

THE GOLDTHWAITE EAGLE

GOLDTHWAITE, MILLS COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1938.

NUMBER THREE

Prospects Good for Football Season

Football field and bleachers and seats for Goldthwaite High School are being extra hard to get for their first game with the Hamiltons on September 16. All teams are to be played many of the business people have shown already.

G. W. Stanley, resident of the Ridge community, has brought to the County Agent's office a "Believe It Or Not" freak, a cross between a watermelon and a pomegranate. The melon is divided equally, half is natural watermelon, dark green in color, while the other half is yellow. It is about the size of a large grapefruit and weighs only 2 1/2 pounds.

Convocation Program Was Success

The services held last Sunday night at the school auditorium, with Judge Gerald presiding, were splendid from every standpoint.

A large crowd was present and listened to the inspiring and uplifting messages brought by the three ministers of the town, Elder Furr, Rev. Dawson and Rev. Brucks.

Their subjects were befitting the occasion and if the young people as well as students will be guided by the advice and admonition given, their lives will surely be enriched and more successful as life goes on.

A delightful quartet was furnished by Messrs. Buel Condon, F. P. Bowman, R. E. Clements and C. E. Bayley, accompanied at the piano by Miss Clara Bowman.

Supt. Smith made a short talk and then presented each teacher and as they graciously responded by rising from their seats, they were heartily applauded.

Church of Christ

Edgar E. Furr, Minister

Our fall work started off in a nice way with good crowds in attendance. We hope to make our work this fall as profitable as possible.

Our Bible school begins each Lord's Day morning at 9:45, with our regular hour of worship following the Bible school.

Our preaching service on Sunday nights will begin at 7:45 for while and as the days grow shorter will begin earlier.

Local C. of C. Held Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce held a meeting Tuesday afternoon and planned a number of interesting things for entertainment of the people who visit our town on Trades Day each month.

Library Notes

Last week was a banner week for the Goldthwaite Public Library. Mrs. Chas McKenny presented a set of Britannica Encyclopaedias which belonged to her father, the late A. J. Harrison, a lovely memorial in the town he loved and where he was loved and respected.

Lions Club Hears Mrs. W. E. Cantrell

A welcome innovation was sprung at the Lions Club meeting in the Methodist Church recreation room Tuesday evening when Mrs. W. E. Cantrell of Lometa was presented as the speaker of the evening.

Preceding the program a fried chicken dinner was served. The speaker was introduced in big-league style. Raymond Little, vice-president and acting chairman first called on Rev. Fred J. Brucks of the program committee who presented the committee chairman, Dr. T. C. Graves, who introduced Mr. Cantrell who presented his wife, the speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Cantrell, a former Goldthwaite resident, prefaced her remarks with a fishing story which is destined for wide circulation in these parts and then discussed seriously and effectively the significance of world trends today and the needs of America.

She gave a graphic picture of the ills of Europe and contrasted them with the security of America. Her address was greeted with much applause and a rising vote of thanks.

Coach S. E. Cloninger spoke briefly on football prospects for this year.

County Court Has Quiet Session

County court convened Monday and three cases were disposed of. One was a lunacy case in which the person was found insane. The defendant in a case of aggravated assault pleaded guilty and one charged with bootlegging was tried and given 15 days in the county jail.

New Oil Well Waits on Rig

With the slush pit and water well completed, the well that is being drilled for oil on the Ivy place north of Goldthwaite is waiting for the heavy rig to move on the job. It is expected at any time now, having been delayed in completing the well where it has been located.

Rural Electric Line May Extend

Increased interest in securing electric service in and around Center City this week has made it appear possible that the new high line may be extended so as to include this section. It will not be definitely known, however, until the total of applicants who have made their deposits has been tabulated.

Anthrax Epidemic Less Serious Now

Livestock losses from anthrax are growing fewer and fewer and fears of a countywide siege of the disease have proved groundless. Only one new outbreak has been reported since last week—this was on a farm in the Payne Gap community which has been put under quarantine.

A part of north San Saba county has also been placed under quarantine because of several cases of anthrax there, but latest reports state that it appears to be under control.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—BUSINESS.—The key to tomorrow's business may lie in last week's headlines from foreign capitals. While the majority of Americans spent the week with nothing more pressing than to clean up their work to get away for the 51st observance of Labor Day week end, all Europe was tense as a new war scare gripped the continent. Hitler made an unexpected tour of inspection of Germany's fortifications along the Rhine opposite France and Switzerland no doubt to show he meant business in backing demands of the German minority in Czechoslovakia for territorial autonomy. Heavy fighting occurred in China as the Japanese army renewed its attacks in the Hankow area. Italy passed a decree ordering all Jews who have taken up residence in the country since the world war to leave within six months, even those who have acquired citizenship. In Mexico City, President Cardenas opened the Mexican Congress with a denunciatory speech refusing demands of the United States for arbitration of payments for seized land, attacking the position of this country as an attempt to impose the will of the strong on the weak. Meanwhile, in America a fighting unit of the Navy was assigned to patrol the Atlantic ocean for the first time since 1932 when the Naval Scouting Force was transferred to the Pacific.

