

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 12, 1938.

NUMBER FORTY-THREE

Goldthwaite Writer Receives Honors On Essay

The 1938 publication of the Texas Folk Lore Society will contain an essay by Miss Mae Featherston entitled, "The Mills County Snap Party." The book is called "Coyote Wisdom" and is a collection of animal stories and other lore. It is edited by J. Frank Doble and Mody C. Boatright, both of the University of Texas English department, and will be published by September 1.

Miss Featherston's essay is an explanation, interpretation, and appreciation of Snap, one of the oldest folk-games played among the people of English descent in the Southwest. It is rich in the social community of Texas.

Miss Featherston will be remembered by readers of the Folk Lore volumes as the author of "Silver Dreams," a story of Mills county treasure hunting in "Straight Texas," the book for 1937. She is a senior student of Texas.

Wesley Players to Present Program

A group of the Wesley Players from the Wesley Foundation in Austin will present a play at the Methodist Church in Goldthwaite at 8:00 p.m. Sunday evening, August 14th.

We understand that this group presented this same play at the Assembly at Kerrville this summer.

The Wesley Players have attracted quite a bit of attention in Austin with their Dramatic productions on the campus of the University and in the churches of Austin. A recent production was an outdoor presentation on a Sunday night for which all the churches on or near the University campus dismissed their services.

This service will be sponsored by the young people of the Methodist Church and they urge everyone to attend. A special invitation is given to all young people of college and high school ages. Miss Faye Featherston daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Featherston of Goldthwaite is president of the Wesley Players from the University Methodist Church of Austin.

Methodist Church

Fred J. Brucks, Pastor

We appreciate the fine response to the services last Sunday. But since the summer is almost over we feel that it would be best for us not to continue that arrangement, though quite a number have expressed themselves as approving such an arrangement. So for next Sunday we will have our usual order of services again, the church school first and then the preaching service.

For our night service we will have a group of the Wesley Players from Austin to present a special program. We urge you to attend this service and invite your friends. You will be sorry if you miss it. The public is always cordially invited to all our services.

Church School at 9:45 a. m.
Morning worship at 10:50 a. m.
Epworth League at 7:00 p. m.
Evening Service at 8:00 p. m.
Mid-week service, Wednesday, at 8:00 p. m.

Lacy Thompson Asked as Delegate

Lacy Thompson, city water superintendent, has been invited as delegate from Goldthwaite to attend and participate in the annual convention of the South west section of the American Water Works Association which meets in Oklahoma City from October 17 to 20.

While in Oklahoma City, the 600 or more delegates who are expected, will have a chance to inspect that city's $6,200,000 water plant.

Farmers Building Trench Silos

At the close of last season 42 trench silos had been built in Mills County. This year eight have been built and filled in spite of the recent rains that hindered construction and the loss of a vast amount of feed by floods.

Casey Smith, Big Valley, filled a trench with overflowed corn which would have been a total loss had it been left in the field. W. P. McCullough is filling a 170 ton trench with corn and cane. Mr. McCullough filled the largest silo in the county last year and will build three more this summer. He will feed the silage to his large herd of goats to which he has added 2000 head lately. We dub W. P. McCullough "Silo King" of Mills County.

Other silos reported are J. D. Caloway, A. A. Elms, E. Godwin, Bennie Schrank, E. D. Roberson and Chas. A. Smith.

W. P. Weaver, County Agent

Farmers Fighting Cotton Pests

Leaf worms, boll weevil, and boll worms are inflicting severe damage on the leaves and bolls of cotton, seriously threatening the crop. Many farmers are dusting and spraying for control of the pests.

A spray consisting of 3 pounds calcium arsenate to 50 gallons of water applied thoroughly and at proper intervals will effectively control leaf worm. Dusting with calcium arsenate at the rate of 4 to 8 pounds to the acre is a popular method of control.

Boll weevils may be controlled by dusting with calcium arsenate at the rate of from 5 to 7 pounds per acre. Three applications at the rate of four or five days apart will be necessary. A heavy rain within 23 hours will necessitate another application.

Goldthwaite Family Moves to Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin and daughters, Aileen and Jeanette, left Saturday for Norman, Oklahoma to make their home. Mr. Martin is a salesman with the S. M. & R. Co. with territory in Oklahoma and Kansas and is making the move so that he can be closer to his work and so that the two Misses Martins can attend the University of Oklahoma which is located at Norman. Word has been received from them saying that they are delighted with their new home.

