Texas Wildlife Regulations

AUSTIN, Aug. 19.—Dove hunters of Texas will not be subjected to a series of conflicting regulations such as confused them last year, the Game Department announced.

Compared to those of last year, the 1938 regulations are fairly uniform.

Combined state and federal laws governing both mourning and white-winged doves provide the following open seasons:

From September 1 to Oct. 31, in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Young, Jack, Wise, Denton, Collin, and Hunt, and all counties north thereof, and the counties of Parker, Tarrant, Dallas, Rockwall, Kaufman, Johnson, Hopkins, Delta and Franklin.

In the remainder of the state the open season on both species is from September 15 to November 15. Below the Texas-Mexican Railway in the Rio Grande Valley, however, only four days of shooting each week during the open season will be allowed—on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays, and Sundays—but this exception is not applicable to Webb and Zapata counties.

The hours for shooting mourning and white-winged doves during the open seasons are from 7 a. m. to sunset.

Neither species may be shot with a weapon other than a shotgun, and it shall not be larger than No. 10 gage. It is a repeating or automatic shotgun it must be permanently plugged to a three-shell capacity.

The daily bag limit is 15 in the aggregate of both mourning doves and white wings. The possession limit also is 15 in the aggregate of both species.

Baiting of doves of either species is prohibited by federal regulations.

Under new federal migratory waterfowl regulations announced recently Texas duck hunters will have a 45-day open season this year compared to a 30-day open season in 1937; and in addition may shoot a limited number of species hitherto protected. The open season on ducks and geese, Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe and coot, is Nov. 30.

Not only has open season on ducks and geese been lengthened, but the possession limits have been doubled.

The bag limit on ducks, except the wood duck, is 10 in the aggregate of all kinds, the same as last season, but the possession limit has been doubled to 20 in the aggregate.

This season hunters may take three canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads or ruddy ducks in their daily bag, or an aggregate of three birds of the different species. The possession limit for these ducks is six of any single species, or six in the aggregate.

The daily bag limit on geese and brant is five in the aggregate of all kinds, and the possession limit has been increased to 10 in the aggregate.

The daily bag limit on rails and gallinules, except sora and coot, is continued at 15 in the aggregate of all kinds. The possession limit is the same.

Bag limits for some of the other migratory game birds are: Sora, 15; coot, 25; Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe, 15. In each case the possession limit may not exceed the daily bag limit. A new federal regulation added this year forbids the rallying of coot for hunting.

As was the case last year, waterfowl and coot may be hunted in season from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Not more than two days' bag limit of lawfully taken and lawfully possessed ducks and geese may be transported in one calendar week. Transportation last season was limited to one day's bag.

Chief restrictions in this year's federal regulations that have been continued from last year are:

Baiting of waterfowl and doves and the use of live duck and goose decoys in hunting waterfowl are not authorized regardless of the distance between the bait or decoys and the shooter. Three three-shell limit on re-

JUDGE HARRY N. GRAVES

Conferring with local friends and supporters, Judge Harry N. Graves of the Court of Criminal Appeals visited here Friday as part of his campaign for election to the unexpired term of the court.

Judge Graves, who was the high man in the first primary by a substantial, Statewide lead, expressed confidence that he would receive a large majority in the second primary, August 27. He goes into the runoff campaign with the vote and active support of his defeated opponent, Judge Charles A. Phippen of Dallas who received 250,000 votes. Judge Phippen has called upon all his friends to vote and work for Judge Graves in the runoff, explaining that "After careful consideration of the matter, in view of Judge Graves' unquestioned ability, his tireless energy and fine records of public service, I have decided that the best interests of Texas will be served by his election."

Judge Graves, a former printer's devil who worked his way through school at the cases and press, learned law as a stenographer in the office of the late Robert A. John of Georgetown and Houston. Admitted to the bar at 19, he practiced for a time at Sherman and then was elected city attorney of his hometown of Georgetown. He has spent 35 years in the practice of law, having been county attorney of Williamson County for three terms and member of the legislature for nearly five terms. He has represented the people in hundred of criminal cases, including the famous Harry Leahy murder case, the Townsley murder case and the Heidingsfelder embezzlement case.

