War and the Sheep Business

College Station, Nov. 25.—It looks like a period of relatively good times are ahead of the sheep rancher.

Since the outbreak of the European war in early September a substantial advance in domestic prices has occurred. Domestic demand for wool has been increased by prospects of improvement in business activity and consumer incomes and may be increased because of reduced and larger purchases of wool goods for military purposes by foreign countries.

These facts are reflected in a review prepared by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Department of Agriculture.

Wool producers will recall that prices were fairly low at the beginning of the World War in 1914, but after 1915 prices went up in both domestic and foreign markets. In the United States, wool prices in 1918 were about three times as high as in 1914, but by 1921 they were about half the 1918 level.

United States production of wool is now about 50 per cent greater than in 1914, while population is only about 30 per cent larger. That means imports of foreign wool have been largely replaced by domestic production.

Production of staples rayon fiber in lengths similar to wool and suitable for mixture with wool and for spinning on woolen machinery has increased greatly in the United States in the past decade. In 1930, U. S. production of this rayon was less than a million pounds; in 1938, 30 million pounds were produced here and an additional 13 million pounds imported. World production of staple rayon fiber was estimated at 962 million pounds in 1938, with 90 per cent of this amount produced by Germany, Italy, and Japan. An advance in wool prices will further stimulate the production of substitutes.

In November 1914, the British government regulated exports of wool from her dominions, and in 1917 took over the Australian and New Zealand wool clips. This time, in October, 1939, Britain has already taken over the wool clips from these countries and has a close working agreement with South Africa.

These clips total about one and a half billion pounds, and Great Britain and France normally use about a billion pounds of wool a year. Even with war needs, this means that British Government will have to sell some wool to neutral countries.

Since medium wools are best for war purposes, and since the Australian and New Zealand production is of fine wool, it is probable that the British government will buy large amounts of medium and coarse South American wools and offer some of her fine wool at the world markets.

In regard to mutton, it appears that a stronger consumer demand for meats will mean somewhat higher prices all along the line. With pork expected to go up, it is probable that many consumers will shift some of their purchases to beef and mutton.

In the opinion of W. R. Nisbet, sheep and goat specialist of Texas A&M Extension Service, the extra play given coarse and medium wools will tend to give an unbalanced situation in the production of wool and mutton at the close of the war period.

This country is already producing mutton to meet domestic demand. An abnormal demand for coarse and medium wools which are produced on the mutton type breeds of sheep will tend to increase mutton production at a more rapid pace than would an increase in fine wool. Too, the medium and coarse wool sheep are produced very largely on the farms. Farm sheep production could receive more encouragement than the range type. A poor balance as well as over production could be the result of war-time demand.

THANK GOD, WE'RE AMERICANS!

For All This We Are Truly Grateful . . .

Even two Thanksgiving Days this year are not enough adequately to express our thanks to Almighty God for the benefits He has bestowed upon us who are fortunate enough to be citizens of the United States of America.

If that tiny band of Pilgrims on the bleak New England coast, only lately rescued from the perils of famine, of pestilence and of massacre, had reason for Thanksgiving, how much more have we who have not been so threatened! If George Washington, just one hundred and fifty years ago, as president of the world's newest and one of its feeblest nations, was impelled to call the people to a public observance of their blessings, how sincerely should we offer our thanks in 1939!

The Puritans were thankful chiefly for freedom of worship and for food and shelter for the approaching winter. It was more than 150 years from their Thanksgiving Day until the day when the rare blessings of individual freedom and a constitutional government of and by the people themselves had been wrested from a tyrant king.

Since then our country has been blessed with a material advancement without a parallel in the history of the world. Today the common man in America lives better than most ancient kings and knows far more of what is going on in the world about him.

Peace, the greatest blessing of all, seems more assured for the United States in these uncertain days than anywhere else on earth.

He would indeed be brazen who would claim that we are worthy of these benefits or that the peoples of other lands deserve the evils which have been inflicted upon them. By and large we are no better morally or spiritually than our neighbors. Certainly we are entitled to no monopoly of material benefits, most of which have been derived from the self-sacrifice, the perseverance and the unflagging industry of those who preceded us.

How important it is under these conditions that we as a people openly acknowledge that we have been favored above other peoples and that, in true humbleness of spirit, we devoutly pledge to our Creator that we shall manifest our appreciation through unselfish regard for our neighbors, whether they live next door or far across the sea.

Thanksgiving Program

To be held at school auditorium, Wednesday night, Nov. 28, 1939, at 7:00 o'clock.