The town will miss this family greatly. They have been outstanding in church and social circles. Mrs. Martin was pianist at the Baptist Church here and one of Goldthwaite's most talented musicians. The best wishes of a host of friends go with them to their new home.

Mills County Schools Win Standardization

The August issue of the Texas Outlook lists two Mills County Schools which have been standardized during the years 1937 and 1938. These are Center City and Midway. These schools in order to meet standardization requirements had to improve their physical plant, maintain a term of eight months instruction at least, employ teachers who had at least three months college work or a permanent certificate issued prior to September 1, 1925.

CAMPAIGN FOR CHRIST

"Yes we are ready to go," says everyone from Center Point into a campaign to win the lost, beginning Sunday morning, August 14, and will continue both morning and evening services through August 21.

Mullin Sends in Red Cross Donation

This amount brings the total contribution to the Red Cross request for aid to flooded counties up to $164.00.

WPA Projects Granted Waco Office

WACO, Aug. 4.—Funds sufficient to employ 8,600 persons on Works Progress Administration projects in his territory during the month of August have been granted the Waco office, it was reported today by C. H. Harrison, Administrative Officer.

The August budget figure makes it possible to hire 1,200 additional persons in the counties administered from the Waco office, provided that a sufficient number of suitable projects are provided by local governmental agencies, Harrison stated.

Urging that cities and counties take full advantage of the opportunity to provide jobs for the unemployed, Harrison stated: "Budgets have been allotted on the basis of existing need and we hope that local officials will provide enough projects of integrity to provide jobs for all those who need them in the Waco territory."

"Suffering among the unemployed, loss of community purchasing power, and loss of the opportunity to obtain needed public improvements at fraction of the normal cost will be the result of the failure of local agencies to sponsor sufficient projects to care for the jobless."

Y. W. A. Meeting

An all day meeting was enjoyed by the members of the Women's Missionary Union of the Baptist Church here Monday. A number of ladies were present from Brownwood, Scallorn, Rock Springs, Big Valley and Mullin. Mrs. R. L. ## Time Extended For Applications For Electricity

Volunteer workers have been unable to see all previous applicants for rural electrification service in Mills county, so the time for closing applications has been extended for a short time.

At present, according to County Agent, W. P. Weaver the Priddy community is the only one that has turned in enough applications to insure. Other persons who are interested should complete their applications without delay either at the county agent's office or with one of the following volunteer workers:

M. T. Cook, Willis Hill, Walter Dennis, Mrs. Delton Barnett, L. T. Adams, Jim Soules, A. E. Gromatzky, Ray Priddy.

Rural Electrification Progress Bulletin

The Rural Electrification Administration has given preliminary consideration to an application for a loan to build lines centering in Brown, Eastland, Comanche and Mills Counties, and has outlined the steps which must be completed before an allotment of funds can be made.

It will be necessary for the project sponsors to obtain and submit signed applications for membership in the cooperative as well as applications for electrical service from it, also obtain signed easements for the right-of-way for the power lines, and prepare and send to REA a detailed map of the proposed project, showing the area most feasible to be served with the allotment when and if it is made available.

It will be necessary for the sponsors to select an attorney and to incorporate under the laws of Texas. They have been requested to notify the REA Legal Division of their choice as attorney so that he can be promptly approved and sent suggested forms to be used for incorporation and for easements.

Although no retail rate for selling electricity can be established until all cost factors have been determined, a rate has been tentatively suggested, under which a minimum bill of $2.90 a month would pay for 30 kwh, enough electricity to light the average size home adequately, and operate several appliances such as and $6.15 would pay for 100 kwh, enough for all these uses and operating a radio, a water pump and one major appliance, such as a refrigerator.

Speed in development of this project depends very largely on prompt compliance by local leaders and the community with the REA requests for information and action. If the information is satisfactory and the local organization adequate, REA expects to be able to allot money to meet the entire construction costs. No money will be lent to pay for right-of-way.

Alaskan Air Base Looms

WASHINGTON. — An aerial trip to Alaska by Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, provided a hint today the administration was considering development of a great army air base in the Far North.

Johnson said he would leave about August 15 to inspect army posts and projects in Alaska, and at the same time would study the feasibility of both the base and of a projected all-weather road from the American Northwest through Canada to Alaska.

Such a highway, in addition to drawing tourists, might prove vital in rushing men and munitions to Alaska in time of war.