WASHINGTON.—Officials here continue optimistic over the business outlook believing that more definite statistical evidence of the steady rise now going on in many lines will appear within a few weeks. Whether business can be lifted bodily into considerably higher sales volume brackets before next year, however, depends pretty much on three factors, economists point out: 1. The buying response of the public to the 1939 model automobiles. 2. Expansion in the capital goods industries, iron and steel, machinery, transportation equipment, nonferrous metals, lumber, stone, clay, glass, and the like. 3. The ability of the textile industry, now booming, to maintain this pace; observers don't overlook possibility that present business may represent merely stocking up in anticipation of the new wage-hour law as it did in anticipation of NRA.

First Cotton Bale Brings $26 Premium

Joe Corona who has frequently produced the first bale of cotton in Mills county in previous years repeated the performance this year on Friday, Sept. 2. J. E. Greathouse ginned the bale, and business men of Goldthwaite raised a $20.50 bonus for the grower. As the ginning was also donated, the total value of the premium amounted to $26.50.

The bale weighed 500 pounds and was bought by Mr. Greathouse at 8 cents.

This is the latest that the first bale of cotton has been ginned in Goldthwaite that anyone can remember. In 1924, according to Mr. Greathouse, the first bale came in on September 1, but in other years August saw the first bale.

The cotton which produced the bale this year was planted by Corona in April immediately after the freeze. He only planted 15 acres at this time and then waited until later to finish planting. However the earlier planting will produce all the cotton he makes.

Many other cotton growers are bawling late plantings, some as late as June, which are a total failure this year.

Several Schools Start Monday

In addition to the Goldthwaite school, those at Star, Center City, Mt. Olive, Midway and Chapel Hill opened last Monday. A number of others will open next Monday.

The total enrollment at Goldthwaite is now approximately ten per cent over last year which was the largest on record.

Cotton Price Adjustment

COLLEGE STATION.—Cotton price adjustment payments on the 1937 crop will be made on a maximum of 60 per cent of the 1937 base cotton production of farms for which applications are submitted, according to word received from the Washington headquarters by the state AAA office at Texas A&M College.

An appropriation of 130 million dollars is available for these payments. Of this amount, Texas will receive approximately $37,013,000 it was learned. The average payment rate will be 2.89 cents per pound.

While payments are applied to the eligible part of a producer's 1937 base cotton production, regardless of whether or not he took part in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program, no payment will be made to a producer who knowingly overplanted his 1938 cotton acreage allotment.

In case the amount of cotton produced in 1937 was less than 60 per cent of the base, payment will not be made on more than the amount actually produced, except in cases of crop failure from specified causes. The maximum payments rate applies to all eligible cotton produced in 1937 and not sold by the producer before September 10, 1937, and includes cotton held by producers or put under the 1937 government loan.

The payment rate on eligible cotton sold before September 10, 1937, will be the amount by which the average price of 7-8 inch middling cotton on 10 designated spot markets was below 12 cents on the date of sale, but not to exceed 3 cents per pound in any case.

In cases of crop failure due to hail, drought, flood, insect or fungus infestation, a payment not to exceed 60 per cent of the farm's 1937 base allotment will be made on the normal production of the 1937 cotton acreage.

The amount of cotton eligible for payment on a farm will be divided among the 1937 producers in accordance with their share of the acreage planted to cotton in 1937.

Methodist Men Give Barbecue

Methodist men and boys, who came out last in the summer attendance contest at the Methodist Sunday School, prepared and served a barbecue and delicious trimmings for the entire Sunday School last Friday evening. The affair was held on the church lawn and overflowed on to the street, which was roped off for the evening.

Following the delicious meal of barbecued mutton, potato salad, pickles, bread, red lemonade, cake and pie, a humorous program was "broadcast" in which the Adams of the contest took revenge on the winning Eves.

Home Demonstration Work Underway

Sixty-seven women from 12 communities of Mills county responded to the first county-wide home demonstration meeting, held in Goldthwaite Monday afternoon, Sept. 15.

Interest was keen and arrangements were made to hold meetings in each community for the purpose of organizing community home demonstration clubs through which the Extension Service functions. To date home demonstration clubs have been organized in South Bennett and Mount Olive communities.

Representatives from Star, Mullini, South Bennett, Mt. Olive, Goldthwaite, Scallorn, Lake Merritt, Big Valley, Center City, Pleasant Grove, Center Point, Prairie and Trigger Mt., attended Monday's meeting.