The pastor of the town, arranged for a Thanksgiving service weeks ago and made arrangements through The Eagle. Everything was set for it, and then it was learned that the ball game with Richland Springs had been called out on November 29th and set for the same time as the Thanksgiving Service. The action of the District officials that have such matters under their direction. So it was agreed between the pastor and school officials that the service should be held at the auditorium beginning at 7:00 o'clock, and closing at 7:30 so as not to interfere with the game. Success appeal is made to all the community to attend the Thanksgiving Service, when they will be handy for the ball game, and both can go according to schedule, the football game being delayed to 7:45. The program will be as follows:

- Sung psalms.
- Hymn, "Let Us Praise."
- Invocation, Bishop S. Parr.
- Scripture reading, Mrs. Pearl Kerton.
- Sermon, M. P. Burton.
- Hymn, "America."
- Business matters.
- Thanksgiving prayer and benediction.
- Sung psalms.
- Every person of the county is invited to attend. The churches take leadership, but everybody of every faith and of no faith has cordial invitation to attend the service.

Christmas Plans Made By Lions

Plans for Christmas were discussed at the regular Lions Club meeting in the recreation room of the Methodist Church, Tuesday evening, W. M. Johnson and J. A. Steiner were appointed a committee to secure the usual Christmas tree for the court house lawn.

Raymond Little and S. E. Clements were appointed a committee to confer with representatives of the Garden Club and other local clubs concerning participation of all civic organizations in some form of Christmas service.

Miss Margaret Kingsbury sang, "Polly Oliver," a seventeenth century popular air. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hope Schaller.

An inspirational address by Rev. M. P. Burton followed.

Mayor H. O. Rodkin reported on the recent meeting of the Texas League of Municipalities and stated that Edward Gosselin of Brady, former Goldthwaite resident, was elected president of the League.

Invitations to Lions Club meetings at Coleman on Nov. 28, and at Santa Anna on Dec. 8, were read by President A. H. Smith.

Next Thursday To Be Observed As Thanksgiving

The Trent State Bank, post office and practically all business houses in Goldthwaite will observe next Thursday, Nov. 30, as Thanksgiving Day.

In order to allow its employees to have the day off, the Eagle will be printed Wednesday instead of Thursday. Contributors and advertisers are earnestly requested to send their copy in one day early next week.

Considerable confusion existed throughout the country yesterday in the observance of the "first" Thanksgiving Day. About half of the states observed it and half will celebrate next week.

Goldthwaite had the quietest day of the year, although all business houses were open.

Church of Christ

Our fall meeting closed Sunday night. Two confessed their faith and were baptized. Our work is growing.

Railroad Companies Cut Passenger Fare

A five per cent reduction in round trip coach fares, to conform with reductions soon to be announced by other Texas Railroads, will be made by the Santa Fe Railway effective December 15. A. C. Ater, general passenger agent, announced in Galveston yesterday.

"The new rate brings the cost of rail transportation down to 1.8 cents per mile, the lowest it has been in several years," Mr. Ater declared, "and should result in increased passenger traffic not only for the Santa Fe but other lines as well."

The reductions are being made on recommendation of the Western Association of Railway Executives and will apply to all rail lines in this territory, he said.

Horse Loses Head Driver Doesn't

A stray horse was instantly hospitalized Monday night when struck by an automobile driven by Mel Sumner of San Saba on Highway 96 three miles north of Goldthwaite. Sumner's horse was out by flying glass, but he was able to drive his car back to Goldthwaite where Dr. E. L. Slaughter took about 30 stitches in his face and then drove him to Mullin. His car, a 1938 model Chevrolet, was undamaged except for a broken windshield and dented side. The driver retained control of the car, and the motor was not even stalled.

The accident occurred when the horse wandered out on the highway just as Sumner's car topped a hill. He succeeded in missing the body of the horse, but his windshield corner-post struck the horse in the neck, tearing the head completely from the neck and knocking it into the ditch on the opposite side of the road about 40 feet from the body.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Reynolds was notified and removed the horse from the highway promptly, thus probably preventing a more serious wreck later.

Goldthwaite Singers Win District Honors

In a district elimination contest Monday night of this week, held in the buildings of Rowland Payne College, at Brownwood, six young people of Goldthwaite entered the music contest and will represent the district at the State Training Union Convention at Austin next week. Lucaine Rhodes is the district representative in the hymn solo contest. The Rhodes twins, Wilda and Wanda, will appear on the program in a duet. The twins and Agnes Forchard will sing a trio. Add the twins and Boyd Hunt and John Bowman will give a quartet. The district is composed of about 20 counties in this section, while the convention to be held at Austin, November 30, through December 2 is state-wide. The meetings are to be held in the State University assembly hall.