FALL ZINNIA SHOW

The Goldthwaite Garden Club is sponsoring a fall Zinnia show, and the time to plant seed for blooms for this show is next week, August 15 to 20, so be sure to get good seed and plant them next week.

Electrical Survey Being Made Here

Rapid progress has been made by the investigators of the Morrison Engineering firm of Waco this week in taking a census of existing electrical outlets in Goldthwaite homes. This is preliminary to the preparation of a complete survey of the present and potential demand for electric current here which will be followed by appropriate recommendations to the city council.

Contrary to the impression of many signers of the petition which was presented to the council asking for an investigation, the Morrison firm has not been instructed to prepare an application for PWA funds for the construction of a municipal distribution system. The engineers are making a thorough investigation of present facilities and the possibility of effecting savings both to the city and to individual consumers of electricity, by purchasing electric current from the Colorado River authority or elsewhere, or by operating its own generating plant. Unless very material advantages can be assured, there will be no reason for the city entering the field.

If the survey is favorable to the city distributing electricity, then the engineers will make a recommendation as to the best means of financing the enterprise, including the feasibility of securing a PWA grant or otherwise. The engineers estimated that it would require from three weeks to a month to prepare the survey for submission to the city council.

First Baptist Church

E. E. DAWSON, Pastor

Ignorance of the Bible is a fruitful cause of Christian failure. If the average business man knew no more of the principles of his business than he does his religion he would be a stark failure. He is conscious of the need of informing himself about all the details of his business for his pride abhors failure. But why be content to be a second-rate Christian while a first-rate business man? There is a challenge to Christian men to improve by Bible study. In the Sunday school you will find a place.

All regular services next Sunday and a baptismal in the afternoon, hour and location to be announced at the morning worship hour.

Come thou with us and we will do thee good.

A SURPRISE REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mullan of this city had an unusual reunion over the past week end when their children and grandchildren began arriving on Saturday, night and Sunday morning. A very happy time was had and a lovely dinner was served the entire family at the O. H. Yarborough home by Mrs. Yarborough. The members of the family present were, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mullan of Temple, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Wilba Kemp of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Mullan and baby of Fort Worth, Mrs. R. C. Mullan and son Russel, Jr., of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Yarborough and Harold Yarborough from Austin.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