Growing out of Judge Graves' long courtroom experience in a small town is a strong feeling of the responsibility of the court to the average citizen. During the relatively short time he has been on the Court of Criminal Appeals, Judge Graves has set a record for rapid justice. In the 195 working days since his appointment to the court, he has written 193 opinions, a new high mark for a Texas supreme court. Proof of the legal soundness of his work is shown by the fact that all 193 were accepted and approved by the two other judges on the court.

A native of Laverna in Wilson county, Southwest Texas, Judge Graves formerly lived at Colorado in Mitchell County, West Texas practiced law at Sherman in Grayson County, East Texas, and has spent some years at Georgetown, Williamson County, Central Texas.

All Texas Papers Receive Fair Ads

Every newspaper in Texas has received a preliminary order from the State Fair of Texas for paid advertising to be used a little later, it has been announced here by Holmes Green, Chairman of the publicity committee.

This is the first time in the ken of most advertising men, where a single order has gone out which has included every daily, semi-weekly and weekly newspaper in the entire State. There are more than 900 newspapers in the State, Mr. Green said.

If you have visitors, a party, or social gathering tell the Eagle about it.

peating or automatic shotguns, in effect the last three seasons, is continued. Hunters may shoot waterfowl with shotguns only, not larger than No. 10 gage.

Ross' geese, wood ducks and swans are still protected.

Coil of Rope and Shaft of Light Save Ex-Flier from Death in Arctic

A LONG cast with a rope from a barge to the banks of the Great Bear River, and a beam of light which enabled a chance trapper to seize the cable and make it fast to a tree, saved T. H. Inkster, of Kirkland Lake, Ont., from death among ice floes in the Arctic Sea.

Inkster, well known explorer and a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, was directing the shipment of machinery and supplies from Edmonton to the radium fields just below the Arctic Circle. To keep freight moving, he had to set up temporary quarters on a dynamite barge anchored midstream in the river. The section was desolate, and he was living alone on the barge.

He was awakened in the night, he said, by the roar and vibration of a gale. Heavy rain was falling, and the barge was plunging and tugging on her anchor chain. If the anchor held, Inkster was all right, but if the barge got adrift, he would immediately be in grave danger. The clumsy craft, loaded with explosive, might drift him or crash into rocks or river bank and blow up. And once in the Mackenzie River, the barge would be on its way to the Arctic.

"All this had scarcely run through my mind," Inkster said, "when the anchor chain let go. In another minute the barge was under way. There was nothing I could do to stop it or save myself. It was unlikely I could swim to shore, and if I did, I'd soon freeze to death.

"I remembered that a few days previous a trapper had been camping up-river. There was a chance he was still there. So, as we came near the place, I began to shout. In a minute or so I heard dogs barking, then came a halloo from the man.

"As we got opposite the camp, I began making casts with a small cable. The barge was moving fast by this time, with every cast lessening my chances, but finally the line reached the bank. I grabbed my flashlight and played it on the spot. As soon as the trapper had the line, he took a turn around a large tree and we finally got the barge eased in toward the bank.

"A hundred yards beyond, was a bend that would have swung the barge out into mid-stream, and any hope of rescue would have gone. After all, what saved the day—or the night—was the flashlight. I had been using it every night on the barge, but fortunately the batteries were fresh when I put them in and they stood up. I have had many narrow escapes, but this was the closest."

Inkster was one of the youngest officers in the Royal Air Force during the war.

Can Pineapples

The pineapple is credited with being an aid to the digestion and a better source of protective food than most fruits, according to Miss Grace I. Neely, food demonstration specialist of the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

"Pineapple is not only a good food, but when we consider that it may be bought and canned for one-half or 1-3 of the price we pay for a good grade of canned pineapple, it is also a good investment," she said.

"Home canning of pineapple is a regular practice with many home demonstration club members, according to the foods specialist. She pointed to the cooperative purchase of a truck load of pineapples by home demonstration women of Parker county recently.

A committee there made arrangements to bring 100 dozen fresh pineapples averaging 7 pounds in weight, to Weatherford at a price of $1.50 a dozen. The fruit, which was grown in Mexico, was gathered direct from the field and loaded in the truck. The entire load was disposed of between 10 a. m. and 6 p. m.