Two other winners in memory work from the county will also go from the Big Valley Baptist Church. Their names are not available at this moment. They won in the contest with perfect scores.

Methodist Church

Church school, 9:45 a. m. Morning worship, 10:30 a. m. Evening worship, 7:00 p. m. Epworth League, 8:00 p. m. Prayer meeting, 7:00 p. m. Choir rehearsal, 7:30 p. m.

On Wednesday night, Nov. 29, the churches of the town are uniting in a Thanksgiving Service to be held at the school auditorium at 7:00 p. m. You are not only cordially invited to attend this service, but you are urged to do so. If we believe there is a place in the lives of people for a Thanksgiving Day, then we ought to begin it by giving thanks to the Great Over God.

M. P. BURTON, Pastor.

Sunday was the first pretty day we have had in several days. The rain was fine. The grain is showing up and will grow fast now.

Sunday will be church day. A few went to Sunday school Sunday morning.

Last Wednesday I went over to Miss Besse Hutchings at Center Point and went with her and Mrs. Edlin over to Mrs. Ira Hutchings to an all-day club meeting. Miss Scott was there bright and early with her working clothes on. There was a big crowd there all ready to work some way either helping with the mattress or helping to prepare the feast for the body. I never saw such a nice dinner

"not lunch." There was almost everything on the table. Of course, you would suppose Ira would be handy as it was his home but just a few minutes before the whistle blew for dinner in walked Joe Ritchie. Believe it or not these two men really paid for what they ate. They were real handy when it was time to beat the mattress.

Dewey Smith, who is working with Clyde Lane on a well at Bend, was home over the week end. He said, though they were down only about 250 feet, they have already had two good showings of oil.

Bert Briley of Owens visited his brother, John Briley, Monday.

Baby Donnie Kay Boulware, who has been sick since her birth a few weeks ago, was recently taken by her parents to Dallas for an operation. She was brought back Friday, and seems very much improved.

Hunters from this vicinity this past week included Earl Day, Billie McNurlen, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Egger. Only Billie McNurlen brought back the venison, and it is reported that his was a gift from his brother, Pleas, of San Saba, who made the lucky shot.

Mrs. J. R. Briley and Mrs. Nellie Malone attended the flower show at Goldthwaite Wednesday. One of the most beautiful things they saw, besides the lovely chrysanthemums, was tall vases of trailing wild honeysuckle covered with beautiful red berries.

Mrs. Oil Dwyer went to Brownwood with Mr. and Mrs. Wood Roberts Saturday. In the afternoon Mrs. Roberts was quite sick which detained them from getting home until nearly sundown. When Mrs. Dwyer got home, Oil had already got the wood in, shelled the corn, and fed the chickens and turkeys. Makes us feel like he might be getting well.

The H. D. Club met Friday with Mrs. Nellie Malone. Miss Dolly Reynolds and Mrs. Cecil Egger were guests. As Miss. Scott will be busy with office work during December, the club planned a Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Dale Reid Friday, Dec. 15. All the women and children of the community are invited and are requested to be there at 1:00 o'clock, and to bring a present, costing not over 10c, for which we will draw when we get there.

The roads to Brownwood and to Goldthwaite are now dazzling with beauty. The wooded hills are gorgeous with autumn glory. The evergreen of live oak and of cedar painted with crimson oak and flaming sumach.

Texas Oil Wells In 136 Counties Now

Steady extension of oil's wealth to more and more Texas counties was shown today in an annual summary of oil production prepared from the tax report records to Comptroller George H. Sheppard.

During the past fiscal year, the report showed oil production in 136 Texas counties. Five years ago, in 1934, production was found in only 103 counties.

Over that period of years, the two principal counties in the great East Texas field—Gregg and Rusk—have maintained their leadership as the principal oil producing counties of the state, and Duval was third, followed by Nueces, Ector, Brazoria, Winkler, Wichita, Harris and Gray.

In 1934, the Conroe field placed Montgomery county in third place; Pecos county, in West Texas was fourth largest producer; Van Zandt, in which the Van field is located, was fifth. The other four leading counties were Gray, Upshur, Fort Bend and Archer.

Next year, in 1935, Pecos had supplanted Montgomery for third place; Archer was pushed out of the list, Duval was among the first ten. In 1938-39, excepting for the two leaders, the picture bore little resemblance to five years ago.

Production in East Texas last year amounted to 139,107,702 barrels, contrasted with 152,422,500 barrels five years ago.