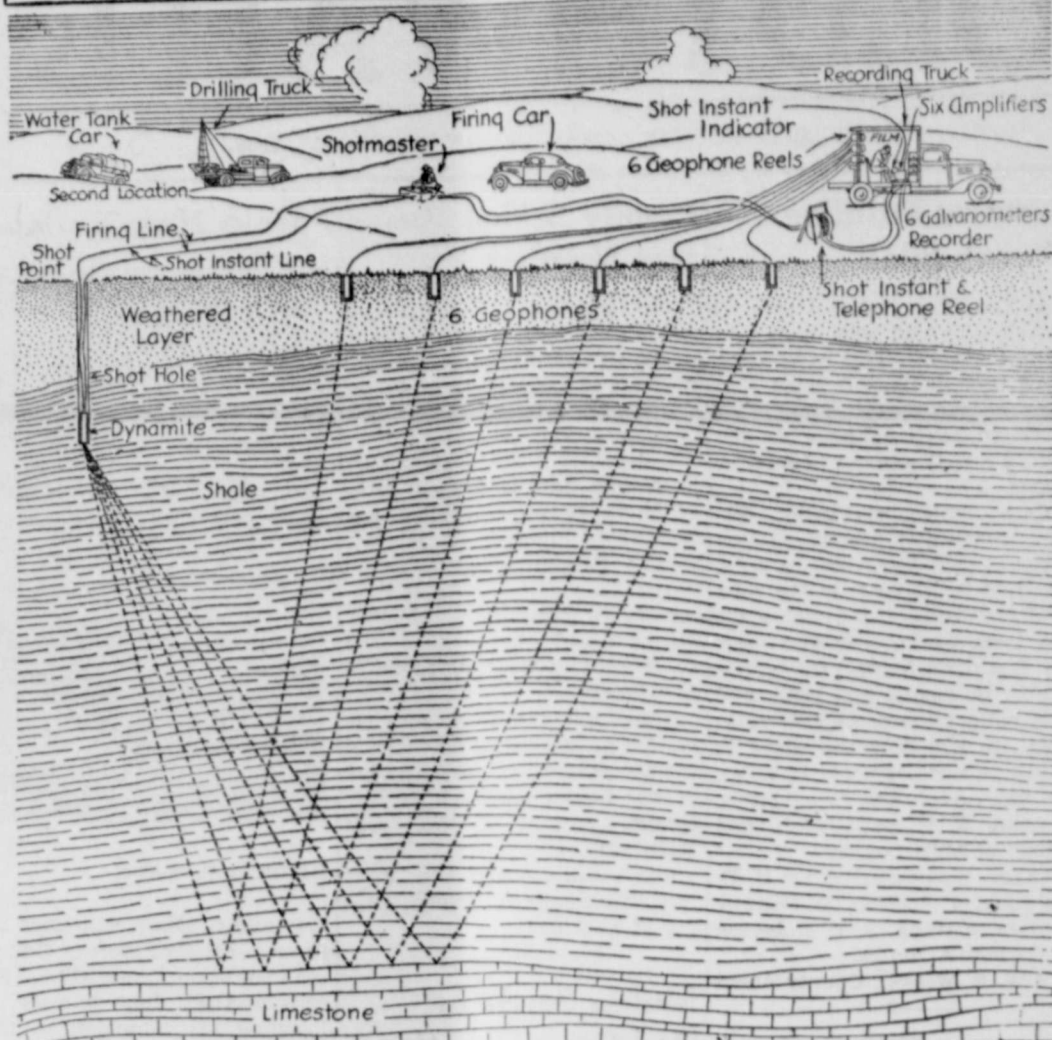

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

SEISMOGRAPH PROSPECTING FOR OIL

A seismograph crew in the field prospecting for oil makes miniature earthquakes with dynamite to chart the strata beneath the ground. The dynamite is placed in a shot hole and exploded. The vibrations travel downward until they hit rock strata and are then reflected back to the geophones. These impulses are recorded on a moving film.

Household Hints

Fried chicken, Southern style, is one of America's best known dishes. Every housewife and cook has her own recipe for it and few are in agreement on every detail. Thus it was that the subject almost developed into a national controversy last fortnight. In this controversy were the wives of several Dixie Governors and experts on food preparation, led by Miss Dana Gatchell, Auburn, Ala. The argument was over whether bacon grease, buttermilk and egg batter had a place in the art of frying chicken. Mrs. E. D. Rivers, wife of Georgia's Governor, advanced the buttermilk idea (dipping the pieces of chicken in buttermilk before frying.) Virginia's First Lady, Mrs. George C. Perry, supported the bacon grease theory while the egg batter method came from Baton Rouge, home of Mrs. Richard W. Leche, wife of Louisiana's Gov. Disagreeing with the Governor's wives and claiming that she wouldn't think of dipping in buttermilk of frying it in bacon grease because they destroy the flavor of the chicken, Miss Gatchell offered her own recipe for real Southern styled fried chicken, which follows: "Take a well-selected fryer of not more than two pounds and dress carefully so the pieces will be attractive. Place, without salting, in the refrigerator for at least 24 hours. When ready to fry the chicken, first add salt and pepper to the flour in which the chicken is to be rolled. Don't attempt to guess the temperature of the lard in which the chicken is to be fried use a deep-fat frying thermometer and be sure the fat is heated to 375 degrees F. Use enough lard to cover chicken, and cook the chicken brown. Then remove the pieces and allow to drain on unglazed paper to absorb excess lard." Don't salt freshly dressed chicken or soak it in cold water, she advised, because that extracts the meat juices which are the very essence of Southern style fried Chicken.

German World Flight Personnel Announced

The German round-the-world flight for which Berlin has asked permission to land in Alaska and the United States will start in August or September.

In making this known, a German embassy official said the plane would carry a crew of six. The commander will be Capt. Henke, a pilot of long experience. The co-pilot will be Capt. Von Moreau.

The remainder of the crew will consist of a navigator, radio operator and mechanic.

The plane is a four-motor new type Condor manufactured by the Focke Wulf German company.

From Germany, the plane will fly to India, China, Japan, Alaska then San Francisco. After San Francisco, plans depend on performance of the plane up to that time. The official said it was probable the plane would fly non-stop to New York and then try the Atlantic hop.

The Germans will not attempt to rival Howard Hughes' round-the-world flight. They characterize their flight as a series of long-distance tests.

