great River, then in their memory, remember an orphan child or an aged and lonely person.

Mother, dear mother, the years have been long,
Since I last listened to your lulla by song.

Womanhood years have been only a dream;
Clasped to your heart in a loving embrace,
With your long lashes sweeping my face,
Never to wake or to weep,
Rock me to sleep mother, rock me to sleep."

Hospital for Children

Renewal of the campaign for the Texas Children's Hospital represents a timely revival of a project of unquestionable value.

The need for a Texas hospital for children is urgent. Prior to the economic depression of a few years ago, pledges for considerable amounts were made for this purpose, and some of the money was paid in. A suitable site was donated by the late P. R. Freeman at the edge of Reverchon Park and near Parkland Hospital, the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for crippled children and the Freeman Memorial Clinic.

Parkland and other Dallas hospitals, already over-crowded, are not equipped to give children the special attention they need; and the Freeman Memorial Clinic serves only outpatients. Often children are forced by lack of facilities to return home too soon after operations, and many sick children that should have hospital service are required to stay in unsuitable homes where proper attention is not possible.

Chartered by the State of Texas as a nonsectarian, charitable corporation the Texas Children's Hospital is a highly worthy object for the generosity of Dallas and Texas people. Assuredly the wealth of this great State is sufficient to spare enough to provide comfort and care and healing for those sick children who need hospital service for which their parents are unable to pay. Establishment of this needed institution is a task that should be met squarely and promptly.

Decline in Fighting

What has become of brass knuckles? Does anybody carry them any more? The Advertiser can remember that thirty-five years ago or more many otherwise harmless citizens habitually carried "knucks." Today the American people, with the exception of public officers and a fractional part of the ordinary citizens go about their daily affairs completely unarmed. They seem to get along even better now than when they were armed to the teeth. There are even hundreds of homes in Montgomery today in which there is no lethal weapon, although we think there should be a firearm in every home and that both men and women should be familiar with its uses.

At the turn of the century a weapon was as much a part of a citizen's personal effects as a pocketknife or a goosegill toothpick. Finally public opinion turned against the armed man and so he began to leave his "weapons" at home. He gave them away and so today many homes are no longer fortresses. Not only have pistols been discarded by most men, but brass knuckles seem