The women who canned the pineapple reported an average of 40 pint containers from each dozen fruits.

A similar procedure was used in McCulloch county, where club girls bought 100 dozen pineapple and canned them for a total expense of 7 1-2 cents a pint. All over the State 4-H girls and home demonstration club members have been realizing savings and adding to the variety of their families' diet by canning this fruit. Directions on canning may be obtained from county home demonstration agents, Miss Neeley said.

Chickens, like people, must have a variety of food to keep healthy and vigorous. No one kind of grain will give them what they need, and while the ration should be built around the grains raised on the farm, as a matter of economical production, it is also poor economy to deprive either growing pullets or laying hens of other grains and mixed mash to supplement the corn or grain sorghums which nearly every Southwestern farm grows. Wheat is the best single grain for poultry, but it, too, must be supplemented by animal or vegetable proteins, which are best supplied by skim milk or scientifically compounded mash feeds. The label on mixed feed tells its composition.

However well the skilled poultryman gets along with a flock under close confinement, his intensive methods are not adapted to farm poultry production. Sunshine and green feed are the natural vitamin-carrying elements, and if the farm flock is given free access to them, while observing the same sanitary precautions of the poultry specialist, there is little doubt that the farm flock will be more resistant to disease, more productive in proportion to the feed used, and therefore more profitable per hen than the "egg factory" type of operation.

The Southwest is fortunate in that green feed may be grown for use in every month in the year, thus avoiding much in the winter expense for sprouted grains; and its many sunny days throughout the cold season reduces the need for cod liver oil in the ration. At this season preparations for winter greens

San Saba

The first bale of cotton of this season was brought in by Cotolaz Florez, who is a renter on the Davidson Brothers farm at Harkeyville. Ponton & Vogel ginned the cotton; but it had not been sold at this time.

A wedding of interest to the younger set was solemnized the latter part of July when Miss Kathryn Busby became the bride of Mr. Harold Behrens. The wedding took place in Goldthwaite with Rev. E. E. Dawson officiating.

San Saba County Old Settlers' Association has now set a new date for their annual reunion, which was postponed on account of the flood. The new date set is Thursday, Sept. 8, at the old Fair grounds.

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Miss Adair Cawyer and Clifford Funderburk, Thursday, July 28. The vows were said at the home of the pastor of the Church of Christ of Corpus Christi in the presence of a few friends.

George Jackson, age 19 years died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jackson, Aug. 9, after an extended illness.

Not only has San Saba a problem with persons living within her limits during the time of high waters in the San Saba river, but she has a problem with her dead, buried in the City Cemetery about half way between the business section and the river. From last week's flood the damage will run into two or three thousand dollars, or possibly more since no estimate to the damage has been officially made, and injury to many of the lots vary from around ten dollars to fifty dollars or more, according to men in charge of the rehabilitation there.

It is stated that ninety per cent of the monuments are overturned and many of them are broken with some of them washed some distances in several directions.

Lampasas

For use temporarily, till arrangements and plans for a bridge have been worked out, a ferry boat will be used at Bend to cross the Colorado river, according to Judge Jno. C. Abney. The ferry boat will be built and ready for use at an early date, Judge Abney said, if Colonel Managault gets the plans here for the boat according to promise. This agreement was entered into between the Lampasas and San Saba commissioners at a meeting held at Bend.

Delmar Wayne, three month old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eucharan, died at the local hospital Tuesday at 4:25 a.m. He had been in the hospital only a short time, although he had been ill about three weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Draper of Duncan, Oklahoma, visited a few days here during the week end with her father, H. F. Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Gartman and children, Miss Katherine and Geo. W. Jr., left Thursday on a vacation trip to Estes Park, Colorado. They expect to be gone two weeks.

Mrs. H. F. Lewis returned home a few days ago from a several week's vacation trip in the western states.

Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Ezell and daughter, Frances, left Tuesday morning on a vacation trip to the hills country near Uvaldes.