HEALTH NOTES

The twelfth annual edition of "Lessons in Tuberculosis," an instructive booklet in regard to the study and prevention of tuberculosis for school children, their teachers and parents, is now being printed and will be distributed among both city and rural public schools of Texas by the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium beginning September 1.

For the past nineteen years the extension of the state institutions has conducted an educational program among the public schools of Texas to educate school children regardless of prevention and early diagnosis of tuberculosis, said Roy W. Henson, director of the division. "Lessons in Tuberculosis" has been the principal booklet used in this anti-tuberculosis program for eleven years in Texas, he added.

"Lessons in Tuberculosis" deals with the tuberculosis problem in simple language easily understood by children. Information gained from it will enable children to escape the disease. The booklet has been written by Dr. John Potts, prominent chest physician of Ft. Worth, and is endorsed by L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction.

The sanatorium corresponds with superintendents and teachers of the schools throughout Texas, sends them sample copies of "Lesson in Tuberculosis" and other literature, and then supplies them with the quantities of the literature needed for classroom study in the schools.

SURVEYING THE SUMMER

While it is yet early to enumerate the summer's happenings, we have nevertheless been reviewing in our own minds the fruit of a lot of effort. It is heartening to see the response the people in Goldthwaite have been giving through the summer toward matters which concern the welfare of the town and county. Usually the summer months are a period of lethargy, in business, interest and progress; this summer here has been one of great activity.

The Chamber of Commerce was reorganized early in June and started out on a vigorous and progressive campaign. It has aligned itself solidly to make Trades Day better. Trades Day is now giving the people of Mills County bargains which hitherto were unknown.

With the reorganization of the Chamber of Commerce, a band director was called in to build local talent into a band unit which not only benefits these individuals participating but advertises the town as well. A splendid band is the result. Plans are being made to add a drum and bugle corps to the band as soon as possible.

Goldthwaite sent two of its FFA boys, John Bowman and J. T. Soules to the Future Farmer Leadership contest in Huntsville and had them come out with first place. Thirty 4-H boys attended the encampment for 19 counties in this work at Lake Brownwood early in June and took part in a group of conferences to make for better farming in the county.

The Goldthwaite Athletic field which has been under construction during the summer will be finished in readiness for the new school term. Goldthwaite has long needed such a place for her physical education program. Now her students will have a well-equipped field.

When called upon to send in money to help the flooded areas, Goldthwaite responded by oversubscribing its quota.

A rural electrification project which will put cheap electricity into every home in the county is being planned at the present. If it goes through, farm life especially will be revolutionized by the addition of city conveniences.

Workmen started to work on the new $250,000 Colorado River bridge between Goldthwaite and San Saba to replace the old bridge.

The summer has seen the first vacation Bible Schools in both Methodist and Baptist Churches. Active campaigns to keep and increase membership in all churches have been underway.

Improvements in many of the cottages at Lake Merritt have been made and 7,000 black bass added to insure excellent fishing for sportsmen members.

Several new business houses have opened or will open within the next few days. The summer has also seen quite a bit of improving of homes.

Goldthwaite and Mills county are making rapid strides forward. Let's keep the good work going!

PLUM FOR THE ANGLO-SAXONS

There is an old adage which states that no matter how knotty a problem, how dark the future seems, that Englishmen will in some way "muddle through." The saying stops there, hiding the fact that in order to do the "muddling" England has the best equipped men it is possible to find, to investigate, and consider, and to chart the course of the problem. And the Americans, with a lot of other traditions, were passed this legacy of muddling through.

This is not to boast at all but sometimes it is interesting to see what other nations think of our ability in such matters. Two events within the week lead us to think that perhaps the opinion of other nations is respectful in such matters. Viscount Runciman, Englishman, was asked to Central Europe in the hope that where Czechoslovakia and her Sudeten Germans had failed in efforts to arbitrate, he would be able to bring about some sort of peaceful settlement. It is a difficult job he has been called on to do. He may not succeed, but the world is relieved to know that English influence is being consulted in the case.

Thursday, Leon Blum, the former premier of France, made a suggestion in an editorial, that gives us a fairly good view of the French estimate of Anglo-Saxon commonsense and ability. He suggested that Franklin D. Roosevelt be asked to settle the Russian-Japanese conflict before it develops into a major war. He pointed to Roosevelt as the one man who could do this. Another tribute to our leadership.