Y. W. A.

The Y. W. A. met Tuesday evening at 8:00 p. m. Each member brought canned goods to be taken to a needy family here in town. Religious songs were sung at the humble home of the family by Y. W. A. members, prayer by Mrs. Moon and sentence prayers by the girls were said. Two Bible stories were told by Thelma Henry and Auriel Tullos.

The Y. W. A. met for a Bible study and business meeting Thursday evening.

New Y. W. A. members were united with other members by repeating in unison the Y. W. A. watchword found in Daniel 12:3. Jean Goosby, president this year, was given a handkerchief shower of appreciation for her service. The chair was then turned over to Auriel Tullos, newly-elected president for the coming year and up to January, 1940.

The date of the weekly meetings was changed to Tuesday instead of Thursday.—Reporter.

Funds Are Sought To Buy or Build Electric System

Present electric rates in Goldthwaite are entirely reasonable for a local generating plant, but if electric current can be purchased from the Colorado River Authority and a PWA grant of 45 per cent of the necessary funds can be obtained, an annual saving of practically 50 per cent of the present rates is estimated. This is the gist of a 37-page report on a municipal light and power system for Goldthwaite which was presented to the City Council at its regular meeting last Monday evening.

The report, which cost the city $400, was prepared by Wm. G. Morrison, consulting engineer, of Waco who specializes in municipal electric systems. A house to house canvass was made here to determine the number and type of electric lights and appliances in use.

Estimates based on the data secured show that there are now 378 actual and 40 potential consumers of electricity in Goldthwaite who are paying $24,471 annually for 530,688 kilowatt hours. The report estimates that by building and operating a generating and transmission system here, a saving over present rates of only $1,907 or 7.7 per cent would be possible. This of course is not sufficient to warrant the city going into the business.

The City Council took no action after hearing the report except to instruct Mr. Morrison to apply for a 45 per cent PWA grant sufficiently large to build a generating plant or to buy the plant now in use here. This application will be made without further expense to the city, and the grant can be returned without using, if so desired. Should the city enter the electric distribution field, many believe that the present system of the Community Public Service should be purchased outright. Application to the PWA does not bind the city to any course of action.

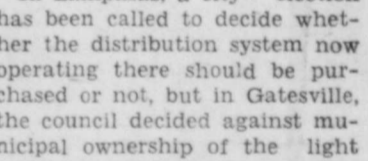

The PWA has already given the application a temporary designation, and the papers for the final application have been sent to the city for completion.

In Lampasas, a city election has been called to decide whether the distribution system now operating there should be purchased or not, but in Gatesville, the council decided against municipal ownership of the light and power system and cancelled its application for a PWA grant to buy or construct one. The question is a complex one and cannot be decided off-hand.

The Fire Department was called to the home of J. W. Edwards on Tuesday, where sparks from the flue had set the roof afire. It was soon extinguished with but little damage done.

Plan Fun for 160,000 Children

The thousands of school children attending the glamorous Castle of Foods at the Golden Jubilee celebration of the State Fair of Texas in Dallas during the month of October will have a grand good time as well as unusual educational facilities. L. A. In the picture Mr. Woods (right) is conferring in his office at Austin with Granville W. Moore (center), chairman of the Food Industries Committee, who will present the Castle, and Rex V. MONEY IN THE BANK

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
Breeder-Feeder Association

Silo is like money. It is as long as you can get it. It is a subject to which you need to devote thousands of dollars. There are silos to be had for $11,000. In the bank, money is probably the most valuable thing in the four corners of the world. It is the thing for which figures are made. It is the thing that makes the difference between a poor man and a rich man. It is the thing that makes the difference between a man who is a failure and a man who is a success. It is the thing that makes the difference between a man who is a beggar and a man who is a king. It is the thing that makes the difference between a man who is a slave and a man who is a free man. It is the thing that makes the difference between a man who is a pauper and a man who is a millionaire. It is the thing that makes the difference between a man who is a beggar and a man who is a king. It is the thing that makes the difference between a man who is a slave and a man who is a free man. "OFF-GUARD" PICTURES

Most people like to have their pictures taken. In fact, they like it so well that when they see the camera they put on a special "picture expression." And as a rule this special "picture face" isn't what we want at all.

There's a way to keep your subjects from seeming camera-conscious. Briefly, it is—"Catch them when they aren't looking." Don't let them know their picture is being taken.

Pictures so taken are known as "off-guard" snapshots. Such snapshots attract attention because they picture the subject in a natural, characteristic pose and get away from the usual look-at-the-camera-and-smile type of picture with which we are all too familiar. An "off-guard" picture can tell a real story while the other type tends to be just a record picture.