A few weeks ago, according to many farmers, most of the cotton over this section promised to make a good yield. The rains for a week during the latter part of July made the stalk tender and the leaf worms went to work last week and most of the cotton has been struck. Many have sprayed with poison at a cost of about a dollar per acre and if rain will stay off for a time this pest may be stopped. On the other hand the weevils are working very badly in most sections and the forms are being punctured and are falling off. Reports from many places also state the boll worms are bad.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

NICK and CHARLES KENNY, A.S.C.A.P.

The Gold Mine Is Still in the Sky

By Daniel I. McNamara

NICK fought in five wars. He was a stroke orsman on a sailor's twelve-oared racing cutter that never was beaten. He was star football player and all around athlete in the U. S. Navy. Today he is a powerful, smiling giant—but if you hear a song of tender sentiment, like as not you'll see a tear well in the eye of this soft-hearted swashbuckler.

For Nick Kenny is himself a writer of songs of appealing sentimentality. He loves to entertain the children on his radio programs.

A success in New York journalism, Kenny insists that he is a song writer first, newspaper man incidentally. For he started writing songs when he was a youngster in the navy, and has been writing them for more than 20 years. He has written more than 50 successes, many of them among the best sellers.

Nick, however, has not cornered the talent in the Kenny family, for his accomplished brother, Charles, a violinist and composer, frequently shares with Nick the honors of creating new song successes. Nick, a native of Astoria, L. I., served two complete terms in the navy, starting as a coal passer. He became the fastest signal man in the Navy. Three of his brothers were lost in the world war. His second enlistment ended the day of the Armistice. After two years in the Merchant Marine, he went to work as a cub reporter in Bayonne, N. J., soon became sports editor, then worked on newspapers in Boston and New York. He was a pioneer in the development of the radio column as a newspaper feature. For more than a decade he has been an authority on news of the radio.

Both Nick and Charles are members of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and their copyrighted songs are in the Society's repertoire. Active in New York newspaper work, they have found music an avocation of great possibilities. One of their latest efforts is "Cathedral in the Pines," a song of romantic appeal, and one of the most popular numbers of current radio programs.

25000 Soldiers In Sham Battle

Port Sam Houston, Texas, August 19—Forty years ago last spring Teddy Roosevelt brought San Antonio into headlines by organizing and equipping here his regiment of Rough Riders for the Spanish American War. Twenty years later—in 1918—San Antonio was crowded with troops training in preparation for their departure for France. Now in 1938 troop trains once more have rolled into San Antonio, not for war, but for training as a means of preventing war. In 1898 and 1918 the citizen soldiers who arrived here were raw material, undisciplined and untrained—a motley assembly that required months of intensive drilling before they were ready for service.

In striking contrast were the 15,000 sun-tanned, clear-eyed, clean-limbed citizen soldiers who staged the Third Army Maneuver north of here with 10,000 Regular Army troops. They learned the three essentials of a good soldier—to march, to shoot and to obey—and have learned how to cooperate with other troops in realistic maneuvers.

Alone among the great nations of the world, the United States has no large standing army. Its comparatively small force of highly trained, but widely scattered Regular Army officers and men ranks in size with such small nations as Portugal and Greece. But closely behind the Regular Army stands the 200,000 citizen soldiers of the National Guard. Following them are 94,000 officers of the Organized Reserves whose job it will be to command and train the National Army that will have to be recruited and trained to provide our third and greatest line of defense.

All three of these components—Regulars, National Guardsmen and Reserve Officers—cooperated in the maneuver here this month. Their equipment, like their training, may not have been exactly alike, but grizzled veterans whose Army service antedates the Spanish American war are frank in praising the citizen soldier of today.

Twice as many Rough Riders as Theodore Roosevelt ever led put their horses through their paces over the rough ground of the hill country north of San Antonio. Dependable two-way radio sets kept advance guards in speedy, armored "hell buggies" in touch with their main body. Keen eyes and cameras in soaring observation planes searched for hidden troops and guns on the ground below. Artillerymen learned how to aim their weapons so as to blow to smithereens unseen targets five and even ten miles away.

The indispensable infantrymen were armed with the finest weapon in the world, the new M1 semi-automatic rifles that are unbelievably rapid and accurate. Equipped with them and with modern machine guns, a single battalion today can fire more shots, ten times as far, in one hour than Lee's Army in Virginia could fire all day.