Sheppard's report showed tax payments during the past fiscal year amounted to $13,681,672, representing an average tax of 2.91 cents per barrel on 469,620,654 barrels. The previous fiscal year, the tax was $15,965,077, or 3.26 cents per barrel on 489,894,209 barrels.

The state tax is not less than 2-3-4 cents per barrel, not more than 2-3-4 per cent of value, and fluctuations in price between those extremes made for the difference. Average tax in other

"I hope that the United States will keep out of this war. I believe that it will. And I give you assurances that every effort of your Government will be directed toward that end. As long as it remains within my power to prevent, there will be no blackout of peace in the United States."

—President Roosevelt.

(Address to the Nation, Sept. 3, 1939)

"BORROWERS ARE WELCOME"

"A Loan Is not a Favor," says a leaflet recently issued by one of the leading banks of the nation, to its depositors.

"A loan is a business transaction and should be of mutual benefit to borrower and lender," the leaflet continues. "If you wish to obtain a loan for a sound purpose, and if you meet our other credit requirements, we will approve your application promptly."

"If it does not meet our requirements of sound banking, we will tell you so frankly, together with our reasons."

"In granting loans, we have important obligations to four groups; depositors, borrowers, stockholders, and our community. To protect the interest of all these people we have definite policies, made in accordance with sound banking principles, which guide us . . ."

It sounds simple—and it is. The mystery that surrounds bank loans in the public mind should be thoroughly dissipated. Loans are the primary sources of most banks' income. No bank wants to refuse a loan. Refusal, when it is made, is necessary in the interest of protecting one of the four groups the leaflet mentions. The banker, after all, doesn't own the money. He is simply its custodian, working under strict laws on behalf of his depositors and the public.

"A loan is not a favor." But the banker does the would-be borrower and everyone else concerned a definite favor when he refuses an unsound loan.

NEWS IN THE FAR NORTH

Many of us become too self satisfied with our surroundings and then it is well to take a look at what the other fellow is doing a few hundred or a few thousand miles away, says The Industrial News Review.

The United States is served with the greatest number and the highest type of country newspapers in the world—in fact, there is no other country where reports of current events are so plentifully distributed to the people.

Alaska seems a long way off to most of us in the States. So it is pretty much of an eye-opener to pick up a 14-page country weekly from Anchorage, Alaska, and find it as chock-full of advertising, news and illustrations as our home town paper.

Editor Southworth of The Alaskan, published at Anchorage, Alaska, is to be congratulated, and the people of our country can be thankful that they enjoy the blessings of a free press and the greatest communication, transportation, production and distributing systems in existence, whereby the smallest hamlet and the largest city get the same news and the same commodities at practically the same price at all times.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

AUSTIN.—With the hunting season in full sway in Texas, the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission has issued an appeal to every sportsman to treat every gun as if it were loaded, and has set out a series of rules, which if observed, would do much to lessen the tragedies of accidents in fields and woods.

"It is the 'unloaded' gun which does the most damage," the game chief pointed out, "and if the following rules are observed there will be more sportsmen to take the fields another day."

Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the actions open, into your automobile, camp or home.

Always be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions. Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble.

Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot.

Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger.

Never leave a loaded gun unattended.

Never climb a tree or fence with a loaded gun.

Never shoot at a flat, hard surface, or at the surface of water.

Always remember alcohol and gunpowder should not be mixed.

Texas sportsmen are becoming more sportsmanlike, in the opinion of the Game Department, which has received numerous reports from many game wardens since the dove season opened detailing fewer violations this year than at any time in the history of the department.

There was a time when the dove hunter, if a covey of quail got up in front of him, wasn't the slightest bit reluctant about firing into the birds. However, law enforcement and the educating of sportsmen to the needs of proper observance of game laws has brought about the change, the game department head believes.

Few wardens have found it necessary this fall to file cases against sportsmen for hunting quail out of season, the Executive Secretary said. The quail season does not open until December 1.

Thousands of Texans, knowing the early fall and winter months are better for fishing than the summertime, are haunting their favorite lakes and streams and to these, in answer to many inquiries, the Game Department's chief aquatic biologist has been sending word that no parasites which live in fishes found in Texas waters are harmful to human beings if the fish are well cooked. Even the dreaded tapeworm is killed by cooking, but the biologist is stressing the fact that all fish should be WELL COOKED.

Texas is richer than any other State in the number of birds and the variety and species found there. Approximately 700 species and sub-species have been listed.

The warm climate in winter along the Gulf coast is a natural attraction to migratory birds and these supplement the native variety which includes the Mockingbird and many others, among which is the lovely plumed American Egret whose range is on the Texas coast and, when the nesting season is over, is sometimes found wandering over the southern and central part of the State. This beautiful bird, with others, once faced extinction when it was hunted chiefly for the plumage with which to adorn ladies' hats. It was saved by the Federal Migratory Bird Law of March 4, 1913.