How to take them? It's easy. Just learn to handle your camera unobtrusively. Wait until your subject is paying no attention to you. Then casually snap his picture. It's all a matter of using your camera non-

Meteorite Rips Huge Hole When It Hits Land Near Menard

MENARD.—Somewhere below the jumbled bottom of a big hole on the Willie Wilkerson ranch 12 miles west of Menard tonight lay a secret from the heavens.

A meteorite blazed a bright trail across the sky at 9 o'clock last Wednesday night, then plummeted to the earth and buried itself—maybe 30 feet and maybe 3,000 feet deep—in the landscape of Silver Mine Creek.

Keeping to himself until late Saturday the site of the meteorite invasion, Monroe White, foreman on the ranch, today shared with the yawning hole created by the heavenly visitor the curious attention of hundreds. Sunday at least 1,000 persons visited the hole.

"Why did I keep it a secret?" asks White, a cousin to Jim White, discoverer of the Carlsbad Caverns. "Well, I was busy and I had to build a fence around to keep stock and people from falling in and breaking their necks. And when I did go to town, it was a long time before I could find anyone who'd believe what I told them."

"The first thing I saw was a spreading glow in the sky," White calmly recalls. "A moment later the headquarters ranch house about me was lit up as if by a bunch of brilliant electric lights—and that meteor was coming right at me. At first it sounded like a distant siren. Then it shrieked."

"I just sat and let her come. It was pretty. The bottom of the hole was blue, the straight spreading tail was red, all red, no yellow. Then the light went plum' out. I don't know whether it was 500 feet or 200 miles up there but it was a full minute and a half after the light went out before the meteor hit the ground about three miles from the ranch house."

"Then it struck earth. There was a flash—it looked as if the meteor had exploded and fired back into the skies like a roman candle. I guess that was some of the rocks exploding. Then I heard it. It was like a heavy clap of thunder, like lightning had struck right by you."

"I got up at 3 o'clock the next morning and rode down to where I thought it should have landed. I stopped my horse about 30 yards away. Then I came on up. When I got here the hole smelled like a dynamite explosion had just occurred. But the earth was cut off clean and later in the day I found singed grass, pulled in with the topsoil, down there 23 feet in the hole."

What you want when you want it

"I guess those university professors—some of them were here yesterday—will want to find that thing. They were sure interested. They clipped off the top of a mesquite tree that was kind a singed and took a bunch of black rocks out of the bottom of the hole."

State Building Plan Opposed

AUSTIN.—Governor Alford disclosed Wednesday many business men oppose the proposal to construct a state office and courts building.

The chief executive recently applied for a $2,600,000 PWA loan and grant, promising to call a special session of the Legislature for raising the State's share of the cost if the application was approved.

He said he had become "discouraged" at the prospect of PWA approval of the project, adding many business men had written and telegraphed their opposition on the basis the State should eliminate some of its boards, bureaus and commissions rather than construct an additional building to house those now occupying rented quarters. At least one member of the Legislature has expressed disapproval, the Governor added.

RANK DISCRIMINATION

Congressman Marvin Jones of Texas is on the right track in his efforts to remove the barriers to Southern prosperity which have been caused by the rankly unfair freight rates which penalize Texas farmers and Texas consumers. How serious the situation is has been made clear by Mr. Jones as follows:

"When farm implements, iron and steel, and other manufactured commodities, are shipped abroad, reduced freight rates are allowed to the point of export, whereas on most farm commodities, especially cotton and wheat, little if any export rate reductions are allowed.

"As industry has these reduced export rates, why should not the same reductions be given wheat and cotton as a matter of simple justice?"

"When farm machinery is shipped, the following rates prevail:

Table with 3 columns: Domestic rate Per. cwt., Export rate Per. cwt., and various routes like Indianapolis to Galveston, Chicago to Houston, etc.

On iron and steel, the following rates prevail: Chicago to San Francisco 1.02 40, Gary, Indiana, to New York 47 34, Pittsburg, Pa., to New York 33 20

"In other words: 2 plows shipped from Moline, Illinois, to Houston, Texas, loaded on the same platform, unloaded on the same dock, the one to be used by a Texas farmer pays a freight rate of $1.02 per cwt.; the one being shipped abroad pays a freight rate of 47 1/2c per cwt."

This discrimination which averages 79 per cent has been known for a long time, but for one reason or another, nothing could be done about it. Now with the authority granted by the new farm bill, the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to correct discriminations such as these. If enough pressure can be brought in Washington to make officials there take notice of the situation, there is no doubt but remedial action can be secured promptly.

While we have no direct expression from him, we are confident that our own Congressman, Judge Chas. L. South of Coleman, is equally interested in securing better rates for Texas producers and consumers. It will help him in his efforts to secure them. If you will write him your views on the matter.