Ripsnorting tanks did their stuff as they banged their way through barricades so the doughboys could mop up.

Equally advanced is the Army medical corps which keeps America's peacetime army the healthiest in the world and in time of war is prepared to perform miracles of healing and repair.

These grim-faced youngsters in khaki and the graying veterans as well who fought the sham battle of San Antonio learned that modern war is no picnic or band-blaring holiday, but is a grim and serious business that demands real men. They will be the last in all our land to start a scrap and plunge our nation into war.

The new City Hall and Fire Station which is nearing completion is the pride of Comanche and is causing favorable comment not only from local citizens but from almost every Comanche visitor who has inspected it.

Mrs. Hugh Sherrill died in Los Angeles, California Monday. Besides her husband and son, she is survived by her brother, Dick Vernon of Gustine, and two sisters, Miss Margaret Vernon of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Sid Cunningham of Comanche.

Mrs. G. W. Bean, age 74, died at her home near Gustine at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday, July 20, after an illness of two days, although having been in ill health for several years.

The Comanche schools will open for the new term Monday, September 12, according to announcement by the school board.

State Highway 36 from Gatesville to the State Juvenile Training School will be topped in the very near future to eliminate the dust nuisance, County Judge Floyd Zeigler of Gatesville announced.

Building improvements in Comanche show a marked increase during the last few weeks. Several new homes have been started and a number of businesses and residences have been remodeled and improved.

A petition is being circulated by Dr. A. J. Gray asking the City Council to call an election to determine whether or not a $25,000 bond issue shall be made for a municipal hospital supplemented by a like amount in a WPA grant.—Chief.

Lometa

The benefit show, given Tuesday night by the Lometa Theatre and sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Study and Civic Club netted $25 for the Red Cross fund.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Gribble on the old Lometa highway, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon about 3:30. The house was the property of J. T. Vann and was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Vernadean Brandon.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth O'Quin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. O'Quin, to E. K. Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crouch of Lometa, was solemnized in the First Baptist church Friday at 8 a.m.

VOTE FOR RICHARD CRITZ

—for— ASSOCIATE JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT

TO THE VOTERS OF MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS:

We, the undersigned citizens of Mills county, Texas realize that sometimes in our enthusiasm for one candidate, we over-look giving serious consideration to candidates for other very important offices. We think the positions of Judges of our Courts are of great importance, and that the selection of officers to fill them are some of the most serious duties confronting us.

We have investigated the relative merits of the two candidates for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, and find that Judge Richard Critz, now a member of that Court, and candidate for re-election, is pre-eminently the man for the position. We find he has the background, experience, legal learning and mental and moral qualifications to fit him to be the judge of this court.

We therefore most heartily endorse his candidacy, we expect to vote for him, and we ask that you give him careful consideration. We believe a vote for Judge Richard Critz is a vote for Good Government in Texas.

What Can Osteopathy Do?

Nearly all who are introduced to the science of Osteopathy ask sooner or later, "What diseases are amenable to Osteopathic treatment?" Or "can Osteopathy help this or that condition?"

When it is understood that the body possesses its own chemical laboratory, which operates automatically according to the demand; that all diseases are ultimately healed by the blood, if cure is possible; and unless tissue changes have gone beyond physiological repair—when these facts are realized, the scope of Osteopathy is not difficult to understand.

We are constantly confronted with the necessity of adjusting and reconditioning motor cars, and in their field we daily observe the results of skillful application of this important principle. The human machine is far more valuable than the best automobile and yet all too frequently it fails to receive the common sense consideration we give to our motor cars.

It is a serious mistake to neglect your machine or that of your children.

It should always be kept in mind when considering the problem of health conservation and restoration, especially when any ailment fails to respond to other lines of treatment.

The only sure and certain way of establishing the normal is through the skillful application of the Osteopathic treatment.

When once you fully realize the real benefits to be derived from keeping your body free from all these mechanical handicaps, nothing but the severest economic stress will prevent you from utilizing the expert service offered by Osteopathic physicians along this line.

The Osteopathic doctor can actually tune up your body, relieve wear and tear, improve your vitality, make your organs function smoother and add years to life, much as the expert mechanic can tune up the motor in your automobile and increase its "pep" etc.