We are not inferring that other nations cannot compose their differences. We are rather, with tongue in cheek, merely observ-

Trade Upturn

A note of positive joy is seen in the current trade reviews and forecasts, because the statisticians are looking with pronounced optimism upon the conditions now existing—and because most of them predicted the upturn which they now report. Roger W. Babson, for instance, in his 1937 year-end review published in this newspaper, said "we are not entering a major depression," but that "payrolls, prices, stocks, real estate and jobs should all be on their way up to new highs by the end of 1938." Quite naturally, he rejoices as the business and industrial barometer swings toward 'fair weather.' Retail trade has led the advance now under way, Mr. Babson believes, because the financial condition of the country was fundamentally sound and the buying power of the public was at the level maintained throughout 1936. During the period of recession, inventories were reduced, prices were readjusted, manufactured surpluses were consumed. It follows naturally that new orders for restocking retail trade outlets mean the reopening of factories, re-employment of workers, improved transportation business and a general upturn in all phases of business and industry.

The conditions now existing offer both an opportunity and a threat to the individual business man. There is opportunity to restock on a favorable market which will be higher in a few months, to map out advertising campaigns and perfect organization so that as business returns to the 1936 peak the upturn may be taken in stride and converted into quite satisfactory profits. There is a threat that unless this is done the penalty of unpreparedness may be suffered ing that usually they do not. And if they call in the Anglo-Saxon minds it is just to show that they recognize them as more stable, less tending to fly off at tangents. Most nations can start things popping, but somehow never can succeed in stopping the celebration. The trouble is that they have been shooting here and shooting there to make a government, while the Angles and the Saxons have done a little brain work in a logical way.

C. M. T. C.

The C. M. T. C. have become an American institution largely because of the success of regular and reserve officers in carrying out a well-rounded program of army exercises, sports and instruction in the duties of citizenship. The army has kept the training free of bias or partisanship. Congress has approved the camps regardless of political majority, and has been sure of popular approval of substantial appropriations for their continuance. No young man who has been through even the primary course in the C. M. T. C. has failed to improve the quality of his citizenship. He obtains not only a better conception of his duty as a citizen in times of peace, but some indication of what may become his duty in a national emergency. While the instructors carefully avoid militarism, they do impress upon the camp members the necessity for keeping mentally, spiritually and physically fit for any service to their country. Steadfast adherence to this principle has won a secure place for the camps and a popular vote of praise for the army.—Indianapolis News.

Workers of the Texas Cooperative Research Unit found a quail nest that was being filled at the rate of two eggs a day and was being incubated by a male quail.

and loss rather than gain will be shown by the cash registers. More and more it is becoming evident that the go-getter is the one who arrives first in the highly competitive business world of today. The plodder is steadily being forced out of this field.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Views of the Nation's Press on Topics of Interest

Training in Government

What is said to be the first comprehensive training in foreign and domestic government services ever given in the South will be offered this fall in the new school of government and public affairs just established at Louisiana State University. The new school will offer both undergraduate and graduate instruction, with internship in State and Federal offices under careful supervision. In addition to the regular curriculum, the school will offer research, advisory and consultative services and short courses for public officials and civics teachers.

Obviously, we will have better trained men and women are secured for public service. But the problem is not entirely one of providing professional education in government. Before any large number of the more intelligent college students can be expected to spend money in attending a school of government and begin to seek public jobs, there must be better assurance than now that they will obtain and retain their jobs on a basis of merit and efficiency rather than one of political pull.

As long as the spoils system rules as large a proportion of public appointments as it now does, there will be little incentive to attend schools of government. But as Federal, State, county and city civil service systems are extended, schools like the new one in Louisiana will become increasingly important. Aside from the choice of policy-making executives and legislators, expansion of the merit system offers the strongest hope of more efficient public service. When this need is met, the matter of training will be cared for promptly. Dallas News.

Corrigan's Flight

The richest Irish joke of the century is Douglas Corrigan's conquest of the Atlantic in a battered old jalopy of the air, flown without maps or proper navigating equipment. Corrigan lacked permission for his flight and did not even have a passport when he landed in Ireland after hopping across the ocean, explaining that he started for California, but his compass was bad. As a debunking performance, the Texas Irishman's feat is in a class by itself. Only six other persons have made solo flights across the Atlantic. For each the most careful preparations were made. Corrigan took off as casually as if he were making a 20-mile trip, without publicity, permission or provisions. His success makes the efforts of far-famed heroes of the air look somewhat less heroic.