A STRAW IN THE WIND

For those who have been worried by the inroads of Communism and other beliefs alien to real Americanism, here are at least some crumbs of comfort from the erstwhile "liberal" Congressman recently defeated in his campaign for renomination and re-election:

"Although local issues played an important part in my defeat, it seems to me that it also reflected a growing national attitude. That is an attitude of belief in and willingness to fight for Americanism as against all the other isms.

"The Americanism of some of my backers was questioned. The voters were frightened, not by me but by my supporters. They voted against me.

"I see that trend developing all over the country. And I predict that within the next eighteen months or two years this country will see a wave of Americanism such as it has never seen before."

Another point worth noting is the fact that the five Texas Congressmen who were committee chairmen, and who were blacklisted by the C. I. O. were renominated just the same. Doubtless they will develop ear trouble when C. I. O. lobbyists ask them for favors next session.

THE HIGH COST OF BUSINESS

A survey just completed by the American Federation of Investors reveals that 150 industrial corporations in the United States, employing 3,171,250 persons, paid $1,631,000,000 in taxes last year—an increase of almost a billion dollars in five years (the 1932 tax burden of the same 150 corporations was $681,648,386).

The 1937 tax payment represented an average of $514 paid for each employee and $291 for every common stockholder. One

Mills County Has Good Infant Record

"In Texas during 1937, 698 mothers lost their lives through childbirth and associated conditions. Fatality struck 8313 babies under one year of age and 3,972 infants were still born. These facts become particularly distressing when it is realized that at least two-thirds of this motherhood mortality could have been avoided," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

Mills county had 138 total live births, of which 135 were white, 1 was negro, and 2 were Mexican; 78 of the infants were male and 60 female. Physicians attended the births of 137 infants, and a midwife attended 1 birth; all 138 births were at home; 1 child was stillborn, giving the county a rate of .7 per 100 live births, and 7 children died under one year of age, a rate of 50.7 per 1000 live births.

"The State Health Department wishes to call attention to the fact that Texas is at last approaching the national average of infant and maternal mortality. In 1933 the nation as a whole had a maternal mortality of 62 while Texas' rate was 77; in 1934 the U. S. had a rate of 59 and Texas 73; in 1936 the nation had an average of 58 and Texas' was 69. The national average for 1937 is as yet unavailable but Texas has come down to 59. The infant mortality table presents a similar comparison. Advancing public health practices, better pre-natal and post-natal care, and better hygienic conditions contribute to this steadily diminishing percentage of Texas mothers and children lost in childbirth.

"Never before in the history of obstetrics have scientific precautions against complications been so advanced and so available as they are today. However, in spite of the improvement in the techniques involved and the further development of antiseptic control, the maternal mortality figures pathetically indicate that medical knowledge alone cannot solve the problem," Dr. Cox further stated.

"Generally speaking, innocent or wilful neglect is largely responsible for the preventable maternal deaths. It is to be emphasized that the proper time for expectant mothers to seek medical attention is when the expectancy is first realized.

"Indeed, prenatal care is the great defense against any of the conditions that cause tragedy at birth. Consequently, expectant mothers should place themselves under the supervision of a physician at the beginning of the term. If this fundamental safety rule would be adopted more generally, the present maternal mortality toll would be markedly diminished.

"As one authority aptly states, 'To cut the appalling maternity death rate, thoughtful and cooperative initiative must originate in the home.' In other words, science had done its part, now the prospective mothers must do theirs."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is trying to produce a watermelon that will fit into the family icebox. The new melon will also be sweeter, disease-resistant and a better shipper. A cross with an African melon gives promise.

company, employing more than 5000 workers, paid a tax equalling $4,580 for each of its employees. In other words, that is how much it cost the employer in taxes alone to keep his plant open and provide jobs for his employees.

The alarming increase in business taxation, we believe, is a definite threat to the whole nation, for, if business men are to remain in business, profits must be sufficient to pay not only taxes, but wages to workers and dividends to the investors also.

When taxes equal the income of a businessman, where is he expected to find the money to pay wages to employees?

EDITORIAL COMMENT

VIEW OF THE NATION'S PRESS ON TOPICS OF INTEREST

The Policy Is Sound

The appeal of old-age pensions is no phenomenon. Every man who survives must achieve old age and few can amass a sufficient reserve to yield even in sound investing hands an income equivalent to that of earning years. Few indeed will have anything at all in old age if the familiar actuarial tables are well founded. The insurance salesmen have long argued this as the reason for taking out insurance against the inevitable rainy day while earning. The politicians have simply improved on this by making old-age the basis for vote getting.