In south central and west Texas it is probable there are more wild turkeys than anywhere else in the country.

Fredericksburg Modernizes But Past Is Recalled

Fredericksburg. — When the local bus depot was recently moved to Hotel Nimitz, the buses began using the same entrance and route thru the hotel ground that the stage coaches used when their headquarters were at the hotel nearly a hundred years ago.

While the sleek buses little resemble the old stage coach and though a large, modern hotel has replaced the old "ship-shaped" hostelry that housed such notable as Gen. Robert E. Lee, O. Henry and others, the buses still run through the entrance into the towering walls that had been erected to keep Indians out of the corral and prevent theft of the stage company's horses and mules.

The old stables still stand, the little German-style garden with its champagne-bottle lined walks is still there and the aroma of "home-cooked" meals still emanates from the kitchen the traveler of about a hundred years ago found there.

THE WORKS OF THE MESSIAH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 8:14-17. GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus of Nazareth . . . went about doing good.—Acts 10:38.

"Does it work?" Modern man is not impressed by a thing simply because great claims are made for it or it is intricately organized. After all, the important thing is, does it really work? Such a test can be carried to an extreme and the finest and richest things of life be thrown aside because they have no utilitarian value. But in general, the question is a good one, and especially is that true as it is applied to religious systems and philosophies of life. These claim to have power to deliver man from his sin and give him peace and rest. What we want to know is, do they actually do it, not only in the day of health and prosperity, but in the hour of death and devastation? The answer is that every one of them has failed and does fail, with the exception of Christianity, which comes "not in word but in power" (1 Cor. 4:20). In Christianity is found the only real dynamic for daily living.

I. Personal Needs Satisfied (vv. 14-17).

This entire section of the Gospel of Matthew is concerned with miracles. It is interesting to note how many of these events concern personal needs. There is scant comfort to the needy one to speak to him in generalities about a great God who is ready to help people. When I am in need I want to know whether there is any help for me. Jesus healed Peter's mother in the home, and then He went out and healed multitudes in the throng, but in each case it was a personal interest which He took and a personal healing that was received.

Observe also that He met the need of all whether they were sick in body, mind or spirit. Someone may say, "That is all very well, but that took place when He was here on earth." Well, He is here now, working in and through the power of the Holy Spirit and in and through His children. The Lord Jesus Christ daily satisfies every need of His disciples, and often does so in ways which are miraculous in their sight.

II. Sacrificial Service Exemplified (vv. 18-22).

Following Jesus in discipleship is more than speaking sweet words of devotion or of taking part in the carrying out of some public worship ministry. To really follow Him is to "follow one whose vocation is such that there are incessant demands compelling the renunciation of home and the comforts of a settled life. Only the call of God can make one equal to the demands of such a hazardous life" (Edward E. Anderson).

Observe that even the demands which love may present on behalf of an aged father must not be permitted to stand between the disciple and his Lord. There is no thought of unkindness or lack of consideration here, for as our Lord points out, those who are spiritually dead, although still physically alive, may well be called on to care for the physical needs of an aged parent, even in the hour of death, if the Lord Jesus has worked for His disciple to do elsewhere.

There is no thought of neglect of the duties of life, but rather of a placing of the Lord first, whatever else may take the second place. The blight upon many a Christian experience is that almost anything else which is of interest is allowed to take first place and the Lord must take second place if He is given any place at all.

III. Divine Power Demonstrated (vv. 23-27).

There are those in the world who are unable to see the workings of God's power in the spiritual realm because they themselves have not been spiritually born again (1 Cor. 2:14). For these the Lord here presented the working of His mighty power in the realm of nature.

Satan, who is "the prince of this world" (John 14:30) had evidently whipped the waves of the sea into a mighty storm, possibly thus hoping to drown Jesus and get rid of his divine adversary, but the Lord Himself speaks in the majesty of His eternal power and we read that "there was a great calm" (v. 26). Even His disciples were strangely astonished that the very "winds and the sea obey Him." Yes, the forces of nature respond to His slightest word. The winds and the sea obey Him. But what is even more wonderful is that the turmoil of a man's soul becomes a great and blessed calm when this holy Lord Jesus speaks the word of peace.

Confused and troubled man or woman who reads these words, will you not now by faith submit yourself to the One who can speak to you, who can meet and satisfy every one of your needs, and who can give you the blessed privilege of sacrificial service on His behalf in a needy world?