How to rank this daredevil in the pages of aeronautical history is a big question. It is to be hoped that others will not attempt to emulate his exploit for the perils of oceanic flight are very real. Only one with the "luck of the Irish" can laugh at them and get away with it.—Austin Times.

Worst enemies of tree nesting birds in May are wind, crickets and snakes in the order named.

Exploitation of Cave Looked Forward To

The goats that run on the Clarence Whitworth ranch about 10 miles out of Rocksprings, Texas on the Kerrville road are intelligent beings. They give the devil's sinkhole a wide berth for they know by a goat's intuition that death lurks in the yawning chasm.

Mr. Whitworth doesn't believe he has lost any goats in recent years to the cavern. All animals stay away from the hole in the top of the hill which gives human spectators a chill. The most general story about discovery of the cavern is that some cattle on stampede broke around it and the cowboy with them had to change his own course so suddenly that he lost his hat. He came back later to get it and found the reason for the cattle's heady tactics in their usually unreasonably unruly and unreasoning stampede.

Actually there are few if any more beautiful and awe-inspiring sights than those in the sinkhole. First there's the one look down from the circular rim, below which the walls of the cave curve outward and out of sight of the spectator. Many women have fainted on the rim but fortunately have fallen back on the rock rim and not to the jagged top of a mountain-within-a-mountain 250 feet below.

Then there are the views of the spherical big room from the top of the inside hill and from wall to wall and of the subterranean little lakes along the north, east and south sides of the room.

Beyond these only a few explorers, among them Dr. Frank E. Nicolson, premier explorer of Carlsbad Caverns, have ventured. And beyond those ponds, away from the big room which outranks in size and spectacular beauty any single room in Carlsbad Caverns, lay corridors and other rooms explored to date only by the millions of bats which inhabit the lost recesses of an oil well four miles from the cave.

What future exploration will reveal, nature and geology students would like to know. Mr. Whitworth who sees in the cave a worthy income supplement to the green grass, goats and cattle on his 3,500-acre ranch, admits that his curiosity is greater than his love for money. He hopes to effect a lease on the cavern and see it fully explored and then open to tourists. He and Rocksprings folk in general have high hopes of successful exploitation of the natural wonder. For Carlsbad found that a hole in the ground could net 150,000 persons and $2,000,000 a year.

At present they—and the goats—stay away. For out there on the lip of the cave, there is nothing but empty space for more than 200 feet straight down on all sides. Only hardy folk who can climb a rope and don't get dizzy can go down now, and then at their own risk.

Childhood memories commonly sweet and precious to us are those of memory because they are so dear and so precious. Among the things that are avoided like the pestilence is a boy who is to be seen entering a room to mark one's character as a frequenter of that room. All that was good and high sounding and noble were the assurances that prohibition was repealed and we have them in our number, and with a stammer to women as well as to growing girls and boys to adults. Cleverly sought to make it "manly" and "manly" to be able to drink. It is for that reason of the utmost importance to develop strong and healthy character in our boys and girls. They may not only be vicious "boozing business" men, but also the strength of character to be only for themselves, the weaker brother. They proclaim that they are a "tavern," is always "A bar to Heaven, a door. Whoever named it tavern."

I. Developing Strength of Character (Prov. 1:1-7)
Solomon, the writer of the Proverbs, constantly emphasizes the importance of character. A man may be a perfect specimen of information, lack the wisdom to use his knowledge to life. Moore, in Points to Remember, a most helpful and pertinent portion of Proverbs, suggests that we must meet the challenge of a "wise 10," by listening to a man to the words which he says and how he says them. (12) "In wisdom, dom, vv. 11-13." It has been tested by those who preceded us, and they tell us to be the right way. They may be (3) "read the wicked, vv. 14-17." The dreadful picture of the only do wickedness by leading others into it. In fact they cannot see they have misled some. Shun that path, and let the path to the large life. "19." The way to life is "that shineth more and more darkness. The devil and his followers are trying to lead people believe just as we. Let us teach them as they may (5) "read the of all the words of God. Give attention to God's ten to it, read it, keep in your heart. The scripture stands for the man's spiritual being. They are all the issues of thoughts, unholiness, unholiness hidden there will be revealed in overt unholiness. Even so the hidden there will be revealed. The young man or woman thus taught God's Word and the church will be a prenable defense against temptations of the flesh, and the devil.