Fundamentally old-age pensions in principle are sound enough. We have always had it in one form or another. Outside of the many fine American families who accept the logical responsibility of caring for their own, there have always been many deserving oldsters with nowhere to turn. Whether we give them institutional care or a pension, the results amount to the same. The justice of assuring a decent old age to all who have met the responsibilities of earning lifetime is beyond evil. The chief quarrel with old-age pensions is that little effort has been made to separate the sheep from the goats. You see the goats have votes, too, and sometimes the more forcefully put ones.

It is to be hoped that the old-age pension has come to stay. For stay it should. We may even owe something to the star-eyed Townsend planners, all of the odds and ends of impossible, impracticable plans for paying some large sum somehow, we may even owe something to the politicians for making old-age care a concrete fact in spite of the ways they have exploited. But the great task before the Nation now is to separate sound old-age care from the politicians, from the political racketeers, from slush fund relief, to consider and adjust it as a necessary part of the problem of life. Until we do that both the Nation and old-age pensions will suffer.

Friendly Hand-Clasp

There is no international boundary like it, anywhere in the world, that five thousand-mile line separating the United States and Canada. For much of the way it is invisible save for an occasional marker such as we see at the borders of States in the Union. There are no Maginot lines no Siegfried line defenses behind those borders. Instead there is free and friendly communication, mutual confidence and respect. Once again the two countries are celebrating today their era of friendly relations, now passing the 124-year mark. There is no fear or suggestion of fear that those relations will be strained in the years to come. The President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Canada, meeting for the dedication of another International bridge, commend the example of their countries to the fear-ridden, hate-obsessed, armament-burdened lands of the Old World.—Minneapolis Journal.

Safety pins were first devised by Walter Hunt in 1849.

Chicago's Method

When the University of Chicago in 1929 chose thirty-year-old Robert M. Hutchins president, older pedagogues were amazed. Boy prodigy he was called, and boy prodigies have a way of blowing up. An article in the Ladies Home Journal is high in praise of Hutchins, however; he has made his university an institution of learning, not a picnic ground for socialites.

Youthful, brilliant and vigorous, Hutchins' only method is to teach students to think. It is hard to believe, but students in that school are asking that the library be kept open longer; are writing papers on deep subjects not required; are taking college books with them on their vacations. It is a relatively simple task, Hutchins believes, to inspire students to think correctly. Why not talk and read about politics, history and science instead of swing bands and football? At Chicago classes are crowded with students sitting on the floors to hear lectures. Hutchins has convinced them that what they need is a definite philosophy of life that will equip them to face the hazards of a changing world. Read, read and read more, he tells them—classics, history, logic, biology—not movie magazines and dime novels.

Next month thousands of Texas students will enter college. They can profit from Hutchins' advice. A rich life full of opportunity is ahead—an opportunity to accumulate riches that cannot be taken away. Or as another educator puts it, "to develop reserves other than bank reserves."—Dallas News.

Harmony Needed

Jerry Sadler, nominee for the railroad commission, and Gerald Mann, who will be the next attorney general, have announced they will make no effort to block the adoption of the W. Lee O'Daniel program at the Beaumont convention next month.

Both deserve congratulations for their willingness to forget political differences in the interest of harmony. If their supporters follow their example, the Beaumont meeting will be harmonious and no obstacles will be placed in Mr. O'Daniel's path before he assumes office.

The State convention always is the governor-nominee's party. It provides an opportunity for him to place his program before the people. In addition, it heals many of the wounds left by heated primary campaigns. Mr. O'Daniel won the gubernatorial nomination in such convincing fashion he deserves cooperation from the entire Democratic party, not only at Beaumont but after he assumes office on January 1.

Many pressing problems confront him. If a sound solution is to be found, all Texans must give him their support, cooperation and advice. The movement to weld Texas Democracy into a unified whole may well begin at Beaumont. For a rift to develop there would be unfortunate indeed. Mr. Sadler and Mr. Mann tendered their cooperation quickly, which should provide an unmistakable cue for the hundreds of thousands of voters who made their victories last Saturday possible.—Houston Post.

Improved Uniform International LESSO Lesson for September SAUL: MORAL FAULT LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 13:1-14:45 GOLDEN TEXT—To whom shall I sacrifice, I Samuel 13:10 Moral failure is the lack of disobedience to God... The story of Saul's character and his ultimate death, is one that should be read to every young man or woman... There is no one like Saul... Saul was chosen of God as Israel's first king... Saul had been their king, but their willful unbelief was like neighboring nations... Never has a man been so eager to enter more suspicious high office. Physically he was equipped, head and shoulders above the people... For two years all went well then came the crisis which that all was not as it seemed when Saul presumptuously placed of Samuel as priest of an offering (13:9-14). This followed by his disobedience in Agag... God had commanded Saul must be utter destruction... Both deserve congratulations for their willingness to forget political differences in the interest of harmony... Saul chose to disobey, thinking that it was done in the name of God... The man to whom God gave a new heart and upon whom poured out His Spirit fell low state that we find him in 1 Samuel 30:6 consulting a witch... Spiritism is an evil current, day, and therefore it may seem to point out that while men seem to have the power to raise the dead, they bring through familiar spirits... The death of Saul was not so much by outside forces as by the moral decay which was in his heart... "Keep thy heart from entering into a covenant that is wrong... diligence: for out of the issues of life" (Prov. 4:23).