When so much can be done for that body of yours you cannot well afford to deny yourself these benefits.

After many years of successful practice we are fully convinced that all curable diseases respond more rapidly to Osteopathic and Electrical treatment than to other methods.

R. A. LUKER SUPPORTS TOLBERT PATTERSON FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

R. A. Luker, former State Representative from the 104th District, has announced that he is supporting Tolbert Patterson who is a candidate for his second term for State Representative from Comanche and Mills Counties.

Mr. Luker's letter to Mr. Patterson under date of August 9, 1938, quoted in its entirety is as follows:

"When the results of our Legislature are unsatisfactory, we are prone to punish those who made an honest effort to serve us well. The result of such action being that we often retain those who are least in accord with the public will. I have never questioned your sincere efforts to make good on the promises you made, but because other forces prevented we would now punish you.

The wise course is to retain those who sincerely tried to do the right thing. If we would follow that course we would have less criticism of our Legislature. For these reasons I am supporting you for re-election.

Your opponent is my neighbor and my friend. If your positions were reversed, if he were seeking re-election at the end of his first term and you were opposing him and if he had made an honest effort to do the right thing, I would be supporting him.

I trust there is nothing personal in my attitude. It is purely a practical attempt to get the job done."

Mr. Patterson in seeking his second term is pledging to the citizens of this District among other things his support of the following:

1. Economy in State expenditures. This can be accomplished only by a revised system of budgeting and an independent auditing system for Texas.
2. Liberalization of the pension law in Texas and a removal of the Old Age Assistance set-up from political domination.
3. Co-operation with the Governor-elect in a program of sane legislation on business principles.

Brownwood, Texas
August 4, 1938

Mr. Jim White, Editor, Brownwood Bulletin, Brownwood, Texas.

Dear Mr. White: We, the undersigned farmers and citizens of Brown County, note in your issue of July 29th, your editorial on the State Senator's race, in which you say "Mr. Prescott merits support on his own record."

Now, Mr. White, you do not say what this record is or refer to anything that Mr. Prescott has accomplished during the two years he has been a member of the legislature. Isn't it a fact, Mr. White, that the legislative journals do not credit Mr. Prescott with accomplishing a single constructive thing during this period of time, and that his opponent, Mr. Metcalfe, did get things done?

Isn't it true, Mr. White, that Mr. Prescott introduced a soil conservation bill that would have given virtual control of our farms to appointed hirelings, which bill was so objectionable to the farmers of this district that it never got out of committee? Isn't it also true that Mr. Metcalfe offered an amendment to the soil conservation bill which DID pass—NOT Mr. Prescott's bill—which sought to protect farmers in their property rights, and that Mr. Prescott voted against it?

Isn't it a fact that the House journals show during both special sessions that Mr. Prescott, in his own right, did not offer a single bill, resolution, or amendment to help the old folks or been officially advised of urgent needs for these purposes. And, ward in the last called session with a bill designed to keep the school buses running, which was passed and did this.

Mr. White, you have a splendid reputation of standing for prohibition and against the open saloon. Do you recall an advertisement which recently appeared in your paper, from Mr. Prescott's supporters, and also many recent public statements to take up, or as he said "FOR," House Bill 20, the Sale of Liquor by Drink Bill? Now, Mr. White, isn't it a fact that the House journals of the Second Called Session show, on pages 298, 572, and 582, where Mr. Prescott, on three several occasions, did the very same thing for which he criticizes Senator Davis, and voted to take this bill up and to suspend the rules of Davis, and voted permit the Senate to consider it, in desperate attempts to pass it, and that Mr. Metcalfe voted AGAINST it? In view of your public stand for prohibition, how can you support a man who voted FOR THE OPEN SALOON (in preference to a man who voted AGAINST the saloon)?

Very Truly Yours,
H. A. Campbell, B. U. Ross, T. I. Smith, T. M. McCulley, T. E. Levisay, W. F. Timmins, C. C. Shelton, W. J. Richmond, W. J. Bojes, Jesse Marlin, S. E. Lacy, G. C. Dabney, W. O. Gray, O. E. Sides, R. A. Byrd, W. C. Bingham, H. D. Yates.