II. Exhibiting Strength of Character (1 Thess. 5:4-8)
The Lord is coming and was constantly looking for the day of His coming. His lot to live until the day, but he was not mistaken for Him. The Lord is why only He knows the judgment of many expositors that the day is to take place in days. His return. What a privilege. But while we await, we are not to sleep as about us. Watchfulness, life, these become the Christian nothing of the day of our day is to enter of the Christian. It is long to the devil's "fire" more than that is to the Christian is to go to love, and hope until "on fire" for God, because passion of the Holy Spirit for his own life, but the passion of the lost and the of the lost and the of true Christian is those who have taken selves the beautiful Christian.

Open Letter By Tolbert Patterson

To The Citizenship of Mills
County

The following are some facts that a number of citizens are interested in. First we are presenting a few items for thought relative to certain criticisms that have come to our attention in the race for State Representative. Secondly, we have listed a few items which in my opinion are outstanding issues and in which all citizens are interested.

1. What about the two Jobs?
Without knowing all the facts the opposition have criticized Tolbert Patterson for having employment when the Legislature has not been in session. Facts should always be considered. The facts are that the membership of the Legislature receive pay only for the time the Legislature is in session. In addition, the facts are that any man MUST make a living during the 17 to 20 months which the Legislature is not in session.

This is what those who know the facts say:

"This is to certify that Tolbert Patterson has not received any pay or money for any teaching service from the Mullin Independent School District for the time the 45th Legislature has been in either regular or call session." (Signed before a Notary Public by every School Board member and by officials of the school depository of the Mullin School and original copy on file in the County Clerk's office of Mills County, Texas.)

The Attorney General's Office has this to say:

"You are advised that in the opinion of this Department it is legal for you to serve as member of the Texas Legislature and also to serve as Superintendent of an Independent School District." (Original copy on file in the County Clerk's office, Mills Co.)

2. What about Attendance?

Without knowing all the facts the opposition have attempted to criticize Tolbert Patterson on the score of his attendance at the Texas Legislature. Again the facts in the case are the important items to consider. The records show that Tolbert Patterson's record is unimpeachable on the grounds that his voting reveals that he DID NOT STRADDLE ISSUES. The additional facts are that two members of his family, a brother and his mother were confined in the hospital during certain time the Legislature was in session. These facts in fairness are to be considered. The following statements are documents of record in the County Clerk's Office Mills Co.

"This is to certify that Mrs. W. A. Patterson was admitted to the Scott and White Hospital on June 21, 1937, and was operated upon June 24, 1937, having performed a major surgical operation, and was dismissed from the hospital on July 12, 1937." Signed by G. V. Brindley.

"This is to certify that Mr. Doris Patterson was in our hospital undergoing treatment from 5-27-37 to 6-9-37. He was transferred to a Boarding House at the end of this time and was under treatment for another four weeks." Signed by Dr. J. S. McCelvey, King's Daughters Clinic.

3. Issues

After boiling down to the final point I am of the opinion that for membership in the Texas Legislature for the next two years there are three outstanding issues. By this I do not mean that every other problem is excluded, but I mean that these are paramount and fundamental.

(1) The mandate is again upon the Texas Legislature and the Governor of this State for a liberal pension law.

(2) To me, the issue of economy in State Government is an outstanding issue. I thoroughly believe that if reasonable business practices are applied to the methods of making appropriations and checking on these appropriations after they are made that a substantial reduction in expenses of the State may be made.

(3) No substantial program of Legislation will ever be passed in Texas until we have a reasonable amount of cooperation between the governor and the Texas Legislature. I pledge to the governor elect of this State my cooperation to the end of better government in Texas.

Without any ax to grind, special groups to favor, or political appointment to seek. I solicit

HITLER'S NEW GAM

Herr Hitler's new game, the Volkswagen, or people's car, which he proposes to build, is the China dog and cat game—may very well be the European automobile industry to expectations.

What Der Fuhrer has in mind is a sort of magic car, in form of a car wheel, a speed of 62 miles an hour, father, mother and child, Germans all stored in it, along with the kitchen and dachshund, $230.

The Nazi government advertised that it is going to build a million and a half of them as soon as factories are completed about 1948. In the Mr. Ford, Herr Hitler's gesture of decorating the mobile wizard with the Cross of the German Empire, what he has done is to automobiles for the world.—Selected.