FROM LOCAL PAPERS OF TOWNS MENTIONED

Comanche

More than 4100 votes were polled in Comanche County Saturday in the run-off primary when two new county officers were nominated and a new State Senator and Representative named.

Frank Howington for Representative led the ticket with 2,805 votes to 1,194 for Tolbert Patterson of Mullin, incumbent. Howington trailed Patterson by less than 100 votes in Mills county and in the two counties had a majority of more than 1,500.

For State Senator, Penrose Metcalfe trailed Ross Prescott in the county, 1721 to 2196, but won the nomination over the 25th District by more than 2200 votes majority over Prescott.

The first crop of 1933 peanuts in Comanche county sold this year were raised by Bill Vineyard of the Sweetwater community. Mr. Vineyard brought in 240 bushels of these peanuts; the average yield per acre was about thirty bushels. The price paid for these nuts was 75c per bushel, being slightly under last year's price.

Hilton Burks, secretary of the Comanche Chamber of Commerce, also is a cotton farmer, finds it pays to poison cotton against insects and other pests. Mr. Burks already has poisoned his cotton five times and as a result has his stalks well loaded with bolls, squares, and blooms from top to bottom with an extra good stalk.

Approximately thirty-five men are now working out twice daily under Coach Glenn Frazier and Line Coach Bull Fletcher, in order to get the 38 Indians into shape for their first football game, September 26.

The school faculty in Comanche this year will number thirty, the largest in the history of the school and nine more than when Superintendent Bramlette took charge of the schools three years ago, during which time the scholastic enrollment has nearly doubled.

San Saba

A quarantine restriction was completed and in effect Tuesday afternoon, with respect to anthrax, in this county in an area extending along Highway 81, north to the Colorado River, west to Regency Bridge and all east of the Old Brownwood Road, all roads touching this area are included in the quarantine. In this area guards will be stationed to prevent the movement of all livestock from it until the quarantine is lifted. Livestock men in the quarantined area should consult state veterinarian in charge, Dr. L. G. Cloud, before Thaxton stated yesterday.

Many people of San Saba were saddened Sunday morning when a telegram came announcing the death, in San Antonio, of Mrs. H. E. Draper, wife of the late Rev. H. E. Draper who at one time was pastor of the local Methodist Church, and during whose pastorate the present Methodist Church was constructed.

Reports to the county agent's office are to the effect that the hog cholera disease seems to be spreading over the county. New outbreaks are reported daily. County Agent Tisdale advises that the county will likely be placed under quarantine if this has not already been done.

Mrs. Amelia Cowan will have as her guests over the week end her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Cowan, who are returning to Texas from Pico, Cal., where they have been associated with a newspaper for the past year. Mr. Cowan will begin his duties in Texas Tech at Lubbock with the opening of the term next month, serving in the journalism department.

Capt. and Mrs. Douglas Smith and family will leave New York for Haiti, where Capt. Smith will be military advisor to the Army there.

Capt. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith of this city, and the twin brother of Cecil B. Smith of Temple.

Materials commonly used for protecting concrete while curing are canvas, burlap, boards, straw, and layers of moist sand.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

EDGAR LESLIE, A. S. C. A. P.

Songwriters Have No Textbooks

By Daniel L. McNamara

THE songwriter uses no textbooks except the unwritten volumes of experience. He doesn't dash off his lyrics in inspired moments. Struggle and sweat with meter and rhyme, . . . perspiration, not inspiration, . . . make for successful songwriting. Believe this on the authority of no less a personage as the songwriting fraternity than Edgar Leslie, for thirty years one of the most successful of his profession, and for many years a leading member of the Board of Directors of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

Leslie had written many popular song parodies for dialect comedians, thirty years ago, when he created his original smash hit, "I'm a Yiddisher Cowboy." He followed this quickly by a collaboration with Irving Berlin—"Sadie Salome, Go Home." These two numbers definitely established him as an up-and-coming author of popular song.

Hits multiplied. "Get Out and Get Under," "When Grown Up Ladies Act Like Babies," "America, I Love You," "California and You," "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary" and "Dirty Hands, Dirty Face" followed in quick succession. Harry Warren and he wrote "By the River St. Marie," and left it, forgotten, in manuscript form, for eight years. It emerged from oblivion to become one of the great hits of recent years. "Among My Souvenirs" was written in London to the music of "Horatio Nichols," the composer being in reality a leading English music publisher, Lawrence Wright. Leslie has written songs with Walter Donaldson, Jimmy Monaco and many others.

Recently he teamed with an old friend, Joseph Burke, popular song composer. Six times in two years their creations have led the country in popularity. "In a Little Gypsy Tea Room," "On Treasure Island," "A Little Bit Independent," "Moon Over Miami," "Robins and Roses" and "It Looks Like Rain in Cherry Blossom Lane" reveal the magic touch of this gifted pair. "At a Perfume Counter" is one of their latest.

Songs For Youth

Leslie has evolved a practical philosophy of songwriting. He believes the songwriter must address himself to youth, that the song must carry a simple and direct message. It should be easy to sing, and he points out that popular songs must compete with the movies. . . . that they must paint an attractive word picture. Leslie is a thoroughgoing New Yorker. His grandparents lived in Seventy-first Street when it was known as Bloomingdale Road, and they used to spend their summers at a cottage in Chelsea (Twenty-third Street). Happily married twenty-one years, he now lives in a midtown hotel; usually retires early.

He follows deep-sea fishing and golf, and enjoys sea voyages. His favorite outdoor sport—as a spectator—is polo. In the writing of songs he goes into the more mundane memories and experiences of his life, into things more in touch with America as it is to the great mass. And he writes to please them.

Hamilton

A large number of people visited the W. F. & J. P. Barnes new plant upon its formal opening Friday, Aug. 26. Jack Moore, local manager, stated that 449 adults registered during the day, and, counting the children, probably 900 or more people inspected their new quarters on this occasion.

District Court convened in Hamilton Monday with Judge R. R. Cross presiding.

The Hamilton municipal swimming pool is nearing completion. The concrete work on the pool proper has been completed, but it is yet to be painted. The building to house the filtering plant is under construction and the filter plant and circulating system is expected to be completed by the middle of September.

Hamilton's first football game of the season will be against Goldthwaite on Friday night, September 16, at Fair Park field here, should prove quite interesting from two points of view. In the first place it will give the public some idea of the strength of the team, answering to a certain extent the question of whether the Bulldogs can click without Cathey and Biansit. In the second place it will renew a rivalry of long standing between the schools. Back in the days when football was not so thoroughly organized and was a tougher game along the sidelines, Hamilton and Goldthwaite had some exciting afternoons together. Though all that is gone, and rightly so, a keen rivalry still exists.—County News.

Work on Coleman Electric Line Begins

The State Fair of Texas will honor its founders and pay a tribute to the newspapers of Texas for their success in building the "world's largest and most beautiful fair" during its fifty years, with a monument to be unveiled on opening day, Saturday, October 8, which is also Press Day.

Every newspaper in Texas has been invited to send in a front page of its paper, upon which has been published a story on its community, which will be placed in a metal chest and placed in a crypt under the tablet "acknowledging a debt of gratitude to the Press of Texas."

The monument will stand eight feet tall on a base six feet in height. It will be finished in sand and ground granite. The monument is being executed by Jose Martin and Roul Josset.

Star

By Mrs. Dora Goode

Just a few lines this morning to let you know that we are still on the map. The weather has been hot, the chores unending, and energy and ambition at low ebb. Even the choicest pot plants go begging for attention. Personally I don't like hot weather, but the rest family prefer the Imperial Valley for a place of abode. It's best, of course, that we are all not alike in our likes and dislikes or the whole desert section of our country would be over-crowded or the North Pole country over-run with home staiders. I think with six months of night with sleep and rest I'd get to feeling fine. Howsoever we have a nice breeze this morning and the air is all damp-scented with showers here and yon. Even yesterday when we came back from Goldthwaite we ran into a wet place where a sprinkle had fallen since the going over.

Monday we went over to Goldthwaite, that is seven of us: Mrs. Lant Adams, Mrs. Herman Lee, Mrs. Walton Moore, Mrs. Henry Soules and daughter Ina Beth, Mrs. L. J. Teague, and your scribe, to attend the mass meeting of the women of the county to discuss the organization of Home Demonstration Clubs in the county. Some seventy or seventy-five women were assembled, with County Agent Weaver and the Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Margaret Scott, in charge. We are all very enthusiastic about the work and most every community in the county was represented at the meeting. We left with the Goldthwaite women in process of organization and dates set for the organization in the different communities.

Scout Saves Life of Sister

Max Touchon, Jr., member of Troop Number 36, San Saba, arrived home from a fishing trip on the Colorado several minutes after the seemingly lifeless body of his little sister, Mary Touchon, had been found floating on the water of a creek near their home. Parents and friends at the scene at that time had been unable to resuscitate the child. In his Scout work Max had learned to administer artificial respiration, and within a short time was able to bring the child back to life by this method.
